The Daily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Union Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where it is printed daily except Mondays, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Holidays. Entered as second class matter at the post office of Chapel Hill, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 for the college year.

A. T. Dill ..... Editor
Robert C. Page, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
Joe Webb ..... Business Manager
George Underwood ..... Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

EDITORIAL BOARD—Phil Hammer, chairman; Charles Daniel, Phil Kind, Don Wetherbee, Gurney Briggs, Samuel Leager.

FEATURE BOARD—Nelson Lansdale, chairman; Walter Terry, Francis Clingman, J. E. Poindexter, Tom Studdert, W. M. Cochrane, Willis Harrison.

CITY EDITORS—Irving Suss, Walter Hargett, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.

TELEGRAPH EDITORS—Stuart Rabb, Charlie Gilmore.

DESK MAN—Eddie Kahn.

SPORTS DEPARTMENT—Jimmy Morris and Smith Barrier, co-editors; Robert Lessem, Lee Turk, Len Rubin, Fletcher Ferguson, Stuart Sechriest, Lester Ostrow, Ira Sarasohn.

EXCHANGES—Margaret Gaines.

STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER—Don Becker.

REPORTERS—Bill Hudson, John Smith, J. F. Jonas, Ralph Sprinkle, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Raymond Howe, William Jordan, Morton Feldman.

Business Staff

ASST. BUSINESS MANAGER ..... Butler French
COLLECTION MANAGER ..... Herbert Osterheld
OFFICE MANAGERS ..... Walter Eckert, Roy Crooks
NATIONAL ADVERTISING ..... Boylan Carr
DURHAM REPRESENTATIVE—Joe Murnick.
LOCAL ADVERTISING—Hugh Primrose, Robt. Sosnik, Eli Joyner (managers), Bill MacDonald, Louis Shaffner, Page Keel, Bill McLean, Crist Blackwell.

CITY EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE: IRVING SUSS

Wednesday, January 9, 1935

PARAGRAPHICS

Mr. Waynick avers that school support doesn't need road funds. Maybe he believes that educational institutions are the highways to success.

If the utilities commission grants the Greyhounders their certificate, the Carolina Coach outfit will probably accuse Chapel Hill of putting on the dog.

Most recent indications from Washington point that Huey Long is backing old Satan himself for the presidency in 1936.

Rotation And Efficiency

The appointment of Professor W. F. Ferger to the Publications Union Board not only marks a continued policy of wise faculty influence on the board but also the nigh amazing fact that somebody remembered the system adopted last year of rotating membership. Frankly, most students actually believed that after the great fight the student members made last year for a board renaissance the whole matter would be forgotten, for all the recognized worth of the new faculty members.

The system of having faculty members with two-year terms, each appointed at alternate years, bodes well to be the best possible arrangement. The extreme significance of Professor Heath's economic judgment combined with the profound influence of Professor Russell has marked a well-executed business year, and the addition of another economist to the ranks to replace Professor Heath may set the valuable precedent of placing the board's burden on men whose experience and careers have been largely affected with economic interests, as well as business appreciation.

Student membership will always more or less reflect inexperience and greenness and perhaps too much impetuousness with too little foresight. The constant re-investment of business brains should, in addition to steering the board clear of the King Lear type of dissatisfaction, maintain the highest possible efficiency in publications administration.

University Consciousness

The reports of various committees ramifying from the man student-faculty day group reveal that excellent progress has been made in the preparatory stages for the first annual student-faculty get-together and University exposition scheduled for February 20.

Carrying the dual role of bettering student-faculty relations and of exhibiting to a curious state the progress and achievements of University departments, the student-faculty day will offer the first opportunity for an all-University interest which should result in a more vitalized and compact University consciousness. An academic environment needs not only a conducive physical layout but a sympathetic surrounding interest and it is in this respect, through bringing faculty and student together in the spectacle of University achievement, that the day is significant.

It's up to the students to assure the success of this great prospect.

Trophies, Not Atrophy

A great service will be rendered the University by the senior class trophy committee in the centralizing of all the countless nigh-forgotten monuments to University athletic prowess of days gone by.

Dr. R. B. Lawson, one of the University's greatest athletic figures and ardent supporters, has always been a rabid believer in the collection of athletic trophies to be on display for future generations. Nothing, we daresay, irritates the gymnasium head more than the fact that interest along this line has died away within the last few years.

With the cooperation of Dr. Lawson and many alumni who know the whereabouts of old trophies, the senior committee should have no trouble in collecting these important testimonials. Not only have they traditional significance, but they also are imbued with decorative value. A permanent exhibit in Graham Memorial would become shortly one of the beauty-spots of the campus along with the Davie poplar and Mr. Kenan's stadium-in-the-woods.

Greyhounds And Petitions

Petitions were distributed to representatives of campus organizations yesterday regarding the establishment of the last link in the great bus network of the Atlantic Greyhound Lines, such petitions to be forwarded to the North Carolina Utilities Commission at a special hearing on the 22nd.

It is obligatory upon every student who conscientiously feels the need of better bus service that he sign the petition. Need has long been felt for improvements over the Carolina Coach Company's high-powered rattletraps, and now that students have the opportunity of aiding in the drive for such improvement, they must do the slight task for which they are called, and attach the John Hancock ceremoniously or unceremoniously on the sheets.

It must be emphasized that it will undoubtedly act to their detriment for students to sign the petitions more than once. The utilities commission probably will turn out to be a foxy bunch and if Johnny Jones turns up four or five times on the blanks, maybe the Greyhound network will have to do a little spinning around Orange county rather than through it.

The Playground Of a University

Contemplating our recent attempts at holiday frivolity, and comparing them with the drab outlook of the unfolding year, we were quite pleasantly surprised by the sudden realization that 'neath these ivy-colored walls is a most varied outlay of truly delightful entertainment. Have you ever had it brought directly to your attention that this university offers equally as valuable opportunities for play as for study? Incongruous as that may seem it is the bald truth.

How many times have we given in and gone to the movies anyway, laboring under the delusion that there was nothing else to do! How few times have we stopped to think that free for the asking, requiring only that we drag our lazy bones to the library, we could treat ourselves to one of Dickens' inimitable stories, Lamb's whimsical essays, or the sober depth of Wordsworth. A friend of ours finds a great deal of pleasure in merely thumbing through the magazines and illustrated newspapers which he finds in the general reading room of the library. For a person with a literary turn of mind the library offers a veritable gold mine of enjoyment, but even for us ordinary mortals, it contains vast opportunities for pleasantly enriching our idle hours.

There are countless other forms of recreation available to him who but desires to use them. Tennis courts, the gymnasium, the intramural playing fields, all are built expressly for our use. The songbird who finds his pleasure in warbling a melodious tenor, or droning a monotonous bass, can satisfy his craving in the glee club. The student entertainment series presents a valuable and entertaining program at nominal prices well within the reach of every student. There is indeed no dearth of opportunities for play on this campus.

The most admirable and laudable thing about it, however, is that we have not merely the chance to play, but the chance to play intelligently. Surely learning what to do with our idle hours, how to give ourselves as much valuable recreation as possible, should be one of the most priceless lessons of college life. Too often we allow ourselves to waste precious moments in idleness, when we could be enriching our lives, our personalities, our character, our outlook. Too often we permit our brains to become stultified and rusty through disuse. Intelligent play is fully as valuable to the college man as intelligent work. With as many opportunities as we have around us for pleasantly and profitably filling our vacant hours, we should hear few complaints of the drabness of college life.

SPEAKING the CAMPUS MIND

Democrats Are All Good Men

Editor, The DAILY TAR HEEL:

Sometimes we wonder whether or not there is any rhyme or reason to be read into the policies by which President Roosevelt has turned Washington into little more than a bowl of alphabet soup, the American countryside into a maze of concrete swimming pools, and the intramural field of the University of North Carolina into a cross between a hanging valley and a quagmire.

Democrats, who are all good men and have come to the support of the party, are radiantly happy over the vigorous, though perhaps erratic, action the President has been taking for some time now to reduce the ranks of the unemployed to a comparative handful. Republicans, whether they are good men or not, (and under the present Democratic regime there seems to obtain an opinion that the only good Republican, like an Indian, is a dead one) are naturally disposed to view the whole business as a piece of misguided extravagance. And the worm's eye view of a clear-headed Republican is not to be lightly poo-pooed simply because circumstance has made it the view of a heretic. The Republicans, naturally disgruntled with the necessity of putting up with a Democratic President, have a decided tendency to regard the present state of affairs with less enthusiasm than those who are enjoying the ride on a band wagon that has cost upwards of $5,000,000,000 to keep lubricated and tooting.

Just what Roosevelt has in mind—beyond finding the grail of recovery, of course—few seem to know. At any rate, whatever his goal may be he is not going to have an easy time of reaching it if he persists in following his present course. Already his manner of dealing with utilities has raised a storm of protest. Stock holders cry, and justly so, that if the government pays the farmer for destroying his crops why should it not pay the utility stockholder for his stock which it has seen fit to drive into near worthlessness by the threatened elimination of the companies that issued it. At no time will a man fight harder than when his cause is self-preservation.

There is one thing that President Roosevelt must realize before he pursues his merry course, and that is that a rubber ball, when pushed down in one spot, will always bulge out in another. He cannot go on pushing in the ball here and there with so little regard for expense and the people's rights much longer, for the ranks that were once purely Republican are rapidly being swelled by recruits from among stockholders and business men who have found in Roosevelt's picture of the future nothing but impending ruin.

D. SNOWDEN

OPEN FORUM

Gratitude for Condolences

EDITOR, DAILY TAR HEEL:

We, the children of Mrs. W. F. Beam, wish to express our gratitude for the kindnesses shown us during the illness and death of our mother, particularly to Dr. John S. Hooker and Mrs. Milton H. Jennings.

Mr. and Mrs. John Abbott
Hoyle F. Beam
Everette G. Beam

Patronize Our Advertisers

Farley Releases Fiscal Report For Post Office Department

Revenues Decline But Department Achieves Net Operating Surplus of Over $12,000,000; Postal Savings Deposits Increase; Increase Also in Number of Packages Mailed.

Washington, Jan. 8.—(UP)—In spite of declining revenues during the last 12 months, the post office department has been able to achieve a net operating surplus of $12,161,415.03 through economy measures, according to the report of Postmaster General James A. Farley, released today.

The report states that the 3-cent rate for letter mail, effective July 1, 1932, was the principal factor in arresting the decline in postal revenues. However, it is also apparent that the reduction in the local postage rate for first-class mail on July 1, 1933, from 3 to 2 cents, did not bring in the expected increased volume of either mail or revenue.

Trans-Oceanic Air Mail?

It is the hope of the Postmaster General that in the next annual report of the department it can be stated that a trans-Pacific air-transport service will have been inaugurated by one or more American companies and that the plans looking toward a trans-Atlantic air-transport service will have been further advanced, if not consummated.

Undelivered letters received in the dead-letter offices during the year increased 7¼ per cent over the number received last year.

Money found in letters during the fiscal year 1934 amounted to $69,596.29, of which amount $40,230.73 was restored to the rightful owners.

It is estimated that the number of letters and other articles, excluding parcel post, dispatched to foreign countries by land, sea, and air during the fiscal year was 286,015,990, a decrease of 11.22 per cent from the preceding year, while the number received from all countries was 263,438,214, a decrease of 1.15 per cent.

Increased Postal Savings

The outstanding principal to the credit of postal-savings depositors was $1,197,920,188, an increase of $10,733,980 over the amount for the corresponding date last year.

The number of depositors increased from 2,342,153 to 2,562,082, the gain in accounts being 219,949, or 9.4 per cent. The average principal per depositor decreased from $506.88 to $467.56, a loss per capita of $39.32.

The estimated number of pieces of matter mailed free of postage by the departments and establishments of the government other than the post office department, by members of Congress and others under the franking privilege, by publishers of newspapers and periodicals of the second class, free in the county of publication, and by those mailing free matter for the blind, was 949,270,038, aggregating 145,157,522 pounds. This was a material increase over the previous year, which is due in large part to the creation and rapid growth of many new bureaus and establishments of the government in connection with national recovery activities.

800,000 More Packages

The parcel post service, the receipts from which now represent approximately 17 per cent of the gross postal revenues, reports a total business of $102,000,000 for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1934. This is an increase of more than $2,000,000 over the previous year. Approximately 800,000 more parcels were mailed.

The revenue accruing from the sale of postage stamps and other paper totaled $449,854,405.37, a decrease of 1.44 per cent compared with the previous fiscal year. To meet the public requirements there were issued to postmasters on requisition during the year a total of 15,872,730,157 postage stamps, postal cards, stamped envelopes, and other varieties of stamped paper, an increase of 763,478,212 pieces compared with the previous fiscal year. Sales of stamps to collectors through the Philatelic Agency amounted to $811,723.

Yale Professor Praises University Architecture

(Continued from page one)

"Frankly speaking, it is entirely too elaborately designed and sophisticated to fit in well with the rest of the buildings on the campus. Besides, the color of it is too white. This condition will be somewhat corrected as the library becomes weathered, but it is nevertheless bad."

"But your stadium," concluded the doctor, "that's the most beautiful one that I have ever seen. The way it fits so perfectly into that natural bowl, and the beauty of the surrounding woods makes it look like a great classical garden scene. It is the most spectacular sight in Chapel Hill."

Women's Glee Club

An important meeting of the Woman's Glee Club will take place this afternoon in Hill Music hall from 5 to 6 o'clock. As this is the first meeting of the new quarter, every member is urged to be on hand. Several interesting plans for the coming year will be brought forward.

Engineering Photos

Pictures for the Yackety Yack will be made of the members of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and the American Society of Civil Engineers tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock in front of Phillips Hall.

Art Class Schedule Announced by Tuttle

Miss Lena Tuttle, art instructor in Peabody, announced the following schedule for her art classes:

The creative classes for children from 4 to 15 will meet in the studio on Tuesday and Wednesday of each week from 2 to 5 o'clock. The fee for the quarter will be $5.00.

Landscape, portrait, composition, still life and modeling are taught on Monday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

All students interested in doing life drawing or modeling work from a model are asked to let Miss Tuttle know sometime this week. If a sufficient number are interested she will arrange for an evening class. The charge for such a class will be $5.00.

Di Senate

Vergil Lee, newly elected president, and his staff of officers conducted the first meeting of the Di Senate for the winter quarter last night.

Other officers serving for the first time were: Charles Rawls, president pro-tem; John Kendrick, critic; Robert Williams, secretary; and Fred Eagles, sergeant-at-arms.

The members heard Lee's inaugural address and discussed plans for the winter quarter's activities.

White Phantoms, Tar Babies Drop Wake Forest In Pair

Varsity Cagers Display Great Defense To Whip Demon Deacons, 31-11

Aitken and Blood Lead Scoring; Kaveny Is Star at Guard

First String Allows Deacons Only One Field Goal.

Putting up an airtight defense but showing erratic form on the offense, Carolina's basketball team had an easy time downing Wake Forest 31-11 in the Tin Can last night. The victory was the third straight of the season for the White Phantoms and kept them in a tie with Duke for the leadership of the Big Five race.

With Jason Glace still on the sidelines as a result of sickness, the Tar Heel combination of Captain Snooks Aitken, Mel Nelson or Ben Blood, forwards; Latcher Webster, center; and Paul Kaveny and Jim McCachren, guards, held a loose-playing Deacon five to only one field goal and three foul shots during the first half and ten minutes of the second period. After this the Carolina second team finished the contest.

The One Field Goal

The lone goal from action came during the first minute of play when Byrd, center, was left open under the basket. This shot knotted the count at 2-2 and was the closest the Deacons ever came to the easy-going winners.

Captain Snooks Aitken led the play of Carolina, driving hard all the way and ringing three field goals to tie Blood for scoring honors, which was six. Blood playing part time with the first team and all the time with the reserves also put up an excellent exhibition. The little forward got three action shots and showed the best passing of the night.

Paul Kaveny continued to play a steady game at the guard post. He and Jim McCachren, who was, however, way off his usual flashing game, held their forward opponents to just one foul shot apiece.

Goat Hatcher and Clark, guards, were the outstanding Deacon players both on offense and defense. Byrd, center, led the scoring with four points through a field goal and two fouls, but he missed several easy shots under the basket.

Nelson Scores First

The White Phantoms opened the game fast with Nelson dropping in a crip shot hardly a moment after the whistle sounded. Byrd tied things up with his shot but McCachren made good on a free throw to put Carolina in a lead which was never headed.

Webster was succesful on three foul shots while Byrd was getting one to run the score up to 8-3. Captain Snooks stood in the left corner and made good with a long basket. On a beautiful passing play between Aitken and McCachren, McCachren dropped in one under the basket. Kaveny was left open, so shot a looping two-pointer from the foul line.

Main Fireworks

The Tar Heels continued their fast pace as Aitken dribbled down the right and tossed a hook through the hoop. Blood had success on the same type of shot and Webster dribbled half the length of the court with no opposition to get an easy crip, running the count to 18-3.

The Deacons got a break as Sheppard was given a foul shot but then Blood hooked in an-

(Continued on last page)

Lineups

CAROLINA	FG	F	TP
Aitken, f	3	0	6
Nelson, f	1	0	2
Blood, f	3	0	6
Webster, c	1	3	5
Minor, c	1	3	5
Kaveny, g	1	0	2
McCachren, g	2	1	5
Total	12	7	31

W. FOREST	FG	F	TP
Brunt, f	1	1	3
Mills, f	0	1	1
Sheppard f	0	1	1
Byrd, c	1	2	4
Hatcher, g	0	0	0
Clark, g	1	0	2
Total	3	5	11

Score at half: Carolina 20; Wake Forest, 4.

Non-scoring subs: Carolina—Ramsey, f; Harris, g; Harrison, g; Hutchins, g. Wake Forest—Gaddy, c; Jelks, g; Mills, g.

Officials — Referees: Knight (Durham Y) and Gerard (Ill.).

Frosh Rasslers Start Hard Drills For Opening Tilt

Coach Quinlan Doubtful of Prospects on Eve of VPI Battle.

The frosh grapplers underwent a stiff workout of calisthenics and practice of holds, in preparation for the individual bouts to be held this Saturday. The matmen fully understand that their chances for intercollegiate competition in the coming meets of which the first is January 19, depends largely on their success Saturday.

Aside from the intramurals the coach has hardly had a chance to learn about their respective ability. The members of the squad, who are most likely to gain positions providing they live up to his expectations in the trials Saturday, are: Ehringhaus, 118-lb; Ford, 135-lb; Claypoole or Gibbons, 145-lb; and Shulman or possibly Finberg, 165-lb. All of these men hold their prominence as prospective members of the team by virtue of intramural victories or previous records in preparatory schools.

At the present time Coach Quinlan is extremely doubtful as to the probable results of their matches. If the team wishes to keep up the good record started by the crack frosh team last year, they will have to produce at least four men as good as Umstead, Douglas, Ward, and Bonner were.

It was really through the constant victories of these men last year that the baby grapplers were able to score victories over N. C. State, V. P. I., Duke, and W. & M. and suffer but one loss at the hands of W. & L., who took them into camp by the narrow margin of 18-16. The four stars of last year's team in their five meets won 19 out of a possible 20 bouts. Coach Quinlan sees in Ford and Claypoole and his other material the possibility of producing men to live up to the record set last year.

Comprehensive Exams

The date of the comprehensive examinations for the winter quarter has been changed from February 16 to March 2, according to information obtained yesterday from the office of the dean of the college of liberal arts.

GRAPPLERS WORK STRENUOUSLY AS VPI MEET NEARS

Thirty-Four Candidates Are Out For Squad with Unlimited Division Weak.

SUCCESS RESTS ON SOPHS

The varsity wrestling squad was given another strenuous workout yesterday. Coach Quinlan continued to stress wrestling fundamentals, urging all men to get in the best of condition for the meet with V. P. I. which comes off Saturday, January 19.

The first trial matches of the season will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The squads will be divided into groups and all candidates will be given a chance to show their wares. The starting lineup for the opening meet will be chosen from those ranking the most impressive showings.

Regular varsity practices will be held as usual every afternoon at 4 o'clock. Coach Quinlan says that it is absolutely essential that everyone report for these sessions which are devoted chiefly to the explanation of the important fundamentals of this sport.

Thirty-Four Men Work

Thirty-four candidates are at present out for the varsity wrestling team. The men and their respective weights are as follows:

118-lb—Umstead and Darden.
126-lb—Douglas, Tankersley,

(Continued on last page)

ROWE OPTIMISTIC AS PUGS BATTLE FOR TEAM POSTS

Coach Expects Team to Reach Peak Before V. P. I. Encounter This Saturday.

DIEHL RETURNS TO RING

With most of his boys far off their true form, Coach Crayton Rowe is still optimistic concerning the outcome of the V. P. I. meet this Saturday. However, Coach Rowe's optimism is based on the belief that his boys will round into shape before they crawl through the ropes to await the sound of the gong.

At present, it is difficult to name all the pugs that will carry Carolina's colors into the squared circle this Saturday. However, it is certain that the fortunate ones will be truly deserving of the coveted honor. The boys are fighting hard and furiously to gain notches on the team, and this can be evidenced by the manner in which they conduct themselves during their workouts.

Diehl Returns

Yesterday afternoon saw Marion Diehl return to the ring after a three week layoff. Diehl boxed three rounds with Larry Hendel, freshman prospect, and at no time during his career has Diehl showed such a lack of conditioning. This is not Diehl's fault as he has been ill since the beginning of the Christmas holidays. However, Diehl is

(Continued on last page)

Big All-Dixie Indoor Track Meet Planned For Charlotte On Feb. 23

Invitations to Bring Best Athletes in South to Meet in Queen City.

ELEVEN EVENTS ON HAND

A large invitational track meet, which will bring together the best athletes in the south, is practically assured the track fans of this section by the Charlotte Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The indoor games are scheduled to be played Monday night, February 23, in the Armory of the Queen City. Charlie Milstead, chairman of the committee with Sam Goldfein, Wade Ison, and Jake Wade, has taken definite steps to make the meet a reality.

Letters have been written to all the major schools in Dixie, from Maryland to Georgia. The response of these schools will determine whether the meet will be held or not. If the colleges respond favorably, the Junior Chamber of Commerce will start definite plans.

Great Competition

The meet is to be invitational, assuring the witnesses of a real track meet. Possibly only five men will be entered in any of the running events, and these men will be only the best in Dixie.

Eleven events are on schedule at present, including the 50-yard dash, 50-yard high hurdles, 880-yard run, 1000-yard run, mile, two mile, mile relay, high jump, shot put, and the mile relay for scholastic teams and another for college freshman teams. All the events will be planned to run in fast-moving order, an hour and a half set for the total time.

The cream of the crop from Dixie will be on hand to furnish thrills in the most spectacular of the track events. In the dashes will be Widmyer of Maryland, winner of S. I. C. and Penn Relays; in the middle distances, Williamson of North Carolina, national junior 1500-meter champion and rated fourth best miler in the country; in the hurdles, Everett of Virginia, winner of the Penn Relays.

The longer distances will feature McRae of North Carolina, Bird of Duke, Dunaj of Washington and Lee, and Frazier of Davidson. Numerous other stars will compete to give these leaders a real fight for top honors.

UNC-W&L Battle Heads Dixie Court Schedule This Week

Big Tilt in Lexington Opens Virginia Trip for Tar Heels.

The headline contest between Carolina and Washington and Lee at Lynchburg tomorrow night is seen as the test of the Tar Heels' strength and chances in the coming campaign for the Southern Conference title.

The Tar Heels' first team has shown flashes of real strength in its first three victories over Elon, Davidson, and Wake Forest. However, this will be their first conference battle, matching the 1934 state champions against the southern title-holders in what should be a brilliant contest.

The game with the Generals will open a three-day trip into Virginia for the Tar Heels. The invaders also play at V. M. I. Friday and at V. P. I. Saturday night.

MURAL BASKETBALL

All team entries for intramural basketball must be in today before 6 o'clock at Emerson stadium. Entries will be accepted at 310 South until 5 o'clock and for one hour after that at Emerson. The schedule will be made up immediately after that time.

Yearling Five Ekes Out Close One-Point Victory

Lineups

U.N.C. Frosh	G	F	TP
Mullis, f	5	3	13
Boone, f	0	0	0
Bershak, f	4	1	9
King, f	1	0	2
Moss, c	0	0	0
Meroney, c	0	4	4
Ruth, g	2	0	4
Grubb, g	0	1	1
Total	12	9	33

W. FOR. Frosh	G	F	TP
Barnes, f	2	2	6
Aderholt, f	1	0	2
Brunnemer, f	2	2	6
Byrd, c	4	1	9
Johnson, g	1	3	5
Stainback, g	1	0	2
Lee, g	0	1	1
Davis, g	0	1	1
Total	11	10	32

Non-scoring subs: Wake Forest Frosh— Farmer, f; Glass, c; Sitton, g. Carolina Frosh—Boone, f; Franks,g; Bloom, g. Referee: Hendrickson (Duke).

Deacons' Last Minute Rally Fails; Mullis Leads 33-32 Win.

Bershak and Ruth Play Heads-Up Brand of Ball.

Backed up against the wall in the dying minutes of the game, a Carolina freshman quintet maintained a slim one point lead to eke out a thrilling victory over a fighting Wake Forest first year outfit, 33-32.

Going into the final stages of the contest, the Carolina frosh held a seemingly safe six point lead but the advantage slowly dwindled as the baby Baptists dropped five points through the hoop to drop within one point of tying the tiring Tar Babies.

Last Moment Rally

Lee and Brunnemer converted three free tries in rapid succession. When Aderholt poised from midfield and dropped in a long looping shot to bring the score to 33-32, an excited crowd stood through a last minute of packed action which came to an end when the gun cracked as Earl Ruth of the Carolina five let go a long shot at the basket. The ball hit the rim and bounced away, but a grinning group of frosh hoopsters romped off the boards with a hard earned opening victory.

Carolina started slowly and appeared nervous as they fumbled the ball continually. Wake Forest stepped into a 11-8 lead but a determined scoring spree by Pete Mullis and Andy Bershak put the Tar Babies in the lead from which they were never headed.

The half ended as Mullis dribbled the length of the court and scored with a Wake Forest guard on his shoulders, bringing the total to 18-14.

Second Half

Opening the second half, the frosh five ran the lead to 24-14, but Byrd's solo attempt to stave off defeat for Wake Forest put the game back in the fire at 24-22. However, "Red" Meroney, who played almost the entire game at center, seemingly inspired, dropped in four free tosses to put Carolina once again in front. The teams then alternated in scoring until the closing minutes when Wake Forest put on their futile rally that missed by the sheerest of margins.

Pete Mullis, diminutive firebrand, was easily the classiest player on the floor, and took scoring honors with a total of 13 points. Mullis sank five field goals, three of them long floating skyscrapers that ripped

(Continued on last page)

FROSH PUGILISTS STAGE SLUGGISH PRACTICE DRILLS

Squad Far Below Early Season Form Due to Epidemic of Colds on Campus.

V. P. I. SLIGHT FAVORITES

Despite their fine early season form the yearling glovers have shown up miserably in the past few practice sessions, and their chances for an initial victory Saturday night against the V. P. I. frosh seem despairingly thin.

The cause of their weak boxing can be traced to the epidemic of colds. Many of the first year pugilists have been taken down with these slight ailments. Though they have been trying gamely in the past few days to get back into shape, it is expected that the squad will be far away from their peak when the bouts begin.

Shores Back in Ring

Bill Shores, who at the start of the year looked promising enough to be a steady winner, yesterday took his first strenuous workout in two weeks. Bill evidently weakened by the cold germ did not look so good. He went two rounds against Joe Fisher and could not penetrate the latter's skillful defense. Shores might improve in the short time between now and Saturday, but that is extremely doubtful. Another terror of the pre-season days, Ed O'Herron has not lived up to expectations.

Shmurak has not been on display long enough to get a concise opinion of his capabilities; however, he has shown a wicked

(Continued on last page)

THE
Young Men's Shop
126-128 E. Main St.
DURHAM, N. C.

ECONOMY—

True economy does not always consist in buying the cheapest possible. Buying the most value for the least money is true economy.

Have You Tried Our Shop Lately for True Economy?

THE ORANGE PRINTSHOP
126 Rosemary Phone 3781

KNIGHT'S PAPERS ARE REPUBLISHED

Professor's Articles Urge Closer Contact and Co-operation Between Institutions.

"Some Suggestions for Undergraduate Work," reprinted from the High School Journal and "Some Early Discussions of the College Curriculum," revised from the South Atlantic Quarterly, by Dr. Edgar W. Knight of the University have been published in pamphlet form.

In the suggestions for undergraduate work, Dr. Knight contributes a few proposals for University improvement "drawn by observation and study during the past two years."

Urging energetic efforts to close the gap between high school and college, Dr. Knight calls for closer contact and co-operation between the educational institutions.

Interest Stressed

The educational department professor asserted that increased attention should be paid to the interests of the students, especially freshmen and sophomores.

Calling for a revision of the present examination system, Dr. Knight says, "It will be necessary to provide a board of examiners to prepare and administer the examinations." He also suggests a special program "that would vary from the conventional requirements" for students who do not expect to spend much time in college.

Condemning colleges today for the work they have to do in for "failing to fit properly their graduates for the work they have to do in the life that awaits them," Dr. Knight discusses an improved university schedule in the pamphlet on college curriculum.

Yearling Five Ekes Out Close One-Point Victory

(Continued from page three)

through the nets cleanly. His other two were difficult "under the basket ringers" that brought roars of approval from the gathering.

Matching Mullis for the invaders was the dangerous pivot man, Byrd, who threw fear into the hearts of the Tar Babies with his accurate shooting and brilliant floor game. Letting loose in the second half, he completely outplayed Meroney and Moss as he sunk four field goals in rapid succession.

Bershak Stars

Andy Bershak, fresh from football conquests, stepped onto the basketball court and, with aid of his gridiron tactics, sparkled as a prospective hoop star. Four one-handed shots and one free toss gave him a net total of 9 points and plaudits from all. At times sprawled on the floor, he played a fast game throughout and after replacing King early in the contest, was kept at a forward post and performed remarkably well.

Mullis, besides being high scorer, also went the full distance without a replacement, and shares the distinct title of "iron man" for the contest with Earl Ruth, fellow Charlotte high player.

Wake Forest sank the first six fouls that were offered by the generous Tar Babies but in the latter half of the contest it was the victorious five that countered on the free throws.

This game being the opening clash for the Carolina frosh, they can be excused from their narrow escape due to their short period of practice, but the team showed considerable promise and a great deal of pluck in setting back their threatening opponents when upon the verge of being defeated.

CALENDAR

Commerce freshmen
Memorial hall 10:30

A.B. freshmen
Gerrard hall 10:30

A.I.E.E. and A.S.C.E. photos
Phillips hall 10:30

Math Seminar
306 Phillips 3:00

P. U. Board
Graham Memorial 3:00

Yearbook photographers
Graham Memorial 3:00

Editorial Board
Graham Memorial 3:00

Alpha Psi Delta.
New West 7:30

"I'm a Good Boy," Says Haywood; But Chapel Hill Isn't Quite Certain

(Continued from page one)

as it applies to "the Negro on the street who carries a half-pint with him," but as it also applies to those citizens who bring liquor into the state from Virginia; and finally, enforcement of the license tag law among out-of-state students who own cars and who have not bought their licenses for 1935.

Judge Phipps also stated that he knew nothing about the warrant. He merely instructed Mr. McGinnis that the above violations of the law should be recognized and prosecuted if need be, he said. As to the statement of Mr. Nixon of the Superior Court in Hillsboro that he did not remember another case of its kind having come up in this county, Judge Phipps said that he knew personally of two.

"My goodness," said Haywood yesterday. "I'm glad I wasn't the only one. What would mother say?"

Haywood asked Judge Phipps if it was just a coincidence that the Co-op stores had been chosen as the first on the list to be made to comply. Judge Phipps replied that he didn't know.

"Well," said Haywood yesterday, "it's a small world after all."

LOYALTY FUND TO GIVE PRIZE TO CONTRIBUTORS

The first official painting of President Frank Porter Graham will be awarded to the class having the largest percentage of its members contributing to the alumni loyalty fund, the loyalty fund council decided at its meeting here Sunday. The portrait will be presented at commencement and hung in Graham Memorial.

The objectives of the loyalty fund campaign for the remainder of the school year will be to raise funds unrestricted by any specifications as to their use, and to emphasize gifts through wills.

INFIRMARY

The following students were confined in the infirmary yesterday: G. W. Armfield, R. S. McCollom, E. J. Venters, Robert Henggi, J. H. Von Canon, Hugh Primrose, J. H. Knight, C. E. Van Horn, J. F. Haywood, A. E. Anderson, J. B. Howell, Jason Glace, E. C. Joyner, J. H. Raney. Stewart Coffey, J. F. Blue, Carl Anderson, H. H. Mills, Walter Gordy, Tom Hines, J. Mc. Smith, E. G. Austin, Denmuth Spivey, Romayne Howard, Ed Kahn, Henry Bartos, David Spelt, J. B. Carne, Ida Winstead, Tracy Scobee, and Nancy Flanders.

Publications Board

The Publications Union Board will have its first meeting of the winter quarter this afternoon at 3 o'clock in Graham Memorial.

WORK BEING DONE ON THEATRE HERE

Movie House Undergoing Extensive Redecoration; Remodeling to Be Finished Jan. 20.

The complete renovation of the interior and exterior of the Carolina theatre, which was begun during the Christmas holidays, is expected to be completed by January 20, it was announced yesterday.

The remodeling work involves the purchase of new cushioned velour seats, interior redecoration and lighting, and installation of new drapes. The new seats, which will be substituted for the present veneer ones, are upholstered and spring cushioned, with specially cushioned backs.

Manager Smith announced that the color scheme for the new drapes and painting will be gold and silver. The panels in the interior will be covered with the silk drapes which are being made for the theatre by an eastern corporation. A new silver and gold screen curtain has also been ordered.

The new exterior lobby lights will be fixtures of an outdoor rustic design. In the interior lobby, lighting will be effected by crystal chandeliers. The direct lights in the theatre proper will be used during intermission. Special indirect diffused light will partially illuminate the theatre while the films are being projected.

The ladies' and men's rooms have been done over in a marble effect, Manager Smith said, and drinking fountains installed. Linoleum floors have also been installed in these rooms. Work on the roof is also in progress.

Phi Assembly

Only 19 members attended the short one half-hour session of the Phi assembly last night. The bill, Resolved, That the University lower its re-entrance requirements, was carried by a vote of 10 to 6.

Representatives Billy Sewell, Wiley Parker, and Albert Ellis were appointed as a committee to attempt to find means of transportation for a part of the assembly to Raleigh in order for them to attend some future session of the state legislature.

The assembly passed unanimously the resolution, Resolved, That the Utilities Commission grant the Greyhound Bus Company the right to run buses from Greensboro to Raleigh through Chapel Hill. Representative Robert Smithwick was appointed by Speaker Clarence Griffin to notify the commission of the assembly's action.

SENIOR COMMITTEE MEETS TOMORROW

The executive committe of the senior class will meet tomorrow evening at 7:15 o'clock, resuming its weekly meetings which were inagaurated last fall.

Several important class policies and projects will be discussed at that time, Jack Pool, president, announced yesterday.

Of special importance, according to president Pool, will be matters pertaining to the junior-senior dance, senior week, and action on the class budget.

Alpha Psi Delta

Dr. J. B. Rhine of Duke University, whose experiments in extra-sensory perception, or clairvoyance, have been received with great interest, will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the University Alpha Psi Delta Chapter, honorary psychological fraternity, this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

REINCARNATION?

Fredric March and Anna Sten in "We Live Again," playing at the Carolina theatre today.

GRAPPLERS WORK STRENUOUSLY AS V.P.I. MEET NEARS

(Continued from page three)

and Southard.

135-lb—Ward, Kephart, Wyrick, and Lessem.

145-lb—Bost, Barber, Gholsen, Johnson, Wilkens, Miller and Kleiman.

155-lb—Claton, Myers, Bonner, Northcross, Johnson, Busick and Greengold.

165-lb — Efland, Williams, Gwyn and Herring.

175-lb — Macphee, McIver, Ransom, and Goldberg.

Unlimited —Wyant and Riccardi.

The Tar Heel mentor stated yesterday that his greatest worry this season will be in the unlimited division. Tom Evins, brilliant heavyweight grappler of the 1934 club, will be unable to come out this year because of winter football drills.

The success of the 1935 team will rest largely upon the shoulders of a quartet of sophomores and Sim Efland, the only letterman returning from last year's aggregation. The four sophs who will likely get their first taste of varsity competition against V. P. I. are Umstead, Ward, Douglas, and Bonner.

Such popular faces as Captain Mathewson, 125; Hiller, 145; and Auman, 175, will be missing from the lineup when the Tar Heels swing into action against their Virginian opponents. Captain Mathewson's berth should be ably filled by Douglas but Coach Quinlan will probably experience great difficulty in finding men capable of filling the shoes of Hiller and Auman, who completed their college careers last spring.

N. S. L. TO MEET

The National Student League will meet tonight at 8 o'clock on the second floor of Graham Memorial.

All members must attend, and any students interested in the activities and program of the N. S. L. are invited.

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss perspectives and activities for this quarter and the general program of the organization.

Publication Clash

Tar-Mags and Yackety-(now) Fins will leave off grappling with past subjunctives and collective nouns for more formidable opposition when they meet tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock on the No. 1 intramural field in a post-season game of tag football. The starting lineup has not been announced as yet, but it will be . . . it will be.

Yearbook Photographers

All photographers on the Yackety Yack staff will gather at the office this afternoon at 3 o'clock for a very important meeting.

ROWE OPTIMISTIC AS PUGS BATTLE FOR TEAM POSTS

(Continued from page three)

working hard, in spite of this handicap, and the V. P. I. bantamweight will probably have his hands full with this game piece of fighting machinery.

Tommy O'Flaherty worked with Kesselman and O'Herron, and looked every bit of a varsity man as he threw a beautiful assortment of hooks and jabs.

Joe Fisher and Morty Ellisberg sparred for two rounds with honors about even. Fisher has improved a great deal since his freshman year and is ready to step out into fast company.

As for the lineup for Saturday night's bouts, we shall probably see Diehl at 119 pounds, Eutsler at 125 pounds, O'Flaherty at 135 pounds, and Fisher at 145 pounds. At this point it is difficult to say who will represent Carolina in the heavier weights. We find Ellisberg and Medynski waging a battle royal for the 155 pound berth; Novich and Giddins, fighting it out for the 165 pound notch; and Alderman and Carruth contesting each other for the heavyweight post.

Varsity Cagers Display Great Defense To Whip Demon Deacons, 31-11

(Continued from page three)

other one from the right sidelines just as the half gun sounded; the score stood Carolina 20; Wake Forest, 4.

The second half started with both fives playing slow loose ball. Neither team could find the basket and each passed wildly. Finally McCachren dribbled in and got a crip and then Aitken tossed one in from the foul line. Byrd was good on a foul shot, making the count, 24-5.

Second Team Enters

At this point the Tar Heel second club entered the contest. The tilt took on a really wild nature as both fives performed in high school fashion. The Carolina reserves managed to outscore their tired opponents, 7-5, during the last ten minutes with Ike Minor leading the way.

Brunt got a foul and Clark tossed in a crip to bring the Deacon total up. However, Minor made two fouls and one action under the basket. Blood followed this with another crip and then Minor was successful on his third foul shot.

That was all the scoring for Carolina, the Deacons getting only three more points as a result of Brunt's easy action shot and Mills' free throw.

A.B. and Commerce Frosh

Commerce freshmen will meet Dean Carroll in Memorial hall today at 10:30 a. m., and liberal arts college first-year men will assemble at the same time in Gerrard hall to hear Dean Hobbs.

Loans Total $22,000 for Fall Quarter

Aid Received by 325 Students of the University.

Student loan fund aid totaling $22,000 was received during the fall quarter by 325 students, according to J. A. Williams, director of the loan fund division of the dean of students' office. A total of 593 loans was made to these students.

The office of the loan fund division was moved at the beginning of the fall session to the first floor of South building, next to the business office.

The reason for this change in quarters is that the director has assumed the duty of collecting in addition to that of lending.

Under this new system the division has, according to Francis Bradshaw, dean of students, been operating much more efficiently than when the collecting was done by a clerk in the business office.

FROSH PUGILISTS STAGE SLUGGISH PRACTICE DRILLS

(Continued from page three)

wallop, but nothing more. This boy is big and strong, the only fault being that he has not used his strength to any great effect.

The remainder of the squad has either kept in hiding or is still plugging along near the bottom of the boxing ladder. A daily turnout for practice might help some of these neglected individuals get somewhere in boxing circles.

TWO . . . who went through hell to find their heaven!
the SAMUEL GOLDWYN PRESENTATION OF ANNA STEN and FREDRIC MARCH
IN WE LIVE AGAIN
—Also—
Don Redman & Orchestra
Bosko Cartoon
TODAY

Thurs.-Fri.
CAROLINA

SENIOR EXECUTIVES
7 P. M.
Y. M. C. A. BUILDING

The Daily Tar Heel

FOREIGN POLICY LEAGUE
8 P. M.
GRAHAM MEMORIAL

SERVED BY THE UNITED PRESS

VOLUME XLIII | CHAPEL HILL, N. C., THURSDAY, JANUARY 10, 1935 | NUMBER 75

JAFSIE TESTIFIES HAUPTMANN SLEW LINDBERGH CHILD

Condon Swears German Stole And Murdered Baby and Then Took Ransom.

DEFENSE COUNSEL FIGHTS

Flemington, N. J., Jan. 9.—(UP)—John F. "Jafsie" Condon pinned the red badge of guilt on Bruno Hauptmann today when he accused the German of kidnaping and then murdering the Lindbergh baby before taking the $50,000 ransom at a Bronx cemetery.

Other witnesses have identified Hauptmann's voice, face, and handwriting, but Condon swore that Hauptmann climbed the ladder into the Lindbergh home and stole the baby from the crib.

Condon Sure

Condon said he was sure of this, because, in a conversation he claims to have had with Hauptmann at Woodlawn cemetery, he showed the prisoner two safety pins, and asked him if he knew what they were. "Jafsie" said that Hauptmann told him that they were the pins that fastened down the covers in the Lindbergh baby's crib.

The defense counsel fought desparately to implant in the minds of the jury that Condon, himself, was involved in the kidnap conspiracy.

Received Ransom

Condon then testified that Hauptmann was the one to whom he passed the $50,000 ransom at St. Raymond's cemetery. Condon will take the stand again tomorrow for further cross-examination.

The defense moved to have the court declare a mistrial today, but was overruled. They took the action on the contention that Attorney-General David T. Wilentz of New Jersey, who is prosecutor-in-chief, had made

(Continued on page two)

SOLONS SURVEY NEW PROPOSALS

Legislative Program Submitted To Congress in First Bills From Administration.

Washington, Jan. 9.—(UP)—Congress received from the administration today its first major items of legislation.

The House was tendered the $776,916,706 Independent Officer Supply bill and immediately started debate.

Offices Bill

The Senate foreign relations committee approved a resolution for the adherence of the United States to the World Court.

The Solons heard a report from the appropriations committee on the Independent Offices bill that cut $700,765 from the administration budget figures.

The House appropriations committee discussed labor appropriations. The committee on committees discussed assignments. The insular affairs committee received a letter from Secretary of War Dern suggesting a national defense system for the Phillipines.

Among the other bills received by the House was one to correct the evils of holding companies, another to terminate Roosevelt's authority, and another to negotiate reciprocal foreign trade.

Noted Chemist to Visit Here over Week-end

Harold Urey, '34 Nobel Prize Winner, to Speak Saturday.

Dr. Harold C. Urey, renowned chemist who will speak here Saturday night on "The Separation of Isotopes," will arrive either Friday night or Saturday morning, it was announced yesterday by Dr. H. D. Crockford, secretary of the North Carolina Chapter of the Society of Sigma Xi.

Dr. Urey will be the luncheon guest Saturday of Dr. P. M. Gross, head of the chemistry department of Duke University, and the dinner guest Saturday night of Dr. E. K. Plyler, president of the local chapter of Sigmas Xi.

A general smoker will be held Saturday night in Graham Memorial, at which the scientist will speak.

The winner of the Nobel prize in chemistry for 1934, Dr. Urey was aided in his research on the heavy isotope of hydrogen by Dr. G. M. Murphy, an alumnus of this University. Dr. Murphy graduated from here in 1922.

A tea will be given Sunday afternoon by Dr. A. E. Ruark, in honor of his former associate and guest, Dr. Urey.

CO-EDS PRACTICE IN GYM TONIGHT

Basketball Court Is Reserved For Senior and Graduate Women Students.

The first winter quarter basketball practice for University co-eds will be held tonight at 7 o'clock in Bynum gym, with the floor reserved for seniors and graduates, it was announced yesterday by Elsie Lawrence, president of the Woman's Athletic Association.

All senior and graduate woman students interested in basketball are urged to be in attendance.

Regular Practices

Practices will be held at regular intervals throughout the term for freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior co-eds, and the time for these affairs will be announced in the DAILY TAR HEEL.

Woman students interested in basketball should give their names to their class representatives. Seniors and graduates should get in touch with Margaret B. McCauley; juniors with Kate Quigley; sophomores, Ida Winstead; and freshmen, Evelyn Barker. Co-eds may also submit their names to Elsie Lawrence.

BAPTIST CLASS CHOOSES NEW DISCUSSION THEME

"The Development and Meaning of Christian Ideas and Ideals" will be the subject for discussion at the Baptist students' class each Sunday morning at 11 o'clock throughout the winter quarter, it was announced yesterday.

All students are cordially invited to attend.

M. J. Hagood, teacher of the class, will lead the discussions, beginning with the "History of the Writing of the Bible."

Senior Executives

The executive committee of the senior class will meet this evening at 7 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A.

Versatile Frantz Is Accorded Praise As Instrumentalist And Interpreter

Young Pianist, Scheduled to Play Here January 23, Has More Than Technical Skill.

Dalies Frantz, distinguished young American pianist, who will be heard here January 23, is noted both as instrumentalist and interpreter. A musician of versatile resource, he is equally at home in the brilliant virtuoso style and in music of poetic depth.

His playing of the E flat concerto of Liszt brought from a Detroit reviewer: "Mr. Frantz startled an enthusiastic audience with his lightning technique." In Boston it was said of the artist: "He has not only dazzling technique, he has masterful strength at the keyboard."

Inspired Playing

As a master of deep poetic import, he receives such terms of commendation as these given in New York: "The playing of the inspired slow movement spoke generously of the young artist's poetic feeling and his imagination," and again, "strongly felt but intelligently controlled emotion."

The willingness to sacrifice personal glory and merge his own identity with that of the composer in an inspired work marks the character of this young musician. Frantz's independent spirit, coupled with his love and appreciation of fine music, led him to play the Beethoven C major concerto, a work which for many years other artists had ignored or had not risked playing. The Beethoven had been passed by in favor of concertos deemed sure to bring

(Continued on page three)

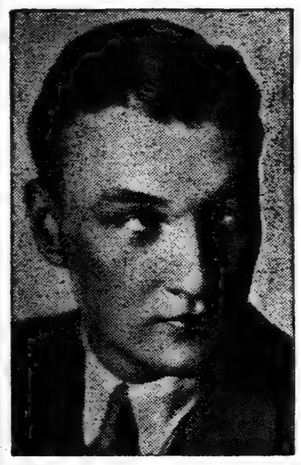
Playmakers Celebrate New Year In New York

Alvin Kerr Entertains Former University Students.

In what was practically a Playmaker reunion, Alvin Kerr, a former Playmaker himself, played host to a number of Playmakers at a New Year's Eve party at his apartment in New York, it was revealed yesterday.

Included among the guests were Shepard Strudwick, Eugenia Rawls, Ted Shawn, Elizabeth Farrar, J. O. Bailey, Loretta Carroll, and many others.



Alvin Kerr, who graduated here in 1928, is the author of "Sad Words to Gay Music," which was successfully produced here about two years ago. This was his first play to receive professional production. His new play, "Once Again," has been accepted for production and will be produced by John Chooler. He is also writing a series of sketches for radio production to be broadcast twice a week for 14 weeks over station WEAF on an NBC network.

Shepard Strudwick, who played in the New York Theater Guild production of "Biography" and who played opposite Ina Claire on tour, is now rehearsing for "Bright Star" by Philip Barry.

J. O. Bailey and Loretta Carroll are in New York revising their play, "Strike Song," a play produced here several years ago by the Playmakers. This play has been accepted for production by the Theater Union and is expected to be the next production of the Civic Repetory

(Continued on page two)

Noted Musician

Dalies Frantz, American pianist, who will play here January 23.

COPY OF PETITION FOR NEW BUS LINE TO BE LEFT IN "Y"

Students Not Reached by Other Copies May Sign Petition In the Y. M. C. A.

A copy of the petition which will be tendered the North Carolina Utilities Commission this month for the establishment of a Greyhound bus line through Chapel Hill will be placed in the office at the Y. M. C. A. building today.

Students who otherwise are not availed of the opportunity of signing the petition may do so at this place.

Free Raleigh Trip

It was announced yesterday that the Atlantic Greyhound Lines will run a special bus to Raleigh for the hearing on the morning of January 22. Transportation will be free to all students who would like to make the trip to appear for better bus service in the form of the Greyhound's proposed route.

Students who wish to make the trip that morning may make arrangements for the trip by getting in touch with Dewitt Carroll at the Sigma Delta house. Reservations will be made for 30 or 40 students.

MAGAZINE DISTRIBUTION

Individuals living out of Chapel Hill may obtain their copies of the January Carolina Magazine this week from the business office of the DAILY TAR HEEL in Graham Memorial, it was announced by George Underwood, circulation manager, yesterday.

Underwood will be in his office in the mornings during assembly period and from 4 to 5 o'clock in the afternoons.

PAINTING EXHIBIT PROVES POPULAR

Over 140 Visitors See Oil Paintings on Display Here in First Four Days.

The exhibition, now in the Hill Music Hall, of 25 oil paintings by contemporary American artists, lent by the Grand Central Galleries of New York City and shown under the auspices of the Southern Art Projects, has attracted over 140 visitors in the first four days that it has been shown here.

"Late Afternoon," by Henry Parton, has proved most popular with the visitors who have registered and indicated their choice. Of the 99 who voted, 17 liked "Late Afternoon" best.

Second Choice

J. C. Johanson's "Artist's Family" is second with 13 votes. Other paintings popular with Chapel Hillians are "Down North in Labrador," by George Elmer Browne, and "Still Life," by Henry Watrous.

The exhibit, which will be here until January 15, will be open daily from 2 to 5 and from 7 to 9 p. m.

The second of the exhibitions sponsored this year by the Southern Art Projects will appear about January 26. It will be an exhibition of etchings by contemporary American etchers, lent by Keppel and Company, of New York City.

DI SENATE PICTURE

A picture of the Dialectic Senate will be taken tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock in front of Bingham hall, it was announced yesterday.

SAAR PLEBISCITE TO BE DISCUSSED BY POLICY GROUP

Foreign Policy League to Consider Disputed Province at Meeting Tonight.

VOTE WILL COME SUNDAY

The University Foreign Policy League will convene tonight to discuss the coming Saar Plebiscite and to consider plans for the quarter.

The session will be the first meeting of the league this term and will be held at 8 p. m. in Graham Memorial.

The discussion on the Saar question will be led by two members of the league and promises to be a fiery one.

Timely Question

The topic for consideration is an especially timely one, for the plebiscite will be held Sunday. The Saar question at present is drafting the interest of the major nations, and the results of the voting in the district will be of world-wide consequence.

The club will discuss tonight the carrying out of its present program of organizing the southeastern group of colleges and universities into a consolidated unit for the expression of student opinion.

To Secure Speakers

During the Christmas holidays several members of the local foreign policy group were active in drawing up plans for the quarter. Representatives of the club contacted Mr. Eichelberger, director of the American League of Nations Association, in New York during vacation in

(Continued on page two)

GRAIL TO BRING LECTURER HERE

Order Will Financially Sponsor Speaker for Spring Human Relations Institute.

The Order of the Grail announced yesterday that it would financially sponsor a speaker of national prominence on the program of the quadrennial Institute of Human Relations to be held here this spring.

The speaker, whose part in the program will be included with those of many other famous personalities, will be chosen by the order and will be negotiated with by the arrangements committee of the institute. Charles Poe is chairman of this committee.

Interest Manifest

The action of the Grail came as a result of intense interest which has been manifest on the campus in anticipation of the spring institution. Other campus groups have co-operated financially and personally in preparing the program for the five-day institute.

Announcement of other speakers who have been obtained by the institute committee for places in the program will be made soon. Thus far several definite invitations have been accepted by prominent authorities in the fields of social, theological, and economic science.

Harry Comer, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., said yesterday that it was the sponsorships by various organizations which contributed heavily to the array of great speakers who appeared on the program of the famous institute which was held here in the spring of 1931.

Amazing Record In Public Service Made By Graduates Of University

Duke Professor Talks On Mental Telepathy

Dr. J. B. Rhine of Duke University lectured informally to the members of Alpha Psi Delta, University psychology fraternity, here last night on "Experiments in Extra-Sensory Perception."

Dr. Rhine, who has made a study of this subject over a period of three years, has just recently published a book, "Extra-Sensory Perception," which has attracted considerable interest and was mentioned in an issue of Time, the news weekly, not long ago.

The Duke professor centered his talk around the results of demonstrations conducted by him in clairvoyance and mental telepathy. With the aid of cards, marked on which are simple symbols such as stars, rectangles, and circles, Dr. Rhine has been able to show that "good" subjects average better than chance in designating the correct symbols in tests of clairvoyance and mental telepathy.

University Has Placed 124 of Its Students in the United States House and Senate.

By GEORGE W. HAMER

The seating of Congressman-elect Graham Bardon and Harold D. Cooley, representing North Carolina's third and fourth districts respectively, and Senator-elect W. H. Smathers of New Jersey in the 74th Congress which has just convened in Washington, will bring the number of graduates and former students of the University who have held seats as senators or representatives at Washington to a total of 124.

The amazing record of the University's contribution to public service is revealed in a survey, just completed in the central alumni office here, based upon the Biographical Directory of Congress issued recently by a committee headed by Senator Moses of New Hampshire.

Service Rendered

It has been said that the measure of an educational institution's value should be deter-

(Continued on last page)

The Daily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Union Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where it is printed daily except Mondays, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Holidays. Entered as second class matter at the post office of Chapel Hill, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 for the college year.

A. T. Dill ..... Editor
Robert C. Page, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
Joe Webb ..... Business Manager
George Underwood ..... Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

EDITORIAL BOARD—Phil Hammer, chairman.
FEATURE BOARD—Nelson Lansdale, chairman; Nick Read, Bob Browder, Francis Clingman, J. E. Poindexter, W. M. Cochrane, Willis Harrison.
CITY EDITORS—Irving Suss, Walter Hargett, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.
TELEGRAPH EDITORS—Stuart Rabb, Charlie Gilmore.
DESK MAN—Eddie Kahn.
SPORTS DEPARTMENT—Jimmy Morris and Smith Barrier, co-editors; Robert Lessem, Lee Turk, Len Rubin, Fletcher Ferguson, Stuart Sechriest, Lester Ostrow, Ira Sarasohn.
EXCHANGES—Margaret Gaines.
STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER—Don Becker.
REPORTERS—Bill Hudson, John Smith, J. F. Jonas, Ralph Sprinkle, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Raymond Howe, William Jordan, Morton Feldman.

Business Staff

ASST. BUSINESS MANAGER ..... Butler French
COLLECTION MANAGER ..... Herbert Osterheld
OFFICE MANAGERS ..... Walter Eckert, Roy Crooks
NATIONAL ADVERTISING ..... Boylan Carr
DURHAM REPRESENTATIVE—Joe Murnick.
LOCAL ADVERTISING—Hugh Primrose, Robt. Sosnik, Eli Joyner (managers), Bill MacDonald, Louis Shaffner, Page Keel, Bill McLean, Crist Blackwell.

CITY EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE: DON McKEE

Thursday, January 10, 1935

PARAGRAPHICS

As we understand it, the bus company wants to take us for a ride.

So Huey calls Farley Roosevelt's chief Imp. Maybe Huey would like to be Lucifer and go to hell.

The water resources division couldn't be said to have moved. It just trickled away.

Self-Critical
College Athletics

It may be an impression peculiar to the DAILY TAR HEEL, but it seems to us that the aftermath of the 1934 football season has been singularly characterized by a number of moves toward confining what has become a semi-professional sport strictly to the bounds of an amateur one. There has been a lot of talk, which often may be set down as pure hot air, after every football season about "cleaning up" the sport. In the past it has usually come forth from compunctious big-wigs in the world of college athletics whose criticisms have been directed at every other school within the ranks except their own.

The criticisms of athletic authorities in the colleges throughout the country that have been made this year, however, cannot be considered as being due to the usual New Year's resolutions or to the inconsequential twinges of self-examination. Collegiate athletics must sooner or later openly admit the rank professionalism that exists in many instances; more than that, something must be done about it. And if we are not being deluded by what has happened time and again, there is taking place toward this end a more forward step than in recent years.

A sidelight on what is happening in the matter of eligibility of athletes is reported from South Bend, Ind., by the United Press:

> In the future players may not compete in athletics after their eighth semester in school. Thus any player who is out with injuries will automatically use up his eligibility. Neither will it be possible to hold a player out a season, hoping that he may be more valuable in some future season.

This ruling is all the more surprising since it comes from the authorities at Notre Dame, which has long been synonymous with football on the grand scale.

Without attempting to pass on the rule other than to say that it will probably correct the perennial-college-athlete status of many students, it shows the prevailing trend in our colleges toward improving the standards of athletic participation.

Another and even more forceful instance of this constructively critical attitude is the poll being conducted by the University of Virginia student paper to determine the school's policy toward athletics, notably in the matter of whether athletic scholarships should be granted. No attempt is being made in the poll itself to dictate policy, but the important thing is that the attitude of the school will be vivisected and the results of the autopsy made public.

Too much publicity, if it is well-intentioned and constructive, cannot be given to the present status of college athletics. And it is reasonable to suppose that correction of the abuses that have crept into it will follow as, indeed, has been the case in a great many instances in the nation.

Commendation
For the Grail

The action of the Order of the Grail in offering funds with which to obtain a "Grail speaker" on the program of the Institute of Human Relations is worthy of commendation not only for the spirit in which the funds were tendered but also for the value of such co-operation with the hard-working institute arrangements committee.

The institute has become recognized the nation over as a great institution for the crystallization of current opinion and ideas on the many issues of today. That an undergraduate order should be willing to aid not only by attendance at and participation in the program, but also in the financial backing of a definite part of it shows a growing appreciation on the campus of the value and importance of the quadrennial study.

The acceptance by some national figures of the institute's invitations to participate has already marked the coming discussion series as especially conducive to the development of student and more adult opinion on problems which face our undergraduate world with more serious circumstances than ever. Now, the addition of another prominent figure as the "Grail speaker" will further enhance the value of the institute to students in particular and the thinking world in general.

The Grail has always been only too willing to co-operate in campus activities with enough merit to warrant full student support. The funds which it has available are gained from dance receipts and are used, not for the organization itself, but for worthy campus projects. Its most recent action is greatly appreciated.

Looked Like A Weeks'-end

Brother Haywood Weeks might have had a little run-in with the law which was quite amusing, but we think the funniest thing—and by far the most pathetic—was that no one seemed to know what the state statute meant or why it should be enforced.

Haywood, the story runs, was called to task because his pet co-op store was not operating under the name of the owners. The fierce old meanies, those nasty Orange county-Chapel Hill law enforcers, issued a warrant against the establishment and Mr. Weeks had to scamper to Hillsboro to affix a few John Hancocks so that Old Man Statute would be appeased.

Brother Nixon, clerk of the Orange county superior court, was taken aback. It was the first case he'd had of this nature for several moons. Even Judge Phipps didn't know about the warrant, but of course, superiors can't spend their time chasing after their subordinates.

The pathetic note is that the law enforcement campaign had to pick on a statute about which even the county officials were a little dubious. How can you expect to reprimand a Negro with a half-pint of Turlington's balsam under his arm if you can't even get together on the more serious of the state statutes?

Hands Across the Basketball Court

The White Phantoms, Carolina's versatile court troop of basketball manipulators, of the 1934 season were a very hard working bunch of fighters who thought a lot of each other and because of this fact, they turned in a most enviable record both insofar as scores were concerned and also in view of the fact that everywhere the team played, favorable comments on its clean sportsmanship and fighting spirit were forthcoming.

We are of the opinion that a seemingly insignificant action on the part of the players before the game and between the halves had a truly significant bearing upon their aforementioned successes, namely, that each member of the team before going on the floor for the respective halves, huddled and placed his hands one on top of the other in a five-man handshake. Unimportant as this may appear, we believe it served as a tie binding the men closer together and creating that fraternal atmosphere between the players which coaches cherish so highly.

We noticed that this year's edition of basketballers in its game with Wake Forest Tuesday night did not use the handshake of '34 and seasons previous. The '35 team after playing and winning three games to date, appear outwardly to be taking their court duties as a matter of course and despite the fact that the resulting performances have not been discouraging, it is only too obvious that a certain essential "fire" and comradeship among the fellows is simply not present in the proportion which is representative of a team expecting a good or better-than-average season.

This attitude may be well illustrated by what happens when a player is removed from the game in favor of a substitute. Upon a player's removel from the game, his fellows, if they have that desirable something known as team spirit, will automatically "sock" him on the back and tell him he's played a great game, regardless of how he has actually performed.

OUTSTANDING RADIO BROADCASTS

Thursday, Jan. 10

12:30: George Hall orch., WABC.

1:15: "Motor Car of the Future," C. F. Kettering, vice-president of General Motors; M. M. Gilman, vice-president of Packard Motor Co., WEAF.

3:15: Rochester Philharmonic orch., WEAF.

4:00: "What is Modern Art?" Frau Annot, artist, WEAF.

5:00: Loretta Lee, songs, WABC.

6:00: "League of Nations and World Affairs," Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia Univ.; Senator Pope of Idaho; Prof. Hudson of Harvard Univ., WJZ.

6:45: Lowell Thomas, commentator, WJZ.

7:05: Richard Himber orch., WEAF.

8:00: Vallee's Varieties, WEAF.

8:30: Johnson orch.; Edward Nell, baritone; Edwin C. Hill, commentator, WABC.

9:00: Gray orch.; Walter O'Keefe; Annette Hanshaw, WABC.

9:30: Waring's Pennsylvanians, WABC.

10:00: Whiteman's Music Hall, WEAF.

11:00: Jack Denny orch., WEAF.

Playmakers Celebrate New Year In New York

(Continued from page one)

Theater. Loretta Carroll is the author of "Job's Kinfolk."

Eugenia Rawls has a good part in one of the most successful plays of New York. The play, "The Children's Hour," is by Lillian Hellman and is playing at Maxine Elliotts Theater. Miss Rawls, who played leading parts here two years ago, played last summer on a show boat on Long Island Sound.

Elizabeth Farrar, who played in Joseph Anthony's "A Ship Comes In," is now directing the play by Mrs. William Beebe, playing at the Little Theater at Flushing, Long Island.

ANTI-WAR COMMITTEE

The meeting of the continuations committee of the Students' Anti-War Conference scheduled for tonight will be postponed until further notice in the DAILY TAR HEEL.

All members are asked to get in touch with Bill Levitt before Saturday.

Human Relations Board

The meeting of the human relations institute committee, scheduled for 7 p. m. in the "Y" building, has been postponed until 9 p. m. because of a conflict.

SAAR PLEBISCITE TO BE DISCUSSED

(Continued from page one)

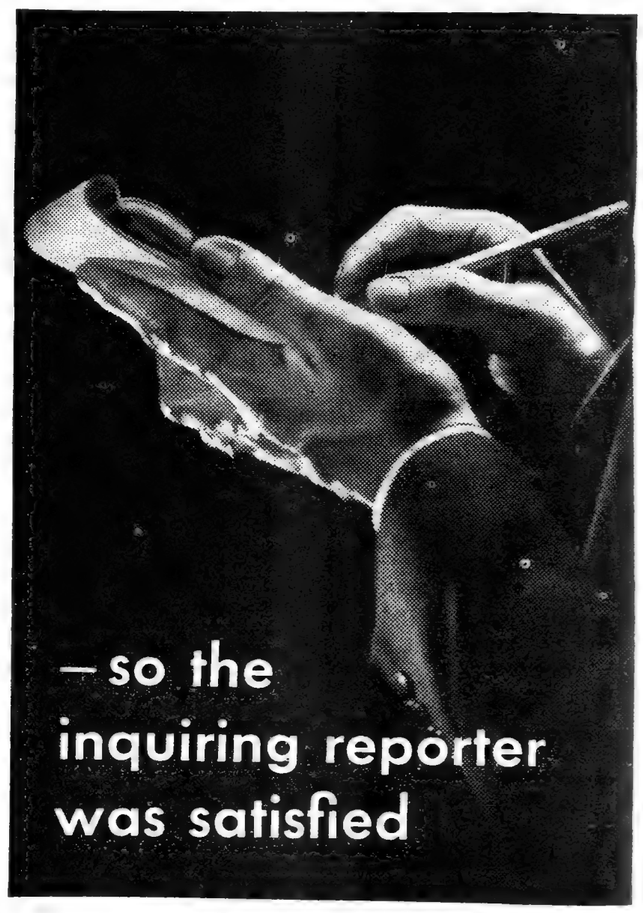
an attempt to bring the noted speaker to the University campus to lead a series of discussions and forums.

Leaders of the club announced yesterday that it was possible that Eichelberger will visit Chapel Hill some time this spring to make several lectures on the League of Nations.

Attempts are also being made to bring Dr. Stephen Duggans to the University for a series of platform addresses.

Agnew Bahnson, president of the league, announced yesterday that all present members of the club are urged to attend the session tonight and also any other interested students on the campus.

JAFSIE TESTIFIES HAUPTMANN SLEW LINDBERGH CHILD



(Continued from page one)

some remark that makes the dissolution of the jury necessary. The court failed to disclose the content of the alleged statement.

London, Jan. 9.— (UP) — A dispatch received tonight from Oslo, Norway, said that Henry "Red" Johnson, sailor friend of Betty Gow, had been located in Oslo. Johnson is running a small grocery store under his real name, Henrik Johnsen.

He said, "My only knowledge of Hauptmann is what I read in the newspapers. I never met the man."

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS

A reporter for a metropolitan daily asked a number of persons on the street, "What is the biggest buy for a nickel?" Two-thirds promptly replied, "A telephone call."

Americans throughout the country evidently agree with this judgment of value received from the telephone. For each day they hold more than 57,000,000 conversations over Bell System wires.

Why not telephone home one night each week? For bargain rates, call by number after 8:30 P. M.

Year after year Bell System planning extends the telephone's reach—increases its speed—makes it more convenient, more valuable to everybody.

BELL TELEPHONE SYSTEM

Phantoms Leave On 3-Tilt Trip Through Virginia; Will Battle W. And L. Tonight

Jason Glace Is Still Sick But Will Go with Team on Trip

Carolina to Clash with VMI and VPI Friday and Saturday.

Coach Bo Shepard and two complete teams of White Phantoms are leaving at 9:30 o'clock this morning for Virginia where they will engage a trio of Southern Conference teams.

Tonight the Tar Heels will swing into action against the Generals from Washington and Lee, who were conference champions last year. The Shepardmen will cross the street tomorrow night for a game with the V. M. I. Cadets before leaving Lexington.

The White Phantoms will push their invasion farther into the Old Dominion State for a game with V. P. I. at Blacksburg on the following night. Saturday night promises to be better than a three-ring circus, since the Carolina varsity and freshman boxers will also be meeting the Gobblers at Blacksburg.

Glace Still Out

Although Jason Glace is making the trip, it is doubtful that he will be in condition to play for several days yet.

Glace, regular Tar Heel center, donned basketball togs yesterday for the first time since his illness; however, he did not participate in the hard workout at the Tin Can. Latcher Webster is still running at the first string center position.

Coach Shepard was well pleased with the showing his team made against Wake Forest Tuesday night; however, he believes the game with Washington and Lee tonight will be a real test of the team's strength.

The ten basketeers making the excursion through Virginia are Captain Aitken, Glace, Nelson, McCachren, Kaveny, Webster, Blood, Minor, Harris, and Ramsey.

Doping The Sports

By JAMES MORRIS

AFTER much research and worry a line was finally gotten on the work of All-American George Barclay in the New Year's East-West battle at San Francisco. Someone was kind enough to send Coach Carl Snavely some clippings on the tilt and I was able to get a hasty glance of the write-ups; all appeared in a San Francisco paper. In one place Barclay was mentioned along with Sheppard, touchdown-maker, as the two best men on the East eleven. In another place the guards were written up as outstanding in the battle. Along with this story went a picture of Captain George.

ALTHOUGH they took their three opening games with ease, the White Phantoms look far from being a top outfit yet. It may be that the competition wasn't strong enough to push them to more effort or the Tar Heels might not have reached playing condition yet. Anyway the spark has been missing and the five has played more in a mechanical fashion during the initial tilts. Tonight the five faces Washington and Lee, Southern Conference champion, and so will need more than an ordinary combination to keep its record intact. Jason Glace is almost sure to be missing again but the team still should have the necessary power for success.

THE new men, Kaveny, Nelson, Webster, and Blood, have all been coming through in a fairly satisfactory manner but the old men, Captain Aitken and Jim McCachren have not yet shown the form that made them great players last year. These boys should be the first to round into shape as they are banked on heavily to lead the Phantoms to victory; in all probability these veterans will come through when the going really gets tough.

AS things stack up now both the Big Five and Southern Conference championship races look like mad scrambles with several outfits having chances to top things. The White Phantoms, present state title-holder, of course should be in the midst of the battles. Fans will probably know better after the Tar Heels have had their contests with the Virginia clubs during this week and next.

WAKE Forest and Davidson already look entirely out of the race for Big Five honors as both Carolina and Duke won handily over the two fives. This leaves Carolina, Duke and State in the picture with nary a one favored. State probably has the best material at present since nearly all its veterans are back plus a cracker-jack club from last year's freshman class. The Blue Devils have already demonstrated some strength and are developing into a smooth combination fast. As I have stated before, the Tar Heels are an unknown quality but if a real contender is there one can almost be sure that Coach Bo Shepard will build it into a championship five.

IN the Southern Conference the biggest development over the past year is the fading of South Carolina. Without the Tompkins brothers it is hardly likely that the Gamecocks will

(Continued on last page)

FROSH PREPARE FOR RALEIGH HI

Tar Baby Cagers Take on Capital City Team Saturday; Expect Lineup Shifts.

Still catching their breath from the last minute stand against Wake Forest, the frosh hoopsters limbered up yesterday at the Tin Can in preparation for their coming tussle with Raleigh High this Saturday night.

The Raleigh quintet recently downed the N. C. State freshmen in a thrilling contest and is a serious threat to the Carolina frosh. Trailing State by 5 points and with but one and a half minutes remaining to play, the high school lads unleashed a scoring attack of six points to send an amazed group of State yearlings to an unexpected defeat.

A glimpse back at the Wake Forest encounter reveals the fact that the Tar Babies flashed both extremes before emerging the victors. At times it was a well-oiled combination that showed speed and class in moving down the court; they also counteracted this offensive power by a serious lapse in their defensive tactics.

Drill on Defense

Coach Skidmore plans to drill expressly on the defensive fundamentals in the practices each night that precede the Raleigh contest. The coach was only moderately pleased by the frosh

(Continued on last page)

FROSH GRAPPLERS TAKE HARD DRILL; TWENTY-SIX WORK

Coach Chuck Quinlan Still Wants Heavy Wrestlers.

The baby grapplers in their attempt at recognition underwent a hard workout yesterday in the Tin Can, consisting of calisthenics and supervised sparring with each other. A pep talk by Coach Quinlan came in between the calisthenics and sparring and gave the rasslers their only rest during the toughest practice thus far in the season.

Each couple during the sparring session was called before the rest of the squad. One of the two would act as the aggressor and then as the defender while the coach called to the attention of the squad any faults or good points.

At the present time 26 men will compete in various weights for a place on the yearling team. The frosh who are working out daily are as follows:

118-lb—Patrick and Ehringhaus.

126-lb—Decker, Fidel, Exum, and Cooke.

135-lb—Ford, Hoyt, Read, and Lyons.

145-lb — Gibbons, Hendrickson, W. Smith, Hard, Claypoole, and Young.

155-lb — Shapiro, O'Connell, Eller, and James.

165-lb—Finberg, Llewlyn, and Shulman.

175-lb—Love and Sutton.

Unlimited—Castelloe.

It should be noted that the heaviest and lightest divisions have the fewest competitors and although the first meet is only little more than a week away the coach will consider any men who are still willing to try out for the team.

YEARLING BOXERS DEVELOPING SLOW

First-Year Club Opens Season Saturday; Lack of Competition Slows Up Practice.

Entering their final days of practice preparatory to their initial debut, the yearling mitmen turned on the steam yesterday afternoon at the Tin Can and consequently appeared to be a more spirited group than their previous efforts have shown them to be.

Due to the lack of competition for spots on the squad, some of the frosh glovers have been content to fight only occasionally and when the occasion arrives they do not stand up very well.

The only weight division in which there is any competition is the 129-lb class, which has Bass, Lee and Benton. The other divisions have but one man apiece, with the exception of the heavyweight, which has none.

Squad's Best

Bill Shores and Ed O'Herron are at present the top-notchers of the squad. These two boys fought toe to toe for three rounds yesterday and showed vast improvement over their past showings. Shores looked to be his old self once again while his sparring partner, O'Herron, is coming on fast.

In the 119-lb class Coach Rowe will most probably use Larry Hendel, who despite the fact that he is game, does not possess finished ring ability. Shores and O'Herron both linger around the same weight, but the latter will represent Carolina in the 139-lb class, while the former will go in the 149-division.

A new boy by the name of Irvin Hendrik is scheduled to appear in the 159-lb bout, and Rowley will step out in the 169.

Schmurak is the big boy of the team for the 175-lb bout.

GRAPPLING CLUB TAKES ANOTHER HARD WORKOUT

Preliminary Meet Between Members of Mat Squads Will Be Held Next Saturday.

STANDING WORK STRESSED

Carolina's varsity matmen got another dose of hard workout yesterday as Coach Chuck Quinlan continued to prime his charges for the V. P. I. meet Saturday week. Work from the standing position was stressed for the first time in yesterday's practice session.

On account of the lack of space in which the wrestlers have to take their workouts this important fundamental point of the mat sport has not been stressed in past years but the Tar Heel mentor stated that it will be emphasized throughout this year.

Jacobs, 145-pound grappler of the 1934 Tar Babies reported yesterday for the first time. His addition to the squad should strengthen the Tar Heels considerably in the welterweight division.

Prelim Meet Saturday

As was announced Tuesday a preliminary wrestling meet will be held Saturday. The teams will be paired off into two groups, called the "Grunts" and the "Groans." Every man will see action in this meet which will be run on a point basis.

There should be plenty of entertainment for the spectators. Over 20 matches are scheduled to take place with competition between both freshmen and varsity.

Williamson, Relay Team Are Invited To Millrose Meet

Harry Williamson, in the 1000-meter run, and the two-mile relay team of the University of North Carolina have been invited to participate in the Millrose AA indoor track games to be held in Madison Square Garden, February 2.

These games, the 28th annual, will be among the feature track events in New York City. They headline the early season 1935 track play and will bring together the best athletes in the nation.

The games include fifteen events, featuring the Wanamaker mile, Millrose "600," and Anderson Memorial Intercollegiate relays one mile.

Williamson is rated among the four best in the nation as a miler and as the best half-miler in the south. He ran fourth to Bonthron, Cunningham, and Venzke in the record breaking mile in last summer's intercollegiates in Los Angeles. Later he captured the junior 1500-meter national championship. Last Saturday in the K. of C. games, he ran a close fourth to Cunningham, Venzke, and Ray in a fast 800-meter event.

The two-mile relay team has not been decided to date. More than likely it will, however, be chosen from the following stars of the Tar Heel Southern Conference indoor and outdoor track champions: Williamson, Gammon, McRae, Waldrop, Drake, Gabori, and Gardiner.

Intramural Basketball Season Gets Underway This Afternoon; Forty-Four Teams Are Entered 18 Dormitory Combinations and 26 Fraternity Quintets Comprise Entry.

RUFFIN WON TITLE IN 1934

Games Will Start at 3:45 and 4:45 O'clock; Six Contests On Schedule Today.

TODAY'S SCHEDULE

3:45—(1) Kappa Sigma vs. Theta Chi, (2) Chi Psi vs. Phi Sigma Kappa, (3) Law School vs. Locals.

4:45—(1) Chi Phi vs. Theta Kappa Nu, (2) Everett vs. Pharmacy, (3) A. T. O. vs. Beta Theta Pi.

Six games are on tap for the opening session of the 1935 race for the intramural basketball championship which starts this afternoon in the Tin Can at 3:45 o'clock.

This season has an entry list of 44 teams, 18 dormitory and 26 fraternity—an &increase of four over last season and the same number as 1933.

Ruffin, defending titlists, are not slated for action until next week, but Kappa Sigma, one of the fraternity semi-finalists last year, will occupy the limelight when it faces Theta Chi in the opening game.

Mangum dormitory, believing that it has a surplus of court stars, is the only group entering two teams. No. 1 is led by Dennis Fox, and No. 2 by James Mizelle, with the latter getting the first chance to display its wares tomorrow against the powerful Manly quintet.

All teams must have their manager or an assistant present at the games in order to assist with the score-book keeping. Games are scheduled to start promptly at the time indicated, and the number given for the game indicates the court upon which it is to be played.

Two Stars Return For Tennis Outfit

The tennis courts, although practically deserted, manage to make encouraging news as a result of the return of two stars to the firing line.

Outstanding of the unexpected additions is Frank Shores, one of the finest prospects seen in years, who last fall won the freshman tourney and went on to burn a merry pace throughout the year.

The other return of a former racquet star takes place in the eligibility of Ike Minor. A varsity veteran and a dangerous man at all times on the court, Minor will likewise strengthen the varsity in the spring.

De Gray Ready

Shores and Minor, coupled with the coming eligibility of Eddy De Gray, form a nuceleus for a powerful team by themselves. With the addition of

(Continued on last page)

CAPTAIN GIDDINS SHOWS TOP FORM IN MIT WORKOUT

Boxing Leader Looks Ready to Go in 169 Class; Alderman, Carruth in Hard Battle.

DIEHL IS GETTING READY

Showing all the spark and fire of a Southern Conference champion, Captain Sam Giddins hooked, jabbed, and crossed with both hands during his three round tiff with Tom O'Flaherty. "Gidds" scored repeatedly with long lefts and rights, causing O'Flaherty to fight cautiously. Giddins is close to the required 169-pound weight at present, and should have little difficulty in making the weight by the time of the weigh-in ceremonies.

In an interesting three-round exhibition, "Killer" Carruth and "Lammie" Alderman mixed without a let-up. Both boys threw caution to the winds as they waded into each other with the fury of tigers. These behemoths are fighting tooth and nail to outdo each other as both are anxious to fight the initial scrap against V. P. I.

Carruth Improved

Carruth is not the slow boxer he was last year when he used to wait for his opponent to lead to him and then score his telling blows as a counter puncher; now he takes the lead and keeps his adversary on a bicycle.

Although he has improved somewhat, Marion Diehl is still in pretty poor condition. Diehl's wind is beginning to get stronger but his timing is not yet perfect. With a couple more workouts, Diehl should be able to round into fairly good shape for Saturday night's bout.

Maxie Novich, ten pounds heavier than he was last year, may be moved to the lightheavyweight post. It all depends on how Marvin Ray's sore shoulder gets along. Maxie stepped two rounds with Jules Medynski yesterday afternoon.

Jules Medynski seems to have clinched the 155-pound berth, and Jules is another one of the boys packing dynamite in each of his hands. Medynski looked good in his short tiff with the rugged Novich and also demonstrated his punching power in a three-minute go with Sol Shmurak.

VERSATILE FRANTZ ACCORDED PRAISE

(Continued from page one)

more enthusiastic plaudits. Frantz recognized its worth, and under his hands it became one of the most thrilling successes of the New York season.

Brilliant and accepted works, as well as the more obscure concertos, are included in Frantz's repertory—a repertory reflecting the great ability, responsive temperment and vivid imagination of the youthful pianist.

USED CARS

at

Strowd Motor Co.

1934 Ford Deluxe Coupe, rumble seat and radio	$475
1931 Ford Deluxe Roadster	165
1929 Ford Roadster	65
1930 Ford Coupe	195
1928 Oldsmobile	98

KNIGHT TO ISSUE SUMMER SCHOOL STUDY PROGRAM

Preliminary Announcement of Sessions Expected Soon; Complete Details Later.

TWO TERMS GIVEN HERE

Preliminary announcement of the summer session of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, Greensboro, and Raleigh, will be issued in a few days, Dr. Edgar W. Knight, director of the consolidated summer session announced today. It will contain information concerning summer work at Chapel Hill and Raleigh.

It is expected that the complete and official summer session announcement will be ready for distribution within a few weeks. This announcement will contain a full list of the teaching staff, a complete description of each course offered, instruction for registration, and a statement of the regulations for the summer session.

Announcement Ratified

The administrative board of the summer session met in Chapel Hill this week and approved the announcement. The board is composed of C. T. Woollen, comptroller; Dean W. W. Pierson, of the graduate school; Administrative Dean R. B. House, of the University at Chapel Hill; Dean John W. Harrelson of the State College unit; Dean W. C. Jackson of the Woman's College unit; and Dr. Knight.

One six weeks' term at Raleigh and Greensboro and two terms of six weeks each at Chapel Hill will constitute the summer session of 1935. The first term at each unit will open on June 13 and close July 24. The second term, at Chapel Hill, will begin on July 25 and close on August 31.

Second Session

Special effort will be made to provide regular work at the second session at Chapel Hill that may supplement without interruption or loss courses taken by students at the first session at the Woman's College at Greensboro or at State College in Raleigh.

Regular college work of standard grade will be provided at each of the three units. Elementary education will be a distinctive field of study at the Woman's College. Agricultural, technological, and vocational subjects will be emphasized at State College. Graduate work, both academic and professional, and undergraduate work in the field of secondary education will predominate at Chapel Hill.

Special lectures and features of the summer session will be open to students and public. A series of conferences on various phases of American education will be held for students, visiting school officials, and those interested.

NBC Will Broadcast League Celebration

The League of Nations will commemorate its fifteenth birthday over the National Broadcasting company this evening at 6:30 o'clock.

In co-operation with the World Peace Foundation, the league will present as guest speakers over the blue network from station WJZ in New York, Carrie Chapman Catt, Nicholas Murray Butler, Manley O. Hudson, and James P. Pope.

Listeners are asked by the broadcasters to write their comments on the program to the National Broadcasting company at 30 Rockefeller Plaza in New York City.

AMAZING RECORD IN PUBLIC SERVICE MADE BY ALUMNI

(Continued from page one)

mined by the usefulness of those who have gone out from its doors to serve their state and in a broader sense their nation. And if such is the case, then how near has the University of North Carolina come to fulfilling Thomas Jefferson's demand that any university should give to the state "legislators and judges . . . and expound the principles and structure of government, by well-formed views of political economy give free course to public industry"?

While sons of the University have gained eminence in almost every line of human endeavor, the legislative branch of the federal government has been chosen as the field which lends itself most easily to a statistical survey.

U. N. C. Congressmen

Two hundred and seventy-three individuals represented North Carolina, the survey shows, in either the Senate or the House of Representatives. Of this number 159 have attended one or more colleges or universities, while 114 were not college-trained men. Many of this latter group served in the early years of the republic.

University alumni contribute 97 in the list of 159 college men, Princeton University being second with 14. Senators and representatives who attended other state educational institutions, and who did not study also at Chapel Hill, number 15.

The majority of those who went out of the state and even abroad for their education did so during the years when North Carolina had no facilities for higher education. Recent years have found comparatively few men who have received their entire college training outside of North Carolina.

Other States

Twenty-seven Carolina alumni have represented other states in the federal Congress, some of the more prominent of these being James Knox Polk, who was graduated from the University in 1818, moved to Tennessee, and became a representative from that state, speaker of the House of Representatives, governor of Tennessee, and President of the United States.

John Y. Mason, who returned to his native state, Virginia, after being graduated from the University in 1816, served as representative, attorney-general of the United States, secretary of the navy, minister to France, and secretary of state.

John H. Eaton, a native of Halifax county, who was a student in 1803, later became a senator from Tennessee, secretary of war, governor of the Florida Territory, and minister to Spain.

Sawyer's Career

Among the University's early students there was a young man by the name of Lemuel Sawyer, who was destined to be the first of a long line of University-trained congressmen. He was born near Elizabeth City in 1777 and arrived in Chapel Hill soon after the doors of the University were opened for the admittance of students. He remained under the influence of Dr. Joseph Caldwell, who was soon to be elected the University's first president, until 1799 and returned to his home to be elected a member of the House of Commons during the following year.

So successfully did he serve that in 1807 he was chosen by his fellowmen to represent them in the 10th Congress of the United States. He served 16 years and at the end of that time accepted a position in Washington as a departmental assistant and remained until his death in 1852.

William Rufus King, with a distinguished record known to many, was graduated from the University in 1803 and later practiced law in Clinton until 1811 when he was elected a member of the 12th Congress. At the end of seven years he moved to the newly created state of Alabama and was immediately elected as one of the senators from that state.

He held that office continuously until 1844 when he was appointed minister to France for a period of two years. In 1853 he was given the oath of office as vice-president of the United States in Havana, Cuba, where he had gone because of ill health.

First U. N. C. Senator

The first University student to become a United States senator was John Branch of Halifax county. He was graduated from the University in 1801 and immediately began the study of law. Five years later he became speaker of the Senate for a period of one year, after which he was elected governor of North Carolina. In 1823 he took his seat as United States senator and later served as secretary of the navy and governor of the Territory of Florida.

Among the remaining sons of the University who have figured in the shaping of national affairs as members from North Carolina, there were such men as Bartlett Yancey of Caswell county, who entered the University in 1804 and later became a representative, state senator, speaker of the senate, and lieutenant governor; Willie P. Mangum of Orange county, who was graduated in 1815 and became a member of the House of Commons, state senator, representative, and United States senator for 16 years; Zebulon Baird Vance of Buncombe county, who entered the University in 1851 and later served as a member of the House of Commons, representative, governor of North Carolina, and United States senator; Matthew W. Ransom of Northampton county, who was graduated in 1847 and later became a member of the House of Commons, United States senator for 23 years, and minister to Mexico.

The North Carolina delegation at Washington in 1935 will include ten graduates and former students of the University. Senator Robert R. Reynolds, class of 1906, will head the list. The representatives who studied at Chapel Hill in addition to Congressmen Graham and Barden, '20, and Harold D. Cooley, '17, are: Lindsay Warren, '10; Frank Hancock, '16; William B. Umstead, '16; J. Bayard Clark, law '07; A. L. Bulwinkle, law '04; and Zebulon Weaver, law '94.

Diversified Collections Mark Hobbies Of French Professor

Dr. Holmes Studies Mediaeval Superstitions as His Hobby and Boasts Several Charms; Uses Collections to Illustrate His Lectures on Middle Age French.

Dr. Urban T. Holmes—the Lawrence Tibbett of the French department—has for some time been collecting plants, armor, and precious jewels in order that, as he says, he may give a vivid presentation of the subject of old French literature to his class.

Unable to buy the stone called allectorius, Dr. Holmes got T. E. Wright to help him out. The stone, he says, in mediaeval literature is described as being of the appearance of the stones in the chicken's craw.

Wright On The Job

Prof. Wright killed a chicken and took from it a stone which he presented to Dr. Holmes. Dr. Holmes shows this object to his classes as having the means of giving strength, or never permitting its possessor to be conquered in battle, and of promoting friendship. It symbolizes victory. One might become a victor, according to history, says Dr. Holmes, by wearing on his person a stone from a chicken's craw.

The French professor has made an extensive study of gems and during the past year he wrote a pamphlet for the Mediaeval Academy of America entitled "Speculum." In this he identifies systematically, with their modern names, the gems in actual use during the mediaeval period.

Tree Agate, whose natural coloration is like that of tree foliage, according to mediaeval lore, makes one lose one's eyesight if it is gazed upon too long.

Probably the most picturesque stone in Dr. Holmes' collection is the chrysolite, or ass' hair, which when worn over the left arm in the middle ages kept people from seeing phantoms. Now it just keeps the ghosts away. With the assistance of a strand of hair, it will keep the devil away.

Dr. Holmes also has in his office, which in fact looks more like a laboratory than an office, such plants as the average housewife has. These plants, he says, served also in mediaeval times and their names are frequently found in mediaeval literature.

Coin Collection

Most of Dr. Holmes' collection of coins comes between the 11th and 12th centuries. He has one which was used in the time of Charlemagne.

An old ledger binding from Italy belonging to the 16th century, small lead soldiers dressed in chain-mail armor from France, a mediaeval cross bow, a battle axe and a Rennaissance rapier—all help Dr. Holmes make vivid old French literature.

Two Stars Return For Tennis Outfit

(Continued from page three)

Walter Levitan, captain, Harvey Harris and Ricky Willis the prospects are exceedingly bright.

De Gray, winner of this fall's frosh competition, completes his first-year studies this quarter, and becomes varsity material with the opening day of the spring season. De Gray has been the most outstanding player on the courts during the last few months and will probably gain a top notch on the squad.

Coach Kenfield, who is the source for this new optimism, announces that varsity practice starts with the coming of warmer weather. Each satisfactory day from now on will be utilized by the squad on the two cement courts.

Again, the completion of 43 playing surfaces by the ERA furnishes the varsity with practice fields without interfering with the play of the entire student body.

STUDENT FEES

Students whose names begin with Q through S are scheduled to pay or make arrangements for paying their winter quarter student fees today at the business office.

THE
Young Men's Shop
126-128 E. Main St.
DURHAM, N. C.

FROSH PREPARE FOR RALEIGH HI

(Continued from page three)

exhibition but hopes that with a few more days of drill he will be able to put a stronger five upon the floor.

The starting line-up again becomes a doubtful question. Moss and Boone, supposedly regulars, saw little action and were replaced by Meroney and Bershak in the early minutes of the game.

Jimmy "Red" Meroney, pivot man throughout most of the game, played as fine during the second half as he looked awkward during the first. He missed setup after setup throughout the game but rose to the occasion in the necessary moments with an "all-around-the-floor" exhibition that put Carolina back into the lead.

Charlotte Boys Star

Pete Mullis and Earl Ruth clinched their first team berths with sterling exhibitions. Both Charlotte boys handled the ball like veterans and put the necessary pep into the nervous outfit.

If Wake Forest had maintained its furious foul shooting pace, the story would have been entirely different. After dropping in 6 out of 7 in the first half, it failed miserably on 7 out of 11 in the latter part of the game. Carolina put in 9 of its 13 "grat" shots and this consistency brought victory.

With this victory under its belt, the undefeated frosh five looks about for its next victim and it will be a dangerous set of Tar Babies that will meet Raleigh at the Tin Can on Saturday.

Doping the Sports

(Continued from page three)

cause a great deal of trouble. In addition to the three Big Five teams, Maryland and Washington and Lee appear to be the outstanding clubs. However, there is a possibility that Virginia and Clemson, both weak last season, might furnish some strong dark horses. W. & L., being the defending champ, of course has something while Maryland has been knocking off opponents, including South Carolina, pretty regularly. Clemson looks like the class of South Carolina while the Cavaliers pulled their first surprise by taking the Gamecocks last week.

Dancers Meet Tonight

There will be a meeting of the folk dancers tonight at 8 o'clock in 123 Peabody for the purpose of re-organization. Students wishing to participate are urged to be present at this meeting.

Engineers to Pose

Members of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and the American Society of Civil Engineers will be photographed this morning at 10:30 o'clock in front of Phillips hall.

Merchants To Register Names Of Shop Owners

North Carolina Law Demands Regulation of Managers.

Chapel Hill merchants operating stores under any name other than that of the owners must register the names of the owners or be subject to the penalties provided for by law, announced Prosecuting Attorney Roy McGinnis yesterday.

The law requiring registration of ownership where it is not apparent from the name of the business arises under a North Carolina statute in the section dealing with partnerships, one article of which provides a $50 fine or 30 days in jail, or both, for violation of the law.

"The statute was passed to fix responsibility for contracts made with business houses," said McGinnis. He explained that the public had a right to know the owners of a business.

The prosecuting attorney said he understood only two stores in Chapel Hill had registered the names of their owners with the clerk of the superior court in Hillsboro. These, he said, were the Co-operative Dry Cleaners and the Co-operative Clothing Store, which are now in full compliance with the statute.

Physics Department Has New Assistant

Through funds made available by the Rockefeller Fund for Pure Science, Raymond L. Driscoll has been attached to the staff of the physics department as research assistant to Dr. Otto Stuhlman, Jr.

After receiving a B.S. degree at William and Mary College in 1928, Driscoll entered the research laboratory of the General Electric Co. at Schenectady, N. Y. During the last four years he has been associated with the United States helium plant at Amarillo, Texas. There he was a member of the cryogenic department.

Driscoll will be concerned with research on the intensity of spectra.

INFIRMARY LIST

The following students were confined in the infirmary yesterday: Lewis Thompson, E. C. Joyner, Ida Winstead, Mary Scobee, J. F. Blue, Carl Anderson, H. H. Mills, Bruce Smith, Tom Hines, Mac N. Smith, H. E. Moore, Charles Hudson, W. T. Lamm, E. J. Venters, Robert Henggi.

R. S. McCollum, G. V. Wheeler, Whitney Von Cannon, Hugh Primrose, F. J. Haywood, A. E. Anderson, O. K. Bailey, F. R. Vincent, W. A. Innes, J. B. Howell, Denmuth Spivey, Romayne Howard, John Barefoot, Henry Bartos, David Spelt, H. E. Hamilton, M. C. Fitts, and Nancy Flanders.

PRESIDENT GRAHAM
10:30 A. M.
MEMORIAL HALL

The Daily Tar Heel

ENTIRE EDITORIAL STAFF
3 P. M.
DAILY TAR HEEL OFFICE

SERVED BY THE UNITED PRESS

VOLUME XLIII | CHAPEL HILL, N. C., FRIDAY, JANUARY 11, 1935 | NUMBER 76

UNIVERSITY UNITS' SUMMER SESSION TO OPEN JUNE 13

Graduate and Undergraduate Work to Be Stressed in Two Terms to Be Offered Here.

ONE TERM AT OTHER UNITS

The summer session of the Greater University of North Carolina will open its doors to the public and students on June 13, according to an announcement yesterday by Dr. Edgar W. Knight, director of the consolidated session.

Two terms will be offered at the Chapel Hill unit, the second beginning the day after the opening session closes, July 25. Graduate work, both academic and professional, and undergraduate work in secondary education will be the distinctive fields in the local sessions.

At the Woman's College in Greensboro, one term will be offered with elementary education the stressed subject. Agricultural, technological, and vocational fields will be taught at State College in Raleigh, also for one term.

Special effort will be made to provide regular work at the second session in Chapel Hill, from July 25 to August 31, that may supplement without interruption or loss courses taken by students in the first session at the Raleigh or Greensboro units.

It is expected that the catalogue material for the sessions will be prepared immediately, and that the complete and official summer session announcements will be ready for distribution within a few weeks.

The announcement will contain a full list of the teaching staff, a complete discription of each course offered, instruction for registration, and a statement of the regulations for the session.

According to Dr. Knight, regular college work of standard

(Continued on last page)

GRAHAM TO TALK AT CHAPEL TODAY

University President to Make Second Appearance Before Student Body Since Fall.

President Frank Porter Graham will begin the new series of freshman assembly programs for the winter quarter this morning with an address to the first-year men in Memorial hall.

President Graham's appearance this morning will mark the second time that he has spoken to the student body since the opening of school last fall.

Dean Approves Series

The new series of programs as outlined by freshman Drew Martin and his assembly program committee was approved yesterday by Dean Francis F. Bradshaw.

Under the new arrangement assembly will be held only twice a week, Monday and Friday.

Following President Graham's address in Memorial hall today, the committee will present various other outstanding speakers in the state, including: Dean of Administration R. B. House, Dean W. C. Jackson of the University at Greensboro, Dean Harrelson of the University at Raleigh, Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus, and heads of various University departments.

"Hard Boiled" Students No Longer In Evidence

Today's Students Realistic and Serious-Minded, Says Chicago Professor.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 10.—(UP)—The butterfly, the flapper, the lounge lizard and the sophisticate are fast disappearing types among college students, Dr. Charles W. Gilkey, dean of the University of Chicago chapel, said in an address here.

"It is the best generation of college students I have seen in 30 years of contact with students," Dr. Gilkey said.

Increased attendance at chapel and more interest in religious discussion were cited as evidences of the disappearance of the "hardboiled" college generation.

"Today's students are serious-minded, realistic and convinced something is radically wrong with a social scheme which offers them so little," Dr. Gilkey said.

"Students are not at all convinced about the solution of our situation but they are convinced that something is wrong," Dr. Gilkey said. "Communism attracts the smallest group of all because it is a dogma and if there is one thing a college student can't stand for it is dogma."

The most pressing social issue for students, is war, according to the doctor. He said there are more young men and women willing to go to jail rather than to war than ever before.

There still are more, he said, who though not avowed pacifists, reserve the right to decide in their own minds whether a war is justified before enlisting.

MYSTERY WOMAN APPEARS AT TRIAL

Defense Says Unknown Woman Will Testify in Effort to Implicate Condon.

Flemington, N. J., Jan. 10.—(UP)—"Jafsie" walked out of the Hauptmann trial today and a mysterious woman in green walked in.

The defense lawyers averred that some day soon they would put her on the witness stand as a final fling in their attempt to prove that Condon, famous kidnap go-between, was involved in the snatching of Charles Lindbergh's baby.

Condon was one of the most important witnesses dealing heavy blows at Bruno Hauptmann during his stay on the stand.

Today was the day the defense had promised to name four persons who they alleged were the kidnapers, but failed to do so.

As the day ended, the state began an attempt to identify Hauptmann through handwriting samples.

Senior Class Heads Meet for Discussion

Led by President Jack Pool, the members of the senior class executive committee conducted a general welfare discussion period last night in the Y. M. C. A. lobby.

The regular class meeting was set for Thursday, January 17, at the morning half-hour period.

Pool's group created a new speaker's funds and the president appointed a committee which will announce its plans for the fund today.

Frosh Begin Project Among Durham Boys

The Freshman Friendship Council initiated its new "Boys' Club" project last night in Durham.

At the first meeting of the Durham newsboys group in the City Y. M. C. A. building, Carolina freshmen, Drew Martin, Bob Magill, Giles Winstead, and Bill MacDonald acted as organizers.

Harry F. Comer, general secretary of the University Y. M. C. A., announced that the local friendship council would continue to send representatives to the meetings of the new club. Thursday night was set as the regular meeting date.

LIBRARY DISPLAYS BOOKS ON ARCTIC

Exhibit Announced Concerning Discovery and Exploration.

R. B. Downs, University librarian, has placed three cases of books dealing with arctic discovery and exploration in the lobby of the library.

The oldest book in the exhibit is "A Voyage Toward the North Pole in H. M. S. Racehorse and Carcass," written in 1773. The most valuable one is "Arctic Zoology," by Thomas Pennant.

Books of a later date included in the display recall the Peary-Cook dispute over who was the first to discover the North Pole. Peary's "The North Pole" is among the more interesting parts of the exhibit.

The exploits of the Old Hudson Bay Company are reviewed in the book, "A Journey from Prince of Wales Fort, in Hudson Bay, to the Northern Cross Undertaken by Order of the Hudson Bay Company for the discovery of Copper Mines and a Northwest Passage."

Also included in the display are books by Admiral Ferdinand Wrangle, formerly of the Russian Imperial Navy, and Hans Egede Sasbye, grandson of the celebrated Hans Egede.

Players To Caper In Annual 'Revel'

Faculty Actors Will Present Part of "Twelfth Night."

The seventh annual "Twelfth Night Revels," regular winter quarter breathing spell for the Carolina Playmakers, will come off tomorrow night in the theatre.

The program which leaked out from the pen of Philip Parker and his fellow criminals yesterday, as they worked desperately to outline an effective "escape" from the usual prisonary life of a Playmaker, points far into the night. The celebrating will start at 8 p. m.

Faculty to Perform

The dramatic-minded members of the University faculty will provide the first section of the performance which include five parts.

The revel scene from William Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" and "Saint George and the Dragon," an old English play, promise to be among the highlights of the faculty's effort.

The nine parts of the second group are along a more modern theme and the student Playmakers themselves do most of the mischief.

All playmakers, past or present, are invited to participate in the romp-romp. Besides Parker, the following will get blamed for the affair, Patsy McMullan, Sara Sewell, Louise McGuire, Harry Coble, Walter Terry, Fred Howard, Johnny Walker, Carl Thompson, Alton Williams, and George Pearson.

"Y" Deputations

Harry Comer, general secretary of the University Y. M. C. A., announced yesterday that the "Y" deputations for the winter quarter will be organized immediately.

Fayetteville, Dunn, and other towns in the state are included on the new program, according to Comer.

University Has Bull Fighting Enthusiast In Dr. Meno Spann

German Professor Says That Sport Has Become "Minor Passion" With Him; Gives Lecture Each Year in Effort to Correct Popular Conception Held in This Country.

Bull fighting with all its glamor and pagan beauty seldom finds a more sympathic and enthusiastic patron in this supposedly puritanical western world than Dr. Meno Spann has proved himself to be. After several years of academic study and first hand observation of this Spanish national sport the German professor asserts that it has become with him a "minor passion," something to dream about and anticipate for future entertainment.

Due to this interest and understanding of bull fighting as a sport Dr. Spann has inaugurated an annual lecture which he delivers here on the campus in an effort to debunk the popular conception held in regards to this sport. For his own satisfaction he has made a collection of things pertaining to bull fighting, including the horns of a bull that gored one of his friends. He also has accumulated a fairly complete library on the subject.

America Prejudiced

He first became interested during his student days in Germany when he ran across the subject in his academic work. There in a land, which, like America, is prejudiced against bull fighting for humane reasons he was pushed on by the psychological tendency to take the opposite side in matters where a great deal of prejudice is shown.

From this stage of mere study he soon found it possible to gain first hand information by traveling in Spain. Backed by a letter of recommendation from a friend in Paris, who has been a life-long enthusiast of this sport and who barely missed being a professional bull fighter through objections raised by his family, Dr. Spann went to Spain and there was able to meet many of the famous fighters as well as see them perform on the arena.

Painful Experience

Since it is usually required, because of the rigors of the profession, for a bull fighter to begin his training almost at the same time that he stops crawling, Dr. Spann has never participated in any actual fight. However, he does tell of an experience that he had while in Pamplona during the past sum-

(Continued on page two)

EDITORIAL STAFF

There will be a meeting of the entire editorial staff of the DAILY TAR HEEL this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the newspaper office. It is absolutely imperative that everyone be present. Failure to attend will mean being dropped from the staff.

GRISETTE ISSUES UNIVERSITY FACTS

Second Issue of Publication Includes Data on University Finances and Enrollment.

The second issue of Felix A. Grisette's University Facts comes out today, packed with charts, tables, and articles dealing with the financial situation of the University, whose fate for the next two years will be decided by the state assembly, now in session at Raleigh.

Charts on the first page show how enrollment in both the University at Chapel Hill and the Consolidated University has increased since 1928-29 while appropriations have steadily been decreasing; how representative interests in North Carolina have been on the road to recovery since 1932 while the state allotments to the University are approximately 75 per cent lower than in 1932; and how a typical University professor with his salary slashed 32 per cent since 1930 is having to meet a cost of living which has fallen only 16 per cent since 1929 and is now on the way back up.

Comparison

Covering the center pages of University Facts are tables comparing the University of North Carolina with other representative state universities as to salaries paid professors and instructors, percentage of the total income paid by the state, state appropriations per student, percentage of income paid by students in matriculation, tuition and other fees, and extent of salary reductions. Reprints of these charts are available at Grisette's office in South building.

An article illustrating the point that salaries in other fields are rising while the University salaries stay at their low level is found on the back page of the issue.

The editor relieves the serious tone of his paper with a page of "Letters to the Editor," and

(Continued on page two)

GRAIL TO ADMIT FROSH TO DANCE

Allsbrook Selected to Play at First Dance of Quarter.

Freshmen will be admitted to the first Grail dance of the winter quarter, the DAILY TAR HEEL learned last night.

The first of a series of three Grail affairs will be held in the gymnasium from 9 until 12 o'clock Saturday night with Bill Allsbrook and his Carolina Club orchestra furnishing the music.

Allsbrook, ex-Carolina maestro, has one of the best known popular orchestras produced on the campus, having left last year to play in the Tintilla Gardens of Richmond. At present he is filling an engagement in Greensboro.

Tickets for the dance are on sale at Pritchard-Lloyds for one dollar apiece, according to an announcement by Simmons Patterson, manager of the Grail social affairs.

TROOPS IN SAAR FOR EMERGENCIES DURING ELECTION

Hitler Anxious to Win Territory In Sunday's Plebiscite, Schulz Tells Foreign Policy Group.

BOND GIVES BACKGROUND

"Germans, Remember the Saar!" With that battle-cry ringing throughout the Third Reich, John Schulz told the Foreign Policy League last night, Hitler is making every effort to win the League of Nations plebiscite slated for this Sunday.

The Germans, Schulz declared, are taking the vote very seriously. Last August, he said, 200,000 Germans gathered for a demonstration near Coblenz. France, on the otherhand, does not seem to care very much which way the election goes.

Schulz's talk was one of two presented to the Foreign Policy League by members of the club. Niles Bond began the discussion by outlining the historical background of the struggle between France and Germany for control of the Saar. Bond told the club that the quarrel was more than a thousand years old, and had culminated after the World War in the clauses of the Versailles treaty providing for the disposition of the Saar.

Versailles Treaty

The treaty placed the Saar valley under direct control of the League of Nations for 15 years, following which the inhabitants were to vote to either accede to France or Germany, or to remain under the league, Bond continued. If the Saar should vote to go to Germany, that country must pay France a cash sum before she can get the valuable coal deposits of the area.

Following Bond, Schulz spoke

(Continued on page two)

GOVERNOR SPEAKS BEFORE ASSEMBLY

Ehringhaus Pledges Co-operation and Outlines Problems of Legislature.

Raleigh, Jan. 10.—(UP)—The 1935 General Assembly of the State of North Carolina tonight heard an address by Governor Ehringhaus, pledging co-operation, reviewing the state's remarkable accomplishments during the last biennium, and outlining the problems which faced the legislature.

After describing North Carolina's rise from the "threshold of bankruptcy" two years ago, the governor described the present status and gave possibilities for the future.

Teachers' Salaries Too Low

Claiming that fifteen years "would put us comparatively on easy street," he advocated "a substantial increase in the appropriation for schools," as the teachers' salaries were entirely on too low a level. Asserting that school conditions were not entirely bad, however, he listed several merits and improvements that have been realized during the last two years.

While opposing highway diversion, the governor suggested a program of highway improvement. He said that he could not afford to jeopardize the investment of nearly $300,000,000 by allowing deterioration of the public roads.

The Daily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Union Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where it is printed daily except Mondays, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Holidays. Entered as second class matter at the post office of Chapel Hill, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 for the college year.

A. T. Dill ..... Editor
Robert C. Page, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
Joe Webb ..... Business Manager
George Underwood ..... Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

EDITORIAL BOARD—Phil Hammer, chairman.
FEATURE BOARD—Nelson Lansdale, chairman; Nick Read, Bob Browder, Francis Clingman, J. E. Poindexter, W. M. Cochrane, Willis Harrison.
CITY EDITORS—Irving Suss, Walter Hargett, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.
TELEGRAPH EDITORS—Stuart Rabb, Charlie Gilmore.
DESK MAN—Eddie Kahn.
SPORTS DEPARTMENT—Jimmy Morris and Smith Barrier, co-editors; Robert Lessem, Lee Turk, Lea Rubin, Fletcher Ferguson, Stuart Sechriest, Lester Ostrow, Ira Sarasohn.
EXCHANGES—Margaret Gaines.
STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER—Don Becker.
REPORTERS—Bill Hudson, John Smith, J. F. Jonas, Ralph Sprinkle, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Raymond Howe, William Jordan, Morton Feldman.

Business Staff

ASST. BUSINESS MANAGER ..... Butler French
COLLECTION MANAGER ..... Herbert Osterheld
OFFICE MANAGERS ..... Walter Eckert, Roy Crooks
NATIONAL ADVERTISING ..... Boylan Carr
DURHAM REPRESENTATIVE—Joe Murnick.
LOCAL ADVERTISING—Hugh Primrose, Robt. Sosnik, Eli Joyner (managers), Bill MacDonald, Louis Shaffner, Page Keel, Bill McLean, Crist Blackwell.

CITY EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE: REED SARRATT

Friday, January 11, 1935

PARAGRAPHICS

It would be all very elegant if some of the 124 University graduates in Washington chambers could have brought some of the capital back with them.

Professor Woodhouse says that county rings are the greatest obstacles to county mergers. Politicians don't seem to be the marrying kind.

"State Symphony to Change Base," reads headline. Or maybe its bass.

All-Stars vs. The Box-Office

We agree with certain members of the administration that the University of North Carolina would not suffer a whit by comparison in the selection of an All-American academic team. And, glancing at a tentative lineup of high-calibre educational All-American prospects which Felix Grisette has drawn up, we can feel a certain pride in this institution for all its disillusioning financial circumstances.

Two great sociologists claim the tackle posts, Ernest R. Groves, leader in the field of marital problems, and Harold W. Odum, recognized as the nation's foremost authority in social planning. What has Stanford to offer at these positions? Clarence Heer, master of taxation, would make a peach of a center. Edgar Knight, of educational fame, and Carl Snavely, the football maestro, compose a powerful guard pair. And Archibald Henderson, mathematician and biographer extraordinary, and Frederick Koch, of footlights and foible, should snag barrels of passes and publicity at the ends.

Field General Frank Graham would make a heady quarterback, and J. F. Dashiell, eminent psychologist, and W. deB. MacNider, famous pharmacologist, would make a hard-running pair of halfbacks. With Marion Trabue, employment expert, at full, the team rounds out a true All-American lineup.

But C. T. Woollen, manager, still has a tough job on his hands getting box-office receipts.

The War On Crime

Designed for careful reading and judicious digestion is the article by Professor Albert Coates on "Co-ordination of Anti-Crime Activities" which appears in the latest issue of Popular Government, the official organ of the Institute of Government.

For crime is a common problem; more than that, it is universally a menace to the well-being of America. How significant it is that the first steps are being taken in the direction of mobilizing every available force of the state, local, and national governments in a war against crime—can be appreciated as a pioneering enterprise that should have been embarked upon long ago. "In the day of the hue and cry," observes Mr. Coates, "a citizen was required to track the criminal across his plantation to his property line and the adjoining landowner there took up the chase. Today the citizen's representative may track the criminal to the town, the township or the county line as the case may be, and if the scent is warm and the pursuit hot may cross it, not if the scent is cold. We stop to swap horses on our boundary lines. While the law is in hobbles, the criminal goes free."

University Facts—in Red

We have Felix Grisette's timely University Facts to thank for a few more figures to portray very forcibly the misalignment in the University's economic and financial chassis.

Four simple and expressive charts represent to the University-advocates the decadent condition expressing the following situations: for the University at Chapel Hill, the appropriations from the state have dropped 56 per cent and the enrollment increased 12 per cent, using 1928-29 as the base year; for the Consolidated University, state funds have been diminished 60 per cent and the enrollment increased by one hundred students; using 1932 as the base year, the University's 55 per cent appropriations slice is contrasted with the 250 per cent increase in farm income, the 20 per cent increase in cigarette sales, and other income increases; and finally, a comparison of the cost of living and the University salaries shows the latter at 68 per cent of the 1923-29 level while the cost of living has reduced only 15 per cent, and is rising again.

Comment is hardly needed. The plight has been emphasized in these columns many times before. Our only remark would be to stress the extreme importance of action by the present session of the legislature, at whose mercy rests the fate of North Carolina's higher educational institutions.

Page Mr. Smith

With regard to the moving pictures, college students may be divided into three groups. There are the playboys who pride themselves upon never going cinema-less for a day, those who pride themselves upon picking their pictures judiciously, and finally those who take equal pride in their ability to eschew even the most tempting productions. This last group is perhaps the most pitiable of all, pitiable in that the students who comprise it are defeating the very purpose with which they are so sincerely striving—a thorough and complete educationing.

Everyone has come into contact with individuals who are so eager for learning that they voluntarily shut themselves up in a shell with their books and absolutely refuse to stir forth for any recreation—even though that recreation take the form of a nationally known speaker or a famous musician. And there are a certain number of moving pictures, which fall into the same educational category. "We Live Again," based on Tolstoy's "Resurrection," was one of them. Admittedly the style of a book cannot be projected upon a screen, but the spirit and historical significance need not be lost in a careful production. And the movies do give us the added advantage of being able to see the story live before our eyes.

"The Little Minister," "Berkley Square," and "Treasure Island" are just a few of the large number of classic works which have been worthily interpreted by Hollywood. Two hours spent at any of them would reward the intellectually curious mind with far more real food for thought than half a day spent on disinterested mumbling of Spanish verbs or even the successful conquering of De Moivre's Theorem. It's all in the picking.

"Come to the Prayer Meetin' "

Despite the fact that many intellectual campus organizations meet regularly and have interesting programs, the attendance seems very small. The majority of the members of one group are also the members of other groups, which means that the composite membership is much smaller than one would be led to believe.

Either the great mass of the student body has perpetual spring fever, or, what is worse, it has not the least bit of intellectual curiosity. We ask the question: Does the fault lie with the leaders in the groups? Do they plan interesting sessions?

Such time honored bodies as the "Y," the Di and the Phi, the debate council, and the Foreign Policy League actually have not an aggregate attendance of over 100 members. Aside from this there are few, if any, discussion groups of any importance, with the exception of the language groups, membership in which is not entirely voluntary.

Various ways of advertising discussion groups have been tried. Perhaps it is the fault of the substance so advertised that attendance has been so poor. But the groups seem to have done their best. Now it is obligatory that the student body take advantage of the opportunities at hand and participate in organized sessions, rather than in comparatively worthless "bull sessions" that are held from dawn till dusk.

The paralytic condition of many of the campus groups can be directly traced on small rosters and, reciprocally, the mental paralysis of the student body as a whole on the same non-attendance feature. We can only remark that opportunities are slipping by every day of which many could avail themselves.

University Has Bull Fighting Enthusiast In Dr. Meno Spann

(Continued from page one)

mer. While the annual fiesta there is in full swing, several cows, lean, vicious animals, are turned into the fighting arena and all comers may enter to try their skill as amateurs. The cow's horns are padded with thick leather, but at this particular time the padding proved to be slightly worn so that one horn was exposed. Dr. Spann, who had become entangled in the mob of some 200 men who had turned out, suddenly felt himself knocked off his feet. He sailed up into the air and then on the return trip to the earth landed on the horns of the cow. The injury was painful but of no great consequence.

Bull fighting is an expression of a predatory instinct that is present in everyone, explains Dr. Spann. "We in America taboo bull fighting and deny the existence of such an instinct but nevertheless we turn out in large masses for motion pictures which show mortal combat, and we read greedily the newspapers about stories of bloody man-hunts," says the professor.

Spanish Idea

"In Spain we do not find any of these signs of hypocrisy. Spain is a conscientiously religious nation, and as a countermovement for this extreme we find them expressing their pagan instincts in bull fighting. And of it they have made, not a gory spectacle that most Americans picture it to be, but a thing of artistic beauty and valor, with the struggle being a dance between a perfect dancer and a raging brute seeking to destroy its tormentor. Of course, death lies in the offing—death for the fighter, or death for the bull—so it might even be termed a dance of death.

"All Spain loves the national sport," continued the energetic young professor. "It is said that the peasants often hoard their meager savings for a year so that they can attend a magnificent fiesta, and witness several bull fights. They mingle in crowds of 10 to 15 thousand, paying from one to two dollars for the privilege of seeing the fight. And here in the stadium under a blazing Spanish sun are seen gay colors and merry crowds consisting of experienced wise spectators.

"Here they see a primitive drama, a combat between brutal nature and frail but intelligent man, and since there is a conflict resulting in death, it becomes a tragedy of the lower level but nevertheless with a certain cathartic effect on the audience," says Spann. "It is a drama of the flesh, a glorification of the body which modern religion has tended to dispise. Since there is always the presence of death it is made more profound."

The principal fights witnessed by Dr. Spann were held at Pamplona, Madrid, Barcelona, Valencia, in Spain and Tetuan in Africa.

GRISETTE ISSUES UNIVERSITY FACTS

(Continued from page one)

a column of personal notes on University personalities, which he calls the "University Merry-Go-Round."

Another unusual feature of this issue of Grisette's paper is his "Academic All-American" team, on which he includes Professors Dashiell, Groves, Heer, Henderson, Knight, Koch, MacNider, Odum, Trabue and Coach Snavely. The captain and coach is President Graham, the business manager, Controller Woollen, and the publicity director, R. W. Madry of the University News Bureau.

TROOPS IN SAAR DURING ELECTION

(Continued from page one)

on the present-day issues involved in the vote that will be held the day after tomorrow.

Before the advent of Hitler, he said, it was estimated that over 90 per cent of the population was in favor of joining Germany. Der Fuhrer, however, has alienated large portions of the inhabitants, especially the Catholics. The "purge" of last June also came as a profound shock to the citizens of the Saar.

Troops Significant

The speaker considered the presence of international troops of great significance. They are now concentrated in the area in case of emergency.

Schulz called attention to the fact that the league does not necessarily have to abide by the decision of the plebiscite. In case, of a close vote, he said, the league may not give the Saar to either France or Germany. However, he expects the pro-German group to carry the election Sunday.

Nine Points

In the extemporaneous discussion which followed the two speeches, Phil Hammer listed nine points of interest which had occurred to him:

1. Of 38 newspapers in the Saar, he said, 33 are pro-Hitler.
2. It has been rumored that Hitler trained picked youths from the Saar for "the fight."
3. Hammer raised the question, "Would the league protect the minority elements of the Saar after the vote?"
4. At present, he pointed out, the inhabitants of the Saar are using French money backed by 80 per cent gold. Will they be willing, Hammer asks, to go to Germany and change their francs for marks that are backed by only 2 per cent gold?
5. The Saar is now enjoying an unusual prosperity, and has no debts saddled upon her. Joining Germany may mean the end of this prosperity.
6. He called attention to the fact that Germany is reported to be sending voters into the Saar.
7. France, he says, does not now need, nor want, the coal deposits of the Saar river basin.
8. Although the league commissioner governing the Saar has been extremely fair, Hammer said, he is one of the most hated men in Germany.
9. In Hammer's opinion, the real essence of the Saar plebiscite is: Can the settlement of such an important international question be made peaceably?

Becker Elected

Previous to the discussion on the Saar, the Foreign Policy League elected Don Becker to take the place of Ezra Griffin as secretary. Griffin was forced to resign because of the pressure of his law courses. Joe Barnett and John Parker were also nominated for the office, Barnett declining the nomination.

Agnew Bahnson, president of the group, conducted the meeting last night. He told the club briefly of plans for consolidating the colleges of southeastern United States into a vocal unit for expressing opinions on foreign affairs, particularly as they affect the international policy of this country.

The group voted to meet every other Thursday for an hour during this quarter. This is a continuation of the policy the club has been following.

Di Senate Picture

Members of the Dialectic Senate will assemble at 10:30 o'clock this morning in front of Bingham hall to have their picture taken for the Yackety Yack.

WITH THE CHURCHES

Lutheran

10:15—Sunday School discussion group led by Oscar Petrea.
11:00—Service: "Shall the Church Give Up Her Missions?"

Presbyterian

10:00—Student Class: "The Mastery of Leisure" with Rev. Watt Cooper conducting.
11:00—Service: "The Conquest of Fear" by Rev. Donald H. Stewart.
7:00—Student Forum discussing Christian Socialism led by Rev. Stewart.

Methodist

9:45—Sunday School.
11:00—Service by Rev. W. A. Jenkins.
7:00—Student Forum led by Professor Winkler.

Baptist

10:00—Student Class conducted by M. J. Hapgood.
10:00—Co-ed class taught by Dr. A. C. Howell.
11:00—Service: "The Inescapable Christ" by Dr. Binkley.

Episcopal

8:00—Holy Communion.
10:00—Freshman Bible class.
11:00—Service, sermon, and Holy Communion.
8:00—Prayers and organ recital.

Roman Catholic

8:30—Mass in Gerrard hall by Father Morrissey.

United

10:15—Student class taught by Dr. McKee on "Budgeting the New Year."
11:00—Service: "The Marks of a World Christian."
7:00—Student Forum led by Professor Winkler on "Intellectual Difficulties in the Bible."

OUTSTANDING RADIO BROADCASTS

1:00: George Hall orch., WABC.
1:30: Little Jack Little, songs, WABC.
3:15: Minneapolis Symphony orch., WABC.
6:45: Lowell Thomas, commentator, WJZ.
7:00: Phil Cook Show Shop, WEAF.
7:15: Plantation Echoes, WJZ.
8:00: Bourdon orch.; Jessica Dragonette, soprano; male quartet, WEAF.
8:15: Dick Leibert, organ; Armbruster and Kraus, piano; Mary Courtland, songs; quartet, WJZ.
8:30: Goodman orch.; Jane Froman, songs; James Melton, tenor; Bob Hope, comedian, WJZ; Court of Human Relations, WABC.
9:00: Lyman orch.; Frank Munn, tenor; Vivienne Segal, songs, WEAF; Beatrice Lillie, comedienne, Perrin orch., quartet, WJZ.
9:30: Phil Baker, comedian; Belasco orch., WJZ; Hollywood Hotel, with Dick Powell, Jane Williams, Ted Fio-Rito orch., guest stars, WABC.
10:00: Relation of Unified Industry to Recovery, Speaker, WJZ.
11:00: Eddie Duchin orch., WJZ.

NOTE BOOKS
STATIONERY
GIFTS

Ledbetter-Pickard

We Appreciate Your Patronage

Carolina Downs Generals In Fast Cage Tilt, 36-34; McCachren Leads Victory

Tied 13-13 at Half; Aitken, Nelson Star; to Play VMI Tonight

First Defeat for W. and L. Since Winning Title.

(Special to the DAILY TAR HEEL)

Lynchburg, Va., Jan. 10.—The University of North Carolina's fast White Phantoms put the first black mark in Washington and Lee's defense of the Southern Conference cage crown, as the Carolinians eked out a thrilling 36-34 victory.

Fighting man to man, point to point from the first moment to the last, the two ace cage teams put on a battle royal. Tied 13-13 at the half, they came down the home stretch evenly. Carolina edged into a narrow lead and managed to hold it.

Jim McCachren, All-Southern Tar Heel guard, led the Carolinians' attack. He captured individual scoring honors by tallying five shots from action and a pair of free throws for 12 points. His defensive work was also brilliant.

Captain Snooks Aitken and Mel Nelson, starting forwards for the winners, also put on a great exhibition of offensive basketeering. Aitken scored 8 markers and the latter tallied one less.

Field led the losers' offense, coming down the floor from his guard post to tally 8 points. Pette at forward turned in a fine game, as well as Smith.

The Generals outscored the Tar Heels on points from action but their inability to convert the gratis tosses cost them the game.

Smith and Field of W. & L. were removed from the game on account of fouls, while no Carolina man held the excess number of mistakes.

Box Score

CAROLINA	G	F	TP
Aitken, f	3	2	8
Nelson, f	2	3	7
Webster, c	0	1	1
Glace, c	1	1	3
McCachren, g	5	2	12
Kaveny, g	1	0	2
Harris, g	1	1	3
Total	13	10	36

W. & L.	G	F	TP
Pette, f	2	2	6
Smith, f	3	0	6
Ellis, f	1	0	2
Richardson, c	3	0	6
Iler, g	3	0	6
Field, g	3	2	8
Total	15	4	34

Score at half: 13-13.

Non-scoring subs: W. & L.—Watts, f; Jones, g. Carolina—Blood, f.

Referee: Carrington, (Va.).

FOOTBALL PRACTICE

Coach Carl Snavely has issued the call for winter football practice. All men are to report Monday at the Kenan field house at 1:30 o'clock for equipment. Practice starts at 4 o'clock.

FROSH MITTMEN IMPROVE ON EVE OF INITIAL FIGHT

Most of Yearlings Take Rest; All Members of Squad Seem To Be in Good Shape.

TO SCRAP IN BLACKSBURG

The freshman boxing front was rather quiet yesterday as only four first year men went through their paces. Ed O'Herron, Sol Shmurak, Bill Rowley, and Ed Hendriks worked out in the squared circle.

O'Herron started the work going two fast rounds against Joe Fisher. He looked rather good in his setto, displaying bursts of fine boxing, and a new born willingness to mix it. He got in some accurate jabs against his faster, more experienced opponent.

Shmurak was better than ever before in his two round setto with Max Novich. For the first time Shmurak was the aggressor, and he showed some fine footwork and hard hitting.

Two Newcomers

Bill Rowley and Ed Hendriks are the two new turnouts. Rowley is extremely fast and a fair boxer with unknown punching qualities. Hendriks, a direct opposite, is the weaving type, stalking his opponent, taking a lot of punishment, and waiting for an opening.

Bill Shores, number one man of the squad, was in the Tin Can punching the bags, skipping the rope, and doing the usual preliminary exercises, but he did not enter the ring.

The frosh squad shapes up much better at present than it did two days ago when the team seemed fated for certain defeat. On the basis of yesterday's showing they stand a fighting chance of coming through with flying colors.

TEBELL CHANGES CAVALIER LINEUP FOR W & L BATTLE

Showing Against Richmond Is Cause of Revision; Meet Generals Tomorrow.

PLAY HERE NEXT TUESDAY

University, Va., Jan. 10.—Gus Tebell, Virginia's basketball coach, will offer a revised team for action against W. & L., the defending champions of the Southern Conference, in Lexington on Saturday.

Virginia's basketeers made far too many mistakes against the University of Richmond the other night to suit the Cavalier coach. He is willing to credit the Spiders with rare accuracy in their shooting, but he is far from pleased with the performance of his charges.

Against Richmond the starting forwards were Henry Sturm and Ray Smith, with Fred Zeisberg in center and Dave Marrett and Harold Gist as guards. Orlin Rogers, Lucian Cox, Nex Booker and Andrew Connor got in as forwards, Bud Abbitt played part of the game at center, and Bus Male and Julian Gordon were alternate guards.

Coach Tebell may try a completely revised lineup against the Generals, after workout tomorrow, the changes he makes depending upon how his men show up in their practice drill.

Next week the Cavaliers take a trip to play Duke in Durham on Monday and North Carolina in Chapel Hill on Tuesday. Then on Friday they go over to Lexington again for the first of two games against Virginia Military Institute.

Today's Mural Card

3:45—(1) Mangum II vs. Manly, (2) Kluttz vs. Grimes, (3) Phi Alpha vs. Phi Gamma Delta.

4:45—(1) Z. B. T. vs. D. K. E., (2) Mayflower vs. Y. M. C. A., (3) Lambda Chi Alpha vs. S. P. E.

HOPES BRIGHTER FOR VARSITY AND FROSH GROANERS

Likely Starting Lineup Is Announced for Both Squads; Two New Men Out.

WRESTLE VPI NEXT WEEK

Prospects for successful wrestling seasons for both varsity and freshman wrestling teams appeared brighter yesterday with the addition of two candidates. The new men are Jim Tatum, brilliant tackle on the Tar Heel football aggregation, and Walborn, blocking back on the freshman grid team.

Both entries are out for the unlimited division of their respective squads. Coach Quinlan stated yesterday that their addition would considerably strengthen the matmen for their first encounter with V. P. I. next week.

Tentative Lineup

General opinion around the mat, including that of the mentor, with reference to a likely lineup is as follows: freshmen: Patrick (118), Exum (126), Ford (135), Claypole (145), Eller (155), Schulman (165), Love (175), Walborn (unlimited); and varsity: Darden (118), Lessem (126), Kephart (135), Kholsen (145), Northcross (155), Efland (165), Ransom (175), and Tatum (unlimited).

Carolina will be out to avenge the loss suffered at the hands of the Gobblers last year. The Virginians administered an 18-10 drugging while the Tar Babies nosed out the little Gobblers 18-16. The varsity grapplers were able to win but two of the eight matches.

Work from the standing position continued to be stressed during yesterday's workout. Practice will be held as usual this afternoon at 4 o'clock, and the Tar Heel mentor stated that it is absolutely essential that every man report for work.

Intramural Cage Season Opens; Chi Psi's Close Victory Features

Theta Chi Rallies to Overcome Kappa Sigs

Betas, Theta Kappa Nus, Lawyers, and Everett Also Win Opening Contests.

PEACOCK IS HIGH SCORER

Quite a variety of basketball art was seen in the opening session of the 1935 intramural championships in the Tin Can yesterday afternoon with Chi Psi's 15-13 victory over Phi Sigma Kappa featuring.

Theta Chi sprung the biggest surprise by overcoming a Kappa Sigma margin to win out 28-17, while the Law School and Betas ran a race for scoring honors with 63 and 44 points respectively.

Lawyer Tops Scorers

Peacock, flashy Law School guard, stole the spotlight as far as scoring was concerned when he swished the ball through the nets on 16 occasions for a total of 32 points.

Trip Rand of the Betas, who ran away with football scoring honors, came back with 15, while Schoner of Theta Kappa Nu scored 13, and Spencer of A. T. O., Voliver of Chi Phi, and Bennett of Theta Chi all tallied 10.

The outstanding game was the close 15-13 victory of Chi Psi. The score was knotted at 4-4 at half time, and the lead changed hands on several occasions until the closing minutes of the final period as Phi Sigma Kappa was unable to stop the victor's strong finishing rally.

The summaries:

Chi Psi 15	Phi Sig. Kap. 13
Haleman, f	Mahoney, f (1)
Waters, f (3)	Clayton, f
Manley, c (4)	Shaw, c (6)
Brand ,g (2)	Fuller, g (3)
Darling, g	George, g (2)

Subs: Chi Psi—Foreman (2).

Theta Chi 28	Kappa Sigma 17
Barker, f (6)	Townsend, f
Austin, f (6)	Steele, f

(Continued on last page)

Glove Lacings

By SMITH BARRIER

The boxing season is on hand. Coach Crayton Rowe's Tar Heels will get their first dose of 1935 fire tomorrow night at Blacksburg when they scrap the V. P. I. Gobblers. Here at the beginning of the year the Southern Conference boxing prospects are looking upward. Better material is within the ranks of the old SIC than ever before.

Three teams seem to stand out in pre-season doping—namely, Virginia, Duke, and North Carolina. The Cavaliers always turn out an excellent, hard-to-beat glove squad, and this year is to be no exception. For the last several seasons they have had things practically their own way in the ring. But those Cavaliers are going to have to work their way around very carefully and cautiously this winter. Both the Dukes and the Heels have power clubs. Either of this trio is likely to come through for the title.

* * *

Speaking of the Virginians, there seems to be certain parties around yon Charlottesville campus who have it in for Carolina—that is, from the boxing aspect. The Cavaliers have not forgotten that so terrible humiliation last year when their frosh were wiped out by the Tar Babies. Now they (especially a certain Mr. Everett Lee of the College Topics) are griping because Carolina will not box them in Richmond. Last year they fought in Charlottesville, and now they want it in Richmond. Of course, they can not realize that probably some of the Carolina students might like to see the match. And this Mr. Lee adds that the Tar Heels are just as good as whipped by the Cavaliers anywhere they meet. Of course, he meant providing it was in the ring—but this year, watch out Sure Lee—don't fee-Lee too sure that the meLee will not be all Tar HeeLee.

* * *

V. P. I.'s Gobbler mittmen are considerably weak this year, especially in the early season. Big deficiencies occur in the 145, 175, and unlimited classes. Their stronghold is in the 125-lb class, and there they have an excellent glover, Freddie Hall, who went to the SIC finals last year only to lose to Virginia's Rainey. The rest of the team is composed of veterans and sophomores. In the bantamweight class, two youngsters are scrapping for the starting call. Hall takes the 125; and Jeff Brandon, veteran of the 115-lb last season, has pulled up to the 135-lb division. Out of three candidates, Miley will probably get the call in the welterweight. Captain Granville Bussey holds the 155-lb post and Dillon, frosh leader last winter, the 165. The fighters in the two heaviest classes are undecided to date. Of them all, Hall will give Carolina the biggest fight.

* * *

Rowe's men who will answer to the call of the gong tomorrow night will have five and possibly six sophomores in their ranks. Last season's ace frosh pug team has developed well and much is expected from their flying leather. Two of this group of newcomers will, no doubt, turn up as the stars of the team. Both men are fast, clever, and

(Continued on last page)

Tar Heel Boxers Finish Practice, Depart For V P I This Morning

Team Is in Fine Shape for Its Initial Battle; Will Fight Tomorrow Night.

With all the men who are to participate in the matches against V. P. I. putting the finishing touches to their training, Coach Rowe announced the names of those who will represent Carolina in the curtain-raiser of the boxing season tomorrow night.

Diehl, who is to be the bantamweight entry, worked four rounds yesterday afternoon. He looked much better than he did the earlier part of the week.

Eutsler, letterman of the last year's varsity, will hold down the featherweight class. Eutsler looked good in his last workout, and the additional poundage he has this year has made him much stronger.

O'Flaherty at 135

Tommy O'Flaherty, sophomore lightweight, worked two fast rounds against the powerful Novich and will be more than eager to mix it with the Gobbler lightweight.

At 145 pounds, Carolina has one of the cleverest boxers to ever don a glove. Welterweight Fisher dazzled the spectators yesterday with his beautiful assortment of punches, coupled with his speedy footwork. Fisher breezed through two rounds with Joe Dickson, and two rounds with O'Herron.

In the 155 pound class is the murderous Jule Medynski. Captain Sam Giddins will carry Carolina's colors in the middleweight division. Giddins is fight-

(Continued on last page)

VA. FROSH MEET FIVE PUG TEAMS

Tackle VMI First; Battle Tar Babies on January 26 Here in Tin Can.

University, Va., Jan. 10.—Five meets have been scheduled for the Virginia first-year boxing team which will begin its competition on January 19 against V. M. I.'s freshmen in Lexington.

Coaching the young Cavalier sluggers this season is Harold Stuart, middleweight champion of the Southern Conference and former Virginia ring captain. He has a promising squad, though most of them are novices in the ring game.

The first-year boxers have two engagements away from home before their first meet here against the freshmen of V. P. I. on February 2. They will also box the Maryland freshmen here two weeks later on Feb. 16.

The complete freshman boxing schedule follows:

Jan. 19—V. M. I. away.
Jan. 26—Nor. Carolina away.
Feb. 2—V. P. I., here.
Feb. 8—Staunton Military Academy, away.
Feb. 16—Maryland, here.

FROSH GRID MANAGERS

All freshmen interested in trying out for assistant football managerships are to report Tuesday at 4 o'clock at Kenan stadium.

COACH SKIDMORE DRILLS FROSH IN DEFENSIVE PLAY

Original Lineup Probably Will Face Raleigh Quintet in Tilt Tomorrow Night.

SQUAD PLAY IS IMPROVED

Two and a half hours of intensive practice was the lot of the frosh basketball squad last evening as Coach Skidmore drove the men through their final preparations for the coming Raleigh High encounter.

The opening half hour was spent in dropping the ball from various angles and a good distance from the hoop. Short crip shots occupied the following few minutes from which the basketeers swung into drills on converting rebounds.

The remainder of the night was used by Coach Skidmore in perfecting both the defensive and offensive tactics of the entire squad. The individual players seem to be acquiring a new polish and hopes for a strong frosh representation on the floor have been considerably strengthened.

Short Scrimmage

A short scrimmage near the close of activities gave evidence that the original lineup of the Wake Forest game is due to trot onto the floor against the high school opponents that face Carolina this Saturday.

Pete Boone, who was yanked soon after the opening whistle on Tuesday night, is anxious to reinstate himself and will probably receive the opportunity. Boone tired rapidly in the Wake Forest setto, and his man stepped away from him continually, causing Bershak to be sent unexpectedly into the fray.

Another original starter who is in a precarious position is "Pee-wee" Moss, gigantic center. Moss was evidently flustered as the game opened and he failed miserably in his attempt to guard Byrd of Wake Forest. On the offensive, he used his lanky frame to advantage and spun out of a scrambled pack time after time, only to see his tosses circle the rim and drop outside. Moss also will probably receive another chance to prove his worth.

Mullis, Ruth, and Grubb are almost definitely the other starters against Raleigh High. Mullis distinguished himself with his eagle eye as he rolled up a total of thirteen points, whereas Ruth and Grub were the stalwarts in the Carolina defense. The defense, otherwise, was the woefully weak department in the Tar Babies' makeup.

The Tar Babies have one more practice session tonight. Then all guns will be trained on the Raleigh quintet, with expectations running high, although the visiting squad boasts a powerful five.

P. U. Board

There will be a meeting of the P. U. Board today at 10:30 a. m. in the seminar room of Bingham hall.

THE
Young Men's Shop
126-128 E. Main St.
DURHAM, N. C.

The Carolina Inn . . .
for the present will serve meals in the Dining Room at the following prices:
Lunch ..... $ .75
Dinner 1.00
Sunday Luncheon and Dinner 1.00

Intramural Season Opens; Chi Psi's Victory Is Feature

(Continued from page three)

Cromartie, c (4)	May, c (8)
Bennett, g (10)	Rennie, g (7)
Edwards, g (2)	Fulton, g (2)

Subs: Theta Chi—Bridges; Kappa Sigma—Lee, Umstead, Jones.

Everett 24	Pharmacy 12
Coughe'r, f (6)	Wood'rd, f (2)
Barber, f (4)	Bullard, f (1)
Mallard, c (8)	Edward, c (7)
Alderman, g (4)	Tompson, g
Leach, g	Mathews, g (2)

Subs: Everett—Ressler (2).

Beta Theta Pi 44	A.T.O. 15
Rand, f (15)	Hawley, f (1)
Dunn, f (4)	Spencer, f (10)
Leak, c (12)	Phillips, c
Van Hecke, g	Blanton, g
Rasberry, g (5)	Parker, g

Subs: Betas—B. Tennille (4), Blythe, Abernathy (4); A. T. O.—Daniels (2), Smith (2).

Theta Kappa Nu 26	Chi Phi 23
Bustleig, f	Boone, f (4)
Schoner, f (13)	Voliver, f (10)
MacPhee, c (2)	Credle, c
Buffey, g (3)	Sink, g
Falk, g (2)	Montsinger, g (4)

Subs: Theta Kappa Nu—Priestley (6); Chi Phi—Linn, Perry, Thompson (4), Davis.

Law School 63	Locals 18
Alexander, f (10)	Lloyd, f (5)
Bryan, f (11)	Andrews, f
Seawell, c (2)	Simpson, c
Markham, g (6)	Hudson, g (4)
Peacock, g (32)	Seawell, g (1)

Subs: Law School—Wilkeim, Williams (2); Locals—Verner (8).

Referees: McCachren, Ferguson, Markham.

Glove Lacings

(Continued from page three)

dead shots with both fists. They will find the traveling tough on the Dixie canvasses, but they should (and this writer is doing a little predicting now) complete the season undefeated. This pair is Joe Fisher and Jule Medynski. Their opponents' had better watch out.

All of the others have developed fine since the holidays. Tommy O'Flaherty and Maxie Novich will be dangerous material for their opponents. Captain Sam Giddins is in form and should be able to mix punches with the best. Ernie Eutsler has moved up to the 125-lb class and with this added weight should go to town. Marion Diehl, minature powerhouse, is under a great injury handicap, but—and here lies the fate of the opposition. Lammie Alderman and Jim Carruth swapped blows—and what blows—yesterday to decide who would fight tomorrow. Who won? They came out a draw, but not before plugging healthy blows into each other. Both will make the trip.

With Carolina's lineup as follows: Diehl, Eutsler, O'Flaherty, Fisher, Medynski, Captain Giddins, Novich, and Alderman or Carruth, the Gobbler glovers should be beaten—in fact by quite a large score.

* * *

The Tar Babies will also get their initiation in Blacksburg. There is no denying the fact that their prospects are doubtful. One man, Shores, is a fine boxer and with due development should make good varsity material. Other leading frosh are Hendel, Bass, O'Herron, and Shmurak.

Ph.D. Examination

The final oral examination of Miss Sadie Franklin Jenkins for the degree of doctor of philosophy in the department of English will be held tomorrow at 9 a. m. in 112 Saunders. All members of the graduate faculty of the division of language and literature are invited to be present.

UNIVERSITY UNITS' SUMMER SESSIONS TO OPEN JUNE 13

(Continued from page one)

grade will be provided at each of the three units. Special lectures and other special features will be offered frequently during the 1935 school.

At a meeting of departmental heads last Tuesday, the principles of re-organization were explained by Dr. Knight and Dean House. The administrative board of the Chapel Hill unit of the summer school requested the heads of the department to proceed immediately with the preparation of their programs at that time.

Headed by Dr. Knight, the board is composed of C. T. Woollen, comptroller, Dean W. W. Pierson of the graduate school, Dean R. B. House, Dean John W. Harrelson of State College, and Dean W. C. Jackson of the Woman's College.

STUDENT-FACULTY DAY SUPPORTED BY COUNCIL

Unanimous support was given Student-Faculty Day by the Inter-fraternity Council at its meeting last night.

Harold Bennett of Theta Chi, president of the council, and L. C. Bruce of Phi Gamma Delta gave reports of the meeting of the National Undergraduate Inter-fraternity Council held in New York City during the Thanksgiving holidays.

Med Pictures

Yackety Yack pictures of the first and second year medical students will be made next Wednesday, January 16, at chapel period.

Students and faculty are asked to come prepared.

Duet Again

Bing Crosby and Kitty Carlisle, whose singing and comedy capers proved so effective in "She Loves Me Not," are paired again in a Paramount picture. It's "Here Is My Heart," now playing at the Carolina theatre, with songs by Ralph Rainger and Leo Robin, who composed the hit tune "Love in Bloom."

Student-Faculty Day

The student members of the Student-Faculty Day committee will meet at 4 o'clock this afternoon in Ed Lanier's office at the Y. M. C. A. to discuss further plans for the program.

What? Again!

The annual Ink Pot classic between the Tar-Mags and the Yackety-(now) Fins, scheduled for yesterday afternoon, has been postponed until Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The intramural fields yesterday were too wet to be played on and the game was put off when the Tar-Mags claimed that the quagmire would give too much advantage to "Cess" Pool and his cohorts.

INFIRMARY LIST

The following students were confined in the infirmary yesterday: Zeb Linker, George Yoder, Billy Lamm, E. J. Venters, G. V. Wheeless, Whitney Von Cannon, A. E. Anderson, A. K. Bailey, J. R. Vincent, Ray Rankin, W. A. Innes, J. B. Howell, Lewis Thompson, E. C. Joyner, Tracy Scobee, Bruce Smith, Carl Anderson, H. H. Mills, J. F. Blue.

Murray Honeycutt, H. E. Moore, Charles Hudson, Denmuth Spivey, John Barefoot, H. F. Shore, David Spelt, H. E. Hamilton, W. C. Fitts, Francis Hulme, T. W. McMillan, Tom Hines, P. W. Hairston, J. R. Wright, and Connor Feimster.

Presbyterian Social

The quarterly social for Presbyterian students and their friends will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the social room of the Presbyterian church, W. M. Cooper, student pastor, announced yesterday.

The young people of the church will join the students in this event. Plans have been made for a variety of stunts and games in which everyone will participate.

SEND THE DAILY TAR HEEL HOME

CALENDAR

President Graham.
Memorial hall 10:30

Di Senate pictures.
Bingham hall 10:30

Editorial staff.
DAILY TAR HEEL office 3:00

Student-Faculty Day committee.
Self-Help Bureau 4:00

Presbyterian social.
Presbyterian church 8:00

P. U. Board.
Bingham hall 10:30

Tar Heel Boxers Leave Today for VPI Battle

(Continued from page three)

ing at his natural weight and will not be handicapped this year by weakening himself to make the 155-lb weight.

Max Novich, rugged middleweight of last year's frosh aggregation, will move up to the light-heavyweight post this year. Novich is moving around with much speed.

There is still some doubt as to who will represent Carolina in the heavyweight ranks. However, it is more than likely that "Lammie" Alderman will be given a chance to prove his worth. He went three rounds with Jimmie Carruth yesterday afternoon, and both boys looked so well that Coach Rowe has decided to take both to V. P. I.

The squad is leaving this morning at 9 o'clock from Emerson stadium.

Payment of Fees

Students whose names begin with T through V are scheduled to make payment for their winter quarter student fees today at the business office.

University Alumnus Is Dead in Raleigh

Raleigh, Jan. 10. — Perrin Busbee, loyal University of North Carolina alumnus and a former member of the board of trustees, died here yesterday at the age of 63.

Busbee was once a star football player for Carolina and captain of the baseball team. Although he was badly crippled during the last years of his life, he seldom missed a University athletic contest played in this section.

Aside from his law practice and his interest in the University, one of the chief concerns of his life was securing the direct road that now runs between Chapel Hill and Raleigh.

Meeting in Atlanta

Deans A. W. Hobbs, R. B. House, and F. F. Bradshaw and Dr. E. W. Knight will leave for Atlanta, Ga., Wednesday to attend the meeting of the Association of American Colleges, in session Thursday and Friday. They will return Saturday.

New Assortment of PIPES
Just Arrived
First Come First Served
Sutton Drug Co.

CAROLINA
LAST TIMES TODAY
BING CROSBY
KITTY CARLISLE
in
"Here Is My Heart"
—Also—
Comedy—News—Cartoon

Did you ever notice..in a roomful of people..the difference between one cigarette and another..and wonder why Chesterfields have such a pleasing aroma

Many things have to do with the aroma of a cigarette . . . the kind of tobaccos they are made of . . . the way the tobaccos are blended . . . the quality of the cigarette paper.

IT takes good things to make good things.

Someone said that to get the right aroma in a cigarette, you must have the right quantity of Turkish tobacco—and that's right.

But it is also true that you get a pleasing aroma from the home-grown tobaccos . . . tobaccos filled with Southern Sunshine, sweet and ripe.

When these tobaccos are all blended and cross-blended the Chesterfield way, balanced one against the other, you get a flavor and fragrance that's different from other cigarettes.

© 1935, LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL
8 P. M.
TIN CAN

The Daily Tar Heel

GRAIL DANCE
9-12 P. M.
BYNUM GYM

SERVED BY THE UNITED PRESS

VOLUME XLIII — CHAPEL HILL, N. C., SATURDAY, JANUARY 12, 1935 — NUMBER 77

FRESHMEN HEAR GRAHAM EXPLAIN HONOR TRADITION

Honor System Is Preserved Only By Participation of All Students, President Says.

"VIOLATIONS ARE THEFTS"

President Frank P. Graham addressed the freshman class at the regular chapel period yesterday.

Claiming that the tradition of a university is often taken for granted, Dr. Graham pointed out that it is also taken for granted that the honor system tradition "carries itself on."

"The honor system, precious as it is, does not carry itself on, but must be carried," he said. "A few years ago the student body came to grips with the fact that there was dishonesty on the campus when over a score of cases were reported as violations of the honor code. That group led by their leaders set in motion plans by which this class can participate in carrying on the system," the University head continued.

Self-Examination Needed

"It is a good thing that from time to time, we can stand and look at ourselves, asking, 'Is there anything dishonorable here?' I stand here to pledge you that if there is anything dishonorable you will let it be known. We will stand with you," Dr. Graham said.

Cheating he first defined as lying. "The cheater not only lies to the professor, but also causes the professor to unconsciously lie to the registrar when he turns over the student's grades."

"Cheating Is Stealing"

"Cheating is stealing," he continued. "Once in a while a student here steals a book or some money out of a room. Terrible as that is, it is by far worse when he steals something from a paper. He is taking nothing

(Continued on page two)

Grail Will Open Winter Dance Series Tonight

Allsbrook Will Play in Bynum Gym from 9 until 12.

The Order of the Grail will open the winter quarter social calendar tonight with the first of a series of three dances to be held in the gymnasium from 9 to 12 o'clock.

Bill Allsbrook and his Carolina Club Orchestra will provide the rhythm for the affair. Allsbrook, before he left Carolina to play at the Tintilla Gardens at Richmond, Va., had one of the most popular of campus orchestras.

Freshmen will be admitted to the affair tonight. Tickets may be purchased at Pritchard-Lloyd's for $1 each, Simmons Patterson, social affairs manager for the Grail, announced.

ASSEMBLY GIVEN DEBATABLE BILLS

Trouble Flung at N. C. Legislature in Form of Two Controversial Proposals.

Raleigh, Jan. 11.—(UP)—Trouble in double doses was flung at a newly-convened North Carolina legislature today as it marked time awaiting the budget message of Governor Ehringhaus.

It came in the form of two bills, both highly controversial and both due for a long, and possibly acrimonious debate before they are finally disposed of.

In the House

In the House, Representative Carr of Duplin introduced a bill providing unemployment insurance to workers and farmers.

Senators White of Robeson and Corey of Pitt presented the Senate with a bill that would abolish the absentee voting law.

After brief sessions, both houses of the assembly adjourned to meet tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in order to entertain local bills only. By agreement they will then adjourn until Monday night.

Information Gets Dumb Queries But It's All In Her Day's Work

Human Encyclopedia at Local Telephone Exchange Called Upon to Predict Weather, Find Lost Kids, Identify Frats for Those Who Don't Know What It's All About, Etc., ad Nauseum.

By W. S. HARRISON

How much does Miss Information really know? Does she memorize all those snappy comebacks you get in answer to every conceivable form of question?

The answer to the first query is: Plenty! As to whether Information memorizes a mass of facts, the local telephone manager explains that her knowledge comes from a wonderful memory plus the large telephone directory which stands beside the switch-board.

Wanted: Bootlegger with Phone

It appears that operators, especially in a college town, soon become hardened to silly questions. They are asked to locate dates for the boys and bootleggers as well. "What Chapel Hill needs," said Information, "is a good bootlegger with a telephone."

Then some boobs call up to ask about the future state of the weather (they evidently think that only Information and the Deity know about that) and explain at great length that they want to know whether to put alcohol in their car radiators.

Information also runs a lost and found department for mothers who misplace their children while shopping.

"It's All Greek"

"Telephone operators in other towns," our Information said condescendingly, "aren't enlightened enough to know how to pronounce the names of our fraternities. Why," she added, "one called in here the other day and wanted the 'Rubber Tire' fraternity. I finally found out that she was asking for Beta Theta Pi."

The most annoying, soul-trying experience to Information is when some Carolina boy (obviously not the well known Carolina gentleman) puts a dime in the pay box on a 35 cent call and then taps on the box to try to deceive the operator into thinking he put the rest in.

"And say, buddy, won't you please ask them to use their directories? It's not only Miss Information who's misinformed!"

CONGRESS DENIES PAY CUT RETURN

Rejects Also Amendment to Reduce Home Loan Bank Reduction Appropriation.

Washington, Jan. 11.—(UP)—Congress was weeks ahead of its usual schedule tonight with a $780,000,000 independent offices appropriation majority roughly over-riding an attempt by Representative Clarence J. McLeod, Republican, Michigan, to have the federal five per cent pay cut restored retro-actively to January 5.

At present, President Roosevelt is against the pay restoration.

Defeats Reduction

Likewise it rejected by a huge majority of 127 to 28 an amendment offered by Representative Thomas Blanton, Democrat, Texas, to reduce the $264,042 appropriation for the Home Loan board.

It compromised with the securities and exchange commissions' demand for a larger appropriation by granting them $2,000,000 instead of the $1,649,000 appropriation which the committee had provided.

Both houses of the national legislature are in recess until Monday.

Pay Up!

Students whose names begin with W through Z are scheduled to pay their winter quarter student fees today at the business office.

All students who have not paid or made arrangements to pay these fees by today will be fined $5 for tardiness. Since today is Saturday, the business office will close at 1 o'clock.

New York Times Lauds Magazine

Columnist Hails Publication Here as Novel Venture.

The Carolina Magazine, under the editorship of Joe Sugarman, was paid a signal compliment by Eunice Fuller Barnard, educational editor of the New York Times, in her signed feature column that appeared in the editorial section of last Sunday's Times.

Miss Barnard commented on the deplorable status of most college publications: "Student literary magazines, it is widely admitted, have fallen upon evil days."

She then cited the magazine published here as a notable exception. "Now comes a slightly different venture," she wrote. "Down as the University of North Carolina, a board of student editors has taken the 90-year-old Carolina Magazine, reputedly the oldest college magazine in the country, and filled it with lively comment, by way of articles, editorials and stories, on the contemporary scene, especially the Southern scene."

"Contributions," Miss Barnard continued, "are welcomed from outsiders, as well as from students, and the magazine is sold on news stands in several North Carolina cities."

Nimrod

Seen yesterday on the campus by one of the DAILY TAR HEEL's ever-vigilant reporters: a sane Carolina student throwing his shoes at innocent squirrels.

Tony Sarg Coming

Tony Sarg and his famous troupe of marionettes will give two performances of "Faust" here January 22 in the Playmakers theatre for the benefit of the Chapel Hill P. T. A.

Tickets for the performances, which will be given at 3:30 and 8 p. m., will be sold at Alfred Williams, the Intimate Bookshop and the Book Exchange.

CHANGE IS MADE IN 'MIKADO' DATE

V. L. Granville to Fill Next Place on Entertainment Bill; Operetta Coming Later.

V. L. Granville, the English actor, will fill the next program on the student entertainment series in place of the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "The Mikado," with DeWolf Hopper, originally scheduled for January 28.

"The Mikado" has been postponed until a later date, Dr. J. Penrose Harland of the student entertainment committee announced yesterday.

Hopper Broadcasting

It is impossible to present the operetta at the time appointed since Hopper is unable to make the tour between his weekly radio broadcasts, Harland explained. It was suggested that Hopper make the trip here by plane, but his age prevented him from accepting.

The announcement of the exact date of the performance of "The Mikado" will be made shortly, Dr. Harland stated. The presentation date will probably be in the early part of May, after the veteran stageman has finished his present series of broadcasts.

Program Unannounced

Actor Granville's program has as yet not been announced. He appeared here on the student entertainment series in the fall of 1932. His program, entitled "Dramatic Interludes," was a representation in costume and make-up of the principal dramatic personages of all time.

Granville has drawn considerable praise from the press for his dramatic interpretations. His program in Chapel Hill was one of the most popular of the entertainment series.

GEOLOGY ALUMNI FIND GOOD JOBS

Graduates Placed in Government And Private Positions.

The University's department of geology has scored again by placing its last year's graduates in important positions.

Among those who have received appointments on the T.V.A. geology survey are: J. C. Dunlap, P. P. Fox, C. E. Hunter, J. B. Ward and P. W. Mattocks.

Tom Kessler and Carl Brown are now working for the United States geological survey. In the industrial world E. N. Kiellesberg and H. Lay have been placed in Texas and Shell Petroleum Companies, respectively.

DEANS ARE TO ATTEND COLLEGE CONFERENCE

Deans A. W. Hobbs, R. B. House, and Francis F. Bradshaw, and Dr. E. W. Knight will leave for Atlanta, Ga., Wednesday to attend the meeting of the Association of American Colleges, in session Thursday and Friday.

INTER-RELIGIOUS DELEGATES PLAN DISCUSSION HERE

Three Clergymen of Different Creeds Will Lead Seminar On Mutual Problems.

TO CONVENE JANUARY 28

An all-day discussion, led by a delegation from the National Conference of Jews and Christians, will be conducted here January 28, announced Harry F. Comer, general secretary of the University Y. M. C. A. yesterday.

The seminar will study problems of mutual concern between Protestants, Roman Catholics, and Jews. Three clergymen, a Roman Catholic priest, a rabbi of the synagogue, and a Protestant minister, will direct the study.

Similar delegations, sponsored by Newton D. Baker, Professor C. J. H. Hayes, and Roger W. Straus, are visiting cities and colleges over the United States.

All Day Session

According to Comer, the session will meet all day for general discussion by interested students and faculty members. The high mark of the occasion will be reached at 7 o'clock in the evening when the delegation will lead a mass meeting in Gerrard hall.

At the various meetings over the country emphasis will be upon the fundamental American principle of religious freedom.

Among the timely topics to be discussed will be: "Making America Safe for Differences," "The Relation of the Social Ideals and Programs of Religious Groups to National Welfare," "What Are the Most Practical Steps and Methods for Furthering Mutual Understanding and Civic Co-operation between Religious Groups?"

DEFENSE SCORED BY HANDWRITING

Paper Plays Major Part in New Accusation Against Hauptmann in Kidnap Trial.

Flemington, N. J., Jan. 11.—(UP)—Little scraps of paper added their rustle and crackle today to chorus an accusation against Bruno Richard Hauptmann, on trial for his life.

Some was writing paper used for ransom notes in extorting $50,000 from America's flying ace. Albert S. Osborn of New York City, supposed to know more about handwriting than anybody in the world, then swore that Hauptmann wrote all of the threats.

Blood Money

Some of the paper was money—blood money which Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh paid in a futile attempt to save the life of a son who was already dead.

It brought into court for the first time today $14,600, identified as ransom money found in Hauptmann's home and garage, hidden behind plastered walls.

Added to this was a balance sheet marked on one side in letters of blood "Paid by Jafsie—$50,000." On the other side was "Recovered at intervals, chiefly in New York City, small amounts totalling $3,980." Recovered on Hauptmann's premises—$14,600. Total recovered—$18,580. Unaccounted for at this time—$31,420.

Carolinians Are Among Leaders At Boston Congress Of N.S.F.A.

Report of Publications' Freedom at University Surprises Delegates; Carolina Representatives Join Majority of Participants To Condemn Compulsory R.O.T.C., Faculty Censorship.

Carolinians have for the last two years played a leading part in the administration and development of the National Student Federation of America. At the tenth annual congress, held in Boston at the Parker House, from December 28 to January 1, the potency of the voice of Carolina was more evident than ever before.

Not only did the Carolina delegates, Virgil Weathers, Harper Barnes, Joe Sugarman, and Betty Durham, participate actively in committee discussions and general sessions, but Carolina also held the center of the stage at all times by virtue of John Lang's presidency of the organization. Lang, who graduated from here in 1930, will complete his second term as president of N. S. F. A. July 1, 1935.

Reactionaries Opposed

From the outset of the convention it was clear that there was a group in the congress which definitely opposed the reactionary attitude set by the convention of 1933, held in Washington. Carolina delegates joined with representatives from all over the country to condemn faculty censorship of student publications, compulsory R. O. T. C., and to advocate governmental measures which looked beyond the New Deal.

In the student government discussions, it was evident from the testimony of Weathers and Miss Durham that Carolina enjoyed a more complete system of self-government than almost any other school in the country. Round-table sessions indicated that many schools, notably Emory and Tulane, which consider that they have self-government, are actually under faculty supervision.

Delegates Surprised

The publications meeting was frankly amazed when Joe Sugarman rose to state that so far as the daily paper and the magazine were involved, there was no such thing as censorship at Carolina. He was one of the few delegates who exemplified complete freedom from domination of any kind. The response of the delegates to this situation was mixed; many announced that they would strive to achieve the ideal of Carolina freedom,

(Continued on last page)

New Book Discusses South's Early Trade

The University Press has announced the release of a book by Randle Bond Truett entitled "Trade and Travel Around the Southern Appalachians Before 1830."

The book discusses Indian trails and other traces of the red man which remain in the mountains of the south.

The progress of transportation, especially in the carrying of mail, is fully discussed. Most of the material of the book is derived from the vivid and colorful accounts of travelers of that period.

Truett is historical assistant at Shiloh National Park, Pittsburgh Landing, Tennessee.

The Daily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Union Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where it is printed daily except Mondays, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Holidays. Entered as second class matter at the post office of Chapel Hill, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 for the college year.

A. T. Dill ..... Editor
Robert C. Page, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
Joe Webb ..... Business Manager
George Underwood ..... Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

EDITORIAL BOARD—Phil Hammer, chairman.
FEATURE BOARD—Nelson Lansdale, chairman; Nick Read, Bob Browder, Francis Clingman, J. E. Poindexter, W. M. Cochrane, Willis Harrison.
CITY EDITORS—Irving Suss, Walter Hargett, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.
TELEGRAPH EDITORS—Stuart Rabb, Charlie Gilmore.
DESK MAN—Eddie Kahn.
SPORTS DEPARTMENT—Jimmy Morris and Smith Barrier, co-editors; Robert Lessem, Lee Turk, Len Rubin, Fletcher Ferguson, Stuart Sechriest, Lester Ostrow, Ira Sarasohn.
EXCHANGES—Margaret Gaines.
STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER—Don Becker.
REPORTERS—Bill Hudson, John Smith, J. F. Jonas, Ralph Sprinkle, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Raymond Howe, William Jordan, Morton Feldman.

Business Staff

ASST. BUSINESS MANAGER ..... Butler French
COLLECTION MANAGER ..... Herbert Osterhold
OFFICE MANAGERS ..... Walter Eckert, Roy Crooks
NATIONAL ADVERTISING ..... Boylan Carr
DURHAM REPRESENTATIVE—Joe Murnick.
LOCAL ADVERTISING—Hugh Primrose, Robt. Sesnik, Eli Joyner (managers), Bill MacDonald, Louis Shaffner, Page Keel, Bill McLean, Crist Blackwell.

CITY EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE: JIM DANIEL

Saturday, January 12, 1935

PARAGRAPHICS

Probably the next reason for deferring the annual Ink Pot classic will be that the football has grown a nasty old beard.

Dr. Spann may be our only big bull fighter, but we can claim an excellent assortment of throwers.

"Johnson Opens 1935 Legislature." Gosh, but he must be an inquisitive fellow.

The Governor Plus Rudy Vallee

The necessary strictness of broadcasting stations' rules to the contrary, it seems too bad that Governor Ehringhaus' message to the legislature should have been interrupted before it was finished to make way for a program by Rudy Vallee. We might have wished a more auspicious conclusion for the first time that a governor of North Carolina addressed the assembly and the whole state simultaneously.

A bitterer critic than we are inclined to be might find it a source of no litttle reflection on our attitudes and customs.

Depression, The Teacher

Dean Gilkey of the University of Chicago has an excellent opportunity of judging the modern college lass or laddie. And Dean Gilkey says that the butterfly, the flapper, the lounge lizard, and the sophisticate are fast disappearing types among college students.

The Dean has an excellent vocabulary. What, we ask, can "butterfly" mean, or "lounge lizard"? If the result of the age representative of such types has been to place such definitive terms in authentic vocabularies, well, mercy on us, it was worse than we realized. But nevertheless, Dean Gilkey has made some interesting observations, for all his and the U.P.'s vocabulary.

It is not hard to understand that the present college generation is the best in 30 years. It is the result of circumstances, happy circumstances, after all, which has influenced a more serious minded up-and-coming citizenry. If the depression has done nothing else, it has been a thorough training factor in the lives of those whose destinies lie in the changing economic scene.

Let Mister Taxpayer Do It

Perhaps you are familiar with the way in which Will Johnstone of the New York World-Telegram portrays Mr. Taxpayer in his daily cartoon. A very meek individual is represented garbed only with an empty barrel. If that is the way Mr. Johnstone has seen the average taxpayer for the last few years, the cartoonist will certainly be confronted with an embarrassing situation in the near future.

Out of $3,700,000,000 our government will have this year, it is going to spend $8,500,000,000. Quite obviously, this will necessitate much head scratching and heavy thinking, but the ultimatum will finally crash down on our good friend and neighbor, Mr. Taxpayer. Under the present plan this disconcerting deficit will have to be continued for two years. In the meantime, you aspiring economists can win fame and fortune by evolving a method of tapering off the debt. The Brain Trusters seem to be stumped.

Stick 'Em Up And Hand It Over

Every day or so the front pages of the newspapers blaze away with a headline to the effect that this or that bank has been held up and robbed.

Bank robbery in North Carolina and in most of the other states, particularly the south, is on the increase, and while the bankers themselves are taking all kinds of precautions, there is little they can do when three or four thugs say "stick 'em up and hand it over!" In recent weeks, especially during the busy Christmas season, safes of several North Carolina banks have been cracked and thousands of dollars removed.

Out in one western state a few years ago bank robbing became such a regular procedure that the bankers association posted a reward of $5,000 for every dead robber, but offered nothing for live ones. That system led to the practice of more or less "target" work by certain individuals who saw easy money ahead. Perfectly innocent men were shot down in cold blood and the rewards paid when it was claimed their victim was "loitering near the bank, and preparing to rob it." However, bank robbing was completely wiped out there inside a few months.

That system is a little dangerous in a country where folks are so handy with automatics, but were police officers of the various towns and cities a little more alert, and ready to start shooting if anything unusual is brewing, bank robbing would soon become a lost art.

Deserving of An Audience

It is rather disappointing, to say the least, to note the air of pessimism that hangs over the wrestling squad as it approaches the first meet of the season.

Perhaps Coach Quinlan has reasons to be glum, but certainly he is doing everything within his power to whip his material into the semblance of a good team. The fault lies with the student body, which neither supplies the coach with the material he needs, nor shows the slightest interest in the meets that are held at home. Since the graduation of Percy Idol took from us the last truly colorful wrestler Carolina has had for some time, the attendance at wrestling meets has been reduced to little more than occasional groups of students who straggle into the Tin Can, gaze for a moment at the boys struggling on the mat, and straggle out.

Too many students have mistaken conceptions of what college wrestling is all about. Stirred by the sight of two professional bohemoths in action in some news reel or movie short, they hurry to the Tin Can expecting to witness a flesh and blood reproduction of what they saw on the screen. It is no wonder that they are disappointed and brand college wrestling as dull and uninteresting.

Save for the name, college and professional wrestling have little in common. In one, the idea is to pin your man, and as quickly and efficiently as possible, for you have but ten minutes in which to do it. In the other, the show's the thing, and the more typewriters you can ruin in the press section by throwing your opponent through the ropes, the brighter and more lucrative the future will be for you.

The mistake made is that of judging one sport by the standards of another. In this light, obviously college wrestling appears at a disadvantage. Tentative spectators may bear in mind that while amateur rules may take some of the color from college wrestling, the spectator in the stands will still find, once he understands it all, plenty of action and excitement left.

A Chance To Choose

Whereas the results of the faculty's efforts in revising the old curriculum and putting flesh on the new have not been announced, we take an opportunity of expressing an opinion which, in our minds, should be a factor in the resulting study plan.

Students must retain the right to choose their courses even if it means a change after the first or second year. As Dean House mentioned in December at the adoption of the new four-division plan, the present set-up "aims . . . at full freedom for special and individual programs of study." While we imagine this will retain for each student his right to experience a change of mind as regards his study plan, we must emphasize that a failure to recognize this might prove the ruin of many students whose purposes change during the four-year process. This recognition is essential, we believe.

The point is, that although the efficiency of the continued perusal of one study plan is granted, students must be allowed the opportunity of directing their efforts where their hearts desire and their ambitions lead.

It is obvious that before the 6-6-6 plan for the last two years can function with any degree of efficiency and benefit, the student must have selected his choice before that period. And that selection must include, if necessary, a limited trial-and-error process.

SPEAKING the CAMPUS MIND

Columbia's Browsing Room

Editor, the DAILY TAR HEEL:

Housed in the recently dedicated four million dollar library at Columbia, the browsing room is of especial interest to University students. Entrance to the room is through a vestibule, past the desk of the assistant in charge, where books and wraps may be checked. Comfortable furniture and a well lighted room beckon one further. The room is paneled with pine which has a natural oil finish, furnishing a pleasing background for prints of the early 19th century and at the far end of the room a glowing fire radiates cheer and a desire to browse among favorites which are on the surrounding shelves and tables. Along one side of the room is a series of alcoves, each with its own group of books and here one may withdraw to the cozy intimate atmosphere condusive to good reading. A few of the current and interesting magazines are also in the room—thus making available the latest in modern literature.

J. E. GREENAWAY

Casual Correspondent
by
Nelson Lansdale

REPORTER-AT-LARGE

About a mile and a half or two miles beyond Carrboro on the Hillsboro road, there's a kennel we think you ought to know about. It's run by a Mrs. Tack, a University graduate who used to teach school, but who has now turned to raising dogs. This may or may not be a commentary on the rewards of public service in North Carolina. We didn't ask. Anyway, the dogs—about 40 of them— are all kinds, mostly pure-bred Cairns, Scotties and Boston Bulls. Cairns are a new fashionable breed which look rather like sandy Scotties, but they're supposed to be tougher and easier to raise. All 40 raised a hell of a racket when we walked down the muddy path between their wire enclosures, scrambling to the wire and yipping and yapping like freshmen on registration day. They seemed pretty jealous about who got attention. We didn't want to hurt any feelings, so we talked and poked our fingers through the wire to them all, including a Collie named Lizzie, and a indifferent old Airedale, a boarder, who snubbed us very pointedly. For the benefit of the neighboring children who can't get into town Mrs. Tack teaches Sunday School every Sunday at the farm. This job she undertakes along with the raising of about a hundred canaries, some nesting, most of them just singing. Best of all we liked a perfectly marked Boston Bull puppy, who looked like her name ought to be Skippy, sex notwithstanding, a Scottie named Macbeth whose mournful eyes reminded us of the night we once got a Scottie at home drunk by putting whiskey in her milk, and a noisy rough-and-tumble Cairn pup named, oddly enough, Spinach.

THE YOUNGER GENERATION

Mike Erlanger reports that one of his kid sisters, aged 11, gave the other, aged 13, Logan Clendenning's "The Human Body" for Christmas, inscribed with this touching dedication: "To my vital organs—my sister."

GENERALLY SPEAKING

We forgot last year to call your attention to Newton D. Baker's excellent article, "The Decay of Self-Reliance," in the December Atlantic Monthly. You'll find one rather strange statement in it, though, which is as follows: "No one's personal experience is a broad enough basis for sweeping generalizations." We'd like to ask Mr. Baker what this one's based on.

LITTLE WOMAN

Barney Keeney, who lives in Hartford, Connecticut, is full of anecdotes about Katherine Hepburn's visit home there during the holidays. A crowd of three or four hundred people met the train. When she got off the train, they found that the local girl who made good was wearing an ermine wrap, white slacks with blue stripes, an orange blazer, no stockings and sandals.

Her latest picture, "The Little Minister," was playing in Hartford at the time of her visit, so one bright afternoon she went down to the theatre. Disregarding the line of people waiting for tickets, she stalked up to the window and demanded: "Have you any good seats?"

"Why, yes," replied the suprized gentleman in the box-office.

"Well, give me all of them," demanded Miss Hepburn, who accordingly bought and paid for all the good seats in the movie palace, and marched in to see "The Little Minister," alone.

In due course of time her socially-minded family gave a tea for her, to which everybody went, largely out of curiosity. But the guest of honor was not to be found. She was finally discovered, however, sitting under the dining room table, knitting.

MAGAZINE SALES TO BE EXTENDED

P.U. Board Reaches Decision in Meeting Yesterday Morning.

At a meeting of the Publications Union Board hurriedly called yesterday morning it was decided to place copies of the Carolina Magazine on several news stands in the state, provided the retailers' commission plus the cost of printing and distributing will not necessitate charging a prohibitive price for the publication.

This will mark another attempt to increase the circulation of the University publications and to advertise the University itself.

If it is found that the magazine can be retailed for as little as 15 cents the business manager has been authorized to begin distribution of the last issue immediately.

INFIRMARY

The following students were confined in the infirmary yesterday: W. M. Fletcher, W. T. Lamm, Zeb Linker, G. M. Yoder, Edward Shapiro, G. V. Wheeless, J. I. Wright, Fred Anderson, Ray Rankin, W. R. Vincent, O. K. Bailey, H. L. Fulenwider, W. A. Innes, T. P. Howell, Lewis Thompson, John McRae, A. H. McLeod, Tracy Scobee, Mary Etta Smith, Murray Honeycutt, Carl Anderson.

H. H. Mills, J. T. Blue, Charles Hudson, H. E. Moore, B. F. Barhman, Denmuth Spivey, Connor Feimster, John Barefoot, H. F. Shore, Francis Hulme, Herbert Katzenstien, David Spelt, B. P. Robinson, Tom Hines, D. W. Hariston.

Comprehensive Scheduled

All members of the graduate faculty of the division of language and literature are invited to be present at the final oral examination of Miss Sadie Franklin Jenkins for the degree of doctor of philosophy which will be held at 9 o'clock this morning in 112 Saunders.

CIVIL ENGINEERS OFFERED AWARDS

American Institute of Steel Construction Holds Contest.

As a continuation of its program of encouraging improvement in the aesthetics of steel bridge design, the American Institute of Steel Construction has announced its seventh annual bridge design competition.

The competition will be open to registered students of civil engineering and architectural schools in the United States.

Two cash prizes of $100 and $50 respectively will be offered for the designs placed first and second. Certificates will be signed by the jury of award and the officers of the institute, and awarded to those designs which are given honorable mention.

The preliminary judgement will be reached by March 20, 1935, and the final decisions announced on May 1.

Preliminary drawings must be sent to the offices of the institute at 200 Madison street in New York City not later than March 16, and final drawings not later than April 27.

Freshmen Hear Graham

(Continued from page one)

material but something far more precious than that. He is stealing the mind of somebody else."

Asserting that a violator of the honor code cheats his mother and father "who have made in these times great sacrifices to send him here," Dr. Graham used the illustration that they were returning "counterfeit for money."

In conclusion, he said, "Let us be honorable not because we are afraid to be dishonorable, but because we want to."

OUTSTANDING RADIO BROADCASTS

Saturday, Jan. 12

12:00: Political Situation in Washington, F. W. Wile, WABC.

1:00: George Hall orch., WABC.

1:40: Metropolitan Opera—Tannhauser, with Ludwig Hofmann, bass; Lauritz Melchior, tenor; Richard Bonelli, baritone; and others; Artur Bodanzky, conductor, WEAF.

5:00: Eddie Duchin orch., WEAF.

7:30: Arden orch.; Gladys Baxter, soprano; Walter Preston, baritone, WABC.

7:45: Pickens Sisters, songs, WJZ.

8:00: Concert orch.; Sigmund Romberg, conductor-composer; Wm. Lyon Phelps, narrator; and others, WEAF; Roxy Revue; Concert orch.; mixed chorus; soloist, WABC.

8:20: Grace Hayes, songs, WJZ.

8:30: Jack Denny orch., WOR; Bonus Payment, speakers, WJZ.

8:45: Mary Courtland, songs; Armbruster orch.; male quartet, WABC.

9:00: Rose Bampton, contralto; Shilkret orch., WEAF; Radio City Party, John B. Kennedy; Black orch.

10:30: Hal Kemp orch., WOR; Daniel C. Roper, Sec'y of Commerce, talk, WJZ.

11:00: Dorsey Bros. orch., with Bob Crosby, vocalist, WJZ.

NOTE BOOKS
STATIONERY
GIFTS

Ledbetter-Pickard

We Appreciate Your Patronage

White Phantoms Stage Great Comeback, Beat VMI Kaydet Five, 24-19

Carolina Trailed 8-15 at Half; Nelson and Harris Lead.

Tar Heels Will Finish Trip at VPI Tonight.

Lexington, Va., Jan. 11.—(UP)—Carolina's White Phantom five continued their winning ways against Old Dominion teams here tonight, but they were forced to put on a brilliant and hard-fought comeback to win over a surprisingly strong V. M. I. quintet, 24-19.

The locals started off with a bang and piled up what seemed a substantial lead over the Tar Heels. The Kaydets held a 15-8 advantage at the half period. But from there on, it was all Tar Heel. The Kaydet offense was able to garner but four points in this last period, while the Carolinians clicked time and time again for the necessary ponts.

Whole Team Stars

The whole Carolina team played heads-up ball in the deciding second half. Their offensive drive was led by Nelson, who tallied six markers; Aitken, Glace, and Harris, sub guard, each of whom scored five points.

Downey, V.M.I. guard, was high scorer of the tilt with seven points, two goals from action and three gratis tosses. Haas at forward was also a leader of Kaydet drive.

The V.M.I. five showed the strongest power of the current season in forcing the North Carolina team to its limit.

The Tar Heels move on tomorrow to Blacksburg where they battle the V.P.I. Gobblers in their final game of the Virginia trip.

Whew!

CAROLINA	G	F	TP
Aitken, f	1	3	5
Nelson, f	2	2	6
Webster, c	0	0	0
Glace, c	2	1	5
McCachren, g	1	1	3
Kaveny, g	0	0	0
Harris, g	2	1	5
Totals	8	8	24

V. M. I.	G	F	TP
Hancock, f	1	1	3
Haas, f	2	1	5
Watkins, c	1	0	2
Downey, g	2	3	7
Raffo, g	1	0	2
Totals	7	5	19

Score at half time: V. M. I., 15; Carolina 8.

Non-scoring subs: V. M. I.—Clark, Ackerly.

Referee: Carrington, (Va.).

FOOTBALL PRACTICE

Coach Carl Snavely has issued the call for winter football practice. All men are to report Monday at the Kenan field house at 1:30 o'clock for equipment. Practice starts at 4 o'clock.

Comprehensives Postponed

The comprehensive examinations scheduled for February 16 have been postponed until March 2, it was announced by Dean A. W. Hobbs.

FROSH GRID MANAGERS

All freshmen interested in trying out for assistant football managerships are to report Tuesday at 4 o'clock at Kenan stadium.

More Indoor Track This Winter For Tar Heels Than Ever Before

This winter, Tar Heel athletes are being afforded more indoor track than ever before. For many years outdoor track has been a leading spring sport, while the inside work was allowed to wander along the best it could. 1935 marks a new era—introducing indoor track on quite a large scale.

The University has just broken into the big time indoor carnivals. To date only a few of the men have been given the chance to participate. These men have turned in good performances, which will lead to invitations for other Tar Heels.

In the past only one meet—the Southern Conference games in the Tin Can—filled the indoor track card. Now other games are available in which the best tracksters may perform.

Big Northern Meets

Four New York City meets, all headliners in the track world, will provide several Carolinians a chance. Already three of the men have run in the K. of C. games. Five more will get their chance in the Millrose meet. Invitations will more than likely come for both the NYAC and National AAU games later. These Empire City meets especially want our middle distance runners.

Here in North Carolina, an invitational All-Dixie meet, which is hoped to become an annual affair, is being planned by a Charlotte club. These games will provide competition for between ten and fifteen Tar Heel track and field men. and field men.

The season will climax with the annual SIC indoor affair here. The entire team will participate in this.

So, there is quite a full season ahead for the Tar Heelians and Coach Dale Ranson. Some of the men, especially the middle distancers, will receive lots of work. The others will get less work, but all will aim to the SIC meet on March 9 when the Heels will be defending their indoor crown. Work will continue out of doors, on Emerson and on the new asphalt course at the tennis courts.

MANGUM-MANLY CAGE TILT TOPS MURAL PROGRAM

Victory for Mangum; Dekes, Kluttz, Phi Gams, Lambda Chis Also Win.

MOORE, D.K.E., HIGH SCORER

A close 18-15 victory for Mangum No. 2 team over a hard fighting Manly quintet featured yesterday's session of five intramural basketball games played in the Tin Can.

D. K. E. and Lambda Chi Alpha, with 59 and 40 points respectively, took high scoring honors, while Kluttz Bldg. and Phi Gamma Delta combines also annexed wins.

Two Dekes topped the individual scorers for the day as Moore accounted for 23 and Alexander for 19. Simpson of Kluttz was third with 14, and Marshall of Lambda Chi Alpha garnered 12.

Close Dorm Battle

The close battle between the two upper quadrangle teams was easily the outstanding one of the afternoon's play. Mangum gained the jump and held a 10-5 lead at half time after Smart had led the offense by whipping a brace of double pointers through the nets.

However, a fine rally, led by Sadler, Raper, and Buccolo, forced the Mangum team to the limit, only to have its desperate finishing spurt halted by the stop-watch.

The summaries:

Mangum No. 2, 18	Manly 15
Smart, f (11)	Buccolo, f (3)
Smith, f (4)	Raper, f (7)
Ray, c (3)	Shedd, c (2)
Edens, g	Sadler, g (2)
Petty, g	Adelman, g

Subs: Mangum No. 2—Studdert, Henderickson, Gwyn, Lentz, Hunter; Manly—Bryant, Broady, Richardson.

D. K. E. 59	Z. B. T. 17
Montgomery, f (4)	Stein, f (4)
Patterson, f (11)	Kind, f (5)
Alexander, c (19)	Sims, c
Moore, g (23)	Kalmanoff, g (3)
Morris, g (2)	Straus, g (5)

Subs: D. K. E.—Hart, Dashiell; Z. B. T.—Zauber, Blueenthal.

Kluttz Bldg. 31	Grimes 16
McCrary, f (4)	Teal, f
Outlaw, f (4)	Umstead, f (2)
Parker, c (9)	Swain, c
Simpson, g (14)	Wall, g
Lerry, g	Willard, g (4)

Subs: Kluttz—Smith, Grove, Heyward, Porter; Grimes—Moore (6), Kiker (4), Barrier.

Phi Gam. Del. 24	Phi Alpha 17
Keel, f (6)	Sobelson, f (4)
Peacock, f	Goldman, f (1)
McDaniels, c (9)	Lasky, c (6)
Johnston, g (8)	Potter, g
Naff, g (1)	Greengold, g (6)

Subs: Phi Gamma Delta—Sutton, Darden.

Lam. Chi Alpha 40	S.P.E. 10
Mar'all, f (12)	Chestnutt, f (3)
Liebfried, f	Taylor, f
Allen, c (11)	Sawyer, c (7)
Brooks, g (6)	Means, g
DeVita, g (4)	Davison, g

Subs: Lambda Chi Alpha—Hill (4), Kerr (3).

Patronize Our Advertisers

CAROLINA FROSH FACE RALEIGH HI IN CAGE CONTEST

Raleigh Brings Powerful Quintet to Meet Tar Babies Tonight in Tin Can.

WHISTLE AT 8 O'CLOCK

Carolina's freshman basketball quintet will step out to protect its young winning streak against the dangerous high school five from Raleigh tonight at 8 o'clock.

This game will be the second start for the yearlings. If they show the expected improvement, a rather sure-footed squad will take the floor at the opening whistle, against this Capital City five, conquerors of the State College frosh.

The rumor that "Pee-wee" Moss will be unable to start at center seems to settle the pivot dispute in the opening lineup. "Red" Meroney will probably be in the inner circle for the initial tip-off.

Remaining Lineup

The remaining four starters will have Earl Ruth and Foy Grubb at guards and Pete Mullis at the forward post with either Pete Boone or Andy Bershak. The last mentioned position argument is the most doubtful of all, and Coach Skidmore may decide to send either youth out at the last moment.

Although Moss saw very little action in the Wake Forest fracas, his absence will be felt by the Carolina quintet. His inability to play will cause the use of Bob Hagey, third string center, in the event of a replacement for Meroney.

Many substitutes will be vying for the opportunity of seeing action, but unless the first string shows new strength and gets

(Continued on last page)

Tar Heel Boxers Scrap VPI, Blacksburg Tonight

WRESTLERS HOLD INTER-SQUAD TILT TODAY IN TIN CAN

Two Teams Chosen from Varsity and Freshman Ranks To Scrap at 2 P. M.

BEGIN HEAVY DRILLING

A preliminary wrestling meet will be held this afternoon in the Tin Can at 2 o'clock between the "Grunts" and the "Groans," teams selected by Coach Quinlan, Tar Heel mat mentor. Both varsity and freshman matmen are represented on the two squads.

A total of 17 matches are scheduled to be run-off in this first test of the season for the freshmen and varsity. Coach Quinlan was quoted as saying, "I am holding this meet for the purpose of finding out those men in the best physical shape."

The "Grunts" Team

On the roster of the "Grunts" are such stars as Umstead, Ward, Douglas, who were outstanding members of the 1934 Tar Baby aggregation, and Efland, only varsity letterman returning from last year. The team will also include Gibbons and Claypoole, who were capable matsters in prep school.

The "Groans" likewise have a number of excellent competitors in the mat sport. This lineup boasts Ehringhaus, Ford, Bonner, Greengold, and Love. The first two and the last are among the leading candidates out for the Tar Baby team this year. Bonner was undefeated in frosh competition in 1934, while

(Continued on last page)

Freshmen in Opener Also with Gobblets

Coach Rowe's Men Are Ruled Heavy Favorites on Eve of Conference Fight.

TAKE SHORT WORKOUTS

(Special to the DAILY TAR HEEL*)*

Blacksburg, Va., Jan. 11.—A confident North Carolina boxing squad arrived here today and, to work out some of the weariness caused by the long bus trip, took a light workout in the gym. They meet the VPI mittmen tomorrow night, both varsity and frosh.

Pre-fight doping has placed the Carolinians heavy favorites. Their squad possesses many of the men of last year's crack yearling squad, while the Gobblers' material is far below all standards. It will be the initial night of bouts for both teams, and the Tar Heels' hopes to go places in the Southern Conference will depend largely on what the men do here tomorrow night.

Short Drills

Coach Crayton Rowe of Carolina watched his protegees go through short limbering up drills late today. They seemed in fine shape, with the possible exception of Diehl, who is handicapped with an injury.

The Tar Heel varsity lineup is listed as follows: Marion Diehl,

(Continued on last page)

VA. BOXERS FIGHT HARVARD TONIGHT

Cavaliers in Opening Match of Year; Four Veterans on List of Entries.

University, Va., Jan. 11—Virginia's boxing team will probably have four veterans in action against Harvard in the opening meet here tomorrow. But the Cavaliers will have to use novices in the other four posts against the Crimson and against all other teams this year.

The two Virginia co-captains, Archie Hahn, Jr., bantamweight, and Gordon Rainey, featherweight, are the only two members of the squad who are in their third season. Both are holders of individual Southern Conference championships.

Maynard Womer, who is Conference welterweight champion, is in his second season with the varsity.

Bill McClung, junior-middleweight, is one of the three local boys who'll be facing Harvard. He is a southpaw, who broke his hand last winter while boxing Phil Hines, Harvard 155-pounder, and was not able to get in any other varsity meets.

The novices will be Marion Brooks, Cullen Wilkin, and Mortimer Caplin. Jack Noll, light-heavyweight, and Fred Cramer, heavyweight, were both with the freshman team last winter, and will be making a first bow in varsity competition tomorrow night. Cramer, who is very fast for a big man, weighs 212 pounds.

Snavely Opens Winter Practice For Carolina Gridsters Monday

Tar Heel Mentor Has Just Returned from Rose Bowl Trip, a Present of Winston-Salem Alumni; Will Have Difficulties to Grind Out, Including Replacement of Graduating Stars.

With Coach Carl G. Snavely already back at Chapel Hill from his vacation, the 1935 football squad will be called out for its first off-season practice next Monday afternoon.

Last winter when the new mentor first took over the gridiron duties at Carolina, almost 80 players responded to the call for early practice. This season another large squad is expected which will include a big group of lettermen and reserves from 1934 plus several fine freshman prospects.

Gratis Trip West

Coach Snavely returned from his trip to the Pacific coast only a short time ago but is ready to start his building where he left off with a victory over Virginia last Thanksgiving. The popular mentor was given a trip to the Rose Bowl contest New Year's Day by the alumni of Winston-Salem. The reward was for the great work that Coach Snavely did during his initial season.

Only six lettermen will actually be missing because of the three-year rule, although several men might not be back as a result of other things.

Of course all these stars will be missed. Captain George Barclay was All-America and will probably never be replaced. Both Eddie Kahn and Jim Tatum were mainstays and regulars in the line while Ralph Gardner was an excellent reserve at center. Charlie Shaffer, with his great kicking and running, was good enough to land on the All-Southern eleven, while Eddie Martin was also a valuable back.

Great Success in 1934

However, last year Coach Snavely faced even a worse situation; the 1933 eleven had not been successful, and he also had to introduce a new system. What the new coach did with his first Tar Heel club is well known; Carolina won seven, tied one,

(Continued on last page)

GRAIL DANCE
TONIGHT
Bynum Gym 9-12

Music by
Bill Allsbrook and His Orchestra
FRESHMEN ADMITTED
$1.00

TOWN ALDERMEN FAVOR PROPOSED GREYHOUND LINE

Mayor Foushee and City Manager Caldwell to Uphold Petition at Raleigh Hearing.

CITIZENS OFFER SUPPORT

The petition to allow the Greyhound Bus Co. to establish a line through Chapel Hill gained further support when the Chapel Hill board of aldermen added its approval at a meeting this week.

The aldermen acted upon a motion presented by P. L. Burch and directed Mayor J. M. Foushee and City Manager John L. Caldwell to support the petition at a hearing to be held January 22 in Raleigh.

A delegation of citizens of the community will probably also lend their support at the hearing.

Proposed Schedule

The service proposed by the Greyhound Lines offers:

Four trips a day each way between Raleigh and Greensboro. Busses will arrive from the east going west at 10:30 a. m. and 1:05, 3:50, 7 p. m. There will be arrivals from the west going east at 9:50 a. m. and 12:45, 6:10, 8:40 p. m.

Fare to Raleigh from Chapel Hill will be 75 cents, round trip $1.35; to Greensboro $1.05, round trip $1.90.

Fare to Richmond, Va., will be $2.70, round trip $4.90; to Washington $4.35, round trip $7.85; to New York $8.75, round trip $15.75.

Students Sign Petition

Copies of the petition to issue the Greyhound Co. a franchise, which will be sent to the state utilities commissioner, have been signed by a large number of University students after being circulated by the University Club.

John L. Gilmer of Winston-Salem, vice-president of the Atlantic Greyhound Lines, and J. P. Hightower, district passenger agent, were in Chapel Hill Tuesday and explained the company's plan.

If the franchise is granted at the hearing, the new bus line will run from Raleigh to Greensboro along Route 54. Principal stops on the run will be Chapel Hill, Graham and Burlington.

Vice-president Gilmer says the busses which are to run on the line will be of the latest type.

Tar Heel Boxers Scrap VPI, Blacksburg Tonite

(Continued from page three)

115-lb; Ernie Eutsler, 125-lb; Tommy O'Flaherty, 135-lb; Joe Fisher, 145-lb; Jule Medynski, 165-lb; Max Novich, 175-lb; and Lammie Alderman (or possibly Jim Carruth), unlimited.

The complete Gobblers' lineup was not announced. Their stronghold, however, lies in Freddie Hall, 125-lb specialist, who was SIC finalist last year. Great weaknesses occur in the 145, 175, and unlimited.

The story of the Tar Babies, however, is quite different. Their match will be much more closely contested. Little is known of either team's abilities, because neither has been under fire before. The Carolina frosh lineup is as follows: Hendel, 115-lb; Bass, 125-lb; O'Herron, 135-lb; Shores, 145-lb; Hedrick, 155-lb; and Shmurak, 165-lb.

Hip hooray! Unfounded rumor has it that Kay Kyser, one-time Carolina cheerleader, will bring his well-known band to Chapel Hill to make music for the Mid-Winters.

Playmakers Wax Merry On Eve Of Fete Of Hilarity Unconfined

All Koch's Children Past and Present Are Invited to Evening of Private Revelry.

The hearts of the Playmakers are light this morning for the "Twelfth Night Revels" come off this evening! The winter quarter frolic will be given in the theatre from 8 o'clock on.

As an "old Christmas" party the dramatic-minded members of the University faculty and the student members of the Playmakers group will present an original program of skits and dances.

Nobody can come.

Faculty's Bow

Following a tradition of seven years, the faculty will present the first part of the evening's entertainment, which includes the revel scene from Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night," the old English play, "Saint George and the Dragon," and other sketches.

The students will reciprocate with a modern touch of dance, drama, and "copy-catry." Phoebe Barr and her male dancing class will offer a number.

Others who will display their own witticisms to the amusement of themselves will be Bob Nachtman, Eloise Shepperd, LaBarr, Sammie Ruth Bell, Carl Thompson, Wilbur Dorsett, Ella Mae Daniel, George Stoney, Patsy McMullan, Fowler Spencer, Alan Waters, Hester Barlow, Dave Lewis, Bill Fletcher, Jack Lee, H. D. Carter, Harry Coble, Walter Terry, Fred Howard, W. S. Branning, and William Miller.

Big Dogs

Philip Baker has been the high-monkety-monk in arranging the current Playmakers production. His assistants were Patsy McMullan, Sara Seawell, Louise McGuire, Harry Coble, Walter Terry, Fred Howard, Johnny Walker, Carl Thompson.

The technical staff for tonight includes: Alton Williams, traffic manager; George Pearson, supervising engineer; Johnny Walker, master dimmer, and Joyce Killingsworth, master of ceremonies.

Dr. Harden Craig, visiting professor from Stanford University and an authority of Elizabethan literature, will be a guest of the Playmakers at the revel. All persons who have participated in the activities of the Playmakers in the past are invited.

Cakes and ale will be served in the Green Room after the program, and dancing will be enjoyed on the stage.

CAROLINA FROSH FACE RALEIGH HI

(Continued from page three)

away to a comfortable lead, they are doomed to disappointment. At the guard posts Abe Bloom and Bill Franks will probably get the first call to the floor and Whitey King has been the most promising alternate forward to date.

Yesterday afternoon saw the squad go through their last drill for the Raleigh contest. The practice was long and intensive with defensive fundamentals being stressed by Coach Skidmore. A short scrimmage also took place, but to keep the opponents from scoring seems to have been the main objective of the Tar Baby mentor's instruction the past few days.

Huey Long thinks newspapers should be taxed two cents per lie published. There's some merit to the idea, in that this would stop newspapers from quoting Huey Long.—Thomaston (Ga.) Times.

Carolinians Are Among Leaders At N.S.F.A. Congress

(Continued from page one)

while others frankly mistrusted student control.

Harper Barnes, elected chairman of the southeastern region, was an important member of the powerful resolutions committee, which introduced the startling suggestion that the convention go on record as favoring open subsidization of college athletics. Calvert DeColigny of Tulane University, himself formerly a star hurdler, supported the move, amending it to require that the athlete be a good student. Sugarman made a further amendment to the effect that the subsidization be performed through official University channels. The motion was carried.

The following day it was amended because a representative from the European student confederation reminded the convention that action of this kind might bar American athletes from amateur competition. It now favors open subsidization, provided American athletes may so compete.

Virgil Weathers was a member of the committee to study The National Student Mirror, the official organ of the federation. The committee did not file an official report, but it did make a number of sound suggestions to Editor Joseph Cadden.

South Prominent

It is interesting to note that almost one-fourth of the schools represented were from the south. North Carolina alone had ten schools out of the total 116 represented. In general, it may be concluded that between the influence of Carolina, Alabama, Tulane, and Louisiana State University, the south was the dominant factor throughout the convention.

President John Lang evidenced much proof of his Carolina heritage. He was chiefly responsible for the shift toward liberal thought and action which characterized the Boston convention. By obtaining a liberal editor of the Mirror and personally visiting many regional conferences, Lang was able to identify the N. S. F. A. with the fundamental principles of student government which he learned while an undergraduate at Chapel Hill.

Times Editor There

Mrs. Eunice Fuller Barnard, educational editor of the New York Times, was most interested in the attitude of the south toward the problems of student government and student life. In a discussion with the Carolina delegation she expressed a desire to visit Chapel Hill, which she said, had long been her idea of one of the outstanding university seats over the country.

The convention took a step backward perhaps when it closed its business by electing Tom Neblett, of L. S. U., president. Neblett was, by his silence throughout the congress, a conservative, inoculated with few of the ideals of Lang. It was the feeling, however, of many delegates that no president who did not firmly believe in student government could long continue to serve the federation.

The N. S. F. A. has often been criticized as a futile body. Yet as it met in Boston this year, it afforded the adult population its best opportunity to examine a cross-section of American students. And that cross-section, except for certain important failings, came off rather well. It has yet to become militant; it has yet to become truly effective. It is, however, but ten years old. In that ten years, thanks considerably to the efforts of Carolina's Lang, it has stepped in the right direction.

The above stars appear today in "Kansas City Princess" at the Carolina theatre.

California Students 'Commute With God' Exam Paper Reveals

Berkeley, Cal., Jan. 11.—(UP)—And herewith is a little fuel for the perennial fires of that old-time argument about the value of a college education.

University of California undergraduates included in their final examination papers the following:

"I love to sit in a quiet wood and commute with God."

"The poet Daniel compares his love for Delia to a half-blown nose."

"Daisy Miller's greatest misfortune in life was to have an affair with the Collosseum in Rome."

"A siren is a virgin from the waist up."

"She was equally gracious to fools as to her own husband."

"The mould of man's fortune is in his own hands."

"The poem was written at the time Darwinism and Biology were first started."

"Bacon says studies are of no use unless they are put to some use."

"The Lotus Eaters ate of the lotus bugs and became lazy and sleepy."

"The men were tossed and battered into unconscientiousness."

"Browning believes that one moment of real love is worth a lifetime of purity."

"Romeo refused to fight because he had just been married to Tybalt's cousin and it is not natural for a man to pick a quarrel or take one up after such circumstances."

So much for the outstanding contributions of university English students. The astronomy department also had its problems, too, however, including the following answers:

"The moon is a good example of a star."

"Altitude may be found by using a sexton."

"One unit of interstellar distance is the parson."

"A refractor is subject to chronic apparitions."

"We use the telescope to get better visions of certain obstacles."

"The earth is the body upon which we live and spend most of our time."

The author of the latter undoubtedly is an aviation enthusiast, or possibly a flag-pole sitter, department heads surmised.

Snavely Opens Winter Practice For Carolina Gridsters Monday

(Continued from page three)

lost only a single contest, took top in the Big Five race, and failed to get the Conference championship only as a result of the tie.

The kind of a team that will be turned out this year is of course unknown. It probably all depends on how well Barclay and the other missing aces can be replaced.

Coach Snavely has much work for his men during the next month. Besides drilling the eleven further in the old fundamentals he will also introduce several new points to aid the Tar Heels in becoming a more finished outfit. The Carolina coach will begin building his new combination and hopes to find out how the new men from the freshman club will fit into the squad.

DR. BROOKS TO ADDRESS SOPHOMORE "Y" CABINET

Dr. Lee M. Brooks will speak to the Sophomore Y. M. C. A. Cabinet at 7:15 p. m. Monday in the "Y."

Dr. Brooks has chosen for his subject, "What Is Crime, and Theories of Punishment for Criminals."

At the January 21 meeting of the cabinet, T. P. Yeatman, cabinet member, will lead a discussion on "Who Is a Criminal?"

WRESTLERS HOLD INTER-SQUAD TILT TODAY IN TIN CAN

(Continued from page three)

Greengold was a capable varsity reserve during the past season.

The lineups, with the "Grunters" listed first and "Groaners" second, are as follows:

118—Umstead (varsity) vs. Ehringhaus (freshman), Patrick (F) vs. Darden (V).

126—Douglas (V) vs. Tankersley (F), Exum (F), vs. Lessem (V).

135—Kephart (V) vs. Ford (F), Ward (V) vs. Decker (F).

145—Gibbons (F) vs. Miller (V), Claypoole (F) vs. Gholsen (V), Jacobs (V) vs. Hendrickson (F), Hard (F), vs. Young (F).

155—Northcross (V) vs. Bonner (V), James (F) vs. Shapiro (F), Williams (V) vs. Allen (V).

165—Shulman (F) vs. Greengold (V), Efland (V) vs. Gwyn (V).

175—Ranson (V) vs. Love (F).

Heavy—Riccardi (V) vs. Walborn (F).

The meet will be run on the usual point basis, a fall counting five points and a time decision three points.

Carolina will open its season next Saturday with the strong V. P. I. contingent at Blacksburg. Their last meeting on the mat resulted in a sweeping 18-10 victory for the Virginians. The frosh, however, fared much better than their bigger brothers as they outlasted the V. P. I. first year men 18-16 in one of the most hotly contested matches that has ever been held between representatives of the two schools.

LOST

Thursday night, on porch of Buccaneer Club, Green Jacket. Finder notify W. R. Reeves, 202 Ruffin. Reward.

THE
Young Men's Shop
126-128 E. Main St.
DURHAM, N. C.

The Carolina Inn . . .
for the present will serve meals in the Dining Room at the following prices:
Lunch ..... $ .75
Dinner 1.00
Sunday Luncheon and Dinner 1.00

HELP! MURDER! POLICE! THEY'RE KILLING US!

KANSAS CITY PRINCESS
Warner Bros' Laff Riot with The Comedy Stars of "DAMES"
JOAN BLONDELL - HUGH HERBERT
GLENDA FARRELL - ROBERT ARMSTRONG - OSGOOD PERKINS
—Also—
Laurel-Hardy Comedy
Bosko Cartoon
Pictorial Review
NOW PLAYING
CAROLINA

TAR-MAGS, YACKETY-FINS
4 P. M.—MONDAY
INTRAMURAL FIELD

The Daily Tar Heel

SERVED BY THE UNITED PRESS

"Y" CABINET OFFICERS
10:30 A. M.—MONDAY
MR. COMER'S OFFICE

VOLUME XLIII | CHAPEL HILL, N. C., SUNDAY, JANUARY 13, 1935 | NUMBER 78

WINNER OF NOBEL PRIZE ADDRESSES SCIENTISTS HERE

Harold C. Urey, Noted Chemist, Speaks on Discovery of Hydrogen Isotope, Deuterium.

SIGMA XI SPONSORS TALK

Dr. Harold C. Urey, the third American to win the Nobel prize in chemistry, related to scientists gathered at the University last night from all sections of the state, some interesting facts in connection with his discovery of hydrogen isotope, deuterium, which is regarded as one of the most important discoveries in modern science and has won for the Columbia University professor world-wide fame.

Dr. Urey devoted much of his discussion to atoms and molecules, particularly as they relate to the heavy hydrogen isotope. He discussed methods of separating isotopes, for the purpose of studying separately their physical and chemical properties.

Dr. Urey, through mathematical consideration of the several theories involved, made the prediction that the hydrogen isotope H2 must exist. There then began an intensive search, in which he was ably assisted by Brickwedde and Murphy, with most gratifying results. While the significance of the discovery was scarcely realized at the time, it was soon recognized that the importance of the isotope named deuterium might be greater than

(Continued on page two)

Merry Players And Professors Indulge In Night Of Hilarity

Fun and Frolic Keynote of Annual Playmaker Revel; Many Dead from Laughing.

The Carolina Playmakers last night took their "moments" and flung their annual "Twelfth Night Revels" in the theatre.

Joining in the merry-making, members of the University faculty presented the first part of the evening's performance.

Following a seven year tradition they gave the revel scene from Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night." They conducted the election of the "lord of misrule and his queen" in which the entire group took part. After a visit from a few Old English mummers, the faculty representatives gave the Old English play, "Saint George and the Dragon." their dramatic group.

"Blow My Body Down"

Wilbur Dorsett's world premiere of "Blow My Body Down" brought the house down. Accidental music by Nomore Stringbeans held up the show for a laughing recess. The attempted setting of the play in the Graham Funeral Home showed that the work of the Playmakers' scene shop was dead.

"Impersonations by Phoebe" and "A Post-Prandiacal Panic" took up the next few minutes of pleasure giving. H. D. Carter presented "On the Humor of an Older Play" and several Playmakers gave "An Excessively Philosophic Commentary."

Three initialed students added "Extraneous and Addenda and an Omission or Two" to the program. Phoebe Barr returned with a dance and the curtain fell with a thud.

Dancing, caking and ailing (ale-ing) followed.

Relations Institute May Hear Frances Perkins, Cordell Hull

Amelia Wins

Oakland, Cal., Jan. 12.—(UP)—Tousle-haired Amelia Earhart Putnam, twice conqueror of the Atlantic, added the Pacific to her aerial spoils today when she gracefully brought her flaming red Lockheed Vega monoplane down at 4:20 p. m., E.S.T. Elapsed time was 18 hours and 17 minutes.

Wicks and Poe to Speak; Seabury, Richberg, Borah, and Hughes May Be Here.

Once during the four years of his University life every Carolina student has the opportunity of participating in a great intellectual enterprise, the Institute on Human Relations.

The third of the quadrennial institutes will convene at Chapel Hill March 31-April 6 when such prominent persons as Frances Perkins, Secretary of Labor, Dean Wicks of Princeton University, and Dr. Poe of Atlanta University will speak at mass meetings, hold forums, and conduct classroom seminars. Among the eminent men who have tentatively accepted invitations are Samuel Seabury, Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, Donald Richberg, Senator Borah, and Chief Justice Hughes. Dr. Soule, editor of the "New Republic" will deliver the Weil series of lectures which is merged with the Institute.

Success in 1931

The last Institute held in 1931 was crowned with great success. Seventeen visiting leaders spoke from the platform in mass meetings and held over 96 seminars. Norman Thomas, speaking on the subject, "Wanted: a new Social Philosophy" and Mordecai Johnson, president of Howard University who explained the "Race Issues in Modern Society" attracted large audiences which packed Memorial hall. The total attendance for the week was estimated at 25,000.

The program of the Institute emphasizes three major fields of contemporary social problems, namely, international relations, industrial relations, and interracial relations.

An outstanding and exceptionally significant feature of the Institute is the exhibit of books, charts, and periodicals dealing with the subjects and problems to be discussed. At the last Institute over a thousand books were displayed in the lobby of Memorial hall for examination. These books, chosen as authoritative works, could be purchased through the Book Exchange. Supplementing this collection was a bibliography prepared by men in the Univer-

(Continued on last page)

YOUNG MUSICIAN'S RECORD UNUSUAL

Dalies Frantz Distinguished as Pianist, Athlete; Appearance Opens Musical Season.

Dalies Frantz, the young American "Titan of the Keyboard," who will appear here in recital January 23, has accomplished things which heretofore have been thought impossible for so young an artist.

Born in Denver some 20 years ago, he began his education in the public schools there. His musical talent is inherent, his mother being a fine singer, and his father, although not a musician himself, being a devotee to all things musical. Young Dalies began his piano study in Denver as a child and made frequent public appearances there.

Studies with Maier

Later he went to Boston with his mother and his general education was continued there at the Huntington School, where he was organist and conductor of a church choir. Most of his musical training was with Guy Maier, although it was interrupted by brief periods of work in Europe with Arthur Schnabel and Vladimir Horowitz.

He is a graduate of the University of Michigan, with a splendid academic training behind him in addition to the best that could be offered in musical pedagogy. There are very few artists of the calibre of this

(Continued on last page)

CABINETS BEGIN CRIME PROGRAMS

"Y" Groups Will Begin Series of Programs on "Social Disorganization" Tomorrow.

The University Y. M. C. A. cabinets will open their new series of programs, which will deal with crime and its various phases, at their regular meetings tomorrow night in the "Y" building.

Francis Fairley, Carolina junior, will address the junior-senior cabinet on the subject, "What is Crime and Who is the Criminal?"

The sophomore cabinet will hear Dr. Lee M. Brooks who will lecture on another phase of the "Social Disorganization" program. Dr. Brooks' topic is, "What is Crime, and Theories of Punishment for Criminals."

The Freshman Friendship Council plans to discuss the Saar Plebiscite question. Professor K. C. Frazer of the University government department will lead the discussion.

The "Y" cabinets have outlined a program of study for the entire winter quarter on this topic of "Social Disorganization." Professor Harold D. Meyer of the sociology department assisted in arranging the study.

Dennis G. Brummitt Passes in Raleigh

Heart Attack Claims North Carolina Attorney General.

Raleigh, Jan. 12.—(UP)—Dennis G. Brummitt, North Carolina Attorney General, died here today from a heart attack caused by pneumonia. He was in his 53rd year, and had been serving as the state's 37th Attorney General since 1924.

His illness began two weeks ago with an attack of influenza. All state offices will be closed tomorrow. The funeral will be held at 3 p. m. tomorrow at the Oxford, N. C. First Baptist church.

World Holds Its Breath Today As Saar Plebiscite Takes Place

All Precautions Made to Avoid Bloodshed While Inhabitants Vote to Decide Own Fate.

(By The United Press)

The problem of the Saar's fate, which is being decided by today's plebiscite, has produced more complexities, economic, financial, racial and judicial, than an inventor of mystery plots could ever have imagined.

A high official of the police, one of the handful of Scandinavians, British, Czechs, Finns and other neutral officers called in to handle the Saar's 1300 police and gendarmes, explained to the United Press the periods when tension will arise. Their plans have been based on these premises: First, there is the period between the result and the announcement of the final decision of the League which is only "guided" by the vote in reaching its judgment of what the Saar shall be.

Second, there comes a new tension after the League's decision until the new regime takes over. Anything might happen. A crazy act by a disgruntled protagonist, from the beaten side, a street squabble flaming into a sanguinary riot before armed aid appears, a bomb thrown by an emigre anxious to start trouble against Germany.

Hitler Blamed

And all this because Germany put Hitler into power, because if there had been no Nazi regime every Saarlander would have voted for the Reich and there would have been no longer a Saar question.

As the observer passes the hustings and billboards and the great placards of the pro-Nazi German Front, the fight for the Saar is strikingly apparent to him. Here is a giant poster painted on a wall. A field-gray figure of a German soldier in the trenches is firing across No Man's Land. Below run the words: "He did his duty, will you do yours?"

It is the call to German blood to vote for the return to the Reich and against the continua-

(Continued on last page)

Symphony to Play Series of Concerts

Helen McGraw to Be Guest Artist on First Raleigh Prorgam.

Featuring George Gershwin's famous "Rhapsody in Blue," the North Carolina Symphony Orchestra will play the first of a series of weekly concerts in City Memorial Auditorium in Raleigh Tuesday night at 8:30 o'clock with Lamar Stringfield conducting.

Helen McGraw of Washington, D. C. widely known concert pianist, will be the guest artist for the program and will play the piano solo parts of "The Rhapsody in Blue." Miss McGraw has recently returned from a tour of Alabama which was climaxed by her appearance with the Birmingham Symphony Orchestra playing the solo parts of the "Rhapsody in Blue."

The orchestra will maintain its headquarters in Raleigh after this program and play concerts throughout Eastern North Carolina.

New Turn in Trial

Flemington, N. J., Jan. 12.—(UP)—Bruno Hauptmann had a friend who owned a chicken farm within a hundred yards of the Sourland Mountain Lindbergh home, the United Press learned tonight. The prosecution lawyers immediately went to work to find the details of the purchase. New sensational testimony is expected shortly.

Ben Proctor Discovered In Town! Tar Heel Gets Exclusive Interview

Former Campus Light Comes Up to See the Daily Tar Heel Boys And Gives Candid Comments on Anything They Ask Him; Alta Mae Stands By and Plays with the Typewriters.

Ben Proctor is in town.

He was discovered yesterday morning in front of Davie hall, engaged in a left-wing discussion with Red Raper, Bill Levitt, and Alta Mae Simms. So your correspondent dragged him up to the DAILY TAR HEEL office for an exclusive interview.

"How many people did you scare the minute you hit Chapel Hill?" was the first question shot at the former campus irrepressible, a candidate for president of the student body more times than any student in recent years.

"Me?" he shot back. "The first person I met was one of my creditors."

"How long have you been here and what are you doing?"

"I've been here over a week," replied Rare Ben meekly (well, as meekly as Ben can reply), "recuperating from the flu and reading."

Campus Better—But

"What do you think of the campus since you left it?" the former DAILY TAR HEEL columnist was asked.

"There's been a noted improvement," he replied. The boys up in the newspaper office began to gape with surprise. But The Rare One wasn't finished. He continued, "Nobody seems to be bothered by anything except my creditors. I do not believe

(Continued on page two)

End Of Physical Investigation Of Service Plants Is In Sight

Flu Rumor False

Widespread rumors that school will close next week because of an influenza epidemic were spiked last night when Dr. W. R. Berryhill declared the rumor without foundation.

Dr. Berryhill said that although there were approximately 30 cases of flu in the infirmary, they are improving rapidly and that there is no cause for alarm.

Financial and Organizational Details of Entire Service System To Come Under Survey.

BOOK "X" AND BUILDINGS DEPARTMENT SCRUTINIZED

The student advisory committee, continuing its investigating procedures of last quarter, has been active for the past week in making careful studies of the physical elements of the Book Exchange and the buildings department.

The physical lay-out of the laundry and the dining hall had already been investigated. It is expected that the physical investigations will be finished by the end of next week.

After this study has been made, the financial and organizational details of the entire service system will be scrutinized and a report tendered early in February to the student body. Recommendations and a complete factual survey will be included.

Thorough Study

Members of the committee, J. D. Winslow, Phil Hammer, and Francis Fairley, hope to present not only suggested changes but also comparative studies and the scope of the entire system. Historical developments and present arrangements will figure prominently in the treatment.

The report will be published through several organs and will be presented to the administration.

The student advisory committee was appointed by President Virgil Weathers at the request of the administration in order to give the business officials an opportunity to hear student opinion on the business system. It will act in the advisory capacity after the present survey has been completed.

TENSION HIGH IN PLEBISCITE AREA

International Army of 33,000 Troops Mounts Guard in Voting Area in Saar.

Saar Brueken, Jan. 12.—(UP)—The troubled Saar will vote today on who shall rule it. It will be a showdown of the most acute problem in Franco-German relations and on Hitlerism.

If the majority of the 530,000 voters favor return to Germany, it will be regarded as proof that it is the choice of the people to be ruled by Hitlerism instead of France by the League of Nations.

Last minute charges of Nazi terrorism increased the tension under which the territory has labored, outwardly calm.

Meanwhile, an international army of 33,000 troops mounted hourly guard in the streets.

Leaders of the pro-French "United Front," opposing return to Germany, accused Nazis of trying to prevent Jews from voting.

RUSHING ENDS TOMORROW; BIDS CIRCULATED TUESDAY

Winter rushing ends tomorrow, and bids will be circulated to prospective pledges in the dean of students' office Tuesday, Harold Bennett, inter-fraternity council president, announced yesterday.

Each fraternity will be responsible for sending its own bids to the dean's office.

There will be no period of silence.

Executives' Pictures

The members of the executive committees of the junior and sophomore classes are asked to meet Tuesday night in Graham Memorial to have their pictures taken for the Yackety Yack. The juniors will meet at 7:30 o'clock and the sophomores at 8:30.

The Daily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Union Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where it is printed daily except Mondays, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Holidays. Entered as second class matter at the post office of Chapel Hill, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 for the college year.

A. T. Dill ..... Editor
Robert C. Page, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
Joe Webb ..... Business Manager
George Underwood ..... Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

EDITORIAL BOARD—Phil Hammer, chairman.
FEATURE BOARD—Nelson Lansdale, chairman; Nick Read, Bob Browder, Francis Clingman, J. E. Poindexter, W. M. Cochrane, Willis Harrison.
CITY EDITORS—Irving Suss, Walter Hargett, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.
TELEGRAPH EDITORS—Stuart Rabb, Charlie Gilmore.
DESK MAN—Eddie Kahn.
SPORTS DEPARTMENT—Jimmy Morris and Smith Barrier, co-editors, Tom Bost, Lee Turk, Len Rubin, Fletcher Ferguson, Stuart Sechriest, Lester Ostrow, Ira Sarasohn.
EXCHANGES—Margaret Gaines.
STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER—Don Becker.
REPORTERS—Bill Hudson, John Smith, J. F. Jonas, Ralph Sprinkle, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Raymond Howe, William Jordan, Morton Feldman.

Business Staff

ASST. BUSINESS MANAGER ..... Butler French
COLLECTION MANAGER ..... Herbert Osterhold
OFFICE MANAGERS ..... Walter Eckert, Roy Crooks
NATIONAL ADVERTISING ..... Boylan Carr
DURHAM REPRESENTATIVE—Joe Murnick.
LOCAL ADVERTISING—Hugh Primrose, Robt. Sosnik, Eli Joyner (managers), Bill MacDonald, Louis Shaffner, Page Keel, Bill McLean, Crist Blackwell.

CITY EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE: REED SARRATT

Sunday, January 13, 1935

PARAGRAPHICS

Dr. Urey may have spoken about the "Separation of the Isotopes" but we didn't even know they were married.

We see where the geology alumni have found good jobs. Maybe the world's getting back to earth, after all.

"Large Numbers Make Honor Roll." Yeh, 90's and 95's.

Protect the School Children

Another black mark has appeared on the 'scutcheon of the highway commission with the smash-up of a school bus near Mount Airy recently. Forty young people were injured, one very seriously.

Allowing the lives of human beings to be jeopardized seems to be a criminal act in itself. This state lags far behind the majority of the nation's commonwealths in its provisions for adequate safeguards for highway travelers and pedestrians. Inadequate investigations and check-ups on the equipment of busses results in many needless deaths each year and endangers the lives of countless persons. It seems that little or no attention is paid to the capabilities and merits of applicants for drivers' licenses. The driver of the Mount Airy bus was only 17 years old; a youth of that age is seldom capable of such responsibility. Although the accident may have been, and probably was, unavoidable, the moguls of the commission should press a thorough investigation of this peril to our school children.

The Ossining bus tragedy of this past summer aroused a great deal of indignation and public protest in the vicinity of New York and resulted in much needed legislation providing for a thorough inspection of busses and other commercial vehicles in that state. It should not be necessary for state politicians here to await a similar misfortune before taking the essential precautionary methods.

North Carolina prides itself on the amount of money annually expended within its borders in its road-construction program. It might be well to divert a part of this expenditure to enhance the security of travelers on these great ribbons of concrete of ours.

The present session of the legislature must heed Governor Ehringhaus' recommendations concerning the drivers' license law. The Chapel Hill aldermen have taken measures to protect us from juvenile drivers and it is obligatory that the state do likewise in assuring our safety. A stringent examination of applicants for drivers' licenses and thorough check-ups of all cars and busses would, we feel sure, materially reduce the present hazard and the death rate due to highway accidents.

Another Voice

The endorsement by the Chapel Hill aldermen of the proposal for the new Atlantic Greyhound's Greensboro-to-Raleigh-via-Chapel Hill line is another step toward a definite realization of improved transportation service for this part of the state. With the submission of the forty-odd student petitions, local feeling should be well represented at the commission hearing on the twenty-second of this month.

Social Insurance Or Relief Rolls?

While covering themselves with glory as well as confusion, the astute solons of North Carolina will be confronted with the problem of relief measures, a problem dumped in their laps by the recent and wholly commendable attitude on that subject assumed by the federal government. Governor Ehringhaus has taken up the recommendation and the legislature has the bill before it for consideration.

At present the state, with all the federal aid which has been given it, is supporting an enormously long relief roll. It is quite evident that it is both unwise and impossible—unwise from the standpoint of morale, impossible from the financial standpoint—to continue to do this. Immediate action is a necessity, and the stand our venerable legislators take upon this question will be an all-important one, one which will affect not only the industrial and laboring classes, but every other revered institution of the state as well.

To our way of thinking, the state of Wisconsin has hit upon a neat way of nullifying in part the ravaging effects of unemployment. It has had the courage and farsightedness to adopt a thing which has been a need in the United States for a long time—a system of unemployment insurance. To be sure, courage was not a prime requisite, for practically every other industrialized country in the world has a system of unemployment insurance, and has been operating it beneficially. This type of social insurance is not a new and untried thing, but a program which has been under the scrutiny of many countries for many years, receiving their support, and providing a substantial reduction in the evils resultant from unemployment.

Unemployment insurance, simply stated, is a method of compensating people for unemployment. This compensation is accomplished by the building up of funds in good times which may be drawn upon by the worker when he is out of work. The principle is essentially the same as that used by corporations in building up reserves in good times with which to pay dividends in bad. Contributions to the fund may be made by the workers, the employers, the state, or all three, as the plan may provide. The method used by Wisconsin calls for contribution from the employers at the rate of 2 per cent of payrolls. The plan of the American Association of Social Security provides for payments from the state, the workers, and the employers. Benefits to the unemployed worker are paid out on a scale according to the length of his previous period of employment.

Wisconsin was the first state to adopt a system of social insurance. In 1933 seven other states passed such a bill through one house, but failed to pass it through the other. In his address of January 10 to the General Assembly of North Carolina, Governor Ehringhaus definitely went on record as favoring unemployment insurance. At the instigation of the Governor, a North Carolina commission, of which our Professor H. D. Wolf is executive secretary, has thoroughly investigated the situation, pronounced the proposal as highly desirable, and drawn up a model bill by which the legislature can be led. There is in truth no lack of materials, no lack of precedents, for the assembly to follow.

We fervently hope that the North Carolina legislature sees fit to pass an unemployment insurance law. It will obviously be of greater benefit to the industrial worker of North Carolina, but its beneficence will not stop there. It will indirectly but importantly affect all the state supported institutions, including the University of North Carolina. Since, unfortunately, it would seem that all our troubles are financial ones, tritely, curtailment of expense is essential. Unemployment insurance offers the state an excellent opportunity for such curtailment, by manifestly reducing relief rolls and their accompanying expense, and giving opportunity for expenditure along other equally deserving lines.

Our earnest entreaty is that the North Carolina General Assembly will act as wisely as did the legislature of Wisconsin.

Development Of Our Body

A fact both surprising and interesting has been brought to our attention recently. Approximately 77 per cent of the undergraduate student body of the University is participating in the intramural athletic program provided by the school.

The work of "Coach Bob" Fetzer, Assistant Manager Shepard, and Intramural Director Schnell ought to be fully appreciated. We may deduce, however, that the wide-spread participation in the galaxy of athletic events stands as an indirect tribute to their work along this line.

While obviously there are reasons for non-participation on the part of the 23 per cent, we feel that the spirit of the other three-fourths should act as a challenge to those who are able, yet hesitant, to become intramural conscious.

Ben Procter In Town

(Continued from page one)

there's been a thought loose on the campus since Dave Clark had chilbains."

"What do you think of the anti-war conference rumpus?"

"It did one good thing: it sent one capable delegate to Geneva, which is unusual for any organization on this campus. The Phi and Di opinions do not matter."

"What have you done in Chapel Hill besides drink a quart of gin?"

"I refuse to admit I drank a quart of gin." (Parenthetical remarks: "It wasn't gin.")

The Year's Worst Drink

Then the ardent Socialist continued on his pet topic. "The worst combination I tasted this year," he confided, "was one-fifth gin, one-fifth rye, one-fifth corn, one-fifth orange bitters, and one-fifth Martini dry. The effect of one drink of that was the combination of a bull in a parrot shop."

Ben hasn't done very much since he left school last June. He's been having a good bit of trouble with his eyes, besides being out of work. He explains that he was refused admission to the CCC because he "couldn't see well enough to shoot a gun."

"Besides twiddling my thumbs I've done quite a bit of hiking and writing letters."

"Writing letters to Carrboro?" your interviewer interrupted, with a meaningful glance in the direction of Alta Mae, who was also up in the office, playing a sonata on the typewriters.

"I refuse to answer," he replied. But you know, he had a funny look in his eye.

Hopeful, Budding Author

Besides writing letters to be tied up with blue ribbons, he has been working on a couple of magazine articles. There is a possibility, he says, of selling the one entitled "Worm's Eye View of What's Wrong with College," Proctor being the worm. His other article is on youth and the present depression.

Believing caution to be the better part of something or other in the newspaper racket, your interviewer requested Ben to certify that the above quotations were bona fide, and sine pecunia—broke, to you. He did:

"I, Ben Proctor, with both eyes closed, in the State of Coma, do certify that the above quotations are correct to the best of my knowledge.

(Signed) "B. C. Proctor."

WINNER OF NOBEL PRIZE ADDRESSES SCIENTISTS HERE

(Continued from page one)

that of many of the elements. It became the starting point for research of a new kind in many laboratories and the literature has grown at an amazing rate.

Discovery Invaluable

The discovery is regarded as of inestimable worth since it is expected to help solve many other problems in chemistry and physics.

Dr. Urey will sail February 2 for Stockholm where he will formally receive the Nobel prize from the King of Sweden.

A capacity audience heard Dr. Urey, large delegations from all colleges in the state attending. The meeting was presided over by Dr. E. K. Plyler, president of the Society of Sigma Xi which sponsored the lecture.

Following the lecture, Dr. Urey was honored at a smoker in Graham Memorial where he spoke informally. While here, he was the guest of a former associate, Dr. Arthur E. Ruark, head of the University physics department. He and Dr. Ruark are co-authors of the book, "Atoms, Quanta, and Molecules."

OUTSTANDING RADIO BROADCASTS

12:45: From Saar—The Plebiscite, Sarah Wambaugh, member Saar Plebiscite Committee; description of scene at the polls, WABC.

2:30: Play — Counsellor at Law, with Paul Muni, WJZ.

3:00: New York Philharmonic-Symphony orch., WABC.

5:00: Concert orch.; Mme. Schumann - Heink, contralto; others, WEAF.

7:00: Jack Benny, comedian; Frank Parker, tenor; Bestor orch., WJZ; Alexander Woollcott, story-teller; Armbruster orch., WABC.

7:30: Joe Penner, comedian; Ozzie Nelson orch., WJZ; Will Rogers, commentator, WABC.

8:00: Opera — Faust, with Frederick Jagel, tenor; Queen Mario, soprano, and others; Deems Taylor, narrator, WEAF; Symphony orch., Bruno Walter, conductor; Lotte Lehmann, soprano, WJZ; Voorhees orch., Conrad Thibault, Baritone, and others, WABC.

9:00: Symphony orch.; Victor Kolar, conductor, WABC.

10:30: An American Fireside —Sen. Wm. Borah of Idaho; Norman Hapgood, editor, WEAF; Reminiscences—William Brady, theatrical producer, WABC.

FLY TODAY

See Chapel Hill from the Air

Extra Long Rides $1.00
Trial Lessons 3.00

C. N. Pickell, Aviator

ALL DAY SUNDAY AT THE CHAPEL HILL AIRPORT

State Sunday Schools To Have Meeting

Sessions to Be Held in Greensboro January 21, 22, 23.

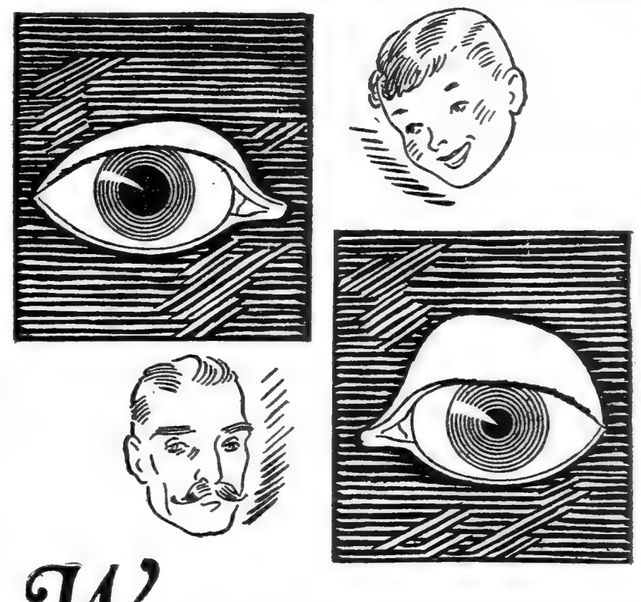
Internationally known churchmen, educators, and statesmen are scheduled to appear on the program of the State Sunday School Convention which will be held in Greensboro January 21, 22, and 23.

The convocation will be sponsored by the North Carolina Sunday School Association and will be held in the First Presbyterian church of Greensboro.

Among the speakers for the session will be Dr. Robert M. Hopkins of the World's Sunday School Association, Dr. Charles L. Goodell of the Federated Council of Churches of Christ in America, Harry C. Munro of the International Council of Religious Education, and Professor H. Augustine Smith of Boston University.

Frosh to Hear House

Dean R. B. House will continue his series of talks on "Self-Measurement" in freshman assembly tomorrow at 10:30 a. m.



Graham Memorial Grill

Excellent Food in a Quiet, Congenial Atmosphere

Special Breakfast ..... 15c up
Regular Meals 40c
Special Sunday Dinner 50c

MEAL TICKETS

21 Meals for $6.50

Why Uncle George needs MORE LIGHT than Billy . . .

● Notice how much smaller the pupil of Uncle George's eye is than Billy's. But then, Uncle is sixty-two years old, while Billy just turned twelve.

It only goes to prove that as people get older the pupils of their eyes shrink in size . . . and so they need better light than they did before. But Billy's eyes shouldn't be neglected either, because he's in the growing stage and studying and playing in poor light now may mean poor sight later.

Why not give the whole family the kind of light that's good for them? We will be glad to consult with you on this all-important problem.

University Consolidated Service Plants

BETTER LIGHT - BETTER SIGHT

FROSH HOOPSTERS WHIP RALEIGH HI WITH EASE, 32-17

Rattled Capital City Five Falls Before Improved Tar Baby Attack; 25-7 at Half.

MULLIS LEADS SCORERS

The Carolina freshman basketball team turned on the power last night and rode roughshod over a badly rattled Raleigh Hi quintet, 16 Tar Babies seeing action in the 32-17 rout.

Scoring soon after the opening whistle, the home team stepped into the lead and were never headed as they completely outplayed their opponents in every department of the game.

Pete Mullis repeated his feat of the opening tussle and led the Carolina goal-getters with a net total of eight points. Andy Bershak, astounding gridster, and Red Meroney followed with six markers each to bolster the scoring attack, and aid in so soundly setting back a dangerous rival.

Raleigh Falters

Raleigh, conquerors of State, failed to live up to its reputation and never was in the ball game. Mangum tallied seven points to lead the visiting attack but no other member of his team scored over three points, as they failed to split the improved Tar Baby defense. Throughout the game, the Capital City youths were smothered on the offense and were forced to resort to long "prayer" shots that went wide of the mark.

Mullis opened activities when he dropped two fouls through the net a moment after the game got underway. That was the commencement of a Carolina splurge that swept Raleigh right out of the ball game.

The half ended at 25-7, Grubb and Ruth tallying and Mullis netting his third free toss. A new combination took the floor for the second half and Boone opened the fireworks by taking Abe Bloom's rebound and tipping it in. When Coach Skidmore repented and shifted back to the first stringers Raleigh had gone on a spree and brought the score to 28-15.

The third string of frosh hoopsters trotted onto the floor for the last five minutes and held the Raleigh squad as scoreless as they themselves went. Ditt, Peacock, Atwood, MacDonald, Johnson and Dowd saw action in the dying moments and added to the high schoolers humiliation by holding them away from the hoop.

The Carolina team gave the appearance of a well organized squad and the first team showed considerable improvement. The offense slumped many times but the defense held up wonderfully as Ruth and Grubb gave a masterful exhibition.

Meroney showed up well in his now definite post as center and Bershak again astounded the gathering with his one handed tosses. Mullis, again high scorer, provided the pep that carried the Tar Babies head on into the fighting Raleighites.

The fracas was a spirited affair, regardless of its onesideness, and the players sprawled over the floor to the amusement of the crowd and the constant shrilling of the referee's whistle. McCachren, varsity hoop captain of last year, kept right up with the players and received quite a hand from the stands.

FOOTBALL PRACTICE

Coach Carl Snavely has issued the call for winter football practice. All men are to report Monday at the Kenan field house at 1:30 o'clock for equipment. Practice starts at 4 o'clock.

Freshman Lineup

UNC FROSH	G	F	TP
Mullis, f	2	4	8
Bershak, f	3	0	6
Boone, f	2	0	4
Meroney, c	3	0	6
Grubb, g	1	0	2
Ruth, g	2	0	4
Bloom, g	0	1	1
Franks, g	0	1	1
Totals	13	6	32

RALEIGH HI	G	F	TP
Mangum, f	3	1	7
Kelley, f	1	0	2
Fuller, c-f	0	3	3
Wood, g	0	2	2
Page, g	1	1	3
Totals	5	7	17

Score at half: UNC Frosh 25; Raleigh Hi 7. Non-scoring subs: UNC Frosh—King, Hagey, Peacock, Ditt, McDonald, Atwood, Johnson, Dowd; Raleigh Hi—Riddle. Referee: McCachren (UNC).

'GRUNTS' GET WIN IN MAT BATTLES

"Groans" Lose 37-31 in Meet Because of Two Time Decisions; Gwyn-Efland Feature.

The "Grunts" squeezed out a victory over the "Groans," 37-31, yesterday at the Tin Can in the intra-squad wrestling meet. Each team scored five falls, but two extra time decisions won by the "Grunts" gave them the win.

The spectators were greeted with action from the first bout, in which Umstead gained a hard earned fall over Ehringhaus, until the last which saw the only two heavyweights, Riccardi and Walborn, battle it out in a rough and tumble match finally won by Walborn who pinned his heavier opponent.

Ehringhaus showed great promise of becoming a member of the freshman team when he managed to stay all but 30 seconds of a seven minute bout with Umstead. The sophomore's ability and strength was too much for inexperienced Ehringhaus who almost broke Umstead's unblemished record of winning all his matches by falls.

Darden Pins Patrick

Patrick also in the same class as Ehringhaus showed his ability when he went all but 20 seconds of his match with Darden. Although Patrick probably wrestled a weaker grappler than Umstead is, his good showing proved that he will afford Ehringhaus serious competition in their battle for the 118-lb freshman division.

Douglas, a freshman star along with Ward, Bonner, and Umstead last year, did his part in continuing the good record made by these four last year. Douglas was unable to pin his opponent Tankersley, but won his victory by the large time advantage of 6:10.

Ford, by means of gaining a time advantage over Kephart, who is rated as varsity material, undoubtedly clinched the 135-lb position on the freshman team. Bonner likewise practically clinched the 155-lb division on the varsity squad when he pinned Northcross, the only serious varsity competitor in that class.

Closest Bout

The closest bout was undoubtedly between Efland and Gwyn, both competitors for the 165-lb division on the varsity squad. At the end of seven minutes neither man had the required time advantage of 30 seconds, therefore a two minute extra period was called. Efland, the only varsity letter man, finally won with a 1:55 time advantage out of a possible two.

In the last bout, the heavyweights, Riccardi and Walborn, lifted and slammed down each other for over four minutes of the match. Walborn finally managed to get his much heavier opponent down on the mat and by means of the lever lock

(Continued on last page)

TAR HEEL TEAMS WILL SWING INTO CARD THIS WEEK

Frosh and Varsity of Boxing, Basketball, and Wrestling Will All See Action.

MATMEN OPEN WITH VPI

Carolina's athletic teams swing into their full stride during the coming week with contests for both varsity and freshman outfits in basketball, boxing, and wrestling being staged.

Returning from their successful basketball invasion of W. & L., V. M. I., and V. P. I., the White Phantoms engage Virginia here Tuesday. Then they begin a northern invasion which includes games with Maryland at College Park, Friday; Navy at Annapolis, Saturday; Crescent Athletic Club at New York City, Monday, January 21; New York Athletic Club at New York City, Tuesday, January 22; and Army at West Point, Wednesday, January 23.

Boxers at Home

After opening the season with V. P. I. the Tar Heel varsity mittmen swing into action on Saturday, meeting South Carolina here. The Tar Babies encounter the Presbyterian Junior College leather slingers the same night. The varsity is composed almost entirely of sophomores,

(Continued on last page)

HI CAGERS PLAY TILTS TOMORROW

Boys and Girls Battle Bragtown Here at 7:30 O'clock.

Both basketball teams of the Chapel Hill high school will see action in the little Tin Can for the second time this season tomorrow night. The doubleheader will get underway at 7:30 o'clock with Bragtown Hi furnishing the competition.

The Chapel Hill boys showed much strength in their opening game last week when they downed Yanceyville, 28-27. The Yanceyville club had a perfect record out of five games before that time. The local girls also got a victory in their opening contest against Yanceyville.

Admission for the two tilts will be 15 and 25 cents.

Confident Tar-Mags Anxious for Battle

The long-awaited clash between the Tar-Mags and the Yackety-(now) Fins in the annual Ink Pot classic will actually be played tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock on Intramural field.

Instead of boasting of their prowess through the press, the confident Tar-Mags will let their magnificent play speak for itself.

If the Tar-Mags win as scheduled, more will appear in this daily paper. But if the dirty Yackety-(now) Fins slip up and eke out an undeserved victory, let's skip it.

George Barclay Placed On All-American Chosen By "Collegiate Digest"

Carolina Captain Voted at Guard Position Along with Regis Monahan of Ohio State.

RECEIVES SPECIAL MEDAL

Picked for Ability as Blocker and Field General; Lee Is Only Other Southerner.

(Special to the DAILY TAR HEEL*)*

Madison, Wis.—George Barclay, North Carolina's famed stellar guard, has been voted one of the two best guards in the country today, it was revealed here when the results of the first nation-wide All-American poll were announced by the editors of Collegiate Digest, sponsors of the poll.

Barclay was chosen for his great ability as a blocker and his smartness as a field general. His co-partner in the guard positions on the mythical eleven is Regis Monahan of Ohio State University.

Receives Medal

In recognition of the honor bestowed upon him, Barclay has been presented with a special All-American medal, and his picture has a prominent place in the current issue of the Collegiate Digest, the national rotogravure section for college newspapers.

Those who received a place on the famed eleven are:

Captain and fullback—"Pug" Lund, Minnesota.

Halfbacks—Fred Borries, Navy, and Duane Purvis, Purdue.

Quarterback—Bob Grayson, Stanford.

Center—Jack Robinson, Notre Dame.

Guards—George Barclay, North Carolina, and Regis Monahan, Ohio State.

Tackles—Larry Lutz, California, and Bill Lee, Alabama.

Ends—John Pennypacker, Pennsylvania, and Frank Larson, Minnesota.

Agreeing with the professional experts a little better than 50 per cent of the time, the thousands who participated in the poll gave most mentions to members of Bernie Bierman's championship Minnesota Gophers.

All Mural Court Outfits Will See Play This Week

After getting off to a flying start on Thursday and Friday afternoons, the intramural basketball resumes play this week with each of the 44 teams scheduled to see action, 14 of them twice.

A total of 29 games will be played, six every afternoon except Wednesday, when there will be only five. Despite the fact that most of the teams that have already played did not give any too brilliant performances it is certain that most of them will be in real form for this week's engagements.

The schedule:

Monday: 3:45—(1) Swain Hall vs. Grimes; (2) Alpha Epsilon vs. Phi Sigma Kappa; (3) Everett vs. Old East; 4:45—(1) Kappa Alpha vs. St. Anthony; (2) Lewis vs. Smithsonians; (3) Zeta Psi vs. A. T. O.

Tuesday: 3:45—(1) Mangum No. 2 vs. Locals; (2) Phi Kappa Sigma vs. T. E. P.; (3) Law School vs. Manly; 4:45—(1) Phi Gamma Delta vs. S. A. E.; (2) Z. B. T. vs. Beta Theta Pi; (3) Theta Kappa Nu vs. Kappa Sigma.

Wednesday: 3:45—(1) Swain Hall vs. Old East; (2) Phi Delta Theta vs. Pi Kappa Alpha; 4:45—(1) Delta Tau Delta vs. Sigma Chi; (2) Mangum No. 1 vs. Y. M. C. A.; (3) D. K. E. vs. Theta Chi.

Thursday: 3:45—(1) Alpha Epsilon vs. Chi Phi; (2) Manly vs. Old East; (3) T. E. P. vs. Chi Psi; 4:45—(1) Aycock vs. Kluttz Bldg; (2) A. T. O. vs. Sigma Nu; (3) Pharmacy vs. Law School.

Friday: 3:45—(1) Theta Chi vs. S. P. E.; (2) Grimes vs. Everett; (3) St. Anthony vs. Phi Alpha; 4:45—(1) Mayflower vs. Ruffin; (2) Kappa Alpha vs. Pi Kappa Alpha; (3) Phi Kappa Sigma vs. Lambda Chi Alpha.

White Phantoms Easily Defeat Gobblers, 29-9; Boxing Team Wins, 7-1

TENNIS MEETING

Freshmen and varsity tennis teams will meet at Emerson field tomorrow at 3 p. m. Coach Kenfield declared the meeting to be very important.

Carolina Mittmen Open Season With Sophs Leading Way.

(Special to the DAILY TAR HEEL*)*

Blacksburg, Va., Jan. 12.—The University of North Carolina basketball five put the finishing touches on a successful three-day trip through Virginia here tonight as they demolished the VPI Gobblers by the decisive score of 29-9.

The Tar Heels portrayed a practically impregnable defense tonight, resembling the one they displayed last night in their brilliant comeback to victory over VMI. With Aitken and McCachren leading the way, the whole team showed fine play.

The win tonight was the fifth straight for the White Phantoms.

(Special to the DAILY TAR HEEL*)*

Blacksburg, Va., Jan. 12.—A clever and slugging boxing team from North Carolina was entirely too much for the VPI fighters in their inter-conference meet here tonight, with the Tar Heels carrying off a 7-1 victory.

Their win stamped the Tar Heels as strong contenders for the Southern Conference pug title. It was their opening meet, as well as the debut of the Gobblers for this year.

The feature of the meet was the brilliant showing made by Carolina's powerhouse group of sophomore scrappers.

FENCING OUTFIT CONTINUES DRILLS

Swordsmen Are Handicapped by Lack of Funds; Get Invitations from Several Schools.

Although handicapped by the lack of funds and equipment, Carolina's fencers continue to take workouts in the Tin Can, preparing for some hoped-for meets.

As yet the swordsmen receive no support from the University so must carry on the sport alone. The fencers started drilling last fall with some 25 to 30 out, but since that time equipment has decreased and the squad has been reduced to a smaller group.

So far this year the team has been under the direction of Chapin Litten and John Elmendorf, both students, and Bob Linker, professor in the French department. This same trio were responsible for producing a team last winter.

Possible Meets

If proper arrangements can be made and the money raised, the fencers will have several meets this season, probably all at home. A number of schools, among them, William and Mary and Georgia Tech, have sent invitations to Carolina desiring to schedule meets.

Last season the fencers built a fairly strong outfit which was featured by the sensational work of John Elmendorf, at that time only a freshman. The Tar Heels lost their opening meet to Washington and Lee, 11-6, but came back the following week-end to defeat William and Mary, 10-7. Elmendorf was undefeated in both battles.

FROSH GRID MANAGERS

All freshmen interested in trying out for assistant football managerships are to report Tuesday at 4 o'clock at Kenan stadium.

Co-ed Cage Practice Will Begin Tomorrow

Elsie Lawrence, president of the Woman's Athletic Association, announced yesterday that co-ed basketball practice will get underway tomorrow night in Bynum Gym. The following schedule will be used by the fair sex:

Monday, 8 o'clock—Freshmen.

Tuesday, 7 o'clock—Juniors.

Wednesday, 8 o'clock—Seniors and Graduates.

Thursday, 7 o'clock—Sophomores.

Boy students will act as referees for all the contests that are held.

"Y" Cabinet Officers

Y. M. C. A. cabinet officers will meet in Mr. Comer's office at 10:30 tomorrow morning.

TRACK MANAGERS

All freshmen who wish to try out for managerships of track are asked to report to Emerson field Tuesday or Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. There will also be a meeting of all track managers Wednesday afternoon at 4:30.

DALIES FRANTZ

Distinguished Young American Pianist

Memorial Hall Chapel Hill

Wednesday Evening, January 23, at 8:30 O'clock

Special Students' Section: 85c, Including Tax

On Sale at University Music Department Now

All Seats Reserved Management Phi Mu Alpha (Sinfonia)

Why not come down and try our Special Sunday Dinner?

We promise that you will enjoy it.

GOOCH BROS. & BROOKS CAFE

We Aim to Please with Wholesome Meals and Quick Service

BEER IN BOTTLES AND ON TAP CANDY SODAS SANDWICHES

MAGAZINES TOBACCOS NEWSPAPERS

NOTED WEAVERS WILL COME HERE

"Penland Potters and Weavers" To Appear January 18; Sponsored by Playmakers.

Under the sponsorship of the Carolina Playmakers, the famous "Penland Weavers and Potters" from Penland, N. C., will appear here January 18 in the Playmakers theatre.

Lucy C. Morgan, founder and director of the organization, plans to bring her troupe to give an illustrated lecture showing the actual work of weaving, making pottery, and casting pewter. Students and faculty members are invited to attend.

Her performance will show views of one of the weaver's cabins in the mountains of western North Carolina, their pottery and craft house, and samples of their pewter ware.

At Chicago Exposition

The exhibit of the "Penland Weavers and Potters" at the Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago year before last was the only representation that North Carolina had.

Miss Morgan had one of the log cabins transported all the way to Chicago for the weaver's exhibit.

Professor Frederick H. Koch, director of the Playmakers, assisted Miss Morgan in raising funds for the exhibit by giving a special performance in the western town.

The Penland Playmakers, studying after the manner of Koch's Carolina Playmakers, visited the University last year at the Dogwood Festival and presented two of the Playmakers' folk plays.

Koch, closely connected with fostering the industry, actually gave the name of "Penland Weavers and Potters" to the group which had formerly been known as the "Fireside Industries."

Chapel Hill Citizen Dies In Washington

Mrs. Ira T. Turlington, who recently became a resident of Chapel Hill, died in Washington, D. C., Friday while visiting her son. The funeral will be conducted this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in Smithfield.

Mrs. Turlington was a graduate of Saint Mary's College in Raleigh and the University. Her two sons, Edgar Turlington of Washington and one time a Rhodes scholar, and Dr. Lee F. Turlington of Birmingham, are alumni of this University.

She was born in Smithfield November 25, 1866, the daughter of Dr. Joseph Green and Emma Eloise Green. On July 20, 1887, she was married to Ira Thomas Turlington, founder of the Pleasant Hill Academy and the Turlington Institute.

SICK LIST HITS PEAK

The following people yesterday formed the longest list of students who have been confined in the infirmary as yet: Robert Henggi, W. W. Fletcher, W. T. Lamm, Zeb Linker, G. W. Yoder, R. S. McCollum, Elizabeth Mansel, Mary Copeland, W. R. Vincent, H. L. Fulenwider, G. V. Wheeless, A. H. McLeod, Edward Shapiro, Fred Anderson, John McRae, J. I. Wright, Ann Jenkins, Claude Pickett, Mary Smith, Doris Weaver, Mrs. Harry Moore, Harry Moore.

Sybille Berwanger, Bruce Smith, Murray Honeycutt, Carl Anderson, T. S. Putman, Charles Hudson, Robert Booth, B. F. Barham, Denmuth Spivey, John Barefoot, H. A. Shaor, Francis Hulme, Herbert Katzenstein, B. P. Robinson, Dick Heller, Tom Hines, P. W. Hairston, and Ray Rankin.

FLIER'S DAUGHTER

Shirley Temple, in the new Fox Film production, "Bright Eyes," at last has the picture you've been waiting to see. She'll brighten your eyes and lighten your heart in this thrilling story of a little girl who was the angel of an airport. James Dunn is seen opposite her once more. "Bright Eyes" is showing today and tomorrow at the Carolina theatre.

Relations Institute May Hear Frances Perkins

(Continued from page one)

sity departments of sociology, commerce, economics, government and history of books dealing with the fields covered by the Institute.

Student-Speaker Contacts

An interesting aspect of the last Institute was the opportunity offered for personal contact between students and speakers. A number of the speakers gave informal talks at dinners organized and given by interested students.

The project of holding an institute on human relations at Carolina was initiated by the Y. M. C. A. The first Institute was conducted in 1927 with the cardinal purpose of stimulating social consciousness on the campus. Such was the success of this first undertaking, it has since grown, with the support of leading University organizations and departments, to become an all-important and campus-wide enterprise.

TAR HEEL TEAMS WILL SWING INTO CARD THIS WEEK

(Continued from page three)

with only a few veterans present.

Varsity and freshman wrestling teams take to the mat Saturday, meeting the varsity and freshman Gobblers of V. P. I. This will mark the first appearance of the mat teams this season. Although Sim Efland, who has moved up to 175 pounds this year, is the only letterman returning, Coach Chuck Quinlan has several sophomores and reserves with promise.

Frank Umstead, Allan Bonner, and Melvin Ward head the contingent of sophomore prospects. All were undefeated last year as freshmen.

Tom Evins, star tackle in football, is a good prospect in the unlimited. However, he may be tied up with winter football as he was last year, when he had to drop wrestling in mid-season.

Carolina will be out to avenge a loss suffered at the hands of the Gobblers last year. The varsity was defeated 18-10, while the Tar Babies nosed out the little Gobblers, 18-16.

After their three game invasion of Virginia the White Phantoms continue their search for conference court honors in the game with the Cavaliers here Tuesday night.

DAVIS ANNOUNCES 'YOUNG IDEA' CAST

Eight Veterans Will Appear in Noel Coward's Play To Be Produced Jan. 31, Feb. 1-2.

Director Harry Davis of the Carolina Playmakers' staff yesterday announced the tentative cast for the coming production of Noel Coward's "The Young Idea," set for January 31, and February 1 and 2.

Davis, who will be in charge of the production, directed Coward's "Hay Fever" for the Playmakers last year. The new selection is a bright, sophisticated, modern English comedy.

The cast, which has already begun rehearsals, includes eight veteran members of the Playmakers group. Philip Parker, who played the part of Dr. Gall in the Playmakers' production of "R. U. R." last fall, has been given a leading role.

Cast

David McCachren of "Shroud My Body Down," Ellen Deppe who played the feminine lead in "R. U. R.," of Charles Lloyd of "House of Connelly," Joyce Killingsworth of "Hay Fever," Douglas Hume of "Hay Fever," Patsy McMullan of "House of Connelly," "Hay Fever" and "Shroud My Body Down," and Robert Nachtmann of "Shroud My Body Down" have been assigned to important roles in "The Young Idea."

Frances McGraw, Wilfred Evans, Juanita Green, Louise McGuire, Mildred Cohen, and Allan Waters are comparatively new names on the Playmakers' service list. They crashed into the light last week at the tryouts and Director Davis has given them important parts in the coming production.

Wilbur Dorsett, who has been actively connected with numerous past productions of the Playmakers, will assist Davis as stage manager for "The Young Idea."

Coward's play concerns happenings in an English country home and a villa in Italy.

The original production starred the author himself, Herbert Marshall, and Ann Trevor. It was first presented at the Savoy theatre, London.

"Y" Cabinet Pictures

All members of the Y. M. C. A. cabinets will have their pictures made for the Yackety Yack Tuesday morning at 10:30.

World Holds Breath As Saar Valley Votes

(Continued from page one)

tion of the present regime under the Geneva institution which has kept the country in peaceful tutelage for fifteen years until now.

It hits the Saar problem right home, this rival propaganda which faces Saarlanders everywhere. For the French there is practically no propaganda, because, despite the outside world's idea, the issue is not really for Germany or for France. It is for Hitler or the status quo under the League.

It is too real, too fraught with concussion points of danger, to seem true. Even if the plebiscite today goes through with slick 100 per cent perfection largely thanks to the American woman plebiscite wizard, Miss Sarah Wambaugh, the book of the Saar's dramatic present history is not closed.

Currency Problem

The currency problem is a terrific brainteaser. France does not want to see her good, gold-backed francs going to Germany to be presented by the Germans at the Bank of France later in exchange for a corresponding amount of France's gold hoard.

Experts say the only way this currency could be blocked would be French abandonment of the gold standard, which is unthinkable on such a pretext.

Every precaution has been taken to insure a certain, secret vote today, with the co-operation of men of integrity from many nations, including three Americans, in addition to Ohio-born Miss Wambaugh.

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS

N. C. Photographers to Have Meeting Here

Details of the North Carolina Photographers Association's tenth annual convention, to be held here February 3-6, will be discussed at the joint luncheon meeting here today of the association's legislative committee and the local arrangements committee.

R. J. M. Hobbs, professor of business law, will also attend the meeting to advise with the two committees.

The legislative committee is composed of A. O. Clement of Goldsboro, president of the association, Leonard C. Oak of Charlotte, and Ben V. Matthews of Winston-Salem.

On the local arrangements committee are R. M. Grumman and Herman Schnell, representing the University Extension Division, which is co-operating with the association in arranging for the convention and in giving a short course in photography, and R. W. Foister and Mrs. Bayard Wootten, local photographers.

YOUNG MUSICIAN'S RECORD UNUSUAL

(Continued from page one)

young man who have any other than a cursory knowledge of the sciences, languages, and government and history.

Frantz is a lover of and participator in all forms of sports. He became an expert at skiing, basketball and swimming while at the Huntington School, captaining the mermen there.

His coming to Chapel Hill under the auspices of Phi Mu Alpha, national honorary music fraternity opens the winter musical season here.

'GRUNTS' GET WIN IN MAT BATTLES

(Continued from page three)

pinned him in 4:10.

The results of the matches with the victorious "Grunts" listed first are as follows:

118-lb—Umstead (Varsity) pinned Ehringhaus (Freshman) in 6:30; Patrick (F) pinned by Darden (V) in 6:40.

126-lb—Douglas (V) beat Tankersley (F) by a time advantage of 6:10; Exum (F) pinned Lessem (V) in 2:30.

135-lb—Kephart (V) lost to Ford (F) by a time advantage of 5:06; Ward (V) pinned Decker (F) in 2:44.

145-lb—Gibbons (F) pinned Miller (V) in 2:30; Claypoole (F) lost to Gholson (V) by a fall in 6:30; Smith (F) beat Hendrickson (F) by a time advantage of 1:26; Hard (F) pinned Young (F) in 1:28; Wilkins (V) beat Barber (V) by a time advantage of 4:30.

155-lb—Northcross (V) lost to Bonner (V) by a fall in 3:00.

165-lb—Shulman (F) pinned by Greengold (V) in 4:50; Efland (V) beat Gwyn (V) in two extra minute periods by a time advantage of 1:55.

175-lb—Ranson (V) lost to Love (F) by a time advantage of 5:52.

Heavyweight—Riccardi (V) pinned by Walborn (F) in 4:10.

SEND THE DAILY TAR HEEL HOME

THE
Young Men's Shop
126-128 E. Main St.
DURHAM, N. C.

The Carolina Inn . . .
for the present will serve meals in the Dining Room at the following prices:
Lunch ..... $ .75
Dinner 1.00
Sunday Luncheon and Dinner 1.00

YOU'VE BEEN WAITING TO SEE HER IN A PICTURE LIKE THIS

SHIRLEY TEMPLE
in BRIGHT EYES
with
JAMES DUNN

Also Mickey Mouse Cartoon
Act—Richard Himber and Orchestra
Paramount News

She's the mascot of the airdrome . . the guardian angel of the airmen . . . and her baby laugh is a song in every heart!

SUN.-MON.

Greater Than The Greatest Show on Earth . . . Is The Amazing Story That This Amazing Man Actually Lived!
WALLACE BEERY
in
"The Mighty Barnum"
Tuesday

He Could Sell Water Wings to Johnny Weissmuller!
PAT O'BRIEN
in
"I Sell Anything"
Wednesday

THURSDAY — FRIDAY

EDDIE Cantor
"KID MILLIONS"
with
ANN SOTHERN — ETHEL MERMAN
Block and Sully
And The Goldwyn Girls

—Saturday—
GUY KIBBEE
in Sinclair Lewis' "Babbitt"

CAROLINA

COMING WILL ROGERS
in "County Chairman"

VARSITY BASKETBALL
8:30 P. M.
TIN CAN

The Daily Tar Heel

FROSH BASKETBALL
7:15 P. M.
TIN CAN

SERVED BY THE UNITED PRESS

VOLUME XLIII — CHAPEL HILL, N. C., TUESDAY, JANUARY 15, 1935 — NUMBER 79

Y.M.C.A. CABINETS START PROGRAMS ON CRIMINOLOGY

Dr. Lee M. Brooks and Francis F. Fairley Lead Discussions To Inaugurate Series.

TOPIC: "WHAT IS CRIME"

The sophomore and junior-senior Y.M.C.A. cabinets opened the series of winter quarter programs on "Crime and Social Disorganization" last night, at the regular weekly meetings of the organizations.

Dr. Lee M. Brooks of the sociology department addressed the sophomore group on "What is Crime and Theories of Punishment," and Francis Fairley, University junior, spoke to the junior-senior organization on "What is Crime and Who is the Criminal."

Punishments

Dr. Brooks surveyed for the second-year group the history of crime, traced methods proposed to cure law-breaking, and proposed ways to ameliorate present conditions.

"We need certainty of punishment, not severity," the sociology professor said, discussing theories of punishment. Pointing out that only three out of 100 persons in the United States who commit a felony ever get punished, Dr. Brooks stressed the need of more efficient agencies in society to bring criminals to justice.

"We need to place emphasis on the preventative end—this is the secret of the control of our crime problem," the speaker said.

"Today in the United States we put the major emphasis on pain and the minor stress on reconstruction," the sociology professor stated, showing that disciplining of criminals is much more effective than punishing them.

COMER REVIEWS PAST INSTITUTES

"Y" Head Discusses Foundation Of the Human Relations Institute Movement.

The history of the Human Relations Institute was discussed in freshman chapel yesterday morning by Harry F. Comer, executive secretary of the University Y. M. C. A.

According to Comer, the Institute received its foundation in 1926 when a group of interested students decided to get University co-operation behind a movement that would bring outstanding speakers here.

18 Speakers Heard

The following year 18 speakers were presented at 19 different meetings. Seminars were formed out of 55 class periods.

In 1931, 18 speakers were again presented at 19 meetings, but 96 class hours were devoted to student seminars. At that time over 1,000 books were displayed in the lobby, all on the Institute subject. Norman Thomas and Dr. Mordacai Johnson were the featured speakers.

This year Miss Francis Perkins, secretary of labor, has already consented to appear. Secretary of State Hull has been invited but his acceptance is still tentative.

Dr. Jenkins, class of '07 and new pastor of the Methodist church, led the devotionals which preceded Comer's speech.

NEW SOPHOMORE HEAD

Bunn Hearn, Jr., who was elected vice-president of the sophomore class last year, was installed as president of that class yesterday by Virgil Weathers, Student Council president.

Hearn succeeds John Rainey, who was unable to return to school this quarter.

Jack Bower, secretary of the sophomore class, and George MacFarland, treasurer, will retain their original positions, Weathers stated, and the office of vice-president will remain vacant.

FRAZER EXPLAINS SAAR CONDITIONS

Tells Friendship Council That Province Will Undoubtedly Go to Germany.

"There has never been any doubt about the territorial affiliation of the Saar basin," stated Professor K. C. Frazer of the history department when he discussed the Saar plebiscite last night before the meeting of the Freshman Friendship Council.

"It was formerly a part of Germany," he continued, "and the major part of its population is German. The action which the people of the Saar will undoubtedly take is parallel to the stand taken by the inhabitants of Alsace-Lorraine."

Gives Background

Professor Frazer gave a clear description of the Saar Basin and explained the background and forces which led to the present vote. "There exists in the Saar an economic unity which is separated literally by national boundaries," continued the speaker.

"Foreign armies have marched into German territory for the first time since 1918 to control a situation which directly bears on the peace of the world. The result will be a triumph of international administration which we have not seen since the World War."

Hitler Will Behave

With this assuring statement Professor Frazer concluded his talk: "Germany is so thoroughly obligated to control properly the Saar that she will doubtless adhere to the present agreement."

During the business part of the meeting a report was made of the actions taken by the representatives of the council at the meeting of the News Boys' Club in Durham and Jack Pool asked the members to form a quartet to do deputation work.

WORKERS SOUGHT FOR SCENE SHOP

Willing Hands Wanted to Make Playmaker Trappings.

"Artistic men, strong men, little men, energetic men—and even women are welcome," said a Playmaker authority yesterday in stressing the need for recruits at the Playmakers scene shop.

Freshmen who have not yet gone out for Playmakers' activities will be given their chance this week when Wilbur Dorsett, head of the scene shop, revises his staff.

Prospective workers, whose help in the scene shop will give them credit toward the Playmakers' Mask Award next spring, are asked to report to the scene shop in the gymnasium basement between the hours of 2 and 5 o'clock.

G.O.P. CALLS FOR PROBE INTO FERA

Burdick Charges Favoritism in Setup; Ludlow Proposes War-Plebiscite Amendment.

Washington, Jan. 14.—(UP)—Republicans rallied around Representative Usher L. Burdick, Republican of North Dakota today, when he proposed an investigation of the Federal Emergency Relief Administration, charging that the Administration was a political "Santa Claus," doling out money to get votes.

Burdick's resolution did not mention politics. He charged that the FERA is withholding available feed from cattle raisers because of technical restrictions. He stated that many individuals who were handling the administration were totally unfamiliar with the needs of their districts.

Amendment Proposed

The FERA measure vied for attention in the House with the proposed constitutional amendment introduced by Representative Louis Ludlow, Democrat of Indiana, making a plebiscite necessary before this nation can declare war.

Another resolution asking for an investigation charges that the administration is seeking to curb the freedom of the press.

Campus Noses Saved By 'Y' Hanky Vender

"Millions of cold germs, but nothing for defense." . . . But wait, here comes the Y. M. C. A.

The campus raged with the flu and cold last week, and the little handkerchief box in the "Y" lobby remained untouched. It was empty!

Not for long, though, did the "Y" falter in its duty to the campus, for bright and early yesterday morning, after the DAILY TAR HEEL had reported the largest number of flu cases for the year, the little "hanky" vending machine was standing by.

Filled to the hilt with individually packed clean white handkerchiefs, it was dropping them from the slot at 10c each. The Y. M. C. A. had come through!

Thursday Is Deadline For Copy for Finjan

New Associate and Assistant Editors to Be Appointed.

The deadline for the Valentine issue of the Finjan has been postponed until Thursday afternoon. All copy must be in by that time.

Pending the handing in of copy, all members of the staff are suspended in order that each will have an opportunity to obtain an associate or assistant editorship on the merits of his work for this issue.

Anyone wishing to try out for the staff is requested to hand in his copy with his name signed. All material should be on the general theme of valentines but any other short, clever work will be acceptable.

"Y" Cabinet Picture

All members of the Y. M. C. A. cabinets will meet this morning at 10:30 o'clock on the steps of South building to have their pictures taken for the Yackety Yack.

NEW YORK MODEL GIVES TESTIMONY

Hildegarde Alexander Declares Hauptmann Trailed "Jafsie."

Flemington, N. J., Jan. 14.—(UP)—Hildegarde Alexander, New York model, testified in court today that she saw Hauptmann shadowing J. F. "Jafsie" Condon. She said she saw the German trailing the wealthy sportsman in March, 1932, shortly after the kidnaping and before the ransom was paid.

Miss Alexander said that she saw "Jafsie" standing in a railroad station, with Hauptmann watching him. Later, she said, she saw Hauptmann following Condon in the Bronx.

Albert S. Osborn and Elbridge Stein, handwriting experts, took the stand today. Their testimony was almost the same as that given last Saturday by Osborn.

Four other experts in the art of handwriting detection are yet to be called as defense witnesses.

GOVERNOR UNABLE TO LECTURE HERE

Freshmen Fail to Get Ehringhaus as Assembly Speaker.

Contrary to former plans, Governor Ehringhaus will not address the freshman class at assembly period January 28, it was announced yesterday.

In his epistle of refusal the Governor stated: "I appreciate your letter of the 11th and its invitation to address the freshman class at the University.

"I would be delighted to come over as you request, but just at present, as you know, I am quite busy with the Legislative Session and for some time I shall be kept rather constantly at my desk here. Later on, if opportunity presents itself, I would be only too glad to speak to the members of the class."

Di Bills

The Di Senate will consider the following bills tonight at 7 o'clock: Resolved, That there be a strict governmental regulation of the munitions trade; Resolved, That the state gasoline tax go toward maintenance and improvement of the city streets as well as highways; and Resolved, That the Carolina football teams play more intersectional games.

At the first meeting of the quarter last week the new president, Virgil Lee, expressed the desirability of a much greater co-ordination of information on the part of the speakers. Likewise, plans have been formulated for a more definite floor leadership in the discussions.

Hitler Wins Saar

Saarbrucken, Jan. 15 (Tuesday—(UP)—Hitler has scored again. The United Press was officially informed shortly after midnight this morning that the Saar plebiscite Sunday resulted in an overwhelming victory for the Hitlerites.

Semi-official sources estimated the Nazi majority to run from 85 to 88 per cent for reunion with Germany.

In Memoriam

In loving remembrance of the over-confident Tar-Mags who were trampled under foot yesterday by the dirty Yackety-(now)Fins, 6-4 in first downs. May they rest in peace(s).

Advisory Committee Approves New Curriculum For Languages

Griffin Makes Inaugural Before Phi Tonight

Clarence Griffin, newly elected speaker of the Phi, will deliver his inaugural address when the representatives meet tonight at 7 o'clock in New East.

There will be an initiation of the new men.

The following bills, submitted by the ways and means committee, will be discussed and voted upon by the assembly: Resolved, That mid-term grades be printed; Resolved, That North Carolina retain the sales tax; and, Resolved, That the Phi Assembly go on record as opposing Fascism.

N. C. SCHOOL HEAD WILL SPEAK HERE

Community Club Engages Clyde Erwin to Speak in Gerrard Hall Thursday Evening.

Clyde A. Erwin, state superintendent of public instruction, who succeeded the late A. T. Allen last October, will lecture in Gerrard hall Thursday night at 8 o'clock.

Erwin's appearance here will be sponsored by the Community Club.

The new superintendent was formerly head of the Rutherford county schools and was appointed to his present position by Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus on the death of A. T. Allen.

Is Alumnus

Erwin attended the University in 1915 and has since held several responsible positions in connection with the schools in the state.

The citizenship department of the Community Club has been responsible for securing Mr. Erwin's appearance. Mrs. C. E. McIntosh, head of the department, extends an invitation to students and the people of Chapel Hill to attend the lecture.

The Community Club is a local organization with Mrs. George B. Logan, Jr., president.

GITHENS TO LEAD RADIO DISCUSSION

Series of Meetings for Radio Fans to Begin Wednesday.

A series of meetings devoted to discussion of amateur and experimental radio topics will open Wednesday evening, it was announced yesterday by Sherwood Githens, graduate student in the physics department, who is in charge of the electrical engineering project.

The first meeting will be held in 210 Phillips hall at 7:30 p. m. with Githens discussing as the topic of the evening "Simple Oscillator Circuits." Githens himself is an amateur and commercial operator and is now specializing in radio frequency measurement.

The series will be the third annual presentation to radio devotees and will be open to any person interested. Each meeting will feature a special topic by a selected speaker, followed by an informal discussion.

BUS PETITIONS DUE

The petitions for the new Greyhound bus line through Chapel Hill are due today at 3 p. m. at the business office in South building.

Sanction of Faculty Said to Be Assured

Proposed Study Plan Will Equalize Language Preparation of University Entrants.

NO WORK WITHOUT CREDIT

Meeting Saturday, the advisory council approved a foreign language curriculum for the University whereby every student with adequate preparation for college language work who must fulfill a language requirement will take one foreign language three hours a week for two years.

For those students whose placement tests show that they are not prepared to do college language work a six-hour course during the first year has been planned.

To Equalize Preparation

The six-hour course is designed to put students taking it on equal footing at the beginning of the second year with those who, because of superior high or preparatory school training, were eligible for the three-hour course during the freshman year.

Subject to the approval, almost certain to be forthcoming, of the faculty, the new curriculum will go into effect in the fall quarter of this year.

Heretofore students who have not shown preparedness for college work in their placement tests had to take one or two courses without credit in order to make up their deficiencies. By the new plan, these students will do twice as much work the first year but will not lose one or two quarters in catching up with their better-prepared classmates.

The new foreign language curriculum is the first to be presented to the advisory council. Other departments are working on their revised curricula now.

SELDEN TO GIVE READING SUNDAY

Playmaker Technical Director to Read Sean O'Casey's Play, "Within the Gates."

Samuel Selden, technical director for the Carolina Playmakers, will give the January reading, "Within the Gates," at the Playmakers theatre Sunday night at 8:30.

"Within the Gates" is a popular current play by Sean O'Casey which Brooks Atkinson, drama critic for the New York Times, recently praised highly in his column. It is still running at the National Theatre, New York, where it opened October 22, 1934.

Present Cast

The present cast includes Lilian Gish, Bramwell Fletcher, Mary Morris, and Moffat Johnston.

O'Casey, an Irishman, has produced numerous successes in the past and his new Irish play, according to a recent issue of The Stage, "has stirred up a veritable hornet's nest of differing opinions."

The magazine article continued, "It is a heady mixture of realism, symbolism, and rich poetic imagery, colored throughout by a compassionate understanding of man and the modern world."

Everyone is invited to the reading.

The Daily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Union Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where it is printed daily except Mondays, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Holidays. Entered as second class matter at the post office of Chapel Hill, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 for the college year.

A. T. Dill ..... Editor
Robert C. Page, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
Joe Webb ..... Business Manager
George Underwood ..... Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

EDITORIAL BOARD—Phil Hammer, chairman.
FEATURE BOARD—Nelson Lansdale, chairman; Nick Read, Bob Browder, Francis Clingman, J. E. Poindexter, W. M. Cochrane, Willis Harrison.
CITY EDITORS—Irving Suss, Walter Hargett, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.
TELEGRAPH EDITORS—Stuart Rabb, Charlie Gilmore.
DESK MAN—Eddie Kahn.
SPORTS DEPARTMENT—Jimmy Morris and Smith Barrier, co-editors, Tom Bost, Lee Turk, Len Rubin, Fletcher Ferguson, Stuart Sechriest, Lester Ostrow, Ira Sarasohn.
EXCHANGES—Margaret Gaines.
STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER—Don Becker.
REPORTERS—Bill Hudson, John Smith, J. F. Jonas, Ralph Sprinkle, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Raymond Howe, William Jordan, Morton Feldman.

Business Staff

ASST. BUSINESS MANAGER ..... Butler French
COLLECTION MANAGER ..... Herbert Osterheld
OFFICE MANAGERS ..... Walter Eckert, Roy Crooks
NATIONAL ADVERTISING ..... Boylan Carr
DURHAM REPRESENTATIVE—Joe Murnick.
LOCAL ADVERTISING—Hugh Primrose, Robt. Sesnik, Eli Joyner (managers), Bill MacDonald, Louis Shaffner, Page Keel, Bill McLean, Crist Blackwell.

CITY EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE: JIM DANIEL

Tuesday, January 15, 1935

PARAGRAPHICS

Now that the "Y" has begun its crime program, wonder if it wouldn't be possible to have a course in amateur safe-cracking?

"World Holds Breath as Saar Plebiscite Takes Place." But the resulting landslide leaves us enough wind to let loose a well-earned yawn.

Campus daily puts Dr. Frank on the spot. "Let us be honorable," he is quoted as saying, "not because we are afraid to be dishonorable, but because we want to."

Voice of The People

As generally satisfied with the tenor of the governor's message as all parties concerned seem to be, there remains only the doubt in our minds as to whether it was not too good to be true. Nobody who is interested in his state can help feeling the earnest progressiveness that characterized Governor Ehringhaus' recommendations, and it would be foolhardy to pick to pieces an address which even the minority commended.

Our reference to the minority party comes as a result of noticing that Republicans were in agreement with substantially everything the governor said except his advocacy of an increased highway patrol. In the Democratic ranks also this feeling occurs.

It is our conviction that the entire program of spending for the highway commission should be minimized for the present. The governor declared that out-of-the-way places should be connected by means of the construction of new roads. That is all very well, if the state can see its way clear to provide for such construction.

And here's where the too-good-to-be-true part comes in. Increases in appropriations for other spending agencies in the state will make terrific demands on the treasury, ultimately on the people. Where is the money coming from? The first choice should be given to the most needy departments and institutions of the state. And from every newspaper's comment that we have seen, that first choice has been voted to education. If newspapers are in any respect the voice of the people, let the 1935 legislature be guided accordingly.

A Good Omen

Some half million inhabitants of the Saar voted Sunday as to whether they would become part of France, remain under the League of Nations, or be reunited to Germany. Although the pro-German group has been virtually conceded the victory by their opponents, the official result has not yet been made known. However, it was the manner in which the plebiscite was carried out rather than the actual result which has held the interest of a tense and frightened world.

Due to effective patrols in the face of long-threatened violence, heated accusation, and propaganda, one of the greatest crises of post-war history has apparently been safely passed. The fuse has been set, but no explosion has yet followed. So chalk one up for the League of Nations, Mr. Geoffrey Knox, and the international police force. Despite certain mishaps in Asia and South America, the League may yet turn out to be a potent curb on the mischievous activities of the world's so-called "bad boy" nations.

Money and The Court

The New Deal's monetary policy of devaluation, purported to help the debtor from rising burdens, will be supported or discarded as unconstitutional by the supreme court of the United States within the next few weeks. Colossal is the importance of the court's decision.

Should the court hold that the devaluation law was invalid and that the gold clause of extant contracts is still binding on the contracting parties, it will mean that for every dollar of debt contracted, the debtor must pay $1.69. Two questions, then, have arisen: Are the laws of Congress regulating the use of gold and establishing a new gold content for the dollar valid? Can debts carrying a clause providing for payment in gold coin of the weight and fineness prevailing before devaluation be paid in lawful currency of the United States, dollar for dollar?

The decision will determine whether Congress has the power to alter private or governmental contracts and whether its power to regulate the value of the currency can legally alter such contracts. The 14th amendment does not prohibit the federal government from altering a contract but does prohibit the states from doing so. If the Congressional power is upheld, it will be by virtue of the provision for the "general welfare of the nation" and the power to coin money, regulate it, and fix standards. If it is not, it will be by virtue of the impeccable nature of contractual agreements. The fate of New Deal monetary policies is in the balance.

Help to The Greeks

A loan of $1,700 has just been tendered a Maryland College fraternity by the Federal Housing Administration for improvements, in the nation's far-reaching "better-housing campaign."

There are those who will attack this aid to the Greeks as fostering needless activity, on luxuries and for dandies. But of all real estate, we can think of none more ill-treated by Old Man Cycle-Bottom than fraternity property. Fraternity men have become scarcer, and rates for membership have been reduced. The scaled-down income has hardly covered the mortgage in many instances where mortgages exist. Consequently, not much in the way of permanent improvements has been effected.

The National Housing Act was designed to help the home-owner improve his property and increase its value and usefulness. We are glad that fraternities have been regarded as useful organizations whose property has value; we were afraid that the Democrats might not appreciate the fact that people pay extra to live with those with whom they are most congenial. At any rate, we daresay many are the fraternities which will take advantage of this opportunity to take the warps out of the parlor floor or splash some paint on the ceiling.

Gentlemen Of No Leisure

At the present there is a group of some two dozen students, more or less, who are harassed by the difficult problem of not having an adequate amount of time in which to keep up their scholastic requirements and to participate in some essential extra-curricular activities. Of course, there are many besides this group who find themselves with the same handicap, but this particular group we have in mind are distinctively individualistic. It is composed of those who are attempting to operate dormitory stores in addition to attending to their studies and other endeavors and who spend on the first-named activity an average of three hours daily at this work.

We do not mean that three hours on the part of each (two to a store) is too much time to spend at this work if necessary, but when we consider that something like one-half of these minutes are spent in idle chatter with the less industrious of the dormitory inmates, it is extravagant waste. A man who is trying to hold his place on a team or in class or at some other activity must be regular in participation; three hours of a day precludes "stick-to-itiveness" because it devours too many precious minutes. Hence, one may easily see from these facts that an hour and a half every day wasted can ill be afforded by such a student as those two mentioned.

One of the more thoughtful store-keepers has instituted a petition, which has been signed by all but one of the service men in the two quadrangles, that would enumerate certain periods each day for the store to be open. This, we believe, would be the most logical and effective way to eliminate the problem involved. If the fellows who patronize the service rooms knew that they would have access to the places only at the hours designated, they would take care to purchase their needs at these times, thus cutting out all wasted time and making it possible for both the negligent student and the service men to get in a bit of much needed study. We feel that this plan would well stand trial, and the results would be beneficial to all concerned.

Casual Correspondent
by Nelson Lansdale

A MATTER OF ACCENT

A story we're unable to vouch for is told of Jean Harlow's recent visit to London, one of the interesting features of which is that the Hollywood actress was a decided social success, and was ultimately invited to a party given by witty Lady Margot (pronounced "Margo") Asquith.

Apparently unaware of the nuances of pronounciation of proper names, the platinum blonde hailed her hostess with a joyial: "Hello, Margott, old kid."

To which Lady Asquith replied icily: "My dear Miss Harlow, if you must call me by that name, it is pronounced Margo, not Margott. The 'T' is silent, as in Harlow,"

GOOD POLITICS

We don't know how the realm of funny stories got so wide, but the next one we think of takes place in northern Alaska, and concerns a man named Lewis who made his living guiding parties of exploration. Their curiosity having been aroused, five resident Americans engaged him in the off season to take them through the frozen wastes. For nearly two months there was no word from the party. Finally Lewis returned, looking fat and happy, explaining that the party was frozen in, and that there was nothing to do but wait until the spring thaws came.

When spring finally arrived a searching party was sent out. They found the five bodies, and they discovered, too, that meat had been cut from them, obviously by a human hand. They placed the guide under arrest, and returned to civilization's outpost to try him for murder. The prisoner had nothing to say in his defense.

The judge, a good political appointee of the old school, arose to pronounce sentence. "John Lewis, you son-of-a-gun," he growled. "There were nine Democrats in this precinct, and you ate five of them."

LADIES, JUST LADIES

It seems that in the early part of the century before respectable women could do anything but simper, ("The woman's place is in the home, and I could tell you which room") there was a lady working on a newspaper in Dallas, Texas. One day three female representatives of the W. C. T. U. marched into the office, and stalked up to her desk. Glaring at her, the W.C.T.U. spokeslady said: "We understand there's a newspaper woman in this office who smokes cigarettes, drinks whiskey, and has been known to have men in her apartment."

The newspaperwoman looked up at the W. C. T. U. representative, reached in her desk drawer, pulled out a pack of cigarettes, extracted one therefrom, put her feet up on the desk, lit the cigarette, and drawled her reply: "Well, I'm Gawddamned."

ODDS AND ENDS

Things we wish people would go find out and tell us: who took the key hanging on the gas-jet of the wall of the post-office near the parcel post window . . . why Manager E. Carrington Smith doesn't bring "The Gay Divorcee" back to his Carolina theatre . . . what the "E" stands for in E. Carrington . . . when the new book, or books, by University graduate Thomas Wolfe will be published by Scribners . . . if there's any regular scorekeeper on the board at basketball games . . . how long it takes for a letter to get from here to New Haven, and for an answer to get back . . . what ever happened to the bet Bing Crosby made on the air with the boys in Lewis dorm . . . if there's any chance of Gertrude Stein's coming to Chapel Hill . . . why using a dial phone makes you feel important until you get used to it . . . why accidents that don't quite happen—to other people—leave you disappointed . . . what makes time go so slowly after vacations?

ARTS PROJECTS TEA

A tea, attended by over 75 guests from Durham and Chapel Hill, was given by the Southern Arts Projects in Hill Music hall last week.

Members of the faculty committee on fine arts greeted the visitors and invited them to inspect the exhibit of oil paintings, lent by the Grand Central Galleries of New York City.

Members of the committee are: Professors George Howe, U. T. Holmes, J. P. Harland, Frederick H. Koch, John Booker, W. S. Bernard, and Glen Haydon.

Mrs. W. C. Coker, chairman of the arrangements committee for the occasion, was assisted by Mrs. Frank Miller, Mrs. Felix Grisette, and Mrs. Mary Graves Rees.

In the receiving line were: Mrs. Frank P. Graham, Mrs. R. B. House, Miss Rosamund Niles, Mrs. Mary Graves Rees, and Mrs. W. S. Bernard.

Those serving were: Mrs. Felix Grisette, Mrs. U. T. Holmes, Mrs. Cecil Johnson, Mrs. H. M. Burlage, Mrs. J. P. Harland, Miss Lena Alice Tuttle, and Miss Alma Holland.

Mrs. F. K. Cameron and Mrs. Frank Miller poured tea.

Raleigh Concert Tonight Features "Rhapsody"

Featuring the famous "Rhapsody in Blue," the North Carolina Symphony Orchestra will play the first of a series of weekly concerts in the City Memorial Auditorium at Raleigh tonight at 8:30 with Lamar Stringfield conducting.

Helen McGraw of Washington, D. C., widely known concert pianist, will be the guest artist of the program and will play the piano solo parts of the "Rhapsody."

The orchestra will maintain its headquarters in Raleigh after this program and play concerts throughout eastern North Carolina.

Med School Photo

The med school Yackety Yack pictures will be taken tomorrow morning at chapel period in front of the med building.

OUTSTANDING RADIO BROADCASTS

Tuesday, Jan 15

1:00: George Hall orchestra, WABC.

4:45: Dick Messner orchestra, WABC.

7:00: The Average Family and the Cost of Government—Grenville Clark of the Nat. Economy League, WEAF.

7:15: Morton Downey, tenor; orch.; Guy Bates Post, narrator, WJZ.

7:30: Government Personnel—L. D. Coffman, Pres. of Univ. of Minn., WEAF.

8:00: Frank Munn; Concert orch.; Hazel Glenn, soprano, WABC.

8:30: Wayne King orch., WEAF; Giovanni Martinelli, tenor; Queena Mario, soprano; John B. Kennedy, narrator; concert orch., WJZ.

9:00: Bing Crosby; Mills Bros.; Stoll orch., WABC; Ben Bernie orch; Joan Bennett, actress, WEAF; Grace Moore, soprano; concert orch., WJZ.

9:30: Ed Wynn; Duchin orch., WEAF; Isham Jones orch., WABC.

10:00: Operetta—Girl Crazy, with Jane Froman, contralto; John Barclay, and others, WEAF; Glen Gray orch.; Annette Hanshaw; Walter O'Keefe, WABC.

11:00: Abe Lyman orch., WJZ.

THE
Young Men's Shop
126-128 E. Main St.
DURHAM, N. C.

DUKE UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF MEDICINE
DURHAM, N. C.

Four terms of eleven weeks are given each year. These may be taken consecutively (graduation in three years) or three terms may be taken each year (graduation in four years). The entrance requirements are intelligence, character and at least two years of college work, including the subjects specified for Grade A Medical Schools. Catalogues and application forms may be obtained from the Dean.

Try Our Delicious
HOT CHOCOLATE
With Whipped Cream
Sutton Drug Co.

Tar Heels And Cavaliers Clash In Tin Can Tonight

Conference Contest Will Start at 8:30

White Phantoms Will Defend Unbeaten Record Against Cavaliers Tonight.

VIRGINIA HAS FINE CLUB

SPECIAL

Duke Gym, Jan. 14.—Duke University continued its winning streak on its home court here tonight and trimmed Virginia's strong Cavalier five, 30-20.

Lineup

Carolina	Pos.	Virginia
Aitken	l.f.	Rogers
Nelson	r.f.	Sturm
Glace	c.	Zeisburg
Kaveny or Harris	l.g.	Gist
McCachren	r.g.	Marrett

Carolina's White Phantoms will engage the strong Cavalier club from the University of Virginia in the Tin Can at 8:30 tonight.

Coach Bo Shepard worked his team until late yesterday evening, hoping to iron out numerous wrinkles before tonight's game.

Although the Tar Heels won all their contests during their invasion of Virginia last week, Coach Shepard expressed disappointment in the general play of the team. The White Phantoms had little difficulty in disposing of V.P.I. Saturday night; however, on the two previous nights they had to come from behind in order to win the close games from V.M.I. and W. & L.

Good Virginia Team

The team which takes the floor against the Tar Heels tonight is one of the best Virginia has produced for several years. The Cavaliers have defeated several good teams this season, among which is the powerful South Carolina club.

Paul Kaveny, regular guard, missed practice yesterday due to a slight cold. He is expected to be ready by tonight. Bucky Harris displayed fine form on the Virginia trip and will probably see plenty of service in tonight's game.

White Phantoms Lead Conference And State Races

Carolina's White Phantoms, by virtue of their clean sweep through Virginia last week-end, are perched on the top rung of the Southern Conference basketball ladder here in the first few weeks of play.

In making this fine showing the Tar Heels were forced to their limit as they barely subdued the defending conference champ, W. & L. team, and then had to stage a brilliant last period comeback to win over V.M.I.

In the Big Five, Carolina and Duke are leading the race with two victories each, while State boasts a lone win. This week, however, will mark the elimination of either Duke or State as the two meet in Raleigh on Tuesday. The only other inter-Big Five contest is State-Davidson on Wednesday.

The Southern Conference standings are as follows:

Teams	W.	L.	Pct.
North Carolina	3	0	1.000
Maryland	2	1	.667
Duke	1	1	.500
W. & L.	1	1	.500
Virginia	1	1	.500
South Carolina	1	2	.333
V. P. I.	0	1	.000
V. M. I.	0	2	.000

The Big Five standings are as follows:

Teams	W	L	Pct.
Carolina	2	0	1.000
Duke	2	0	1.000
State	1	0	1.000
Davidson	0	2	.000
Wake Forest	0	3	.000

VARSITY BOXERS SHOW UP WELL IN OPENING BATTLE

Diehl, O'Flaherty, and Alderman Give Feature Performances In Win over V. P. I.

MEET S. C. THIS SATURDAY

After taking the V.P.I. boxing contingent into camp by a 7-1 margin, the Carolina leather-pushers resumed their workouts in the highest of spirits yesterday afternoon. Although the boys performed very favorably from the looks of the one-sided score, Coach Rowe is still not satisfied with the condition of the squad as a whole. He is optimistic of having them in tip-top shape for the South Carolina meet here this Saturday.

In the bantamweight class last Saturday night, Marion Diehl, fighting his first bout as a varsity man, turned in a beautiful performance when he scored a technical knockout in the third round over Hall of V.P.I. Diehl carried the fight from the sound of the opening gong and had his man wobbly as early as the second round.

Only V. P. I. Win

Johnnie Edwards, in the featherweight class, did not fare so well. Edwards lost a close decision to Freddie Hall of V. P. I. However, much credit should go to Edwards, who was bested by the man that lost out only to Rainey of Virginia in the finals of the Southern Conference tournament last year.

Unleashing a powerful two-fisted attack, Tommy O'Flaherty took a little more than a round to flatten Brandon, the V.P.I. entry. O'Flaherty was not even breathing hard at the finish and certainly showed up well in his

(Continued on last page)

Bill Tilden And Company To Play Here On April 4

Vines, Stoefen, Lott To Complete Group

Series of Matches Began in Madison Square Garden Last Wednesday.

TO PERFORM IN 82 CITIES

By LEN RUBIN

"Big Bill" is coming to town! The old maestro of the tennis courts will again invade Chapel Hill, but this time with an unprecedented galaxy of stars to grace the Carolina courts.

Ellsworth Vines, Les Stoefen, and George Lott will accompany Tilden on his tour that will put on exhibitions in 82 cities throughout the country, and which reaches the University on April 4.

Tilden has appeared many times at Carolina but it was thought that this year would witness a break in his annual visits. However, his coming will give the people of this vicinity an opportunity to witness the court game at its peak.

The Four Aces

It will be a quartet of masters, perfect at their art, demonstrating the intricacies of tennis, and when these four come together, there is no limit as to what is bound to happen.

The tour opened last Wednesday at Madison Square Garden in New York, when Tilden and Vines initiated Stoefen and Lott into professional tennis by drubbing them before 15,000 tennis fanatics.

The long discussed meeting of the two combinations in doubles provided the thrills that were awaited when Tilden and Vines downed their opponents, the national amateur doubles champions, in a three hour setto that kept the immense crowd on their toes until the last stroke. The scores were 3-6, 14-16, 13-11, 8-6, 6-4, which shows clearly the intensity of the battle.

(Continued on last page)

MURAL CAGE PLAY FEATURED BY WIN OF LEWIS DORM

K. A.'s and Swain Tally 50 Points in Wins; Alpha Epsilon Is Also Victorious.

EVERETT IS HIGH SCORER

Four intramural basketball games dotted the boards of the Tin Can yesterday afternoon with Lewis' 16-12 win over the Smithsonians the closest of the session.

Kappa Alpha and Swain Hall each scored 50 points in garnering victories, while Alpha Epsilon, making its initial appearance in an intramural contest, defeated Phi Sigma Kappa 42-20.

Individual scoring honors went to Malcolm Everett, K. A.'s "Georgia Peach," who accounted for 29, more than half his team's total. Shalom of Alpha Epsilon came next with 16, and Burton and Little, both of Swain Hall, followed with 13 each.

Lewis and the Smithsonians battled on even terms most of the game, but Hooks' quartet of double-pointers put the lower quadrangle team out in front shortly before the end. Pickler, of the losers, added a brace of field goals to head his team.

Yesterday's summaries are as follows:

Lewis, 16	Smithsonians, 12
Lawler, f (4)	Fletcher, f
Hooks, f (8)	Nicholes, f (3)
Leight, c	Pickler, c (6)
E. Parker, g (2)	Abels, g
Joigb, g (2)	LeBaron, g (3)

Subs: Lewis—D. Parker, Hancock; Smithsonians—Schofield.

Alpha Eps. 42	Phi Sig. Kap., 20
Shalon, f (16)	Fry, f (1)
Mark, f (4)	Clayton, f (2)
Singer, c (6)	Shaw, c (6)
Gordon, g	Fuller, g (9)

(Continued on last page)

CAROLINA FROSH PLAY HOLT FIVE TONIGHT AT 7:15

Moss, Giant Center, Out for Remaining Part of Season; Meroney at Center.

VISITORS STRONG TEAM

The Carolina freshman quintet will take the floor against an unexpected opponent tonight when it clashes with Holt Mills in the Tin Can at 7:15 o'clock before the varsity game.

Formerly scheduled against Oak Ridge, the frosh team was forced suddenly to revise its schedule due to the recent decision of the military academy to discontinue basketball for the present season.

The hurried scheduling of Holt Mills brings the frosh face to face with a strong opponent that threatens to put an end to their winning ways. The visiting team is an independent organization of Burlington composed of former college students now employed in the mill.

Moss Out for Season

The Carolina frosh will be minus the services of "Pee-wee" Moss tonight and "Red" Meroney will again start at center. Moss's playing days for this year are over due to trouble with his back, and his absence will be felt.

The remainder of the squad will be the same that opened against Raleigh High, namely: Pete Mullis, Andy Bershak, Earl Ruth, and Foy Grubb. This quintet showed up remarkably

(Continued on last page)

Today's Mural Card

3:45—(1) Mangum No. 2 vs. Locals, (2) Phi Kappa Sigma vs. T. E. P., (3) Law School vs. Manly.

4:45—(1) Phi Gamma Delta vs. S. A. E., (2) Z. B. T. vs. Beta Theta Pi, (3) Theta Kappa Nu vs. Kappa Sigma.

Sixty Gridders Report At First Drill Session Of Winter Practice

Snavely Will Have Hard Job of Replacing Men Lost This Year by Graduation.

Carl G. Snavely began his second year as head coach of the Carolina football team yesterday when he called out his charges for the first drill of winter practice. About 60 players reported for the work in Kenan stadium.

Ex-Captain and All-America George Barclay was on hand, although he has finished his playing days as a Tar Heel. Barclay returned to the University Sunday with a car load of medals, certificates, and fan mail. He will resume his studies and also help with the coaching of the football squad.

Since it was the first day of practice the candidates took things rather easy but the work will be increased with time. Coach Snavely again began by stressing blocking, which he considers by far the most important element in any eleven's attack.

Long Signal Drill

The squad was divided into five different clubs and then run through a long signal drill. The same plays of last season were generally used but Coach Snavely will likely introduce many new ones and some variations of his single-wing-back formation.

A large number of lettermen were out plus a strong looking group of freshmen. However, many of the lettermen and freshman stars could not report because of other winter sports.

The general fundamentals of football will be stressed during the next few weeks while the coaches organize the new squad and fit the freshmen into it.

Coach Snavely will be able to place lettermen at every position if he desires, while nine

(Continued on last page)

WRESTLERS OPEN STRENUOUS WORK FOR INITIAL TILT

Coach Quinlan Pleased by Showing Made in Preliminaries Saturday Afternoon.

VARSITY, FROSH MEET VPI

Coach Chuck Quinlan, varsity wrestling mentor, seemed rather pleased with the work shown by his proteges in the preliminary meet held last Saturday between the "Grunts" and the "Groans" teams which were picked from both varsity and freshman squads.

Particularly pleasing to the mat coach was the work of Ehringhaus, 118; Ford, 135; Gibbons, 145; Love, 175; and Walborn, unlimited, all candidates for the freshman contingent, and Umstead and Efland, varsity members.

Hard Work Ahead

The two mat groups began intensive practice for their opener with the strong V.P.I. aggregation on Saturday. Coach Quinlan continued to stress work from the standing position. Calisthenics and road work completed the program for the day.

Carolina will be out to avenge the 18-10 loss suffered at the hands of the Gobblers in Blacksburg last year. Boasting one of the strongest mat teams in Dixie the Virginians took six of the eight matches.

BOXERS MEET

The following varsity boxers are asked to report at the Tin Can this afternoon at 3 o'clock to have their pictures taken for the Yackety-Yack: Diehl, Eutsler, Edwards, O'Flaherty, Fisher, Medynski, Giddins, Novich, Alderman, Carruth, and Ellisberg. Members of the frosh team are to report at 4 o'clock.

SCHEDULE CHANGES

The following changes have been made to the University sports schedule for the winter quarter: Varsity basketball—Duke away on Feb. 6; freshman basketball — Holt Mills here today, Charlotte High away Jan. 24, Belmont Abbey away Jan. 25, Davidson frosh away Jan. 26, and Duke frosh away Feb. 6.

FENCING PRACTICE

Regular fencing practice will be held in the Tin Can every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday starting at 4 o'clock. All men who are trying for the team or who are interested are to report on time.

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB

The Women's Glee Club will hold an important meeting tomorrow afternoon at which every member is asked to be present.

Beginning this term, members absent from more than three consecutive meetings of the organization without reason will be dropped from the roll.

Stymied by a Stupid?

. . . light an Old Gold

When he starts to read you the story of his life, "From Bootblack to Butterfly," don't weep, don't scream. Just relax with a sunny-smooth Old Gold. You'll find its mild and mellow tobaccos as soothing as a lullaby.

AT TRYING TIMES . . . TRY A SMOOTH OLD GOLD

Sixty Gridders Report At First Drill Session Of Winter Practice

(Continued from page three)

men who at least played regular part of the time are back. Only the two guard positions are left without these regulars.

The old men out, but who will have difficulty holding their places against the invasion of the freshmen and old reserves are: Dick Buck and Buck McCarn or Bill Moore, ends; Tom Evins and John Trimpey, tackles; Babe Daniel, center; Captain Hump Snyder, blocking back; Captain Harry Montgomery and Don Jackson, halfbacks; and Jim Hutchins, fullback.

Although Barclay and Eddie Kahn will be missing at the guard places, three lettermen will be out trying for the regular jobs in Punchy Joyce, Paul Pendergraft, and Pop McIver.

It is expected that the freshmen will take the spotlight during the drills. It will be the initial chance Coach Snavely will have to show his building ability as the yearlings are the first group that he has had a chance to help pick.

Tilden And Company Is Coming April 4

(Continued from page three)

It was not until the third meeting in Pittsburgh that Lott and Stoefen were able to triumph over their brilliant rivals. Their victory indicates that the opening effects have worn away, and Lott and Stoefen are both set on continuing their winning ways against their opponents.

The singles debuts of both Lott and Stoefen were marred by decisive wins at the hands of Tilden and Vines respectively. Lott came close to downing Tilden, bowing 6-4, 7-5, but Ellis Vines simply overpowered Stoefen in Philadelphia.

Each city that they have appeared in has turned out "en masse" to see the cream of the crop, and a similar reaction is expected in Chapel Hill, although the seating capacity is small.

The play will probably be yet better than in their previous exhibitions when they appear at the Tar Heel's camp. Stoefen and Lott, at present novices in the professional field, will be experienced top-notchers at that time and will extend the other two to the limit.

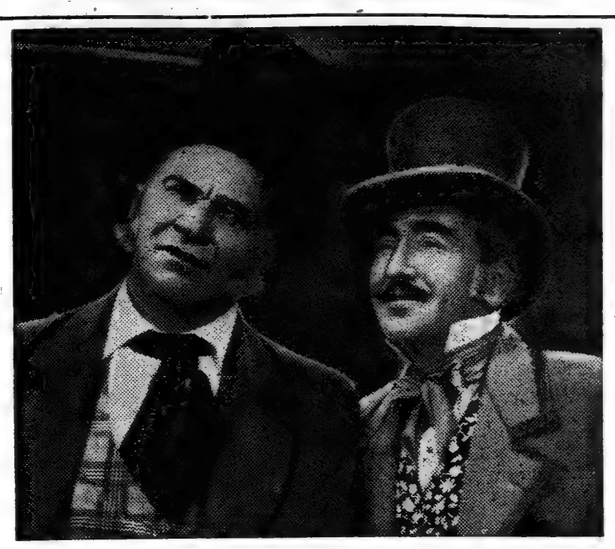
It is indeed a treat. Tilden's terrific service, Vines' overpowering forehand, Stoefen's crushing overhead and Lott's clever play are tennis feats that may never again be repeated.

The professional ranks have welcomed Lott and Stoefen with open arms; the public has done likewise for the rejuvenated pros, and now Chapel Hill will follow in their footsteps by turning out for this coming gala event.

Parent-Teacher Meeting

The regular meeting of the Chapel Hill Parent-Teachers Association will be held at the high school today. Mrs. R. H. Wettach will be in charge of the program and the topic for discussion will be movies for children.

Book Reviewers to Meet



The literature department of the Community Club will meet at the parish house tomorrow at 8 p. m. Mrs. S. E. Leavitt will review "Mary Peters" by Mary Ellen Chase.

Feature Board Meeting

The feature board of the DAILY TAR HEEL will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock in 209 Graham Memorial.

SEND THE DAILY TAR HEEL HOME

Barnum and His Tippling Aide

Wallace Beery as the shrewd Phineas T. Barnum, self-styled "Prince of Humbugs," and Adolphe Menjou as Mr. Walsh, his tippling aide in 20th Century's "The Mighty Barnum," released through United Artists and now at the Carolina theatre.

Mural Cage Play Is Featured by Lewis

(Continued from page three)

Turk, g (6) Mahoney, g (2)

Subs: Alpha Epsilon—Weinstock (10), P. Gordan, Sarasohn.

K. A., 50	St. Anthony Hall, 5
Skinner, f (10)	Read, f
Everett, f (29)	Walker, f
Yoemans, c (2)	Jeanes, c (5)
Shriver, g	Hard, g
Seymour, g (3)	Parker, g

Subs: Kappa Alpha—Broadhurst (4), Lovill, McClelland; St. Anthony Hall — Fackner, Hammer, Rhoades.

Swain Hall, 50	Grimes, 12
Allen, f (8)	Crawley, f
Thomas, f (2)	Hollan, f (2)
Burton, c (13)	Umstead, c (4)
Brown, g (12)	Kikn, g (3)
Little, g (13)	Anglin, g (3)

Subs: Swain Hall—Cook (2), Little, Craver; Grimes—Wall, Hinkle.

AGED NEGRO DIES

Shortly after noon yesterday, while driving his rickety wagon down Columbia avenue past the Carolina Inn, Owen Carlton, aged Negro who lived four miles from Chapel Hill in Durham county, suddenly fell from his wagon to the pavement—dead.

As soon as passers-by noticed that something was wrong, Dr. S. A. Nathan, coroner, was called. His tentative diagnosis of the 60-year-old's case gave heart disease as responsible.

Executives' Pictures

The members of the executive committees of the sophomore and junior classes will meet tonight at Graham Memorial to have their pictures taken for the Yackety Yack. The juniors will meet at 7:30 o'clock and the sophomores at 8:30.

VARSITY BOXERS SHOW UP WELL IN OPENING BATTLE

(Continued from page three)

initial varsity appearance.

It remained for Joe Fisher to supply the boxing exhibition of the evening. Scoring almost at will, Fisher was all over his opponent for three rounds. Dazzling his man with a brilliant piece of footwork, and throwing lefts and rights in rythmic manner, Fisher, a sophomore, easily gained the verdict over the Gobbler.

Close Win

In a bout that was thrilling throughout, Jules Medynski, captured the nod over Captain Bussey of V. P. I. Medynski, a sophomore, looked every bit of a varsity man as he threw a barrage of punches at his more experienced foe.

Captain Giddins, meeting V. P. I.'s Dillon, had one of the closest bouts of the evening. After a hard first round, during the course of which Giddins suffered a deep gash over his left eye, he went out and gave a masterful boxing exhibition to win a close decision. Giddins was forced to call upon all his skill to help him beat his wary opponent.

Represented by a sophomore lightheavyweight, Carolina won this class by virtue of Maxie Novich's victory over Carmel. Novich fought a heady battle and at no time was he in any serious danger.

Scoring the third technical knockout of the evening, Lammie Alderman, brilliant heavyweight, took O'Neill of V. P. I. in the second round. Alderman, another sophomore, looked well as he moved around in fast style, and he will probably see more action this year.

Thirty-One Ill

Berryhill Limits Infirmary Visitors to Relatives of Sick.

Because of the present influenza epidemic, Dr. W. R. Berryhill, University physician, has stated that no visitors except relatives of the sick will be admitted to the infirmary.

The following students were confined yesterday: G. M. Yoder, I. H. Sutliff, R. S. McCollum, Steve Collins, Mary Copeland, Elizabeth Mansel, H. A. McGowan, J. R. Harris, F. M. Davis, O. C. Perryman, J. I. Wright, Fred Anderson, C. W. Dunbar, Mrs. Harry Moore.

Doris Weaver, Ann Jenkins, Mary Smith, W. R. Worsley, J. P. Clingman, T. S. Putman, Bruce Smith, Bill Calloway, Harry Moore, Charles Hudson, W. B. Booth, R. H. Lewis, Francis Hulme, W. L. Cavin, Tom Hines, A. R. Sarratt, and J. K. Harriman.

Fraternity Pledging

Fraternity pledging for the winter quarter will begin today in the office of the dean of students.

Debate Squad

The debate squad will meet tonight at 9 o'clock in 209 Graham Memorial for a discussion of debating in general.

CAROLINA FROSH PLAY HOLT FIVE TONIGHT AT 7:15

(Continued from page three)

well against the Capital City five. Although the Holt Mills outfit has shown considerable power in vanquishing their early opponents, the Tar Babies are slight favorites to come out on top.

Reflection upon the Raleigh rout shows the vast improvement made by Coach Skidmore's charges. Mullis will again hold the spotlight this evening due to his garnering of high scoring honors in both contests. Mullis has totaled 21 points.

Upon his heels, but yet some distance away, is Andy Bershak with 15 tallies. Bershak has been consistent in missing his foul opportunities but hooked in 7 one-handers to bring his total so high. At the start of the season a second-stringer, he has already clinched a regular berth through his improved play.

Meroney trails Bershak with 10 markers and is closely followed by Ruth with 8. Grubb, the remaining guard, has only scored three points but has been a great aid in limiting the opponents. The remaining few tallies are scattered through the reserves, another group of individuals that displayed strength in Saturday's contest.

DALIES FRANTZ

Distinguished Young American Pianist

Memorial Hall Chapel Hill

Wednesday Evening, January 23, at 8:30 O'clock

Tickets: 85c, $1.J3, $1.55, $2.J6, Including Tax

On Sale at University Music Department Now

All Seats Reserved Management Phi Mu Alpha (Sinfonia)

Before closing this pleasant evening... which has been held in the interests of truth and brevity... may I say...

Long speeches have been made about this and that, but when it comes to a good cigarette, you can say it all in just a few words...

—they're MILDER —they TASTE BETTER

© 1935, LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

FRENCH CLUB
7:15 P. M.
PARISH HOUSE

The Daily Tar Heel

EDITORIAL BOARD
3 P. M.
GRAHAM MEMORIAL

SERVED BY THE UNITED PRESS

VOLUME XLIII | CHAPEL HILL, N. C., WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 16, 1935 | NUMBER 80

University Club Will Collect Remaining Petitions Tomorrow

Utilities Commission Will Hear Requests

Board of Aldermen for Chapel Hill Approves New Greyhound Bus Service.

OTHER TOWNS IN ACCORD

An extension of time in which to fill out the petitions for a new bus service for Chapel Hill has been made in order to give students who have not signed the petitions an opportunity for doing so. The petitions will be collected tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock.

At present, every dormitory and fraternity house is supposed to have a copy of the petition. A check yesterday revealed, however, that in some instances certain groups had been neglected and an effort was made to avail such organizations of extra copies.

Sign Immediately

In addition, there will be a copy of the petition in the Y. M. C. A. lobby. Students are urged by University Club officials, who have charge of the petitioning in behalf of the Atlantic Greyhound Lines, to sign at once.

The petitioning came as a result of an attempt by the Greyhound lines to run a line through Chapel Hill from Greensboro to Raleigh. After consulting a student committee, Greyhound officials sent 40 petitions to the University Club for distribution.

The petitions will be forwarded to the North Carolina Utilities Commission at a special hearing January 22.

Petition from Town

Petitions have likewise been secured by the Greyhound lines from other townships or boroughs through which the proposed line will run. The town of Chapel Hill already, through its board of aldermen, officially approved the new service.

If the service becomes a reality, four busses daily both ways will leave Chapel Hill. Connections are available for all parts of the country through the Greyhound network.

UNIVERSITY RADIO STATION RESUMES BROADCASTS HERE

Transmitting Unit in Phillips Hall Again in Operation.

Short wave transmitter W4WE, stationed in Phillips hall as the official University broadcasting unit, is again operating after several months of silence, it was announced yesterday.

The station has been completely rebuilt under the supervision of Raymond F. Stainback, instructor in the electrical engineering department, to operate on an 80 meter band with a 50 watt crystal controlled transmitter.

The initial try-out of the new transmitter was made Monday evening with gratifying results, Stainback reported yesterday. Amateur operators in Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Virginia gave reports on the excellent quality of transmission.

The weekly meeting for amateur radio fans will be held in 210 Phillips this evening, inaugurating a new series. The meetings are sponsored by the electrical engineering department under the direction of Mr. Stainback. The short wave station will be open for inspection at that time.

Witnesses to Break Hauptmann Defense

Flemington, N. J., Jan. 15.—(UP)—Hidden somewhere along New Jersey roads, choked with snow, are four persons prepared to knock the props from under Hauptmann's defense.

They came from Germany to refute the charges that a gang, not Hauptmann, killed the Lindbergh baby. Even the names of the four Germans were withheld.

More handwriting experts today continued to identify Hauptmann's writing.

SENIORS TO VOTE ON EXTRA CLASS FEES TOMORROW

One of Two Budgets to Include 50 Cent Assessment.

The senior class will meet tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock in Gerrard hall to approve a budget for the remainder of the current year.

Two budgets will be presented by officers of the class. One of the budgets will call for a slight increase in class dues of approximately 50 cents, which will be paid at spring quarter registration.

The other budget will not necessitate any additional class fees for this year, but in case the latter is adopted, it will mean that several functions, including the class smoker, will have to be eliminated this year.

One of these budgets is scheduled to be adopted by the class at tomorrow's meeting.

Officers of the class request that all seniors attend this meeting if possible.

SARG TO PRESENT FAMOUS PUPPETS HERE JANUARY 22

"Faust, the Wicked Magician" Is Show Scheduled; Under Sponsorship of Local P. T. A.

PLAN TWO PERFORMANCES

Tony Sarg and his world-famous marionette troupe will appear here January 22 for two performances in the Carolina Playmakers theatre.

The punch-and-judy showmen are scheduled to present "Faust, the Wicked Magician," a drama along the same powerful theme made famous by the works of the past masters, Marlowe, Goethe, and Gounod.

Sarg will present his marionettes at a 3:30 matinee and at an 8 o'clock evening performance.

Famous Theme

The famous theme of Faust and his alliance with the devil is vividly portrayed by the marionettes. Lelah and Marguerite come into the life of Faust and, with the devil on the side, a merry arrangement follows.

The heavy cast goes Cecil B. DeMille in portions of the drama and the show becomes stupendous! Soldiers, guards, police, arrests, duels, and red smoke, wicked magic—all dramatized by tiny creatures under the deft finger-tips of Tony Sarg and his assistants.

According to the Playmakers office, Sarg's marionette troupe last appeared at Carolina in March, 1925.

The performance next week will be sponsored by the Chapel Hill Parent-Teacher Association. Admission prices are adults, 50 cents; children 25 cents.

Committee Agitating For New Trial For Alleged Burlington Dynamiters

Workers' Defense Committee Said to Be Affiliated with I. L. D.; Two of Those Convicted Have Previous Criminal Records; Evidence Secured Under "Peculiar" Circumstances.

By DON BECKER
(Editorial Correspondence)

Burlington, Jan. 15. — After someone hurled a bundle of dynamite sticks over the fence of the E. M. Holt Plaid Mills here during the textile strike last fall, the social repercussions came to have far more significance than the physical ones. The dynamite did two things: it blew out the mill's window panes, and it brought prison sentences to six men. The window panes are forgotten, but not the men.

For there or those who maintain some of these convicts are innocent. They demand that John L. Anderson, J. P. Hoggard, Tom Canipe, J. F. Harraway, Florence Blalock and Howard Overman be given a new trial.

I. L. D. Control?

The Workers' Defense Committee, said to be affiliated with the International Labor Defense, is in the process of organizing a campaign to bring the case to the supreme court of the state. The writer was shown a piece of the propaganda the committee is circulating here. It is written to appeal to a low grade intelligence, and in this writer's opinion will do more harm than good for the defendants. In the last analysis, the mass mind has less influence over a criminal trial than has the educated mind of judge and lawyer, which is influenced by fact and logic, not emotion.

In a dingy room of a third-rate hotel, Sonnie Davis was induced to outline the case of the prisoners. Davis is the head of the textile union's local at Burlington, and, being anxious to keep both himself and his organization out of the case, was hesitant about talking for publication.

As a matter of fact, the textile union, as such, was never shown to be implicated in the crime. Blalock and Overman, accused, convicted, and sentenced for the actual throwing of the dynamite, were never members of the union. As far as Davis knows, they never even worked in the mill they bombed. Anderson, however, convicted on the charge of conspiracy, and accused of being the "brains of the crime," was formerly president of the union's Piedmont Council.

Sympathizers of the defendants, Davis said, believe unfair methods were resorted to in obtaining a written confession from Overman. To understand this contention it is necessary to review a bit of history.

Review of Case

In the early morning of September 15, 1934—between 3 and 4 a. m.—an automobile parked for a short time near the E. M. Holt Plaid Mills. One of the occupants threw a bundle of dyna-

(Continued on page two)

Governor Recommends Two And Half Million More For Educational Purposes In Budget Message To 1935 Assembly

University Press Will Publish Books By Four University Faculty Members

J. G. Evans, Dr. Urban T. Holmes, Dr. Howard W. Odum, and Dr. William S. Jenkins Have Books on New List; Works Cover Rural, Social, and Economic Aspects of South.

The names of four members of the University faculty appear on the spring publishing list of the University Press. "Basic Economics" by J. G. Evans, a new approach to the study of economics dealing with the science of distribution and consumption and the influence of human nature upon our economic system, has already left the press. A new book by Dr. Urban T. Holmes, Professor of French at the University, entitled the "Life of Guillaume de Salluste du Bartas," which is the first volume in a critical edition of the works of the Calvinist French poet Du Bartas, will appear March.

Dr. Howard W. Odum, Kenan professor of sociology, has contributed in his forthcoming book, "Southern Regions," an essay toward social inventory and planning in the south. The book will comprise such phases of southern economy as the Tennessee Valley, industry and wealth of the regions, technical deficiency, and social waste. Numerous maps and charts form a supplement to the work.

"Pro-Slavery Thought in the South" is the title of a book authored by Dr. William S. Jenkins of the University department of government to be released by the press in May. Dr. Jenkins discusses the origins of slavery thought and the various theories relating to slavery.

Varied List

The field of folk lore and rural economics appears to be well exploited by an abundance of print being issued by the University Press this spring. However, the field of subjects is far from restricted to the folk in the tall timbers and economics. A Scotsman, H. John Symington, M.D., contributes to the variety with a book on his experiences in India, where he spent 25 years fighting cholera and malaria, cleaning up water supplies, hunting tigers and leopards, and healing the sick and wounded.

(Continued on last page)

SENATE APPROVES ARMS REGULATION

Senators Yeatman, Henderson, McKee, and President Lee Defend Bill Against Gibbes.

The Dialectic Senate went on record last night as favoring strict governmental regulation of the munitions trade, after a series of pointed talks by the senators in which both sides of the question were brought out.

The bill was passed by a vote of 18-5. As stated, the measure read: Resolved, that there be a strict governmental regulation of the munitions trade.

Gibbes Opposed

Opposing the proposal was Alexander Mason Gibbes, president of the Senate last fall, who favored military preparedness and the allowing of munition firms to operate under the profit motive during peace times.

Speaking against Gibbes and favoring governmental control of plants manufacturing the modern instruments of human slaughter, were Senators Archibald Henderson, Jr., T. P. Yeatman, Don McKee, and President Lee.

Senator Yeatman painted an accurate picture of how munition firms in the past have led countries to armed conflicts. He also pointed out how American plants had insured the filling of American soldiers with American made bullets.

The bill, Resolved, that Carolina football teams play more intersectional games was passed without much discussion.

The Senate also defeated the measure, Resolved, that the state gasoline tax go toward maintenance and improvement of the city streets as well as highways.

Senator Rawls made a report for the ways and means committee on new methods of conducting floor discussions.

PHI HEAD MAKES INAUGURAL TALK

Advises Organization to Re-establish Itself on Campus and Forget Adverse Criticism.

In his inaugural speech to the Phi Assembly last night, Speaker Clarence Griffin asked the representatives to go forward, stressing the need of initiative, sincerity, tolerance and co-operation in the coming quarter.

"Our assembly," stated Speaker Griffin, "has been criticized severely during the last quarter for its stand on certain issues. Let us forget this criticism and, by hard work, re-establish ourselves on this campus."

Advises Tolerance

Griffin warned against intolerance, counseling the assembly to retain open and unbiased minds. He asked them to always keep a sincerity of purpose in their participation on the discussion of bills on the floor of the assembly hall.

Finally, he asked them to cooperate with him, for, he said, "If we are to re-establish this assembly as it once was, we must move in accord."

The bill, Resolved, that midterm grades be published was passed, without discussion by an overwhelming majority. When the next bill, Resolved, that North Carolina retain the sales tax, came before the representatives, a heated and lengthy discussion began.

Representatives Winthrop Durfee and Drew Martin opposed the tax. Durfee said, "We ought to stop a few of these taxes." Martin characterized the tax as a petty nuisance, but was unable to offer a substitute.

Representatives Francis Fairley and Albert Ellis advocated the levy on sales. The assembly voted in favor of the bill by a count of 15 to 2.

HE ALSO ADVISES SALARY INCREASE FOR INSTITUTIONS

SALES TAX IS BOLSTERED

Raleigh, Jan. 15.—(UP)—A $114,000,000 budget, with $2,500,000 a year additional for schools, 15 per cent salary raises for state employes, and a sales tax extended to cover all commodities is North Carolina's answer to the question of finance for the next two years.

This huge sum, covering operation of all the state's departments, is divided almost equally between the years 1935-36 and 1936-37. For the first 12 months, a total expenditure of $57,942,922 is provided, while $56,485,601 are allocated to the second period.

The chief difference between the two figures lies in a $2,000,000 revolving fund for the highway department to be established in the first half of the biennium.

The 1935-37 proposed obligation is based on an estimated revenue of $123,526,624 for the biennium and compares with expenditures and estimates of $103,536,114 for the biennium 1933-35.

The appropriation bill accompanying the budget calls for $1,000,000 less for each fiscal year than the proposed total expenditures in the budget, due to transfer of that amount from the highway and public works fund to the general fund as its contribution to the cost of general government under an act of the 1933 General Assembly.

Salaries Increased

In providing a 15 per cent increase in salaries of state employes, the budget commission calls attention to the fact that this percentage is based on salaries and wages in effect at the present time. The actual increase, it is pointed out, amounts to approximately 9 per cent for departments and 10 per cent for institutions on the basis of the 1929 pay, and current salaries will remain below the maximum by about 29 per cent for departmental employes and 22 per cent for those of institutions.

Under terms of the 1935-37 revenue bill, also accompanying

(Continued on page two)

HOW RECOMMENDATION AFFECTS UNIVERSITY

The governor's recommendation for the Greater University in his budget message last night was that it should receive $1,068,525 for the fiscal year of 1935-36.

President Graham, in his speech before the advisory budget commission on September 25, 1934, requested an appropriation of $1,385,768 for the same period. The budget authority, therefore, has recommended $317,243 less than the President requested.

For the 1934-35 fiscal year the Greater University was appropriated only $832,330. If Governor Ehringhaus' recommendation is followed by the general assembly, the appropriation for the next fiscal year, beginning next June, will have been increased by $236,195.

The Daily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Union Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where it is printed daily except Mondays, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Holidays. Entered as second class matter at the post office of Chapel Hill, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 for the college year.

A. T. Dill ..... Editor
Robert C. Page, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
Joe Webb ..... Business Manager
George Underwood ..... Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

EDITORIAL BOARD—Phil Hammer, chairman.
FEATURE BOARD—Nelson Lansdale, chairman; Nick Read, Bob Browder, Francis Clingman, J. E. Poindexter, W. M. Cochrane, Willis Harrison.
CITY EDITORS—Irving Suss, Walter Hargett, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.
TELEGRAPH EDITORS—Stuart Rabb, Charlie Gilmore.
DESK MAN—Eddie Kahn.
SPORTS DEPARTMENT—Jimmy Morris and Smith Barrier, co-editors, Tom Bost, Lee Turk, Len Rubin, Fletcher Ferguson, Stuart Sechriest, Lester Ostrow, Ira Sarasohn.
EXCHANGES—Margaret Gaines.
STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER—Don Becker.
REPORTERS—Bill Hudson, John Smith, J. F. Jonas, Ralph Sprinkle, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Raymond Howe, William Jordan, Morton Feldman.

Business Staff

ASST. BUSINESS MANAGER ..... Butler French
COLLECTION MANAGER ..... Herbert Osterheld
OFFICE MANAGERS ..... Walter Eckert, Roy Crooks
NATIONAL ADVERTISING ..... Boylan Carr
DURHAM REPRESENTATIVE—Joe Murnick.
LOCAL ADVERTISING—Hugh Primrose, Robt. Sosnik, Eli Joyner (managers), Bill MacDonald, Louis Shaffner, Page Keel, Bill McLean, Crist Blackwell.

CITY EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE: IRVING SUSS

Wednesday, January 16, 1935

PARAGRAPHICS

It seems that the infirmary inmate roster has flu to the top.

And the Y. M. C. A. hanky vender is not to be sniffled at.

Republican Burdick says that FERA is a "political Santa Claus." There's no doubt about the Democrats having everything in the bag.

Crime at Its Roots

According to a caption in last Sunday's edition of the Durham Herald Sun, the success of an anti-crime drive is still measured by the number of arrests made. Somewhat the same idea was expressed at the recent Washington National Conference on Crime when it was suggested that city and state police forces co-operate with the federal government in apprehending criminals. The advantages to be gained from such co-operation were considered as being two-fold. In the first place, it was felt that governmental disregard for state lines would be a most helpful factor in catching public enemies who make the whole country their playground. And in the second place, it was felt the experience and success that J. Edgar Hoover and his staff has had in the past few years would prove invaluable if placed at the disposal of state and local police forces.

But the balance of the whole thing is wrong. Experience has taught, or should have taught, modern criminologists that catching the criminal as he springs up has done little to eliminate either him or the practices by which he lives. In fighting juvenile delinquency, it has long been realized that the efforts of social workers are of infinitely greater value than those of the police. Sociologists have been preaching a doctrine of "get at the root of the evil" for years, and students have come from classes in sociology convinced that it is better, and cheaper, in the long run to prevent a man from becoming a criminal than it is to catch and keep him after he has.

ABC In N. C.

A bill to provide for legal liquor in North Carolina has been drafted by a member of the general assembly and will be introduced in the Raleigh chambers within a few weeks. The sponsor of the bill, who requested that his identity be kept secret until the introduction of the bill, has been a life-long dry.

The bill liberalizes the Turlington Act so as to establish a system of state-operated liquor stores, similar to the ABC stores of Virginia. The state would receive, in addition to all the profits, the revenue from a 10 per cent tax on the sale price of the whiskey. The opposition of a certain percentage of the voters in any local unit would prevent the establishment of one of the stores in that unit.

The proposed system of state operated liquor stores would furnish employment for a good number of men, and the value of this is irrefutable. Legal liquor will be of better quality than illegal liquor because of state control through its taxing power. Although no estimate of probable revenue has been made, the income from the stores and the revenue from the tax should do much to bolster the state's finances.

Practicality of Foreign Languages

The advisory committee's approval of the new plan of curriculum for foreign languages is welcomed by a great many on this campus who have long felt that inadequately prepared students should not have to fall behind their classmates because of a language deficiency. The new plan, designed as it is, to permit the student to "double up"—that is, to make up his deficiency while at the same time going ahead with his required work—should be a time and money-saver to members of the lower classes.

There has been criticism of our foreign language curriculum. If it has been on the grounds that there was no accounting for individual differences in training, some students coming from high schools where they received inadequate preparation for college work and others more than prepared to measure up to college standards due to coming from efficient prep schools—if criticism has been on these grounds, then we say that it was justified. And apparently, from the advisory committee's approval, which will in all likelihood be sanctioned by the faculty, some fault will be eliminated.

There is still another criticism, however, weak-brained though it is, which is voiced by those who doubt the "practical" side of language training. This need not be discussed, any more than we would dissertate on the "practical" values of Plato. The absurd situation into which such an argument resolves is best shown by what actually happens to those who acquire a "practical" knowledge of, say, the French language.

Frank Moore Colby in "The Margin of Hesitation" gives us an intimate glimpse of the practical American who puts his French to a practical use. " . . . I fell in with M. Bernou," he writes, "whose English and my French were so alike that we agreed to interchange them. We met daily for two weeks and walked in the park, each tearing at the other's language.

"Our conversations, as I look back on them, must have run about like this:

" 'It calls to walk,' said he, smiling brilliantly.

" 'It is good morning,' said I, 'better than I had extended.'

" 'I was at you yestairday ze morning, but I deed not find.'

" 'I was obliged to leap early,' said I, 'and I was busy standing up straight all around the forenoon.'

" 'The book I prayed you send, he came, and I thank, but positively are you not deranged?'

" 'Don't talk,' said I. 'Never talk again. It was really nothing anywhere. I had been very happy, I reassure.'

" 'Pardon, I glide, I glode. There was the hide of a banane. Did I crash you?'

" 'I noticed no insults,' I replied. 'You merely gnawed my arm.'

"Gestures and smiles of perfect understanding. . . ."

And so to the question of the practicality of French or any other foreign language, we must smile with Mr. Colby at the difficulties attendant thereon. Even to teach it practically—c'est impossible!

Another Road To Something

Two hundred dollars a month for every United States citizen over 60 years of age is the latest and probably the most unique plan that has been proposed to save our faltering nation from ruin.

Frightened by the 25,000,000 signatures urging the acceptance of this plan purported to bring back prosperity from around the corner, Congressmen no longer scoff, but are seriously considering its feasibilty. The thought that over one-sixth of our population is alleged to have pledged themselves to the belief that this plan will work warrants our attention.

The Townsend plan, as it is called, was originated by what the newspapers call a "Utopian dreamer," one Dr. Francis Townsend, citizen from the far west. It has the proviso that "each installment of the pension should be entirely spent within the month following its receipt." There is an added stipulation that the recipients retire from all gainful work, the idea being that this would make room for younger members of unemployed society.

We have two immediate condemnations: first, it would cost the government 24 billion dollars a year to pay the beneficiaries, when the total federal income is only 48 billion now (though Heaven knows far more than that is being spent); and secondly, the value of the dollar stands a good chance of being lowered until the sexagenarian dole of $200 would be equal to about $50 and the millions of our "orphans" whose ages range from six to 59 will consequently find the going tough also. There might be a wider distribution of wealth but it won't be worth as much, to our way of thinking.

It is obvious that we cannot increase taxation at the present stage, and any other means would just increase the burden which already stares us of the rising generation so grimly in the face. We are inclined to doubt that 25,000,000 people have considered this plan seriously. Surely none of the younger generation would advise it.

Governor Recommends Two and Half Million More for Education

(Continued from page one)

the budget, the sales tax, listed as "emergency revenue for the benefit of the public school system of the state," would be extended to cover all commodities offered for sale. It is provided also that should revenue levied under the sales tax, "at any time during the next biennium be in excess of the appropriations and any unfunded deficits existing in the general fund, the director of the budget may increase the compensation of all employes."

Wholesale prices of materials used in carrying on the purchaser's business would be taxed, as would articles of food, except those prepared and served in hotels, restaurants, and cafes. As in the 1933 sales tax, the rate of retail tax is 3 per cent, to be levied under terms of the 1935 bill on the total gross sales of the merchant's business.

Auto Sales Tax

There is added, also, a 3 per cent tax on the sale price of all automobiles, new or used, for the privilege of using the streets and highways of the state. This tax is in addition to all other levied on the sale and operation of motor vehicles.

The only items exempted from provisions of the sales tax are:

Gasoline on which the gasoline tax is paid.

Commercial fertilizer on which the inspection tax is paid.

Products of "farms, forests, and mines" except when such products are sold by the producer or manufacturer at retail.

Articles sold to the state or to organizations owned or controlled by the state.

School books on the state adopted list.

It is also provided that taxes paid on uncollectible accounts may be deducted from future gross sales if the accounts represented sales made after July 1, 1933.

Construction Denied

True to the administration's promise to maintain a balanced budget, all requests by state institutions for permanent construction, amounting to $2,141,700 for the biennium, are omitted from the budget estimates.

Saunders Returns

J. Maryon Saunders, alumni secretary, returned yesterday from a trip to Buffalo, N. Y., where he attended the meeting of the executive board of the American Alumni Council, of which he is vice-president.

He was accompanied on the trip by Felix A. Grisette, alumni loyalty fund director, who is chairman of the aims and policies committee of the council. Grisette, who is expected back soon, also went to Vassar College for the conference there on alumni education, sponsored by the American Association for Adult Education.

Committee Agitating For New Labor Trial

(Continued from page one)

mite sticks over the fence, with the intention of throwing it through one of the windows so it would explode inside. Instead, however, it bounced off some obstruction, exploded in the yard, and resulted only in the destruction of numerous window panes, blown out by the concussion.

A few days after the explosion— which, incidentally, happened despite the presence of National Guardsmen—four undercover men arrived here from the coal fields of Pennsylvania. Posing as members of the American Legion "loafing along" to Miami, they established themselves in the Correct Time Inn (a tourist cabin colony on the outskirts of the city) and operated from this base.

These detectives, Davis said, are supposed to have given Overman whisky before they obtained his confession. It is a matter of record, brought out in the trial, that the detectives gave Overman "a couple of drinks." This they admitted on the witness stand. The defense counsel claimed they got Overman into a drunken stupor. Overman claims he signed a blank piece of paper that was later filled in.

Whether the confession signed by Overman was correct or not, it is obvious that it was obtained under peculiar, not to say suspicious circumstances. Whether or not this is sufficient cause for a retrial is a question the courts, it appears, will soon be called upon to answer.

Criminal Records

Working against the chances of Blalock and Overman is the fact that they both have previous criminal records. Blalock was described as "tough" by persons in Burlington who have not reason to be prejudiced against him.

As for the others, doubt was expressed as to what extent they were implicated in the crime, if at all. Davis maintained that the trial failed to show a positive connection between the men, although they were all linked in one way or another to the crime.

To what extent the I.L.D. is interested in the case, this correspondent was unable to determine. It appears that representatives from the north have been in Burlington. At the hotel where they stayed, it could only be learned that they were rather secretive about their business. The desk clerk thought they were detectives "or something." He said they had left a couple of weeks ago to take a place "out in town." An inquiry at local police headquarters resulted in the statement that they had left Burlington.

These rather mysterious characters may be the I.L.D. generals who are organizing for a retrial of the case. If so, they will probably be heard from if and when they take the field.

SEND THE DAILY TAR HEEL HOME

OUTSTANDING RADIO BROADCASTS

Wednesday, Jan. 16

1:00: George Hall orch., WABC.

3:00: Kate Smith matinee revue, WABC.

4:30: Rochester Civic orch., WJZ.

6:45: Lowell Thomas, commentator, WJZ.

7:15: The Key to Recovery, Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, WEAF; Plantation Echoes, Mildred Bailey, Robison orch., WJZ.

8:00: Play, "Within the Law," with Mary Pickford, WEAF; Penthouse Party, Emil Coleman orch; Arthur Tracy, Street Singer, and other guest stars, WJZ.

8:30: Wayne King orch., WEAF; Lanny Ross, tenor; Salter orch., WJZ; Everett Marshall, baritone; Elizabeth Lennox, contralto; mixed chorus; Arden orch., WABC.

9:00: Fred Allen, comedian; Hayton orch.; Amateur Review, WEAF.

9:30: George Burns and Gracie Allen, comedians, WABC.

10:00: Guy Lombardo orch., WEAF.

10:30: Jack Denny orch., Harry Richman, songs, WJZ.

11:00: Hal Kemp orch., WJZ.

Women's Glee Club

This afternoon will mark the most important meeting of the Women's Glee Club since it has been organized. It is essential that every member be present at 5 o'clock in the choral room of Hill Music hall. Members absent more than three meetings, without reason, will be dropped from the roll.

Subscription Rates

"I will receive subscriptions to the DAILY TAR HEEL in the business office from 4 to 5 p. m. daily," George Underwood, circulation manager, said yesterday.

The DAILY TAR HEEL can now be sent home for the remainder of the school year for $2. The Chapel Hill rates will be taken under the same terms.

THE
Young Men's Shop
126-128 E. Main St.
DURHAM, N. C.

Try a Cup of Our
HOT COFFEE
Made by Special Brewing Process
Sutton Drug Co.

Finchley
FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK

EXHIBITION
CLOTHES OF INDIVIDUAL EXCELLENCE, CORRECTLY ATTUNED TO THE IMMEDIATE SEASON.
FORTY DOLLARS AND MORE
EXHIBITION AT
Student Co-operative Cleaners
TODAY AND TOMORROW
ROBERT GRAY, Representative
CLOTHES INDIVIDUALLY TAILORED TO ORDER :: ALSO HABERDASHERY · HATS · SHOES

FINCHLEY SALE
GENEROUS REDUCTIONS ON ALL FINCHLEY HABERDASHERY, HATS AND SHOES NOW CURRENT IN NEW YORK SHOP. MADE TO ORDER CLOTHING NOT INCLUDED.

Phantoms Easily Outplay Cavaliers For 36-20 Win; Defense Again Air-Tight

Nelson Leads Scorers With 13; McCachren Performs Well

Carolina's Sixth Straight; Take Margin Early in Contest.

Carolina's tight defense allowed a fast Virginia cage club only five field goals here last night and outplayed the Cavaliers in every other department of the game to win, 36-20. It was the White Phantoms' sixth straight victory.

Featuring this near impregnable defense which has allowed opposition only eight field goals in the last two games, the Tar Heels stepped into a lead after one and a half minutes of play and were never headed. The Cavaliers, however, seriously threatened in the middle of the second period but their rally was cut short.

Mel Nelson, for the second straight game, captured all individual scoring honors with 13 points. He sank three baskets from action, but his honor comes from his accurate tossing of gratis throws. He sank all seven shots he was given.

Aitken, Kaveny Count

Snooks Aitken was not far behind Nelson in scoring with 7 markers. Paul Kaveny, playing only about 8 minutes in the latter period, chalked up three beautiful action baskets for 6 points.

Jim McCachren lived up to his All-Southern reputation by playing one of his best defense games to date. He held his forwards, of which one was Sturm who has been the Cavaliers outstanding scorer this season, scoreless and on offense worked the ball down the court brilliantly.

Orlin Rogers, of baseball fame also, led the Virginia attack by tallying 8 points. Incidentally he scored the first points made by his team, soon after entering the game with 10 minutes to play in the first half. Zeisberg also tallied 8 markers.

Carolina Gets Off Fast

Carolina started on its scoring spree after only one and a half minutes had elapsed, with Aitken sinking a shot from about the foul line. Soon after, Aitken went under fast for a crip but was fouled by Gist. He made

(Continued on last page)

Box Score

U. N. C.	G	F	TP
Aitken, f	3	1	7
Nelson, f	3	7	13
Blood, f	0	1	1
Glace, c	3	0	6
Harris, g	0	1	1
Kaveny, g	3	0	6
McCachren, g	1	0	2
Totals	13	10	36

VIRGINIA	G	F	TP
Booker, f	0	0	0
Smith, f	0	0	0
Rogers, f	2	4	8
Abbitt, c	0	0	0
Gist, g	1	2	4
Zeisberg, c	2	4	8
Merrett, g	0	0	0
Totals	5	10	20

Score at half: U.N.C. 18, Virginia 10; non-scoring subs: Carolina—Webster, Minor; Virginia—Sturm, Gordon; Referee: Hendrickson (Duke); Umpire: Gerard (Illinois).

PHI KAPPA SIGMA GETS CLOSE WIN

T. E. P. Loses, 12-11; Law School Beats Manly by Large Score; Change Schedule Today.

Phi Kappa Sigma's last minute 12-11 victory over T. E. P. featured yesterday's session of intramural basketball play in the Tin Can, while S. A. E. defeated Phi Gamma Delta, 26-18, for second best.

The other four games were more or less funaways with Law School, Beta Theta Pi, Theta Kappa Nu, and Mangum No. 2 scoring victories. The shysters gained high with a 51-4 victory over Manly.

Today's schedule has been changed from the previous announcement with one game going on at 3:45, and one at 5:30 o'clock.

The box scores follow:

Phi Kappa Sigma 12	T.E.P. 11
Bower, f	Ostrow, f (6)
Link, f (2)	Lessem, f
Miles, c	R. Eisenberg, c
Sharp, g (4)	Murnick, g (2)
Wilson, g (2)	L. Ei'berg, g (1)

Subs: Phi Kappa Sigma—Queen (4), Barnhill; T.E.P.—May, (2), Zaglin, Bluestone.

Betas Get Triumph

Beta Theta Pi 45	Z.B.T. 10
Rand, f (17)	Stein, f
Leak, f (8)	Goldstein, f (2)
Dunn, c (12)	Straus, c
Tennille, g (6)	Kind, g
Van Hecke, g	Kalmanoff, g (6)

Subs: Beta Theta Pi—Abernethy (2), Coan; Z.B.T.—Sims (2), Bluethenthal, Zauber.

Mangum No. 2, 32	Locals 11
Smart, f (12)	Hudson, f (2)
Edins, f	Seawell, f
Ray, c (10)	Miller, c (8)
McKinney, g (4)	Lloyd, g
Caldwell, g	Terry, g (1)

Subs: Mangum No. 2—Studdert (6), Hunter; Locals—Davenport, Andrews.

S.A.E. 26	Phi Gam. Delta 18
Andrews, f (8)	Hodget, f (6)
Poe, f (2)	Hutton, f (2)
Scott, c (8)	McDaniels, c
Connor, g (5)	Johnston, g (8)
Brown, g	Peacock, g (2)

Subs: S.A.E.—McDonald (3), Young, Stowell; Phi Gamma Delta—Venters.

(Continued on last page)

TRACK MANAGERS

All freshmen who wish to try out for managerships of track are asked to report to Emerson field this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. There will also be a meeting of all track managers today at 4:30.

History Profs Get Golf Win Over Romance Players

Cecil Johnson Saves Day with Birdie on Final Hole.

The smouldering faculty feud, golf matches between the faculty members of the various departments of the University, emitted more sparks last week-end when the history department, represented by L. C. MacKinney and Cecil Johnson defeated the golfing representatives of the Romance languages department in the persons of N. B. Adams and S. A. Stoudemire.

Though even up on the last green, the Romance department seemed to have a slight edge as they both were on the green. Undaunted however by these seemingly great odds, the mighty atom of the history department, Johnson, putted his ball so accurately that he was enabled to save the day for his side by scoring a birdie on the hole.

These matches are, as a rule, unofficial and unscheduled, the winning team usually deciding that it shall go down in the records as official.

ELLISBERG LOST TO BOXING SQUAD FOR THIS SEASON

Letter Middleweight Is Forced To Be Operated on for Appendicitis; Mitmen See Action.

NEXT MEET IS WITH S. C.

The boxing team received a severe jolt yesterday afternoon, when news reached it that Morty Ellisberg, veteran middleweight of last year's squad, would be unable to fight this season.

Ellisberg has been operated upon for appendicitis and will be out for the entire season. Coach Rowe was quite disappointed at the unfortunate news, as he had planned on using Ellisberg a great deal.

Yesterday afternoon saw a good deal of action at the Tin Can. Featuring the bouts, was the setto between Maxie Novich and Jim Carruth. Both boys fought furiously for three rounds with a good display of science being shown by each.

Rope Bouncing

Novich did quite a bit of his scrapping as he bounced off the ropes and countered to Carruth's mid-section. Not to be outdone, Carruth used the same kind of tactics and started a burlesque of rope bouncing.

Joe Fisher, clever welterweight, went through his workout with Spike McDonald and Frank Shores. Fisher showed that he can punch as well as demonstrate boxing ability. He scored repeatedly with long rights to Shores' face. Fisher is being drilled in the art of punching by Coach Rowe and the able assistance of Marty Levinson.

Captain Giddins boxed a brace of fast cantos with one of the boys on the freshman aggregation. Gids looked good but is forced to fight cautiously until his eye, hurt in the V.P.I. meet, is completely healed.

Red Terrors Topple Duke Cagers, 28-25

Raleigh, Jan. 15.—State College definitely fixed itself here tonight as one of the favorites in the basketball race for Big Five honors by getting a 28-25 victory over Duke in a fast and hard-fought battle.

The win for the Red Terrors was their second in as many starts against North Carolina teams and as a result put the club in a tie with the White Phantoms for the leadership of the state. The Wolfpack will have a chance to take undisputed top tonight when it takes on the weak Davidson quintet.

WRESTLING TEAM STILL NOT IN TOP SHAPE FOR DEBUT

Coach Quinlan Sends Mat Squad Through Hard Drill in Preparation for Gobblers.

ONLY TWO IN CONDITION

Far from satisfied with the work of the varsity wrestling squad so far, Coach Chuck Quinlan sent his charges through one of the toughest workouts of the year yesterday afternoon in the Tin Can.

Concerning the varsity, Coach Quinlan, said, "The physical condition and performances are very unsatisfactory to date. There must be big improvement in the next few days if we intend to take the Gobblers. To my mind there are only two men ready. They are Umstead and Ward.

Plenty of Work

"The afternoon program from now on until Friday will be devoted to plenty of hard work for the following men: Douglas, Gholsen, Bonner, Efland, Greengold, Gwyn, and Ranson."

The Saturday clash with V.P.I. will be the first test for the two teams this year. Coach Quinlan well remembers the disastrous 26-0 drubbing handed to the varsity by State in the opening meet last year and he particularly hopes that his team will get off to a much better start in the first of a series of stiff matches on tap for the Tar Heels this year.

A tentative lineup for the freshman wrestling team for the meet with the V.P.I. first-year men will be: Patrick, 118; Ehringhaus, 125; Ford, 135; Gibbons or Claypoole, 145; James, 155; Shulman, 165; Love, 175; and Walborn, heavyweight.

However, there may be some changes in the 125, 135, 145, 155 and 165 pound classes. Other men to be considered are: Exum, Smith, Hard and Tankersley. If there are any changes they will be made daily.

Coach Quinlan stated yesterday that the most outstanding work to date is the big improvement shown by Patrick, bantamweight of the freshman squad. The former Durham high school mat star looks like a fixture in the 118-lb weight division.

Athletes' Pictures

All varsity basketball players will meet in the Tin Can at 3 p. m. today for Yackety Yack pictures. Freshman and varsity boxers will have their pictures taken at 4 p. m.

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS

Tar Babies Take Thriller From Holt Mills, 39-30

Box Score

U.N.C. FROSH	G	F	TP
Mullis, f	3	1	7
Bershak, f	3	0	6
Meroney, c	3	0	6
Ruth, g	8	2	18
Grubb, g	0	0	0
Franks, g	1	0	2
Totals	18	3	39

HOLT MILLS	G	F	TP
Vining, f	2	1	5
Peters, f	2	1	5
Berryhill, c	6	2	14
Ephland, g	1	2	4
Hensly, g	1	0	2
Totals	12	6	30

Non-scoring subs: U.N.C.—Bloom, King, Hagey, and Boone; Holt Mills: Hill and Cox.

Score at half: U.N.C. 18; Holt Mills, 18.

Referee: Tackett.

Ruth Leads Frosh with Great Floor Game And 18 Points

Two Opponents Are Tied at 28-28 With Ten Minutes to Play.

A concentrated scoring attack in the last ten minutes, gave the Carolina freshman quintet a thrilling victory, last night, over a powerful Holt Mills five, in the preliminary to the varsity clash.

Led by the brilliant Earl Ruth, who tallied 18 points, the Tar Babies broke away from a 28-28 deadlock and baffled the Holt outfit with a last offensive drive that carried them to a 39-30 victory.

Until the final splurge, the game see-sawed from one five to another, as they both kept up a breath-taking pace and kept the crowd wide awake with an exhibition of clean, sparkling basketball.

Tar Babies Lead Off

Ruth put Carolina into an early lead of 4-2 by sinking two from beneath the basket. After Meroney repeated Earl's shot, Ruth again took a pass from Bershak and converted to bring the score to 8-4.

The Holt quintet followed with an exhibition of their own and looped in 10 points before Ruth again scored below the net. During this shower of Holt tallies, Berryhill, lanky center, kept pace with Ruth by dropping three balls through the hoop.

For the remainder of the first half the lead shifted hands, and the gun brought the period to a close, with the two panting teams deadlocked at 18-all.

Bershak opened the second half by netting a long one to give Carolina a lead that they held for but a fraction of a second as Holt rapidly rolled up 6 points to run into a 24-20 lead. Mullis broke the spell by dropping a foul clean and then Ruth tied the ball game again by scoring three points on a long sally. He went the distance of the court on a beautiful solo to score although fouled by Cox, and then calmly made his free toss good, knotting the count at 24-24.

Score Goes to 28-28

Berryhill put Holt into the lead which Meroney counteracted by scoring on Bershak's pass. Peters of Holt and Bershak of Carolina then alternated in tallying to bring the score to the fatal 28-28, from which the Tar Babies plunged into a scoring spree that brought them their third straight victory.

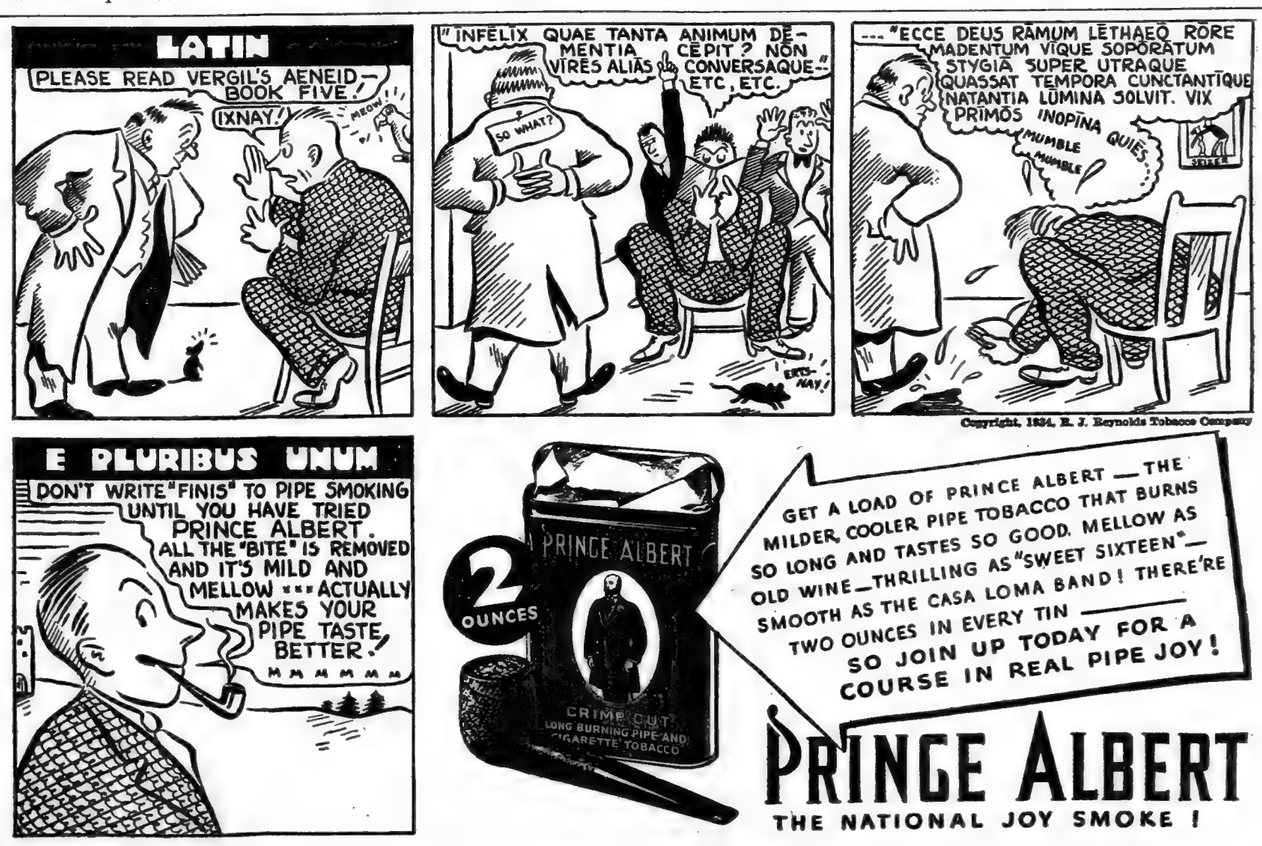
Earl Ruth, sparkling guard

(Continued on last page)

FROSH MITTMEN RETURN TO WORK

Although Beaten by VPI Frosh Babies Show Up Well in First Meeting.

After losing a close 5-3 decision at the hands of V.P.I. at Blacksburg on Saturday, the Carolina freshman boxing team has begun hard work, for the yearlings will face Presbyterian Junior College in the preliminary to the varsity matches this Saturday.



Despite the fact that the Tar Babies were on the short end of the count, they made a good showing and promise to develop into a formidable squad.

In last week's engagement, Shores, Shmurak, and Hendel all won their bouts, the first two via the knockout route, while O'Herron, Lee, Hedrick, and Rowley dropped theirs.

Shores made one of the best showings, carrying the fight for over two rounds, before finally dropping his opponent for the count mid-way through the third. He displayed a marvelous two fisted attack that completely baffled the Tech.

Shmurak, fighting in the 175-lb class, scored a quick knockout victory for Carolina when he put his opponent to sleep with a single punch. The quick ending came almost as much of a surprise to Shmurak as to the crowd, which was stunned to silence.

Larry Hendel, lanky 115-lb representative, fought through three hard rounds to earn the decision. Despite the slowness of the bout, Hendel kept plugging in and easily gained the referee's verdict.

Copyright, 1934, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company

ERWIN TO MAKE TALK TOMORROW

Community Club Sponsors State Superintendent of Education.

Under the sponsorship of the Chapel Hill Community Club, Clyde A. Erwin, North Carolina state superintendent of public instruction, will address the student body and the people of Chapel Hill in Gerrard hall, tomorrow night.

The lecture will begin at 8 p. m., according to an announcement by Mrs. C. E. McIntosh, head of the citizenship department of the Community Club.

Erwin became superintendent of public instruction last October when he was appointed to the position by Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus to fill the vacancy left by the death of Arch T. Allen.

An alumnus of the University, Erwin has held many important school positions throughout the state. Immediately prior to his appointment as superintendent for the state, he was at the head of the Rutherford county schools.

University Press Will Publish Four Books By Faculty Members

(Continued from page one)

Professor Carl Grabo of the University of Chicago will have two books published at Chapel Hill. "The Meaning of the Witch of Atlas" and a scholarly work entitled, "Prometheus Unbound: An Interpretation," explaining Shelley's philosophy.

To get back to books dealing with the south . . . Clarence Cason, professor in the department of journalism at the University of Alabama (perhaps not to be outdone by the Yankee, Carl Carmer) has written with "disarmingly humorous frankness" and "out of a profound understanding of his native region" a delightful essay on the south.

A biography of a famous southerner . . . "Lucius Q. C. Lamar" known as Lamar of Mississippi and as a diplomat at home and in the court of Russia and England, is authored by Armistead Cate of Nashville, Tenn. D. M. Robison, also of Tennessee, has contributed another biographical work on a famous southerner, "Bob Taylor and the Agrarian Revolt in Tennessee."

Backwoods

"Backwoods America" is, as the name implies, a story of rural philosophy and humor. But it is more besides: thirty-two full-page photographs by Bayard Wootten greatly enhance the book and make even more colorful the accounts of moonshiners, lawbreakers, religious gatherings, evenings of fun-making and folk-superstitions related by the author, Charles Morrow Wilson, himself once a farmer in the Ozark Mountains. In "Cabins in the Laurel" we have another intimate glimpse of rural life—in this case life in the southern Appalachians portrayed by the pen of Muriel Earley Sheppard and the camera of Bayard Wootten.

But even with "Cabins in the Laurel" the number of books on the rural, social, and economic aspects of the south is not exhausted, as the complete list, also including miscellaneous works, will reveal.

In the past the University of North Carolina Press has published children's readers and such works as "The Saprolegniaceae" and "The Gasteromycetes of the United States and Canada." The book list this spring lives up to this tradition in scope if not in titles.

French Club

The French Club will meet tonight at 7:15 o'clock at the parish house.

CALENDAR

Med school photos.
Caldwell hall 10:30

Carolina Magazine.
Graham Memorial 3:00

Editorial Board.
Graham Memorial 3:00

Varsity basketball photo.
Tin Can 3:00

Boxers' photos.
Tin Can 4:00

Student-faculty day group.
Y. M. C. A. 4:00

Women's Glee Club.
Hill Music hall 5:00

French Club.
Parish house 7:15

Phantoms Easily Win Over Cavaliers, 36-20

(Continued from page three)

the shot good. Play continued up and down the court, when Nelson was fouled. He sank two and started his free tossing spree to give Carolina a 5-0 lead.

The Tar Heels' next score came from the combination Harris to McCachren to Glace who sank the crip. Merritt fouled Nelson who sank the pair. Aitken took the ball from a scramble under the basket soon after and made a short shot to give the Tar Heels a 11-0 advantage with 10 minutes gone.

Here an entirely new team entered for Virginia with the exception of Gist, who played the whole game at guard. Harris fouled Rogers who converted for the Cavaliers' first points. Soon after Rogers dribbled beautifully the whole length of the court for a crip to make the count, 11-4.

Harris annexed a foul and McCachren followed up with a long one from the center court. Nelson dribbled in and sank a crip and was fouled on the play. He made the gratis toss. Sturm shot the ball to Zeisberg under the basket for a goal. Later Zeisberg was fouled and made the shot good.

Nelson annexed another foul and Zeisberg and Rogers did likewise as the half closed with Carolina leading, 18-10.

Second Half

Carolina opened the last half with Nelson sinking a one-handed shot and then Nelson to Aitken for another. Nelson dropped in a short one and Virginia took time out. Glace resumed play by taking one off the board and turning it back hand into the basket. Nelson made a foul shot, and Blood entered for Nelson whose ankle was slightly hurt.

Gist sank a free throw after 5 minutes had gone by. Five minutes later, after much free playing, Virginia scored their first field goal of the last period with Zeisberg making the shot. Zeisberg and Rogers converted foul shots and Gist took a field goal. Rogers continued the Cavalier scoring with a two-pointer to bring the score to 27-20 with 9 minutes of play remaining. But here the rally was stopped dead.

Kaveny entered for Harris who went out on fouls. Kaveny sank three quick field goals with Aitken and Blood feeding him the ball. Glace cripped a basket and Blood sank a free throw to end the game, with Carolina in a 36-20 lead.

MAGAZINE MEETING

Nelson Lansdale has called a meeting of all freshmen interested in writing for the Carolina Magazine this afternoon at 3 o'clock in 209 Graham Memorial. It is necessary that all freshmen planning to write for the Magazine attend this meeting.

FROSH GRAPPLERS BETTER; STARTING LINEUP NOT SURE

Yearling Matmen Open Season Against VPI Here Saturday.

The frosh grapplers continued to show improvement in form as they underwent another hard workout consisting of calisthenics, individual wrestling, and road work. Coach Quinlan has not yet decided upon the starting wrestlers but will probably do so in a day or two.

In the daily workouts the Tar Heel mentor does not always match freshmen with freshmen but still keeps them working with varsity men.

The coach believes that through a workout with a more experienced man a novice learns more about practical pointers than he would if he wrestled with another beginner.

This afternoon's workout will probably be used to determine, by means of elimination matches, the starting men in Saturday's match with V.P.I.

Tar Babies Take Game From Holt Mills, 39-30

(Continued from page three)

from Charlotte High, gave a grand exhibition in playing circles around Vining, breaking free time after time. Eight field goals and three fouls gave Ruth an enviable record that eclipsed the performances of every other player on the court.

Holt Mills sent a strong team against Carolina and the Babies were near perfect in setting back the heavier team of college graduates. The Holt outfit shot from all angles and if the ball did miss it would hesitate on the rim before falling away.

Berryhill of Holt rang up 14 points, 6 of them field goals which ripped the net cords clean. He showed great ability in doing away with crip shots by using his height to advantage as he hooked them into the hoop.

Meroney again gave an improved showing as he aided the team with his timed passing and fight. Mullis, subordinated by Ruth's great playing, scored 7 points and jinxed during the first half, opened up in the second to pace Ruth at the basket.

Bershak again hooked in three one-handers, one a remarkable shot from directly underneath, to score 6 points, and Grubb, although a non-scorer, played well in his defensive post. Bill Franks, subbing for Grubb at the finish, also counted with a two-pointer.

Math Seminar

The University mathematics seminar will journey to Duke this afternoon where Professor M. H. Ingraham, assistant secretary of the American Mathematics Society, will address a seminar at 4 o'clock.

Di-Phi Pictures

Members of the Di Senate and the Phi Assembly will meet at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning in front of Murphey hall to have their pictures made for the Yackety Yack.

A. A. C. Meeting

Deans A. W. Hobbs, R. B. House, F. F. Bradshaw, and Dr. E. W. Knight leave today for Atlanta to attend the meeting of the Association of American Colleges.

Editorial Board

The editorial board of the DAILY TAR HEEL will meet with the chairman this afternoon in Graham Memorial at 3 o'clock.

Graham Leaves for North

President Frank Graham left for New York City yesterday on University business.

Anti-Jewish Rioting Breaks Out in Saar

Saarbrucken, Jan. 15.—(UP)—Anti-Jewish demonstrations broke out in the Saar Valley tonight soon after the League of Nations decision had awarded the entire territory to Nazi Germany as a result of Sunday's plebiscite.

Jewish shopkeepers began putting up their shutters in an attempt to ward off mobs which threatened to destroy their property. Hundreds of communists and others who voted against the re-union with the Reich began fleeing over the French frontier.

The vote Sunday resulted in an overwhelming victory for Hitler, giving him the rich coal and iron fields of the district.

NO ENTERTAINMENT

Since DeWolf Hopper and his "Mikado" operetta company are unable to give a performance here at the present time, there will be no Student Entertainment program tonight. The "Mikado," according to tentative plans, will be presented here in the early part of May.

V. L. Granville, English actor, has been moved forward to take the place of the "Mikado." He will appear January 28.

F.D.R. Approves World Court

Washington, Jan. 15.—(UP)—Roosevelt will enter a World Court fight in the Senate tomorrow through a special message urging American adherence, it was learned at the White House tonight.

Med School Pictures

Med school Yackety Yack pictures will be taken in front of the med building today at chapel period.

PHI KAPPA SIGMA GETS CLOSE WIN

(Continued from page three)

Theta Kap. Nu 42	Kap. Sig. 8
Schauper, f (13)	Dunn, f
Priestly, f (10)	Simpson, f (2)
MacPhee, c (6)	May, c
Buffey, g (1)	Fulton, g (1)
Stauber, g (6)	Lawthor, g (3)

Subs: Theta Kappa Nu—Falk (6); Kappa Sigma—Jones, Steele (2).

Law School 51	Manly 4
Alex'der, f (12)	Buccolo, f (3)
Bryan, f (15)	Howe, f
Seahwell, f (4)	Shedd, c
Markham, g (8)	Bryant, g
Peacock, g (8)	Smith, g (1)

Subs: Law School—Williams (4); Manly—Penn.

Today's Mural Card

3:45: (1) Swain Hall vs. Old East.

4:45: (1) Sigma Chi vs. Delta Tau Delta; (2) Mangum No. 1 vs. Y. M. C. A.; (3) D. K. E. vs. Theta Chi.

5:30: (1) Phi Delta Theta vs. Pi Kappa Alpha.

INFIRMARY LIST

The following students were confined in the infirmary yesterday: J. K. Harriman, Steve Collins, I. H. Sutliff, R. J. Lovill, Lola Reid, Elizabeth Mansel, Mary Copeland, Ellen Deppe, F. M. Davis, O. C. Perryman, H. A. McGowan, J. R. Harris, Ben Royal, C. W. Dunbar, Fred Anderson, Reed Sarratt, Spencer Folger, Marietta Smith, Mrs. Harry Moore, Doris Weaver, Catherine Threlkeld, W. R. Worsley, Bruce Smith, J. P. Clingman.

T. S. Putman, William Calloway, Robert Booth, John Innes, W. L. Hargett, E. S. Simpson, W. C. Andrews, R. H. Lewis, W. L. Cavin, W. C. Fields, Tom Hines, and W. J. McKinnon.

"KINGFISH" ADVOCATES ARMS INVESTIGATION

Washington, Jan. 15.—(UP)—"Kingfish" Huey Long urged the Senate not to allow anyone "to shut-up" the munitions inquiry today.

"They've been investigating me for two years now, and it seems to me that it wouldn't hurt them to spend a little time on these damn scoundrels," he said.

An argument on the munitions appropriation, overshadowed by the administration's opening of a fight to put the United States in the World Court, was led by Senator Joseph T. Robinson. The House was in recess.

Holiday Committee

An important meeting of the student-faculty day committee will take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the office of Edwin S. Lanier, announced J. D. Winslow, committee member, yesterday.

He could sell water wings to Johnny Weissmuller—finger bowls to cannibals and a dress suit to Gandhi!

Pat O'Brien in I SELL ANYTHING
A First National Picture, with Ann Dvorak • Claire Dodd

Musical Comedy—Cartoon
Sportlight
NOW PLAYING
CAROLINA

Two Cleaning Services!

EAST SIDE...
WEST SIDE...
ALL AROUND THE TOWN!

SPECIAL—THIS WEEK ONLY

Now You Can Be Fair to Your Clothes and Your Budget

Send them by the plan that suits the garment with the assurance that you will like this two-service plan.

Standard Service

Send your business and work clothes our STANDARD SERVICE way—a good, sound, dependable, cheap cleaning service for old and medium priced garments.

Master Service

Our MASTER SERVICE was created for your new and more expensive clothes or any garment that you are especially particular about. It is a complete service that we are justly proud of. Demand it for your finer garments.

Unless Otherwise Requested, All Garments Will Be Placed in Our Master Service

STANDARD SERVICE
30c
Suits, Overcoats, and Ladies' Plain Coats

JOHNSON-PREVOST CO.
Phone 7011

MASTER SERVICE
50c
Suits, Overcoats, and Ladies' Plain Coats

O'KELLY TAILORING CO.
Phone 3531

HARDESTY BROS.
Carrboro

CLYDE A. ERWIN
8 P.M.
GERRARD HALL

The Daily Tar Heel

UNIVERSITY CLUB
7:30 P.M.
GRAHAM MEMORIAL

SERVED BY THE UNITED PRESS

VOLUME XLIII | CHAPEL HILL, N. C., THURSDAY, JANUARY 17, 1935 | NUMBER 81

SOLONS PRESENT EIGHT-POINT PLAN FOR NEW BANKS

Monetary Reformists Outline Program for Government-Owned Agency.

WANT PAYMENT OF BONUS

Washington, Jan. 16.—(UP)—Monetary reformists led by Senator Elmer Thomas, Democrat of Oklahoma, and Father Charles Coughlin, Detroit radio priest, united their forces tonight on a program for the creation of a government-owned central bank, with the value of the dollar cut loose from any fixed relationship to gold.

The group formulated an eight-point program calling for the conversion of the 12 federal reserve banks into one central bank, government owned and operated, with complete control over issuing currency.

Other Plans

The reformists also advocated the remonetization of silver, detachment of the dollar from fixed relationship to gold, cash payment of the soldiers bonus, and control of the dollar value through the operations of an equalization fund.

The program also calls for a congressional investigation to discover who held the outstanding governmental obligations on January 1, 1935. If names of the holders of these bonds and other securities are made public, it will reveal the veritable location of the nation's credit.

The group's plans also call for the issuance, by the central bank already described, of non-interest bearing notes of legal tender to replace the present issuing of tax-exempt, interest bearing bonds.

COUCH AND COKER TO SPEAK ABROAD

University Botanists Are Asked To Read Papers at International Convention.

Dr. W. C. Coker and Dr. John Couch of the University botany department have recently received invitations to read papers before the Sixth International Botanical Congress, which meets in Amsterdam, Holland, September 9-14, 1935.

Dr. Coker will speak on "Water Molds," scientifically termed "Saprolegniaceae," about which he has written a book that was published by the University Press in 1923.

New Discoveries

Considerable research is being carried on in this field by Dr. Coker and by students here under his direction. In the last few years several new species of water molds have been discovered by him and his assistants.

The paper to be presented by Dr. Couch, who spoke before the last congress also, will deal with his specialty, Septobasidium. This is a fungus living parasitically on scale insects, remarkable because, although it is a parasite, it is beneficial to the insects, protecting them and prolonging their lives. Dr. Couch is a world authority on this subject.

NO FIRE!

The fire scheduled to have taken place in Venable hall last night was a false alarm. There was plenty of smoke but no fire.

FINAL PROGRAM ANNOUNCED FOR NEWSPAPER INSTITUTE

Noted Journalists Will Open Eleventh Annual Session Here Wednesday.

The final program for the eleventh annual North Carolina Newspaper Institute, which is to be held in Chapel Hill and Durham next Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, was announced here today.

The speakers are men of national reputation, and they are scheduled to discuss topics of timely value.

Noted Speakers

Among the speakers are: John Stewart Bryan, the new president of William and Mary College and publisher of the Richmond, Va., News-Leader; James G. Stahlman, publisher of the Nashville, Tenn., Banner; R. H. Pritchard, vice-president of the National Editorial Association; William D. Nugent, vice-president of Media Records, Inc., of New York, an authortiy on advertising; R. P. Harriss, associate editor of the Baltimore Evening Sun.

Marvin H. McIntyre, formerly of the Asheville Citizen and now one of President Roosevelt's secretaries, has promised to attend the Institute and will probably

(Continued on page two)

UNIVERSITY CLUB

The University Club will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in Graham Memorial to draw up plans for the winter and to finish up business in connection with the bus petitions.

The organization will discuss the addition of new members to the club and will also consider the purchasing of membership keys.

SYMPHONY BEGINS WINTER CONCERTS

First Program, Presented in Raleigh, Features Miss Helen McGraw.

The North Carolina Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Lamar Stringfield, and featuring Miss Helen McGraw as piano soloist, presented the first in the winter series of concerts Tuesday evening in Memorial Auditorium in Raleigh.

A program of balanced compositions from the pens of eminent contemporary composers as well as the works of the masters was presented. The entertainment was built chiefly, however, on the works of American composers, featuring such well-known names as Gershwin, Hadley, Gottschalk, Mason, and Stringfield.

McGraw Well Received

Miss McGraw, a native of Washington, D. C., received an ovation for her artistic interpretation of George Gershwin's outstanding contribution to the literature of modern American music, "Rhapsody in Blue."

Stringfield also introduced three compositions which have not been given hearings in this part of the state before. They were the great Russian composer Moussorgsky's "Night on Bald Mountain," a fiery brilliant impressionistic work; the "Banjo," a composition by the first recognized American composer, Gottschalk; and "Susannah," a work for string orchestra, especially written by Dr. Daniel Gregory Mason for the North Carolina Symphony's recent festival in Winston-Salem.

Other compositions, more frequently heard in this section were the "Overture to Oberon," by Weber, the "Young Prince and the Princess" from "Scherazade" by Rimsky-Korsakow, the "Angelus" of Henry Hadley, Jean Sibelius' "Finlandia," and Stringfield's own "Cripple Creek," presented as an encore.

ORGAN RECITAL

Professor Nelson O. Kennedy of the music department will play the first of the series of Vesper organ recitals for the quarter Sunday afternoon in Hill Music hall at 5 o'clock.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend. The program for Sunday is as follows: "Concert Overture C Minor," Alfred Hollins; "Dreams," Hugh McAmis; and "Symphony No. 5," Widor.

DI SENATE PICTURE

Members of the Di Senate will meet at 10:30 o'clock this morning in front of Murphey hall to have their picture made for the Yackety Yack.

The Phi Assembly picture will not be taken this morning as scheduled. It has been postponed until Tuesday morning.

Program Announced For Frantz Concert

Pianist to Feature Classical and Modern Selections.

Dalies Frantz, young master of the keyboard, who will appear here next Wednesday evening at Memorial hall under the auspices of the Phi Mu Alpha musical fraternity, will present a program featuring modern as well as classical compositions.

The young artist, who has met such marked success with the better known symphonies in the larger forms of pianistic compositions, is equally at home in recital. He has been heralded as the greatest modern interpreter of Bach, and the music lovers of the community anticipate with interest Frantz's playing of three of the great German composer's finest works.

Three Groups

The program has been divided into three separate groups, opening with the "Gigue in G Major," the "Chorale in G Minor," and the "Organ Fugue" by Bach. Included also on this first group are the Brahms's "Intermezzo" and the "Rondo-Perpetual Motion" of Weber.

The artist's second group contains but one composition, the brilliant B Minor Sonata by Franz Liszt. It is in four movements, to be played without pause.

In the third group of selections, Frantz has arranged a number of lighter compositions which should appeal to the less serious-minded lovers of the art. These compositions embrace the works of Schubert, Petrarco, Chopin, Prokokieff, and De Falla.

Tickets for the concert, which will begin promptly at 8:30 o'clock, may be obtained at the office of the University music department, Hill Music hall.

Inter-fraternity Council

The Inter-fraternity Council will have its picture taken tonight at 7:30 o'clock in Graham Memorial, it was announced last night by Harold Bennett, president.

MAGAZINE COPIES WILL BE ON SALE AT NEWS STANDS

P. U. Board Completes Arrangements for Selling Magazine In Larger Cities.

DISPLAY CARDS PLANNED

Within a few days 300 copies of the last issue of the Carolina Magazine will be on sale at news stands in ten or twelve of the larger cities of the state.

If this first venture is successful, copies of the magazine will be put on sale each month at these centers of population.

To Be Advertised

In order to boost sales, placards displaying a list of the articles contained in the particular issue will be posted at the news stands. The price for the magazine has been set at 15 cents.

The Publications Union Board, meeting yesterday, also decided upon a subscription rate for the five remaining issues of the Carolina Magazine. The five copies will be delivered for 60 cents.

Camera Supplies

A synchronizing attachment and flash bulbs for the camera which the board owns for the use of the publications will be purchased in order that night-action pictures of basketball games may be taken by the DAILY TAR HEEL staff photographer.

In regard to the Yackety Yack, the board voted to allow the Athletic Association to purchase space at the rate of $15 the page provided as much as $500 worth is taken.

BUS PETITIONS

All bus petitions are due today at 5 p. m. in the business office, South building, it was announced yesterday by Frank Willingham, University Club president.

CONVICTS ESCAPE

San Quentin, Cal., Jan. 16.—(UP)—In one of the most daring prison breaks in the history of California penal institutions, four convicts abducted as hostages the entire state pardon board and forced their way out of prison today before one of the quartet was slain and the other three captured.

Warden James Holohan, famous old-time frontier marshall, was cracked over the head with a gun in the hands of one of the fugitives. His condition tonight is serious. The four members of the state board of pardons and paroles were safe, as were the two guards also held as hostages.

CO-ED PICTURES

Junior co-eds will assemble in front of Spencer hall at 1:30 and senior co-eds at 1:45 o'clock this afternoon to have their pictures made for the Yackety Yack.

HICKERSON AWAY

Professor T. F. Hickerson of the civil engineering department is attending the national A. S. C. E. convention in New York City as a delegate of the local chapter.

UNIVERSITY GRADUATE IS ATTORNEY-GENERAL

Raleigh, Jan. 16.—(UP)—A. E. F. Seawell, former Assistant Attorney-General and Chapel Hill resident, became Attorney-General of North Carolina today, succeeding the late Dennis G. Brummitt.

Attorney-General Seawell was graduated from the University in 1889, and finished law school in Chapel Hill in 1892.

In a statement to the DAILY TAR HEEL last night, Seawell said that he "didn't intend to change residence at present."

SENIORS TO PICK BUDGET PROGRAM

Class to Choose One of Two Plans Which Will Be Proposed Today.

The senior class will assemble in Gerrard hall this morning at 10:30 o'clock to adopt a budget for the remainder of the school year.

Two budgets are to be presented to the seniors by officers of the class.

One budget, calling for a slight increase in class fees next quarter, was drawn up to take care of the larger Yackety Yack fees this year and also to provide for several class functions that have been planned.

The second budget will call for no increase in class fees but will eliminate the class functions, including the smoker.

Officers of the class request every senior to be present in order that the budgets may be fully discussed and one of them adopted by a quorum of the class.

N.C. Photographers Association Will Convene Here Next Month

University Professors to Speak At Tenth Annual Session Of State Group.

The 10th annual convention of the North Carolina Photographers Association, combined with a short course in photography, will be held at the University of North Carolina, February 3, 4, 5, and 6. Along with regular business sessions of the annual convention, a course will be offered in the form of lectures by leading experts on the subject.

Invitations have been sent to photographers in North Carolina, South Carolina, and Virginia.

Buffet Supper

Opening on Sunday, February 3, with a buffet supper at the Carolina Inn, delegates will register there beginning at 6 o'clock.

President Frank P. Graham of the University will deliver an address of welcome Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock in Venable hall, with a response by A. O. Clement of Goldsboro president of the North Carolina Photographers' Association.

Professor R. J. M. Hobbs of the University school of commerce will also give an address on "Legislation" Monday morning at 11 o'clock.

Lectures and demonstrations on different methods of photography will take up the remaining sessions on Monday and Tuesday and Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock open house will be held at Wootten Moulton Studio in Chapel Hill.

The Carolina Playmakers will

(Continued on page two)

ERWIN TO MAKE SPEECH TONIGHT IN GERRARD HALL

Government Official Will Speak On "Curriculum Building In North Carolina."

TO START TALK AT 8 P.M.

Clyde A. Erwin, state superintendent of public instruction, will speak at 8 o'clock tonight in Gerrard hall on the subject, "Curriculum Building in North Carolina."

Superintendent Erwin, who was formerly in charge of the Rutherford county schools, was appointed to his present job by Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus in October. He replaced the late A. T. Allen.

First Visit

The state school head comes to Chapel Hill for his first official visit at the invitation of the citizenship committee of the Chapel Hill Community Club. Mrs. G. B. Logan, Jr., is president and Mrs. C. E. McIntosh is chairman of the citizenship committee.

It is a little known fact that the head of all the schools in North Carolina attended college for only one year. His early life was one long struggle against poverty. After graduating from high school at 16, Erwin contrived, by dint of ceaseless hard work as a country school teacher, to save enough money to enter the University in 1915 as a self-help student.

But the needs at home were too great, and Erwin was obliged to return after only one year at Chapel Hill. He became the principal of a small school in South Carolina.

In 1918, however, the educator returned to North Carolina and by 1925 had been elected superintendent of the Rutherford county schools. He held this position until appointed to his present office last October.

PLAYERS TO GIVE 'THE YOUNG IDEA'

Davis Will Direct Noel Coward Play; Three-Day Run Will Begin January 1.

"The Young Idea," Noel Coward's bright English comedy which will be the third production for the current season of the Carolina Playmakers, is set for a three night run at the theatre, January 31, February 1 and 2.

Following Carl Kapec's sensational "R. U. R." and Paul Green's dream-play, "Shroud My Body Down," Coward's sophisticated drama will give the Playmakers' audiences a chance to breathe freely again.

Davis to Direct

"Hay Fever," another Coward play, was produced successfully last year by the Playmakers. Harry Davis who directed "Hay Fever" has been given the job of handling "The Young Idea."

Davis and his cast, which includes a number of veteran Playmakers, have begun rehearsals for the coming production. Ellen Deppe, one of the feminine leads, has caused considerable worry among the producers this week by remaining in the infirmary with an attack of influenza.

Rehearsals Continued

Philip Parker, David McCachren, and the remainder of the troupe are continuing rehears-

(Continued on page two)

The Daily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Union Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where it is printed daily except Mondays, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Holidays. Entered as second class matter at the post office of Chapel Hill, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 for the college year.

A. T. Dill ..... Editor
Robert C. Page, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
Joe Webb ..... Business Manager
George Underwood ..... Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

EDITORIAL BOARD—Phil Hammer, chairman.
FEATURE BOARD—Nelson Lansdale, chairman; Nick Read, Bob Browder, Francis Clingman, J. E. Poindexter, W. M. Cochrane, Willis Harrison.
CITY EDITORS—Irving Suss, Walter Hargett, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.
TELEGRAPH EDITORS—Stuart Rabb, Charlie Gilmore.
DESK MAN—Eddie Kahn.
SPORTS DEPARTMENT—Jimmy Morris and Smith Barrier, co-editors, Tom Bost, Lee Turk, Len Rubin, Fletcher Ferguson, Stuart Sechriest, Lester Ostrow, Ira Sarasohn.
EXCHANGES—Margaret Gaines.
STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER—Don Becker.
REPORTERS—Bill Hudson, John Smith, J. F. Jonas, Ralph Sprinkle, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Raymond Howe, William Jordan, Morton Feldman.

Business Staff

ASST. BUSINESS MANAGER ..... Butler French
COLLECTION MANAGER ..... Herbert Osterheld
OFFICE MANAGERS ..... Walter Eckert, Roy Crooks
NATIONAL ADVERTISING ..... Boylan Carr
DURHAM REPRESENTATIVE—Joe Murnick.
LOCAL ADVERTISING—Hugh Primrose, Robt. Sosnik, Eli Joyner (managers), Bill MacDonald, Louis Shaffner, Page Keel, Bill McLean, Crist Blackwell.

CITY EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE: DON McKEE

Thursday, January 17, 1935

PARAGRAPHICS

As for the med school pictures, they'll probably turn out to be a bunch of x-rays.

"They've been investigating me for two years now," says the Kingfish. And nobody's yet found out how he can manage to be such a nuisance.

Sports scribes now refer to State College's basketball team as "Red Terrors." We register protest in behalf of Brother Dave Clark, a loyal alumnus, suh!

Compromise
Of an Issue

Governor Ehringhaus disappointed any expectations that the people of North Carolina might have had that he would stand firm in his declaration to raise the pay of employees of institutions when he made his budget recommendations last Tuesday night.

According to the United Press, the increase that he recommended, which was 15 per cent, will actually be only 10 per cent on the basis of 1929 salaries, and current salaries for employees in institutions will remain below the maximum by about 22 per cent.

In the statement printed with the budget report, the governor himself states that in comparison with 1933 the dollar will buy from 15 to 25 per cent less.

Figure it out for yourself.

The increase in food prices alone would nullify the actual increase of 10 per cent, by the most conservative of estimates.

Figure it out for yourself.

Has the governor really recommended an increase or has he compromised the issue, as indeed he has almost every other issue with the exception of the sales tax, until his recommendations are enervated for all they apply to the needs of a progressive state?

None Are Without Fault

Clarence Griffin, speaker of the Phi Assembly, stated in his inaugural address that the literary society which he heads has been "criticized severely during the last quarter for its stand on certain issues. Let us forget this criticism," he said, "and, by hard work, re-establish ourselves on this campus."

That, the DAILY TAR HEEL contends, is a thought for every campus organization. All of 'em need it.

Huey Long
The Freak

The deadline set by the "Square Deal" anti-Long forces in Louisiana for the repeal of the Kingfish's dictatorial laws is drawing near. Several new organizations have already joined forces with the "Square Dealers" and have pledged to fight the policies advocated by the swearing, swashbuckling "monarch" to the last ditch. The combined forces have been given hope by the action of the federal court in nullifying the more recent of Long's outrages, the tie-up of New Orleans' city finances.

One might interpret these events as pointing out to the Kingfish the payoff in demagoguery.

Meanwhile, according to the Charlotte Observer, the management of Luna Park at Coney Island offers Huey $400 per night to appear there—as a freak.

Support the Bus Petition

This afternoon at 5 o'clock the petitions which the University Club has been circulating for Greyhound bus service to Chapel Hill will be taken up. This gives the campus, roughly speaking, about nine hours in which to sign in large enough numbers to secure what we have needed so long—efficient, convenient transportation to and from the Hill. These nine hours represent an extension which has been granted the University Club beyond the time-limit originally agreed upon.

Everyone on the campus knows the need of more efficient transportation facilities here; everyone should by now know what benefits the facilities of the Greyhound lines offer. If their service is secured, four busses daily will leave Chapel Hill for Greensboro and for Raleigh, and Chapel Hill will be connected with bus lines to all parts of the country.

Therefore, we join with the University Club in urging you to sign the bus petitions between now and the 5 o'clock deadline. There should be a copy in your dormitory or fraternity house. If this is not available, you have access to the copy in the Y. M. C. A. lobby.

Running His Own Interference

The world breathes more freely now that the Saar crisis is past. If it were a wise world, it would move a rising vote of thanks to Mr. Geoffrey Knox, the British chairman of the League of Nations Saar governing commission.

Born in Australia, educated in England, he has long been a member of the British diplomatic service. By acting as charge d'affaires in Berlin after the war, he gained valuable knowledge which has directly contributed to his success in the Saar. Yet even in victory he is immensely unpopular. Hated and misrepresented by both Saar factions and unsupported even in England, he has had to fight the battle almost alone. Single-handed he overcame the opposition of the British foreign office to international policing—and thus probably averted chaos.

Mr. Knox not only had to kick, pass, and carry the ball in the game of peace and war which he was playing in the Saar—he had to run his own interference as well. That he did it thoroughly is a matter of history; that he will be appropriately awarded with a place among the heroes of the world is but a hope.

World Court
Message

Advocates of American adherence to the world court were greatly encouraged by the promise of White House authorities of a presidential message to the senate on the world court. Such a message would do much to help the drive for United States membership in the court. The message is generally supposed to urge the senate to ratify the protocol, making the United States a member of the court.

Senator Robinson led a discussion of the question, challenging opponents of the measure to propose a better plan for settling international disputes. He stated that American membership in the court would show co-operation in an effort "to substitute right and justice for force and terror—to substitute law for anarchy in international affairs."

American membership in the world court would raise the prestige of that body and make its decrees more impressive and respected. Membership would not entail American intervention in affairs strictly European but would give the United States more influence over western-hemisphere matters. The membership of the United States would advance far the cause of international peace.

More 'n
Hotcha

Most real music cannot be classified as "hotcha" but there are only few of us who have been in the past willing to pay for most real music.

Within 29 miles of our University there is an organization known as the North Carolina Symphony Orchestra, a group of some 50 artists gathered from all parts of our state and combined under the leadership of a former officer in the University faculty, Lamar Stringfield. These musicians have been built into an orchestral combination worthy of highest praise and indeed have had much praise heaped upon them by national critics.

The prices charged at these concerts, which will be held weekly in Memorial auditorium, Raleigh, are reasonable enough for everyone within a 50-mile radius to avail himself of the opportunity of hearing a really first-class, professional symphony orchestra. Hear the symphony to enjoy it, not because it is the "cultural" thing to do. Perhaps you will be unable to appreciate it to the fullest extent, but there is always the possibility that you may discover a new world of enjoyment, and the chance should not be lost.

Music can be that world of enjoyment to many of us who never suspected that we had the capacity to appreciate it. But like everything else, we must first become acquainted with it to know.

Final Program For Institute, Announced

(Continued from page one)

address one of the sessions informally.

The complete program is: Wednesday evening, registration at Carolina Inn; 7:30 o'clock, opening of Institute in Carolina Inn ball-room with an address of welcome by Dr. Frank P. Graham, president of the University of North Carolina; a response by D. Hiden Ramsey, president of North Carolina Press Association; an address by John Stewart Bryan, president of William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va.; a demonstration by a male group of dancers, directed by Phoebe Barr.

Thursday morning: 9:30 o'clock, two addresses, "The Future of Advertising" by William D. Nugent, vice-president of the Media Records, Inc., New York, and "Manufacture of Newsprint in the South" by James G. Stahlman, publisher of the Nashville, Tenn., Banner.

Thursday afternoon: 1 o'clock, luncheon in the ballroom of the Carolina Inn; 2:30 o'clock, group meetings in the Inn parlors; adjournment at 5 o'clock to go to Duke University at 6:30 o'clock for more speeches.

Friday morning: informal inspection of newspaper display with B. A. Lowrance, in charge; 9:30 o'clock, a presentation of proposed certificate plan of award with an address by R. H. Pritchard, vice-president of the National Editorial Association; and "Shop Talk" conducted by J. L. Horne, Jr.; 12:30 o'clock, adjournment.

PLAYERS TO GIVE 'THE YOUNG IDEA'

(Continued from page one)

als, with no change in the original list of characters having been announced by Director Davis.

"The Young Idea" first opened at the Savoy Theatre in London, with Noel Coward himself taking the part of Sholto. It is a scintillating comedy of domestic entaglements and the young ideas which solved them.

Noted Playwright

Noel Coward, still a young man, has built for himself a high recognition in the world of playwriting, music and lyric composition, acting, directing and producing. More than 18 plays have been published and produced under his name.

Coward's first play, produced and published before he was 21 years of age, was "I'll Leave it to You" which played at the New Theatre in London, 1920. "The Vortex," considered by him as his best drama, was produced in 1921.

The famous Englishman was born in England in 1898 and secured his dramatic training from the Italia Conti Academy, the foremost dramatic school of Great Britain.

N. C. Photographers Association To Be Held Here Next Month

(Continued from page one)

stage several experimental productions, written, cast and directed by students in the University courses in playwriting for the entertainment of the delegates Tuesday night at 8:30 o'clock in the Playmakers theatre.

Professor M. D. Taylor of the University school of commerce will talk on "Advertising and Sales Promotion" in Venable hall, Wednesday, February 6, at 10:30 o'clock. This speech will be followed by an illustrated lecture on photography.

At 3 o'clock a final business session will be held followed by the election and installation of new officers.

Directors

The board of directors of the North Carolina Photographers' Association are: A. O. Clement, Goldsboro, president; Leonard C. Cook, Charlotte, vice-president; George G. Moulton, Chapel Hill, treasurer; Ray W. Goodrich, Henderson, secretary; A. F. Harrell, Rocky Mount; R. W. Foister, Chapel Hill; W. M. Moore, Winston-Salem; L. D. Phillips, Charlotte, and B. A. Culberson, Asheville.

The committee on local arrangements for the convention are: R. M. Grumman, director of the University Extension Division; H. W. Schnell of the University Extenson Division; Mrs. Bayard Wootten of Chapel Hill, and R. W. Foister of Chapel Hill.

Couch Leaves for Tour Of Seaboard Cities

Director to Visit Authors of Books Released by Press.

Press left last night for an extended trip through the principal cities of the Atlantic Seaboard, expecting to pass through Richmond, Baltimore, Washington, Philadelphia, and New York.

Couch is traveling primarily to visit professors and other men whose books are released by the University Press.

On a trip through several of the southern states before Christmas he reported that Chapel Hill books were well received and he hopes to find them equally popular in the north.

Greek Professor Talks Here Tomorrow

Professor W. S. Bernard, head of the department of Greek at the University, will be the speaker for the exercises to be held in Memorial hall tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock, commemorating the birthday of General Robert E. Lee.

OUTSTANDING RADIO BROADCASTS

Thursday, Jan. 17

12:30: George Hall orch., WABC.

2:30: Too Many Free Rides, J. Robert Stout, chairman of National Thrift Week Committee; The Road to Security, Adolph Lewisohn, member of the committee, WEAF.

4:30: Dick Messner orch., WABC.

5:00: Loretta Lee, songs, WABC.

6:30: Resume of the Hauptmann trial, WOR.

6:45: Lowell Thomas, commentator, WJZ.

7:00: Dick Himber orch., WEAF.

8:00: Vallee's Varieties, WEAF; Forecast of 1935, talks, WJZ; Spitalny's All-Girl orch., and chorus, WABC.

8:30: Johnson orch.; Edward Nell, baritone; Edwin C. Hill, narrator; speaker, WABC.

9:00: Glen Gray orch., Annette Hanshaw, songs; Walter O'Keefe, WABC.

9:30: Future of the NRA, S. Clay Williams, chairman Nat. Industrial Recovery Board, WJZ; Fred Waring's orch., WABC.

10:00: Whiteman's Music Hall, WEAF.

10:30: Kemp orch., WOR.

Forty in Infirmary

The following students were confined in the infirmary yesterday: I. H. Sutliff, J. R. Lovill, J. K. Harriman, Steve Collins, Ellen Deppe, Lola Reid, Elizabeth Mansel, Mary Copeland, Ben Royal, H. A. McGowan, O. C. Perryman, F. M. Davis, Spencer Folger, Fred Anderson, C. W. Dunbar, Reed Sarratt, H. M. Aker, Catherine Buck, Mrs. Harry Moore.

Doris Weaver, Catherine Threlkeld, Bruce Smith, Bill Calloway, W. R. Worsley, J. P. Clingman, C. H. Fries, Robert Booth, E. S. Simpson, W. L. Hargett, John Innes, W. A. Innes.

W. C. Anderson, W. L. Cavin, R. H. Lewis, W. C. Fields, Tom Hines, W. J. McKinnon, H. R. Bluestone, Kanner Lester, and O. T. Parks.

Carolina Engineer

There will be an important meeting of the business staff of the Carolina Engineer this morning at 10:30 o'clock in 214 Phillips hall. Anyone interested is invited.

THE
Young Men's Shop
126-128 E. Main St.
DURHAM, N. C.

210307 PRESCRIPTIONS
Filled at
Eubanks Drug Co.
Three licensed druggists in charge—Dependable druggists since 1892

Finchley
FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK

EXHIBITION
CLOTHES OF INDIVIDUAL EXCELLENCE, CORRECTLY ATTUNED TO THE IMMEDIATE SEASON.
FORTY DOLLARS AND MORE
EXHIBITION AT
Student Co-operative Cleaners
TODAY
ROBERT GRAY, Representative
CLOTHES INDIVIDUALLY TAILORED TO ORDER :: ALSO HABERDASHERY - HATS - SHOES

FINCHLEY SALE
GENEROUS REDUCTIONS ON ALL FINCHLEY HABERDASHERY, HATS AND SHOES NOW CURRENT IN NEW YORK SHOP. MADE TO ORDER CLOTHING NOT INCLUDED.

Tar Heel Cagers Depart Tonight On Northern Trip

Play Liners First; At Navy Saturday

Battle Two New York Athletic Clubs and Army Quint Early Next Week.

LOOKED GOOD AGAINST VA.

The Tar Heel basketeers are leaving tonight for a six-day tour of the north during which time they expect to add intersectional laurels to their string of Southern Conference and Big Five victories.

The Carolinians will begin play against the Old Liners from Maryland tomorrow night at College Park. This will be the only conference game of the tour.

On Saturday night the White Phantoms will move up Chesapeake Bay to Annapolis where they will meet Navy. The Midshipmen's record thus far this season shows that they have another strong basketball quint.

Play in New York

The Phantoms will move out of collegiate circles as they invade the Empire State for a game with the Cresent Athletic Club quint at New York City Monday night. While still in the metropolis, Coach Shepard's team will engage the New York Athletic Club five on the following night.

On Wednesday the Tar Heels will meet the Army Cadets at West Point in an afternoon game, and will leave there for Chapel Hill Wednesday night.

Coach Shepard was well pleased with his team's play against Virginia He thinks the Phantoms worked more like a well-oiled machine than in previous games.

Captain Aitken, Glace, McCachren, Kaveny, Nelson, Harris, Blood, Minor, and Webster are the nine players slated to make the trip. However, this is a tentative list, as one or two other players may be added before the team leaves tonight.

FROSH READY FOR WRESTLING MEET

Coach Quinlan Pleased with Pre-Season Showing of Tar Babies in Practice.

The frosh wrestlers, besides the customary workout consisting of calisthenics, reviewed all holds and pointers taught this year. The baby grapplers showed that they possibly had a better understanding of Coach Quinlan's teachings than their older and more experienced varsity mates.

The eagerness to learn what they have been taught has made Coach Quinlan a bit more optimistic for the success of the frosh when they meet V.P.I. in the Tin Can Saturday. The starting lineup released yesterday has not been changed as yet.

Today's workout, the last hard session before their meet opens, will consist in part of timed bouts between the outstanding candidates for the various positions on the team. In the middle divisions there is a possibility of shifting Claypoole, a very promising grappler, from the 145-lb class to the 155-lb. If this change is made Gibbons will wrestle at 145 pounds and James, a 155 pounder, will have the chance to take the 165-lb division now held by Shulman.

These changes are very tentative and will be caused only in the case that they show improvement and superiority over their fellows.

The varsity football squad will practice this afternoon at 4 o'clock in Kenan stadium.

Delta Tau Delta, DKE Win Mural Basketball Battles

Dekes Take Second Victory as Deltas Gain Initial Attempt; Shores Is High Scorer.

D. K. E.'s powerful quintet gained its second victory in as many starts and Delta Tau Delta won its initial attempt in the only games played in the intramural basketball competition yesterday afternoon in the Tin Can.

The Dekes, after being held to a fairly close margin throughout the first half, opened up in the last setto to come through with a 25-14 win over Theta Chi The Delta Tau Delta combine did not experience any too great opposition from Sigma Chi and was on the long end of a 36-16 count.

Dekes Victorious

With Bill Moore and Alexander leading the way, tallying 8 and 14 points respectively, the D. K. E. five successfully repulsed a hard fighting Theta Chi team. The score stood at 11-8 at the intermission, the Dekes leading, but the losers could not cope with a powerful offensive that sent five double-pointers through the nets before it could get going. Cromartie's work was best for Theta Chi.

Bill Shores was the sparkplug in Delta Tau Delta's victory over Sigma Chi as he led the scorers for the day with 16 points. Corwith, Delta guard, was right behind with 12.

Both teams started slowly, but

(Continued on last page)

Potts And Foreman, Carolina Frosh, Receive National Junior Ranking

Tar Heels Garner Many Tennis Laurels During Past Month; Bitsy Grant Continues Clean Sweeping of Higher Seeded Racquet Slingers; Potts Rated Fourth and Foreman 23rd.

By LEN RUBIN

Tennis, although obliviated by the furious onslaught of the winter sports, is showing signs of its annual re-awakening. During the past week, Carolina came in for a great deal of reflected glory as former and present stars made the headlines of newspapers throughout the nation.

Ramsey Potts takes first honors by annexing fourth ranking among the nation's juniors in the official listing issued recently by the United States Lawn Association. Potts, Memphis luminary, is one of the finest juniors in the country, and raised havoc on the courts last year to earn his high ranking.

First Four

Gene Mako, Los Angeles, headed the list of youthful players, followed by Gilbert Hunt, Washington, and Don Leavens, Wisconsin. The four certainly form a national representation with their respective cities, covering the four corners of the nation.

Potts was defeated by Leavens in Culver, Indiana, during the last junior nationals. His defeat, which was a decided upset, came during the quarter final round and prevented Potts from possibly receiving a higher ranking. Potts was ill at the time of the match and was unable to stop Leavens, over whom he was a decided favorite.

Ramsey was also ranked high in doubles, pairing with Ernie Sutter to receive third place on the list. This combinaton reached the semi-final of the national before being eliminated by Ball and Shostrom. Mako and Nelson headed the doubles pair, followed by the conquerors of Potts and Sutter.

Foreman Ranked Also

Johnny Foreman, another freshman this year, was ranked 23rd in the junior group. He was ranked due to his commendable achievements in Illinois as a racquet.

Next on the list is the splendid showing by our own "Bitsy" Grant, who stepped out in his seemingly futile quest for Davis Cup recognition, and annihiliated two of the country's best players while annexing the Miami championship.

Bitsy Gets Hot

He swept through the semi-final and final in straight sets, convincingly beating Sidney Wood and Berkeley Bell to win the crown. In the semi-finals he routed Wood, second ranked player in the United States, 8-6, 6-1, 6-0. Bitsy followed the next day with a sparkling victory over Bell, 6-4, 6-2, 6-3.

This is the commencement of another drive by Grant to gain a Davis Cup berth, and if he keeps up this pace for a few more weeks, public opinion is bound to bring results.

Grant was ranked 10th this year, both Wood and Bell being seeded well above him, and he is also out to prove his right to a higher post in the tennis world. The recently issued ranking reveals that Wilmer Hines, another former Carolinian, was put at the 17th rung, a marked accomplishment by the youthful star, who is first starting in big time tennis.

FROSH SCHEDULE SPRAY YMCA FOR TOMORROW NIGHT

Mullis, Ruth Leading Basketball Team in Scoring for Past Three Games.

"Y" STRENGTH UNKNOWN

Pacing the varsity as an undefeated quintet, the frosh basketball team started practice again yesterday in preparation for their coming tilt with Spray Y.M.C.A. this Friday in the Tin Can.

This game is a newly scheduled encounter and the strength of the Spray City outfit is unknown, thereby causing Coach Skidmore to take no chances. He is drilling the squad intensively for the approaching contest.

Tuesday's victory over the Holt Mill quintet proved that the frosh could stand up under fire and that Earl Ruth is the main sparkplug on the squad.

Mullis and Ruth Star

It appears that Mullis and Ruth are going to remain in the lead for individual honors during the season, both boys having wide margins over their team mates in scoring and all-around play.

Mullis yet leads the team in tallying, having brought his total to 28 with his seven markers against Holt. Ruth's tremendous splurge of 18 points brought his total to 26 and they will probably keep neck and neck the remainder of the season.

The Holt Mills five, although little known, has an enviable record in their own circles. They are the present champions of the first division in an industrial league near Burlington, and had suffered but one defeat before bowing to Carolina.

Leroy N. Mills, Noted Authority On Football Kicking, Visits Here

Coach Snavely's Guest Is World's Outstanding Master of Booting; Will Instruct Tar Heels for Rest of This Week; Gave Lesson Yesterday in Tin Can and Demonstrated Own Ability.

By JAMES H. MORRIS

If Coach Carl G. Snavely's 1935 football team should suddenly blossom forth with one or more kickers that can both punt far and accurate it won't be an accident. The Tar Heel kickers are now receiving instructions from the world's outstanding authority and master on kicking, Leroy N. Mills.

Leroy Mills, a well-to-do attorney of Mount Vernon, New York, has for a long time made football kicking his hobby. He has written the only book that deals exclusively with kicking. Players from the biggest teams in the United States are forever seeking his aid and advice in an effort to better their booting.

The middle-aged lawyer refuses to take any money for his instruction, evidently because he gets too much fun out of it. However, he is always ready either to show others how to kick or to demonstrate his own great ability with foot and pigskin.

Lucky to Have Him

Coach Snavely considers himself and the Tar Heels extremely lucky in getting Mills here. He is much in demand everywhere and players usually have to go see him for help in improving their game.

However, Coach Snavely has long been seeking to bring his close friend, Mills, to Carolina. The distinguished authority was approached by Coach Snavely a few days ago at just the right time. Mills was planning to take a vacation in the south and agreed to spend several days in Chapel Hill, which includes the rest of this week. Usually the attorney stays only a couple of days, Saturday and Sunday if he visits a school. Mills is a guest at Coach Snavely's home.

Three Principles

A real teacher, the attorney believes in instructing his pupils from the ground up. His method of kicking takes in three general principles, balance, holding the ball, and keeping one's eye on the ball. Without using these laws right a player can hardly hope to be a good kicker, but with them Mills demonstrated how perfect a punter can really become.

With a large group of Tar Heel backs, Mills began his instructing yesterday afternoon in the Tin Can. Through various tests he attempted to determine the various characteristics of the Carolina punters. Mills means to correct these faults and if the boys have any natural ability at all make real kickers out of them.

He especially drilled the players in balance and holding the ball. He also determined through tests just how far the boys tend to kick either to the right or left and thus make more accurate booters of them.

Gives Demonstrations

Mills gave a demonstration, using Captain Harry Montgomery and Coach Snavely's son at stooges, of one person punt-

(Continued on last page)

SOPHS WILL HOLD MANY PLACES ON WRESTLING TEAM

Four of Last Year's Crack Frosh Team Will Rate Varsity Starting Posts.

EFLAND ONLY LETTERMAN

Success for the Tar Heel wrestlers in the meet with the V. P. I. Gobblers here Saturday will rest largely on the shoulders of a quartet of sophomores and a trio of varsity reserves from the 1934 team. Sim Efland is the only senior and letterman on the team.

The probable starting lineup for the varsity team against V. P. I. will be as follows: 118—Umstead; 125—Douglas; 135—Ward; 145—Greengold or Gholsen; 155—Bonner; 165—Efland; 175 and unlimited—Ranson or Gwynn.

Soph Standouts

The four sophomores, Umstead, Ward, Douglas, and Bonner—who will be getting their first taste of varsity competition, have an enviable record to uphold. As members of the freshman contingent last year they won 19 out of 20 matches. Douglas was beaten on a close time decision for the only loss suffered by this quartet.

Frank Umstead, brilliant bantamweight scrapper, has the most impressive record that any Carolina freshman has ever had. He gained all five victories by falls last year to score 25 points for the season. Ward followed next with four wins by the fall route and one on a time decision.

Yesterday's practice session was devoted chiefly to a review of all the "holds" that the wrestling mentor has stressed this year. Calisthenics and road work completed the strenuous program for the afternoon. Several trial matches between members of the varsity are scheduled for the workout today.

FROSH MITTMEN MEET PRES. JR. COLLEGE SAT.

Rounding into shape for their match Saturday night against Presbyterian Junior College, the yearling mittmen yesterday went through a snappy workout in the Tin Can.

The men have been drilling steadily since their loss last week to the V. P. I. frosh. The junior collegians have also suffered a defeat this season, that to Duke frosh by a 5-0 score.

Shmurak, O'Herron, Hendel, and Hedrick took the ring to spar some with varsity men and showed up well.

A. S. C. E. Session

An important discussion of the engineers' dance will be held by the local A. S. C. E. chapter this morning during the regular chapel period in 214 Phillips hall.

VARSITY BOXERS WORK HARD FOR GAMECOCK MEET

Most of Team Take Workouts; Giddins in Condition Except For Cut over Eye.

DIEHL IS BACK IN SHAPE

Although the Tar Heel scrappers looked peaceful at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon as they posed for pictures, they certainly did change to a ferocious mood by the time practice got under way for the South Carolina battle Saturday. Many slugfests featured the afternoon's workout as the bantamweights and heavyweights alike participated in these scraps.

Showing himself to be in excellent shape once again, Marion Diehl, scrappy 119 pounder, showed a great deal of spirit as he went through a few rounds with Larry Hendel, frosh bantam.

Fisher Spars

In another of the afternoon's bouts, Joe Fisher and Sol Shmurak stepped through two fast rounds. Fisher counted many vicious blows to Shmurak's nose.

Tommy O'Flaherty worked out for two rounds with Ed O'Herron, and a set of cantos with Tom Bass. O'Flaherty scored many telling blows in both bouts.

Jule Medynski and Jim Carruth battled furiously for three rounds with Medynski weaving and bobbing from one corner of the ring to the other.

Captain Giddins boxed a round with Pepper Martin, the latter of football fame, and also with Hedrick, yearling middleweight. Except for a cut over his eye that seems to be bothering him, Giddins is in excellent shape.

Alumnus Receives Appointment

Dr. Reid R. Heffner, who attended medical school here during the terms '27-'28 and '28-'29 before transferring to Johns Hopkins, has received an appointment in medicine to the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., Dr. C. S. Mangum of the medical school announced yesterday.

Today's Mural Card

3:45—(1) Alpha Epsilon vs. Chi Phi, (2) Manly vs. Old West, (3) T. E. P. vs. Chi Psi.

4:45, (1) Aycock vs. Kluttz Bldg., (2) A. T. O. vs. Sigma Nu, (3) Pharmacy vs. Law School.

Patronize Our Advertisers

He Looked for Mommies - - - And He Found Mummies!

Eddie . . . laughs . . . and 1001 ever-lovin' Goldwyn Girls . . . in the grandest of musical fun shows.

EDDIE CANTOR

in

'KID MILLIONS'

with

ANN SOTHER—ETHEL MERMAN BLOCK AND SULLY And the Goldwyn Girls

—OTHER FEATURES—

Sportlight, "When Men Fight"

Popeye Cartoon, "Axe Me Another"

Paramount News

TODAY AND FRIDAY CAROLINA

N. C. Minerals Put On Display

Collection of Metals Added to Geology Museum.

A collection of North Carolina minerals is now on display in the geology museum.

These minerals have been collected by the late Collier Cobb, Dr. W. F. Prouty, head of the geology department, Bob Copeland, curator of the geology museum, and Dr. J. W. Huddle, and Dr. G. R. MacCarthy of the geology faculty.

The metals have been gathered together and classified by the curator. The collection includes several gold ores and nuggets, ores of iron, manganese, chromate, and the rare ores of titanium and chromite.

The geology museum collection is by no means confined only to minerals, for there are also on display valuable fossils of pre-historic times.

Bob Copeland, museum curator, extends a cordial invitation to everyone to see the collection between the hours of 9 in the morning to 5 P. M. every day except Sunday.

Leroy N. Mills, Noted Authority On Football Kicking, Visits Here

(Continued from page three)

ing while another held the ball. With Montgomery holding the ball in an artistic manner, the authority got off beautiful kick after kick. He also showed how such a play or a fake of the play could be used as a dangerous weapon in a grid encounter.

In the cramped Tin Can, Mills finished the afternoon's two hour class with a real demonstration of punting. Although hampered somewhat by the roof and various objects, the lawyer booted from one end of the Tin Can to the other, placing the ball exactly where he wanted to, showing that in a ball game he could kick the ball practically the length of the field and then cause it to roll outside somewhere within the five yard line.

Today Leroy Mills will further instruct the would-be Carolina kickers and probably even show some truly greater kicking when he has a chance to perform on Kenan field.

Delta Tau Delta, DKE Win Mural Basketball Battles

(Continued from page three)

the victors took the lead and were never in danger after the first period. Rehn and Wyche were outstanding for Sigma Chi.

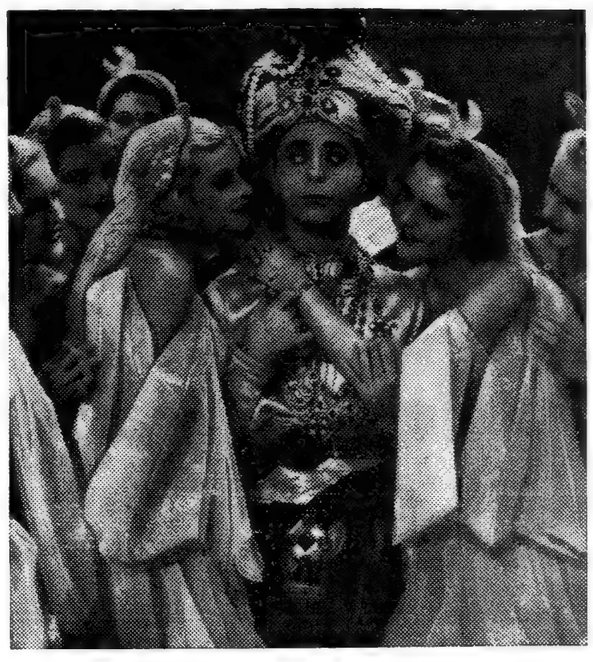
Summaries

D. K. E., 25	Theta Chi, 14
Patterson, f (2)	Barker, f (4)
Warren, f	Austin, f
Alexander (11)	Cromartie (8)
Willis, g (4)	Rogers, g (1)
Morris, g	Bennett, g (1)

Subs: D. K. E.—Moore (8), Par; Theta Chi—Edwards, Hunter.

Delta T. D., 36	Sigma Chi, 16
Shores, f (16)	Rehn, f (7)
Currie, f (2)	Bannon, f (2)
Rouiller, c (2)	Neal, c (1)
Davis, g	Keney, g
Corwith, g (12)	Rowland, g

Subs: Delta Tau Delta—Fletcher (4); Sigma Chi—Clover, Wyche (6), Handcock.



OCTETTE RECITAL

The Singing Octette of the University Glee Club will present a recital of popular classics at the North Carolina Woman's College in Greensboro Saturday.

Band Rehearsal Tonight

Members of the band will meet tonight at 7 o'clock for a rehearsal, Conductor Earl A. Slocum announced yesterday afternoon.

ONE AT A TIME!

Eddie Cantor and Goldwyn Girls in "Kid Millions," the banjo-eyed comedian's new Samuel Goldwyn screen musical extravaganza, released through United Artists and showing today and tomorrow at the Carolina theatre.

Penland Weavers

Lucy Morgan and her Penland Weavers will appear in the Playmakers theatre tomorrow under the auspices of the Carolina Playmakers.

Miss Morgan will exhibit the work of the western North Carolina weavers, potters, and pewter casters.

Her performance will show some of the actual work that her group is doing.

Everyone is invited.

Finjan Copy Due Today

All copy for the Valentine issue of the Finjan must be in by this afternoon, Editor Pat Gaskins has announced.

Until the copy is edited, all members of the editorial staff have been suspended, so that every contributor will have equal opportunity of securing an assistant or associate editorship.

Signed, short, clever work, preferably on the theme of valentines, will be acceptable.

Freshman Committee To Meet This Evening

A meeting of the freshman class executive committee will be held in 214 Graham Memorial this evening at 8:30 o'clock.

At the session there will be a discussion of the honor council and the appointment of a dance committee, Clyde "Pete" Mullis, president of the class, announced yesterday.

"It is also probable," he said, "that a picture will be taken of the group, so the entire committee is asked to be present."

The dance committee will further plans for a freshman class hop, Mullis asserted.

Anti-War Committee To Convene Tonight

The continuations committee of the recent anti-war conference meets on the second floor of Graham Memorial at 8 o'clock tonight. Anyone interested is invited to attend.

The meeting will consider past activities and at the same time make plans for future ones.

Phillips Russell, who was sent to Europe by the anti-war conference to represent it at an international gathering, is now in Brussels. The conference was to have been held in Geneva, but has been changed to the Belgium city where more satisfactory accommodations are available.

Tau Beta Pi

Tau Beta Pi will hold a business meeting in 214 Phillips hall this evening at 8 o'clock, it was announced yesterday.

REVIEW OUT

The January issue of the Alumni Review comes out today, carrying as its lead story an account of the plans for the alumni assembly to be held here January 25.

A summary of the curriculum readjustments at the University at Chapel Hill, written by Dean R. B. House, is also included in the issue.

Another prominent article deals with the appointing of the six new Kenan professors, and pictures of them are included.

Joseph Caldwell, who served as president of the University from 1804 to 1812 and again from 1817 to 1835, is the subject of a feature article.

A. S. M. E. Meeting

The A. S. M. E. will hold a business meeting at 8 o'clock this evening in Phillips hall to discuss the engineers' dance which will be held in the near future.

Red Cross Roll Call Raises Total of $609

A total of $609.13 from 562 contributors was collected in the annual Red Cross roll call conducted here this fall, according to the final report made recently by W. B. Stevenson, executive secretary of the local chapter.

The University campus contributed $58.46 of this total, the dormitories giving $34.16 and the fraternities $24.30.

R. C. McInnis, Giles Winstead, and Jack Tate were presented, through the courtesy of the Carolina theatre, with two show passes each for collecting the most money in the student canvass.

The community will receive $324.06 of the money for local use, and $285.07 will go to the national council.

FOR RENT

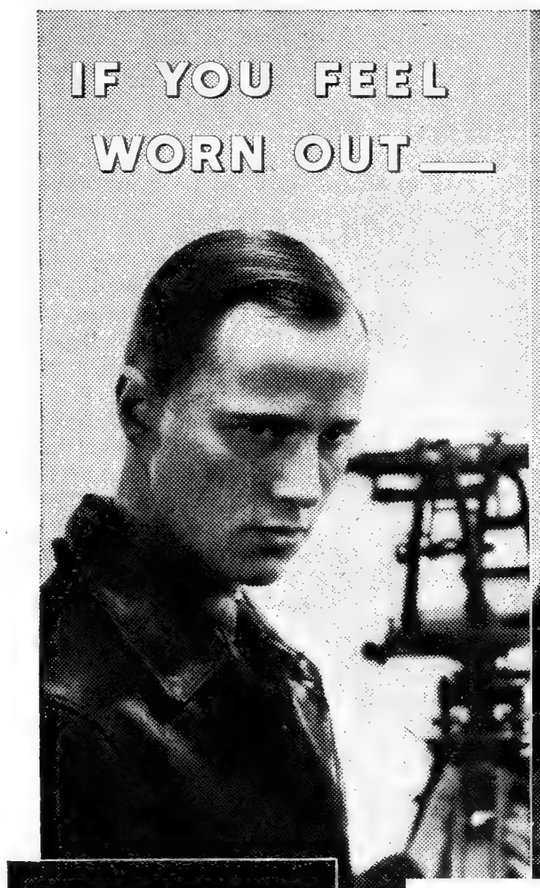
Furnished rooms close to campus. Also garage space for rent. 305 Cameron avenue.

Care For Your Battery!

Willard Sales & Service—Texaco Products

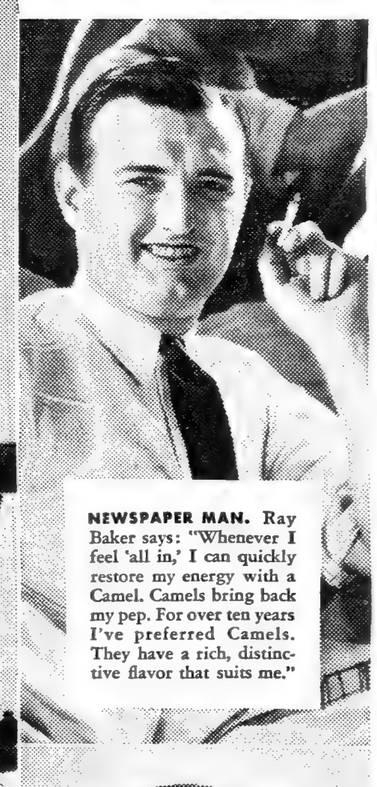
Marfak Lubrication—Firestone & Kelly Tires

Washing—Polishing—Waxing



University Service Station

H. S. PENDERGRAFT, Prop.

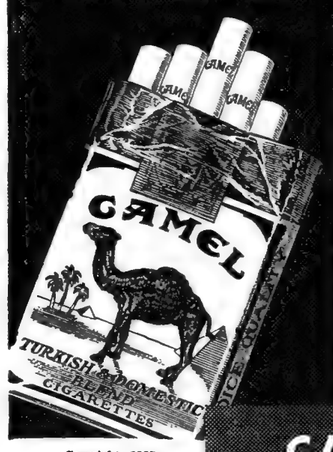


Phone 4041 Road Service

IF YOU FEEL WORN OUT—

GET A LIFT WITH A CAMEL!

NEWSPAPER MAN. Ray Baker says: "Whenever I feel 'all in,' I can quickly restore my energy with a Camel. Camels bring back my pep. For over ten years I've preferred Camels. They have a rich, distinctive flavor that suits me."



EDWIN BOYD, '35—Engineering Student: "An engineering field trip is enough to tire out anybody. When I'm lugging a transit and tripod across rough country...taking the hills as they come...fighting through brush and woods...I'll admit I often get tired clear through. No wonder you'll find me smoking a Camel most of the time. For I've learned that a Camel restores my energy—cheers me up—makes the miles ahead seem easier. And why not enjoy a Camel whenever I want one—Camels never get on my nerves!"

SALES MANAGER. "Long ago," says Louis Bayard, "I learned that by smoking a Camel I could insure myself against the effects of fatigue. I find, too, that smoking as many Camels as I like doesn't affect my nerves."

ALL TOBACCO MEN KNOW:

"Camels are made from finer, More Expensive Tobaccos—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand."

Copyright, 1935 R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company Winston-Salem, N. C.

TUNE IN ON THE

NEW CAMEL CARAVAN

featuring GLEN GRAY'S CASA LOMA ORCHESTRA

WALTER O'KEEFE • ANNETTE HANSHAW

TUESDAY { 10:00 P.M. E.S.T. / 9:00 P.M. C.S.T. / 8:00 P.M. M.S.T. / 7:00 P.M. P.S.T.

THURSDAY { 9:00 P.M. E.S.T. / 8:00 P.M. C.S.T. / 9:30 P.M. M.S.T. / 8:30 P.M. P.S.T.

OVER COAST-TO-COAST WABC-COLUMBIA NETWORK

GLEN GRAY

CAMEL'S COSTLIER TOBACCOS NEVER GET ON YOUR NERVES!

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL
8 O'CLOCK
TIN CAN

The Daily Tar Heel

SERVED BY THE UNITED PRESS

VOLUME XLIII | CHAPEL HILL, N. C., FRIDAY, JANUARY 18, 1935 | NUMBER 82

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL
8 O'CLOCK
TIN CAN

Freshmen Select Honor Court To Expel Convicted Cheaters

Read Says Leaders Endorse New Plan

Action Taken in Absence of President Mullis as Executive Committee Gives Power.

MAY APPEAL TO COUNCIL

With the election of three members-at-large, the freshman executive council completed last night the selection of a freshman honor court that will have the power to indict and sentence members of the freshman class who are reported and convicted by the court of cheating in violation of the honor code.

In the absence of Pete Mullis, who was unable to attend because of basketball practice, the meeting was presided over by Jack Tate, chairman of the executive council.

Read Reports

Nick Read, appointed freshman executive honor council member, gave the report in which it was stated that, after conference with student leaders and administrative heads, it had been decided that the purpose of the council is twofold; to convict those guilty of cheating, and to become a motivating force in the encouragement of students to report violations of the honor code.

Read explained that the freshman honor council, or court, would have full power to suspend or expel violators upon conviction after a fair trial. The Student Council, he explained will serve as a court of appeals.

Members of the new honor council are: Pete Mullis, chairman, Cecil Ford, Pryor McFadden, Jimmy Coan, Warren Haddaway, Nick Read, Joe Pardi, Ruth Mengel, William Whitenack, and Ed O'Herron. The three last named were chosen as members-at-large at the meeting last night.

Drew Martin reported as chairman of the Chapel Program committee. The executive council voted in favor of hearing an address from Dean House on alternate Friday programs.

Official Reaction

The following statement relative to the new plan formulated by the freshman executive council was secured by the Daily Tar Heel at a late hour last night from Frank Abernethy, in the absence of Virgil Weathers:

"This freshman council, as set up by that class in recent action, will not have the power to suspend anyone from the University, that power being vested in the Student Council, the authorized voice of student opinion. The council, however, appreciates the interest that must be back of any such action, and it hopes that it will be instrumental in checking the rather large number of cases that come from that particular class."

(Signed) Frank Abernethy,
Vice-president student body.

To Celebrate Lee's Birthday

The exercises commemorating the birthday of Robert E. Lee will be held in Memorial hall today at 10:30 a. m. in conjunction with the regular freshman assembly. Professor W. S. Bernard, head of the University Greek department, will the speaker.

NEW INTRAMURAL FIELD

Through a special fund being provided by the ERA, work on the new intramural field has been resumed and will continue until the completion of the project, the largest attempted by the CWA in Chapel Hill.

Bill Harris, Raleigh constructor, is in charge of the work. Newest type machinery will be used to the end of finishing the work as soon as possible.

Village Officials To Try Violaters Of License Laws

Two Score Cases Summoned to Appear in Court Tuesday.

Striking swiftly, officers of the law descended upon unwary and negligent automobile owners here who had neglected to purchase $1 city license tags, and haled them into the recorder's court.

Late yesterday, the total number of cases summoned to appear in court Tuesday morning for violation of the tag ordinance approached two score.

Besieged

Meanwhile, City Manager Caldwell's office became a scene of hectic activity as the manager was besieged by requests for tags. Those who had escaped the police drag-net were issued licenses, but the unfortunate ones who had already been tendered tickets by the law were turned away disconsolate.

Manager Caldwell explained yesterday that students who live in dormitories are not required to purchase city tags, but those who reside on any taxable city property must purchase the licenses.

Aldermen Take Action

Yesterday's action had its beginning, when, at the last meeting of the Chapel Hill board of aldermen, it was moved that: ". . . a warning period be issued up to January 15 in which owners of cars will have to get a town tag, and all people operating cars without 1935 town tags will be cited to recorder's court." This quotation is from the official minutes of the meeting.

A warning was published in the Chapel Hill Weekly last Thursday that police would "crack down" after January 15.

GROUP APPOINTED TO STUDY BUDGET

Senior Leaders to Survey Proposed Finance Programs.

The proposed budget plans for the senior class will be thoroughly investigated by a committee composed of the class officers, executive committee, and outstanding seniors, Jack Pool, president, announced yesterday.

The study will be conducted along the subjects of class fees in relation to the Yackety Yack and other class expenditures.

A meeting of the senior class will then be called in the latter part of next week at which time the committee will report on the results of their survey, and action will be taken by the class.

One of the budget plans calls for a slight raise in class fees, while the other is a continuation of previous budgets with no raise.

KOO TO LECTURE HERE NEXT WEEK

Y. M. C. A. to Present Famous Chinese in Memorial Hall Sunday, January 28.

Opening their winter quarter program of events, the Y.M.C.A. cabinets will present the famous Chinese, Dr. T. Z. Koo, in Memorial hall Sunday night, January 28.

Dr. Koo's appearance will mark the first time that a church service has been presented on the University campus for a number of years.

Pastors Co-operate

The pastors of all the Chapel Hill churches will co-operate with the program.

Dr. Koo will address the Carolina audience Sunday night after having appeared at the Duke University Chapel in Durham at the morning service, and in Raleigh during the afternoon.

The Chinese lecturer has been recognized as one of the ablest and most interesting Orientals ever to come to America. He is a graduate of St. John's University, Shanghai, China and, along with holding many other outstanding positions in Chinese affairs, he is a staff member of the National Committee of the Y.M.C.A. of China.

In recent years he has toured various European and American cities, usually on missions for his country, and has been received by large audiences everywhere.

Dr. Koo's greatest work has been in connection with students in colleges and universities.

FERA CHECKS

All FERA students are requested to call at the business office in South building today for their December pay checks.

U.N.C. TO RECEIVE MUSICAL LIBRARY

College Music Set Given by Carnegie Group Contains Phonograph and 824 Records.

The University has been selected by the Carnegie Corporation of New York as one of the institutions to receive a collection known as the College Music Set, which consists of a carefully selected collection of records, scores, and books; and a phonograph.

The records form one of the most important parts of the set—824 in all—representing all nations, periods and styles, and vocal, choral, and instrumental combinations. Compositions included are from ancient Greece, and there are many from present-day England, France, Germany, Spain, Italy, etc. There are a number of modern American selections, among them being the famous Gershwin "Rhapsody in Blue."

Catalog

Accompanying each college set is a complete catalog together with cases for filing the material. The books, 129 titles in all, include certain standard reference works and a number of volumes dealing with musical biography, history, theory and criticism.

There are 251 scores that correspond for the most part with the records. This is arranged so as to enable the student to have the pleasure and profit of following the scores while listening to the records.

This material is all numbered and catalogued in order to make it as accessible as possible. The phonograph is one of the latest model automatic machines, with a reproducing range from 16

(Continued on page two)

"Keeping Out Of Crowds Is Flu Preventive" Says Dr. Berryhill

"Stop going to the movies and basketball games, and stay home over the week-ends instead of riding all over the country," Dr. W. R. Berryhill, head of the University infirmary, said yesterday as the basic preventive of the spread of influenza.

"Go to bed as soon as you get a cold," he continued. "This was the only thing learned during the flu epidemic of 1918. Some of the cases we have are students who have had a cold and did nothing for it."

Except for those who are immune, Dr. Berryhill said there was no way to keep from getting flu once you have contacted the germ. "Also there is no real preventive, but for practical purposes stay out of crowds," he warned.

Beds Added

With the capacity of the infirmary 42, the number confined yesterday, 12 extra beds have been added to take care of any overflow. All the wards except one are devoted to influenza according to the infirmary physician.

"Naturally, we are awfully busy," he said, "but are still comfortable." Two special nurses and two general duty nurses have been added to the staff.

Dr. Berryhill expressed the belief that the number of cases had reached its height. "Things of this sort do not usually last for more than two weeks," he said. "We've been practically filled since the holidays so I look for it to lighten up about next week.

"Day by day we've been running a balance, keeping our heads above water. The number of discharges balance the new cases that are admitted.

"There is plenty of room so there is no reason to fear we won't be able to handle all the cases," Dr. Berryhill said, refuting rumors that school might be closed due to the epidemic.

List

Despite the efforts of the infirmary staff, who are doing everything within their power to stem the tide of influenza cases, the list of names on the infirmary register continues to grow.

These 42 students were confined yesterday: I. H. Sutliff, J. R. Lovill, J. K. Harriman, Steve Collins, J. C. Gronthan, Ellen Deppe, Lola Reid, Mary Greene, Ben Royal, J. R. Harris, H. A. McGowan, O. C. Perryman, F. M. Davis, Reed Sarratt, H. M. Acker, June Grimes, Catherine Buck, Mrs. Harry Moore, Bruce Smith, William Calloway, W. R. Worsley.

E. S. Simpson, B. B. Langdon, Robert Booth, C. J. Fries, W. L. Hargett, John Innes, Lester Kanner, H. R. Bluestone, O. T. Parks, Ralph Burgen, Carl Huth, W. L. Cavin, W. C. Fields, Roger McLeon, Walker Stamps, Tom Hines, W. J. McKinnon, E. A. Pearsall, C. O. Culbreth, F. E. Culvern, and Francis Rasberry.

CO-ED PHOTOS

All sophomore co-eds are asked to be present this morning at 10:30 o'clock in front of Murphey hall to have their pictures made for the Yackety Yack.

All freshman co-eds will report at 10:45 o'clock for their pictures. It is necessary that every girl concerned be present in order that the pictures can be made without delay.

UNIVERSITY CLUB TO START WORK

Will Welcome Varsity and Freshman Visiting Boxing and Wrestling Teams.

The University Club swung into real action for the winter quarter last night and completed plans for the welcoming and entertainment of visiting teams.

The organization begins its welcoming activities Friday, when the varsity and freshman wrestling teams of V. P. I., the South Carolina varsity boxing team, and the P. J. C. freshman boxing team come to the University.

New Treasurer

Charley Ivey was appointed treasurer of the group to take the place left vacant by Roy Wilder, who failed to return to school this quarter.

The junior spirit organization voted to co-operate with the Student Advisory Board and the Student Faculty Day committee in their campus enterprises.

The members will also take active part in aiding in the preparation of smokers for prospective students, a project begun last year in co-operation with the alumni.

The following committees were appointed: game committee: Francis Campbell, chairman, DeWitt Carroll, secretary, Tom Faucette, Joe Shull, Walter Pijanowski, John Barney, Lester Ostrow, Ed Joyner, Trip Rand, G. Taylor.

Alumni and inter-school relations committee: Bill Yandell, chairman, George Hux, Bill Allen, Francis Fairley, Bill Anderson, Jim Craighill, Wm. Sloan, Roger Holman.

Arrangements committee: Jake Snyder, chairman, Arthur Simkowitz, Irving Ruden, Jack Clare, Harry Montgomery.

Publicity committee: Claude Rankin, chairman, Irving Suss, Jack Lowe, Phil Hammer.

Executive committee: Frank Willingham, chairman, Phil Hammer, Claude Rankin, Jake Snyder, Bill Yandell, Francis Campbell.

Two Professors Here Edit New Textbook

"French Commercial Correspondence," a new text written by University Professors H. H. Staab and Hugo Giduz, is on sale at the Book Exchange.

Professor Staab, who edited the commercial section of the publication, is one of the oldest members of the University French department from the point of service.

Writing the pedagogical side of the book is Professor Giduz, a member of the University department of education.

The text is unique in its make-up and differs entirely from other books of its kind.

President Gives Congress Social Legislation Plans

GIVE UNEMPLOYED INSURANCE OFFER

Project Will Not Jeopardize Nation's Credit, President Says; Initial Cost, $100,000,000.

Washington, Jan. 17.—(UP)—Roosevelt outlined to Congress today a broad program of old age pensions, unemployment insurance, aid to mothers and children, and to top it off called for speedy approval, giving his assurance that the project would not jeopardize the nation's credit.

High administration authorities forecast that the program would be in force in 11 months, as Congressional leaders moved promptly to comply with Roosevelt's plea for early action.

Sidetrack Bonus

The House ways and means committee immediately sidetracked the embattled $2,100,000,000 soldier bonus bill in order to give the security measure a right of way. Speaker Joseph W. Byrns said that the proposal would be given "every consideration" and at a "very early date."

Majority Leader Joe T. Robinson praised the plan, and said that the Senate would give the bill "prompt consideration." Chairman Pat Harrison of the Senate finance committee assured that hearings would be started next Tuesday.

It will cost the government approximately $100,000,000 to initiate the new program, Roosevelt estimated in his message.

He outlined the chief provisions as, first, unemployment compensation through a three

(Continued on page two)

CHANGE PROMISED BY CLYDE ERWIN

"People Will Work Less and Live More," Says State Superintendent of Instruction.

"In the days that are ahead people will work less and live more," said State Superintendent of Public Instruction Clyde A. Erwin last night in Gerrard hall before an audience composed of students, townspeople, and the teachers of Orange county.

Presenting his views on the problem of curriculum building in North Carolina, from the administrative standpoint, Erwin continually emphasized the fact that the present changing era forbids our establishing a set course of study for our schools.

"Broaden Studies"

"The three R's will be less important in the future," he said. "We must add to them 'broadening' studies which will teach our coming students to 'live' while not working. Under the new regime of controlled production and hours," he pointed out, "men will have considerably more leisure time.

"In planning the state's curriculum we must understand the new era. People must support a wider program including music, arts, etc., instead of reducing their offerings to the bare necessities," Erwin stated.

"We shall attempt to utilize the work done—criticize, study and organize it in our summer school sessions with the teacher," he said. In September he plans to present a tentative course of study for the schools.

The Daily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Union Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where it is printed daily except Mondays, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Holidays. Entered as second class matter at the post office of Chapel Hill, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 for the college year.

A. T. Dill ..... Editor
Robert C. Page, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
Joe Webb ..... Business Manager
George Underwood ..... Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

EDITORIAL BOARD—Phil Hammer, chairman.
FEATURE BOARD—Nelson Lansdale, chairman; Nick Read, Bob Browder, Francis Clingman, J. E. Poindexter, W. M. Cochrane, Willis Harrison.
CITY EDITORS—Irving Suss, Walter Hargett, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.
TELEGRAPH EDITORS—Stuart Rabb, Charlie Gilmore.
DESK MAN—Eddie Kahn.
SPORTS DEPARTMENT—Jimmy Morris and Smith Barrier, co-editors, Tom Bost, Lee Turk, Len Rubin, Fletcher Ferguson, Stuart Sechriest, Lester Ostrow, Ira Sarasohn.
EXCHANGES—Margaret Gaines.
STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER—Don Becker.
REPORTERS—Bill Hudson, John Smith, J. F. Jonas, Ralph Sprinkle, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Raymond Howe, William Jordan, Morton Feldman.

Business Staff

ASST. BUSINESS MANAGER ..... Butler French
COLLECTION MANAGER ..... Herbert Osterheld
OFFICE MANAGERS ..... Walter Eckert, Roy Crooks
NATIONAL ADVERTISING ..... Boylan Carr
DURHAM REPRESENTATIVE—Joe Murnick.
LOCAL ADVERTISING—Hugh Primrose, Robt. Sosnik, Eli Joyner (managers), Bill MacDonald, Louis Shaffner, Page Keel, Bill McLean, Crist Blackwell.

CITY EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE: IRVING SUSS

Friday, January 18, 1935

PARAGRAPHICS

"Frosh Schedule Spray Y. M. C. A." Quick, Mr. Comer, the Flit!

We notice that Frantz will play Rondo Perpetual Motion. Now see here, Dalies, that won't get us anywhere.

Hope the new attorney general doesn't take it to heart that he's now known in Chapel Hill as A. "E." F. Seawell. Sounds like bonus propaganda, Mr. Proof-reader.

Only 20 Were There

It may be that notice was not given far enough ahead of time. Perhaps the reason is that our senior class was not interested. Whatever the fault, the fact remains that only 20 members out of approximately 350 in the senior class attended the meeting yesterday morning in Gerrard hall which was called to give them an opportunity to pass or reject a proposal to levy an additional fee on each class member.

In view of President Jack Pool's attempt to build up what he calls class consciousness, this seems a disappointing attendance. Surely it is to be hoped that at future meetings, which will undoubtedly be called in the course of the year, a larger percentage of the class will be present to indicate its wishes.

As for the proposal to levy an additional fee, the 20 members present decided to take no action until a larger representation should attend a meeting in the near future. Meanwhile, an unofficial committee appointed from those present will make an effort to secure information on the proposal and present it to the campus through the DAILY TAR HEEL. There is no reason why, at the next meeting, more seniors can't be present.

Mussolini and Old Nassau

"Peace Branded as 'Illusion' by Mussolini."

"Princeton Replaces Military Arts Course with Peace Studies."

The two contrasting news stories to which these headlines belong appear in the same column of a recent issue of the Christian Science Monitor. The first story tells of Mussolini's article in International Conciliation, publication of the Carnegie endowment for international peace, in which he bombastically proclaims the glories of war as lending "a noble impetus to human energy," and declaims peace and pacifism as "born of renunciation of the struggle and an act of cowardice in the face of sacrifice."

Directly following the premier's explosion, comes as a mild but firm rebuke the story of Princeton's attitude toward war and the agencies of war. The curriculum changes made are the result of an investigation of student opinion conducted by a faculty committee and the Princeton R. O. T. C. officers.

The juxtaposition of these two articles appeals to us mightily. The first one is symbolic of what may be taken for the European stand on the war question, showing the readiness and willingness of the foreign youth, as trained and prepared by the government, to liven the fray at any possible excuse. The second article is emblematic of the viewpoint of the youth of the United States, steering clear of the misfortunes of war not from a cowardly or emotional standpoint, but from a sensible and level-headed cause.

Our Old Friend Bitsy

Bitsy Grant, diminutive former Carolina net star, started off the 1935 season with a bang at Miami the other day. To win the tournament he was forced to meet Sidney Wood in the semi-finals and Berkeley Bell in the finals. He won both matches in straight sets. Wood, by the way, ranks second in national amateur standings.

Which brings to mind that Bitsy has also taken the measure of Ellsworth Vines, Francis Shields, George Lott, and Lester Stoefen at one time or another. According to an Atlanta sports writer, Bill Tilden has intimated that the former Tar Heel "is only a good marathon runner with a lot of courage." True, Bitsy has never had a chance to make Tilden eat his remark, but the fans down Atlanta way are doing their darndest to cook up such an opportunity—to occur when Mr. Tilden's latest professional troup begins its spring march through Georgia.

If Grant really goes about building up his stamina seriously, he may be able to accomplish a good deal more than the embarrassment of Mr. Tilden. By continuing to beat such men as Wood and Bell he could bring a whole court full of joy to the hearts of those who feel that Bitsy has always been just a wee bit underestimated by the U. S. L. T. A.

Colonial vs. Modernistic

According to R. M. Grumman, who was in charge of visitors at the exhibit of oil paintings lent by the Grand Central Galleries and displayed in Hill Music hall, only one person bemoaned the lack of modernistic or futuristic paintings. It has long been a matter of speculation whether or not the public really cared about a canvas spattered with multi-colored paints, disarranged figures, and dubbed, "The Wheel of Life" or "The Succumbing Swan." Not the least humiliation which the modernistic artists have met is the fact that certain of their works have been exhibited in famous galleries wrong-side-up.

It is not that most people are diffident to grope for a hidden or aesthetic apprehension in the majority of modernistic paintings, but the query to be answered is: "Are they worth it?" In many cases, the public has ruled in the negative.

Relevant are reports from Raleigh which indicate that . . . "the classicists at State College are protesting against the presence of modernistic murals in the colonial simplicity of the college library."

Wanna Keep Our Ducks?

Going? Yes! And will they soon be gone? An awakened interest alone on the part of the non-hunting American public will solve this question.

From a pamphlet published by the Emergency Conservation Committee we learn that since 1911 there has been an increase of 5,263,772 hunting licenses issued in the United States. The department of agriculture in October, 1933, estimated that for every two ducks killed and brought in, at least one other bird is crippled and is lost. Such a fact is appalling when it is recalled that the average seasonal total of birds bagged is around fifteen millions. This means that nearly half that number are crippled and maimed.

As never before the future of our wild fowl is in the balance. Whether or not this great heritage is to be saved depends on the support received from every citizen.

Among the reasons for the great increase in the slaughter of our wild fowl is the fact that rapid-fire guns, live decoys, improved bird calls, blinds, extensive baiting, and new roads to formerly inaccessible points have been brought into play.

Shall seven million hunters ruthlessly destroy our feathered game and 115 million other citizens stand idly by and permit the wanton outrage? We trust that legislation will be brought about whereby licenses will be further restricted, and more protection in the form of game wardens and preserves be added.

Taking Him for What He's Worth

The recent sensational discovery by the Hearst papers of communism-teaching in some outstanding colleges of the nation has proved to have merited very little of the wide-spread comment that it received. Editors of the various college publications concerned were not long in voicing their protest against Mr. Hearst's findings, if such they may be called, and the renowned publisher has found himself at odds both with this group and with other liberal elements in the country.

But the regrettable part of the Hearst communist-baiting is the indirect effect it may have. Conservatives who are now inclined to oppose the liberalism in our institutions of learning will seize the misinformation as a true picture of all our schools, we fear.

But it's consoling to know that intelligent people take Mr. Hearst for what he is worth.

Philatelists Attack Postmaster For Limiting Special Stamp Issues

Washington, Jan. 17.—(UP)—Many a hornet's nest has been pulled down around the gleaming pate of Smiling Postmaster General James A. Farley but none so buzzing as the irate stamp collectors.

The worst of it is that there is nothing Farley can do about it except to promise to be good in the future.

It came about through Farley's big ambition to put the postoffice on a paying basis. As part of his campaign he has been very liberal in the issue of special stamp issues, knowing that this would bring in substantial revenues from stamp collectors.

Most stamp collectors enjoyed the new issues and so did patrons of the men, causes and projects honored. Now suddenly the collectors have become Farley's severest critics.

If Farley had let his issues go through without ceremony it wouldn't have happened.

But Farley developed a habit of autographing special sheets, unperforated and without gum on the back. First he presented them only to President Roosevelt, a noted stamp collector.

The Man in Norfolk

Gradually he broadened out and gave such sheets of the Mother's Day issue, for instance, to the President, Mrs. Roosevelt, Louis Howe, the President's secretary, Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes and a man in Norfolk, Va. That started trouble. Some made inquiries among stamp dealers as to the value of his sheet. Negotiations for sale started and the sheet was said to be insured for $20,000.

When the news spread to the stamp collectors they were boiling mad. Resolutions of condemnation were passed. Farley was asked what right he had to issue special sheets of extraordinary value as collector's items, restricting them to a favored few friends.

Investigations were made and President Roosevelt still had his sheet, as presumably did Mrs. Roosevelt. Louis Howe denied trying to dispose of his. Ickes pulled his sheet out of a desk drawer and displayed it to newspapermen.

There remained only the man in Norfolk whose identity Farley would not disclose.

Farley, dismayed at the furor promised hastily that he would discontinue his custom. But that was not enough. The collectors argued that the sheets ultimately will find their way into the trade at enormous prices.

The only satisfactory solution, they said, would be for Farley to issue more imperforate, ungummed sheets and make them available to any collector. That would reduce the price of the present sheets and would restore peace—providing Farley doesn't do it again.

As for the matter of the Farley autographs — that wasn't mentioned but probably the collectors would demand that Farley also agree to sign any sheet that was sent to him.

RADIO BROADCAST TO CONSIDER WAR

Five Nations to Sponsor Program over Columbia Broadcasting System.

Five nations, the United States, England, Denmark, Holland, and Japan will be linked in a Columbia Broadcasting System program which will be broadcast January 24 from 4:30 to 5 p. m., EST.

The program will be dedicated to the conference of the National Committee on the Cause and Cure of War which is meeting in Washington and the international broadcast will open there in the Hall of Nations at the Hotel Washington.

Speakers

Miss Josephine Schain, administrative chairman of the committee, will open the program and introduce Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, founder of the committee.

Following Mrs. Catt, Lady Nancy Astor will speak from England. Ruth Bryan Owen, United States minister to Denmark, will speak from the U. S. Legation in Copenhagen, and then American listeners will hear the voice of Miss Cornelia van Asch van Wyck from the city of Utrecht, Holland. Miss van Wych is president of the World Council of the Y. W. C. A.

The program will conclude with an address by Mrs. Tsune Gauntlett, president of the Woman's Pan-Pacific Union, who will be heard from the studios of the Japanese Radio Corporation in Tokyo.

Grisette Expected Today

Felix A. Grisette, director of the Alumni Loyalty Fund, is expected home today from Atlanta, where he attended the meeting of the Association of American Colleges and took part in the discussions on financing colleges by wills and living trusts.

Deans Hobbs, House, and Bradshaw, who also attended the meeting, will return tomorrow.

F. D. R. Gives Congress Social Legislation Plans

(Continued from page one)

per cent tax on payrolls with employers hiring four or more workers; second, old age benefits; third, federal aid to dependent children through grants to the states to support existing mothers' pension systems, and for services for the protection of the homeless, neglected dependents, and crippled children; fourth, an additional federal aid to state and local public health agencies, and the strengthening of the federal public health service.

BAGBY'S CLASSES SEE FREE SPANISH COMEDY

Dr. English Bagby's two psychology 22 classes went to the movies yesterday morning.

As one of the weekly psychology demonstrations, the sections first saw the comedy, "See, See, Senorita," and then returned to New West to discover how well they could recall the movie.

Poetry Contest

Cycle, the poetry quarterly published at Homestead, Fla., which will make its initial appearance in March, desires the best in verse in the undergraduate and high school departments. A prize will be awarded the best poem in each department. February 15 is the closing date for contributions to the March issue.

OUTSTANDING RADIO BROADCASTS

Friday, Jan. 18

1:00: George Hall orch., WABC.

1:30: Little Jack Little, songs, WABC.

3:15: Minneapolis Symphony orch., guest stars, WABC.

7:15: Currency instead of Bonds, Rep. Wright Patman of Texas, WEAF; Plantation Echoes, Robison orch., quartet, WJZ.

8:00: Bourdon orch., Jessica Dragonette, soprano, male quartet, WEAF.

8:15: Edwin C. Hill, commentator, WABC.

8:30: Katzman orch., choristers quarter, WOR; Goodman orch., Jane Froman, songs, Bob Hope, comedian, WJZ.

9:00: Lyman orch., Vivienne Segal, songs, Frank Munn, tenor, WEAF; Beatrice Lillie, comedienne, orch., Cavaliers quartet, WJZ.

9:30: Hal Kemp orch., WOR; Phil Baker, comedian, Belasco orch., WJZ; Hollywood Hotel, Dick Powell, Jane Williams, Ted Fio Rito orch., May Robson, actress, WABC.

10:30: Symphony orch.; Frank Black, director; mixed chorus, WEAF.

U. N. C. TO RECEIVE MUSICAL LIBRARY

(Continued from page one)

cycles to over 13,000 cycles.

The list of records and scores, classified according to form and medium of performance, contains; songs, arias, miscellaneous vocal music, opera, Gregorian chants, masses, motets, madrigals, ballets, sonatas, fugues, chorale preludes, variations, miscellaneous pieces for piano solo, music for early keyboard instruments, miscellaneous pieces for violin and piano, chamber music for combinations of two, three, four, five, six, and seven instruments, symphonies, symphonic poems, orchestral suites, orchestral concertos without solo instruments, concert overtures, concertos for solo instruments, and other orchestral work.

Arrangements will be made when the set is actually delivered, to make the material available not only to music students but to all students in the University interested in the subject.

LOST

Brown Bill Fold containing money and valuable papers. Finder please return to J. I. Mizell, 109 Mangum. Reward!

THE
Young Men's Shop
126-128 E. Main St.
DURHAM, N. C.

Read the Newest Books for only
10c
JUST ARRIVED:
Heaven's My Destination—Thornton Wilder; The Children's Hour—Lillian Hellman; Forty Days of Musa Dagle—Franz Werfel; and New Detective Stories.
The Bull's Head
Rental Library in the Y. M. C. A.

The most modern and complete WATCH, CLOCK AND JEWELRY REPAIR SERVICE in the city. Watches and Clocks from $1.00 up that will keep time. Modernize your old Jewelry, have your diamonds remounted. We pay the new high prices for old gold, jewelry, silver and watches.
L. R. DEKLE
Jeweler and Watchmaker Over Andrews-Heuninger Store

Wanted!!
Good boys interested in representing first-class Dining Room this quarter—10 per cent commission. Phone 5631.
Buccaneer Club

Phantoms Leave On Trip; Battle Maryland Tonight

SIC Record at Stake in Game with Strong Old Liner Five

Four Other Opponents Will Be Met During Journey.

Coach Bo Shepard and two teams of Carolina basketball players left here last night on their hardest trip of the season. Tonight the cagers will meet Maryland's fast club in the first of five tough games during a six-day period.

The White Phantoms' undefeated record in seven tilts will be hanging very much over the fire in the Old Liner contest. Maryland is already rated as one of the top outfits of the Southern Conference, having turned back South Carolina by a big margin.

It is expected that both Jason Glace, veteran center, and Paul Kaveny, one of the leading guards, will be back in shape for the journey. Kaveny was sick almost the entire Virginia trip last week and was forced to take the sidelines in favor of Buck Harris.

Harris Looks Good

However, Harris showed up well in the Tar Heel victories and almost clinched a position on the first five. It is still doubtful which one of the guards Coach Shepard will use along with the starting combination of Captain Aitken and Mel Nelson, forwards; Glace, center; and Jim McCachren, guard.

Besides the boys mentioned above it is expected that Latcher Webster, center; Ike Minor, guard; and Ben Blood, forward will all see much action as top reserves.

Coach Shepard believes that his charges have finally reached some sort of mid-season form; they showed some excellent play in the recent 36-20 victory over Virginia. The Tar Heel coach was especially pleased with defense although there is still plenty of room for improvement with the attack.

Intersectional Foes

Maryland will be the only opponent of the journey which will have a chance to stop the Phantoms' undefeated Southern Conference record. All the other games are of the inter-sectional type.

After the battle at College Park tonight Carolina will move on to Annapolis for a contest with Navy Saturday night. The Middies gave the Tar Heels a

(Continued on last page)

TRACK PRACTICE GETS UNDERWAY

Tar Heels Will Need Best Outfit of All Time If They Expect to Keep Up Record.

Varsity and freshman track practice, as a group instead of individually, will begin in earnest today on Emerson field under the supervision of Coach Dale Ranson.

All men who do not come out and work regularly, reporting each day with the manager, will have to turn in their equipment at once. About 80 men now possess equipment, and of this group most of them have been working quite regularly.

It is well understood around the track that the Tar Heels will be forced to turn out the best track team they have ever had, if they are to continue their winning streak. This spring will mark the fastest and closest track and field competition the Southern Conference has ever witnessed.

Indoor Meet March 9

The first thing on the program for the Carolina tracksters is the SIC indoor meet here on March 9. The spring schedule will list dual meets with William and Mary, Virginia, Navy, and Duke, including the state and conference outdoor meets. Several of the outstanding performers will see competition in the New York City invitational indoor meets, Penn Relays, and the National Intercollegiates this summer.

Duke will form the strongest competition for the Tar Heels. And these Blue Devils will be met only four times during the season. (Once in a dual meet, once in the state meet, and twice in the conference indoor and outdoor meets). Navy will provide some fast opposition, also.

Not only as a team, but individually, the Tar Heels, who have stretched their record of predominance over Southern trackdom through nearly 14 years, will find great competition. For instance the sprints this year will feature such men as Widmyer (Maryland), Little (W. & M.), Tarray, Johnson, and Shehan (Duke) against Hubbard—all 10 second and under men.

Also, the broad jump will possess such talent as Little of W. & M., who leaps 25 feet, and

(Continued on last page)

FROSH RINGSTERS LOOK READY FOR MEET TOMORROW

O'Herron Shows Improvement; Yearlings Battle P. J. C.

Entering their final day of practice in preparation for their preliminary meet Saturday night versus the Presbyterian Junior Collegians the frosh glovers seem ready, especially Ed O'Herron.

O'Herron lost his opening setto at V. P. I. last week, but he has made a strong comeback in the past practice sessions, and yesterday afternoon in his two rounder against Edwards, varsity regular, he was in the best form to date.

Showing quantities of aggressiveness he beat his opponent at his own game by carrying the fight to him. O'Herron also made excellent use of his fine counter punching, and displayed a marked improvement in his slugging ability.

Shmurak Having Trouble

Sol Shmurak is having nose trouble. In the last two practices his opponents have drawn blood. Shmurak, however, does not seem to mind it, and keeps plugging along despite the bloodshed. He fought Sam Giddins for two stanzas yesterday, but unfortunately he met the captain who was at top form, and consequently was taken for a ride.

In the remaining fights of the afternoon, Hedrick went against Giddins in a slow bout featured by Giddins boxing, and Tommy Bass met Benton in a contest for the starting position in the 125-lb class this Saturday. Both yearlings kept on even terms for the two rounds that they were in the ring, and the contest for that position is still a wide open affair.

WIN BY AYCOCK FEATURES MURAL

Manly Hits Stride in Downing Old West; Sigma Nu, Chi Psi, And Law Also Victorious.

A field goal and foul shot in the final minute of play gave a hard fighting Aycock basketball quintet a 24-21 victory over a larger Kluttz Bldg. team in the feature attraction of the intramural contests played yesterday afternoon.

Manly's team finally found itself in its third start and sent Old West toppling 39 to 22, while Sigma Nu, Chi Psi, and the Law School combines all came through with victories.

Despite its defeat by Sigma Nu, A. T. O. furnished high man for individual scoring as Spencer garnered a 23-point total. Blunt of Sigma Nu with 19 just nosed out Manly's flashy forward, Tony Buccolo, who hit the hoop for nine double-pointers.

Aycock Pulls Rally

The Aycock-Kluttz battle was a thriller throughout, though the losers did get off to a better start, only to have the lower quadrangle boys cut their lead down gradually and come through in the final minute of play to win out.

The summaries:

Manly 39	Old West 22
Buccolo, f (18)	McNair, f (8)
Gunn, f	Phillips, f (2)
Shedd, c (2)	Page, c (6)
Roper, g (5)	Callister, g (2)
Sadler, g (6)	Bostick, g (4)

Subs: Manly—Kelly (1), Davenport (5), Bryant (2), Adelman.

Sigma Nu 44	A.T.O. 34
Lytle, f (13)	Hawley, f (7)
T. Bost, f (10)	Parker, f (2)
Blount, c (19)	Spencer, c (23)
Primrose, g	Fulxum, g
Henderson, g	Phillips, g (2)

(Continued on last page)

TAR HEEL PUGS END HARD WORK FOR S. C. FIGHTS

Pugs Battle Gamecocks in Tin Can Tomorrow Night; Coach Uneasy About Chances.

GO THROUGH FAST DRILL

Putting on the finishing touches in their last heavy workout before the South Carolina meet here tomorrow night, the Carolina pugilists looked like an almost unbeatable aggregation.

However, from all reports, the Tar Heels are going to be in for a tough session this week-end. Although South Carolina lost to State College last week, the bouts were very close, as the 5-3 score indicates.

Coach Rowe is rather uneasy about the outcome of the approaching set of bouts and has been working hard to get his men in the best possible shape. Although his boys set back the V. P. I. scrappers last Saturday, Coach Rowe was far from satisfied with their conditions.

Fast Workouts

In some fast settos yesterday afternoon, Lammie Alderman and Jim Carruth, Joe Fisher and Jule Medynski, Marion Diehl and a yearling, and Maxie Novich and Tommy O'Flaherty stepped through their paces. All the boys performed in workmanlike fashion and were breathing easy at the termination of their respective bouts.

The two fast rounds, in which the principals were Jule Medynski and Joe Fisher, were bristling with action. The boys tore into each other with a great deal of zest and threw punches from all angles. Both boys counted some good blows and finished up in good shape.

BABY GRAPPLERS TAPER OFF FOR OPENING BATTLE

Will Depend on Light Wrestlers; Patrick Looks Like Star.

In their last hard workout before the match with V.P.I. which takes place Saturday afternoon, Coach Quinlan sent his baby grapplers through a series of bouts with heavier varsity mates.

The Tar Heel mentor stated that he believes that by sending his grapplers against heavier men in workouts they will become accustomed to a harder bout, and therefore should find opponents of the same weight easier to pin.

As for the outcome of the frosh meet Coach Quinlan said, "The freshman team will start the wrestling program for 1935 with a flashy little 118 pounder. The Gobbler freshman opponent is sure to have his hands full when he meets Patrick, the lead-off man for the Tar Babies.

"I am quite sure that Patrick will start his squad off in the winning column, and here is hoping that the other members of the club take advantage of the lead he gives them."

The coach is placing faith in the lighter and middle divisions to come through with victories and make up for the points that will probably be gained by the Gobblers in the heavier weights of the frosh squad.

MRS. VENABLE MAKES DONATION TO LIBRARY

Mrs. F. P. Venable has recently presented the University library with 500 volumes from the library of the late Dr. Venable.

The books are chiefly concerned with chemistry and the closely related sciences.

VARSITY MATMEN READY FOR FIRST TEST OF SEASON

Carolina Will Depend Largely on Lighter Weights for Victory Over Gobblers Tomorrow.

SHOW BETTER CONDITION

With the V. P. I. meet just a day off Carolina's varsity wrestling team took its last hard workout for the week yesterday. The squad will taper off in a light session this afternoon.

Coach Quinlan was quoted as saying following practice: "The showing of a few individuals has been very unimpressive. The same old situation prevails particularly in the heavier weights—lack of material. We should be strong in the lighter divisions."

In order for a win, the burden of work will rest largely on the shoulders of five or six men. It is expected that Frank Umstead will raise the curtain with his usual victory. There is hope that he will keep his good record up by scoring nothing less than five points in each trip to the canvas.

Two More Sophs

Douglas, 125 pounder, looks in far better shape this week than he has at any time in the preseason period. Melvin Ward, 135 pound candidate, who was undefeated in frosh competition, should give his Gobbler opponent plenty of trouble.

Wilbur Gholsen, 145, capable varsity reserve in 1934, has had plenty of experience and he should be willing to mix freely with his Virginian adversary. Allen Bonner, 155, also unbeaten in five matches as a freshman, looks to be in excellent shape for his first varsity test.

Sim Efland, the only letterman on the squad, is well acquainted with the V. P. I. matmen. Last year Sim was beaten by Captain Waldrop, who was considered by mat experts to be the cream of the crop in the 165 pound division.

Jack Ranson and Harvey Gwynn will handle the 175 and unlimited berths. Little is known of the strength of these men but they can be counted on to give their best when their turn comes to wrestle.

Mills Again Shows Tar Heels How To Kick; Boots Long One Himself

Noted Master and Authority Sends Ball 70 Yards and Out on the Two; Instructs Carolina Players Both in Punting and in Drop-kicking; Also Does a Little Trick Drop-kicking.

By JAMES H. MORRIS

Leroy Mills, authority on football kicking and a visitor at Coach Carl Snavely's home, sent the Carolina would-be kickers through a lengthy drill yesterday afternoon in Kenan stadium.

The feature of the afternoon's practice was the kicking of the noted attorney himself. Mills in knickers, his sleeves rolled up, and with a pipe sticking out the corner of his mouth in Popeye-fashion, stepped back 70 yards from the goal line.

He gauged the distance, caught the ball, held it close to his body with his right hand underneath; then, with his head down and his eye on the ball, he stepped forward lightly with his left foot and kicked the pigskin almost out of his hand, his right leg swinging up in an easy motion and his whole body following through.

Out on the Two

The ball did not go very high but traveled swiftly, landing on about the 25-yard line and then starting a wierd roll. It finally crossed the right sidelines just a couple of yards in front of the goal marker.

After a long drill the master soon had some of the Carolina boys almost repeating the difficult feat in spite of the handicap of extra balls being tossed at them. Captain Montgomery, Randy Cooner, Don Jackson, Ditt, Dashiell, Dunham, Bricklemyer, and Burnett all got off several nice boots by using the style of Mills.

The main difficulty the master seemed to have was in making the boys kick easy instead of trying to boot the cover off the ball. Each individual received special attention and had his faults worked on.

A Great Drop-kicker

Mills also gave instruction as to drop-kicking the field goal or extra point. The master had his own peculiar style for teaching this type of kick. He took the ball just a couple of yards from the goal post line but about 18 yards down toward the sidelines. From this difficult angle the conversions were tried.

Mills, himself, had trouble, in the gloom of late afternoon, putting balls through the uprights from this point, but soon managed to boot several successful ones. He used the same rules of balance, holding the ball, and keeping one's eye on the pigskin regardless of anything else. He almost laid the ball on the ground instead of dropping it from a distance.

Besides the attorney, Burnett and Hutchins also had much success in drop-kicking. Coach Snavely demonstrated his old form at this phase of the game while All-American Barclay got off a nice three-point kick.

Mills stated that in punting a person should never have a kick blocked if he follows his rules

(Continued on last page)

Today's Mural Card

3:45—(1) Theta Chi vs. S. P. E., (2) Grimes vs. Everett, (3) St. Anthony Hall vs. Phi Alpha.

4:45—(1) Mayflower vs. Ruffin, (2) Kappa Alpha vs. Pi Kappa Alpha, (3) Phi Kappa Sigma vs. Lambda Chi Alpha.

SEND THE DAILY TAR HEEL HOME

Freshman Cage Team To Meet Spray Five In Tin Can Tonight

Battle with "Y" Outfit Will Get Underway at 8 O'clock; Fourth Start for Tar Baby Club.

FROSH ARE UNDEFEATED

Skidmore May Change Lineup For Contest in Effort to Give Best Reserves a Chance.

The freshman basketball quintet makes its fourth start of the season tonight, taking on the scarcely known Y.M.C.A. outfit from Spray, North Carolina, in the Tin Can at 8 o'clock.

The squad went through its last limbering up last evening, a rather brief practice in preparation for tonight's encounter.

The opening lineup may differ slightly from the one that faced Holt Mills on Tuesday night. Pete Mullis may not start at the forward post, and if this does occur, Pete Boone will probably be on the firing line.

Meroney Shows Form

However, the forwards will definitely be selected from Mullis, Boone and Andy Bershak. There is no doubt that Red Meroney will be at the tip-off for the opening whistle. Coach Skidmore is inclined to depend more and more upon Meroney now, due to his improvement in play since the opening game.

There is also a possibility of a change taking place in the guard positions, with Foy Grubb as the youth that may not take the floor. Grubb has played good ball in the previous games, but Bill Franks may be called upon to show his wares. Franks has handled the ball nicely in his few moments on the court and may get an opportunity to earn a berth.

Yesterday afternoon, the frosh third team played against the varsity, using the zone defense. This was done as the varsity are scheduled to meet that style of play when they clash with Maryland tonight.

The frosh are anxious to lengthen their winning streak tonight, and in all probability will, unless Spray "Y" turns up with unexpected power.

CAROLINA
—Last Times Today—
EDDIE CANTOR
in
"KID MILLIONS"
—Also—
Comedy—Cartoon—News

We Have a Fresh Shipment of
WRIGHT & DITSON TENNIS BALLS
Play Tennis While the Weather Permits SCHOOL BOOKS
STATIONERY
ATHLETIC GOODS
OFFICE SUPPLIES
GREETING CARDS
GIFTS
Alfred Williams & Co.

SENIORS TO PLAN PROGRAM SERIES

Student Union to Help Bring to Campus Recognized Authoritative Speakers.

A senior class project in cooperation with Graham Memorial to bring recognized, authoritative speakers on subjects of political, economic, and social interest to the campus was announced yesterday by President Jack Pool.

The project will be known as the University speakers fund and will be led by a committee headed by Joe Sugarman.

According to Pool, the fund will in no way conflict with the Human Relations Institute as it will confine its program mainly to off years.

Those in Charge

The committee in charge as announced by Pool is Joe Sugarman, chairman; Agnew Bahnson, Albert Ellis, George Rhoades, Billy Harrison, John Wiggins, Eben Alexander. Mayne Albright, graduate law student and former student body president, and Harper Barnes will act in an advisory position. Pool will be present at the meetings ex officio.

A meeting has been called for Monday night at 8 o'clock in Graham Memorial.

WIN BY AYCOCK FEATURES MURAL

(Continued from page three)

Subs: Sigma Nu—Lynch (2).

Aycock 24	Kluttz 21
Guntzler, f (2)	Oetlaw, f
Friedman, f (7)	Stone, f
Onasch, c (6)	Parker, c (11)
Kesselman, g (7)	Terry, g
Levine, g (2)	Simpson, g (6)

Subs: Aycock — Kornegay; Kluttz—Pendergraft, Harreu (2), Smith (2).

Chi Psi 20	T.E.P. 5
Cavanugh, f (4)	Ostrow, f (3)
Haleman, f (2)	F. Weisbrod, f
Foreman, c (4)	R. Eisenberg, c
Wilday, g (2)	Murnick, g (2)
Manley, g (8)	May, g

Subs: Chi Psi—Dowling, Waters, Bond, Beebe; T.E.P.—L. Weisbrod, R. Eisenberg.

Law School 39	Pharmacy 16
Alexander,f (9)	Edwards,f (8)
Bryan, f (8)	B. Woodward, f
Peacock, c (10)	J. Woodward, c
Markham, g (2)	Thompson, g
Seawell, g (2)	Mathews, g (4)

Subs: Law—Williams (8), Wilhiem; Pharmacy— Fox (4), Bullard.

Mills Again Shows Tar Heels How To Kick

(Continued from page three)

of having complete control over the ball through the method of holding it.

The great authority likened football kicking to golf in that both require balance, one's head down and eye on the ball, and an effort to send a ball both far and accurate.

However, he said that the main difference was that in football the kicker must balance himself on one foot, get rid of an oblong ball instead of a round one, and do his work swiftly while eleven enemies rush at him.

The famous teacher promised the Tar Heels another afternoon of work today. He said that regardless of the weather he would show them how to handle and kick wet balls. The attorney told Coach Snavely that he should be ashamed of himself having so many fine kickers while most of the schools were hollering because they didn't have even one player with the booting ability.

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS

"Kid Millions"

Eddie Cantor and Eve Sully in "Kid Millions," showing for the last times today at the Carolina.

BANQUET SCHEDULED FOR FRESHMAN GROUP

Graham Memorial, the Student Council, and the freshman honor council will be hosts at a dinner January 23 for all members of the freshman class who have had experience in student government, Y. M. C. A. activities, or honor societies while in high school, it was announced yesterday by Harper Barnes.

Other invited guests will include Dean Bradshaw, Mayne Albright, Haywood Weeks, and possibly President Graham.

SELDEN TO READ PLAY BY O'CASEY

Technical Director to Give Presentation of "Within the Gates" Sunday.

Samuel Selden, technical director for the Carolina Playmakers, will present Sean O'Casey's "Within the Gates" in the Playmakers theatre Sunday night at 8:30 o'clock.

"Within the Gates" is now running at the National theatre, New York.

Praised Highly

Brooks Atkinson, famous dramatic critic for the New York Times, recently devoted a large section of his column reviewing the play. He praised it highly.

O'Casey, an Irishman, has produced several outstanding successes in the last decade, and "Within the Gates" has succeeded in pleasing New York audiences since October 22, 1934.

A review in a recent issue of The Stage said that "It is a heady mixture of realism, symbolism, and rich poetic imagery, colored throughout by a compassionate understanding of man and the modern world."

Everyone is invited to attend the reading. Selden's appearance will be the first reading since Paul Green read his "Roll Sweet Chariot" in the theatre last fall.

PAINTING EXHIBIT SENT TO N.C.C.W.

Greensboro to See Pictures Displayed Here by Southern Art Projects.

The collection of paintings by contemporary American artists, exhibited here since January 5 under the auspices of the Southern Art Projects, was sent Wednesday to the Woman's College in Greensboro, where it will stay two weeks before going to Charlotte to be exhibited by the Charlotte Woman's Club.

An exhibit of the work of contemporary American etchers will appear here later in January, the next event on the program arranged for the University by the Southern Art Projects.

Numerous Visitors

It is estimated that 650 people visited the exhibit during its ten-day stay here, about 420 names being on the official registration book.

Of the 348 who indicated their choice among the paintings, 44 liked Eaton's "Twin Pines" best.

The votes were widely scattered among the other 24 pictures. Parton's "Late Afternoon" was second with 36, Johanson's "Artist's Family" and Watrous' "Still Life" tied for third with 27, and Browne's "Down North in Labrador" was fourth with 25 votes.

TRACK PRACTICE GETS UNDERWAY

(Continued from page three)

Hanes of Duke, who leaps 23 feet 10, against Hubbard and Higby who each jump around 23 feet 6.

Competition in each and every one of the events will resemble these examples. The Tar Heels are trying to get in as much outside work as possible while the weather permits.

Prospects should appear much brighter for another highly successful season after a while, when the men are in condition.

White Phantoms Leave; Battle Liners Tonight

(Continued from page three)

beating last year so the Carolina boys will be out for a revenge win.

Next the Phantoms invade New York City for a two-day stand. Monday they meet the Cresent Athletic Club and on the following night the Tar Heel five will engage the New York Athletic Club.

The trip comes to an end Wednesday afternoon at which time Carolina takes on the Army at West Point. It will be remembered that Duke doubled the score on the Cadets a few weeks ago so the Army five will be looking forward to a chance to triumph over their second opponent from North Carolina.

CRAFTSMEN SHOW EXHIBITS TONIGHT

"Penland Weavers and Potters" Will Present Program in Playmakers Theatre.

North Carolina's only representatives at the Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago year before last, the famous "Penland Weavers and Potters," are set to make their special exhibit in the Playmakers theatre tonight at 8:30.

Under the sponsorship of the Carolina Playmakers, Lucy Morgan and her troupe of western North Carolina weavers, potters, and pewter casters will give an illustrated lecture showing the actual work of weaving, making pottery and casting pewter.

Mountain Scenery

Morgan's performance will show views of one of the weaver's cabins in the mountains of North Carolina, their pottery and craft house, and actual samples of their pewter ware.

Miss Morgan is the founder and director of the organization. Largely through her personal efforts, the troupe was able to carry its exhibit to Chicago.

University Professor F. H. Koch, closely connected with fostering the industry, actually gave the name of "Penland Weavers and Potters" to the group.

—so far as we know tobacco was first used about 400 years ago

—throughout the years what one thing has given so much pleasure..so much satisfaction

Early Colonial planters shipped hundreds of pounds of tobacco to England in return for goods and supplies.

They came looking for gold . . . but they found tobacco

. . . and tobacco has been like gold ever since!

The tobacco raised in Virginia and exchanged for goods helped the struggling colonists to get a foothold when they came to America.

Later on, it was tobacco that helped to clothe and feed Washington's brave army at Valley Forge.

Today it is tobacco that helps—more than any other commodity raised in this country—to pay the expense of running our Government.

In the fiscal year 1933-34 the Federal Government collected $425,000,000 from the tax on tobacco. Most of this came from cigarettes — six cents tax on every package of twenty.

Yes, the cigarette helps a lot—and it certainly gives men and women a lot of pleasure.

Smokers have several reasons for liking Chesterfields. For one thing, Chesterfields are milder. For another thing, they taste better. They Satisfy.

© 1935, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

WRESTLING—V. P. I.
2:30
TIN CAN

The Daily Tar Heel

BOXING—SOUTH CAROLINA
7:30
TIN CAN

SERVED BY THE UNITED PRESS

VOLUME XLIII | CHAPEL HILL, N. C., SATURDAY, JANUARY 19, 1935 | NUMBER 83

MANAGER INSISTS STUDENTS MUST HAVE CITY TAGS

Other Sources Indicate That Only Bona Fide Village Residents Must Own Licenses.

SALE CONTINUES BRISKLY

The question of the purchase of city license tags by students in Chapel Hill became the target of controversial opinions here yesterday.

City Manager J. L. Caldwell stuck by his guns in declaring that "all students living in Chapel Hill and operating cars on the streets must purchase tags." He stated that students living on taxable property in the city should share the cost of street construction with bona fide residents.

"Protective Measure"

Caldwell stated that purchase of tags was also a "protective measure." Previously, the city manager had said that all students living within the corporate limits of Chapel Hill except those living in dormitories must get the $1 tags.

This will include students living in fraternity houses, boarding houses, and in all other places except on land owned by the University.

Meanwhile, from reliable down-town sources came intimations that no student would be required to purchase tags except those who are bona fide residents of Chapel Hill. This excludes all students who declare their residences elsewhere.

The enigma will be solved Tuesday morning at the session of recorder's court when those charged with driving without tags will be given hearings. Meanwhile, the sale of tags continues briskly.

Through a misunderstanding yesterday, sale of tags to those cited to recorder's court was suspended. It was soon corrected, however, and tags are now available to all car owners here, regardless of their previous acquaintance with "John Law."

UNION TO BE HOST TO DEPARTMENTS

Plan for Seniors and Faculty of Various Departments to Dine In Graham Memorial.

Harper Barnes, director of Graham Memorial, announced a plan yesterday whereby seniors in the various departments and their respective professors would be able to enjoy an informal "get-together" under the auspices of Graham Memorial.

According to Barnes, Graham Memorial will offer its banquet hall and furnish the food for a supper at which only the professors and seniors in one department will be present. The program will be entirely up to the guests.

Program Manager

As a result of this plan the seniors and professors in each department have elected a program manager to arrange a suitable program for the evening.

The first of these dinners will be held during the coming week. Seniors and faculty of the school of public administration will be the first guests of Graham Memorial in the series. Jack Pool has been elected program manager for the students and Professor H. W. Odum appointed to represent the faculty.

Legalization of Whiskey Discussed in House

Change in Form of Capital Punishment Proposed.

Raleigh, Jan. 17.—(UP)—While the Senate took things easy today, the House ran through the discussion of two bills, both packed with controversy and potentialities.

The first bill, a measure to return legal whiskey within the state, was introduced by Representative Day of Onslow. It calls for a referendum of the Turlington Act on July 8 of this year.

The other measure provided that hanging be substituted for electrocution as a means of disposing citizens convicted of capital crimes. This bill was introduced by Representative Dees of Pamlico. It also calls for such executions to be held before a minimum of 18 and a maximum of 36 witnesses.

Both measures were referred to committees.

Spicy Love Affair Furnishes Comedy For Coward's Play

"The Young Idea" Presents Caustic Wit of English Society.

Noel Coward's "The Young Idea," which will be presented by the Playmakers January 31, February 1 and 2, tears and races from scene to scene in the usual sophisticated vein of its author.

Following the sensational "R.U.R." and the enigmatic "Shroud My Body Down," the new Coward play and its brittle dialogue promise a lighter entertainment for Playmaker audiences.

Nicely Naughty

From the moment the proper English butler ushers the first villain into the drawing room of George Brent's home in England, the play is distinctly one concerned with the naughty but nice persons of certain English society.

"The Young Idea" is as spicy as any good triangle affair and as important as any idea conceived by the fourteen men and women whose caustic wit keep it moving.

Cicely (Frances McGraw), the naughty second wife of George Brent (Philip Parker), and Roddy (David McCachren), a nice, unattached young man in love with her, form a plot which concerns itself with what Mr. Brent will do about it.

While the friends and neighbors are having a good time gossiping, George welcomes the arrival of his son and daughter (Ellen Deppe and Charles Lloyd) from the first wife's villa in Italy. The impish pair leave no stone unturned, no melodrama untouched, no parlor talk uninterrupted, and no pertinent statement left unsaid. Where there were no ideas they encourage some, and if one idea goes badly, they invent another.

Coward's last play to be produced by the Playmakers was "Hay Fever," which was presented last winter also under the direction of Harry Davis.

Yackety Yack Staff

There will be a meeting of the fraternity staff of the Yackety Yack Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Graham Memorial.

The following men are requested to be present: Martin, Allen, Brown, Percy, Andrews, Stovall, Manning, and Craig.

BERNARD SPEAKS ON LIFE OF LEE

Freshmen Hear Two Incidents From Career of Outstanding Southern General.

"General Robert E. Lee, the Patriot" was discussed in freshman chapel yesterday morning by Dr. W. S. Bernard of the Greek department.

Dr. Bernard described two incidents of the southern General's life since he "did not have near enough time to give a resume of this great man's entire life."

30 Years Service

Born of a very outstanding Virginia family, Lee was educated at West Point, and served with distinction in the United States army for 30 years, Dr. Bernard told.

"The day before the fateful hour when Virginia seceded from the Union, Lee was offered the command of the Federal army," he said. "Immediately he went to his friend, General Scott, and said, 'I could not lead an army against my state and my people'."

The next morning, after a sleepless night, Lee told his wife, "It is decided. I am going to hand in the resignation of my commission to General Scott." Virginia then asked Lee to command her army against the Union.

"Lee had been a soldier for 30 years, flooded with fame and distinction. This would have been the crowning glory of his life's ambition," Dr. Bernard said. "It probably had more effect upon the history of this country than any other event," he continued.

Guerilla War

"The day before Appomattox, Lee had 16,000 ragged soldiers, without ammunition. Grant with the Union forces had 150,000 men. Davis had fled to Greensboro where he issued the statement that the war had entered a new phase. From now on the south would wage a gue-

(Continued on last page)

F. D. R. FORECASTS STATE ADOPTION OF AGE SECURITY

Parties Split over Wagner-Lewis Bill; Roosevelt Confident.

Washington, Jan. 17.—(UP)—Quick action by all states to extend old age and unemployment benefits under the administration's security program was forecast tonight by President Roosevelt.

At the same time, powerful and disgruntled congressional forces struck swiftly at certain provisions of the Wagner-Lewis bill which was introduced yesterday. Party leaders in both houses admitted the program faces a long and bitter battle.

F. D. R. Unworried

Defenses were hastily constructed about the measure as leaders rushed plans to open hearing on the issues next week.

Roosevelt appeared unworried. He said in a press conference that he believed that the most dissatisfaction concerning the amount of the old age pensions was due to a misunderstanding.

Chairman Pat Harrison of the Senate Finance Committee, who will handle the legislation, conferred today with Assistant Secretary of Labor Edward F. McGrady.

Doughton Consulted

McGrady later reviewed the situation with Chairman Robert Doughton of the House Ways and Means Committee. Doughton is one of the North Carolina representatives in the 54th Congress.

The North Carolinian said the committee will open hearings on the bill Monday. Senate hearings will begin Tuesday.

SENIOR STAFF MEETING

There will be a meeting of the members of the senior staff of the Yackety Yack in Graham Memorial Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The following men are requested to be present: Joe Patterson, Sterling Brown, Bill Scott, and Ramsay Potts.

Artists Hail Portrait By Unknown Brush As University's Best Picture

Ancestor of Louis Graves Posed for Portrait Now in Office of Librarian Downs; Curious Holes in Canvas Said to Have Been Made by Inebriates Armed with Canes.

Praised by two artists, unnoticed by the crowd, a genuine work of art hangs in the University library. Prince Troubetzkoy, a famous portrait painter, walked into the office of R. B. Downs, University librarian, about 18 months ago and was instantly attracted to the large, square portrait there. It was, he said, the best picture in the possession of the University.

Not long afterward a similar incident occurred when William Steene, artist, of Chapel Hill and New York, first saw the portrait. Both Troubetzkoy and Steene agreed that the painting far excelled any other at the University in richness and endurance of color, in naturalness of pose, and especially in the fashioning of the hands and face of the subject.

What of the picture which had thus been stamped with the approval of two famous artists?

The subject is a great uncle of Louis Graves, editor of the Chapel Hill Weekly, who was studying art in Paris in the year 1845. Graves is dressed in what might have been the typical student garb of the time: black frock coat, flowing black tie, brown vest, and grey trousers.

There are several curiously shaped holes punched through the canvas. And thereby hangs a tale:

It is said that several drunks wandered in one night (the portrait was not then in the possession of the University, of course) and upon seeing a strangely dressed and rather haughty young man apparently suspended in mid-air regarding them with disapproval, they charged the apparition with their canes and punched it full of holes.

Scarcely less interesting is the fact that the identity of the artist who painted the picture is unknown, even to its donors. In Downs' opinion, the value of the picture would be greatly increased if the name of the artist could be discovered.

Altogether, the opinion of two famous artists, the legend of the drunks, and the unknown artist tend to enhance the attractiveness of that seldom noticed portrait.

Mullis Will Veto Action Of Executive Committee

Organist to Play

The first of the winter quarter series of organ recitals by Professor Nelson O. Kennedy of the University music department will be presented tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock in Hill Music hall.

Students and townspeople are invited to attend the program.

Professor Kennedy will render the following numbers: "Concert Overture in C Minor" by Alfred Hollins; "Dreams" by Hugh McAmis, and "Symphony No. 5" by Widor.

Sarg To Present Marionette Drama On Faust Tuesday

Show to Be Given in Playmakers Theatre at 3:30 and 8 P. M.

Three days remain before Tony Sarg and his world-famous group of marionettes will arrive in Chapel Hill to give two performances in the Carolina Playmakers theatre.

"Faust, the Wicked Magician" will be presented by Sarg Tuesday at a 3:30 matinee and at an 8 o'clock evening performance. His appearance is being sponsored by the local Parent-Teacher Association.

The famous theme of Faust who sells himself to the devil has been treated in various forms by past masters. It has appeared in the form of poems, operas, and dramas. The marionettes of Tony Sarg bring it to us in a distinctively vivid fashion.

Large Cast

Sarg has arranged for several scenes where a large cast gives a "spectacular" performance with action from soldiers, police, guards, devils, and the old magician, Faust. Two women, Lelah and Marguerite, make their advent into the life and along with the devil the four have a merry time.

Duels, red smoke, blue smoke, pots, pans, and curious formulas that curiously act—all play their part in the drama of tiny creatures under the deft finger-tips of Tony Sarg and his assistants.

Sarg last appeared at Carolina with his marionette troup in March, 1925.

Admission prices for either performance are: adults, 50 cents, and children, 25 cents.

MRS. HAUPTMANN CASTS ASPERSION

Bruno's Wife Startles Court by Emotional Outburst.

Flemington, Jan. 17. — (UP) —After her husband's emotional outbreak yesterday, it became Mrs. Bruno Hauptmann's turn today to call a witness—"liar!"

The witness whom the German's wife branded a prevaricator was Mr. Ella Achenbach, former neighbor, who said that Hauptmann was away from home at the time of the kidnaping. Later, she said, Hauptmann came to her house with a sprained ankle.

Late in the day, the state carried into court the famous board from Hauptmann's home. On it was written "Jafsie" Condon's phone number.

Inspector Henry Bruckman of New York Police Department swore that Hauptmann confessed that he wrote the figures on the board.

READ WITHDRAWS SUSPENSION PLAN

Mullis Claims Proposed Honor Court Has Deviated from Originally Planned Group.

READ FAVORS CLASS VOTE

"I shall use my power of veto against the proposed honor court," Clyde Mullis, president of the freshman class, told a DAILY TAR HEEL reporter yesterday, as he condemned the action taken by his executive committee when it delegated to a freshman honor court the power of suspension.

"The purpose of the honor council which I appointed is not to suspend anyone," Mullis said. "The committee was formed to further a better understanding of the system, and with no power to conduct a court or anything of the sort. It was conceived originally to get the freshmen better acquainted with the honor system; to put them in a position where they feel that they are a part of it."

"Purely Educational"

Mullis, due to basketball practice, was absent from the meeting, but said in connection with the unauthorized action, "As I understand it, the court has no power to suspend any student. The main purpose as I outlined it when the committee was formed was purely educational.

"The power which the court delegated to themselves will have to be reconsidered, and based on a program which will not violate the student government in any way," Mullis said as to plans for future action. He also plans to call a meeting of the executive committee in the near future, and reassign the

(Continued on last page)

PETITIONS MAILED TO BUS COMPANY

Signatures of 1,135 Students and 97 Townspeople Are Affixed; Hearing Is Postponed.

Signed by 1,135 students and 97 townspeople, the petitions for the new Atlantic Greyhound bus line directly connecting Raleigh and Greensboro via Chapel Hill were mailed last night to the Winston-Salem headquarters of the bus company, where they will be prepared for presentation at the hearing of the North Carolina Public Utilities Commission.

This hearing, scheduled for Tuesday, has been indefinitely postponed because of the illness of one of the members of the commission, according to District Passenger Agent Hightower of the bus company, who was in Chapel Hill Thursday.

Hightower Pleased

Hightower appeared pleased with the progress that had been made by the University Club.

The proposed Greensboro-Chapel Hill-Raleigh line will be the last link in a Greyhound chain connecting Winston-Salem and Wilmington. At present another company is in charge of transportation between Raleigh and Greensboro, and connections between busses of this company and Greyhound busses are not very good. The new line will reduce traveling time considerably and will also offer appreciably lower rates.

The Daily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Union Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where it is printed daily except Mondays, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Holidays. Entered as second class matter at the post office of Chapel Hill, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 for the college year.

A. T. Dill ..... Editor
Robert C. Page, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
Joe Webb ..... Business Manager
George Underwood ..... Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

EDITORIAL BOARD—Phil Hammer, chairman.
FEATURE BOARD—Nelson Lansdale, chairman; Nick Read, Bob Browder, Francis Clingman, J. E. Poindexter, W. M. Cochrane, Willis Harrison.
CITY EDITORS—Irving Suss, Walter Hargett, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.
TELEGRAPH EDITORS—Stuart Rabb, Charlie Gilmore.
DESK MAN—Eddie Kahn.
SPORTS DEPARTMENT—Jimmy Morris and Smith Barrier, co-editors, Tom Bost, Lee Turk, Len Rubin, Fletcher Ferguson, Stuart Sechriest, Lester Ostrow, Ira Sarasohn.
EXCHANGES—Margaret Gaines.
STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER—Don Becker.
REPORTERS—Bill Hudson, John Smith, J. F. Jonas, Ralph Sprinkle, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Raymond Howe, William Jordan, Morton Feldman.

Business Staff

ASST. BUSINESS MANAGER ..... Butler French
COLLECTION MANAGER ..... Herbert Osterheld
OFFICE MANAGERS ..... Walter Eckert, Roy Crooks
NATIONAL ADVERTISING ..... Boylan Carr
DURHAM REPRESENTATIVE—Joe Murnick.
LOCAL ADVERTISING—Hugh Primrose, Robt. Sosnik, Eli Joyner (managers), Bill MacDonald, Louis Shaffner, Page Keel, Bill McLean, Crist Blackwell.

CITY EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE: JIM DANIEL

Saturday, January 19, 1935

PARAGRAPHICS

Leroy Mills, the kicking expert, might give the Di and Phi some pointers while he's here.

Not particularly surprising the stamp collectors should be sore at Mr. Farley. The "coin" collectors have been mad ever since we went off the gold standard.

Keeping out of crowds is one way to check the flu, says Dr. Berryhill. Don't go to movies, or basketball games, or boxing matches, and don't fail to stay home on week-ends.—Some fun, eh, Doc?

About the City Tags

City Manager J. L. Caldwell, who will be remembered for his tardy attempt to clean up the football card "racket" during the tail-end of the football season last fall, is now forcing all automobile-owning students who live on taxable property in Chapel Hill to buy city license tags.

In other words, all students owning cars who live in fraternity houses or in boarding houses will be required to pay the same tax as they would if they were residents of Chapel Hill.

There is a good deal of doubt in many minds as to whether this is not unfair to those students. Dormitory residents who own cars use the streets of Chapel Hill as much as do the town or fraternity residents, yet they are exempted from buying city license tags on the grounds that they are living on state-owned property.

Unless the city authorities have reason to believe that they are justified in doing this from some legal source other than that of opinion, it stands in our minds as an unfair criterion of residency. As yet Mr. Caldwell has produced no city ordinance giving him the express power to require such students to buy city tags and, at the same time, to exempt dormitory dwellers.

While they use the streets of Chapel Hill, student car-owners, unless their homes are in Chapel Hill, are no more residents of the town than are the motorists who pass through here on their way to some other place in the state. We do not see the justice in requiring them to pay the same license fees as a bona fide resident, and until authority is produced in support of such a policy on the part of Mr. Caldwell, we refuse to admit that such students are legally obligated to buy Chapel Hill license tags.

Some understanding must be arrived at other than on the authority of Mr. Caldwell. Under no circumstances should this dubious situation, unfair, to the students, be allowed to continue.

Correcting a Misapprehension

Pete Mullis' statement, as carried in this issue, should clear up the question of the intention and purpose of the freshman honor council. In our opinion, the committee in charge of founding the honor "court" rushed into print before they were quite sure of themselves in this matter.

No "court" constituted by the freshman class, or any other class, has the right to suspend violators of the honor system from school. That is contrary to the spirit in which the freshman honor committee meant to function. It is our hope that the original purpose of the organization will not be impaired by such a misconception.

Sportsmanship In the Tin Can

Carolina's reputation for giving the other fellow a break is well deserved. It has followed the teams even to foreign fields. Last fall at Athens several thousand Georgians were startled to behold twenty or thirty Carolina supporters stand up and yell, "Give him a hand!" when Cy Grant and other injured men were carried off the field.

With the coming of the indoor season the situation becomes more difficult. Cracks which might pass unnoticed on the open field are magnified many fold within the confines of the Tin Can. This week-end brings both boxing and wrestling matches to Chapel Hill—and a chance to re-enforce the general opinion that Tar Heels are gentlemen born and gentlemen bred.

Keeping Up With the Joneses

A giant dirigible, one and one-half times as large as the famous Graf Zeppelin, and the same size as a new airship now under construction in Germany, will be recommended by President Roosevelt to Congress next week.

Why? To meet the competition of the foreign "super" surface lines.

So far, our childish race to keep up with Germanic Zeppelin builders has cost us the lives of many men, and resulted in the waste of many millions of dollars. The wreck of the "Akron" not so long ago ought to be more than a dim reminder of our past success with monstrous lighter-than-air craft. It was then that several well informed naval men asserted that its destruction was due only to its tremendous size. Conflicting currents of air on the opposite ends of the ship just snapped it in half like a twig.

If we must have dirigibles, why not have five or six smaller ships that can be wrecked one at a time instead of one huge airship that will break in two and drop into the sea as soon as a little squall comes up?

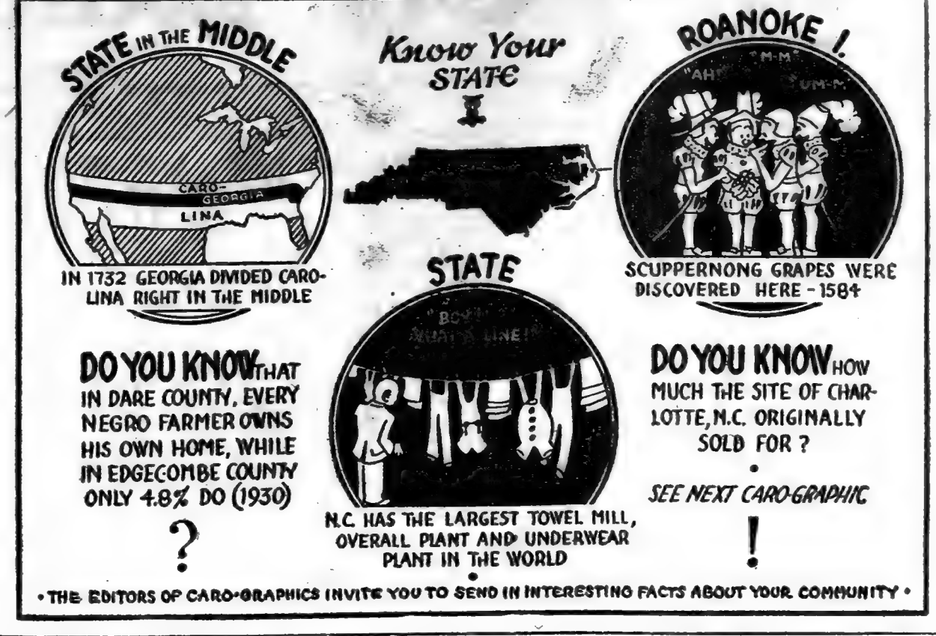
Building for Tomorrow

The President's message on social security was both clear and concise. It merely outlined the plan and did not try to baffle the Congressmen's power of comprehension with all the plans, organization, and procedure. In the message, President Roosevelt stated that the plan was built around the theory of unemployment compensation, old age insurance; federal and state aid for the support of the mother's pension systems and for the protection of the homeless, neglected, dependent and crippled children; and lastly federal and state aid for the purpose of founding and helping local public health agencies. The combination of such security is believed to be the future weapon of defense against future depressions.

We feel that this plan is one of construction and that it is in no way one of destruction. The initial cost is tremendous and must be taken into consideration, but in time it must be remembered that the program as it is arranged will pay for itself.

If this new social security plan goes through, it will probably mean a protected and happier society tomorrow. We and the generations to follow are the ones really to be benefited. We should uphold any such plan of social betterment. A firm foundation today will make way for a fine, strong building tomorrow and that is what we want. We do not want our building to fall as soon as we build, as is the case now.

The Value of The Peace Poll



Over 300,000 college students have been mailed ballots in the Literary Digest's poll of what young America thinks about war and its problems. There are five questions on the poll ballot, and they cover rather thoroughly the whole military question from the League of Nations to universal conscription of capital and labor resources in order to control war-time profits.

We assume that it is well timed, what with Mussolini branding peace as undesirable, impossible, and an illusion, and with the president asking for the greatest peace-time appropriation for national defense in our history. We are sure of its news interest value. But aside from that we believe it has a double significance, first to the country's youth, and second to the country's statesmen.

Its significance to the youth of the country is that it will cause them to think about the problem, make them realize that there is such a question, and that they must take some rather definite stand on it, and, in the answering of the questions, cause their sentiment on the subject to be crystallized into a fairly steady attitude. Of course, such an attitude cannot be maintained without constant, further stimulations of an even more pronounced sort, but even so, the poll itself will serve as one link in the chain.

The value of the poll to the country's statesmen is probably a bit more indirect and not so easy to appreciate. Nevertheless a belligerent leader should find information as to the leanings of the younger generation, his future army, of quite extensive importance to him.

CARO-GRAPHICS --- by Murray Jones & Nash Johnston

Casual Correspondent
by
Nelson Lansdale

IVAN THE TERRIBLE

Richard Waymire of Carolina Magazine fame tells another one about the same Phi Kap pledge who once labored under the alcoholic impression that Phi Kappa Sigma was not a fraternity. That impression arose, according to Waymire, when he was celebrating New Year's too early. Last week-end he decided to celebrate New Year's too late, and make everything even. After a few drinks with the brothers in the lodge, our pledge and a friend arrayed themselves in overcoats and tin lampshades, the green and white kind used in offices, instead of hats, for an excursion down town. Beating on their pointed hats, they advanced upon the New Deal Cafe, one proclaiming that he was the Empress Ping-Pong of China, the other that he was the Princess I-do, heiress apparent to the throne. In the New Deal they found the German department's Meno Spann seated in one of the booths, and joined him. Our pledge became suddenly confidential. He leaned over patted Dr. Spann on the head.

"You know," he remarked, "I don't like German, and I'll never take a course in it, and I don't think much of Hitler either, but you look like a pretty nice fellow." After which they marched out solemnly, beating on their hats with spoons, and crying, "By decree of the Royal Empress."

OUR OWN BOSWELL

To blond, bland Dick Myers, of Cos Cob, Connecticut, goes the week's tin medal for biographical explanation: "Ben Jonson was a man who followed another man around all the time."

CRYPTIC CATALOGUE

Except for people who want to—and can—buy lots of books, most catalogues from booksellers are pretty dull reading. We think we've found one that isn't, though, and it's issued by William H. Allen, of Philadelphia. A little note near the top of the first page explains: "It has always seemed to me unfair that when a person made a remark that pleased him everyone else was allowed to repeat it but the man himself," and the list is peppered with epigram and comment, apparently all Mr. Allen's. For instance, there's one scathing criticism of a critical work: "Powys, J. C. Visions and Revisions. 1915. 8vo. $3.00—A man who was mislead by his initials." There are lots of epigrams, too, some of which we thought you might like to hear. "Most knowledge is useless, but one can never be sure when," "Many a small town would be worth living in if the natives were dumb literally instead of figuratively," and this one, which we liked best of all: "Children have a high sense of honor; they will not use in private correspondence any knowledge of spelling that they may have gained in school at the public expense."

EARLY TO RISE MAKES A MAN . . .

When the Phi Assembly's Sergeant-at-Arms Winthrop Durfee apologized seriously to Government's "P.G." Woodhouse for sleeping through the latter's eight-thirty class, popular "P. G." replied: "That's all right, Durfee. I wish I had."

COLE PORTER, MISTER?

The words to "You're the Top" from Cole Porter's new show, "Anything Goes," have been giving everybody who likes to know the words to new jazz a fit. They've been reprinted, in varying versions, in The Stage, The New York Times, and Time that we know of and Lord Knows where else. A playmate of ours who's been recovering from an operation amused himself by concocting his own version, which we respectfully submit for your consideration:

"You're the top
You're an Alexander
You're the top
You're a Bronx panhandler
You're a millionaire
That's got in the hair
Of Marx
You're the latest novel
You're a penthouse-hovel
You're auto sparks.
You're the tree that my Scottie praises
You're the cows that the government raises
I'm a savage king,
A Congress wing,
A flop!
But if, baby, I'm the bottom
You're the top!"

HONOR AMONG GRADUATES

Returning to a teaching graduate in Math was a quiz paper in Archibald Henderson's Math 102, with no grade on it.
Instead it bore the simple legend: "No pledge."

Concert at Duke

The Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Eugene Ormandy, will appear in Page auditorium at Duke University the evening of Tuesday, February 5.

Although tickets will not be on sale at the box office until a week prior to the performance, Mr. Barnes will be glad to receive mail orders, addressed to him at Box 4822, Duke Station. All reservations will be filled in the order in which they are received.

SEND THE DAILY TAR HEEL HOME

OUTSTANDING RADIO BROADCASTS

Saturday, Jan. 19

1:00: Are Political Spoils Inevitable? speakers, WEAF; Political Situation in Washington, F. W. Wile, WABC.

1:15: George Hall orch., WABC.

1:50: Metropolitan Opera, La Forza de Destino, with Giovanni Martinelli, tenor; Elisabeth Rethberg, soprano; Gladys Swarthout, contralto, and others, WEAF.

5:00: Duchin orch., WEAF.

6:30: Sports, Eddie Dooley, WABC.

7:30: Arden orch.; Walter Preston, baritone; Gladys Baxter, soprano, WABC.

7:45: Pickens Sisters, songs, WJZ.

8:00: Concert orch.; Sigmund Romberg, composer-conductor; Wm. Lyon Phelps, narrator, and others, WEAF; Roxy Revue; Concert orch.; mixed chorus, WABC.

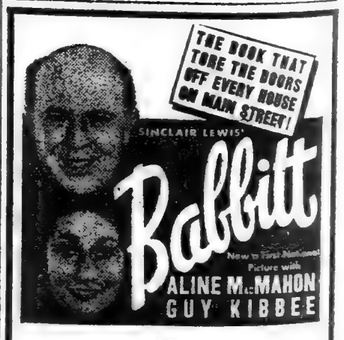
8:20: Grace Hayes, songs, WJZ.

8:30: Jack Denny orch., WOR.

8:45: Mary Courtland, songs; Armbruster orch.; male quartet, WABC.

9:00: Rose Bampton, contralto; Shilkret orch., WEAF; Radio City Party, with Black orch.; John B. Kennedy; Jessica Dragonette, soprano, and others, WJZ.

9:30: Richard Himber orch., WABC.



10:00: As Thousands Cheer, dramatic review of sports highlights of 1934, WABC.

11:00: Glen Gray orch., WABC.

GARAGE FOR RENT

Apply 212 McCauley Street or Phone 4886.

GUARD AGAINST FLU!
At the First Sniffle
Come to Sutton Drug Co.
for DRUGS-REMEDIES for winter colds & sore throats

—Also—
Comedy—Novelty—Cartoon
TODAY
CAROLINA

Phantoms Lick Maryland, 39-31; McCachren Injured

Glace Leads Great Play Of Carolianians With 13 Points; Play Navy Today

Star Guard Gets Gash In Head; Phantoms' Defense Good.

Buscher Is Outstanding Man for Old Liner Quintet.

(Special to the DAILY TAR HEEL)

Byrd Memorial Gym., College Park, Md., Jan. 18.—North Carolina's White Phantoms licked Maryland's strong basketball five here tonight, 39-31. The game was played before a capacity crowd.

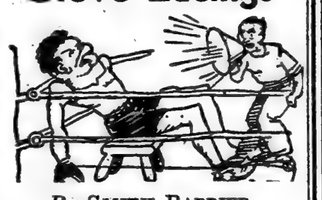
The Tar Heels presented a well-oiled machine which functioned to perfection throughout the contest. The defense was especially outstanding. Ivan Glace, elongated pivot man, and Mel Nelson, crack forward, were the big cogs in the visiting aggregation's attack.

It was the Shepardmen's eighth straight victory and the fifth Southern Conference win.

Jim McCachren, sterling guard for the North Carolina quintet, was hurt in the last few minutes of play. McCachren suffered a severe cut on his head as result of a close action play. It was not learned whether he will play tomorrow.

Buscher looked best for the Maryland five with four baskets and one free shot.

The Tar Heels held a 24-16 lead at intermission.



Tomorrow afternoon the Carolinians move on the U. S. Naval Academy where they meet the strong middie court contingent on the Dalhgren Hall court.

Box Score

CAROLINA	G	F	TP
Aitken, f	4	0	8
Nelson, f	4	3	11
Glace, c	5	3	13
Harris, g	0	0	0
McCachren, g	2	3	7
Kaveny, g	0	0	0
Totals	15	9	39

MARYLAND	G	F	TP
Walters, f	3	1	7
Scheele, f	0	0	0
Dorka, f	0	0	0
Keller, f	0	0	0
Willis, c	2	1	5
Buscher, g	4	1	9
Daly, g	1	0	2
Guickeyson, g	3	2	8
Totals	13	5	31

Glove Lacings

By SMITH BARRIER

The Tar Heel boxers get their first chance to show off their wares before Carolina students and local fans tonight in the ring in the center of the Tin Can. The yearlings will sound the gong at 7:30 o'clock and the varsity outfit will follow.

Incidentally, we're sure the University officials would like for all students to kindly refrain from use of verbal emotions during the rounds, because that is a conference ruling. There is time between rounds for all favorable applauses and otherwise.

Last Saturday the Rowers swamped under a V.P.I. boxing team by the one-sided score of 7-1. They showed the ring fans that they could deliver the goods—and that they are headed for Charlottesville in a big way when the Southern Conference tourney comes around.

After next Saturday night the dopesters will have more of a chance to determine the likely SIC title winner for 1935. Carolina tackles Virginia here—and the outcome will go a long way towards picking the possible winner.

* * *

Those fighting Gamecocks are here! And they will show the fans some real fighting tonight against the Tar Heels. Coach De Mars holds the record of having turned out at least one SIC pug champion each year he has been in Columbia. This year he has a trio of ace scrappers: Captain Bill Humphlett, welterweight; Lorenzo Taylor, bantamweight; and Harry Hilton, junior-middleweight.

These three are hard-slugging, clever fighters. Both Taylor and Humphlett scored knockouts against Duke in the season's opener. Last week Taylor won by forfeit. Captain Humphlett was recipient of a TKO last week against N. C. State, one of the very few times this Gamecock leader has ever been out on his feet.

Hilton was hot against State. He stepped in fast and handed the Wolfpack's captain, Fabri, a licking, one of the few Mr. Fabri has had. That means this Hilton is also good.

The two other South Carolina men who look good to give the Tar Heels a real scrapping are Jenkins and Brown in the feather and heavyweight classes.

The remaining part of the sandlappers' lineup will find Cardwell at lightweight, who received a technical KO last week; Stoddard at middleweight, who won by forfeit last week; and Turner at light-heavyweight, who is inexperienced and did not fight last Saturday.

* * *

Coach Rowe has his full power to throw into the ring against this formidable array of Gamecocks. Captain Sam Giddins is still bothered with a slight cut over the eye, but he will be raring to go tonight. Marion Diehl has completely recovered from his cold, and the rest of the squad is in the ace of condition.

Ernie Eutsler will likely get the call in the featherweight and Big Jim Carruth will do the duties in the heavy. Lammie Alderman showed up very well last week in sending his Gobbler opponent to the towels, and will alternate with Carruth during the season.

Diehl, Joe Fisher, and Jules Medynski will face the hardest competition tonight, as has been stated. Giddins, Tommy O'Flaherty, and Maxie Novich should see the easiest going. May the sophomores come out as well tonight as they did a week ago—and all indications point that way.

PHI KAPPA SIGS BEAT L.C.A., 13-12

Link's Last Minute Foul Decides Issue; Alderman Leads Everett to Victory.

A foul goal with only 30 seconds to play gave Phi Kappa Sigma a 13-12 victory over Lambda Chi Alpha in yesterday's intramural basketball feature in the Tin Can. Everett, Phi Alpha, Theta Chi, and Ruffin were other winners.

With the score knotted at 12-all in the final minute, Tom Link, Phi Sigma Kappa substitute, stepped up to the foul line and dropped in a free try to earn his team a hard fought win. The victors led 9-8 for the first half and at no time were the two teams separated by more than a single point.

Theta Chi gained high score for the session with a 55-10 margin over S.P.E., and also had the two highest individual scorers—Bennett and Barker with 24 and 21 points respectively. Lasky of Phi Alpha paced his team to a 19-11 victory over St. Anthony as he found the hoop for 11 points.

Despite the fact that he arrived after the game had started, "Lammie" Alderman, varsity heavyweight, who had forsaken the ring for the afternoon, led Everett to a 26-3 win over Grimes. The score stood at 2-1 for the first quarter, but after the insertion of Alderman Everett easily went ahead.

The summaries:

Everett 26	Grimes 3
Ressler, f (2)	Umstead, f (2)
Davenport, f	Teal, f (1)
Mallard, c (2)	Willard, c
Hobbs, g (6)	Hallan, g
Willias, g (2)	Wall, g

Subs: Everett—Alderman (10), Leach (4), Barber; Grimes—Kiker, Crawley.

(Continued on last page)

MAT AND RING TEAMS PERFORM HERE TODAY

VARSITY BOXERS READY FOR BOUTS WITH GAMECOCKS

Coach Rowe's Pugilists to Meet South Carolina in Tin Can At 8:30 O'clock.

JIM CARRUTH WILL FIGHT

With all the members of the boxing squad in tip-top shape yesterday afternoon, the scrappers finished their preparation for the meet with the Gamecocks tonight in the Tin Can. Coach Rowe saw to it that his boys took light workouts as they tapered off their training. The bouts are scheduled to get under way at 8:30 o'clock, immediately following the freshman bouts.

All the boxers are raring to go, and they are eagerly awaiting the sound of the gong. The team will be the same as the one that vanquished the Gobblers last week by a 7-1 score, with two exceptions. One is the replacement of Lammie Alderman, who scored a technical knockout last week, by the veteran Jimmie Carruth, and the other is Ernie Eutsler for Johnny Edwards in the featherweight.

The team will line up in the following manner: Marion Diehl, bantamweight; Ernie Eutsler, featherweight; Tom O'Flaherty, lightweight; Joe Fisher, welterweight; Jule Medynski, junior middleweight; Captain Sam Giddins, middleweight; Maxie Novich, light heavyweight; and Jimmie Carruth, unlimited.

The squad is built around three veterans, Captain Giddins, Eutsler, bantam of last year's aggregation, and Carruth. However, Coach Rowe is placing a lot of confidence in his other five boys, who are sophomores and have yet to taste defeat this year.

Diehl and Medynski are slated to have tough sledding tonight when they stack up against some real opposition. The other boys are also going to be in for a busy evening, although the Gamecock bantam and junior middleweight are supposed to be the most powerful parts of their machine.

YEARLINGS WILL MEET VPI FROSH

First Year Wrestlers to Engage Tech Yearlings in Initial Meet at 2:30 Today.

When Carolina's frosh matmen meet V. P. I.'s yearling wrestlers in the Tin Can at 2:30 this afternoon onlookers will see two squads engaging in their first intercollegiate wrestling meet. Each group will be out fighting to begin its debut with a victory.

The starting men on both teams are still indefinite. Coach Quinlan in a short, final conditioning practice announced the following probable starters:

118-lb, Patrick; 126-lb, Ehringhaus; 135-lb, Ford; 145-lb, Claypoole; 155-lb, Gibbons or James; 165-lb, Gibbons or James; 175-lb, Love; heavy, Walborn.

Gibbons and James

It should be noted that Coach Quinlan has omitted Schulman, who was formerly considered the most likely starter in the 165-lb division and is substituting either Gibbons or James. Both of these men can weigh in below 155 pounds, and because of their pleasing showing the Tar Heel mentor will place one of them in a heavier division.

Competition in the baby Gobbler camp has been very keen and a lineup released earlier in the week may have many changes at the time of the meet. A probable group of starters in today's match will see the following visiting frosh grapplers:

118-lb, Walker or Butler; 126-lb, Inge or Porter; 135-lb, Magill or Peters; 145-lb, Gunvan; 155-lb, Tokarz or Turpak; 165-lb, Hewitt; 175-lb, Wollwine or Wiggs; heavy, Neel or Coleman.

TAR BABY BOXERS CLASH WITH P. J. C.

Bouts in Tin Can to Start at 7:30; Only Five Matches Will Be Held; Frosh Favored.

Tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Tin Can, as a preliminary to the varsity meet with South Carolina, the Tar Baby glovers come up against a scrappy outfit from the Presbyterian Junior College.

The visitors have fought but once, and in that go they were beaten badly by a Duke yearling team which is reputed to be one of the best in that school's history. Carolina's frosh were also defeated in their initial bow, going down by a close margin before the V. P. I. yearlings.

Both teams, however, have come along speedily since their opening setbacks, and at present are in top form. The Chapel Hillians will enter the contest this evening as favorites to cop the meet.

Just Five Bouts

Due to the fact that the P. J. C. has brought but five boxers, all in the lighter weights, Sol Shmurak, last week's K. O. victor, will not enter the ring; he fights in the 175-lb class.

Carolina's big berthas in tonight's battle are Bill Shores in the 145-lb class, and Ed O'Herron in the 135-lb division. Shores won his opener last week via the knockout route, after carrying his opponent three rounds, and he is out to better his showing in this evening's setto. Shores has been in the squared circle only once during the week, but he has gone through his paces daily and tonight should find him physically perfect.

O'Herron is undoubtedly the most improved of the lot, and his ten rounds of ring work dur-

(Continued on last page)

WRESTLERS OPEN SEASON OPPOSITE GOBBLERS AT 2:30

Varsity Grapplers Begin Fights Immediately After Frosh Finish; VPI Won Last Year.

EFLAND ONLY LETTERMAN

The Carolina and V.P.I. varsity wrestling teams will meet this afternoon in the Tin Can immediately following the clash between the first year aggregations of these institutions, which is slated to start at 2:30 o'clock. This will mark the first appearance of the 1935 matmen.

Coach Quinlan sent his charges through a light session yesterday in final preparation for the clash with the Virginians. The Tar Heels will be out to avenge an 18-10 drubbing, which the Gobblers administered to them at Blacksburg last year.

The probable starting lineup for Carolina is as follows:

118—Umstead, 126—Douglas, 135—Ward, 145—Gholsen, 155—Bonner, 165—Efland, 175—Ranson, Unlimited—Gwynn.

Efland vs. Pride Again

Undoubtably the outstanding bout of the afternoon will be in the 165 pound class between Efland of Carolina and Pride of V.P.I. The Gobbler flash defeated his clever Tar Heel opponent last year in a 2:25 minute time decision, in the feature scrap on the mat program.

Incidentally Efland is the only 1934 letterman who returned for competition this year. The group is made up largely of sophomores and varsity reserves. The brilliant quartet of sophomores, Umstead, Douglas, Ward, and Bonner, upon whose shoulders the brunt of victory will largely rest were all victorious in their matches with the V.P.I. frosh in 1934.

Carl Lugren, 118-lb; Russel Minter, 126-lb; Clete Broyles, 145-lb; and Bob Pride, 165-lb, are the Gobbler lettermen who

(Continued on last page)

Freshman Basketeers Run Wild Over Spray 'Y' For 47-17 Win

Mullis Tops Scoring With 12; Ruth Gets 8

Winners Easily Outclass Visitors From Start to Finish; Skidmore Uses Three Teams.

SPRAY GETS LONG SHOTS

The Tar Babies scored their most convincing victory of the season, routing the Spray Y. M. C. A. outfit by a decisive 47-17 count last night in the Tin Can before a small gathering.

Pete Mullis, flashy little forward, again romped away with scoring honors, tallying 12 points during the game. Earl Ruth followed with four field goals to register 8 markers for Carolina.

Spray "Y" was hopelessly outclassed and was unable to dent the Carolina defense at any time. The green-jerseyed youths fell back on long tosses that went wild the majority of the attempts.

Grogan Leads Visitors

Grogan, of the visiting team, managed to find the hoop four times on these long-distance tries and, coupled with a free toss, led his team with 9 points. Only two other "Y" players were able to penetrate the frosh secondaries, Royster and Holland each acquiring 4 tallies.

The Tar Babies worked well as a unit and split the opponent defense easily to score at random under the basket. The Spray outfit scored but once from beneath the net, but tallied from respectable distances each

(Continued on last page)

Box Score

U.N.C. FROSH	G	F	TP
Mullis, f	5	2	12
Boone, f	3	1	7
King, f	0	1	1
Bershak, f	2	1	5
Meroney, c	3	1	7
Hagey, c	2	1	5
Ruth, g	4	0	8
Grubb, g	0	0	0
Franks, g	1	0	2
Totals	20	7	47

SPRAY "Y"	G	F	TP
Grogan, f	4	1	9
Royster, f	2	0	4
Waller, c	0	0	0
East, g	0	0	0
Holland, g	1	2	4
Totals	7	3	17

Non-scoring subs: Carolina Frosh: Martin, f; Johnson, f; McDonald, f; Atwood, c; Dowd, g; Allen, g; Peacock, g. Spray: Davis, f; Burcham, c; Barksdale, g.

Referee: Dave McCachren.

FOOTBALL PRACTICE

Coach Carl Snavely will hold football practice in Kenan stadium this afternoon starting at 2 o'clock instead of the usual later hour.

Zoology Review

Irene Bolick, graduate assistant in zoology, has a review in a recent number of Biological Abstracts. The memoir reviewed is "Recherches sur l'histologie des eponges" by Odette Tuzet.

Mills To Instruct Kickers For Last Time Here Today

World's Outstanding Authority On Football Kicking to Conclude Visit Tonight.

Sport fans in this section will have their last chance this afternoon to witness the teacher and master of football kicking, Leroy Mills. The New York attorney plans to leave Chapel Hill tonight, but will give the Tar Heel players one more lesson in Kenan stadium before departing.

The world's outstanding authority on kicking has already done much with the Carolina boys despite the short while he has been here. Using Mills' methods and adding some concentrated practice, there is no reason why the Tar Heels shouldn't come through regularly when an extra-point, field goal, or long accurate punt is needed.

Yesterday afternoon's instruction by Mills featured place and drop-kicking. After the players had been drilled a long time in holding the ball and kicking it, decided results were noted. Babe Daniel, Charlie McIver, Murray Kanner, Tom Burnett, and Bricklemyer all did some excellent place-kicking, while McIver and Burnett were especially apt at drop-kicking.

Mills again made his pupils

(Continued on last page)

WILLIAM B. NEAL IS INTERRED HERE

Final Rites Conducted Yesterday For Local Business Man Who Died in Florida.

Simple and impressive funeral services were held here yesterday for William B. Neal, prominent Chapel Hill business man, who died Wednesday in Tampa, Florida, where he had gone in the hope of regaining his health.

The services were held in the University Methodist church and were conducted by the Reverend W. A. Jenkins, the pastor, who was assisted by Reverend Rozzelle of Lenoir and Reverend Walter Patten of Fayetteville, both former pastors.

Deceased Praised

Mr. Rozelle, who was Mr. Neal's pastor for four years here, paid tribute to his high character, basing his observations on four years of close association.

At the church service a choir composed of George Lawrence, George McKie, G. A. Harrer and Mutt Richardson sang "Crossing the Bar" and "Lead Kindly Light."

Active pallbearers were: R. A. Eubanks, Bruce Strowd, J. S. Bennett, Milton E. Hogan, Jack Andrews, Lee M. Brooks, Collier Cobb, Jr., and Dr. Leonard Fields.

Burial was made in the Chapel Hill cemetery.

PHI KAPPA SIGS BEAT L.C.A., 13-12

(Continued from page three)

Phi Kap. Sig. 13	L. Chi Al. 12
Wilson, f	Lothian, f (4)
Queen, f	Shore, f
Love, c (3)	Liebfried, c
Bowen, g (2)	Marshall, g (4)
Sharp, g (7)	Brooks, g (4)

Subs: Phi Kappa Sigma—Link (1); Lambda Chi Alpha—Hiel, DeVito, Allen.

Phi Alpha 19	St. Anthony 11
Lasky, f (11)	Morris, f
Sobelson, f (6)	Hard, f (2)
Steinreich, c	Jeanes, c (9)
Greengold, g (2)	Rhoades, g
Goldman, g	Walker, g

Subs: Phi Alpha—Fast, Potter, Geddins; St. Anthony—Gardner.

Theta Chi 55	S.P.E. 10
Barker, f (21)	Heldricks, f (6)
Bennett, f (24)	Chestnutt, f
Cromart, c (8)	Sawyer, c (2)
Rogers, g	Taylor, g (2)
Edwards, g (2)	Danison, g

Subs: Theta Chi—Austin; S. P. E.—Pitts, Parker.

Ruffin 33	Mayflower Club 12
Sake, f (4)	Russ, f
Merryfield, f (4)	Daniels, f (4)
Ogolsby, c (5)	Hunt, c (2)
Pool, g (4)	Lipton, g (2)
Garrison, g (2)	Phillips, g (2)

Subs: Ruffin—Wall, Minor, Hicks (8), Hunt, Oliver, Petrea (6), Stricker.

MILLS TO INSTRUCT KICKERS FOR LAST TIME HERE TODAY

(Continued from page three)

practice their kicking from a point just a few yards from the goal post line and about 20 yards toward the sidelines, the most difficult angle possible to get a ball through the uprights.

Closing yesterday's workout, as the moon started coming up, Mills, Coach Snavely, the star freshman Burnett, and ex-Captain Barclay entered in a drop-kicking contest. Of course the master took honors, but the others were not far behind.

Coach Snavely finally quit, disgusted, but stated that he certainly would like to know what would have happened if Mills could have given him (Coach Snavely) instruction during his playing days.

EPIDEMIC OF FLU SEEMS DECLINING

Number Confined in Infirmary Drops from 42 to 37.

The present influenza epidemic has apparently passed its peak and is now on the decline judging from the number of students confined in the infirmary.

Thirty-seven students, five less than the previous day, were confined to the infirmary yesterday: E. S. Simpson, W. R. Worsley, B. B. Langdon, W. M. Calloway, Robert Booth, John Innes, W. A. Innes, W. L. Hargett, C. H. Fries, Ralph Burgin, O. T. Parks, H. R. Bluestone, Carl Huth, W. C. Fields, Walter Stamps.

Steve Collins, Francis Raspberry, Bill Manter, Ben Royal, Mary Greene, H. A. McGowan, June Grimes, E. A. Pearsall, Reed Sarratt, H. M. Acker, Catherine Buck, Mrs. Harry Moore, Bruce Smith, W. R. McLean, F. E. Culvern, Tom Hines, Fred Gramms, W. R. Graham, W. M. Mouter, Mildred Howard, and J. C. Gronthan.

Freshman Basketeers Run Wild Over Spray

(Continued from page three)

time.

Boone, who opened the game at forward, rang up 7 points, as did Red Meroney at center. Their alternates, Bershak and Hagey, each totaled 5 during their time on the floor.

Spray Scores First

The game opened slowly and Spray drew first blood when Grogan hurled his first two-pointer in. It took four minutes for Carolina to retaliate, but Boone did with a vengeance, scoring five points in rapid succession.

There was another lapse in scoring and with but five minutes to go in the first half, the score read 10-6. Carolina then really commenced to "spray" their opponents, as Mullis scored 6 and Ruth 4 during the barrage of shots at the enemy basket. The gun ended the half with Carolina a mile in front by the one sided score of 23-7.

The second half opened with Meroney, Mullis and Ruth alternating in sinking the ball three times in the first minute and a half. A dazed Spray team took time out but at the renewal of play, Meroney and Franks tallied again with two pointers and Mullis' foul brought the count to 34-7.

Spray made their largest rally of the night by scoring three points in succession but the Tar Babies avenged this with an 11-point onslaught that carried everything before it. Hagey shone in this furious spree as he dropped in two one-handers. Another long one by Grogan broke the spell and made the score 45-12.

The third team finished the onesided game, and Spray took advantage by outscoring them 5 points to 2. King closed the encounter by netting a technical foul called for excessive times out by Spray.

WRESTLERS OPEN SEASON OPPOSITE GOBBLERS AT 2:30

(Continued from page three)

will compete today. Of this quartet, Broyles was the only grappler to taste defeat in the tilt with Carolina last season. He lost on a fall to Morton Hiller, brilliant welterweight scrapper.

V.P.I. will sorely miss the services of Captain Nelson Waldrop, 175-pounder, who was twice winner of the Southern Conference championship, while Carolina undoubtably feels the same way toward the losses of Captain Mathewson, Hiller and Mac Auman.

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS

He's a Jolly Good Fellow

Guy Kibbee's initiation into the "Zebras" constitutes one of the many hilarious moments in "Babbitt," First National's adaptation of the Sinclair Lewis novel. Aline MacMahon and Claire Dodd are in the cast of this film which comes to the Carolina theatre today.

Penland Weavers Astonish City Folks With Their Art

World's Fair Spectators Marvel at Exhibitors from Blue Ridge; Miss Lucy Morgan, Director of Weavers and Potters, Tells Anecdotes Connected with Mountain Craftsmen.

A whole house made of logs and furnished with beds, chairs, and the other necessary components was loaded on a truck and transported intact from the North Carolina mountains to the Cenutry of Progress Exhibition in Chicago by the industrious Penland Weavers and Potters under the guidance of Miss Lucy Morgan. Miss Morgan and her mountaineer craftsmen were highly successful, even sensational, with their exhibit of beautiful hand-woven goods, pewter ware and pottery at the World's Fair. Many of the Yankees were as astounded by the little establishment from the mountains, as the woodsmen were with the skyscrapers, skyrides, and the vast throngs which threatened to engulf them.

Crowds Curious

Visitors were incessant in their demands to see Miss Morgan. When she appeared they would say, "Why she looks just like anybody else." A newspaper reporter, upon learning that Ralph Morgan, Miss Morgan's nephew, had just come from the mountains, wanted to know where his coonskin cap and squirrel gun were.

One of the cabins of the Fair exhibit was assembled on the exhibition grounds. In setting up the house the mountaineers ran into something that was as strange to them as the skyscrapers—union labor. The union laborers threatened to dump the little cabin into Lake Michigan if the hill-billies "nailed another shingle." As a result, the job was completed by the union men.

Miss Morgan has a store of amusing anecdotes about the characters in the Blue Ridge hills. She received just before Christmas a rush order for woven bags. Sadie, one of the weaver women, undertook the task. Saturday night came and it seemed impossible to complete the work. Sunday morning Sadie rode a mule seven miles in the rain to the weavers' cabin. "You haven't got the bags, have you?" asked Miss Morgan. "Yes mam," replied Sadie and produced two sacks full of bags. Miss Morgan, or course, wished to know how the job had been accomplished without working Sunday morning, for she knew Sadie would not do that. "Well' we worked till 12 o'clock Saturday night," the weaver replied, "and then we set the hands of the clock back two hours and beat the Lord."

"Proff" Unperturbable

Those who know "Proff" Koch must be aware of his keen interest in the Penland weavers. Whenever he can escape his multifold duties he breaks away and pays a visit to the little settlement in the mountains. Upon one of such visits "Proff" Koch found his cabin occupied by three ladies. At first the famous director was afraid that the other occupants would disturb his morning shaving. However, after a remarkably few number of cuts he managed to accomplish the morning shave in fine style and in complete presence of mind.

The weavers are now building a log theatre in which they expect to make and produce mountain plays. The theater will be named after Professor Koch in recognition of the aid, which he has extended, and the great interest which he has taken in their work.

TAR BABY BOXERS CLASH WITH P. J. C.

(Continued from page three)

ing this past week has helped him no little in reaching his present fine form.

Tommy Bass will most probably go in the 125-lb class, though the Benton boy has given him plenty of competition for that spot in the past few workouts.

Larry Hendel, due to his victory in the 119-lb division versus V. P. I., has that field all to himself and there should be plenty of fighting when Larry starts swinging his long arms in that peculiar but effective windmill fashion.

Hedrick will be the heavy of the team, and he will go to town in the 155-lb class. He is still pretty much of unknown quantity, but his aggressive scrapping during his past workouts have stamped him as a capable performer.

BERNARD SPEAKS ON LIFE OF LEE

(Continued from page one)

rilla war. It was a universal appeal to the south.

"Lee was sitting on a log not far from the Court House. Colonel Alexander, his chief of artillery, urged him not to surrender, but to order demobilization. Upon the decision of this man sitting on the log rested the fate of the entire south," Dr. Bernard said.

"Lee told Alexander that he would surrender within a few hours, as it would be a crime not to surrender. Lee said, 'Guerilla warfare is the worst type of hell possible'."

Bernard said that if Lee had consented to a guerilla war, "there would not be a vestige of this southern civilization."

MRS. U. T. HOLMES TO GIVE READING

French Professor's Wife to Present "The Children's Hour."

The first Bull's Head lecture program for the winter quarter is set for Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, when Mrs. Urban T. Holmes will read "The Children's Hour" by Lillian Hellman.

Mrs. Holmes is the wife of Dr. Urban T. Holmes of the University French department. She appeared last year on a Bull's Head program when she read "The Lake."

"The Children's Hour," a drama now playing on Broadway, concerns itself with two little girls who decidedly stir up trouble among their elders. Though the little girls play important parts in the drama, the idea of the play is not at all juvenile.

Eugenia Rawls, a former member of the Carolina Playmakers, is among the cast of characters in the current production.

Mrs. Holmes has appeared before Carolina audiences on several previous occasions as a reader.

MULLIS WILL VETO COMMITTEE ACTION

(Continued from page one)

duties of the honor council along the initially proposed plans.

Mullis then announced the appointment of Warren Haddaway as chairman of the honor council, to succeed him "as I am too busy already."

Nick Read, who stated at the meeting on Wednesday night that the court would have suspension powers, said in retraction yesterday, "The court as it has been conceived thus far would not have the power of suspension; but only the power to recommend to the student council that a freshman which it has convicted for violation of the honor code be suspended.

"It seems to me," he went on to say, "that if the freshman class as a body elected an honor court and delegated to it the powers of suspension, then there would be nothing to withhold them.

"The court will act," he continued, "as a spearhead in a drive to make the freshman class honor conscious, which, after all, is just as important as trying a case."

Read intimated that the issue would be submitted to the class, but said, "The plan may be reorganized, but no action has been taken as yet.

Car Stolen

A 1934 Ford V-8 belonging to Sam Clark, junior, was stolen from in front of the Phi Gamma Delta house sometime between midnight Thursday and 6 o'clock yesterday morning.

Sophomore Co-eds

Sophomore co-eds will have an important meeting in Gerrard hall Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

WITH THE CHURCHES

Baptist

10 a. m.—Student class taught by M. J. Hagood.

10 a. m.—Co-ed class taught by Mrs. E. T. Howell.

11 a. m.—Worship and sermon—Dr. Binkley. Topic: "Was Jesus Insane?"

7 p. m.—B. Y. P. U. for college students.

7 p. m.—Young People's Society for high school students.

United

10:15 a. m.—Student class taught by Dr. McKee. Topic: "Budgeting the New Year."

11 a. m.—Public worship—Dr. McKee. Topic: "A Stimulating Motto."

7 p. m.—Student forum led by Professor Winkler. Topic: "The College Student and the Church."

Lutheran

10:15 a. m.—Student discussion group led by Maurice Haskett. Topic: "The Bible."

11 a. m.—Service—The Reverend Roscoe B. Fisher. Topic: "Self, Others, and God."

Catholic

8:30 a. m.—Mass—Dr. Morrissey (Gerrard hall).

Presbyterian

10 a. m.—Student class taught by the Reverend Watt Cooper. Topic: "The Grip of the Movies."

11 a. m.—Morning worship. Sermon by the Reverend Donald Stewart. Topic: "What Use Foreign Missions."

7 p. m.—Student forum. Topic: "Religion on the Bookstands."

Episcopal

8 a. m.—Holy Communion.

11 a. m.—Service and sermon. The preacher will be the Right Reverend Thomas C. Darst, bishop of east Carolina.

4:30 to 6 p. m.—Tea in the parish house.

7 p. m.—Young People's Service League.

8 p. m.—Prayers and organ.

8:30 p. m.—The bishop will talk informally to students in the parish house. Questions and discussion.

Methodist

9:45 a. m.—Sunday School.

11 a. m.—Worship and service. Sermon by the Reverend W. A. Jenkins.

7 p. m.—Student Forum.

New Library Service

Supplementing the University library's many services to students, an information desk has just been established near the card catalog. This desk will be occupied only during the busy parts of the day and all students are invited to make use of it in order to facilitate their use of the library.

THE
Young Men's Shop
126-128 E. Main St.
DURHAM, N. C.

ECONOMY—

True economy does not always consist in buying the cheapest possible. Buying the most value for the least money is true economy.

Have You Tried Our Shop Lately for True Economy?

THE ORANGE PRINTSHOP
126 Rosemary Phone 3781

"WITHIN THE GATES"
8:30 P. M.
PLAYMAKERS THEATRE

The Daily Tar Heel

"Y" CRIME DISCUSSION
MONDAY—7:15 P. M.
Y. M. C. A. BUILDING

SERVED BY THE UNITED PRESS

VOLUME XLIII | CHAPEL HILL, N. C., SUNDAY, JANUARY 20, 1935 | NUMBER 84

'Y' WILL DISCUSS CRIME PROBLEMS AGAIN TOMORROW

Study of "Disorganized Society" To Continue; Bost and Yeatman Will Give Talks.

COUNCIL TO HEAR OLSEN

The Y. M. C. A. cabinets will open their second program in the study of "Social Disorganization" tomorrow night at 7:15 o'clock in the "Y" building.

Tom Bost, Carolina senior, will lead the discussion in the junior-senior cabinet. The group will consider "What Causes Crime."

T. P. Yeatman, sophomore, will discuss "Who Is the Criminal" before the second-year group. The meeting for the sophomores will be held in their cabinet room on the second floor of the Y. M. C. A.

Law Enforcement

Presenting numerous actual problems, Yeatman plans to show the difficulty the state has in apprehending the person really responsible for a given crime.

Yeatman's talk follows a lecture on "What Is Crime and Theories of Punishment" made by Dr. Lee Brooks of the sociology department last Monday. Tomorrow night's discussion will be led by George MacFarland, Phil Kind, C. C. Martin, and Don McKee who will consider the points brought out in Yeatman's speech.

The Freshman Friendship Council will meet in Gerrard hall to hear Professor W. A. Olsen of the University English department. Professor Olsen will address the group on "Bull Sessions."

The cabinets will meet jointly next Sunday when a special program will be presented by visiting churchmen.

Advance Seat Sale For Frantz Concert Continues Briskly

Pianist Widely Acclaimed as Master of Art; Recently Returned from Western Tour.

The advance seat sale indicates a large crowd of music lovers will turn out to hear Dalies Frantz, distinguished young American pianist, when he makes his first appearance here next Wednesday evening, January 23, in Memorial hall at 8:30 o'clock.

The seat sale has taken a big jump in the last few days, and the best seats are going at a rapid clip, reports Phi Mu Alpha fraternity, the music organization which is sponsoring the concert. Seats are on sale at the University music department, and mail orders will receive careful attention.

Frantz comes here from a tour through the middlewest during which he was acclaimed in terms of highest praise by critics everywhere. Recently in a concert in New York, his playing evoked tremendous enthusiasm among the hard-boiled metropolitan critics.

"Tremendous Ovation"

Frantz also recently appeared in Philadelphia where he was received with that same enthusiasm that greeted his New York performance. The Philadelphia Public Ledger said of him "an exceptionally musicianly performance. Received tremendous

(Continued on page two)

Survey Shows Professors Here Are Among Most Poorly Paid

Comparison of 43 Leading Universities Reveals That Carolina Is 39th in Salaries Paid to Professors and Next to Last In Remuneration for Instructors.

No outstanding university in the United States pays its faculty such low salaries as the University of North Carolina, it is revealed in a study just completed by Felix A. Grisette, editor of University Facts, a publication of the Alumni Loyalty Fund of the University.

The current issue of University Facts carries a set of tables which reveal in a factual manner the extent to which University salaries are low. A group of leading colleges and universities ranked according to the average salaries actually paid faculty members shows North Carolina near the bottom of the list.

N. C. in Last Four

North Carolina ranks 39th in the list of 43 universities considered. Princeton leads with $7,500 as the average salary scale for full professors. North Carolina pays $2,855, and South Carolina at the bottom of the list pays $2,206.

The survey shows that comparative salaries paid by the University to instructors are even lower than those for full professors. Considering the same group of universities as before Princeton again leads, paying an average salary scale of $2,275 for instructors. North Carolina is next to the bottom paying $1,190. South Carolina, paying $1,000 again, is at the bottom.

The University of North Carolina however leads all other institutions in one classification—the percentage of salary reductions. The cut at the University, for the full period of the current biennium, is 32 per cent. None of this has been restored as yet. The University of Washington originally cut salaries 37.32 per cent, but has restored approximately 20 per cent during the current year.

Largest Cut

Forty-four colleges were considered in making the comparison on salary reductions and restorations. North Carolina, with the largest cut and no restoration, won an easy first place. Yale, Princeton, Chicago, Vermont, and other colleges where there were no reductions are

(Continued on last page)

SECURITY PLANS WILL BE REVISED

Leaders Plan to Alter F.D.R.'s Social Security Program on Six Point Basis.

Washington, Jan. 19.—(UP)—A revision of the administration's social security program will be sought on the basis of six principal considerations, it was revealed tonight as leaders planned to push legislation ahead rapidly in both the House and the Senate next week.

Outstanding points to be decided during the Congressional consideration of the Wagner-Lewis security bills are:

1. Whether the federal contribution to state old age pension funds should be increased.
2. Clarification of the provisions for the government sale of annuities.
3. Relation of the measures to business recovery.
4. Technical correction of obvious mistakes in the drafting of the legislation.
5. The effect of public reaction, principally in connection with the emotional wave of support for the Townsend plan.
6. Investigation of the factual background and experience of foreign countries in the field of old age and unemployment insurance.

Senator Frederick Van Nuys, Democrat of Indiana, claimed that he believed there has not been enough attention given in the report of the President's committee on social security to the experiences of foreign countries in working out the old age and depression problem.

WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION

Betty Durham, president of the Woman's Association, announces that the regular quarterly meeting of the association will take place Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock in Graham Memorial. It is important that every woman student be present. Plans for the co-ed dance and other business will be discussed.

Noted Chinaman

Dr. T. Z. Koo, Chinese churchman who will address the student body Sunday night, January 27.

FLU NEWS

The assumption that the influenza epidemic has passed its peak is proving itself correct. Yesterday 30 students, seven less than the day before, were confined in the infirmary.

Yesterday's list follows: Steve Collins, Francis Raspberry, Bill Manteo, Mary Greene, Ben Royal, H. A. McGowan, June Grimes, E. A. Pearsall, Reed Sarratt, H. M. Acker, Katherine Buck, Mrs. Harry Moore, Bruce Smith, E. S. Simpson, B. B. Langdon, W. A. Innes, W. L. Hargett, Ralph Burgin, O. T. Parks, Walter Stamps, F. E. Culvern, Tom Hines, W. R. Graham, Mildred Howard, Kate Harrison, W. R. Keats, Branch Craige, Sherwood Githens, Mildred Cohen, and Henry Lube.

Phi Pictures

Members of the Phi Assembly will have their pictures taken for the Yackety Yack Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock in front of Murphey hall.

Lions to Hear Grumman

R. M. Grumman will speak before the Raleigh Lions Club tomorrow about the services of the University Extension Division.

N. C. CLUB TO HEAR STATE PROFESSOR

Dr. G. W. Forster to Address Group on Subject of Taxation and Farmer.

The North Carolina Club will meet Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in the library room of the department of rural social-economics. The speaker will be Dr. G. W. Forster of State College whose general topic will be "Taxation and the Farmer."

In connection with his address, Dr. Forster will discuss the magnitude and trend in farm taxes in recent years; the problem of farm tax delinquencies; the property tax vs. sales taxes; and the tax burden of agriculture in terms of net farm income.

Taxation Authority

Dr. Forster is recognized as an authority in the field of agricultural taxation, having done considerable work in this connection for the North Carolina Tax Commission. During the last year or so he has directed an exhaustive study of tax delinquency in North Carolina, the study being sponsored by the Emergency Relief Administration. The facts on tax delinquency for practically every county in North Carolina were gathered.

Dr. Forster has also made a study attempting to find out how the shift from property taxes to sales taxes has affected the agricultural interests of the state. He has recently been in controversy with the State Department of Revenue over this matter. He proposes to present the facts on Monday night. The public is invited to hear his address.

PUPPETS TO GIVE 'FAUST' TUESDAY

Tony Sarg's Marionettes to Be Seen in Two Productions of Faustian Legend.

The Tony Sarg Marionettes will give performances of "Faust" at 3:30 and 8 o'clock Tuesday in the Playmakers theatre. Tickets are now on sale at Alfred-Williams store, at the Intimate Bookshop, and the Book Exchange. The price is 25 cents for children and 50 cents for adults.

In selecting Faust for his new Marionette production, Mr. Sarg is carrying out a wish which he has been harboring for years. The fact that Faust is the oldest known marionette play, and a subject of indisputable literary and legendary fame is in itself a good reason for its production.

Magic Effects

However, Mr. Sarg has given full sway to his inventive genius by using as much magic and wizardry as the characters of the play allow. The uncanny transformations and magic effects accomplished could not possibly be achieved by human actors with the same wonderful results.

The first editions of the life of Faust were published in Frankford-on-Main in 1857. Since then, reprints and translations have appeared in almost every country. Mr. Stas Azoy, who collaborated with Tony Sarg on the new marionette production have eliminated all the phrases which might be unsuitable for children and the result is a highly entertaining, yet educational play.

Enrollment Shows Drop Over Fall Quarter

Total of 2,546 Students Register For Winter Session.

A total of 2,546 students is enrolled in the University this quarter, 159 less than last quarter, it was announced yesterday by the associate registrar, Ben Husbands.

The figure 159 represents the difference between the 290 students who did not return after the fall quarter and the 131 enrolled now for the first time this year.

The winter quarter registration this year is 232 more than it was last year, but last year's winter quarter registration fell only 122 below that of the fall quarter.

Among the registrants this quarter are 73 fall quarter students who were declared ineligible for registration but were re-admitted on probation.

STATE WILL CITE BANKING RECORDS AGAINST GERMAN

Prosecution Expects to Prove Bruno Alone Handled Ransom.

Flemington, Jan. 19.—(UP)—Banking and brokerage accounts of Hauptmann will prove that he alone handled the $50,000 Lindbergh ransom, the prosecution declared today.

Although the trial is in adjournment for the week-end, Attorney General Wilentz and his staff of prosecutors worked unceasingly building up a case that is designed to send Hauptmann to the electric chair.

Next week, Wilentz said, the state will climax the case with a smashing drive against the defense's attempts to prove that Hauptmann was a petty moneylender.

Reilly and his staff planned to spend the week-end analyzing the state's exhibits which to date have amassed overwhelming evidence against the gaunt defendent.

Reilly said that Hauptmann had been given a copy of all the state's exhibits in monetary transactions and that the prisoner says that he can disprove the state's contention that any ransom money figured in his various dealings.

GRIMES TO ENJOY BANQUET TUESDAY

Dormitory Plans Most Elaborate Get-Together in Years.

Grimes dormitory plans to hold the biggest dormitory get-together that the University has seen for the last several years when its banquet is given at the Mayflower Club Tuesday night at 7:45 o'clock.

All recent dormitory affairs have only reached the "smoker" stage. Tuesday night's banquet will be much more enjoyable, it was announced.

Professor C. C. Crittenden of the University history department has accepted Grimes' invitation and will be guest speaker for the occasion. Though his subject is still unannounced, he is expected to speak in his own inimitable style.

BULL'S HEAD POSTPONES MRS. HOLMES'S READING

Due to a conflict with the matinee performance of Tony Sarg's marionettes, Mrs. Urban T. Holmes's appearance at the Bull's Head bookshop has been postponed until January 29.

GROUP CONTINUES WORK OF PROBING SERVICE BUREAUS

Student Advisory Committee Hopes to Finish Report by Middle of February.

AFFECTS WHOLE COLLEGE

Detailed investigations, involving the compilation of a research report on the entire administrative set-up, will be carried on during the coming week in the public service departments by the student advisory committee.

The physical lay-out, save for the power plant, has been completely inspected by the student group. With the survey and report on the financial and administrative details of the entire system, the committee will have published a detailed report on the consolidated service units.

Report in February

After the final report has been made near the middle of February, the committee will continue to serve for the remainder of the year as a special student advisory group to the business administration.

The committee has been working slowly and thoroughly in order that details could be checked before the official report is tendered. In addition to the recommendatory function of the group, analytical and explanatory aspects will appear in the group's report in order to acquaint the student body with the business administration and the service system.

Plants Termed Efficient

Chairman Francis Fairley, on being interviewed yesterday, said that few students realize the scope and function of the service system, and emphasized

(Continued on page two)

Sam Selden To Read Sean O'Casey's Play At Theatre Tonight

Current Drama Pictures Life of Hyde Park Passers-by.

"Within the Gates," Sean O'Casey's popular current drama which will be read by Samuel Selden in the Playmakers theatre tonight at 8:30 o'clock, is a panoramic play about life as it might appear to those who come and go through Hyde Park in the four season's of life's year.

The Church, the State, the Salvation Army, youth and old age, wisdom and folly, poetry, music, dance, creation and death are all there in Hyde Park. Some meet life half-way, fight it off, or meet it full-face and go out with it gaily on the road to death, as the Young Whore goes, who is in a way the protagonist of the play.

In the cast which is now playing O'Casey's drama at the National theatre in New York is Lillian Gish, Bramwell Fletcher, Moffatt Johnston, Mary Morris and others.

The public is cordially invited to hear Selden, who is technical director of the Playmakers, read "Within the Gates." Selden's appearance will be the first reading since Paul Green read his "Roll Sweet Chariot" in the theatre last fall.

Speaking of O'Casey, Ruth Woodbury Sedgwick said, "At 50 he has cut away from the formula which gave him fame, and started off on the adventure of

(Continued on page two)

The Daily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Union Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where it is printed daily except Mondays, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Holidays. Entered as second class matter at the post office of Chapel Hill, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 for the college year.

A. T. Dill ..... Editor
Robert C. Page, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
Joe Webb ..... Business Manager
George Underwood ..... Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

EDITORIAL BOARD—Phil Hammer, chairman.
FEATURE BOARD—Nelson Lansdale, chairman; Nick Read, Bob Browder, Francis Clingman, J. E. Poindexter, W. M. Cochrane, Willis Harrison.
CITY EDITORS—Irving Suss, Walter Hargett, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.
TELEGRAPH EDITORS—Stuart Rabb, Charlie Gilmore.
DESK MAN—Eddie Kahn.
SPORTS DEPARTMENT—Jimmy Morris and Smith Barrier, co-editors, Tom Bost, Lee Turk, Len Rubin, Fletcher Ferguson, Stuart Sechriest, Lester Ostrow, Ira Sarasohn.
EXCHANGES—Margaret Gaines.
STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER—Don Becker.
REPORTERS—Bill Hudson, John Smith, J. F. Jonas, Ralph Sprinkle, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Raymond Howe, William Jordan, Morton Feldman.

Business Staff

ASST. BUSINESS MANAGER ..... Butler French
COLLECTION MANAGER ..... Herbert Osterheld
OFFICE MANAGERS ..... Walter Eckert, Roy Crooks
NATIONAL ADVERTISING ..... Boylan Carr
DURHAM REPRESENTATIVE—Joe Murnick.
LOCAL ADVERTISING—Hugh Primrose, Robt. Sosnik, Eli Joyner (managers), Bill MacDonald, Louis Shaffner, Page Keel, Bill McLean, Crist Blackwell.

CITY EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE: JIM DANIEL

Sunday, January 20, 1935

PARAGRAPHICS

How childish of the city manager to want to play tag with the students.

Studying in the University's musical library, we imagine, involves the taking of lots of notes.

The "purely educational" aspect of Mullis' frosh honor council shows definite need of a curriculum change.

Reporting For the Greeks

The Inter-fraternity Council is doing better. It meets regularly and has nice discussions. Its members, being bone fide Greeks, revel in the atmosphere of true inter-fraternity brotherhood. But it seems that the cost of membership is not at all in proportion to what the member fraternities get out of the council's activities.

Take the delegates from the council to the national inter-fraternity convention, for instance. It costs money to send two strapping young men up in the cold north, but the council, with true Greek spirit, donated ample funds from its treasury so bountifully supplied with $10 annual fees. So the delegates zestfully attended.

But the report to the Inter-fraternity Council when they returned was not so bountiful. Either the boys forgot what happened or else nothing happened. We know the latter is not true, for a detailed 24-in. x 20-in. 6-point type letter vindicates the doubt on this point.

At any rate, local fraternities pay $10 yearly to send two young fellows on a pleasant, nonliquidating excursion and to supply a good old-fashioned annual banquet. Is it worth it? And is it the council's obligation to approve of the reports of its delegates when those reports have no essential information which would be beneficial in the local inter-fraternity administration? The council should answer these questions itself, but we'll wager they won't.

It's a Cold, Cold World

Despite the many warnings and precautions which were brought out in the talks in freshman assembly by Drs. Hedgpeth and Berryhill, we notice that roughly one-half of the inmates in the infirmary in the declining flu epidemic were first-year men.

This may or may not have significance. It would appear logical to say that the freshmen did not heed the advice of the medical authorities as regards precautions against the common cold. On the other hand, the fact that the other half were upperclassmen, it may also seem logical to assume that a few more years under fire has no effect on a student's reaction to similar advice, as was given to him in the first years or through this newspaper.

At any rate, we are glad to see the epidemic disappearing. One suggestion that we, not as doctors but as subjects thereof, can offer is that students with coughs or the sniffles immediately become "non-circulatory," treating their symptoms as prescribed and avoiding the transfer of germs to others. We daresay that most of the flu cases resulted from contacts with inconsiderate fellow-students who failed to protect others from their afflictions.

The infirmary force should be complimented on the efficiency with which the flu was checked.

Give Us Monograms

We, and the campus, wonder what has happened to the organization which should, by all tokens and standards, be one of the most prominent and influential groups on the campus. The enigmatic group is the Monogram Club.

Not far back the club was reorganized and placed under the leadership of capable and efficient officers. A constitution, which we thought was an ideal framework, was drawn up and the members pledged themselves to renewed effort in order to elevate the club and the university to the position of esteem and prestige which they should rightfully claim.

Whether the pressure of athletic participation, the belief on their part that things are all right as they stand, or off-the-field inertia have been among the reasons for the decadence of the group, we know not. But we do know that few freshmen ever have heard of the organization, which is unfortunate not only because the objective purposes of the group have been neglected, but also because membership to the Monogram Club was once the aim of many frosh.

We emphasize the importance of reorganization and continued activity. Else another promising group will be relegated with nonchalant unkindness to the ranks of comparative obscurity.

Curricula And Campus

It is not our place to comment on the experience of years as reflected in the new departmental contributions to the University's revised curriculum. We had our chance last spring to submit the student viewpoint as an agent in the moulding of a new system of educational requirement, but we failed to take advantage to any measurable degree. But we daresay, despite this failure on our part and the subsequent investment of the privilege of revision in the hands of our administrators, there will be no end of howling when the complete revision is announced.

Curricula are peculiar institutions. Some are purported to take a kid from high school, put him to strict schedule for two years, and then let him ramble as his mind wills in the field of his choices. Others let the minds ramble first and the specialization occur later. Still others let the rambling constitute the entire course and others buckle the boy to schedule for four years.

Any way you look at it, curricula are not going to suit every student. But we can rest assured that our faculty and administration know enough about the functions of a state institution to prepare schedules taking into consideration the individual, his preparation, and his future—and the University and the state.

Flowers for The Postman

The section entitled Art, in the latest issue of Time, is devoted largely to a discussion of beautification in the Carolinas. To quote the popular weekly: "Apart from the sea islands to the east and the mountains to the west, the bulk of both states is flat, sandy, scrubby, down-at-heel." The efforts are given at length of the Highway Beautification Committee, a subdivision of the Carolina Motor Club, to ameliorate agrarian appearances by conducting a Rural Mail Box Improvement Campaign. The result proved to be widespread and gratifying.

For a long while, there has been a definite need for such action in this state. Apart from mail boxes perched on rotten fence posts, the approaches to most of our towns and cities are ruined by unsightly junk heaps and glaring bill boards. North Carolina should not be content with its miles of paved highways, but efforts should be made to improve the appearance of these roads for the sake of natives as well as visitors.

Mr. Thyssen, What Now?

With the Saar Plebiscite over and that region returned to its old boss, Germany, after being under the protection of the League of Nations for some 15 years, the world at large stands by and wonders what can possibly be the final outcome of the whole matter. The Saar region, which has been under French financial control since the end of the World War, is unusually rich in its numerous coal deposits; its natural products are so significant that Germany, upon gaining the territory, was again raised to a position of importance among the world powers.

There can be no doubt maintained but that one Adolf Hitler is more than happy about the gain. There can be no doubt entertained, on the other hand, that there is another "big-dog" Nazi who is equally joyous in the matter, one Fritz Thyssen, big time coal and steel man. Mr. Thyssen, at the head of his vested interests, may now come into possession of the coveted fuel in promoting his steel combines. We wonder if Fritz hasn't had his eyes also on the Lorraine territory which in turn is lousy with iron ore. Having the money touch that he has, Mr. Thyssen could hardly have passed the majority of his life so near a field of natural wealth without having visions of himself controlling at least a part of it.

MRS. ROBERT W. MADRY

Mrs. Robert W. Madry, the former Miss Maggie Lee Farmer of Wilson who was married January 5 to the publicity director for the University of North Carolina.

OUTSTANDING RADIO BROADCASTS

Sunday, Jan. 20

12:45 From Vienna: The Fasching Carnival, WABC.

2:30: Play, "The Late Christopher Bean," with Walter Connally, and Pauline Lord, WJZ.

3:00: New York Philharmonic Symphony orch., WABC.

5:00: Concert orch.; Mme. Schumann-Heink, contralto, and others, WEAF.

7:00: Jack Benny, comedian; Frank Parker, tenor; Bestor orch., WJZ; Alexander Woollcott, story-teller; Armbruster orch., WABC.

7:30: Joe Penner, comedian; Ozzie Nelson orch., WJZ; Will Rogers, commentator, WABC.

8:00: Opera, Cavalleria Rusticana, with Frederick Jagel, tenor and others; Deems Taylor, narrator, WEAF; Voorhees orch.; Conrad Thibault, baritone; Lois Bennett, soprano, and others, WABC.

9:00: Symphony orch.; Victor Kolar, conductor; Grete Stueckgold, soprano, WABC.

10:30: Reminiscences, William A. Brady, theatrical producer, WABC.

Advance Seat Sale Continues Briskly

(Continued from page one)

ovation at the close, being recalled to the stage many times."

A typical description of the audience's response to Frantz's performance is given by the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, which said in part: "A young pianist of exceptional ability, who has received so many prizes that he might be called 'the Prize Prizewinner.' . . . With applause after the first two movements reaching after the last the enthusiasm of a genuine ovation, the pianist was recalled again and again."

Olin Downes, critic for the New York Times, describing Frantz's Manhattan performance, "His playing was masterful. It brought down the house."

The proceeds of Frantz concert at the University will be used to establish a scholarship for students in music.

THE
Young Men's Shop
126-128 E. Main St.
DURHAM, N. C.

Sam Selden to Read Sean O'Casey's Play

(Continued from page one)

working toward a new theatric form; something which will put back into the theatre the poetry, the vitality of the Elizabethans, recast in the idiom of our own time."

The Irishman has produced several outstanding dramas in the last decade and his recent experiment has evidently proven a success for it has lasted on Broadway since October, 1934.

SEND THE DAILY TAR HEEL HOME

GROUP CONTINUES WORK OF PROBING SERVICE BUREAUS

(Continued from page one)

the point that the entire structure was technically as efficient as possible.

"Our aims," he stated, regarding the committee's work, "are to present comparative costs-to-students, a survey of the workings of the system, recommendations for improvements in physical and service facilities, and a general view of the business set-up from a student's point of view."

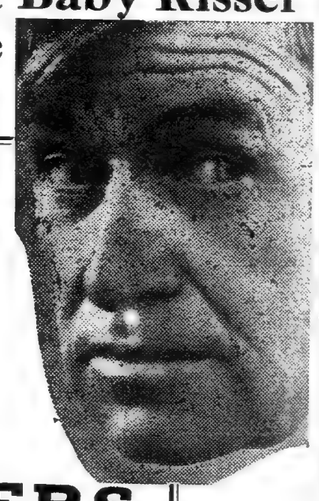
Will Publish Report

In addition to the detailed report, which the committee hopes to have published in pamphlet form, the survey will be presented to the student body and the administration in condensed form through the undergraduate literary organs.

The committee, which was appointed by Virgil Weathers on the recommendation of the administration, consists of Fairley as chairman, J. D. Winslow, and Phil Hammer, secretary.

Organ Recital

Professor Nelson O. Kennedy of the University music department will give the first of his winter quarter series of organ recitals in Hill Music hall at 5 o'clock today.



Both students and townspeople are invited to attend the program that will consist of the following numbers: "Concert Overture in C Minor" by Alfred Hollins; "Dreams," by Hugh McAmis, and "Symphony No. 5" by Widor.

A. I. Ch. E. Meets

The chemical engineering society, the A. I. Ch. E., met last night at 7 o'clock in 206 Venable hall.

A general discussion of the Engineers' Ball, chemical engineers' day, and plans for future programs followed the meeting.

He's The Best Baby Kisser In The Whole County!

Another uproarious role for this lovable star...as a small-town politician with big-town ideas . . . who isn't too busy to promote a love match!

WILL ROGERS
in
"The County Chairman"

George Ade's Classic of Humor
with
EVELYN VENABLE
LOUISE DRESSER
STEPIN FETCHIT
—OTHER FEATURES—
Disney Cartoon, "Tortoise And The Hare"
Mahoney Comedy, "She's My Lily"
And Paramount News
SUNDAY—MONDAY

TUESDAY
MADY CHRISTIANS
in
"Wicked Woman"

WEDNESDAY
ELISSA LANDI
in
"Enter Madame"

THURSDAY
GLORIA SWANSON
in
"Music in the Air"

Men Were The Chapters In Her Biography!
ANN HARDING
in
"Biography Of A Bachelor Girl"
ROBERT MONTGOMERY
Friday

Sat. "The White Cockatoo" with Ricardo Cortez

CAROLINA

Boxers Wallop S. C.; Phantoms Down Navy

Pugs Drop Gamecocks; Fisher, Medynski Score Brilliant Technical KO's

Eutsler, Giddins Win; Edwards Gets Draw; Score Is 6½-1½

North Carolinians Completely Outclass Sandlappers.

In a series of bouts filled with thrills, the Tar Heel scrappers vanquished the South Carolina Gamecocks last night by a 6½-1½ score. Two knockouts dotted the set of rounds which kept the Carolina record of victories intact. Featuring a team composed of but two veterans, the Rowe-coached pugs looked like a complete veteran aggregation.

The team as a team and individually showed up well last night in its first chance to perform for home fans. Joe Fisher and Jule Medynski certainly lived up to their reputation by boxing and fighting their way to TKO's. Ernie Eutsler, Johnnie Edwards, and Captain Sam Giddins also looked good, especially the improvement of Edwards.

Diehl Loses Decision

In the opening contest, Marion Diehl, Carolina bantam, lost a close decision to Taylor of South Carolina. At the sound of the bell, both boys came out cautiously. Diehl looked good in this canto as he bounced off the ropes and scored with long rights to the head and body.

In the second round, Taylor scored his most effective blows. He carried the fight to his taller opponent and landed frequently with short jabs. The third round found both contestants attempting a last minute rally. However, Taylor captured the decision of referee Short.

Ernie Eutsler, fighting his ini-

(Continued on last page)

Footballers Take Final Instructions From Kicking Ace

Leroy Mills sent the Tar Heel kickers through a two hour and half drill yesterday afternoon in Kenan stadium before concluding his four day visit in Chapel Hill.

The world's authority and master of kicking considered his stay at Carolina more of a vacation than anything else, although Coach Snavely's charges received some of the most valuable instruction of their careers. It was solely through the work of the Tar Heel mentor that the New York attorney came here.

Mills did much in the way of improving the work of the Tar Heel punters, drop-kickers, and place-kickers. Several of the boys added as much as 20 yards distance to their punts and all the players that came under the influence of the master improved their accuracy a great deal.

Kick Wet Ball

In addition to continuing the instruction of the past few days, yesterday Mills showed the Tar Heels how to kick a wet muddy ball just as far as a dry ball and with even more accuracy.

Mills stated that he gave Frank Carideo the same lessons in booting a wet ball; and after the Notre Dame star had practiced the method for three years, he finally got a chance to punt in the mud. It was the last battle of his career; the All-American quarterback made history in that contest, turning in one of the greatest exhibitions of kicking during the history of football.

The Tar Heels ended their first week of winter practice. The drills so far have been light, but beginning tomorrow Coach Snavely will send his charges through intensive work preparing them for a scrimmage next week-end.

FROSH MATMEN LOSE CLOSE TILT TO V.P.I. BY 21-15

Tar Baby Rally Cut Short; Ford, James, and Love Score Decisive Falls.

BABIES LACK EXPERIENCE

The fighting Tar Baby grapplers' rally in the heavier divisions was cut short in the final match of the afternoon in their opening meet with V.P.I. frosh, enabling the little Gobblers to eke out a close 21-15 victory.

After spotting the visitors a 16-5 advantage with only three bouts remaining on the card, the Tar Babies staged a brilliant comeback in the personages of James and Love. These two gained falls over their opponents to put the Carolinians just one point behind the Virginians. Everything rested on the final bout; but Roberson was just a little more experienced than Walborn and his win gave the team victory to V.P.I.

Trio of Falls

The Tar Babies' wins all came as the result of falls, registered from the holds of Ford, James, and Love. This trio, especially the former, looked very impressive in their decisive victories.

The first fall for the losers was gained by Ford who quickly downed Magill and then set to work to pin him. At all times in the bout Ford was clearly in the lead, but the fighting spirit of his opponent forestalled for a little over four minutes the victory gained by Ford.

James, an intramural victor, in his pinning of Hewitt - im-

(Continued on last page)

KAYOES FEATURE IN TAR BABY WIN OVER JUNIORS, 5-3

Shores Looks Great; O'Herron, Bass, and Benton Also Garner TKO's

P. J. C.'s ARE OUTCLASSED

Before a crowd of 2,500 excited fans who covered even the rafters, the Tar Baby mittmen came into their own last night, smashing out a decisive 5-2 victory over their scrappy opponents from the Presbyterian Junior College.

Headed but once during the evening's slugfest, the Tar Baby glovers were in full control after the opening setto. The shortest and most thrilling bout of the match was "Tiger" Shores quick technical knockout of Perry in 19 seconds of the first round.

Quick Work

Shores landed but five blows, all packed with dynamite. Pouncing upon his victim like a tiger on his prey, Shores landed the first blow after 9 seconds of the initial stanza, and 10 seconds later Perry was sprawling on the canvas.

The 129-lb class supplied one of the neatest boxing exhibitions of the evening as Tommy Bass stepped out and did himself proud while garnering a technical K. O. over Wells in one minute 52 seconds of the second round. Bass was pretty near perfect as he slapped his opponent around with a whip-like jab, and then jumped in close, rocking Wells with a two-fisted body attack. The end came as a result of a succession of head

(Continued on last page)

Basketeers Win, 30-19; Aitken And Nelson Lead Scoring; Defense Great

Jim McCachren Holds Big Buzzer Borries To Nine Points

Glace Taken Out for Fouls, Causing Shift in Lineup.

(Special to the DAILY TAR HEEL*)*

Annapolis, Jan. 19.—The White Phantoms of North Carolina took the second lap of their march through the east in great fashion here tonight as they swept to victory over Navy in a fast and hard-fought battle, 30-19.

Carolina put on its greatest exhibition to date before the biggest crowd, which was estimated at 6,000. The guarding of the Tar Heels was again superb as the defense was forced to use everything it knew to stop the fast-breaking, smooth-passing offense flashed by the Middies.

Jim McCachren, with his head wrapped as a result of an injury last night in the Maryland game, was especially outstanding as his close and spectacular guarding held Buzz Borries, All-American forward, to nine points. Borries, who was also picked by many as an All-American halfback during the past football season, was able to drop in only three field goals.

Carolina Leads at Half

The opening half of the battle was nip and tuck with the Tar Heels finally jumping ahead to take a 17-12 margin before the gun sounded.

In the closing minutes of the first half the veteran Jason Glace of the winners was forced to retire from the contest because of four fouls. As a result Coach Shepard had to use a make-shift lineup. Fearing the fast Navy offense, Coach Shepard sent Paul Kaveny from guard to center and then put Buck Harris in at the guard post. Ben Blood, forward, was the only other substitution for Carolina.

Despite the absence of Glace, the winners' defense was even greater in the second half; the entire five turned in its best performance to date. Navy could get but three field goals and two foul shots, Carolina holding a safe margin throughout.

3 Top Scorers

Captain Snooks Aitken and Mel Nelson, both forwards, shared honors in leading the Carolina offense to their 20 points. The running mates tallied 10 points apiece, each getting four action shots and a pair of free throws.

Paul Kaveny also helped the scoring along as he dropped in two field goals and a foul for five points. McCachren again featured with his passing and floor game.

For Navy, Borries, of course topped the point-making with his nine points, while the other forward, Dornin, found the basket for a total of seven.

Tomorrow the White Phantoms will have a chance to recuperate somewhat from the fast

(Continued on last page)

The Navy Sinks

CAROLINA	G	F	TP
Aitken, f	4	2	10
Nelson, f	4	2	10
Blood, f	0	0	0
Glace, c	0	0	0
Kaveny, g-c	2	1	5
McCachren, g	1	0	2
Harris, g	1	1	3
Totals	12	6	30

NAVY	G	F	TP
Dornin, f	3	1	7
Borries, f-c	3	3	9
Decker, c	0	1	1
Mandelkorn, g	1	0	2
Badger, g	0	0	0
Fellows, g	0	0	0
Totals	7	5	19

Score at half: Carolina 17, Navy 12.

Co-eds Start Cage Practice This Week

Co-ed basketball practice will open this week with the formation of intramural teams from the various classes. For two weeks all the teams will be able to get a good amount of practice under the supervision of reserve men on the varsity boys' cage squad.

Practice for this week will be as follows:

Monday, 8 p. m.—Freshmen and juniors.

Tuesday, 7 p. m.—Seniors, graduates, and sophs.

Wednesday, 8 p. m.—Frosh and sophs.

Thursday, 7 p. m.—Seniors, grads, and juniors.

Varsity Wrestlers Open Mat Season With Impressive 23-9 Win Over VPI

Winners Register Four Falls and a Lone Time Decision

Umstead, Gholsen, Bonner, and Ranson Score Falls.

Carolina's 1935 varsity wrestling team opened its season in grand style yesterday by swamping the V. P. I. matmen 23-9. About 500 saw the Tar Heels avenge an 18-10 defeat which the Gobblers administered to them last year.

Probably the most interesting bout from the standpoint of the spectators was the unlimited division between Jack Ranson and Dailey. The two behemoths fought toe to toe furiously through five minutes of wrestling. The Carolinian finally pinned his adversary in 5:34, using a half nelson and chancery.

Umstead Gets Another

Frank Umstead, brilliant bantamweight, made his varsity debut a great success by pinning Chambers with a half nelson and body block in 2:39. Umstead, who won all matches as a freshman by the fall route, mixed speed with skill to annex his sixth consecutive victory on a fall in as many starts.

Melvin Ward, undefeated 135-pounder in frosh competition last year, gained an overwhelming time decision of 9:50 minutes over Adkins of V. P. I. Ward took the upper hand from the very start; but try as he might, he was unable to pin his game opponent who, although badly outclassed, managed to hold on through the regulation ten minutes of combat.

Allen Bonner, 155, who also boasts a clean slate in five

(Continued on last page)

MURAL QUINTETS OPEN SECOND LAP

Seventeen Fives Remain in Undefeated Ranks; Squads Have All Played.

With every team entered in the intramural basketball competition having seen action at least once, the quintets start the second full week of play in the Tin Can tomorrow afternoon.

Forty-four teams started the season over a week and a half ago, and now only seventeen remain undefeated. Beta Theta Pi, Phi Kappa Sigma, Chi Psi, D. K. E., and Theta Kappa Nu in the fraternity division, and Everett, Mangum No. 2, and Law School in the dormitory—all have two victories to their credit.

Week's Schedule

The schedule for this week follows:

Monday: 3:45—No games; 4:45—(1) Alpha Epsilon vs. Zeta Psi, (2) Kappa Alpha vs. Phi Alpha, (3) Delta Tau Delta vs. Beta Theta Pi.

Tuesday: 3:45—(1) Phi Kappa Sigma vs. Phi Sigma Kappa, (2) St. Anthony vs. T. E. P.; 4:45—(1) Sigma Nu vs. Theta Chi, (2) Smithsonians vs. Old West, (3) S. A. E. vs. Chi Phi.

Wednesday: 3:45—(1) Swain Hall vs. Kluttz Bldg., (2) Sigma Chi vs. S. P. E.; 4:45—(1) Mangum No. 1 vs. Pharmacy, (2) A. T. O. vs. Lambda Chi Alpha, (3) Lewis vs. Everett.

Thursday: 3:45—(1) Phi Delta Theta vs. Phi Gamma Delta, (2) Sigma Chi vs. Kappa Sigma; 4:45—(1) Zeta Psi vs. Theta Kappa Nu, (2) Sigma Nu vs. D. K. E., (3) Aycock vs. Mayflower Club.

Friday: 3:45—(1) Grimes vs. Locals, (2) Everett vs. Kluttz Bldg.; 4:45—(1) Ruffin vs. Mangum No. 2, (2) Alpha Epsilon vs. Chi Phi, (3) Z. B. T. vs. Lambda Chi Alpha.

FESTIVAL HEADS TO MEET AT INN

Dogwood Celebration Plans Will Be Formulated Tonight.

The executive committee of the Dogwood Festival will meet tonight in the Carolina Inn at 8 o'clock to make more definite plans for the festival, scheduled for April 26, 27, 28.

Included on the committee are: R. M. Grumman, president; Mrs. Paul Green, vice-president; Felix Grisette, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. George Howe and Mrs. H. M. Burlage, representatives from the arts and crafts committee.

A. P. Hudson, chairman of the program committee; R. W. Madry, publicity manager; H. D. Meyer, in charge of the Boy Scout celebration; W. L. Hunt, chairman of the gardens committee; and Phillips Russell, member of the board of directors.

CAVALIER BOXERS MEET TAR HEELS HERE SATURDAY

Virginia Boasts Conference Champs and Group of Newcomers in Lineup.

CAGERS ALSO IN ACTION

University, Va., Jan. 19.—Virginia will have six different teams in competition in three different sports next week, but most of their activities will be confined to next Saturday when five of them will be engaged.

Virginia's boxers will face what is expected to be one of their two most severe tests of the season when they meet North Carolina in Chapel Hill next Saturday night. The freshman ringsters are to box the Tar Babies in a preliminary engagement.

New Men on Hand

Like North Carolina, the Virginia ring team this year is having to look to new men to carry on where several veterans have left off. Three experienced men, five novices will probably make up the Cavalier double quartet that will go between the ropes against the Tar Heel boxers.

Virginia's basketeers have the last of five games away from home when they play V.P.I. in Blacksburg on Thursday. They come back to the Memorial gymnasium for their first game here in more than two weeks when they play Hampden-Sydney on Saturday.

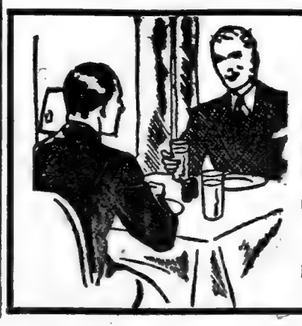
The freshman quint has only

(Continued on last page)

FROSH CAGERS ON TRIP THIS WEEK

Play Three Games in Charlotte And Vicinity on Week-end; Mullis Leads Scorers.

The frosh basketball squad will resume training tomorrow night after a two day rest, which was their just reward for their conclusive win over the Spray Y.M.C.A. quintet on Friday night.



The successful home stand has come to a conclusion, and the next encounter on the card for the ambitious Tar Babies is with Charlotte high school at the distant court.

With Pete Mullis and Earl Ruth, the main cogs in the Carolina lineup, being both Charlotte boys, the game this Thursday will be sort of a homecoming to them. However, it is hoped that they will slightly dampen the Charlotte spirits by their performances upon the court.

Mullis Leads Scorers

A survey of the records reveals that Mullis is still pacing the frosh sharpshooters with a high total of 40 points, giving him an average of 10 a game. Ruth trails by six points, having scored 16 field goals, one more than Mullis, and two fouls for 34 tallies. Mullis has converted

(Continued on last page)

Invite Your Friends
to SUNDAY DINNER
at
The Carolina Coffee Shop
"We Serve Only the Best"
FOUNTAIN SERVICE BEER

Surveys Shows That Professors Here Are Among Lowest Paid

(Continued from page one)

found in the lowest places in the list.

The 44 universities embraced in the survey are Washington, South Carolina, Texas, South Dakota, Mississippi, Oregon, Wyoming, Iowa, Ohio State, Montana, Alabama, Kansas, Utah, Northwestern, Wisconsin, Tennessee, Virginia, Michigan, Idaho, Florida, Colorado, Missouri, Oklahoma, Kentucky, Arkansas, Minnesota, Maine, West Virginia, Toronto, Brown, Illinois, Cornell, New Hampshire, Penn State, Nevada, California, Pennsylvania, Louisiana State, Princeton, Rhode Island, Chicago, Vermont, Yale, and North Carolina.

The cut at the University was more than double the average for the 44 institutions studied, the average cut for the entire group being 15.37 per cent.

Living Costs Greater

The disparity between University salaries and the cost of living is shown strikingly in a chart drawn for University Facts by Dr. Wirth F. Ferger of the school of commerce. The cost of living data employed were from the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics based on prices for food, clothing, rent, and similar expenses, combined in the proportions of a typical professor's budget.

"Why Not Recovery For All?" was asked above a chart which presented figures showing comparisons between the greatly increased state revenue and the heavy decrease in state allotments to the University. Two other charts, one for the Consolidated University and another for the University at Chapel Hill, presented comparisons between the tremendously increased average enrollments at the institutions and the decreased state appropriations.

CAVALIER BOXERS MEET TAR HEELS

(Continued from page three)

one game during the week. That is a home contest on Wednesday afternoon against the Fork Union Military Academy.

In addition to the varsity and first-year boxing bouts with North Carolina and the varsity quint's meeting with Hampden-Sydney, there is a double swimming bill scheduled for next Saturday. While the varsity tank team is racing and diving with Randolph-Macon College, the freshman natators have a meet with Augusta Military Academy. Both are scheduled for home waters.

Virginia's ring meeting with the Tar Heels may, if the weather is good, attract many Cavalier supporters to Chapel Hill. Coach Johnny LaRowe is far from optimistic regarding the outcome of the meet with the Carolinians who battled the Virginians to a draw when the two last met on Tar Heel territory.

Twin City Hears Green

On the eve of his departure for New York for the opening of his new play, "Enchanted Maze," Paul Green addressed a Winston-Salem audience last week on a phase of drama and the motion picture.

Annual Senior Staff

The senior staff of the Yackety Yack will meet in Graham Memorial tomorrow afternoon at 1:30.

Yackety Yack Meeting

The fraternity staff of the Yackety Yack will meet this afternoon in Graham Memorial at 2 p. m.

Pugs Drop Gamecocks; Two Brilliant TKO's

(Continued from page three)

tial contest as a featherweight, showed that the added poundage he has is a valuable asset. Last year, Eutsler weakened himself time and again to make the bantamweight division of 119 pounds. Eutsler fought a heady fight against his gamecock opponent, Jenkins, and showed much effect with his right hand. The first round was Eutsler's by a wide margin, as was the second. The third round saw Jenkins striving to overcome the lead that Eutsler had piled up, but to no avail.

In what was probably the closest scrap of the evening, Johnny Edwards of Carolina and Bill Dunn of the Gamecock team fought three hectic rounds. The decision, which was a hard one to call, was announced as a draw. It was a hairline verdict and could have been given to either man.

Edwards looked like a real varsity man as he dashed and darted around the ring in workmanlike fashion. Exhibiting a nifty array of footwork, and mixing up his punches in good fashion, Edwards showed much improvement over his last bout at V. P. I. His most telling blows were landed when he forced his man against the ropes and waded into him with both fists flailing away.

Fisher Gets TKO

The welterweight division saw Joe Fisher on the winning end of a technical knockout. It took Fisher 1 minute 40 seconds in the second round to floor Captain Humphlett of South Carolina. Humphlett was in a dazed condition as the referee stopped the bout and awarded it to Fisher. The first round was very even with the two welters feeling each other out. Neither Fisher nor Humphlett scored many blows and the bout had all the earmarks of a close contest when the second round started.

Fisher started the round by scoring with telling rights to the head. He followed his man around the ring and started to pummel him while in a corner. Humphlett faltered and Fisher, sensing a knockout, stepped in and finished his man.

Jule Medynski scored his second straight victory as a varsity man at the expense of Hilton, the Gamecock junior middleweight. Medynski gave a beautiful performance as he polished his man off with a right cross to the head near the end of the third round. Referee Short called a halt to the proceedings in one minute 50 seconds of the third round, thus declaring Medynski the winner by a technical knockout. Medynski was never in any danger as he showed himself to be a clever boxer as well as a powerful puncher. He caused his man to miss repeatedly as he bobbed and weaved inside his opponent's left hand and countered with his own.

Captain Sam Giddins fought a heady battle to score Carolina's last victory. Giddins fought a tough man in Stoddard of South Carolina; and, although he won handily, he was forced to wage a cagy scrap. This was due to the fact that he had to be careful of his eye, which was cut during his fight at V. P. I. An opening up of that old cut, which had just about healed, would have forced Giddins to the sidelines for the remainder of the season. However, Giddins scored frequently to take the decision and register his second win of the current season.

Due to the illness of the South Carolina lightheavy and heavyweight contestants, the Gamecocks were forced to forfeit both of these bouts to the Tar Heels.

HE'S A MATCH-MAKER

Will Rogers presides, somewhat quizzically, over the romance of Kent Taylor and Evelyn Venable in "The County Chairman," playing today and tomorrow at the Carolina theatre. This is Fox Film's pungent screen version of the famous George Ade comedy, in which Rogers plays a fire-eating boss in a small Wyoming town, back at the turn of the century.

FROSH CAGERS ON TRIP THIS WEEK

(Continued from page three)

10 free tosses to give him the scoring honors.

Andy Bershak with 26 and Red Meroney with 23 are the remaining large contributers to the scoring column. Totals then take a huge decrease and Pete Boone's 11 points take fifth place on the squad.

Keeping in the field of statistics, the sum total of the frosh in their four starts has reached 151, giving them the high average of 38 points each game. Of these points, 126 have been scored through the field goal method, whereas only 25 have been handed to them by gracious opponents.

The players that have broken into the scoring columns besides the aforementioned are: Bob Hagey, 5; Franks, 5; King, 3; Grubb, 3; and Bloom with a solitary 1, the result of a technical foul.

The contest with Charlotte starts the frosh on a miniature tour—their western trip — that takes them to Belmont Abbey on the following night, and in conclusion, Saturday evening finds them facing Davidson frosh at their rival's playing field.

Kayoes Feature In Tar Baby Win

(Continued from page three)

blows which rocked his opponent to sleep.

O'Herron Also Cops

Ed O'Herron went to town in his battle with Huff. The socker bided his time, contenting himself with boxing patiently and tiring his opponent; and then forced the referee to step in and stop the fight in one minute 58 seconds of the last round. O'Herron was never headed throughout, and the technical knockout was only a matter of time.

Benton, the big boy in the second 139-lb bout, romped through this fight, applying the finishing touches in one minute 39 seconds of the opening round. Benton scared his opponent, Love, into submission, and started to swat him around the ring, flooring his man with rapid one-two.

May Comes Through

In the second 149-lb setto, Dick May copped the decision in a slow bout. May won the three stanzas, and was in complete control during every minute of the bout.

The only Carolina defeats of the night were suffered by Larry Hendel in the 119-lb class, and Hedrick in the 159-lb class. Hendel dropped a close three-rounder to a fast stepping junior collegian named Ford, who gained the decision through his aggressiveness.

Hedrick, though still on his feet, lost the fight on a technical K. O. in one minute and 30 seconds of the third round.

FROSH MATMEN LOSE CLOSE TILT

(Continued from page three)

pressed everyone, who had seen the previous intramural victory, as being the most improved wrestler of the squad. The bout began with the bringing of Hewitt to the mat, and from then on the bout was undoubtedly in favor of James. James continuously prevented his squirming, fighting opponent from getting off the mat, and after a little over four and a half minutes pinned his man.

The third and final fall won by the baby grapplers was gained by Love. This big 175-pounder threw his opponent, Wollwine, in one of the quickest victories of the afternoon. Along with the rest of the victorious trio he, too, was always in the lead until the time of his pinning his opponent.

The summary is as follows:

118-lb: Won by Starr (VPI) over Patrick by fall, 8:58.

126-lb: Won by Pittman (VPI) over Ehringhaus by time advantage of 7:55.

135-lb: Won by Ford (C) over Magill by fall, 4:13.

145-lb: Won by Grinnan (VPI) over Claypoole by time advantage, 4:16.

155-lb: Won by Tokarz (VPI) over Gibbons by fall, 2:35 (second round).

165-lb: Won by James (C) over Hewitt by fall, 4:33.

175-lb: Won by Love (C) over Wollwine by fall, 2:38.

Unlimited: Won by Roberson (VPI) over Walborn by fall, 4:25.

SCOUT FRATERNITY

Alpha Phi Omega, national honorary scouting fraternity, will conduct its first open meeting of the quarter in Graham Memorial Monday night at 8 o'clock.

All students in the University who have been scouts and who are interested in advanced scouting are invited to be the guests of the fraternity at this meeting.

PHILATELISTS NOTE

Anyone interested in reviving the Chapel Hill Stamp Club is invited to attend an informal meeting at 2:30 p. m. today in the Graham Memorial lounge.

Plans will be discussed for a suggested state-wide exhibition and get-together to be held in connection with the Dogwood Festival.

Assembly Accomplishes Much in Local Laws

Raleigh, Jan. 19.— (UP) — The General Assembly today wound up the second week of its session with much accomplished in local legislation and several bills of state-wide importance placed in the hands of various committees.

Both houses will reconvene at 8 p. m., Monday.

Today five local bills were introduced into the House, of which four were passed and the fifth referred to a committee.

The Senate under rules of suspension quickly passed six house measures of local application.

Basketeers Win, 30-19; Aitken And Nelson Star

(Continued from page three)

games with Maryland and Navy as they have a day's rest. However, for the next three days Carolina will be plenty busy taking on a trio of intersectional foes.

Monday the undefeated Tar Heels invade New York City and will battle the Cresent Athletic Club. Carolina will remain in the Metropolis for a second cage game Tuesday; the New York Athletic Club will furnish the opposition.

The northern trip will be concluded Wednesday on which afternoon the fast-stepping Phantoms take on Army at West Point.

TAU BETA PI TO GIVE BANQUET BEFORE BALL

Plans for a banquet to precede the Engineers' Ball in the Carolina Inn next month were formulated and decided upon at a meeting of Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity, Friday evening.

W. A. McNairy was elected to succeed W. C. Morrison, who did not return to school this quarter, as cataloger for the organization.

The society adopted several revisions of the by-laws at that time.

ADVERTISERS PATRONIZE OUR

Varsity Wrestlers Open Mat Season With Win

(Continued from page three)

matches as a freshman, won an impressive victory over Broyles of V. P. I. After Broyles had gained an early time advantage of 2:45 minutes by virtue of his aggressiveness, Bonner came back with grit and determination to throw the Gobbler mat star with a half nelson and arm lock in 6:35 minutes.

Wilbur Gholsen, welterweight contestant of the Tar Heels, repeated his sterling performance shown in the Davidson meet last year by pinning Catlin of the Virginians in 6:25 minutes with an arm lock and cradle roll.

In the 165-pound class Priode of V. P. I. and Efland of Carolina resumed hostilities which they left off at Blacksburg a year ago when the Gobbler matster was victorious on a time advantage of 2:53. The fight was even closer yesterday, but Priode was again victorious on time margin of 1:24 minutes.

Carolina also suffered defeat in the 125 and 175 pound classes, Minter and Porter winning over Douglas and Gwynn respectively on time decisions.

Considering the meet on a whole this year's varsity edition is considerably improved over the 1934 mat aggregation. The Tar Heels will clash with State in Raleigh next Saturday.

Summary:

118—Umstead (C) threw Chambers with half nelson and body block in 2:39.

126—Minter (VPI) gained time decision over Douglas of 3:07.

135—Ward (C) gained time advantage over Adkins (VPI) of 9:50.

145—Gholsen (C) pinned Catlin with arm lock and cradle rock in 6:25.

155—Bonner (C) threw Broyles with half nelson and arm lock in 6:35.

165—Priode (VPI) won time decision over Efland of 1:33.

175—Porter (VPI) won time advantage over Gwynn of 1:24.

Unlimited—Ranson (C) pinned Dailey with half nelson and chancery in 5:34.

DALIES FRANTZ

Distinguished Young American Pianist

Memorial Hall Chapel Hill

Wednesday Evening, January 23, at 8:30 O'clock

Tickets: 85c, $1.J3, $1.55, $2.J6, Including Tax
On Sale at University Music Department Now

All Seats Reserved Management Phi Mu Alpha (Sinfonia)

POE'S AUTO SERVICE

Agent For

PLYMOUTH

And

DeSOTA

Before you buy your new car, call us at 6581 and let us demonstrate these wonderful cars to you.

We Promise You Satisfaction

Wholesome Meals, Quick Service, and Reasonable Prices

GOOCH BROS. & BROOKS CAFE

"Come Down Town Nights and See Your Sandwiches Made"

BEER IN BOTTLES AND ON TAP CANDY SODAS SANDWICHES
MAGAZINES TOBACCOS NEWSPAPERS

UNIVERSITY CLUB
7 P.M.
GRAHAM MEMORIAL

The Daily Tar Heel

DI AND PHI SOCIETIES
7 AND 7:15 P.M.
NEW WEST—NEW EAST

SERVED BY THE UNITED PRESS

VOLUME XLIII · CHAPEL HILL, N. C., TUESDAY, JANUARY 22, 1935 · NUMBER 85

SARG'S PUPPETS PERFORM TWICE IN 'FAUST' TODAY

Afternoon and Evening Productions Will Take Place in Playmakers Theatre.

FOR BENEFIT OF P. T. A.

Presenting "Faust, the Wicked Magician," Tony Sarg and his world-famous marionettes will appear today in the Playmakers theatre for the first time since 1925.

The puppets will be presented in two performances, this afternoon at 3:30 and again at 8 o'clock. Sarg's appearance is sponsored by the Chapel Hill Parent-Teacher Association.

New Version

"Faust, the Wicked Magician," according to the previews of the puppet show, "is not Goethe, not Marlowe, but a Tony Sarg revival of the medieval fantastic story which was the first marionette play to be given other than the religious Marynettes given at Christmas time."

Sarg has collaborated with Stas Azoy for the new production, and the two have taken great pains to eliminate any of the phases of the existing versions which might be unsuitable for children.

The punch-and-judy show will be the first of its kind to be produced on the campus since Sue Hasting brought her troupe here last year. Tickets are on sale at Alfred Williams store, the Intimate Bookshop, and the Book Exchange. Admission prices are 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

Black Magic

In producing the Faustian drama, Sarg has given full sway to his inventive genius by using as much magic and wizardry as the characters of the play allow. The uncanny transformations and magic effects accomplished in this play could not possibly be achieved by human actors with the same wonderful results.

The heavy cast goes Cecil B. DeMille in portions of the drama. Soldiers, guards, police, arrests, duels, and red smoke, wicked magic—all dramatized by tiny creatures under the deft finger tips of Sarg and his assistants.

DEBATE COUNCIL TO TALK ON ARMS

White, of Chemistry Dept., and Sugarman Speak Tonight.

When the debate council meets at 9 o'clock tonight in 209 Graham Memorial, it will hear Dr. A. McLaren White of the chemistry department discuss the munitions industry, particularly the DuPont company of Wilmington, Delaware.

Dr. White, professor of chemical engineering, has a varied background of experience in industrial chemistry. He is also known for his hobby, music, and the fact that he is the composer of a symphony.

Norman Kellar and Winthrop Durfee will give resumes of the arguments for both sides of the Pi Kappa Delta question of munitions. A discussion will follow.

As a part of the same program tonight, the council will hear Joe Sugarman, editor of the Carolina Magazine, give his criticisms of debating on the campus. Sugarman will then lead a discussion on the same question.

Institute Speaker

Dr. John Stewart Bryan, the new president of William and Mary College, of Virginia, and president and publisher of the Richmond, Va., News-Leader, who will deliver the principal address at the opening session of the North Carolina Newspaper Institute at the University tomorrow night.

'Y' MEN CONTINUE TALKS ON CRIME

Jr.-Sr. and Sophomore Cabinets Conduct Discussions Led by Bost and Yeatman.

The upper Y.M.C.A. cabinets continued their winter quarter series of discussions on crime and social organization last night.

Tom Bost, University senior from Raleigh, presented "Causes of Crime" to the junior-senior organization.

T. P. Yeatman led a discussion in the sophomore group, discussing "Who is the Criminal?"

Churchmen to Appear

It was announced last night that the series of programs on crime will be interrupted next Monday, when a program will be presented here by visiting churchmen.

George MacFarland will continue the series of sophomore "Y" sociology discussions February 4. He will be followed February 11 by Phil Kind, who will take up "Prisons."

C. C. Martin and Don McKee will also appear on the sophomore program series at later dates.

In the junior-senior cabinet, discussions will be led by Bert Smith on "Punishments for Crime"; Phil Hammer, "Social Effects and Results of Crime"; J. D. Winslow, "Juvenile Delinquency"; J. C. Grier, "Capital Punishment"; and Billy Yandell, "Modern Methods of Combatting Crime."

Tar Heel Photos

Yackety Yack photographs of members of the DAILY TAR HEEL staff will be taken in front of Graham Memorial beginning at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Reporters will have theirs taken at 2 o'clock, editorial writers at 2:15, city editors at 2:30, desk men at 2:45 and feature writers at 3 o'clock.

READING DEFERRED

Due to a conflict with the matinee performance of Tony Sarg's marionettes, Mrs. Urban T. Holmes will postpone her reading, set for today at the Bull's Head bookshop, until next Tuesday.

LEADING EDITORS TO LECTURE HERE BEFORE INSTITUTE

Dr. John Stewart Bryan Will Deliver Address at First Session Tomorrow Night.

NEW DEAL AIDE MAY TALK

Prominent newspapermen from other states are among speakers who have accepted invitations to address the sessions of the 11th annual North Carolina Newspaper Institute which will meet here and at Durham tomorrow, Thursday, and Friday.

The speakers are: John Stewart Bryan, president of William and Mary College and publisher of the Richmond News-Leader; Wm. D. Nugent, vice-president of Media Records, Inc., of New York; James G. Stahlman, publisher of the Nashville Banner and a former president of the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association; R. P. Harris, an editor of the Baltimore Evening Sun, and R. H. Pritchard, vice-president of the National Editorial Association.

The lectures are open to all those interested in journalism and the newspaper institute.

President's Secretary

While he is not listed for a formal address, Marvin H. McIntyre, one of President Roosevelt's secretaries, has promised to attend the Institute and to speak informally. He will likely talk at the luncheon to be given by the University at the Carolina Inn Thursday. McIntyre was at one time city editor of the Asheville Citizen.

John Stewart Bryan, well-known throughout the south as publisher and educator, succeeded his father as publisher of the Times-Dispatch, Richmond, and is now president and publisher of the News-Leader of Richmond. Last year he was made president of William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va.

Nugent, Second Speaker

Wm. D. Nugent, who will speak Thursday morning, is vice-president of Media Records, Inc., New York, an organization which renders valuable assistance to the publications it serves. Nugent is considered an

(Continued on last page)

Phi to Debate Tonight On License Question

Assembly Will Also Discuss Three Other Measures.

The representatives of the Phi Assembly will debate tonight the bill: Resolved, That the law requiring out-of-state students to buy Chapel Hill license tags is unjust.

The assembly convenes at 7:15 p. m. in New East.

Other bills to be discussed are: Resolved, That Japan should be given equal naval parity with the United States and Great Britain; Resolved, That the Phi Assembly endorses the old age pension plan of President Roosevelt; and Resolved, That the lecture system of teaching is detrimental to the students.

The assembly will meet before Murphey hall at 10:30 a. m., tomorrow for a Yackety Yack picture.

PHI PHOTO TODAY

Members of the Phi Assembly will meet in front of Murphey hall this morning at 10:30 o'clock to have their picture taken for the Yackety Yack.

FORSTER INVENTS NEW TAX SYSTEM

State Professor Addresses N. C. Club on Taxation.

Dr. G. W. Forster of State College spoke last night at the meeting of the North Carolina Club. The general topic of address was "Taxation and the Farmer."

Dr. Forster discussed the problems of income versus taxing the farmer and the problem of collecting taxes. In answering these questions Dr. Forster attempted to prove with statistics that the average farmer is able to pay his taxes.

Dr. Forster outlined a system of taxation for this state which he claimed would have decided advantages over our present system. In his new system Dr. Forster favored national rather than state sales and income taxes.

He also stressed the need of increasing taxes on public utilities and the re-establishment of the old county system of supporting the public school system.

KOO TO PRESENT CAMPUS SERVICE

Brilliant Chinese Churchman Will Speak for First University Service in Years.

Dr. T. Z. Koo, Chinese churchman who will address the student body in Memorial hall Sunday night, will appear here at the close of a three-engagement day.

Dr. Koo will speak in the Duke Memorial chapel at the morning service, at Raleigh in the afternoon, and here in Memorial hall at night.

His appearance will be the first time in several years that a church service has been presented at a University convocation.

Local Pastors to Aid

The pastors of all the Chapel Hill churches will co-operate in sponsoring the program.

Dr. Koo, one of the most outstanding Chinese of today, is an extensive traveler and lecturer. His most noted work has been done with students in colleges and universities.

In recent years he has toured various European and American cities, usually on missions for his country. He has been received by large audiences everywhere he has appeared.

Koo is a graduate of St. John's University, Shanghai, China, and has held many important positions in Chinese affairs. He is a staff member of the national committee of the Y. M. C. A. in China.

"Come to See Us, Boys," Next Friday Night

Spencer Hall Co-eds Will Treat Organizations to Dance.

Some people get all the breaks.

It's not for everyone that the co-eds "will be at home" next Friday. It's just for the members of the Golden Fleece, the Grail, the University Club, and the Inter-fraternity Council.

Those organizations are invited to a formal card dance from 9:30 until 1 o'clock in the reception hall of Spencer.

This will be the first time in a number of years that the co-eds of Spencer hall have endeavored as a unit to return the hospitality of the leading organizations on the campus, the DAILY TAR HEEL was told.

Auto Tag Violaters To Appear Before Recorder's Court Today

UNIVERSITY CLUB

The University Club will meet tonight at 7 o'clock in Graham Memorial.

All members are urged to be present as new members for the organization will be selected.

OLSEN DISCUSSES 'GOOD DISCUSSION'

Sincerity, Freedom, and Some Understanding, He Presents As Chief Requisites.

"With few exceptions, and those for practical necessity, our students speak only on the side of their convictions. They never use any arguments that they do not consider valid.

"We demand sincerity. We discourage posing, eagle-screaming, hollow flattery, or bombast on the platform."

Such was the quotation from his recent article on debating in the Alumni Review that Professor W. A. Olsen of the University's English department, gave at last night's meeting of the Freshman Friendship Council. He stated that these same qualifications are necessary for a good discussion.

Freedom Necessary

"Discussion is something that is possible only in a democracy," continued Olsen, pointing out that freedom of speech was necessary for a successful "bull session."

Offering further advice on his topic, "Bull Sessions," Olsen said, "you should get down to rock bottom quick and learn the philosophy of the men with whom you are talking; define your terms or the value of the discussion is lost.

"A good discussion is both a co-operation and a conflict," summarized Professor Olsen. "There must be some amount of agreement and disagreement."

"Nuisances"

The speaker concluded his talk by giving the following list of "discussion nuisances": the men with genuine conceit or inferiority complexes who "talk too long, too much, and from a high mountain"; the scrappy fellow; the muddle-headed person who can't get down to sound words; the wit; the intolerant person; the mono-maniac who will discuss only one topic; the rambler; and the chatter-box.

During the business session the council voted to take charge of devotionals in freshman assembly and the committee in charge consists of Drew Martin, James Dees, and Bill Jordan.

Harry F. Comer, secretary of the "Y", invited the council to a social to take place in the near future.

LEAGUE COMMITTEE

All members of the Foreign League Policy League program committee are asked to meet today at 10:30 o'clock in 208 Saunders.

Joe Barnett, chairman, announced yesterday that all members should be present at this important meeting.

Feature Board

The feature board of the DAILY TAR HEEL will meet at 3 o'clock this afternoon in room 209 Graham Memorial.

Caldwell's Demands To Face Legal Test

Judge Phipps to Decide Whether "All Students Must Buy Tags" as Manager Says.

CITY ORDINANCE IS VAGUE

Nearly forty persons are expected to answer their summons to recorder's court at 10 o'clock this morning for failure to purchase the $1 city auto license tag.

Among those tendered invitations to Judge L. J. Phipps' session are students, faculty, and townspeople.

The decision rendered will determine definitely whether students will be required to have tags for their cars.

"All Must Pay"

"You can tell them that they are all going to have to buy them," City Manager Caldwell insisted yesterday. He added that only students who already have out-of-town 1935 city tags on their automobiles will not be required to display Chapel Hill licenses.

Caldwell held that the law does not have to be made public, intimating that the public might better obey the law if it remain a secret.

Ordinance Quoted

Section I of the Chapel Hill city revenue ordinance under the caption "License and Privilege Taxes" reads as follows: "To raise revenue for general municipal purposes the license and privilege taxes hereinafter enumerated are hereby levied and assessed by the Board of Aldermen and directed to be collected by the town Tax Collector, upon every person, firm, or corporation engaging in any trade, business, profession or calling mentioned in this ordinance within the limits of Chapel Hill; and it shall be the duty of every person, firm or corporation engaging in any such trade, business, profession, or calling within the limits of the Town of Chapel Hill to obtain on the First day of July, 1934, or within thirty days thereafter a license therefor in the sum herein specified."

Among the specific taxes enumerated in Section 15 of this

(Continued on last page)

DI WILL DISCUSS R.O.T.C. TRAINING

U. S. Entering World Court Is Subject of Another Bill.

The Dialectic Senate will meet tonight at 7 o'clock in New West to discuss compulsory R.O.T.C. training and the entrance of the United States into the World Court.

The first bill to be considered will be: Resolved, That the United States should enter the World Court.

The second measure to be placed before the senate is: Resolved, That R.O.T.C. training should be placed on an elective basis.

These two bills were drawn up by the senate ways and means committee and announced yesterday by Charles Rawls, chairman.

A third measure on the calendar, submitted by Senator Margaret Howard, reads: Resolved, That the United States government should establish a soil erosion service in connection with the CCC.

The Daily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Union Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where it is printed daily except Mondays, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Holidays. Entered as second class matter at the post office of Chapel Hill, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 for the college year.

A. T. Dill ..... Editor
Robert C. Page, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
Joe Webb ..... Business Manager
George Underwood ..... Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

EDITORIAL BOARD—Phil Hammer, chairman.
FEATURE BOARD—Nelson Lansdale, chairman; Nick Read, Bob Browder, Francis Clingman, J. E. Poindexter, W. M. Cochrane, Willis Harrison.
CITY EDITORS—Irving Suss, Walter Hargett, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.
TELEGRAPH EDITORS—Stuart Rabb, Charlie Gilmore.
DESK MAN—Eddie Kahn.
SPORTS DEPARTMENT—Jimmy Morris and Smith Barrier, co-editors, Tom Bost, Lee Turk, Len Rubin, Fletcher Ferguson, Stuart Sechriest, Lester Ostrow, Ira Sarasohn.
EXCHANGES—Margaret Gaines.
STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER—Don Becker.
REPORTERS—Bill Hudson, John Smith, J. F. Jonas, Ralph Sprinkle, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Raymond Howe, William Jordan, Morton Feldman.

Business Staff

ASST. BUSINESS MANAGER ..... Butler French
COLLECTION MANAGER ..... Herbert Osterheld
OFFICE MANAGERS ..... Walter Eckert, Roy Crooks
NATIONAL ADVERTISING ..... Boylan Carr
DURHAM REPRESENTATIVE—Joe Murnick.
LOCAL ADVERTISING—Hugh Primrose, Robt. Sosnik, Eli Joyner (managers), Bill MacDonald, Louis Shaffner, Page Keel, Bill McLean, Crist Blackwell.

CITY EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE: WALTER HARGETT

Tuesday, January 22, 1935

PARAGRAPHICS

If the honorary orders submit to the co-ed charms Friday, we wager they'll lose some honorary charms in the process.

Phillips Russell's class is getting the low-down on DAILY TAR HEEL editorials. Maybe the pen is mightier than the board, after all.

All one has to do to find out whether the Tar Heels or the Cavaliers are better boxers is to give us a ring.

Wrong Floor

Harold Bennett, president of the Inter-fraternity Council, cleared up a point of extreme importance as regarding the editorial in these columns Sunday condemning the delegates from that organization to the National Inter-fraternity Conference for their lack of report on the proceedings of that allegedly beneficial annual gathering.

Bennett and L. C. Bruce, the other delegate, fully expected to attend a conference at which representatives of the national fraternity organizations would be present and at which useful information regarding local fraternity administration could be gleaned. It turned out, however, that they found themselves in a purely undergraduate convention which gobbled up time with fruitless and disgusting discussion, while at the same time the national fraternity leaders were assembled in a busy and important session elsewhere in the hotel.

Naturally, their report was nil, simply because nothing transpired. The fraternity news service release, however, in reporting of the national conference, was saturated with facts and figures and suggestions, and we, laboring under a misapprehension, wondered rightfully enough why our delegates could not report on these doings. But it happens that the news release dealt primarily with the national organizational representatives, with only an unintelligible paragraph concerning what the "Undergraduate Council" did.

What we said about the needless waste of money in sending delegates to a purposeless convention still stands. But we admit with the delegates that it was not entirely their fault that they had no report. Even so, it does seem rather odd that, as the University has been consistently represented at these national conventions, the delegates did not know what to expect.

More puzzling is the fact that, though our delegates reported a purely undergraduate conference, the news release said that undergraduates representing "nearly fifty educational institutions" were in attendance at the major conference, as distinct from the Undergraduate Council. Maybe the undergraduates got off at the wrong floor.

Our duty now is to support this University in taking the lead for a revision of the national conference procedure. Undergraduate delegates should meet with the "big shots" of interfraternity world, should discuss their problems and receive help in the wisdom which can be given with experience. We feel that such conferences can accomplish tremendous results, as evidenced by the National Student Federation of America's gathering and the results of the college editors' meeting.

Conservation On the Campus

Whereas the University controls its own power manufacture and the distribution of it to University structures, it does not stand that because of this self-sustenance electricity and hot water and steam for the radiators is provided in abundance at costs staple regardless of undergraduate consumption.

It has been noticed and reported frequently that a gross waste of electricity—and fixtures for lighting—and heat and water is rife on the campus. Lights blaze without reason, windows are open when the occupants, absent, do not need the breeze, and hot water showers are left on full blast to get the shower-room steamy enough to play London-in-a-Fog with the boy from upstairs.

While the realization and curtailment of this waste on the part of one or two dormitory inmates might not make any appreciable savings on the power plant charts, a unified effort on the part of all students guilty of such flagrant abuses of the power privileges would effect quite an economy in the service records.

For Rural Electrification

A bill authorizing the establishment of the North Carolina rural electrification commission has been drawn for introduction into the General Assembly soon. With the proposal will be submitted a report of a state committee headed by Dr. Clarence Poe and including our Dr. Howard Odum, which committee has studied the feasibility of state aid through this means to farmers for months.

The project calls for electric power extension to probably 50,000 rural inhabitants of the state through the construction of some 9,000 miles of power line. It would be headed by a state commission with the authority to issue bonds to the extent of $10,000,000 against the credit and property of the commission, without involving any state appropriation nor obligation.

Throughout the state farmers can look out of their side windows and see the giant power line towers of private utility corporations, and are not able to avail themselves of a "cut-in" and consumption because the rates have been prohibitory, especially during these times when the income has barely met the expense of farm maintenance. With the proposed system, the state farmers would be able to electrify not only their farm machinery system but their homes as well. To them the ribbons of wire would mean increased efficiency and increased standards of living.

Although the committee would limit the construction of new facilities at first to $10,000,000, it is thought that the ultimate investment would considerably exceed that amount. To our mind, any investment which would result in such widespread benefits would be worthwhile if the committee uses discretion in procedure. And with the plan calling for the chairman of the state highway and public works commission, the administrative dean of N. C. State College, the director of the state department of conservation, and nine other picked members for the committee, we can rest assured that proper administration will result in this most progressive project of far-reaching importance.

Salary Increase

The University of North Carolina has the dubious distinction of having some of the most poorly paid professors and instructors in the United States. According to Felix A. Grisette's just completed study, the University ranks 39th among the 43 leading universities considered with regard to average salaries to full professors. North Carolina pays her professors an average salary of $2,855, while Princeton with a $7,500 average salary for professors leads all 43 universities.

In percentage of salary cuts the University of North Carolina with a current cut of 32 per cent heads the list. Only one university, the University of Washington, has made a larger per cent salary reduction than North Carolina, but about 20 per cent of Washington's 37 per cent cut has been restored. So far no part of North Carolina's salary cut has been restored.

The Governor in his budget message to the General Assembly recommended a salary increase of 15 per cent for the University, not to be applied on the basis of the old 100 per cent salaries but on the basis of the actual salaries now being paid. These present salaries are 68 per cent of what they were before any cuts. An increase of 15 per cent of them would amount to restoring only 10.2 per cent of the original salaries. Even with this increase, which is indispensable, there would still exist an effective cut of 21.8 per cent and the University of North Carolina would rank ninth from the top in percentage of salary reductions. This 10.2 per cent effective increase proposed by the Governor is far from what it should be but it is the only relief immediately in sight.

Casual Correspondent

by
Nelson Lansdale

THE CUSTOMER IS ALWAYS RIGHT

We're a little late with a football story here in the middle of January, but we'll pass this one along anyway, since it comes to us from Carl Thompson, who is just about the campus favorite among the spinners of good yarns. We don't vouch for the truth of it, and neither does Carl, but it concerns an alumnus who returned to Chapel Hill for one of the games, and proceeded to celebrate homecoming in the usual way. He had sense enough, though, to stop just short of the messy, blatant stage of drunkenness, and after the game he wobbled into the Carolina Inn and asked for a room. The bellhop showed him up, and everybody seemed to be pretty well satisfied when our alumnus appeared at the top of the steps. "I don't like my room," he said very distinctly, coming down the stairs, step for step, with great deliberation. "I doan' like my room," he repeated to the clerk at the desk, less distinctly.

"What's the matter with your room, sir? It's one of the best we have. I'm sure . . . "

"I doan' like my room. Ish on fiah."

The clerk didn't of course believe the story, but he sent a bellhop up to investigate, and a minute later the bellhop came flying down the stairs. It was on fire, all right. So everybody rushed around pretty wildly for awhile, and they finally got the fire out with a fire extinguisher. Our friend the customer disappeared during the uproar, though, and hasn't been seen around since.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY

As reported in the DAILY TAR HEEL recently, "Miss Information" of the Chapel Hill phone company did a pretty good job of figuring that whoever wanted the Rubber Tire fraternity was looking for Beta Theta Pi. But somebody called up the Phi Delta Theta house the other day to ask if that were the Fidelity Theatre. All of which reminds us of an envelope addressed to "Virgil Weathers, Teacher of the Student Body, U. N. C."

OUR OWN COMMONPLACE BOOK

Back in the days when educated people took time to think a little about whatever they happened to have read, it was the custom to keep a book handy into which they copied anything that struck them as worth preserving. Shakespeare's sonnets first came to light in this way, having been copied into what was called a Commonplace Book. One of our New Year's resolutions was to keep one of these, and our prize item so far is a headline from the Charlotte Observer: "MAIDEN MAN HELD UP AND ROBBED AT HOME."

NO WINGS LIKE ANGELS

One of our spies in the faculty of the Romance Language department saw a sign down in Albemarle we think you ought to know about. It was hanging on the door of the Albemarle jail, and read: "Quarantine—Measles."

ERRARE HUMANUM EST

For those of our more faithful readers who're interested, we'd like to apologize for a few of our mistakes in the last few weeks. For one thing, Chi Psi's Dick Myers is from East Orange, N. J., and not from Cos Cob, Conn., as we previously reported. In last Saturday's collection of casualties, we had Archibald Henderson teaching Math 102, and, according to the catalogue, there isn't any such course. It's Math 206. Our story about a newspaper woman in Dallas, Texas who had all the answers for W. C. T. U. representatives, also appears in a recent book by Stanley Walker, "City Editor." We haven't read the book, so that isn't where we got the story, but it probably reached us from that source at fourth or fifth hand, and so went unacknowledged. And we'd like to clear both the freshmen about whom we told our story on their playing Empress Ping-Pong and Heiress-apparent I-do with Dr. Spann in the New Deal Cafe. We reported the incident as having occurred after both of our Phi Kappa Sigma friends had taken on, in our own words, "a few drinks." It seems that it was not a few, but 10 or 12. And there is absolutely no truth that Ivan the Terrible, having been forewarned of his approaching publicity, destroyed over a thousand copies of the DAILY TAR HEEL before breakfast Saturday morning.

Somebody read that little story to one of the men who works in the New Deal, and his only comment was: "Chee—dat's funny. I didn't know Chinese people ate in here."

Ruffin Is Witness To Exhibition Of Fire Eating And Rope Escape

"Marco" de Polo Gives Impromptu Program of Stunts Before Appreciative Dormitory Residents; Efforts to Discover Secrets of Amateur Magician's Art Fail Dismally.

"It's free, ladies and gents; come in and see the marvel of the age!" sang out the barker, while the residents of Ruffin dormitory, always welcoming any excuse to get away from studying, swarmed like bees into a first floor room to see "Marco" de Polo put on a show which would rival those of Houdini himself.

In the first act on this impromptu bill, de Polo allowed himself to be bound securely by what the gentlemen of the soil call "plow lines," after which the spectators adjourned to the dorm store to speculate on his chances of getting free. But de Polo, a believer in personal liberty, presently appeared at the door, rope in hand, grinning at the mystified students.

Hide Spy

Queries as to how he had escaped were fruitless. Therefore, the puzzled Ruffinites secreted one of their members in the showman's closet while he was being bound again. Once again they retired to the store; but this time there was no need for speculation. The spy would be able to give the dope.

After a much longer interval than before, "Marco the Mystifier" finally presented himself, quite free of the rope and all clothing, too, except a pair of trunks. But the spy when consulted was no more enlightened than the rest, because Houdini had slid before the closet door in freeing himself, and the spy not wanting to be discovered, had had to remain unseeing in order to be unseen.

Fire-Eater

The second act was a reverse of the age-old stunt of the fire eaters. De Polo, continuing his show, siezed a bottle of kerosene and a match, did something with both, and then belched forth flames which left dark sooty spots on the ceiling. Vesuvius itself would have looked on with envy even as did the large crowd which now surrounded "Marco." He would first take some of the liquid in his mouth, then spurt it out on a lighted match, and immediately a great ball of fire would be seen. De Polo calmly answered to one question asked him, "I've never had any trouble yet with it backfiring."

However, the exhibition was abruptly halted when his roommate announced firmly that time and French quizzes waited for no side shows. Then the main attraction, followed by his audience, adjourned to another place to continue his fun unhindered.

Methodist Supper

Affair Thursday Night Will Honor New Pastor and Wife.

A benefit supper and welcome will be held in the dining room of the Methodist church at 6 o'clock Thursday evening for the new pastor and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Jenkins.

A special program has been arranged and it is hoped that all members of the congregation and friends of the church will be present. A fee of 25 cents will be charged for each plate.

OUTSTANDING RADIO BROADCASTS

Tuesday, Jan. 22

1:00: George Hall orch., WBT.

2:30: Operetta—H. M. S. Pinafore, with Walter Preston, baritone; Muriel Wilson, soprano, WJZ.

5:00: Dick Messner, orch., WBT.

6:45: Lowell Thomas, commentator, WJZ.

7:15: Morton Downey, tenor; Sinatra orch.; Guy Bates post, narrator, WJZ.

8:00: Reisman orch.; Phil Duey, baritone, WEAF; Concert orch; Frank Munn, tenor; Hazel Glenn, soprano, WABC.

8:30: Wayne King orch., WEAF; Lawrence Tibbett, baritone; John B. Kennedy, narrator; Concert orch., WJZ.

9:00: Bing Crosby; Mills Bros.; Stoll orch., WBT; Ben Bernie orch., WEAF; Grace Moore, soprano, WJZ.

9:30: Ed Wynn; Duchin orch., WEAF; Isham Jones orch., WBT.

10:00: Operetta—Lehar's Paganni, with Gladys Swarthout, soprano; John Barclay, and others, WEAF; Managed Conservation—Harold L. Ickes, secretary of interior, WJZ; Glen Gray orch., WBT.

11:00: Abe Lyman orch., WJZ.

SEND THE DAILY TAR HEEL HOME

THE
Young Men's Shop
126-128 E. Main St.
DURHAM, N. C.

Congress Adjourns in Panic!
"THE PRESIDENT VANISHES"
SEE PAGE FOUR

White Phantoms Lick Crescent Outfit, 38-32, In First N.Y. Encounter

Aitken and Nelson Head Excellent Tar Heel Attack to Win.

New York, Jan. 21.—Although meeting their biggest opposition to date, the White Phantoms from North Carolina continued to click in great style adding the tenth victim to their undefeated list here tonight. The Tar Heels took New York Cresent Athletic Club in stride, 38-32.

Captain Snooks Aitken flashed his old form as he teamed with his running mate Mel Nelson to lead the Carolina offense. The Tar Heel attack never functioned better, sweeping through the close-knitted N. Y. C. A. C. defense.

The losers also put a fine offense on the floor and threatened to overtake the winners time after time with rallies. The attack was the strongest the White Phantoms have met to date.

The Carolinians will attempt to continue their great record here tomorrow night as they take on the New York Athletic Club, another strong five made up of veteran stars and dangerous against any basketball team in the country.

The White Phantoms will finish their swing through the northeast Wednesday, meeting the Army court team at West Point.

TEN FROSH WILL TAKE ROAD TOUR

Group of Players Will Not Be Selected Until Final Day; Potts Joins Squad.

The Tin Can was again the scene of activity last night as the frosh basketball squad romped through a short drill in their opening preparations for their coming three-day trip.

Coach Skidmore announced that ten players will be taken on the trip but as yet no selection has been made. There will be quite a few disputes when the choice of the ninth and tenth men arises, as many have an inside chance for the select positions.

Practice last evening introduced a novelty when the drill in long shots with follow-ups was accomplished in the form of competition.

The players paired off in groups of five and kept the two balls in constant bombardment against the backboard as each team vied to score 21 points before its opponents.

Potts Is Eligible

Another noted occurrence of last evening was the welcome news that Ramsey Potts is to play with the squad. Having practiced on and off for the past few weeks, Potts is now able to take part in active play. He is a forward and will probably make the squad of ten that will leave for Charlotte Thursday.

Pete Mullis, Earl Ruth, Andy Bershak, Red Meroney, Pete Boone, and Foy Grubb seem sure of going with the team, but the remaining four departing freshmen are very much in doubt.

It will be a struggle between Abe Bloom, Whitey King, Bill Franks, Ramsey Potts, and Bob Hagey. Possibly there are quite a few others that are likely to make the tour, but there will be no announcement until the final day.

If the frosh can make this road trip successfully, they will return with an enviable record, which will be threatened immediately by the strong first year quintets of State and Duke.

Zetas Get Rough Win Over A.E.; K.A's. Victorious

Alpha Epsilon Falls, 18-16; Phi Alpha Beaten, 48-18; No Other Cage Tilts.

In one of the roughest, slambang contests seen in the intramural basketball competition thus far, Zeta Psi defeated Alpha Epsilon 18-16 yesterday afternoon in the Tin Can. Kappa Alpha swamped Phi Alpha 48-18 in the only other game.

The lead changed on several occasions, the Zetas holding it at 9-8 for the first quarter, Alpha Epsilon at 12-11 for the half, and the Zetas again for the third period at 16-12.

The eventual winners got off to a good start, finding the basket for eight points before the Alpha Epsilon crew could score. However, from then on it was a different story, with an attack led by Weinstein, Turk, and Shalom of the A. E. team began to click and took the lead until late in the third period.

Zetas Take Lead

With Bill Carr, Clark, and Folger all coming through with double-pointers, the Zetas went out in front to remain there until the final whistle, although the opposition came near to tying things up with a furious final rally.

As Everett and Skinner scored 21 and 15 points apiece, respectively, the K. A.'s found little opposition from the Phi Alpha combine and won easily, holding a 32-4 margin at half time. Hauser, with 13 points, did best for the losers.

The summaries:

Zeta Psi, 18	Alpha Epsilon, 16
Carr, f (6)	Mark, f (2)
Satterfield, f (4)	Shalom, f (6)
Clark, c (2)	Weinstein, c (6)
Taxton, g (2)	Turk, g (2)
Folger, g (4)	Steingrob, g

Subs: Alpha Epsilon—Gordon, Singer.

Kappa Alpha, 48	Phi Alpha, 18
Skinner, f (15)	Hauser, f (13)
Everett, f (21)	Goldman, f
Yoemans, c	Lacky, c (2)
Shriver, g (8)	Hendel, g
Seymour, g (4)	Greenberg (2)

Subs: Kappa Alpha—Broadhurst, McClellan (2); Phi Alpha—Sobelson, Giddins (2).

Today's Mural Card

3:45—(1) Phi Kappa Sigma vs. Phi Sigma Kappa, (2) St. Anthony Hall vs. T. E. P.

4:45—(1) Sigma Nu vs. Theta Chi, (2) Smithsonians vs. Old West, (3) S. A. E. vs. Chi Phi.

ODUM AND VANCE WRITE ON SOUTH

Social Science Heads Issue Pamphlets on Regional Planning.

Howard W. Odum, director of the Institute for Research in Social Science, and Rupert B. Vance, also of the Institute, are the authors of two pamphlets recently released by the University Press, published jointly by the Foreign Policy Association of New York City and the University Press.

Odum's booklet, entitled "The Regional Approach to National Social Planning" has special reference to a more abundant south and its continuing reintegration in the national economy.

The pamphlet by Vance bears the title "Regional Reconstruction: A Way Out For the South."

TAR BABY BOXERS BEGIN WORK FOR VIRGINIA BATTLES

Entire Freshman Squad Turns Out for Fast Practice.

The Tar Baby mittmen got down to serious work yesterday in preparation for the traditional Virginia battle next Saturday night; for the first time since the start of the season the entire frosh squad turned out for the workout.

Not many entered the ring to swap punches but they all shadow-boxed and punched the bag around. "Tiger" Shores was there, looking fresh as a daisy, taking helpful advice from ex-Captain Marty Levinson.

Marty "One Punch" Shmurak smacked the leather about, and the fact that he did not fight last Saturday has made him all the more fit and ready to go in the coming bouts. Shmurak has improved his boxing somewhat and that mixed with his potent right hook, gives him a likely offense.

The prize packages of the recent bouts, namely Ed O'Herron, Tommy Bass, and Benton were on hand getting set to shoot the works against the baby Cavaliers, and they looked none the worse from the hard earned victories versus the boys from P. J. C.

It is not likely that all three will get a starting position on this week's team, and the contesting for the positions during the next four days will bring out some hard fighting among them.

Freshman ringsters' main worry still seems centered in the lack of heavy boxers.

RED TERRORS TOP RACE IN BIG FIVE

Both Carolina and State Undefeated in Big Five; No Games This Week.

North Carolina State and the White Phantoms are both undefeated in the Big Five race; no changes in the standings will come during the next week, due to inactivities of the clubs.

The Red Terrors' notable accomplishment of the week, which placed them in the top ranking, was their 28-25 decision over Duke's powerful Blue Devil five. The following night they downed Davidson to make three wins on their record. However, they saw quite a disastrous week-end of play, falling before three South Carolina teams.

Carolina Moving Along

The Tar Heels continued their undefeated record by winning over foes outside of the state. They downed Virginia, Maryland, and Navy to run their string of consecutive victories to nine. The Carolinians also lead in the Southern Conference.

There will be no Big Five contest this week due to examinations being held in the other schools. Carolina engages N. Y. A. C. tonight and Army tomorrow; State meets V. P. I. Friday in Raleigh and Duke battles the Gobblers Saturday in Durham.

Standings:

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
N. C. State	3	0	1.000
Carolina	2	0	1.000
Duke	2	1	.667
Davidson	0	3	.000
Wake Forest	0	3	.000

ATHLETES NOTICE

All men who have been issued equipment in any sport are to report regularly for practice or else turn in their equipment at the supply room at Emerson. Men are requested to check in with their respective managers when reporting for work.

BOXERS PREPARE FOR HARD MEET WITH CAVALIERS

Pleased With Showing Against South Carolina; Edwards, Dixon After 135-lb Post.

VIRGINIA NOW HOLDS TITLE

Coach Crayton Rowe was greatly pleased with the showing of the Tar Heel boxers against South Carolina last Saturday. Marion Diehl was the only boy to drop his fight and the sophomore bantamweight is still far from top condition.

Johnny Edwards, who got a draw in the 135-lb class, and Ernie Eutsler, letterman who punched out his first varsity victory, were especially outstanding. Both fighters have shown a world of improvement.

The Tar Heels started work yesterday in the Tin Can for what they consider the biggest test of the season; they meet Virginia here Saturday night. The strong Cavalier club has won 20 meets without a loss and will serve to prove just how strong Carolina's rookie club is.

Take Hard Drills

Captain Giddins, Joe Fisher, Jim Carruth, and Ernie Eutsler all started the week with hard workouts preparing to meet some of the outstanding fighters on the Cavalier outfit.

Fisher, who has already shown that he has the stuff by his knockout over Captain Humphlett, will especially have to step to keep his undefeated record clean. The sophomore welterweight goes up against Wohmer, one of the Southern Conference champions on the title Cavalier team.

Eutsler will also be meeting a champion when he faces Captain Rainey of the Virginia boxers.

At present Johnny Edwards and Joe Dixon are putting up a battle for the lightweight position on the team. Both boys are rookies with little past experience but each is a strong, rugged type of boxer. Edwards got the call in the Gamecock encounter but still has not clinched the post.

Yesterday's feature battle was that between Captain Giddins and Joe Fisher.

FROSH GRAPPLERS TAKE LIGHT WORK

Yearlings Prepare for Meet Saturday with Wolfcubs.

The baby grapplers were sent through a light workout yesterday consisting mostly of calisthenics, and road work. The remainder of the session was spent in a talk in which Coach Quinlan pointed out many of the faults of his men as demonstrated in last Saturday's meet.

On a whole the Tar Heel mentor was rather pleased with the showing of the team and expects to see them swing into the winning column in their coming meet with State. One of the main weaknesses of the team is the fact that at least three men are wrestling out of their weight.

Among the men that wrestled in a heavier division are Ehringhaus, Gibbons, and James. The victory scored by the last of these three men made up for one of the other men's losses but it was not sufficient to make up for a third loss and thereby gave the meet to V.P.I.

In the next meet there will be a change in lineup and few if any men will be wrestling in heavier divisions. The only bad cog in a perfect squad that stands little chance of being corrected is the unlimited division. The frosh squad has but one candidate for the heaviest weight and that man is out for football and most of the time is unable to attend practice.

It is unfortunate that football practice does not give the proper wrestling stamina or else Walborn might have been able to give the Carolina frosh a victory last Saturday; he only needed to win by a time advantage in order to place the frosh in front as the victor.

SOPHS LEAD WAY IN MAT VICTORY OVER VPI OUTFIT

Four of Five Carolina Rookies Got Victories Last Saturday; Three Won by Falls.

TO FACE STATE SATURDAY

Coach Chuck Quinlan, Tar Heel varsity wrestling mentor, stated yesterday that the work on the part of the majority of the members in Saturday's meet with V.P.I. was satisfactory. "However, I do not think the visitors were as strong as they have been in past years," he was quoted as saying.

Four of the five sophomores on the mat aggregation came through with victories. Frank Umstead and Allen Bonner repeated their brilliant performances as freshmen, pinning their opponents for the greatly needed five points.

Melvin Ward and Jack Ranson showed up well in their first varsity tests. Ward gained an overwhelming time advantage over Adkins of the Gobblers while Ranson pinned Dailey in less than six minutes.

Douglas Performs Well

Ed Douglas, whose record was most impressive on the fresh contingent, perhaps faced the toughest opposition of the afternoon in Minter, brilliant senior featherweight of the Virginians. Although he was beaten on the route time he gave a good account of himself.

The program for the matmen this week will be devoted largely to correcting the mistakes shown in the V.P.I. fracas. Practices will be held as usual every afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Carolina will meet the strong State matmen Saturday in Raleigh. The Wolfpack along with the Generals of Washington and Lee are reported by leading mat experts to be the strongest teams in Dixie.

Last week State met and defeated V.M.I. at Lexington,

(Continued on last page)

Wearied by a Windbaq?

. . . light an Old Gold

If you're cornered at a fancy-dress ball by a tedious "ME-Man," don't let the pest spoil your party. Count ten and light a sunny-smooth Old Gold. Every puff of a mellow, mild O. G. is like a friendly pat on the back.

AT TRYING TIMES . . . . TRY A Smooth OLD GOLD

STATE WINDS UP KIDNAP EVIDENCE

Shows That Hauptmann Quit Job About When Ransom Was Paid; Later Traded Stocks.

Flemington, N. J., Jan. 21.—(UP)—The state began to weave the remaining loose ends into the fabric of the Hauptmann case today.

The scenes described in the testimony shifted from Sourland Mountains to New York, downtown to Wall Street, uptown to a small savings bank, and all around town.

Hauptmann Quit Job

Late in the day, Edward Morton, timekeeper for the Reliance Property Management Company of New York, testified that, on the day before the ransom money was paid, Hauptmann packed up his carpenter's tools and walked out, never to return.

The state also began to try to show what Hauptmann—if it was Hauptmann—did with the money after he allegedly opened the maple box. William Frank, of the United States Treasury Department, who has been studying Hauptmann's brokerage and bank accounts, testified.

It was revealed that Hauptmann was an active stock trader, who shifted his accounts frequently. Frank said that Hauptmann played the market for three years before the kidnaping occurred. He occasionally turned profits, the expert said, ranging from $40 to $500.

DEPUTATION TEAM ANNOUNCES PLANS

Full Series of Week-end Trips Will Begin Next Week.

Next week the University Y. M. C. A. deputation team, under the leadership of Jack Pool, will begin its extensive series of out-of-town visits.

Pool's group will spend the last week-end in January at Winston-Salem, the second week-end in February at Dunn, and the first week-end in March at Fayetteville.

During the first week-end in April, the deputation team will present its programs in Raleigh.

Further engagements have been booked for Durham, Rocky Mount and Pinehurst-Southern Pines-Aberdeen. The date for the latter visits have not been definitely decided upon.

Pool announced that the remaining week-ends, except those that fall on the exam and holiday periods, will be filled.

Last year the deputation team, under Pool's leadership, contacted over 25,000 people and visited nine different towns. The chairman inferred yesterday that his group would attempt to surpass last year's record.

Auto Tag Violaters To Appear In Court Today

(Continued from page one)

same ordinance is "Private Auto, or Truck, Tag . . . $1.00." According to Section 1 it is the "duty" of all who engage in a "trade, business, profession, or calling" to get tags.

The decision to be rendered tomorrow hinges on whether a student engages in a "trade, business, or a calling" within the limits of Chapel Hill.

Section 1 also provides that licenses be purchased on the "First day of July, 1934, or within thirty days thereafter." The defendents may contend that the greater part of the students are not in Chapel Hill at that time.

In addition to the offenders, a large audience of persons interested in the controversy is expected to attend the 10 o'clock session at the old Pickwick theatre.

WHICH ONE?

Mady Christians, Jean Parker, and Betty Furness in "A Wicked Woman," playing today at the Carolina theatre.

Soph Executives

The executive committee of the sophomore class will meet this morning at 10:30 o'clock in Gerrard hall to select a representative to the dance committee, Bunn Hearn, class president, announced yesterday.

The nomination is to fill the vacancy left by the failure of John Rainey, former class president, to return to school this quarter.

SINGERS PREPARE FOR RECITAL TRIP

Glee Club Scheduled to Give Concert at Southern Pines.

The University Glee Club will take its first out-of-town trip this quarter when it leaves for Southern Pines Sunday, February 3. There, it will present a program of religious music at the Church of Good Fellowship.

Monday, February 11, the Glee Club will travel to the Eastern Carolina Teachers College at Greenville. The recital will consist of various groups of sea chants, North Carolina folk songs, religious hymns, and Russian folk music.

H. Grady Miller, who will direct the group, urges all who expect to be eligible for the trips to attend all of the rehearsals. These will take place at five o'clock Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday of each week. New members will sing each Wednesday at 7:30 o'clock.

LEADING EDITORS TO LECTURE HERE

(Continued from page one)

authority on advertising and advertising problems.

James G. Stahlman, publisher of the Nashville Banner, Nashville, Tenn., who will talk Thursday morning, is one of the outstanding newspaper men of the south and is a warm friend of many of the daily publishers of North Carolina.

He has been very much interested in the manufacture of newsprint in the south and will speak with authority on that subject.

R. P. Harris will be the guest-speaker at the dinner at Duke University.

R. H. Pritchard, publisher of a weekly newspaper in Weston, W. Va., is vice-president this year and scheduled to be president next of the National Editorial Association.

He will be expected to take part in the informal discussion of code matters at the weekly group meeting on Thursday afternoon and to address the Institute Friday morning.

Math Seminar

Dr. E. T. Browne will continue last week's topic at a mathematics seminar tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in Phillips hall.

The subject is "Selected Topics from the Theory of Matrices."

GRAIL WILL HOLD DANCE SATURDAY

Johnny Long to Play; Only 250 Tickets to Be Sold.

The Order of the Grail will sponsor a dance in Bynum gymnasium Saturday night, it was announced yesterday. Johnny Long and his Duke Collegians will furnish the music for the occasion.

Only 250 tickets will be sold, because of the limited space in the gym. Tickets will be on sale at Pritchard-Lloyd's and at the door. No announcement has been made regarding the admittance of freshmen. The decision of the Grail will be made public through the DAILY TAR HEEL.

Johnny Long and his Duke Collegians have made several appearances at Chapel Hill in the past and are highly rated by all who have heard him. Long is one of the few accomplished left-handed violinists living. One tribute recently earned came upon being chosen to play for the Roosevelt Birthday ball, which will be held in Greensboro next month at the King Cotton Hotel.

Back to the Grind

Raleigh, Jan. 21.—(UP)—After a week-end of rest, the General Assembly will reconvene here tonight for what is expected to be a week of violent controversy.

The tough problems that face the state lawmakers this week are the sales tax, liquor, and the bonus recommendation to Congress.

CONCERT AT DUKE

Reginald Werrenrath baritone, assisted by Louise Bernhardt, contralto, will appear in concert Saturday evening, February 2, at 8:15 o'clock in the Women's College auditorium at Duke University.

FRANTZ' CONCERT HALL IS CHANGED

Better Acoustics of Hill Music Hall Effect Change from Memorial Hall.

The recital tomorrow evening by Dalies Frantz, young American pianist, originally scheduled to be held in Memorial hall, has been changed to Hill Music hall, it was announced last night by Raymond Brietz, president of Phi Mu Alpha, under whose auspices Frantz will appear.

The finer acoustic qualities of the music auditorium and the easier seating facilities have warranted the change.

Opens Tour

His recital here is the first on his present southern tour and one of very few he has played in university towns. Phi Mu Alpha was fortunate in securing Mr. Frantz for this date, as he had been booked for appearances in the metropolitan district for this period.

Bookings on his southern tour include Nashville, Atlanta, and New Orleans.

Fresh from recent triumphs in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, St. Louis, and other important cities of the middle west, Frantz comes to Chapel Hill to offer a varied program of classical and modern masterpieces.

The main offering on tomorrow evening's program will be the Liszt B-minor sonata, a composition frequently heard and beloved by all. Compositions by Bach, Brahms, Weber, Schubert, Chopin, Prokieff, and De Falla will also be included on the program.

The advance sale of tickets indicates a large audience will be present, but there are still a number of choice seats available at the offices of the music department, Hill Music hall. Proceeds will go to establish a scholarship in the University department of music.

Hatches Down!

(By United Press)

Blizzards, sleet, floods and below-zero temperatures spread suffering and destruction from coast to coast, from Canadian Rockies to the Gulf last night.

More than a score of lives are reported lost.

Wide areas are isolated by snowdrifts and lowlands are inundated as the storm paralyzes transportation and communication lines.

Spicer Pledges

Emmet Spicer of Goldsboro has pledged Zeta Psi fraternity, it was announced yesterday from Dean Bradshaw's office.

EDITORIAL BOARD

The editorial board of the DAILY TAR HEEL will meet this afternoon in the office at 2:30 o'clock with Phil Hammer, chairman.

All members are requested to be present, as the final selections for the staff will be announced.

SOPHS LEAD WAY IN MAT VICTORY

(Continued from page three)

18-14. The West Raleighites scored three falls and a time decision to garner the margin points of victory.

Outstanding among the State stars are Captain Bernhardt, 155-lb; Kerr, 125-lb; Furr, 165-lb; and Croom, 175-lb. Croom threw Burgess of the Keydets, who was runner-up to Waldrop, conference champion, in less than two minutes.

In commenting on the approaching meet with State, Coach Quinlan said, "State has one of the best wrestling outfits in the south. If we are to win, it will be up to the sophomores again."

Ill

The following students were confined in the infirmary yesterday: Sherwood Githens, Abraham Gordan, Mary Green, Kate Harrison, Betsy Jones, H. A. McGowan, Ben Royal, Walter Graham, Reed Sarratt.

W. R. Weaver, Sybille Berwanger, Mildred Cohen, Bruce Smith, E. S. Simpson, Stewart Coffey, W. A. Innes, W. L. Hargett, Branch Craige, W. R. Keats, F. E. Culvern, Tom Hines, Marvin Ray, Eleanor Lockhart, J. R. Barrett, E. A. Pearsall, E. M. Edens, and William Teague.

George to Speak

Dr. W. C. George of the anatomy department will address physicians of Charlotte and Mecklenburg county this afternoon on "The Function and Fate of the Lymphocytes."

For a number of years Dr. George's researches have been primarily in the field of blood problems, contributing a number of his results to scientific journals.

Hudson Speaks

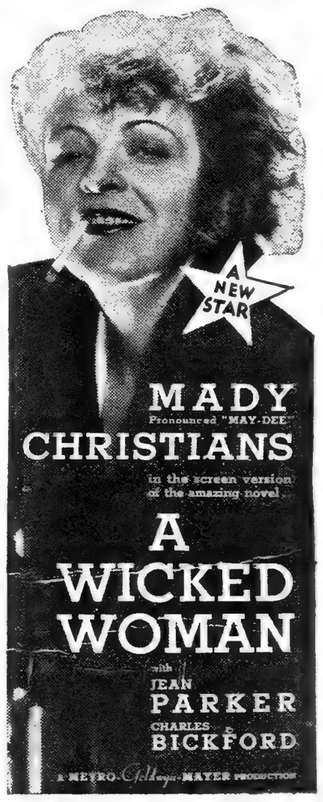
Dr. A. P. Hudson, head of the freshman English department, traveled to Raleigh on Sunday evening to address the students at St. Mary's.

LOST

Gold High School Ring with E C H S on black onyx. Also 2 keys on chain. Finder return to 101 Aycock. Reward!

ASSEMBLY HEARS MUSIC BY FULLER

Local Orchestra Presents Program of Popular Music.



Jimmy Fuller and his orchestra opened a program of popular music for freshman chapel yesterday morning with "Hark the Sound of Tar Heel Voices."

Fuller continued with "Winter Wonderland," "The Object of My Affections," "It's June in January," "Where There's Smoke There's Fire," "What a Difference a Day Makes," "I Can't Give You Anything But Love, Baby," "Chinatown," and concluded with his signature number.

H. F. Comer announced a meeting of the commerce school with Dean Carroll in Memorial Hall tomorrow morning and also a meeting of any freshmen tomorrow with Dean Bradshaw in the third of his vocational lectures.

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS

WICKED... but FASCINATING and so BEAUTIFUL

—OTHER UNITS—
Comedy—Cartoon—Novelty
NOW PLAYING
CAROLINA
—COMING SUNDAY—
A story so startling its author dared not sign his name!!
"THE PRESIDENT VANISHES"

Copyright, 1935, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, N. C.

DORMITORY COUNCIL
9:30 P. M.
GRAHAM MEMORIAL

The Daily Tar Heel

STAFF PICTURES
2 TO 3 P. M.
GRAHAM MEMORIAL

SERVED BY THE UNITED PRESS

VOLUME XLIII | CHAPEL HILL, N. C., WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 23, 1935 | NUMBER 86

Freshman Group To Reconsider Plans For Class Honor Court

Entire Class Must Vote on Proposal

Dean Bradshaw Discusses Purposes and Activity of Court With Mullis and Read.

DEAN PLEASED BY EFFORT

The proposed freshman honor court as outlined at a recent meeting of the freshman executive committee will be resubmitted to that group for reconsideration, it was decided at a conference yesterday between Dean Bradshaw, President Mullis, and Nick Read, chairman of the honor committee.

A general feeling that "several rough spots needed ironing out" prompted the move after Mullis and Read had exchanged ideas with Dean Bradshaw as to the purpose and activity of the court.

Class Sanction

According to Mullis, the committee will either re-organize the program or drop the matter entirely.

Any action planned by the committee, however, must be sanctioned by a vote of the class.

"Any establishment of an honor court will be determined by vote through the freshman class," Mullis said. "Nothing will be imposed upon them as they can decide by ballot whether or not they want a court."

Dean Bradshaw was pleased with the decision of resubmission to the executive committee. "I do not presume to know what the class will want to do about the court," he said, "but I am glad to hear that the class is working on this business of improving the honor system.

"It impresses me that there is more support of the honor principle in this freshman class than

(Continued on page two)

LEAGUE WILL ACT ON WORLD COURT

Foreign Policy Group to Consider United States' Entrance Into World Court.

The University Foreign Policy League will convene tomorrow night to consider the question of United States' entrance into the World Court.

Following a discussion of the topic, action will probably be taken by the organization in the form of petitioning senators to favor the measure now before the upper house for the entrance of this country into the tribunal.

Nation-wide Program

Fear that the proposed bill will be weakened by crippling amendments has caused a nation-wide program to be sponsored by the League of Nations Association to build up public opinion in favor of the World Court.

Meeting yesterday, the program committee of the Foreign Policy League drew up plans for methods of presenting the question to the club tomorrow.

A brief discussion will be presented on both sides of the problem and then a discussion will ensue on the topic with the floor being open to all the members.

Agnew Bahnson, president of the league, and Joe Barnett, chairman of the program committee, urge that all members of the club inform themselves on the question before the session, and urge that all members be present.

Journalist

James G. Stahlman, publisher of the Nashville, Tenn., Banner, and a former president of the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association, will be one of the principal speakers at the press convention here.

ANNUAL INSTITUTE OF N. C. PRESSMEN TO BEGIN TONIGHT

University Will Be Host to Editors and Publishers of State Papers.

GROUP TO HEAR GRAHAM

The University made ready yesterday to welcome the newspaper editors and publishers of the state who are to convene here this evening for the opening session of the 11th annual Newspaper Institute.

All North Carolina newspapermen have been invited to attend. The sessions are to be held in Chapel Hill and Durham with the University and Duke University co-operating with the North Carolina Press Association.

The newspapermen will begin registering at the Carolina Inn, Institute headquarters, this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The opening session will be held at the Inn at 7:30 o'clock. President Frank P. Graham will deliver the address of welcome. D. Hiden Ramsey, general manager of the Asheville Citizen-Times and president of the North Carolina Press Association, will make the response.

Principal Address

The principal address of the evening will be delivered by Dr. John Stewart Bryan, the new president of William and Mary College, who is publisher of the Richmond News-Leader. A dem-

(Continued on page two)

STAFF PICTURES

Members of the DAILY TAR HEEL staff will meet beginning at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in front of Graham Memorial to have their pictures taken for the 1935 Yackety Yack.

The schedule for the group photographs will be as follows: reporters, 2 o'clock; editorial writers, 2:15; city editors, desk men, the exchange editor and staff photographer, 2:30; sports editors and sports writers, 2:45; feature writers, 3 o'clock.

The business staff will meet Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock to have its picture taken.

FAMOUS CHEMIST GIVES TALK HERE

Dr. Roger Adams, President of American Chemical Society, Addresses Chapter Here.

Dr. Roger Adams, president of the American Chemical Society and winner of the Nichols Medal in 1927, addressed the North Carolina section of the society in Phillips hall last night. The famous chemist lectured on "Recent Trends in Applied Organic Chemistry."

Dr. Adams discussed the recent outstanding developments in the field of organic chemistry which concerns itself with vitamins and animal hormones, their structure and uses.

Petroleum Industry

After considering the plant hormones, he devoted the last part of his lecture to outstanding developments in the petroleum industry and in the producing of synthetic insecticides and synthetic resins.

Dr. Adams arrived here yesterday from Richmond, Va. where he had delivered a lecture. He visited points of interest around the University yesterday afternoon as a guest of members of the University chemistry department.

Dr. Adams was presented the Nichols Award for his outstanding work on Chaulmoogric acid and its derivatives. The use of this acid, or a preparation containing it, is generally regarded as the best method in the treatment of leprosy.

At present he is head of the chemistry department at the University of Illinois. The American Chemical Society which he heads includes 18,000 members and is the largest association of chemists in the world.

Internationally known for his researches in organic chemistry, Dr. Adams is the author of "Organic Syntheses" and other texts. He has been associate editor of the Journal of the American Chemical Society since 1922.

WOLF TO SPEAK BEFORE SEMINAR

Economics Professor to Discuss National Social Security Program at Meeting Tonight.

The Economics seminar will resume its weekly meetings this evening at 7:30 p. m. in 202 Bingham.

Dr. H. D. Wolf will discuss the social security program of the federal government with particular reference to its implications for North Carolina.

Complete Study

Dr. Wolf, who was on a leave of absence during the fall quarter, has just completed a study of unemployment insurance for North Carolina which was embodied in the reports of the Unemployment Commission appointed last year by Governor Ehringhaus.

At the second meeting of the seminar January 30th, Mr. T. B. King of Cape Town, South Africa, will discuss "The Influence of Gold on South African Economy."

Other speakers and topics during the current quarter will include: H. M. Douty on "Labor and Industry in North Carolina, 1880-1900" February 6th; R. S. Winslow on "The Significance of Uncertainty in Social Theory," February 13; M. D. Taylor on "Competitive Methods Employed by Chain Stores" on February 27; and Robin Hood on "Wage and Hour Differentials in White and Negro Labor in the South" March 6th.

Grail Dance

The second Grail dance for the winter quarter, announced in yesterday's paper as scheduled for this coming Saturday night, will be held Saturday night, February 2, instead. This announcement was made late yesterday by Simmons Patterson, treasurer of the Grail.

Johnny Long and his Duke Collegians will furnish the music.

Turkish Beauties Are Top University Student Contends

Nehat Ferit, Turkish Graduate Student Here, Awards Turkish Women First Place and American Women Second in Beauty Evaluation; Hollywood Stars Are "Nice Girls."

"American women are second in beauty only to Turkish," says Nehat Ferit, Turkish graduate student at the University, who is directing his studies toward diplomatic service in the new Republic of Turkey.

Ferit takes great pleasure in telling of the beauty contests on the continent that are sponsored every year by the Turks. He has several Turkish movie magazines in which American stars are featured prominently. "Nice girls," says Nehat. "I think I'll go up and see 'em sometime.

Harems

"The boys ask me about harems and how many wives my father has. As to harems, I know nothing about them, and my father has but one wife, although polygamy was practiced to some extent before the era of the new republic."

What kind of clothes do we wear in Turkey? Ferit opened the closet door and showed us several American made suits which he bought before he came over. "The fez went out with the Ottoman Empire," he said, "and the European hat came in with the new regime. The women have also discarded veils and are allowed to vote."

Next in his mind are the thoughts of politics in the Turkish republic. "We have only one party, the peoples' party. That is our party's flag," he said, pointing to a red pennant with white arrows running diagonally across from the top corner.

Mustapha Kemal

"We have only one choice for president, Gazi Mustapha Kemal, 'The Father of Turkey,' whose picture you see on that flag." He pointed to a photograph on a red flag on which is emblazoned in white the Turkish crescent moon and star originally the symbol of Diana.

"The symbol originated at the time of the siege of Constantinople (now Istanbul) by Philip, the father of Alexander the Great. The attempt of the besiegers to undermine the walls one night was betrayed by a crescent moon, and in acknowledgement of their escape the

(Continued on page two)

Kyser Orchestra To Play For Mid-Winter Germans

Musician

Dalies Frantz, noted young pianist, who appears in a concert recital in the Hill Music hall here this evening under the auspices of Phi Mu Alpha, musical fraternity.

RECITAL TONIGHT MARKS FRANTZ'S CAROLINA DEBUT

Youthful American Pianist to Play in Music Hall; Sponsored by Phi Mu Alpha.

PLAN VARIED PROGRAM

Dalies Frantz, the young American pianist, will make his North Carolina debut here tonight in recital at the Hill Music hall. The program will begin promptly at 8:30 o'clock.

Frantz comes to Chapel Hill under the auspices of Phi Mu Alpha. Winning last year the American Federation of Music Clubs' prize, he has gone on to even greater triumphs as soloist with the larger symphony orchestras and in recital in the more important cities of the country. Notable among his successes have been his frequent appearances with the Philadelphia Symphony, Leopold Stokowski conducting.

Press Opinions

Such press notices as "Mr. Frantz startled an enthusiastic audience with his lightning technique," "he has not only dazzling technique, he has masterful strength at the keyboard," and "the poetic feeling, deep insight of the literature presented, and skillful manipulation of difficult passages stamps Dalies Frantz as a pianistic marvel" have served as an advance notice of what to expect when he makes his appearance here this evening.

It is not alone great musical gifts and technical equipment however that go to make an art-

(Continued on page two)

Snow Covers Nation

Jan. 22.—(UP)—Snow piled down on large areas of the nation Tuesday night, crippling traffic and causing suffering to thousands of people and some fatalities.

Ships were delayed, motor roads buried, and wire communications interrupted. Snow fell all day in New York City, with colder weather predicted for Wednesday. Snow was reported as far south as New Orleans where the visitation caused youngsters to think the end of the world had come. Many had never seen snow before.

BLACKHAWK BAND RATED TOP-NOTCH

Alumnus Pleased at Returning to Campus; Broadcasts Regards "to Fellows on Hill."

FOUR DANCES PLANNED

Kay Kyser and his orchestra have definitely been contracted to play for the German Club mid-winter set of dances here February 15-16, it was announced yesterday by Chapin Litten, secretary-treasurer of the organization.

Kyser and his band are at present playing in the Blackhawk Restaurant in Chicago and broadcasting several times nightly from there.

Tour South

The boys broadcast their final Midnight Flyers program over WGN Monday night before starting on a three-week southern tour, during which they will play for dances at Georgia Tech, Alabama, Auburn, Tennessee, Sewanee, and at the University. During the broadcast Kay played "Tar Heels On Hand," expressed his pleasure over returning to Chapel Hill, and gave his regards to Chapin Litten and all the fellows on the "Hill."

The band will leave the Blackhawk Saturday and after the completion of the tour will return to Chicago.

Kay is an alumnus of the University and organized his orchestra while attending school here. Since leaving school Kay's band has risen rapidly in the musical world and has progressed more perhaps in the last year than any other orchestra. His orchestra is now rated with the top-notchers.

Kyser replaced Hal Kemp at the Blackhawk several months

(Continued on page two)

CO-EDS PROPOSE TO JOIN A. A. U. W.

Quarterly Dance Scheduled for February 1; To Aid In Student-Faculty Day.

At a meeting of the Woman's Association yesterday afternoon, the co-ed student body voted to petition for membership in the American Association of University Women.

Membership in the organization was previously refused to the group on account of a deficiency in the athletic requirements for women at the University.

Quarterly Dance

The group also voted to hold the quarterly co-ed dance February 1 in the Tin Can. The orchestra will be announced soon.

It was suggested that a change be made in the constitution of the Woman's Association in order that the co-eds in the sophomore class might have a larger representation in the Woman's Student Council.

Lois Byrd, house president of Spencer hall, was appointed to select the committee which should plan the co-ed contribution for the Student Faculty Day program.

The association also voted to give the Woman's Athletic Association $100 to be used for new equipment.

Betty Durham concluded the meeting with a report from the National Student Federation of America meeting to which she was a delegate last month.

The Daily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Union Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where it is printed daily except Mondays, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Holidays. Entered as second class matter at the post office of Chapel Hill, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 for the college year.

A. T. Dill ..... Editor
Robert C. Page, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
Joe Webb ..... Business Manager
George Underwood ..... Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

EDITORIAL BOARD—Phil Hammer, chairman, Earl Wolslagel, Franklin Harward, John Schulz, DuPont Snowden, Margaret McCauley, Morty Slavin, Sam Leager, Dick Myers, Charles Lloyd, Jake Snyder.

FEATURE BOARD—Nelson Lansdale, chairman; Nick Read, Bob Browder, Francis Clingman, J. E. Poindexter, W. M. Cochrane, Willis Harrison.

CITY EDITORS—Irving Suss, Walter Hargett, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.

TELEGRAPH EDITORS—Stuart Rabb, Charlie Gilmore.

DESK MAN—Eddie Kahn.

SPORTS DEPARTMENT—Jimmy Morris and Smith Barrier, co-editors, Tom Bost, Lee Turk, Len Rubin, Fletcher Ferguson, Stuart Sechriest, Lester Ostrow, Ira Sarasohn.

EXCHANGES—Margaret Gaines.

STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER—Don Becker.

REPORTERS—Bill Hudson, John Smith, J. F. Jonas, Ralph Sprinkle, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Raymond Howe, William Jordan, Morton Feldman.

Business Staff

ASST. BUSINESS MANAGER ..... Butler French
COLLECTION MANAGER ..... Herbert Osterheld
OFFICE MANAGERS ..... Walter Eckert, Roy Crooks
NATIONAL ADVERTISING ..... Boylan Carr
DURHAM REPRESENTATIVE—Joe Murnick.
LOCAL ADVERTISING—Hugh Primrose, Robt. Sosnik, Eli Joyner (managers), Bill MacDonald, Louis Shaffner, Page Keel, Bill McLean, Crist Blackwell.

CITY EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE: IRVING SUSS

Wednesday, January 23, 1935

PARAGRAPHICS

Intramural basketball reminds us of the Gibson Girl: a frantic effort to get as much as possible in the hoop.

So the DAILY TAR HEEL staff will be photographed? Panning the press, hey?

The most logical pension plan we've heard of is "young-age" pensions. Then nobody would get old and you wouldn't need old-age pensions.

Virginia vs. The World

Virginia undergraduates, responding to a poll conducted by College Topics, registered a 6-1 vote in favor of grants to rebuild the Cavaliers' weak football aggregation, and 2-1 in favor of remaining within the Southern Conference.

Employing admittedly "simon pure" football tactics, the Cavaliers have found the going tough. Matching other Southern Conference foes has not been encouraged by subsidizing gridiron ability for the honor of the Alma Mater.

How true is the current Charlottesville opinion, we do not know. It involves several speculations: Are players who receive financial aid the only star football performers? Does Virginia's obvious weakness on the field indicate the lack of able men, whose presence would be assured through subsidization? Is Virginia's traditional blase attitude toward sport in particular and the world in general the basic cause for the failure of its athletic representatives?

The undergraduate poll testifies to the fact that, despite Virginia's attitude, the students are reacting to the "simon purism," such reaction emanating from a growing dissatisfaction arising from the weekly trouncing incurred by its football delegation. The results of the poll, in our mind, indicate a healthy trend toward the realization that "simon purism," in a certain sense, is frankly impracticable. The votes also manifest a drift from the mental sluggishness which has settled over so many schools.

The University of North Carolina does not claim "simon purism" as a motto, but we have no reason to believe it could not. The self-help roster shows more non-athletes than athletes; athletic scholarships are not fostered because, frankly, the scholarship opportunities in all fields are inadequate. Dean Robert House boldly has asserted that the administration does not favor nor practice athletic subsidization. Yet Carolina has had consistently good football teams.

Doubtless, our University has ample alumni aid for football players. Is that subsidization? Is the local situation more flagrant than those existing in other Southern Conference schools, including Virginia? Outside the help of the alumni, are all other Southern Conference schools paying their football elevens in order to satisfy these alumni, fill the coffers, and gain publicity, as Virginia thinks they are?

We can understand Virginia's desire to place winning grid teams on the field. But we doubt the validity of Virginia's graduate and undergraduate claims that the intercollegiate football situation is so grossly mishandled by subsidization. We hope their realization of the impracticability of "simon purism" does not develop into a reactionary attitude of "football by the purse."

Thought And Honor

The University at Raleigh has recently changed its student government policy so as to take final authority on guilt and punishment out of the hands of twenty-seven undergraduate councillors of assorted ranks and turn it over solely to the five seniors on their student council. The reason our brothers in Raleigh gave for making the change were that they consider seniors more capable of making such decisions logically and with less thought for possible political advancement than the other undergraduates.

The student body of the Raleigh branch of the University seems to have been doing no little serious thinking lately; prior to making the decision mentioned above, the students decided to abandon the honor system in favor of the proctor system; and they did this because they thought the honor system impractical. Their latest action, that of vesting the seniors alone with power of final decisions, is the result of more thought, and, it seems to us, an earnest desire for justice, just as leaving the honor system seemed to them the best way to stamp out cheating.

Both actions were taken as remedies to situations which the Raleigh students found highly unsatisfactory; whether they will effect a relief is another question. At any rate, the thing we should like to commend is the fact that the A. & M. gentlemen were able to diagnose their weakness and are trying to cure it.

We might draw a parallel in our present freshman honor situation, where less reactionary activity is being conducted with the purpose of strengthening the standing honor system. Both actions, in Raleigh and Chapel Hill, involve serious student thought, which is encouraging.

Pensions And Plans

The present agitated speculation over the old-age pension legislation being argued in the Congress at its current session leads to the idea that perhaps any plan that may be offered for consideration will be more equitable and liberal than those now in force.

Today there is an entirely new order of aged persons who are dependent on government support. This is the class made up of those unfortunates of the business and professional classes, used to the comforts and refinements of life, whose fortunes have been swept away by the collapse of industry. These folks must be pensioned, or, it seems, destroy themselves. Some have already been forced to the latter.

A rational pension plan should provide for sums to be given according to social status, previous circumstances and present needs of the individual. These sums should be topped by a figure of, say $100 monthly, and graded down to lesser sums for those of smaller requirements. The same pension for all cannot be equitable nor fair. Another proposal which should be given considerable thought is the lowering of the present age limit from 70 to 65 years.

Certainly forty dollars a month reported to be proposed by the Roosevelt committee is not security in any sense for those accustomed to a decent standard of living.

Pensions and The Racket

Speaking of pensions: in a recent issue of the Saturday Evening Post the American Veterans Association devoted a full page to an expose of what it terms "the pension racket."

To ears grown weary of hearing the word racket spoken on all sides, the application of that term to the efforts of veterans who are trying to squeeze pensions out of our generous government is a last straw. Off hand, we'd say that the men who did their bit to make the world safe for democracy and came out of it alive deserve some reward. That's in keeping with the American sense of fair play.

But when a movement is started by the Veterans Association itself to curb the expenditures made by the government under the heading "Pensions," it is obvious that something has gone too far somewhere.

Briefly, the Veterans Association proposes that pensions be paid only to those justly deserving them. Into this category would fall all veterans wounded in combat, veterans suffering from injury or disease incurred in the line of duty, and the dependents of those killed in action, or who have died from wounds or disease incurred in the line of duty. That's fair enough, and it becomes even fairer still when we are told that unless something is done to put a stop to the present pension racket, our great, great, grandchildren will be paying pensions for the World War in A.D. 2040.

The problem concerns us, for in a few years from now we are going to be faced with the task of supplying the funds from which pensions are paid. When that time comes, we will be willing to do this, but we have the right—and should avail ourselves of it—of demanding that our money falls not into the hands of racketeers, but of those who are justified in claiming it.

ANNUAL INSTITUTE TO BEGIN TONIGHT

(Continued from page one)

onstration by a male group of dancers, under the direction of Phoebe Barr, a former pupil of Ted Shawn, will conclude the opening session.

Although not scheduled for a formal address Marvin H. McIntyre, one of President Roosevelt's secretaries, who was at one time city editor of the Asheville Citizen, has accepted an invitation to attend the Institute and to speak informally at one of the sessions.

The complete program for Thursday and Friday follows:

Thursday Morning

9:30—Address, "The Future of Advertising" by William Nugent, vice-president of Media Records, Inc., New York.

Address, "Manufacture of Newsprint in the South" by James G. Stahlman, publisher, Nashville, Tenn., Banner.

Thursday Afternoon

1:00—Luncheon, ballroom of Carolina Inn, guests of University. Program will be in charge of local committee.

2:30—Group meetings, Inn parlors. Weekly group presided over by Grover Britt. Daily group presided over by L. C. Gifford.

5:00—Adjournment to go to Duke University.

At Duke University

6:30—Dinner at Union, guests of Duke University. Special music.

Address, Dr. W. P. Few, president of Duke University.

Address, R. P. Harris, editorial staff of Baltimore Sun.

Friday Morning

Informal inspection of newspaper display with B. A. Lowrance in charge.

9:30—Presentation of proposed certificate plan of award.

Address, R. H. Pritchard, vice-president of National Editorial Association.

Shop talk, with J. L. Horne, Jr., presiding.

Unfinished business.

Kyser Orchestra Will Play for Mid-Winters

(Continued from page one)

ago and has been accorded a great reception in the "Windy City."

Kay and his boys have played here once since starting on their rise to fame. He furnished the music for the German Club mid-winters in 1933 and also gave a concert in Memorial hall for the benefit of the student loan fund.

The mid-winter set will consist of four dances as usual. It will start with an informal tea dance in the Tin Can Friday afternoon from 4:30 to 6:30 o'clock, and will be followed by a formal dance from 9 to 1 o'clock Friday evening, another tea dance from 4:30 to 6:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and will end with another formal dance from 9 to 12 Saturday evening.

Tag Charges Dropped In Numerous Cases

Decision on Student Question Expected at Meeting Tuesday.

Prosecuting Attorney R. W. McGinnis dropped charges yesterday morning against all those who have purchased city auto tags since being cited to court here. Over half of those who were summoned failed to appear, and McGinnis asked continuance in these cases.

At no time was Judge L. J. Phipps obliged to pass judgment on a student, for the latter either purchased tags or failed to appear.

Recorder's court meets again next Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. A decision on the student question is expected at that time.

Recital Tonight Marks Frantz's U.N.C. Debut

(Continued from page one)

ist. Self-effacement plays a large part as well as willingness to sacrifice personal glorification and merge one's own identity with that of the composer in an inspired work even with small prospects of the rich applause to be gained by music of bombastic thunderings.

New York Debut

It was this willingness of Frantz and his devotion to his art that led him to play the Beethoven C Major Concerto in his New York debut. For many years the work had not been given in concert, its value even having been questioned. It had been left aside for works which were sure to bring more enthusiastic plaudits. Frantz thought otherwise, and made of the difficult work one of the greatest successes of last year's musical season in the metropolis.

This evening's program contains many brilliant works for the pianoforte, chief of which is the great Liszt B Minor Sonata. Compositions by Bach, Brahms, Schubert, Weber, Chopin and De Falla and Prokokieff of the modern school will also be played. It is a varied program, designed to appeal to all the tastes in musical literature.

Tickets are on sale at various prices from 85 cents to $2.06, including tax, at the office of the music department, Hill Music hall.

Grimes Dormitory Has Banquet, Show

With C. C. "Inimitable" Crittenden giving a hilarious address as guest speaker, and "Spot" Teal doing the honors as toastmaster, nearly 100 Grimes dormitory boys treated themselves to a banquet at the Mayflower Club last night. Later in the evening E. Carrington Smith treated them to a free show.

Dormitory leaders had originally planned to have the banquet last quarter, but exams interfered. Those behind last night's gathering were: Dick Haynes, president; Paul Teal, vice-president; Grover Murray, secretary; Francis McKendry, treasurer; Dave McCachren, first floor councilor; Jimmy Carmichael, second floor councilor; Francis Cambel, third floor councilor; and Moses Gillam, fourth floor councilor.

KOCH TO SPEAK TONIGHT TO AMATEUR RADIO FANS

The second in a series of meetings for amateur short wave radio fans will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock in 210 Phillips hall.

George Koch will speak on "The Theory, Construction, and Operation of a Modern Two-Tube Receiver."

All those interested in short wave radio, whether licensed operators or not, are cordially invited to attend the meeting.

Faculty Meeting

There will be a meeting of the general faculty in Bingham hall this afternoon at 4 o'clock, Dean R. B. House announced yesterday. Special business will include discussion of presentation of honorary degrees.

OUTSTANDING RADIO BROADCASTS

Wednesday, Jan. 23

1:00: George Hall orch., WABC.

3:00: Kate Smith matinee hour, WABC.

6:45: Lowell Thomas, commentator, WJZ.

7:15: Plantation Echoes, Mildred Bailey; Robison orch.; male quartet, WJZ.

8:00: Play, "Within the Law," with Mary Pickford & Co., WEAF; Penthouse Party, Coleman orch.; guest stars, WJZ.

8:15: Edwin C. Hill, commentator, WABC.

8:30: Wayne King orch., WEAF; Lanny Ross, tenor; Salter orch., Dorothy Baker, soprano, WJZ; Everett Marshell, baritone; Elizabeth Lennox, contralto; Arden orch., WABC.

9:00: Fred Allen, comedian; Hayton orch.; amateur review, WEAF; Lily Pons, soprano; Kostelanetz orch.; mixed chorus, WABC.

9:30: John McCormack, tenor; Concert orch., WJZ; George Burns and Gracie Allen, WBT.

10:00: Guy Lombardo orch., WEAF.

10:30: Denny orch.; Harry Richman, songs, WJZ; Mary Eastman, soprano; Evan Evans, baritone, WABC.

11:00: Hal Kemp orch., WJZ.

Turkish Beauties Are Top, Student Contends

(Continued from page one)

Byzantines raised a statute to Diana and made her badge the symbol of the city."

Ferit came to Chapel Hill after graduating from the International College at Izmur (formerly Smyrna). He studied for a time in France. He speaks French and English besides his native tongue and has traveled extensively in Europe, Asia, and Africa. He plans to visit numerous parts of the United States, especially Hollywood, before going home.

"The south is not much different from my home," he said. "The climate is practically the same, the food is not hard to adapt one's self to, and the people here, as in Turkey, are noted for their hospitality."

Freshman Group Will Reconsider Class Court

(Continued from page one)

in any I've known in many years," he stated.

Read was of the opinion that the psychological effect of a freshman honor court would be great as "freshmen would rather report cases to their own court than to one composed of upper classmen."

It was understood that if the executive committee decided upon an honor court with suspension powers, it would have to be sanctioned by a vote of the freshman class and the Student Council.

SEND THE DAILY TAR HEEL HOME

THE
Young Men's Shop
126-128 E. Main St.
DURHAM, N. C.

Grey Shirts March on Capital!
"THE PRESIDENT VANISHES"
SEE PAGE FOUR

Tar Heel Cagers Defeat New York A. C., 38-32; Rally In Last Minutes

Aitken Scores 17 Points; Comeback in Last Five Minutes

Kaveny Leads in Rally; Nelson Scores 7 Points.

(Special to the DAILY TAR HEEL)

New York, N. Y., Jan. 22.—The University of North Carolina's crack cage five put on the pressure in the last minutes of tonight's game with the New York Athletic Club, and their rally netted them a 38-32 victory.

Trailing by a 24-19 count with only five minutes left to play, the White Phantom sharpshooters opened up; and with Captain Aitken and Paul Kaveny leading the way, they sank 19 points in rapid fire order. The southerners also trailed at the half period by 12-18.

Aitken Tops Scorers

Aitken led the Carolinians to their eleventh straight win. His eye for the basket was great as he sank seven goals from action and a trio of free tosses for a total of 17 points. Kaveny and Mel Nelson were runners-up with 7 each.

The Clubers, a team composed of former metropolitan college stars, were led by Ridings and McDowell with 7 and 6 markers respectively.

N. Y. A. C. Starts Fast

The losers started the game with a smooth passing attack which worked in beautifully and outscored the Tar Heels. Coming down the home stretch, the New Yorkers were in the lead. But with Aitken and Kaveny sinking points freely, the southerners reduced the club's lead and pulled ahead, finishing strong.

Tomorrow the North Carolinians journey up the river to West Point where they engage the Army Cadet five in the afternoon.

No. 11

CAROLINA (38)	G	F	TP
Nelson, f	3	1	7
Aitken, f	7	3	17
Glace, c	0	1	1
McCachren, g	1	1	3
Harris, g	1	1	3
Kaveny, g	3	1	7
Totals	15	8	38

N.Y.A.C. (32)	G	F	TP
Madigan, f	1	0	2
Hassett, f	2	0	3
Ridings, f	2	3	7
Strickland, c	2	2	6
Devers, c	1	0	2
McDowell, g	3	0	6
Parker, g	1	0	2
Lancaster, g	1	2	4
Totals	13	6	32

Score at half: N. Y. A. C., 18; Carolina 12.

Non-scoring subs: N. Y. A. C.—Hamilton, f; Cooper, f; Gilchrist, g; Kearns, g; O'Keefe, g.

Referee: Tom Degnan (E. I. A.). Umpire: Ed Shaw, (E. I. A.)

BABY VIRGINIANS TO BRING STRONG TEAM HERE SAT.

Little Cavaliers Have Well-Balanced Outfit, Although Losing to V. M. I.

TAR BABIES WORK HARD

The Virginia frosh mittmen, who come up against the Tar Babies Saturday evening in the Tin Can, are reputed to be a powerful group of pugilists, packing enough dynamite and boxing ability to make the bouts as interesting as they have been in the past.

Last week the baby Cavaliers lost a close meet to the V. M. I. freshmen by the score of 5-3, but they displayed enough power to keep the Carolina yearlings from becoming too confident. The Tar Babies have shown improvement with every meet, and the Virginia bouts should find them in their best form.

Babies Drill

The first year glovers have been setting a furious pace in the Tin Can these past two days. Shores, Shmurak, O'Herron, Bass, Hendel, Benton, May, Lee, Rowley and others have all been going through their paces, striving to gain undisputed possession of their spots on Saturday night's card.

The fact still remains, however, that there isn't any frosh heavyweights on hand; and unless one turns out in the near future, Carolina will be forced to forfeit the bout in that division.

Smithsonians Win In Big Comeback To Head Murals

Teps, S. A. E.'s and Phi Kappa Sigs Also Turn in Basketball Victories.

Only four games were played in the intramural basketball competition yesterday afternoon at the Tin Can; and T. E. P., S. A. E., Smithsonians, and Phi Kappa Sigma gained the victories.

The Smithsonians, with a 40-30 comeback victory over Old West, led the scorers for the day; and Jesse Parker, playing the greater portion of the game at the pivot post, took individual honors for the afternoon with 14 points.

S. A. E. Wins

With Scott heading the attack by scoring seven field goals and one foul, the S. A. E. combine experienced little trouble with Chi Phi and went off victorious, 27-12.

Phi Kappa Sigma took tis third straight as it defeated Phi Sigma Kappa, 28-10. Wilson, Sharp, and Love stood out for the winners, while Mahoney and Fuller did best for the losers.

T. E. P. and St. Anthony put on a fairly even battle, with the former coming through in the last period to roll up a margin that gave them the contest,

(Continued on last page)

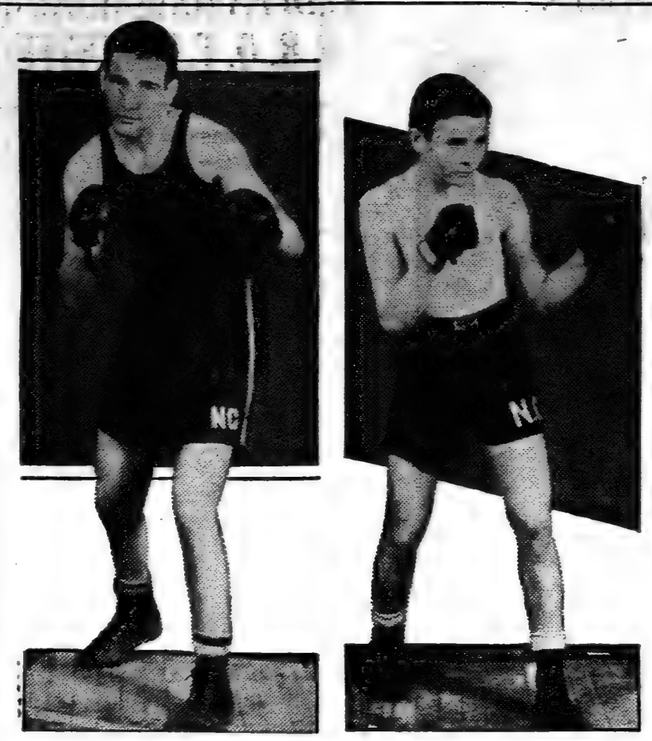
Tar Baby Basketeers To Start On Three-Game Trip Tomorrow

Undefeated Yearlings Leave Tomorrow Morning and Play Charlotte High That Night; Engage Belmont Abbey and Davidson Frosh on Following Nights; Ten Men Make Trip.

Scrimmaging featured yesterday afternoon's two hour practice, which the frosh basketball squad went through in preparation for the coming encounter with Charlotte High.

With four victories under its belt, the team is highly confident, but is aware of the strength of Charlotte and is prepared to earn its victory.

Coach Skidmore is pleased with the condition of the squad but is holding one more drill before leaving for the opponent's court. This evening will mark the final practice and will get underway at 8 o'clock.



The squad, which will be composed of ten players, will leave the Hill at 10 a. m. tomorrow and return after their final game on Saturday night, when they face the yearlings of Davidson.

The other game of their tour will take place on Friday against Belmont Abbey. These three clashes will put the frosh quintet on the spot and will definitely decide the power of the Tar Babies.

None of their three opponents can be overlooked, and every bit of Carolina strategy will have to be employed to bring back a still undefeated five to Chapel Hill.

The ten players due to depart with the team are yet unselected but will be chosen after today's practice. Another indication that Ramsey Potts will make the trip was his appearance on the court yesterday during the scrimmaging of the first two teams.

VETERAN GLOVERS

Above are Captain Sam Giddins (left) and Ernie Eutsler. Together with Jim Carruth, they form the sole source of veteran material on the Tar Heel boxing team. Last Saturday both above men won their bouts on decisions. They will lead the Rowers in their hard meet with the Cavaliers in the Tin Can this week-end.

HIGH SCHOOLERS TO HOLD STATE TOURNEYS HERE

Boxing and Wrestling Meets to Take Place in Tin Can on February 26 and 27.

CAGE TILTS ON FEB. 26-27

The fifth annual interscholastic boxing and wrestling tournaments for North Carolina high schools will be held here in the Tin Can on February 11 and 12, according to the January issue of the University Extension Division circular.

The finals in the 25th annual state Class 'A' and Class 'B' high school basketball races will be played here on February 26 and 27.

Prelims in both boxing and wrestling will begin at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of the 11th and semi-finals that night. Finals will begin at 8 o'clock on February 12. There will be matches in the following weights: 108, 115, 125, 135, 145, 155, 165, and 175 pounds.

The basketball games will be played on the two nights of the 26th and 27th, with the Class 'B' game being first.

Last year Raleigh won the boxing cup and Barium Springs the wrestling. Charlotte won the cage title for the fourth consecutive year in the 'A' class, while Dobson took the minor division.

VARSITY MATMEN TAKE WORKOUTS FOR STATE MEET

Wolfpack Possesses Strong Outfit; Four Regulars from Last Year's Crack Team.

BOTH ARE UNDEFEATED

In preparation for the fray with the strong N. C. State team, Carolina's varsity matmen underwent their most strenuous work of the season yesterday. Several new holds were shown and demonstrated; and Coach Quinlan went over the weak spots exhibited in the V. P. I. encounter last week.

Although the combined varsity and freshman squads are still small, more interest is being shown by all candidates in the progress of the teams. A vast improvement can be seen during every workout.

Wolfpack Favorites

The Wolfpack no doubt will be the overwhelming favorites to cop Saturday's fracas. Last year the West Raleigh contingent drubbed the Tar Heels 26-0, and incidentally it was the worst defeat a Carolina wrestling team has ever received.

State has four lettermen who competed in 1934. They are Kerr, 125; Captain Bernhardt, 155; Furr, 165; and Croom, 175. Sim Efland, 165 pounder, is the lone letterman who will be in Coach Quinlan's lineup this week-end.

An interesting sidelight will be the bout between Efland and Furr. In 1934 Furr defeated his adversary on a close decision. This year's battle between the

(Continued on last page)

MISS CAFFEY IS ELECTED CAPTAIN OF CO-ED CAGERS

Miss Frances Caffey has been elected captain of the co-ed basketball team for this season, and Miss Kay Quigley was elected manager at Monday evening's practice.

The following girls reported on Monday evening for practice: Nancy Lawlor, Kay Quigley, Gertrude Pridgen, Louise Wehyer, Anna Cowles, Jo Oettinger, Jean Van Deusen, Hester Campbell, Tempe Newsom, Frances Caffey, Bobbie Moore, Annie Smedes Vass, and Annie Jenkins. The team has not been definitely selected.

The next practice will be held in the gymnasium at 7 o'clock on Thursday evening.

Williamson And Hurdler Invited To NYAC Games

PUGILISTS WORK HARD FOR MEET WITH CAVALIERS

Coach Rowe Not Too Optimistic Over Tar Heels' Hopes for Saturday Contest.

VA. HAS POWERFUL CLUB

With the Virginia bouts looming in front of them, the big blue Tar Heel scrappers have plunged into serious training. The boys realize that the approaching fights are not going to be as easy as the last two sets of bouts; and they are working doubly hard to be in condition.

Coach Rowe is not at all optimistic about the outcome of the coming clash. He believes Virginia has the best balanced team they have ever had. This is readily acceptable by followers of the Cavalier teams of the past.

Trio of Champs

The invading aggregation boasts of three Southern Conference champions. These men are Hahn at 119 pounds, Rainey at 125 pounds, and Womer at 145 pounds.

Yesterday afternoon saw Lammie Alderman and Big Jim Carruth renewing their battle for the heavyweight berth. Both boys are anxious to display their wares Saturday night and are working hard to beat each other out for the post. These behemoths are in excellent shape and whoever does draw the assignment will have to move at a fast gait to keep up with the Virginia heavyweight. This man, Cramer, has won his last two bouts by kayos, having put away his V.P.I. and Harvard adversaries.

Jay's Ineligibility May Cause Forfeits

Raleigh, Jan. 22.—After a week of controversy and investigation, Leroy Jay, State's veteran forward, has finally been ruled ineligible for further play on the Wolfpack basketball team.

The faculty's report said that according to the spirit of the Southern Conference rules the forward would not be allowed to continue competition on the Red Terror outfit.

No official statement has been made as to how the ruling will effect the games Jay has already played in; but it seems that at least SIC games will go on record as forfeits against State. If their win over Duke is reversed by a forfeit, it will send the Blue Devils in to the Big Five lead.

Either Abernethy or Hawthorne to Race

Williamson to Run in "Baxter Mile"; Will Also Be in Millrose Games.

RELAYERS NOT SELECTED

The Tar Heels go north again! Invitations have been accepted for Harry Williamson to run in the famous "Baxter Mile" and for one hurdler to race in the special 60 yard high hurdles at the New York Athletic Club's indoor track games on February 16.

The hurdler to make the trip will be either Frank Abernethy or Tom Hawthorne.

These games, the 68th annual held in Madison Square Garden, are one of the leading sport affairs in the Empire City; and the "Baxter Mile" is possibly its biggest attraction.

Close Mile Run

Last year this famous mile run was one exciting episode in the season's thrilling individual competition between Bill Bonthron and Glenn Cunningham. Both Bonny and the Kansan came down the home stretch shoulder to shoulder; and they crossed the finish line so close that the difference in time could not be determined. Bonthron won at 4:14 by falling ahead at the tape.

The high hurdle event is also a very fast one. Last year John Collier of Boston A. A. tied the world's record twice during his night's performance in winning the event.

In Millrose Also

Williamson will also run in the Millrose games February 2 in the 1000-meter event. A two-mile relay team will also make the trip for their first fire under big time bombardment. This quartet is undecided to date but certain men have shown up better to date.

Of course Williamson will be in the anchor position. Graham Gammon will take one leg, and likewise Ed McRae, providing his leg gets in condition in time. The fourth man is quite undecided, but will come from the group of Bob Gardiner, Ed Waldrop, Red Drake and Dick Gabori. Gardiner has turned in the best showing to date and may be the

(Continued on last page)

Today's Mural Card

3:45—(1) Swain Hall vs. Kluttz, (2) Sigma Chi vs. S. P. E.

4:45—(1) Mangum No. 1 vs. Pharmacy, (2) A. T. O. vs. Lambda Chi Alpha, (3) Lewis vs. Everett.

PEP ON THE AIR
Kellogg's
COLLEGE PROM
WITH a host of merriment, thrills and fun at Annapolis.
ARMY & NAVY NIGHT
THURSDAY, JAN. 24th
WJZ—7:45 P.M. E.S.T.
Ruth ETTING and her melody
Red NICHOLS and his rhythm and the entire N. B. C. Blue Network. A regular weekly feature.

ASSEMBLY DECRIES LOCAL ORDINANCE

Phi Calls Village License Tag Law, Applying to Out-of-State Students, Unjust.

The Phi Assembly passed by a large majority the bill, Resolved, that the law requiring out-of-state students to buy Chapel Hill license tags is unjust, at the weekly meeting of that group last night.

The representatives defeated by an equally large margin the second bill, Resolved, that Japan should be given equal naval parity with the United States and Great Britain.

Three new members, Cecil Ernst, William Mitchell, and Bill McGowan, were initiated into the assembly.

Debate Tryouts

Speaker Clarence Griffin announced that tryouts for the freshman debate will be held Tuesday night after the adjournment of the regular meeting. The subject for this debate, he stated will be, Resolved, that divorce is a social asset. On behalf of the Foreign Policy League, Speaker Smithwick invited the members to attend the league's discussions.

The assembly plans to meet with the Di Senate after next Tuesday's meeting in Gerrard hall to hear Phillips Russell give an account of his trip to the Geneva conference.

Plans were made at last night's session for the members of the assembly to attend a session of the state legislature Thursday afternoon, January 31. Several cars have already been secured. Plans are also being formulated for a winter quarter social to be given by the assembly.

The office of an appointed representative of the Phi on the debate council was abolished by a motion, and the office was made elective by a constitutional amendment. Representative Robert Smithwick was chosen as the new envoy.

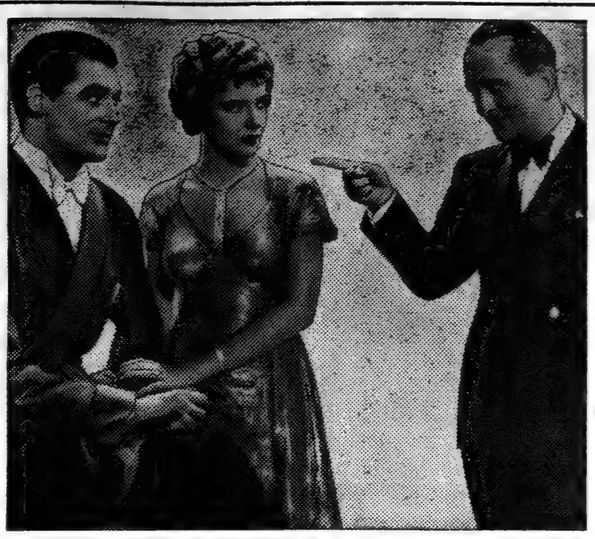
NBC WILL GIVE COLLEGE SERIES

Ruth Etting, Red Nichols on Program Starting Tomorrow.

Famous coaches and players in the various fields of sport, Ruth Etting, versatile star of the stage, screen and radio, and "Red" Nichols with his orchestra will combine their talents in a new radio program which starts tomorrow over the NBC "Blue Network," and will be heard each Thursday thereafter at 7:45 p. m.

Each of the "College Prom" broadcasts will have its setting in one of America's leading universities and will feature a flash-back to one of the sports classics of the particular institution, with the famous coach or player who provided the greatest single contribution to the triumph picturing in his own words the most breath-taking episodes of the contest.

Ruth Etting will act as the "Prom" hostess and Nichols will furnish the dance music. The first broadcast will be an Army and Navy night.



Dormitory Council

The Inter-dormitory Council will meet tonight at 9:30 o'clock in Graham Memorial. All members are urged to be present. Bulletin board keys will be distributed and dormitory programs will be arranged.

Co-ed Tea

The co-eds will have their regular weekely tea at Spencer hall this afternoon from 4:30 to 6 o'clock. All co-eds and their friends are invited to attend.

THE FINGER POINTS

Cary Grant, Elissa Landi, and Lynne Overman in a scene from Paramount's comedy hit, "Enter Madame," which Elliott Nugent directed and which comes today to the Carolina theatre. The operatic backgrounds of the story are a feature of the picture.

ALUMNI TO HOLD ASSEMBLY HERE

President Graham Will Address 400 Delegates in Annual Gathering Friday.

Around 400 representatives of local alumni clubs, permanent class organizations, and alumni committees have been invited to attend the annual general alumni assembly which will convene here Friday, J. Maryon Saunders, alumni secretary, said yesterday.

The highlight of the program will be President Frank P. Graham's address "Analysis of the University's Present Situation" before the assembly at supper in Graham Memorial at 6:30 o'clock.

Faculty members and Chapel Hill alumni may attend the supper at 75 cents a plate by making reservations at the alumni office before noon Thursday.

At this meeting nominations of alumni officers; president, first vice-president, second vice-president, and athletic council representative, will take place.

Two special meetings have been called for Friday afternoon, one at 3 o'clock of specially invited alumni lawyers and trust bankers to discuss a program of stimulating gifts to the University by wills and trusts, sponsored by the alumni loyalty fund, and a meeting at 4:30 o'clock of the officers and directors of the general alumni association.

A number of the delegates to the assembly are expected to stay in Chapel Hill Saturday to see the winter football practice scrimmages at 2:30 o'clock and the boxing matches at 7:15.

INFIRMARY

The following students were confined in the infirmary yesterday: W. E. Brunson, Eleanor Lockhart, Mildred Cohen, Anna Cowles, Bruce Smith, E. S. Simpson, Stewart Coffey, Gaillard Mahoney, Tom Jimison, Herman Biggs, Branch Craige, Gaston Stanford, F. E. Culvern, J. G. Johnson, Tom Hicks, William Teague, Marvin Ray, Sherwood Githers, Abraham Gordon, Mary Green, Kate Harrison, Betsy Jones, H. A. McGowan, Newton Craige, E. A. Pearsall, W. R. Weaver, Ray Reeves, E. M. Edens, J. R. Bassett, E. S. Shoof, and Tom Hines.

Pledging Announced

Richard H. May of McKeesport, Pa., pledged Alpha Tau Omega according to an announcement from the dean of students office.

Commerce Freshmen

Dean Carroll will meet with commerce freshmen this morning at 10:30 o'clock in Memorial hall.

Witnesses Testify Against Hauptmann

Flemington, N. J., Jan. 22.—(UP)—Two witnesses told today of seeing Bruno Hauptmann near Sourland just before the kidnaping.

Thomas Sisk, of the Division of Investigation, Department of Justice, presented a routine testimony about the tracking down of Hauptmann. Sisk will resume the stand tomorrow.

Arthur Koehler, Department of Agriculture wood expert, will be the state's final witness in an attempt to trace the wood used in the kidnap ladder.

ORMANDY TO BE AT DUKE FEB. 5

Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra to Play Return Concert.

When the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra appears at Duke University February 5, Eugene Ormandy, the youngest eminent American maestro will be conducting.

He is 35 years old and is conductor of one of the most outstanding orchestras of its kind in the world. He will direct the group of 86 master musicians in a return concert at Duke University Tuesday a week.

Ormandy has rapidly become a national musical figure. His splendid work with the New York Philharmonic and the Philadelphia orchestras has won for him the unreserved praise of the critical east.

Ormandy last appeared at Duke February 5, 1932 as conductor of the Minneapolis orchestra.

FRESHMEN WILL MEET WITH STUDENT LEADERS

Graham Memorial will sponsor a dinner tonight at 6:30 o'clock for an invited group of students in the freshman class, at which Dean Bradshaw, Virgil Weathers, Haywood Weeks, Mayne Albright, Jack Pool, and other student leaders will be present.

After dinner a discussion of the honor system and the problems arising under it will be held. The group of freshmen will comprise those with high and prep school experience in student government and Y. M. C. A. work.

Fraternity Photos

All fraternity presidents whose chapter members and pledges have not yet had the required number of pictures made for their page in the Yackety Yack are asked to see that they are taken by Saturday.

It is also necessary that the 12 snapshots from each fraternity be in the Yackety Yack office by Saturday.

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS

DI FAVORS MAKING R. O. T. C. ELECTIVE

Tables Bill on U. S.'s Joining World Court; to Have Joint Meeting with Phi.

After listening last night to short discussions by Senators Kind, Gibbes, Bell, and Russell and President Lee, the Di Senate unanimously approved the bill, Resolved, that R. O. T. C. training be placed on an elective basis.

The greater part of the meeting was spent in warm debate on the first bill on the calendar, Resolved, that the United States should not enter the World Court, and on the motion that the bill be tabled until the following meeting. The tabling motion was approved by a close vote.

Russell Argues

Senator Weaver was opposed in his stand for the bill by Senators Gibbes, Fletcher, and McKee. Senator Russell, recently returned from a students' conference on peace in Belgium, argued against Senator Weaver's insistence on the strict avoidance by the United States of "foreign entanglements," interpreting the other senator's stand as one of opposition to all participation by the United States in European peace movements.

Senator McKee's motion that the president appoint a representative to the Foreign Policy League meeting tomorrow night was approved. Other members of the senate have been invited to attend the meeting also.

A joint meeting of the Phi and the Di will be held Tuesday night in Gerrard hall to hear Phillips Russell's report on the peace conference.

Smithsonians Win In Big Comeback

(Continued from page three)

24-18. Lessem of T. E. P. and D. Jennings of St. Anthony led the scorers with eight apiece.

The summaries:

T. E. P. 24	St. Anthony 18
Ostrow, f (4)	N. Jennings, f (2)
Lessem, f (8)	Jeanes, f (6)
May, c (2)	D. Jennings, c (8)
Murnick, g (5)	Rheades, g (2)
Eisenberg, g (5)	Parker, g

Subs: T. E. P.—Gross.

S. A. E. 27	Chi Phi 12
Andrews, f (2)	Voliver, f (4)
Brown, f (4)	Linn, f
Scott, c (13)	Montsinger, c
Connor, g (4)	Boone, g
Poe, g (2)	Sink, g

Subs: S. A. E.—Tate, Storall (2); Chi Phi—Bredler (2), Bitting (6).

Smithsonians 40	Old West 30
Nicholes, f (6)	Bagwell, f (10)
Knight, f (8)	McNair, f (6)
Coffield, c (2)	Anderson, c (10)
Abels, g	Winstead, g
LeBarron, g (6)	Call'ter, g (4)

Subs: Smithsonians — Parker (14); Pickler (4).

Phi Kap. Sig. 28	P. Sig. Kap. 10
Sharp, f (6)	Clayton, f
Link, f	Mahoney, f (8)
Love, c (6)	Shaw, c (2)
Wilson, g (8)	Fuller, g
Bower, g (4)	George, g

Subs: Phi Kappa Sigma—Odum (2), Barnhill (2), Miles, Decher, Ruark, Taff.

A. I. E. E.

Motion pictures of the Conowingo Power development will feature a meeting of the A. I. E. E. this evening at 7:30 o'clock in 206 Phillips hall.

Louis Hagood will also discuss as part of the program "The Murray Lake Power Development."

Several pending dance issues will be settled at a business meeting. Refreshments will be served.

CALENDAR

Staff photos.
Graham Memorial 2-3:00

Faculty meeting.
Bingham hall 4:00

Co-ed tea.
Spencer hall 4:30

Woman's Glee Club.
Hill hall 5:00

Graham Memorial dinner.
Graham Memorial 6:30

A. I. E. E.
Phillips hall 7:30

Economics seminar.
Bingham hall 7:30

Dormitory council.
Graham Memorial 9:30

VARSITY MATMEN TAKE WORKOUTS

(Continued from page three)

senior middleweights should be even more closely contested.

Carolina and State have both been victorious in their opening contests. The Tar Heels beat the V. P. I. Gobblers, 23-9, last Saturday, while on the same day at Lexington the Wolfpack nosed out V. M. I., 18-14, for its second consecutive victory over the Kaydets in two years.

Coach Quinlan, in commenting on the coming State meet, said, "Two men pulled big surprises against V. P. I. If one or two more could happen again, we are positive it will be too close for comfort."

Williamson, Hurdler Are Invited to Games

(Continued from page three)

number four man. If McRae does not get in shape in time, another of these men will go.

With the sudden change in weather, the practice has been forced inside to the Tin Can. A new track is being provided to enable the men to take their regular workouts. The heaters, which are situated under the bleachers, are being moved back into the walls; a floor will be built under the bleachers at the highest lane. This will complete a circular track around the Can.

Women's Glee Club

The weekly meeting of the Women's Glee Club will take place this afternoon from 5 to 6 o'clock in the choral room of Hill Music hall. All members are expected to be present.

VILLAGE TO HAVE ROOSEVELT DANCE

Mayor Foushee and Committee Form Plans for Bridge and Dancing at Carolina Inn.

Plans for the President's Birthday Ball to be held in Chapel Hill Wednesday night, January 30 in the Carolina Inn are being made by Mayor John Foushee, chairman for the Chapel Hill ball, and his committee, composed of Mrs. W. S. Bernard, Mrs. Lawrence Flinn, Mrs. Annie Martin, through whose courtesy the Inn has been lent for the occasion, Mrs. George Logan, Harold D. Meyer, P. L. Burch, and Willie Hogan.

The program will include bridge, ballroom dancing, and old-fashioned square dancing, and music will be provided by Mr. Cates and his group of fiddlers and guitar and banjo pickers.

Tickets at Old South

Admission will be 50 cents. A committee from the Community Club will be in charge of the sale of tickets. They may be bought on the campus at the business office in South building.

Birthday greetings to the President, signed by thousands of people all over the country at 25 cents apiece, will be sent by Western Union to New York, where they will be bound into what will probably be the largest birthday greeting in history. The money will be turned over to the National Birthday Ball Committee.

The proceeds of the ball and the birthday greetings will be used in combatting infantile paralysis. Seventy per cent of the ball money will be used in this territory, and thirty per cent, together with all the greetings proceeds, will be disposed of by the national committee.

EVERY DAY
Is Someone's Birthday
Send a Card or Gift Now
It costs so little, yet means so much.
Greeting Cards for All Occasions
Birthday Convalescence Condolence Friendship
Congratulations
Ledbetter-Pickard
Stationery—Gifts—School Supplies

Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra
EUGENE ORMANDY, Conductor
Page Auditorium, Duke University, Durham, N. C.
Tuesday Evening, February 5, at 8:15
Box Office Opens Monday, January 28
Mail Orders Now Being Received
Address all communications to J. Foster Barnes, Duke University
Prices as follows: Orchestra, center, rows 1 thru 20, $2.20. Orchestra, right and left, rows 1 thru 20, $1.65. Orchestra, right, left, and center, rows 21 thru 30, $1.10. Mezzanine (6 rows), $2.20. Middle Balcony (8 rows), $1.65. Top Balcony (3 rows), $1.10. (All above prices include tax.)

A Paramount Picture with ELISSA LANDI
CARY GRANT
—OTHER FEATURES—
Todd-Kelly Comedy, "Done in Oil"
Cartoon—Travelaugh
NOW PLAYING
CAROLINA
—Sunday—
"THE PRESIDENT VANISHES"

FOREIGN POLICY LEAGUE
8 P. M.
GRAHAM MEMORIAL

The Daily Tar Heel

SERVED BY THE UNITED PRESS

SENIOR EXECUTIVES
7 P. M.
Y. M. C. A. BUILDING

VOLUME XLIII — CHAPEL HILL, N. C., THURSDAY, JANUARY 24, 1935 — NUMBER 87

ROOSEVELT SEEKS ENTRANCE OF U. S. IN WORLD COURT

President Feels Senate Resolution Sufficiently Safeguards American Rights.

HOUSE CONSIDERS RELIEF

Washington, Jan. 23.—(UP)—Prospects for a House passage tomorrow of the $4,880,000,000 work relief bill and for early Senate vote for World Court adherence indicated tonight that the current week will see considerable progress by Congress.

Roosevelt sought to help the World Court issue on its way by informing correspondents that he thought the Senate resolution had sufficient safeguards for American rights without the proposed reservation requiring a two-thirds vote of the Senate for reference to the court of cases involving the United States.

Roosevelt announced that he would give more legislative proposals to be chewed on soon. Tomorrow or Friday he expects to transmit his message on national resources for a board report.

Next week he plans to send a message on the aviation commission report calling for an increase in America's military aircraft by 1,600 planes.

WOLF ADDRESSES ECONOMICS GROUP

Professor Presents Report of Unemployment Commission, Named by Roosevelt.

The first meeting of the economic seminar held during this quarter was addressed last evening by Dr. H. D. Wolf of the school of economics.

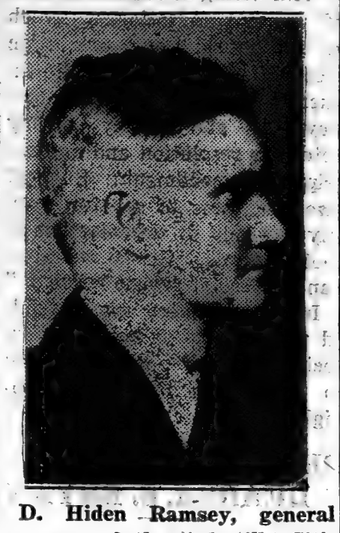
Dr. Wolf presented a report of the Unemployment Commission appointed by President Roosevelt and which has been recommended to Congress. The main points of the recommendation deal with an unemployment compensation, old age security, security for children, and a public health program.

N. C. Unemployment

At present there is a deplorable lack of concrete data on unemployment in North Carolina, the last census being taken in 1930. Approximately, the present amount of unemployed in North Carolina is about 70,000.

In 1930, about 10 per cent of the gainfully employed were out of work, and in 1932, about 20 per cent; but in the last two years, the percentage of unemployed has fallen.

The chief reason for this is that the greater part of the gainfully employed in North Carolina are farmers producing consumers goods.



P. U. Board Meets

Magazine to Have Extra Representation in Yackety Yack.

At the regular meeting of the Publications Union Board yesterday it was decided to allow the Carolina Magazine two full pages of Yackety Yack representation instead of one as was done before the magazine ceased to be a supplement to the DAILY TAR HEEL.

Among the other matters considered were an application for a salary raise and complaints concerning non-delivery of the DAILY TAR HEEL.

Publisher

D. Hiden Ramsey, general manager of the Asheville Citizen-Times, who is presiding at the Press Institute which opened here yesterday.

PRESS INSTITUTE HEARS J. S. BRYAN

College Head and Publisher Discusses Universities and Press As Aids to Education.

North Carolina towns from Manteo to Murphey were represented by newspapermen gathered here last night for the opening session of the 11th annual Newspaper Institute of the North Carolina Press Association.

Meeting in the Carolina Inn, the editors and publishers of the state's papers were welcomed by President Frank Porter Graham. The response was made by D. Hiden Ramsey, general manager of the Asheville Citizen-Times and president of the Press Association.

Bryan Speaks

The principal address, made by John Stewart Bryan, president of William and Mary College and publisher of the Richmond News-Leader, was an informal discussion of the newspaper and the university as reciprocal aids to education.

Bryan emphasized the necessity for freedom of thought in both these public institutions. He stressed the immense value

(Continued on page two)

FRESHMAN GROUP HEARS BRADSHAW ON HONOR SYSTEM

Members of First-Year Class Convene at Dinner to Discuss Proposed Honor Council.

FRANK ABERNETHY TALKS

Approximately 50 members of the freshman class were the guests of Graham Memorial last night for a dinner at which several student leaders and Dean Bradshaw gave short talks on the honor system. Pete Mullis acted as toastmaster.

Talks were made by Harper Barnes, Frank Abernethy, Jack Pool, Ed Martin, and Dean Bradshaw. Mullis then invited each of the guests to express his opinion on the subject of the honor system.

Honor Council

The recently-proposed plan of the freshman honor council was the topic for a good deal of discussion. General feeling seemed to indicate that, with revisions, the plan for an honor court was a good idea.

Frank Abernethy, speaking for the student council, said that the council approved of action on the part of the freshman class along this line but that they reserved the right to pass on any action that a freshman court of honor might take.

Mullis, in summing up the discussion, said that it is hoped the group of freshmen present last night will make an effort to acquaint the true meaning of the honor system with the rest of the class from which most violations of the honor system arise.

Johnson Will Play For Ball Tomorrow

Freddy Johnson's orchestra has been selected to play for the co-ed dance at Spencer hall tomorrow evening. Johnson will feature Miss Peggy Wood of Chapel Hill as vocalist.

Invitations to the dance are to be issued to a number of the most prominent men on the campus through the Golden Fleece, the Grail, the University Club, and the Inter-fraternity Council.

Frantz Feels Most Modern Music Is Unfinished And Of No Importance

Noted Youthful Pianist Says He Enjoys Mozart, Bach, and Musicians of Old School; Thinks Modern Composers Should Create Works Equal to Classical Period Music.

A tall, handsome, athletic-looking gentleman stepped briskly from the stage of Hill Music hall yesterday afternoon at the conclusion of three hours hard rehearsal of difficult piano compositions. Dalies Frantz had put the final touches on his program to be played in the evening.

"I'm certainly glad that's over," he said. "It is really the first chance I have had in two weeks actually to workout some of the rough spots in the program."

No Time Left

Mr. Frantz strolled leisurely over to the Carolina Inn and after he had removed topcoat and jacket he withdrew a cigarette and said to a DAILY TAR HEEL reporter who had followed him. "You know, this concertizing is gradually getting me to the place where everything seems unreal. I jump from one place to the other, meet new faces every day, and scarcely ever have any time to myself to do the things I'd really like to do. A few weeks ago I did have a chance to go with some boys at the University of Toronto to see a swell hockey game. But it seems I never get to hear other performers in concert, which would aid me in getting a line on my own interpretations.

"I have always wanted to be a pianist. I had a lucky break as a youngster, being technically able at nine to paraphrase portions of Rigolletto, and to concertize to no end in my own home town. I was fortunate, too, in having excellent teachers, and I simply made up my mind to become a concert pianist."

Special Favorites

"Who are your favorite composers?" Mr. Frantz was asked.

"I play no favorites," he answered, "but I lean heavily toward Mozart and Bach. To me their simplicity is sheer poetry, and, after all, what is music but poetry? I enjoy Brahms, and Liszt immensely, but to me their

(Continued on page two)

LIBRARY TO SHOW ETCHING EXHIBIT

Southern Art Projects Will Sponsor Display Here.

Under the auspices of the Southern Art Projects, a collection of etchings by the foremost American artists will be put on display in the exhibition cases of the library today.

The etchings include pictures of wild life, landscapes, war-pictures, and a variety of other subjects.

Among the artists whose works are represented is Cadwalladen Wasburn, a North Carolinian, who has received distinction for his dry point etchings.

Other works are by John Arms, who is noted for his etchings of cathedrals; Kerr Eby, famous for his war etchings; and David Roth, who has received distinction for his Spanish cuts.

ALUMNI TO MEET HERE TOMORROW

Former Students to Be Given Supplements of Alumni Review at Supper Session.

Early answers to invitations to attend the annual general alumni assembly here tomorrow indicate that about 175 alumni will be present for the principal meeting in Graham Memorial tomorrow night, at which Dr. Graham will talk.

The program of the assembly will open with the meeting of specially invited alumni lawyers and trust bankers tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock to discuss a program of stimulating gifts to the University by wills and trusts. This meeting is sponsored by the alumni loyalty fund.

The officers and directors of the general alumni association and the legislative committee will meet together at 4:30 p. m.

Renew Supplement

Issues of a special supplement of the Alumni Review will be distributed at the supper meeting tomorrow night, and other issues will be mailed to other alumni and to interested persons.

The supplement will contain an article by President Graham on the financial situation of the consolidated University, charts showing enrollments and appropriations of the Greater University and of all three of its constituent institutions, and tables comparing the salaries of University faculty members with those of the faculties of other universities.

"Startling," according to J. Maryon Saunders, the Review's editor, will be several letters printed in the supplement stating the views of well-known men in the United States concerning the University and its present dilemma.

Methodist Supper

A fellowship supper will be held in the dining room of the Methodist church at 6 o'clock this evening for the new pastor and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Jenkins.

An attractive program has been arranged and it is hoped that all the congregation and friends of the church will be present. Out-of-town guests and speakers include Mr. and Mrs. Plyler of Durham and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Patton of Fayetteville.

Telegram Asks Policy League To Urge World Court Entrance

TICKET BOOKS

Ticket books for the winter quarter entertainment series may be obtained at the business office in South building today from 10:30 to 1 and from 2 to 4 o'clock.

GRIDIRON CHARMS TO BE PRESENTED

Coaches, Managers, and Players of '34 Team Will Receive Awards Saturday Night.

The 22 lettermen, three coaches, and two managers of Carolina's great 1934 football team will be presented with gold watch charms by Claude W. Rankin, president of the Fayetteville Alumni Club, in the interval between the freshman and varsity boxing matches in the Tin Can Saturday night.

Contributions toward the purchase of the charms have come from alumni in many other states besides North Carolina, and no amount over two dollars has been accepted.

Originators of Plan

To the Fayetteville club goes the credit for originating and carrying out the plan.

The charms are replicas of the regulation football and the same in design as those given the national champion Michigan team of 1933. On one side the name of the player receiving the charm is engraved; and on the other side are a blue N. C., 1934, and a wreath-encircled inscription "State Champions."

Mayor Q. K. Numocks of Fayetteville will make a brief speech of congratulation.

Another Award

An additional feature of Saturday night's program will be the presentation to Herman Snyder, Carolina's blocking back, of the Millis Blocking Trophy. The presentation will be made in person by its donor, H. A. Millis of High Point.

Alumni in Chapel Hill for the alumni assembly who attend the matches will be seated in a special reserved section, under the supervision of the University Club.

Professors Association To Elect Officers

Plan Joint Meeting with Duke University and N. C. State.

The University of North Carolina chapter of the American Association of University Professors will hold a meeting Tuesday evening in the Episcopal church parish house, W. F. Ferger, president of the local chapter, announced today.

The meeting will feature the election of officers, and plans for a prospective joint meeting with the Duke and State chapters will be discussed. Plans are also underway to invite the president of the national organization to be guest speaker in the near future.

Chapters of this association are established in all the leading universities of the country.

Senior Executives

The executive committee of the senior class will convene as usual in the Y. M. C. A. tonight at 7 o'clock. Other members of the class are invited to attend the session.

Di and Phi Members To Lead Discussion

Foreign Relations Group to Meet Tonight to Consider Petitioning Senators.

CLUB CONVENES AT 8 P. M.

In response to a telegram from the League of Nations Association urging the immediate petitioning of United States Senators to favor the entrance of the United States into the World Court, the University Foreign Policy League will convene tonight at 8 o'clock in Graham Memorial to discuss and take action on the court question.

The discussion will be led by representatives of the two campus literary societies.

Lee to Speak

Virgil J. Lee, president of the Dialectic Senate, will present the views on the question, brought out in the meeting of the Senate Tuesday night.

Francis Fairley of the Phi Assembly will oppose United States' entrance into the tribunal.

Don McKee of the Foreign Policy League program committee will open the discussion, presenting the set-up of the tribunal and a brief history of the question.

Telegram

The World Court question, now before the Senate, is in danger of being weakened by crippling amendments, according to the telegram received by the club this week. The dispatch was sent by Thomas D. Parker,

(Continued on page two)

RANKIN RELEASES CONTEST DETAILS

Dates and Regulations for Annual High School Academic Contests Announced.

Dates for and regulations governing the annual academic high school contests to be conducted by the University Extension Division in North Carolina this spring were announced yesterday by E. R. Rankin, secretary of the contests.

By means of these competitive affairs, the University Extension Division hopes to increase interest in scholarship among high school students, particularly in the study of Latin, French, Spanish and mathematics.

The dates for the four contests are as follows: Latin, February 22; French, March 8, Spanish, March 22; and mathematics, April 19.

First in '25

The first annual high school Latin contest was held on February 18, 1925, and since the first year, Spanish, French, and mathematics have been added with successful results.

Schools wishing to enter the Latin contest are requested to notify the committee at Chapel Hill not later than February 18; for the French contest, not later than March 4; for Spanish, not later than March 18; and for mathematics, not later than April 15.

Winners of the contest in each subject last year were: Latin, Durham high school; French, Louisburg high school; Spanish, Gastonia high school; and mathematics, Broughton high school.

The Daily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Union Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where it is printed daily except Mondays, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Holidays. Entered as second class matter at the post office of Chapel Hill, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 for the college year.

A. T. Dill ..... Editor
Robert C. Page, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
Joe Webb ..... Business Manager
George Underwood ..... Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

EDITORIAL BOARD—Phil Hammer, chairman, Earl Wolslagel, Franklin Harward, John Schulz, DuPont Snowden, Margaret McCauley, Morty Slavin, Sam Leager, Dick Myers, Charles Lloyd, Jake Snyder.

FEATURE BOARD—Nelson Lansdale, chairman; Nick Read, Bob Browder, Francis Clingman, J. E. Poindexter, W. M. Cochrane, Willis Harrison.

CITY EDITORS—Irving Suss, Walter Hargett, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.

TELEGRAPH EDITORS—Stuart Rabb, Charlie Gilmore.

DESK MAN—Eddie Kahn.

SPORTS DEPARTMENT—Jimmy Morris and Smith Barrier, co-editors, Tom Bost, Lee Turk, Len Rubin, Fletcher Ferguson, Stuart Sechriest, Lester Ostrow, Ira Sarasohn.

EXCHANGES—Margaret Gaines.

STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER—Don Becker.

REPORTERS—Bill Hudson, John Smith, J. F. Jonas, Ralph Sprinkle, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Raymond Howe, William Jordan, Morton Feldman.

Business Staff

ASST. BUSINESS MANAGER ..... Butler French
COLLECTION MANAGER ..... Herbert Osterheld
OFFICE MANAGERS ..... Walter Eckert, Roy Crooks
NATIONAL ADVERTISING ..... Boylan Carr
DURHAM REPRESENTATIVE—Joe Murnick.
LOCAL ADVERTISING—Hugh Primrose, Robt. Sosnik, Eli Joyner (managers), Bill MacDonald, Louis Shaffner, Page Keel, Bill McLean, Crist Blackwell.

CITY EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE: DON McKEE

Thursday, January 24, 1935

PARAGRAPHICS

The only difference between Lindbergh and the legislature is that Lindbergh came out of the fog.

Maybe we got the wrong impression about athlete-pianist Frantz. At least he didn't turn any handsprings on the keyboard.

Before reading the DAILY TAR HEEL, we never knew C. C. Crittenden's middle name was "Inimitable." Now who's gonna see that he takes out a copyright on that crack about Rosemary lane?

The Frosh To the Fore

We know that our freshman contingent has a conscience; we have known this ever since its members introduced their plans for the freshman honor council. We upperclassmen are proud of them for this action. We recognized them as young gentlemen who were not merely "against" dishonesty, but active for less of it. Furthermore, we admire the freshmen for their desire to handle their own problem. The spirit this class has shown in the matter of preserving the honor system and the fact that they acted under the guidance of that spirit are two of the most encouraging events of an encouraging year.

Of course we have a reason for all this preliminary encomium of our neophytes; we admit quite frankly, and we hope our readers have guessed it, that we have an axe to grind. And further, to prove our candor, we will proceed to grind it thus: now that the freshmen have raised such high hopes in us, we hope that they do not disappoint us by doing themselves the injustice of letting their brain-child—the honor council—go orphaned simply because it needs a little smoothing out. The cognizance of the importance of their start must spur them on to continue their activity in a unified class preservation of the Carolina ideals of honor.

Hail to the "Minor" Sports

The northern invasion of the Carolina basketeers and the invitations which have been received by our track men testifies to the high standard of this University's athletics in particular and the south's in general. And it also brings to mind several of the recent arguments for intersectional football tilts.

One well-known Carolina athlete, who is both a scholar and a track star, repeatedly emphasized the importance of the so-called "minor" sports in the intersectional world. His contention was that if the big northern schools would not agree to a feature football encounter with Carolina because the Tar Heels have no drawing power, we should make an effort to get before the public eye in these other sports.

His contention has been well taken. If it is publicity we need, the basketball team is supplying that and the track team is "crashing" every metropolitan daily in the big indoor meets. The northern trips in the minor sports are less expensive and more easily arranged. At any rate, whatever our philosophy may be regarding the major and "minor" intersectionals, we must take off our hats to our basketeers who have shown the way on their recent invasion.

Reporting the Conference

The return of Phillips Russell, University representative at the anti-war conference in Brussells, re-invests local anti-war forces with one of the most ardent and thoughtful of its lieutenants. His definite report of the proceedings across the sea will be noted with interest by a campus whose contributions to the cause of Carolina representation, while deplorably insufficient, nevertheless warrant some return for the investment.

What is the significance of having a local representative at the international gathering? In the first place, it branded us as interested, though the alleged poking which Russell received from the other delegates that "you'll probably be the most passive of all" clearly shows that Chapel Hill thought is regarded as relatively conservative, though perhaps as potently all-embracing. In the second place, it shows that energy and ambition can, even on a relatively sluggish campus, achieve what the heart is set upon. And thirdly, it gives the University a definite connection with the activities of other youths of the world striving to study the same problem.

Reynolds Rants Again

North Carolina's old-fashioned Senator Reynolds, who drove a battered Ford about the countryside during his campaign, continued to hold doggedly to his "common man" point of view as he condemned the World Court, calling it a "court of intrigue." For one hour and thirty minutes Senator Reynolds ranted, pacing back and forth, banging tables, and swinging his arms in his customary "speech-making" manner.

A member of the minority opposing United States adherence to the World Court protocols, Reynolds stated that the World Court is a part of the League of Nations and that the court has not promoted and will not promote peace. He threatened the senators present by his declaration that the United States had remained out of the court for twelve years and that he would talk twelve more years if he thought that would keep the United States out of the World Court.

It certainly looks as if North Carolina were fast acquiring a filibustering Huey Long. Twelve years is a long time to talk. Although Reynolds deserves praise for his pertinacity, his superficial, uninformed view of the World Court merits only disdain. Maybe the court has not promoted peace but it has served to bring the nations together in international co-operation. To tear down the military traditions of centuries is no twelve years' task, Mr. Reynolds.

Over-stepping Their Bounds

One of the New York tabloids prints in one of its "news" accounts of the Hauptmann trial the explanatory statement that the defendant may soon have to go on the stand or else "tacitly admit" his guilt in the face of such damaging evidence piled up against him.

Now the Hauptmann case, involving as it does all the elements of a good sideshow, has been used shamelessly as a circulation builder-upper, and the newspapers have not hesitated in many cases to consider themselves the jury in the trial. But this instance, no more than to be expected of the class of journalism which it comes from, it is true, stands out as a violation of one of the constitutional guarantees which the fourth estate has so rabidly cherished. The tabloids are not alone in their guilt for playing the jury in this sensational case, but more's the pity that our reputable newspapers have also indulged.

Waiving the question of whether or not the right of the accused against self-incrimination ought to be abolished, that right still stands in the constitution. It is supposed to be unimpeachable in its right to protect the defendant in the way it does, and inferences regarding his guilt are not permissible de facto in the court. No more should they be permissible in that vast arena of human opinion which is the province of the press.

Caution, School Zone

Unfortunately, school children cross streets today with the same reckless abandon as we imagine they did before the advent of autos.

Two large caution signs placed on Cameron avenue opposite Pittsboro street would greatly lessen the hazard of dangerous accidents resulting from the school traffic and the college traffic meeting at the noon hour.

Now that the dollars for town tags have been collected, may we suggest as a channel for expenditure, such signs for the children's safety?

Frantz Feels Modern Music Is Unfinished

(Continued from page one)

works cannot compare to those of the composers from the old classical school."

Mr. Frantz took a last drag on his cigarette, looked out at the bleak January weather, and continued.

"I am also fond of modern music and play it. But I feel that much modern music is unfinished and of no importance. Yet there is much that is beautiful in modern music. Debussy, Ravel, and Stravinsky are all beautiful, but I see no reason why modern composers should not create truly great works in the modern school as were produced in the classic period."

The artist stated that he practiced four or five hours a day but that did not compare with the time business men spend at their work.

"Where do I go from Chapel Hill? I play in New York next Sunday at a benefit, and after that my concert tour will be resumed again. I am planning to teach some this coming summer and then I may have an opportunity to do some bits in a new motion picture Jesse Lasky is planning. It will be on the order of Grace Moore's pictures, with a sort of Horatio Alger background for a struggling young pianist. Looks like I'm 'it'!"

Library Will Be Center For Public Papers

American Association Places Regional Center on Campus.

In view of the efficient and commendable work that the University library has been doing, the library has been selected by the American Library Association and the Social Service Committee as a regional center for the collection of public documents.

Since the establishment of the public documents division in 1933, the library has collected 1,600 municipal, state, and foreign, and 4,000 federal documents.

A large portion of the collection consists of documents concerning the southern states. The documents are of great value to aid historians, sociologists, economists, and other persons working in the social sciences.

Library School Grads Secure Positions

Eighteen of Last Year's Class Receive Employment.

Eighteen of last year's graduating classes of the school of library science have already secured positions in and outside of North Carolina.

Seven members of the class are located in out-of-state libraries. They are L. M. Althar, Louisiana; S. L. Hamlin, Alabama; A. Maner, Tennessee; D. Moss, Louisiana; S. Hamilton, Georgia; and P. Segle and M. Thomason, South Carolina.

Miss E. A. Veritt and Miss A. C. Ruble are now employed in the University library.

The remainder of the class, A. Baily, C. Flynn, S. Harrell, S. Legrand, E. Long, J. T. Newby, N. North, G. Otten, and M. Shore, are now working in North Carolina high schools and colleges.

RECEPTION POSTPONED

The annual Faculty-Co-ed reception, which was scheduled to be held at Spencer hall next month, will not be held this year.

In place of the customary reception, the women students will assist with the Student-Faculty reception in Graham Memorial on Student-Faculty day.

Telegram Asks Policy Policy League to Urge World Court Entrance

(Continued from page one)

who spoke here this fall on the "League of Nations."

The complete text of the telegram is as follows:

"Am wiring at request League of Nations Association which reports World Court resolution jeopardized. Can you secure influential telegrams to Senators Reynolds and Bailey urging votes for resolution and against crippling amendment? Suggest also telegrams to senator from any favoring or organization or their officials. Crisis seems at hand. Cordial rememberances."

Invitations have been extended to members of both literary societies and the general public to attend the convocation tonight.

PRESS INSTITUTE HEARS J. S. BRYAN

(Continued from page one)

to our section of the country in possessing the traditions which have been built up for so many years by public service and high leadership.

The highlight of today's program will be an informal luncheon address by Marvin H. McIntyre, one of President Roosevelt's secretaries.

William Nugent, vice-president of Media Records, Inc., of New York, and James G. Stahlman, publisher of the Nashville, Tenn., Banner, will make addresses before the institute this morning. This afternoon group meetings of the weeklies and dailies will be held before the institute adjourns to go to Duke University for the evening program.

Nations Participate in Broadcast Today

Women in Five Countries Will Deliver Anti-war Addresses.

The conference of the National Committee on the Cause and Cure of War, now meeting in Washington, D. C., will sponsor an international broadcast today from 4:30 to 5 o'clock.

Miss Josephine Schain, administrative chairman for the committee, will open the program and introduce Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, founder of the committee.

Following a talk by Mrs. Catt, Miss Schain will introduce Lady Nancy Astor from her home in England.

Ruth Bryan Owen, U. S. Minister to Denmark, will speak from the United States embassy in Copenhagen and then Miss Cornelia van Asch van Wyck will be heard from Holland. Miss van Wyck is president of the World Council of the Y. W. C. A.

The program will be concluded with an address by Mrs. Tsune Gauntlett, president of the Women's Pan-Pacific Union, who will be heard from Japan.

Vocational Group

Dean Francis Bradshaw's vocational discussion group will meet today at 10:30 o'clock in Memorial hall. Henceforth the group will meet on Thursdays as well as Tuesdays and in Memorial hall instead of Gerrard hall.

Patronize Our Advertisers

OUTSTANDING RADIO BROADCASTS

Thursday, Jan. 24

12:30: George Hall orch., WABC.

4:30: National Committee on the Cause and Cure of War: Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, Katherine Courtney, Ruth Bryan Owen, Cornelia van Asch van Wyck, Mrs. Tsune Gauntlett, WABC.

5:00: Loretta Lee, songs, WBT.

6:45: Lowell Thomas, commantator, WJZ.

7:00: Jack Denny orch., WEAF.

7:30: The Street Singer, WOR.

7:45: Red Nichols orch.; Ruth Etting, songs, WOR.

8:00: Vallee's Varieties, WEAF; All-Girl orch. and chorus, Phil Spitalny, director, WABC.

8:30: Johnson orch.; Edward Nell, baritone; Edwin C. Hill, commentator; Speaker, WABC.

9:00: Glen Gray orch.; Annette Hanshaw, songs; Walter O'Keefe, WBT.

9:30 Speech, Harold L. Ickes, Secretary of Interior, WJZ; Fred Waring orch., WBT.

10:00: Whiteman's Music Hall, WEAF; American Composers Concert; Rochester Philharmonic orch., WJZ.

10:30: Hal Kemp orch., WOR.

11:00: Little Jack Little orch., WABC.

Editorial Staff to Pose For Pictures Today

Yackety Yack Photo of Business Staff to Be Made Tomorrow.

Pictures of the various departments of the DAILY TAR HEEL editorial staff will be made for the Yackety Yack this afternoon beginning at 2 o'clock in front of Graham Memorial.

The schedule has been announced as follows: reporters at 2 o'clock; editorial writers at 2:15; city editors, desk men, exchange editor, telegraph editors and staff photographer at 2:30; sports editors and sports writers at 2:45; and feature writers at 3 o'clock.

The business staff will meet at 2 o'clock tomorrow to have its picture taken.

Movie Tonight

All engineering students are invited to a three reel motion picture portraying the Conowingo Power Development at an A. I. E. E. meeting this evening at 7:30 o'clock in 206 Phillips.

According to William J. Miller, dean of the engineering department, the movie will picture the complete development of a hydro-electric project, thus proving of interest to all students in various phases of engineering study.

FRESH FRUIT LIMEADES
5c
Sutton Drug Co.

THE
Young Men's Shop
126-128 E. Main St.
DURHAM, N. C.

Nation on Eve of War!
"THE PRESIDENT VANISHES"
SEE PAGE FOUR

Carolina's Long Winning Streak Comes To An End As Army Triumphs, 29-19

Tired Phantoms Count But One Field Goal In Final Half.

Dawalt Leads Scoring with 13; Nelson Gets Nine.

(Special to the DAILY TAR HEEL)

West Point, N. Y., Jan. 23.—The U. S. Military Academy's basketball team turned on the heat here today to defeat the highly touted University of North Carolina White Phantoms, 29-19.

The Army club held a 18-15 lead at intermission and limited the southerners to only one action basket during the final half.

Featuring the play of the kaydets, was forward Dawalt who caged 13 points to lead both clubs in scoring.

For the losers Mel Nelson looked best with nine. Jim McCachren, sparkling Tar Heel guard, was the main cog in the North Carolina defense which although fine at times, went to pieces during the last half as the Army sharpshooters shelled the basket from all angles.

The North Carolina club, coached by George E. "Bo" Shepard, former All-Eastern guard while a kaydet here at the academy, came to the Point with a brilliant string of victories over such fine eastern clubs as Maryland University, U. S. Naval Academy, Crescent Athletic Club, and the New York A. C.

This was the first loss for the southerners in 12 starts. They return home tomorrow, and play Virginia Poly at Chapel Hill next Monday.

Carolina's White Phantoms left Chapel Hill last Thursday in one of the toughest northern trips ever undertaken by a Tar Heel basketball team.

With Glace leading the way Carolina opened its journey by successfully defending the Southern Conference lead; Maryland's fine five was the victim, 39-31. Following the Old Liner victory the White Phantoms took on the undefeated Navy club Saturday afternoon and handed the Middies their first setback. Jim McCachren held All-American Borries to nine points.

Monday and Tuesday nights the Tar Heels continued their streak by taking two of New York's fast Athletic Clubs, both times, 38-32.

Schedule Announced For Co-ed Practice

The schedule of co-ed basketball practice for January and February is as follows:

Jan. 28—Freshmen and seniors, 8 p. m.

Jan. 29—Sophomores and juniors, 7 p. m.

Jan. 30—Freshmen and juniors, 8 p. m.

Jan. 31—Seniors and sophomores, 7 p. m.

Feb. 4—Freshmen and sophomores, 8 p. m.

Feb. 5—Seniors and juniors, 7 p. m.

Feb. 6—Freshmen and seniors, 8 p. m.

Feb. 7—Sophomores and juniors, 7 p. m.

Feb. 11—Freshmen and juniors, 8 p. m.

Feb. 12—Seniors and juniors, 7 p. m.

Feb. 13—Freshmen and sophomores, 8 p. m.

Feb. 14—Sophomores and seniors, 7 p. m.

Tau Beta Pi Meeting

Members of Tau Beta Pi, honor engineering fraternity, will meet in room 214 Phillips hall this afternoon at 5 o'clock for a business session.

Lewis Goes Down Before Fast Play Of Everett, 26-13

Alderman and Ressler Lead Attack in Tussle; Lambda Chi Alpha Noses A.T.O., 16-12

The lower quadrangle partially settled its basketball differences yesterday afternoon as Everett walloped its arch-rival, Lewis, 26-13, in the feature game of five intramural contests in the Tin Can.

Lambda Chi Alpha had a close call, edging A. T. O., 16-12; while Swain Hall defeated Kluttz, 38-16; Sigma Chi trounced S. P. E., 48-8 and Mangum No. 1 downed Pharmacy, 37-12 to gain the other victories.

The Everett-Lewis tussle was doped to be "the" game of the day, and from the rough, fast play exhibited it fulfilled all expectations. Both teams were evenly matched, but the sharpshooting of "Lammie" Alderman and "Ace" Ressler proved too much for Lewis to combat.

Everett Holds Lead

Everett got off to a 5-point lead early in the contest and held the upper hand throughout, being in front 5-2 for the first quarter, 9-4, at halftime, and 15-10 at the end of the third period.

Lambda Chi Alpha's team almost experienced a tartar in the strengthened A. T. O. squad which had previously been knocked around pretty hard. However, with Spencer, Hawley, and Parker always dangerous, the favorites had to exert themselves to the utmost to cop the verdict.

The summaries:

Everett 26		Lewis 13
Ressler, f (13)		A. Parker, f (2)
Leich, f		Hooks, f (6)
Mallard, c (3)		Leight, c (1)
Willis, g		Lawlor, g (3)
Alderman, g (8)		Derrickson, g

Subs: Everett — Coughenour, McRaw, Rowley, Bartelman (2), Barber; Lewis—D. Parker, Collins, Wiggins, Lowe.

Swain Hall 38		Kluttz Bldg. 16
Allen, f (4)		Harrell, f (4)
Thomas, f (6)		Stone, f
Burton, c (4)		Parker, c (2)
Brown, g (8)		Outlaw, g (8)
Wright, g (14)		Jones, g

Subs: Swain Hall — Cooke (2); Kluttz—Terry (2).

Sigma Chi 48		S.P.E. 8
Barney, f (7)		Lawyer, f
Rehm, f (9)		Kline, f
Neal, c (16)		Means, c
Buck, g (2)		Davison, g (6)
Wyche, g (6)		Chestnutt, g (2)

Subs: Sigma Chi—Bannon (2), Rowland, Hancock, Clover (6); S.P.E.—Parker.

Lam. Chi Alpha 16		A.T.O. 12
Marshall, f (2)		Spencer, f (6)
Liebfried, f (5)		Hawley, f (3)
Hill, c (2)		Fulhurn, c
Lothian, g		Parker, g (2)
Divito, g (4)		Blanton, g (1)

Subs: Lambda Chi Alpha—Allen (2), Shore (1); A. T. O.—Pfillips.

Mangum No. 1, 37		Pharm. 12
Henson, f (10)		Edwards, f (4)
Vick, f (6)		P. Woodward, f (4)
Fox, c (7)		Fox, c
Freeman, g		Mathews, g (4)
Rhodes, g (4)		J. Woodward, g

Subs: Mangum No. 1—Barnwell (8), Freeman, Rhodes (2); Pharmacy—Weaver.

Being a poor bridge-player, we can't tell the Democratic majority how to play its hand, but we can repeat the warning that it is vulnerable.—Dallas Morning News.

GRAPPLERS DRILL FOR CLASH WITH WOLFPACK TEAM

State Has Another Strong Team; Victorious Last Year, 26-0; Five Veterans Back.

WILL DEPEND ON SOPHS

Coach Chuck Quinlan continued to give his varsity wrestlers plenty of hard work for the coming meet with State at Raleigh on Saturday. The Tar Heel mat mentor again went over the weak spots exhibited in the V. P. I. fracas.

Although the official lineup has not yet been announced Carolina will probably start the same combination that worked so well against the Gobblers. This was composed of Umstead, 118-lb; Douglas, 126; Ward, 135; Gholsen, 145; Bonner, 155; Efland, 165; Gwynn, 175 and Ranson, unlimited.

Wolfpack Lineup

The Wolfpack will likely open with Bell, 118-lb; Kerr, 126; Krach, 135; Hall, 145; Captain Bernhardt, 155; Furr, 165; Croom, 175 and Thompson, unlimited. The West Raleigh team barely nosed the strong V. M. I. grappling contingent, 18-14.

State will be defending its championship crown when it opens its home season against Coach Quinlan's proteges. Last year the Wolfpack drubbed the Tar Heels, 26-0, and went on to take third place honors in the Southern Conference.

State Has 5 Veterans

The Chapel Hillians appear to be strongest in the 118, 126, 135, 155 and unlimited divisions while State's best bets are in the 126, 145, 155, 165 and 175-lb weights. The visiting aggregation has only one letterman to offer this week-end while State has five men who fought in 1934.

Carolina will depend much on its sophomore talent. Umstead, Ward, Douglas and Bonner were outstanding members of last year's Tar Baby mat crew while Kerr, Bernhardt, Furr, and Croom, veterans of two years of competition are the men upon whom the Wolfpack pin their hopes.

Carolina garnered four falls and a time decision for its 23 points against V. P. I., Umstead, Gholsen, Bonner and Ranson, winning by virtue of the

(Continued on last page)

FOOTBALL SQUAD WILL HAVE GAME HERE SATURDAY

First Hard Scrimmage of Winter Practice Will Be Held; Every Man to Perform.

25 VETERANS ARE BACK

The winter gridders of the University of North Carolina are to end their second week of practice with an intra-squad game on Saturday, Coach Carl Snavely announced yesterday.

Eight scrimmages are being held this week, but the heavy duty comes Saturday when the men will line up for an intensive scrimmage.

Coach Snavely hasn't announced the lineups for the practice session, but has indicated that practically every man on the squad is to be given a chance to show his ability.

Assistant Coaches Max Reed, George K. James, Walter D. Skidmore, Ellis Fysal, and Eddie Kahn are aiding Coach Snavely in the winter drills.

Kahn Teaching Linemen

Kahn, an outstanding guard on last season's grid machine, is to be lost through graduation from the 1935 team. He is now showing the linemen some of the tricks of the game in his present role as student assistant.

Other members of last year's team who are to be lost through graduation are George Barclay, All-American guard; Jim Tatum, All-Southern tackle; and Charlie Shaffer, All-Southern halfback.

Among the 25 veterans from last year's state championship team who are out for practice are: Harry Montgomery, quarterback; Tom Evins, tackle; Herman Snyder, halfback; Don Jackson, halfback; Eugene Barwick, end; Babe Daniel, center; Jim Hutchins, fullback; "Pop" Yeager, halfback; Murray Kanner, center; Bill Moore, end; George Moore, halfback; Dick Dashiell, quarterback.

Wallace Dunham, halfback; John Trimpey, tackle; Emmett Joyce, guard; Dick Buck, end; Charles McIver, guard; Bobbie Stewart, halfback; Elmer Wrenn, tackle; Van Webb, guard; Clyde Ambrose, fullback; Jack Beard, end; Randy Cooner, halfback; James Mizelle, tackle; and Clifford Watts, guard.

Undefeated Tar Babies Play Charlotte Tonight

CONTEST IS FIRST ON 3-GAME TRIP

Jim McCachren's Brother Is Star on Queen City Five; an Aitken Also on Cage Outfit.

TEN PLAYERS MAKE TOUR

The undefeated frosh quintet will attempt to run its victorious string to five this evening when it clashes with the Charlotte High five at the latter's court.

Ten players are making the trip to the western part of the state for the three-game tour. Four forwards, two centers and four guards have been selected to represent Carolina on the distant courts.

Pete Mullis, Andy Bershak, Pete Boone and Ramsay Potts are the quartet of forwards that will entrain (by car) for Charlotte. The two pivot men are Red Meroney and Bob Hagey and the guard positions have befallen Foy Grubb, Earl Ruth, Abe Bloom and Bill Franks.

Starting Lineup

The starting lineup will have Mullis, Bershak, Meroney, Ruth and Grubb facing the high schoolers. This team has car-

(Continued on last page)

TAR BABY PUGS TRAIN TO MEET CAVALIER FROSH

Shores and Benton Show Fine Form in Workout.

Striving to reach their peak for the Virginia meet, the Tar Baby glovers yesterday went through their paces for two solid hours in the hardest workout to date.

Tiger Shores looked good in his bout against Tom O'Flaherty as he repeatedly advanced with a deadly two-fisted attack, taking plenty while he was dishing it out. The fact that Shores is in good shape is important because his style of offense is more swinging than blocking. However, he has managed to get along rather well in his past two settos.

Bass Against Eutsler

Tommy Bass went up against the much improved Ernie Eutsler and gave a creditable exhibition for the two rounds he was in the ring. Bass has come a long way since the start of the season, and the last bout proved his rapid advancement. He is a good boxer, and employs a body attack as his chief weapon.

Benton is one of the yearlings who has received little or no recognition, but despite that he has learned quickly and in yesterday's go against O'Flaherty he was in excellent form. His jab shoots out like a bolt of lightning, the only fault being that he has a tendency to throw it when his opponent is going away and consequently wastes many punches.

Carolina's Ringsters Take Fast Drill For Battle With Virginia

Today's Mural Card

3:45—(1) Phi Delta Theta vs. Phi Gamma Delta, (2) Sigma Chi vs. Kappa Sigma.

4:45—(1) Zeta Psi vs. Theta Kappa Nu, (2) Sigma Nu vs. Theta Chi, (3) Aycock vs. Mayflower Club.

FROSH MAT CLUB IN HARD PRACTICE

First Year Wrestlers Prepare For Battle with Wolfcubs; Lineup Still Uncertain.

The freshman wrestling squad underwent a workout yesterday that was described by Coach Quinlan as the hardest practice session of the year. It is the hope of the Tar Heel mentor that the squad will gain enough added stamina to score a victory over the Wolfcubs.

The starters in Saturday's match have not as yet been determined but there will undoubtedly be changes. Coach Quinlan does not expect to have any men wrestle out of their weights and therefore will probably place Schulman back in the lineup.

James who wrestled in the 165-lb division will probably be lowered to the 155-lb division, while Gibbons who wrestled in that weight will have to compete with Claypoole in the 145-lb class.

Other Changes

The other probable changes will come in the lightest weights, and will possibly see Ehringhaus back in his natural 118-lb class replacing Patrick. The 126-lb division left vacant by Ehringhaus' change will likely be filled by Tankersley.

The only two men who face no chance of being shifted are Ford and Walborn. The former is regarded as the most capable man in his weight and the latter is the only entrant in the unlimited division.

The baby Wolfpack have not as yet had an inter-collegiate meet and their potential power is still unknown. Last year the baby grapplers defeated the Wolflets by a 20-16 score. It is the hope of the team not only to come into the winning column but also to make up for the decisive beating handed out to their varsity mates in last year's encounter.

KANNER REPORTS FOR HEAVYWEIGHT

Referee Short Has High Praises For Jule Medynski; Diehl Begins to Show Form.

VIRGINIA HAS 20 STRAIGHT

Carolina's boxing team got down to real business yesterday in the Tin Can preparing for what is expected to be its toughest dual meet of the season. The Tar Heels take on Virginia's Southern Conference championship outfit here Saturday.

In a brace of rounds sprinkled with action, Marion Diehl looked good against Jackie Horn and Larry Hendel. Diehl is trying to improve his right hand, which he neglected to throw until the third round of his scrap with Taylor of South Carolina. That bout was the first one that Diehl has lost, and he is out to avenge himself this Saturday night against Archie Hahn, Southern Conference champ.

Kanner Is Out

The battle of the behemoths has become a triangular affair. Big Murray Kanner, who was undefeated as a freshman two years ago, is making a play for the post.

He boxed a few rounds with Sam Giddins, and in spite of his long absence from the ring, he showed up surprisingly well. Kanner is a hard man to hit as his long left hand can easily keep, and has kept, his opponents from getting to him.

Medynski and Fisher went through their paces with honors about even. Both boys are working hard for their coming bouts and continue to look good in the ring.

Short Praises Medynski

Referee Short of Baltimore, who has refereed some 20,000 fights among which were about 3,800 collegiate contests, was emphatic in some of his remarks about the sportsmanship of the team and also in his praise of Jule Medynski. He maintained that Medynski was the best collegiate junior middleweight that he had ever seen.

Seeking their 21st consecutive victory the Cavaliers bring an assortment of mitt stars which includes Co-Captains Archie Hahn, bantamweight, and Gordon Rainey, featherweight, both of whom hold Conference championships, and Womer, star welterweight.

Virginia has defeated Harvard, 6-2, and V. M. I., 7-1, in two fights held this season.

The Tar Heels won from V. P. I., 7-1, and from South Carolina, 6½-1½, in their two matches of the season.

Fisher vs. Womer

A feature bout of the meet Saturday will find Fisher, of Carolina, and Womer, of Virginia, matched in the welterweight division.

USED CARS

1929 Willys Knight Sedan	$140
1928 Oldsmobile Coach	100
1931 Ford Deluxe Roadster	150
1931 Ford Deluxe Sedan	275

Graham Truck, Ford Trucks at Low Prices

Strowd Motor Co.

Ford Products Since 1914

CALENDAR

Sophomore executives.
Gerrard hall 10:30

Vocational group.
Memorial hall 10:30

Staff photos.
Graham Memorial 2:00

Tau Beta Pi.
214 Phillips hall 5:00

Senior executives.
Y. M. C. A. 7:00

A. I. E. E. movie.
206 Phillips hall 7:30

Civil engineers.
315 Phillips hall 7:30

Foreign Policy League.
Graham Memorial 8:00

Undefeated Tar Babies Play Charlotte Tonight

(Continued from page three)

ried the frosh through to four victories to date and Coach Skidmore is continuing to depend upon them.

The reserves make a strong combination also and will see constant play during the trio of games. The only untried one of the ten is Ramsay Potts and his performance under fire is being awaited by the coach.

Although Charlotte has not shown exceptional power this season, a recent glance at the box score shows it as decisive victors over High Point. The Charlotte team won at 48-30, celebrating its first appearance under its new leader, John Pursey.

Another McCachren

McCachren, brother of the famous guard at Chapel Hill, led the team with a brilliant total of 23 points. It will be well to watch this budding McCachren genius, who is headed to rounding a trio of brothers that seem destined to go down in history as the "The Three Basketeers."

Also on the Charlotte starting five is Aitken, a relation of Carolina's varsity captain. These future Tar Heels are a dangerous pair and are likely to provide dangerous opposition for the freshmen.

The team will leave the University about noon today and return Sunday afternoon. The game against Charlotte is followed with encounters against Belmont and Davidson on the succeeding nights, the group of which will definitely stamp the frosh quintet as ordinary or exceptional.

SNOW

(United Press)

Jan. 23.—Lashed by a northeast gale, a blinding snow storm drove across eastern United States Wednesday night, causing great human suffering and losses to business that ran into millions.

Transportation was crippled as airplanes headed towards land, railway service disrupted, and motor traffic was stalled.

More than a foot of snow had fallen in New York City before midnight. At least nine deaths have been attributed to the weather in the mid-south. Three froze to death and six were drowned in Mississippi and Tennessee.

HOUSE PRESIDENT NAMES SPENCER HALL PROCTORS

The following proctors for the quarter have been appointed by Lois Byrd, house president of Spencer hall:

For the second floor, Kay Quigley, Jean Van Dusen, and Ruth Slagle.

On the third floor are Jean McKay, Bobbie Moore, and Mildred Howard.

For the fourth floor are Frances Caffey and Hazel Beacham.

Church Conference

Harry F. Comer, general secretary of the University Y. M. C. A., and the Reverends Watt Cooper, O. T. Binkley, and Donald Stewart are representing Chapel Hill at the state-wide Inter-denominational Convention being held in Greensboro this week.

Approximately 200 churchmen and laymen of North Carolina are attending the convention, according to Comer, who returned to Chapel Hill for a few hours yesterday morning.

Infirmary Confines 30

The following students were confined in the infirmary yesterday: Tom Hicks, Marvin Ray, William Wheat, Bill Teague, Mary Green, Kate Harrison, Betsy Jones, H. A. McGowan, Newton Craige, Harry Rosenberg, E. A. Pearsall, W. R. Weaver, Ray Reeves, W. E. Brunson.

Eleanor Lockhart, Mildred Cohen, Mary Copeland, Bruce Smith, E. S. Simpson, Stewart Coffey, Gaillard Mahoney, Tom Jimison, Herman Biggs, Branch Craige, Gaston Stanford, J. G. Johnson, E. M. Edens, J. R. Barrett, E. S. Shoof, and Tom Hines.

Education Appropriations

Raleigh, Jan. 23. — (UP) — While education committees of the state, House, and Senate today prepared to ask for school appropriations up to $22,000,000 annually, anti-sales tax forces in the finance committees began marshalling forces for a fight on the assembly floor.

CAROLINIAN WINS HEROISM MEDAL

Gets Carnegie Award for Saving Life of Drowning Schoolboy.

Pittsburgh, Jan. 23.—(UP)—Fourteen acts of heroism were recognized by the Carnegie hero fund commission at its 31st annual meeting here today by the award of bronze medals and financial benefits.

Among the 14 was a North Carolina farmer who saved a schoolboy from drowning after a desperate struggle. J. Suttle Austin of Willard, N. C., on June 18, 1932, dived after N. Holmes Murphey when the latter was submerged in the Cape Fear river.

Murphy had been wading in the river. He stepped off a sand bar into nine feet of water, was momentarily submerged, and drifted into an eddy. Austin dived after the boy, who grasped him and engaged in a panic-stricken struggle with his savior. Austin, however, fought his way to safety and managed to rescue the lad.

ENGINEERS WILL HEAR WHITE SPEAK TONIGHT

Dr. A. M. White of the chemistry department will be the principal speaker at the meeting of the American Society of Civil Engineers tonight.

Dr. White, whose topic will be "Industrial Chemistry," will address the group in room 315 Phillips hall at 7:30 o'clock. Included in the regular business of the meeting will be a discussion of plans for the annual engineers' ball.

Faculty Makes Changes In Music Course

Professors to Consider Abolishing Quarterly Program.

A change in the music degree was made at a faculty meeting yesterday afternoon to the extent that music students take a regular A.B. course and then major in music.

A motion was made that the faculty consider at an early date the question that the University should return to the semester system and abolish the present quarterly program. No action, however, was taken.

The faculty then passed a resolution requesting the administration to look more thoroughly into the matter of improving teaching methods.

Community Club

The American home department will have charge of the regular meeting of the Chapel Hill Community Club tomorrow at 3:30 o'clock in the parish house, it was announced yesterday.

The feature of the meeting will be a party in honor of the past presidents of the organization. All former members are especially invited.

Graham Entertains

W. A. Jessup, president of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, was here yesterday on a personal visit to President Frank Graham. He left last night for New York City.

Hauptmann to Testify

Flemington, N. J., Jan. 23.—(UP)—Bruno Hauptmann will go on the witness stand in his own defense at noon tomorrow, Edward J. Reilly announced tonight.

He said that he expected a direct examination of the German carpenter to require a full day, and that the prisoner would be turned over to the state by noon Friday.

Today Arthur Koehler, department of agriculture wood expert, told of tracing the wood in the kidnap ladder and said that a piece of it came from the flooring of Hauptmann's attic. Koehler faces cross-examination tomorrow.

SYMPHONY INAUGURATES WPTF BROADCAST SERIES

Under the direction of Lamar Stringfield, the North Carolina Symphony Orchestra yesterday inaugurated a new series of radio broadcasts to be heard every Wednesday afternoon over the National Broadcasting System with WPTF, Raleigh, as the outlet. The programs will begin at 3 o'clock and run a full hour.

The broadcast yesterday afternoon included numbers by Mozart, Tschaikowski, Beethoven, and Brahms, and the American composers Stoessel, Mason, and Withorne.

Grumman Off

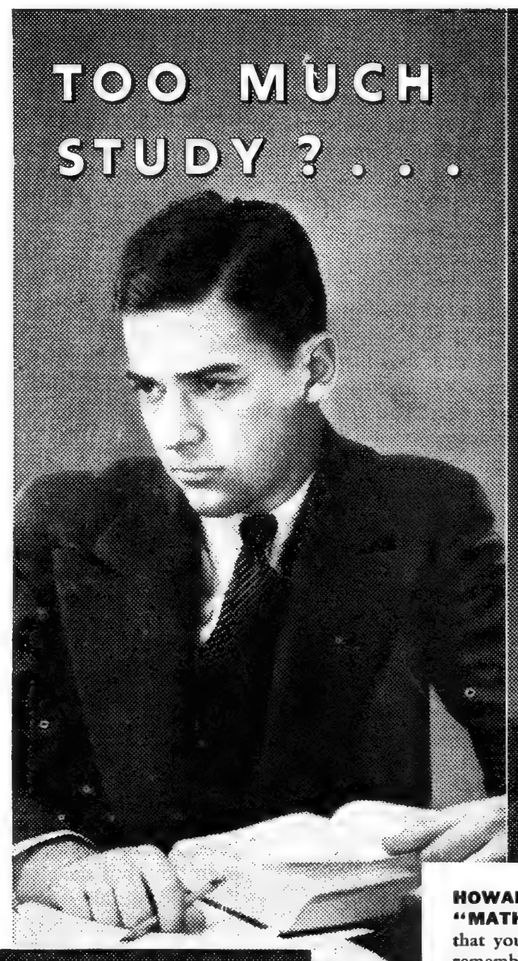
R. M. Grumman went to Greensboro last night to attend a meeting of the officers of the Carolinas district of Kiwanis International.

GRAPPLERS DRILL FOR CLASH WITH WOLFPACK TEAM

(Continued from page three)

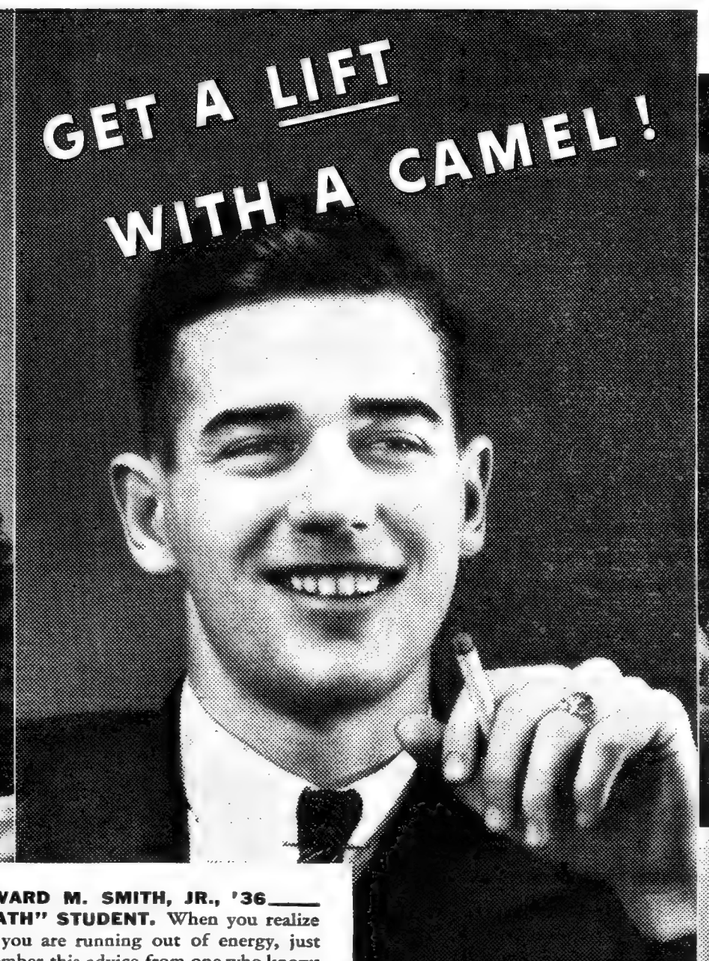
fall route and Ward gaining an overwhelming time victory.

In defeating V. M. I. the Wolfpack annexed three victories on falls and one on a time decision. Hall, Captain Bernhardt and Croom threw their opponents in quick order while Krach won out on time in extra periods.



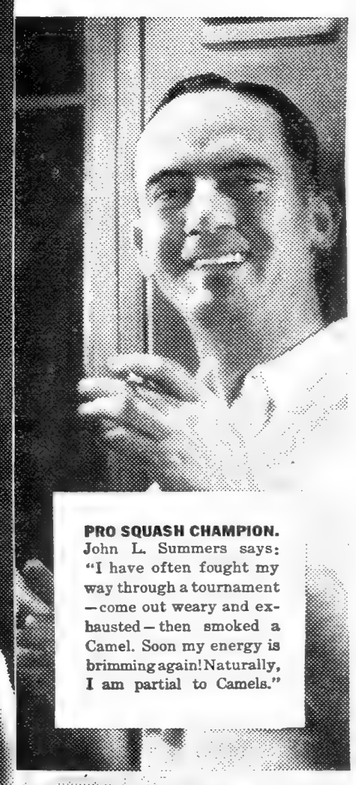
The feature matches will likely be between Douglas and Kerr, 126 pounders; Krach and Ward, in the 135 pound class; Bonner and Bernhardt in the junior middleweight division and Efland and Furr in the 165 weight.

Sophomore Executives

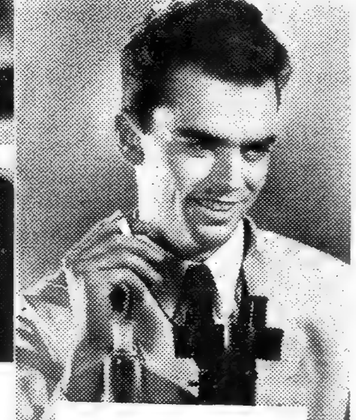


There will be a meeting of the sophomore executive council in Gerrard hall at 10:30 o'clock this morning.

CAROLINA
NOW PLAYING
Gloria Swanson
John Boles
in
"MUSIC IN THE AIR"
—Also—
Comedy — Novelty
—Sunday—
"THE PRESIDENT VANISHES"
A Story So Startling Its Author Dared Not Sign His Name

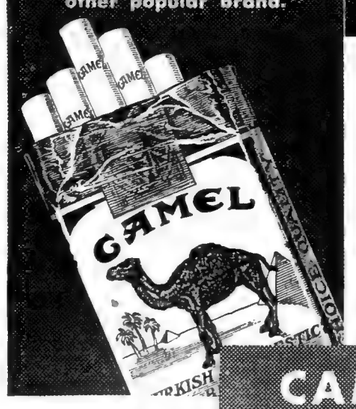


TOO MUCH STUDY?...



GET A LIFT WITH A CAMEL!

HOWARD M. SMITH, JR., '36— "MATH" STUDENT. When you realize that you are running out of energy, just remember this advice from one who knows—Howard Smith, who is taking a heavy mathematics course: "When I light a Camel," he says, "it refreshes me and promotes alertness. Most of the college fellows I know are Camel smokers. They like that 'lift' they get from Camels, and also agree with me that you can smoke Camels all you want and they never upset your nerves."



PRO SQUASH CHAMPION. John L. Summers says: "I have often fought my way through a tournament—come out weary and exhausted—then smoked a Camel. Soon my energy is brimming again! Naturally, I am partial to Camels."

SCIENTIST. "The enjoyment of smoking means a lot to me," says R. F. Mann, B. S. "I picked Camels as my cigarette years ago. I like the flavor of Camels better the longer I smoke them. And Camels never jangle my nerves."

LEAF-TOBACCO EXPERTS AGREE: "Camels are made from finer, More Expensive Tobaccos—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand."

For Your Pleasure... Tune In on THE NEW CAMEL CARAVAN
featuring WALTER O'KEEFE • ANNETTE HANSHAW
GLEN GRAY'S CASA LOMA ORCHESTRA

TUESDAY 10:00 P.M. E.S.T. / 9:00 P.M. C.S.T. / 8:00 P.M. M.S.T. / 7:00 P.M. P.S.T.
THURSDAY 9:00 P.M. E.S.T. / 8:00 P.M. C.S.T. / 9:30 P.M. M.S.T. / 8:30 P.M. P.S.T.
OVER COAST-TO-COAST WABC-COLUMBIA NETWORK

WALTER O'KEEFE

CAMEL'S COSTLIER TOBACCOS NEVER GET ON YOUR NERVES!

Copyright, 1935 R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company Winston-Salem, N. C.

LUTHERAN SOCIAL
7:30 P. M.
GRAHAM MEMORIAL

The Daily Tar Heel

SOPHOMORE EXECUTIVES
10:30 A. M.
GERRARD HALL

SERVED BY THE UNITED PRESS

VOLUME XLIII | CHAPEL HILL, N. C., FRIDAY, JANUARY 25, 1935 | NUMBER 88

STUDENT GROUPS TO URGE WORLD COURT ENTRANCE

Foreign Policy League, Di, Phi, and 200 Churchgoers to Wire U. S. Senators from N. C.

WILL APPROACH GRAHAM

By unanimous vote the Foreign Policy League last night moved to telegraph North Carolina Senator R. R. Reynolds to cast his vote in favor of American adherence to the World Court.

The move followed a discussion in the league on the World Court question. The group voted unanimously that the United States should join the international tribunal.

Invite Graham's Co-operation

The group also voted to invite President Frank Porter Graham to add his name to the wire.

Along with this action by the league were similar resolutions by the Di, Phi, and by 200 churchgoers in Chapel Hill. All of these organizations are wiring North Carolina senators, asking them to vote in favor of the World Court, Agnew Bahnson said last night.

Discussion on the World Court question began with a presentation of the historical background by Don McKee. He was followed by Virgil Lee, speaking for the Di, and by Francis Fairley, speaking for the Phi. Phillips Russell, recently returned from Brussels, and John Schulz both spoke extemporaneously on the same topic.

Not a bit of opposition was voiced by the 25 or more interested persons who attended last night's meeting.

At the same meeting President Agnew Bahnson announced the receipt of a letter from Sen-

(Continued on page three)

WOMEN STUDENTS WILL HAVE DANCE

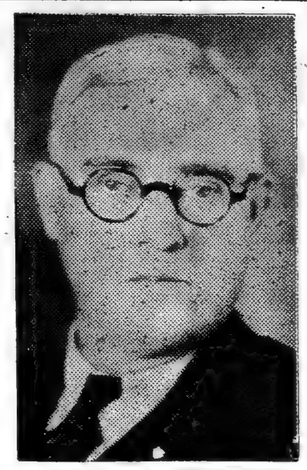
Co-eds to Entertain Representative Group of Students with Formal Dance Tonight.

The women students of Spencer hall are entertaining a representative group of the men on the campus at a formal card dance tonight at Spencer hall.

Due to lack of space a limited number of invitations has been issued to a list of men furnished the dance committee by the Y. M. C. A., the Grail, the Interfraternity Council, the University Club, and the Golden Fleece.

Freddy Johnson and his orchestra will furnish music for dancing from 9:30 until 1 o'clock.

Chaperones



Chaperones for the occasion include: Dr. and Mrs. Frank P. Graham, Dean and Mrs. R. B. House, Dean and Mrs. F. F. Bradshaw, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Comer, Mr. and Mrs. Shipp Saunders, Mrs. M. H. Stacy, Mrs. Irene Lee, and Miss Louise Lanham.

No stag bids are being issued. Guests are requested to arrive by 9:30 in order to be present for the first dance. Since all the residents of Spencer hall are acting as hostess, there will be no extra hour for the co-eds after the dance.

Admission will be by invitation only. Men who are unable to accept bids are asked to notify Lois Byrd before three o'clock this afternoon.

'Inspiring', Says Campus Delegate To World-Wide Anti-War Court

Presides

Gorver Britt (above), well known Sampson county editor and vice-president of the North Carolina Press Association, who presided over a session of the North Carolina Weekly editors at the Newspaper Institute here yesterday afternoon.

Russell Hopes to Establish Permanent Society Against War at University.

"The World Peace Conference was to me an inspiring and tremendously interesting experience," declared R. Phillips Russell after returning from the International Student Anti-war Conference which he attended in Brussels, Belgium.

"Of course, everyone will want to know what good will come of the conference," Russell went on to say. "The good effects, if they are to follow, will depend absolutely upon what the delegates do in carrying out the program which they adopted."

To Make Report Soon

Russell stated that an American committee had been formed for the prime aim of organizing students throughout the nation into local groups to fight war and fascism. The delegate will soon present a report on the conference to the University and will assist in laying the plans for a permanently active anti-war society on this campus. Such a society, Russell explained, would not only seek to insure peace, but would strive to discover the basic causes of war and fascism.

Russell explained that the underlying purpose of the world conference was to unite students of all political and religious creeds, students of all races and nationalities in a common program against war. The delegate said that though all agreed at the conference that war must be prevented, there was some difficulty in coming to a mutual agreement upon a large scale anti-war program.

The numerous committee meetings held for open discussions on specific problems of anti-war work did much to overcome this difficulty, Russell reported. These smaller forums

(Continued on page two)

INDUSTRIAL SOUTH WILL SEE CHANGE, SAYS JOURNALIST

J. G. Stahlman Tells Press Institute of Industrial Revolution In South in Near Future.

W. D. NUGENT ALSO SPEAKS

An industrial revolution in the south in the near future which would be the result of "successful experiments in the manufacture of newsprint from southern slash pine," was predicted here last night by James G. Stahlman, publisher of the Nashville, Tenn., Banner, and a former president of the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association, in an address before the 11th annual sessions of the North Carolina Newspaper Institute.

Stahlman is a member of a committee from the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association, of which he was a former president, that is sponsoring the establishment of a mill in the south for the manufacture of newsprint.

He said capital for the venture is being raised rapidly and that operation of the mill will begin next January.

Project Profitable

This project, which is pretty sure to be successful, will eventually result in bringing to the south $170,000,000 which now goes to Canada for newsprint made from spruce pine. Seventy per cent of all newsprint consumed in America is now produced in Canada, he said.

Stahlman told of the experiments in making newsprint from southern pine which Dr. Charles H. Herty, formerly head of the chemistry department at the

(Continued on last page)

Yackety Yack Meeting

The following men are requested to meet with Claude Rankin in the Yackety Yack office this afternoon between 3 and 4 o'clock: Frank Willingham, Jack Lowe, Irving Suss, Henry Lewis, and Sam Elmore.

Soph Executive Committee

There will be a meeting of the sophomore executive committee this morning at 10:30 o'clock in Gerrard hall.

NOTED LAWYERS TO TEACH HERE DURING SUMMER

Sunderland, Mechem, Havighurst, and Cook Will Lecture in Law School.

FEW REGULARS TO TEACH

Several distinguished professors will lecture in the law school of the University during the coming summer session, Professor Edgar W. Knight, director, announced today.

The visiting members of the summer faculty are: Edson R. Sunderland, University of Michigan; Philip Mechem, State University of Iowa; Harold C. Havighurst, Northwestern University; and Walter Wheeler Cook, Johns Hopkins University.

Professors Sunderland, Mechem, and Havighurst will teach the courses in Appellate Practice, Trusts, and Contracts, respectively, during the first term, which will run from June 12 to July 20. Professor Cook will teach the course in Legal Method during the second term, which will run from July 22 to August 28.

Authority

Professor Sunderland is the recognized authority in the field of Judicial Procedure in this country. The author of a number of influential books, he has recently participated as secretary of the Judicial Council of Michigan and as co-draftsman of the Illinois Practice Act of 1934 in the complete overhauling of the administration of civil justice in those two states.

Professor Cook, who taught Conflict of laws here last summer, is one of the leaders in the development of the modern school of realistic jurisprudence.

Four members of the resident law faculty at Chapel Hill, Professors Breckenridge, McCall, Wettach, and Dean Van Hecke, have at one time or another been

(Continued on last page)

Puppeteers Must Be Acrobats To Make Marionettes Perform

Tony Sarg's Company Uses New Type Stage for Presentation of "Faust"; Professionals Make Oriental Dancer's Contortions Cast Burlesque Dancers into Depths of Shame.

By FRANCIS CLINGMAN

Pulling strings and repeating lines at the same time, while poised on a dangerously narrow platform, make it appear that a marionette artist must also be an acrobat.

Tony Sarg's company of three men and one woman presented their puppet show of "Faust" Tuesday afternoon to an audience composed mainly of school children and in the evening to the older people.

In the production, the workers used a platform which differs widely from the conventional type. This new platform was designed by a member of the company, and is so built that the workers may manage their puppets from above on both sides of the small stage. In the old type the workers stood up behind the stage. Watching the performance from behind the scene one expects to see almost at any moment a worker's foot slip, throwing him upon the miniature stage and crushing the devil into a well deserved end.

During the performance the workers wore dark blue, close-fitting uniforms and went about their duties with a light heart. At times they were forced to suppress laughter to mere smiles, for example, when the necklace slipped off the servant's hand and was left suspended in mid air. Between acts has always been the time to pause for a smoke, but with "Faust" the operators successfully mixed business with pleasure.

It was discovered that the cigarette had another purpose than the mere "lift" which it offered. The "butts" were placed in the witch's pot to give off smoke for an ill brew that she was concocting.

Work Never Dull

The work of a marionette artist is never dull or slow. Due to the necessity of having only a few operators, one man often finds himself doing everything from singing a rollicking German military march to smacking his lips in imitation of a kiss by two infatuated puppets. Although it seems that a lot of continuous practice would be necessary to manipulate the doll-like figures properly, the op-

(Continued on last page)

Honor Roll Totals 352; A.B. Students Lead List

Journalists Display Scholarly Traits

Seven members of the DAILY TAR HEEL staff came through with all "A's" to make the grand honor roll for the fall quarter. They are: Don Becker, Jim Daniel, A. T. Dill, Bill Hudson, Eddie Kahn, Louis Shaffner, and John Smith.

The following staff members made the general honor roll: A. T. Dill, Joe Webb, Phil Hammer, Nelson Lansdale, Nick Read, Willis Harrison, Irving Suss, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.

Eddie Kahn, Don Becker, Bill Hudson, John Smith, William Jordan, Louis Shaffner, Bill McLean, and Crist Blackwell.

INCREASE OF 21 OVER LAST YEAR

Junior Class Leads Roll with 95; Senior Group Places Second with 77.

FORTY-ONE MAKE ALL A's

A total of 352 students averaged "B" or better on three or more full courses for the fall quarter and have been placed on the honor roll, the registrar's office announced yesterday.

This represents an increase of 21 students over the corresponding quarter last year. The school of liberal arts led with 196, five more than were included in the fall quarter last year.

There were 67 in the commerce school compared with 66 in that school last year, 31 in the engineering school compared with 34 last year, 9 in the pharmacy school compared with 15 last year, and 14 special students.

Juniors Lead

In the class divisions, the juniors led by placing 95 students on the list against 98 last year. The seniors placed 77 against 82 last year, and the sophomores, 77 against 75. There was a net loss of six students on the honor list compared with the list last year among the upperclassmen.

The freshmen, however, more than compensated for this loss by placing 89 on roll, an increase of 13 over last year.

All A's

Among the students carrying three or more courses, there were 41 who made all "A's". The following make up the "A" list: J. Y. Barnett, Donald Becker, R. A. Berman, F. S. Brown, J. W. Coan, Mildred T. Cohen, S. R. Collett, L. A. Cotten, Branch

(Continued on last page)

GRAHAM TO SPEAK TO ALUMNI TODAY

General Alumni Association Will Gather for Annual Meeting; Banquet This Evening.

The annual General Alumni Assembly of the University Alumni Association will be held here today and tomorrow at Graham Memorial with President Frank Porter Graham the principal speaker for the occasion.

Today's program of events, as announced by J. Maryon Saunders, secretary of the General Alumni Association, will begin this afternoon at 3 o'clock with a special meeting sponsored by the Alumni Loyalty Fund Council. Specially invited alumni lawyers and trust bankers will discuss a program for stimulating gifts to the University by wills and trusts.

Officers' Meeting

The officers and directors of the General Alumni Association will meet at 4:30 p. m.

Dr. Hubert B. Haywood will preside at the banquet which will begin at 6:30 in the Graham Memorial banquet hall. President Graham will address the group on "The Appropriation Requests of the University."

Tomorrow's session of the assembly will begin at 1 p. m. with the meeting of the 1935 reunion committee. Classes from the year 1885 to 1934 will be represented.

At 2:30 Coach Snavely will entertain the alumni with the regular winter football practice for the day. The evening's entertainment will see the alumni rooting for Carolina's boxers in their tilt with Virginia in the Tin Can. The gold football watch charms, given by the alumni and friends, will be presented to lettermen and coaches of the 1934 football team during a boxing intermission.

Plane Geometry Conditions

All students having conditions in plane geometry should turn in their names at the Y. M. C. A., according to an announcement from Dean Bradshaw's office yesterday, since it is possible that some coaching procedure may be set up for them.

TICKET BOOKS

Ticket books for the winter quarter entertainment series may be obtained at the business office in South building today from 10:30 to 1 and from 2 to 4 o'clock.

ACTOR TO APPEAR HERE NEXT WEEK

V. L. Granville, English Actor, To Come Here Monday on Entertainment Series.

Appearing on the first presentation of the student entertainment series for the winter quarter, V. L. Granville, the distinguished English actor, will give his "Dramatic Interludes" in Memorial hall Monday night.

Granville's performance will be a presentation, in costume and make-up, of the principle characters from the drama of all time.

His program will be divided into two parts. In the first he will represent the famous characters in dramatic literature from the time of the Greeks to Shakespeare. The last section will include characters from Moliere to the present day.

Famous Characters

The first group of personations includes Sophocles' Oedipus; Plautus' Ergalsilus; Marlowe's Faustus; and Shakespeare's Falstaff and Richard III.

Granville has selected for his second group: Harpagon from "The Miser" by Moliere; Mrs. Malaprop from "The Rivals" by Sheridan; Fedya from "The Living Corpse" by Tolstoy, Francois Villon, the great French poet; Cyrano de Bergerac from Rostand's book by the same name; and Svengali from "Trilby" by George du Maurier.

The Daily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Union Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where it is printed daily except Mondays, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Holidays. Entered as second class matter at the post office of Chapel Hill, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 for the college year.

A. T. Dill ..... Editor
Robert C. Page, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
Joe Webb ..... Business Manager
George Underwood ..... Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

EDITORIAL BOARD—Phil Hammer, chairman, Earl Wolslagel, Franklin Harward, John Schulz, DuPont Snowden, Margaret McCauley, Morty Slavin, Sam Leager, Dick Myers, Charles Lloyd, Jake Snyder.

FEATURE BOARD—Nelson Lansdale, chairman; Nick Read, Bob Browder, Francis Clingman, J. E. Poindexter, W. M. Cochrane, Willis Harrison.

CITY EDITORS—Irving Suss, Walter Hargett, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.

TELEGRAPH EDITORS—Stuart Rabb, Charlie Gilmore.

DESK MAN—Eddie Kahn.

SPORTS DEPARTMENT—Jimmy Morris and Smith Barrier, co-editors, Tom Bost, Lee Turk, Len Rubin, Fletcher Ferguson, Stuart Sechriest, Lester Ostrow, Ira Sarasohn.

EXCHANGES—Margaret Gaines.

STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER—Don Becker.

REPORTERS—Bill Hudson, John Smith, J. F. Jonas, Ralph Sprinkle, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Hazel Beacham,

Business Staff

ASST. BUSINESS MANAGER ..... Butler French
COLLECTION MANAGER ..... Herbert Osterheld
OFFICE MANAGERS ..... Walter Eckert, Roy Crooks
NATIONAL ADVERTISING ..... Boylan Carr
DURHAM REPRESENTATIVE—Joe Murnick.
LOCAL ADVERTISING—Hugh Primrose, Robt. Sosnik, Eli Joyner (managers), Bill MacDonald, Louis Shaffner, Page Keel, Bill McLean, Crist Blackwell.

CITY EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE: REED SARRATT

Friday, January 25, 1935

PARAGRAPHICS

Mr. Frantz says that modern music is unfinished. Why not finish it up with a few PWA notes?

The newspaper account of Dr. Wolf's talk says there's a deplorable lack of concrete data. Evidently the newspaperman isn't a good mixer.

We see where gridiron charms will be presented. We'd suggest a few nose replacements.

The Court And the Code

The hubbub created by the recent Supreme Court decision upholding compulsory military training in land-grant schools has not ended. In fact, it has begun anew.

John Beardsley, attorney for the University of California students whose case was appealed, threw a bombshell into what was becoming a passive aftermath of the tribunals decision when he recently filed a petition for a re-hearing of the case on the basis of dispute regarding the disparity of several points of the decision and the United States war code.

The statement in the decision that students required to take R. O. T. C. courses do not thereby become "in any sense . . . a part of the military establishment of the United States" is, according to Beardsley, directly opposed to several sections of the code which definitely ally R. O. T. C. and the war department. In several other places, also, Beardsley has pointed out that the decision was not consistent with the governmental regulations controlling R. O. T. C. and subsequent military service.

This all leads us to believe that there is reason to anticipate, in the far future, at any rate, that the continued effort of Lawyer Beardsley et al may in time effect a reversal of the decision.

We'll Have A Day for It

We have heard it rumored that there live near the campus a small group of students who recently had the hardihood to invite several professors to an informal bull session in their rooms. When news of this reached our ears we received it with an inward observation of what extremes some of our fellows will go to in "legging" professors. But it seems that we were entirely wrong, for it later developed, believe it or not, that none of these students had a course under any of the professors during the quarter in which the get-together was held.

Now to us, the action of those students seems altogether admirable. Since the days when a professor's life was one prolonged open season, and he was shot at daily, on the wing or otherwise, by students who had flunked his course, there has existed here a social chasm between faculty and student—not nearly so wide as at other colleges and universities, to be sure—that a rigorously enforced and perpetual closed season has done little to span. True, the student no longer looks at his professor with blood in his eye, but has evidently substituted for his desire for revenge a doctrine of laissez-faire. Perhaps the coming student-faculty day will effect such a doctrine.

Petitioning For Organization

A most significant step in the growth of co-ed prestige on the University campus was taken by the women students in drawing up a petition, now being circulated, for admission of the local organization into the American Association of University Women.

This school has heretofore been excluded because of the absence of co-ed athletics. However, with the institution of regular co-ed participation in various athletic fields this situation has been remedied.

The significance of the petition is the manifestation of a desire on the co-eds' part to perfect a definite women's organization. We are inclined to believe this is only a beginning.

Extending The University

We note that the dates and regulations for the annual academic high school language contests have been announced through the University extension department. It goads us to bring to the attention of the campus the important function of this little known and yet highly valuable part of the University's educational system.

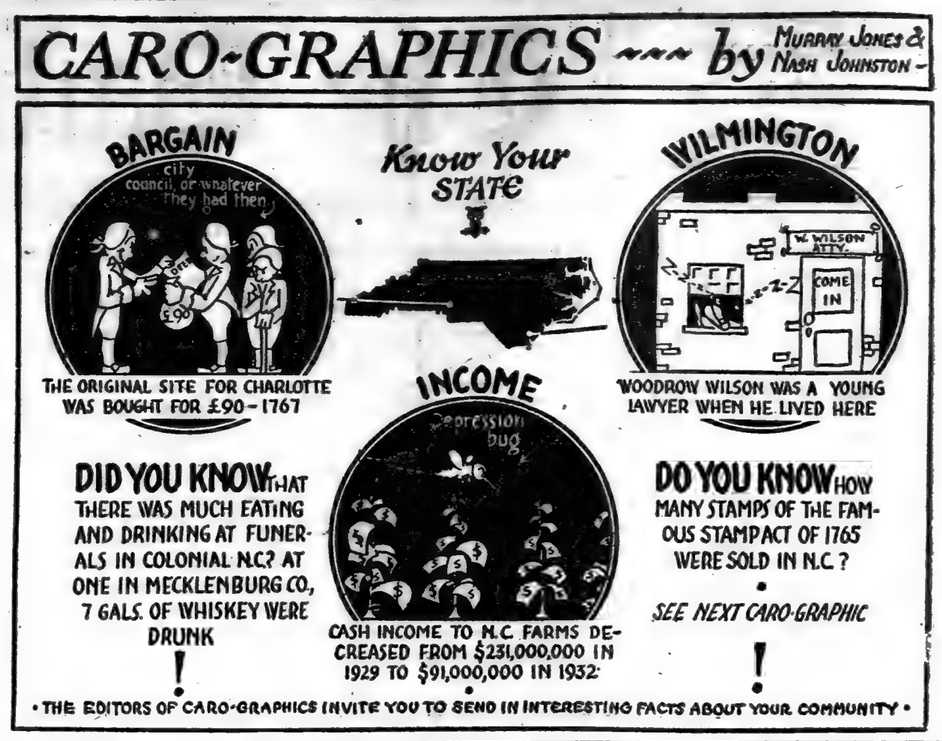
As E. R. Rankin, head of the high school contact division of the service, has put it, these annual contests sponsored by the University serve to "increase interest in scholarship among high school students." This service has the joint utility of acting as an efficient publicity means for the University and of actually so inspiring students to strive for a mastery in certain fields of education, particularly in the studies of languages and mathematics.

The main body of the University extension division, under Messrs. Grumman and Schnell, merits particular attention. The University, through the efforts of the former and now with the co-operation of the latter, can rightfully claim one of the most efficient and far-reaching organizations of extension work in the south.

While divisions of this sort do not solicit student recognition for the activities which they conduct, nevertheless our extension division, for its value through well-administered educational impetus, deserves our attention insofar as we should know precisely what our University is doing in its various fields.

Our Senators And the Court

"Entering the World Court means entering the League of Nations. Entering the League of Nations means becoming involved in matters in which we have no concern and will eventually lead us into another world war." Thus spoke North Carolina's junior senator, Reynolds, as he joined the opposition to the World Court. He is thoroughly convinced that the Court is the pawn of a few selfish nations who are trying to keep permanently the spoils which were guaranteed them by the Versailles treaty.



"I shall cast my vote for the resolution and remember until I die that when an opportunity was presented, I made one contribution to the moral structure of civilization." Thus spoke North Carolina's senior senator, Bailey, in a speech which was meant to answer the arguments of Senators Borah and Johnson and indirectly those of his colleague, Reynolds.

A small minority in the Senate has always been able to hold up our entrance to the Court by means of the two-thirds majority rule. In 1926 our entrance was prevented only by the "fatal fifth" reservation which is concerned with advisory opinions. We can only conclude that this reservation was injected solely because it was known that it could not possibly be accepted by the powers. It is of no importance due to the fact that advisory opinions rendered by the Court are not binding upon any party. We can hope to join the Court only if the present senate will agree to omit this resolution from our conditions of entrance.

As for some of the arguments presented by the opposition, joining the Court definitely does not mean joining the League of Nations; and, as to getting us into another world war, did the fact that we belonged to no real world court in 1917 keep us out of the first World War? If the Court is actually controlled by a selfish group, isn't it about time that we make an effort to tip the balance to the side of justice?

Senator Reynolds is taking the side of the minority when he opposes the Court in this state. The letters which have been sent to the North Carolina delegation at Washington on the subject show that the majority here seems to favor our entrance. Furthermore, the North Carolina Bar Association passed, both in 1932 and 1933, resolutions favoring United States' entrance to the Court.

The question of entering the World Court is of especial interest to the students of this University. We must remember that we are the ones who will have to shoulder the burden in case improper organization makes possible another world conflict in the near future.

MUSIC

By Earl W. Wolslagel

Dalies Frantz has come and gone, but his music which filled every nook and cranny of a well-filled Hill Music hall Wednesday evening will live long in the memories of that enthusiastic audience.

An artist of his ability is not an everyday occurence. He is one of those musical attractions that come along, and who, after he is gone, is sadly missed by those who did not take advantage of the opportunity of hearing him. Such was the case Wednesday evening. For those who missed this glorious recital by one of America's greatest musical figures lost one of the finest musical entertainments ever presented anywhere in the state.

Mr. Frantz is an exceptional man in many ways. He is a fine, upright gentleman of the highest caliber, and an artist of unlimited possibilities and talent. His playing of the difficult Liszt B minor sonata was a definite triumph. Such a composition which digs deep into the well of human emotion and extracts the utmost from the artist's technical gifts and powers is no facile accomplishment of even the most seasoned performers. Mr. Frantz played with a warmth of tone, a depth of poetic feeling and seemed at all times to be the complete master of the little devils of intricate finger-technic which try throughout the composition to trip the performer into pitfalls of error.

In the entire program Mr. Frantz was expressive beyond the most colorful descriptions. The compositions of Bach which opened a rather long, and taxing program, suffered a deal due to the fact that they did come first. It takes some preliminary warming-up to play really well, but there is nothing that can be said against Mr. Frantz's performance of the classical master's works Wednesday evening. He might have done more justice to them had he used his Bach after some preliminary playing of say, the two Brahms "Intermezzi" which followed on the program. The playing of the Brahms showed markedly that the artist had caught the full meaning of the compositions. The interpretations were artistic from every standpoint.

Mr. Frantz's playing of the "Papillons" by Schumann was as entrancing as fairy stories to little children. The light, airy nature of the work as it portrays the different moods of a carnival gathering lends itself well to the interpretive ability of the youthful artist. He gave a most pleasing rendition of the fairly trying, yet melodious work.

At all times was one conscious of a technical giant at the keyboard. His finger-technic was as lightning, and there was in evidence a true sense of poetic feeling, a nicely developed sense of shading and nuance of the separate themes in all the works.

The audience responded heartily to each selection and Mr. Frantz reciprocated graciously by playing a long list of delightful encores at the conclusion of his printed program.

OUTSTANDING RADIO BROADCASTS

Friday, Jan. 25

1:00: George Hall orch., WABC.

3:15: Minneapolis Symphony orch., Eugene Ormandy, conductor, WABC.

6:45: Lowell Thomas, commentator, WJZ.

7:15: Plantation Echoes; Robison orch.; male quartet; Mildred Bailey, songs, WJZ.

8:00: Bordon orch.; Jessica Dragonette, soprano; male quartet, WEAF; Edwin C. Hill, commentator, WABC.

8:30: Katzman orch.; Lucille Peterson, songs; Choristers quartet, WOR; Goodman orch.; Jane Froman, songs; Bob Hope, comedian, WJZ; Court of Human Relations, WABC.

9:00: Abe Lyman orch.; Vivienne Segal, songs; Frank Munn, tenor, WEAF; Beatrice Lillie, comedienne; orch.; quartet, WJZ.

9:30: Phil Baker, comedian; Leon Belasco orch., WJZ; Hollywood Hotel, with Dick Powell; Jane Williams; Ted Fio-Rito orch.; Fred Astaire and Irene Dunn, guests, WABC.

10:30: Symphony orch., Frank Black, conductor; mixed chorus, WEAF.

11:00: Ozzie Nelson orch., WABC.

12:00: Washington and Lee Univ. Annual Fancy Dress Ball, WABC.

'Inspiring,' Anti-War Court Delegate Says

(Continued from page one)

were an important supplement to the larger assemblies, and plans drawn up in them, explained Russell, were submitted to the entire convention of 375 delegates.

Sees "Spirit of Unity"

The Carolina delegate was struck with the spirit of unity which prevailed. "Students from 31 countries, from Great Britain, France, Spain, Denmark, Sweden—even one student from Germany and four from Italy who came at the risk of their lives—were gathered together in a common cause." He further stated that the German was a storm trooper and had been smuggled out of his country in disguise. The danger which the German risked was such that he had to remain disguised even in Belgium.

Another feature of the conference commented upon by Russell was the manner in which the speeches and discussions were translated. No matter what language a speaker used, his words were translated into many tongues so that every delegate could grasp his meaning.

Gone a Month

It was just over a month ago that Russell boarded the S. S. Olympic for Brussels. On board ship Russell met Michael Foot, one of the Oxford debators who appeared at Chapel Hill last fall. Russell related how he and one of his fellow delegates challenged Foot and Joel Hirchfield, another Englishman, to a debate on the subject, Resolved, that this house pity its grandchildren. "But when it came time for the debate," Russell added, "most of us were so seasick our grandchildren looked a long way off and all sympathy for posterity vanished. We went to our cabins to pity ourselves."

Chi Omega Pledges

Epsilon Beta of Chi Omega announces the pledging of Elizabeth Austen, Winston-Salem; Marjory O'Brient, Durham; Sarah Seawell, Chapel Hill; and Doris Weaver, Lexington.

THE
Young Men's Shop
126-128 E. Main St.
DURHAM, N. C.

Capital Under Martial Law!
"THE PRESIDENT VANISHES"
SEE PAGE FOUR

Tar Heel Boxers Take Last Drill For Virginia

Team in Shape for Year's Toughest Tilt

Heavyweight and Lightweight Starters Undecided; Three-Way Scrap in Heavy.

FISHER-WOMER FEATURES

With the cold wave present in the Tin Can yesterday afternoon, the pugilists brisked through their workouts in a fast manner. Most of the varsity men took heavy drills since it is their last practice before the Virginia scraps tomorrow night. Coach Rowe is pleased with the condition of his boys but is quite concerned over the outcome.

As yet, the team that will carry Carolina's colors into the squared circle has not been definitely decided upon. However, the probable lineup is as follows: Diehl at the bantamweight post, Eutsler at the featherweight position, the 139-lb class still open, Fisher at 145 pounds, Medynski at 155 pounds, Captain Giddins at the middleweight berth, Max Novich in the lightweight class, and an open unlimited division.

Open Heavyweight Class

In the heavyweight class, Murray Kanner stepped through two fast rounds with Lammie Alderman and two fast settos with Big Jim Carruth. Following this, Carruth and Alderman mixed it up for a brace of rounds. The boys are trying hard to secure this position for themselves, and they all showed up well in their last workout.

With Joe Fisher fighting as a southpaw, Medynski hoped to get a line on the way a left-hander fights. Medynski has never fought a boy who threw his most powerful punches from the portside and was greatly benefited by the workout.

Max Novich scored almost at will in his bout with Shmurak. Carolina fans will get their first glimpse of Novich in a varsity uniform this Saturday night. He won by a forfeit from the South Carolina man; and the week previous to that, he easily decisioned his opponent at V.P.I.

Marion Diehl worked a few rounds against Jackie Horn and is rapidly approaching his natural fighting condition. Diehl was not right against Taylor of the Gamecocks last week, but he should be raring to go against his Cavalier opponent.

State Reserve Corps Opens Branch School

Major Johnson Will Discuss "Direction and Manoeuvers."

A Fourth Corps area branch school for the organized reserves of North Carolina will hold its first session this evening at 8 o'clock in room 201 Gray building at Duke University.

The school has been opened under the authority of the Fourth Corps area commander and will use as its subject of discussion "Direction—Scheme of Manoeuver and Main Effort," to be conducted by Major Alexander L. P. Johnson of the United States Infantry.

According to official announcement, the success of the school will depend on the interest of the 75 reserve officers in Durham and vicinity. Headquarters expects an average weekly attendance of 60 men for the year. The office at 711 Commercial National Bank building in Raleigh will continue to handle the notices for the school.

Phi Kappa Sigma Pledge

James Thomas Stone pledged Phi Kappa Sigma yesterday, according to an announcement from the dean of students' office.

PHI GAMS SCORE CLOSE WIN OVER PHI DELTA THETA

Theta Chi, Sigma Chi, Zeta Psi, And Aycock Dorm Also Annex Mural Victories.

FRIEDMAN IS HIGH SCORER

Action-personified was the keynote to yesterday's session of intramural basketball played in the Tin Can, as Phi Gamma Delta, Theta Chi, Zeta Psi, and Sigma Chi all took hard fought contests.

Phi Gamma Delta came through a nip and tuck battle with Phi Delta Theta, winning out, 29-25. George Barclay, who snagged 11 points, and "Red" Johnston led the victors, while Tucker, with six field goals, did best for the Phi Delts.

The Theta Chi-Sigma Nu tussle was not decided until the final moments of play when the former sunk a field goal to emerge victors by a 17-15 margin.

Sigma Chi's Win

Kappa Sigma made a sterling comeback attempt in its contest with Sigma Chi, but a four point lead was too much to overcome. Rehmand Clover headed the winners' attack.

The game between Zeta Psi and Theta Kappa Nu again proved the old adage that a good big team can beat a good little team; and it was this difference in size that alone enabled the Zetas to triumph, 22-14.

The red-shirted stalwarts of Theta Kappa Nu fought toe-to-toe with their bigger opponents throughout, but a late Zeta spurt decided the issue.

In the fifth game on the program, Aycock's snappy quintet ran up a 49-25 score over the Mayflower Club. With Bricklemeyer and Friedman setting the pace with 14 and 10 points respectively, the lower quadrangle team was never seriously threatened.

The summaries:

Phi G. Delta 29	Phi D. Theta 25
Hodges, f (6)	Tucker, f (12)
Keel, f (4)	Blount, f (6)
Peacock, c (2)	Mosier, c (6)
Johnston, g (6)	Herchey, g (1)
Barclay, g (11)	B. Rogers, g

Subs: Phi Gamma Delta—Darden, Beebe, Henggi.

Zeta Psi 22	Theta Kap. Nu 14
Carr, f (6)	Schaper, f (8)
Laxton, f (6)	Priestly, f (2)
Clark, c (2)	Macphee, c (2)
Satterfield, g (4)	Buffey, g (2)
Folger, f (4)	Falk, g

Subs: Theta Kappa Nu—Stauber.

Theta Chi 17	Sigma Nu 15
Bennett, f (1)	Lytle, f (4)
Barker, f (8)	T. Bost, f (4)
Cromartie, c (2)	Blount, c (3)
Austin, g (6)	Lynch, g
Rogers, g	Primrose, g

Subs: Theta Chi—Bridgers; Sigma Nu—J. Bost (4).

Sigma Chi 25	Kappa Sigma 21
Barney, f (4)	Townsend, f (5)
Rehm, f (9)	Simpson, f (2)
Neal, c	May, c (2)
Clover, g (8)	Rennie, g (6)
Bannon, g	Fulton, g (6)

Subs: Sigma Chi—Kirkpatrick, Rowland (4).

Aycock 49	Mayflower Club 25
Bri'emeyer, f (10)	Harris, f (6)
Guntzler, f (6)	Good'n, f (10)
Onasch, c (8)	Hunt, c, (4)
Kesselman, g (2)	Leake, g (3)
Friedman, g (14)	Mizzell, g

Subs: Aycock—Kornegay (7), Bronitsky, Schiffer, Kenbi (2), Goode; Mayflower Club—Lipton (2).

BABY WRESTLERS MEET WOLFLETS TOMORROW NIGHT

Hard Workout Today to Determine the Starting Lineup For State Bouts.

WILL BE STATE'S DEBUT

In anticipation of a match with the Wolflets tomorrow night at Raleigh, the freshman grapplers went through a long, hard workout, consisting mainly of ten-minute bouts. The success of the team in the coming match is doubtful due to the fact that the ability of the yearling Staters is unknown. This meet will be their first intercollegiate participation to date.

The starting line-up is still undetermined and will remain so until after the practice session today. Coach Quinlan announced that he would post the list of starters as soon as he sees the outcome of their bouts in this afternoon's workout. The Tar Heel mentor expressed the wish of seeing no man wrestle out of his weight, and will, therefore, probably arrange the lineup in accordance.

Three Ace Frosh

In last year's meet, the victory was gained through the work of Bonner, Ward, Douglas, and Umstead, as each of these men scored a fall over his opponent. Coach Quinlan has not yet found four men to take their place, but believes that Ford, James, and Love will be able to bring home at least three wins by falls.

Ehringhaus has not wrestled in his 118-lb weight to date but will probably do so in the coming meet. If the going does become easier in this lighter weight, Ehringhaus should come through with a fall and fill the shoes of the missing member in a quartet similar to the successful one of last year.

Football Awards To Be Presented At Boxing Bouts

Snyder to Be Presented with Blocking Trophy; 20 Gridders Get Gold Awards.

A colorful affair will be in evidence tomorrow night when the Tar Heels meet the Cavaliers in a boxing match that has been termed the most important in the south.

Between the freshman and varsity bouts the Millis Blocking Trophy will be presented to Herman Snyder, star blocking back on last year's football team. A presentation address will be made by the Hon. T. J. Gold of High Point.

Hump Receives Trophy

The Millis Trophy is presented annually to the blocking back who receives the vote of the sports writers of the state. Snyder won last season over close competition. H. A. Millis, High Point sportsman, is donor of the trophy.

Another event between the bouts will be the presentation of gold football charms to the 20 members of last year's varsity who won their monograms. Mayor Quincy K. Numocks of Fayetteville is to present the football awards for Claude Rankin, a Fayetteville alumnus who took the lead for raising funds for the awards.

Twenty Gridders Awarded

Those receiving gold footballs are: George Barclay, Dick Buck, Odell Childers, Babe Daniel, Dick Dashiell, Tom Evins, Ralph Gardner, Jim Hutchins, Don Jackson, Emmett Joyce, Eddie Kahn, Jim McCachren, Buck McCarn, Eddie Martin, Bill Moore, Harry Montgomery, Charlie Shaffer, Herman Snyder, Jim Tatum, and John Trimpey.

In preparation for the expected capacity attendance every inch of available space in the Tin Can has been utilized by being filled with extra seats. Bleachers are to be erected at the ends of the Tin Can, and the ring elevated in order to afford a better view for spectators.

An additional feature that will add to the attractiveness of the occasion is the formality of dress of officials. The boxing coaches, attendants, seconds, ushers, and doormen are to be dressed in tuxedos.

Varsity Grapplers Ready For Strong State Outfit

Wolfpack Has Several 1934 Stars Back; Fight at Night

Bonner-Bernhardt Scrap to Feature Close Mat Battle.

Carolina's varsity wrestling team took its final hard workout in the preparation for tomorrow's meet with the strong State mat contingent in Raleigh. The squad will taper off in a light session this afternoon for last minute instructions.

Coach Quinlan's proteges appear in good shape for the clash with the Wolfpack. The Tar Heel mentor stated that the physical condition was better to date than it has been at any time during the early season period.

Feature Bout

Undoubtably the feature match on tomorrow night's program will be between Bonner and Captain Bernhardt in the 155-lb division. Bonner, who was undefeated in frosh competition last year, has shown rapid improvement in the last two weeks, and he should give his Wolfpack adversary plenty of trouble. The Tar Heel star made his varsity debut last week against V. P. I., winning on a fall in less than five minutes.

In the 118-pound class Frank Umstead will resume hostilities with Bell. Umstead and Bell fought last year on the first-year teams of the two schools, with the former winning by virtue of the fall route in 2:04 minutes. Umstead pinned all opponents in 1934 and opened his varsity career against the Gobblers throwing Chambers in 2:39 minutes.

Featherweight Scrap

In the 125-lb division E. Douglas whose record was outstanding on the Tar Baby aggregation, will meet Kerr, senior featherweight. Kerr, it will be remembered gained a time advantage of 6:15 minutes over Captain Mathewson of the Tar Heels last year. This bout should have plenty of thrills for the spectators.

Other matches which should provide lots of interest are in the 135-lb class between Ward and Krach; in the 165, between Efland and Furr; and in the unlimited, between Ranson and Thompson.

Student Groups To Urge World Court Entrance

(Continued from page one)

ator Nye, chairman of the senatorial committee investigating the munitions industry. Senator Nye acknowledged the resolution sent him several weeks ago by the Foreign Policy League in support of his committee.

Among the routine business conducted by the league last night was the appointment of a new executive committee. The new group is headed by Albert Ellis and includes Bob Magill, Robert Gardiner, George Stoney, John Parker, and Margaret Gaines.

Doping The Sports

By JAMES MORRIS

CAROLINA'S fast-going-places Phantoms came breezing back to Chapel Hill yesterday in high spirits as a result of their great showing on the northern trip. Of course, the Tar Heels and especially Coach Bo Shepard wanted to take the Army, on which team Coach Bo played and made All-American; nevertheless the young Carolina mentor was pleased and why not, the four victories his charges got will far overshadow any loss possible the rest of this season.

A PERSON that has never seen the New York athletic clubs play can't imagine what excellent fives they put on the court. All the players are old boys, most of them having starred on college outfits, so know every trick in the bag and also how to rough things up a little bit. Wins over these teams are big accomplishments even if one didn't count the triumphs over Maryland and the unbeaten Navy.

THE strain of four hard victories in five days was just too much for the White Phantoms and it didn't take a terribly powerful five to overcome them. The fast breaking Cadets, playing over their heads, just ran the Tar Heels down during the first half, leaving them with about as much chance to win as a Republican in South Carolina. Jim Mack's gash in the head was deep but not serious; the ace guard got it all fixed up with three stitches at a dollar a stitch.

THE outstanding feature of the trip according to most of the players was the excellent treatment received at the hands of the great maestro, a former Tar Heel himself, Hal Kemp. The Phantoms stayed at the Hotel Pennsylvania while in New York and it is at this place that Hal and his band furnish fast and smooth dance music. Hal was right on hand to receive the boys from his old alma mater and had a special table reserved for them. The band leader announced to the world that he was entertaining the undefeated Tar Heels and then rendered number after number especially for his guests.

AT intermissions Hal and his top attraction and song bird, the lovely Maxine Gray, hurried over to the Carolina table in order to talk over old times with the Phantoms. The maestro especially had a lot in common with the boys from his hometown, Charlotte; they were Captain Snooks Aitken, Jim McCachren, and Ike Minor. When the Phantoms' loss was finally reported to the orchestra, the beautiful Maxine was broken-hearted and almost had to call off her nightly performance.

IT HAS been reported that Pop Yeager, old man of the football squad, was run over by an automobile yesterday. When told of the incident the first question asked by Pop's grid pals was, "How much damage did the car receive?"

Today's Mural Card

3:45—(1) Grimes vs. Locals, (2) Everett vs. Klutz, (3) Sigma Nu vs. D. K. E.

4:45—(1) Ruffin vs. Locals, (2) Alpha Epsilon vs. Chi Phi, (3) Z. B. T. vs. Lambda Chi Alpha.

YEARLING PUGS TAKE LAST WORK BEFORE VA. TILT

Tar Babies Look Better Than at Any Time This Year; Bass vs. Benton for 125-lb Class.

STILL NO HEAVYWEIGHTS

The yearlings looked good yesterday as they put on some of the neatest fighting they have displayed this year. The feature bout of the afternoon was that between Benton and Bass, who jabbed and socked their way through three thrill-packed rounds, the outcome of which was to influence Coach Rowe's starting selection this Saturday night.

However, despite the fine boxing of both freshmen, the finish proved all the more clearly that a flip of a coin might just as well determine which one should come up against Virginia. Bass is the straighter puncher of the two, but Benton is the stronger and possesses a harder wallop.

Shmurak Spars

Marty Shmurak went up against Max Novich, and, despite his gameness, was outclassed and outmanoeuvered by his more experienced opponent. Shmurak has been meeting the big berthas of the varsity this past week, and is gaining some much-needed experience.

The classy little 149-pounder, Ed O'Herron, squared off against Dixon, and put up a great battle for the three rounds he was in there. Backing his opponent to the ropes time and again, O'Herron whaled away with a varied two-fisted head and body attack. Although he had set a fast pace throughout, the end of the bout found him fresher than he had been in his previous starts.

(Continued on last page)

PHANTOMS TAKE DAY-REST AFTER SUCCESSFUL TRIP

Bo Shepard's Cohorts Romp Through Some of Best Quints In North in Six Days.

GET BACK IN FINE SHAPE

The Tar Heels basketball club returned to the campus yesterday after completing a successful six-day tour of the north.

Starting the tour with a decisive victory over the University of Maryland quint, which is rated among the best in the conference, the White Phantoms continued their winning ways until finally halted by Army Wednesday night.

The defeat at the hands of the West Pointers broke Carolina's winning streak of eleven consecutive victories.

McCachren Hot

Jim McCachren, All-Southern Tar Heel guard, received much praise from northern sports writers. He held the mighty Buzz Borries of Navy to three baskets, as his team toppled the Midshipmen from unbeaten ranks by the score of 30-19.

The other northern teams to go down under Carolina's attack were Cresent A. C. and N. Y. A. C., both ace clubs of New York City.

Coach Bo Shepard seemed to be well pleased with the form displayed by his team. The Phantoms will be given a rest this afternoon, but will swing into hard work tomorrow in preparation for the conference tilt with V. P. I. at the Tin Can Monday night.

The entire team came through without injuries with the exception of McCachren. He suffered a deep scalp gash in the Maryland game; however, it did not, hamper his playing ability.

Y.M.C.A. TO START BLUE RIDGE WORK

Annual Conference to Be Held June 6-17; Plan to Have 25 Delegates.

J. D. Winslow and Albert Ellis, outstanding Y. M. C. A. men on the campus, announced yesterday that they would begin their drive this week to organize the University's delegation to the annual Blue Ridge summer conference for southern student-members of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A.

The conference will be held this year June 6-17 at Blue Ridge, N. C. Plans for the local drive are now being formulated by Winslow and Ellis. Winslow will act as chairman for the campaign until the incoming 'Y' president appoints the official head.

12 Delegates Last Year

Last year Carolina had 12 delegates to the conference. The two leaders stated yesterday that they planned "to have 25 this year." The delegates will be trained to become "key" men to carry on the integral functions of the Y. M. C. A.

Other than the University 'Y,' the senior class, Inter-dormitory council, Inter-fraternity council, Graham Memorial, and the Woman's Association were represented at the Blue Ridge conference last summer.

"The secret of an active Y. M. C. A. lies in the number of delegates it can send to this conference each year," said Winslow. The conference presents training for all campus organizations. All forms of extra-curricular activities are carried on.

The University 'Y' completed its cottage at Blue Ridge last summer and this year's delegation will have the privilege of using the cottage rooms free of charge, according to Ellis and Winslow.

Bruno Takes Stand In Struggle for Life

Flemington, Jan. 24.—(UP)—Richard Hauptmann carried the fight for his life to the witness stand late today as he reviewed to the court a general outline of his past career.

His testimony came after the court had refused a surprise motion by Defense Attorney Reilly for an acquittal by a directed verdict.

Defense Witness Christian Frederickson, baker for Hauptmann, came to the sand also. But the long awaited testimony that Hauptmann came to his bakery to take his wife home on the night of the kidnaping was not forthcoming. Frederickson would not give the testimony that Hauptmann's counsels had hoped to build an alibi-defense upon.

Hauptmann resumes his testimony tomorrow.

Lutheran Social Tonight

There will be a social given this evening by the Lutheran student group of Chapel Hill in Graham Memorial at 7:30. This will be the third social the Lutherans have had this year, the first being a get-acquainted party at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Metzenthin and the second being in Graham Memorial.

All Lutherans of Chapel Hill and their friends are cordially invited to be present.

Community Club

The Chapel Hill Community Club will meet at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon in the parish house. The American home department will have charge of the program. All present and former members are invited.

Honor Roll Totals 352; A.B. Students Lead List

(Continued from page one)

Craige, Jr., J. M. Daniel, C. M. Davis, N. H. DeBardeleben, A. T. Dill, R. D. Eichorn, J. S. Francis, T. D. Goody, F. S. Harrell, S. P. Hatch, G. A. Heard.

W. F. Henderson, Lawrence Hinkle, R. C. Harrison, W. P. Hudson, E. L. Kahn, B. C. Keeney, George Koch, R. M. Neel, Josephine Oettinger, J. J. Parker, Jr., J. F. Patterson, Walker Percy, D. H. Scott, Cabot Sedgwich, L. deS. Shaffner, J. S. Smith, Jr., Sophie M. Stephens, J. J. Sugarman, G. B. Teachey, L. S. Thompson, L. S. Tracy, Jr., E. F. Wells.

The following is the honor roll for the fall quarter, 1934: W. F. Aberly, Eben Alexander, C. H. Andrews, Jr., G. W. Armfield, J. S. Armfield, C. J. Atwood, R. W. Baker, P. F. Ballenger, J. F. Barber, H. H. Barlow, P. J. Barmettler, J. Y. Barnett, J. E. Barney, R. L. Barron, H. L. Bass, J. E. Beard, Jr., Donald Becker, R. A. Berman, G. E. Betts, Jr., David Biberman, C. W. Blockwell, D. W. Blair, H. J. Boney, Nell B. Booker, H. Borders, O. H. Borum.

W. S. Branning, H. C. Bridgers, F. S. Brown, J. L. Brown, R. E. Brown, T. D. Brown, R. S. Bunn, L. T. Byrd, Frances Caffey, Bryan Caldwell, Evelyn I. Campbell, J. B. Crane, H. T. Clark, Jr., J. W. Coan, T. S. Coffey, E. W. Coffin, Mildred T. Cohen, Coit M. Coker, S. R. Collett, J. F. Cook, Alice Cook, L. A. Cotten, W. C. Coughenour, Jane Corn, A. Craigh, Branch Craige, Jr., J. B. Craighill.

J. A. Crawford, R. C. Crooks, T. L. Crowell, Mary P. Cruikshank, J. B. Crutchfield, M. P. Cummings, J. C. Cureton, W. M. Daniel, W. W. Daniel, R. W. Danish, C. M. Davis, G. B. Davis, P. P. Davis, W. H. Davis, W. J. Davis, W. K. Davis, N. H. DeBardeleben, R. N. Diamond, A. T. Dill, H. E. Dillon, R. M. Dowd, C. E. Eaton, R. D. Eichorn, R. A. Ellington, J. Van G. Elmendorf, S. E. Elmore, H. McQ. Emerson, M. B. Engle, T. M. Evans, F. H. Fairley, E. G. Flannigan, F. R. Fluhartz, P. O. Foltz, G. C. Ford, J. S. Francis, R. F. Furchgott.

L. I. Goodener, J. W. Garrett, G. D. Gatling, H. O. Gialanello, A. M. Gibbs, Eloise Gibbs, J. G. Gifford, Loamie Gilbert, Jr., H. D. Giles, M. B. Gillam, Jr., J. Y. Gilliam, Jr., F. G. Gooding, Harold Gordon, T. D. Goody, J. L. Gonger, J. R. Gove, J. E. Greer, C. A. Griffin, Jr., C. W. Griffin, Jr., I. C. Griffin, W. M. Griffin, R. P. Guarins, J. M. Guelker, W. M. Haddaway, F. R. Hamilton, H. E. Hamilton, P. G. Hammer, Eleanor A. Hammond, F. S. Harrell, W. S. Harrison, R. F. Harward, S. P. Hatch.

K. C. Hayes, F. D. Heyward, G. A. Heard, Morris Hecht, R. P. Heller, A. Henderson, Jr., W. F. Henderson, Mary E. Hendren, E. H. Hendrickson, F. D. Higby, Jr., Lawrence Hinkle, Catherine Hodges, H. H. Hodges, H. C. Holland, Robert Hooke, R. K. Horton, I. N. Howard, R. C. Harrison, R. L. Huber, W. P. Hudson, F. P. Huline, K. A. Hunsucker, W S. Hunt, Jr., J. S. Hunter, G. B. Ingle, P. L. Jacobson, M. H. Jarrell, J. G. Johnson, T. U. Johnson, W. R. Johnson, B. R. Jones, C. R. Jordan, Jr.

Margaret Jordan, W. S. Jordan, Jr., E. L. Kahn, B. L. Kalb, A. S. Kaplan, H. L. Kee, B. C. Keeney, F. H. Kenan, J. W. Kendrick, W. P. Kephart, D. Kerselman, R. E. Kirschman, Jeremiah Kisner, George Koch, A. S. Konefal, H. C. Lane, L. C. Lane, Jr., H. N. Lansdale, J. R. Lowing, Nancy K. Lawlor, E. L. Laxton, S. R. Leager, R. F. Ledford, A. J. Leinwand, S. Levine, H. W. Lewis, Ruth E. Lineberger, R. W. Linville, C. E. Lloyd, Caroline C. Long, J. H. Long, R. J. Lovill.

Henry Lunsky, Jack Lynch, Margaret B. McCauley, W. C. McCallum, T. L. McCrary, J. T. McCullum, T. H. McDonald, M. DuB. McDowell, G. C. MacFarland, F. C. P. McGlinn, W. L. McGowan, C. S. McIntosh, Marjorie J. McKay, D. K. McKee, W. D. McKie, W. D. McLean, A. H. McLeod, Jr., A. S. McMillan, R. D. McMillan, Patricia M. McMullan, W. E. McNair, J. S. McNeill, R. N. Magill, W. C. Mollison, C. C. Martin.

E. W. Martin, W. E. Mason, R. E. Maynard, S. H. Mazur, J. G. Mebane, J. W. Mahaffy, H. B. Miller, Hugh Mills, B. P. Morrison, W. C. Morrison, S. Moskowitz, E. F. Moyer, R. V. Mullen, J. F. Munch, Margaret Munch, Ellen A. Murchison, E. G. Murray.

Robert Nachtmann, R. M. Neel, Tempe Newsom, E. M. O'Herron, C. C. Oates, Jr., Josephine Oettinger, J. F. Ogburn, B. S. Old, L. S. Olive, E. G. Outlaw, J. J. Parker, Jr., R. I. Parnell, F. M. S. Patterson, J. F. Patterson, Julia Peebles, Walker Percy, J. B. Person, W. G. Phillips, W. J. Pijanowski, C. A. Poe, J. E. Poindexter, R. D. Potts, C. E. Prouty, D. C. Purcell, J. H. Raney, C. T. Rawls, J. C. Roy.

N. L. Read, H. C. Reaves, W. L. Ridenhour, B. P. Robinson, R. J. Rosenthal, Jane A. Ross, R. P. Rosser, G. C. Rowe, Z. W. Sanders, C. LeR. Sanders, J. M. Saposnick, A. R. Sarratt, Louis Schehr, M. L. Scherer, J. T. Schiller, J. W. N. Schulz, Jr., D. H. Scott, E. H. Seawell, Cabot Sedgwick, L. deS. Shaffer, T. A. Sharp, C. A. Shaw, D. H. Shedd.

Lou S. Shine, T. M. Simkins, E. F. Skinner, Julia W. Skinner, J. L. Sloop, C. O. Smith, J. D. Smith, J. S. Smith, Jr., Nancy M. Smith, W. J. Smith, W. C. Smithson, R. E. Smithwick, J. K. Snow, DuP. Snowden, J. E. Snyder, Karl Sprinkle, H. P. Stallings, Sophie M. Stephens, Mary E. Stevenson, W. B. Stevenson, Elizabeth R. Stoker, J. J. Sugarman, Lenora H. Surratt, I. D. Suss, W. W. Swain, G. L. Swain, J. A. Tate, J. A. Taylor, G. B. Teachey, N. F. Tennille, L. S. Thompson.

L. S. Tracy, Jr., C. B. Mixler, Elizabeth Triplett, B. E. Winston, E. H. Vick, N. R. Vincent, H. E. Vitz, G. K. Wager, M. H. Woldman, Mrs. Ada F. Walker, N. W. Walker, Jr., V. A. Ward, Jr., A. V. Waters, J. W. Watson, M. Doris Weaver, J. F. Webb, Jr., F. G. Weisbrod, L. M. Weisbrod, E. F. Wells, D. G. Wetherbee, A. F. White, V. H. Whitney, J. B. Wiggins, G. S. Wilcox, C. E. Wilkinson, C. E. Williams, R. E. Williams.

B. S. Willis, L. W. Wilson, S. P. Wilson, T. W. Wilson, Ida Winstead, Suzanne B. Winstead, Ben Witherington, W. B. Wolfe, Elizabeth W. Wright, Billy F. Yandell, L. A. Yonke.

AT CAROLINA TODAY

Robert Montgomery, Edward Everett Horton, and Ann Harding in "Biography of a Bachelor Girl," now playing at the Carolina theatre.

NOTED LAWYERS TO TEACH HERE DURING SUMMER

(Continued from page one)

among his students at different universities.

Professors Havighurst and Mechem are among the abler young men in the law teaching profession. Havighurst is the author of a new casebook on Contracts, which some observers believe has initiated a significant change in the method of teaching that subject.

The son of the late Professor Floyd Russell Mechem of the University of Chicago, who was perhaps the greatest authority in England and America on the law of Agency, Philip Mechem is co-author of a widely used casebook on Wills and Administration.

Those of the resident faculty who will teach at Chapel Hill this summer are: Professors James H. Chadbourn, Frederick B. McCall, Robert H. Wettach, and Dean Van Hecke. Chadbourn will teach Administration of Justice during the first term. Messrs. Wettach, McCall, and Van Hecke will teach Constitutional Law, Personal Property, and Contracts, respectively, during the second term.

Yearling Pugs' Last Work Before Va. Tilt

(Continued from page three)

Dick May was the only other freshman starter of the afternoon, and his two fast stanzas showed the vast improvement that he has undergone since last week. May won on a decision last Saturday, and he is aiming to get another chance to repeat.

.Despite recent pleas by Coach Rowe and the DAILY TAR HEEL, no yearling heavyweight boxer has shown up around the Tin Can since this time last year. If no muscular would-be pugilist responds to the call, then Carolina will be forced to start the meet one point to the bad because of his forfeit.

INFIRMARY

The number of students in the infirmary continues to diminish. Yesterday these 25 students were confined: L. A. McAdams, William Teague, C. M. Hunter, Mary Green, Betsy Jones, Kate Harrison, H. A. McGowan, W. R. Weaver, Ray Reeves, E. H. Pearsall, W. E. Brunson, Mildred Cohen, Bruce Smith, E. S. Simpson, Tom Jimison, Gaillard Mahoney, W. S. Peacock, J. A. Johnson, Gaston Stanford, Branch Craige, E. S. Shoof, Harry Rosenberg, H. H. Baird, Ivan Battle, and Tom Hines.

Senior Executives

The executive committee of the senior class met in the Y. M. C. A. last night to discuss plans for Senior Week, the junior-senior dances, and other matters pertaining to the senior class.

INDUSTRIAL SOUTH WILL SEE CHANGE, SAYS JOURNALIST

(Continued from page one)

University of North Carolina, has been conducting in laboratories at Brunswick, Ga., for the last two years.

"Dr. Herty has done his work against great obstacles," Stahlman said, "for the Canadian newsprint manufacturers, aware of the great loss they are about to suffer, have tried to thwart his experiments at every turn. They have made all sorts of derogatory charges that are utterly ridiculous and have been so proved. The samples of the paper produced in Dr. Herty's laboratories have proved highly satisfactory, and the venture is going to succeed."

Nugent Speaks

Another highlight of yesterday's sessions over which D. Hiden Ramsey, president of the N. C. Press Association, presided and which drew one of the largest attendances on record, was an address by William D. Nugent, vice-president of Media Records, Inc., of New York, a noted authority on advertising.

Stressing the view that the newspaper is really "the supporting arch of our entire economic structure," Nugent asserted that "the material prosperity of America must be ascribed in large measure to newspaper advertising."

The University played host to the editors and their guests at a luncheon in the ballroom of the Carolina Inn, with Oscar J. Coffin, head of the department of journalism, as toastmaster.

Brief talks were made by Hobson Newson, federal housing administrator, who expressed his desire to co-operate with the editors, and by W. Carey Dowd, Jr., publisher of the Charlotte News.

In behalf of the North Carolina Press Association, Dowd presented to Mrs. Robert W. Madry, a recent bride, who is wife of the University publicity director, a beautiful silver platter as a wedding gift in testimony, Dowd said, of the high regard and affection in which Madry is held by members of the Association. Mrs. Madry responded briefly.

Round-table group discussions were held by the weeklies and dailies yesterday afternoon, with Grover Britt presiding over the weekly session.

Last night's session was held at Duke University.

Puppeteers Must Be Acrobats To Make Marionettes Perform

(Continued from page one)

erators said that they never rehearse after they once prepare the show.

Construction

Marionettes are usually made of balsam wood, and because of the many flexable joints they appear surprisingly life-like. One scene in "Faust" calls for a beautiful oriental dancer conventionally clad. Under the deft fingers of the operator this figure can put on a dance that would cast any live contortionist or burlesque dancer to the very depths of shame.

Tony Sarg, who remained in New York during this present tour, supervises the making of all the puppets used in his show and has really achieved some unique and apt facial expressions.

Considering the high merit and appeal of this company, especially to the children, it is no wonder they find little trouble in booking a tour with 11 or 12 performances a week. During the summer months this company expects to carry their marionettes to the west coast.

DI-PHI FRESHMEN TO HAVE DEBATE

Phi Freshmen Have High Hopes of Avenging Defeat in Last Year's Forensic Contest.

The annual Di-Phi freshman debate will concern itself with the query, Resolved, that divorce is a social asset, it was announced yesterday.

Supporting the affirmative side of the question, the Phi Assembly plans to stage a comeback over the Di first-year men who were successful in last year's encounter.

Tryouts

Tryouts for the Phi team will be conducted in the Phi Assembly hall in New East immediately after the assembly's regular meeting next Tuesday night, according to an announcement made by Representative Dudley, head of the Phi freshman debate committee.

The date for the debate has not been definitely set. Last year's contest was held in Gerrard hall in November. The Di's team, composed of Philip Kind and John Kendrick, won a unanimous decision over the Phi men, Frank McGlinn and R. D. Baxley. Last year's query was, Resolved, that the Negro should be allowed to enter state supported professional schools in North Carolina. The Di supported the negative.

Musicians to Take Regular A.B. Course

The article in yesterday's DAILY TAR HEEL concerning the change in the music curriculum stated that music students take a regular A. B. course and then major in music.

The article should have read that music students take the regular A.B. course with a major in music. This involves no fundamental change in the curriculum.

It simply means that music majors complete all the freshman and sophomore requirements the same as majors in any other department and then complete the program laid out within the department.

LOST

Gold high school ring with E. C. H. S. on black onyx. Also 2 keys on chain. Finder return to 101 Aycock. Reward!

BOXING MATCHES
FROSH—7:15
TIN CAN

The Daily Tar Heel

BOXING MATCHES
VARSITY—8:30
TIN CAN

SERVED BY THE UNITED PRESS

VOLUME XLIII | CHAPEL HILL, N. C., SATURDAY, JANUARY 26, 1935 | NUMBER 89

INSTITUTE BOOKS SIX OF NATION'S LEADING FIGURES

Madame Secretary Perkins, Dr. Lederer, and Dr. Mathews Are Most Recent Accepters.

HULL, SEABURY MAY TALK

Six outstanding national figures have already accepted invitations to speak on the program of the quadrennial Human Relations Institute. Seven other national personages are tentatively scheduled to appear.

The most recent speakers to accept are Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, Dr. Emil Lederer, dean of the graduate faculty of the New School of Social Research in New York, and Dr. Shailer Mathews of the University of Chicago.

Headliners May Speak

Tentatively scheduled personalities whose acceptance of the invitations is probable are Samuel Seabury, Secretary of State Cordell Hull, Donald Comer, Norman Thomas, J. Edgar Hoover, Senator William E. Borah, and Hugh S. Johnson.

Financial support in the form of grants for speakers has been tendered by the Phelps-Stokes fund and the John F. Slater foundation, by the Weil lecture fund which incorporates its annual lecturers in the institute program, by the Order of the Grail, the Y. M. C. A., and the University administration.

Private Funds Available

According to Harry F. Comer, several private philanthropies are in the offing for institute support. All in all, prospects for adequate financial backing are extremely good.

In addition to the speakers on the regular institute open forum and seminar program, officials have announced that the Rev. McNeil Poteat of Raleigh will open the week's study on Sunday, March 31, at a convention in Memorial hall.

Other notable figures who have not as yet been heard from but are tentatively scheduled for appearance are Dr. Thor Jesse Jones, director of the Phelps-Stokes fund, Dr. Will Alexander, executive secretary of the Southern Commission on Interracial Co-operation, Newton D. Baker, and Sao-Ke Alfred Sze, Chinese minister to the United States.

Other Speakers

Institute speakers who were obtained earlier in the year are Dean R. R. Wicks of Princeton University, George Soule, edi-

(Continued on last page)

STATE SENATORS PETITIONED BY 'Y'

Y. M. C. A. Joins Other Groups In Urging Court Entrance.

Falling in line with other campus organizations, the University Y. M. C. A. yesterday wired state senators, Robert R. Reynolds and Josiah W. Bailey to support the World Court.

The telegram sent by Secretary Phil Hammer reads as follows: "Along with all leading student organizations on this campus our Y. M. C. A. has spent much program time studying and discussing various measures for international goodwill, world peace and abolition of war. Deeply interested in World Court Protocols and earnestly urge fullest support of World Court on the part of our Congress.".

Graham Supports U.S. Entering Court

Signing the Foreign Policy League's telegram to North Carolina's Senators at Washington, President Frank Graham joined the movement for the United States to enter the World Court.

Members of the League drafted and signed the wire-petition, yesterday asked President Graham to add his support.

Saying that he is always glad to take a stand on a movement of such importance, the University's president signed wholeheartedly.

Following the League's lead, other leading campus bodies have asked the Senators to support entrance into the Court.

The Y. M. C. A., latest to join the drive, the Di and Phi have also sent petitions.

FRESHMEN VOTE TO AID NEGRESS

Funds to Pension Mymie Tuck, Oldest Citizen, Will Be Collected Each Friday.

The freshman class voted yesterday to accept the program for pensioning Chapel Hill's oldest citizen, Mymie Tuck, colored, which was presented at the assembly hour by the University Y. M. C. A.

Explaining that the present senior class three years ago had undertaken a similar project, Harry F. Comer, "Y" secretary, presented the present program to the freshmen.

To Canvass with Pails

To raise funds to pay the old Negress' house rent and supply her occasionally with money for food and medicine, a collection will be taken each Friday at assembly hour in various dinner pails placed in Memorial hall.

Vice-president Wooten called on Leader Jimmy Coan of the Freshman Friendship Council to give his opinion of the project, Wooten supplemented Coan's comment with his own endorsement of the program.

The class voted unanimously to accept the responsibility.

As Planned:

Under the present arrangement the Friendship Council will collect the money from the pails each week and see that the aged colored woman gets her rent receipt and necessary food. Coan will appoint a committee from the council to carry out the work.

The subject of all the discussion, Mymie Tuck, is probably Chapel Hill's oldest citizen. Those who know her say that she is fast nearing the age of 90 and at present she is unable to work because of ill health and feebleness.

Before the war she was a slave belonging to Miss Hattie Cole and since that time she has spent most of her life in Chapel Hill. She is a typical member of the "old timer" group and is one of the few residents of the community who has not taken on any of the "new ways."

Parties Is Oke

Since the age of 12 she has been a member of the Methodist church but she believes in parties and dances. She is violently opposed to women voting or taking any part in public affairs.

(Continued on page two)

KOO REPRESENTS YOUTH OF CHINA IN LECTURE TOURS

One of Ablest Orientals to Visit America, His Greatest Work Has Been with Students.

THREE TALKS TOMORROW

The famous Chinese, Dr. T. Z. Koo, will address the student body in Memorial hall tomorrow night under the sponsorship of the University Y. M. C. A.

Dr. Koo's appearance, opening the winter quarter program for the "Y," will mark the first time that a campus organization has sponsored a church service in Memorial hall.

Churches Are Sponsors

Chapel Hill pastors and their congregations are co-operating with the Y. M. C. A. in presenting the visitor to the University. Tomorrow he will appear at Duke University in the morning and at Raleigh in the afternoon.

Dr. Koo is recognized as one of the ablest and most interesting Orientals to visit America. In the last decade he has traveled in Europe and America, appearing at schools and at conferences representing his country and the Y. M. C. A. organization there, of which he is a leader.

Outstanding Achievements

He is a graduate of St. John's University, Shanghai, China, and as one of the most outstanding Chinese, he has held offices in the government and various other civic organizations.

His greatest work has been done in connection with students in colleges and universities. Appearing on a Y. M. C. A. program here tomorrow night, he should appeal to Carolina students as a representative leader of China's young men.

In his various lecture tours which included an appearance in Westminister Abbey at London, he has been received by enthusiastic audiences everywhere.

MOB WITH GUNS LOOKS FOR HUEY

Fifty Shotgun-Bearing Citizens Throng Courthouse Demanding, "What About It?"

Baton Rouge, Jan. 25.—(UP)—A crowd of 50 men with shotguns invaded the east Baton Rouge courthouse at 7 o'clock this evening for a showdown with Huey Long's political administration.

Theodore O'Rourke, spokesman for the group, said, "We understand warrants have been sworn out charging about 35 of us with conspiring to kill Senator Long.

Claims 1,000 Followers

"We're here to see what they're going to do about it. A thousand more men will join us soon."

The shotgun squad milled about the courthouse lobby, while excitement overspread the city.

Huey was reported to have left at 3 p. m. for New Orleans.

Correction

The name of the freshman who pledged Phi Kappa Sigma Thursday is James Thomas Love, not Stone, as it was written in yesterday's DAILY TAR HEEL.

Alumni Lawyers Organize To Promote Campaign For Grants To University; Graham Asks Fair Hearing Of Requests

President Describes Financial Requests: 'Simple, Moderate'

25% INCREASE WANTED

Increased Appropriation Would Equal Lowest Average of Other States, It Is Said.

President Frank Porter Graham pleaded earnestly and eloquently for fair consideration of the "simple, honest, moderate" financial requests of the University for the coming biennium, in an address last night before the annual general assembly of the Alumni Association.

These requests, he said, amount to a 25 per cent increase over the present appropriation, actually but a restoration of 17 per cent of the 33 per cent cut now in effect.

Requests Depression Low

"If we were restored that," he said, "we should reach up to an average level to which the American states, as a whole, reached down at the bottom of the depression."

Declaring that the meeting last night was not one called to initiate a drive on or against the state legislature, he said that its object was to interpret to alumni the present spirit of the University — the spirit that we stand, not just for the University, but for "all the agencies of decent common life."

PLAYERS POLISH NEXT PRODUCTION

Davis Hopes for Sensation with "The Young Idea," Year's Third Attraction.

Five days remain before the Carolina Playmakers present their third attraction for the school year, "The Young Idea" by Noel Coward.

Director Harry Davis will present his show next Thursday, Friday, and Saturday in the theatre. Boasting a cast of many veteran Playmakers, Davis is planning to score with the new production as he did with Noel Coward's "Hay Fever" last year.

Star Cast

The cast of fourteen is headed by Philip Parker, the Dr. Gall of "R.U.R." which the Playmakers produced last fall; Ellen Deppe, also of the "R.U.R." cast; Alan Waters, David McCachren, and Francis McGraw.

Included in the remainder of the Coward play's heavy cast are such experienced Playmakers as Charles Lloyd, Juanita Greene, Joyce Killinsworth, Douglas Hume, Patricia McMullan, Wilfred Evans, Louise McGuire, and Robert Nachtmann.

The character "Maria" has not been announced yet.

"The Young Idea" is a scintillating comedy of domestic entanglements and the young ideas which solve them. It is written in the caustic vein characteristic of Noel Coward.

With Coward himself in the cast, "The Young Idea" made its initial appearance at the Savoy Theatre in London.

The recent acquisition of new equipment and material has allowed the Playmakers' scene shop to go into high gear for

(Continued on last page)

ALUMNI DIRECTORS NAME ASSOCIATES

Board of Directors Meets With Legislative Committee.

Among the business accomplished at the meeting yesterday afternoon of the officers and directors of the alumni association were the re-election to the board of directors of E. Earle Rives of Greensboro, J. S. Massenburg of Tryon, and R. A. Spaugh of Winston-Salem, and the election of two new directors, Peter Browne Ruffin of Wilmington and W. D. Carmichael, Jr., of New York City.

These men will serve for terms of three years.

The alumni legislative committee held a discussion with the board of directors at this meeting.

CLERGYMEN SEEK BROADER KINSHIP

Three Religious Leaders Will Attempt to Bring Together Sects in Seminar Here.

Appearing here Monday at the assembly hour and again in Gerrard hall at 7:15 p. m., a religious seminar composed of representatives from the Jewish, Catholic, and Protestant denominations will attempt to develop a broader spirit of brotherhood among the three different religious sects.

Three clergymen: a Roman Catholic priest, a rabbi of the synagogue, and a Protestant minister, will conduct the two meetings.

At the assembly hour the rabbi and priest will address the students and at the meeting in Gerrard hall the three will lead the discussion.

Clergymen:

Father T. Lawrason Riggs, chaplain of the Catholic Club at Yale, will represent his church at the seminar.

Rabbi Morris S. Lazaron, active in the civic affairs of Maryland and the author of several books, has been chosen by the national conference to represent the Jews.

A Presbyterian minister, Everett Ross Clinchy, director of the national conference, will complete the trio.

The three clergymen are touring various cities and schools throughout the nation on a program sponsored by the National Conference of Jews and Christians the co-chairmen of which are the Honorable Newton D. Baker, Professor C. J. H. Hayes, and Roger W. Straus.

Monday night's meeting will be informal and the discussion will deal with problems of mutual concern.

INFIRMARY

The following students were confined in the infirmary yesterday: L. A. McAdams, William Teague, C. W. Hunter, Mary Queen, H. A. McGown, J. A. Taylor, W. R. Weaver, E. A. Pearsall, W. E. Brunson, Mary Copeland, Bruce Smith, E. S. Simpson, Tom Jimison, Gaillard Mahoney, W. S. Peacock, Gaston Stanford, Glen Best, J. P. Jenrette, R. B. Hardison, Ivan Battle, E. S. Shoof, Tom Hines, and Alice Cooke.

Committee to Push Program for Grants By Wills and Trusts

GRISETTE IS A LEADER

Occasion of Launching Movement Is Described as Momentous to Higher Education.

In a meeting described as a memorable date in the history of state higher education in North Carolina, 50 alumni lawyers and trust bankers enthusiastically endorsed and formally created yesterday afternoon a committee to promote a planned and systematic program of gifts for the University by wills and trust agreements of various kinds.

This move, brought about through the efforts of the Alumni Loyalty Fund Council and Felix A. Grisette, director of the Fund, follows the example of the score or more large universities in this country which already have a carefully worked-out program of giving.

Basis: Grisette's Report

The basis on which the group worked was a report made by Grisette showing that about 60 per cent of all gifts to higher education come in some form of bequest.

Taking an active part in the meeting were such influential trust bankers and lawyers as R. G. Stockton, vice-president of the Wachovia Bank and Trust Company of Winston-Salem; M. B. Fowler, secretary of the Fidelity Bank and Trust Company of Durham; Kenneth Royal, former president of the state bar association, and C. R. Wharton, Greensboro lawyer.

Business During Day

Important business transacted at the assembly included the nomination of candidates for the offices of president, first vice-president, second vice-president, and alumni representative on the athletic council.

Dr. Howard Rondthaler of Winston-Salem and William C. Woodward of Rocky Mount were named to be voted on in the coming elections for president.

J. Harper Erwin of Durham and Leo Harvey of Kinston were nominated for the office of first vice-president.

Nominees for second vice-president were Dr. George Carrington of Burlington and Robert C. deRosset of Raleigh. For the three-year term on the athletic council James Ficklen of Greensboro and Bowman Gray of Winston-Salem were nominated.

R. H. Sykes of Durham and Dr. Fred Patterson of Greensboro were selected directors-at-large for a term of three years.

William R. Kenan, donor of Kenan stadium, was elected an honorary director.

The general assembly and supper was attended by about 115 representative alumni and members of the University faculty.

Bond to Teach at Duke

Professor Richmond P. Bond will teach in the first half of the summer school at Duke University.

He will teach two graduate courses, a survey of, and seminar in, 18th century English literature.

The Daily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Union Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where it is printed daily except Mondays, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Holidays. Entered as second class matter at the post office of Chapel Hill, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 for the college year.

A. T. Dill ..... Editor
Robert C. Page, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
Joe Webb ..... Business Manager
George Underwood ..... Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

EDITORIAL BOARD—Phil Hammer, chairman, Earl Wolslagel, Franklin Harward, John Schulz, DuPont Snowden, Margaret McCauley, Morty Slavin, Sam Leager, Dick Myers, Charles Lloyd, Jake Snyder.

FEATURE BOARD—Nelson Lansdale, chairman; Nick Read, Bob Browder, Francis Clingman, J. E. Poindexter, W. M. Cochrane, Willis Harrison.

CITY EDITORS—Irving Suss, Walter Hargett, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.

TELEGRAPH EDITORS—Stuart Rabb, Charlie Gilmore.

DESK MAN—Eddie Kahn.

SPORTS DEPARTMENT—Jimmy Morris and Smith Barrier, co-editors, Tom Bost, Lee Turk, Len Rubin, Fletcher Ferguson, Stuart Sechriest, Lester Ostrow, Ira Sarasohn.

EXCHANGES—Margaret Gaines.

STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER—Don Becker.

REPORTERS—Bill Hudson, John Smith, J. F. Jonas, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Hazel Beacham, Raymond Howe, William Jordan, Morton Feldman.

Business Staff

ASST. BUSINESS MANAGER ..... Butler French
COLLECTION MANAGER ..... Herbert Osterheld
OFFICE MANAGERS ..... Walter Eckert, Roy Crooks
NATIONAL ADVERTISING ..... Boylan Carr
DURHAM REPRESENTATIVE—Joe Murnick.
LOCAL ADVERTISING—Hugh Primrose, Robt. Sosnik, Eli Joyner (managers), Bill MacDonald, Louis Shaffner, Page Keel, Bill McLean, Crist Blackwell.

CITY EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE: WALTER HARGETT

Saturday, January 26, 1935

PARAGRAPHICS

One out of every seven students made the honor roll. Thicks to one and a half-dozen to the other, eh?

What we want to know is: did Bruno walk under that ladder?

"Industrial South Will See Change," says publisher at the press institute. We hope it's the kind that jingles.

Rumor and Falsehood

An investigation into the rights of three students, members of the Carolina boxing team, to attend the University with in-state tuition is now being conducted by the administration. It is a pure administrative matter and rumors of outside pressure to harm Carolina's chances tonight are unwarranted and false.

In the words of President Graham, the fact that this affair has come up before the Virginia boxing meet is not material. The main object of the administration is that the University be represented only by those who are eligible under University regulations.

There has been no censorship of this press or the suppression of any facts. The investigation has not yet been concluded. The question of the rights of the three boxers to get in-state tuition and any other technicalities associated with the investigation will be settled today insofar as is possible. We ask students to regard rumors of attempts to ruin Carolina's mit chances as utterly false.

We Have A Part to Play

The staunch alumni of the University of North Carolina are back again in convention, confident and hopeful in their attempt to see justice done in the matter of state appropriations to the University. The old-young fellows, who have returned to meet together and to see the Virginia meet, might easily talk old times in their meetings, but as we understand it, they are putting forth an effort to keep discussion and, finally, decision on a level that will help the situation.

In the words of Carter Glass, United States Senator, "The University of North Carolina is not merely a state institution; its reputation and its influence are co-existive with the United States"; obviously, our loyal alumni believe wholeheartedly that this is a fact, seen in the great work they have been doing in backing the school.

President Graham has said that every school or college, boasting the fact that it has quality, is not necessarily indispensable, or even valuable, to the country. We believe, on the other hand, that the record and reputation of this University speaks in language authorizing the statement by Senator Glass, and that an institution warranting the reputation of having quality and, at the same time, an indispensable value to its students and the surrounding country, should not under any conditions be allowed to operate on expenditures cut 23 per cent below the cut taken by the average college at the lowest ebb of the depression!

The students themselves are the logical ones to get behind the thing, to write home the facts about the matter whether they end up in street corner politics or not. Ask them to write the local legislator in Relaigh requesting action favorable to the University. Such a move on the part of the students may seem useless, but the object is to bring all such pressure to bear upon the legislature that it can see its way clear to vote appropriations equal at least to Dr. Graham's request.

World News in Perspective

For the past few weeks we have been watching with interest the front page of one of the state's most prominent newspapers, one which we consider to be fairly representative of newspapers throughout the country.

On the January 25th front page, which is quite representative of other issues, there are ten news articles given fairly prominent headlines. Of these ten articles the one given the most importance and the biggest headline concerns the Hauptmann trial. In all there are three stories on this famous kidnaping case and a picture of the defendant, the only picture on the page.

The article given secondary importance is that dealing with the passage by the House of Representatives of the $4,880,000,000 relief bill to give jobs to millions of men, the largest lump sum appropriation in the world's history. Other articles of importance given minor positions and smaller headlines have to do with the state legislature and the sales tax, a flood on the Mississippi, a Japanese bombing attack on a Chinese city, and a special message by the President to Congress.

Forty per cent of the front page has been devoted to the Hauptmann trial while nine other events of equal, and in some cases greater, importance have been crowded into the remaining 60 per cent.

We have long wondered if this dramatic trial deserves all the attention it has been getting from the newspapers. As a sensational and thrilling story we can easily see its value. But as an event of ultimate social importance, demonstrating the efficiency of the law, and the workings of justice in all their glory, we fail to grasp its significance.

Of course we all want to see justice done to the kidnaper, whoever he may be, of our national idol's first-born, but to devote so much emphasis to this case, at the exclusion of other more important world news, is to throw completely out of perspective national and world affairs, and their important inter-relation.

Fatback And Soup

We see where President Frank Graham has been sweetly considered with a $300 expense account for entertainment. The idea of the state is, of course, that our president has lots of nice people, alumni and people like that, and he needs lots of greenbacks to show them all a good time.

We also notice that Governor Ehringhaus has been well fortified for this sort of thing with a considerably larger item in his budget. Now the governor, according to his budget recommendation, has plopped a sales tax on about everything in the state including fatback, so he deserves a nice, fat allowance to entertain all the fatback eaters. But what does that leave Dr. Graham to serve his numerous entertainees —cabbage soup?

Every time we pick up a paper, some national figure is dropping in to see President Frank. He has, probably, more callers and friends than any man in the state, many of whom drop in on business vitally affecting his position as head of this state institution. Now if Dr. Frank can entertain all his official guests on $300 he is even smarter than everybody considers him—and we imagine he's considered about the most intellectual Tar Heel in circulation. Three hundred dollars, we believe, is just a drop in the bucket.

But, of course, we know nothing about cuisine and callers and credit. We only know what we read in the appropriations sheet.

Congress And Speed

Fright is one of the greatest motivating powers in the world. When we are frightened, we toss discretion to the winds and follow our last standby, intuition. Mr. Frank R. Kent in the Charlotte Observer believes that the New Dealers are afraid and that is why the 1935 program is going through with a minimum of debate and a maximum of speed.

Maybe Mr. Kent is right and maybe not. But what he says brings up questions. Are Congressmen elected merely to fill the chairs that have been placed in Washington, or are they elected to debate over national problems, deciding what issues would be to the nation's advantage? Is their legislation affected by fear and thus speeded up, rather than by the issues?

Fright and haste seem to go together. Our hope is that the speed with which the incumbent Congress is passing bills testifies to a thorough acquiescence in Roosevelt's program rather than a panicky feeling of "anything to save the face."

Casual Correspondent
by Nelson Lansdale

BIG NEWS

Hear ye, good people, sensational facts:
That the Four Saints in Three Acts (American expatriate Gertrude Stein)
Is (are?) gonna be Chapel Hill's Valentine!
Pending arrangements, the department of English
Hopes very much to be able to bring Miss
Stein, on the fourteenth of February,
Here to lecture a lecture on things literary.
Gertrude, who discovered Matisse and Hemmingway
Is coming is coming is coming anyingway
To Chapel Hill on Valentine's Day—
If the English department has its way.
Don't mind if we have our little jokelas
Because Stein is bringing her Alice B. Toklas.
The author of Three Lives and Tender Buttons
Will meet the celebrity and autograph gluttons
At a lecture, a tea, and maybe a dinner
To let us find out if there's any sense in her.
The English department keeps Making Arrangements,
But they may always be subject to changements
For a stein is a stein is a stein is a stein
But Gertrude, please Gertrude, be our Valentine!

PAPER, MISTER?

Pat Gaskins tells one about a High Point newspaper boy who couldn't read. Every morning when he got his papers he'd ask somebody on the street to read him the headlines. One day, several years ago, during the Sino-Japanese war, the newsboy followed his customary procedure, except that he had apparently gotten hold of a wag for an informant. Anyway, he went up the street yelling: "Japs take Sal-Hepatica, But Fail to Hold It."

A ROSE BY ANY OTHER NAME

Certain representatives of the Pasedena Horticulture Society are said to have called on President Roosevelt to ask him if they might name a rose after him.

"That's all right," said the President, "if you don't give it the same definition you gave the one named for Coolidge." With that he dismissed them, and the Horticulturists returned to Pasedena in a considerable dither to know about the Coolidge rose. They looked it up, and found, beside the Latin name, this explanation: "Will not propagate in a bed; does best against a tree or wall."

THE FORTUNE TELLER

Exactly 8.1 miles from the Morehead-Patterson bell tower on the right hand side of the Pittsboro road, you'll find it, an unpainted, two story frame house which might once have been recognizable as of neo-classic inspiration, resting uncertainly on a piecemeal foundation of brick and stone. The shutters on the upstairs front windows are closed, and a number of panes in windows at the sides and in the back are broken out, and have been stuffed up with cardboard. A broad frame veranda stretches across the front of the house, and looks out on an unkempt yard where chickens scratch for worms, cats scratch at dogs, and her grandchildren scratch each other. You can identify the house by the well, which is out from under the trees near the edge of the road. The well proper is a perfectly circular stone shaft which goes down for about twenty feet before you can see any water, but all of it you can see from the car is the frame scaffolding which supports the pulley and rope. What was apparently once an old oaken bucket has been replaced by a tin pail.

If you pick one of her busy times, there'll probably be two or three other cars parked around with people sitting in them, waiting to have their fortunes told. When your time comes, you leave your misgivings in the car, cross the front porch alone, enter the hall and follow the fortune-teller, an ample, plainly dressed woman of slightly more than middle age, into the first room on the right. The room is pretty plain. A bed, several chairs, a table with an ancient phonograph, and a number of family pictures are the only furnishings. On the ceiling around the chandelier are the remains of a rather good plaster-of-Paris fresco.

Mrs. Gunner—that is her name—asks you to sit down in front of the fire. You do. She takes the chair opposite yours, and hands you a deck of ordinary dime-store cards, asking you to shuffle them. You do that too. Then she starts laying out the cards, the entire deck, one at a time, in three piles. Then she gathers them up, spits in the fire, apologizes for using snuff, and begins. Prodding you with gentle little questions in a husky, rasping voice, as she goes along, she tells you about your temperament, a few of your likes and dislikes, and makes a couple of broad statements about your future. From then on she skips from past to present to future, telling you how long it will be before you are married, or approximately where you were born, whether or not you're going to be successful,or how many children there are—or will be—in your family. She doesn't use any names. You have to fill those in for yourself. When she gets through, she asks you if there's anything else you want to know, and if there is, you ask her. We asked her a few questions about the coming campus political campaign, and she was just as evasive as the politicians, so we let the matter drop. We asked her how she got started, too, and she said that she's been telling fortunes for twenty-two years, a lot more since her husband died five years ago. She said that people from all over North Carolina come to see her, and that a lot of out-of-state people often come down too. We checked up with some other people who'd had theirs told, and the only thing she seems to tell anybody is that they'll travel a good deal. There isn't any fee—you only give her whatever you think it's worth. We gave her our last quarter.

CAVIARE TO THE GENERAL

When the History department's Dr. R. D. W. Connor left Chapel Hill for Washington to become the first Federal Archivist, he took with him his colored boy, Henry. Well, last week Dr. Connor was entertaining at cocktails in his Washington home, and was serving, among other things, red caviare. One of the guests had never seen red caviare before, and asked Henry, who was serving it, what it was.

"'Deed, I doan' know, mam," replied Henry, "but ah suspects it mus' be an archive."

OUTSTANDING RADIO BROADCASTS

1:00: Does Modern Political Publicity Mislead Public Sentiment—Arthur Krock, New York Times; Theo. Joslin, former secretary to Pres. Hoover, WEAF.

1:15: George Hall orchestra, WABC.

1:50: Metropolitan Opera—Romeo and Juliette, with Eide Norena, soprano; Charles Hackett, tenor; and others; Louis Hasselmans, conductor, WEAF.

2:00: Republicans and the Republic—Gov. Harold G. Hoffman of New Jersey and Senator L. J. Dickinson of Iowa, WOR.

4:15: Pro Arte string quartet of Brussels, WABC.

5:00: Eddy Duchin orchestra, WEAF.

7:30: The Street Singer, WOR; Arden orch.; Gladys Baxter, soprano; Walter Preston, baritone, WABC.

8:00: Sigmund Romberg, conductor-composer; concert orch.; Wm. Lyon Phelps, narrator, WEAF; Roxy Revue, WABC.

8:20: Grace Hayes, songs, WJZ.

8:45: Mary Courtland, songs; Armbruster orch., male quartet, WABC.

9:00: Rose Bampton, contralto; Shilkret orch., WEAF; Radio City party, with John B. Kennedy; Black orch.; Virginia Rea, soprano, WJZ; Kostelanetz orch., mixed chorus, WABC.

10:00: Reminiscences — Wm. A. Brady, theatrical producer, WABC.

10:30: Ireland, the Nationless Nation Maker—Postmaster Gen. James A. Farley, WJZ.

11:00: Dorsey orch., WJZ; Glen Gray orch., WABC.

FRESHMEN VOTE TO AID NEGRESS

(Continued from page one)

"It's against the Bible," she says. "The woman's place is in the home.

"Moving picture shows are ridiculous—ain't got no use for them," she commented recently. "The automobile is the work of the devil, and causes more misery than anything else we got today."

Giving her opinion on modern preachers, she said that they used to deal with the truth and the light, but "today they preach to please the congregation and get their check at the end of the month.

"People is got too proud to shout," she added.

Nation on Eve of War!
PRESIDENT VANISHES
SEE PAGE 4

THE
Young Men's Shop
126-128 E. Main St.
DURHAM, N. C.

ECONOMY—

True economy does not always consist in buying the cheapest possible. Buying the most value for the least money is true economy.

Have You Tried Our Shop Lately for True Economy?

THE ORANGE PRINTSHOP
126 Rosemary Phone 3781

Boxers Scrap Cavaliers Tonight; Matmen At N. C. State

Large Crowd Expected To See Carolina Strive To End Virginia's Streak

Bouts to Start at 7:15; Two UNC Entrants Are Undecided

All Bouts Tossups and Plenty of Fireworks Expected.

PROBABLE LINEUP

Wt.	U. N. C.	Virginia
119—	Diehl	Hahn
126—	Eutsler	Rainey
135—	Undecided	Brooks
145—	Fisher	Womer
155—	Medynski	McClung
165—	Giddins	Caplin
175—	Novich	Noll
Heavy—	Undecided	Cramer

The largest crowd of the indoor sport season will be on hand tonight in the Tin Can, as the powerful boxing aggregations from the Universities of North Carolina and Virginia climb into the ring for the feature match of the 1935 Dixie ring season. Varsity bouts open at 8:30 o'clock.

All the Tar Heel scrappers are in shape for the fights, and each man is looking forward to the closest and hardest fight of his career. Coach Rowe is likewise expecting a close race in each division.

Both Undefeated

Both squads will likely have their full strength. Virginia will be seeking her 21st consecutive victory. Both teams are undefeated this year.

A Tar Heel victory will depend largely on how that group of ace sophomores come through in their third chance as varsity men. Every man will meet strong competition.

Coach Rowe has decided on all starting entries except in the lightweight and heavyweight classes. In the 135 class, either Edwards, Dixon, or O'Flaherty will get the starting call. In the heavy, either Alderman, Carruth, or Kanner will do the work.

FRESHMAN PUGS MEET VIRGINIANS IN RING CONTEST

Both Teams Evenly Matched for Preliminary to Varsity Clash in Tin Can.

BOUTS WILL START AT 7:15

This evening at 7:15 in the Tin Can, a great battle will get underway when the strong Virginia frosh glovers square off against the up-and-coming Carolina yearlings.

When Larry Hendel crawls through the ropes to face Virginia's Simpson in the 119-lb class, the curtain will be raised on the outstanding annual ring festival in the south. Neither Carolina nor Virginia frosh ring teams have shown much in the past two meets which would warrant any excitement at their meeting.

However, the spectators will be treated to the best freshman boxing meet of the year, for both outfits are of equal calibre. Both are composed of a group of well-trained yearlings, noted more for their aggressiveness and wont to slug toe to toe than for actual boxing ability.

Ace Tar Babies

There will be quite a few fighters in the squared circle who have shown up well in the past, and these pugilists should be at the peak of their form tonight. Notably among these are "Tiger Bill" Shores, scrappy Ed O'Her-

(Continued on last page)

Glove Lacings

By SMITH BARRIER

Ladees 'N Gentmun

Come one, come all—to the big eight-ring circus in the Tin Can tonight. In fact, there will be two shows of eight rings each and an extra attraction thrown in between for good measure. The prelims or the frosh encounters featuring the University of North Carolina and the University of Virginia first year boxers will begin at 7:15 sharp, while the varsity matches open at 8:30.

* * *

After Scalp No. 21

These Cavaliers have boxed and slugged their way through twenty consecutive victories (of course, excepting that tie from the Tar Heels two years ago). They have come south this week-end to make it No. 21—just another win to their long list.

This year they have already turned under Harvard by a decisive 6-2 count and likewise V. M. I. by 7-1. Balancing this, the Tar Heels mopped up V. P. I. by 7-1 and repeated this act over South Carolina by 6½-1½.

* * *

The Man Behind the Scenes

The Virginians possess a master mind as their leader. Coach Johnny LaRowe is known as the Connie Mack of the squared circle. He is only a youth of 67 years—and he can still dish it out as far as making real boxers out of novices (?).

In the eight years of the Southern Conference boxing tourney, Mr. LaRowe has sent 13 men through to take 18 different titles. Of this group, only two had boxed any before coming to the University of Virginia. What a man, this Mr. LaRowe. These two of pre-college experience were Gordon Rainey (he's fighting tonight) and Bobby Goldstein (whom our Norment Quarles downed sort of regularly).

Mr. LaRowe is bringing two of his home-made SIC champs with him tonight. Watch that bantam and that welter—and then hats off to the Cavalier mentor.

* * *

Hahn vs. Diehl In Bantam Battle

The first of the trio of conference champs is Archie Hahn, brother of the Bob who won the welter title twice while a Cavalier. Co-captain Hahn is a little pack of real dynamite. He has won both fights this year, winning by a wide margin over V. M. I.'s ace, Cavedo. He has seen few defeats in his career on the Charlottesville team.

But tonight he will meet some real competition. Marion Diehl lost his second chance as a varsity man on a close decision. One week of hard work has made an improvement on the Carolinian; and the fans will see a New Diehl in the bantam.

* * *

Champ No. 2 In Featherweight

Co-captain Gordon Rainey is the second of the SIC titlers. Like his smaller cohort, he is another powerhouse reduced. Rainey fought in only six bouts before going to Mr. LaRowe—and now look at him. He also has a bad habit of not losing many fights—in fact not even many rounds. Last week he laid his Kaydet opponent down with a TKO.

Little Ernie Eutsler will furnish the opposition in this feather division. Ernie is at his best in this division, a natural with him (last year he had to make the bantam). This is to be

(Continued on last page)

STOP THOSE CAVALIERS!

Above are Joe Fisher (left) and Maxie Novich (right). They are the brilliant sophomore standbys on Coach Crayton Rowe's 1935 edition of the Tar Heel leather-pushers. Tonight Fisher's bout with the SIC champ, Womer, promises to be the feature bout of the evening. Novich will be making his varsity debut to home fans, as he won via forfeit last week from South Carolina.

Yearling Five Trounces Belmont Abbey By 40-20

Bershak and Meroney Lead Tar Babies to Second Half Rally and Victory.

(Special to the DAILY TAR HEEL)

Belmont, Jan. 25.—Carolina's Tar Baby quint put on the pressure when the first string entered the game and turned into a walkaway what had started as a close game. The visitors' second half spree netted them a 40-20 victory.

Coach Skidmore started his second string five, who managed to slightly outplay the Abbey team and led 7-4 when the first team entered the fray. The remaining part of the first half the two teams fought on quite even terms. Carolina led at the half, 12-11.

Individual Leaders

With Andy Bershak and Red Meroney setting the terrific pace, the collegians put on a real spree of scoring. They tallied 28 points with apparent ease, while holding the Belmont club to 9.

Bershak and Meroney tied for scoring honors with 10 each, followed by Ruth with 6. Mauro was the leading Belmont player.

Box Score

U. N. C.	G.	F.	T.
Boone, f	1	2	4
Bershak, f	4	2	10
Potts, f	1	2	4
Mullis, f	1	1	3
Hagey, c	1	1	3
Meroney, c	5	0	10
Bloom, g	0	0	0
Ruth, g	3	0	6
Franks, g	0	0	0
Grubb, g	0	0	0
Total	16	8	40
BELMONT ABBEY
Santos, f	1	2	4
Woltz, f	1	0	2
Kearns, f	1	2	4
Reily, c	1	0	2
Campbell, g	0	0	0
Dengate, g	0	3	3
Mauro, g	1	3	5
Total	5	10	20

Score at half—U.N.C. 12, Belmont 11.

A Boy Scout bugler in the block is bad enough, but think of living below an eight-year-old Italian soldier practicing the manual of arms.—Des Moines Register.

Patronize Our Advertisers

Kluttz Building Upsets Everett In Mural Battle

Another rough, fast game in the intramural basketball competition saw Kluttz Building pulling a big surprise yesterday afternoon as it knocked the strong Everett combine from the ranks of the undefeated by a 17-16 score.

The victors returned to the win column by getting off to a fast start and successfully counter-attacking Everett's fighting finish. Kluttz held the lead at 8-2 for the first quarter, 11-7 at the half, and 15-9 for the third quarter.

Leading Scorers

Terry of Kluttz and Bartleman of Everett, playing opposite each other, led the scoring with six and eleven points respectively, although the work of Parker and Alderman under the basket was also outstanding.

(Continued on last page)

Snavelymen To Hold Initial Winter Practice Game Today

Coach Carl G. Snavely will send his football charges through their first practice game of the winter drills this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in Kenan stadium.

A large group of alumni and students will be on hand to get a glimpse of the miracle mentor's squad from which the 1935 Tar Heel eleven is to be selected. It is expected that every man out will perform as Coach Snavely wants to see how each acts under fire.

The old formations and plays of last year will generally be used as the coaches have not yet had time to work in any new ideas. The practice is just two weeks old at present, but it will last at least a month longer before closing.

An interesting feature expected in the game will be the kicking. A large group of the players took instructions from Leroy Mills, kicking authority, last week, and the New York attorney's influence has already resulted in much improvement.

The scrimmage will be held in the regular form of a real game with the coaches acting as officials. Besides Coach Snavely the mentors helping direct the work are Max Reed, George James, Ellis Fysal, and Eddie Kahn.

Lineups Uncertain

No lineups for the contest have been announced; but with almost 20 lettermen out, it is expected that the first elevens will be mostly veterans. However, several fine players came up from the freshman outfit and will certainly see much work.

The regular players back from last year's eleven who will probably be back at their old positions are Captains Harry Montgomery and Hump Snyder, halfback and blocking back; Don Jackson, halfback; Jim Hutchins, fullback; Buck McCarn, Dick Buck, and Bill Moore, ends; Tom Evins and Johnny Trimpey, tackles; and Babe Daniel, center.

Grapplers Have Tough Assignment In Meeting Powerful Wolfpack Club

FROSH RASSLERS SEEK INITIAL WIN IN MEET TONIGHT

Weights for Tar Babies in Contest with State Yearlings Not Announced Yet.

MEET AT RALEIGH SCHOOL

In preparation for their match with the Wolfcubs this evening at Raleigh, the freshman grapplers met yesterday at the Tin Can for a brief practice session. The day's work consisted of calisthenics, road work, and a short talk by the Tar Heel mentor.

Coach Quinlan stated that the actual weights that the men are to wrestle in will not be announced until the time of the bouts. The sole reason given was that the Coach does not wish the respective grapplers to know their opponents before time, preventing rumors of the strength of the different State boys to spread in the ranks of the unexperienced Tar Babies.

Frosh Mainstays

Carolina hopes will be resting mainly on the shoulders of Ford, James and Love when the fights get underway tonight. Each of these boys threw his opponent in last week's defeat at the hands of V. P. I., and repetition of these feats are hoped for.

Ford is the most promising boy on the squad and if he continues his sterling performances, the frosh grapplers have a fair chance of scoring over the Raleigh yearlings. Coach Quinlan expresses hope of an initial victory for the Tar Babies tonight.

The eight men who are making the trip today are Patrick, Ehringhaus, Ford, Claypoole, Gibbons, James, Love, and Schulman. As previously said, none of the above knows which weight he will participate in, and the order of the listing is the same as posted at the practice session yesterday.

Inventors are trying to evolve a workless world 15 years from now. They might hire the fellow who so nearly succeeded giving us one, 1929-33.—Dallas Morning News.

Bonner-Capt. Bernhardt Will Feature Bouts In Capital City

Staters Hold Four Aces; Umstead Seeking Another Fall.

PROBABLE LINEUP

Wt.	U. N. C.	State
118—	Umstead	Bell
126—	Douglas	Kerr
135—	Ward	Krach
145—	Gholsen	Hall
155—	Bonner	Bernhardt
165—	Efland	Furr
175—	Gwynn	Croom
Unlimited—	Ranson	Troxler

Ten Carolina varsity wrestlers accompanied by Coach Chuck Quinlan and Manager Francis Bowen will leave Emerson stadium today at 1 o'clock for Raleigh, where the Tar Heels will clash with the strong N. C. State mat contingent. The meet will start immediately after the freshman tilt which is scheduled to get underway at 7 o'clock.

Coach Quinlan's proteges will be facing one of the strongest grappling aggregations in Dixie in the Wolfpack from the West Raleigh institution. Last year State overwhelmed the Tar Heels, 26-0, and went on to take third place honors in the Southern Conference tournament held at Lexington.

Both Won Openers

State and Carolina were both victorious in their opening contests last Saturday. The former defeated the powerful V. M. I. matsters, 18-14, while the Tar Heels drubbed the V. P. I. Gobblers, 23-8.

Sim Efland, only 1934 letterman, with a a group of outstanding sophomores and varsity reserves will be out to avenge the disastrous defeat suffered at the hands of the Wolfpack last year. The West Raleighites will pin their hopes on a quartet of vet-

(Continued on last page)

HEAVY SCHEDULE FOR NEXT WEEK

Phantoms List Three Games; Six Teams Play Saturday Boxing Here.

After winning 11 consecutive games and losing to Army in the 12th, the Carolina basketball team heads the sports schedule for next week in meeting V. P. I. here Monday, State here Wednesday, and Wake Forest in Raleigh Saturday.

The State game Wednesday will decide which of the two teams is to gain the leadership in the Big Five. Neither team has lost in the state, but the Red Terrors have played one more game than the Tar Heels.

The White Phantoms hold the conference leadership by virtue of victories over Washington and Lee, V. M. I., V. P. I., Virginia, and Maryland.

The scene of action will center on Chapel Hill next Saturday night when the Tar Heel varsity and freshman ringers fight State. Carolina has already met V. P. I. and South Carolina, and will meet Virginia tonight. State has tackled only South Carolina.

The varsity and freshman grapplers are to be away from home another week-end, meeting Washington and Lee there.

The Tar Baby basketball team is to have two engagements, playing the State freshmen on Wednesday and Belmont Abbey on Saturday.

University Has Share Of "Hams;" But Few, If Any, Are Ever Cured

Confirmed Short Wave Fans Abound in Chapel Hill; Phillips Hall's Official Station, W4WE, Is Scene of Heated Rivalry.

The sparks are flying, literally as well as figuratively, nowadays. The "hams" are on the air and the wave bands are playing a tattoo of dots and dashes. The woods are full of short wave fans—they are stringing antennas on the trees—and the ether is crowded with wit, humor and dry technicality. But only for the privileged few who understand the language of the morse code.

In Phillips hall, the home of station W4WE—the official U. N. C. short wave transmitter—there is great rivalry among the boys to see who can "work" the most stations out of a certain number of trials.

There are several amateur operators in Chapel Hill who are not eligible to use the Phillips hall station because they have not been in school here long enough. Some of these have evaded this problem by building their own sets.

Marvin Chaiken and Joe Starr built their set on Long Island and brought it to Chapel Hill "knocked down."

"We often talk with our friends back home," said Chaiken, "and we have worked stations all over the United States, as well as in Cuba, Canada, Mexico, and the Canal Zone. We hear from stations all over the world, but we don't know yet just what our transmitter will do."

Chaiken says he is planning to build a speech amplifier, in the near future, so that he will be able to use a phone transmitter instead of code. "You can't get as much distance on a phone, but it's lots more fun."

Both Chaiken and Starr have had their license about two years and have built several sets. Chaiken's sister is one of the four girl operators on Long Island. She has her own set and gets as much kick out of it as the boys.

"You can tell he is a radio fan by the signs upon his wall." The truth of this statement is at once apparent on entering the inner sanctum of a short wave shack, be in east or west, north or south.

The first thing to greet the eye is a conglomeration of letter and number groups—call letters of other stations. Then there are wires and coils and other gadgets. There are maps, scales and wave-length charts which give the room a business-like appearance. All these are signs of the "radio bug" which, having once bitten, cannot be resisted.

Mama! That 'Jan Again

According to a shamefaced admission on the part of Bernard Solomon, business manager, the February issue of the Finjan will be inflicted on the campus next Wednesday.

Solomon insisted that "business manager" be tacked after his name although diligent efforts on the part of the DAILY TAR HEEL detective department could not find the least evidence that the Finjan has any business.

In fact, they found that it had no business being published.

Pat Gaskins and his accomplices said it was nobody's business what they did, anyway.

FRESHMAN PUGS MEET VIRGINIANS IN RING CONTEST

(Continued from page three)

ron, and Marty Shmurak.

In the remaining divisions there are Bass, Benton, Hendel, Hedrick, and Rowley. Bass and Benton have been fighting it out in the 125-lb class, and at the present the starter is still uncertain, with the advantage leaning slightly towards Tommy Bass.

The starting lineup will be: Hendel, 119-lb; Bass, 129-lb; O'Herron, 139-lb; Shores, 149-lb; Hedrick, 159-lb; Rowley, 169-lb; Shmurak, 179-lb; and the heavyweight bout goes to Virginia on a forfeit due to the fact that Carolina has no candidate.

For Virginia, the following will probably be in the ring: Simpson, 119-lb; Dinwiddie, 129-lb; Turner, 139-lb; Ayres, 149-lb; Cowgill, 159-lb; Brown, 169-lb; Schmidt, 179-lb; and Weeks, heavyweight.

GAME PASSBOOKS

Those students who have not yet obtained their athletic passbooks for the winter quarter may get them at the Athletic Association office at 210 Graham Memorial this morning.

No students will be admitted to the boxing matches tonight or to any other athletic events without their passbooks.

Glove Lacings

(Continued from page three)

another feature fight, but—

* * *

Feature Fight—
Fisher vs. Womer

Is this to be a honey? What a fight—this one between our Joe Fisher and the Cavalier SIC champ, Maynard Womer. Woe be to the person who attempts to pick this one. Both men are good, both are very good. Fisher is hard to hit, they say and it seems. Joe can also hit and he can get about fast and cleverly.

Womer is likewise an excellent boxer. Last week he won via forfeit. His Harvard man didn't have a chance. Unaccustomed to defeat, he will have to fight his hardest to win tonight. The bout is a real "natural" and may the best man win.

* * *

Five More
Battle Royals

These three preceeding fights will feature the whole match, but the other five are not far behind as far as closeness is concerned. Captain Sam Giddins will meet Morty Caplin, who has won his two fights this year via TKO's. Another close one!

The lightweight will feature Johnnie Edwards (possibly) against Marion Brooks, who after losing his Harvard bout won over V. M. I. by a technical knockout.

Jule Medynski, whom Referee Shore termed one of the best collegiate junior middleweights he has seen in a long time, will encounter Bill McClung, a southpaw who has won both fights this year.

Maxie Novich, in his first performance here as a varsity man, will meet Jack Noll.

* * *

Heavy and Lightweights Undecided

Our heavyweight division is undecided. Three men are neck to neck in the race for starting place—for the place to meet Fred Cramer, the Cavalier pack of TNT in a big way. Lammie Alderman, Big Jim Carruth, and Murray Kanner are the candidates for this post—and only one can fight.

Also the lightweight division is quite undecided, although Edwards seems to have the inside lane. Either Dixon or O'Flaherty may get the call to this class.

* * *

Sorry,
Pop!

My fellow columnist, Mr. Morris, wishes to retract his statement about Pop Yeager, old man of the football team, getting run over by an automobile. Pop didn't get mixed up with any car.

No Grail Dance

Contrary to previous reports, there will be no Grail dance tonight.

Grapplers Have Tough Wolfpack Assignment

(Continued from page three)

erans from the past two seasons.

The success of the Chapel Hillians rests largely on the shoulders of Umstead, Ward, Douglas and Bonner, who featured in all matches on the freshman schedule in 1934. The showing of Gholsen, Ranson and Gwynn too should go a long way in deciding the issue tonight.

State's Four Aces

The Wolfpack strength lies chiefly in Kerr, Captain Bernhardt, Furr and Croom but they have capable frosh and reserve prospects in Bell, Krach, Hall and Troxler.

The feature bout of the evening will probably be between Bonner, stellar Tar Heel performer, who has yet to taste defeat in either frosh or varsity competition, and Captain Bernhardt, who has starred throughout the past two years as a wearer of the red and white. Both boys appear to be in excellent shape for their scrap in the junior middleweight class.

Other outstanding matches will bring together Douglas and Kerr in the 125; Ward and Krach in the 135; Efland and Furr in the 165; and Ranson and Troxler in the unlimited classes.

Frank Umstead, brilliant bantamweight scrapper, will oppose Ball, whom he defeated on a fall last year in less than three minutes. Wilbur Gholsen, who got off to such an excellent start last week against the Gobblers will hook up with Hall, who stood out in all tests on the Wolflet program in 1934. Harvey Gwynn, 175, meets Croom, who last week pinned Burgess of the Kaydets, runner-up to the conference champion during the past season.

All in all, the fray should provide plenty of color and entertainment for the spectators and mat enthusiasts.

PLAYERS POLISH NEXT PRODUCTION

(Continued from page one)

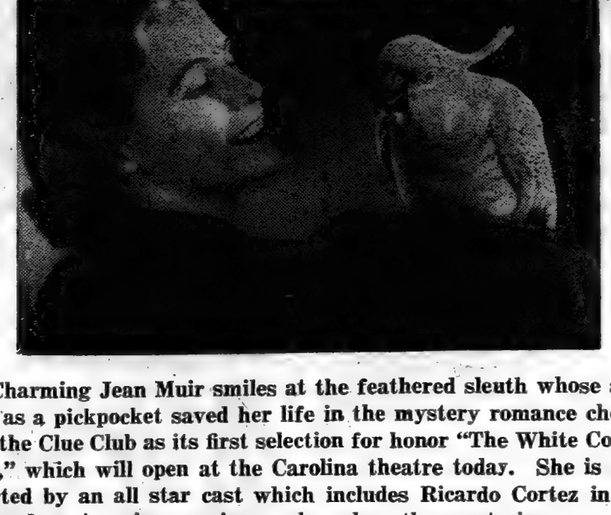
this coming production. Wilbur Dorsett, head of the designing outfit, is planning the sets for the show. Ora Mae Davis costumes the cast.

Experimenting with the designing of the heavy Jacobean furniture suggesting the Tudor period, which is needed for the first set in the new production, Dorsett and his cohorts are having a merry time. He announced yesterday that much of the suggested carving of the furniture is being done with paper mache.

Dorsett is executing the furniture from designs by Philip Parker and Ora Mae Davis of the Playmakers.

Assisting with the production will be Jean Walker, prompter; Sarah Seawell, Francis Caffey, John Larsen, assistant property men; John Dacey, assistant electrician; Billy Robertson, Willard Miller, Carl Thompson, technicians.

Improved Mail Service Secured for Village



Petition of Postmaster Eubanks and Townspeople Effective.

An improved mail service is the result of the petitions of Postmaster Robert A. Eubanks and the townspeople who aided him in asking for a better schedule.

Instead of remaining in the postoffice for 24 hours, an eastbound letter will be sent on its way within three or four hours.

According to Eubanks, the first mail will close near 6:30 a. m., and the second between 10:30 and 11:30 a. m. These mails will be dispatched by train and will connect with expresses to Greensboro and Goldsboro.

PRETTY, POLLY

Charming Jean Muir smiles at the feathered sleuth whose ability as a pickpocket saved her life in the mystery romance chosen by the Clue Club as its first selection for honor "The White Cockatoo," which will open at the Carolina theatre today. She is supported by an all star cast which includes Ricardo Cortez in the role of an American engineer who solves the mysteries.

"Where There's Heat There's Water"

Intrepid Bystander Leaps into Breach When, in Dr. Ruark's Astounding Labyrinth of Fantastic Marvels of Science, a Simple Radiator Pops Open.

Phillips Hall is a building full of strange machines. One finds there intricate dynamos, steam engines, wireless sets with their incomprehensible coils and tubes; there is even an aeroplane with its dissected organs strewn about the engineering room.

But the strangest machines of all are the radiators in Phillips. No one, not even the great physicist, Dr. Ruark can understand these perverse mechanical mysteries.

Oddly enough the radiators in Dr. Ruark's office are the greatest trouble makers in the whole building. The other day a representative from the DAILY TAR HEEL was wandering through that labyrinth of science, known as Phillips, when suddenly there was a loud explosion within a nearby office.

"Old faithful is at it again," cried a frantic and exasperated secretary as she made wild snatches at bundles of papers and letters already ruined by the geyser of hot water.

When the typewriter had been rescued, the secretary glowered and anger mounted with the rising flood.

Inspiration

With a flash of inspiration, a spectator seized a waste basket. Stealthily he approached the fountain spurting from the open valve. Not even the danger of getting soaked and scalded deterred him. Undaunted he clamped the waste basket over the stream and retreated wet but triumphant.

Yet victory was not yet his. The water thundered against the top of the container and poured out from around the bottom. It lapped about the desk legs, rose over shoe-tops and began to run out of the door. Something had to be done.

Once again our hero approached the dreadful water-spurting contrivance. Could anyone doubt his superb courage, when he defied water, steam, death, and destruction to re-insert the valve stem? The hole was plugged, the tide was stemmed, and victory was reaped. But the only fruits of victory were gallons and gallons of hot water and the hero was handed a rag with which to clean up the mess.

Upon the suggestion that this outrageous behavior of the radiator's be reported to the buildings department, the secretary intimated with a hopeless gesture that the "B.D." had been notified.

In a short time the buildings department arrived. Yes sir, the "B.D." got there in a hurry. The emergency man looked as if he knew his job. In fact he looked at the secretary in a rather superior manner, as if he knew all about the trouble before it started.

"Well, what do you want me to do?" he asked. The disaster had had its effects upon the secretary for she had a little difficulty in asking him nicely to have the radiator fixed.

"You complained about the heat didn't you, madam?" asked the "B.D." expert sternly. The secretary replied that she did.

"Well," said the expert, "where there's heat there must be water."

INSTITUTE BOOKS SIX OF NATION'S LEADING FIGURES

(Continued from page one)

tor of the New Republic, who will be the Weil lecturer, and President Hope of Atlanta University.

The quadrennial institute is one of the most famous studies conducted by a university in the United States.

There are four phases of the presentation: the platform presentations; the classroom seminars; the exhibits, consisting of books by the authors and others dealing with problems connected with the study, charts, graphs, and so forth, and the interview and group meetings with the institute conductors.

The institute is sponsored by the University Y. M. C. A. The last study was conducted in 1931 and was proclaimed a tremendous success. This year's institute will last from Sunday, March 31, through the following Saturday, April 6.

Charles A. Poe, University senior, is undergraduate head of this year's institute.

Engineers Decide Date For Annual Affair

A. S. C. E. to Have Dance February 22 at Carolina Inn.

At the regular business meeting of the American Society of Civil Engineers Thursday night the date for the annual engineers' ball was set for February 22, at the Carolina Inn.

Dr. A. M. White of the chemistry department spoke at the meeting on "Industrial Chemistry." Dr. White's address included the difference between the chemical and other closely associated industries.

NEW BULL'S HEAD BOOKS

Among the current books which have recently been added to the shelves of the Bull's Head bookshop in the Y. M. C. A. are: "A House Divided," which completes Pearl Buck's trilogy; "Heaven's My Destination" by Thornton Wilder; "Forty Days of Musa Dagh" by Fraz Werfel; "Battle of Democracy" by Rexford Tugwell; "City Editor" by Stanley Walker; and "Give Me Death" by Isabel Myers.

PRESIDENT'S BALL PLANS COMPLETE

Ballroom and Square Dancing and Bridge on Program.

Plans for the President's birthday ball, to be held at the Carolina Inn Wednesday evening, have been made by a dance committee under Mayor John Foushee.

William Woodward and his musicians have volunteered their services for the ballroom dancing, and the Cates Quartet from Carrboro will play for the square dancers.

Mrs. Annie Martin is donating the use of the Inn. Bridge tables may be arranged, with play to start at 8 o'clock. Dancing will begin at 9 p. m. Those who wish to place bridge tables have been asked to communicate with Mrs. Shipp Sanders.

Tickets are on sale for 50 cents at Eubank's drug store, the business office at South building, and the Y. M. C. A.

Kluttz Building Upsets Everett In Mural Battle

(Continued from page three)

The only other contest played found the Dekes setting some sort of a record by holding Sigma Nu scoreless until the final minute of play, winning by a 28-2 count.

Bill Moore again led the D. K. E. offensive, with a dozen points, while Willis followed with eight. Blount made the only points for the Green when he came through with a field goal from the foul line.

The summaries:

Kluttz, 17	Everett, 16
McGrary, f (2)	Ressler, f (2)
Outlaw, f (2)	Bartleman, f (11)
Parker, c (3)	Mallard, c (2)
Jones, g (4)	Alderman, g
Terry, g (6)	McRae, g (1)

Subs: Everett—Waldrop, Barber, Leath.

D. K. E., 28	Sigma Nu, 2
Montgomery, f (4)	Lytle, f
Patterson, f (4)	T. Bost, f
Willis, c (8)	Blount, c (2)
Hart, g	Primrose, g
Moore, g (12)	Fitts, g

Subs: D. K. E.—Shaffer, Norris, Warren; Sigma Nu—Lynch.

New Scoutmaster

George W. Hamer succeeds P. H. Quinlan as scoutmaster of the Chapel Hill troop of Boy Scouts.

Mac Cochrane is assistant scoutmaster.

Beginning with a campfire gathering last night, the troop meets at 7:15 p. m. every Friday, Hamer announces.

LOST

Black brief case. Finder please return to Howard Bridgman, care W. E. Caldwell, 412 East Rosemary. Reward.

—Also—
Chick Chandler Comedy
"Unlucky Strike"
"Goofy Movies"

NOW PLAYING
CAROLINA

—Sunday—
"THE PRESIDENT VANISHES"

V. L. GRANVILLE
TOMORROW—8:30
MEMORIAL HALL

The Daily Tar Heel

DR. T. Z. KOO—LECTURE
8 P.M.
MEMORIAL HALL

SERVED BY THE UNITED PRESS

VOLUME XLIII | CHAPEL HILL, N. C., SUNDAY, JANUARY 27, 1935 | NUMBER 90

ACTOR WILL GIVE IMPERSONATIONS TOMORROW NIGHT

Granville to Present Characters from History and Drama, In Memorial Hall.

APPEARED HERE IN 1932

As the next feature on the impressive entertainment schedule for the school year which has included Connelly's "Green Pastures" and the world famous violinist, Efrem Zimbalist, the student entertainment committee will present the noted English actor, V. L. Granville, in Memorial hall tomorrow night at 8:30 o'clock.

Granville will present his famous series of impersonations, "Dramatic Interludes." His performance will be a presentation in costume and make-up of the principal characters from the drama of all time.

Two Parts

His program will be divided into two parts. In the first he will represent the famous characters in dramatic literature from the time of the Greeks to Shakespeare. The last section will include characters from Moliere to present day.

Costumes and lighting effects do much to enhance Granville's work, but in every number that he has previously presented he has risen above the costumes, scenery, lighting, and all other outward habilments of the character to create the personality of the character he depicts.

Ancient Characters

Included in the list of famous dramatic figures are Sophocles' Oedipus; Plautus' Ergalsilus; Marlowe's Faustus; Shakespeare's Falstaff and Richard III.

Harpagon from "The Miser" by Moliere; Mrs. Malaprop from "The Rivals" by Sheridan; Fedya from "The Living Corpse" by Tolstoy; Francois Villon, the great French poet; Cyrano de Begerac from Rostand's book by the same name; and Svengali from "Trilby" by George du Maurier.

Granville last appeared at Carolina December, 1932.

F.D.R. TAKES STEPS TO HALT ATTACK UPON RELIEF BILL

President Himself to Administer $4,880,000,000 Fund.

Washington, Jan. 26 — (UP) —President Roosevelt took quick steps tonight to head off the threatening senate attack on his $4,880,000,000 public works relief measure by announcing that he, and he alone, would administer the huge fund.

The President's action is believed to have been designed to meet criticism already directed at the measure in the house, and to strengthen the administration's forces in their effort to whip it through the senate without revision.

While retaining ultimate control of the vast program, Roosevelt indicated he would probably name an advisory board of high officials to aid him in allocating the funds and directing the work.

It was learned from high congressional sources that this group is expected to include Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, Secretary Ickes, and Admiral C. J. Peoples, head of treasury procurement.

Mrs. Holmes to Speak At Bookshop Tuesday

Mrs. Urban T. Holmes, appearing on the regular Tuesday afternoon Bull's Head lecture series, will read "The Children's Hour" by Lillian Hellman in the bookshop at 4:30 o'clock.

Her reading will be the first program for the winter quarter to be presented at the Bull's Head. "The Children's Hour," a popular drama, is now playing on Broadway with Eugenia Rawls, a former Carolina Playmaker, in the cast.

Mrs. Holmes is the wife of Dr. Urban T. Holmes of the University French department. She appeared last year on a similar program at the Bull's Head bookshop when she read "The Lake."

CLERGYMEN TALK TWICE TOMORROW

Leaders of Three Religious Sects to Conduct Public Discussions on Mutual Problems.

The touring seminar, sponsored by the National Conference of Jews and Christians, will be held here twice tomorrow: at the assembly period, and at a special meeting in Gerrard hall at 7:15 p.m.

All members of the Y. M. C. A. cabinets will attend, in joint session, the meeting in Gerrard hall tomorrow night.

Three Clergymen

The seminar, composed of three clergymen, a Roman Catholic priest, a Rabbi of the synagogue, and a Protestant minister, will conduct the two meetings. At the assembly hour, the time will be divided between the priest and the rabbi.

Attempting to develop a broader spirit of brotherhood among the three different sects, the seminar is visiting schools and cities throughout the nation. Their meetings are in the form of discussions of mutual problems.

Father T. Lawrason Riggs, chaplain of the Catholic Club at Yale, will represent his church at the seminar.

Rabbi Morris S. Lazaron, active in the civic affairs of Maryland and the author of several books, has been chosen by the national conference to represent the Jews.

Everett Ross Clinchy, director of the National Conference of Jews and Christians, will complete the trio. He is a Presbyterian minister.

Sponsoring the nation wide church movement are the Honorable Newton D. Baker, Professor C. J. H. Hayes, and Roger W. Straus.

Russell Will Speak Before Di-Phi Session

After the meetings of the Di Senate and the Phi Assembly Tuesday at 7 and 7:15 p.m., respectively, the two societies will meet jointly in Gerrard hall to hear Phillips Russell recount the proceedings of the anti-war conference that he recently attended in Brussels, Belgium.

Both groups will discuss bills relative to the entrance of the United States into the World Court in their separate meetings before they meet in Gerrard to hear Russell.

Try-outs for the freshman debate are to be held immediately after the joint meeting. The subject for the debate is, Resolved, that divorce is a social asset.

Residence Status And Honor

The following statement was issued yesterday afternoon by Dean of Administration Robert Burton House: "Jules Medynski and Tom O'Flaherty are withheld from all University contests by request of the administration, pending further consideration of their case by the student council. The case involves a question of misrepresentation of facts in the matter of their residence status, as revealed in the work of the committee on residence status. This evidence will be presented to the student council for further consideration." President Graham concurred in the action.

The entire situation which has arisen from the facts as stated by Dean House is presented in the following factual editorial. Three boxers whose addresses are given on University records as "Charlotte, N. C.," are involved. Three committees or groups, the administrative board, the faculty committee on athletics, and the student council, as well as Dr. Graham and Deans House and Bradshaw, have conducted the case to its present standing.

The case, briefly stated, is: the three under question are not paying the out-of-state tuition differential, claiming Charlotte as their home, both on their affidavits and subsequent testimony. Reports were collected by the administration showing that the three did not warrant the in-state privilege. An investigation following the accumulation of the facts was conducted as the regular function of the administrative board.

Let it be here stated at first that the Daily Tar Heel was in full possession of the facts of the case up to Friday night, but that the suppression of them for yesterday morning's issue was definitely not administrative pressure or censorship but the policy of the newspaper for obvious reasons in light of the circumstances surrounding the situation.

Rumors were flying and are still rampant on the campus that the question raised over the in-state tuition matter was instigated by some outside pressure—in this instance current gossip named the University of Virginia or someone connected with it. But, as the Daily Tar Heel stated yesterday, these rumors were absolute falsehoods, as in the words of President Graham, the investigation was a "pure administrative function exercised in fairness to ourselves and our opponents.". The fact that the investigation was conducted the day before the Virginia bouts was not a material one; what was the vital force was that discrepancies were alleged, that immediate action was the correct dispensation of the problem, and that if the evidence was false, Carolina would stand all the more firmly imbedded in its reputation of fairness and good sportsmanship.

In other words, if any discrepancies existed in the eligibility or standing of University athletes, they were to be remedied at once, regardless of whether evidence was brought to the administration's attention in July or January.

The factual statement of the case is this: members of the administrative board, Deans House and Bradshaw, and Messrs. Evans and Husbands, were called to meet Friday morning at the request of the administration to consider certain facts relating to the rights of three students for in-state tuition. These same students had been under fire before but were definitely instated as being technically within rights.

At the time of their registration in September, 1932, each submitted a signed affidavit, in accordance with the regulations of the trustees and the state law, declaring that the signer was a bona fide resident of North Carolina and had been for at least six months preceding his first registration. In addition to the affidavits, certain other supporting evidence had been presented to the same effect to the admissions board at that time.

For the past year rumors and remarks that were more pointed than rumors have been drifting down from the Old Dominion that Carolina was employing thugs, discarded professionals, and hoboes to lick Virginia. These were disregarded as utterly worthless condemnations, but definite inferences from various sources of ineligibility were pertinent. President Graham would not be satisfied until a complete investigation had been held, this being done last spring. However, despite this investigation (including testimony by Coach Rowe) which absolved certain boxers under question, including the three involved in the present situation, from any professional or illegal-residence charges, President Graham has been continually following up the problem. In pursuing this investigation and with added impetus caused by further confidential rumors, the administration disclosed some facts which he believed should have been cleared up and thus he called the board meeting. At any rate, he emphatically denies that the University of Virginia is implicated in any way, and Dr. Graham is the most honorable man that we have ever met.

To continue: the board meeting Friday morning with the evidence which was presented, found that one of the students was clearly not entitled to be considered a resident of North Carolina. No actual decision was taken at that time in the other two cases, but the committee unofficially reported that one of the remaining two was entitled to in-state tuition privileges and the other probably not.

What must be made clear at this juncture is that the investigation was purely an administrative function, the same as the board handles day in and day out. Residence status is a common problem and deserves individual attention. This is what it got in this as other cases.

(Continued on page two)

Prosecution Expects Hauptmann to 'Crack'

Flemington, N. J., Jan. 26—(UP)—The state's battery of ace prosecutors who are doing their utmost to send Richard Hauptmann to the electric chair said tonight that the defendant will "crack" within a week.

Attorney-General Wilentz insisted tonight that he had a thousand questions to ask Hauptmann that he was certain the German couldn't answer.

Wilentz stated that he expected to conduct the most dramatic cross-examination ever recorded in the history of American jurisprudence Monday.

Joseph Lanigan, assistant attorney-general said, "We expect him to confess before this is over."

TROOPS DISPERSE ANTI-LONG GROUP

Militia Goes Through Battle Manoeuvers to Halt "Square Dealers'" Assemblage.

Baton Rouge, La., Jan. 26—(UP)—Warlike action flared here tonight as Huey Long enforced his dictatorship by invoking the mailed fist of the military in attempting to prevent citizens from assembling. Throughout the city tonight, people stirred, restlessly defiant.

A gathering of approximately 150 men and women at the Baton Rouge airport were dispersed with two volleys of tear gas bombs shortly after 6 p.m. tonight. The citizens had gathered and were exercising their constitutional right of discussion of the turn of events, when two carloads of militiamen rushed to the scene and ordered them "break it up."

Battle Manoeuvers

The uprising of about 75 "square dealers" at the airport was subdued after an hour of battle manoeuvers, during which the troops lay on their bellies with upraised rifles, and the "square dealers" peered from behind trees with cocked shotguns, waiting for an excuse to blast away.

The last of the "square dealers" came from the woods at 5:30 p.m., and surrendered their guns. One casualty was recorded among the "square dealers." He was wounded in the stomach when one of his fellow warrior's gun, or his own, accidentally discharged its load of buckshot.

Latest reports indicate that the "square dealers" count several thousand men, organized in a dozen companies. They are led by 29 year old Ernest J. Bourgeois and, according to their leader, are being drilled in the fundamentals of military science in order to secure a mobile organization.

There are 2,000 national guardsmen in Louisiana, and "King Huey" is given authority by the recently passed "dictator laws" to increase the state constabulary, a separate unit, to an unlimited extent.

Photo Retakes

City editors, desk men, staff photographer, exchange editor, and telegraph editors will meet at 2:15 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in front of Graham Memorial to have their picture taken for the Yackety Yack. The one made last Thursday did not turn out satisfactorily.

'Y' WILL SPONSOR FAMOUS CHINESE SPEAKER TONIGHT

Dr. T. Z. Koo to Make Talk at 8 O'clock in Special Church Service Here.

LECTURER ON U. S. TOUR

Dr. T. Z. Koo, who appears tonight at 8 o'clock in Memorial hall under the sponsorship of the University Y. M. C. A., has spent the last few years working among students in his native China and lerturing to young men and women the world over.

Recently Koo resigned his position as associate general secretary of the China National Committee of the Y. M. C. A. to cooperate with the World's Student Christian Federation in visiting India, Australia, Europe, and America.

Able Speaker

The Chinese has acquired the reputation of being one of the ablest and most interesting Orientals who have come to this country. He appeared in various cities and has been received by enthusiastic audiences.

His appearance here tonight will follow a lecture at Duke University this morning and one at Raleigh this afternoon. The churches of Chapel Hill are cooperating with the "Y" program for bringing the noted Chinese doctor to Carolina. It will be the first time that a university organization has sponsored a dhurch service in Memorial hall.

Graduate St. John's

Koo is a graduate of St. John's University, Shanghai, and for nine years he was an official in the administrative department of the Chinese Railway service.

In 1925 he was a member of the Second Opium Conference called in Switzerland by the League of Nations, being one of the three chosen, through 34 organizations, to represent the Chinese people as a whole.

From Geneva, Dr. Koo went to England where he made a remarkable impression. While there he appeared in Central hall, Westminister, and addressed an overflowing audience made up of London students.

The Archbishop of Canterbury recently commented on the great Chinaman to the effect that, in some respects, he is the ablest Oriental whom he has ever met.

In this country Koo has appeared at the University of Washington, Syracuse University, Vanderbilt University, Dartmouth, and at other schools and churches. His present tour of America will be a brief one, according to an announcement made by the Student Association in New York.

FRATERNITY PHOTOS

The following fraternities are requested to complete their number of individual photographs for the Yackety Yack as soon as possible:

Alpha Chi Sigma, Alpha Tau Omega, Beta Gamma Sigma, Chi Omega, Chi Phi, Chi Psi, Delta Psi, Delta Sigma Pi, Delta Tau Delta, Kappa Sigma, Kappa Alpha, Lambda Chi Alpha, Phi Alpha, Phi Mu Alpha, Phi Kappa Sigma, Pi Beta Phi, Pi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Sigma Delta, Tau Beta Pi, Tau Epsilon Phi, Theta Chi, Theta Kappa Nu, Theta Kappa Psi, and Zeta Beta Tau.

The Daily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Union Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where it is printed daily except Mondays, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Holidays. Entered as second class matter at the post office of Chapel Hill, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 for the college year.

A. T. Dill ..... Editor
Robert C. Page, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
Joe Webb ..... Business Manager
George Underwood ..... Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

EDITORIAL BOARD—Phil Hammer, chairman, Earl Wolslagel, Franklin Harward, John Schulz, DuPont Snowden, Margaret McCauley, Morty Slavin, Sam Leager, Dick Myers, Charles Lloyd, Jake Snyder.

FEATURE BOARD—Nelson Lansdale, chairman; Nick Read, Bob Browder, Francis Clingman, J. E. Poindexter, W. M. Cochrane, Willis Harrison.

CITY EDITORS—Irving Suss, Walter Hargett, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.

TELEGRAPH EDITORS—Stuart Rabb, Charlie Gilmore.

DESK MAN—Eddie Kahn.

SPORTS DEPARTMENT—Jimmy Morris and Smith Barrier, co-editors, Tom Bost, Lee Turk, Len Rubin, Fletcher Ferguson, Stuart Sechriest, Lester Ostrow, Ira Sarasohn.

EXCHANGES—Margaret Gaines.

STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER—Don Becker.

REPORTERS—Bill Hudson, John Smith, J. F. Jonas, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Hazel Beacham, Raymond Howe, William Jordan, Morton Feldman.

Business Staff

ASST. BUSINESS MANAGER ..... Butler French
COLLECTION MANAGER ..... Herbert Osterheld
OFFICE MANAGERS ..... Walter Eckert, Roy Crooks
NATIONAL ADVERTISING ..... Boylan Carr
DURHAM REPRESENTATIVE—Joe Murnick.
LOCAL ADVERTISING—Hugh Primrose, Robt. Sosnik, Eli Joyner (managers), Bill MacDonald, Louis Shaffner, Page Keel, Bill McLean, Crist Blackwell.

CITY EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE: IRVING SUSS

Sunday, January 27, 1935

PARAGRAPHICS

It looked as though the Baton Rouge farmers were going to give friend Huey a shotgun funeral.

Now that the card dance is proved to be so successful, maybe there'll be a little more co-ed shuffling.

Up at Virginia the bettors are S. O. L. if the F. F. V.'s get their K. O.'s P. D. Q.

Residence Status and Honor

(Continued from page one)

However, during the investigation Friday morning, certain facts came to light which raised the question as to the veracity and athletic eligibility. These facts had been accumulating in the registrar's office following the regular policies governing resident students. The administrative board turned this information over to Dean Hobbs, chairman of the faculty committee on athletics, for investigation and action as to athletic eligibility, and to the student council for similar review as regards a breach of honor.

The student council met yesterday morning. Each of the students under fire appeared before the council, testifying to the veracity of their statements both on the affidavits and in the subsequent investigations. Two of the students were cleared of charges of misrepresentation, while the third was held to be cleared because of the unimportance of an admitted factual misrepresentation and was admonished to be "absolutely truthful in the future."

The council then made two recommendations to the administration: 1) if there is going to be an investigation as to the residential requirements or qualifications of students, that such investigation be a general one, applicable to all students; and 2) in view of certain facts that have arisen recently, the most appropriate time for such investigation is at the time of initial matriculation of the student.

The faculty athletic committee, with the administrative board's minutes on hand, certified for eligibility two of the three boxers but failed to certify the third, who was the same student whom the administrative board had declared without rights for in-state tuition privileges.

Then yesterday afternoon Dean House, with the concurrence of President Graham, declared two of the fighters ineligible from athletic competition until the student council had cleared the matter up. It is probable that certain pieces of information were not in the council's possession at the first session and the administration wished a reconsideration of the case.

It is probable that the council did not fully grasp the situation. The case throughout has involved more than mere residence status since the investigation into this phase has progressed. Naturally, the council, acting on the spur of the moment, was not qualified to pass on a student's word in an hour's consideration.

Then, too, under the strain of a forthcoming encounter of such importance as the Virginia meet, the council unintentionally probably did not go into the matter as deeply as it might have. This is, of course, preferring no indictment against its members in any sense of the word. But it is only natural that things are overlooked which ordinarily would have infinitely more significance in such an important case.

Student opinion has been rife over the weekend against the University of Virginia as alleged instigators of the investigation. This was based on the circumstantial nature of the investigation preceding the intense boxing meet and the continued aspersions which Virginia students have cast on Carolina boxers for the past several years. It was also reported throughout the campus that evidence was on hand to prove that Virginia, officially or unofficially, had directly instigated the investigation in the form of a protest.

> The entire opinion on the campus has been grossly misinformed and the rumors false, as has been pointed out. The philosophy of the administration has been clearly one of direct, straightforward procedure. The question which came before the student council involved honor and the question before the faculty athletic committee involved athletic eligibility. In other words, the administrative board considered strictly administrative detail as in the course of normal procedure, acting on accumulated evidence against the students in question.

The case is by no means closed from the administration's point of view, even though the council will be the active agent in the honor phase of the investigation. The three students must pay, it was decided yesterday, the out-of-state tuition differential beginning next quarter. Further, others implicated in the matter are under scrutiny of the administration and the student body is directly backing every effort of its part to uncover the whole story.

The whole story, it might be added, implies many other features. In the council meeting it was felt that the students had had advice from Carolina's coaching staff in the preparation of their credentials and that therefore the action was not entirely their own. However, Dean House received a written statement by one of the boxers absolving the coaching staff from any part in the affair, although on a previous occasion he is alleged to have made a statement to the contrary regarding the staff's part.

> The Daily Tar Heel stands for immediate consideration by the student council. If the boxers are innocent, let them be publicly declared so, and absolved from the taint of dishonesty. If the coaching staff is guilty, let them be condemned. If there has been a misunderstanding or if it is clearly a case of deliberate misrepresentation, let the council work unhindered in arriving at its decision.

We are deeply gratified that the administration is letting the student council reconsider the case. While we believe in the rights of complete faculty suspension, we on the other hand are jealously proud of our student government, for all its faults in indefiniteness caused by no written constitution.

The whole affair is a disagreeable one. The reputation of the University is at stake, not only from the athletic point of view but from the attitude towards student government and honor, and administrative co-operation. We believe that the students themselves are the best and most unbiased judges of the actions of their fellow-students, and on the other hand, we highly esteem the value of intensive co-operation in matters vitally affecting the student body of the University administration. This case which was at first merely a procedural case of residence status has come to involve the roots of University government, athletic competition, and administrative activity.

The most important feature is a complete understanding on the part of the student body of the facts of the case. The danger of rumors is clearly shown in the near indictment of an utterly innocent traditional friend, the University of Virginia. We must work this problem out so that at no time in the future is any misunderstanding to be the cause for another such occasion.

The Daughters
And Ma Tuck

The King's Daughters more or less resent the encroachment into their jealous realm of protecting Mymie Tuck, probably Chapel Hill's oldest citizen, from the ravages of poverty and time. "For thirty years," they cry, "Mymie Tuck has been under our care. Let charity begin at home. Let the Y. M. C. A. stick to the campus. We've always taken care of Mymie Tuck and always will, and when she dies, we have a casket ready."

Mymie Tuck, we understand, can "out-cuss, out-drink any man in Chapel Hill." But the other Tucks don't allocate the greenbacks so that Mymie can sustain herself, so somebody has to act in the role of Mymie's guardian angel. This is the role which the King's Daughters have held, and they don't mind letting the world know that it's their own role.

University Freshman Is Eye Witness Of Recent Sino-Japanese Fighting

While most of us were reading the newspapers and watching the exciting sound news account of the recent Sino-Japanese war, Robert Magill, freshman here in the University, had a chance to observe at first hand one of the most daring moves of the Japanese army.

It was the move upon Shanghai, where Magill lived in the British settlement with his parents, who are Y. M. C. A. workers, that he reports. For several weeks all Shanghai was alarmed by the nearness of the aggressive army from the neighboring islands. There was an almost constant rumbling of gun-fire. The rapid firing of big guns was accompanied by the occasional report of a sniper's rifle. During many of the nights the sky would be illuminated to brilliant red by the burning of a section of the city, Chapai. In the daytime the manoeuvers of airplane corps could be seen as they flew over the city dropping bombs.

All during this period there was congestion in Shanghai as the many homeless families went about the city looking for new quarters. However, in the international settlement there was little fear or anxiety.

Magill tells how on one occasion he was at a Boy Scout meeting when suddenly far away reports of explosions were heard. It was thought that the Japanese were up to some new trick. The boys were ordered by their leader to jump on their bicycles and go to their homes as fast as possible. Meanwhile the noise grew louder and louder, coming over them like a wave. It was later discovered a rumor had reached the Chinese that one of the generals of the invading army had died. To celebrate the fortunate occurrence all available firecrackers were set off, giving the occasion a true fiesta form, as well as giving some of the less informed inhabitants a big scare. The joke, however, was on the Chinese because it later developed that the rumor was false.

After the two armies had ceased all hostile movements Magill went through Chapai, the section which had received the brunt of Japanese attack. He explains how he saw practically all the buildings destroyed either by bombs or fire, and how at several different times he saw black charred bodies lying half buried in the ruins.

U. S. ANNOUNCES THREE CIVIL JOBS

Engineering Draftsman, Medical and Educational Officers Are Positions Open.

Announcement was received yesterday from the United States post office here of open competitive examinations under the United States Civil Service Commission in several fields.

The examinations will be for three positions.

Engineering draftsman (highway), $1,800 per year, Bureau of Public Roads.

Junior medical officer (interne), St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Washington, D. C.

Associate supervisor of elementary education, $3,200 per year, Indian field service.

The closing date for receipt of applications for these examinations is February 18.

Full information may be obtained from S. W. Bynum, secretary of the United States Civil Service board of examiners, at the local post office.

To squelch misleading information spread by certain correspondence schools which give instruction in preparation for civil-service examinations, the Civil Service Commission states:

1. No one can promise appointments to positions for which the Civil Service Commission holds examinations.

2. Information about the examinations may be obtained from the boards of Civil Service examiners.

3. Before paying tuition to a correspondence school, or signing a contract, it is advisable to inquire into the prospect of examinations.

4. No school has advance information of the need for employees or the probability of examinations.

INFIRMARY

Despite unsettled weather, the number of students in the infirmary has been reduced to the normal attendance last quarter. These sixteen students were confined yesterday: L. A. McAdams, J. C. Grantham, J. A. Taylor, W. R. Weaver, Bruce Smith, E. S. Simpson, W. S. Peacock, Glenn Best, Paul Means, Brogden Spence, R. S. Hardison, E. S. Shoof, J. P. Jenrette, Tom Hines, Alice Cooke, Ruth Green.

PRESS INSTITUTE HEARS PRITCHARD

Noted Journalist Speaks at Final Session; Pressmen Inspect Newspaper Display.

"A newspaper that does not feel the pulse and warn the patient of its condition and any impending dangers is not truly performing its normal functions and should arrange for improved mental machinery." said R. H. Pritchard of Weston, W. Va., vice-president of the National Editorial Association and chairman of the Joint National Code Authority, in the feature address of the closing session of the 11th annual North Carolina Newspaper Institute.

Declaring that no agency in the community lends itself so admirably to leadership as does the newspaper, Pritchard said, "Certainly we in this newspaper business have serious responsibilities to the general rank and file of humanity."

Other features on the program of the final meeting were the session on "Shop Talk," led by J. L. Horne, publisher of the Rocky Mount Telegram and chairman of the state Press Association's legislative committee, and the inspection of the display of North Carolina newspapers.

The institute took place under the auspices of the Press Association, in co-operation with the University of North Carolina and Duke University. A similar institute will be held here this summer,

RECORD DEMONSTRATION

C. V. Kettering, a representative of the Fairchild Electric company, will give a demonstration of the Fairchild electrical sound recorder in the Hill Music hall at 4 p.m. Tuesday.

By making arrangements beforehand with Dr. Glen Haydon, head of the music department, anyone interested may have a record made at a cost of from $1.00 to $2.50, depending on the size of the record.

Kettering will be available all day Tuesday for interviews, including evening hours by appointment.

LOST

Blue single-breasted half-belt overcoat in 9:30 Chemistry 1 class last Friday. Please return to 115 Grimes. Reward!

OUTSTANDING RADIO BROADCASTS

Sunday, Jan. 27

2:30: Play — The Bad Man, with Walter Huston and Jacqueline Logan, WJZ.

3:00: New York Philharmonic-Symphony orch., Arturo Toscanini, conductor, WABC.

5:00: Concert orch; Mme. Schumann - Heink, contralto, WEAF.

7:00: Jack Benny, comedian; Frank Parker, tenor; Don Bestor orch., WJZ; Alexander Woolcott, story teller; Armbruster orch., WABC.

7:30: Joe Penner, comedian; Ozzie Nelson orch., WJZ; Will Rogers, commentator, WABC.

8:00: Opera—Manon, with Lucrezia Bori, soprano, and others; Deems Taylor, narrator, WEAF; Voorhees orch., Conrad Thibault, baritone; Lois Bennett, soprano, WABC.

9:00: Symphony orch., Victor Kolar, conductor, WABC.

WITH THE CHURCHES

Presbyterian

10 a. m.—Student class taught by the Reverend Watt Cooper. Topic: "Safe Guards for Personal Development."

11 a. m.—Sermon by the Reverend Donald Stewart. Topic: "The Modern Hunger."

7 p. m.—Student forum—led by students.

Episcopal

8 a. m.—Holy Communion.

11 a. m.—Service and sermon.

Methodist

9:45 a. m.—Sunday school.

11 a. m.—Worship and service. Sermon by the Reverend W. A. Jenkins.

7 a. m.—Student forum—Miss Howard and Miss Bell.

Lutheran

10:15 a. m.—Sunday school discussion group, led by Woodford Sink.

11 a. m.—Service—Holy Communion—The Reverend Roscoe B. Fisher. Topic: "Leonardo da Vinci's Conception."

Catholic

8:30 a. m.—Mass (Gerrard hall). Dr. Morrissey.

United

10:15 a. m.—Student class taught by Dr. McKee.

11 a. m.—Public worship—Dr. McKee. Topic: "An Ancient Definition of Religion."

7 p. m.—Student forum led by Professor Wilder.

Baptist

10 a. m.—Student class taught by M. J. Hagood.

10 a. m.—Co-ed class taught by Mrs. E. T. Howell.

11 a. m.—Worship and sermon—Dr. Binkley. Topic: "Through Irreligion into Faith."

7 p. m.—B. Y. P. U. for college students. Program by students from W. C. of U. N. C.

7 p. m.—Young People's Society for high school students.

Union Service at Memorial Hall

8 p. m.—Address: Dr. T. S. Koo. Topic: "The Christian Message in Chinese Life Today."

"Y" Cabinet Officers

All Y. M. C. A. officers will meet tomorrow morning at the assembly hour in the office of Harry F. Comer, general secretary of the University Y. M. C. A.

THE
Young Men's Shop
126-128 E. Main St.
DURHAM, N. C.

Boxers Lose By Hairline; Wrestlers Defeated

Diehl Features Tar Heels With Win Over Champion; Fisher-Womer Fight Draw

VIRGINIA IN 4½-3½ TRIUMPH FOR 21st

Ineligibility of Medynski and O'Flaherty Hurt Carolina; Giddins, Novich Victors.

NO KNOCKOUTS SCORED

With a set of bouts, thrilling throughout, the Carolina scrappers were barely nosed out by the strong Virginia outfit, 4½-3½. More than 4,500 eager fans were dazzled by the thrills and cleverness of the competing teams. The Tin Can was a maelstrom of howling spectators who had all they could do to restrain themselves from giving vent to their feelings during the course of the rounds.

It is a widely accepted fact that Carolina's chances for a win were sadly dampened by the ineligibility of two of the mainstays of the team. Both Medynski and Tommy O'Flaherty were forced to the sidelines as a result of difficulties with the administrative board. With these two boys in the line-up, it is most likely that the score would have been much different. There was a vast difference in the way the team shaped up without these two kayo-scoring-sophomores and as yet their status of eligibility for future meets has not been determined.

In the feature contest of the evening, Carolina's Marion Diehl, outboxed, out-punched, and outwitted Archie Hahn of the Cavaliers to earn a clear-cut decision. Hahn, a Southern Conference champion could not solve the baffling style of his cagy opponent. Diehl, by virtue of his victory is the first man to beat the Virginia champion in some three years of ring warfare.

The first round found Diehl playing the part of a strategist. He did not wade into his man but took time to feel him out. However, in the next canto, he opened up, and unleashing a powerful attack to the head and body, he began to pile up his points.

(Continued on last page)

Leader Gets Win

Captain Sam Giddins of the Tar Heel boxing team who showed his outstanding form to date as he slugged and outboxed his Virginia opponent in one of the thrilling Carolina victories last night. Giddins will be one of the top men in the battle for an SIC championship.

GRIDSTERS TAKE LIGHT SCRIMMAGE

Regular Game Called Off Due to Lack of Practice; First String Is Made up of Veterans.

Coach Carl Snavely gave signal drills to five complete grid teams in Kenan stadium yesterday.

A regulation game had been scheduled for the afternoon; however, due to the lack of practices and unorganized signals, the teams only participated in a short scrimmage session.

Don Jackson, ace Tar Heel halfback, displayed mid-season form in passing and punting. Captains Montgomery and Snyder also showed up well in the first team's backfield.

The following players composed the first string lineup yesterday: McCarn and Buck, ends; Evins and Trimpey, tackles; McIver and Joyce, guards; and Daniel, center. Snyder, Montgomery, Jackson, and Hutchins made up the first team's backfield combination. Walberton, freshman, took Snyder's position during the scrimmage.

With the exception of Barclay, Kahn, and Tatum, the above team is the same group that were playing regular positions at the close of the 1934 season.

Mural Basketball Has 13 Outfits In Unbeaten Ranks

Law School Leads with 153 Points; D. K. E., 112; Managers' Meeting Monday.

After two and a half weeks of play in the intramural basketball competition but thirteen of the original forty-four teams remain undefeated—seven in the fraternity and six in the dormitory league.

Since it has been extremely difficult to arrange the schedule this winter, an important meeting of the intramural managers will be held tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock at Emerson stadium. All managers are required to be present.

Law School heads the campus with three victories, and 153 points to the opposition's 38; while D.K.E. tops the fraternity teams with the same number of wins and a scoring of 112 for and 35 against.

A comparison of the teams in the undefeated ranks follows:

	W	Points For	Ag.
Dormitory	13	436	163
Fraternity	17	465	180

The standings follow:

	W.	Points For	Ag.
Law School	3	153	38
D. K. E.	3	112	35
Kappa Alpha	3	99	23
Swain Hall	3	89	28
Phi Kappa Sigma	3	53	33
Zeta Psi	3	41	30
Beta Theta Pi	2	89	25
Aycock	2	73	46
Mangum No. 2	2	50	27
Mangum No. 1	2	38	12
Chi Psi	2	35	18
Delta Tau Delta	1	36	16
Ruffin	1	33	12

The schedule for this week:

Monday: 3:45—No. games; 4:45—(1) Swain Hall v. Smith, (2) Delta Tau Delta v. D. K. E., (3) Ruffin v. Mangum No. 2.

Tuesday: 3:45—(1) Phi Kap-

(Continued on last page)

TAR BABY BOXERS GO DOWN BEFORE CAVALIER FROSH

Shore, Carolina, Gets Knockout In 38 Seconds; O'Herron and Bass Win K.O.'s

SIX KNOCKOUTS IN ALL

In the hardest fought frosh boxing matches of the year, the Tar Babies of North Carolina went down before the Baby Cavaliers of Virginia after an hour of fighting witnessed by 4500 shouting fans and featuring six kayoes in eight bouts. Both Carolina and Virginia scored three apiece, but the Cavaliers took two settos on decisions thus winning the evening slugfest 5-3.

The feature bout of the evening was Tiger Shore's quick kayo of Ayres in 38 seconds of the first stanza. Coming out of his corner with cat-like speed, Shores pounced on his opponent and swarmed all over him with a two fisted head attack.

Larry Hendel, weakened by his efforts to get down to 119-lbs., was no match for the slugging Simpson, who ended the fight in 23 seconds of the opening round with a terrific right punch. Simpson came out of his corner like a flash of lightning and never gave Hendel a chance to get set, and the knockout was the hardest thrown all night.

O'Herron K. O.'s

Following close on their heels for sheer thrills and excitement was Ed O'Herron's second round knockout of Turner which came in one minute and 20 seconds of that stanza. O'Herron began the fight in his usual manner, letting Turner swing himself dizzy in the initial round then stepping out and ending the proceedings with a rapid one-two at the close of the second.

Carolina's third kayo came in the second bout of the night when Bass floored Dinwiddie with two wicked smacks to the midsection and a blow to the button. Dinwiddie tried gamely to continue fighting but the Virginia seconds halted the certain slaughter in 40 seconds of the last round.

In the 179-lb. class, Marty Shmurak slugged it out with Schmidt of Virginia, in the closest bout of the evening. The

(Continued on last page)

PLANS MADE FOR SIC INDOOR MEET

Four-Division Meet Will Be Held Here in Tin Can March 9; Sixth Annual Games.

Preliminary plans are now being made for the Sixth annual Southern Conference Indoor Games which are to be held at the University of North Carolina on March 9, according to announcement today by R. A. Fetzer, Chairman of Indoor Games Committee and director of athletics of the University of North Carolina.

There are to be four divisions in the games, Southern Conference varsity, Non-Conference, Freshman, and Scholastic.

Events in the Southern Conference varsity games are to include the 60-yard dash, 70-yard high hurdles, 70-yard low hurdles, 440-yard run, 80-yard run, one mile run, two mile run, one mile relay, pole vault, high jump, broad jump, and shot put.

The Non-Conference division which is to include varsity teams from non-conference schools is to engage in the 60-

(Continued on last page)

YEARLING CAGERS CONTINUE MARCH WITH 43-22 WIN

Davidson Frosh Completely Outclassed; Meroney Gets 10; Potts and Grubb Star.

BABIES IN 7TH STRAIGHT

The Carolina frosh quintet concluded their successful "western" tour last evening by rolling over the first year outfit of Davidson College in a one-sided battle, winning 43-22, on the latter's court.

Red Meroney, Tar Baby pivot man, led the team again with a total of 10 points during the encounter, all by field goals. Earl Ruth followed Meroney with 7 points and in turn was followed closely by Ramsay Potts and Andy Bershak with 6 tallies apiece.

Potts and Foy Grubb teamed with Meroney to star for the Carolina five and the trio presented a well oiled offensive unit. Every player on the Carolina squad saw action and the second team as well as the first alternated in looping the ball through the basket.

Frosh Start Fast

The frosh five opened fast and scored point after point while holding their opponents away from the treasured hoop. The half came to a close with the frosh in the lead 26-7, and from then on the entire squad took turns upon the floor in mounting the total to 43.

The Davidson frosh paced the Carolina reserves in the second half but could not overcome the gigantic lead the regulars had gained. Barrow, left forward, starred for his team with a total of 7 points, and Keiswetter, the other forward, tallied five points to give Davidson the majority of its points.

Umstead And Efland Get Only Points For Carolina; Tar Babies Triumph, 23-13

Box Score

Davidson	G.	F.	T.
Barrow	3	1	7
Keisewetter	2	1	5
Iverson	0	0	0
Overall	0	1	1
Rhinehart	1	0	2
Martin	0	0	0
Reid	0	0	0
Harris	1	1	3
Moyer	0	0	0
Lafferty	2	0	4
Total	9	4	22
Carolina
Mullis	1	1	3
Boone	1	1	3
Bershak	3	0	6
Potts	3	0	6
Meroney	5	0	10
Hagey	2	0	4
Ruth	3	1	7
Bloom	0	0	0
Grubb	1	0	2
Franks	1	0	2
Total	20	3	43

Score at half—N. C. 26, Davidson 7.

Frosh Girls Select Miss Barker Captain

Miss Evelyn Barker has been elected captain of the co-ed freshman basketball team for this season. Miss Blanche Bullock will be manager of the team.

The following girls have reported for practice: Elizabeth Williams, June Bush, Jean Bush, Sue Southerland, Sallie Page, Natalie Baroff, Virginia Simpson, Ester Mebane, Nancy Smith, Bessie Strowd, Jane Riddle, Mary Henry, Evelyn Barker, and Blanche Bullock.

No definite team has been selected.

White Phantoms Battle VPI In Tin Can Tomorrow

Return Home After Two Weeks' Absence

Gobblers Have Been Showing Poor Form, Losing Last Two Starts to Duke and State.

PLAY STATE WEDNESDAY

LINEUPS

V. P. I.	Pos.	Carolina
Snead	r.f.	Aitken
Day	l.f.	Nelson
Evans	c.	Glace
Mottola	r.g.	McCachren
Fittro	l.g.	Harris or Kaveny

After nearly two weeks absence, Carolina's White Phantoms return to their home court tomorrow night, meeting V. P. I.'s cage team in the Tin Can at 8:00 o'clock.

The luckless Gobbler club has already been defeated by State and Duke on its trip through North Carolina and so is definitely in the underdog position for the contest. However, anything may happen in a basketball game as the Tar Heels well know; they received their only defeat to date at the hands of Army, supposedly one of the weakest opponents.

Show Great Form

The White Phantoms swung into great form during the first part of their northern trip, knocking off such fine clubs as Maryland, Navy, and two of New York's best athletic clubs. On the final conquest of the tour the tired Carolinians faltered before the Cadets, dropping their first start in 12 tries.

Tomorrow's battle will serve to show how well the Phantoms can come back and just how much improvement the combination has shown since their last home contest.

Meet State Wednesday

After the V.P.I. tilt tomorrow the White Phantoms will swing back into their fight to hold the Big Five championship, meeting State here Wednesday. Along with Carolina and Duke the Red Terrors are rated as the top court outfit in the state and as a result the game should furnish one of the feature battles of the season.

With the mighty Ray Rex leading the way the Wolfpack has kept its record clean in the Big Five.

POWERFUL STATE TEAM WINS, 18-6

Ford, Claypoole, Love and James Get Fall Victories for Carolina First-Year Team.

TAR HEELS' FIRST LOSS

(Special to the DAILY TAR HEEL*)*

Raleigh, Jan. 26.—North Carolina State's varsity wrestling aggregation proved too strong for the matsters from the University here tonight, to take a 18-6 decision.

Most of the bouts were close, no man being able to register a fall over his opponent. The biggest difference was in the featherweight class, in which Kerr managed to take a time advantage of 8:36 minutes over Douglas.

The closest battle was Ward's first loss of the year, he being beaten by the advantage of only 1:35 minutes. Umstead continued his winning ways by taking a 7-minute advantage over Bell.

Efland turned in the only other Tar Heel victory by downing Furr with over a 6-minute advantage.

Varsity summary:

118—Umstead (NC) over Bell by time advantage, 7 min.

126—Kerr (NCS) over Douglas by time advantage, 8:36 min.

135—Krach (NCS) over Ward by time advantage, 1:35 min.

145—Comup (NCS) over Gholsen (NC) by time advantage, 5:30 min.

155—Bernhardt (NCS) over Bonner by time advantage, 2:55 min.

165—Efland (NC) over Furr by time advantage, 6:01 min.

175—Croom (NCS) over Gwynn by time advantage, 4:02 min.

Heavy—Troxler (NCS) over Ranson by time advantage, 4:08 min.

Carolina Frosh Star

The Carolina freshman grapplers scored their initial win of the season tonight over the State yearlings, downing them 23-13 in the gymnasium at Raleigh in the preliminary contest to the varsity bouts.

The frosh showed considerable strength in routing their opponents, four of the Tar Babies throwing their men in less than five minutes. Ford, Claypoole, Love and James were the four to accomplish the feat and Ehringhaus contributed the remaining points with a time advantage over Willis.

Patrick opened the meet by bowing in a thrilling struggle to Meadows of State, being thrown in a second extra period. Gibbons later dropped a time decision and the throwing of Schulman by Durland completed the bouts, giving State their thirteen points.

Freshman summary:

118—Meadows (NCS) over Patrick, 50 sec. of 2nd extra

(Continued on last page)

Good and Wholesome Food Is Essential to Good Health

GOOCH BROS. & BROOKS CAFE

Our Food Is Prepared Under the Most Sanitary Conditions

"Come Down Town Nights and See Your Sandwiches Made"

BEER IN BOTTLES AND ON TAP CANDY SODAS SANDWICHES MAGAZINES TOBACCOS NEWSPAPERS

MANY PROFESSORS CHOSEN FOR LAW SUMMER SCHOOL

Members of University Faculty as Well as Other Outstanding Figures in Law Selected.

FOUR FROM UNIVERSITY

Several distinguished professors will lecture in the law school of the University during the coming summer session, Professor Edgar W. Knight, director, has announced. The list includes Edson R. Sunderland of the University of Michigan; Philip Mechem, State University of Iowa; Harold C. Havighurst, Northwestern University; and Walter Wheeler Cook, Johns Hopkins University.

Professor Sunderland, Mechem, and Havighurst will teach the courses in appellate practice, trusts, and contracts, respectively, during the first term, which will run from June 12 to July 20. Professor Cook will teach a course in legal method during the second term, which will run from July 22 to August 28.

Authority

Professor Sunderland is the recognized authority in the field of judicial procedure in this country. The author of a number of influential books, he has recently participated as secretary of the Judicial Council of Michigan and as co-draftsman of the Illinois practice act of 1934 in the complete overhauling of the administration of civil justice in those two states. His work at the University of Michigan furnished the nucleus for the legal research center established there by the late William W. Cook of New York. He is an ex-president of the Association of American Law Schools.

Professor Cook, who taught conflict of laws here last summer, is one of the leaders in the development of the modern school of realistic jurisprudence. He was one of the four members of the original faculty of the Institute of Law created several years ago at Johns Hopkins. He is now on leave in an executive position in the U. S. treasury department.

Four members of the resident law faculty at Chapel Hill, Professors Breckenridge, McCall, Wettach, and Dean Van Hecke have at one time or another been among his students at different universities. He is the author of three important casebooks on Equity. Professor Cook is an ex-president of the Association of American University Professors and of the Association of American Law Schools.

Professors Havighurst and Mechem are among the abler young men in the profession. Mr. Havighurst is the author of a new casebook on Contracts, which some observers believe has initiated a significant change in the method of teaching that subject. The son of the late Prof. Floyd Russell Mechem, of the University of Chicago, who was perhaps the greatest authority in England and America on the law of agency, Professor Philip Mechem is co-author of a widely used casebook on wills and administration.

Those of the resident faculty who will teach at Chapel Hill this summer are: Professors James H. Chadbourn, Frederick B. McCall, Robert H. Wettach, and Dean M. T. Van Hecke. Professor Chadbourn will teach administration of justice during during the first term. Professors Wettach, McCall, and Dean Van Hecke will teach constitutional law, personal property, and contracts, respectively, during the second term.

Diehl Features With Win over Champion

(Continued from page three)

Looking like an animal about to leap at his prey, Diehl came out for the third round. Both boys battled on fairly even terms for this round with Hahn attempting to stage a last minute rally. Diehl ended up in good shape and was the recipient of the verdict rendered by Referee Heinie Miller of the United States Marine Corps.

In another scrap filled with action, Captain Sam Giddins proved the master of the situation against Morty Caplin of Virginia. A different Giddins was seen in action last night as Giddins instead of boxing his opponent and sparring cautiously, waded into his adversary and repeatedly scored with long rights to his opponents mid-section and face.

There was no doubt as to the superiority of Gids over Caplin and the raising of his hand by the referee was more or less of a token of formality.

The light heavyweight class saw Maxie Novich retaining his unblemished record of varsity victories when he was awarded the decision of referee Miller over Jack Noll. The bout was sprinkled with thrills as Novich landed many heavy punches and scored telling body blows. Despite the fact that he was handicapped by his competitors reach and height, Novich, showing all the color of his namesake, Maxie Baer, ploughed in until the final gong sounded. This was his third consecutive win this year and he also looms as a contender for an SIC championship.

The bout that gave evidence of a real boxing exhibition, featured Joe Fisher and Southern Conference champion Womer. Both boys fought a heady battle and the decision of Mr. Miller, which was announced as a draw, was well received by the crowd. The bout was a hard one to call, and each blow that was scored counted heavily in favor of the scorer.

Womer is undoubtedly the best boxer on the invading Cavalier outfit and is a genuine product of the La Rowe school of boxing. Fisher showed up well in his third varsity start, and the probable return meeting of these two boys in the Southern Conference will be well worth seeing.

Ernie Eutsler, diminutive featherweight of the Carolina squad, showed up well in spite of his loss to Gordon Rainey of Virginia. Eutsler was too small for his lengthy adversary and was unable to get to his opponent as a result of this. Rainey is a clever boxer, a hard hitter and a man truly deserving of wearing the crown of the Southern Conference featherweights.

Johnnie Edwards also found the going rough in his bout with Marion Brooks. Edwards was called upon at the last minute to substitute for Tommy O'Flaherty, who was declared ineligible due to scholastic difficulties. Edwards should be given much credit for his gameness and pluck and will profit by the experience he received.

Carolina was forced to forfeit the junior middleweight class to the Cavaliers when the powerful Jule Medynski, a heavy favorite to register a win for the Tar Heels, was also declared ineligible at the last minute due to scholastic difficulties.

Murray Kanner made a valiant effort to gain the meet for Carolina but was thwarted in his attempts by the gigantic Fred Cramer of Virginia. Kanner held his opponent evenly for the first two rounds but weakened in the final stanza to permit the rangy Cramer to romp off with the decision.

TRIANGLE?

Joan Crawford, Robert Montgomery, Frances Drake in "Forsaking All Others," playing at the Carolina theatre tomorrow and Tuesday.

TAR BABY BOXERS GO DOWN BEFORE CAVALIER FROSH

(Continued from page three)

referee's decision went to Schmidt. Both yearlings stood toe to toe and walloped each other around the ring and the bell ending the third round found them out on their feet hitting with the same power that they had displayed in the first stanza. However Schmidt's southpaw style had Marty puzzled throughout the fight, and it wasn't until the close of the bout that Shmurak solved the other's peculiar offensive.

May Out in First

May, Carolina's 159-pounder, was the victim of similar circumstances as his opponent, Cowgill stepped out in the first round and forced May to take the defensive. May fought back scrappily, but the heavier Virginian backed him against the ropes and applied the finishing touches in one minute and 52 seconds of round one.

In the remaining two bouts of the evening two game frosh met defeat at the hands of their more experienced opponents when Oliver lost the decision to Brown in the 169-lb. class, and Leake was the victim of a knockout punch thrown by Weeks in one minute and five seconds of the first round in the heavyweight fight.

Mural Basketball Has 13 in Unbeaten Ranks

(Continued from page three)

pa Sigma v. Chi Phi; 4:45—(1) S. A. E. v. Chi Psi, (2) Zeta Psi v. Phi Gamma Delta, (3) Old West v. Aycock.

Wednesday: 3:45 — (1) Grimes v. Locals, (2) Theta Chi v. Sigma Chi; 4:45—(1) Delta Tau Delta v. Beta Theta Pi, (2) Lewis v. Ruffin, (3) Mangum No. 1 v. Manly.

Thursday: 3:45 — (1) Phi Gamma Delta v. Phi Sigma Kappa, (2) S. P. E. v. Chi Phi, (3) Phi Delta Theta v. Phi Kappa Sigma; 4:45—(1) S. A. E. v. St. Anthony Hall, (2) Law School v. Aycock, (3) Theta Kappa Nu v. T. E. P.

Friday: 3:45—(1) Everett v. Smithsonians, (2) Z. B. T. v. Lambda Chi Alpha; 4:45—(1) Mangum No. 1 v. Locals, (2) Kappa Alpha v. Chi Psi, (3) Alpha Epsilon v. Sigma Nu.

Carolina Frosh Star

(Continued from page three)

period.

126—Ehringhaus (NC) over Willis, time advantage of 5:20.

135—Ford (NC) over Henshaw by fall 4:05.

145—Claypoole (NC) over Snook by fall 3:50.

155—Skinner (NCS) over Gibbons, time advantage of 7:23.

165—James (NC) over Weitlaup by fall 3:55.

175—Love (NC) over Williams by fall 2:40.

Unlimited—Durland (NCS) over Schulman by fall 3:10.

Children's Art Classes

Miss Virginia Tuttle, art instructor in Peabody, is well pleased with the progress being made by her various art classes. There are over twenty-five children in the classes at present, and they are doing some very interesting and creative work.

Some extra classes have been added to the schedule as follows: children aged 4, 5, and 6 will meet from 1:45 to 2:45 on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons; students 7 years and older will meet after school till five o'clock on Tuesday and Wednesday.

The fee for the youngsters is $4.00; for the others it will be $6.00. There are two rooms in which the different groups may work. All materials, paint, modeling clay, pastelles, and paper are furnished by Miss Tuttle.

PLANS MADE FOR SIC INDOOR MEET

(Continued from page three)

yard dash, 70-yard high hurdles, 880-yard run, and one mile relay.

Freshman Division

The Freshman division, which is open to all college freshmen, will have the 60-yard dash, 70-yard high hurdles, three-quarter mile run, one mile relay, and high jump.

Invitations to participate in the games have been mailed to the members of the Southern Conference, to 29 non-conference universities and colleges, and 82 high and prep schools.

North Carolina captured the indoor title in the Conference division last year with 31.6 points, finishing only 1.1 points ahead of Virginia.

Catholic University won the Non-Conference title last year with 13 points, followed by Davidson with 10.

Atlanta Boy's High led the teams in the Scholastic division with 17 points. Newark Prep came second with nine points.

A fine array of star track performers from the South and the East is expected to participate in the meet this year.

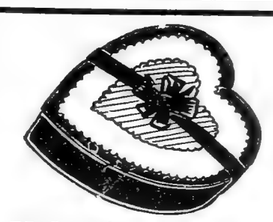
B. Y. P. U. Program

The B. Y. P. U. program at the Baptist church tonight will be presented by girls from the Women's college. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Junior Economic Students

All juniors in the school of economics will meet in room 103 Bingham during Chapel period tomorrow.

MURAL MEETING



There will be a very important meeting of the intramural basketball managers tomorrow evening at Emerson stadium at 7:30 o'clock. All managers are requested to be present or represented.

Committee Plans Alumni Day Project

The alumni reunion committee met yesterday afternoon to arrange a program for alumni at commencement. Alumni Day will be June 10, and on this day class meetings will be held at 10 a.m. of the classes of '85, '94, '95, '96, '97, '10, '13, '14, '15, '16, '25, '32, '33, and '34.

An alumni luncheon has been planned for this date at 1 p.m., and at 9 p.m. the annual alumni ball will begin.

The choice of classes to reunite each year is made according to what is known as the Dix plan. This play is designed to allow three different generations of classes to assemble each year, so that an alumnus, in the course of several reunions, meets again the members of all seven of the classes with whom he was in college.

Valentine Candies
Just Arrived
Select a box now for your girl
SUTTON DRUG CO.

JOAN CLARK ROBERT

Crawford·Gable·Montgomery

Joan has two lovers now . . . and what lovers! She likes them both . . . can't decide between them. But, whoever wins, you'll have the love-time and laugh-time of your life with these three happy stars together!

FORSAKING ALL OTHERS

with
CHARLES BUTTERWORTH — BILLIE BURKE
—OTHER FEATURES—
Color Cartoon — Travelaugh — News

Monday—Tuesday

RAMON NOVARRO, EVELYN LAYE in "The Night Is Young" WEDNESDAY

MAY ROBSON, FAY WRAY in "Mills of the Gods" THURSDAY

CLAUDETTE COLBERT, C. AUBREY SMITH in "The Gilded Lily" FRIDAY

LYLE TALBOT in "Murder in the Clouds"

CAROLINA

COMING "Broadway Bill" with Warner Baxter

DI AND PHI SOCIETIES
7 P. M.
NEW WEST—NEW EAST

The Daily Tar Heel

DEBATE COUNCIL
9 P. M.
209 GRAHAM MEMORIAL

SERVED BY THE UNITED PRESS

VOLUME XLIII | CHAPEL HILL, N. C., TUESDAY, JANUARY 29, 1935 | NUMBER 91

KOO SAYS BIBLE DOES NOT STAND AS MORAL GUIDE

Chinese Declares Book Has Broader and Deeper Meaning In "Vital Religion."

TALKS TO ALL CHURCHES

"The life of the Bible as an ethical guidebook is limited, but its life as a revelation is infinite and inestimable," Dr. T. Z. Koo, noted Chinese lecturer, told the combined congregations of the Chapel Hill churches in a special religious service Sunday night.

Dr. Koo spoke on "The Vitality of the Religious Life." He talked under the auspices of the University Y. M. C. A. in cooperation with the village churches.

"Revelation, Not Ethics"

"The real purpose of the life of Christ is to provide a revelation of God and not to point a moral law," asserted Dr. Koo. "When we go to Christ's life seeking guidance on such questions as communism, patriotism, and war and peace," he said, "we often come away feeling that Christ was a little too vague and that his teaching has long since been out of date.

"One place where we are weakest," he asserted, "is that in this modern day we have lost the sense of the presence of God. The term 'God' is simply a cloak to cover a spot of vagueness within us. The way to see God," he continued, "is the historic way of the church—through the life of Christ."

Advises Contemplation

Dr. Koo told his audience that a fault of scientific analysis is that it fails to give a view of an object as a whole. After the analysis, he said, there ought to be a second process—one of contemplation.

"It is in this coming back to an object for a second consideration," said Dr. Koo, "that the beauty of it comes into the heart." The use of the scientific process lays its penalty, he said, the more you break up the object in examining it the less of its beauty you see. "The contemplation process is necessary to bring God nearer to us," he asserted.

STETSON TAILORS FILE BANKRUPTCY

No Action or Statement as Yet by Local Chain Store.

Stetson "D" Tailors, Inc., with stores in Baltimore, Md., and Charlottesville, Va., as well as Chapel Hill, has filed suit for voluntary bankruptcy with the United States District Court in Maryland to the extent of $11,000, creditors of that concern here were informed yesterday.

Carl V. Starkloff has been named receiver and W. Ainsworth Parker, referee.

There will be a meeting of the creditors of the company and other interested parties in room 507, Post Office building, Baltimore, Md., at 3 p. m. on February 4.

No statement has yet been made by the management of the local store as to when it will close its doors.

French Club Meeting

The French Club will hold its regular weekly meeting this evening at 7:15 o'clock in the Episcopal parish house.

Co-ed Ball

The women students of the University will hold their quarterly dance Friday evening from 9:30 until 1 o'clock in the gymnasium.

The orchestra has not been announced. Bids will be on sale as soon as arrangements for the dance have been completed.

PHI WILL SELECT SPEAKER TONIGHT

Assembly to Debate Fairness of Boxers' Withdrawal from Virginia Matches.

The Phi Assembly will elect a speaker for the spring quarter at the regular weekly meeting at 7 o'clock tonight in New East.

The special election of speaker is called in order to place pictures of all three speakers in the Yackety Yack.

The joint meeting, scheduled with the Di Senate after the regular sessions of the two societies, has been postponed.

Bill on Boxers

The following bills will be discussed tonight: Resolved, That the action of the administrative officials in withdrawing two Carolina boxers from the Virginia meet was unjust.

Resolved, That the Phi Assembly favor the entrance of the United States into the World Court; and Resolved, That the lecture system is preferable to other methods of teaching.

Members wishing to make the trip to Raleigh in order to attend the session of the State Legislature Thursday are asked to communicate with Albert Ellis, chairman of the transportation committee.

GERTRUDE STEIN WILL TALK HERE

Famous Author to Speak in Gerrard Hall February 14; Seats to Be Limited.

A Chapel Hill audience limited to 500 will have the opportunity of trying to fathom Gertrude Stein and her impressionistic or hermetic or what-have-you writing February 14.

Miss Stein will come here under the auspices of the University English department and will appear in Gerrard hall. The size of the audience will be limited because she refuses to speak before more than 500 people at a time.

Potter Sends Speaker

Russell Potter, former member of the English department here and now connected with Columbia University, has made it possible for the writer to come to the University.

Miss Stein is in America now on a lecture tour and is said to have shown considerable interest in the undergraduate students she has met at the colleges where she has lectured.

The local chapter of the American Association of University Women, which will be in charge of selling tickets for the occasion, has made no definite arrangements in this direction as yet.

Commerce Juniors

All juniors in the school of commerce will meet during assembly period Thursday in 103 Bingham.

WHITE TO SPEAK ON ARMS MAKERS

Debate Council to Discuss Munitions Industry in Preparation For West Virginia Debate.

Dr. A. M. White of the chemistry department will address the Debate Council's seminar at 9 p. m. in 209 Graham Memorial.

Professor White will continue a discussion of the munitions industry. Last week he presented the case against government ownership of this business.

The discussion to follow will anticipate the coming debate with the University of West Virginia here February 12, on the query: Resolved, That the munitions industry be nationalized.

To Take Affirmative

Carolina will support the affirmative side of the question.

Professor W. A. Olsen, faculty advisor of the debate squad, announced yesterday that tryouts for the West Virginia debates, as well as the debates with Wake Forest on the Pi Kappa Delta question, will occur within the coming week.

The Wake Forest debate will have the query: Resolved, That the nations of the world agree to prevent the shipment of arms and munitions.

CLERGYMEN URGE NEW TOLERANCE

Visiting Speakers of Three Sects Stress Use of Sportsmanship in Modern Society.

Protestanism, Judaism, and Catholicism each contributed a clergyman to a religious seminar in Gerrard hall last night which was sponsored by the National Conference of Jews and Christians, devoted to a better understanding of religious principles.

Tracing the descent of religious persecution from the birth of Christ, the minister said, "After all these difficulties we've had, I wonder if we have really learned a lesson about inter-group relations." He urged that rules be made stressing good sportsmanship as the prevailing factor in society.

"Know Thyself"

Father Riggs, Catholic priest, asserted, "Ignorance of what people are really like is an evil thing; knowledge is a good thing. We must know what we are respectively like in order for a movement of mutual understanding to be a success."

Rabbi Morris Lazaron, Reformed Jewish clergyman, "was brought up in the south with Christian associates and so became well informed on the prejudices against the Jews.

"I feel as a Jew," he said, "that we have a great deal to learn from Christians, and, similarly, that we have a great deal to give."

A discussion period followed the seminar meeting.

INFIRMARY LIST

The following students were confined in the infirmary yesterday: L. A. McAdams, Fred Cochran, Jim Finley, Charles Robinson, J. A. Taylor, Francis Glenn, W. C. Andrews, R. D. Wesson, Ruth Green, Ann Vass, Bruce Smith, W. S. Markham, C. M. Davis, Paul Means, J. M. Seibfried J. R. Barrett, R. B. Hardison, E. S. Shoof, Maurice Haggard, and Tom Hines.

Mrs. Holmes Will Read "Children's Hour"

Hellman's Drama Will Be Read In Bull's Head Shop.

Appearing on the first presentation of the winter quarter for the Bull's Head bookshop, Mrs. Urban T. Holmes will read Lillian Hellman's "The Children's Hour" at the bookshop at 4:30 p. m. today.

"The Children's Hour," in a juvenile setting, treats of a very peculiar psychological problem and the current drama has succeeded in stirring up considerable comment among the showgoers.

Mrs. Holmes' appearance will open the winter quarter series of regular Tuesday afternoon Bull's Head lectures. Today's speaker has appeared before Carolina audiences on several previous occasions.

FROSH HEAR AIMS OF THREE SECTS

Rabbi, Priest, Minister Declare All Seek "Social Justice And World Peace."

Questions and answers formed the discussion among a Jewish rabbi, a Catholic priest, and a Protestant clergyman at freshman assembly yesterday.

Rabbi Morris S. Lazaron of the Baltimore Hebrew Congregation, Father T. Lawrason Riggs, chaplain of the Catholic Club at Yale, and the Reverend Everett R. Clinchy, director of the National Conference of Jews and Christians, who are giving a series of seminars and conferences before universities, colleges, and high schools all over the country, led the program.

"Harmonious Union"

Reverend Clinchy declared the task of Jews, Catholics, and Protestants is to live together harmoniously.

"The great aims for social justice and world peace are aims on which Protestants, Catholics, and Jews can stand together," Clinchy said.

The Protestant minister, in questioning Father Riggs, asked if the Catholics thought all Protestants and Jews were going to hell. Father Riggs in replying, said, "No, we believe that no one loses his soul who does not knowingly sin against the Light. Anyone will be saved if he follows the Light as he sees fit."

"Father Advises"

On being asked if Catholics have to do what the father confessor tells him, Father Riggs replied, "No, the father confessor advises the penitent. He guides, but doesn't rule. If the penitent holds a reasonable view of his actions, the priest cannot force him to change."

The Reverend Mr. Clinchy asked Rabbi Lazaron if the Jews are a solid bloc. The rabbi said that Jews are to be classed just as any other group because, they are in disunion. "There are good Jews, and bad Jews; rich Jews and poor Jews. Some are Republicans, some are Democrats. The tragedy is that every Jew wants to be a leader."

Rabbi Lazaron was then asked what the chief Jewish aims and views were. He replied, "The Jewish aims and views are the same as the Protestants and Catholics. We consider our religion, not racial, but universal."

Telling the Jewish idea of Jesus, he said that formally they connected only persecution.

Boxers Leave Chapel Hill; Council Postpones Hearing

Feature Board

The feature board of the DAILY TAR HEEL will meet in 209 Graham Memorial at 3 o'clock today.

HAWKES REVIEWS EDUCATION TREND

Educator Speaking at Luncheon Here Questions Advisability of Comprehensives.

"The undergraduate curriculum has undergone many healthy changes in the last 25 years, and there must continue to be adjustments so long as we live in such a rapidly changing social order," Dean Herbert E. Hawkes, noted educator, of Columbia University, asserted in an address yesterday at a luncheon given him by the University.

Discussing curriculum changes, a problem that has occupied the University faculty here for the past several years, Dean Hawkes exploded several pet theories held by some educators.

Questions Comprehensive

He said he doubted the wisdom of superimposing a comprehensive examination on top of work ordinarily done in the liberal arts college except where the tutorial system is employed.

He would also oppose the proposal that a student should be awarded a degree any time he is able to pass a comprehensive examination, regardless of the length of time he has been in college.

"Mere information is not a substitute for a college career, for there are many things other than book learning that a student obtains from the rich experience of four years in college," Dean Hawkes said.

President Frank P. Graham presided over the luncheon session which was concluded with an animated round-table discussion. Forty members of the faculty attended, among them administrative officers and Columbia alumni. Dean Wannamaker and Dean Green of Duke University were special guests.

Stewarts' Tea

The Reverend and Mrs. Donald Stewart of the Chapel Hill Presbyterian church entertained Rabbi Morris Lazaron, the Reverend Everett Clinchy, and a group of students at tea yesterday afternoon.

Di Senate Will Hear Robert Griffin

The Dialectic Senate will convene tonight at 7 o'clock in New West.

The senate will continue a discussion of the World Court question which was considered at the last meeting of the organization.

Robert Griffin, graduate of Lincoln University for Negroes in Pennsylvania, will lead a discussion on interracial problems.

Griffin is working here with Dr. Guy B. Johnson of the sociology department, preparing a report on the race question.

The talk by R. Phillips Russell, scheduled to be presented tonight in Gerrard hall following the session of the literary society, has been postponed.

Entering Catholic U. Is Intention, According To Campus Rumor

Bantamweight Diehl, Medynski's Roommate, Denies Rumor; "Only Taking Rest."

RETURN TODAY, HE SAYS

Jule Medynski and Tom O'Flaherty remained barred from athletic competition here yesterday although their case was supposed to be considered by the Student Council last night.

Postponement of the council's meeting came when it was learned that the students had left Chapel Hill.

Marion Diehl, who rooms with Medynski, said yesterday that the two of them, together with Max Novich, had left for Washington Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

"Visiting Friends"

Campus reports said that the three had left for Washington to try to enter Catholic University, but Diehl denied this, saying that they were visiting friends and intended only to leave for a rest.

They are due to return, said Diehl, this morning.

The Student Council will meet later to make a final decision upon the status of Medynski and O'Flaherty. "The case is entirely in the hands of the council, as it always has been," said Dean of Administration R. B. House last night.

Medynski and O'Flaherty were barred from competition Saturday night just before the Virginia-Carolina boxing meet because their status as North Carolina residents is being questioned.

Novich Exonerated

Novich apparently satisfied the requirements of the committee on residence status, but the other two students' case is still pending consideration.

All three students were called before the committee, which is composed of Dean House as chairman, Dean Bradshaw, Cashier T. H. Evans, and Assistant Registrar Ben Husbands, last Friday morning where they testified as to their claims to North Carolina residence, which, if valid, would obviate their having to pay out-of-state tuition

(Continued on last page)

EXTENSION CLASS TO ACT TONIGHT

John Parker Will Direct Three Plays in Fayetteville.

Appearing at Fayetteville tonight as head of the bureau of community drama of the University extension division, John W. Parker will present his students in English 63 in a bill of three one-act plays.

Parker's Fayetteville pupils present their dramas in the Central school auditorium in Fayetteville. The actors are students in Parker's course in Extension English.

The three plays which will be presented are: "Roalie" by Max Maurey, "Job's Kinfolks" by Loretto Carroll Bailey, and "Sparkin'" by E. P. Conkle.

His Fayetteville presentation is the first of a series of productions directed by Parker in various extension-serviced towns. In conducting his dramatic courses Parker visits his students once each week.

The Daily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Union Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where it is printed daily except Mondays, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Holidays. Entered as second class matter at the post office of Chapel Hill, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 for the college year.

A. T. Dill ..... Editor
Robert C. Page, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
Joe Webb ..... Business Manager
George Underwood ..... Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

EDITORIAL BOARD—Phil Hammer, chairman, Earl Wolslagel, Franklin Harward, John Schulz, DuPont Snowden, Margaret McCauley, Morty Slavin, Sam Leager, Dick Myers, Charles Lloyd, Jake Snyder.

FEATURE BOARD—Nelson Lansdale, chairman; Nick Read, Bob Browder, Francis Clingman, J. E. Poindexter, W. M. Cochrane, Willis Harrison.

CITY EDITORS—Irving Suss, Walter Hargett, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.

TELEGRAPH EDITORS—Stuart Rabb, Charlie Gilmore.

DESK MAN—Eddie Kahn.

SPORTS DEPARTMENT—Jimmy Morris and Smith Barrier, co-editors, Tom Bost, Lee Turk, Len Rubin, Fletcher Ferguson, Stuart Sechriest, Lester Ostrow, Ira Sarasohn.

EXCHANGES—Margaret Gaines.

STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER—Don Becker.

REPORTERS—Bill Hudson, John Smith, J. F. Jonas, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Hazel Beacham, Raymond Howe, William Jordan, Morton Feldman.

Business Staff

ASST. BUSINESS MANAGER ..... Butler French
COLLECTION MANAGER ..... Herbert Osterheld
OFFICE MANAGERS ..... Walter Eckert, Roy Crooks
NATIONAL ADVERTISING ..... Boylan Carr
DURHAM REPRESENTATIVE—Joe Murnick.
LOCAL ADVERTISING—Hugh Primrose, Robt. Sosnik, Eli Joyner (managers), Bill MacDonald, Louis Shaffner, Page Keel, Bill McLean, Crist Blackwell.

CITY EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE: WALTER HARGETT

Tuesday, January 29, 1935

PARAGRAPHICS

The TVA dams are causing the government as much trouble as business did in 1930. It's a tough job keeping the banks from caving in.

Shades of 1929, it went down to 5 yesterday. The only difference between now and '29 is that then it was "whether" and now it's weather.

Freshman's definition of Stein poetry: words out of a victrola when the needle is stuck.

International Highway Toll

A recent issue of "The Illustrated London News" devotes considerable space to a discussion of the appalling number of deaths which are incurred each year on the highways of Great Britain. Possible methods to counteract this loss of human life are advanced; one such plan calls for the construction of elevated roads, similar to the ones of New York, which places pedestrians and motorists on a different altitudinal level. Such a measure has proved highly successful in reducing the mortality rate in congested urban districts.

However, attention is called, in the same article, to the fact that in the United States two people are injured every minute and one killed every eighteen minutes, whereas the average for Great Britain, even in its most bountiful human-harvest season, is only one killed every hour.

A recent report, published by one of the state's prominent newspapers, shows a definite increase in the annual butchery on the highways of North Carolina; this is indicative that our state problem bears a close analogy to the national and international situation.

Some action is needed to curb the spilling of the state's lifeblood on its concrete; the solons at Raleigh should deem it wise to consider carefully the proposed bill to license all drivers. Favorable reports are common from California and other states which have taken similar action in the past.

Coastal Erosion Protection Warranted

Efforts to have the federal government come to the aid of eastern seaboard states in the war on coastal erosion are thoroughly meritorious. Our eastern seaboard is a national asset, and it is in the interest of the entire nation that it should be adequately protected against gradual deterioration.

As was pointed out to the National Resources Board, the region in question includes many areas that are important as health and pleasure resorts. Millions of people visit these beaches annually to enjoy bathing, boating, fishing, and other recreational and resort activities.

The Federal Works program is being worked out at the present time, and attention may well be paid to this potential improvement of the eastern seaboard. This section of the country constitutes states that are among the leading taxpayers of the nation, and their interests deserve to be sympathetically considered.

It is reasonable to assume that the authorities at Washington will not make the mistake of concentrating upon western projects when the need for extensive safeguards along the Atlantic seaboard is so acute.

Whose Bob?

It is quite unusual to have two senators in Congress such as those of whom North Carolina can boast. On the World Court question, Reynolds and Bailey are at swords' points.

But a great many citizens are beginning to think that junior senator "Our Bob" Reynolds is going a bit too far. In his Sunday night speech, "Our Bob" averred that the Democrats were not obligated in any way to consider the World Court, and in this statement he overlooked a rather important document, insofar as we undergraduate idealists are concerned. The Democratic platform, drawn up at the 1932 national convention prior to the New Deal landslide, stated specifically: "We advocate adherence to the World Court with appending reservations."

"But," shouts Reynolds, "the World Court is nothing but a court of babble, ballyhoo, and bunk—a court of intrigue." One hardly expects a self-styled "good Democrat" such as Reynolds to repudiate his own party's platform in such a manner, but on the other hand, maybe he hasn't taken the trouble of reading "his" party's platform.

Not content with this gross misstatement of fact, "Our Bob" began to exercise his showmanship over the ether in an effort to appeal to the emotions of his radio listeners. In a passionate appeal for "motherly love," he sobbed of the acres of graves filled by the war dead.

For the boys who evaded the grave he favors an immediate payment of the so-called "soldiers' bonus." A great deal of money will be put into circulation this way, he states. No doubt, and a second mortgage will be placed on the house of citizenry, and will be paid off by us of the coming house-tenants. If Reynolds does not favor the World Court for arbitration and talks about graves, why does he favor paying bonuses to soldiers who fought because co-operative arbitration such as the court will offer was not available? As for the money being put into circulation, the government seems to be doing that fast enough in the light of the pocketbooks of tomorrow's taxpayers.

Open the Tin Can

Elbows, feet, all pushing, shoving. A woman almost fainting and a boy on crutches trying to get to the open air. People gasping for air on all sides and being jammed closer and closer together.

Everyone who has attended any of the recent athletic events in the Tin Can knows well what a horrible push there was at the two small entrances immediately after Saturday's event was ended. Neither was it particularly easy to get into the Tin Can before the event.

A very small percentage of the wall area of the Can is devoted to entrances in consideration of its large capacity. The entrances are nowhere near adequate for the enormous crowds which use them.

Suitable exits could be provided so easily that there is no reason why such a condition should exist longer. The walls are merely tin and they could very simply be cut so as to enlarge the doors or to form new entrances.

With such a ready remedy at hand there is absolutely no excuse for this situation. The dangerous situation must be altered.

It Was So Wonderful . . .

The dance which the co-eds tendered "campus leaders" Friday night has almost unanimously been acclaimed one of the most successful and delightful social affairs in the current undergraduate life span. The novelty of a card dance on a campus where such ideas are usually regarded as impossible added a particular spice to the event.

We have been persistently beseeched since Friday night to "fight like —— for another such invitation." Fellows actually feel vociferous about the matter. So we present this plea along with this encomium, that such an event be made an annual if not a semi-annual, quarterly, monthly, or weekly affair.

The fact that the male invitees feel so strongly about the matter, accentuated by the delight which they showed at the dance, should be an incentive to Spencerites or other campus woman organizations to sponsor more such affairs for the general well-being of the campus.

Increment Below the Line

The spring offerings of Scribners, one of the largest and most famous of American publishing houses, lists among the four featured presentations a novel by Thomas Wolfe, ex-University-ite, and two other books about the south.

The significance lies in the realization that although literature has long found the south a source of inspiration, the reading public is at last considering southern novels and sketches as its particular choice. Evidently, the publishers have realized this taste. Financially, the south is now the box-office attraction.

SPEAKING the CAMPUS MIND

Faults in College Boxing

Editor, The DAILY TAR HEEL:

In this I am not resentful of the fact that Virginia beat us twice in boxing last Saturday night. Rather I want to bring to the attention of the campus several things that I noticed and firmly believe should be corrected.

I am supposing—at least I hope—that the whole campus knows by this time the real indirect reason why we lost the varsity match. It is true that we did meet one of he best college teams in the country, and it is also true that we might have won. Might I add that I was perfectly satisfied with the refereeing.

The second thing is that it is quite unsanitary, if not actually dangerous, for the seconds to wash off the rubber teeth protectors of each of the sixteen fighters in the same water that the others use to rinse out their mouths and even drink in small quantities. I should like to see this corrected.

Finally, to climax it all, in the freshman fights a boxer was put in the ring with only two days of practice—if you dare call the day before a match a practice—and put in the ring with an opponent who is experienced in boxing. I wonder if the coach stopped to think what might happen under the conditions as those which arise when an unexperienced, untrained, and out-of-shape freshman meets an opponent such as one should expect to find fighting. Did the coach think, or did he insert him just to have a chance to, not win, but merely to tie the match? Is victory so important that a boy's health is risked? As it is there are enough men who enter a boxing ring well coached, trained, and in fighting condition and yet become what is commonly called "punch drunk." Lest you doubt what I say about this, just recall the boxers that have fought for us here in, say the last four years, if you have been here that long. To risk this "minute man" in the ring with no preparation at all is more than foolish. I think it is just short of criminal.

In concluding, please do not get the idea that I do not like boxing. I admire it as a sport and like to watch the contests. But let us give the men at least an even chance. Remember, one tie is not nearly as important as the safety and health of a man.

A STUDENT.

Come Early

Desk Man Kahn, Exchange Editor Gaines, Staff Photographer Becker, Telegraph Editors Rabb and Gilmore, and City Editors Suss, Hargett, Sarratt, McKee, and Daniel will meet at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon in front of Graham Memorial to have their aggregate picture taken for the Yackety Yack.

REASON:

The one made last Thursday was called off on account of darkness. If the one today is not satisfactory, finger prints will be taken instead.

State A. S. C. E. Meeting

Professor T. F. Hickerson of the civil engineering department and W. A. King, member of the local A. S. C. E., attended a state section meeting of the society at Raleigh, Saturday.

A discussion of safety designing for highways was led by Professor Hickerson. Soil erosion, government mapping, and surveys were also discussed.

Casual Correspondent by Nelson Lansdale

REFORMATION

Phil Hammer dug this one up from Article XI of the Constitution of North Carolina. You'll find that Section 2 reads as follows: "Death punishment. The object of punishment being not only to satisfy justice, but also to reform the offender, and thus prevent crime, murder, arson, burglary, and rape, and these only, may be punishable with death, if the General Assembly shall so enact."

BRAIN TEASER

Willie Wang, onetime editoralist for the DAILY TAR HEEL, has a story that's vaguely reminiscent of the "Brothers and sisters have I none, yet that man's father is my father's son" riddle that had everybody making family trees on paper a few years ago. This one concerns the shah of Persia, who was obliged to execute a friend of his. To his friend he said: "Make a statement to me. If it's false, you'll be hanged. If it's true, you'll be shot." The friend replied: "I'm going to be hanged," and the shah had to free him. Figure it out for yourself.

E PLURIBUS TRES

A member of the Romance Language department's faculty was lecturing. "During the Crusades," he said, "more than 20 tons, 20 tons, mind you, of nails supposed to have been taken from the cross on which Christ was crucified, were carried back as relics from the Holy land. We have three of those nails in the office somewhere." He paused for air, and the pause suddenly became dramatic. An intense young man on the back row leaned forward eagerly, and said: "Gosh!"

YOU'RE THE CREAM IN MY COFFEE

There's one about a pretty particular student who won't drink condensed milk in his coffee. Eating at the Grill the other day, he called one of the waiters over and asked: "Connie, what kind of milk is this?"

"That milk? Why that's Sparrow's milk, suah."

Our friend had heard of goat's milk, and canned milk, and cow's milk, but sparrow's milk was most too much for him. "Whaddya mean, sparrow's milk?" he demanded.

Connie's answer was puzzled: "Jus' like Ah tells you, boss. That there milk comes in every mornin' from Sparrow's Dairy."

EMPEROR BING-PONG

The ping-pong set Bing Crosby promised the boys in Lewis came Saturday. It includes a sturdy table, four paddles, and five balls, two of which have already been broken up. On the table, which is in the game room, is a little brass plate which bears this inscription: "Ouch Ala. 29, Cards 13. 1-1-35 Bing Crosby."

IS COMING IS COMING IS COMING

Word was received yesterday that Gertrude Stein, with Alice B. Toklas, will definitely be the University's Valentine. She'll be here on February 14 for sure. In that connection, we thought you might like to see an editorial we clipped from the Washington Post way back in September. Here it is:

"Gertrude Stein is coming to America after living for 30 years in Paris. Paris, pre-war Paris, cosmopolitan Paris, Paris of Montmartre. From Paris is coming Stein, is coming Gertrude, Gertrude, buttons and gertrude.

"To Minneapolis, it pleases her to go, to Minneapolis, Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minnesota, Minnesota, wheat, no wheat, all is wheat, wheat and wallace, and wallace. All is Minneapolis, all is beer, all is stein. Stein and beer. Beer is Minneapolis, Minneapolis is beer, Stein is Stein. Stein, Stein, Stein, says Stein.

"Gertrude Stein, expatriate, is coming home! She expects to remain in this country for a month, lecturing in six American universities and traveling as far West as Minneapolis. Apparently she has changed her mind since she wrote a year ago: 'One of the things that I have liked all these years is to be surrounded by people who know no english . . . And they none of them could read a word I wrote.' Divided by two, this leaves in the world those people who know no English and therefore can not read a word she writes and those people who know English and still can not read a word she writes.

"In a dispatch from Paris, Miss Stein admits to a fear that she will collapse from stage fright on the lecture tour of our universities. Coming from her, this modesty is somewhat overwhelming. She has always been essentially of Stein, for Stein, and by Stein. She appears to have the cart before the horse. In the event of collapsing, it will probably be the audience and not the speaker. We have tried to show you why."

OUTSTANDING RADIO BROADCASTS

1:00: George Hall orchestra, WABC.

4:45: Dick Messner orchestra, WABC.

5:00: From London: Future Policy of Great Britain in India—Winston Churchill, former Chancellor of the Exchequer, WJZ.

6:00: New York after 25 Years—Stefan Zweig, author, WJZ.

6:45: Lowell Thomas, commentator, WJZ.

8:00: Borrah Minevitch Harmonica Band, WOR; Frank Munn, tenor; Hazel Glenn, soprano; concert orch., WABC.

8:30: Wayne King, orchestra, WEAF; Lawrence Tibbett, baritone; John B. Kennedy, narrator, WJZ.

9:00: Bing Crosby; Mills Bros.; Stoll orch., WABC; Ben Bernie orch; Movie Stars of the Silent Film Days, WEAF; Grace Moore, songs, WJZ.

9:30: Ed Wynn, comedian; Eddy Duchin orch., WEAF; Isham Jones orch., Bernice Claire, songs, WABC.

10:00: Operetta—The Desert Song, with Gladys Swarthout, soprano; John Barclay, and others, WEAF; Problems of the Hour—Bainbridge Colby, attorney, WJZ; Glen Gray orch.; Annette Hanshaw, songs; Walter O'Keefe, WABC.

Sound Demonstration

C. V. Kettering, a representative of the Fairchild Electric company, will give a demonstration of the Fairchild electrical sound recorder in Hill Music hall this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

PROFESSORS' ASSOCIATION WILL CONVENE TONIGHT

The local chapter of the American Association of University Professors will meet this evening in the Episcopal parish house to elect officers and to make plans for joint meetings with the Duke and State chapters.

THE
Young Men's Shop
126-128 E. Main St.
DURHAM, N. C.

Phantoms Stage Rally In Second Half To Down Gobbler Cage Club, 29-13

LOSERS LEAD 8-6 AT END OF HALF

Tar Heels Look Ragged During Part of Game; Aitken Leads Comeback with 9 Points.

PAUL KAVENY IS STAR

Coach Bo Shepard's White Phantoms made their first home appearance last night following their successful northern trip, and after playing ragged ball the first half, came back to win over V. P. I. by 29-13.

Captain Snooks Aitken opened the fireworks in the second half and, aided by Mel Nelson and Paul Kaveny, continued this fine play to give the Tar Heels their advantage which they held after three minutes had passed of the last period.

Aitken was individual high scorer by sinking four baskets from action and adding a gratis toss for a total of 9 points. His passing and floor play also featured the rally in the second half.

Nelson Tallies 8

Not but a lone point behind was Nelson with 6 points from play and a pair of free throws. All of Aitken's points were tallied during the last period comeback while Nelson garnered seven of his during the same time.

Paul Kaveny turned in a stellar performance by his sharp shooting of long shots and close guarding. He marked himself as a basketball "triple-threat" man by playing in all positions —guard, center, and forward.

Day, the petit Gobbler forward, played heads-up ball for the losers. His passing, dribbling, and all-around floor work was the stronghold of the V.P.I. team, although his eye for the hoop was weak. Snead was the high scorer of the Gobblers by sinking five points in the first half.

Gobbler Guards Star

The V.P.I. guards, Captain Mattola and Fittro, played good ball. Mattola was injured in the beginning of the second period and was forced to leave the

(Continued on last page)

Box Score

U.N.C.	G	F	TP
Aitken, f	4	1	9
Nelson, f	3	2	8
Glace, c	2	2	6
McCachren, g	0	2	2
Harris, g	0	0	0
Kaveny, g	2	0	4
Totals	11	7	29

V.P.I.	G	F	TP
Snead, f	2	1	5
Day, f	1	1	3
Evans, c	0	2	2
Dickerson, c	0	1	1
Mattola, g	0	0	0
Fittro, g	1	0	2
Totals	4	5	13

Score at half: V.P.I. 8, U.N.C. 6; non-scoring subs: U.N.C.—Blood, Webster, Minor, Harrison, Ramsey; V.P.I.—Hage, Stump, McAlpin, Tokanz; referees: Gerard (Illinois) and Knight (Durham Y).

Dekes, Swain Hall, Ruffin Take Win In Mural Battles

D. T. D. and Mangum No. 2 Out of Unbeaten Ranks; Thomas, Merryfield High Scorers.

The number of undefeated teams was reduced to 11 in the intramural basketball competition yesterday afternoon as D. K. E. swamped Delta Tau Delta, 33-12, and Ruffin defeated Mangum No. 2, 41-25. Swain Hall took the third game of the session with a 46-14 triumph over the Smithsonians.

The Dekes, with Frank Alexander back at the pivot position, found the hoop often and had little trouble in combatting Delta Tau Delta. Bill Moore and Simmons Patterson, with 13 and 12 points respectively, paced the victors; while Corwith, with a brace of double-pointers, did best for the Deltas.

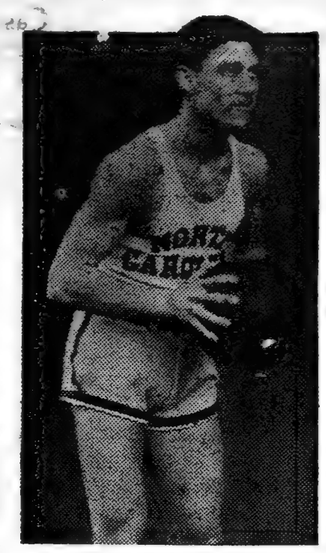
Ruffin displayed a well balanced team in earning its second victory and dropping its upper quadrangle foes from the ranks of the undefeated. Merryfield and Pool led the victors with 14 and 13 points respectively and teamed up well at the forward posts. Smith and Edens were outstanding for the Mangum club.

Swain Hall continued to ride the crests with an easy 41-25 score over the Smithsonians. Thomas headed the offense with seven field goals, while all the Swain team came through in fine manner.

The summaries:

D.K.E. 33	Delta Tau Delta 12
Patterson, f (12)	MacGollum, f
Morris, f	Shores, f (2)
Alexander, f (4)	Rouiller, c
Moore, g (13)	Fletcher, g
Warren, g	Corwith, g (6)

Subs: D. K. E.—Willis (4); Delta Tau Delta—Curry (4), Davis, Whicker.



Swain Hall 46	Smithsonians 14
Wright, f (8)	Nicholes, f (2)
Thomas, f (14)	Abels, f
Burton, c (5)	Hunte, c
Little, g (7)	LeBarony, g (8)
Brown, g (8)	Coffield, g (2)

Subs: Swain Hall—Allen (4), Little; Smithsonians — Fletcher, Knight (2).

Ruffin 41	Mangum No. 2, 25
Merryfield, f (14)	Edens, f (6)
Pool, f (13)	Studdert, f (2)
Hicks, c (4)	Gwyn, c (6)
Oglesby, g (1)	Smith, g (8)
Sale, g (5)	Whitley, g

Subs: Ruffin—Hunt (2), Garrison (2), Stricker, Minor; Mangum No. 2—Caldwell, Dascensio, Hendrickson (3).

Real Leader

Captain Snooks Aitken who, after his team had played a pitiful first half, came back fighting in the last half to lead the White Phantoms in their 29-13 victory over V. P. I. last night. The little forward was way off form during the first 20 minutes but flashed plenty of stuff in the final part of the game. He lead the point-making with 9 points, all of the tallies coming in the second half.

BERSHAK LEAVES FROSH HOOPSTERS

Earl Ruth Attains High Scoring Lead with 55 Points, One More Than Pete Mullis.

Paced by Earl Ruth, who has annexed high scoring honors during the recently completed trip, the Carolina frosh are priming for their coming clash with the State yearlings tomorrow night.

The team routed its three rivals on successive nights during the week-end, opening with Charlotte High on Thursday and romping over them 38-15.

Make Clean Sweep

On Friday night the frosh turned back Belmont 40-20 and ended their invasion of the Charlotte vicinity by routing Davidson by the decisive count of 43-22 the following night.

Red Meroney, carrot-topped center, rolled up a total of 28 points on the tour and Andy Bershak is the only one to come close with 21 markers.

This splurge by Meroney carried him to third spot in high scoring honors, five points behind Mullis. Ruth leads the squad with 55 points, just one solitary point in advance of Mullis' 54.

Bershak Leaves Squad

Andy Bershak, who is the fourth in the scoring race, will not play again with the Tar Babies due to a conflict with football practice. Unable to participate in both activities at the same time, Bershak has decided to follow the path of the gridiron and cleats.

This brings either Ramsay Potts or Pete Boone into the spotlight as a starting forward. Potts may possibly get the call, but Boone played good ball away from home and may be the one to replace Andy.

Although the frosh swamped their respective opponents and are undefeated to date, Coach Skidmore was not pleased with their play, describing it as sluggish, and adds that if there is not the needed improvement, the Tar Babies are headed for their opening defeat.

Today's Mural Card

3:45—(1) Phi Kappa Sigma vs. Chi Phi.

4:45—(1) S. A. E. vs. Chi Psi, (2) Zeta Psi vs. Phi Gamma Delta, (3) Old West vs. Aycock.

FROSH MATMEN TAKE EASY DRILL

Coach Quinlan Pleased with Tar Babies' Victory over Wolfcubs; Bouts Reviewed.

Rather pleased with the victory won by the freshman grapplers over the Wolfcubs, Coach Quinlan sent his men through a comparatively easy workout yesterday afternoon. The improvement of the team has led the followers to believe that it will bring home another win when it meets W. and L. at Lexington this week-end.

Last Saturday's meet began with a bout between Meadows and Patrick. The diminutive Patrick was not quite strong enough for his opponent and weakened at the finish of a drawn out bout. At the end of the scheduled time it was found that neither man had the necessary time advantage and two extra periods were called; in the second of the two periods Patrick's resistance gave out and he was pinned in 50 seconds.

Ford Gets Easy Fall

Ehringhaus in the second of the bouts proved to be superior to his opponent but was unable to pin him, gaining a time advantage of 5:20. Ford, one of the aces of the team, in his bout with Hinshaw, put the Carolina team in the lead for the first

(Continued on last page)

GRAPPLERS BEGIN WORK FOR MEET AGAINST W. AND L.

Tar Heel-State Battle Was Close Despite Margin in Points; No Falls Counted.

GENERALS HOLD TITLE

Carolina's varsity wrestlers began earnest preparations yesterday for the Washington and Lee tilt which will be held in Lexington Saturday night.

In meeting the Virginians the Tar Heels will be facing the toughest mat aggregation in Dixie. The Generals, Southern Conference champions for the past three years, have suffered only one defeat in a like period of time.

Last week-end the the N. C. State matmen overwhelmed Coach Quinlan's proteges, 18-6. Despite the decisive beating the meet was really considerably closer than the score would seem to indicate. All of the bouts were decided via the time decision route.

Umstead, Efland Win

The Wolfpack was victorious in six of the eight matches while Carolina's lone victories were counted by Frank Umstead in the 118 and Sim Efland in the 165-lb classes. The State winners were Kerr, 125; Krach, 135; Conup, 145; Captain Bernhardt, 155; Croom, 175; and Troxler, unlimited.

The long heralded scrap between Captain Bernhardt and Bonner proved to be as interesting and as thrilling as was expected. By virtue of his aggressiveness and skill, the brilliant Wolfpack grappler took an early time advantage lead but Bonner came back in the closing moment and almost pinned his adversary by his offensive rushing tactics. The early lead piled up by Bernhardt gave him a 2:55 time decision win.

Although he was not able to gain his usual fall, Frank Um-

(Continued on last page)

NEW MEN REPORT FOR FROSH TEAM

Poor Showing of Yearling Boxers Draws Added Turnout.

The recent Virginia meet seems to have inspired a large turnout for the freshman boxing squad; yesterday afternoon there were many new faces present as the yearling team went through its paces.

It is evident that many of the newcomers are out for the team due to the fact that they believe they can outfight a few of the boys who scrapped on Saturday night. Reliable word has it that quite a few others are going to start their campaign for team berths beginning tomorrow.

Coach Rowe has continually been asking for a larger response to his call for candidates for the first-year boxing squad. It took the Virginia matches to awaken the aspiring pugs.

This new blood is sure to cause a re-awakening on the boxing front as some of the boys will have to show a lot better form to hold their present position. There are only two yearlings who seem solidly installed in their positions and those are Tiger Shores and Ed O'Herron, in the 149 and 139-lb classes respectively.

Ed and the Tiger have been consistent winners and their form during practice as well as in a match warrants considerable praise.

All Co-eds Will Hold Cage Practice Tonight

All of the four classes of co-eds will practice basketball in Bynum gym tonight, the drills scheduled for tomorrow night, January 30, having been changed to tonight at 8 o'clock as a result of the basketball games carded in the Tin Can between Carolina and State.

The revised schedule for tonight follows:

7 o'clock—Sophomores and juniors.

8 o'clock—Freshmen and seniors.

TAR HEEL BOXERS BEGIN WORK FOR WOLFPACK MEET

All Mitmen Are in Good Condition Despite Loss; Diehl Trains for Billosoly.

STATE ACE BEAT TAYLOR

With no ill effects being felt by the 4½-3½ defeat suffered last Saturday night, the boxing squad resumed its training yesterday afternoon for the Wolfpack meet here this Saturday night. No member of the team has any injuries.

"Champ" Diehl, who won so handily last week, has again reached the fighting form that carried him through an undefeated freshman year. He is meeting a tough foe in the bantamweight class being pitted against Turner Billosoly.

Defeated Taylor

This Billosoly is a mean 119-pounder and holds a victory over the Taylor of South Carolina who eked out a close decision over Diehl. However, if Diehl shows the same kind of ring work he did in beating Hahn, Billosoly will be in for a hard evening's work.

Murray Kanner and Lammie Alderman worked out for a few rounds yesterday afternoon and both boys showed up well. Kanner entered the ring last week with but two days of training.

He has been out for winter football and was unable to devote much time to boxing. At present, he is trying hard to land the heavyweight post. Competition is keen in this event as Alderman and Big Jim Carruth are also contesting for the berth.

Captain Giddins showed up well in his bout with Caplin of the Cavaliers and is working diligently for his scrap this week-end. Giddins should be raring to go against State if he retains the beautiful condition he is in now. His scrap was a hard one but Gids finished up well and was breathing easy at the finish.

Grappled by a Goofy Gander?

. . . light an Old Gold

When you're mauled by a Mushy Masher at a masquerade ball . . . don't struggle . . . don't give in . . . Simply light a smooth Old Gold and think of other matters. Old Gold's delightful fragrance will charm your senses . . . and bring him to his.

AT TRYING TIMES . . . . TRY A Smooth OLD GOLD

Football Squad And Coaches Receive Charms From Alumni

Over 100 Graduates Donate for Awards

Mayor Q. K. Numocks of Fayetteville Presents Miniature Footballs for Rankin.

Twenty University football varsity men received gold charms at the Virginia-Carolina boxing match Saturday night through the efforts of over 100 alumni.

Mayor Quincy K. Numocks of Fayetteville presented the miniature footballs in behalf of Claude Rankin, Fayetteville alumnus, who instituted the movement.

Besides the charms, the Millis Trophy for the most outstanding blocking back in the Big Five teams was awarded to Herman Snyder. H. A. Millis of High Point is the donor of the award.

Those contributing for the charms are here listed by their home cities:

Contributors

Asheville—R. R. Reynolds, George Stephens, John Y. Jordan, Jr., Frank Coxe, and Emmet Underwood.

Chapel Hill—Ashby Penn, John Manning, Jack May, Gooch Brothers and Brooks, Alfred Williams and Company, Ledbetter-Pickard, Carolina Coffee Shop, Carolina Theatre, J. C. Lane, Howard Hinton, R. W. Madry, J. M. Saunders, Paul Eubanks, and several University students.

Charlotte—Jake Wade, Artie Newcombe, R. L. Van Landingham, Charles D. McIver, W. George Thomas, Dr. H. L. Sloan and Judge John J. Parker.

Durham:

George Watts Hill, W. T. Carr, K. P. Lewis, C. Knox Massey, J. D. Gibson, Dr. Foy Roberson and Fleming Wily.

Fayetteville—T. W. Crowson, Jr., C. W. Rankin, Joe S. Huske, R. W. Jernigan, Q. K. Numocks, Jr., Thomas A. DeVane, T. M. Wooten, S. W. Robertson, Marsden B. DeRosset, Milton Fleishman, Bruce H. Ellis, H. E. McDaniel, Dennis G. Downing, Pete Tolar, D. T. Perry, Bill Pemberton, Dr. J. W. Gainey, Dr. J. M. Lilly, R. L. Huffines, Jr., J. Warren Pate, Henry T. Drake, Jack Crane, L. E. Reaves, Dr. W. P. McKay, J. W. Moore, Dr. W. A. Pittman, Thomas H. Sutton and R. W. Boling.

Gastonia—George B. Mason and Kay Dixon.

Goldsboro—Kenneth C. Royall, Hugh Waldrop, W. F. Taylor and Arnold Edgerton.

Greensboro:

Ralph C. Price, Sidney B. Allen, Paul W. Schenck, Howard Holderness, Lewis McDaniel, Ben Cone, F. L. Fry, Henry P. Foust, Earl Rives and Dr. S. W. Shaffer.

High Point—J. W. Poole, Dr. O. B. Bonner, Carter Dalton, and Thomas Turner, Jr.

Kinston—Harry C. Hines, R. T. Allen, Eli J. Perry, Dr. C. F. West, and Dr. Frank Parrott.

Lumberton—John G. Proctor, F. E. Carlyle, and Dr. George Allen.

New York City—W. A. Blount, W. D. Carmichael, Jr., and C. McD. Carr.

Oak Ridge—E. P. Holt, Stewart M. Stewart, and Harry M. Hodges.

Raleigh:

Dr. Hubert Haywood, H. M. London, J. B. Cheshire, John H. Anderson, Jr., Alex B. Andrews, Dr. John Wright, J. Dewey Dorrett, Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus and F. C. Cochran.

Rowland—S. L. Adams, Dave Townsend, F. L. Adams, R. W. Burke and Dr. J. McN. Smith.

Salisbury—Stahle Linn, B. C. Toms, Kerr Craige, Kerr Craige Ramsey, Charles Price, T. M. Hines, W. C. Coughenour, C. L. Coggins, Gregory Peeler and Paul Philips.

Warsaw—Henry L. Stevens and Tommy Gresham.

Wilmington—Peter B. Ruffin and R. L. Meares.

Winston-Salem — James A. Gray, Arthur Spaugh, Jr., Agnew H. Bahnson, Bowman Gray, Jr.

Rocky Mount—F. S. Spruill, Jr., Thomas J. Pearsall and F. E. Winslow.

Raeford—Dr. R. A. Matheson and Paul Dickson.

Other Contributors

Others who contributed are: J. F. Patterson, New Bern; R. H. Lewis, Oxford; J. C. Pittman, Sanford; J. W. Winborne, Marion; Dr. Harry P. Gibson, Leesburg, Va.; Dr. J. N. Emmet, Clifton Forge, Va.; Dr. M. D. Bonner, Jamestown; Knox Proctor, Whiteville; H. P. Osborne, Jacksonville, Fla.; Don Holt, Graham; Judge S. E. Shull, Shrowdsburg, Pa.

Dr. A. H. Moore, Doylestown, Pa.; Ex-governor O. Max Gardner, Washington, D. C.; J. S. Ficklen, Greenville; Josephus Daniels, U. S. ambassador to Mexico; Martin Carmichael, Wynnewood, Pa.; T. B. Higdon, Atlanta, Ga.; Noah Goodridge, Boston, Mass.; Graham Woodard, Wilson; Dr. William D. Merritt, Roxboro; George Holderness, Tarboro; Fred J. Cox, Wadesboro; Dr. R. T. S. Steele, Williamsport, Pa.; J. Frank Love, Saxaphaw; Faison Witherington, Mount Olive.

Duncan McRae, Edgewood, Md.; Dr. Irving Stein, Philadelphia, Pa.; Dr. W. D. James, Hamlet; Dr. Sam W. Schenck, Shelby; Emanuel Sugar, St. Paul; J. B. James, Greenville; Milton Best, Freemont; Judge Walter L. Small, Elizabeth City; E. M. McDaniel, Martinsville, Va.; Ben Aycock, Freemont; L. T. Hartsell, Jr., Concord; and F. L. Alderman, St. Paul.

Phantoms Stage Rally To Win Over Gobblers

(Continued from page three)

game soon after.

Carolina could not get started as a team or individually during the first period. The men were wild on their shots and passes and the Gobblers kept the ball in the Tar Heel territory most of the time. Neither team was able to sink a field goal until Snead, visiting forward, cripped one after 7 minutes of play.

The Phantoms' first point came after 10 minutes had elapsed, with Nelson passing to Glace who sank a crip. V.P.I. sank a series of foul shots to give them a 7-2 lead. Kaveny entered the game here and aided by his long shot, the Tar Heels climbed up to a 6-8 score when the half ended.

Phantoms Take Lead

Nelson opened the second half by making a beautiful one-handed shot to knot the count at 8-all. Aitken added two more goals to put Carolina in the lead for the first time and from which they were never headed.

Fittro made good a long shot after 5 minutes had passed, and then for 13 minutes the Gobblers were unable to sink a single point. With Aitken, Nelson, Glace, and Kaveny tallying goals, the Tar Heels added 17 points by breaking in under the basket and shooting short shots from about the foul line.

Day broke the non-scoring period for V.P.I. by a nice one-hand push shot with only two minutes left in the game, and soon after Dickerson added a free toss.

Boxers Leave Town

(Continued from page one)

fees.

The meeting, a special session, was called by the request of President Graham. Coach Crayton Rowe was present.

Each of the students had claimed residence from Charlotte, but there was some question as to whether their contention was well-founded since they had attended northern preparatory schools.

"You Stop That Lying," Shouts Hauptmann

Wilentz and Accused German Come Near Blows in Trial.

Flemington, N. J., Jan. 28.—(UP) — Attorney-General Wilentz and Bruno Hauptmann came near blows during the cross-examination of the defendant today.

"You come here and tell lies," shouted the accusing Wilentz. Hauptmann screamed back that he was innocent and added, "Mister, you stop that lying yourself."

The state contends that it wrung some highly damaging testimony from Hauptmann today, but the defense said that Hauptmann gave Wilentz "a bad day."

Wilentz has some more barbed questions for the cross-examination that may require another day.

Thirteen Are Initiated Into Chi Omega

University Sorority Takes New Group into Membership.

Chi Omega announces the initiation of the following coeds: Nan Norman, Hickory, N. C.; Ellen Deppe, Asheville, N. C.; Frances Caffey, Lyons, Miss.; Bobbie Moore, Cary, N. C.

Sarah Seawell, Chapel Hill, N. C.; Juanita Greene, Harlan, Ky.; Ann Baker, Dayton, Ohio; Catherine Threlkeld, Asheville, N. C.

Margaret Jordan, Chapel Hill, N. C.; Hester Campbell, Covington, Ga.; Mary Virginia Copeland, Marion, N. C.; Mildred Howard, Glasgow, Ky.; and Josephine Cureton, Chester, S. C.

GRAPPLERS BEGIN WORK FOR W. & L.

(Continued from page three)

stead, outstanding bantamweight contender of the Tar Heels easily defeated Bell. Although badly beaten, Bell proved to be game and elusive but was able to keep the Carolinian from pinning his shoulders to the mat.

Croom, who on the preceding Saturday threw Burgess, star wrestler in 2 minutes, experienced plenty of opposition from Harvey Gwynn of the Tar Heels. Gwynn showed great improvement over his exhibition in the V. P. I. meet ten days ago as he battled the Wolfpack matster furiously but cleanly through the regulation minutes.

Efland gained revenge in beating Furr on time in 6:01 minutes. In 1934 Furr easily took the measure of his opponent but Efland showed great form Saturday as he carried the fight throughout.

Kerr, 125; Krach, 135; Conup, 145; and Troxler, unlimited, of the West Raleigh institution looked good in trimming Douglas, Ward, Gholsen, and Ranson, respectively, of Carolina. Of this quartet Kerr should be a dangerous contender for the Southern Conference championship in the featherweight class.

FROSH MATMEN TAKE EASY DRILL

(Continued from page three)

time this season by means of an easily earned fall in 4:05.

In the next bout Claypoole, in his bid to join a quartet equal to that of last year, displayed marked improvement in pinning Snooks in 3:50. Gibbons, Carolina, was easily overpowered by Skinner but fought extremely hard and would not allow himself to be pinned.

The next two bouts were finished off in quick succession by James and Love. In continuation of their good work James pinned Weitlaub in 3:55 while Love pinned Williams in 2:40.

In the final bout Schulman, who was light enough to wrestle in the 165-lb class, met Durland and fought valiantly. The difference of weight was too great, and although Schulman came close to pinning his opponent he was finally downed under the massive weight.

Players Become Furniture Producers For 'The Young Idea'

Everything from Candelabras to Italian Villas Being Made for Coming Coward Play.

The prosperity around their scene shop during the last week tempted the Carolina Playmakers to abandon their production of Noel Coward's "The Young Idea" and go in for wholesale furniture making, it was reported.

Preparing sets for the play, which will run Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the Playmakers have turned their scene shop into a factory for tables, chairs, sofas, settees, candelabras, trees and Italian villas.

Under the direction of Wilbur Dorsett, the dramatic group members have been swinging hammers, pushing saws, and making a general mess of things with the result that the shop is now turning our several "hot" pieces of Jacobean furniture, heavy with the age of Louis XIV and the Tudors of England.

Philip Parker, one of the leads in the coming play, has been doing double duty in the role of antique furniture designer.

With Ora Mae Davis designing the smart apparel for the Cowardettes, Dorsett's troupe of set makers have been working under veteran leaders.

Dorsett's sets will include scenes in the interior of an old English country house and an Italian villa, showing cyprus trees and a blue sky.

VARSITY BASKETBALL
8:30
TIN CAN

The Daily Tar Heel

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL
7:15
TIN CAN

SERVED BY THE UNITED PRESS

VOLUME XLIII — CHAPEL HILL, N. C., WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 30, 1935 — NUMBER 92

MONOGRAM CLUB TO HOLD MEETING TOMORROW NIGHT

Certificates Will Be Awarded; Membership of New Committee to Be Announced.

SNAVELY TO SHOW FILMS

The University Monogram Club will convene in its first meeting of the year at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night in 111 Murphey hall, it was announced yesterday by Ralph Gardner, president.

Every club member who attends the meeting will be given a beautiful box of Monogram Club stationery for his own personal use.

Coach Carl G. Snavely will show his own moving pictures of the Alabama-Stanford football game to the organization.

Certificates

Monogram certificates will be distributed at the convocation to new men who won varsity monograms this year and to those who did not receive awards last spring.

A new executive committee has been appointed, according to President Gardner, and an announcement will be made at the session concerning the membership of the group.

Several important proposals will be brought up for the consideration of the club, which, if passed, will be submitted to the University Athletic Council.

Club in Good Shape

Through the co-operation of University organizations and people of the community, the University Monogram Club is in sound financial condition and is able to increase its service on the campus, according to President Gardner.

The organization plans to take a more active part in improving athletics at the Univer-

(Continued on page two)

"Finjan" Appears Tonight, Tee-Hee

Gaskins Will Present Latest Effort in Valentine Cover; to Feature Pages 12, 27.

Editor Patrick Gaskins' latest effort to fill up 28 pages of slick paper will appear tonight under the usual "Finjan" heading, said he yesterday.

"I'm not joking this time," quoth Gaskins, when he announced that page 27 of the new Valentine issue is devoted to dirty jokes. For the liberal reward or the new Ford car, clip the coupon and follow the directions on page 27.

Lovey Dovey Cover

Under a blanket of red and white frills, presenting Bill Grimes' valentine ideal, the new Finjan makes its appearance. Gaskins pointed with pride to the work of the Charlotte freshman who prepared the cover for the current issue.

Phil Link, another freshman, came through with a number of Finjanish cartoons, according to Gaskins. Black ink was used throughout, with page 27 in bold-face.

The scandal column of the Valentine issue will be found on page 12 and must be taken with a grain of Morton's.

Tom Collins' column appears as usual, according to the editor, who sighed with relief when he confessed last night that only three more issues of the humor publication remain on his deflated chest.

Change Is Made in Date For Stein Lecture

Noted Lecturer-Poetess Will Appear Here February 12.

Miss Gertrude Stein, lecturer-poetess, will address a limited audience in Gerrard hall on February 12 at 8:30 p. m., under the sponsorship of the American Association of University Women and the English department.

It was announced in yesterday's issue of the DAILY TAR HEEL that Miss Stein would appear February 14. The change in date was made after the receipt of a telegram from the noted author yesterday.

An announcement will be made concerning the sale of tickets in the near future.

Craig, Visiting Prof, Will Make Lectures In Carolina Colleges

Dr. Hardin Craig, a distinguished authority on Elizabethan literature from Stanford University, and a visiting professor in the English department here this quarter, will give a series of lectures in North Carolina colleges during the next few weeks.

Dr. Craig will speak at the Woman's College in Greensboro Friday on "The Opinion of Plenty—A Lecture on the Function of Learning in a Community." On February 13 he will deliver the same lecture at State College in Raleigh.

Speaks Here March 1

March 1, Dr. Craig will speak here on "Why Hamlet—An Attempt to Account for the Importance of Shakespeare's Play."

Having accepted an invitation to speak at Davidson College, Dr. Craig will appear there at a date to be announced later.

Born and reared in Kentucky, he has led a cosmopolitan life, having studied at three universities and colleges, taught at four universities, and served in the United States Army for 21 months during the war.

Member of M. L. A.

Dr. Craig is a member of the Modern Language Association of America. He was recently re-elected to the executive council of that association. He is a member of the American Association of University Professors of which he has been vice-president, a member of the executive council, and a valuable contributor to several committees.

During the past several years he has been chairman of the college division committee on the

(Continued on last page)

New Frosh Committee

A freshman class dance committee has been appointed, Clyde Mullis, president, announced last night.

John Ramsey will act as chairman; he will be assisted by Claude Hobbs as vice-chairman.

Members will be Billy Seawell, Bob Ray, Charles Benton, Frank Gooding, Bill James, Alex Gover.

LOCAL A. A. U. P. MEETS

At the meeting last night of the local chapter of the American Association of University Professors, Dr. James B. Bullitt of the University medical school was elected to succeed Wirth F. Ferger of the school of commerce as president for the coming year.

Robert Linker of the French department will be secretary for the next year.

COURT WILL CITE STUDENT DRIVERS WITH WARRANTS

Out-of-State Drivers Must Buy North Carolina Licenses Within Short Time.

RESIDENCE NOT INVOLVED

Warrants will be issued against those students who have been cited to court for failure to buy local tags and have not appeared during the last two sessions, it was announced yesterday by Prosecuting Attorney Roy W. McGinnis.

The warrants will demand appearance at a recorder's court next Tuesday for violation of the town ordinance. Yesterday a student was found guilty of speeding through the inter-section of Columbia and Franklin streets during hours in which school children have to pass. A fine of costs was placed on him.

Residence

"After a thorough investigation," McGinnis said yesterday, "I found that the point of residence was not involved. The law concerning the local tags hinges upon the operation of an automobile consistently in the city limits while pursuing some course of employment or in pursuit of some useful and necessary work."

McGinnis implied by this that persons operating cars in the town limits are subjected to the statute whether they live on the campus or not.

Warning out of state students operating cars he said, "It will be a matter of short time until people, not necessarily students alone, who continuously operate automobiles within Chapel Hill will be required to buy North Carolina state tags even though they wear 1935 tags from other states.

"Through comity, the North Carolina law allows automobiles bearing out-of-state tags to be operated within the state for a period of two months before having to buy North Carolina license plates."

Co-eds to Give Dance In Gym Friday Night

Freddy Johnson and his orchestra will furnish music for the co-ed dance Friday evening. Johnson will feature Miss Peggy Wood as vocalist.

The dance is formal and will be held in the gymnasium from 9:30 until 1 o'clock.

Due to lack of dancing space in the gymnasium, it is probable that bids will not be sold at the door. A definite announcement concerning the sale of stag bids will be made on Friday.

'Y' WILL PRESENT BROADCAST TODAY

Religious Workers Council Begins Series of Broadcasts Over Durham Station.

Beginning today the Religious Workers Council, composed of six local churches and the University Y. M. C. A., will present a half-hour program over radio station WDNC in Durham every Wednesday afternoon.

The series of radio programs, which are set for 2 to 2:30 p. m. every Wednesday, will be initiated with a program planned by the Y. M. C. A. It will include an address by Lawrence Fountain and a vocal solo by James Dees, who will be accompanied on the piano by Rebecca Jordan of Chapel Hill.

According to a report from the council, the radio broadcasts will attempt to reflect the religious atmosphere around the University to the people of the state.

Churches Take Turns

Each church member of the council will alternate in presenting the weekly programs. The Presbyterian church will plan next Wednesday's program.

The committee from the general council which will act as general supervisor for the broadcast series is composed of Reverend O. T. Binkley of the Baptist church, Reverend Roscoe Fisher, student pastor of the Lutheran church, and J. D.

(Continued on page two)

Granville Says Little Theatres Are Narrow And Amateurish

Noted English Actor Says That Whether a Student Is to Become Bond Salesman, Doctor, Engineer, or Business Man, He Needs Dramatic Experience; Deplores Lack of Interest.

"Little theatres, as a rule, are too amateurish," said V. L. Granville, distinguished English actor who recently presented impersonations of the principal characters from the drama of all time.

"I think the little theatre movement should be established on a broader basis," went on the actor as he arranged wigs and sorted out beards and moustaches. "At present, the movement is too insular, but if little theatres should develop into semi-professional organizations employing professional actors with supporting amateur casts, then the movement may become the renaissance of the future theatre."

"But do not many professional actors come from the little theatres?" the Englishman was asked. "Yes, that is just the trouble," replied Granville in his genial manner. "You can't blame them for going where they can earn a living, but if a few polished actors were well paid for their work in the little theatres the whole tone of the acting would be raised."

Granville is an ardent advocate of college dramatics. "The drama should be a part of every student's life," he said. "It gives him poise, a command of language, and more than anything else, a sympathy with the rest of humanity, since drama is the epitome of life itself."

Granville said that whether the student was to become a bond salesman, a doctor, an engineer, or a business man, he needed dramatic experience. "It is unfortunate that so few students participate in college dramatics, and that the college dramatic movement is thus limited," the actor said.

Says South "Aping North"

Granville has visited the United States many times. His recent performance in Memorial hall was his second appearance in Chapel Hill. When queried on his impressions of the south, the actor remarked in his easy, cultured English, "One thing I notice is that your beautiful southern speech is gradually dis-

(Continued on page two)

Boxers' Fates Undecided In Long Council Session

Hauptmann Trapped As Grave Testifies

Resurrect Past from Life of Fisch, Dead Partner.

Flemington, N. J., Jan. 29.—(UP)—Isidor Fisch spoke from the grave today and told a tale that trapped and tangled Bruno Hauptmann into admitting that he had spent the last three years passing from one shabby lie to another.

They raked up from everywhere all there was to know about Isidor: Where and how he lived; how much money he had; when and where he died; what he and Hauptmann did in the years when they set out to try to earn twenty per cent returns on a fur business and then beat the stock market on the profits.

Then Attorney General Wilentz asked Hauptmann to explain a score of contradictions. Hauptmann lifted his hands helplessly and muttered "I don't know what I said."

DI HEARS NEGRO TALK; ASSEMBLY ELECTS SPEAKER

Ellis to Lead Phi Discussions Next Quarter; Society Opposes Action on Boxers.

PHI FAVORS WORLD COURT

The regular procedure was dispensed with in the Di Senate last night to give free rein to a discussion on the race problem and the future of the Negro, led by Robert Griffin, a North Carolina Negro, graduate of Lincoln College in Pennsylvania, and now engaged in research with Guy B. Johnson, professor of sociology here.

Griffin declared that the real emancipation of the Negro can come only through his gradual education and the education of the white man to the proper attitude toward him. He stated that the solution does not lie in the assimilation of the Negro by the white man; that could never be anything but one-sided.

The Senate was informed that the Negro in North Carolina cannot, according to the state constitution, attend the white schools and colleges. The constitution states that there shall be equality of education but that the Negro and the white man shall gain their equal educations in separate institutions.

Phi Elects Ellis

Albert Ellis was unanimously elected speaker of the Phi for the spring quarter at the assembly meeting last night.

By a three to one majority, the assembly voted "yea" on the bill, Resolved: That the action of the administration officials in withdrawing two Carolina boxers from the Virginia meet was unjust.

The assembly also favored by a large majority the bill that the United States enter the World Court.

The bill, Resolved: That the lecture system is preferable to other systems of teaching, was defeated by a vote of 13-10.

The date for the assembly's trip to Raleigh to observe the legislature in action has been set for Monday night at 6:45 p. m.

At 1:30 This Morning Councilmen Still Discussing Problem.

Convene 10:00 Last Night; No Decision As Paper Goes To Press.

COUNCIL HAS FREE HAND

At ten minutes before two this morning, as the Daily Tar Heel's forms were about to close with the story that the two boxers' fates had been undecided during a protracted session of the Student Council word was received that O'Flaherty was placed on Student Council probation and Medynski was absolved completely.

The news came too late for any alteration of the front page, other than this bold face news flash.

At the time the DAILY TAR HEEL went to press last night the Student Council, still in session, had come to no decision in the cases of Jules Medynski and Tom O'Flaherty, Carolina boxers.

The council convened at 10 o'clock for the purpose of coming to a definite decision in the matter, but at 1:30 was still engaged in debate.

Do definite information was obtainable about the proceedings up to the time the paper went to press.

The case came up last Friday when the residence status of Jules Medynski, Tom O'Flaherty and Max Novich was questioned.

Since that time efforts have been made to straighten the matter out to the satisfaction of all concerned.

SENATE DEFEATS COURT PROPOSAL

R. F. C. Program Extended Two Years as House Votes; Bill Must Return to Senate.

Washington, Jan. 29.—(UP)—American isolationists won a smashing victory in the Senate tonight when a resolution calling for the nation's adherence to the World Court was defeated by a vote of 52 to 36, seven less than the necessary two-thirds.

Twenty Democrats, fourteen Republicans, one Farmer-Laborite, and one Progressive voted against the Court measure. Forty-three Democrats and nine Republicans voted in favor of it.

Question Foreclosed

Majority Leader Joe T. Robinson who has directed the administration's fight during the three weeks of bitter debate said that the vote "foreclosed the question from further consideration at least for an indefinite period."

Senator Hiram W. Johnson, Republican, California, said, "I am delighted. Not a man we counted on went back on us."

Washington, Jan. 29.—(UP)—The House tonight passed a bill extending the life of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation two more years and liberalizing the number of loan features of the R.F.C. act.

There was no opposition to the bill. A similar proposal had been passed by the Senate, but because of the number of changes made in the House, the bill must return to the upper body for final action.

The Daily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Union Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where it is printed daily except Mondays, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Holidays. Entered as second class matter at the post office of Chapel Hill, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 for the college year.

A. T. Dill ..... Editor
Robert C. Page, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
Joe Webb ..... Business Manager
George Underwood ..... Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

EDITORIAL BOARD—Phil Hammer, chairman, Earl Wolslagel, Franklin Harward, John Schulz, DuPont Snowden, Margaret McCauley, Morty Slavin, Sam Leager, Dick Myers, Charles Lloyd, Jake Snyder.

FEATURE BOARD—Nelson Lansdale, chairman; Nick Read, Bob Browder, Francis Clingman, J. E. Poindexter, W. M. Cochrane, Willis Harrison.

CITY EDITORS—Irving Suss, Walter Hargett, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.

TELEGRAPH EDITORS—Stuart Rabb, Charlie Gilmore.

DESK MAN—Eddie Kahn.

SPORTS DEPARTMENT—Jimmy Morris and Smith Barrier, co-editors, Tom Bost, Lee Turk, Len Rubin, Fletcher Ferguson, Stuart Sechriest, Lester Ostrow, Ira Sarasohn.

EXCHANGES—Margaret Gaines.

STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER—Don Becker.

REPORTERS—Bill Hudson, John Smith, J. F. Jonas, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Hazel Beacham, Raymond Howe, William Jordan, Morton Feldman.

Business Staff

ASST. BUSINESS MANAGER ..... Butler French
COLLECTION MANAGER ..... Herbert Osterheld
OFFICE MANAGERS ..... Walter Eckert, Roy Crooks
NATIONAL ADVERTISING ..... Boylan Carr
DURHAM REPRESENTATIVE—Joe Murnick.
LOCAL ADVERTISING—Hugh Primrose, Robt. Sosnik, Eli Joyner (managers), Bill MacDonald, Louis Shaffner, Page Keel, Bill McLean, Crist Blackwell.

CITY EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE: REED SARRATT

Wednesday, January 30, 1935

PARAGRAPHICS

We suggest that the government arrest all the arms makers and set them to work on Venus de Milo.

In the Tar Baby-Wolfcub wrestling meet we see where Love pinned Williams in 2:40. This guy Cupid must certainly be versatile.

The girl in the Old Gold ad about to be grappled by a goofy gander looks like duck soup to us.

Thanks to The M.D.'s

Doctors Berryhill and Hedgpeth deserve the sincere thanks of the entire student body and the townshippers for the excellent work which they have done during the past year in the University infirmary.

Revamping and remodeling the once decrepit institution was a tremendous task in itself, but the work of the industrious M.D.'s did not end there. The efficiency and tact with which they handled the recent influenza epidemic have characterized all their efforts effectively to care for a sniffly and cut-fingery undergraduate body throughout the whole year.

Courtesy and consideration have been the keynotes of the administration. We can offer our thanks on the part of the student body for the adoption of this policy in the infirmary's efficient organization.

Whittlin's from The Bowie Knife

Representative Tam Bowie has already, in a manner of speaking, begun paring at state appropriations with the well-known knife for which he is possibly more famous than his progenitors, who endowed the original Bowie knife with its name. Ashe county's god-send to the general assembly, who in the 1933 session delayed adjournment with a bill that would have cut the schools of North Carolina to 50 per cent of the amount they finally got, is already up to his old tricks.

Representative Bowie introduced a bill Monday night making it mandatory for the budget authority to balance the budget. This means that the governor, as nominal director, would have to cut appropriations to the level of revenue if the Bowie bill passed, whereas under the budget act of 1929 that power is not mandatory.

While there is no particular cause for alarums and retreat over what is obviously to be expected from the Ashe county representative, someone or other might find in him an illuminating study of an economy phobia at its most vicious extremity. The results of which, we might add, are more or less patent in Tam's tax-impoverished county which, God forbid, can hardly be called a model for the state of North Carolina.

A What Is A What

So Gertrude Stein is coming to town, and the English department is bringing her. What lowliest of instructors can now red pencil unhesitatingly even the sleaziest of freshman themes? What comma fault, what diction error, what lack of clarity can now be unshamefacedly marked? O wot irony!

Confidence And Debts

It is the opinion of one commentator that the President's recent all-night session with the Industrial Recovery Board, resulting in the demand that the future of the NRA be embodied in draft legislation and handed to Congress, is evidence of a "waning public interest and confidence in that institution."

For four months, the NRA has gone more or less neglected by the President, and it seems that the blue eagle has ceased being the object of worship it once was. If this be true, the President is engaging in a bit of Machiavellian statescraft to revive the hearty support he once had from the people. The sudden revival of his interest in the NRA has, in the minds of some, certainly laid him open to attack upon the grounds that he is aware of the waning interest and is acting for psychological reasons, not for any truly practical purpose.

To continue in the same vein, the controversy arising out of the presentation of the $4,880,000,000 relief and work bill to the House may be taken as further evidence of the growing askance with which people are beginning to regard the administration. The bill passed the House with a tremendous majority, but its introduction was met by the desertion of forty Democrats to Republican ranks. The forty have joined the Republicans only in the fight against this particular bill, perhaps, but even then their action may be indicative of a changing attitude.

People are becoming dubious of the tremendous sums that are being spent. When Roosevelt was inaugurated, he embarked on an extensive campaign against the depression. The scope of his plans demanded that large amounts of money be spent, and the people, enthusiastic over the prospect of seeing the depression killed in short order by a President who was doing something, regarded each billion spent as a decisive blow against a common enemy. The CWA came and went, leaving behind it a huge bill, but little definite progress. Then the President about-faced, after handing out dollars to almost anyone who asked for them, and stoutly proclaimed that henceforth money will be given only to those who work for it.

And we, whether our confidence is on the wane or not, would, like many others, care to know: who's going to pay for it?

We Need More Sororities

The recent initiation by a local sorority, one of the two girls' lodges on the campus, is evidence of the growing importance of sorority life on the campus. As the number of co-eds continues to grow larger at the University, the importance of sororities as additional means of social contact also is enhanced. Sororities have become a feature at state universities, which are growing larger and more important as the years roll by.

Two sororities will not be sufficient to offer to the increasing hordes of women students the fraternal advantages which are essential to a well-rounded college campus. When over two thousand men students demand almost 30 lodges, it seems logical that 300-odd co-eds need more than two sororities. We grant that there are a few fraternities which are obviously unwarranted but odds are still in favor of an addition to the sorority list.

It has repeatedly been brought out that one need not be a sorority or fraternity member in order to "rate" on the campus. The recent dance in Spencer showed to the male element that there was plenty of gold outside of the sorority walls. But for those girls who wish the additional friendship that sororities offer, it is only fair that more opportunities in this field are made available.

"Rub-Rub"

That's the name of a system now being tried at the University of Southern California in an attempt to curb cheating on exams and quizzes. This is the way the idea works, according to an article in the Philadelphia Record: "a student catching a classmate cheating rubs his heel against the floor. This is taken up by others until the entire class is doing it, and the offending student stops his cheating."

The plan certainly has some good aspects. One of the most apparent is that it removes the obviously eschewed necessity of reporting, or "peaching," a student. On the other hand, however, it seems that the commotion caused by an entire class rubbing their heels on the floor might make so much noise that it would keep other students from doing their best work.

A student would have to be rather durable to continue cheating after the entire class had given him the signal that they knew he was acting dishonestly and wanted him to quit it. It sounds like a very good idea, even though it is a bit farfetched, not too conducive to concentration, and possibly making a tendency to lessen the seriousness of the offense.

AIDS FOR GRADS NOT TO BE OPEN AFTER FEBRUARY

Dean W. W. Pierson Calls for Applications by March 1.

Applications for fellowships and other appointments in the graduate school for the year 1935-36 must be filed with Dean W. W. Pierson not later than March 1, he announced yesterday.

Twenty-six teaching fellowships, paying $500 each and open only to men, are available in the graduate school. A limited number of assistantships, yielding $450 each, are also open to application.

Graduate students are eligible for a number of University scholarships, ranging in value from $75 to $175. Two Graham Kenan fellowships in philosophy, open to both men and women, pay stipends of $700 each.

Men and women graduate students in chemistry may apply for the Ledoux fellowship, which pays $300.

Application blanks and full information may be obtained from the graduate school office.

The Institute for Research in Social Science has available a limited number of research assistantships paying an annual stipend ranging from $500 to $1,500. At least one full year of approved graduate work is prerequisite, and holders of these appointments are expected to devote their full time to investigation of problems in social research. Application blanks for these positions may be secured from the director of the institute.

Granville

(Continued from page one)

appearing. I think you southerners are aping the north."

When asked how he obtained his dramatic training, Granville said that he never went to a school of drama. When called upon to take the part of a double in a play, he was 18 years old and studying art at the time. "My school was the school of experience; a very good teacher when you have to earn your bread and butter by it," he added.

"You must have had years of experience," the actor was asked. "Yes," he replied good humoredly, "but you mustn't quiz me on that, because no leading man is over 40, you know."

Thinks All Drama Interesting

Granville said that he had no favorite modern playwright. He praised Shaw, O'Neill, and Galsworthy, but stated that he knew very little about the sophisticated plays of Noel Coward. Asked for his opinion on impressionistic drama, Granville said: "I think some of it extremely effective, but it is not the sort of acting I can do." In the actor's opinion all forms of drama are interesting. "We should be prepared to admire all schools of drama which are artistic in purpose and achievement from folk drama, in which you are so rich here, to the most classical play that New York can produce," Granville said.

"The best training was to be had by acting in the old repertoire companies which did all the best plays," the actor stated. Granville explained that in the repertoire troups the same plays were produced for months. "Under such condtiions you could speak your lines as if they were your own thoughts; that is true acting."

Women's Glee Club

The usual weekly meeting of the Women's Glee Club will take place this afternoon in the choral room of Hill Music hall from 5 to 6 o'clock.

OUTSTANDING RADIO BROADCASTS

1:00: George Hall orch., WABC.

2:00: Richard Crooks, tenor; Concert orch., WJZ.

3:00: Kate Smith Matinee Hour, WABC.

5:45: Fats Waller, songs, WABC.

6:45: Lowell Thomas, commentator, WJZ.

7:00: Our President, Henry Morgenthau, Sr., Former Ambassador to Turkey.

7:15: Plantation Echoes, Robison orch.; Southernaires Quartet, WJZ.

7:30: Investor and the Securities Market, Richard Whitney, president, New York Stock Exchange, WEAF.

8:00: Play, Forever After, with Mary Pickford & Co., WEAF; Penthouse Party, Coleman orch., Jan Peerce, tenor; Traveler's Quartet, and others, WJZ.

8:15: Edwin C. Hill, commentator, WABC.

8:30: Wayne King orch, WABC; Lanny Ross, tenor; Salter orch., Cameron Andrews, Mimic, WJZ; Everett Marshall, baritone; Elizabeth Lennox, contralto; Mixed Chorus; Arden orch., WABC.

9:00: Fred Allen, comedian; Hayton orch.; Amateur Review, WEAF; Lily Pons, soprano; Kostelanetz orch.; Mixed Chorus, WABC.

9:30: John McCormack, tenor, WJZ; Burns and Allen, comedians, WABC.

10:00: Guy Lombardo orch., WEAF.

10:30: Speech, Secretary of War Dern, WJZ; Mary Eastman, soprano; Evan Evans, baritone, WABC.

11:00: Hal Kemp orch., WJZ.

11:30: President Roosevelt's Radio Birthday Party, WEAF.

School Children Tested For T.B. at Infirmary

Dr. H. F. Eason of the State Tubercular Sanatorium and H. L. Satterwhite, his x-ray technician, were at the University infirmary yesterday giving tubercular tests and x-rays to the white and colored high and grammar school students of Chapel Hill and Carrboro. They plan to remain until the tests are completed.

The following University students were confined in the infirmary yesterday: Fred Cochran, Charles Robinson, Jim Finley, Raymond Dean, Walker Percy, R. S. Wesson, Ruth Green, Annie Vass, Nan Norman, Bruce Smith, C. M. Davis, W. S. Markham, J. M. Leibfried, Murray Honeycutt, J. R. Barrett, Maurice Haggard, and R. B. Hardison.

Monogram Club

(Continued from page one)

sity and in entertaining visiting teams.

The organization's officials urge all men on the campus who have won monograms to attend the session. Alumni in neighboring towns and in Chapel Hill who have won monograms will also be welcomed.

Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

'Y' Broadcast

(Continued from page one)

Winslow of the University Y. M. C. A.

The WDNC broadcasts will be the second program for the current year to be sponsored by the Religious Workers Council. Last Sunday night's union service in Memorial hall, which presented the famous Chinese doctor, T. Z. Koo, was the first public program sponsored by the council.

THE
Young Men's Shop
126-128 E. Main St.
DURHAM, N. C.

THE BIG SHOW
of music, girls and romance!
RAMON NOVARRO
EVELYN LAYE

"THE NIGHT IS YOUNG" with CHARLES BUTTERWORTH, UNA MERKEL, EDWARD EVERETT HORTON, DONALD COOK
—Also—
Comedy—Novelty
NOW PLAYING
CAROLINA THEATRE

GRAIL DANCE
SATURDAY, FEB. 2
Music by Johnny Long & His Duke Collegians
BYNUM GYM
9-12

VALENTINE
CARDS & GIFTS
Mail a Valentine Remembrance Early
Alfred Williams & Company

Big Five Basketball Lead At Stake Here Tonight

Carolina And N. C. State Hook Up In Tin Can, 8:30

Both Quintets Are Undefeated in State

Tar Heels to Have Full Strength to Send Against Strong Wolfpack Team.

CAPT. REX LEADS STATERS

PROBABLE LINEUP

Carolina	Pos.	State
Aitken	r.f.	Aycock
Nelson	l.f.	Lambeth
Glace	c.	Flythe
McCachren	l.g.	Rex
Kaveny	r.g.	Williams

The Tar Heels and the N. C. State Wolfpack basketeers will clash in an important Big Five and Southern Conference contest in the Tin Can at 8:30 o'clock tonight.

Carolina is at the top of the heap in both state and conference circles with a percentage of 1.000.

Although having lost several conference games, the Wolfpack team is leading the Big Five race in number of games won and tied with the Tar Heels on percentage. The 'Pack has defeated Duke, Wake Forest, and Davidson.

Winner Takes Lead

A Carolina win tonight would give the White Phantoms undisputed leadership in both the Big Five and Southern Conference races; while a State victory would place it in the state lead.

Fans, who saw the first half of the Carolina-V. P. I. game Monday night, favor the Wolfpack in tonight's contest unless the White Phantoms come through with a better brand of ball.

The entire Tar Heel team will be ready to go at the sound of the whistle tonight; however, the Wolves will be playing without the services of LeRoy Jay, star forward who was ruled ineligible after the Duke game.

Rufus Womble, who has been playing at one of the regular guard posts, was injured this week, and in his place will probably be Williams.

Captain Rex

This is Ray Rex, captain of the N. C. State Wolfpack basketeers, who invade the Tin Can tonight to determine whether they or the Tar Heels shall hold undisputed lead in the Big Five race. "Baby Ray" has led his team through quite a successful season to date. His fine guard playing and sharp-shooting from the longer distances have featured the roving of the Wolves.

McCaskill Ordered To Report for Drill

Norman McCaskill, former Tar Heel baseball star catcher, has been ordered to report for spring practice with the Atlanta Crackers. McCaskill is the property of the New York Yankees and will likely play the 1935 season with the Southern Association club.

This past fall and winter McCaskill has been coaching at the Grainger high school in Kinston, N. C. He was one of the stars on last year's Tar Heel SIC and state diamond champs, and one of the best back-stop men ever to attend the University.

POWERFUL STATE FROSH THREATEN TAR BABY STREAK

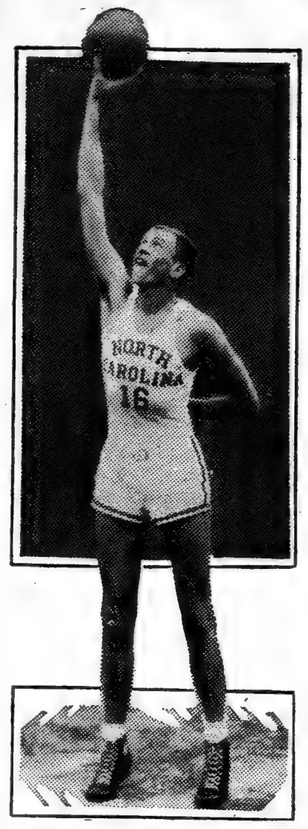
Ramsay Potts to Start at Forward Post Vacated by Andy Bershak Yesterday.

GAME OPENS AT 7:15 P. M.

The untarnished string of frosh victories on the basketball court is in dire danger of being snapped this evening, when the yearling quintet take on the powerful State Woflets at 7:15.

Ramsay Potts has been selected for the forward post and will team with Mullis at that position when the game gets underway. Meroney at center, and Grubb and Ruth at guards complete the lineup that will open the game.

These five form a strong offensive outfit, as their previous victories show, but in the face of the opposition tonight, they will have to play on their toes throughout the contest to emerge with their eighth straight win.



State Defeated Twice

State, although having already suffered two defeats, has an enviable record, rolling up huge scores in their long string of wins. Their two setbacks came at the hands of Duke and Raleigh High, both last minute heart-breakers.

In the Raleigh contest, a six point spurt in the last minute gave the high schoolers an unexpected victory. The State seconds were unable to stop the onslaught during that hectic 60 seconds.

Duke eked out a win with a one point margin, also in the last minute, with a "freak" shot as the margin of triumph. The ball hit the rim as a State player touched the net in a vain leap; and although the ball dropped out, the two points were given to the Duke frosh on a technical ruling.

Carolina Center

Above is Jason Glace, star pivot man for the White Phantoms who measures only 6 feet 5. Jason's play under the enemy basket has featured the play of the Carolinians. Tonight he may meet the sub State center, Myatt, who tips 6 feet 7.

CHI PSI'S DOWNED BY S. A. E.'S, DROP FROM UNBEATEN

Zeta Psi and Phi Kappa Sigma Also Come Through with Easy Mural Wins.

BARCLAY AND CLARK LEAD

Another team was dropped from the undefeated ranks in the intramural basketball competition yesterday afternoon, when S. A. E. triumphed over Chi Psi by a 23-14 margin.

In the only two other games played, Zeta Psi and Phi Kappa Sigma continued their winning ways with victories over Phi Gamma Delta and Chi Phi, respectively.

S. A. E.'s Victorious

S. A. E. pressed farther on in its attempt to gain the campus finals for four years in a row as it got off to a fast start and spoiled Chi Psi's heretofore inviolate record. The team showed a balance of scoring power with every starter coming through with at least two points.

(Continued on last page)

W. & L. Wrestlers To Present Strong Club Against Tar Heels

Generals Have Been SIC Champs Three Successive Years; Are Unbeaten This Season.

Carolina's varsity wrestlers will experience their toughest opposition of the 1935 season when they encounter the Washington and Lee mat contingent at Lexington Saturday. The Generals, who have ruled Dixie mat circles for the past three years, boast another strong team this year.

In the Tin Can last year the Virginians began a successful invasion of North Carolina by drubbing Coach Quinlan's proteges, 29-5, and then maching on to Raleigh where they easily defeated the Wolfpack, champions of this state.

Generals Are Strong

The great strength of the W. & L. matmen lies chiefly in the 118, 126, 165, and unlimited classes held respectively by Thomas, Crew, Hodges, and Bonino. Thomas, brilliant bantamweight, who was not in school last year, is a former Southern Conference champion.

The outstanding bout of the General-Tar Heel battle this week-end should be between Umstead and Thomas. Both men have yet to taste defeat in their varsity careers and they will be out to continue their enviable records.

W. and L. Featherweight

Crew, 126-pounder, who has moved up a weight to make room for Thomas, is another outstanding grappler. He will meet Ed Douglas, star Carolina feather-

(Continued on last page)

Today's Mural Card

The starting time for the games has been changed to 4:30 and 5:30 o'clock.

4:30—(1) Grimes vs. Locals, (2) Theta Chi vs. Sigma Chi.

5:30—(1) Delta Tau Delta vs. Beta Theta Pi, (2) Lewis vs. Ruffin, (3) Mangum No. 1 vs. Manly.

Patronize Our Advertisers

Five Tracksters Depart For New York Tomorrow

HEAVIES FEATURE BOXING WORKOUT FOR STATE MEET

Kanner, Alderman, and Carruth Are Deadlocked for Heavy Position Saturday Night.

JOE FISHER ALSO WORKS

With the bigger boys stealing the show at the Tin Can yesterday, Coach Crayton Rowe seemed very well pleased with the prospects for the heavyweight position. Rowe now has three boys available for this berth in the personages of Murray Kanner, Lammie Alderman, and Jim Carruth.

Kanner and Alderman stepped through three fast rounds yesterday afternoon with Alderman looking better than he has looked so far this year. His jab has improved considerably, and he is throwing his right hand with a great deal more accuracy than he did the first part of the year.

Kanner Needs Workouts

Kanner is still sorely in need of a few more stiff workouts before he reaches the condition that carried him through an undefeated freshman season two years ago. He is hitting fairly well but tires.

Ernie Eutsler also worked a few fast rounds and should be in good shape for his State opponent this week-end. Ernie turned in a creditable performance last week against Rainey and will probably be in better shape for his Wolfpack adversary.

With Joe Fisher holding Maynard Womer of the Cavaliers to a draw last Saturday night, Carolina fans are quite enthusiastic over his chances to take Womer in a return go at the Southern Conference tournament. Fisher looked good in his two-round settos with the freshmen, Shores and O'Herron, yesterday.

Commerce Freshmen

Dean D. D. Carroll will meet the commerce freshmen in Memorial hall today at 10:30 a. m.

TENNIS MEETING

All members of the freshman and varsity tennis teams will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Emerson field. If any man is unable to attend, he should get in touch with either the coach or manager.

Williamson to Run In 1000-Meter Event

Millrose Games to Be Run Off in Madison Square Garden Saturday Night.

RELAY TEAM UNDECIDED

Five Tar Heel trackmen will leave Chapel Hill tomorrow for New York City, where they will participate in the annual Millrose indoor track games to be held in Madison Square Garden, this Saturday night.

Harry Williamson will lead the Carolinian aggregation with Coach Dale Ranson. Williamson is invited to run in the 1000-meter event and will also take one leg in the two-mile relay team. The other men on the relay group are not decided upon to date.

Wanamaker Mile Features

The Millrose games feature the Wanamaker Mile, which this year will feature the first 1935 meeting of Glenn Cunningham and Bill Bonthron. Last season this pair met in the mile event five times, and the Princeton Tiger managed to capture three of these. But the difference was so small that neither is ranked better than the other.

Williamson will be pitted against Glenn Dawson of the Tulsa (Okla.) A. A. and Monohan of the Boston A. A. Both these men are good and lead the field of runners in this invitational event. Dawson has covered the half mile in a little less time than Williamson.

The Carolina relay quartet is unknown at present. Two men, Williamson and Graham

(Continued on last page)

YEARLING PUGS TAKE EASY WORK

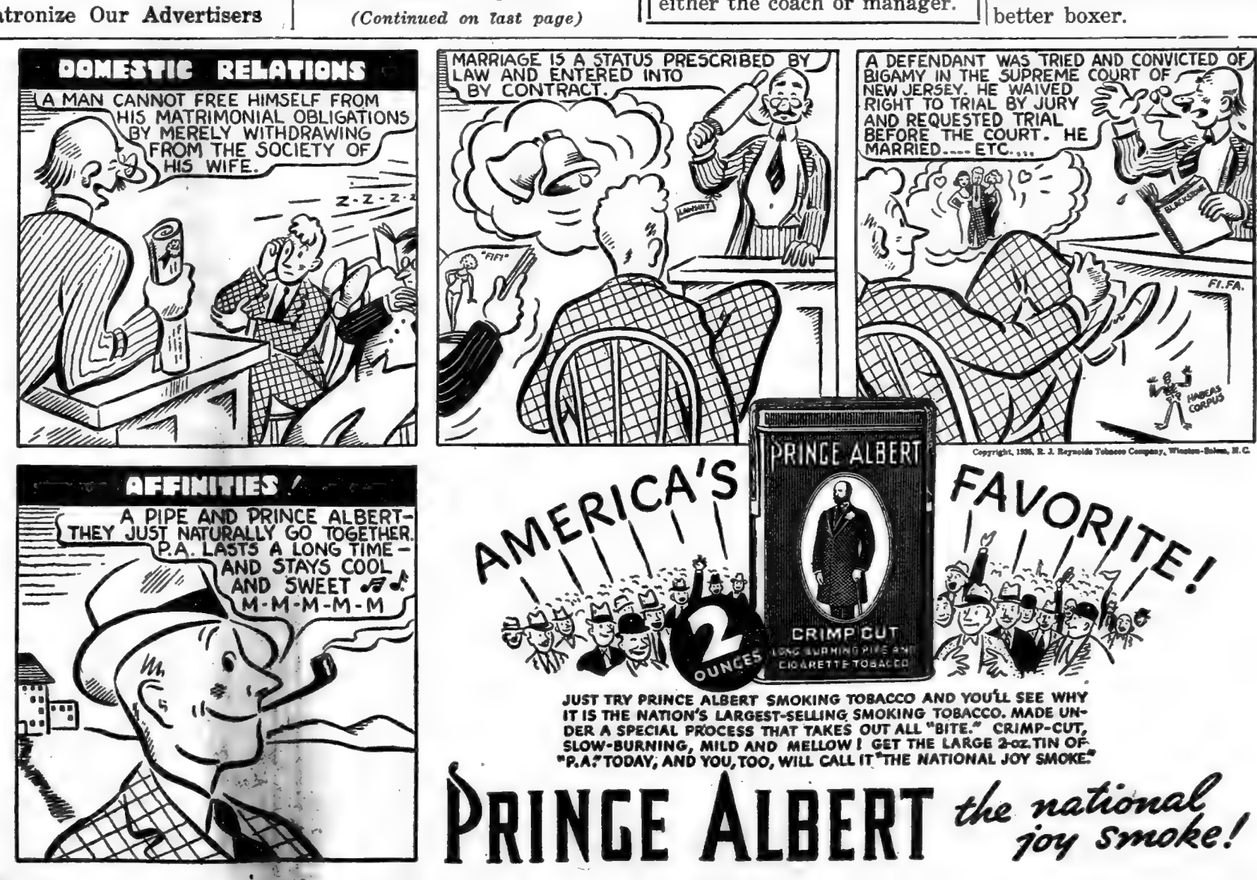
Only four Tar Baby mittmen were at the Tin Can yesterday to enter the ring; and two of them faced each other.

Tiger Shores and Ed O'Herron stepped out and did themselves proud while putting on fine boxing exhibitions against the skilled Joe Fisher. Shores was the first to come up against Fisher, and in his two rounds he showed plenty of pep and power.

O'Herron has come along fast under Marty Levinson's expert tutelege, and yesterday in his two stanzas versus Fisher he looked good with a straighter left jab and a wicked right hook.

Charlie Benton and Tommy Bass went to the wars once again yesterday, and when the three rounds were finished it was still doubtful as to who was the better boxer.

FROSH MATMEN MEET W. & L. SAT.



Tar Babies to Encounter Tough Opposition; Heavyweight Comes Out for Team.

With their hardest match of the year coming at the end of this week, the frosh grapplers went through a stiff workout yesterday afternoon in competition for the right to make the trip to Lexington.

The men who will participate in the match with W. & L. have not as yet been decided, but will probably include the following men: Patrick, Ehringhaus, Tankersley, Ford, Gibbons, Claypoole, James, Schulman, Love, and Kulak. The last mentioned man is a newcomer to the team but has a possible chance of making the trip, as he is the only unlimited candidate out for the team.

Heavy Comes Out

Kulak weighs about 210 pounds and was a member of the freshman football team. He is rather inexperienced but is willing to learn, and may be in good enough condition to warrant his participation as soon as this coming Saturday. With a heavyweight man on the squad, Coach Quinlan will undoubtedly change the lineup in the other weights and will probably carry a stronger team to Lexington than that which he took to Raleigh.

RUSH PRODUCTION OF COWARD PLAY

"The Young Idea" Will Be Staged This Week-end by Carolina Playmakers.

With Director Harry Davis fast growing old and gray, the new Playmakers' production, "The Young Idea," is rapidly nearing maturity.

The Noel Coward show, which will have its first-night Thursday and will continue through Saturday, is spiked with Noel's usual bright dialogue and sophisticated humor. "The Young Idea" should provide as much enjoyment as did Coward's "Hay Fever" directed by Davis last year.

It Should Be Good!

With a veteran cast and a stage-full of Dorsett-made sets, Davis has all the elements of a successful production. Ora Mae, his wife, came through this week with an outlay of "smart" costumes which, according to authorities, will rival Coward's smartness in "The Young Idea."

The drama concerns happenings in an English country home and a villa in Italy. It was presented for the first time at the Savoy theatre in London. Coward himself played one of the leading roles.

Philip Parker, Ellen Deppe, Alan Waters, David McCachren, and Francis McGraw take the leading roles. The remainder of the cast includes such experienced players as Charles Lloyd, Juanita Greene, Joyce Killingsworth, Douglas Hume, Patricia McMullan, Wilfred Evans, Robert Nachtmann, and Louise McGuire. The character "Maria" has not yet been announced.

DEAN TO PRESIDE AT L. S. U. MEETING

Knight, Accompanying Pierson, to Discuss Civic Education.

Invitations to attend the Diamond Jubilee of Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge April 10, 11, and 12 and to preside at sessions of the Southern Educational Conference, which will be included in the program of the celebration of L. S. U.'s 75th birthday, have recently been extended to Dean W. W. Pierson of the graduate school and Dr. E. W. Knight, director of the summer session here.

The general theme of the conference, which has been held at Chapel Hill on two occasions, will be the part and responsibility of the south in education. Dean Pierson will preside over the opening meeting, which will deal with the responsibility of the south in graduate education.

Dr. Knight will have charge of a section of the conference which will meet April 11 to discuss civic education. He will also participate in a discussion on "The Relation of the University to the State" at a luncheon meeting April 12.

Tracksters

(Continued from page three)

Gammon, are sure of running. The other two are indefinite, but will come from the group of Ed McRae, Bob Gardiner, Ed Waldrop and Dick Gabori. McRae has completely recovered from his leg injury in the K. of C. games and will probably take one part of the run. Of the others, Gardiner seems to have the lead, although there is very little difference.

Grisette Goes to Atlanta

Felix A. Grisette leaves today for Atlanta to attend a meeting of the American Alumni Council in session there Friday and Saturday. J. Maryon Saunders will follow him tomorrow.

CALENDAR

Commerce juniors.
103 Bingham 10:30

Commerce freshmen.
Memorial hall 10:30

Co-ed pictures.
Spencer hall 1:45

P. U. Board.
Graham Memorial. 3:00

Tennis teams.
Emerson field 3:00

Co-ed tea.
Spencer hall 4:30-6:00

Woman's Glee Club.
Hill Music hall 5:00

Economics seminar.
202 Bingham 7:30

National Student League.
Graham Memorial 8:00

ANNUAL DEMANDS FEES OF GROUPS

Many Fraternity Section Pictures Lacking; Several Organization's Space Unpaid for.

The Yackety Yack requested yesterday that the following organizations make definite arrangements to pay for their space in the annual immediately:

Delta Kappa Epsilon, Kappa Alpha, Phi Alpha, Phi Kappa Sigma, Pi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Sigma Delta.

Pharmacy School, A. S. C. E., A. S. M. E., Gorgon's Head, Gimghoul, German Club, Band, and Glee Club.

The copy for these organizations will be sent in early in February and it is essential that some arrangement be made concerning the payment of the space fee before the material can be sent to the printer.

Any organization which has not signed contracts for space in the 1935 Yackety Yack and wishes to do so must see the business manager immediately.

Fraternities: Note

The following fraternities lack the number of pictures quoted below of having their sections complete. These pictures must be taken before the copy for that fraternity may be sent in to the printers: A. T. O., 2; Chi Omega, 5; Chi Phi, 6; Chi Psi, 2; Delta Psi, 2; Delta Tau Delta, 5; Kappa Sigma, 1; Kappa Alpha, 3; Lambda Chi Alpha, 4; Phi Alpha, 2; Phi Kappa Sigma, 10.

Pi Beta Phi, 6; Pi Kappa Alpha, 3; Sigma Phi Epsilon, 5; Sigma Delta, 3; Tau Epsilon Phi, 7; Theta Chi, 2; Theta Kappa Nu, 4; and Zeta Beta Tau, 4.

BOOK ON FINE ARTS RELEASED BY PRESS

The University Press has announced the release of a book by William Sener Rusk, professor of fine arts at Wells College, Aurora, N. Y., entitled "Methods of Teaching the Fine Arts."

The main content of the book is a collection of essays written by well-known figures in the academic world who have successfully used the methods they discuss.

Co-ed Tea

The co-eds at Spencer hall will be at home to all the women students of the University and their friends at their regular weekly tea this afternoon from 4:30 until 6 o'clock.

Women Graduates

All women graduate students will meet at 10:30 o'clock this morning in front of Murphey hall to have their pictures made for the Yackety Yack.

DOWN-HEARTED? A UNANIMOUS NO!

The four children pictured above and more than 200,000 fellow-sufferers throughout the nation will be beneficiaries of the 1935 Birthday Ball for the President tonight, when more than 5,600 communities from coast to coast unite to raise funds for fighting what Col. Henry L. Doherty, national chairman of the Birthday Ball committee, calls "the most-dreaded disease menacing the nation." Seventy cents of every dollar raised will be retained by local communities to rehabilitate infantile paralysis victims, while 30 cents of every dollar will be turned over to a Birthday Ball Commission for Infantile Paralysis Research appointed by the President.

Murals

(Continued from page three)

The victors held the lead throughout, at 6-0 for the first quarter, 12-6 for the half, and 19-12 at the end of the third period. Leo Manley, with a brace of field goals, headed the Chi Psi play.

Ed Clark and George Barclay tied for high scoring honors for the day when their respective teams met, but the Zetas gave Clark more support and took the verdict from Phi Gamma Delta, 30-15. Bill Carr and Folger played their usual steady games, and also found the hoop for a few pointers.

After being out in front 22-0 at half time, the Phi Kappa Sigma quintet slowed up and coasted to an easy 26-10 triumph over the red-shirted Chi Phi's. Sharp and Wilson, with 10 and 8 points respectively, took the lead in the Phi Kappa Sig's fourth straight victory.

The summaries:

Zeta Psi, 30	Phi Gamma D., 15
Folger, f (9)	Johnston, f
Williams, f	Peacock, f (2)
Clark, c (13)	Haggard, c
Carr, g (6)	Barclay, g (13)
Haywood, g (2)	Hodges, g

Subs: Zeta Psi—Satterfield, Haywood; Phi Gamma Delta—Sutton.

S. A. E., 23	Chi Psi, 14
Andrews, f (4)	Wilday, f (4)
Brown, f (4)	Holman, f (2)
Scott, c (5)	Foreman, c (2)
Poe, g (8)	Kavanagh, g
Connor, g (2)	Manley, g (6)

Subs: S. A. E.—Webb; Chi Psi Waters.

Phi Kappa S., 26	Chi Phi, 10
Link, f (2)	Voliver, f (4)
Sharp, f (10)	Linn, f
Love, c (6)	Boone, c
Wilson, g (8)	Betting, g (2)
Bower, g	Montsinger, g

Sub: Chi Phi — Sink (4), Perry.

Commerce Juniors

There will be an important meeting of all juniors in the school of commerce in room 103 Bingham during chapel period today.

Special Sale

—for 15 days of all high grade pocket and wrist watches, diamonds, dinner rings, and wedding rings. Positively the most outstanding bargains of real merchandise ever offered in the state. Save up to 40%. Don't hesitate, select your gift now.

L. R. DEKLE
Jeweler & Watchmaker
(Over Andrews-Henninger Store)

Craig

(Continued from page one)

English curriculum organized by the National Council of Teachers of English. The report of this committee, which has recently been published, is said to be "the most important and significant single contribution in years." It covers the curriculum from freshman English through the doctorate training.

Since 1925, Dr. Craig has been editor of the annual bibliography of recent literature of the English Renaissance in "Studies in Philology." His contribution in this field consists in part of an edition of two Coventry Corpus Christi plays and of various other articles. He has also edited anthologies of prose and poetry for later periods.

In a recent study of literature of the English Renaissance, Dr. Craig has practically completed the manuscript for a book on the bases of Elizabethan literature in contemporary English.

Math Seminar Today

The mathematics seminar will hear a discussion on "An Application of Residues of Analytic Functions" by Ernest L. Mackie of the mathematics department at a session this afternoon.

The discussion will show how to evaluate infinite integrals by means of residues.

National Student League

There will be a reorganization meeting of the National Student League in Graham Memorial at 8 o'clock tonight.

A new outline for a local program will be presented. Members are asked to attend and everyone is invited.

Varsity Wrestling

(Continued from page three)

weight. Hodges and Efland will have an old score to settle. Last year Hodges pinned the Carolinian in 43 seconds of the first extra period; but Efland has shown considerable improvement in the last few weeks and should give his adversary plenty of trouble.

Bonino, the big man of the Washington and Lee aggregation, won top honors in the Southern Conference tournament at Lexington in 1934. Undefeated for two seasons, he will meet Jack Ranson, sophomore contestant of the Tar Heels.

Against the fine array of talent Coach Quinlan has only one letterman, Efland, who will be in the starting lineup. The other seven berths will be held by five sophomores and two varsity reserves.

In two contests thus far Carolina has broken even. V. P. I. was trounced, 23-9, but the strong State matsters overwhelmed the Chapel Hillians, 18-6.

SOUTH AFRICAN TALKS IN BINGHAM TONIGHT

T. B. King, holder of the Cassel fellowship granted by the University of London, will speak to the economics seminar this evening at 7:30 on the topic "The Importance of Gold in South African Economy."

King is from Cape Town, Africa, and has been doing graduate work at the London School of Economics.

In order to accommodate the increasing attendance at the seminar, the meeting will be held in 202 Bingham.

HONOR PRESIDENT HERE, IN RALEIGH

Proceeds of Birthday Dances to Aid Paralysis Victims.

With age, station, and dignity forgotten for the moment, young and old of Chapel Hill will play and dance together tonight at the President's Ball in the Carolina Inn. What they pay for their merriment will go to the benefit of victims of infantile paralysis.

Coleman Woodard and his student orchestra from Riverside, Ga., have volunteered to provide the music for the ballroom dancing, which will begin at 9 p. m.; the square dance will be called to the tunes of the Cates Quartet from Carrboro.

Bridge tables, with play to begin at 8 o'clock, may be arranged with Mrs. Shipp Sanders.

Tickets may be obtained for 50 cents each at Graham Memorial, the Y. M. C. A., the business office in South building, and Eubanks drug store.

Girl Orchestra at Raleigh

Arthur Tracy, the Street Singer, and Margie Sims and her all-girl orchestra will be the music-makers for the President's birthday ball in Raleigh at Memorial Auditorium from 8:30 until 2 o'clock tonight.

Miss Sims, whose band is regularly engaged at the roof garden of the Hotel Chamberlain in Old Point Comfort, Va., was formerly the soloist with Russ Colombo's orchestra.

"At Home"

Mrs. Frank Graham and Mrs. R. B. House will be at home on Saturday, February 2, from 4 to 6 o'clock, at 402 East Franklin street. All the ladies of Chapel Hill are cordially invited.

Kellogg's
COLLEGE PROM
PEP ON THE AIR
Ruth ETTING and her melody
Red NICHOLS and his rhythm

THIS week, the Prom is at Fordham University. Hot music. Beautiful melody. Thrills in sports.

FORDHAM NIGHT with Frankie Frisch
THURSDAY, JAN. 31st
WMAL—7:45 P. M., E. S. T.
and the entire N. B. C. Blue Network. Tune in every week at the same time.

Finchley
FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK

EXHIBITION
CLOTHES OF INDIVIDUAL EXCELLENCE, CORRECTLY ATTUNED TO THE IMMEDIATE SEASON.
FORTY DOLLARS AND MORE
EXHIBITION AT
Student Co-operative Cleaners
TODAY AND TOMORROW
ROBERT GRAY, Representative
CLOTHES INDIVIDUALLY TAILORED TO ORDER :: ALSO HABERDASHERY · HATS · SHOES

FINCHLEY SALE
GENEROUS REDUCTIONS ON ALL FINCHLEY HABERDASHERY, HATS AND SHOES NOW CURRENT IN NEW YORK SHOP. MADE TO ORDER CLOTHING NOT INCLUDED.

MONOGRAM CLUB
7:30 P. M.
MURPHEY HALL

The Daily Tar Heel

UNIVERSITY CLUB
7:15 P. M.
GRAHAM MEMORIAL

SERVED BY THE UNITED PRESS

VOLUME XLIII | CHAPEL HILL, N. C., THURSDAY, JANUARY 31, 1935 | NUMBER 93

Status Of Engineering School Will Be Reported On By June

Graham Makes Talk At Trustees' Session

President States Wise, Fair Consolidation Program to Be Hammered Out.

PROGRESS IS BEING MADE

Consolidation of the three units of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, Greensboro, and Raleigh is proceeding steadily and surely, President Frank P. Graham reported to the board of trustees at their semi-annual meeting in Raleigh yesterday.

By the time the trustees meet next June, President Graham predicted, in referring to the progress of consolidation, "we can likely hammer out a program that will be fair, wise, and acceptable to all three institutions and the state.

"Three consolidation problems under special consideration now are the engineering schools at Chapel Hill and Raleigh, the departments of education at all three institutions, some curricula of the school of science and business at State College, and the graduate school," he said.

Present Situation

"Undergraduate elementary education at Chapel Hill has been eliminated. The school of science and business as a school at State has two more years to run. Registration in the school ceased last year. The library school at the Woman's College has been abolished but two vitally needed courses in library materials and methods have been restored to the college at the request of the president. The studies already made and being made of engineering, education,

(Continued on last page)

LONG WILL PLAY FOR GRAIL DANCE

No Announcement Made Concerning Admittance of Freshmen to Saturday Affair.

The second Grail dance of the winter quarter will begin at 9 o'clock Saturday night in Bynum gymnasium with Johnny Long and his Duke Collegians furnishing the music.

It will not be announced until tomorrow in the DAILY TAR HEEL whether freshmen will be admitted or not, since the Grail has not yet decided on this question.

Tickets Limited

Only 250 tickets will be sold, according to Simmons Patterson, treasurer of the Grail, due to the limited space in the gymnasium. Tickets will be on sale at Pritchard-Lloyd's and at the door.

Johnny Long has made several appearances on the Carolina campus before and is widely acclaimed for his good music. He was selected to play for the Roosevelt Birthday Ball at the King Cotton hotel in Greensboro last night.

Freshman Dance Group

A meeting of the freshman class dance committee has been called by Chairman John Ranson to meet this evening at 7 o'clock in room 211 of Everett dormitory.

The committee is in charge of proposed freshman dances, the first of which is expected to take place towards the end of this quarter.

MULLIS CALLS MEETING

Freshman Class President Clyde Mullis announced yesterday a meeting of his executive committee this evening at 8:30 o'clock in room 214 Graham Memorial.

The proposed honor court problem will be discussed at that time along with other class business.

MONOGRAM CLUB TO GIVE LETTERS TO 32 ATHLETES

Twelve Are Eligible for Membership; Club to Meet Tonight In Murphey Hall.

SNAVELY TO SHOW FILMS

Football monograms will be presented to 22 members of the 1934 team and cross country monograms to 10 students at the first meeting this year of the University Monogram Club tonight in 111 Murphey hall at 7:30 o'clock.

There are 12 men eligible for membership in the organization, and two who have been previously eligible. The new men who are entitled to join the club are: Dick Buck, Buck McCarn, John Trimpey, Jim Hutchins, Dick Dashiell, Graham Gammon, Bob Gardiner, Marvin Allen, Jack C. Bowers, Marcus Aderholt, Blucher Ehringhaus, and Dick Lewis. W. T. Minor and E. R. Joyce were already eligible.

Movies to Be Shown

A box of Monogram Club stationery for personal use will be presented each club member who attends tonight's meeting. In addition, Coach Carl Snavely will project his personally filmed movies of the Alabama-Stanford football game.

The following will receive their football monograms at the meeting tonight: G. T. Barclay, R. D. Buck, W. O. Childers, D. A. Daniels, F. K. Dashiell, T. M. Evins, R. W. Gardner, J. A.

(Continued on page two)

Solomon to Resign

The Publications Union Board has announced its intention of calling for applications from persons interested in completing the term of office of the present business manager of the Finjan, Bernard Solomon, who will resign after the publication of the March issue.

Solomon would have continued in his present position through the end of the school year. His resignation in March will leave two issues, April and May, of the humor publication for which a temporary business manager will be needed.

He decided recently not to return after this quarter because a position had been offered him.

SALES TAX PLANS TO STAY SECRET

House to Reconsider Bill Offering Judicial Option on Life Imprisonment or Execution.

Raleigh, Jan. 30.—(UP)—Whatever substitutes for the sales tax the organized opponents may now have under cover, they will remain secret until the revenue bill reaches the floor of the Assembly, representatives of the North Carolina Merchants' Association indicated today in a hearing before the joint finance committee.

Willard M. Dowell, secretary of the association, side-stepped a chance this afternoon to reveal their anti-sales tax ace in hole.

Driven Sales Elsewhere

All of the speakers at the hearing today pointed to sales which they claim have been driven from North Carolina to other states by the tax.

The House today decided to reconsider the bill of Representative Jonas of Lincoln permitting judges to substitute life imprisonment for execution in the cases of capital crimes if the jury so recommends.

Both houses will reconvene at noon tomorrow.

CO-EDS WILL POSE FOR PHOTOGRAPHS

Play-Day Teams Will Meet in Front of Spencer Hall.

The following girls are requested to report promptly at 1:45 o'clock this afternoon in front of Spencer hall to have their pictures taken for the Yackety-Yack.

It is important that everyone listed be present, as the pictures will be of the play-day teams.

Dressed in gym suits: Nancy Lawler, Harriet Taylor, Jean Bush, June Bush, Frances Caffey, Frances Johnston, Blanche Bullock, Jo Oettinger, Jane Ross, "T" Daniels, Kay Quigley, Katherine Collins, Elsie Lawrence, and Evelyn Barker.

Dressed in gym suits and carrying bows and arrows: Ida Winstead and Vivian Grisette.

Dresed in tennis clothes and carrying tennis rackets: Margaret Jordan, Sophie Stevens, Ruth Covington and Margaret McCauley.

At 2 o'clock, the following officers of the Woman's Athletic Association are asked to report: Elsie Lawrence, Joyce Killinsworth, "T" Daniels, Vivian Grisette, Kay Quigley, Ida Winstead, Evelyn Barker, and Margaret McCauley.

HOUSE APPROVES PAY RESTORATION

Senate Confirms Nomination of Carolina's Frank R. McNinch As Federal Power Head.

Washington, Jan. 30.—(UP)—Congress handed President Roosevelt his second disappointment in 24 hours today when the House approved the restoration of the remaining five per cent pay cut to all federal employees on April 1.

The Senate approved the legislation last Monday.

Minor Importance

As compared to the defeat of the World Court resolution, the pay cut restoration was of minor disappointment since Roosevelt had allowed in his budget for a restoration on July 1; but by advancing the date three months, Congress added $22,500,000 to the federal expenses.

Congress also completed the first appropriation bill, providing $780,000,000 to run the government's independent offices next year. The bill, after passing the House, was sent to the President for his signature.

The Senate confirmed the nomination of Frank R. McNinch, North Carolina Democrat, as chairman of the Federal Power Commission after a bitter party fight.

Visitor from Africa Talks Here on Gold

The economic seminar was addressed last evening by T. B. King, of South Africa who spoke on the "Importance of Gold in South African Economy."

He said that, contrary to the prevailing economic conditions in most countries today, South Africa is having a tremendous boom.

Upon leaving the gold standard, the country was able to make great premiums by the sale of gold to those countries which still remained on it.

Gold mining is the key industry in South Africa as the land produces between six and seven billions of dollars worth of gold per year.

Jule Medynski Absolved; Tom O'Flaherty Ineligible To Box In Meet Saturday

UNIVERSITY CLUB

The University Club will meet tonight in 209 Graham Memorial at 7:15 o'clock. New members will be inducted at that time.

Members are reminded that payments for the club keys are due tonight. Thereafter they may be obtained only on special order.

Pugilists to Retain Campus Citizenship

Dean Hobbs States Southern Conference Ruling Involved In O'Flaherty's Case.

DR. GRAHAM MAY ACT

Both Jule Medynski and Tom O'Flaherty retain their campus citizenship, but the latter will not be able to fight in the match with State College Saturday night as matters now stand, it was learned yesterday as another development in a series of events that have involved the boxers.

O'Flaherty's ineligibility did not come through action of the Student Council, although that body has passed on his campus citizenship. The council, after a four-hour session Tuesday night, placed him on probation and absolved Medynski completely.

Graham May Act

However, there is the possibility that President Graham may over-rule the decision of the council. When asked about the matter last night President Graham reiterated his faith in student government, for which he had fought for 25 years, he said; but had no comment to make other than that for the present.

If any further action is to be taken by the administration it is expected to be made known today.

O'Flaherty Withheld

The reason O'Flaherty will not be allowed to compete, unless some change is made in his present status, involves a question of Southern Conference ruling. O'Flaherty was withheld from the Virginia match last Saturday because Dean A. W. Hobbs, chairman of the Athletic Council, refused to certify him as eligible.

"Until conflicting testimony given me and the residence status committee is cleared up," said Dean Hobbs last night, "O'Flaherty remains ineligible to fight Saturday night." The residence status committee convened Friday, and Dean Hobbs withheld his certification of O'Flaherty the following day.

Medynski Absolved

After hearing a mass of detailed evidence Tuesday night, the Student Council absolved Medynski and placed O'Flaherty on council probation when the two boxers were tried on charges of violating the honor code.

According to the official report of the council, it was decided that Medynski "was acting in full confidence that he was meeting the technical requirements of the University and was dealing with this institution in a fair and honest way."

Wrong Home

The probation penalty was placed upon O'Flaherty because he was guilty of putting his mother's residence as Charlotte, which was "wilfully misrepresentative" of the facts. It means that future offenses will be grounds of immediate suspension.

Medynski spent a total of about nine months in Charlotte, the council learned, whereas the technical residence requirement is six months continuous

(Continued on page two)

PLAYERS TO OPEN WINTER QUARTER PROGRAM TONIGHT

Playmakers Present Noel Coward's "The Young Idea" At 8:30 O'clock.

HARRY DAVIS IS DIRECTOR

As the first public production for the winter quarter, the Carolina Playmakers will present Noel Coward's "The Young Idea" in the theatre tonight at 8:30 o'clock.

The new production, under the direction of Harry Davis of the Playmakers' staff, will run for three nights, through Saturday.

Dorsett Assists

Davis, who directed Coward's "Hay Fever" with such success last season, has been assisted in the current production by Wilbur Dorsett, director of the scene shop, and by his wife, Ora Mae Davis, who has designed the costumes for the players.

"The Young Idea," another of Coward's smart, sophisticated dramas, deals with life in an Italian villa and an English country house. In the original production, the author himself played one of the leading roles.

Cast

Heading the Playmakers' cast for Davis' production are Philip Parker, the Dr. Gall of "R. U. R.", Ellen Deppe, also of "R. U. R.", Charles Lloyd of "The House of Connelly," David Mc-

(Continued on page two)

CO-ED DANCE BIDS AVAILABLE TODAY

Invitations to Be Sold Today and Tomorrow in Woman's Association Room.

Bids for the co-ed dance will be on sale in the Woman's Association room, 108 Graham Memorial, this morning from 10:30 until 11 o'clock.

This afternoon the bids will be distributed from 3 until 5 o'clock.

Tomorrow morning from 10:30 until 12 o'clock and tomorrow afternoon from 3:30 until 6 o'clock, the passes will also be sold.

Johnson to Play

Freddy Johnson and his orchestra will play for the dance which will be held in the gym from 9:30 until 1 o'clock tomorrow evening.

Chaperones for the occasion will include: Dr. and Mrs. S. A. Stoudemire, Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Dey, Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Lyons, Dr. and Mrs. E. T. Browne, Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Wiley, Dr. and Mrs. M. I. Van Hecke, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Breckenridge, Mrs. M. H. Stacy, Mrs. Irene Lee, Mrs. Shipp Sanders, and Mrs. H. M. Wagstaff.

Kay Kyser Made Impressive Record In Undergraduate Days At Carolina

Nationally Known Orchestra Leader Organized University Cheerios and Jazz Band.

GOLDEN FLEECE MEMBER

When Kay Kyser brings his well-known orchestra here to play for the German Club midwinters February 15-16, he will be returning to the campus where he made quite a name for himself during his undergraduate days.

Kay Kyser is best remembered here perhaps for his organization of the "Cheerios" with which he revived the old Carolina spirit to aid the University athletic teams. The "Cheerios" have carried on and led the student body in its cheering ever since.

Student Leader

Even before organizing the "Cheerios" Kay was recognized as an outstanding leader on the campus. He was a member of Sigma Nu and Alpha Kappa Psi, commerce fraternity. Kyser won many social honors, including leadership of the Junior Prom and chairmanship of the

(Continued on page two)

Singers Meet Today

Glee Club members who are to go to Southern Pines next Sunday will be chosen this afternoon, Manager C. H. Ballard announced last night.

About 28 boys will be selected this afternoon. All members of the club are requested to meet at 5 o'clock in the Hill Music hall, for a combination rehearsal and business meeting.

The Glee Club sings for the Church of Wide Fellowship at Southern Pines Saturday. On February 11 the club will sing in the East Carolina Teachers' College at Greenville.

CHEMISTRY FRATERNITY INITIATES SIX

The Rho Chapter and Alpha Chi Sigma, national professional chemistry fraternity, announces the initiation on January 26 of William V. Binder, Charlotte; Harry B. Miller, Charlotte; Henry J. Allison, Charlotte; Carl C. McDade, Hillsboro; Frank W. Eubanks, Hendersonville; and Granvil C. Kyker, Sevierville, Tenn.

The Daily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Union Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where it is printed daily except Mondays, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Holidays. Entered as second class matter at the post office of Chapel Hill, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 for the college year.

A. T. Dill ..... Editor
Robert C. Page, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
Joe Webb ..... Business Manager
George Underwood ..... Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

EDITORIAL BOARD—Phil Hammer, chairman, Earl Wolslagel, Franklin Harward, John Schulz, DuPont Snowden, Margaret McCauley, Morty Slavin, Sam Leager, Dick Myers, Charles Lloyd, Jake Snyder.

FEATURE BOARD—Nelson Lansdale, chairman; Nick Read, Bob Browder, Francis Clingman, J. E. Poindexter, W. M. Cochrane, Willis Harrison.

CITY EDITORS—Irving Suss, Walter Hargett, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.

TELEGRAPH EDITORS—Stuart Rabb, Charlie Gilmore.

DESK MAN—Eddie Kahn.

SPORTS DEPARTMENT—Jimmy Morris and Smith Barrier, co-editors, Tom Bost, Lee Turk, Len Rubin, Fletcher Ferguson, Stuart Sechriest, Lester Ostrow, Ira Sarasohn.

EXCHANGES—Margaret Gaines.

STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER—Don Becker.

REPORTERS—Bill Hudson, John Smith, J. F. Jonas, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Hazel Beacham, Raymond Howe, William Jordan, Morton Feldman.

Business Staff

ASST. BUSINESS MANAGER ..... Butler French
COLLECTION MANAGER ..... Herbert Osterheld
OFFICE MANAGERS ..... Walter Eckert, Roy Crooks
NATIONAL ADVERTISING ..... Boylan Carr
DURHAM REPRESENTATIVE—Joe Murnick.
LOCAL ADVERTISING—Hugh Primrose, Robt. Sosnik, Eli Joyner (managers), Bill MacDonald, Louis Shaffner, Page Keel, Bill McLean, Crist Blackwell.

CITY EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE: DON McKEE

Thursday, January 31, 1935

PARAGRAPHICS

Father Riggs declared: "Ignorance of what people are really like is an evil thing." Why, you old nudist, you.

We suggest the student council be tried for keeping the boxers out past their bed hour.

The best thing for a driver with no state tag to do when a policeman is around is to keep out of cite.

We Want Trophies

The Monogram Club, which will meet tonight, has a by-law in its constitution that athletic managers may not get their monogram until all trophies won by the particular team are handed in to a central place of collection. This has not been enforced and only one trophy since 1924 has been saved, with Rip Slusser's help.

"The trophies belong to the institution. They were won by the representatives of the institution." So says "Doc" R. B. Lawson, who revived interest in trophy-collection in 1905, has spent over $300 of his own money in such a pastime, and who since 1924 has been virtually the only man vitally interested in the trophy room and its significance.

The senior class has a trophy collection committee. All the missing trophies since 1924 should be collected. The Monogram Club should stringently enforce the rule regarding the managers. The Order of the Grail, as in former days, should aid by appropriations in the care of the significant emblems of intercollegiate sport.

Anyone who has been north has admired the historic collections of collegiate sportsware. There is fascination in trophies which colleges should cherish. From 1904-24 every trophy at Chapel Hill was collected, marked, and catalogued, largely at "Doc" Lawson's expense, but since 1924 nothing has been done about collecting the trophies for a permanent display.

It should be mandatory that managers turn in trophies, even boxing gloves and tennis balls, to some responsible person. Here is an opportunity for the Monogram Club and the senior class to co-operate in a worthwhile enterprise.

Return to The Rope?

According to recent statistics, this state, with 17 on its death row, shares second place in the nation with California; Florida leads with 20 awaiting electrocution. North Carolina far surpasses her neighbor states in the number awaiting the switch.

California is one of the few remaining states to practice hanging of her criminals. The circumstances are enough to dispel any desire—as expressed by one of our state solons—to return to the noose as a means of capital punishment. Empirical knowledge has taught that the method of punishment by a state, in efforts to reduce the criminality rate, is quite secondary to social efforts which seek to strike crime at its roots.

Of the 94 electrocutions between 1909 and 1929, 81 of the number were negroes, nearly all of which were of the lowest economic and social status. This is clearly indicative that social legislation is needed far more than new methods of punishment.

A New Union For a New Era

On the pre-war college campuses there were to be found many thriving organizations which gave the college man an opening to expres his opinions and receive the opinions of his fellow students concerning political and current problems of the day. In brief the pre-war college man was conscious of a world about him.

After the war the collegian seemed to take the attitude that all the problems of the world were solved, that the issues were washed and disintegrated in the war.

Today the student is tending towards a spontaneous interest in what is going on in this world of ours. He realizes that the world is cleaning house and is doing some drastic remodeling.

Some campuses are already fitted to meet the demands of this refreshed student interest, some are in the process of being fitted. The colleges and universities in England have the most adequate organizations for such discussions of current events. The Oxford Political Union is most famous. It is known throughout England as being the most potential campus organization ever founded.

In this country Yale has taken the lead. Very recently a Yale Political Union was formed. For the first meeting the union had as its guest speaker a United States senator. The senator presented the subject of discussion from the governmental and political standpoint. Immediately following the senator's presentation, a Yale student discussed the topic from the student standpoint. In this way two sound presentations of the current problem were made, one from the elder experienced generation and one from our own unbiased eager generation. The first Yale Political Union meeting was a model meeting of the sessions to follow: a guest speaker, an informed student speaker, and then an open forum.

What have we here on this campus? We have three main organizations, the Foreign Policy League, the Di, and the Phi. The Foreign Policy League under the supervision of Dr. Frazer appears to be doing some very fine and constructional thinking, but its field is specialized. It is a society with the right idea and should continue with the best of success. The Di and Phi are existing on their reputations. They are phlegmatically getting along. Their ideals are excellent, but need lubrication—zip!

This editorial is not written for condemning the Di or the Phi, but is for the creating of a new organization on this campus—the Carolina Political Union.

An Old Spanish . . .

To the Spanish student who is commercially minded has often arisen the question of why the University insists upon teaching Spanish as used in Spain rather than Spanish as used in Latin America? Most students conclude that if they are to use their meager knowledge of Spanish at all, it will probably be in Central or South America rather than in Old Spain.

The differences between the two branches of the language are almost entirely those of pronunciation. The split originated in Spain long before the New World was ever thought of, the inhabitants of the northern part speaking the clear, crisp Castilian and those of the southern part speaking the slow, soft Andalusian. Andalusian, then, bears the same relation to Castilian that the southern drawl bears to the Yankee twang in the United States. As it happened most of the conquistadors came from the southern part of Spain—thus the use of Andalusian in Latin America today.

The critic of the policy of teaching Castilian in American universities is quick to point out that an American, even though he have a moderate command of Castilian, has a difficult time in understanding a native of South or Central America. This is true enough, but the difficulty is usually cleared up with a few days practice.

The most obvious reason for the study of Castilian is that it was until very recently the language of the court and probably always will be the language of Spanish literature. To the student who is interested primarily in such culture this is all-important.

However, there are arguments which should be just as convincing to the future salesman of American thrashing machines in the Argentine. A South American is immediately thrown upon his guard when he meets a foreigner who speaks with the Castilian accent, however poorly. That he feels his inferiority is shown by the fact that he usually tries to imitate the accent of the foreigner—and without success. This brings up the fact that a person who has learned Castilian can lapse into the lazier Andalusian with ease, while a person who has started out with Andalusian can only with difficulty master Castilian.

A further point for the study of Castilian is that an object is not always called by the same word in the various countries of Latin America. This difficulty is cleared up by the use of Castilian—which is understood everywhere Spanish is spoken.

SPEAKING the CAMPUS MIND

Shock, Shame, And Pretty Pass

Editor, the DAILY TAR HEEL:

It was with some shame that I read Tuesday's edition of the DAILY TAR HEEL. The usual calm and desirable policy of the paper to deal in news and not in personalities was abruptly and shockingly ended with an uncalled-for, headlined article dealing with the week-end trip of three University men who, so it happens, are at present under fire from University authorities for acts of their own doing if such acts were done. It smacked to me of yellow journalism.

Things have indeed come to a pretty pass when rumor alone gets articles that have no business even being in a newspaper straight into a front page-spread two columns wide. College newspapers as purveyors of news from the college to the student body and to friends of the University involved should not hedge in reporting clearly and concisely any events of importance that transpire and in doing this the truth is absolutely essential. Facts alone constitute truth and rumor is anomalous. To quote from the subhead in the DAILY TAR HEEL of January 29, 1935, "Entering Catholic U. Is Intention, According to Campus Rumor."

It is my sincere hope that this article received such prominent space due to the over-zealousness of the make-up man, or the impulsiveness of some cub reporter, and not as a result of careful thought on the part of the editor. It is, however, an uncomfortable thought to think that the harm it has done to the individuals and to the college cannot be undone and that the only way out of these embarrassing predicaments in the future lies in the careful scrutiny of each and every article that enters the DAILY TAR HEEL.

A STUDENT

Religious Workers Begin Radio Series

A series of Religious Workers Council radio programs was inaugurated over station WDNC in Durham yesterday afternoon.

An address on Bible reading was given by Lawrence Fountain. James Dees rendered two solos, accompanied on the piano by Rebecca Jordan of Chapel Hill. The songs were "Asleep in the Deep" and "My Task."

The program will be presented each Wednesday at the same time, next week's program to be sponsored by the Presbyterian church here.

INFIRMARY LIST

The following students were confined in the infirmary yesterday: Fred Cochran, Charles Robinson, Jim Finley, W. D. Turner, Raymond Dean, Walker Percy, R. W. Ross, R. S. Wesson, Nan Norment, Bruce Smith, W. S. Markham, Max Novich, J. M. Liebfried, Murray Honeycutt, E. W. Douglas, A. C. Walters, J. R. Barrett, Maurice Haggard, S. A. Forrester, and Tom Hines.

Boxers

(Continued from page one)

residence prior to registration at the University. Medynski did not spend this time continuously in Charlotte, but the council ruled that he considered himself as having honestly met the technical requirement.

The case of the boxers has been decided by the committee on residence status, which ruled Friday that they must pay out-of-state tuition beginning in the spring quarter.

Kay Kyser

(Continued from page one)

finals. He was tapped by both the Grail and Golden Fleece.

Kyser was born in Rocky Mount June 18, 1906, and christened James Kern. He received his bachelor of arts degree from the University in 1928.

It was during his colorful college career here that Kay organized his well-known orchestra. Seven of the 14 present members of the band attended the University.

To Be Lawyer

Although a lover of music, Kay had no idea of becoming an orchestra leader when he entered school—in fact he was "all set" to become a lawyer; but in the fall of 1926, the campus unexpectedly found itself without a dance orchestra. Kay jumped in and organized a new one, only to be told that, unless he acted as leader, the boys would not play.

Thus Kay started his band, intending to give it up at the completion of his college work. But, much to the disappointment of his family, Kay's avocation became his vocation.

Having played at 40 of the outstanding colleges of the south, east, and mid-west during and shortly after finishing college, Kay and his orchestra set out seriously to make a musical name for themselves throughout the country and have succeeded to the extent of successful engagements at the Hotel New Yorker, the Hotel Gibson in Cincinnati, the Hotel Lowry in St. Paul, the Belle-rive hotel in Kansas City, William hotel in Pittsburgh, two long engagements at the Bal Tabarin in San Francisco, the fashionable private Del Mar Club in Santa Monica, the famous Miramar hotel in Santa Monica and now at the Blackhawk in Chicago.

They have been heard over both Red and Blue NBC and CBS networks and have not only recorded for Victor, but have made electrical transcriptions that have been released over radio stations throughout the country. They have been heard recently on the Midnite Flyers program broadcast from WGN every Monday night.

Playmakers

(Continued from page one)

Cachren of "Shroud My Body Down," Alan Waters, and Frances McGraw head the Coward cast.

Parker plays the role of George Brent; Ellen Deppe, Gerda; Lloyd, Sholto; McCachren, Roddy Masters; Waters, Huddle; and Frances McGraw, Cicely Brent.

Included in the remainder of the veteran cast are Juanita Greene as Sybil Blaith, Joyce Killinsworth as Priscilla Hartleberry, Douglas Hume as Claud Eccles, Patsy McMullan as Julia Cragworthy, Wilfred Evans as Eustace Dabbitt, Louise McGuire as Jennifer, Josephine Oettinger as Maria, Robert Nachtmann as Hiram J. Walkin.

The heavy furniture that some of the sets require has been executed from designs made by Parker and Mrs. Davis. For this production Jean Walker will act as prompter; Sarah Seawell, Frances Caffey, John Larsen as assistant property men; John Dacey, assistant electrician; Billy Robertson, Willard Miller, Carl Thompson, Fred Howard, Steven Mazur, and Clyde Shaw as technicians.

Patronize Our Advertisers

OUTSTANDING RADIO BROADCASTS

12:30: George Hall orch., WABC.

1:15: Americanism—Frank Belgrano, National Commander. American Legion, WEAF.

3:15: Rochester Philharmonic orch., WJZ.

4:30: Dick Messner orch., WABC.

5:00: Loretta Lee, songs, WABC.

6:45: Lowell Thomas, commentator, WJZ.

7:00: Hal Kemp orch., WEAF

7:30: The Street Singer, WOR.

7:45: Red Nichols orch; Ruth Etting, songs, WJZ.

8:00: Rudy Vallee's Varieties, WEAF; All-Girl orchestra, and chorus, Direction Phil Spitalny, WABC.

8:30: Progress of the Republican Party— Henry P. Fletcher, Chairman Republican Nat. Committee, WOR; Johnson orch.; Edward Nell, baritone; Edwin C. Hill, narrator; Speaker, WABC.

9:00: Glen Gray orch, WABC.

9:30: Fred Waring orch., WABC.

10:00: Whiteman's Music Hall, WEAF.

10:30: Self-Government in Business-Speakers, WJZ.

Monogram Club

(Continued from page one)

Hutchins, D. F. Jackson, E. R. Joyce, E. B. Kahn, J. R. McCachren.

L. W. McCarn, E. W. Martin, W. J. Moore, H. H. Montgomery, C. M. Shaffer, H. P. Snyder, J. M. Tatum, J. S. Trimpey, J. C. B. Ehringhaus, Jr., R. H. Lewis.

Cross country monograms will be presented to the following: M. L. Aderholt, Jr., E. M. Allen, J. C. Bowers, L. B. Conte, T. H. Curlee, E. G. Gammon, R. M. Gardiner, F. S. Haygood, E. E. McRae, and J. E. Waldrop.

THE Young Men's Shop
126-128 E. Main St.
DURHAM, N. C.

WHAT HAPPENS to the children when they have only a part-time mother?

—Also—
Musical Comedy, "What No Men"
Buddy Cartoon
Novelty, "Movie Sideshow"
NOW PLAYING
CAROLINA

Let Us Smooth You Up for the Week-end Dances
CAROLINA BARBER SHOP

White Phantoms Defeat Wolfpack, 33-27, To Take Lead In Big Five Standing

Aitken and McCachren Star; Rex Is Held to Two Foul Shots

Lambeth Shines for State, Takes High Scoring Honors.

Carolina's state champion White Phantoms once more climbed to a place by themselves on top the Big Five, as they successfully turned back the Red Terrors from State, 33-27, in a fast, spectacular cage tilt here last night.

In a battle featuring long accurate shots from both sides, the Wolfpack jumped into an early 6-0 lead only to have the Tar Heels' smooth offense overtake it and then leap ahead. The count at half-time stood, Carolina 16, State 10.

Paced by Lambeth, short forward, State again rallied at the start of the second half and soon went into a 22-21 lead; Lambeth got three straight action shots. However, Carolina settled down and ran its margin up to 31-22 before the Red Terors could find the basket again. State pulled up but it was too late to do any damage.

Aitken's Great Playing

Captain Snooks Aitken, Carolina's veteran forward, rose to great play as he handled the usual-high-scoring Captain Ray Rex like an infant. Aitken stayed on the big boy all the way, holding him to exactly no field goals. Captain Rex did manage to drop in two fouls during the closing minutes of the game.

Jim McCachren also turned in another beautiful floor game, as he broke up State play after play. He tallied four action shots and a pair of fouls to head the Tar Heel on offense with 10

(Continued on last page)

Box Score

CAROLINA	G	F	TP
Aitken, f	4	1	9
Nelson, f	3	2	8
Glace, c	0	4	4
McCachren, g	4	2	10
Kaveny, g	1	0	2
Totals	12	9	33

STATE	G	F	TP
Lambeth, f	6	1	13
Aycock, f	3	0	6
Flythe, c	2	0	4
Rex, g	0	2	2
Dalrymple, g	1	0	2
Totals	12	3	27

Score at half: Carolina 16; State 10.

Non-scoring subs: Carolina—Webster, c; Minor, g; Harris, g. State—Womble, c; Zori, c.

Referees: Knight (Durham Y) and Gerrard (Ill.).

Close Tilts Feature Mural Cage Playing

Beta Theta Pi and Ruffin came through with close margin victories over Delta Tau Delta and Lewis respectively yesterday afternoon in the intramural basketball competition and thus kept their records inviolate.

However, Theta Chi and Sigma Chi stole the spotlight of the session as they battled to a 24-24 deadlock for the regular game, but an over-time period gave the verdict to the former by a

(Continued on last page)

WRESTLERS TAKE LAST HARD DRILL TODAY FOR W. & L.

Welterweight Division Is Still Open; to Be Decided Today In Practice Bouts.

GENERALS VERY STRONG

With the Washington and Lee meet just two days away Coach Chuck Quinlan will give his varsity wrestlers their last taste of hard work this afternoon. The team will leave tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock for Lexington.

Although the starting lineup has not yet been announced, it is expected that the same combination which was used in the V. P. I. and State tilts will start, with a possible exception in the welterweight class.

Welter Undecided

At the present time four men are fighting for the 145-pound berth with honors about even for the man to get the starting call. These men are Gholsen, Kephart, Bost, and Greengold. Trials will be held this afternoon to determine which of the contestants will compete.

Carolina will be seeking revenge when the bell brings these two mat contingents together Saturday. The Generals, winners of the Southern Conference title for the past three years, swamped Coach Quinlan's proteges, 29-5, last year. Incidentally Washington and Lee went through its 1934 season undefeated. A perfect record was

(Continued on last page)

Co-ed Cage Practice

Co-ed basketball practice will be held tonight at 7 o'clock in Bynum gym for the senior and sophomore teams.

TRACKMEN LEAVE TODAY FOR N. Y. MILLROSE GAMES

Williamson, Gammon, Gardiner, Waldrop, and Gabori Make Trip with Coach Ranson.

TO RUN SATURDAY NIGHT

Harry Williamson and four men of the two-mile relay team will leave with Coach Dale Ranson this morning at 9:30 o'clock for the Millrose indoor track games in New York City Saturday night.

The quartet of baton-carriers will be Graham Gammon, Ed Waldrop, Bob Gardiner and Dick Gabori. One of these, however, will yield his place to Williamson.

Williamson in 1000-Meter

Williamson will run in the invitational 1000-meter event with such competition as Dawson (Tulsa A. A.) and Monohan (Boston A. A.).

Last year Manhattan College won the relay event in the time of 8 minutes flat with Columbia and N. Y. U. following. The New York team will be defending its title and several other northern quartets will be in the running.

These will be the 28th annual Millrose games. Last year 16,500 fans witnessed the affair. The Wanamaker Mile is the feature event of the night; and this year it will have an added attraction because it will be the first 1935 meeting between Cunningham and Bonthron.

VARSITY BOXERS TAKE HARD WORK FOR COLLEGIANS

O'Flaherty Works Out in Ring First Time in Week; Others Spar Several Rounds.

GIDDINS-FABRI TO FEATURE

With the return of Jule Medynski to their fold, the Carolina pugilists will present a formidable aggregation to the N. C. State contingent here Saturday night. Coach Rowe is wary over the State meet as the Wolfpack has always thrown a scare into the Tar Heels.

The best scrap of the night is looked for when Captain Giddins tangles with Captain Fabri of State. These boys will renew a three year feud, that saw each one decision the other. This meeting of the pair is a natural, and since they are seniors, the fur will be expected to fly.

O'Flaherty Spars

Tom O'Flaherty returned to the ring yesterday; and although he has been absent for about a week, he looked to be in excellent condition. O'Flaherty stepped through two fast rounds with the freshman Shores and never before has he thrown such terrific right hands. Shores tried to solve O'Flaherty's baffling style and did his best to stay away from his left hook.

Marion Diehl stepped through a few fast rounds with Jackie Horn and is training hard for Turner Billosoly of State. Diehl is fresh from his victory over

(Continued on last page)

Tar Baby Quintet Loses Thriller To State, 29-26

Box Score

U.N.G. FROSH	G	F	TP
Mullis, f	2	0	4
Boone, f	1	0	2
Potts, f	1	0	2
Meroney, c	3	0	6
Ruth, g	2	5	9
Grubb, g	1	1	3
Totals	10	6	26

STATE FROSH	G	F	TP
Satterfield, f	1	0	2
Swan, f	3	3	9
Berry, c	7	3	17
Rennie, g	0	1	1
Keating, g	0	0	0
Hamilton, g	0	0	0
Totals	11	7	29

Yearling Grapplers Work for Positions

In an attempt to determine the men who will make the trip to W. & L. this week, Coach Quinlan sent his charges through a series of ten minute bouts, followed by calisthenics.

Today the squad will go through its last workout before the meet, as they will leave tomorrow morning for Lexington. At the close of practice today a list of men who are making the trip will be posted.

One of the chief reasons for the uncertainty concerning the participants in the coming match is the fact that Coach Quinlan has stated that there will undoubtedly be a change in lineup.

Berry Leads Rally To Tie and Then Win

Carolina Frosh Take Early Lead But Unable to Hold Down Last Minute Rally.

EARL RUTH OUTSTANDING

It took a thrill-packed extra period and an unstoppable Mack Berry to plunge the Tar Babies into their first defeat of the season, as the State yearlings accomplished the feat last night, before a packed audience in a 29-26 extra-period win.

Berry, huge pivot man of the Wolfcubs, turned the Carolina frosh aside single-handed as he looped in six points within the final two moments of the extra-period, to end a brilliant battle between the two powerful squads.

State Rallies

With six minutes to go for game time, the Tar Babies held a commanding lead of 23-18 but the aspect shifted swiftly when Berry and Satterfield tallied on long tosses in rapid succession, to draw State within one point of a knotted count.

For the following five minutes, the action swirled from one basket to another, without either team being able to dent the hoop. Both teams were completely bottled up by air-tight defenses; and with but 30 long seconds remaining, Carolina still had the high-tensioned possession of a

(Continued on last page)

Copyright, 1935 R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company Winston-Salem, N. C.

BRUNO IN BAKERY ON FATAL NIGHT

Wife Claims He Was at Home When Ransom Was Paid.

Flemington, N. J., Jan. 30.—(UP)—Two witnesses today testified that Bruno Hauptmann was in a bakery on the night of the kidnaping.

Mrs. Hauptmann claimed that he came after her at the bakery and took her home at 9:30 p. m.

Elbert Carlstrom said that March 1 was his birthday and that he visited the bakery of Christian Fredricksen in New York City, seeing Hauptmann there.

Mrs. Hauptmann also testified that her husband was home on the night that Jafsie paid the ransom money. State Prosecutor Wilentz will continue his cross-examination of Carlstrom tomorrow.

Murals

(Continued from page three)

28-26 count. The only other contest saw Grimes out-point the Locals, 31-26.

The summaries:

Theta Chi 28	Sigma Chi 26
Barker, f (10)	Rehm, f (2)
Bennett, f (6)	Rowland, f (1)
Cromartie, c (10)	Bannon, c (2)
Rogers, g	Barney, g (7)
Hunter, g (2)	Neal, g

Subs: Theta Chi—Austin; Sigma Chi—Clover (12), Kilpatrick (2) Wyche, (overtime game).

Beta Theta Pi 27	D. T. D. 25
Rand, f (17)	Curry, f
Tennille, f (6)	Shores, f (12)
Dunn, c	Rouielier, c (4)
Rasberry, g (3)	Fletcher, g (3)
Leak, g (1)	Corwith, g (6)

Subs: Beta Theta Pi—McCallum.

Ruffin 14	Lewis 11
Merryfield, f (6)	Hookes, f (4)
Pool, f	Parker, f
Stricker, c (2)	Sniscack, c (3)
Ogolsby, g	Derrickson, g (4)
Sale, g	Lawlor, g

Subs: Ruffin—Hicks (4), Garrison (2), Minor; Lewis—Collins.

Grimes 31	Locals 26
Holpand, f (8)	Mason, f (7)
Angline, f (4)	Dav'port, f (16)
Umstead, c	Miller, c (2)
Willard, g (2)	Verner, g
Kikes, g (5)	Seawell, g (1)

Subs: Grimes—King (12). Locals—Seawell (1).

P. U. Board to Convene

The Publications Union Board will meet tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock in the seminar room of Bingham hall to consider changes in Finjan salaries.

Postpone A. I. Ch. E. Session

The regular meeting of the A. I. Ch. E. which was scheduled to be held this evening has been postponed until next week. The date will be announced later.

Senior Executives

The executive committee of the senior class will meet at 7 o'clock tonight in the Y. M. C. A., it was announced yesterday by Jack Pool.

At Home

Mrs. Frank Graham and Mrs. R. B. House will be at home to all the ladies of Chapel Hill from 4 to 6 p. m. Saturday at 402 East Franklin street.

Today's Mural Card

4:30—(1) Phi Gamma Delta vs. Phi Sigma Kappa, (2) S. P. E. vs. Chi Phi, (3) Phi Delta Theta vs. Phi Kappa Sigma.

5:30—(1) S. A. E. vs. St. Anthony Hall, (2) Law School vs. Aycock, (3) Theta Kappa Nu vs. T. E. P.

Consolidation

(Continued from page one)

science curricula and industrial management, and graduate, are not complete and all tie together in the working out of both an educationally and functionally sound basis of consolidation.

"We are making progress in the business of trying to be fair and intelligent with an eye to the special values and functions of each institution and the long-run educational interests of the whole state.

Decisions Unanimous

"Thus far every decision made with regard to consolidation has been unanimous, whether recommended by the Commission on Consolidation and adopted by the board or made by the executive committee and ratified by the board or recommended by the president and the administrative council and adopted by the executive committee and ratified by the board."

President Graham said he "had hoped to make a recommendation at this meeting of the board for a principle and long-run plan of consolidation which would meet head on some of these remnant problems of the department of education and science and business, the major problem of engineering, and those allied and basic problems of the curriculum of the first two years, the curriculum of the second two years and the graduate years. These are all tied together. When we make a recommendation which is going to be so comprehensive as to include these problems, we should know the ground on which we stand and on which a whole university can stand in the highest and widest educational service through all the generations to come.

More Time Needed

"The acting chairman of the trustees committee on consolidation advised me that it was wise that we take until June to make our decision. The committee studying the departments of education reported they needed more time for so important a matter. The state committee on engineering at first leaned toward two engineering schools and then recommended by a six to five vote for the consolidation of the two schools in Raleigh. The committee of out-of-state experts had recommended consolidation at Chapel Hill.

"Committees on graduate studies are not yet ready for their recommendation. The administrative council, composed of the faculty representatives of all three institutions recommended that the decision with regard to the next step in consolidation be made in the June meeting.

"As one of the faculty representatives phrased it in interpreting the view from which there was no dissent, in a few more months we can likely hammer out a program and decision that will be fair, wise, and acceptable to the most thoughtful in all three institutions and the state.

"Such a consummation is devoutly to be wished and is worth waiting five months for, especially in view of the fact that even the most drastic decision possible would in fairness and intelligence take two years for adjustment."

Following President Graham's speech, the trustees took up the routine business of their annual meeting. The report of the committee on escheats was made by A. B. Andrews, chairman of the committee.

The board then heard the report of the finance committee, of which James A. Gray is chairman.

The trustees approved resolutions of respect to the memories of Drs. Bell, Venable, Cobb, and Toy of the University at Chapel Hill; of Professor Whitener of State College; and of Mrs. Martin of the Woman's College.

In verbal reports on the situations at their respective institutions, Deans House, Harrelson and Jackson enlarged upon the details of President Graham's message.

Controller C. T. Woolen presented a report on the items of the budget request.

CALENDAR

Co-eds photos.
Spencer hall 1:45

Glee Club.
Hill Music hall 5:00

Senior executives.
Y. M. C. A. 7:00

Frosh dance group.
211 Everett dormitory 7:00

University Club.
Graham Memorial 7:15

Troop school.
Davie hall 7:30

Monogram club.
Murphey hall 7:30

"The Young Idea."
Playmakers theatre 8:30

Freshman executives.
Graham Memorial 8:30

Freshman Basketball

(Continued from page three)

23-22 lead.

Score Tied

Red Meroney, Tar Baby center, fouled Rennie on the next play, and before a hushed gathering the State guard scored his lone tally of the night, with a clean toss that deadlocked the panting quintets at 23-all.

The extra period opened with Carolina jumping into a three point advantage, as Ruth converted two free tosses and Grubb duplicated with his single grat shot. However, Berry took matters into his own hands, opening with a pivot shot from underneath to score two points. He immediately tied the count by sinking a foul given him when Pete Mullis hurled himself into the State center in a vain attempt to regain the ball.

Berry then pivoted again with a minute to go to send his team into the lead for the first time since the opening whistle. He settled the tense issue by calmly netting the ball again on a foul, with but flitting seconds left on the time clock.

The frenzied final attempt to score by the Tar Babies was smothered by their rejuvenated opponents and halted by the gun, settling the doom of the formerly unbeaten frosh.

Berry ran wild on the court to take scoring honors with 17 points, and he was followed by Swan of his squad with 9.

Earl Ruth, playing his usual heady and remarkably smooth game, led the Carolina team with 9 tallies, five by the gratis route. Red Meroney followed with 6, and Mullis with 4 completed the high scoring for the Tar Babies.

The frosh team played an improved game and were sailing on smooth waters until the sudden bombardment in the dying moments. Potts, Boone and Grubb, the other Babies to see action, played splendid games, but it proved inadequate against the solo work of Berry and Swan.

Troop School

The next session of the 316th Field Artillery troop school for Chapel Hill and vicinity will be held tonight at 7:30 in Davie hall. The subject to be discussed is "Instruction Preparatory for C. M. T. C. Duty."

Varsity Basketball

(Continued from page three)

points. Aitken's eye was also on the basket as he dropped in four beautiful long shots plus a foul for nine.

Aside from these two, the rest of the Phantoms likewise played top ball all the way. Jason Glace had a great jumping and backboard duel with Flythe; both men turned in four points, although Flythe had to leave the game on fouls.

Lambeth Best Wolf

Lambeth was by far the shining light of the losing club, as he really went to town during the second half to run up nine points, 8 of them coming during State's successful 12-point rally. Lambeth topped both outfits in scoring with 13 points.

Aycock, Lambeth's running mate, turned in a good game as did the entire Red Terror team. Aycock counted six points over Jim McCachren and then held his opponents while on the defense to only two points.

State Opens Hot

State took its 6-0 margin at the start as Lambeth, Flythe, and Aycock got successive shots. Here the Tar Heels came back with McCachren clearing the way. Glace made two fouls and Mack dropped in a clean long throw. Captain Snooks made good from left corner, and McCachren got a fast crip and a free shot to run the count up to 9-6.

Flythe finished his scoring with a long one from the right corner, but McCachren shot a one-hander at full speed and Nelson got up steam with two beauties. McCachren dropped in a foul and then Lambeth broke loose under the basket for a crip leaving the score 16-10 at the half gun.

Dalrymple and Lambeth swished long ones, before McCachren with a long one, Nelson with a free throw, and Paul Kaveny with a hook crip could run the score up to 21-14. Here the Wolfpack showed the most fangs of the night as Aycock tallied from mid-court and then Lambeth got his three action shots in a row, all left-handed push baskets from the right side of the court.

With the count 22-21 against them, the White Phantoms, led by the forward combination, quickly pulled away. Nelson tied things up by making good on a foul. Aitken then got another long one and Nelson a beautiful hook from the right. Aitken swished from the right corner, Nelson scored a free throw, and Captain Snooks put the ball in again as he charged toward the basket from the right side.

Here the rally stopped with Carolina leading as Lambeth made a foul and Aycock a beautiful action throw while being guarded. Glace and Aitken made fouls and Rex his two lonesome free throws to finish the point-making.

President's Ball

Bridge and ballroom and square dancing were features of the President's Ball held last night in the Carolina Inn.

Coleman Woodard and his student orchestra from Riverside, Ga., donated their services for the ballroom dancing; and the Cates Quartet from Carrboro played for the square dancers.

Ninety dollars was cleared from the sale of tickets.

Washington, Jan. 30.—(UP)—Surrounded by his family, President Roosevelt tonight joined the nation in celebrating his 53rd birthday.

Although a bit grayer about the temples, and with lines of care in his face a shade more pronounced, Roosevelt nevertheless entered the new year in the pink of condition as he greeted White House guests at a dinner party.

Varsity Boxers

(Continued from page three)

Hahn of the Cavaliers and is endeavoring to retain the condition he is in.

In the heavyweight ranks, Lammie Alderman boxed two rounds with the frosh heavy, Leake, and two rounds with Jack Lowe. Alderman has improved rapidly and looked good in his long workout.

Captain Giddins and the classy Joe Fisher also took a few fast rounds. However, the proceedings were halted when Giddins shoulder, which had been sore, started aching him.

Grumman Speaks Today

In his capacity as lieutenant governor of division five of the Carolinas district of Kiwanis International, R. M. Grumman will speak before a luncheon meeting of the Durham Kiwanis Club today.

Haydon Talks Today

Dr. Glen Haydon of the University music department will lecture to the English 22 class on "Romantic Music" at 9:30 this morning in the music building.

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS

Annual Business Staff Will Report Today

Yarkety Yack business staff members who have been assigned to fraternity pictures are requested to report at the office today and receive the latest reports on their respective groups.

A limited number of 1934 Yackety Yacks have been received from the printer and will be distributed on the second floor of Graham Memorial today and tomorrow. All persons desiring these copies will have a last chance to obtain them at that time.

Wrestlers

(Continued from page three)

marred only by an intersectional 16-16 tie with the strong Navy grapplers.

The Generals have an enviable record in the mat sport. During the past five seasons they have won something like 35 victories in 37 starts. Their last defeat came at the hands of Carolina in 1930.

Although little is known of the Generals' present strength, the Tar Heels realize that they will have plenty of opposition. The hold-overs from last year's fine aggregation are Crew, 125; Hodges, 165; and Bonino, unlimited. It has been reported that Thomas, brilliant bantamweight of the 1933 mat crew, is back in school this year. Bonino and Thomas are former Southern Conference champions.

Coach Quinlan has a quintet of excellent sophomores, along with Efland, only letterman from last year, and two varsity reserves to combat the Virginians.

Library Given Books

The North Carolina Episcopalian Diocese has deposited with the University library about 750 volumes of biographies, church histories, and collections of the works of famous churchmen. These books come from the diocese library which was built by two former clergymen, Bishop J. B. Cheshire and Bishop T. B. Lyman.

For Colds and Sniffles
TRY
Eubanks Nose Drops

For Quick Starts
Use
TEXACO FIRE CHIEF GASOLINE
Washing—Polishing—Waxing
Certified Marfak Lubrication
Willard Battery Sales—Service
University Service Station
H. S. PENDERGRAFT, Prop.

EXHIBITION
CLOTHES OF INDIVIDUAL EXCELLENCE, CORRECTLY ATTUNED TO THE IMMEDIATE SEASON.
FORTY DOLLARS AND MORE
EXHIBITION AT
Student Co-operative Cleaners
TODAY
ROBERT GRAY, Representative
Finchley
FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK
CLOTHES INDIVIDUALLY TAILORED TO ORDER :: ALSO HABERDASHERY · HATS · SHOES

FINCHLEY SALE
GENEROUS REDUCTIONS ON ALL FINCHLEY HABERDASHERY, HATS AND SHOES NOW CURRENT IN NEW YORK SHOP. MADE TO ORDER CLOTHING NOT INCLUDED.

FROSH DANCE COMMITTEE
7 P. M.
211 EVERETT DORMITORY

The Daily Tar Heel

CO-ED DANCE
9 TO 1
BYNUM GYM

SERVED BY THE UNITED PRESS

VOLUME XLIII | CHAPEL HILL, N. C., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1935 | NUMBER 94

ATTORNEY REILLY SAYS WITNESSES ARE INTIMIDATED

Ex-Convict and Bootlegger Testify for Hauptmann; Support Mrs. Hauptmann's Story.

HANDWRITING EXAMINED

Flemington, N. J., Jan. 31.—(UP)—Defense Attorney Reilly said tonight that seven prospective defense witnesses have been intimidated by persons representing themselves as from the State of New Jersey.

He declined to make known the names of tomorrow's witnesses.

Today testified Lou Harding, ex-convict, who claimed he saw a ladder in the car of a gang who asked him where the Lindbergh house was. According to the witness, Hauptmann was not in the car.

Seen at Bakery

Louis Kiss, ex-bootlegger, said he saw Hauptmann in the Fredricksen backery on the kidnaping night. August Von Henke also asserted that he saw Hauptmann near the bakery on the same date.

The defense late today began a cross-examination of Handwriting Expert J. M. Trendley of East St. Louis. He will resume the stand tomorrow.

The court was astounded yesterday when a blond-headed Swedish "surprise witness," Elbert Carlstrom, testified that upon his birthday, March 1, the night of the kidnaping, he saw Hauptmann in the New York bakery. Wilentz, prosecuting attorney, was unable to find a flaw in the testimony as the youthful carpenter countered a barrage of trapping questions with smiling answers.

CO-EDS MAY BUY BIDS DURING DAY

Woman's Association Will Give Quarterly Dance Tonight From 9 to 1 in Gym.

The University Woman's Association will give its annual dance tonight from 9 to 1 o'clock in Bynum gymnasium.

In the meantime, those co-eds who have not yet procured the necessary bids will have an opportunity to make their purchases at the following places and times:

This morning from 10:30 to 12 o'clock and this afternoon from 3:30 to 6 o'clock, in the Woman's Association room, 108 Graham Memorial;

Tonight

Tonight before the dance from 7 to 9 o'clock, on the first floor of Spencer hall.

Freddy Johnson and his orchestra have been engaged to play for the dance.

The committee in charge of preparations has announced the following as chaperones for the occasion: Dr. and Mrs. S. A. Stoudemire, Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Dey, Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Lyons, Dr. and Mrs. E. T. Browne, Dr. and Mrs. M. I. Van Hecke, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Breckenridge, Mrs. Shipp Sanders, Mrs. M. H. Stacy, Mrs. Irene Lee, and Mrs. H. M. Wagstaff.

At Home

Mrs. Frank Graham and Mrs. R. B. House will be at home to all the ladies of Chapel Hill from 4 to 6 p. m. tomorrow at 402 East Franklin street.

Graham Stated Social Needs That Forecast New Deal Era

University President Was Joined by 400 Citizens in Declaration Made Six Years Ago.

OUTLAWED CHILD LABOR

Pertinent to the present consideration of the ratification of the child labor amendment is the declaration of a modern bill of rights made by North Carolinians about a half dozen years ago.

In 1929 over four hundred citizens of North Carolina joined President Frank P. Graham, then a professor of history, in a simple statement in behalf of the freedom and rights of working people in common with all citizens to assemble, speak, and publish their views, organize in unions and bargain collectively.

Follows Strike

The statement followed upon the strike and turmoil which shook the state in those years. By some this statement was considered a sort of Communist manifesto. Now it would be considered the simple, social gospel of the new era.

The four hundred and more representatives of the religious, business, agricultural, civic, and educational life of the state in this statement also declared for the reduction of the long work week, the abolition of night work for women and minors, a stronger state child labor law, and provision for a more effective department of labor.

This statement has come to life many times since those bitter days of the last decade. Its principles were quoted by the president of the State Federation of Labor with the citation of the 400 names against the anti-syndicalist bills of the last two legislatures. It has come to life again now in that declaration of over 400 citizens, representing every section and group in the state, for a stronger state child labor law.

More Favored National Law

It is understood that many more would have signed the

(Continued on page two)

Barclay Given Lifetime Position as Fireman

George Barclay, All-American guard on Carolina's 1934 football team, has been made an honorary life member of his home town's volunteer fire department.

The information about Barclay's latest honor became known here through a news note in a Pennsylvania paper. It seems that the All-American stopped off at Natrona Heights, Pa., his home, on his way back from California. The fire laddies honored him with a banquet at which their honors were bestowed upon him.

MONOGRAM CLUB AWARDS INSIGNIA

Shaffer to Head Executive Committee For Organization; 32 Letters Given.

At the regular meeting of the Monogram Club last night 22 members of the 1934 football team and 10 members of the cross country squad received monogram awards.

Twelve new men were admitted to membership in the Monogram Club. The new men are: Dick Buck, Buck McCarn, John Trimpey, Jim Hutchins, Dick Dashiell, Graham Gammon, Bob Gardiner, Marvin Allen, Jack C. Bowers, Marcus Aderholt, Blucher Ehringhaus, and Dick Lewis.

Films Shown

Coach Carl Snavely showed pictures of the Alabama-Stanford Rose Bowl football game, and urged the members to do their utmost in conserving athletic equipment.

In his talk, Dr. Lawson requested the organization's help in supporting a measure to permit all student who are proficient in gymnastics to receive University letters.

The members of the executive committee who are to assist in the club's activities during the current year were appointed last night by Ralph Gardner, the president. The executive committee will be C. Shaffer, chairman, Sam Giddins, Tom Evins, Jim McCachren, Edward Waldrop, Dick Buck and Trip Rand.

King Huey I Opens Royal Circus Today

Potentate to Question "Plotters" and Square Dealers.

Baton Rouge, La., Jan. 31.—(UP)—His Majesty, King Huey Long I, announces the opening of his new Hippodrome tomorrow in the State Supreme Court chamber with three rings and a galaxy of sideshows.

As special entertainment, a selected cast of 150, assembled under sub-poena, will be divided into three arenas and questioned.

One group will be asked about the alleged plot to assasinate His Majesty, another will testify about Saturday's battle at the airport, and the third will be composed of Square Dealers suspected of leading a shotgun squad against Huey's Baton Rouge court house last Friday night.

"Come one, come all. The Greatest Show on Earth!"

CHAIRMAN NAMED FOR SENIOR WEEK

Senior Executive Committee Puts Patterson in Charge.

In its regular weekly session, the senior executive committee last night appointed Simmons Patterson, outstanding senior, to head the committee in charge of senior week, according to President Jack Pool, who presided at the meeting.

The date for the special week was set for the same week during which the Junior-Senior dance will be held.

The executive group decided that the class should have some form of outing during senior week and also an exclusive entertainment program in Memorial hall.

The finance committee was asked to make a report at the next executive committee meeting, according to Pool, and its findings will then be presented to the class for approval.

Freshman Dance Group

The meeting of the freshman dance committee originally scheduled for last night has been postponed until this evening at 7 o'clock in 211 Everett. The postponement was necessitated by the failure of a quorum to attend last night.

SECOND SHOWING OF PLAY TONIGHT

Veteran Cast "Does Things up Right" in First Production of Coward Drama.

Following Carl Kapec's sensational "R. U. R." and native-son Paul Green's sentimental "Shroud My Body Down," the Carolina Playmakers turned sophisticated last night and Noel Coward's "The Young Idea" was the result.

Because of his success with Coward's "Hay Fever" last season, Harry Davis, veteran member of the Playmakers staff, was given the job of directing the new production, and among his chief assistants was Wilbur Dorsett, turning out "hot" Jacobean furniture from the Playmakers' scene shop, and Ora Mae Davis, costuming the Cowardette cast.

Two More Performances

Last night's opening performance began a three night run for the latest effort of the Playmakers, which will be presented again tonight and tomorrow night at 8:30 o'clock.

The veteran cast which "did things up right" for Coward's "The Young Idea" last night is headed by Philip Parker of "R. U. R." playing George Brent, Ellen Deppe of "R. U. R." playing Gerday, Charles Lloyd of "The House of Connelly" playing Sholto, David McCachren of "Shroud My Body Down," Roddy Masters; Alan Waters, Huddle; and Frances McGraw, Cicely Brent.

Included in the remainder of the heavy cast are: Juanita

(Continued on page two)

Chapel Hill Organizations Continue Charity Work; Add To FERA Funds

Although the charity work done by the FERA has been extensive, the local organizations here in Chapel Hill are still active. They lack, of course, the resources of the FERA, as well as the technical training of the latter, but even so, the local units have a personal knowledge of people and conditions here which the governmental employees do not have.

The local charities are headed by the Order of the King's Daughters, which has been functioning here for 48 years. For many years the organization operated throughout Orange County, but when George Lawrence became head of public welfare for the county 12 years ago, the King's Daughters limited their activities to Chapel Hill and Carrboro.

One of the main sources of revenue for the King's Daughters is the annual drive for funds which they put on. At present, this group is also aided by FERA grants, and by contributions from several local organizations, including the Kiwanis Club, the Rotary Club, and the Carolina theatre, through the Chapel Hill Movie Guild.

Movie Guild Funds

The money that the Chapel Hill Movie Guild receives is derived from a percentage of the profits made on Sunday movies by the Carolina theatre, according to R. A. Eubanks, chairman of the Guild. Mr. Eubanks stated that this was necessary in order for the theatre to comply with the North Carolina law which prohibits Sunday shows. He also stated that all the money the Guild receives goes to local charity and none to national organizations such as the Red Cross or the Salvation Army. Although he did not state what percentage the Guild receives from the Carolina theatre, he did say that the amount was small. E. Carrington Smith, manager of the Carolina theatre, when asked what percentage of the theatre's Sunday profits are turned over to the Movie Guild, replied that the Guild received the entire Sunday profits.

According to Mr. Smith, it is not true that a theatre can operate on Sundays only if it gives a part of its profits to charity. Contrary to popular opinion, he says, there is no North Carolina law legislating specifically against the movies.

Distribution

The money received by the Guild is distributed at its discretion among the various organizations in charity work here. Among the groups receiving this money for distribution among the needy are: The Daughters of the American Revolution, the Daughters of the Confederacy, the Rotary Club, the Kiwanis Club, and the Monogram Club. These organizations are allowed to use their own judgment in disposing of the money they receive from the Guild, and the Guild also gives money directly to needy students, according to Mr. Smith.

These local charity organizations form a supplement to the work being done by the governmental relief agencies. The FERA has no appropriations for

(Continued on page two)

DECISIONS STAND

The Student Council decision in regard to Jule Medynski and Tom O'Flaherty received the concurrence of the administration yesterday.

O'Flaherty, however, remains ineligible for the State College match here Saturday night pending inquiry by the Athletic Council's committee on eligibility.

President Graham stated that the entire matter has remained within the provinces of the committee on residence status, the Student Council, and the Athletic Council, all of whose decisions stand as made.

CONGRESS SAVES R. F. C. FROM SAW

Reconstruction Finance Corporation Will Be Continued.

Washington, Jan. 31.—(UP)—Congress put on an old fashioned melodrama today, acting just in the nick of time to save the Reconstruction Finance Corporation from death in Father Time's buzzsaw at midnight.

Both houses approved the conference committee report which ironed out differences between them and the measure was rushed to the White House where President Roosevelt signed it. The Senate then recessed until tomorrow.

The House meets tomorrow to vote on the treasury and post office appropriations bill. The munitions, finance, naval affairs, and ways and means committees, and the judiciary sub-committee will also convene tomorrow.

UNIVERSITY CLUB VOTES TO TAKE IN WOMEN MEMBERS

Two Sororities, Spencer Hall, Graham Dormitory Asked to Make Nominations.

NINE VACANCIES FILLED

The University Club last night voted to offer membership in the organization to each woman's dormitory and sorority.

The two sororities, Spencer hall and Graham dormitory will be asked to nominate two women each, one of whom will be selected by the club in the usual election procedure.

Nine new members, elected from dormitories and fraternities to fill out the unexpired terms of former representatives who are not students this quarter, or who were disqualified for various reasons, attended the University Club meeting last night.

New Members

The new members are: Durfee, S. P. E.; Dacy, Aycock; Bryant, Manly; Hicks, Steele; Parrot, Zeta Psi; Whicker, Delta Tau Delta; Fry, Phi Sigma Kappa; Hudson, Chi Phi; and Gordon, Alpha Epsilon.

Other business included reports on plans for entertaining visiting teams, presenting a radio program over WPTF, Raleigh, February 15, securing rooms for visiting tracksters for the March 9 Southern Conference indoor meet, and co-operating in securing trophies for the trophy room.

Letter to Alumni

A letter was read which the club will send out to alumni, stressing co-operation in securing new students and athletic material, and in disseminating University publicity through a plan providing for the placing of 1935 Yackety Yacks in all state high schools and towns and in leading southern preparatory schools.

Members turned in money last night for club keys which will be given within the next few weeks.

FROSH TO DECIDE ON HONOR COURT

Discuss Possibility of Class Smoker with Invitations to Duke Freshmen.

The members of the freshman executive council voted last night to present the question of forming a new honor court to the class as a whole.

The previously appointed honor committee and Pete Mullis will confer with Dean Francis Bradshaw and the Student Council reporting later to the executive council before the presentation of the plan.

Plans for giving a freshman class smoker, with invitations to freshman class executives at Duke, in the near future were discussed.

Smoker Committee

In the absence of President Mullis, who was at freshman basketball practice, Chairman Jack Tate appointed the following committee to investigate the possibilities of such an entertainment: Crowell Little, Carl Peiffer, John Simpson, Billy Seawell, and David Meroney.

The dance committee will attempt today to get permission to give a freshman class dance.

The Daily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Union Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where it is printed daily except Mondays, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Holidays. Entered as second class matter at the post office of Chapel Hill, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 for the college year.

A. T. Dill ..... Editor
Robert C. Page, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
Joe Webb ..... Business Manager
George Underwood ..... Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

EDITORIAL BOARD—Phil Hammer, chairman, Earl Wolslagel, Franklin Harward, John Schulz, DuPont Snowden, Margaret McCauley, Morty Slavin, Sam Leager, Dick Myers, Charles Lloyd, Jake Snyder, Phil Kind, Charles Daniel, George Butler.

FEATURE BOARD—Nelson Lansdale, chairman; Nick Read, Bob Browder, Francis Clingman, J. E. Poindexter, W. M. Cochrane, Willis Harrison.

CITY EDITORS—Irving Suss, Walter Hargett, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.

TELEGRAPH EDITORS—Stuart Rabb, Charlie Gilmore.

DESK MAN—Eddie Kahn.

SPORTS DEPARTMENT—Jimmy Morris and Smith Barrier, co-editors, Tom Bost, Lee Turk, Len Rubin, Fletcher Ferguson, Stuart Sechriest, Lester Ostrow, Ira Sarasohn.

EXCHANGES—Margaret Gaines.

STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER—Don Becker.

REPORTERS—Bill Hudson, John Smith, J. F. Jonas, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Hazel Beacham, Raymond Howe, William Jordan, Morton Feldman.

Business Staff

ASST. BUSINESS MANAGER ..... Butler French
COLLECTION MANAGER ..... Herbert Osterheld
OFFICE MANAGERS ..... Walter Eckert, Roy Crooks
NATIONAL ADVERTISING ..... Boylan Carr
DURHAM REPRESENTATIVE—Joe Murnick.
LOCAL ADVERTISING—Hugh Primrose, Robt. Sosnik, Eli Joyner (managers), Bill MacDonald, Louis Shaffner, Page Keel, Bill McLean, Crist Blackwell.

CITY EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE: JIM DANIEL

Friday, February 1, 1935

PARAGRAPHICS

Then there was the student who asked Prof. Frazer in government class if there were two senators from Louisiana.

Gold mining is the key industry in South Africa, we read. Selling the keys is our business.

Now that we've got Hauptmann in a bakery, let's find out more about that dough.

"Bleeding Borders"
Stir Mr. Hitler

Adolf Hitler's recent statement that he wants no more territory from France now that the Saar has been won isn't quite what it sounds to be. Our first happy impression that the Fatherland is now ready to settle down within its present borders seems to have been all wrong. There are still, not including those of Alsace and Lorraine, several million Germans living outside of the Reich, and, until they have been recaptured, the pan-Germanic ambitions of the Nazis can not be realized.

Lithuania, where 126 Nazis from Memel are on trial charged with having attempted a revolt in favor of rejoining Germany, is the focal point of the present German antagonism. The German press, calling for an expansion to the eastward, is mentioning Memel as "the Saar of the East." Nazi demands for an Austrian Anschluss have not been forgotten, while the agitation for the retaking of the Polish Corridor is only being temporarily dropped because of the recent Polish-German pact. Other bones for contention lie in the German minorities of Denmark, Belgium, Hungary, Rumania, and Czechoslovakia.

In the recent Saar plebiscite the Germans have found an excellent method of furthering their aims. What, after all, could be more pleasing to the autocratic Nazis than having their "lost provinces" come back to them by the democratic medium of the plebiscite?

A Senator
Overseas

"To hell with Europe and the rest of those nations!" It seems almost incomprehensible that a United States senator should openly declare himself in that manner before the senate, but one Thomas D. Schall, a Republican from Minnesota, did. And the senator who so expressed himself went on to say: "Let's stay out of Europe and not take part in their quarrels as membership in the court would have us do."

The reason for the heated statement by the senator was the discussion in the senate of our entrance into the World Court. Whether or not we should enter the court is very controversial, and our meager opinion on the question will not be offered again. However, for a senator to assume that the United States can possibly stay out of European affairs is ridiculous. Our economic dependence upon Europe will never more permit us to remain politically apart from them and the rest of the world. To say, "the hell with Europe" is, to say the least, unbecoming to a senator. More than that, it exemplifies a spirit which the people of the United States should pray is not rampant in the highest legislative body in the country.

Semesters
For the Faculty

There is a motion being entertained by the faculty which will be brought up for a vote at the next meeting, proposing the return of the semester system for the University undergraduate body. As little as we know of the detailed reasons for the motion, supposing it to be largely based on the proposed curriculum changes, we would like to express what is generally accepted as the universal campus opinion on the quarter system as it now is employed here.

We had occasion to talk with two students from a famous northern institution recently and they envied us our tri-term system. At M. I. T., their institution, the semester system is in operation and the mental disorder which is the student's during Christmas holidays and the spring vacation, occasioned by approaching examinations at mid-year, causes lots of undergraduate dissatisfaction. This seems also to be the reason, on the other hand, that Carolina students advocate the quarter system: when you go home for vacations, you have finished a prescribed amount of work, taken examinations, and are free to enjoy the week or so of rest, relaxation, or rigor.

We can see how, under the proposed curriculum for languages, the semester system is almost an absolute necessity. Perhaps the professors in other fields feel the same way, that the shorter terms work to the disadvantage of the student and the teacher. Perhaps it would be impossible to have semester set-ups in some departments and quarter-system arrangements in others. We do not know.

We understand from different sources that certain members of the faculty do not relish any particular admiration for the first two columns of this paper's second page. Here we come forth with a definite reflection of student opinion; here we are, an unwavering mirror. This is the most we can do. Perhaps it will be appreciated.

Lament on The Passing

The Pork Pie hat is definitely not a go and seemingly will not be here in the south.—Bernard Solomon in the Tom Collins column of the Finjan.

1.
How sad, alas, how sad but true
The Pork Pie hat is not a go,
How horrid it is, we're too, too blue!
The Pork Pie hat, it started slow
And now it simply is not a go.

Dirge and Refrain:

So wail it from the mountain peaks
And let the hills resound,
Ye connoisseurs of millinery freaks,
Ye every Homburg hound;
And Stetson D,
The Durham Men's Shop,
Jack Lipman's—yea,
The Student Co-op.
Our southern hearts so true are shut
To finer things, that's that.
A chicken in the pot? Ah, but
No Pork Pie in the hat!

2.
Let all join in and mourn together,
Steel, heart! Blood turn to ice!
Come blow, ye winds, come nasty weather,
The Pork Pie hat—ah, cruel demise,
And just when pig is fetching a price!

So wail it from the mountain peaks, etc.

3.
Catastrophes we all have had,
The Sister Fates to all allot one.
Perhaps what makes it seem so bad
Is this: our wardrobe boasts not one.
So ask les miserables who got one!
(IN——YOUR——HAT!)

The "Minor" Sports
Are Crashing Through

At the present time, five stellar members of the University's southern champion track team are on their way to New York City where they will run under the Blue and White in the annual Millrose indoor games.

Accentuated by the recent victorious football season, students and alumni have been clamoring for a mammoth intersectional grid contest. The subject has been aired considerably in these columns but recent publicity which we have noticed in the Gotham papers accorded to our tracksters emphasizes a point which we and others have held for some time as regards intersectional athletics.

If it is publicity which the football intersectionalists want, they have only to watch the northern dailies when the Tar Heels trek through that section in basketball and track competition. The so-called "minor" sports are spreading the Carolina name much more economically than any gridiron classic can, and, we believe, with almost as much effectiveness.

Author Of "The Young Idea" Called "Jack Of All Trades"

"Noel Coward is one of the few playwrights who never bore an audience," says Time in its column on the theatre. "His plays may seem lean or underdone, but somehow they usually manage to get laughs."

"The Young Idea," presented here last night and to be performed again today and tomorrow by the Carolina Playmakers, under the direction of Harry Davis, was first played at the Savoy theatre in London, with the playwright taking the part of Sholto, acted here by Charles Lloyd.

Actor Coward

Noel Coward, still a young man, is widely known as a theatrical "jack of all trades." He is a composer, lyricist, actor, director, and producer, as well as playwright. He has published and produced more than 18 plays, some of them failures and many of them successes. His operetta, "Bitter Sweet," which charmed New York in 1929-30, was written, produced, and executed, in every detail but the scenery, by himself.

"Conversation Piece," which was produced in London a year ago with Coward in a leading role, "flopped" in New York this season. His "Point Valaire," which opened in New York last week, has elicited varied comment.

Coward's first play, published before he was 21 years of age, "I'll Leave It to You," was a failure. "The Vortex," a success in London and New York, and considered by him as his best drama, was produced in 1921 and continued a popular run until 1925.

Coward was born in Teddington, England, in 1899, educated privately at Croyden, and received his dramatic training at the "Italia Conti Academy," foremost dramatic school in Great Britain. He made his stage debut, as a child actor, in 1910 at the Gaiety theatre in Manchester.

Forsook the Sword

After serving in the army in the World War, he went back and began again to write and act. He wrote the book, lyrics, and music for "London Calling," and played the part of leading song and dance man in this production. In 1927 he had five plays running simultaneously in London, two of them in New York. These last two, "The Marquise" and "Fallen Angels," had successful runs, while the others fared not so well.

Coward still retains his modest, unassuming manner, although he has had enough success in each of three fields—music, comedy, and drama—to turn the head of any ordinary man. He considers "Bitter Sweet," "Hay Fever," and "The Vortex" his best musical, comedy, and drama, respectively. He prides himself on his ability to write anywhere. Most of his music is said to have been written in a taxi, and several of his plays have been written, on trains, while he traveled over the world.

He is still producing, but no one knows just what to expect. From such a man may come anything, but certainly there will be laughs.

Coward Drama

(Continued from page one)

Greene as Sybil Blaith, Joyce Killinsworth as Priscilla Hartleberry, Douglas Hume as Claud Eccles, Patsy McMullan as Julia Cragworthy, Wilfred Evans as Eustace Dabbitt, Louise McGuire as Jennifer, Josephine Oettinger as Maria, and Robert Nachtmann as Hiram J. Walkin.

"The Young Idea" is a scintillating comedy of domestic entanglements and the young ideas which solved them. Action in the drama moves from an English country home to a villa in Italy. The contrast in the settings by Dorsett is interesting.

P. U. Board Meeting

The Publications Union Board will meet at 10:30 o'clock this morning in the seminar room at Bingham hall to consider changes in the salaries paid Finjan staff-members.

SEND THE DAILY TAR HEEL HOME

Charity Work

(Continued from page one)

hospital bills and medicines, so that these home groups, notably the King's Daughters, take care of these phases of relief work. They are also of great help to the local FERA officials in the matter of giving advice on true conditions here, due to the fact that the members of the local charitable organizations know the history of every case which comes up for help.

GOT YOUR ANNUAL?

The Yackety Yacks for 1934 will be distributed to students for the last time today, Agnew Bahnson announced yesterday. Those who fail to get their yearbooks today must make arrangements with the business manager to secure one.

Books will be distributed between the hours of 2 and 3:30 o'clock in the room directly opposite the Yackety Yack office in Graham Memorial.

OUTSTANDING RADIO BROADCASTS

1:00: George Hall orch., WABC.

1:30: Little Jack Little, songs. WABC.

6:15: English Stage vs. American Stage, speakers, WJZ.

6:45: Lowell Thomas, commentator, WJZ.

7:15: Plantation Echoes, Robison orch.; Southernaires Quartet, WJZ.

8:00: Jessica Dragonette, soprano; Bourdon orch.; Male Quartet, WEAF.

8:15: Dick Leibert, organ; Armbruster and Kraus, piano; Mary Courtlandt, songs; Male Quartet, WJZ; Edwin C. Hill, news, WABC.

8:30: Goodman orch.; Jane Froman, songs; Bob Hope, comedian, WJZ.

9:00: Abe Lyman orch.; Frank Munn, tenor; Vivienne Segal, songs, WEAF; Beatrice Lillie, comedienne; orch.; Cavaliers Quartet, WJZ.

9:30: Phil Baker, comedian: Leon Belasco orch., WJZ; Hollywood Hotel, with Dick Powell, Jane Williams; Ted Fio-Rito orch., Edward G. Robinson and Jean Arthur, WABC.

10:30: Symphony orch., Frank Black, conductor; Mixed Chorus, WEAF.

11:00: Ozzie Nelson orch., WABC.

Graham's Forecast

(Continued from page one)

statement than actually did but for the fact that they favored a national child labor law rather than a state law.

President Graham, several years ago, declared for the ratification of the federal amendment providing for national action on this essentially national question. He is still for the state law but prefers a national law; he holds that it is fairer to industry to prevent unfair competition in child labor in any and all the states. He is for the amendment because he believes it will make possible the permanent adoption of one of the most important achievements of the NRA.

He has often expressed pride in the fact that southern leaders in the textile industry, and especially those from the Piedmont Carolinas, took the lead in outlawing child labor in that first and now historic textile code. The voices of the 400, after more than a half decade, speak out again for the abolition of child labor, not only in this state but more fairly in all America.

THE
Young Men's Shop
126-128 E. Main St.
DURHAM, N. C.

Boxers Take Last Hard Drill Before Battle With Wolfpack

Giddins-Fabri Match Will Feature Meet

Fight Between Marion Diehl and Turner Billosoly Will Also Be Outstanding Attraction.

PUGS ARE IN GOOD SHAPE

With all of the pugilists indulging in their last heavy workout yesterday, Coach Rowe has ordered light bag punching and shadow boxing for this afternoon. Every one of the squad is in good shape and should be ready to give State quite a tussle Saturday night.

The feature bout of the evening will probably be the one that pairs Captain Sam Giddins and Captain Fabri of the Wolfpack. Captain Giddins lost a close decision to Fabri last year at State and will be out to avenge himself.

Gids weakened himself last year when he lost weight to make the 159-pound limit. However, this season he is at his regular weight, 169 pounds, and is much improved over last season. Fabri, too, has put on additional weight and the scrap looks like a hard one to call.

Diehl vs. Billosoly

In a bout that will probably rival the middleweight scrap for thrills, the principals will be Marion "Champ" Diehl and Turner Billosoly of State.

Diehl has lost but one bout since he has been fighting and that to the man who just a few weeks ago was decisioned by Billosoly. Diehl will be confronted by a boy who is one of the most powerful bantamweights in the Conference. A short, squatty, mass of muscle, Billosoly is a formidable foe for any 119-pounder.

In the featherweight class, Ernie Eutsler will meet the boy that Diehl defeated last year as a freshman. Eutsler showed up well in his bout with Rainey last week and should be a favorite to come romping home a winner.

Doping The Sports

By JAMES MORRIS

CAROLINA'S White Phantoms have done just about everything in the basketball books, both right and wrong, so far this season. They went to pieces against Army in the second half and then nearly lost the following tilt to VPI in the first half only to comeback. Their shooting has been off on several occasions but then, as against State, it has also been excellent. The northern trip usually takes plenty out of the Phantoms but now they have snapped back into shape and ought to be ready to go the rest of the way at full speed.

AN IMPORTANT part of the schedule is still before the Tar Heels. Besides the Southern Conference tourney, the Big Five championship is also undecided as Carolina must meet Duke twice, and State, Davidson, and Wake Forest each one time. South Carolina is also on the schedule for two games which will both be tough.

THE WHITE Phantoms gained plenty of publicity for Carolina on their successful swing through the northeast. Fans were downright astonished when the Tar Heels dumped Navy and the two Athletic Clubs of New York in a row. As a result there is already much talk clamoring for a post-season battle between the White Phantoms and N. Y. U.'s great team. The Violets have over 20 straight victories, Kentucky being one of the victims by one point.

A COMMENT about the game and also about several of Carolina's yankee stars appeared in Dan Parker's column of the Mirror a couple of days ago. The paragraph follows:

"The University of North Carolina basketball team, which wound up a three-game invasion of the Metropolitan district by losing to West Point yesterday afternoon, was unbeaten till then. Three members of the White Phantoms hail from this section of the republic. Nelson, one of the forwards, is a Yonkers yokel. Kaveny, a guard, comes from Montclair, and Blood, one of the reserves, is out of Passaic, where his father, Ernest Blood, won a bit of basketball fame a decade back by steering the Passaic High wonder team through a winning streak of 159 games. Bo Shepard, the Phantoms' coach, a former Army basketball star, is the big shot in Dixie basketball. Nothing would please him more than to be able to arrange a post-season game with N. Y. U. Maybe Chancellor Harry Woodburn Chase, of N. Y. U., who was formerly president of the Chapel Hill University, would be able to start the ball rolling."

SOUTH CAROLINA is fast becoming a great team again despite the loss of the famous Tompkin brothers. Dana Henderson, forward, and captain, is just about setting some kind of record with his goal shooting. The lengthy Texan has already made over 200 points this season which is something like an average of 15 per contest. It is remembered that last year against Carolina Dana, playing center, tallied 10 points while the Gamecocks were giving the Phantoms their worst beating of the season, 45-30. Yes sir, the rest of the Southern Conference had better keep its eyes peeled southward because neither South Carolina nor Clem-

(Continued on last page)

LAWYERS HANDED FIRST LOSS, 35-34

Aycock Upsets Law School; Phi Kappa Sigma Takes Lead; St. Anthony Loses, 46-1.

The undefeated ranks in the intramural basketball competition were diminished by one more yesterday afternoon as Aycock defeated Law School, 35-34, a conversion of two foul shots in the final minute of play by Gene Guntzler turning the trick.

Theta Kappa Nu took a close game from T. E. P., 22-17; Chi Phi downed S. P. E., 34-20; S. A. E. trounced St. Anthony, 46-1; and Phi Kappa Sigma edged over Phi Delta Theta, 24-21, to round out the session.

The Aycock-Law struggle was hard fought with both teams practically on even terms throughout. Aycock held a three-point margin at half time, but Law rallied and went ahead 34-33 until the final minute, when Guntzler's successful attempts restored the lead to Aycock and captured the win.

P. K. S. Takes Top

Phi Kappa Sigma went into the campus lead as it nosed Phi Delta Theta by a trio of pointers to capture its fifth straight. Sharp led the winners with 10 points and tied with Mosier for high scorer. Wilson played a good floor game and also found the hoop for eight of the Phi Kappa Sigma's scores.

The red-shirts of Theta Kappa Nu returned to the win column with a 22-17 victory over T. E. P. Both teams played fast ball, but a superior passing at-

(Continued on last page)

TWO TRACKSTERS TO HAVE SECOND TEST TOMORROW

Williamson, Gammon Ran in K. of C. Meet; Waldrop Gardiner, Gabori Make Trip.

HAVE STRONG OPPOSITION

Several members of the Tar Heel track aggregation which will run tomorrow night in the 28th annual Millrose A. A. indoor games at Madison Square Garden will be having their second test under big fire for the current season.

Both Harry Williamson and Graham Gammon saw action in the Knights of Columbus games early in the year. The former finished a close fourth in a fast 800-meter, while Gammon zigzagged his way through a field of 40 runners to finish third in a handicap 1000-meter event.

Much Opposition

Tomorrow Williamson will be running against Dawson and Monohan, outstanding members of the Tulsa and Boston athletic club teams. In this 1000-meter race Williamson will be at his natural distance, although he has run well any distance between 800 and 1500 meters.

The two-mile relay team will be composed of Williamson, Gammon, Bob Gardiner and Dick Gabori, with Ed Waldrop making the trip to take one leg if need be.

The probable lineup for the batoners will be Gardiner, Gabori, Gammon, and Williamson in order. In case the latter does not run in the relay, Gammon will be switched to the anchor post with Waldrop taking the third leg.

FROSH GRAPPLERS GO TO LEXINGTON

Elimination Bouts Are Necessary to Decide Lineup for Little Generals Tomorrow.

After a series of trial bouts Coach Quinlan finally decided which of his frosh wrestlers would accompany him to Lexington for the match with W. & L. yearlings this Saturday. The team will leave by bus from Emerson stadium at 9 o'clock this morning.

In the hard fought bouts yesterday, none of the victorious members of the team of last week were defeated by other competitors on the squad.

The closest trial bout of the afternoon was between Claypoole and Hard. Both men have fought hard to secure the 145-lb division on the team and in yesterday's elimination bout Claypoole once again earned the right to his place on the team by means of a slight time advantage over his competitor.

Tankersley to Go

The only man who did not make the trip to Raleigh last week but will be taken to W. & L. today is the 126-pounder, Tankersley. He will probably replace Ehringhaus who will be shifted down to the 118-lb division.

The following is a list of the men making the trip: Patrick, Ehringhaus, Tankersley, Ford, Claypoole, James, Gibbons, Love, and Schulman. The starting lineup has not been decided as yet but will probably have Ehringhaus at 118-lb, Tankersley at 126, Ford at 135, Claypoole at 145, Gibbons at 155, Love at 165, and James at 175 and Schulman at heavy or vice versa.

Tau Beta Pi to Meet

The members of Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity, will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in 214 Phillips.

FROSH HOOPSTERS SET FOR ABBEYS

Yearlings in Return Engagement with Belmont Saturday.

Still smarting from their extra-period defeat at the hands of State, the Tar Baby cagers snapped into practice with a renewed vigor at the Tin Can last evening.

The next contest on their crowded schedule is already looming and Saturday afternoon will find the frosh quintet renewing hostilities with the Belmont Abbeys.

Belmont, losing to Carolina by a 40-20 count, was successfully disposed of on the recent road trip, but presented the strongest opposition of the three schools that the yearlings routed.

Game in Afternoon

The game will be played in the afternoon due to the conflicting boxing bouts with State, scheduled in the Tin Can at night. The varsity meets Wake Forest in Raleigh at night, and instead of making the trip with the White Phantoms, the frosh will entertain their visitors from the western section of the state at home.

At the present, it appears that Ramsay Potts may not start against Belmont at forward, due to a slight injury he has suffered. In his place, if the occasion does arise, will be Pete Boone, alternate forward.

Wednesday's setback was a bitter dose, but the frosh will probably react for the better. The team looked good throughout, and at all times seemed superior to their opponents, but it was the closing minutes that settled the issue and the frosh failed at just that time.

Ruth Stars for Frosh

Earl Ruth's beautiful floor

(Continued on last page)

FROSH NOT TO BOX STATE TOMORROW

Wolfcubs Have No Boxing Team for Scheduled Meet.

Due to the fact that State has no frosh boxing team the Tar Babies will not fight this Saturday night prior to the Carolina-State varsity meet.

Because of this the frosh practice this past week has been extremely lax, with only a few of the yearlings showing up for the daily practice sessions. The next big frosh meet is that against Duke to be contested at the rival school on February 16.

Many Carolina boxing fans have been looking forward to these settos, and do not intend to miss the Shores-Ferrar go. The latter was golden gloves victor in the annual elimination tournament held at Madison Square Garden, and is reputed to be one of the classiest 149-pounders in the country.

Three other yearling boxers from Carolina who may furnish color to the Duke battle are Eddie O'Herron, Tommy Bass, and Benton. All these boys have been working hard and have shown some ability.

All are also looking much improved due to the efforts of the coaches and some of the better varsity fighters. Several new boys have reported for work and since there is still two weeks before the Duke meet Coaches Rowe and Levinson may be able to shape up a formidable outfit from the now just fair prospects.

Today's Mural Card

4:30 — (1) Everett vs. Smithsonians, (2) Z. B. T. vs. Lambda Chi Alpha, (3) Mangum No. 1 vs. Locals.

5:30—(1) Kappa Alpha vs. Chi Psi, (2) Alpha Epsilon vs. Sigma Nu.

Phantoms Prepare For Deacon Tilt Tomorrow

Take Light Workout as Reward for Victory Over Wolfpack

Tar Heels Are Favored in Game to Be Played at Raleigh.

Coach Bo Shepard's first string cagers took only a light workout at the Tin Can yesterday as a reward for their hard play against N. C. State Wednesday night.

The Tar Heels now hold undisputed leadership in both Big Five and Southern Conference races. The Shepardmen have gained 13 victories in 14 starts. The lone setback came at the hands of Army; thus it does not affect either of the championship races.

Carolina's White Phantoms will swing into action again tomorrow night when they engage the Demon Deacons of Wake Forest in a return game at the Memorial auditorium in Raleigh.

The Deacons have failed to win a single contest in the race for state honors. They have dropped previous games to Carolina, Duke, and N. C. State.

The Tar Heels are heavy favorites to win tomorrow's contest due to the decisive shellacking handed to the Deacon quint earlier in the season. However, the Wake Forest stock has risen considerably since the recent announcement of the eligibility of two of last year's varsity players.

Following the Wake Forest game, Coach Shepard will start grooming his proteges for the all-important clash with Duke which is scheduled to take place next Wednesday night at Durham.

Tar Heel Quintet Takes Top In SIC And State Races

Phantoms Undefeated in Both Loops; Carolina Boxers and State Battle for Title.

As a result of their 33-27 triumph over State here Wednesday, Carolina's White Phantoms have taken the favored position to retain their Big Five championship another year.

The Tar Heels now hold undisputed top with three victories and no defeats, remaining the only team of the state race with a perfect record.

The threatening Red Terrors, who had already upset the Blue Devils a couple of weeks ago, were dropped down the ladder a notch. At present both State and Duke have suffered one defeat each.

Play Deacons Saturday

The only other chance for the standings to be changed this week will be Saturday night when the White Phantoms take on Wake Forest at Raleigh. The leaders easily defeated the Deacons in their first meeting at Chapel Hill but that was some time ago and the Baptist club may be on its way up by now.

Another feature this week-end in the race for championships will be the boxing meet between Carolina and State. This is the first ring contest within the Big Five and both outfits along with Duke are strong contenders for the state crown.

Carolina's basketball quintet is also far ahead in the Southern Conference play. The Tar Heels

(Continued on last page)

MAT BOYS LEAVE FOR BATTLE WITH STRONG GENERALS

Carolina Wrestlers Leave Today to Meet Southern Conference Championship Outfit.

DOUGLAS IS LEFT BEHIND

Coach Chuck Quinlan, Manager Frank Bowen and nine varsity wrestlers will leave this morning at 9 o'clock from Emerson stadium by bus for Lexington Va., where the Tar Heels will meet the strong Washington and Lee mat contingent tomorrow night.

The men who will make the trip are: Umstead, Lytle, Ward, Gholsen, Greengold, Bonner, Efland, Gwynn, and Ranson.

In the 125-lb class Carolina will be without the services of Ed Douglas, who will not be able to go on account of illness. His position will be filled by Sam Lytle, a recent newcomer to the squad.

Gholsen or Greengold?

There is some doubt still as to who will fight in the 145-lb class. Gholsen and Greengold have been waging a merry fight for this berth and so both men are being taken along. Otherwise the lineup will be the same as has started in previous tilts.

Little is known of the strength of the Generals this year. The contest with Carolina will be the first test of the season for the Virginians. Carolina has thus far competed twice on the mat, winning easily from V. P. I., 23-9, and losing to State, 18-6.

But the Generals can be counted on to have a strong team this year. Champions of the conference for the past three seasons Washington and Lee has two southern champions and one runner-up on the 1935 aggregation. They are Thomas, Bonino, and Hodges.

Thomas vs. Umstead

Thomas, brilliant bantamweight, was not in school last year but won top honors in the 1933 tourney. The feature match tomorrow night will bring together Thomas and Frank Umstead, outstanding performer of the Tar Heels. Umstead won all matches by the fall route as a freshman and in two matches this season he has scored two victories, one on a fall and the other on time.

Hodges and Efland in the 165-lb weight will meet in another

(Continued on last page)

It Happened One Night On a Park Bench!

When a girl who had plenty met a guy with nothing in his pockets but a bag of popcorn ...and nothing on his mind but love!

Adolph Zukor presents

Claudette COLBERT in The Gilded Lily

A Paramount Picture with FRED MacMURRAY RAY MILLAND C. AUBREY SMITH

—Also—

Comedy — News

NOW PLAYING

CAROLINA THEATRE

PEOPLE TO HELP PWA SURVEYORS

Public Meetings to Be Held in Six Cities to Determine Possible Uses for Funds.

Public meetings in six towns in the state have been arranged by the Public Works Administration in co-operation with the North Carolina State Planning Board to aid in an inventory being conducted to determine the possible amount of permanent and socially desirable construction works in the state that can be used to absorb the unemployed, it was announced today by State Engineer H. G. Baity.

Meetings are scheduled for the following places: Durham, Tarboro, Winston-Salem, Wilmington, Charlotte, and Asheville.

Questionnaires Mailed

The PWA and the State Planning Board, at the request of President Roosevelt, have already mailed questionnaires to city, town, and county officials throughout the state asking them to list the socially desirable projects needed in their vicinities. Assistance in preparation of the required data is offered in the letter accompanying the questionnaire.

Water supply systems, sewer systems, garbish and rubbish disposal plants, electric power plants, streets, highways, new buildings, bridges, and repair work, auditoriums, schools, libraries, dormitories, lecture halls, hospitals, recreational facilities, shipping and terminal facilities, and miscellaneous social needs are among the types of projects on which the PWA wishes an inventory.

Grisette, Saunders Attending Meeting

American Alumni Council Now Convening in Atlanta.

J. Maryon Saunders and Felix A. Grisette will take active parts in the regional meeting, beginning today in Atlanta, of the third district of the American Alumni Council. This district includes the states of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, and Florida.

Saunders, who is vice-president of the alumni secretaries group of the council, will preside over the opening session this afternoon and will also give a speech tomorrow afternoon at the alumni magazine session on "What Should the Alumni Magazine Contain?"

Grisette will report tomorrow on recent activities of the council's aims and policy committee, of which he is the chairman.

The two University representatives expect to return to Chapel Hill Sunday.

Varsity Quintet

(Continued from page three)

have run up a record of six victories in as many starts while Clemson, who has met but one opponent, is the only other undefeated team.

The feature cage tilt of the week is expected when Duke meets the champion Washington and Lee team at Durham Saturday night. The Generals lost their lone setback to the Phantoms by a two-point margin.

Standings in the Big Five:

TEAM	W	L	Perc.
Carolina	3	0	1.000
State	3	1	.750
Duke	2	1	.667
Davidson	0	3	.000
Wake Forest	0	3	.000

Southern Conference Leaders:

TEAM	W	L	Perc.
Carolina	6	0	1.000
Clemson	1	0	1.000
W. & L.	2	1	.667
Duke	3	2	.600

CALENDAR

P. U. Board meeting.
Seminar room, Bingham 10:30

Freshman dance committee.
211 Everett dormitory 7:00

"The Young Idea."
Playmakers theatre 8:30

Co-ed dance.
Bynum gym 9:00

Freshmen Excluded

The Order of the Grail will sponsor its second dance of the winter quarter in Bynum gymnasium tomorrow night. Freshmen will not be admitted, Frank Abernethy, president of the Grail, announced yesterday.

Johnny Long and his Duke Collegians will furnish the music for the occasion. Long is rapidly achieving distinction in this section by virtue of his good music and his left-handed violin playing.

Since only 250 tickets will be sold for the dance it would be advisable to get one early. They are now on sale at Pritchard-Lloyd's and will be on sale at the door tomorrow night. The price is $1.

Frosh Basketball

(Continued from page three)

game amazed the gallery and his tactics drew roars of approval as he fed perfect passes to his mates and converted nine points himself. These additional markers have raised Earl's total to 64 points, six in the van of Pete Mullis.

The tightness of the State battle allowed only the use of one substitute for Carolina, a feat duplicated by State, and it was possibly the tiring of the Babies that led to their downfall.

However, reflection on the State loss brings but one satisfactory answer, and that is that Mack Berry was simply too good. Berry's 17 points, 11 of them coming in the second half, was State's sole bid for victory, and it was sufficient.

A reaction for the better is expected tomorrow afternoon against Belmont Abbey and the coming Wednesday will truly prove the worth of the yearlings, when they step into their traditional struggle with the Baby Imps of Duke, who have been setting a mad pace this season.

HUDSON AND COFFMAN PLAN TEACHERS' UNION

Drs. A. P. Hudson and George R. Coffman will go to Greensboro today to discuss with Miss Summerelle of the Woman's College the program for the state meeting of English teachers to be held next March.

Miss Summerelle is chairman of the state committee which is studying high school curriculum changes.

Dr. Hardin Craig, at present a visiting faculty member at the University, will accompany Hudson and Coffman to the Woman's College, where he will deliver a lecture.

RAND AND SNYDER TIE FOR COMMITTEE POSITION

Nominations were held yesterday morning at the meeting of the juniors of the commerce school for the junior representative of the Student Entertainment Committee of the school of commerce.

The nominations resulted in a draw between J. E. Snyder and H. H. Rand.

All commerce juniors are requested to cast their ballot at Dean Carroll's office between today and Saturday at noon in order to determine the vote.

ANNOUNCE EXAMS FOR CIVIL SERVICE

Information to Be Secured from S. W. Bynum, Secretary.

A group of open competitive examinations have been announced by the United States Civil Service Commission.

The federal positions open in the examinations are: pharmacologist in the food and drug administration; assistant microanalyst in the food and drug administration; principal editorial clerk for departmental service in Washington; apprentice fish-culturist in the bureau of fisheries; and a foreman of ink-making plant in the government printing office.

Full information may be obtained from S. W. Bynum, secretary of the United States Civil Service board of examiners, located in the Chapel Hill post office.

Sound Recorder Used By University People

Fifteen Records Made Here Yesterday on Fairchild Machine.

The Fairchild electrical sound recorder was demonstrated this week, about 15 records being made by University people for many different purposes.

Included in the records made here were one in French by Dr. W. M. Dey, head of the Romance languages department; several of piano, organ, and flute music; two of singing; and the reading in dialect of an excerpt from a Carolina folk play.

The records on which the original sounds are recorded are aluminum, and a diamond point is used on the recording needle. The records are practically permanent, much more durable than the ordinary wax ones, and are ready for use as soon as the original recording ceases. They can be used effectively on an ordinary phonograph, but wood or fiber needles must be used.

Various organizations connected with the University are interested in securing a recorder to make permanent records of dialects, folk music, and pronunciation of foreign languages.

U.N.C. Alumnus Writes In Historical Review

Buie's Creek, Jan. 30.—Dr. M. L. Skaggs, who received his Ph.D. degree at the University, and who is now head of the social science department at Campbell College, has reviewed Professor W. Freeman Galpin's "Pioneering for Peace" in the current issue of the North Carolina Historical Review.

Dr. Skaggs is sponsor of Campbell's International Relations Club here and is class dean for the freshmen. He will preside over the founder's day program at Campbell this afternoon.

Mrs. Skaggs is head of the periodical department at the University library. When Dr. Skaggs was in Chapel Hill he was assistant pastor to the Reverend Eugene I. Olive.

Wrestlers

(Continued from page three)

feature bout on the wrestling program. Last year Hodges pinned Efland in 57 seconds of the first extra period but the Carolinian has improved considerably this year and he should give his adversary plenty to think about.

The 1934 scrap between the Tar Heels and Generals resulted in an overwhelming 29-5 victory for the latter. Carolina will be out to avenge this defeat and break the long string of victories that the Virginia team has to its credit.

She Stars

Lovely, lissome Claudette Colbert is again starred in a comedy role in Paramount's "The Gilded Lily," which comes today to the Carolina theatre. Assisted by Fred MacMurray, Ray Milland and C. Aubrey Smith, Miss Colbert plays the part of a girl who passes up the proposals of millionaires for the affection of the "mugg" she loves.

SCIENCE JOURNAL HAS U. N. C. ISSUE

Carries Complete Story of Scientific Achievements Here.

The first complete story of the scientific activities and accomplishments of faculty members of the University is told in the current issue of the Journal of the Elisha Mitchell Scientific Society.

Covering the list of publications in the field of science from the University from the opening of the institution in 1895 through 1934, this record, which was secured only after much painstaking research, is published in commemoration of the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Elisha Mitchell Scientific Society and of the Journal.

This commemorative issue covers 420 pages and is double the usual size of the Journal.

Included in this issue, which is regarded as the most important and valuable number to appear during the Journal's half century of existence, is an historical sketch of the famous Elisha Mitchell Society, written by Dr. Archibald Henderson, head of the University's mathematics department.

NEW RENTAL BOOKS

Elizabeth Johnson, director of the Bull's Head bookshop in the Y. M. C. A., announced yesterday that the following books have been recently added to the rental collection:

"Lightship" by Archie Binns; "Blue Plate Special," a short story, by Damon Runyon; "The Glorious Pool" by Thorne Smith; and "Human Exploitation" by Norman Thomas.

MEDICAL SOCIETY

Dr. V. K. Hart of the Charlotte Eye, Ear and Throat hospital will speak at the meeting of the Whitehead Medical Society tonight at 7 o'clock in Phillips hall.

Dr. Hart will discuss diseases of the chest from a bronchoscopic standpoint. A special invitation is extended to all pre-med students.

Infirmary List

The following students were confined in the infirmary yesterday: Jim Finley, W. D. Turner, Billy Yandell, Raymond Dean, R. M. Ray, R. S. Wesson, Bruce Smith, W. S. Markham, Murray Honeycutt, E. S. Simpson, E. T. Berry, S. A. Feimister, R. S. Cole, Tom Hines, Fred Cochran, and K. Barllett.

Pi Phi's Initiate

Pi Beta Phi announces the initiation of the following girls last Wednesday:

Catherine Cline, Shreveport, La.; Mary Pride Cruikshank, Raleigh; Patricia Dicks, Chapel Hill; Virginia Ezzard, Atlanta; Kate Harrison, Richmond; Emmaline Henderson, Graham; Nancy Lawlor, Durham; Jean McKay, White Plains, N. Y.; Virginia Prettyman, Summerville, S. C.; and Jean Van Deusen, Brooklyn.

Murals

(Continued from page three)

tack brought Theta Kappa Nu the win. Stauber led the victors with five field goals.

S. A. E. ran wild to defeat St. Anthony's inexperienced but spirited quintet, 46-1. Andrews and Brown teamed well at the forward posts to garner 28 points between them, while Reed's last minute foul shot gave the losers' their lone score.

Chi Phi registered a 34-20 surprise victory over S. P. E. as Voliva took individual scoring honors for the day with 18 points. Sawyer and Taylor did best for the losers.

The summaries:

Aycock 35	Law School 34
Kornegay, f (9)	Williams, f (5)
O'Nasch, f (10)	Bryan, f (11)
Guntzler, c (8)	Seawell, c
Friedman, g	Markham, g
Kes'man, g (8)	Peacock, g (16)

Subs: Aycock—Ruben, Bronitsky; Law School—Rose, Alexander (2).

Theta Kappa Nu 22	T.E.P. 17
Priestley, f (6)	Lessem, f (5)
Schaper, f	Levitch, f
Buffey, c (4)	May, c
Falk, g (2)	L. Eisenberg, g (4)
Stauber, g (10)	Murnick, g (6)

Subs: T. E. P.—R. Eisenberg, Weisbrod, Goldberg, (2).

P. K. S. 24	Phi Delta Theta 21
Link, f (2)	Tucker, f (6)
Sharp, f (10)	Blount, f (4)
Love, c	Mosier, c (10)
Wilson, g (8)	Rogers, g
Bower, g (4)	Hershey, g (1)

Subs: Phi Kappa Sigma—Dicker.

Chi Phi 34	S. P. E. 20
Voliva, f (18)	Chesnutt, f
Montsin'r, f (4)	Danison, f (5)
Creath, c	Sawyer, c (9)
Bitting, g (2)	Pitts, g
Sink, g	Taylor, g (6)

Subs: Chi Phi—Boone (6), Thompson (4); S. P. E.—Parker.

S. A. E. 46	St. Anthony 1
Andrews, f (16)	Hammer, f
Brown, f (12)	Jennings, f
Scott, c (2)	Jeanes, c
Connor, g (6)	Morris, g
Poe, g (8)	Rhoades, g

Subs: S. A. E.—Stovall (2); St. Anthony Hall—Reed (1), Bowen, Fachner, Parker.

HOUSE CONSIDERS DEATH PENALTIES

Governor Will Be Final Appeal from Capital Punishment.

Raleigh, Jan. 31.—(UP)—The House of Representatives decided today that the Governor should be the final court of appeal in cases concerning capital punishment.

By a vote of 69 to 38, the House refused to pass a bill proposed by Representative Jonas of Lincoln County empowering judges to inflict life sentences instead of death upon the recommendation of the jury.

Except for the flurry preceding the death of Jonas' measure, the House took things easy, receiving a number of local bills and four state-wide bills. The latter were referred to committees.

In the Senate, White of Robeson County introduced a bill to cut the price of auto licenses to $9.11. The proposal was referred to the roads committee.

This afternoon both houses continued their hearings, and will reconvene at noon tomorrow.

Doping the Sports

(Continued from page three)

son is going to be a pushover for anybody.

POOR OLD Ray Rex just don't seem to be able to do much good against the Tar Heels. Captain Snooks handling of the State leader was a masterful exhibition all the way through. Jim McCachren also looks on his way to something or other with his continued top performances. The veteran guard seems to get even better every time he makes a new appearance in the Tin Can.

Penalties Begin Today For Lax Taxpayers

Today is the last day on which a citizen may pay his 1934 taxes and escape a penalty. A penalty of 1 per cent goes on today, and another 1 per cent is added at the beginning of every month hereafter.

The penalties accumulate in this way until July 1. Then property upon which taxes have not been paid is subject to advertisement for sale at public auction. There is a charge of 8 per cent a year upon all tax bills from July 1 until they are paid.

Sheriff Sloan will be at the bank today to receive county taxes. Town taxes will be received at the town hall.

ROOM FOR RENT

One nice, large, comfortably furnished double room. Adjoining bath, large closets, steam heat. Two blocks from campus, No. 12 Cobb Terrace. Mrs. F. W. Kurfees.

FOR SERVICE AND SANITATION
You'll find it at the UNIVERSITY BARBER SHOP
2 Doors below Pritchard-Lloyd

The Charm of Loveliness is easily had through the services of experienced operators.

Permanent Waves ..... $2.50 to $10.00
Shampoo and Finger Waves 75c
Facials ..... $1.00 and $1.50

University Beauty Shoppe
Under New Management
Phone 6691

THE UNIVERSITY OF BUFFALO
SCHOOL OF DENTISTRY
A three year course of instruction, quarter plan. The dental and medical divisions are closely affiliated. Dental students have two years of basic medical study under the direction and supervision of the medical faculty. Clinical practice of dentistry, in all its varied aspects, is supervised by the dental division and is connected with the clinics of several hospitals. These combined institutions offer an unusually helpful experience in clinical observation, diagnosis, and treatment of dental conditions. The next regular session will open July 1st, 1935.
For further information address
School of Dentistry, 25 Goodrich Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

CAROLINA vs. N. C. STATE
BOXING
TIN CAN—8 P. M.

The Daily Tar Heel

SERVED BY THE UNITED PRESS

FRESHMEN vs. BELMONT
BASKETBALL
TIN CAN—3 P. M.

VOLUME XLIII | CHAPEL HILL, N. C., SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1935 | NUMBER 95

STATE PHOTOMEN OPEN CONVENTION TOMORROW NIGHT

Buffet Supper and Registration Will Be First of Sessions During Three Days.

WELCOME FROM GRAHAM

The program was announced yesterday for the opening of the tenth annual convention of the North Carolina Photographers Association and a short course on photography, which gets underway at the University tomorrow evening and continues through Wednesday.

Photographers from North and South Carolina and Virginia have been invited.

Registration at the Carolina Inn, preceded by a buffet supper and "get-together," will comprise tomorrow's activities.

Graham to Speak

The program Monday will begin with an address of welcome by President Frank P. Graham. A. O. Clement of Goldsboro, president of the Photographers Association, will respond. Committee appointments, an outline of the association's legislative program by President Clement, and a talk on "Legislation" by Prof. R. J. M. Hobbs, professor of business law in the University, are scheduled for the morning session.

During the afternoon a demonstration of lighting, posing, and composition will be conducted by H. B. Wills, of the Eastman Kodak Company, Rochester,N. Y. "Modern Trends in Photography" by C. O. Towles, Hammer Dry Plate Company, St. Louis, Mo., and "After-treatment of Negatives," by A. B. Cornish, Eastman Kodak Company, will be followed by a demonstration in coloring, by Mrs. R. R. Jennings, Atlanta, Ga.

A business session and a retouching demonstration by A. B.

(Continued on last page)

YOUNG IDEA GOES INTO THIRD NIGHT

Final Production of Coward Play Tonight; Scenery and Costumes Add to Effect.

The Carolina Playmakers' final presentation of Noel Coward's "The Young Idea" is set for tonight at 8:30 o'clock in the theatre.

Under the direction of Harry Davis, who successfully produced Coward's "Hay Fever" for the Playmakers last year, the current production achieved true Cowardian perfection.

Sets

The settings for the drama were executed from designs by Philip Parker, one of the leads in the play. Wilbur Dorsett, head of the scene shop, was in charge of building the sets and part of his work which contributed considerable effects to the production was the Jacobean furniture used in the first scene.

Ora Mae Davis, wife of the director, outfitting the cast, rivaled in her work the "smartness" of Noel Coward's lines.

The veteran cast for the drama was headed by Philip Parker and included numerous Playmakers with fine records for past performances. Due to an out-of-town call, Wilfred Evans was replaced in the role of Eustace Dabbitt by Alan Waters who in turn gave up his part as Huddle to Carl Thompson.

Room Rent Due

The announcement came from the business office yesterday that the second installment on all room rent is due and payable at the cashier's section February 5. Charges have been made to the accounts of all students leasing dormitory rooms. Any changes or transfers must be made through the business office. Time and trouble may be saved by paying bills by mail.

TAU BETE TO TAP

Engineering Societies to Meet Jointly for Ceremony.

Black-hooded Tau Beta Pi's will tap eligible juniors in their semi-annual candle-lighted ceremony Thursday evening.

The tapping will take place in connection with a joint meeting of the four campus engineering societies, the A. I. E. E., the A. S. M. E., the A. S. C. E., and the A. I. Ch. E, which will be addressed by R. G. Browning, chief locating engineer of the North Carolina Highway and Public Works commission.

The program will be illustrated with slides depicting the "Parkway," the new scenic highway which is to be constructed along the mountains of western North Carolina. The project is part of a new national park, now under development along the border of North Carolina and Tennessee.

Tau Beta Pi is a national honorary engineering society, the local chapter of which is headed by Jack Crutchfield.

DEFENSE EXPERT SAYS WRITING IS NOT HAUPTMANN'S

Reilly Plans to Show Baby Was Kidnaped by Gang.

Flemington, N. J., Feb. 1.—(UP)—With further questioning of defense witnesses today it became apparent that Defense Attorney Reilly's hopes of saving Bruno Richard Hauptmann from the electric chair will be staked on an attempt to prove that the Lindbergh baby was kidnaped by a gang which included Isidor Fisch.

That these are the plans of the defense was made even clearer when Peter J. Somers testified in an effort to show that Violet Sharpe carried the baby to Fisch.

J. M. Trendley, handwriting expert, swore on the witness stand that the right-handed Hauptmann could not have written the ransom notes because they were penned by a left-handed writer. He also accused the prosecution handwriting experts of ignoring many proofs of Hauptmann's innocence.

Reilly said that the defense plans to rest its case Thursday. He will spend his week-end in New York.

Huey Reveals New Plot

Baton Rouge, La., Feb. 1—(UP)—Dictator Long's publicity stunt tonight as he resumed his "investigation" in the state supreme court chamber here was the revealing of a new plot to assassinate him.

Huey said a telegram sent by George B. Campbell of Hammond, La., read: "Plans well-laid for assassination Huey Long on return from Washington Friday. Under no circumstances quote me as my life would be jeopardized. XXX."

BULL'S HEAD PROGRAM

According to Elizabeth Johnson, director of the Bull's Head bookshop in the Y. M. C. A., the regular Tuesday afternoon lecture will be devoted to book reviewing by students in the school of library science.

The discussion will begin at 4:30 p. m. in the bookshop.

Among the current books to be reviewed Tuesday are "Lightship" by Archie Binns and "Dusk at the Grove" by Samuel Rogers.

ENGINEER GROUPS SCHEDULE DANCE

Jack Wardlaw to Furnish Music for Annual Ball Planned for February 22.

Members of the four campus engineering societies and their dates will dance to the musical strains of Jack Wardlaw and his Carolina Pines orchestra at the annual Engineer's Ball in the ballroom of the Carolina Inn February 22 from 9:30 to 1 a m.

Preceding the dance, there will be a dinner held by Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering society, in the Inn for members of the society. The dance will be a closed affair with bids issued only to members of the A. S. C. E., the A. I. E. E., the A. S. M. E., and the A. I. Ch. E.

Committee

The committee in charge is headed by Walter King, civil engineer, as chairman. He is assisted by Wyatt McNary, president of the civil engineer group; R. L. Huber, president, and J. B. Crutchfield, both of the chemical engineering society; Robert Query, president, and Andrew Snively of the electrical engineers; Don Tracy, president, and Jim Rennie, mechanical engineers.

Louis Hagood is in charge of the decorations, which will depict the activities and studies of the several engineering societies. Plans have been advanced through votes of the respective groups.

Jack Wardlaw conducted one of the outstanding campus orchestras two years ago, and since then has been connected with Carolina Pines. Bids will be issued by Walter King, who advises all engineering members to arrange for dates immediately.

HOUSE ADVOCATES FOLLOWING GREEK LIBERAL THOUGHT

Urges Freshmen to Acquaint Themselves with Socrates.

Dean House addressed members of the freshman class at chapel program yesterday morning.

Stressing Socrates as "one we should all get acquainted with by reading the works of Plato," Dean House claimed the Greek philosopher had one of the grandest conceptions of education.

"His character is described 'as one of those fixed stars that shine forever on the lives of men'," he said. "Socrates said, 'Don't be afraid of your mind or to use your mind. Let your intelligence see anything and everything'," he continued.

"You cannot possibly take a greater step in your personal education than to get really acquainted with this man." Dean House then suggested the "Memorabilia" of Xenophon and Plato's "Dialogue" as means of acquaintance.

The devotionals this quarter are under the supervision of the Y. M. C. A. friendship council. They were led this morning by Robert Magill, who read Carl Sandburg's poem, "Prayer of Steel."

Will Receive Today

Mrs. Frank Graham and Mrs. R. B. House will be at home this afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock at 402 East Franklin street. All the ladies of Chapel Hill are cordially invited.

GRAIL DANCE

Long to Play for Second Winter Quarter Function.

The second of the winter quarter series of dances sponsored by the Order of the Grail will be given in Bynum gym tonight from 9 to 12 o'clock. Frank Abernethy, Grail president, has announced that freshmen will not be admitted to the affair.

Johnny Long, southpaw violinist, and his Duke Collegians will manufacture the rhythm. Long's orchestra is rapidly becoming famous as purveyors of distinctive melody and syncopation.

Since the Grail will sell only 250 tickets for the dance those who intend to be in attendance are advised to purchase their bids early.

Bids are on sale now at Pritchard-Lloyd's. They will also be sold at the door tonight. The admission is $1.

Library Etching Display Attracts State Recognition

Lena Tuttle, Chapel Hill Artist, Selects "Under the Arch" As Prize Exhibit.

The library exhibit of American etchings by contemporary artists, lent by Frederic Keppel & Co., of New York, and exhibited here under the auspices of the Southern Art Projects, have received much comment and publicity both from state and local papers.

Asked for a criticism of the exhibit, Miss Lena Tuttle, Chapel Hill artist, selected an etching by Lewes, entitled "Under the Arch," as one of the best in the collection from the standpoint of technique, simplicity, and atmosphere.

Other etchings which drew favorable comment from Miss Tuttle were "Singalese Girl" by Wasburn, a North Carolinian; "Vignera" by Arthur W. Heintzelman, one of the foremost etchers of figures of today, who is represented in the leading museums and print collections in this country, and "Scout Planes at Dawn" by Kerr Eby which, she said, is impressive because of the impression of space it gives. An etching of an entirely different type which attracted her attention was "The Three Wise Men" by Gordon Grant, well known for his etchings and paintings of seafaring men.

Well Known

While the above mentioned etchings are probably those which would appeal to the general public, the work of some of the famous etchers represented necessitate some mention.

"Medieval Pageant" is the work of John Taylor Arms, president of the Society of American Etchers, who gave a demonstrative lecture here about a year ago on the art of etching. "Towers of Manhattan" by Albert C. Flanagan takes its place with the best of modern etchings although Flanagan is less well known in the print world than his fellow exhibitors.

Among the etchings of the sea and ships "The Pilot" by Woodsbury stands out. Levon West, who is best known for his etchings of western scenes, finds similarity in feeling in the spaciousness of the sea which furnishes inspiration for his etching entitled "Moored."

FRIENDSHIP GROUP TO SPONSOR TWO DEPUTATION TRIPS

Program Planned for Durham Mother and Daughter and Father and Son Banquets.

MISS HODGES IS DIRECTOR

Under the direction of the Y. M. C. A. secretary, Miss Helen Hodges the Freshman Friendship Council is sponsoring a deputation trip to Durham today where they will appear, at a mother and daughter banquet in Erwin auditorium.

According to Miss Hodges, the same program will be presented again February 16 for a father and son banquet, also in Erwin auditorium.

Two Parts

The program, as announced yesterday, is composed of two parts. The first, which includes a quartet selection by Bruce Culbreth, James Dees, Johnny Walker, and another student as yet not decided upon, and an original skit by Muriel Wolfe, will be presented during the banquet.

With Nick Read embroidering, Ralph Gilbert crocheting, Joe Pardi hooking a rug, Malcolm Wall knitting a baby sweater, and Scott Hunter darning socks, Miss Hodges will present her short play at the conclusion of the banquet.

The hilarious farce concerns itself with the age 2000 A.D. at which time all the women in the world have taken complete charge of everything. The weaker sex have turned to the professions and control the business world while the men stay at home, minding the children and taking care of the house.

On the occasion of the drama, the men are attending a sewing circle during which typical womanish conversation is carried on.

Faculty to Change Grade Appeal Plan

Legislation looking to the clarification of methods of handling appeals on course grades will come before the general faculty at its next meeting, Dean R. B. House announced last night.

Details of the proposed changes have been withheld by the administration until the faculty acts; but it is understood that, among other things, a new ruling will be considered whereby the interval in which the appeal may be made has been shortened from three months after the grade has been recorded to 30 days.

The changes have been suggested by the advisory committee.

Business Manager

Applications for the business managership of the Finjan must be delivered to the office of J. M. Lear on the first floor of Bingham hall before 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, according to an announcement made by Claude Rankin, president of the P. U. Board, yesterday.

The office will be left vacant when the present business manager leaves school at the end of the winter quarter. The temporary business manager which the board will elect, will have charge of the business end of the publication for the April and May issues.

University Professor Revived Dead Dog Here 26 Years Ago

By NICK READ

Life reclaimed from death! This seemingly impossible feat was actually accomplished in the Carolina medical school 25 years ago, says Dr. Beard, dean of the school of pharmacy, who witnessed the event.

The demonstration was performed by Dr. David Dolley, University professor of pathology and histology, before three county medical societies and the students and faculty of the medical school. Dr. Beard describes how the miracle was accomplished, with a dog which was brought back to life after being dead for eight minutes.

Dead Eight Minutes

The animal was given an overdose of ether. An incision was made above the heart and after a time all respiration and circulation ceased. The dog remained in this lifeless state for about eight minutes and then adrenalin and saline solution were injected near the heart, care having been taken to keep the animal warm in order to prevent coagulation of the blood. Massage and artificial respiration were applied. Weakly at first, and then more strongly, the heart soon began to beat. The incision was then sewed up and the dog resumed breathing.

"Four hours after he was ostensibly killed, I know the dog was alive," said Dr. Beard.

"I saw something that I didn't believe was possible. If you had asked me if a person is dead when his heart stops beating, I would have said yes. After I saw Dr. Dolley's demonstration, I didn't know," Dr. Beard continued.

Dr. Charles Mangum, dean of the University medical school in reviewing the incident tells a story about one of the old country doctors who had come to witness Dr. Dolley's amazing demonstration. When the dog's heart beats were again recorded on the drum after he had been revived the country doctor, says Dr. Mangum, spoke out, "By God, he did bring him to, but he ain't gonna be no manner of count."

Country Doctor Right

The country physician was right. The dog, although his power of breathing was restored, was too badly injured by the operation to regain his full consciousness. However, Dr. Dolley, working with Dr. George Crile of Western Reserve University, experimented with over 60 dogs, and in the majority of cases succeeded in restoring them to consciousness and active

(Continued on page two)

The Daily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Union Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where it is printed daily except Mondays, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Holidays. Entered as second class matter at the post office of Chapel Hill, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 for the college year.

A. T. Dill ..... Editor
Robert C. Page, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
Joe Webb ..... Business Manager
George Underwood ..... Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

EDITORIAL BOARD—Phil Hammer, chairman, Earl Wolslagel, Franklin Harward, John Schulz, DuPont Snowden, Margaret McCauley, Morty Slavin, Sam Leager, Dick Myers, Charles Lloyd, Jake Snyder, Phil Kind, Charles Daniel, George Butler.

FEATURE BOARD—Nelson Lansdale, chairman; Nick Read, Bob Browder, Francis Clingman, J. E. Poindexter, W. M. Cochrane, Willis Harrison.

CITY EDITORS—Irving Suss, Walter Hargett, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.

TELEGRAPH EDITORS—Stuart Rabb, Charlie Gilmore.

DESK MAN—Eddie Kahn.

SPORTS DEPARTMENT—Jimmy Morris and Smith Barrier, co-editors, Tom Bost, Lee Turk, Len Rubin, Fletcher Ferguson, Stuart Sechriest, Lester Ostrow, Ira Sarasohn.

EXCHANGES—Margaret Gaines.

STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER—Don Becker.

REPORTERS—Bill Hudson, John Smith, J. F. Jonas, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Hazel Beacham, Raymond Howe, William Jordan, Morton Feldman.

Business Staff

ASST. BUSINESS MANAGER ..... Butler French
COLLECTION MANAGER ..... Herbert Osterheld
OFFICE MANAGERS ..... Walter Eckert, Roy Crooks
NATIONAL ADVERTISING ..... Boylan Carr
DURHAM REPRESENTATIVE—Joe Murnick.
LOCAL ADVERTISING—Hugh Primrose, Robt. Sosnik, Eli Joyner (managers), Bill MacDonald, Louis Shaffner, Page Keel, Bill McLean, Crist Blackwell.

CITY EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE: IRVING SUSS

Saturday, February 2, 1935

PARAGRAPHICS

Gridster Barclay's getting old;
Instead of a halfback, he'll hit a pole.

"Tom Collins" Solomon made the front page Thursday, the second page yesterday, and ought to make the third soon if he'll be a sport.

We see where the Bull's Head is now renting "A Glorious Pool" by Thorne Smith. It should be good for a few votes this spring, Jack.

Education
In the Arena

Where is our attitude toward war leading us, and more pertinent still, what is our attitude toward war? These and other questions pop into our mind when we read that the President's requested budget appropriation for national defense in peace time is the greatest ever sent to Capitol Hill. Congress has been asked to appropriate $792,484,265 for the army and navy for the year starting next July 1. This figure is an increase of about $180,000,000 over the appropriations for military functions of these two departments during the current fiscal year. If, as is entirely probable, the army and navy secure allocations from the public works fund, the cost for national defense will soar close to $1,000,000,000.

While the walls of our nation are being so well reinforced though, what is happening to the foundations? For the condition of education throughout the nation merits as much and more consideration from the federal government as does the proposed increase in peace time defense appropriations.

Let us look at the possibilities for education which that increase might hold if it were directed in other channels. According to our rough figures, if this $180,000,000 were invested in a trust fund for the creation of honorary professorships, over one thousand such professorial chairs could be established at a salary of $5,000 a year. Every state in the union could be granted a loan of $3,750,000 for rehabilitation of its educational system. Eighteen hundred high schools costing $100,000 each could be built with this sum.

There is an even more concrete possibility, however, in contrast to the President's request for increased appropriations, there has been a concerted effort made by the nation's educators to obtain a $100,000,000 equalizing fund for educational purposes. The late superintendent of public instruction, A. T. Allen, who was one of the prominent leaders in this drive for federal aid, figured that if the fund was allotted on the basis of need, North Carolina would be entitled to a seven or eight million dollar share. Such an allotment would give the state a 25 per cent increase in teachers' salaries, and a 50 per cent increase in the educational budget.

We are not opposed to ample protection against enemy invasion. We believe, however, that defense measures in the past few years have been quite adequate, and that to add further armor means only to carry a heavier weight than is necessary. Our guess would be that to spend the proposed increase in education would be a much more valuable step in preparing for, or rather against, the next war.

More About a
Political Union

A political union on this campus could be everything our literary societies are not. It could do the things that these groups have tried to do and have failed in their attempts. To begin with, a union's existence on this campus would not mean that it would be a scholarly, dry, and horn-rimmed organization. It would mean, however, that it may be the making of a snappy, alert, aggressive and intelligent citizenry of able-minded students.

The aim of political unions on other campuses is not to fill its members up with dates, memory passages, listings, and the usual class room drudgery. The aim is to discuss enjoyably and prudently, not the problems that have arisen years and years ago (not that they are unimportant), but to discuss the problems of today and tomorrow as they loom up before our generation.

And that is what we need here. It will help to develop our spoon-fed class room scholars into self-reliant thinkers. To those who will have the gumption to partake in the vigorous activities of such a union the reward is two-fold. They will grasp the topics under discussion not from memory, not from written papers, but from a combination of both mind and voice.

Each meeting will have one or possibly more student speakers, students who have thoroughly informed themselves with the problem under discussion. Each meeting will introduce a well-known speaker—a speaker a week. It will give the campus an opportunity to hear what the guest speaker of experience has to present and unfold. Dr. Woodhouse has definitely stated that excellent guest speakers are available and would be glad to come and speak before such a group.

The Oxford Political Union, according to Dr. Spruill who has studied in Oxford University, has dedicated many of its meetings to the discussion of humorous topics. The meetings are not dead; on the contrary they are much alive—the membership runs between 800 and 1,000 students. Out of such a large membership comes England's voters and men of government. They are by no means pedantic about it all, but they tend to set up in their country political scientists rather than politicians, and that is what we must strive for.

We do not favor cluttering the campus with excessive organizations, but we feel there is a definite need for a group which would prepare us more intelligently for citizenship.

The Dictionary
And the Soul

There is something intriguing about the term "atheist"; something that smacks of worldliness, high intelligence, and blase dissatisfaction with religious dogma. We must admit that we, in our post-adolescent gropings, find the term rather hard to ignore, for there is a certain satisfaction in being branded lost souls by our less intellectual brothers when we tersely reveal to them our inability to accept God.

Bull sessions, in passing through the religious stage of an evolutionary progress leading to the inevitable discussion of sex, seldom fail to expose one or more dyed-in-the-wool atheists. Or can it be that bull sessions so work upon the imaginations of devotees that the complete abandonment of reserve results in creating occasional atheists of students persuaded by their own eloquence?

In short, we wonder how many of the campus atheists have a true conception of what that term means, and whether they, if confronted by the word "agnosticism" in some book or other, would not find that happy expression, by virtue of its still greater mystifying connotation, a more apt description of the states of their unsettled minds.

No doubt there are a few of our atheistic fellows who have discarded religion as a result of sincere study, actual experience, extensive observation, and honest decision. Of such as these, we will speak no further. But there are some, perhaps a majority, whose decision was purely spontaneous and made final after spending all of three minutes in thumbing through the dictionary for the purpose of ascertaining in just what order the "i" and "e" fall in the word "atheist."

These are the students who need to be discouraged, for they are the proverbial empty barrels and they make the most noise. The University of the State Where Students Are Taught Socialism in Sociology Classes—as at least one fond parent believes—is already suffering from the gossip of people who regard Chapel Hill as the Etna of atheism. North Carolina is touchy on the subject of religion, and nothing can give the University a black eye faster than a rumor to the effect that we in Chapel Hill are becoming atheists. Such a black eye we of this state will suffer if we bring it upon ourselves, but we cannot submit willingly to being bruised for the unthinking declarations of students who clutter the campus for four years and then depart to other states leaving the University and its local champions to fight rumors founded upon some others' irregularities.

Casual Correspondent
by
Nelson Lansdale

FIGHT, TEAM, FIGHT

One of the faculty ladies who attended the boxing matches last Saturday night was horrified when Carolina's Novich continued to hit his opponent during a clinch. "But that isn't fair," she objected.

"Oh, that's all right as long as the referee doesn't separate them," a student near her explained.

The lady's retort was prim and self-assured: "Then I don't think it's at all polite."

OUR YOU-GO-STRAIGHT-TO-HELL DEPARTMENT

"Valentines under the door, the casual correspondent is such a bore" — Valentine number, Carolina Finjan.

OLD ENGLISH

When the English actor, V. L. Granville presented his Dramatic Interludes on a Student Entertainment program, Nick Read, who interviewed him, saw a little drama backstage you might like to hear about. It seems that a Memorial hall stagehand got pretty mad at Granville's stage boy because the latter forbade him to tinker with Granville's light cords and switch board. The stage hand, an Italian, got so mad he threatened to hit the stage boy with an iron pipe. Just in time to avert any serious trouble, Granville stepped between them. They both started to explain, the Italian jabbering heatedly, gesticulating all over the place, and threatening to hit the boy with the pipe.

"I say there fellow," said Granville, "you cawn't do that. It's absurd. You simply cawn't go about hitting people over the head with iron pipes. Why, I get in arguments wherever I go, but I do it good-humoredly. Now give me that pipe, and we'll talk it over decently, like good fellows."

They talked it over decently, like good fellows, and got it settled to everybody's satisfaction, too.

POST-PROHIBITION ERA

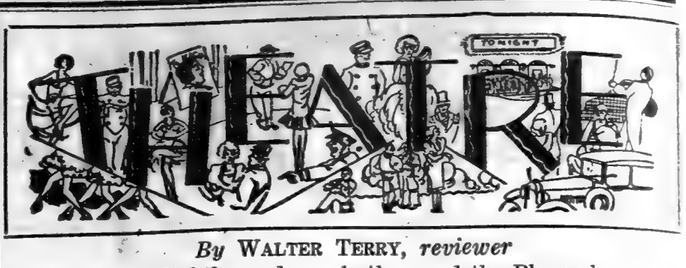
Not that we think that the stupidities of the stupid are half as amusing as the lapses of the intelligent, but this one is on the house. Alex Andrews, onetime editor of the Yackety Yack, contemplating a trip to Washington, asked us where to go for cocktails. "Have you ever been to the salon moderne of the Carlton?" we asked.

"The what?" demanded Alex. (It wasn't his fault. Our accent is terrible, and other people were talking.)

"The salon moderne," we repeated patiently. "You know—modern saloon."

FINJAN GOES BUST

You may or may not know that before you can get your copy of the Finjan in the dormitory you have to sign for it. Bernard Solomon, the business manager, tells us that practically all one dormitory, under the impression that they were getting Finjans, signed a petition telling the Greyhound Company that they wanted busses to run direct from Raleigh to Greensboro. We think it's just as well.



DELICATE SUBJECT

An English 22 professor was telling his class about the extremities of torture to which Elizabethian Englishmen were subjected for treason. "Hanging them by the thumbs was an ordinary procedure," said the prof, "and hanging, drawing and quartering was usual enough. They cut off their vitals, or their noses or ears, or put out their eyes, or burnt off their fingers . . . "

The lecture was interrupted by the noise of books being gathered together hastily. Grabbing his hat and coat, a hulking blonde brute of six feet or more stumbled to his feet. He smiled wanly at the prof. "I think I'd better go," he said, and staggered out the door.

PERSONAL PREJUDICE

In our humble little way, we'd like to recommend: the Ray Noble record of "The Blue Danube," which is worth 75 cents of anybody's money. It's a brilliant, modern orchestration, perfectly timed, and anybody who thinks it's sissy music should listen to the British come at it with a bang-bang . . . "Lives of A Bengal Lancer," sure to be one of the best movies of the year. Franchot Tone turns in his best performance to date . . . that the Playmakers for their next formal production choose a play somebody knows something about. As far as we could ascertain, "The Young Idea" has been presented professionally exactly once, in London at the Savoy theatre, with Mr. Coward himself in the role played here by Charlie Lloyd. It flopped.

By WALTER TERRY, reviewer

Once again slightly mad people thronged the Playmaker stage, but this time the insanity was of a more wholesome and likable sort than that of the last Playmaker production, "Shroud My Body Down." The characters of "The Young Idea" were "insufferable" and "tiresome" to each other in the best Noel Coward vein; they kept a reasonably good plot moving rapidly by their flares of temperament and their absurd metaphors. Hence for those of us who like inanity at times, and who don't believe that all drama should have a message of social or political import, "The Young Idea" gave us an evening of laughs, which after all, was what it set out to do.

Harry Davis again proved himself an excellent director of comedy, and gave the audience a production that almost rivaled his production of "Hay Fever" last spring. His direction of the scenes with Gerda and Sholto was particularly fine, for he made them use, to just the right degree, the good comedy trick of playing laugh-lines to the audience. Davis' handling of the many absurd situations in the play, and his direction of the character portrayals of the actors themselves made this Playmaker presentation a truly fine production.

Several of the actors certainly earned their rights to more comedy leads. Philip Parker, clothed in arrogant whimsy, gave an excellent performance, and with innocent ease played each line and gesture for all they were worth. Miss Ellen Deppe talked volubly, acted wildly, and showed the audience what a really fine comedienne can do. Miss Deppe was aided in her work of wearing out the audience's laughing glands, by Miss Patsy McMullan, who wore some astounding riding breeches, and made more noise than her horse could have if she had thoughtlessly brought him onto the stage. Miss Killinsworth again won laughs from the theatre-goers by her frail-Amazon portrayal. The rest of the cast was adequate, except for Miss Frances McGraw, who had an annoying way of twitching from line to line, from comma to semicolon. She was really good in the scene before her final exit, when she was vile to everyone.

The settings were splendid, particularly Mrs. Davis' and Mr. Parker's Jacobean furniture, that nobly withstood the ravages of Miss McMullan's dynamic sitting. And if any of the readers of this review think that sitting cannot be dynamic, a visit to "The Young Idea" will convince you that Miss McMullan can not only perform with gusto the genuflection leading to the sit, but can, once seated try the strength of the chair with the irresistable force of mere sitting.

A good play by a younger Noel Coward; actors worthy of the name; splendid direction; good settings; and actors and audience having a grand time. Such was the Thursday evening performance of the Playmaker production of "The Young Idea."

Dogs

(Continued from page one)

life after they had been killed with ether, chloroform, or by suffocation. Life was restored to puppies which had been dead for as long as 30 minutes.

In these experiments no incisions were made in the thoraxes of the animals. Adrenalin was injected through the aorta.

Dr. Manning of the medical school explained that the purpose of the resuscitation experiments performed by Dr. Dolley and Dr. Crile was to find out what damage was done to the brain cells by temporary death. Even when Dr. Dolley gave his demonstration here, it was not a very new idea, explained Dr. Manning.

The remarkable thing about these experiments which were carried out 30 years ago at Western Reserve University is that they have received relatively little publicity, whereas the recent experiments notably those at the University of California bringing the same results have been universally acclaimed.

THE
Young Men's Shop
126-128 E. Main St.
DURHAM, N. C.

Valentine Day
February 14th

Remember your family, sweetheart, and friends on this day. There is still the fun in sending and receiving Valentines today as in the days of yore.

The sell-out last year caused us to buy and have for your choice the largest and most beautiful selection ever offered in Chapel Hill.

Ledbetter-Pickard
STATIONERY — GIFTS — SCHOOL SUPPLIES
Victor, Brunswick, Decca Records

Carolina And State Ring Clubs Clash Here Tonight; Tar Heels Are Favorites

Giddins-Fabri Match to Feature; Will Start At 8 O'clock.

Medynski Is Ready to Fight but O'Flaherty Is Out.

PROBABLE LINEUPS

U. N. C.	Pos.	N. C. S.
Diehl	118	Billosoly
Eutsler	125	Tuttle
Edwards	135	Penland
Fisher	145	Hudson
Medynski	155	Parker
Giddins	165	Fabri
Novich	175	Powell
Undecided	h.	Johnson

Although they will be hampered by the absence of Tommy O'Flaherty from their line-up, the Tar Heels will be odds on favorites to win the boxing meet from the Wolfpack at 8 o'clock in the Tin Can tonight. As yet O'Flaherty's status has not been definitely determined. However, he will not be able to compete this evening.

The team will be strengthened, on the other hand, by the return of Jule Medynski to the junior middleweight class. Medynski is looked upon as a bundle of dynamite and power.

Perfect Record

In his only two scraps this year, he turned back Captain Bussey of the V. P. I. contingent, and Dick Hilton of the South Carolina Gamecocks. Jule finished his training yesterday afternoon by punching the bags, both light and heavy, and looked to be in good shape.

Both Eutsler and Edwards are expected to get into the win column tonight when they meet their State opponents. Although they both met with reverses last week at the hands of Virginia, they have both shown much more speed and punching ability

(Continued on last page)

Glove Lacings

By SMITH BARRIER

Wolfpack Here Tonight

Tonight Carolina's glove team, strong bidders for the 1935 Southern Conference title, will meet its first Big Five opponent. Last year N. C. State scored a tie with the Tar Heels to place the two teams in a tie for state high honors.

The Raleigh collegians will not bring a frosh team with them this year, due to lack of interest. It was thought for a while that even varsity boxing was to be disbanded—but the Wolfpack is still in the ring.

* * *

Heading for The SIC Round-up

Last week the Tar Heels were victims of something—not of the jabs and punches of one Cavalier group but of some supernatural force which insisted to hover about the Rowe camp. Carolina barely lost after forfeiting one bout. In the heavy and final match, Kanner was beaten on referee's points, 15-13½; his defeat was due to his weakening in the last minute of the final round.

Which just goes to show you—that North Carolina will be right in the midst of the SIC fight and possibly one notch ahead of the rest. Bill McCormick of the Washington Post picks Virginia to repeat as champ and names Carolina, Duke, and Maryland to follow behind. That was before the Va-UNC bout—and he was here to see that. He might have changed his mind.

* * *

The Battle Of Captains

The feature bout of tonight will bring together the two captains of the teams, Fabri of State and Sam Giddins of Carolina. In State's only fight of the year several weeks ago in which they beat South Carolina 5-3, Fabri lost a close, very close decision to Hilton. Hilton in turn was TKO'd by Medynski.

* * *

A Trio of Good Ones

Several other bouts should also come under the head of feature tilts. Joe Fisher will be meeting Hudson, a nice welter boxer who sent Humphlett, South Carolina captain, to the canvas via TKO as did Fisher.

In the lightweight Johnnie Edwards will take on Penland, who scored a technical kayo over the Gamecock Cardwell. Edwards has shown that he can take it as well as dish it out,

(Continued on last page)

LONG SCRIMMAGE WILL BE HELD BY GRIDSTERS TODAY

Workout Will Start at 2:30 with Game Following Later; Outfit Is in Good Condition.

VETERAN ELEVEN READY

Coach Carl G. Snavely plans to give his grid charges a hard scrimmage this afternoon in Kenan stadium. The practice will be called at 2:30 o'clock and the scrimmage will be held as soon as the players get warmed up.

As a result of the cool, clear weather the football coaches have been able to put the 1935 squad through some hard workouts this week, leaving them in top condition for the practice game. Last Saturday's contest had to be called off because the boys had not had time to round into shape.

The work so far has stressed blocking, line play and passing. The teams have also had long daily signal drills while the vari-

(Continued on last page)

BELMONT ABBEY TO MEET FROSH THIS AFTERNOON

Boone Will Probably Start at Forward Position; Belmont Defeated by Duke.

GAME STARTS AT 3 P. M.

LINEUPS

Carolina	Pos.	Belmont
Boone or Potts	f.	Santos
Mullis	f.	Kearns
Meroney	c.	Reily
Ruth	g.	Campbell
Grubb	g.	Mauro

At 3 o'clock this afternoon, the Carolina yearling five will meet the Belmont Abbey quintet in the Tin Can, in an attempt to return to its winning ways after the initial setback at the hands of State.

This will be the first return engagement of the season for the Tar Babies; they have already stopped the Abbeys, 40-20, at Belmont. Belmont, although it failed to press the Carolina frosh in their recent meeting, has a considerable amount of power and may possibly cause the frosh to step before yielding.

Last night in Durham, the Belmont five bowed to the Baby Imps, who are the next scheduled opponents for the Blue and White yearlings. This match shapes up as a natural and will be a fitting battle to precede the traditional varsity game of the two universities.

The Carolina lineup will probably be similar to the one that took the floor against State on Wednesday, with the possible replacement of Ramsay Potts by Pete Boone.

Potts' injured ankle has im-

(Continued on last page)

Five Tar Heels Set For Millrose Games At N. Y.

Famous Indoor Meet Takes Place Tonight

Williamson Will Meet Biggest Competition from Hornbostel In 1,000-Meter Race.

RELAY TEAM IS READY

Tonight in Madison Square Garden, New York City, five Tar Heel track men will participate in the 28th annual Millrose A. A. indoor track games.

Last year 16,500 fans witnessed the series of thrilling races and this year a likewise large crowd is expected. The feature event of the night will be the Wanamaker Mile, one of the most famous indoor miles of the season.

Glenn Cunningham and Bill Bonthron take the headline in this mile run with Gene Venzke, Bill Ray and Eric Ny thrown in for good measure. This will be the first meeting of the season between the Kansan and the Tiger. At present Bonthron holds a 3-2 advantage in the series of the 1934 mile runs between the two. In the pair of races which Cunningham won he set world records.

Harry Williamson will be the leading Carolinian in tonight's performances. He will run in the invitational 1000-meter event. Last minute reports are that Chuck Hornbostel, University of Indiana iron man of the track, will enter this event in addition to the 600-meter run. This Hoosier runner won the event last year, missing a record by only a few seconds, and is rated on the All-America track team in this event.

Others to run in the 1000 will will be Monahan of Boston A. A., Sweet of N. Y. A. C. and Dawson of Tulsa A. A.

The North Carolina two-mile relay team will likewise meet some big competition. Manhattan will be defending its title and several of the other Empire City schools will be in the running also. The Tar Heel team will possibly be in the following order: Bob Gardiner, Dick Gabori, Graham Gammon and Harry Williamson. In case Williamson is unable to run in this relay, Gammon will move up to the anchor position and Ed Waldrop will take the third post.

White Phantoms Will Play Wake Forest While Carolina Wrestlers Meet Washington And Lee

FIRST YEAR AND VARSITY MATMEN ALL ON PROGRAM

Tar Heels Face SIC Champions In Bouts at Lexington.

Carolina's freshman and varsity wrestling teams will meet some of the strongest competition of the season tonight at Lexington when they take on the outfits of Washington and Lee.

The Tar Heel matmen will have the same lineup available which started the last two meets with the exception of Ed Douglas, sophomore 125-pounder. He was left at home on account of illness and his spot will be filled by Sam Lytle.

Both Greengold and Gholsen were taken on the trip by Coach Chuck Quinlan and it is not yet certain which boy will hold down the 145-lb post.

Rest of Lineup

The rest of the Carolina lineup will see Frank Umstead, undefeated sophomore, 115-lb; Ward, 135-lb; Bonner, 155-lb; Efland, 165-lb; Gwynn, 175-lb, and Ranson, unlimited.

This will be the opening meet of the season for the Generals so their strength is still an unknown quality. However, the W. & L. outfit holds the Southern Conference championship and has two champs plus a runner-up back for this year.

The title-holders back are Thomas and Bonino while the second place winner is Hodges.

The Tar Babies are expected to lineup with Ehringhaus at 118-pounds; Tankersley, 125; Ford, 135; Claypoole, 145; Gibbons, 155; Love, 165; James, 175; and Schulman, unlimited. Patrick, a bantamweight, was also taken on the trip.

Mangum 1 Squad Scores 84 Points In Routing Locals

Alpha Epsilon Gets Other Feature Win with One-Point Victory over Sigma Nu.

Alpha Epsilon and Mangum No. 1 shared the spotlight in yesterday afternoon's play of intramural basketball as the former nosed out the Sigma Nu combine, 20-19, and the latter ran up 84 points to 15 for the Locals.

The three remaining games saw Kappa Alpha continue undefeated when it downed Chi Psi, 34-20, Everett beat Smithsonians, 34-8, and Lambda Chi Alpha take Z. B. T. by a 38-17 margin.

Sigma Nu and the Alpha Epsilon fives battled it out on even terms throughout and the outcome was not certain until the final whistle had blown. Weinstein furnished the scoring highlight with five field goals and four fouls.

Fox Gets 26

The entire Mangum No. 1 team ran wild to submerge the Locals, as Fox and Henson staged a merry battle for high scoring honors with 26 and 22 points respectively.

Everett's strong team got back into the win column with an easy 34-8 triumph over the Smithsonians. Alderman, Ressler, and McRae exhibited some fine team work for the winners while Bartelman took high scoring with 16 points.

The K. A.'s experienced a pretty dogged battle from Chi Psi, but nevertheless continued its winning ways by a 34-20 margin. Everett and Skinner paced the victors, while Manley's 13 pointers was high for the game.

Z. B. T. failed to offer Lambda Chi Alpha any too great competition and fell 38-17. Brooks, Lothian, and Shore were outstanding for the winners, while Kind did best for the losers.

The summaries:

Alpha Epsilon 20	Sigma Nu 19
Weinstein, f (14)	J. Bost, f (7)
Turk, f (2)	T. Bost, f
Mark, c	Blount, c (2)
Shalmon, g (2)	Primrose, g (8)
Levine, g (2)	M. Fitts, g

Subs: Sigma Nu—Henderson.

Mangum No. 1 84	Locals 15
Henson, f (22)	Mason, f
Vick, f (10)	Davenport, f (5)
Fox, c (26)	Verner, c (2)
Barnwell, g (12)	Seawell, g (4)
Rhodes, g (12)	Terry, g

Subs: Mangum No. 1—Freeman (2); Locals—Hudson (4), Lynch.

Kappa Alpha 34	Chi Psi 20
Skinner, f (10)	Kavanaugh, f
Everett, f (12)	Dowling, f
Yoemans, c (3)	Foreman, c (4)
Seymour, g (7)	Manley, g (13)
McClellan, g (2)	Wilday, g (5)

Subs: Kappa Alpha—Broadhurst, Wilson (4); Chi Psi—Waters.

Everett 34	Smithsonians 8

(Continued on last page)

BIG FIVE COURT CLUBS TO STAGE TILT AT RALEIGH

Tar Heels Need Victory to Hold Big Five Lead.

LINEUPS

U. N. C.	Pos.	W. F.
Aitken	f.	Brunt
Nelson	f.	Mills
Glace	c.	Patton
McCachren	g.	Hatcher
Kaveny	g.	Clark

The Carolina quint will seek to pass another milestone in its race for Big Five honors when it encounters Wake Forest tonight in Raleigh at 8 o'clock.

After defeating State to gain the Big Five lead, the White Phantoms are assiduously preparing for further contests—and are turning their eyes tonight toward the Deacons.

The Tar Heels hold a lead in the state by virtue of wins over Davidson, Wake Forest, and State. In the previous encounter with the Deacons, the Tar Heels were in top shape and came through with a 31-11 victory.

Personal Duel

A feature of that game was the personal duel between Captain Aitken of Carolina and Hatcher of Wake Forest. The two men played together as high school mates, and still have a strong rivalry.

For tonight's battle the Baptist outfit will have its full strength for the first time this season; Lloyd Patton, a former star, and Doight Morris have just been made eligible to play for the Deacons.

With these two boys in shape to assist the fast improving combination, Wake Forest can be expected to give the Tar Heels plenty of trouble before bowing.

A win for the Deacons would throw the Phantoms into a tie with N. C. State for the top position of the Big Five; it would also be the first state loss out of four tries for Carolina and the initial Big Five victory for the Baptist five.

The White Phantoms, under the direction of Coach Shepard, took only a light drill yesterday, polishing off for the contest; the club appears to be in top shape for the battle.

The fight for the guard position on the Tar Heel club between Paul Kaveny and Buck Harris continues ad both boys will likely see much action tonight. Kaveny is scheduled to get first call.

Duke Defeated By VMI

Durham, Feb. 1.—VMI's basketball team fixed itself as a Southern Conference threat here tonight by brushing off Duke 32-27. The tilt in Duke Gym was the first game of a North Carolina invasion by the Cadets. In a preliminary battle the Duke freshman five kept its fine record intact by beating Belmont Abbey, 30-25.

The Blue Devils will meet another Conference opponent Saturday night in a tilt with W. & L.

GRAIL DANCE
TONIGHT
Bynum Gym 9-12

Music by

JOHNNY LONG and His Duke Collegians

$1.00

Townsend Explains Old Age Pension Bill

House Passes $900,000,000 Treasury-Post Office Bill.

Washington, Feb. 1.—(UP)—Dr. Francis E. Townsend, originator of the Townsend old age pension bill now pending in Congress, explained today to the house ways and means committee his vision of how the present generation over 60 can spend the nation back to prosperity on $200 monthly if the government will provide the money.

The plan would retire all citizens over 60, giving them a government pension of two hundred dollars monthly on the condition that they spend it all. Ex-criminals would be excluded.

The house passed a $900,000,000 treasury-post office appropriation bill today and heard Louisiana representative J. Y. Sanders attack Huey Long's dictatorship. The senate was in recess.

Photomen

(Continued from page one)

Cornish are scheduled for Tuesday morning. George Kossuth, vice-president of the Photographers Association of America, will conduct a demonstration on photographing men, and E. P. Nichols will speak on "The Processing of Professional Photographic Papers" Tuesday afternoon.

Open house at the Wootten-Moulton studio in Chapel Hill will be held at 4:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon through the courtesy of the association's committee on local arrangements.

In the Playmakers theatre at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening George Kossuth will speak on "The Old Masters from Bellini to Whistler and their Comparison to Photography." Later that evening the photographers will be entertained by the Carolina Playmakers.

Program Ends Wednesday

A lighting demonstration by H. B. Mills and "Advertising and Sales Promotion," by Prof. M. D. Taylor, professor of marketing at the University, are scheduled for Wednesday morning.

Ed Brysdorger, of the Eastman Kodak Company, will speak on "Photographic Emulsions—Their Use and Manipulation," Wednesday afternoon, and E. P. Nichols, also of the Eastman Company, will deliver an illustrated lecture on photo finishing.

A final business session, including the election and installation of new officers is scheduled for 3 o'clock Wednesday.

The association's board of directors is composed of A. O. Clement, Goldsboro, president; Leonard C. Cook, Charlotte, vice-president; George G. Moulton, Chapel Hill, treasurer; Ray W. Goodrich, Henderson, secretary; A. F. Harrell, Rocky Mount; R. W. Foister, Chapel Hill; W. M. Moore, Winston-Salem; L. D. Phillips, Charlotte; B. A. Culberson, Asheville.

The committee on local arrangements are: R. M. Grumman, director of the University Extension Division; H. W. Schnell, University Extension Division; and Mrs. Bayard Wootten, and R. W. Foister of Chapel Hill.

HONOR ROLL OMISSION

Doubly regretted because the editor is a New Bernian is the inadvertent omission of the name of Jesse Stanley Claypoole, Jr., of New Bern from the fall quarter honor roll.

The registrar's office announced to the DAILY TAR HEEL yesterday that he had been overlooked in preparing the honor list.

INFIRMARY LIST

The following students were confined in the infirmary yesterday: Billy Yandell, Fred Cochran, A. B. Bonner, Babe Daniels, C. F. Ambrose, Raymond Dean, Sandy McLeod, Tom Lawthen, R. D. Wesson, C. R. Fries, Bruce Smith, Yates Mason, Robert Hagey, N. W. Walker, E. S. Simpson, Murray Honeycutt, R. S. Cole, E. T. Berry, S. A. Feimster, Bill Calloway, Tom Hines, Keneth Bartlett, and R. A. Gardner.

Murals

(Continued from page three)

Ressler, f (6)	Knight, f (2)
Bart'an, f (16)	Nicholes, f (2)
Alderman, c (6)	Fletcher, c (2)
McRae, g (4)	LeBaron, g
Willis, g	Brady, g (2)

Subs: Everett—Barber (2), Morris; Smithsonians — Addleman.

Lam. Chi Alpha 38	Z.B.T. 17
Shore, f (10)	Slavin, f
Devito, f (2)	Stadian, f
Allen, c (2)	Ulman, c (5)
Brooks, g (12)	Kind, g (6)
Lothian, g (10)	Kal'off, g (2)

Subs: Lambda Chi Alpha—Kerr (2); Z. B. T.—Sims (2), Bluethental.

Boxing

(Continued from page three)

during practice this week.

The fight that is keeping the fans guessing is the Captain Giddins-Captain Fabri setto. Both boys are anxious to score kayos and will be meeting for the third and last time. This bout will most likely provide the thrills that the fans are looking for, and the contestants will have to be careful of every punch that is cut loose.

Ann Dvorak, Gordon Westcott, and Lyle Talbot are appearing at the Carolina theatre today in "Murder in the Clouds."

BARITONE AT DUKE

Reinald Werrenrath, baritone, assisted by Louise Bernhardt, contralto, will appear in concert this evening at 8:15 o'clock in the Women's College auditorium at Duke University for the benefit of the Fellowship Fund of the American Association of University Women.

Comer Attends Meeting

Harry F. Comer, general secretary of the University Y. M. C. A., attended a special meeting in Winston-Salem yesterday of alumnae of Salem College.

Comer returned to Chapel Hill last night.

CORRECTION

Contrary to a statement in the DAILY TAR HEEL yesterday, R. A. Eubanks is not chairman of the Chapel Hill Movie Guild. The Guild at present has no chairman, according to word received from Clyde Eubanks, member of the Guild, yesterday.

The Guild receives only 15 per cent of the total receipts of the Sunday movies, after the three per cent sales tax is deducted, C. Eubanks pointed out. The other 85 per cent goes to the Carolina theatre.

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS

Frosh Basketball

(Continued from page three)

proved little and Boone will most likely start the game. However, the injury is not bad enough to keep Potts from the entire encounter and he will see some action.

Belmont Abbey will likewise send their same quintet against the Tar Babies, with the faint hope of making its tour of this vicinity a semi-success.

The game is an afternoon battle, due to the use of the Tin Can tonight for the State-Carolina varsity boxing bouts.

Football

(Continued from page three)

ous individuals have been practicing regularly on kicking.

Veteran Lineup

Coach Snavely will be able to trot an entirely veteran first team on the field. The initial club which has been working together includes Captains Harry Montgomery and Hump Snyder, halfback and blocking back; Don Jackson, halfback; Jim Hutchins, fullback; Buck McCarn and Dick Buck, ends; Tom Evins and John Trimpey, tackles; Pop McIver and Punchy Joyce, guards; and Babe Daniel, center.

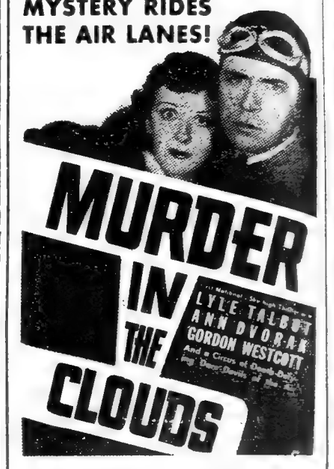
In addition to this eleven there are also several other veterans working out plus a fine crop of freshmen. It is expected that some of the yearlings will make it plenty tough for the letter-holders to keep their first string posts.

Among the first-year men who have already been showing some fine form are Andy Bershak, end; Ed Palmer, tackle; Art Ditt, Tom Burnett, and Walborn, backs.

Glove Lacings

(Continued from page three)

and tonight he will have a chance to do both.



If Turner Billosoly fights tonight, he should give Marion Diehl a scrap. However, reports from Raleigh last night said that he would not fight, and the match would be forfeited.

* * *

They'll See Fire

Johnson, who decisioned his South Carolina man, will be in the heavy division, while three newcomers—Tuttle, Parker, and Powell—will climb through the ropes in the feather, junior middle and lightheavy weights, respectively.

The Wolves are inexperienced as a group. They have had two weeks to get in shape for this meet tonight, but nevertheless it looks like just another stomping of the Tar Heels.

—OTHER FEATURES—
Comedy — Novelty
NOW PLAYING CAROLINA THEATRE

A section of the department where Chesterfield tobaccos are blended and cross-blended.

Just what is meant by cross-blending tobaccos . . . and how does it make a cigarette milder and taste better . . .

Well, in blending you take two or more tobaccos and mix them together—a rather simple process. But cross-blending goes a step further . . .

IN making Chesterfields we take Bright tobacco from Virginia, the Carolinas, Georgia and Florida. We take Burley tobacco from Kentucky and Tennessee, and tobacco from Southern Maryland.

Then in addition to these home-grown tobaccos we take tobacco grown in Turkey and Greece.

We balance these mild, ripe home-grown tobaccos with the right amounts and the right kinds of aromatic Turkish.

Then, instead of just mixing the tobaccos together, we blend and cross-blend them so that all the different flavors go together into one full flavor—the Chesterfield taste that so many smokers like.

Cross-blending tobaccos as it is done in Chesterfields gives the cigarette a pleasing taste and aroma—they're mild and yet They Satisfy.

On the air—

MONDAY LUCREZIA BORI
WEDNESDAY LILY PONS
SATURDAY RICHARD BONELLI
KOSTELANETZ ORCHESTRA AND CHORUS
9 P. M. (E. S. T.)—COLUMBIA NETWORK

© 1935, LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

ATTEND
CHURCH SERVICES
11 A. M.

The Daily Tar Heel

SERVED BY THE UNITED PRESS

ATTEND
STUDENT FORUMS
7 P. M.

VOLUME XLIII | CHAPEL HILL, N. C., SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1935 | NUMBER 96

DELEGATES MEET TONIGHT TO BEGIN CONFERENCE HERE

President Clement of N. C. Photographers Will Announce Program Tomorrow.

BUFFET SUPPER TONIGHT

With photographers from every section of this state and a member from South Carolina, Virginia, and other southern states in attendance, the 10th annual convention of the North Carolina Photographers Association and a short course in photography gets under way here tonight with a buffet supper and "get-together" at the Carolina Inn.

The formal program will commence tomorrow morning with an address of welcome by President Frank P. Graham. A. O. Clement, of Goldsboro, president of the Photographers Association, will respond.

Hobbs to Speak

Clement will make committee appointments and will present an outline of the Association's legislative program. The morning session will close with an address on "Legislation" by R. J. M. Hobbs, professor of business law in the University.

A demonstration of lighting, posing, and composition will be conducted tomorrow afternoon by H. B. Wills, of the Eastman Kodak Company, Rochester, N. Y. "Modern Trends in Photography" will be discussed by C. O. Towles, Hammer Dry Plate Company, St. Louis, Mo. A. B. Cornish, of the Eastman Kodak Company, will make an address on "After Treatment of Negatives," and Mrs. R. R. Jennings, of Atlanta, Ga., will conduct a demonstration in coloring.

The committee on local arrangements is composed of: R. M. Grumman, director of the University extension division; H. W. Schnell, University extension division; and Mrs. Bayard Wootten and R. W. Foister of Chapel Hill.

'Y' HEARS CRIME TALKS TOMORROW

Junior-Senior Cabinets to Hear Bert Smith; MacFarland to Address Sophomores.

With Bert Smith discussing "Punishment and Crime" before the junior-senior cabinet, the Y.M.C.A. groups will resume their study of social disorganization at their regular meetings tomorrow night at 7:15 in the "Y" building.

The sophomore cabinet will hear George MacFarland on the subject of "The Crime of Child Labor."

Smith, in his address to the junior-senior body, will take up the crime discussion where Tom Bost left off two weeks ago. There was no discussion last week when the cabinets jointly attended the religious seminar.

Hammer Next Speaker

Phil Hammer will appear next week before the junior-senior cabinet to discuss "Social Effects and Results of Crime."

The Freshman Friendship Council will hear R. Phillips Russell tell of his experiences at the International Anti-War Conference held last month in Brussels.

Russell's lecture, according to Y.M.C.A. authorities, is intend-

(Continued on page two)

VISITING PHOTOGRAPHERS

Leaders in the convention of the North Carolina Photographers Association which opens here today.

Left to right: top row—A. O. Clement, Leonard C. Cook, Ray W. Goodrich; second row—George G. Moulton, Mrs. Bayard Wootten, R. W. Foister, all of Chapel Hill; third row—George Kossuth, Mrs. R. R. Jennings, E. P. Nichols; bottom row—R. J. M. Hobbs and M. D. Taylor of the University, and A. B. Cornish.

Laurels To "Screaming Eagle"

Goerch Relates Bizarre History of Carolina's Faithful Rooter, Leather-Lung Morris

The crown denoting the most famous Carolina rooter rests, unchallenged, upon the slightly bald pate of Lath Morris, "The Screaming Eagle," whose prolonged and strident cries have become an institution of Carolina athletic contests.

The bizarre history of this unique individual is reviewed in the article headed, "Waw! Waw!" "Yupee-ee-ee," in the current issue of Carl Goerch's magazine, "The State."

Very few athletic contests escape the wary eye of "The Eagle." Weaving from place to place in the crowded bleachers, Lath pauses intermittently to rare back and emit bellows that would shame Tarzan.

Above the roar of the crowd at a football game, above the music of the bands, above, even the organized cheering of the students floats the war-cry of "The Eagle," urging "his team, Carolina" on to victory.

When Lath feels that the spirit of the cheering section is lagging, he swoops down to the sidelines and helps the cheerleaders. Basketball or football, boxing or wrestling, Lath is usually on hand.

In his story of Morris in "The State," Carl Goerch explains "The Eagle's" interest in football. Morris was born in Brenham, Texas, and played fullback while he attended high school there. Later, he became quarterback at a junior college in Brenham.

He happened to come to North Carolina when the Texas construction company for which he was working accepted the job of building the highway between Farmville, N. C. and Wilson. After the road was finished, he liked the surroundings so well that he stayed in the state.

Lath is now working with the A. C. Monk Tobacco Company of Farmville. He is 31 years old, married, and has a five-year-old daughter.

"I reckon you might call a voice like mine somewhat unusual," admits Lath, in Goerch's article, "but I believe it has its good points." Lath says that he knows "a good many" boys on the Carolina and State teams, and that he gets cards from them right along.

"They seem to appreciate my yelling," he says, "and the crowds do too, and I get a kick out of it myself, so I hope everybody's satisfied."

"Y" Officers

All Y. M. C. A. cabinet officers will meet at the assembly hour tomorrow in the office of Harry F. Comer, general secretary of the University "Y."

Henderson to Speak

Dr. Archibald Henderson will address the freshman assembly tomorrow at 10:30 a. m., if he recovers sufficiently from a slight attack of influenza.

Students And Faculty Will Hob-Nob In Gala Campus Holiday, February 20

Graham Begins Program; Orchestra Concert, Football Game, Dramatic Entertainment, Exhibits Will Follow During Day

Following a lengthy period of silence, the student faculty day committee released yesterday a volume of material on the plans that have been drawn up for the holiday, declared for February 20.

Suspending all scholastic activities for the entire day, the faculty, alumni, and students will join in the celebration which is intended to promote a friendly association among undergraduates, teachers, and other persons in any way connected with Carolina.

Stage Entertainment

The program which has been outlined for the day includes attractions from 10 a.m. until "far into the night." Climaxing the gala day will be an evening performance in Memorial hall where various campus organizations, including the Playmakers and Glee Club, will vie with one another to please the Carolina populace.

With a convocation of the entire University in Memorial hall at 10 a.m., the celebration will begin. President Frank Porter Graham will address the group on behalf of the faculty and Virgil Weathers, president of the student body, will represent the Carolina students.

Guest speaker for the occasion will be Kemp D. Battle of Rocky Mount, member of the class in which President Graham graduated from the University, outstanding among the barristers of North Carolina, and grandson of President Battle whose active service in behalf of the University held it together during the trying reconstruction years. Battle will represent the alumni, telling of some of the University's achievements and traditions.

Symphony Orchestra

The convocation program, which will last about an hour, will feature the University Symphony Orchestra in connection with the outstanding speakers.

Until the lunch hour, the "holidayers" will be allowed to visit the various exhibits presented by the campus organizations. Many of these exhibits will be located in Graham Memorial and the remainder in the various department buildings on the campus.

The exhibits will remain open for the entire day or possibly longer in order that all Carolinians, alumni, students, and professors, may become acquainted with the numerous phases of the University work.

During the lunch period, each member of the faculty will be guest of a Carolina student for dinner.

Game to Feature

The afternoon spotlight will occur at 2:30 when Coach Carl Snavely will display the results of the winter quarter training, presenting his football warriors in an intra-squad battle. Special exercises are being planned for the occasion to stimulate autumn color for the affair.

Until 6:30 p.m., all Carolina fraternities will keep open house and it is intended that all students and teachers will join in a period of "happy family" visiting, regardless of fraternal or non-fraternal affiliations.

At 8 p.m. the evening stunt night will begin and will last until 9:30, concluding the day's

(Continued on page two)

Glee Club Tours

The University Glee Club, under the direction of Professor Grady Miller will present a program of religious music today in the Church of Good Fellowship, Southern Pines.

The Club will appear at East Carolina Teachers College in Greenville February 11 and present a program of sea chanties, North Carolina folk songs, religious hymns, and Russian folk music.

BRUNO CONSIDERS VICTORY CERTAIN

German Relies on Bavarian Woman-Artist's Story to Clear Him; Case May End Soon.

Flemington, N. J. Feb. 2 —(UP)—Richard Bruno Hauptmann smiled today as he told his guards that he believed his case already won. He slept easily, ate heartily, and appeared unconcerned over the lack of progress the defense lawyers had made.

He is relying, it was learned, upon the testimony that Mrs. Hilda Braunlichzaenglein, a Bavarian artist, is expected to give testimony to clear him from the charge of having written extortion letters.

Offers Aid

Mrs. Braunlichzaenglein has been in America for four years. A portrait painter by profession, she offered, voluntarily, to testify in behalf of Hauptmann.

The State is checking the defense witnesses to be offered this week. The end of the most dramatic trial that New Jersey has ever seen may end next week, official observers pointed out today.

The defense, under the direction of Attorney Reilly, said today that they expect to complete their case Thursday.

DINNER IS GIVEN BY SIGMA DELTA

Local Fraternity Entertains with House Party Friday.

Members of Sigma Delta fraternity sponsored a house party Friday night.

A banquet was held at Mrs. J. T. Lawson's; and following the supper, the group attended the Co-ed Ball in Bynum gym.

Chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Porterfield of Greensboro.

Guests to the function were: Mary Moser of Gastonia; Alice Meares, Chapel Hill; Mildred Neal, Greensboro; Mildred Moore, Franklin; Mildred Whitehead, Rocky Mount; Mary Long Benbow, Greensboro; Virginia Lee, New York.

Elizabeth Hampton, Winston-Salem; Doris Weaver, Asheville; Lillian Jackson, Greensboro; Elia Puig, Hendersonville; Lucy Ward, Wilmington; Lola Reid, Raleigh; Aillen Brandon, Chapel Hill.

Drama Majors

Students majoring in dramatics will meet Professor Frederick H. Koch in 113 Murphey during the assembly hour Tuesday to receive information and instructions concerning the comprehensive examination.

Student-Faculty Day Program

10 a. m.—Grand Assembly.

11 a. m. to 1 p. m.—Exhibits of campus activities.

1 to 2:30 p. m.—Luncheon, faculty to be guests.

2:30 p. m. — Intra-squad football game.

6:30 p. m.—Open house at all Carolina fraternities.

8 p. m.—Stunt programs.

LABOR CHIEFTAIN FLAYS NRA HEAD FOR 'BETRAYAL'

Lewis Brands Richberg Traitor Before Senate Committee; Green Warns of Strife.

LEWIS: "NRA FAILURE"

Washington, Jan. 2—(UP)—The minions of organized labor worked themselves into a fighting mood today as they came into the open with violent attacks on the NRA and Donald R. Richberg.

Labor leaders struck with their characteristic stormy denunciations at the president's coordinator of New Deal units.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, casting aside polite phrases, declared before a Senate committee that he considered Richberg a "traitor to organized labor."

"Too Much Pressure"

The fiery head of the U.M.W. A. claimed that the NRA had yielded to the pressure of "big business" and had failed in its original purpose, to put workers back on payrolls.

William Green, American Federation of Labor head, came to the front to back up his co-workers. He stated that Lewis "largely reflected the feeling of officers of the federation." He didn't say what the members thought.

Green said there were signs of restiveness in automobile, textile, steel and other unions.

Phi Delt Pledge

Newton Whitfield of Courtland, Va., has pledged Phi Delta Theta, the dean of students announced recently.

Room Rent Due

The second installment of all room rent is due and payable at the cashier's office in Old South February 5. Any changes and transfers must be made through the business office.

Charges have been made to the accounts of all students leasing dormitory rooms. In order to save time and trouble, students are advised to pay their bills by mail.

The Daily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Union Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where it is printed daily except Mondays, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Holidays. Entered as second class matter at the post office of Chapel Hill, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 for the college year.

A. T. Dill ..... Editor
Robert C. Page, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
Joe Webb ..... Business Manager
George Underwood ..... Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

EDITORIAL BOARD—Phil Hammer, chairman, Earl Wolslagel, Franklin Harward, John Schulz, DuPont Snowden, Margaret McCauley, Morty Slavin, Sam Leager, Dick Myers, Charles Lloyd, Jake Snyder, Phil Kind, Charles Daniel, George Butler.

FEATURE BOARD—Nelson Lansdale, chairman; Nick Read, Bob Browder, Francis Clingman, J. E. Poindexter, W. M. Cochrane, Willis Harrison.

CITY EDITORS—Irving Suss, Walter Hargett, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.

TELEGRAPH EDITORS—Stuart Rabb, Charlie Gilmore.

DESK MAN—Eddie Kahn.

SPORTS DEPARTMENT—Jimmy Morris and Smith Barrier, co-editors, Tom Bost, Lee Turk, Len Rubin, Fletcher Ferguson, Stuart Sechriest, Lester Ostrow, Ira Sarasohn.

EXCHANGES—Margaret Gaines.

STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER—Don Becker.

REPORTERS—Bill Hudson, John Smith, J. F. Jonas, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Hazel Beacham, Raymond Howe, William Jordan, Morton Feldman.

Business Staff

ASST. BUSINESS MANAGER ..... Butler French
COLLECTION MANAGER ..... Herbert Osterheld
OFFICE MANAGERS ..... Walter Eckert, Roy Crooks
NATIONAL ADVERTISING ..... Boylan Carr
DURHAM REPRESENTATIVE—Joe Murnick.
LOCAL ADVERTISING—Hugh Primrose, Robt. Sosnik, Eli Joyner (managers), Bill MacDonald, Louis Shaffner, Page Keel, Bill McLean, Crist Blackwell.

CITY EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE: WALTER HARGETT

Sunday, February 3, 1935

PARAGRAPHICS

"Young Idea Goes into Third Night," screams the headline. What's the idea, a new way of counting sheep?

A Durham paper notes that Albert Ellis is the new president of the Phi sorority in Chapel Hill. Just a wolf in sheep's clothing, eh?

Our idea of a hot gymnast is one who can chin himself on smoke rings.

Monograms For Gymnasts

We note Dr. Lawson's request of the Monogram Club that the organization aid in supporting a measure to permit all students who are proficient in gymnastics to receive monograms.

Several years back varsity letters were awarded for excellence on the rings, the bars, and the mat. A prescribed list of gymnastic accomplishments, set up by Dr. Lawson, was the requisite for eligibility for monogram-winning and from a layman's point of view, anyone, no matter how experienced, deserved a monogram for completing the difficult requirements.

There are several men in school who have reputations as preparatory school gymnasts. For these and for the many others who might develop themselves into first-class bar-men, we recommend that letters be granted as in the past for such proficiency in this excellent line of sport.

Southern Rivalry

"Carolina to Meet Tulane Eleven." So runs the headline in yesterday's Greensboro Daily News' sports section. Reliable information has it that Carolina and Tulane will clash in 1936 and 1937, the Green Wave invading the Tar Heels' home soil in the latter year.

The news comes as a delightful surprise to us, for local athletic officials have not announced these tilts as authentic. Coach Fetzer could not be reached last night, being in New York, and Coach Snavely was rather non-committal. The football mentor did say, however, that negotiations with the New Orleans' authorities have been carried on, and that the newspaper account was probably based on a statement released by the Tulane staff.

We will join with the entire undergraduate body in rejoicing over the substantiation by local authorities of a Tar Heel-Green Wave battle.

Women Crash Through Again

Despite a slight opposition from the more hemannish of the University Clubites, feminine representation in the "spirit" organization has recently been made a certainty.

The significance lies in several channels. In the first place, it testifies further to the increased interest and participation in campus affairs by the women. Then, too, it shows an appreciation on the part of the men of the value of such co-operation in active campus work.

Lastly, it might serve as an impetus to inter-collegiate athletic relations between Carolina co-eds and women of other schools, as one of the functions of the club is to promote better inter-school feeling and a healthy rivalry.

A Ginn Highball

Ginn and Company of Boston, New York, Chicago, and a few other places, publishes an interesting little pamphlet-magazine entitled, "What the Colleges Are Doing." We take the liberty and pleasure of passing on what "G.H.M." (presumably George H. Moore, the editor) has to suggest as a trimming-down process in making the college and university a saner and more effectual educational medium:

1. Cut out ruthlessly the loafers from among both students and faculty, even though some of them are sons of high-priced alumni.

2. Cut out antiquated and non-social cqurses. Make them all show results in the broadening of altruistic knowledge, and not alone, as so frequently at present, in merely personal satisfactions.

3. Institute courses which shall function in a working knowledge of America as it is, or is to be, under Roosevelt,—if anybody can be found competent to teach such courses. If not, do it anyhow; it will educate the faculty.

4. Do away with the execrable injustices of outgrown marking systems and their regimentation of mediocrity.

5. Trim the fraternities of their follies and see that they contribute to the sanity of the campus or go out of business.

6. Abolish Hell Week and all its slanderous publicity, even if you do it with an ax.

7. Build buildings that look more like workshops and less like cathedrals, and put the money saved into faculty salaries. Cut out the monumental piles. The place for such is in the cemetery.

8. Pay the faculty "big shots" what they are worth. Keep them on the campus at any cost, even if you have to lop off a few tag-enders or other frills.

9. Trim down the non-productive research, by non-productive meaning without social value; and then emphasize teaching ability.

10. Take the Ph.D. degree off its pedestal. The lure of pure intellectualism is gone, and the college may as well accept the fact.

11. Give academic freedom to students who deserve it. Take it away when they fail to do so.

12. Abolish old-fashioned compulsory chapel. Substitute peppy all-college assemblies with a dash of the inspirational or spiritual.

13. Abolish required military training.

We put them forth for what they are worth. We believe some of them to be of inestimable value. At least they are all-embracing.

The Ayes Have It

Approved and stamped is the proposed Carolina Political Union. Support for such a movement has been promised by some of our leading faculty men and outstanding campus figures. The college layman also has endorsed such an organization.

Deans House and Bradshaw, who are closely connected with student activities on this campus and because of their versified knowledge are fully aware of what other campuses are doing, heartily favor the creation of a union here. Dean Bradshaw said that now is the time to fill the vacant space left by the unactive societies. He expressed his sympathy for the traditional organizations, but agreed that tradition was not to be saved and progress sacrificed—the strong feeling for tradition is of English inheritance.

Dean Bradshaw went as far as to say that if such a union were created it would be free to use Gerrard hall for its meetings. Gerrard hall wistfully takes us back to the early days of our country when the young men stressed subject content and speaking ability, or in one word, leadership.

And Dr. Woodhouse, one of the "big guns" in the government department, contends that a political union should be just as much a part of campus life as is class room study. Dr. Woodhouse has written many papers on student interest in current matters—what it is and what it should be. Upon request Dr. Woodhouse has consented to act as faculty manager of the formation and supervision of a Political Union.

Campus undergraduate leaders have also expressed themselves in favor of the political organization. It's speedy formation is anticipated by numbers of undergraduate citizens-to-be.

Crime Is Illiterate

"Every prison, no matter what its architecture may be, in spite of its program, is nothing more or less than a grotesque monument to neglected youth." So speaks Stanley P. Ashe, warden of Western Penitentiary at a meeting of the Allegheny County Conference on Crime.

In 1933 crime cost the country $12,000,000,000 while only $3,000,000,000 was spent on education. It may be that here we have the key to the situation. Neglected youth is untaught youth, novices in the world with all the equipment for success except the knowledge of how to use their equipment.

Student-Faculty Day

(Continued from page one)

series of events. Attempts are being made to secure several outstanding artists to appear on the evening program. Miss Betty Tandy, popular tap dancer from Durham, has accepted an invitation to perform.

Parent's Day Too

According to Harper Barnes, director of Graham Memorial the annual "Parent's Day," for all parents whose sons and daughters are enrolled in the University, will be conducted on the same day—packing a double punch for the student-faculty affair.

It is intended that on the day of the celebration the professors shall drop their pedagogics, absent-mindedness and other manifestations of professorial dignity and that students shall lose their timidity in an attempt to cause the two to become more adapted to each other in scholastic work by becoming better acquainted socially.

The occasion of the celebration is the culmination of a campaign that was begun last spring by progressive students and plans are being made now to make the jamboree an annual affair.

Daily Tar Heel Extra

The DAILY TAR HEEL will publish a special edition for the occasion and plans are being formulated for a radio broadcast. A special program in commemoration of the day will be issued.

In arranging for the celebration, the following committees have collaborated:

Faculty members: Dean F. F. Bradshaw, Dean R. B. House, Dean A. W. Hobbs, Dr. E. L. Mackie, Dr. J. P. Harland, Professor E. J. Woodhouse, Dr. W. S. Bernard, Dr. W. deB. MacNider, and Edwin S. Lanier.

Students Jack Pool, Harold Bennett, Phil Hammer, Pete Ivey, Agnew Bahnson, Albert Ellis, J. D. Winslow.

Students: Jack Pool, Harold gram for the evening: Philip Parker, Patsy McMullan, Hester Barlow, Phoebe Barr, Agnew Bahnson, Albert Ellis and J. D. Winslow.

"Y" Discussion

(Continued from page one)

ed to encourage thought on international relations in preparation for the coming Human Relations Institute.

Council programs for the remainder of the quarter will concern the labor situation in the textile field and with the present interracial problem.

A speaker from the Institute for Research in Social Science will appear before the freshmen next week to lecture on "Points in the Textile Labor Situation."

Infirmary List

The following students were confined in the infirmary yesterday: Babe Daniels, C. F. Ambrose, Fred Cochran, Billy Yandell, A. B. Bonner, Raymond Dean, Tom Lawthen, A. H. McLeod, R. M. Stewart, C. H. Fries, H. A. McGowan, Mrs. Harry Moore, Bruce Smith, Warren Walker, E. S. Simpson, Murry Honeycutt, E. T. Berry, Bill Calloway, Grady Mercer, F. A. Tetor, Tom Hines, and Kenneth Bartlett.

Student Welfare Board

The Student Welfare Board will hold a luncheon meeting at 1 p. m. tomorrow in Graham Memorial.

The results of the Everett dormitory experiment and student welfare work during the summer session will be discussed.

ORIGINAL PLAYS TO RUN TUESDAY

Visiting Photographers Will Be Guests at Night Series of Experimental Dramas.

The Carolina Playmakers 26th and 27th series of experimental productions of new plays will be presented Tuesday at 4:30 p.m. and at 8:30 p.m. in the theatre.

For the evening performances, the delegation attending the North Carolina Photographers Association's conference here will be guests of the Playmakers.

No Pros

Written, cast and directed by Carolina students, the plays which are to be produced have been selected from those of students in English 56 and 226, Professor Frederick H. Koch's playwriting courses.

The afternoon group of one-act plays includes "The Devil's Trampin' Ground," a play of "mixed blood," by Sara Seawell; and "Muddy Jordan Waters," a tragedy of the Carolina mountains by Mildred Moore. For both the productions, the authors will direct their own plays.

Hiss-s-s-s!

Three dramas are included on the bill for the evening: "The Villain Gets The Girl," a modern satire in the old style, by Charles A. Poe; "Pensioner," a play of contemporary social conditions, by Alice A. Truslow; "Yours and Mine," a comedy of domestic difficulties, by Ella Mae Daniel.

Patsy McMullan, Robert Proctor, and Ella Mae Daniel are directing the last group of plays. Staff Members Samuel Selden and Alton Williams of the Playmakers are in charge of staging the productions, with Mary Armbruster, property mistress.

North Carolina talent dominates the new set of experimentals, as far as the authors are concerned, for on examination every playwright whose play will be produced is a native of this state except Alice Truslow, author of "Pensioner." Miss Truslow is a native of New Jersey.

Beta Gamma Sigma

Beta Gamma Sigma, honorary commerce fraternity, will meet tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock in the seminar of Bingham hall.

Dr. Edward M. Bernstein, professor of business administration at State College, will give an informal talk on governmental expenditure as a means of recovery.

Dr. Bernstein is conducting a course in business cycles here this quarter.

WITH THE CHURCHES

United

10:15 a. m.—Student class taught by Dr. McKee. Topic: "Following the Master in These Days."

11 a. m.—Public worship—Dr. McKee. Topic: "Reality of God."

7 p. m.—Student Forum led by Professor Wilder. Topic: "Intolerance to the Jews."

Episcopal

11 a. m.—Service and sermon—Rev. A. S. Lawrence.

8 p. m.—Prayers and organ recital.

Lutheran

10:15 a. m.—Sunday school group led by Eugene Bricklemeyer.

11 a. m.—Service—Rev. Roscoe B. Fisher. Topic: "Christ's Right-Hand Man."

(Graham Memorial)

Presbyterian

10 a. m.—Student class taught by the Rev. Watt Cooper. Topic: "Must There Be Racial Discrimination?"

11 a. m.—Sermon by Rev Watt Cooper. Topic: "Adventurous Faith."

7 p. m.—Student Forum. Topic: "Religion in the Lives of Students."

Catholic

8 a. m.—Mass—Dr. Morrissey (Gerrard hall).

Baptist

10 a. m.—Student class taught by M. J. Hagood.

10 a. m.—Co-ed class taught by Mrs. E. T. Howell.

11 a. m.—Worship and sermon—Dr. Walter N. Johnson. Topic: "Our Religious Educational Crisis."

7 p. m.—B. Y. P. U. for college students.

7 p. m.—Young People's Society for high school students.

Methodist

9:45 a. m.—Sunday school.

11 a. m.—Worship and sermon.

7 p. m.—Student Forum.

FLY TODAY
See Chapel Hill from the Air!
Extra Long Rides—$1.00
CHAPEL HILL AIRPORT

THE
Young Men's Shop
126-128 E. Main St.
DURHAM, N. C.

Carolina Coffee Shop's Sunday Menu

SPECIAL DINNER—60c
CHOICE OF SOUPS:
Chicken Gombo Clam Chowder Cream of Celery
CHOICE OF MEATS:
Broiled Roe Shad, Lemon Butter Sauce
Fried Halibut Steak, Tartar Sauce
Shrimp au Gratin
Fillet of Sole, Tomato Sauce
Roast Turkey, Oyster Dressing, Cranberry Sauce
Broiled Spring Chicken
Roast Chicken, Dressing, Apple Sauce
Broiled Beef Tenderloin
Lamb Chops, Manhattan
CHOICE OF THREE VEGETABLES:
Creamed Potatoes or Candied Yams
Cauliflower au Gratin
Asparagus, Hollandaise Sauce
Pineapple and Cheese
Hot Rolls and Butter
DRINKS: Coffee Tea Buttermilk or Milk
DESSERT: Banana Short Cake

REGULAR DINNER—50c
CHOICE OF SOUPS:
Chicken Gombo Clam Chowder Cream of Celery
CHOICE OF MEATS:
Broiled Spanish Mackerel
Tenderloin of Trout, Tomato Sauce
Oysters a la Maryland
Breaded Veal Cutlets, Tomato Sauce
Roast Leg of Lamb, Apple Sauce
Roast Veal with Dressing
Country Ham Steak, Natural Gravy
Roast Sirloin of Beef
VEGETABLES (Above)
Hot Rolls and Butter
DRINKS (Above) DESSERT (Above)
MOST UP-TO-DATE FOUNTAIN SERVICE
WE SERVE ONLY THE BEST

Relay Team Captures Second; Boxers Trip N. C. State

Williamson Stages Great Run In Anchor Position; Finishes Fourth In 1000

Cunningham Takes Mile Over Gene Venzke; Bonthron Third

Hornbostel Captures Millrose 1000-Meter Event.

(Special to the DAILY TAR HEEL)

Madison Square Garden, N. Y. Feb. 2.—Carolina's 2-mile relay team furnished one of the highlights in the 28th annual Millrose A. A. indoor games here tonight as it finished just one second behind Columbia after a whirlwind finish.

Harry Williamson, Carolina's crack middle-distance runner, again found the going just a few seconds too fast for him in the second big indoor meet he has competed in this year. Williamson finished fourth, behind Charles Hornbostel of Indiana, Sweet of N. Y. A. C., and Glenn Dawson of Oklahoma in the 1000-meter run. The favored winner ran the distance in 2:13.

Kansan Wins

In the first meeting of the season for the big-trio of the mile, Glenn Cunningham, Kansas star and holder of both the indoor and outdoor mile records, broke the tape first as a result of a great finish. His time was 4:11 flat.

The Tar Heel relay team consisting of Bob Gardiner, Edmund

Waldrop, Graham Gammon, and Williamson pulled its big surprise as a result of Williamson's great last leg sprint. When Williamson got the baton for the last leg he was trailing four opponents, but the Carolina ace breezed by three of his rivals and pulled just up to the heels of the Columbia leader as he crossed the finish line.

Hornbostel in Record

Hornbostel, winner of the 1000-meter race, furnished another great thrill as he was the first entrant in the famous games to break a record. The crack Hoosier ran the 600 meters in 1:11.3, clipping three-tenths of a second off the old mark. He was also the first person since 1912 to win both the 1000 and 600 races.

Although Cunningham won, Gene Venzke of Penn. was the feature of the top Wanamaker Mile event. Venzke, rated to

(Continued on last page)

Varsity

CAROLINA	G	F	TP
Aitken, f	1	1	3
Nelson, f	2	2	6
Blood, f	2	1	5
Glace, c	4	3	11
McCachren, g	0	1	1
Harris, g	1	1	3
Kaveny, g	1	1	3
Totals	11	10	32

WAKE FOREST	G	F	TP
Morris, f	5	1	11
Brunt, f	0	1	1
Patton, c	0	1	1
Hatcher, g	2	0	4
Clark, g	0	0	0
Chapell, g	2	0	4
Totals	9	3	21

Score at half: UNC 15, Wake Forest 5.

Non-scoring subs: UNC: Minor, Webster, Harrison; Wake Forest: Mills.

CO-ED HOOPSTERS SELECT CAPTAINS

Managers Also Chosen for Class Teams; Practice Will Continue This Week.

Another week has gone by in co-ed basketball circles with the election of captains and managers being the highlight of action. Practice drills will continue this week; with team organization increasing steadily, games are to be scheduled for the near future.

The following were selected by their team mates: freshmen: captain, Evelyn Barker; manager, Blanche Bullock; sophs: captain, Ida Winstead; manager, Jean McKay; juniors: captain, Frances Caffey; manager, Kay Quigley; and seniors-grads: captain, Harriet Taylor; manager, Evelyn Jenkins.

Practices for this week will be as follows: Monday night—frosh and sophs at 8 o'clock; Tuesday—seniors and juniors at 7; Wednesday—frosh and seniors at 8; and Thursday—sophs and juniors at 7. All girls are urged to be present.

Duke Over W. & L.

Durham, Feb. 2.—Duke University and Washington and Lee took up their basketball relations here tonight just where they left off in the Southern Conference finals last year; but this time the Blue Devils were on the top of the final score. After another nip and tuck battle the Dukesters won, 31-27.

PHANTOMS DOWN DEACONS IN EASY BATTLE BY 32-21

Glace Tops Tar Heel Scorers with 11 Points; Morris Duplicates Feat for Baptists.

LEAD 15-5 AT HALF TIME

(Special to the DAILY TAR HEEL)

Raleigh, Feb. 2—Coach Bo Shepard's North Carolina five chalked up its fourth straight Big Five win here tonight by trouncing Wake Forest, 32-21.

The White Phantoms displayed an impregnable defense during the first half and led at the half period by 15-5. The Demon Deacons were held without a field goal for the first 8 minutes of play.

Glace Leads Attack

Jason Glace, elongated pivot man for the winners, tied for high honors with Morris, Deac sharp-shooting forward. The Carolinian tallied four shots from action and three gratis tosses to lead with 11 markers. Morris converted five field goals and a lone free throw.

Mel Nelson also had a big hand in the Phantom scoring drive to take runner-up honors with his six points, four from action.

Carolina walked away from the Baptists in the opening period with Glace getting hot. With the Tar Heel reserve team on the floor the Deacons played them on even terms, Morris being the big gun in the attack.

CAROLINA FROSH TOPPLE BELMONT BY 27 - 17 SCORE

Yearlings Rally to Defeat Visitors after Trailing 8-0 in Early Moments.

MULLIS LEADS SCORERS

A second-half scoring drive carried the Carolina frosh quintet to an easy win over the Belmont Abbey outfit at the Tin Can yesterday afternoon, 27-17, before a small gathering.

Pete Mullis led the smooth-working Tar Babies to victory with four field goals and one foul throw, for a total of 9 points. Pete Boone, the other starting forward, and Earl Ruth contributed 6 points apiece to the Belmont downfall.

Carolina Leads at Half

The Belmont Abbey combination, which forced the Baby Imps of Duke to an extra period Friday night, provided surprising opposition and kept pace with the frosh five throughout the first half, which ended with Carolina leading 14-12.

Belmont flashed a variety of plays that confounded the Tar Babies at the opening of the encounter, and it took several minutes before they could fathom the fast offensive tactics of the visiting team.

However, the frosh tightened noticeably and limited their opponents to a lone field goal in

(Continued on last page)

Varsity Grapplers Lose To Strong Generals, 28-0

Umstead Suffers First Defeat of Career; Frosh Also Bow By Score of 28-8.

(Special to the DAILY TAR HEEL)

Lexington, Va., Feb. 2 — Washington and Lee's Southern Conference champion wrestling team proved far too strong for the matmen from North Carolina here tonight as they whitewashed the Tar Heels, 28-0.

Umstead, bantam grappler of the losers, met his first defeat of his Tar Heel career at the hands of Thomas, a former 126-lb SIC champ.

Heavies Shift

The two Carolina heavier weights shifted their regular positions, pitting Gwynn against the General captain, Bonino. The Tar Heel put up a game fight only to lose to the massive Virginian.

Ward, Carolina, and Lowry in the 135-lb division put up the closest scrap of the evening, with the latter taking a three minute sixteen second time advantage.

The Carolina frosh lost by the score, 28-8. The bout between Love and Berry featured the evening's prelim performance. At the end of regular time neither man held the necessary time advantage; and in the extra period Love pinned the baby General. Ford tallied the other Carolina points by taking a time advantage over Hay.

James, a regular 155-pounder, was fighting in the unlimited division and was hence outpowered.

Varsity summary:

118—Thomas (W & L) defeated Umstead, time advantage 8:18.

126—Crew (W & L) defeated Lytle, fall in 4:16.

135—Lowry (W & L) defeated Ward, time advantage 3:39.

145—Shively (W & L) defeated Gholsen, time advantage 7:12.

155—Arenz (W & L) defeat-

(Continued on last page)

Undefeated List Dwindles To Ten In Mural Leagues

Phi Kappa Sigmas Lead Field in Intramural Hoop Competition; D. K. E. Tops Scoring.

The holders of inviolate records in the intramural basketball competition dwindled to ten following the fourth week of stiff competition. Six fraternity and four dormitory clubs now comprise the select list.

Possibilities for most of these teams to continue seem somewhat remote unless their schedules give them breaks in facing easy teams during the remaining few weeks of play. This week's schedule favors the undefeated teams in that none meet each other, but there is always a chance of an upset.

Mangum No. 1 exhibited the highest scoring combination of the season in piling up 84 points in its Friday game, while St. Anthony and Sigma Nu are leaders of the reverse competition, gaining one and two points, respectively, for the season's lowest.

The standings of the leaders follow:

Team	W	Pts. For	Pts. Ag.
Phi Kappa Sigma	5	103	74
D. K. E.	4	145	42
Swain Hall	4	135	42
Kappa Alpha	4	133	43
S. A. E.	4	122	45
Aycock	4	109	80
Zeta Psi	4	71	45
Mangum No. 1	3	122	29
Beta Theta Pi	3	116	50
Ruffin	3	88	48

This week's schedule:

Monday

4:30—No games scheduled; 5:30—(1) Delta Tau Delta vs. Theta Chi, (2) Old West vs. Ruffin, (3) Alpha

(Continued on last page)

Medynski TKO's Parker While Fabri Ekes Out Close Win Over Giddins

Freshmen

UNC FROSH	G	F	TP
Mullis, f	4	1	9
Boone, f	3	0	6
Meroney, c	2	0	4
Ruth, g	3	0	6
Grubb, g	1	0	2
Totals	13	1	27

BELMONT	G	F	TP
Santo, f	1	1	3
Woltz, f	2	1	5
Kerman, f	0	1	1
Reilley, c	1	0	2
Dengate, g	1	0	2
Mauro, g	1	2	4
Totals	6	5	17

Non-scoring subs: Carolina—Potts, Franks, and Johnson; Belmont—Bumgardner, Lansche and Campbell.

Referee: Dave McCachren.

GRIDSTERS TAKE FIRST SCRIMMAGE

Offensive Power Lacking in First Game; Defense Shows up Well As Neither Team Scores.

Coach Carl G. Snavely sent his football charges through the first long scrimmage of the winter football practice yesterday afternoon on Emerson field.

Although the play was genuinely ragged as a result of it being the initial hard scrimmage, Coach Snavely was highly pleased with the prospects. He stated that several of the backs were charging hard and that there was lots of fine material on hand.

Offense Lacking

The offensive power was almost a minus quality all afternoon; no player was able to take the ball over the goal although the first string got as far as the five yard line twice.

The blocking was not up to tandard and many fumbles were made while the clubs were on the attack. However, the defense was good and the tackling tough.

Co-captain Montgomery and Don Jackson flashed some old-time running form on several occasions, while Jackson also got off a couple of long punts.

Andy Bershak, freshman end, stole the defensive show as he continually kept the opposition worried with his hard

(Continued on last page)

Eutsler, Fisher, Novich, Edwards Lead Way To 6½-1½ Victory

Alderman Gains Draw with Heavyweight Johnson.

In front of some 2500 spectators, the Tar Heel pugs came back to the win column here last night and defeated the Wolfpack aggregation by a decisive margin of 6½-1½. Most of the bouts were closer than the score indicates.

In the best exhibition of the evening Captain Sam Giddins lost a close decision to Captain Fabri of the State institution. It was by far the closest scrap of the night, the deciding factor in Fabri's favor probably being the fact that he was more aggressive in the opening canto. This was the third time that Fabri had beaten Giddins and each previous bout was as close as the one last night.

Eutsler Wins

In the featherweight class, Ernie Eutsler fought a heady and cagy bout against an opponent, Tuttle, who was at least a head taller than the Tar Heel. Despite this handicap, Eutsler clearly outboxed and outpunched his rangy adversary, to be declared the victor. In the final frame, Eutsler forced his man to the ropes and hammered away with both hands. Tuttle's mouth was bleeding when the fight was over as a result of Eutsler's right hand crosses.

Penland, State 135-pounder, lost a close decision to Johnny Edwards. The tide of battle changed constantly throughout the fight. At one time, Penland looked as though he would be awarded the verdict and at other times Edwards seemed sure of victory.

Jule Gets Hot

It remained for Jule Medynski, hard hitting junior-middleweight, to chalk up the only technical kayo of the night. Medynski came out of his corner in the opening round like a terror and chased his opponent, Parker, all over the ring. It took him just one minute and a half to finish the job.

Fighting a boy with a very baffling style, Joe Fisher, ace welterweight of the Tar Heels, was forced to call on a great deal of his ring knowledge to

(Continued on last page)

Carolina To Play Tulane In 1936? "News" Says Yes, But It's Unofficial

According to a story by E. V. Mitchell, sports editor of the Greensboro Daily News, Carolina's grid team will meet Tulane in New Orleans, November 26, 1936, and again in Chapel Hill during the 1937 season.

However, the DAILY TAR HEEL is yet unable to make this important news official. Head-coach Bob Fetzer was at New York, yesterday, attending the Millrose games so could not be reached. Coach Carl G. Snavely and the rest of the athletic department could make no definite statement as to the truth of the report.

Coach Snavely said that evidently the Greensboro paper had gotten its information from Tulane, that nothing had been released from the University. He said that Carolina had been carrying on negotiations with the Green Wave but that he did not know anything had been decided.

The Tar Heel officials have also been corresponding with some of the big eastern colleges and it is possible that one will be landed for a 4-star 1936 schedule. Mitchell further reports in his story that Carolina may schedule a battle with Alabama for 1936.

If the plans of the Carolina athletic department are carried through it will mean that the Tar Heel football team will enter an era of intersectional play. This will mean that if Coach Snavely continues improving the gridsters at the same rate of the 1934 season and the material holds up, Carolina will have a fine chance of gaining national recognition.

Guy Fletcher, 1934 Frosh Nine Ace, Signs On Dotted Line With Detroit

By STUART W. SECHRIEST

Guy Fletcher, star pitcher of the University of North Carolina's freshman baseball team last year, is the property of the Detroit Tigers, due to recent negotiations of Billy Doyle, Tiger scout.

The 180-pound hurler will take up active duties with Beaumont, Texas, a Tiger farm in the Class "A" Texas League.

It is understood that the Tiger scout had hounded Fletcher for some time before getting him to sign on the dotted line.

Doyle promised that the Tar Heel moundsman would be at the top of baseball circles within the next few years. He made the contract sound more interesting by telling Fletcher that the famous Schoolboy Rowe pitched for the Beaumont club only two summers ago. White, Fox, and Auker are other members of the American League championship team who came up from this same Texas club.

Fletcher would not reveal the salary called for by his contract; however, it is believed that there is a handsome sum involved.

Before entering the University as a freshman last year, Fletcher had played for various semi-pro teams in North Carolina and Virginia.

Due to difficulties of a technical nature, Fletcher was ruled ineligible for further participation in collegiate and semi-pro baseball while playing for Kinston in the Coastal Plain League last summer. Kinston was forced to forfeit the twelve victories chalked up by Fletcher after his ineligibility was discovered.

Fletcher hails from East Bend in Yadkin County. He is enrolled in the University at the present, but plans to leave for the Tiger training camp during the latter part of March.

STATE SYMPHONY TO GIVE FESTIVAL

Stringfield's Orchestra Will Open Three-Day Program in Raleigh Feb. 11.

Presenting their 89th concert since June 10, 1934, the North Carolina Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Lamar Stringfield, will open its "Festival" in Memorial auditorium, Raleigh, February 11.

The festival will continue through February 13 with symphony concerts on Monday evening, Tuesday afternoon and night, Wednesday afternoon and night.

Negro Choir

Tuesday evening the orchestra will present, in addition to its own program, the Shaw University Choral Society of Negro voices in a program of Negro spirituels.

The last night of the festival, Wednesday, will be called Artist's Night. Rehearsals for the orchestra will be conducted each morning, open to visitors.

Among the guests artists who have appeared with the North Carolina Symphony are Hans Kinder, Henry Hadley, Quinto Maganini, Robert Russell Bennett, Marie Maher, Charles G. Vardell, Jr., Helen McGraw, Margaret Chesick, Kay Rickert, and others.

Track

(Continued from page three)

finish a poor third, held the lead at the final lap only to have the Kansan nose him out on the final second dash.

Bonny Only Third

Bill Bonthron, who was favored to finish this time ahead of his two old rivals, could only get a poor third. However, it was the first meet of the year for the Princeton captain, while the other two stars have already had competition in two other meets.

The high jump, which was still going on when the report came in, gave the fans their longest continual thrill of the evening. At 11:30 o'clock tonight the bar stood six feet and seven and a quarter inches up with three competitors, George Spitz, Cornelius Johnson of Los Angeles, and Fred Gild still clearing it.

Harold Osborne, 36 - year young former record-holder, had just gone out on the last jump.

Keith Brown of Yale, holder of the pole vault record, came through in his event by clearing the bar at 14 feet and one inch. Three rivals finished in a tie for second place.

Murals

(Continued from page three)

Epsilon vs. Lambda Chi Alpha.

Tuesday

4:30—(1) Z. B. T. vs. Chi Phi, (2) Everett vs. Swain Hall, (3) S. A. E. vs. Phi Sigma Kappa; 5:30—(1) Phi Delta Theta vs. Chi Psi, (2) Mangum No. 2 vs. Smithsonians, (3) S. P. E. vs. Kappa Sigma.

Wednesday

4:30—(1) St. Anthony Hall vs. Zeta Psi, (2) Mangum No. 1 vs. Manly, (3) A. T. O. vs. Phi Alpha; 5:30—(1) D. K. E. vs. Sigma Chi, (2) Ruffin vs. Grimes, (3) Delta Tau Delta vs. Sigma Nu.

Thursday

4:30—(1) Z. B. T. vs. Kappa Sigma, (2) Law School vs. Smithsonians, (3) S. A. E. vs. Phi Delta Theta; 5:30—(1) Lewis vs. Aycock, (2) T. E. P. vs. Alpha Epsilon, (3) Beta Theta Pi vs. Theta Kappa Nu.

Friday

4:30—(1) Pharmacy vs. Locals, (2) Mangum No. 1 vs. Kluttz Bldg., (3) D. K. E. vs. Chi Phi; 5:30—(1) Kappa Alpha vs. Phi Gamma Delta, (2) Phi Kappa Sigma vs. Phi Alpha, (3) Mayflower Club vs. Manly.

Frosh Basketball

(Continued from page three)

the second half. The Belmont zone defense was another strong factor in their makeup and kept the usually high scoring Babies down to 27 points.

Belmont Takes 8-0 Lead

The game opened with a barrage of Belmont tallies as Mauro scored four points and coupled with baskets by Woltz and Dengate, Belmont stepped into an 8-0 lead within two minutes.

Mullis called time out for the Tar Babies and on the renewal of play, the frosh went on a scoring spree of their own. Grubb, Mullis, Ruth and Boone alternated rapidly in sending the ball through the hoop and Mullis repeated with a short score to put the Babies into a 10-8 advantage.

The lead shifted for the next few moments and the half came to a close with the Carolina yearlings two points ahead. At the start of the second half Mullis netted a long shot and then tallied another point on a technical foul called against Belmont for excessive time outs.

Earl Ruth followed this with two rapid two-pointers to put the frosh in the van by a 21-14 count. After Meroney followed his own shot in for a score, Boone tallied on a pretty pivot play, his second of the game.

Belmont's Lone Goal

With three minutes to go Santo managed to cage a long looping shot, which proved to be Belmont's sole tally from the floor for the second half, and Boone completed the scoring by dropping the ball in from the side after a scrimmage near the Belmont basket.

Although Belmont Abbey was squelched after its opening blaze of tallies, it carried the frosh to the limit. Mauro, captain and mainstay of the visitors, looked impressive as he led his mates through various formations that worked to perfection quite a few times.

Carolina's next opponent is Duke and a thrilling struggle is promised in this contest in Durham on Wednesday, due to the touted merits of both squads.

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS

SWEET NOTHINGS

Broadway Bill and lady friend, playing today and tomorrow at the Carolina theatre. Really Warner Baxter and Myrna Loy, if you didn't know.

Football

(Continued from page three)

charges and tackles. Co-captain Snyder, Jim Hutchins, Dick Buck, John Trimpey, Avery, Dashiell, Ditt, Joyce, and Keeney also turned in some nice performances.

The first string was made up of: Montgomery and Jackson, halfbacks; Snyder, blocking back; Hutchins, fullback; Buck and McCarn, ends; Trimpey and Bartos, tackles; McIver and Joyce, guards, Avery center.

A second club, made up largely of freshmen, included Dunham and Dashiell, halfbacks; Walborn, blocking back; Ditt, fullback; Bershak and Beard, ends; Keeney and Palmer, tackles; Gaydos and Pendergraft, guards; and Israel, center.

LESSONS ON CONTRACT BRIDGE GIVEN WEEKLY

A series of four lecture-lessons covering completely the principles of bidding and play of contract bridge are being given here by J. L. Brown, formerly of the Culbertson National Studios.

The lessons started last Thursday at 8 p. m. and will be continued next week at the same day and hour in Graham Memorial. A small fee is charged.

Tickets for Stein

Tickets for Gertrude Stein's address here February 12 will be on sale at the Bull's Head Bookshop, the Intimate Bookshop, and Alfred Williams for 50 cents, it was announced yesterday.

The lecture will be delivered in Gerrard hall, and the audience will be limited to 500.

New Committeemen

B. B. Rorison is the senior class, and Jake Snyder the junior class representative from the commerce school to the Student Entertainment Committee.

Rorison was named in a recent election by the commerce students. Snyder automatically assumed his position when Tripp Rand, the opposing nominee, withdrew from competition.

Boxing

(Continued from page three)

be able to cope with the savage right hands that were thrown in his direction. Fisher was never in any danger, and although it seemed as if this bout was a close one, he easily took his man into camp.

Novich Wins

Maxie Novich triumphed over the Wolfpack lightheavy by a wide margin. Novich tried hard to score a kayo, but was unable to do so as a result of Powell's continually holding on. He took all three rounds, and if he had not been sick the early part of the week, Novich most likely would have won before the three rounds were over.

Lammie Alderman, making his second varsity start, fought to a draw with the hefty Johnson of State. He was unable to keep his man away from him, and this was probably the only reason he did not take the verdict.

Since State did not enter a man in the bantamweight class, Marion Diehl was awarded a forfeit.

Wrestling

(Continued from page three)

ed Greengold, fall 3:37.

165—Seitz (W & L) defeated Efland, time advantage 6:40.

175—Kaplan (W & L) defeated Ranson, time advantage 8:52.

Heavyweight—Bonino (W & L) defeated Gwynn, time advantage 7:15.

Palmer (W & L) pinned Ehringhaus in 7:41 min.; Arnold (W & L) pinned Tankersley in 8:58; Ford (UNC) won over Hay, time advantage 7:50; Shinley (W & L) pinned Claypoole 9:49; Love (UNC) pinned Berry 2:45 first extra period; Meeks (W & L) pinned Schulman in 1:16; Symanski pinned James in 1:15.

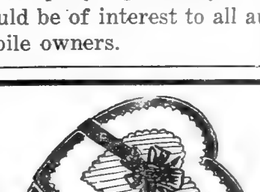
GIFT TO LIBRARY

Mrs. E. R. Slaughter of Charlottesville, Virginia, has presented the University library with several hundred volumes of general literature.

Included in the collection are a number of works concerning North Carolina with a complete set of colonial and state records.

Phi Members Will Visit State Legislature

Twenty-Five Assemblymen to Go to Raleigh Tomorrow.



About 25 members of the Phi Assembly will leave Chapel Hill tomorrow at 6:45 p.m. for Raleigh, where they will observe the state legislature in action.

Albert Ellis, chairman of the transportation committee, who is arranging the chartering of cars, announced that he had adequate facilities for transporting all the representatives to Raleigh.

Auto Gas Lecture

A representative of Cities Service Company will lecture on "The Relation of Automobile Exhaust Gases to Economy and Safety" at 2 o'clock tomorrow in room 206 of Phillips hall.

The lecture will be accompanied by a demonstration of the company's gas analyzer and should be of interest to all automobile owners.

Valentine Candies
Just Arrived
Select a box now for your girl
SUTTON DRUG CO.

Give Yourself a Treat to Good Food
GOOCH BROS. & BROOKS CAFE
You Owe It to Yourself to Eat Only Wholesome Food
"Come Down Town Nights and See Your Sandwiches Made"
BEER IN BOTTLES AND ON TAP CANDY SODAS SANDWICHES
MAGAZINES TOBACCOS NEWSPAPERS

Sparkling . . . Charming . . . Joyous . . . The Greatest Romantic Comedy of All Time!

CAROLINA

Feb. 17th—18th
"David Copperfield"

WARNER BAXTER IN "Broadway Bill"
MYRNA LOY
SUNDAY MONDAY

The Comedy Successor to "It Happened One Night"
with
WALTER CONNOLLY
HELEN VINSON
ALAN HALE
—OTHER FEATURES—
Color Cartoon
"Parrotville Fire Dept."
Paramount News

TUESDAY
PAUL MUNI
BETTE DAVIS
It's everything you've read, heard, and expected of these two stars in "Border Town"

WEDNESDAY
MAY ROBSON
The Fighting School Teacher
in
"Grand Old Girl"
with MARY CARLISLE

THURSDAY
A Beautiful Shoplifter Reformed By Love.
BINNIE BARNES
NEIL HAMILTON
in
"One Exciting Adventure"

FRIDAY
JOSEPHINE HUTCHINSON
GEORGE BRENT
COLIN CLIVE
in
"The Right To Live"

SATURDAY
The great stars of "Here Comes The Navy" spread their wings—
JAMES CAGNEY
PAT O'BRIEN
in
"Devil Dogs Of The Air"

"The Lives of A Bengal Lancer" GARY COOPER FRANCHOT TONE Feb. 10th & 11th

WE LEND KODAKS
No Rental Fee and No Deposit Required from Students
FOISTER PHOTO CO.

PHI ASSEMBLY
7:15 P.M.
NEW EAST

The Daily Tar Heel

DI SENATE
7 P.M.
NEW WEST

SERVED BY THE UNITED PRESS

VOLUME XLIII | CHAPEL HILL, N. C., TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1935 | NUMBER 97

PAMPHLET LAYS UNIVERSITY NEED BEFORE PARENTS

Special Alumni Review Edition Presents Financial Situation of N. C. Institution.

GRAHAM WRITES ARTICLE

A special edition of the Alumni Review, presenting an analysis of the University's financial situation is being sent to the parents of Carolina students by the Student Union.

President Frank Porter Graham's consolidated budget request for the University of North Carolina for the biennium 1935-1937 is given prominence in the issue.

University's Needs

"The University of North Carolina," states President Graham, "in its combined units is asking for an increase in total operating funds of 24.9 per cent for the first year of the biennium, and an increase of 26.4 per cent for the second year of the biennium."

Requested during 1935-36 for total requirements is $3,356,332. For 1936-37, the University asks $3,395,694.

"This requested appropriation is around one-half million dollars above the current appropriation, but is nearly one-half million dollars below the appropriation in 1928-29," states the University's president.

Salaries Compared

The low salary scale of University professors and instructors is pointed out in a comparison of the wages paid educators here with the average in other institutions in the United States.

Of the 48 institutions considered, the University of North Carolina ranks 44th in the average salary scale for full professors and 47th in the average salary scale for instructors.

Graphs showing the fall in appropriations to the consolidated University as a whole, and the University at Chapel Hill, the

(Continued on page two)

CABINETS ELECT YANDELL 'Y' V.-P.

New Vice-President Succeeds McIntosh; Child Labor and Punishments Discussed.

Billy Francis Yandell of Charlotte was elected vice-president of the University Y. M. C. A. last night at the regular meeting of the cabinets.

Yandell will replace Craig S. McIntosh of Chapel Hill, who resigned the office last December. Opposing Yandell for the position was Tom Bost of Raleigh.

Topic: Crime

The series of "Y" programs on crime continued last night with Bert S. Smith speaking to the junior-senior cabinet and George MacFarland to the sophomores.

Smith discussed "Punishments for Crime" in the upper cabinet. MacFarland's topic was "The Crime of Child Labor."

Both the junior-senior and second-year groups discussed plans for sending a delegation to Greensboro this week-end for the conference of the state Y. M. C. A. organizations.

The sophomores planned a smoker which will be held in connection with the junior-senior group sometime this month.

Assembly Contemplates Record: Month Of No Major Enactments

Halfway Through Its Legally Provided Term, State Legislature Still Faces Full Session's Work; Sales Tax and Liquor Measures Will Supply Abundance of Fireworks.

Raleigh, Feb. 4.—(UP)—Tonight at 8 o'clock the North Carolina General Assembly will set another record.

It will enter the second month of its 1935 session with not a single piece of major legislation enacted. Theoretically, it will be just halfway through its legally accorded span of 60 days and, should it adjourn when the framers of the state constitution intended, it would have only 30 days more in which to dispose of an appalling mass of statewide bills.

Since the assembly convened January 9, it has received 337 bills and resolutions of all kinds, 125 in the senate and 213 in the house. Of the senate measures, 68 were statewide and 57 local.

Mostly Local Bills

The upper house has passed seven resolutions, one statewide bill, and eight local bills under suspension of rules, and eight statewide bills and 16 local bills in the regular order.

The house, in the same time, has passed 11 resolutions and 31 local bills under suspension of rules and 12 statewide bills and 34 local bills by the committee route.

Senate committees ended the month with 41 statewide bills and 26 local bills under consideration. In the house, committees were studying 72 statewide and 37 local bills. The house killed 11 bills and resolutions, either in a committee or on the floor.

Among the measures which bridged the theoretical halfway gap in committee were the revenue and appropriation bills, both before joint committees for hearings. In the case of the revenue bill, its sales tax provision has brought the first real debates of the session, some of it acrimonious enough to please the most ardent lover of explosive forensics.

This committee concluded scheduled hearings on the money measure Friday and expects to have the bill on the floor this week.

Sales Tax Uncertain

That the real fight on the sales tax is being reserved until it reaches the floor has been indicated repeatedly by tax opponents both in the assembly and outside. A substitute for the sales levy, they say, has been discovered, but they're holding it a deep, dark secret from the finance committee.

The appropriation bill has had comparatively smooth sailing so far in committee, although few department heads have failed to ask some increase in funds. When hearings have been concluded and the committee attempts to reconcile its widely divergent views on a bill to be introduced on the floor, the real work of the body will begin.

Liquor Question

The question of liquor legislation will be brought to a head early this week when the bill

(Continued on page two)

Di Senate

Should University students be forced to purchase Chapel Hill auto licenses: this is the chief question which will confront the Senators of the Dialectic Literary Society tonight at 7 o'clock in New West.

The bill reads: Resolved, That students not having their home in Chapel Hill should not be required to buy Chapel Hill licenses.

The measure, resolving that this country should have joined the World Court, will be also presented for debate.

Following the meeting, try-outs for the freshman debate will be held.

REILLY CONTINUES FLINGING CHARGES

Still Slaps Guilt upon Nursemaid And Fisch Gang.

Flemington, N. J., Feb. 4.—(UP)—The Hauptmann defense continued today in building up the story that Violet Sharpe, Morrow nursemaid, did the inside work on the kidnaping, while Isidor Fisch and a gang co-operated on the outside.

Mrs. Bonestell, restauranter, testified that Violet had met men in the Bonestell restaurant.

Hans Kloppenburg, cabinet maker and friend of Hauptmann, testified that he saw Fisch give Hauptmann the cardboard box containing the money, and further said that he was at the Hauptmann home on the night the ransom was paid.

Defense Attorney Reilly said he had 30 more witnesses.

NEXT PUBLIC BILL WILL BE ORIGINALS

Tryouts for Three One-Act Plays Will Be Tomorrow.

Three one-act plays written by Carolina Playmakers this season will make up their next public bill, it was announced by Professor Frederick H. Koch yesterday.

Try-outs for the production of the "New Carolina Plays," set for February 28, March 1 and 2, will be conducted in the theatre tomorrow afternoon and night at 4:30 and 7:30 o'clock. Try-outs are open to all.

The coming production will mark the 40th bill of "New Carolina Plays" to be produced here by the Playmakers.

Chosen from a large group of new plays, the three selected for their merit include Patsy McMullan's "Cottie Mourons," Philip Parker's "Ancient Heritage," and Ella Mae Daniel's "Yours and Mine."

"Cottie Mourons" is a drama of the fisher folk of Okracoke Island which has become famous for its people's distinctive dialect. Koch announced that anyone familiar with the peculiar dialect would be welcomed at the try-outs.

Parker's "Ancient Heritage" revolved around the New England aristocracy. Already this year, the author, a junior, has made an enviable record with the Playmakers.

"Yours and Mine" is a comedy of domestic entanglements by Ella Mae Daniel.

Junior Executives

The executive committee of the junior class will meet tonight at 7:30 in 214 Graham Memorial.

DEBATE TRYOUTS OCCUR TOMORROW

Debate Group Will Discuss New Deal Tonight.

Try-outs for debates with the University of West Virginia and Wake Forest will be conducted tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock in Graham Memorial, Professor W. A. Olsen announced yesterday.

This evening at 9 o'clock in room 209 Graham Memorial, Professor E. J. Woodhouse of the government department will lead a discussion on the query: Resolved, That this house favors the New Deal.

The affirmative of the question will be debated by the University team and the Stanford debaters here on March 7.

West Virginia will appear here February 12 to debate on the query: Resolved, That the munitions industry be nationalized. The local group will uphold the affirmative side.

The University will debate the negative of the query: Resolved, That the nations of the world agree to prevent the shipment of arms and munitions, with Wake Forest at Wake Forest on February 19.

HENDERSON TALKS ON GREAT EVENTS

Math Head Praises League of Nations, Relativity Theory, And Aviation.

Mathematics Department Head Dr. Archibald Henderson, American biographer of George Bernard Shaw and world famous mathematician, addressed the freshman class at its regular chapel period yesterday morning.

In discussing the three most outstanding events during the course of his life, Dr. Henderson excluded the World War "because it gave us the Treaty of Versailles which planted the seed of future wars."

After describing the drastic results of the Great War, he told of the three major events, in his conception, that have occurred during his lifetime.

Man Learns to Fly

"One was associated with this state, although its authors were not North Carolinians: the demonstration of flight in a heavier than air machine.

"One was the organization of the theory of relativity. And the last, the creation of an organization which so far has not accomplished the dreams of its founders, but which promises much for the future: the League of Nations."

Dr. Henderson described his acquaintanceships with Albert Einstein, George Bernard Shaw, Orville Wright, and President and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson.

In connection with early aeronautical experiments, he read a copy of the original letter which is in his possession, by John Steele, Salisbury, North Carolinian, who witnessed and described the first balloon ascent in the United States.

News Flash

Washington, Feb. 4.—(UP)—The United States Supreme Court intimated today that it had reached a decision concerning the gold cases.

Observers believe that it was indicated that the gold cases had been decided with divided opinion, and that the decision would be announced soon.

Phi Assembly

The Phi Assembly will hold its weekly meeting at 7:15 o'clock tonight in New East Building.

The Assembly will discuss the visit to the State legislature in Raleigh last night.

Bills to be discussed at tonight's meeting are, according to Frank McGlinn, chairman of the ways and means committee: Resolved, That the Assembly favors the abolition of child labor. Resolved, That the Assembly considers the NRA a failure and urges its discontinuance; and Resolved, That Huey Long is a menace to our country.

RUSSELL SPEAKS ON WORLD PEACE

Reporting Brussels Conference, Delegate Says Students of All Nations Condemn War.

"'Let us unite for the progress of culture and liberty,' an inscription behind the rostrum of the assembly hall, was the keynote of the convention," stated Phillips Russell, recently returned from the International Student Anti-War Conference which was held last month in Brussels, speaking before the Freshman Friendship Council.

The speaker described the general make-up to the convention as follows: there were 375 students, of which 70 were girls, from 31 countries; 10 students, seven American and three Canadian, made the trip over with him; many languages were spoken, but copies of the addresses were soon available.

Delegates Agreed

"All of the reports expressed much the same thought," continued Russell; "all reported the realized fact in all countries, that less and less money is being spent on education, there is increasing repression of the press and speech, and more and more money is being squandered for munitions.

"Before the convention ended the delegates realized that the students all over the world must work together in a concerted drive against war.

"We must view the situation with our eyes open," Russell concluded, "and find out what brought on the last war and what existing forces may bring on another great war in the future."

During the business session of the meeting the council members voted for the next vice-president of the "Y" and also planned a social for next Monday night in place of the regular meeting.

Russell to Speak

R. Phillips Russell, delegate to the International Anti-War Conference held recently in Brussels will give a report of the work done at the conference tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in Gerrard hall.

The meeting is sponsored by the continuance committee of the Anti-War Conference.

After Russell's report, the floor will be open to suggestions and discussion relative to the formation of a Carolina Political Union.

This Union is to be a campus forum for the free discussion of political policies and problems, both domestic and foreign.

RESULT OF TRIAL DORMITORY PLAN PROVES SUCCESS

Student Welfare Board Hears Report of Better Grades and Less Moving in Everett.

DISCUSSES SUMMER TERM

A report on the Everett dormitory experiment and discussion of the problem of extending summer school activities comprised the major part of the business before the Student Welfare Board at its regular luncheon meeting in Graham Memorial yesterday.

The report on Everett dealt with the average grades of freshmen in the new "supervised" dormitory as compared with those of Lewis, Aycock, and Grimes; and with the percentile rank, or preparedness for college work, of those freshmen.

Grades Higher

The grades showed little variance with the other dormitories. But when compared with Everett's ranking in preparedness for college work, they showed that the grades of Everett freshmen, most of whom entered the dormitory experiment because of the study advantage it offered, had improved favorably.

The check-up also revealed that Everett freshmen have not moved as often as the occupants of Lewis, Aycock, and Grimes. Only 10 per cent of Everett freshmen moved in fall quarter, as compared with 27 per cent in Lewis, 20 per cent in Aycock, and 20 per cent in Grimes.

According to these statistics, therefore, Everett freshmen are twice as stable as those in the three dormitories named.

Discuss Summer Activities

The possibility of making the summer session a continuance of the regular nine-months' session in so far as student activities are concerned was discussed, but

(Continued on page two)

CAMERA ARTISTS LAUNCH SESSIONS

After Welcome by President Graham, Professor R. J. M. Hobbs Makes Address.

With a program featuring demonstrations and lectures by expert craftsmen in photography and an address on "Legislation" by Prof. R. J. M. Hobbs, of the University school of commerce, the tenth annual convention of the North Carolina Photographers Association held its opening sessions here yesterday.

Following registration at the Carolina Inn, the photographers assembled in Venable hall for an address of welcome by President Frank P. Graham. A. O. Clement, of Goldsboro, president of the association, responded.

Concurrent Course

A short course in photography is being given in conjunction with the convention, which continues through Wednesday.

Committee appointments and an outline of the association's legislative program by A. O. Clement preceded Professor Hobbs' address.

A teacher of business law in the University, Professor Hobbs discussed the more important provisions of the legislative program proposed by the state association. He expressed himself in favor of the program suggested and predicted that its

(Continued on page two)

The Daily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Union Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where it is printed daily except Mondays, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Holidays. Entered as second class matter at the post office of Chapel Hill, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 for the college year.

A. T. Dill ..... Editor
Robert C. Page, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
Joe Webb ..... Business Manager
George Underwood ..... Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

EDITORIAL BOARD—Phil Hammer, chairman, Earl Wolslagel, Franklin Harward, John Schulz, DuPont Snowden, Margaret McCauley, Morty Slavin, Sam Leager, Dick Myers, Charles Lloyd, Jake Snyder, Phil Kind, Charles Daniel, George Butler.

FEATURE BOARD—Nelson Lansdale, chairman; Nick Read, Bob Browder, Francis Clingman, J. E. Poindexter, W. M. Cochrane, Willis Harrison.

CITY EDITORS—Irving Suss, Walter Hargett, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.

TELEGRAPH EDITORS—Stuart Rabb, Charlie Gilmore.

DESK MAN—Eddie Kahn.

SPORTS DEPARTMENT—Jimmy Morris and Smith Barrier, co-editors, Tom Bost, Lee Turk, Len Rubin, Fletcher Ferguson, Stuart Sechriest, Lester Ostrow, Ira Sarasohn.

EXCHANGES—Margaret Gaines.

STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER—Don Becker.

REPORTERS—Bill Hudson, John Smith, J. F. Jonas, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Hazel Beacham, Raymond Howe, William Jordan, Morton Feldman.

Business Staff

ASST. BUSINESS MANAGER ..... Butler French
COLLECTION MANAGER ..... Herbert Osterheld
OFFICE MANAGERS ..... Walter Eckert, Roy Crooks
NATIONAL ADVERTISING ..... Boylan Carr
DURHAM REPRESENTATIVE—Joe Murnick.
LOCAL ADVERTISING—Hugh Primrose, Robt. Sosnik, Eli Joyner (managers), Bill MacDonald, Louis Shaffner, Page Keel, Bill McLean, Crist Blackwell.

CITY EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE: WALTER HARGETT

Tuesday, February 5, 1935

PARAGRAPHICS

As Gertie Stein will tell us on Lincoln's birthday, the pork-pie hat is a rose is a thorn is a Tom Collins is a nuts without a handle.

At least Mrs. Braunlichzaenglein can be termed a lady of letters.

We surmise that some interesting developments should come from the photographers' convention.

A Two-Fold Purpose

The final plans for student-faculty day which were announced Sunday point to an affair of potential good for everyone concerned. Assuming that students and faculty members will get to know each other as the program is unreeled, it is the second function, that of reviewing the University's progress and departmental set-up, which is becoming more significant as the day approaches.

It must be borne in mind that student-faculty day itself is not going to accomplish the tremendous function in 16 hours of getting every student and faculty member on speaking terms with the entire other group. Its significance as regards the student-faculty relationship is in the impetus it will give to breaking down the barriers, which act, in the absence of any means of contact other than the classroom, to isolate each group. And its significance as regards the departmental expositions goes without reiteration.

Change in Checking-up

What has been most apparent in the events of the past week, regrettable as they now seem, is the need for a definite change in the method of checking-up on residence status.

The committee which at present hears all appeals and decides on all cases has been in operation only about two years. Only recently has it been increased to its present size. Before the committee came into being, cases of residence status were handled by the present controller, Charles T. Woollen.

In our opinion, this shows that only in recent years has the matter of residence status become acutely important. This is not to say that the University has inadequately provided for determination of when a student is entitled to in-state residence and when not through negligence or inefficiency. We only point out that with an increasing percentage of out-of-state students coming into the University every year the problem is growing in proportions and will continue to grow. Such an incident as that involving Medynski and O'Flaherty presents manifold ramifications, and the problem is by no means an easy one, but it seems to us that something should be done to prevent the precipitation of another such crisis.

Again we say that the problem is no easy one. We are not attempting to solve it in so many words, or saddle a beautiful explanation on the back of the registrar's office, which we know has troubles enough already. But we do urge the utmost consideration for measures of checking-up on residence status in view of the increasing importance of this duty of the administration.

Janitorial Efficiency

In his monthly report as University health officer, Dr. S. A. Nathan stressed the untidy conditions of the dormitory rooms. He brought out the fact that, in addition to creating a bad appearance, this untidiness by hampering the work of the janitors lessened the efficiency of the inadequate janitorial service.

Although personal tidiness is considered by most of us a personal matter, it becomes a matter of public concern when it interferes with the efficiency of the janitor service. No longer is tidiness a private, individual affair. It is a matter of public interest, influencing through its impairment of the janitor service the health conditions of the University.

Adequate closet and drawer space is provided for clothes, shoes, etc. The proper utilization of this space by the dormitory residents is necessary for an efficient janitor service.

Books vs. Illiteracy

Professor Phillips Russell, through the medium of his Literary Lantern, informs us that the nation has a bookstore to every 18,504 people, whereas North Carolina can boast of only one such store to every 40,611 people.

Relevant are statistics from Dr. Knight in "Culture in the South" that the alarming total of 71 per cent of the population of the South has no access to public libraries (as compared to 43 per cent for the nation as a whole).

Viewing these figures, the reason for the comparatively high percentage of illiteracy in North Carolina and in the south becomes less opaque. Calling for modesty, indeed, is the thought that the culture of a people is reflected in their adherence to books.

The success of the recent book-lending plan, controlled by a national concern, which was set up in practically every hamlet in the state, is indicative that the people—who are denied the privileges of a library—are eager to read books. Although these books proved to be too often the hell-and-thunder, or sex, variety, there is every reason to believe that meritorious literature would be read were it available. A solution to the problem might be found in the plan adopted in California whereby 46 of the 58 counties have libraries with full service by truck to all persons residing in the counties.

Bottom to The Barrel

In the latest issue of the Saturday Evening Post, University alumnus and the state's senior-senator Bailey crashes into the limelight with the featured article entitled: "Vested Interest in Public Spending."

Senator Bailey reviews the orgy of spending upon which the federal government has embarked in efforts to keep the body and soul of the nation together while seeking ways out of the dilemma. He declares that restored confidence and purchasing power has resulted from these expenditures and that there is an obvious 17 per cent recovery in business. However, he fears that the seeming-recovery is resultant only to the enormous outlay of money and credit, and the nation must have the fortitude to stop borrowing and spending before it is too late.

The improved status of the farmer, in his opinion, is directly traceable to the devaluation of the currency and very few farmers are cognizant of this extremely beneficial act of the administration.

In spite of the prevailing optimism, Senator Bailey believes that our credit is fast becoming strained and that there is a bottom to Uncle Sam's barrel; he warns that a "national bankruptcy under existing conditions would be a disaster of unprecedented magnitude."

Not injudicious is his implication that the youth of today, who are the future taxpayers, will have to struggle with this onerous taxation—a taxation which bids fair to exceed the present 20 per cent ratio of the national income.

Smoke Gets In Their Eyes

A recent editorial in the DAILY TAR HEEL stated that there was a very great need of extra exits at the Tin Can. No one knows this fact better than the women and children who have come near being trampled in the mad rush following the various meets and games of the past ten days.

This situation, however, does not seem more detrimental than where the men who are putting all their physical strength in the contests held in the Tin Can are forced to breathe air that is heavy laden with tobacco smoke.

University officials have placed signs within eye-shot of every seat in the Tin Can requesting that there be no smoking. No one seems to pay any heed, and the athletes suffer severely.

If every student, villager, and visitor alike would refrain from smoking in the Tin Can it would be of prime benefit to the athletes, and to those others who object to the use of tobacco, in a place where ventilation, at best, is not good.

Assembly Re-Convenes

(Continued from page one)

long expected from Senator John Sprunt Hill, Durham dry crusader, is introduced in the upper house. The senate has so far been spared the agony of nursing a whiskey bill to passage or rejection, although the house of representatives has in committee a bill to increase the alcoholic content of beer and one providing for a referendum on the liquor question.

Senator Hill's bill, which is attributed to "a group of drys," provides for a referendum on the question of state control and sale of intoxicating beverages. It would set up a state alcohol control authority which would administer the act.

The bill, said Senator Hill, "should receive the support of the most ardent dry, as it carries with it both an appropriation and a reserve fund of $250,000 for the enforcement of existing state prohibition laws. Annually $450,000 could be expended for this purpose, which would forever put a stop to illegal traffic in liquor and kindred crimes in North Carolina."

From the operations of the act, Senator Hill added, $4,200,000 should be available to the state each year. Of this, he said, $3,000,000 would be returned directly to counties, cities, and towns to be used by them for public welfare, relief, old age security, and unemployment service "in direct proportion to population."

The Turlington act, he said, would remain on the books, "amended in few parts by this act, and rigid enforcement would be assured since its passage in 1923."

Photomen Convene

(Continued from page one)

success would elevate photography to its rightful place as a profession.

Technical Demonstration

A demonstration of lighting, posing, and composition was conducted yesterday afternoon by H. B. Wills, of the Eastman Kodak Company. Wills, a technical expert, recently spent two years in Europe where he conducted his demonstrations for photographers there.

Joyce Killinsworth, member of the Carolina Playmakers, posed as a model during the demonstration.

The origin of photography and its application through the last one hundred years were discussed in a lecture, "Modern Trends in Photography," by C. O. Towles, of the Hammer Dry Plate Company, St. Louis, Mo. "If photography were taken away from us today it would be a greater disaster than if we suddenly found ourselves without automobiles," Towles asserted.

He discussed the application of photography to progress and to human happiness in every day life, and pointed out the value of the art in its relation to moving pictures, scientific research, and advertising.

FIRE

The Buick sport coupe owned by Lee Wiley of the French department was slightly damaged by fire Saturday morning.

After several unsuccessful attempts to start the cold machine, Mrs. Wiley saw a mass of flames through the hole in the floorboard.

She hastily got out and summoned the local fire department.

When the fire had been extinguished, it was discovered that it had started from a shortage in the wiring system.

University's Needs

(Continued from page one)

Woman's College, and State College are displayed in the publication.

In the back of the booklet are excerpts from letters, written to University officials by noted educators and statesmen.

Among the individuals quoted are F. P. Keppel, president of the Carnegie Corporation; Walter Lippmann; Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin; Oswald Garrison Villard, editor of the Nation; Owen D. Young; Ellery Sedgwick, editor of the Atlantic Monthly; Nicholas Murray Butler.

Albert Shaw, editor of the Review of Reviews; Charles A. Beard; James R. Angell, president of Yale University; Newton D. Baker; Willis J. Abbot, editor of the Christian Science-Monitor; John J. Tigert, president of the University of Florida; and L. D. Coffman, president of the University of Minnesota.

BULL'S HEAD GIVES CRITICISMS TODAY

Library Science Students Will Lead Bookshop Discussion.

Members of the school of library science will conduct the regular Tuesday afternoon lecture period at the Bull's Head bookshop in the Y. M. C. A. at 4:30 p. m. today.

According to Elizabeth Johnson, manager of the bookshop, the program will consist of reviews of recent fiction by representatives of the library school.

Among the books to be reviewed are "Heaven's My Destination" by Thornton Wilder, reviewed by M. C. Russell; "Dusk at the Grove," the Atlantic Monthly $10,000 prize winning novel by Samuel Rogers, reviewed by Minnie Kellam; "Forty Days of Musa Dagh" by Franz Werfel, reviewed by Amy Fetzer;

"Lightship" by Archie Binns, reviewed by John Dudley; "The Daring Young Man on the Flying Trapeze" by William Saroyan, reviewed by Elizabeth Ayscue.

This program of book reviews, the second Bull's Head presentation for the winter quarter, follows the play reading of Lillian Hellman's "The Children's Hour" by Mrs. Urban T. Holmes last Tuesday afternoon.

Dorm Plan Succeeds

(Continued from page one)

no definite action was taken other than the appointing of a committee, composed of Harry Comer, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., Harper Barnes, director of Graham Memorial, Mrs. M. H. Stacy, adviser to women, A. T. Dill, editor of the DAILY TAR HEEL, and one representative from the business office.

This committee plans to study the advisability of activities fees for the summer session and to report at a special meeting next Monday.

The board discussed the possibility of having the DAILY TAR HEEL continue publication in some form during the summer; and of maintaining full operation of the student union and tennis courts during that time.

DEAN CARROLL SPEAKS

Dean D. D. Carroll of the school of commerce gave an informal talk at a meeting of the Guilford College alumni of Wake County last evening in Raleigh.

Dean Carroll is an alumnus of Guilford College and is chairman of the Board of Trustees.

OUTSTANDING RADIO BROADCASTS

Tuesday, Feb. 5

1:15: George Hall orchestra, WBT.

4:30: Chicago A Capella Choir, WPTF.

4:45: Dick Messner orchestra, WABC.

5:00: Int'l B'cast from London: Britain's Future Policy in India—Stanley Baldwin, former Prime Minister, WJZ.

6:45: Lowell Thomas, commentator, WJZ.

7:15: Morton Downey, tenor; Sinatra orch.; Guy Bates Post, narrator, WJZ; Hal Kemp orch., WSB.

8:00: Leo Reisman orch., Phil Duey, songs, WPTF; Frank Munn, tenor; Hazel Glenn, soprano; Gustav Haenschen orch., WABC; Minevitch Harmonica Band, WOR.

8:30: Wayne King orchestra, WEAF, WSB; Lawrence Tibbett, baritone; concert orch.; John B. Kennedy, WJZ, KDKA.

9:00: Bing Crosby; Stoll orchestra; Mills Bros., WBT.; Ben Bernie orch., WEAF, WSB; Grace Moore, soprano; Jackson orch., WJZ, KDKA.

10:00: Beauty Box Theatre—Gladys Swarthout, soprano; John Barclay; Shilkret orch., WLW, WPTF; Camel Caravan—Glen Gray orch.; Walter O'Keefe; Annette Hanshaw, singer; Ted Husing, WBT.

10:30: What Price Old-Age Pensions?—Dr. F. E. Townsend; Norman Thomas, Socialist leader, WEVD.

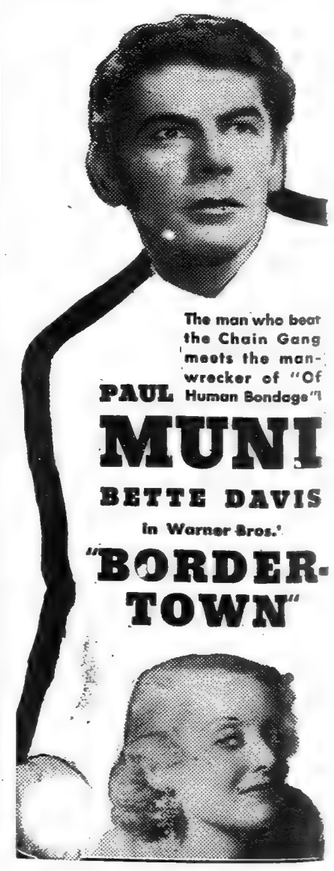
11:30: Noble Sissle orchestra, WEAF; Wayne King orch., WGN.

11:45: Jan Garber orchestra, WGN.

12:00: Rudy Vallee orchestra, WJZ, WSB.

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS

The University Riding Club



Horses brought to your room

75c on Week-days

$1.00 on Saturdays and Sundays

Just Opened

TEL. 6891 CARRBORO

—Also—
Comedy — Novelty
NOW PLAYING
CAROLINA
Midnight Show Friday
Doors Open 11:30 P. M.
"GAY DIVORCEE"
with
GINGER ROGERS FRED ASTAIRE

Phantoms Drill Long For Duke Battle Tomorrow

CAROLINA RAGGED AGAINST DEACONS

Blue Devils Serious Threat to Undefeated Big Five and Conference Records.

LACK RESERVE STRENGTH

Coach Bo Shepard sent his White Phantoms through a long drill yesterday afternoon in the Tin Can, preparing for the important battle with Duke at the Duke Gym tomorrow night.

The Tar Heels always consider the Blue Devils their biggest opponents of the season and as usual the Devils are all set to ruin Carolina's undefeated Big Five and Southern Conference records.

Last year in the Big Five race Carolina carried off honors by defeating Duke twice; however the Durham boys pulled an upset in the Southern Conference tourney by eliminating the Phantoms in the second round.

Ragged Against Deacons

Coach Shepard was far from impressed by the showing of his charges in the Wake Forest game last Saturday. The Phantoms had an easy time defeating the Deacons, 32-21, but let down on their attack and defense several times during the battle.

The Tar Heels took a shooting and defensive drill yesterday in addition to a long lecture from Coach Shepard.

Carolina will line up with a fast first string but will have little strength from the reserves. Buck Harris is the only sub that has come through so far this season in addition to the starting five of Captain Aitken, Nelson, Glace, McCachren, and Kaveny.

Many on Duke Team

Duke on the other hand seems to have a wealth of material and Coach Cameron has had some trouble picking out his best five. The Blue Devil mentor has used from ten men up in every contest to date despite the score.

An interesting comparison of scores can be gathered from the games the two teams have played so far. Army handed the Tar Heels their only defeat in the first 15 starts, 29-19, while the Blue Devils had an easy time downing the United States Academy, 34-16.

However, Carolina took the measure of State, 33-27 but the Blue Devils lost to the Red Terrors, 28-25.

D.T.D. Gets Extra Period Win Over Theta Chi, 32-31

Ruffin Downs Old West, Lambda Chi Alpha Vanquishes Alpha Epsilon in Other Murals.

Delta Tau Delta and Theta Chi opened the fifth week of intramural basketball competition in a most auspicious manner yesterday afternoon, playing two extra periods before the former gained a 32-31 verdict.

Jack Pool led his "Ruffin roughies" to a 47-5 landslide over Old West, and Lambda Chi Alpha took Alpha Epsilon's measure by a 25-14 count in the only other games played.

After Delta Tau Delta and Theta Chi had completed the regular game time with a 27-27 deadlock existing, Foster Corwith, of the Delta's, and Francis Barker, of Theta Chi, took it upon themselves to stage an individual battle during the extra periods.

Corwith Leads

Both boys sent a pair of double-pointers through the baskets, but Foster happened to sneak in an extra foul to break up the party and give the win to the Delta's. Corwith led the scoring with a total of 18, while Barker followed with 11.

Alpha Epsilon furnished Lambda Chi Alpha's fast quintet with plenty of opposition, but its failure to capitalize its frequent scoring chances gave the latter a 25-14 victory. Marshall, L. C. A. pivot man, led the offense with 10, while Brooks' 5 points and excellent guarding featured. Weinstein and Levine did best for Alpha Epsilon.

Jack Pool stepped into the intramural limelight with 18 points to head a strong Ruffin attack that swept Old West with ease. The losers tallied their only points during the opening

(Continued on last page)

WANT FROSH BOXERS

Assistant Boxing Coach Marty Levinson has issued a call for more freshmen to report for boxing. Levinson states, "It's no use for the boys being afraid; they won't get hurt."

RINGSTERS TAKE LIGHT WORKOUT FOR DUKE MEET

No Contest Is on Schedule for This Week-end; Boxers to Fight February 15.

MEDYNSKI COMES THROUGH

Peace and contentment ruled in the boxing camp yesterday afternoon as the Tar Heel leather pushers went through their paces. The routine followed was not the same as the one that has been followed right along. It consisted only of road work and light bag drills.

Since the team does not have a meet scheduled for this coming week-end, Coach Crayton Rowe is afraid his boys will overtrain for the Duke bouts on Saturday night, February 15. These scraps will be held in the Duke gymnasium at Durham. Staleness is a bad thing to have present on the eve of a match, and it is this thing that Coach Rowe is trying to avoid.

Duke Powerful

The Duke team looms as a powerful foe since their victory over Catholic University last Saturday night. The Blue Devils set the Catholic U. boys back by a 6½-1½ score. The surprise of the meet came when Freddie Lloyd, ace featherweight of Duke, was held to a draw.

The Rowe-coached squad looked all right in its rather hollow victory over the neighbors from Raleigh. It must be remembered that this same Wolfpack aggregation took the verdict over South Carolina by a 5-3 score.

(Continued on last page)

FROSH MATMEN WILL MEET VMI

Yearlings' Loss to Baby Generals Better Than Score Indicates; Love Turns in Fall.

Returning home with a defeat that was not as bad as the score indicates, the frosh grapplers began vigorous training to make amends when they meet V. M. I. this Saturday.

The bouts last week-end were all hard fought and the victory went to W. & L. only because they were on the whole a much stronger team. Once again the absence of heavyweight material was sorely felt. The placing of James and Schulman who usually weigh in at 155 and 165 in the heavyweight divisions resulted in ten extra points for W. & L.

Ford Misses Fall

Ford, Tar Baby lightweight, in his battle with Hay threatened several times to continue his string of wins by falls but Hay's hard fighting prevented a pin. The result of the bout was almost an 8 minute time advantage for Ford.

Claypoole, Carolina 155 pounder, fought a close battle with Shinley who finally pinned the Tar Heel grappler in 9:49 minutes of a scheduled ten minute bout.

The next bout proved one of the most interesting of the meet and won the hearty applause of all the spectators. Love and Berry seemed to be taking turns on top of each other and at the end of the bout it was revealed that the baby General lacked three seconds time in order to win the bout.

Two extra periods were called for at the end of a rest period which seemed to put new life into Love. The Tar Baby grappler started off on bottom but soon freed himself and finally pinned Berry. In the second extra period Love started on top and remained there throughout the three minute period.

MATMEN PREPARE TO GRAPPLE VMI CADETS SATURDAY

Wrestling Battle to Be in Tin Can; Tar Heels No Match for Conference Champions.

WARD SHOWS UP WELL

Back from Lexington where they were overwhelmed 28-0 by the strong Washington and Lee contingent, the Carolina varsity wrestlers yesterday began intensive work for the forthcoming invasion of the V. M. I. matmen on Saturday.

Carolina was no match for the brilliant grapplers representing the Virginia institution. The Generals, Southern Conference champions for the past three years, scored two victories on falls and six wins on time decisions.

Umstead Falls

Incidentally Frank Umstead, hitherto undefeated 118-pounder of the Tar Heels, lost to Thomas in the feature bout of the program. Thomas, who was Conference champion in the 126 pound class in 1933, moved down a weight to meet the Tar Heel star. By virtue of his aggressiveness and superior mat knowledge the W. & L. leader won easily in an 8:18 minute time margin.

Lytle, 126, substituting for Douglas who was unable to make the trip, was thrown by Crew in 4:16 minutes. Lytle fought hard and clean but was no match for his more experienced opponent.

Ward Best for Losers

Melvin Ward, 135, probably made the best showing for the Tar Heels on the trip. Lowry piled up an early advantage on time of 3:39 minutes but tired tremendously in the closing minutes. Ward took the aggressive in the late minutes but the early time margin proved to be the deciding factor in favor of Lowry.

In the 145 and 155 pound

(Continued on last page)

Baby Cagers Clash With Undefeated Imps Today

FROSH WILL BOX OAK RIDGE TEAM

Yearlings Battle Cadets at Oak Ridge Saturday; School Has Golden Gloves Champ.

This Saturday at Oak Ridge, the rejuvenated Tar Babies meet the strong cadet boxing team in what should prove to be one of the best battles of the year.

To date Oak Ridge has not met any prominent foes, but the power of its team is known, and it boasts a recent golden gloves winner. Erickson is the youngster who overcame all his opponents and copped the crown in the 165-lb. division.

The other outstanding pugilist is the little Cuban, Del Picco, who goes to the wars in the 119-lb. class. The little fellow packs dynamite in either fist, and has plenty of boxing ability to mix with it.

Last Saturday the Cadets gained a one-sided victory over a Washington and Lee frosh team. They clearly outclassed their rivals and the final results showed them to be a well balanced team.

Yesterday at the Tin Can, Tiger Shores went three rounds against Punchy Levinson, ex-Tar Heel boxing captain and now assistant coach. Shores learned something about the art of boxing from the clever Levinson and his next fight should find him a more elusive target.

TWO QUINTETS OF EQUAL STRENGTH

Bitter Battle to Be Waged in Duke Gymnasium at 3:30 O'clock This Afternoon.

TEAM TO LEAVE AT 2 P. M.

The Tar Baby quintet goes to war this afternoon against the Duke frosh in Durham due to a sudden alteration in the Carolina schedule. The game was formerly set for tomorrow evening as a preliminary to the traditional Duke-Carolina clash.

The yearlings will have their hands full in this coming battle with the Baby Imps and are the slight underdogs. The Duke five has rolled up impressive victories in its games to date and boasts an undefeated record.

The Tar Babies will not have that obligation to uphold and will go full guns against their rivals. Comparison in results show the equal power of the teams.

The Carolina squad was a more convincing victor over Belmont Abbey this week-end, romping away with a 27-17 victory.

Needed Extra Period

Duke, on the other hand, was forced to go an extra period before they could squelch the Abbeys by a 30-20 count. Although the frosh at Chapel Hill lost to State and Duke downed the Wolflets, no decisive margin was evident in either game.

Duke defeated the State frosh

(Continued on last page)

High Basketeers Play Hillsboro Here Today

The Chapel Hill high school meets Hillsboro high in a double-header basketball game tonight at the local high's tin can. Both boy and girl teams will play, the girls at 7:30 o'clock and the boys at 8:30. Admission is 15c for children and 25c for adults.

Today's Mural Card

4:30—(1) Z. B. T. vs. Chi Phi, (2) Everett vs. Swain Hall, (3) S. A. E. vs. Phi Sigma Kappa.

5:30—(1) Phi Delta Theta vs. Chi Psi, (2) Mangum No. 2 vs. Smithsonians, (3) S. P. E. vs. Kappa Sigma.

Tar Heel Entrants Do Well In Millrose Indoor Games

Harry Williamson Barely Misses Leading Carolina Team to Victory In Two-Mile Relay Race; Ed Waldrop Also Turns in Nice Run; Hornbostel Outstanding Man of Famous Meet.

Carolina's entrants in the 28th annual Millrose indoor track games last Saturday did quite well. The relay team's accomplishment was especially pleasing, considering the fact that it was the first showing of two of the men in a big meet.

Harry Williamson, running anchor man, finished just one bare step back of the Columbia University man. At the opening of the final leg Columbia was leading the field by five yards. The third man was several yards back of the second and Williamson was at the heels of the third man.

Williamson Comes Up

Williamson passed the third man and pulled up on the leaders. On the straight stretch before the final curve Williamson pulled up on the two and all three were running about even. But the curve forced the Tar Heel to take the outer lane, causing several extra steps which told the tale as to the final winner. Williamson passed one man and was pulling up fast on the Columbia man as they stormed over the final line.

Ed Waldrop showed up particularly well in his second lap. Forced to go into his lap in sixth place, due to Bob Gardiner's legs tying up coming down the home stretch, Waldrop really put on the heat. He succeeded in passing all the field except one man from Boston College who was leading at the time.

Graham Gammon held his own on the third half, although Patterson of Columbia took the honors for this division by chalking up the lead for his team which proved to be the margin of victory.

Williamson in the 1000-meter event showed up well in the fast field on hand, which included Hornbostel, Sweet, and Dawson.

This same Hornbostel proved to be the star of the games. Setting a record in the 600-meter

(Continued on last page)

Pawed by a Pudgy Wudgy?

...light an Old Gold

When trapped by a Mushy Mamma . . . don't give way to dark despair. Count ten and light a sunny-smooth Old Gold. Its fragrant fumes will enchant the matron's senses . . . while you slip spryly from her arms. Darn clever . . . these O.Gs!

AT TRYING TIMES . . . . TRY A Smooth OLD GOLD

VISITORS TO SEE ORIGINAL DRAMAS

Photographers Association Invited to Performance of Experimentals Tonight.

The 26th and 27th series of experimental productions by the Carolina Playmakers will come off this afternoon and tonight at 4:30 and 8:30 o'clock in the theatre.

Following an hour lecture by George Kossuth on the subject of "The Old Masters from Bellini to Whistler and Their Comparison to Photography," the evening performance of the plays will be presented and the delegation attending the North Carolina Photographers Association will remain for the shows as guests of the Playmakers.

By Student Authors

Five plays have been selected from those written by students in Professor Koch's playwriting courses, English 56 and 226, to be produced on today's bill.

Under the general supervision of the Playmaker group the plays have been cast and directed by students. Three of the five plays have been directed by the authors themselves.

The afternoon group of one-act plays includes "The Devil's Tramping Ground," a play of mixed blood by Sara Seawell; and "Muddy Jordan Waters," a tragedy of the Carolina mountains by Mildred Moore.

Casts

Included in the cast for "The Devil's Tramping Ground" are Catherine Threlkeld, Hester Barlow, Carl Thompson, Lawrence Cheek, and Billy Robertson; for "Muddy Jordan Waters," Robert du Four, Ellen Deppe, Carl Thompson, and Fred Howard.

The remaining three dramas which will be presented for the Photographers Association are "The Villain Gets the Girl," a modern satire in the old style by Charles A. Poe; "Pensioner," a play of contemporary social conditions by Alice A. Truslow; "Yours and Mine," a comedy of domestic difficulties by Ella Mae Daniel.

Patsy McMullan and Robert Proctor are directing the first two of this group. The cast for "The Villain Gets the Girl" is composed of William Crayton, Alan Waters, Carl Thompson, Robert Nachtmann, Fowler Spencer, Henry McMullan, Billy Robertson, Donald Pope, and Robert du Four.

"The Pensioner" cast includes Virgil Lee, Jr., Bessie Levington, John Larsen, Hester Barlow, and Lawrence Cheek, Jr.; "Yours and Mine," Mildred Howard, Carl Thompson, Robert du Four, and Catherine Threlkeld.

The stage management and staging of the plays will be under the supervision of Alton Williams and Samuel Selden of the Playmakers' staff. Mary Armbruster will be in charge of the properties.

INFIRMARY LIST

The following students were confined in the infirmary yesterday: Billy Yandell, A. B. Bonner, Stanley Levitt, R. M. Stewart, Mrs. Harry Moore, Dorothy Bowen, Bruce Smith, T. P. Matthews, E. S. Simpson, Carl Anderson, R. S. Richardson, George O'Hanlon, Bill Calloway, E. T. Berry, R. A. Gardner, F. A. Tetor, Tom Hines, and Keneth Bartlett.

Drama Majors

All students majoring in the drama will meet Professor Frederick H. Koch in 113 Murphey during the assembly hour today to receive information and instructions concerning the comprehensive examination.

Room Rent Due

The second installment of all room rent is due and payable at the cashier's office in Old South February 5. Any changes and transfers must be made through the business office.

Charges have been made to the accounts of all students leasing dormitory rooms. In order to save time and trouble, students are advised to pay their bills by mail.

Murals

(Continued from page three)

half and just were not capable of stopping Ruffin's smoothly functioning offense.

The summaries:

D. T. D. (32)	Theta Chi (31)
Fletcher, f (6)	Barker, f (11)
Shores, f (8)	Bennett, f (10)
Rouiller, c	Cromartie, c (4)
Corwith, g (18)	Rogers, g
McCollum, g	Austin, g (2)

Subs: Delta Tau Delta—Curry; Theta Chi—Hunter (4).

L. C. A. (25)	A. E. (14)
Liebfried, f (2)	Shalom, f (2)
Diviota, f (4)	Weinstein, f (4)
Marshall, c (10)	Singer, c (4)
Lothian, g (4)	Levine, g (2)
Brooks, g (5)	Turk, g (2)

Subs: Lambda Chi Alpha—Shore, Allen; Alpha Epsilon—Mark, Steingrob.

Ruffin (47)	Old West (5)
Hicks, f (13)	Roundtree, f (2)
Pool, f (18)	Smith, f (1)
Stricker, c (10)	Boyette, c
Garrison, g (16)	Carroll, g (2)
Ogolsby, g	Phillips, g

Subs: Ruffin—Sale, McKinnon, Oliver.

Track

(Continued from page three)

race, he also came near doing the same in the 1000-meter. This bespectacled Hoosier track star showed the fans the same stuff he displayed last year when he won the Wanamaker trophy for turning in the best performance in the games.

Another feature of the meet was the comeback of Gene Venzke. The Cunningham-Bonthron fight which was supposed to have come off in the Wanamaker Mile turned out to be a Cunningham-Venzke scrap. Bonny came in 30 yards behind. The Kansan barely managed to beat Venzke to the tape; and only his great last minute sprint was able to withstand the greatest challenge the Pennsylvanian has ever given Cunningham. Incidentally it was the first time Venzke has ever beaten Bonthron.

Wrestling

(Continued from page three)

classes Shively and Arenz of the Generals won respectively over Gholsen and Greengold. Shively was victorious on time in 7:12 minutes while Arenz gained a fall in 3:37 minutes.

The 165 and 175 pound classes resulted also in victories for W. &. L. on time decisions, Seitz winning over Efland in 6:40 minutes and Kaplan over Ranson in 8:52 minutes.

In the unlimited class Harvey Gwynn managed to go the regulation ten minute route with Captain Bonino, Conference champion. Bonino, who outweighed by 50 pounds his Tar Heel opponent had an overwhelming time advantage of 7:15 minutes but Gwynn put up a game and clever fight throughout.

Tau Beta Pi

There will be a business meeting of Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity, at 7:30 o'clock tonight in 214 Phillips hall.

Minneapolis Symphony Will Play Tonight

Eugene Normandy's Orchestra to Appear at Duke University.

The Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Eugene Normandy will appear in Page auditorium at Duke University this evening at 8:15 o'clock.

The program will include: Overture "Lenora" No. 3 by Beethoven, Symphony No. 4 in E Minor by Brahms, "Moto Perpetue" by Paganini-Ormandy, "Der Rosenkavalier" waltzes by Strauss, and three pieces from "The Damnation of Faust" by Berliez.

Frosh Cagers

(Continued from page three)

by a single point on a "fluke" shot that hit the rim and bounced away but the two points were awarded to them as Berry, State center, had touched the net in a futile effort to deflect the ball.

Carolina kept ahead of State until the last 30 seconds when State evened the count on a foul throw. State then went on to annex the struggle in an overtime by the score of 29-26.

Eleven members of the squad will leave the Hill this afternoon bound for Durham and the big battle. The usual stars will be in the opening lineup with the only uncertainty lying between Ramsay Potts and Pete Boone.

If Potts' leg is entirely improved he will start alongside of Pete Mullis, Red Meroney, Foy Grubb, and Earl Ruth.

BOUNCER vs. MAN-WRECKER

Paul Muni, of "Fugitive from the Chain Gang" fame, and Bette Davis, man-wrecker in "Of Human Bondage," take the once-over before grappling. Muni is the bouncer (not bounder) of "Bordertown," which shows at the Carolina theatre today.

FINJAN STAFF MEETING

There will be a meeting of the editorial staff of the Finjan in the office in Graham Memorial tonight at 7:15 to discuss the coming issue.

All members are expected to be present.

Finjan Applications

All applications for business manager of the Finjan must be in by 3 o'clock tomorrow, Claude Rankin announced yesterday.

Philological Club to Meet

There will be a meeting of the Philological Club in Smith building tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Dr. Hardin Craig will speak on "The Window of Momus—A Study of the Elizabethan Mind."

Policy League Committee

Chairman Joe Barnett calls a meeting of the Foreign Policy League's program committee at 10:30 a. m. today in 208 Saunders.

Boxers

(Continued from page three)

Jule Medynski succeeded in registering the only knockout of the night when he caused the State seconds to throw in the towel to save their man from further punishment. The sophomore 155-pounder showed much power and still has a record that is unmarred.

The setto that had the fans on their toes was the Giddins-Fabri fight. It was a pleasure to watch these two boys in action. Both are the cleanest, most sportsmanlike boxers seen at Chapel Hill this year.

Feature Board Meeting

The feature board of the DAILY TAR HEEL will meet at 3 o'clock this afternoon in 209 Graham Memorial.

WANTED

Five copies of the Dec. 8 issue of the DAILY TAR HEEL at 10c each. The circulation manager will be in his office from 4 to 5 today to receive these.

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS

THE
Young Men's Shop
126-128 E. Main St.
DURHAM, N. C.

VALENTINE CARDS
And Gifts
Alfred Williams & Co.

Done movin'

Smokers of Chesterfield are funny that way, you can hardly move 'em. They evermore like 'em, and they evermore stick to 'em. Chesterfields are milder—they taste better.

© 1935, LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

CHEMISTRY FRESHMEN
10:30
206 VENABLE HALL

The Daily Tar Heel

COMMERCE FRESHMEN
10:30
MEMORIAL HALL

SERVED BY THE UNITED PRESS

VOLUME XLIII | CHAPEL HILL, N. C., WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1935 | NUMBER 98

PHOTOMEN HAVE VARIED PROGRAM IN LAST SESSIONS

Group Will Elect and Install New Officers at Final Meeting This Afternoon.

PLAYMAKERS ENTERTAIN

Demonstrations, discussions, entertainment, mixed in happy proportions, featured yesterday's sessions of the North Carolina Photographers Association which is holding its tenth annual convention at the University.

Attending are approximately 100 photographers from this and neighboring states. The convention opened Sunday evening and will close this afternoon with the election and installation of officers for another year.

Coloring

A feature of the program was a demonstration in coloring by Mrs. R. R. Jennings of Atlanta, Ga. Mrs. Jennings prefaced her demonstration with a short discourse on the relation of color to the photographer's art.

A study of the human anatomy is essential to being a good photographic "color" or "brush" artist, Mrs. Jennings pointed out. "Through a knowledge of the bones, deep muscles, and particularly the superficial muscles of the face, one is able to create, by the proper use of color, an advanced improvement upon the photograph," she said.

George Kossuth, vice-president of the Photographers Association of America, this afternoon conducted a demonstration on photographing men. E. P. Nichols, of the Eastman Kodak Company, delivered a technical lecture on "Processing of Professional Photographic Papers."

Later in the afternoon, the Wootten-Moulton studio in Chapel Hill held open house at a tea given in honor of the visiting photographers.

Playmakers Entertain

An address by George Kossuth in the Playmakers theatre on "The Old Masters from Bellini to Whistler and their Comparison to Photography," followed by the presentation of

(Continued on page two)

RELIGIOUS COUNCIL PLANS BROADCAST

Presbyterian Church to Have Charge of Second Weekly Program over WDNC Today.

Continuing the Religious Workers' Council series of radio broadcasts, the local Presbyterian church will present today's program over station WDNC in Durham at 2 o'clock.

According to Rev. Donald Stewart of the Presbyterian church, today's program will consist of three quartet selections, two violin solos, and a short talk by Mr. Stewart on the subject, "The Church and Student General Situation."

Quartet

The quartet will be composed of Claude Ballard, second tenor; Bruce Culbreth, baritone; James Dees, bass; and John Walker, first tenor.

Miss Katherine Hodges will accompany Miss Jane Ross, Chi Omega, violinist, at the piano.

The Presbyterian-planned program follows a similar one planned by the University Y. M. C. A., another member of the Religious Workers' Council. The Baptist church will arrange the broadcast for next week.

Heads Photographers

A. O. Clement, president of the North Carolina Photographers Association, who is presiding over the annual convention of the association here this week.

COMMERCE MEN HEAR BERNSTEIN

State Professor Speaks to Beta Gamma Sigma Members.

Continuing the series of discussions sponsored by Alpha chapter of Beta Gamma Sigma, the honorary scholastic organization in the school of commerce, Dr. E. M. Bernstein addressed the chapter Monday evening on "Public Expenditures as a Means of Ameliorating Business Depressions."

Analysing the effects of recent expenditures of the federal government on the national income, production and wages in this country, Dr. Bernstein pointed out that the effects of such expenditures in the United States had, on the whole, been favorable.

It was the opinion of Dr. Bernstein that the volume of physical production had unquestionably been increased as a result of such government expenditures.

Law and Med Schools To Sponsor Dances

Students of the schools of law and medicine will make merry this week-end, each sponsoring a dance, the law school on Friday and the med school on Saturday night. Both will collaborate on a tea dance Saturday afternoon. Jimmy Poyner and his State Collegians will furnish the music for all three dances.

Ned Phifer with Miss Connie Burwell, of Charlotte, will lead the figure at the medical school affair. Leaders of the law school dance have not been announced.

There will be no general admission at the dances, although each member of both schools will have an extra bid to give to anyone he wishes.

DEUTSCHER VEREIN

There will be a meeting of the Deutscher Verein tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in 214 Graham Memorial.

Dr. Meno Spann of the German department will deliver an illustrated lecture on picturesque German towns. The lecture will be followed by the singing of German songs.

The meeting is under the direction of Dr. Spann.

League Members to Meet

There will be an important meeting of the following members of the Foreign Policy League tonight at 8 o'clock in Graham Memorial: Joe Barnett, Albert Ellis, Don Becker, Niles Bond, and Lewis Morris.

SENATE TAKES NO IMPORTANT ACTION

Di Does No Legislating Other Than to Table Two Bills.

The Di Senate did no legislating last night except the tabling of two bills and a motion.

The bill, Resolved, That the United States should establish soil erosion service in connection with the C. C. C., was killed by being tabled indefinitely.

The senators also tabled, for lack of a quorum, the bill, Resolved, That the United States should have entered the World Court.

Senator Russell's motion, finally tabled until the next meeting, that the Senate should present to the law school its picture of Judge Ruffin, met with lively and detailed discussion.

A substitute bill, Resolved, That the state legislature pass the child labor law, was moved by Senator Fletcher and accepted in the place of the soil erosion bill.

Mason Gibbes, acting critic, reprimanded the Senate for the lax manner in which the meeting was conducted.

W. M. Cochrane was re-admitted to membership, and Bill Hudson was admitted as a new senator.

A. S. M. E. TO SHOW AVIATION MOVIES

W. Van Haitma of Boeing School of Aeronautics Will Have Charge of Program.

An aeronautical program presenting the recent developments in aviation, and the vocational aspects of the industry will be held in Phillips hall February 14 under the auspices of the local branch of the A. S. M. E.

W. Van Haitma, director of placement in the Boeing School of Aeronautics at Oakland, Cal., will have charge of the program which is to be illustrated with several films.

Historic Film

An historic film on the development of the airplane from the Wright "pusher" to the modern tri-motor transport will be the first on the program.

A reel showing the manufacturing processes involved in the construction of Pratt-Whitney airplane engines and the Boeing model 247 transport will also be shown.

The Boeing school will be depicted upon the screen showing flight and ground training methods, and equipment and facilities used. A reel entitled "Across the Continent in 20 Hours" will feature United Air Lines transports in operation on coast to coast flights. Each film will take 15 minutes.

Applications Due Today

All applications for the position of business manager of the Carolina Finjan are due in the office of Professor J. M. Lear in 109 Bingham hall before 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Bost to See Freshmen

Dr. R. W. Bost requests all freshmen registered for the degree of S.B. in chemistry to meet him at 10:30 o'clock this morning in room 206 Venable hall.

Commerce Freshmen

Dean Carroll will meet the commerce freshmen in Memorial hall today at 10:30 a. m.

STATE AID ASKED FOR ENCOURAGING SAVING IN SCHOOLS

Grisette and Bradshaw Request $25,000 Appropriation for State Thrift Society.

PLAN TWO YEAR PROGRAM

Felix A. Grisette and Francis Bradshaw appeared before the joint appropriations committee in Raleigh yesterday afternoon to request $25,000 aid during the next two years to make the North Carolina State Thrift Society, a movement in which they have taken leading parts, a permanent, self-supporting organization operating in schools all over the state.

The society is an organization chartered by the legislature in 1933 for the purpose of stimulating the teaching and practice of the principles of thrift among the children in the public schools.

School children will be urged to open savings accounts in the society by making deposits of five cents or more with their teachers, Tuesday of each week being especially set aside as deposit day. When a student has accumulated $10, his deposit is transferred to the bank of his choice and begins, of course, to draw interest. Upon the transference of the sum to the bank, the society's responsibility is ended.

The money requested yesterday would be used largely for postage, printing, field travel, and the salaries and wages of a full-time executive, an expert bookkeeper and a stenographer. At the end of the first year of operation the society would be partly self-supporting; and after two years it would be entirely self-supporting, drawing the funds for its expenses from the interest on the money deposited

(Continued on page two)

FISCH REVEALED AS BRUNO'S AIDE

Flemington, N. J., Feb. 5.—(UP)—Benjamin Heier testified today that he saw Isidor Fisch jump over the wall of Straymonds Cemetery on April 2, 1932, the night the Lindbergh ransom money was paid.

Reilly presented witnesses who attended the farewell party in December, three or four days before Fisch sailed for Germany. All testified Fisch appeared at Hauptmann's house and carried a box under his arm.

Reilly said he has two surprise witnesses. The case is now expected to reach the jury about next Tuesday.

Policy League Plans Discussion on Orient

J. S. Fletcher, A. Mason Gibbes to Lead Meeting Tomorrow.

J. S. Fletcher and A. Mason Gibbes will lead a discussion on the Orient, placing special emphasis on the economic phase of the question, at the meeting of the Foreign Policy League tomorrow night.

This meeting will be the first in a series of two seminars on the Orient and its connections with the United States, in which all phases of Oriental policies and relations which affect this country will be discussed.

Any members of the League who wish to read up on the subject beforehand will find references in the February issues of the periodicals Asia and Today.

Two Speakers Added To Institute Program

Donald Comer and Chinese Minister Sze Accept Invitations.

Two outstanding speakers have added their names to the list of lecturers for the Human Relations Institute, it was announced yesterday by Charles A. Poe, chairman.

Donald Comer, leading American in the textile field, will address the institute on the present textile situation.

Minister Sze, Chinese representative at Washington, announced his acceptance of the institute's invitation to visit the University in the capacity of his country's minister.

HUEY ALL RIGHT, SAYS ASSEMBLY

Phi Says Long Not Menace; Discontinuance of NRA Opposed; Tobacco Evil Is Deplored.

Huey I, regent of the ricefields, was given a pat on the back by the Phi Assembly last night when that august body defeated the bill: Resolved, That Huey Long is a menace to this country.

The assembly also defeated the bill calling for discontinuance of the NRA, but advocated the abolition of child labor in a third bill.

Trip to Raleigh

The visit that was made to the state legislature in Raleigh Monday night was discussed. The members seemed impressed by the wrangling over trivial matters in both houses. "I don't think any North Carolinian will appreciate his state until after he has visited the legislature," said one of the visitors, "and I don't think he will appreciate it after he visits it."

Jesse Ott, of Goldsboro was introduced for membership. Robert Smithwick was appointed to attempt to procure a portrait of the late Steven H. Bradshaw, prominent North Carolina lawyer and former member of the assembly.

A resolution to permit smoking on the floor of the assembly was defeated, after Drew Martin and Winthrop Durfee pointed out the evils of the use of the weed.

Monday night, February 18, was set as the tentative date for an assembly social.

Russell Will Speak In Gerrard Tonight

Di, Phi, "Y," Anti-War Conference Sponsor Meeting.

The Di Senate, the Phi Assembly, Y. M. C. A. cabinets, and the continuations committee of the Anti-War conference are sponsors of the meeting tonight at 8 o'clock in Gerrard hall, at which R. Phillips Russell, student delegate to the International Anti-War Conference, will deliver a report on the work done at Brussels.

The continuations committee and all those interested are invited to remain after Russell's report to discuss plans for forwarding the work begun.

This report by Russell was made possible by the Anti-War conference held here last quarter. Carl Thompson was originally chosen as a delegate, but withdrew in favor of Russell when he found it impossible to attend. Thompson will preside at tonight's session.

SENATORS INVITE EMPEROR HUEY I TO NORTH STATE

State Assembly to Horn in on Louisiana Provided Cantor And Rubinoff Also Speak.

HOUSE HAS PARTY FIGHT

Raleigh, Feb. 5.—(UP)—Not to be outdone by the backwoods Kingdom of Louisiana in monopolizing headlines, an otherwise sedate North Carolina Senate today decided to invite Emperor Huey I, Delta Dictator of the House of Long, to speak here.

The legislation was passed on the condition that Eddie Cantor, God's gift to coffee, and Dave Rubinoff, the Smokey City's donation to violindom can also be persuaded to appear on the same performance.

Senator Johnson of Duplin county smilingly suggested a program featuring His Majesty, and Bagley of Currituck county added the provision that Cantor and Rubinoff play second fiddle to the headliner.

Debate in House

Raleigh, Feb. 5.—(UP)—After the most acrimonius debate since the present session opened, the North Carolina House of Representatives adjourned today in respect to Rev. Theodore Patrick, who died last night.

The Senate received two local bills, but immediately referred them to respective committees, and adjourned until 11 a.m.

The House debate centered about an apparently innocent local bill presented by Representative Cloud of Polk county to increase his home county's commissioners. The fight was entirely partisan with Cloud defending himself as a staunch Democrat who gained office on the Republican ticket at the request of "50 per cent" of Polk county Democrats. The bill finally was sent committeewards.

The House, after receiving 14 local bills and one state-wide, adjourned to reconvene at noon.

DRAMA TRYOUTS SET FOR TONIGHT

Campus Theatrical Group Will Produce Three New Plays Written by Playmakers.

Try-outs for the new production of Carolina Plays by the Carolina Playmakers, set for February 28, March 1 and 2, will be conducted this afternoon at 4:30 and again tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

The coming production will include three one-act plays written this year by Playmakers and will mark the 40th bill of "New Carolina Plays" produced here by the dramatic group.

Many New Plays

Chosen from a large group of new plays, the three selected for the coming bill include "Cottie Mourons" by Patsy McMullan, "Ancient Heritage" by Philip G. Parker, and "Yours and Mine" by Ella Mae Daniel.

Copies of the plays are on the reserve shelf at the library. The try-outs are open to all.

Professor Frederick H. Koch, director of the Playmakers, especially requested that anyone familiar with the peculiar dialect of the Okracoke Island folk should try for a place in the "Cottie Mourons" drama.

The Daily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Union Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where it is printed daily except Mondays, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Holidays. Entered as second class matter at the post office of Chapel Hill, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 for the college year.

A. T. Dill ..... Editor
Robert C. Page, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
Joe Webb ..... Business Manager
George Underwood ..... Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

EDITORIAL BOARD—Phil Hammer, chairman, Earl Wolslagel, Franklin Harward, John Schulz, DuPont Snowden, Margaret McCauley, Morty Slavin, Sam Leager, Dick Myers, Charles Lloyd, Jake Snyder, Phil Kind, Charles Daniel, George Butler.

FEATURE BOARD—Nelson Lansdale, chairman; Nick Read, Bob Browder, Francis Clingman, J. E. Poindexter, W. M. Cochrane, Willis Harrison.

CITY EDITORS—Irving Suss, Walter Hargett, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.

TELEGRAPH EDITORS—Stuart Rabb, Charlie Gilmore.

DESK MAN—Eddie Kahn.

SPORTS DEPARTMENT—Jimmy Morris and Smith Barrier, co-editors, Tom Bost, Lee Turk, Len Rubin, Fletcher Ferguson, Stuart Sechriest, Lester Ostrow, Ira Sarasohn.

EXCHANGES—Margaret Gaines.

STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER—Don Becker.

REPORTERS—Bill Hudson, John Smith, J. F. Jonas, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Hazel Beacham, Raymond Howe, William Jordan, Morton Feldman.

Business Staff

ASST. BUSINESS MANAGER ..... Butler French
COLLECTION MANAGER ..... Herbert Osterheld
OFFICE MANAGERS ..... Walter Eckert, Roy Crooks
NATIONAL ADVERTISING ..... Boylan Carr
DURHAM REPRESENTATIVE—Joe Murnick.
LOCAL ADVERTISING—Hugh Primrose, Robt. Sosnik, Eli Joyner (managers), Bill MacDonald, Louis Shaffner, Page Keel, Bill McLean, Crist Blackwell.

CITY EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE: REED SARRATT

Wednesday, February 6, 1935

PARAGRAPHICS

The University Riding Club advertises that horses are brought to your room. Another factor tending toward a more stable student body.

Everett freshmen have not moved as much as occupants of Lewis, Aycock, and Grimes. They must like the view across the court.

The trouble right now with moving up the salary scale any further seems to be that nobody is willing to do more than budget.

The Question Squarely Put

"We ask for fair, not preferential, consideration. . . . A free people who know what they owe themselves will preserve and develop on the highest level the university of the people in answer to their own needs, in protection of their own freedom and in the fulfillment of their own democracy."

Tomorrow is the date set for the committee hearing of University requests for the biennium 1935-37 from the state of North Carolina. In the words of President Frank Graham, extracted above, the University, in asking a 25 per cent increase in salary scale for its employees, is not setting forth an unreasonable demand but is acting for the well-being of the people. How the morale of this University's great educational staff has been maintained as well as it has is a remarkable achievement, but there is a breaking point and even a courageous band of educators such as we boast are not able to avoid it under pressing economic conditions.

The wracking biennial fight for sustenance is more crucial this year than ever before, for where in 1931 and 1933 the pecuniary slices were subconsciously considered temporary, we are now faced with either continuing the ruinous level of economic support or raising it to a plane where life will be life once again for the professors, rather than a gnawing struggle to give one's best in education while at the same time the wolf is halfway through the door.

The University must be aided in this crisis. North Carolina must be fair. The tremendous slices from our budget must be replaced insofar as other state institutions and departments are being sustained as conditions allow. Education must not suffer more than its due share.

Those Who Can Pay

Dr. Clarence Heer's analysis of the sales tax as affecting the overburdened landowner of the state reveals the startling fact that the individuals, who contribute to the sales tax, actually paid 1.2 per cent more in taxes, and corporations through property and general fund taxes 6.8 per cent less, than before.

If the present legislature, says Mr. Heer, enacts the three per cent exemptionless sales tax, it must raise the corporation taxes around $3,000,000 above the administration recommendations if everybody is to be treated alike.

Governor Ehringhaus' campaign speech promised a thorough investigation to assure a fair and just sharing of the tax burden. He has until 1936 to make the readjustments necessary as revealed by Mr. Heer's expert analysis.

It's Still A Good Idea

The administration should be heartily congratulated on the good results of the Everett experiment. According to the report given at the Student Welfare Board meeting recently, the grades of the freshmen living in Everett under moderate supervision showed a greater proportionate increase, considering the students' preparedness for college work, than those of freshmen in the three other dormitories with which Everett was compared. Also, only one half as many freshmen moved from Everett as from other dormitories.

Heartening as these obvious improvements are, they are not yet convincing that the entire freshman class should live in segregation and under moderate supervision by responsible upperclassmen. In the first place, although the segregation-supervision idea was the basic Everett theory, at least one-fourth of the residents are upperclassmen, not selected by those in charge, but rooming in Everett by simply signing up when they found other dormitories to be filled. In the second place, the Everett freshmen's supremacy over their fellows in proportionate grade increase is probably more attributable to the fact that they signed for rooms in the "guinea-pig" rooming house because they wanted to study than to anything else.

In other words, the results prove nothing definitely beyond this: give us freshmen who want to study an opportunity to do so, and their grades will go up. While that perhaps is a foregone conclusion, we still feel that the administration deserves praise for having given the studious a "break" and the frosh deserve praise for taking advantage of it.

Small-Boy Fun-Poking

We notice an undercurrent of playful disparagement among Carolina fans toward Ray Rex, one of State College's best athletes, whenever he takes part in an athletic contest here against the University. Nothing particularly malicious is meant. The attitude is rather one of small-boy fun-poking.

Yet Rex has always conducted himself in a sportsmanlike manner in the face of this. He is a four-letter man at State, a valuable addition to any team, and in so far as we are able to determine has always played creditably under competition. Notwithstanding this sort of welcome from Carolina fans at the State basketball game last Wednesday, he made no demonstration—as did the crowd in the Tin Can.

Rex is a good athlete. He appears to be a good sportsman. Too bad Carolina won't give him credit for being both.

Semesters And Quarters

The most obvious reason for student support of the quarter system comes, as we mentioned recently, from the welcome chance it gives for getting examinations off the over-loaded mind before the Christmas or spring holidays. The unbearableness of the situation under the semester system is almost unlivable because the best thing we have to look forward to is a rapidly approaching period of final examinations. If we are of a studious nature, the entire vacation might easily be ruined as well.

Any student who is forced out of school temporarily because of illness or financial reverses will find the quarter system much the more convenient of the two. If, for instance, he is forced out during the fall quarter, he may be able to return at the beginning of the winter quarter—thus losing only a third rather than a half of the year. The other side of this argument is that a high school student who graduates according to the semester plan in February could immediately enter the University instead of being required to mark time until the opening of the spring quarter.

The final argument for maintaining the quarter system is merely that a change to the semester system would necessitate a large amount of inconvenience and expense. Whether or not this would be discounted in the long run by the resultant economies of fewer registration periods and fewer examinations (and thus less red tape and clerical work) is a question which cannot be answered without a full and comprehensive study of the two systems.

The proposed three-hour a week plan for the foreign languages will, presumably, be workable only under the semester system. That any plan can be devised whereby the foreign language department can work under the semester plan while the other departments are using the quarter system seems improbable.

A motion has been made by Dean Carroll for the adoption by the faculty of the semester system. That the latter will reach a decision which will be on the whole beneficial to the University we are confident; but we feel it our duty to suggest that a full consideration be given to the student reasons for supporting the quarter system before it is thrown into the discard.

Casual Correspondent
by Nelson Lansdale

OUT OF THE MOUTHS OF BABES AND SUCKLINGS

John Chapman tells us that a friend of his sat next to Gertrude Stein's ten - year - old nephew at a lecture she gave in Chicago during the Christmas holidays. When Miss Stein remarked, typically, "An oil painting is an oil painting," our friend made a wry face. The nephew saw the grimace out of the corner of his eyes, and murmured: "Ja, I t'ink she's crazy too. She's been at our house for two days."

THAT'S WHY DARKIES WERE BORN

Except for one short-lived snow-fall, and the increasing difficulty of climbing out of a warm bed into a cold room in the morning, Chapel Hill seems to have escaped the blizzard which swept the Atlantic seaboard last week and the week before. But from Maryland comes this little winter idyl: "The snow . . . sixteen inches of it . . . was beautiful, so light and dry. A few nights ago, when it was about eight below zero, we were awakened by men shoveling snow from the streets. It was packed down so hard and frozen that they had to use picks and mattocks. There were a few negroes with about a dozen white men. The negroes began singing, very low at first, then louder. It was about one o'clock, and the voices carried easily in the quiet. There was something very simple and beautiful about it. We were sorry when they got further down the street, and the noise of picks and shovels scraping was all we could hear."

PROFIT AND LOSS

The coming law-med dances this week-end remind us of a little story we heard last year about this time. In honor of the occasion one of the incipient barristers had stocked up with a pint of excellent Baltimore whiskey. After the usual toast, he handed his date, who has something of a reputation as a guzzler, the bottle, nearly full, with the caution: "Go easy on that, little one. It cost two and a quarter a pint."

The lady modestly turned her back, and after a few minutes of concentrated drinking, spun around and handed him the bottle—empty. "Worth every cent of it, darling," she declared, smacking her lips. "Worth every cent of it."

When a student in one of his classes went to sleep during the morning lecture, Economics Professor Eric Zimmerman asked the man sitting next to him to prod him. The student in question sat up blinking.

"I realize, Mr. Ebberhardt," said Dr. Zimmerman in his clipped German accent, "dat I cannot make this class as interesting as the moving pictures, dat I cannot dress up like Mae West. But, Mr. Ebberhardt, if you do dat one more time I shall haff to ask you to come up and see me some time."

DIAMOND HORSESHOE

One of our spies reports an incident which seemed to us curiously out of keeping with the spirit of Chapel Hill. A friend of his happened to drop in on F. C. Hayes, of the Romance language department last Saturday afternoon. From outside, waiting for the doorbell to be answered he heard the radio, broadcasting from the Metropolitan Opera in New York. He didn't know what opera it was, and neither do we, but anyway when Mr. Hayes appeared at the door he was in dinner-jacket, and in the living room behind his host, out visitor could see four or five people, all in evening clothes, sitting around the radio, listening to the opera.

AIR-CASTLES

And we take a great deal of pleasure in nominating for oblivion the rather typical co-ed, who wanted to know where the Phi Beta Kappa house was.

Thrift Society

(Continued from page one)

with it.

Raleigh Experiment

An experiment in four Raleigh schools has shown the practicability of the plan and has indicated that it would be received favorably enough to insure self-support. Approximately 38 per cent of the students in these schools are depositors and their deposits average $5.44 per school year per depositor.

Considerable progress has already been made by the society, working on funds obtained from private sources.

Grisette is the secretary of the society, and Bradshaw chairman of the executive committee. The president is Paul J. Brown of Raleigh.

Photomen

(Continued from page one)

plays written, cast, and directed by the Carolina Playmakers concluded the program.

On this morning's program, H. B. Wills, of the Eastman Kodak Company, will give a lighting demonstration, and M. D. Taylor, professor of marketing in the University, will speak on "Advertising and Sales Promotion."

Ed Byrsdorfer, of the Eastman Kodak Company, will deliver a technical lecture Wednesday afternoon on "Photographing Emulsions," and E. P. Nichols, also of the Eastman company, will present an illustrated lecture on photo finishing. A final business session, at 3 o'clock which will include the election and installation of new officers, will bring the convention program to a close.

Van Sleen to Explain U.N.C. Radio Program

Robert Van Sleen will describe the transmitting apparatus of short wave radio station W4WE, the official University amateur station, at a meeting of amateur radio fans in 210 Phillips hall tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

His talk will consist of a complete analysis of the local transmitter as recently constructed by the electrical engineering department.

As Van Sleen participated in the rebuilding of the unit, he is thoroughly familiar with the subject.

The meeting is one of a series presented each week under the auspices of the electrical engineering department.

Frosh Social Committee

Members of the committee in charge of the arrangements of the Duke-Carolina freshman social are requested to meet with Crowell Little, chairman, tonight at 7:30 o'clock in room 112 Everett.

The following committee members are asked to attend: Billy Seawell, Carl Peiffer, David Meroney, and John Simpson.

CAROLINA THEATRE
Sunday—Monday
Feb. 10th and 11th

OUTSTANDING RADIO BROADCASTS

Wednesday, Feb. 6

1:15: George Hall orchestra. WBT.

1:30: Little Jack Little, songs. WBT.

2:00 Radio City matinee: Richard Himber orch.; Joey Nash, tenor; Cugat orch.; Fats Waller, pianist; John B. Kennedy, WJZ. KDKA.

3:00: Kate Smith's Matinee hour, WBT.

4:00: Nat'l Student Federation Pr'gm—The Vocational Significance of a College Curriculum, Mark Eisner, WBT.

6:45: Lowell Thomas, commentator, WJZ, WLW.

7:00: Industries and the Securities Markets — Richard Whitney, pres. N. Y. Stock Exchange, WEAF.

7:45: Plantation Echoes—Robison orch.; Southernaires Quartet, WPTF.

8:00: Play—The Sign on the Door—with Mary Pickford and others, WPTF; Penthouse Party—Emil Coleman orch; Travelers Quartet; Lee Sims & Llomay Bailey, guest stars, WJZ. WLW.

8:15: Edwin C. Hill, news. WABC.

8:30: Wayne King orchestra. WEAF, WSB; Everett Marshall's Broadway Varieties. WBT.

9:00: Town Hall Tonight—Fred Allen, comedian; Hayton orch., WEAF, WLW; Andre Kostelanetz orch.; Lily Pons, soprano; Vocal Ensemble; male quartet, WBT.

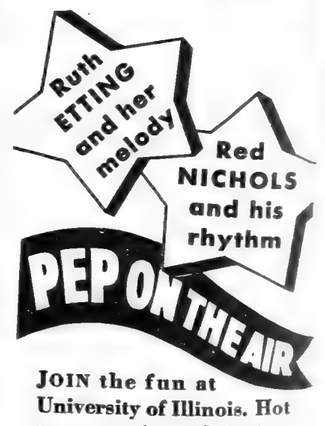
9:30: Burns and Allen, comedians, WBT.

9:45: Jan Garber orch., WGN.

10:00: Guy Lombardo orch., WEAF, WLW.

10:30: Melody Masterpieces—Mary Eastman, soprano; Concert orch., WABC.

11:00: Hal Kemp orch., WJZ.



11:30: Eddy Duchin orchestra, WEAF, WLW.

11:45: Ozzie Nelson orch., KMOX.

Patronize Our Advertisers

February 14th
VALENTINE
SEND A CARD
Ledbetter-Pickard
Stationery, Gifts, School Supplies

Kellogg's
COLLEGE PROM

JOIN the fun at University of Illinois. Hot syncopation. Stirring songs. Thrills on the campus.

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS NIGHT
Red Grange Football Adventures
THURSDAY, FEB. 7th
WJZ—7:45 P.M., E.S.T.
and the entire N. B. C. Blue Network. Tune in every week at the same time.

White Phantoms Battle Duke's Blue Devil Quint Tonight, 8:00, At Durham

Duke Reserves Strong; Feature State Tilt Rated "Natural"

Carolina Risks Undefeated State and SIC Record Tonight.

A Big Five championship is at stake, at least in the case of the home team, when the White Phantoms battle the Blue Devils in the Duke gym tonight at 8 o'clock.

Duke will have everything on the ball as it makes an attempt to stay in the race for state honors. The Devils have already been defeated by State, and another loss will leave them in a position where they can hope for nothing better than a tie.

Carolina, on the other hand, will go into the clash with undefeated records in both the Big Five and conference to protect. The Tar Heels have seven victories in the conference and four in the state.

Trio of Aces

Last year the two great rivals met in three excellent games. The White Phantoms took the first two battles at Chapel Hill and Durham and as a result annexed the state title. However, when the two outfits met during the Southern Conference tourney at Raleigh, Duke staged a rally in the final minutes of play to nose out the favored Tar Heels.

So far this year there is little choice between the two teams. Carolina's won and lost record is better but Duke has gotten the most impressive victories.

The Blue Devils used three teams and then had an easy time topping Army, 34-16. Caro-

(Continued on last page)

SMITHSONIANS AND SWAIN HALL WIN IN MURAL GAMES

Smitties Gain Last Minute Victory as Waiters Keep Win Column Intact.

VOLIVER IS HIGH SCORER

After gaining an early lead, the Smithsonian basketball team was just able to stave off a great finishing rally by Mangum No. 2 team to win yesterday's intramural feature by a 29-27 score.

The other games played saw Swain Hall, Phi Delta Theta, Chi Phi, Kappa Sigma, and S. A. E. all coming through in the win column.

The Smithsonians got off to a fast start in their battle with Mangum No. 2 and were out in front 17-9 at the mid-way mark. However, an inspired rally and a tight defense brought the dorm team to 19-17 for the third quarter, and from then on it was a see-saw battle with Parker's last-minute goal proving the margin of victory.

Swain Hall Wins Again

Swain Hall kept its record inviolate, coming off with a 30-19 win over Everett in a rough, fast encounter. Thomas and Wright teamed up well to pace the winners, while Kanner and Alderman did best for Everett.

Phi Delta Theta jumped back into winning ways with a 27-21 triumph over the strong Chi Psi five. Mosier led the attack with 14 points, while Manley of Chi Psi headed the losers with nine.

The three other contests were all lop-sided affairs, Kappa Sigma trouncing S. P. E., 49-21, S. A. E. swamping Phi Sigma Kappa, 48-5, and Chi Phi taking Z. B. T.'s measure, 47-19.

Voliver of Chi Phi took indi-

(Continued on last page)

V.M.I. TO PRESENT FAST WRESTLING CLUB SATURDAY

Kaydets Tied Navy and Were Runner-up in SIC Last Year; Beaten by N. C. State.

HEELS IN FULL STRENGTH

Coach Chuck Quinlan sent his charges through one of the most strenuous workouts of the season yesterday in preparation for the encounter with the strong V. M. I. wrestling team here Saturday night.

Yesterday's session was devoted chiefly to a discussion of the weak spots shown in the meet with Washington and Lee last week-end. Every member of the squad participated in several minutes of wrestling. Calisthenics and roadwork completed the day's practice.

Full Strength

The Tar Heels once more will have their full strength with the return of Douglas and Bonner for the clash with the Kaydets. Both men were left behind on the Lexington trip on account of injuries.

V. M. I. is reported to have one of the strongest mat aggregations in the conference. After losing to State, 18-14, in the opening meet, the Virginians journeyed to Annapolis and battled the strong Navy matmen to a 16-16 draw. Navy had previously swamped the University of Pennsylvania, 38-0.

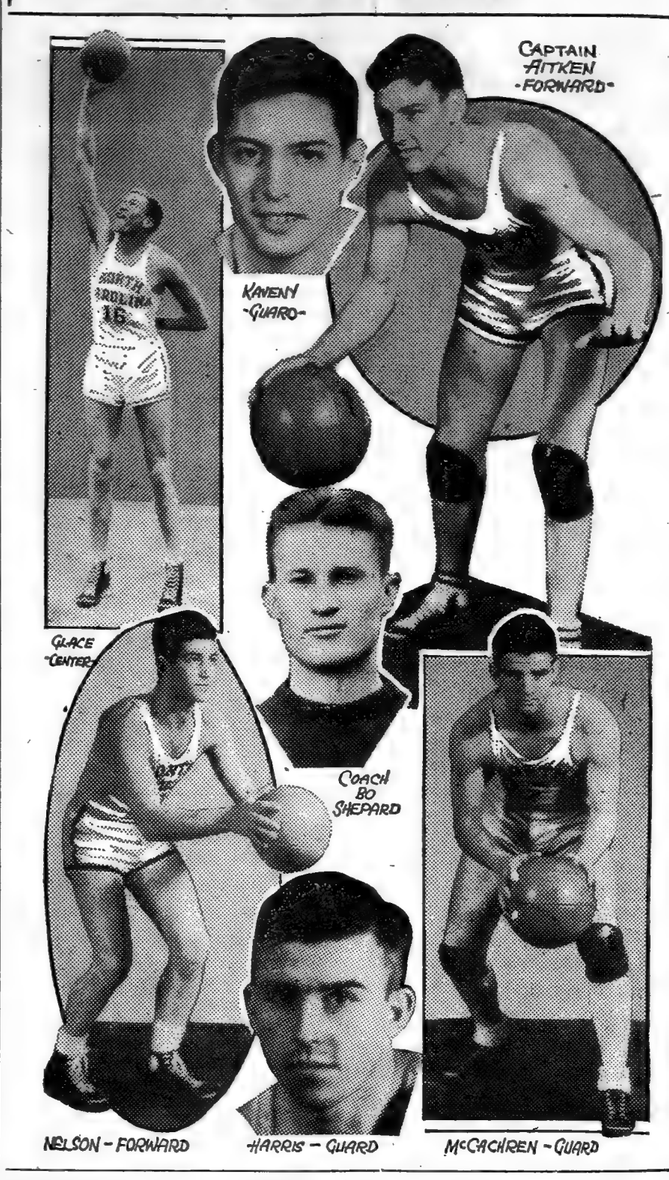
SIC Runner-up

In the 1934 Southern Conference tournament V. M. I. was nosed out of first place by the W. and L. Generals by a scant four points. Captain Currence, brilliant senior middleweight contestant, won the conference title in the 165-pound division last year.

V. M. I. has a galaxy of stars on the 1935 team. They are:

(Continued on last page)

FROSH GROANERS TRAIN FOR V. M. I.



New Unlimited Candidate Undoubtedly to Wrestle in Saturday's Match.

With the approaching V. M. I. meet drawing closer, the frosh grapplers are going through hard practices in order to swing back into the winning column once again. Yesterday afternoon the long practice consisted of calisthenics, road work, and warm-up bouts.

The visiting Kaydets' strength is little known as they have had no meets as yet with any of Carolina's previous opponents. One of the matches that the visitors recently fought was with Augusta Military Academy. A severe beating was handed out by the Kaydets when they beat their opponents by a score of 33-3. The match was marked with six falls for the victors, one on a time advantage, and a loss by a time advantage in the 118-lb. class. As Augusta Military Academy is only a preparatory school, it is hard to determine their collegiate strength.

Nick Kulak, the new prospective unlimited candidate, is steadily showing improvement and should expect to see competition by next Saturday. With Kulak in the heavy division one of the weaknesses of the team will be remedied; and once more competition will be fierce among James, Gibbons, and Schulman for middleweight positions on the team.

DOWN THOSE DEVILS!

FROSH DRILL FOR OAK RIDGE PUGS

Military Academy Boasts Strong Squad and Is Favored to Win over Tar Babies.

The yearling boxers will have to show much better form if they hope to conquer the strong Oak Ridge team this Saturday in the latter's gym. The Cadets have one of the best teams in their history; one which has won more bouts via the knockout route than through decisions.

There is not a weak spot in the entire lineup, and they are especially powerful in the 119, 149, and 169-pound classes. On a whole, they comprise the most evenly balanced team that the Chapel Hillians have come up against so far this season.

Babies Weak

After a week of intense training the frosh might be sufficiently prepared to meet the Cadets on even terms; however, the present lack of interest in boxing shown by the class of '38 has left the Tar Babies weaker than they were at the start of the season.

Just recently, freshman coach Marty Levinson was forced to send out an emergency call for more boxers. The fact that it went unheeded, shows a lack of fighting spirit among the first

(Continued on last page)

Today's Mural Card

4:30—(1) St. Anthony Hall vs. Zeta Psi, (2) Mangum No. 1 vs. Manly, (3) A. T. O. vs. Phi Alpha.

5:30—(1) D. K. E. vs. Sigma Chi, (2) Ruffin vs. Grimes, (3) Delta Tau Delta vs. Sigma Nu.

Patronize Our Advertisers

MOSCOW SUMMER SCHOOL

OPENS REGISTRATION FOR 500 STUDENTS

Last year students and graduates of 60 universities in 20 States and 4 foreign countries enrolled in the Anglo-American Section of Moscow University. 1935 registration now open to limited number. Summer session July 16—August 25, includes approximately 4 weeks resident study in Moscow and 2 weeks field travel through U.S.S.R. Courses deal with education, art, economics, literature, social sciences and Russian. Instruction in English language by prominent Soviet professors. American advisors: Profs. George S. Counts and Heber Harper, Teachers College, Columbia University. Write for booklet NC-2 to:

EDUCATIONAL DEPT.
INTOURIST, Inc.
545 Fifth Ave., New York

Babies Rout Duke Imps; Nine Point Rally Brings Thrilling 34-29 Victory

Box Score

CAROLINA	G	F	TP
Mullis, f	1	2	4
Boone, f	1	0	2
Potts, f	2	0	4
Meroney, c	1	2	4
Grubb, g	2	0	4
Ruth, g	7	2	16
	14	6	34

DUKE	G	F	TP
Lewis, f	0	0	0
Quick, f	0	1	1
Dean, f	3	1	7
Griffith, f	1	0	2
Edwards, c	7	2	16
Scott, g	0	1	1
Dooley, g	1	0	2
	12	5	29

Referee: Knight.

Score at half: Carolina 13, Duke 11.

TRACKMEN START HARD WORKOUTS

Group Drills for Both Frosh and Varsity to Begin This Week; Charlotte Meet Soon.

All frosh and varsity track men are to start today on a program of stiff workouts, leading up to the Charlotte indoor meet and the Southern Conference games here. All men are to check in daily with the manager at the Tin Can and unless each man drills regularly he will have to turn in his equipment.

A special meeting of both frosh and varsity squads will be held sometime this week, at which Coach Ranson will outline the team's workout for the coming weeks.

Charlotte Meet Soon

The J. C. of C. games scheduled for the Armory in Char-

(Continued on last page)

Earl Ruth Breaks Loose On Scoring Rampage With 16 Tallies

Carolina Splurge in Final Three Minutes Snaps Duke Streak.

The Carolina yearling quintet blasted its way into a triple tie for Big Five freshman honors yesterday afternoon with a sparkling, last three-minute barrage, that overcame a four-point deficit and brought a 34-29 victory over the Baby Imps of Duke University on the loser's court. Nine points within the last four minutes settled the doom of the previously unbeaten Duke frosh in a most convincing manner.

Earl Ruth, one of the finest frosh basketball players at Carolina in recent years, led the Tar Baby onslaught with seven field goals and two fouls for a total of 16 points. His three floor goals in the dying minutes sent the yearlings reeling from certain defeat into a brilliant win.

Edwards Also Scores 16

His scoring accomplishment was equaled by "Mouse" Edwards, astounding center for the Duke outfit who also tallied 16 points. Despite Meroney's frantic efforts, this huge youth tossed in some of the most unusual shots ever seen, with unerring accuracy.

Dropping away from the basket, and with Meroney on his back, Edwards would toss the ball one-handed over his head; and to the amazement of all, the ball would slip through the net without once touching the backboard.

Great Team Work

The entire Carolina team

(Continued on last page)

STROWD MOTOR CO.

"Ford Products Since 1914"

CALENDAR

Chemistry freshmen.
206 Venable 10:30

Commerce freshmen.
Memorial hall 10:30

Magazine meeting.
Graham Memorial 3:00

Co-ed tea.
Spencer hall 4:30-6:00

Playmaker try-outs.
Playmaker theatre ..... 4:30 & 7:30

Economics seminar.
202 Bingham 7:30

A. I. E. E.
Phillips hall 7:30

Radio talk.
210 Phillips hall 7:30

R. Phillips Russell.
Gerrard hall 8:00

Co-ed basketball practice.
Bynum gym 8:00

Varsity Basketball

(Continued from page three)

lina's lone defeat to date came at the hands of this same Cadet bunch, 29-19.

Lack of Reserves

Carolina's main weakness seems to be in the lack of capable reserve material. The White Phantoms will start a speedy, good-guarding five in Captain Snooks Aitken, Melvin Nelson, Jason Glace, Jim McCachren, and Paul Kaveny. But if any of these boys should tire or be forced out, Coach Bo Shepard will have no one who has shown any real stuff to send in the fray with the exception of Buck Harris.

Duke, on the other hand, can hardly boast quite as good a first string as the Tar Heels but has ten men of almost equal ability ready for action. Coach Eddie Cameron has even had some trouble deciding on his best five men.

So far this season Jim McCachren, all-Southern Conference guard, has been the big shot on the Tar Heel club with his great guarding and floor game. The rest of the boys have flashed fine form at times but not as consistently as the Charlotte ace.

Polack, also a guard, is probably the outstanding man on the Blue Devil five. Besides doing some fine defensive work, Polack has also been the leading light in the Duke attacking force.

A. I. E. E. to Convene

E. W. Winkler of the electrical engineering department will present a comparison of various sources of power at an A. I. E. E. meeting this evening at 7:30 o'clock in Phillips hall.

John Hershey, vice-president of the local branch, will talk on "Sodium Vapor Highway Illumination." His talk will be illustrated with lantern slides.

MAGAZINE MEETING

Nelson Lansdale has called a meeting of all freshmen writing for, or intending to write for, the Carolina Magazine at 3 o'clock today in 209 Graham Memorial. All interested may attend the meeting, but attendance is expected of: Mack Smith, Bill Hudson, Nick Read, Robert Nahikian, Morris Hecht, Lytt Gardner, Herbert Goldberg, Jack Atwood, Frank B. Rogers, Jr., Robert Mullen, Burr Leach, Lee Turk, and Morton Feldman.

Co-ed Tea

The co-eds at Spencer hall will entertain at their regular weekly tea this afternoon from 4:30 until 6 o'clock. All women students are invited to come and bring their friends.

Frosh Basketball

(Continued from page three)

worked with precision and outplayed its opponents throughout most of the game. In the opening half the Tar Babies seemed jinxed on the basket as shot after shot rolled heartbreakingly off the rim.

Pete Mullis, particularly, found trouble with the hoop as he outstepped Scott and broke clear under the basket only to miss on four occasions during the first half.

Ramsay Potts also played a fine game, holding his man away from the basket and being brilliant on the offense as he travelled all over the court.

Edwards Opens Scoring

The game opened with Edwards tallying twice on that remarkable shot. After Grubb scored from the side, Edwards repeated again to send Duke into a 6-2 lead.

Meroney managed to bottle Edwards for the remainder of the half, and the frosh rallied from an 11-6 deficit to roll in 7 points while holding their opponents scoreless. During this rally Ruth and Grubb contributed two pointers, and Mullis and Meroney scored on fouls, bringing the score to 13-11 at the half.

The second half opened as a repetition of the first, when Edwards went on another individual scoring spree. Within one minute he converted on a foul toss and then flung two more one-handers cleanly through the hoop, to send Duke into a 16-13 lead.

Potts and Ruth brought the Tar Heels back into the fight and then the lead commenced to see-saw from one five to the other. With but 7 minutes to play, Edwards put the Baby Imps into a lead at 24-25 that they seemed unwilling to relinquish. Scott sank a foul, and a substitute forward, Griffith, made the count 29-25 with but three and a half minutes remaining.

Then came the Carolina splurge that snapped the Duke undefeated string. Ruth tossed in a long one. Meroney dropped in a foul. Ruth scored from directly under. Boone scored on a difficult try, and then Ruth settled matters with a beautiful one-handed toss from the sideline as he charged toward the hoop.

This defeat ended Duke's eight-game streak and sent State, Duke and Carolina into a triple knot in the fight for Baby Five honors. The Tar Babies have a busy week-end, opening tomorrow with the strong Asheville High team and then taking on Darlington Prep Friday evening.

TECHNICIAN GIVES TALK ON ENGINES

Cities Service Representatives Here Monday.

A discussion on the combustion efficiency of internal combustion engines, particularly with reference to automobile engines, was conducted in Phillips hall last Monday afternoon.

Colonel Witherspoon, publicity director for the southern district of the Cities Service Company, and Mr. Foster, laboratory technician of the Cities Service Research Corporation conducted the program.

They demonstrated apparatus which checked the efficiency through analysis of the exhaust not only in its economical phases but also in its relation to health and driving efficiency.

Ademonstration of the use of a power prover in connection with an automobile in actual operation was also shown an audience of students and faculty members.

Stakes All In School Drama

May Robson and Alan Hale match repartee and skill at throwing dice, in RKO-Radio's new feature, "Grand Old Girl." Miss Robson is seen as the elderly principal of a small town high school who seeks to put Hale out of business, because he runs a place where her students drink and gamble. Mary Carlisle and Fred MacMurray play the romantic leads in the picture, which is playing today at the Carolina theatre.

Tracksters

(Continued from page three)

lotte on February 22 will afford the first chance for track followers to see how the 1935 Carolina team lines up. Possibly 10 or 15 men will see action in these Queen City games.

The men who will participate in this meet are undecided to date; and with considerable improvement several men who now seem out of the race will make the trip.

The second big event and the climax of Dixie indoor track is the gala SIC indoor carnival in the Tin Can on March 9. The Tar Heels will enter as defending champs, winners in 1934 over Virginia by one narrow point. This year Duke looms as the big rival, although Virginia and Maryland will present strong teams.

Mackie Continues Discussion

Ernest L. Mackie will continue his discussion of "An Application of Residues of Analytic Functions" at a mathematics department seminar this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The discussion will show how to evaluate infinite integrals by means of residues.

Economics Seminar

H. M. Douty will discuss "Labor and Industry in North Carolina, 1880-1900" at the economics seminar tonight at 7:30 o'clock in 202 Bingham hall.

Interested persons are cordially invited to attend and participate in the discussions.

SEND THE DAILY TAR HEEL HOME

Frosh Boxers

(Continued from page three)

year men.

The small crop of pugilists who have stuck with the squad since the practice sessions begun have progressed rapidly, and should be really fast-steppers when the Duke meet comes around. Shores, O'Herron, Bass, Benton, and Shmurak have been the standouts to date, and Oliver and Leake, the recent additions to the squad, are vastly improved, though inexperienced.

INFIRMARY INMATES

The following students were confined in the infirmary yesterday: Stanley Levitt, R. W. Stewart, Mrs. Harry Moore, Junita Green, Alta Mae Sims, Bruce Smith, T. P. Matthews, J. D. Maxwell, E. M. Edens, Carl Anderson, R. D. Richardson, E. S. Simpson, R. B. Whiteside, Frances McCraw, Bill Calloway, E. T. Berry, Fred Scherer, Tom Hines, and Louis Conte.

Co-ed Basketball Practice

Freshman and senior co-ed basketball practice will be held in the gym tonight at 8 o'clock. All freshmen and senior girls who intend to come out for basketball are requested to come tonight.

English Majors to Meet

All students majoring in English who plan to take the comprehensive examination either this quarter or next are invited to meet with Professor W. F. Thrall at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow in 201 Murphey.

Murals

(Continued from page three)

vidual honors for the day with 25 points, while Poe of S. A. E. was runner-up with 24, and Hennie of Kappa Sigma was next with 19. Mosier of Phi Delta Theta, Smart of Mangum No. 2, and Scott of S. A. E. followed with 14 each.

The summaries:

Smith. (29)	Mangum (27)
Knight, f	Smart, f (14)
Nicholes, f (8)	Whitley, f (1)
Parker, c (11)	Gunyon, c (2)
LeBarron, g (8)	Caldwell, g
Coffield, g	Hendrickson, g (4)

Subs: Smithsonians—Fletcher (2), Pickler; Mangum No. 2—Smith (2), Studard (4).

Phi D. T. (28)	Chi Psi (21)
Hershey, f (4)	Holman, f (2)
Tucker, f (6)	Kavanagh, f (4)
Mosier, c (14)	Foreman, c (6)
Rogers, g (2)	Wilday, g
Williams, g (2)	Manley, g (9)

Subs: Phi Delta Theta—Wolseagle, Wilson, Ellison, Blount; Chi Psi—Waters, Dowling.

Chi Phi (47)	Z. B. T. (19)
Bitting, f (2)	Stein, f
Voliver, f (25)	Stadiem, f (4)
Boone, c (6)	Straus, c
Montsinger, g (8)	Kind, g (6)
Sink, g	Kalmanoff, g (8)

Subs: Chi Phi—Credle (4); Z. B. T.—Sins, Zauber (1).

Swain Hall (30)	Everett (19)
Allen, f (1)	Ressler, f (2)
Thomas, f (11)	Alderman, f (2)
Burton, c (2)	Kanner, c (10)
Brown, g	Willis, g
Wright, g (10)	Mallard, g

Subs: Swain Hall—Cook (2), Little (4), Strayhorn; Everett—Hobbs, Bartleman (1), McRae (4), Barber.

Kappa Sig. (49)	S. P. E. (21)
Rennie, f (19)	Pitts, f (4)
Townsend, f (6)	Carnyer, f (6)
May, c (12)	Means, c
Fulton, g (2)	Parker, g (4)
Jones, g	Danison, g

Subs: Kappa Sigma—Blackwelder, Simpson, Yokeley, Lee (4); S. P. E.—Chestnut (5), Jones (2).

S. A. E. (48)	Phi Sigma K. (5)
Andrews, f (4)	Clayton, f
Poe, f (24)	Mahoney, f (1)
Scott, c (14)	Shaw, c
Connor, g (4)	George, g (4)
Brown, g (2)	Fuller, g

Statistician Here

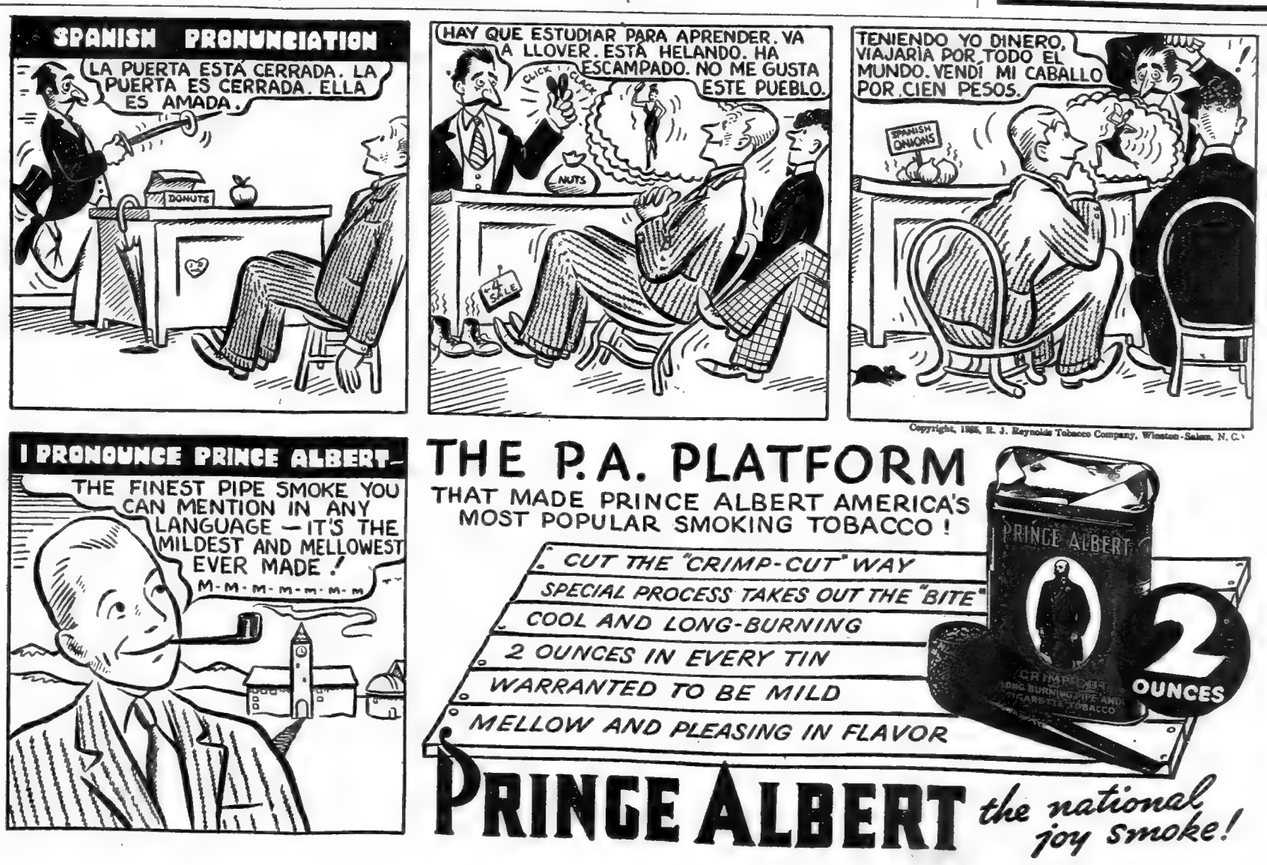
Dr. Frank A. Ross of the Department of Statistics, Columbia University, arrived here yesterday, according to an announcement by Dr. T. J. Woofter.

Dr. Ross is here to study and aid the fine work being carried on by the Institute for Research in Social Science at the University. Because of previous plans he can only remain here a week.

Wrestling

(Continued from page three)

Riley, 118; Sherard, 125; Witt, 135; Currence and Burgess, 175; and Farley, unlimited. Currence defeated both his State and Navy opponents by the fall route. Farley gained a time advantage over the Navy heavyweight grappler.



Against this great array of talent, Coach Quinlan has a quintet of sophomores, two varsity junior reserves, and one senior. However, with the Tar Heels in their best physical shape of the year, there should be many exciting bouts Saturday.

THE
Young Men's Shop
126-128 E. Main St.
DURHAM, N. C.

SPECIAL BUS
Carolina-Duke Game
Wednesday
Leave Memorial Hall 7 P. M.
Price—50c Round Trip
See Driver at Memorial Hall

—Also—
Comedy — Novelty
NOW PLAYING
CAROLINA
Midnight Show Friday
Doors Open 11:30 P. M.
"GAY DIVORCEE"
with
GINGER ROGERS FRED ASTAIRE

Copyright, 1935, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, N. C.

RY 6, 1935
ng age three)
, 125; Witt,
Burgess, 175;
d. Currence
State and by the fall
ed a time ad-
Navy heavy-eat array of n has a quin-
two varsity
d one senior.
Tar Heels in shape of the be many ex-
ay.
's Shop
ain St.
N. C.
L BUS
te Game day
Hall 7 P. M. ound Trip emorial Hall
the fuse fired the bomb blew the lid off
ale!
grand old star
ady for a Day" he story of a fighting school teacher!
and girl
May BSON CARLISLE
acMURRAY
HALE
Novelty
LAYING LINA
now Friday
11:30 P. M.
ORCEE"
th
FRED ASTAIRE
2
UNCES
al
oke!

FOREIGN POLICY LEAGUE
8 P. M.
GRAHAM MEMORIAL

The Daily Tar Heel

TAU BETA PI MEETING
7:30 P. M.
206 PHILLIPS HALL

SERVED BY THE UNITED PRESS

VOLUME XLIII | CHAPEL HILL, N. C., THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1935 | NUMBER 99

CAMERA ARTISTS ELECT OFFICERS IN LAST SESSION

George G. Moulton, Local Photographer, Re-elected Treasurer of Association.

COOK IS NEW PRESIDENT

The election and installation of new officers for the North Carolina Photographers Association brought to a close here yesterday what was regarded as the most successful and best attended convention ever to be held by that organization.

Attended by approximately 100 delegates from this and neighboring states, the convention had been in session since Sunday. A. O. Clement of Goldsboro, president, had verged upon illness since the conference opened and was confined to bed yesterday at the Carolina Inn.

Moulton, Treasurer

Leonard C. Cook of Charlotte, who presided in his place, was elected and installed as the new president at the final business session today. A. F. Harrell of Rocky Mount was elected vice-president, and George G. Moulton of Chapel Hill and Ray W. Goodrich of Henderson were re-elected treasurer and secretary, respectively.

Following an interesting lighting demonstration yesterday morning by H. B. Wills, widely known lighting and coloring expert of the Eastman Kodak Company, Professor M. D. Taylor of the University school of commerce discussed advertising and sales promotion.

Indirect Medium Best

Taylor pointed out that the most desirable and lucrative form of advertising for photographers is by word-of-mouth.

An attractive studio which suggests the artistic excellence

(Continued on page two)

DOUTY DISCUSSES INDUSTRY IN N. C.

Commerce Professor Traces Development of Lumber, Tobacco and Textile Industries.

The meeting of the economics seminar, held last night in Bingham hall, was addressed by Professor H. M. Douty of the school of commerce faculty. He spoke on "Labor and Industry in North Carolina, 1880-1890."

The speaker pointed out that although the period from 1880 to 1890, when the industrial revolution occurred in North Carolina, is nearer in point of time, it is very far away in terms of its problems. This fact illustrates vividly the rapidity of economic and social change in the state during the past 50 years.

Industrial Development

From newspapers and other sources of the period, the speaker showed that during the 20 years preceding 1900, the drive for industrialism in the state took on the aspects of a crusade.

He sketched briefly the development of the lumber, tobacco, and textile industries, emphasizing the existence of a large surplus labor supply as one of the determining factors in this development.

In this connection, the results of a study of agricultural wages during this period were presented. Finally, the speaker recounted the early efforts at trade union organization in the state.

Speaker

Harry B. Wills, special representative and technical expert of the Eastman Kodak Company of Rochester, N. Y., who was one of the prominent speakers appearing on the program of the North Carolina Photographers Association at the University during the past week.

POOL WILL LEAD 'Y' TRIP TO DUNN

Week-end Visit Is Continuation of State-Wide Program; Open Dates Rapidly Filling.

Continuing their program of deputation trips to various towns throughout the state, the Y. M. C. A. will send Jack Pool and a team of students to Dunn this afternoon for a week-end visit.

Making the trip with Chairman Pool are Albert Ellis, Gene Simmons, Nick Read, James Dees, and his quartet, and Harry F. Comer, general secretary of the University Y. M. C. A.

Three-Day Trip

The group will remain in Dunn for three days, appearing at the schools, civic clubs, and churches.

Carolina deputation teams have visited Dunn every year for the last four years, according to an announcement from the "Y" secretary. The present trip will end Sunday afternoon when the group returns to Chapel Hill.

A recent announcement from Pool included the following towns on the deputation schedule for the remainder of the year: Fayetteville, Raleigh, Durham, Rocky Mount, and Pinehurst-Southern Pines-Aberdeen.

Opens dates are being rapidly filled to complete a full schedule for week-ends until the close of school.

Last year the deputation team, under Pool's leadership, contacted over 25,000 people and visited nine different towns. Plans are materializing which will make this year's record even more impressive.

HENKEL TESTIFIES

The defense of Richard Hauptmann continued today in an attempt to show the dead Isador Fisch had received the ransom money. Gerta Henkel, Fisch's landlady, testified, however, that Fisch borrowed $4,000 which he never repaid.

Columbia Professor Here

Dr. Frank A. Ross of the department of statistics at Columbia University, is here making a study of the activities of the Institute for Research in Social Science at the University.

Pool Postpones Meeting

There will be no senior executive committee meeting today, Jack Pool, class president, announced yesterday.

Russell Gives Report on Anti-War Meeting

An appeal for a universal fight against the causes of war was expressed last night as Phillips Russell, student delegate to the International Convention Against War and Fascism held in December in Brussels, gave his report to a miserably small audience.

Introduced by Carl Thompson, Russell pictured the meeting place and described his seven American companion delegates.

A Belgium student welcomed the delegation of 375 students representing 31 nations with the ringing statement, "The students of Brussels accept no God except science, and no ideal except liberty."

A Nazi Storm Trooper attended at the risk of his life, and depicted the militaristic training of Hitler's youth mobilization.

The conference voted to support the League of Nations and the World Court; agreed to fight compulsory military training, and locally the R. O. T. C. training at State College; to oppose exploitation of man by man in the colonies; to hold a student strike against war on a date to be set by the committee in charge; and to fight for freedom of expression of faculty members and students of college campuses.

LEAGUE TO HEAR GIBBES, FLETCHER

Far Eastern Economic Phases to Be Discussed by Foreign Policy Group Tonight.

Mason Gibbes and J. S. Fletcher will lead a discussion of the economic phases of the Orient at the meeting of the Foreign Policy League tonight at 8 o'clock in Graham Memorial.

A delegate will also be elected tonight to represent the league at the conference of International Relations Clubs which will be held this month at Davidson.

Next Speaker

This meeting will be the first of two seminars on the study of the Far East and its relationship to the United States. Dr. E. W. Zimmermann will speak on this subject at the next meeting of the group.

Dr. Polanyi of Vienna, noted authority on foreign affairs, has been engaged by a member of the league to speak here April 10.

UNIVERSITY CLUB

There will be a meeting of the University Club this evening at 7:15 o'clock in the club room in Graham Memorial.

Plans for entertaining and housing the visiting athletes for the Southern Conference indoor track meet will be the chief business to come before the organization.

BROWNING TALKS AT TAU BETA PI TAPPING TONIGHT

Initiation Will Take Place at Meeting of Engineering Societies in Phillips Hall.

CRUTCHFIELD TO PRESIDE

Eligible juniors will be tapped this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the impressive semi-annual ceremony of Tau Beta Pi, national honorary engineering fraternity.

Black-hooded Tau Betes will conduct the candle-lighted initiation in room 206 Phillips hall in connection with a joint meeting of the four campus engineering societies, the A. I. E. E., the A. S. M. E., the A. S. C. E., and the A. I. Ch. E.

Browning to Speak

Chief Locating Engineer of the North Carolina Highway and Public Works Commission, R. G. Browning, will address the joint assembly in an illustrated talk depicting the construction of a new scenic highway, the "Parkway," along North Carolina's western mountain range.

The project is part of the development of a new national park on the border of North Carolina and Tennessee.

Jack Crutchfield, head of the local chapter of the society, will preside.

FRESHMEN PLAN SOCIAL FOR DUKE STUDENTS

The members of the committee in charge of the Duke-Carolina freshman social have made plans to entertain about 15 of the most prominent of the Duke freshmen the evening of the Blue Devil-Carolina basketball game, February 16.

If the proposed plans formulated by the committee in charge of the arrangements meet the approval of the freshman executive committee, a buffet supper will be served.

Is A Spade?

Gertrude Stein is coming is coming is coming to speak at Gerrard hall on February 12 (if she doesn't change her mind again, and Toklas has wired to promise that she won't).

Miss Stein comes to the University under the sponsorship of the University English department and the American Association of University Women.

Books Gone

Who is Stein and what has she written? If you don't already know, you can't find out at the library, because all of her books that were there have been taken out before now. "There has been a scurrying around to find her works . . . to see just how little sense there is in what she writes, so that she may confront a properly hostile audience," says the Chapel Hill Weekly.

One of our own professors, however, says, "That attitude is utterly silly. She is well known and liked, and people are genuinely interested in what she has to say." All this discussion is characteristic of Stein. Argument, pro and con, clothes her, like her old corduroy skirt, wherever she goes.

Gertrude Stein was born, in 1872, in Allegheny, Penn. When she was one year old, her family went to Europe, staying three years in Vienna and one year in Paris. They returned to the United States when she was five, and settled in San Francisco.

Omnivorous Reader

"I was brought up in Oakland and San Francisco," she says. "As a child I was an omnivorous reader, going through whole libraries, reading everything. I

(Continued on page two)

Graham Makes Request Today For Increased Appropriations

Board Defers Selection of Business Manager

Applicants to Be Interviewed at Meeting Next Wednesday.

The Publications Union board yesterday postponed choosing a temporary business manager for the Finjan to complete the term of Bernard Solomon, present incumbent, who will resign at the end of this quarter.

The letters of application which were on hand yesterday, but were not read, will be reviewed when the board meets again Wednesday.

All applicants for the position will be asked to be present at that time, and will be interviewed separately before a selection is made.

LOCAL SHOE SHOP DAMAGED BY FIRE

Blaze of Unknown Origin Breaks Out in Tankersley Building Early Last Evening.

Fire broke out in the University Shoe Shop last night shortly after 7 o'clock and did an undetermined amount of damage to the places of business in the Tankersley building on Franklin street. The University Shoe Shop, however, suffered the greatest loss.

The Chapel Hill fire department answered the alarm at 7:30. Theodore Best, proprietor of the shoe-repair store, had closed his shop for the night only about five minutes before he discovered the blaze.

No Insurance

He carried no insurance, and over 200 pairs of shoes were said to have been damaged. The Tankersley building, in which the shoe shop is situated, is owned by Judge E. E. Reeves of Greensboro.

Bruce's five-and-ten, next door to the University Shoe Shop, was damaged by water and smoke, although a large part of the stock on the counters was protected from water dripping from the ceiling by improvised oil-cloth covers. Smoke leaked into the New Deal Cafe through a hole in the wall, and the second story of the building was considerably damaged.

A crowd of over 200 students and townspeople watched the local fire department while the blaze was being subdued. Part of them were soaked when a hose-stream "back-fired" from the shoe shop.

Best said he did not know how the fire started, but thought that it might have been due to a carelessly thrown cigarette stub.

WINKLER AND HERSHEY ADDRESS A. I. E. E.

Professor E. W. Winkler and John Hershey addressed the local chapter of the A. I. E. E. last night.

Comparing the various sources of electricity, he explained the high cost of hydro-electric power was due to the large initial investment.

John Hershey, vice-president of the chapter, emphasized the fact that over 50 per cent of all night fatalities resulting from automobile accidents, according to major insurance companies, are caused by inadequate highway lighting.

President to Appear Before State Solons

U. N. C. Head to Ask Appropriations Committee for Restoration in Budget Funds.

ASKS FAIR CONSIDERATION

President Frank Porter Graham will present the budget request for the coming biennium of the Consolidated University of North Carolina to the joint appropriations committee of the state assembly in Raleigh this afternoon.

The budget that President Graham will ask for will include $3,356,332 for total requirements for 1935-36 and $3,395,694 for 1936-37. This is approximately a 25 per cent increase over the appropriations for the past biennium and a restoration of 17 per cent of the 32 per cent slashed from the 1929 appropriations.

Only Restoration

Dr. Graham has repeatedly emphasized the fact that the proposed increase is in reality only a partial restoration, and has often asked for "fair, not preferential, consideration."

The appropriations committee hearing will be the first test encountered by the president's increased budget proposal and will mark the entrance of the proposal into the legislative mill, whence it will not emerge for several months.

The appropriations committee will make no recommendations to the assembly until after February 15, the last day of their hearings; and its report will probably not be made until considerably later than the 15th.

The hearing this afternoon is expected to attract a large audience; and Deans J. W. Harrelson of State College and W. C. Jackson of the Woman's College will be present to add information about their institutions to the president's report.

'Y' WILL SEND 12 TO GREENSBORO

Woman's College to Entertain Representatives from Carolina and State College.

Representatives of the three Y. M. C. A. cabinets, headed by President J. D. Winslow, will leave Saturday for the Woman's College at Greensboro to attend the joint meeting of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. cabinets of the Greater University.

Dr. Bruce Curry of Union Seminary in New York will be the guest speaker for this second meeting in President Frank Porter Graham's program to strengthen the consolidation between the divisions of the University through the "Y" groups.

R. O. T. C. at State

Among the local matters to be discussed is the R. O. T. C. problem at State College.

Twelve cabinet members will represent the local Y. M. C. A., it was announced yesterday. After a buffet supper in the Y. W. C. A. hut at the Woman's College Sunday, the local group will return to Chapel Hill.

Included in the delegation from the local organization will be J. D. Winslow, Don McKee, Bob Magill, Francis Farrell, Bill MacDonald, Eli Joyner, Phil Kind, Henry Allison, Warren Haddaway, T. P. Yeatman, Phil Russell, and Jimmie Coan.

The Daily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Union Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where it is printed daily except Mondays, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Holidays. Entered as second class matter at the post office of Chapel Hill, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 for the college year.

A. T. Dill ..... Editor
Robert C. Page, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
Joe Webb ..... Business Manager
George Underwood ..... Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

EDITORIAL BOARD—Phil Hammer, chairman, Earl Wolslagel, Franklin Harward, John Schulz, DuPont Snowden, Margaret McCauley, Morty Slavin, Sam Leager, Dick Myers, Charles Lloyd, Jake Snyder, Phil Kind, Charles Daniel, George Butler.

FEATURE BOARD—Nelson Lansdale, chairman; Nick Read, Bob Browder, Francis Clingman, J. E. Poindexter, W. M. Cochrane, Willis Harrison.

CITY EDITORS—Irving Suss, Walter Hargett, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.

TELEGRAPH EDITORS—Stuart Rabb, Charlie Gilmore.

DESK MAN—Eddie Kahn.

SPORTS DEPARTMENT—Jimmy Morris and Smith Barrier, co-editors, Tom Bost, Lee Turk, Len Rubin, Fletcher Ferguson, Stuart Sechriest, Lester Ostrow, Ira Sarasohn.

EXCHANGES—Margaret Gaines.

STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER—Don Becker.

REPORTERS—Bill Hudson, John Smith, J. F. Jonas, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Hazel Beacham, Raymond Howe, William Jordan, Morton Feldman.

Business Staff

ASST. BUSINESS MANAGER ..... Butler French
COLLECTION MANAGER ..... Herbert Osterheld
OFFICE MANAGERS ..... Walter Eckert, Roy Crooks
NATIONAL ADVERTISING ..... Boylan Carr
DURHAM REPRESENTATIVE—Joe Murnick.
LOCAL ADVERTISING—Hugh Primrose, Robt. Sosnik, Eli Joyner (managers), Bill MacDonald, Louis Shaffner, Page Keel, Bill McLean, Crist Blackwell.

CITY EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE: DON McKEE

Thursday, February 7, 1935

PARAGRAPHICS

Human Relations Institute will have Minister Sze as a speaker on its program. Tsk, tsk.

We know now why there is a movement for the semester system. Some of the boys on the faculty advisory board want change for a quarter.

We bet the reason our senators want Huey Long to address them is just jealousy that we're going to have Gertie Stein.

Residence Determination

Nobody will dispute the obligation of an out-of-state student to pay a higher tuition than a North Carolina resident. As long as this institution remains state-supported, as long as the tax-paying residents of North Carolina put forth the money that maintains this University, that obligation will stand as a matter of equity.

As to the matter of the enforcement of that obligation, too many factors enter into consideration to permit a simple solution of the problem. It has become a problem, however, and it is our belief that the University can meet it better than it has in the past. We have gone along on the perfectly pardonable assumption that it is entirely up to the student to declare that obligation if he is not a resident of the state. Cases of evasion of that obligation, to judge from the fact that fewer out-of-state students attended the University a few years ago than now, should be expected to present an even more pressing problem in the future. We say "evasion" with no intention of making a blanket indictment of dishonesty; there are many students whose status can be decided only by interpretation of the trustee ruling and who may honestly think that they are entitled to be considered as state residents. Such cases are usually appealed by the student, and the committee on residence status decides whether or not he is a bona fide North Carolinian.

All of which brings us to the point that, when all is said and done, the University is responsible for enforcement of this obligation. It is not altogether a question of honor, although that may enter into the matter. Residence even by legal definition is a nebulous state of being. It depends too much on the individual case rather than on a set of rules.

In the past, the method of checking up on the right of a student to be considered an in-state resident has been a hit-or-miss proposition. Evasion of the obligation to pay non-resident tuition has been discovered by comparing registration data, which if conflicting subjects the individual to investigation; by the fact that report cards are often unclaimed when sent to false residences in the state. Neither method of checking-up is air-tight, and it is hard to say whether any method could be devised that would be infallible.

One thing the University can do immediately toward improvement of the non-resident question would be to include in the catalogue issue of the University Record as full information as possible regarding the conditions under which a student is, or is not, entitled to North Carolina residence. That has not been done, and it would help.

Pork Pie A la Mode

Immediately after pronouncing the still-born popularity of the Pork Pie hat on this campus, a reincarnation miraculously took place. Here and there, sparsely over the campus, we now find resemblances to the hatful illusions.

From the few existing Pork Pies many offsprings may be generated—anything may happen. The campus may become infested with the Pork Pie bug—all felt hats, derbies, and toppers will eventually metamorphize into Pork Pies.

Yo-yo's to Pork Pies all in one quarter of a century—it is simply marvelous. By the way, you don't happen to know where we could pick up a good Pork Pie cheap?

Education Is Really Valuable

With all that has been said about the inability of college students to obtain positions after finishing college, students now in the colleges throughout the country will find the following statement hard to believe. If the chances of the last twenty years continue in the future, a college education will return graduates an average of $70 a day.

This estimate has been based on the research carried on by a large life insurance company in the analysis of 41 million men selected from the files of the United States Bureau of Education.

The analysis reveals that over a pre-depression period, $6,000 was the average income of college graduates at the age of 60, whereas high school graduates at 60 average only $2,000 and those with only grammar schooling had fallen from $1,200 at 50 to less than half that amount at 60. The value of a college education, therefore, amounts to from $50,000 to $75,000, based on total earnings in a life of 60 years for the average college educated man, as compared to the average high school graduate. This gives the average of $70 or more for every day of a four-year college course.

The chief advantage the college graduate will have over the man with less education, according to the analysis, is that his earning power increases until he has reached the age of 60, whereas the high school graduate reaches his maximum earning power, which is only one-third as high, at the age of 40 years.

The Union Is Coming

Representatives of several campus organizations whose functions embrace studies of current state, national, and international problems, are banding together in forming the Carolina Political Union, modifying and extending the plans which have been presented in these columns favoring such an organization.

At present the plans point to a monthly forum in Gerrard hall, where representatives of all the campus discussion groups, political parties, and interested cliques will assemble by political denomination and fight out on a practical, everyday scale the political questions of the state and nation. The issues for debate, study and analysis will be decided under the present plan by a committee representing these organizations.

The main trouble with existing discussion groups has been that a presentation of facts by one or two members has always precluded any intelligent refutation by the rest of the assemblage and consequently we have seen the Di or Phi or Foreign Policy League favoring unanimously bills which perhaps only one-third of the members really advocate. We believe that to get steamed up about the political aspects of current questions will do more to make intelligent citizens than any acceptance of facts, however graphically they portray the story, can ever do.

Clearing Up The Institute

We believe there is misunderstanding among undergraduates as to the object or objects of the quadriennial Human Relations Institute, which will be sponsored here this spring.

In the first place, the institute will not be a gathering of radicals on one hand and conservatives on the other, the object being to pit the factions together in fiery debate. Decidedly on the contrary, the object is one of intellectual progress, and the program will purport intelligently to present and develop all channels of treatment of current social, economic, ethical, religious, and political problems. A cosmopolitan assortment of speakers necessarily means a cosmopolitan presentation, and such a presentation must be made before any intellectual progress can be assured.

In the second place, the institute will not be a convention of intellectual giants who will fling wierd technical terms at one another, leaving the undergraduate in the ignorant cold. Instead, it will include straight-from-the-shoulder information on topics of utmost importance, comprehensible and easily digested to the thinking young American. The four elements — "platform" presentations, seminars, interviews, and exhibits —offer ample opportunity for lay participation and digestion.

Is A Spade?

(Continued from page one)

attended Radcliffe College at Cambridge. Just like everybody else, I wanted to write, but nobody encouraged me very much. I think the first person to take an interest in my writing was Vaughn Moody . . . I was tremendously impressed with George Eliot and Louisa M. Alcott."

Miss Stein graduated in 1897 from Radcliffe, where she was a favorite pupil in psychology of William James. She then attended Johns Hopkins medical school, and specialized in brain anatomy. Her ambitions soon turned towards literature, however, and she abandoned scientific research. She studied Elizabethan prose in London for a year, and settled in Paris in 1908.

First Book

Her first book, "Three Lives," was a trio of character sketches of women. "I found money to publish it myself," she says. "No publisher would look at it. But that did not discourage me; I was not the first author who paid his own admission." Of her "Geography and Plays," she says, "I painted word portraits of my friends—Picasso, Matisse, Carl Van Vetchen, and others who came into the house."

She spent two years writing "The Making of Americans," on which she will speak here. This book was not published until almost 20 years after she had finished it. "Nobody wanted to publish the book," she explains, "and I had no money to do so myself. Finally a friend, young and enthusiastic, pushed it through." It is a record of the wanderings and mental development of her own family through three generations.

Extremist Leader

Stein is recognized as the leader of extremists in literary expression. Her style resembles and surpasses that of the ultra-modern "stream of consciousness" school. It has been said that she chooses words for sound rather than sense, and that she has always been "tremendously interested in volume and rhythm of words."

"I take things in," she says, "and they come out that way, independent of conscious process." But she adds, "All this foolishness about my writing being mystic or impressionistic is so stupid. Just a lot of rot. I write as pure, straight, grammatical English as anyone, more accurate grammatically than most. There isn't a single one of my sentences that a schoolchild couldn't diagram. They're perfectly simple and direct. Every word I write has the same passionate exactness of meaning that it is supposed to have. Every thing I write means exactly what it says."

Miss Stein was a staunch American supporter during the war and was decorated by the French Government for her work among the soldiers. She has written short stories, poems, plays, biography, novels, and opera. "Three Lives," "Tender Buttons," "Geography and Plays," "Making of Americans," and "Four Saints in Three Acts," are outstanding examples of her work. She has also written essays and lectured extensively.

Whether her work is "childish babble" or whether she is "the greatest word slinger in her generation," has not been decided by her critics, but 500 people will have a chance to decide for themselves when she speaks here next Tuesday.

New A. T. O. Pledge

The dean of students' office announced yesterday the pledging of R. B. Johnston of North Wilkesboro to A. T. O.

New Fraternity Starts Housekeeping In New Home Located On McCauley St.

Alpha Epsilon formally joined the University fraternity life last Saturday when members of the newly-formed society moved into her new home situated at 306 McCauley street.

The Alpha Epsilon home is a spacious white house, consisting of 15 large rooms, which have been furnished with new conservative furniture. The grounds surrounding the house are sufficiently large enough to permit their being used for athletic purposes.

Alpha Epsilon will hold a house warming party near the close of this month to celebrate moving into new quarters.

The membership lists 12 charter members and five charter pledges.

The members are: Philip E. Gordon, chancellor; Alex Mark, vice-chancellor; Morton Singer, exchecquer; Sidney Gordon, scribe; Lee Turk, corresponding scribe; Harry Rosenberg, Jr., sentinel; Sidney Weinstein; Melvin W. Jacobs; Lawrence Frank; Morton Feldman; Herman Steingrob; and Henry Lube.

The pledges are: Victor Shalom; Ira Sarasohn; A Mandell Kirschenbaum; George Levine; and Abe Bloom.

Photographers

(Continued from page one)

of the photographer's work, and the design and arrangement of the display case outside the studio showing samples of the photographer's work were listed as important points. He stressed the importance of direct-by-mail and newspaper advertising, and suggested special seasonal studio displays to stimulate business.

Preceding the business session yesterday afternoon, Ed Byrsdorfer of the Eastman Kodak Company discussed the technique of processing professional photographic papers. E. P. Nichols, also an expert of the Eastman company, gave an illustrated lecture on photo finishing, discussing the most improved methods used in developing.

Infirmary List

These students were confined in the infirmary yesterday: Bob McManeus, Louis Conte, R. M. Stewart, Alta Simms, Tracy Scobee, Margaret Spencer, Bruce Smith, E. M. Edens, J. S. Maxwell, I. M. Shwick, D. E. Henderson, E. S. Simpson, Carl Anderson, F. I. Dupree, E. T. Berry, Fred Scherer, and Nancy Lawlor.

Tom Hines, although still very weak, was able to leave the infirmary yesterday and return home with his parents. He had been confined since January 5 with a very severe case of influenza which nearly developed into pneumonia.

House to Speak

Dean R. B. House will make two speeches in Winston-Salem today, one before the Salem College student body and the other before the woman's club of Winston-Salem.

OUTSTANDING RADIO BROADCASTS

Thursday, Feb. 7

1:15: Frank Dailey orchestra, WBT.

3:00: Broadway Romance—Jerry Cooper, baritone; Freddie Rich orch., WBT.

4:30: Dick Messner orchestra, WEAF.

5:00: Loretta Lee, songs, WBT.

6:45: Lowell Thomas, commentator, WJZ, KDKA.

7:00: Hal Kemp orchestra, WEAF.

7:15: Gems of Melody—concert orch.; chorus; quartet; Dwight Meade, commentator, WJZ, KDKA.

7:30: Merry Minstrels, WEAF; The Street Singer, WGN.

7:45: College Prom—Ruth Etting, blues singer; Red Nichols orch., WJZ.

8:00: Vallee's Variety Hour, WPTF, WLW; Hour of Charm—Phil Spitalny's All-Girl Vocal and Orchestral Ensemble, WABC.

8:30: Forum of Liberty—Edwin C. Hill, commentator; Johnson orch.; Edward Nell, baritone; speaker, WABC.

9:00: Camel Caravan—Glen Gray orch.; Annette Hanshaw, singer; Walter O'Keefe; Ted Husing, WABC.

9:30: Fred Waring's orch., WBT.

9:45: Jan Garber orch., WGN.

10:00: Whiteman's Music Hall, WEAF, WLW.

11:00: Little Jack Little orchestra, WABC.

11:30: Eddy Duchin orchestra, WEAF; Cab Calloway orch., WBT, WLW.

Patronize Our Advertisers

Annual Savings Event

9c Sale

A ONCE-A-YEAR OPPORTUNITY TO SAVE ON NEEDS FOR THE HOME AND ENTIRE FAMILY

17 x 34-in. Towels
Unusually large for this low price—
9c Each

Raisin Fudge
Be sure to visit our dept.! You will be more than pleased.
9c lb

Waste Baskets
EXTRA LARGE
Colorful design makes these baskets very ornamental—
9c Each

Window Shades
Green or Ecru: Good quality paper fiber.
These come 3 x 6 ft., but can be easily cut down for smaller windows.
Roller not included.

Glass Tumblers
Blown unusually thin, and crystal clear. These are values—
3 for 9c

Mazda Bulbs
INSIDE FROSTED
Be careful of your eyes! Have the right bulb! 15, 20, and 60 watts—
9c

SALE STARTS SATURDAY, FEB. 9th

BRUCE'S 5c to $1.00 STORE

Duke Gets 33-27 Decision Over White Phantoms

Blue Devils Hold Lead Throughout Tilt; Nelson Tops Individual Scoring

Carolina-State Now Tied For Big Five Lead; Kunkle Stars

Polack Also Plays Brilliant Game at Guard for Duke.

Duke Gym, Durham, Feb. 6—With two nervous teams playing rough, ragged ball most of the time, Duke's basketball club handed Carolina's White Phantoms a 33-27 licking here tonight. The Duke gym was jammed to capacity for the contest.

The Blue Devil victory sent the Big Five race into another triple tossup, with State, Carolina, and Duke all in the running; each has been defeated one time and each must play a game apiece with the other two. It was the second loss of the season for the Tar Heels out of 16 tries.

Duke Superior

The battle seemed to go to the Blue Devils only because they managed to settle down most of the time. The winners with a height advantage, used a quick breaking offense and an occasional tricky snowbird to run up their margin. Most of the points were made through short shots near the basket.

Carolina appeared in a nervous strain, only settling down for one short smooth rally midway in the second half. After the score had see-sawed to 6-6, the Devils jumped into a lead which they held all the way.

Devils Lead at Half

The count went to 14-8 by half-time. Duke ran the score up to 22-12 at the start of the second half and then Carolina staged its biggest threat. Led by Captain Aitken, the Phantoms clicked to the tune of five straight field goals and a foul, making the count 21-22.

Carolina stayed close on the Blue Devils' heels for some four minutes but then Duke broke away on a series of long shots and for the last seven minutes held a safe margin.

Kunkle Stars

Kunkle was by far the star of the Duke offense. The tall forward was on his toes all the way and tallied five field goals for 10 points. He counted twice by clever snowbirds and the three others by one-handers. Riley, subbing for Kunkle, managed to score three baskets.

(Continued on last page)

Ow!

CAROLINA	FG	F	T
Aitken, f	3	0	6
Nelson, f	4	3	11
Glace, c	0	1	1
Kaveny, c, f	1	1	3
McCachren, g	1	2	4
Harris, g	1	0	2
Totals	10	7	27

DUKE	FG	F	T
Kunkle, f	5	0	10
Riley, f	3	0	6
Bell, f	0	0	0
Huiskamp, f	1	4	6
Naktenis, c	1	2	4
Pudger, g	0	1	1
Polack, g	2	0	4
Cheek, g	1	0	2
Totals	13	7	33

Score at half: Duke 14; Carolina 8.

Non-scoring subs: Carolina: Blood, g, f; Duke: Herrick, c.

Referees: Knight and Brockman.

CADETS FAVORED IN COMING MEET WITH YEARLINGS

Erickson, Del Picco, Cottington, Bonner Feature Strong Oak Ridge Boxing Outfit.

TO FIGHT AT OAK RIDGE

The Tar Babies are slowly rounding into form for their boxing meet versus Oak Ridge, and yesterday's practice found them physically fit for the Cadet battle this Saturday.

Over in Oak Ridge the soldiers are looking forward to the Carolina match which has always supplied loads of thrills and knockouts in the past. Erickson, the light heavy and recent golden gloves champ, is in tip-top shape and will probably be at his peak for the invasion of the Babies.

Oak Ridge Aces

Close behind the champ in fighting ability comes Del Picco, bantamweight; and Cottington and Bonner in the heavier classes. The little Cuban won his bout last week at W. & L. through virtue of a forfeit, and consequently will be at his best this Saturday evening. Cottington and Bonner are big fellows packing dynamite in either fist, and mixing plenty of boxing

(Continued on last page)

Old Timer Condemns Modern Pugs, Holds Barney Ross Above Herd

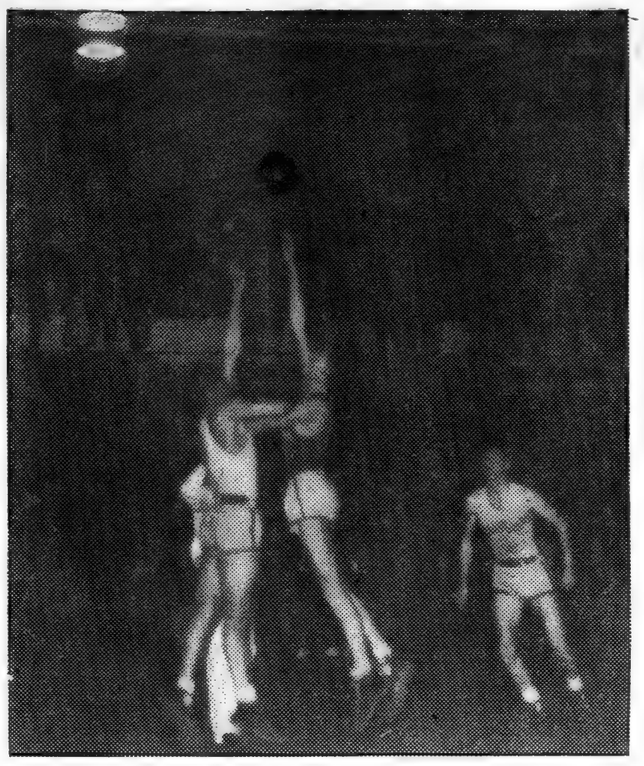
Miami, Fla., Feb. 6—(UP)—Man and boy, Jack Adler has seen all of the horse-racing and most of the boxing in this country for the past 50 years, and you can take it from him that the greatest horse since he began observing them in 1877 was Equipoise, and the greatest fighter, Sam Langford.

Jack's still following the horses—he's at Hialeah Park, where he's an official—every morning at 11, but he's all but quit following the fights.

Barney Ross Satisfies

"Can't attend them anymore," he said today as the bus bumped toward Hialeah. "They're too awful. To a man who has seen the fighters I have, watching today's crop is real punishment. One or two of them, like Barney Ross, I can stand, but 99 out of a hundred couldn't fight their way out of a beauty parlor.

"You won't believe me, but I knew a woman fighter back in the eighties that could knock the heads off most of the heavyweights of today.



That Feminine Touch

"Her name was Hettie Stewart, and she's still alive, living up in the Bronx with her husband, Tom Gillen. She's a lovely lady; and she was a lovely lady then, but she had a right hand punch that'd knock you cold. She used to box all around and it wasn't long before she had exhausted the supply of women opponents. So she started boxing the men, and she whipped as many as whipped her.

"I saw her box a four-round exhibition with John L. Sullivan, and John told me afterwards that she was one of the fastest, smartest and hittingest opponents he ever faced. And Hattie could take a punch. I've seen men nail her square on the jaw

(Continued on last page)

OPENS SECOND HALF

Tar Heel Staff Photos.

This picture was taken at the beginning of the second half of the Duke cage game last night, with Glace and Naktenis jumping.

Mangum No. 1 Continues To Win; Scores 74-13 Rout Over Manly

Ruffin, Dekes, Zeta Psi, and Phi Alpha Also Take Victories; Barnwell High Scorer.

Mangum No. 1 continued to show that it was "the team to beat" in the intramural basketball competition as it featured yesterday afternoon's games with a 74-13 triumph over a hard fighting Manly quintet.

In the four other contests played, Ruffin downed Grimes, 34-12, Dekes defeated Sigma Chi 33-24, Zeta Psi swamped St. Anthony Hall, 52-5, and Phi Alpha took A. T. O., 29-15.

With Barnwell heading the attack with 22 points, the Mangum team set out to beat its season's high scoring record of 84, and seemed well on the way as it led by a 52-4 margin at the halfway mark.

However, the Manly team seemed to spurt a bit and displayed a little better defense and held the winners to 22 points for the half, while adding eight to its own. The winners showed a well-balanced scoring attack with every man coming through with at least three field goals. Sadler, Adelman, and Broady did best for Manly.

Zetas in Easy Win

Zeta Psi continued to ride the crest of victory as it easily downed St. Anthony's willing but inexperienced team. Bill Carr looked good at the left forward post, scoring from all angles; and teamed well with Laxton to score 24 points between them.

Clark and Folger exhibited their usual good play and also came through with 10 and eight points respectively. Jeanes and Morris did best for the losers.

Sigma Chi offered the Dekes plenty of competition in the first half of their game, but could not keep pace with the fast working D. K. E. offense and lost out by a 34-22 margin. Alexander and Warren headed the winning attack with eight points each, while Bill Moore came next with seven. Simmons Patterson continued his usual fine floor work, while Reahm and Neal did best for Sigma Chi.

Ruffin Takes Second

The strong Ruffin team took its second win of the week with a 34-12 victory over its arch-rival, Grimes. Stricker took high honors with 10 points,

(Continued from page one)

Today's Mural Card

4:30—(1) Z. B. T. vs. Kappa Sigma, (2) Law School vs. Smithsonians, (3) S. A. E. vs. Phi Delta Theta.

5:30—(1) Lewis vs. Aycock, (2) T. E. P. vs. Alpha Epsilon, (3) Beta Theta Pi vs. Theta Kappa Nu.

GRIDDERS SLATED FOR SCRIMMAGE THIS SATURDAY

Saturday Workout Not to Take Form of Regulation Game As Last Week.

SOPHOMORES STAND OUT

Coach Carl Snavely's winter gridders are slated to engage in another scrimmage Saturday afternoon at 3:30. The work will not take the form of a regulation game, but will feature individual instruction and perfecting plays.

In an intra-squad game last Saturday, the winter gridders were divided into "Blue" and "White" teams. Neither outfit managed to score, but on one occasion the "Blues," composed mostly of veterans, advanced within five yards of the "White" goal-marker.

Harry Montgomery, quarterback, and Herman Snyder, blocking back, co-captains of next season's team, along with Jim Hutchins, fullback, contributed bits of fine play during the scrimmage. The punting ability displayed by Jackson was one of the features.

Art Ditt, fullback, Ed Palmer, tackle, and Andy Bershak, end, all from the 1934 freshman team, have been standing out in practice this winter.

The Tar Heels are now in the fourth week of their winter training.

SCHEDULE CHANGE

The basketball game between Darlington Prep and UNC frosh scheduled for tomorrow night has been cancelled, according to reports from Bo Shepard. The Darlington officials requested to be released from the game due to injuries and sickness on the team.

Wrestlers Meet Strong VMI Club Here Saturday

YEARLING CAGERS PLAY ASHEVILLE TONIGHT, TIN CAN

Tar Babies Hope to Continue Fine Play This Week-end Versus Strong Club.

GAME TO START AT 8 P. M.

The revamped freshman quintet continues on its merry path tonight when they face the strong Asheville high school team from the western part of the state in the Tin Can. The game will start at 8 o'clock.

Since their recent victory over the Duke frosh, the Carolina players have been resting in anticipation for this coming battle.

Ramsay Potts has definitely clinched first string honors as a forward, making the first team composed of himself, Mullis, Meroney, Ruth and Grubb.

Ruth Is Star

Earl Ruth is the boy being watched in the frosh lineup nowadays. His remarkable field generalship and cool-headed play have carried the yearlings through some of the tensest of moments.

No instance is more pronounced than his performance in Tuesday's encounter with the Imps. Duke had stepped into a large lead in the last few moments, and the desperate Tar Babies floundered about in an attempt to stave off defeat. It was Ruth's coolness and sureness that carried them through those last few moments in their great scoring drive to victory.

This Asheville team is not known much in this vicinity but recently defeated Charlotte high school as decisively as the Carolina frosh had done. The fact that McCachren, Charlotte ace, was in the encounter, makes the Asheville 47-27 win more impressive.

Tuesday evening, the Asheville high schoolers routed the Clemson frosh badly, and this team seems capable of pressing the Babies to the very limit in tonight's contest.

FROSH GRAPPLERS DRILL FOR MEET

Love and Ford to Defend Unbeaten Records Against VMI Yearlings Saturday.

The frosh grapplers went through their next to last hard workout before the coming match with V. M. I. Calisthenics, road work, and individual bouts as usual occupied the time of yesterday's practice.

This week's visiting Kaydets are the successors of the team which lost to the crack Carolina frosh team of last year by the narrow score of 14-16. In their last encounter with the baby Tar Heel grapplers one of their men broke the winning streak of Douglas, who along with three others had gone through an undefeated season.

On the present team there are only two men who have not suffered losses this year. Ford and Love have yet to meet defeat in any weight, while James, although losing an unlimited bout, has won all his 165-pound bouts by falls.

In the match with V. M. I. James is expected to wrestle in his regular weight division due to the fact that the heavy position on the team will be filled by Kulak. Ford in the 135-lb. class and Love at 175-lb. along with James will defy their next opponents to break their string of victories in their respective classes.

Kaydets Bring Fast Array of SIC Stars

Umstead-Riley, Douglas-Sherard and Ward-Witt to Feature.

THRILLER IN 165 DIVISION

When the Carolina and V. M. I. wrestling teams clash Saturday, enthusiasts of the mat sport will have the opportunity of seeing a number of outstanding grappling stars in action.

In the bantamweight division Frank Umstead, brilliant Tar Heel grappler who has been defeated only once in varsity competition, will battle Riley, capable Kaydet contestant. Riley is a junior while Umstead is competing for the first time under varsity fire.

Undefeated Kaydet

Ed Douglas, 125-pounder, meets Sherard of the Virginians. Sherard is undefeated to date this year and boasts a victory over Kerr, Wolfpack featherweight star.

The 135-pound division brings together Ward of the Blue and White and Witt of the military institution. Both men were beaten by Krach of State on close time decisions. There should be plenty of thrills when these two begin to mix on the canvas.

Thriller in 165-lb

A real thriller is expected in the 165-pound class between Efland of Carolina and Captain Currence of V. M. I. Currence, undefeated for two years, pinned his Navy opponent last week in quick order. Efland has improved considerably since last year and should give his opponent plenty to worry about.

In the 175-pound class Gwynn of the Tar Heels will face Burgess of the visitors. Burgess was runner-up to Waldrop of V. P. I. for the 175-pound conference title in 1934, and was victorious over his Navy contender last Saturday. Gwynn gave creditable exhibitions against Croom of State and Captain Bonino of Washington and Lee.

In its opening tests this year V. M. I. lost to State 18-14 and tied Navy 16-16. Carolina trimmed V. P. I. 23-9 and was beaten by State 18-6 and by Washington and Lee 28-0 Saturday.

One EXCITING ADVENTURE
with
BINNIE BARNES
Neil Hamilton, Paul Cavanagh, Eugene Pallette, Grant Mitchell
—Also—
Comedy — Novelty
NOW PLAYING
CAROLINA
Midnight Show Friday
Doors Open 11:30 P. M.
"GAY DIVORCEE"
with
GINGER ROGERS FRED ASTAIRE

SENATE DEBATES DRIVER'S LICENSE

Both Houses in Joint Session Hear Speech by United States Chief Forester.

Raleigh, Feb. 6.—(UP)—A bill by Senator Frank H. Gibbs, calling for the creation of a civil service board for school teachers and other educational employees was introduced into the House here today, and immediately referred to the committee on education.

The House received 19 new bills, the Senate, 6. The Senate debated all morning on the driver's license bill. Senator Rivers D. Johnson of Warsaw suggested that the operation of school busses be placed under the highway department. Debate on this measure will be resumed tomorrow.

Both houses met in joint session at noon and heard an address by F. A. Silcox, United States Chief Forester.

In the afternoon session, Representative R. G. Cherry of Gaston challenged the opponents of the present revenue measure to come out in the open with their plans. The committee reported unfavorably on the resolution by Representative T. E. Cooper of New Hanover asking Congress to pay the soldiers' bonus. Another joint resolution memorializing Congress to take the profit out of war was passed by the Senate without debate.

The appropriations committee is tonight hearing the highway commission's request for a salary increase.

Murals

(Continued from page three)

while Ogolesby found the hoop for seven.

Phi Alpha won a fast 29-15 victory over A. T. O. in the final game of the session. Hauser and Laskey headed the winning attack with 10 and nine points respectively, while Spencer led the losers with 12.

The summaries:

D. K. E. (33)	Sigma Chi (24)
Patterson, f (4)	Reahm, f (8)
Morris, f (6)	Clover, f (4)
Alexander, c (8)	Bannon, c (2)
Moore, g (7)	Neal, g (8)
Warren, g (8)	Barney, g

Subs: Sigma Chi—Rowland (2), Hancock.

Ruffin (34)	Grimes (12)
Hicks, f (5)	Snyder, f
Pool, f (5)	Gouyer, f (4)
Stricker, c (10)	Angline, c (2)
Merryfield g (4)	Umstead g (2)
Ogolesby, g (7)	Willard, g (4)

Subs: Ruffin—Hunt (1), Garrison (2).

Mangum No. 1 (74)	Manly (13)
Henson, f (14)	Marion, f
Barnwell, f (22)	Adelman, f (5)
Fox, c (12)	Deaton, c
Rhodes, g (6)	Broady, g (2)
Freeman, g (14)	Sadler, g (4)

Subs: Mangum No. 1 — Vick (6), Bryant, Drake (2).

Zeta Psi (52)	St. Anthony (5)
Laxton, f (12)	Morris, f (1)
Carr, f (12)	Hard, f
Lynch, c (4)	Jeanes, c (4)
Folger, g (8)	Fackner, g
Satterfield, g (2)	Parker, g

Subs: Zeta Psi—Maupin, Clark (10), Schultz, Haywood (4), Griffin.

Phi Alpha (29)	A. T. O. (15)
Giddens, f (2)	Hawley, f (2)
Hauser, f (10)	Spencer, f (12)
Greenberg, c (4)	Fulghum, c
Laskey, g (9)	Blanton, g (1)
Goldman, g (2)	Parker, g

Subs: Phi Alpha—Sobelson (2).

Vocational Study Group

Dean Francis F. Bradshaw will meet his vocational study group in Memorial hall this morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Presbyterian Church Gives Radio Program

The second in a series of broadcasts under the auspices of the Religious Workers Council of Chapel Hill was presented yesterday over station WDNC, Durham, by the local Presbyterian church.

Two violin solos by Miss Jane Ross, accompanied by Miss Katherine Hodges at the piano, and several selections by a male quartet of University students were heard on the program.

The Rev. Stewart gave a short talk on the subject, "The Church and General Student Situation." The program next week will be given by the Chapel Hill Baptist church.

Co-ed Cage Practice

Sophomore and junior co-ed basketball practice will be held in the gym tonight at 7 o'clock.

All sophomore and junior co-eds who are interested in coming out for the cage team are requested to be present.

KNIGHT OFF TO LECTURE

Dr. E. W. Knight, director of the summer session, left Wednesday night for Conway, Arkansas, where he will meet Saturday and Sunday with curriculum study groups of the faculty of Hendrix College.

Dr. Knight will address the Tulsa, Okla., chapter of the Oklahoma Education Association Saturday.

He expects to return to Chapel Hill Tuesday.

YEARBOOK PHOTO QUOTAS UNFILLED

Fourteen Organizations Must Arrange for Space Payment.

Copy for the fraternity section of the Yackety Yack will be sent in shortly, Agnew Bahnson announced yesterday. The following number of pictures from each of the fraternities listed below are needed to complete their respective quotas: A. T. O., 2; Chi Omega, 2; Chi Phi, 6; Chi Psi, 2; Delta Tau Delta, 5; Kappa Alpha, 3; Lambda Chi Alpha, 4.

Phi Alpha, 4; Phi Kappa Sigma, 9; Pi Beta Phi, 6; Pi Kappa Alpha, 2; Sigma Phi Epsilon, 5; Sigma Delta, 3; T. E. P., 7; Theta Chi, 2; Theta Kappa Nu, 4; Z. B. T, 4.

The following organizations are requested to make arrangements with the business manager of the Yackety Yack immediately concerning the payment of their space in the 1935 annual: Kappa Alpha, Phi Alpha, D. K. E., Phi Kappa Sigma, Pi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Delta, pharmacy school, S. P. E., freshman and sophomore classes, and Glee Club, German Club and A. S. C. E.

Senior English Students

All students majoring in English who plan to take the comprehensive examination either this quarter or next are invited to meet with Professor W. F. Thrall at 10:30 o'clock today in 210 Murphey.

SEND THE DAILY TAR HEEL HOME

Old Timers

(Continued from page three)

with a full right, only to have her wade in and put over the kayo."

Mr. Adler was asked what he thought was the trouble with boxing today.

"Only one thing—the fighters. Get good fighters and you won't have to worry about referees and judges and commissions. Referees never bothered old Sam Langford. He let his fists do the refereeing; and when he landed with that right of his, which didn't have to travel six inches to kill you, there never was any trouble picking the right winner. All they had to pick was the guy off the floor."

SCOUTS TO ENTERTAIN

Alpha Phi Omega, national honorary scouting fraternity, will conduct its second open meeting during the fall quarter tonight at 8 o'clock in 209 Graham Memorial.

All students who have formerly been scouts are invited. Pledging of candidates from this group will be conducted in a closed meeting following the open session.

Spann Speaks Tonight

Dr. Meno Spann will conduct a meeting of the Deutscher Verein tonight at 8 o'clock in 214 Graham Memorial.

Dr. Spann will deliver an illustrated lecture on the more picturesque of the German towns. The lecture will be followed by the singing of German songs.

Frosh Boxing

(Continued from page three)

ability along with their slugging.

Tiger Shores has looked good in his past workouts, and the reports from the academy indicate that the Tiger will have to be plenty good, for his opponent enjoys quite a fighting reputation in his camp.

O'Herron and Bass seem to be the only other two pugilists who stand a chance of defeating their strong rivals. However, freshman Coach Levinson has brought his charges along rapidly, and they should wage some good battles on Saturday.

Varsity Boxers

All varsity boxers are to report for practice today, it was announced yesterday.

LOST

Brown Cloth Belt with Brown Buckle. Return to Wootten-Moulton Studio. Reward.

FOR SALE

A bargain, toy show type Boston puppy, female, registered A. K. C., championship stock, fully marked, perfect head. Write Box 925 today.

Basketball

(Continued from page three)

Polack, ace guard, also played an excellent game for the winners.

The two forwards, Captain Aitken and Mel Nelson, did what little starring there was for Carolina. Nelson led both fives in scoring with 11 points. Aitken fought with all he had throughout and finally had to leave the contest during the last half as a result of four fouls.

The entire Carolina team tried frequent long shots only to miss badly time after time.

THE
Young Men's Shop
126-128 E. Main St.
DURHAM, N. C.

CAROLINA THEATRE
Sunday—Monday
Feb. 10th and 11th

COLD WEATHER SERVICES:—
Anti-Freeze and Batteries Tested Free
Willard Battery—Sales & Service
Prestone—Glycerine—Alcohol
Quick Starting Fire Chief Gasoline
Zero Power Test Texaco and Havoline Oils
Hot Water Heaters
University Service Station
H. S. PENDERGRAFT, Prop.

GRADUATE CO-EDS
10:30 A. M.
MURPHEY HALL

The Daily Tar Heel

SERVED BY THE UNITED PRESS

FEATURE BOARD MEETING
2:30 P. M.
GRAHAM MEMORIAL

VOLUME XLIII | CHAPEL HILL, N. C., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1935 | NUMBER 100

Summer Session Of University To Feature Two New Courses

Schedule Conference To Discuss Problems

Dr. Alexander of Columbia University Will Give Library Laboratory Course.

COURSE FOR GRADUATES

Plans for the 1935 summer session, released yesterday by Edgar W. Knight, director, include two new features which will be of especial interest to public school administrators and to teachers and administrators in higher educational institutions.

A conference during the week of June 17 has been provided, dealing with the tendencies and problems in public educational administration.

Leaders Present

The conference, to be conducted in round table fashion, will be led by leaders in the field of public school administration, among whom will be President Shelton Phelps, of Winthrop College; Dr. David Weglein, superintendent of the Baltimore city schools; Professors N. L. Engelhardt and Carter Alexander, of Columbia University, and Superintendent Frank Cody of Detroit. Prominent North Carolina leaders in the field will also be present to take part in the Conference.

A special course dealing with problems of the curriculum, instruction and administration in higher educational institutions will be conducted during the first six weeks of the summer session at Chapel Hill by members of the University staff and by distinguished guest lecturers.

In this course an examination will be made of certain basic conceptions which underlie and bear upon higher education. Particular attention will be given to the curriculum and problems of instruction and administration.

The course, which will be of graduate grade, is intended for persons who are now engaged or who expect to engage in higher educational work as teachers or administrators.

The course will be directed by

(Continued on last page)

SENIOR DANCE LEADERS

The senior class will meet in Gerrard hall Tuesday night at 7 o'clock to elect senior dance leaders for the junior-senior dances, it was announced yesterday by senior class President Jack Pool.

The elections are being held early so that the pictures of the leaders and their guests can be included in the Yackety Yack.

CAMPUS RECEIVES MAGAZINE TODAY

Boxing Situation Discussed in North Carolina Issue of the Carolina Magazine.

Devoting a major portion of its content to the state and the University, the North Carolina issue of the Carolina Magazine will be distributed to the campus today through the various dormitory stores.

University fighters are examined as a part of the campus social structure by Phil Alston in the featured article, "Are Carolina Boxers Pugs?" Alston is a graduate of the University, and while in school was a member of the DAILY TAR HEEL staff as well as manager of the boxing squad. He is now a resident of Arkansas.

Slave Senator

An interview with the sole surviving slave member of the North Carolina State Assembly is described by "Pete" Ivey in another feature entitled "Uncle Dred Wimberly—Slave Senator."

"Red, White, and Black in Robeson" by J. McNeill Smith depicts the existence of 13,000 Indians in Robeson county who live surrounded by the culture of the white and black races. Smith is a member of the DAILY TAR HEEL staff, and lives in Rowland.

The current issue will also include other features, stories, book reviews, and poems, and will be placed on sale on statewide news stands immediately after local distribution. The Magazine may be purchased at Chapel Hill news stands.

PLAYERS RELEASE TENTATIVE CASTS

Graduate Students in Dramatics Will Direct New Bill of Original Plays.

Tentative casts were announced last night for the three plays which are to be presented on the next Carolina Playmakers' public bill entitled New Carolina Plays, scheduled for February 28, March 1 and 2.

The new group of plays will be the 40th on the series of Playmakers' public production of one-act plays written in the University playwriting courses.

Student Directors

The directing of the productions on the Hill will be entrusted to certain graduate students in dramatics, announced Professor Frederick H. Koch.

Alton Williams of Fresno, California, will direct Patsy McMullan's "Cottie Mourons"; Douglas Hume, of Monterey, California, "Ancient Heritage" by Philip Parker; and Ella Mae Daniel of Salisbury, her own "Yours and Mine."

Williams and Daniel hold graduate fellowships in the dramatic department here.

The candidates for the casts that have been retained for further tryouts include: for "Cottie Mourons": Patsy McMullan as Cottie; Josephine Oettinger and M. McMullan as Nellie; Robert Barrett and Ben Royal as Felix; and Wilton Mason as Jerd.

"Yours and Mine": Mildred Howard and Ellen Deppe as Catherine, and Carl Thompson and Alan Waters as James.

"Ancient Heritage": Jane Cover and Louise McGuire as Sarah, Mildred Howard and Muriel Wolfe as Carrie; Carl Thompson, Bill Bonyon, and S. B. Bradley as Ed; Don Pope and Frank McArthur as Dick.

Playmakers' staff member Samuel Selden will be general supervisor for the production.

Law-Med Dance Set Will Begin Tonight

With Jimmy Poyner and his State Collegians, party of the first part, manufacturing the rythm, students of the law school, party of the second part, will desert the musty pages of Blackstone pro tem tonight to enjoy a closed dance in Bynum gymnasium. Together with their guests, parties of the third part, they should have quite a party.

Saturday afternoon the combined classes of the law and med schools will sponsor a closed tea dance. Saturday night students of the medical school will have a dance. Jimmy Poyner will furnish the music for all three dances.

It was decided yesterday that there would be no figure at the law school dance as originally intended. There will be a no-break instead.

The students of both schools will attend all the dances.

FLETCHER, GIBBES TALK TO LEAGUE ON ORIENT

Over 30 members of the Foreign Policy League heard J. S. Fletcher and A. M. Gibbes give a comprehensive review of the far-eastern situation at the league's meeting last night.

The same subject will be discussed during the next two meetings of the club. Dr. E. E. Ericson will speak at one meeting, and Dr. T. Z. Koo at the other.

Dr. Frank P. Graham Heads Delegation To Request Additional Appropriation During Biennium 1935-37 For U. N. C.

Local Cobbler Gives Graphic Description Of Shoe Shop Blaze

Only Two Dozen Pairs of Shoes Saved from Conflagration.

Only two dozen pairs of shoes were saved from the fire that gutted the interior of the University Shoe Shop in the Tankersley building Wednesday night. All the shoes, leather, and other materials in the shop were destroyed. Damage to the machinery has not yet been determined, but manager Theodore Best said yesterday that he believed it negligible.

Best gave a graphic account of the fire. He was in the front part of the establishment checking the accounts prior to closing shop when he noticed smoke rising from the floor near the shoeshelves in the rear. He hastily dialed the fire department and notified them.

By the time the firemen arrived, the flames had turned the interior of the shop into an inferno. The conflagration was extinguished only after it had broken through the tin ceiling of the shop and burned clothes belonging to a student who roomed on the second floor of the building.

In the words of proprietor Best, "I didn't carry one red cent of insurance." When asked by a DAILY TAR HEEL reporter if he intended to carry insurance when he reopened, he replied, "You bet your life I do."

TAU BETA PI TAPS PAIR OF STUDENTS

Anglis Davis and Thomas Gordy Are Selected by Honorary Engineering Fraternity.

Two juniors in the engineering school, Anglis Fergerson Davis from Waxhaw and Thomas Daniel Gordy from High Point, were tapped last night at the semi-annual ceremony of Tau Beta Pi, national honorary engineering fraternity.

The initiation was conducted in 206 Phillips hall at the joint meeting of the four campus engineering societies, the A. I. E. E., the A. S. M. E., the A. S. C. E., and the A. I. Ch. E.

Browning

Professor T. H. Hickerson, civil engineering head, introduced R. G. Browning, the guest speaker for the night. Mr. Browning is the chief locating engineer of the North Carolina Highway and Public Works Commission. Browning addressed the joint assembly in an illustrated talk on the new scenic highway along the western mountain ranges of North Carolina.

Browning stated that there was no limit to the possibilities of developing the greatest "playground of the nation." The highway commissioner also pointed out that the building of the Parkway in North Carolina is the "greatest thing to happen to the state, because it will enable people to know North Carolina better."

The project is being planned so as to be easily accessible to all parts of the country.

GRADUATE CO-ED PHOTO

All graduate co-eds are requested to meet in front of Murphey hall this morning at 10:30 o'clock to have their picture made for the 1935 Yackety Yack.

The picture has been postponed three previous times due to the fact that many of the women graduates have not been present. This morning is the deadline for the picture and it must be made at that time regardless of the number of co-ed graduates on hand.

For this reason all members of this group are urged to be in front of Murphey on time.

UNIVERSITY CLUB HAS BUSY SESSION

Rooms for Visiting Trackmen to Indoor Meet Obtained; Enrollment Drive Planned.

The regular session of the University Club last night was devoted to the transaction of various items of business.

Rooms for visiting trackmen who will attend the Southern Conference indoor meet March 9 were obtained, each of the club members signing up for one or more men.

Committees were formed to meet the visiting athletes from V. M. I. and Davidson who will be here within the next week.

The student-faculty day radio program over WPTF was discussed and plans set for an all-University Club presentation at that time.

Enrollment Drive

Members were urged to write personal letters to prospective students in a drive to increase the University enrollment next year. These efforts are being carried on in conjunction with the regular work of the alumni office.

Discussion was also held on the feasibility of University Club deputations throughout the state.

It was decided that the woman representatives to whom membership was voted last week should not be eligible until the beginning of the next club year early in April, due to the fact that only a few meetings remain for the present year. At that time the women students will be admitted with the new members of the club for 1935-36.

Hauptmann Trial

Several Witnesses Brought Forward by Defense Counsel.

Flemington, N. J., Feb. 7.—(UP) — Predictions yesterday that the wily Defense Counsel Edward J. Reilly had "just one more witness" were smashed when the attorney brought forward almost a dozen men today.

Walter Manley took the stand today and was the fifth man to swear that he saw Hauptmann in Fredericksen's Bakery on the night of the kidnaping.

Among the several other witnesses that came forward were three Sourland Mountain residents who testified that Millard Whited, state witness, had a poor reputation for veracity.

SAYS UNIVERSITY IN DIRE NEED OF 25 PER CENT RISE

Pleads That Faculty Salary Cuts Must Be Restored Partially to Uphold U. N. C.'s Position.

TALKS BEFORE COMMITTEE

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 7.—(UP)—Weary but sympathetic, the joint appropriations committee of the General Assembly today learned that for lack of proper funds, the University system of North Carolina is in danger of slipping from the high place it has gained in educational circles.

Headed by President Frank P. Graham, a delegation from the University painted a picture of impending disaster and asked for an increase in appropriations of 25 per cent, not as its right but as pure necessity.

Salary Restorations

To make up a total operating fund of $3,356,332 for the fiscal year 1935-36 and $3,395,694 for 1936-37, the delegation asked an increase over the budget estimate of $545,438 the first year and $553,548 the second. Of these increases, $389,804 for each year was requested to make partial restoration of salary cuts totalling 32 per cent.

The balance, aided by the University system's own income, would be used for returning faculty members now on leave without pay, placing present personnel on 12-months basis, promotions, added extension service staff, added summer school staff, and to fill vacancies.

The committee listened closely as Dr. Graham told of hardships imposed upon faculty members by salary cuts and traced their effect on the value and prestige of the University.

"When the last budget was reported out of committee," he said, "a man who is very close to the University told me 'This will junk the whole system.' But that has not been true.

"During the last two years, the University was saved by the faculty. Now we ask you to save the faculty."

Beginning to Slip

John Hinsdale told the committee that the University of North Carolina was once the greatest in the South and was "on its way to become the greatest in the United States, but it is now beginning to slip because of lack of money."

W. C. Woodward, a former member of the appropriations committee declared: "What the University of North Carolina will be in the next two years will be just what you write in its budget."

"The University now is like a man who has been wearing the same suit of clothes for five years," said Irving Tucker, a member of the board of trustees. "It has an accumulation of deficits and short appropriations that must be disposed of at once.

"Its professors have hung on because of their faith in the University, but they aren't going to listen to the story of hope much longer."

"It is in the hands of the colleges of the South to revolutionize the civilization of the world," Dr. Graham said, leaning forward and wagging a finger by way of emphasis. "Here is an

(Continued on last page)

When Chapel Hill's Fire Horn Says "Moo," Local Department's Mascot Prepares To Assist Flame Fighters

"That 'cow' may make a lot of noise, but it's a fine fire signal," said Fireman Partin, veteran of the Chapel Hill fire department, when a representative from THE DAILY TAR HEEL visited the engine house to find out what sort of beast emits those unearthly sounds which inform the town of a fire.

The fireman explained that the resounding moos were made by a compressed air horn. Partin went on to enumerate the advantages of the horn over the siren. "In the old days," he said, "when we had a siren, the volunteer firemen couldn't tell where the fire was, and they had to come to the station and go out with the truck. Now, when they hear the 'cow', they can go directly to the district of the fire and the engine doesn't have to wait on them."

The advantages of this system are shown by the fact that there have been few serious fires in Chapel Hill for a number of years. When asked about false alarms, the town fireman said that in most cases where false fire alarms were turned in, the people reporting the fire failed to take the trouble to investigate the supposed conflagration.

Mascot

Like all outfits, the Chapel Hill fire department has a mascot. For those who go to the fires, and it seems that most of the town turns out when the alarm sounds, the sight of a white bulldog riding atop the fire engine is familiar. The dog has never had any name, but is widely known by the vague but appropriate appellation of "White Dog." At the first twinkle of the telephone White Dog is on her feet and ready to leap upon the truck and ride yelping to the fire.

According to Partin, White Dog has a very mild temper except at the scene of the fire. There, stirred by the sense of her own importance and by all the excitement, the fireman said, the mascot will allow no other dog to come near the engine,

(Continued on last page)

The Daily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Union Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where it is printed daily except Mondays, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Holidays. Entered as second class matter at the post office of Chapel Hill, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 for the college year.

A. T. Dill ..... Editor
Robert C. Page, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
Joe Webb ..... Business Manager
George Underwood ..... Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

EDITORIAL BOARD—Phil Hammer, chairman, Earl Wolslagel, Franklin Harward, John Schulz, DuPont Snowden, Margaret McCauley, Morty Slavin, Sam Leager, Dick Myers, Charles Lloyd, Jake Snyder, Phil Kind, Charles Daniel, George Butler.

FEATURE BOARD—Nelson Lansdale, chairman; Nick Read, Bob Browder, Francis Clingman, J. E. Poindexter, W. M. Cochrane, Willis Harrison.

CITY EDITORS—Irving Suss, Walter Hargett, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.

TELEGRAPH EDITORS—Stuart Rabb, Charlie Gilmore.

DESK MAN—Eddie Kahn.

SPORTS DEPARTMENT—Jimmy Morris and Smith Barrier, co-editors, Tom Bost, Lee Turk, Len Rubin, Fletcher Ferguson, Stuart Sechriest, Lester Ostrow, Ira Sarasohn.

EXCHANGES—Margaret Gaines.

STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER—Don Becker.

REPORTERS—Bill Hudson, John Smith, J. F. Jonas, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Hazel Beacham, Raymond Howe, William Jordan, Morton Feldman.

Business Staff

ASST. BUSINESS MANAGER ..... Butler French
COLLECTION MANAGER ..... Herbert Osterheld
OFFICE MANAGERS ..... Walter Eckert, Roy Crooks
NATIONAL ADVERTISING ..... Boylan Carr
DURHAM REPRESENTATIVE—Joe Murnick.
LOCAL ADVERTISING—Hugh Primrose, Robt. Sosnik, Eli Joyner (managers), Bill MacDonald, Louis Shaffner, Page Keel, Bill McLean, Crist Blackwell.

CITY EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE: IRVING SUSS

Friday, February 8, 1935

PARAGRAPHICS

"Henderson Talks on Great Events." What! and didn't mention Koch?

"Is a Spade?" headlines campus daily. All depends, we say, on whether you're digging for fishing worms or bidding a no-trump.

Representative Gregg Cherry wants opponents of the present revenue measure to come out in the open. No doubt so they can be left out in the cold.

First Step in The Right Way

"Next public bill will be originals."

To all true Playmakers, old and new, this heading reads as a sign-board pointing the way to a promising future for the organization. The basis on which the Playmakers was founded and upon which its future rests, is original folk-drama, written by the students themselves. Last year, there seems to have been a dearth of material of this sort, and the directors resorted either to plays by the Playmakers of the past or those by modern professional dramatists, until the very spirit of the thing seemed to have become lost.

This year the Playmakers appear to be started on the up-grade and this notice is confirmation of the fact. With the spirit of folk-drama from students themselves once again the dominant note in Playmaking, the organization may be expected to rise to the heights of its former glory. Anyhow, that is the first step.

Lot of It Horse-Play

The present three-ring circus now appearing in Raleigh under the title of the State Legislature seems to be capable of doing nothing but furnishing the newspapers of the state with humorous anecdotes and funny stories.

The casual reader of our reputable dailies gets the impression after a perfunctory perusal of the papers that the legislature is accomplishing exactly nothing in the way of politics but a lot of hilarious horseplay. One reads paragraphs and paragraphs of the antics and cavortings of the men and women who hold the positions of state legislators.

Why this is so is hard to imagine. Perhaps the newspapers are to blame for devoting so much space to the ludicrous side and omitting the real object of the legislature. Perhaps the representatives themselves are at fault. They may perhaps have lost sight of the position of trust they hold. Perhaps we're wrong and maybe the state legislature is convened for the purpose of furnishing side-splitting copy for the papers.

Wherever the fault lies we offer our humble suggestion that perhaps the people of this state are growing tired of continual clowning and would prefer to see some serious business and legislation transacted. We would like to remind the legislators that their actions may determine the future course of such rather unimportant matters as education in this state. Perhaps the voters in the future will enter into the spirit of the occasion and have a little fun of their own by voting for candidates who will perhaps devote some attention to pressing problems.

Keeping Our Appointments

"Yackety Yack Pictures to Be Taken Wednesday." Such headings in the DAILY TAR HEEL seem to go in one eye and out the other. For when the hour for the taking of a certain group arrives, half those concerned are generally not present.

Students do not seem to stop to think that such pictures are important if the Yackety Yack is to be published on its present high standards; and that a picture loses half its value if some of those intended to be in it are absent. As a result, the photographer and department head are left to wring their hair and tear their hands in vain; wasting everyone's time and finally ending with a far from perfect product.

As intelligent students, we ought to be able to read the notices in the DAILY TAR HEEL and as future business-men, we ought to be able to get to an appointment on time—so, come on, all concerned and show that we can be depended upon to know when our appointments are and to keep them.

Doings of - The Y. M. C. A.

Jack Pool and his versatile group of Y. M. C. A. deputators left yesterday for Dunn on the first deputation trip of the current season. On such trips the team, usually composed of three speakers supplemented by two or three musical entertainers, visits the public schools of the community offering a program aimed to create interest among the students in Y. M. C. A. work and policies, or, as in the case of high schools, Hi-Y organizations.

Some would-be campus skeptics persist in pulling the ears of some organizations on the University lot regardless of how much good it is doing or how hard it is trying, and the majority of these reasonless dissenters seems to land, sooner or later, on the razz-worn "Y." They say that it is not accomplishing anything tangible, is not appealing to the general run of students as it should.

We do not attempt to say whether or not these accusations are true, but we do maintain that the organization is doing something constructive in its deputations, not to mention the visible work which it contributes to a well-rounded campus program in sponsoring religious activities and in its weekly cabinet sessions. The whole problem, as it appears to us, is how a person can boast enough cheek to run an institution down to rock bottom from the sidelines and at the same time be more than unwilling to offer corrective support in any form. These ambush-howlers should learn the whole truth in a matter, and then, if it does not meet with their approval, do something about it in a creative way.

Britain, France Take the Lead

The recent Franco-British accord brings at least a glimmering of hope. Its purpose, according to a joint statement issued by the two governments, is "to promote the peace of the world by closer European co-operation in a spirit of most friendly confidence."

It then goes on to mention a number of situations which are of immense importance to Europe. The first is a statement that His Majesty's government is in entire sympathy with the recent Franco-Italian agreement; and another is that Great Britain "considers itself to be among the powers which will consult together" in case either the independence or the integrity of Austria is threatened. This is a definite break from Britain's traditional policy of non-meddling in continental affairs.

Next come two statements which are meant particularly for the notice of Berlin. The first is that the two governments will support no unilateral revision of the Treaty of Versailles, meaning that Germany will not be allowed to abrogate the treaty without opposition. On the other hand there is a conciliatory proposal for a freely negotiated settlement of the question dependent upon Germany's re-entrance into the League.

The proposal that Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy, and Belgium enter an aerial-guarantee pact by which an attacked member will be assured of the combined aid of the others is perhaps the most significant statement of all. The implication that Britain and France intend to continue the plan regardless of the other nations is worthy of more than passing notice. That the two nations are "ready to resume their conversations without delay" is stated in so many words.

The outstanding characteristics of the Anglo-French statement are its frankness, the assumption that Germany will be given equality in future negotiations, and the implication that the peaceful professions of Hitler and the Nazis will be taken at face value. The condition which is most likely to assure British support of the agreement is the fact that for the first time France has shown herself willing to give Britain aid as well as to receive it.

CARO-GRAPHICS --- by MURRAY JONES & NASH JOHNSTON

Casual Correspondent

by
Nelson Lansdale

MAY WE PRESENT?

We've induced Carl Thompson to take our place for one issue of casualties, and everything which follows this preamble belongs to, and is copyrighted by, Alexander Woollcott's only rival on the campus as a teller of a good tale. It's not necessary to tell many of you that Carl was for three years a contributer to the Carolina Magazine, the Buccaneer, a member of the staff of THE DAILY TAR HEEL, and was last year a candidate for the editorship of our little organ. We give you Mr. Thompson:

Mr. Toastmaster, co-eds and Carolina gentlemen. One way to conduct a column is to get someone else to write it for you and call it a 'guest column.' There are innumerable ways of writing a 'guest column.' One way might be to follow the excellent imitation of the New Yorker "Talk of the Town" style of 'Casual Correspondent.'

Another might be to fill the galley with some of life's absurdities, one of which could be the message on a penny postal which we received lately, the first sentence stating, "I have tried to get in touch with you—but without fail." Of such claims are mad-men made.

For a column which is meant to entertain, to promote, to fill space, and to bring the readers' glances to the editorial page, some observations from our comparatively limited travels might provide good material; for we could tell you about the restaurant we saw in a little town in Virginia with the legend, "Counterfeit Cafe—You can't pass it" or about the heating firm in St. Louis which bears the ominous name of "Killrung and Grimm" or of the clothiers in Oxford, N. C., bearing the slightly redundant name of "Breedlove."

However, we feel that our attentions might better be turned to the really needy case of a youthful student at this University who, coming from the more or less primitive mountains of this more or less primitive state, found after paying all necessary University bills, he had not enough money to pay for lodging and food during the quarter.

It was this lad, incidently, who wired to his father a few days after he reached here this request, "Dear Dad. Please send me a pair of shoes. They wear 'em down here." But that does not concern the present tragedy.

As a partial solution to his problem the student settled his belongings in a tumble-down shack he discovered in the woods just outside this little—in fact, 'small'—village. In the cabin was a cook-stove for heating and making his own meals. Being a far sighted chap, he had brought his gun with him from the mountains and, depending on his ability as a cracksman which had been developed by the feudal system of the mountains for his fresh meat, he sunk the remainder of his funds in a large store of crackers and cheese, which could serve him to an extent if the hunting proved bad.

Tragic to relate, the hunting did prove bad and game was scarce and the sacrificing student's supply of crackers and cheese dwindled and dwindled as cold weather set in, and as yet he had had no luck hunting.

The quarter was in the home stretch when the student discovered that his hoarded food was disappearing much faster than he was eating it, and his chagrin was greater than his surprise when one day he saw an enormous rat leap from his store of food. However, his chagrin soon turned to anticipation when he recalled reading that many people in time of privation had eaten worse foods than rats.

He would kill the rat, thereby stopping the raids on his scanty larder and also supply himself with one good meal of fresh rat meat.

But the scoundrel was elusive and never once did the hunter get a shot at the thief. With an Old Mother Hubbard feeling, he went to his food one day and found there was just enough for one good meal.

He prepared a feast. While putting the cheese on the crackers, and taking care not to waste any, he was planning to put these delicacies in the oven and melt the cheese. His mouth watered as he thought of it.

Finally all was prepared. He carried his crackers over to the stove and opened the oven door. Out from the oven leapt his enemy the rat! The immense, red-eyed villain was so fattened he could scarcely move. Nimbly the student reached for his gun, brought it to his shoulder and took careful aim at the rat. But he couldn't hit it, because the rat was out of his range.

NEW BOOKS

According to an announcement by Elizabeth Johnson, director of the Bull's Head, the bookshop has recently added the following new books to its shelves:

"Road of Ages" by Robert Nathan; "Another Caesar," a biography of Louis Napoleon by Alfred Neumann; "Personal History," the adventures of a journalist, by Vincent Sheean; "Memory of Love" by Bessie Breuer; and "February Hill" by Victoria Lincoln.

OUTSTANDING RADIO BROADCASTS

1:00: George Hall orchestra. WBT.

1:30: Little Jack Little, songs. WBT.

4:15: Pro Arte String Quartet, WABC.

5:00: Al Pearce's Gang—Variety Show, WJZ.

6:45: Lowell Thomas, commentator, WJZ, WLW.

7:15: Plantation Echoes—Robison orchestra; Southernaires, quartet, WJZ, KDKA.

8:00: Concert, Jessica Dragonette, soprano; Bourdon orch., quartet; piano duet, WEAF.

8:15: Edwin C. Hill, news, WBT; Dick Leibert's musical revue; Armbruster quartet; Mary Courtland, songs, WJZ, KDKA.

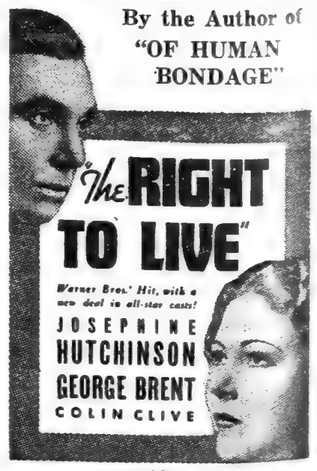
8:30: Court of Human Relations, WABC; Al Goodman orch.; James Melton, tenor; Bob Hope, comedian, WJZ.

8:45: Speech, Pres. Roosevelt, speaking to Boy Scouts of America Silver Jubilee Circus, St. Louis, WEAF.

9:00: Waltz Time, Abe Lyman orch.; Frank Munn, tenor, WEAF, WLW; March of Time, WABC, WHAS.

9:30: Hollywood Hotel, Dick Powell; Jane Williams; Ted Fio-Rito orch; Marlene Deitrich, guest star, WBT, WABC; Phil Baker, comedian; Leon Belasco orch., WJZ, KDKA; Wayne King orch., WGN.

10:00: Hal Kemp orch., WOR.



10:30: The Pause That Refreshes, 90-Piece Instrumental and Vocal Ensemble; Frank Black, conductor, WEAF, WLW.

11:15: Ozzie Nelson orch., WBT.

11:30: Noble Sissle orchestra, WJZ, WSM.

11:45: Jan Garber orch., WGN.

12:00: Cab Calloway orch., WABC, KMOX.

—Also—
Comedy — News
NOW PLAYING
CAROLINA
Midnight Show Tonight
Doors Open 11:30 P. M.
"GAY DIVORCEE"
with
GINGER ROGERS
FRED ASTAIRE

Phantoms Prepare For Clash With Gamecocks

TAR HEELS MEET S. C. AT COLUMBIA

Take Light Drill Yesterday Attempting to Get Back Form; Gamecocks Dangerous.

HENDERSON IS BIG STAR

Coach Bo Shepard gave his White Phantoms only a light workout yesterday afternoon in the Tin Can and today will send them through their last drill prior to the South Carolina encounter at Columbia tomorrow.

Goal-shooting and drilling on floor play composed the easy practice session, as the men attempted to work out of the raggedness which marked their play in the Duke game.

The Phantoms just failed to click together in their second loss of the season and hard work today will strive to put them back in their normal shape.

Gamecocks Strong

The Gamecocks will present one of the most formidable quintets in the Southern Conference. After getting off to a bad start in the early season, this Columbia team has gone undefeated in the last several weeks. Their games include victories over Auburn twice, Duke, and an easy win over N. C. State.

Captain Dana Henderson leads the Gamecock combine. This star forward with Rowland, guard, are last of the ace Texas stars which have played havoc to SIC teams for three years. Henderson has averaged around 15 points per game this season, scoring 20 on State and 17 on Clemson.

Henderson's playing mate is Laurie, another sharp-shooting cager. He is not far behind his captain in points this year. This pair of crack forwards will give the North Carolina guards one of their busiest nights of the season. McCachren, Kaveny, and Harris will have to turn in their best performances of the year to hold the sharp-shooters from their usual pace.

Tom Craig, one of the best all-around athletes in the Carolinas, takes care of the pivot position in a great way and will give Glace a real fight tomorrow.

State Cage Race Thrown Into Tie; No Five Favored

For the first time in many years the Big Five basketball race has passed the midway mark with three teams on equal terms for the championship. State, Carolina, and Duke are now in a virtual tie.

Each of the three clubs has met each of the two other outfits one time and all have suffered a setback. Duke fell before State, 28-25, then the Red Terrors dropped a 33-27 decision to the White Phantoms, and finally last Wednesday night the Carolina five went down before the Blue Devils, 33-27.

Although the Tar Heels and Wolfpack have played five contests while Duke has met only four opponents, leaving the average of the former two teams slightly ahead, the Durham boys have merely to go through the formal motions of licking Wake Forest in order to throw the state race into a real tie.

In a Real Tossup

Sportswriters or anybody else can hardly pick, with a clear conscience, a probable winner. Besides Duke's game with the weak Deacon club each of the three must meet the dangerous Davidson quintet.

Then the big trio of Red, White, and Blue or Terrors, Phantoms, and Devils must make one more round among themselves before the season ends.

If anybody can be favored it is the State team. Both of its games are at home. The Red Terrors beat the Devils at Durham and take it from the Carolina team anybody that can stop the Duke boys on their home court surely ought to do it somewhere else.

However, according to the witnesses of both the Carolina-Duke game and State-Duke contest, the Blue Devils played a much finer brand of ball against the Phantoms.

(Continued on last page)

Lewis Hands Aycock First Loss Of Mural Season, 27-22

S. A. E. Has Trouble Beating Phi Delta Theta, 19-16; in Other Contests Kappa Sigma, Law School, Beta Theta Pi, and Alpha Epsilon Get Victories; Lawyers Score 42.

Lewis dormitory continued to be the jinx of potential champions in intramural athletics; as it ruined Ruffin's chances in football so did it yesterday knock Aycock's basketball chances with a 27-22 win over its lower-quadrangle foe.

Phi Delta Theta also nearly scored an upset as it battled S. A. E. on even terms for the greater part of the contest only to lose out in the final minute of play by a 19-16 count. The other games saw Kappa Sigma, Law School, Beta Theta Pi, and Alpha Epsilon add to their win columns.

With George Leight and Derrickson heading off the offense and Hooks and Lawlor supplying the scoring power, Lewis jumped off to a fast start and held a slight lead throughout. The score stood at 19-10 for the half.

Rallies Are Short

Aycock made desperate comeback attempts in the final two periods, but everytime that it came within reach of tying things up, Lewis managed to keep out in front. Friedman and Kesselman did best for the losers with eight and six points respectively.

S. A. E.'s combine came nearest to being eliminated from the ranks of the undefeated in many games as Phi Delta Theta held a 13-11 lead at the end of the third quarter that was overtaken only in the final minute of play. The winners were out in front 9-7 at the half.

After making a bad season's start, Kappa Sigma has finally found itself and came through with its second victory of the week—a 39-18 win over Z. B. T. Rennie and Townsend shone for the winners, while Kink was outstanding for Z. B. T.

Betas Have Trouble

The scarlets of Theta Kappa Nu offered plenty of opposition to Beta Theta Pi's unbeaten team and only lost out 28-20 in a closely played game. Trip Rand went on a spree to hang up 16 points, while MacPhee headed the losers with an even ten.

Alpha Epsilon took T. E. P.'s measure 35-21 in the first contest ever played between these new rivals. Weinstein and Levine again stood out for the winners, sinking 11 and 12 points respectively, while Les

(Continued on last page)

BOXERS RESUME WORK FOR BOUTS WITH DUKE PUGS

Coach Rowe Has Given Charges Three-Day Rest; Blue Devil Meet Final Dual Contest.

GIDDINS TO FIGHT STAR

After a three-day lay-off the Tar Heel leather pushers have again resumed their workouts for the forthcoming meet with the Duke Blue Devils. The rest was a welcomed one, being the first since the season started. The pugs met V. P. I., South Carolina, Virginia, and N. C. State on consecutive week-ends.

The Duke meet is the last dual encounter of the current season for the mittmen, since the Southern Conference tourney takes place the Thursday after the Duke bouts. This is going to be hard on the members of the two squads because they will have only a few days of rest before engaging the SIC competition.

Duke Optimistic

Last year the Blue Devils fell before Carolina, 5-3, here at Chapel Hill. This year the bouts will take place in the Duke gymnasium at Durham. The Blue Devils are optimistic over their chances at victory and will be determined to win in their own back yard.

The feature bouts of the approaching meet will probably be between Diehl and Alterman, and Captain Giddins and Ray Matulawiecz. Matulawiecz will be long remembered for his scrap against Max Novich last year when both boys were yearlings. He is the former amateur champion of the Middle Atlantic states and is one of the best middleweights in college circles. He should give Giddins

(Continued on last page)

FROSH PREPARE FOR VMI PLEBES

James and Schulman to Battle For 165-Pound Position; Ford Is Only Certain Starter.

The last full practice for the yearling wrestlers before their meet with the Lexington plebes was finished yesterday and will be followed by a short session, consisting mostly of light calisthenics, this afternoon. During today's workout Coach Quinlan will announce his starters for tomorrow's match.

At present the baby grapplers have the most formidable group of possible wrestlers yet assembled this season. In the lightest division either Ehringhaus or Patrick will start the day's battle and in the 128 pound weight Tankersley will take Ehringhaus' place only if the latter does not start at 118 pounds. Ford's good record and apparent invincibility easily gives him the right to the 135 pound class.

Many Other Candidates

In the middle weights Claypoole and Gibbons will wrestle either the 145 or 155 as both men are able to weigh in at the lightest of the two aforementioned weights.

At 165 pounds James and Schulman will once again battle it out for the right to represent the team. There is also a possibility that Love might train down to 165 as he did last week and take either James' or Schulman's place. If this change takes place one of the 165-pounders will start at 175 pounds.

At the unlimited post on the team, Nick Kulak's rapid improvement during the short time that he has been out for the team gives him almost unquestionable right to begin a wrestling career tomorrow in the battle with the plebes of V. M. I.

FROSH RINGSTERS SHOW NEW FORM FOR CADET MEET

Only Five Yearlings to Fight; Ed O'Herron Demonstrates Much Improvement.

HEAVY PUGS LOOK GOOD

The improved boxing of the yearlings during yesterday's workout promises to make the meet with Oak Ridge tomorrow night much closer than the previous practice sessions have indicated.

Marty Levinson plans to use only five men in the meet as both Shmurak and Hendel have left the team. However, despite this handicap the Tar Babies stand to put up quite a battle and might upset the strong cadet pugilists.

Ed O'Herron looked plenty good in his get-togethers with Tiger Shore and Dick May. Levinson has brought O'Herron along rapidly this past week, and at present he is a much improved boxer. He is shooting his punches harder and straighter, and his defense is excellent.

Shores and May Slow

Shores and May were slightly off, but they are two good fighters, and today's practice will probably see them revert to their ordinarily fine form.

Charly Benton and Tommy Bass are still battling it out for the starting position in the 129-lb. class and due to the fact that Benton does not feel well it is probable that Bass will start.

The two newcomers in the heavier weights, Leake and Oliver, have surprised all by their fine showing to date. Both boys now step around the ring with a certain amount of assurance which bodes ill for their opponents.

The yearlings will leave Emerson field at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon for Oak Ridge.

Tar Heel Wrestlers Get Ready For Meet With VMI Tomorrow

Four Matmen Battle For Starting Berths

Douglas, Lytle, Gholson, Greengold Fight for Starting Posts In 125 and 145 Divisions.

SOPHOMORES TO FEATURE

Carolina's varsity matmen took their last hard work of the week yesterday and this afternoon will taper off in a light session in preparation for the V. M. I. clash tomorrow night. The varsity meet will follow the freshman matches which are scheduled to get underway at 7 o'clock.

There is still some uncertainty as to the starting line-up. The 125-pound berth is still a toss-up between Ed Douglas and Sam Lytle and the 145-pound division finds Gholson and Greengold still battering it out for the opening call. Otherwise the same combination that has competed in previous meets will be used.

First Bout to Feature

The varsity curtain raiser between Umstead and Riley, sophomores, promises plenty of action for followers of the mat sport. Last year as a member of the freshman aggregation Umstead pinned Riley in 4:00 minutes. The Cadet bantam has shown considerable improvement during the past season and is prepared to give his adversary a real scrap.

Carolina will be out to avenge a 20-6 defeat which the Virginians handed to them at Lexington in 1934. The Cadets have two lettermen from the 1934 contingent. Burgess and Captain Currence, while Carolina has Efland from last year.

Both mat squads are composed largely of sophomores and varsity reserves. Carolina has a quintet of second year men, Umstead, Douglas, Ward, Bonner and Ranson; two juniors, Gholson and Gwynn, and one senior, Efland. V. M. I. has four sophomores, Riley, Sherard, Brooke and Farley; two juniors, Witt and Travis; and two seniors, Burgess and Captain Currence.

Undoubtedly the outcome will rest largely on the showing of the sophomores. On paper Carolina appears a little stronger in the lighter classes while the visitors hold the upper hand in the heavier divisions.

Feature Board

There will be a meeting of the feature board of the DAILY TAR HEEL this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Today's Mural Card

4:30—(1) Pharmacy vs. Locals, (2) Mangum No. 1 vs. Kluttz Bldg., (3) D. K. E. vs. Chi Phi.

5:30—(1) Kappa Alpha vs. Phi Gamma Delta, (2) Phi Kappa Sigma vs. Phi Alpha, (3) Mayflower Club vs. Manly.

Frosh Cagers Take 38-37 Thriller From Asheville Hi

Box Score

N. C. FROSH	FG	F	TP
Mullis, f	4	1	9
Potts, f	2	0	4
Boone, f	5	1	11
Meroney, c	6	0	12
Ruth, g	1	0	2
Franks, g	0	0	0
Totals	18	2	38

ASHEVILLE	FG	F	TP
Justice, Joe, f	6	0	12
Justice, Jack, f	3	0	6
Harrison, f	1	2	4
Bartlett, c	2	1	5
Gearing, g	1	0	2
Mulvaney, g	2	4	8
Totals	15	7	37

None-scoring subs: Carolina: Hagey, c, Peacock, g.

Referee: Dave McCachren.

HI CAGERS PLAY IN TITLE SERIES TONIGHT AT 8:00

Chapel Hill Will Meet Winner of Bragtown-Apex Contest.

The boys' basketball team of Chapel Hill high school will be pointing toward the state class "B" championship tonight in the little Tin Can as it plays the winner of the Apex-Bragtown contest at 8 o'clock.

Tonight's battle will be the final game in the elimination series of group three. Apex and Bragtown met last night to determine which will oppose the local club.

FROSH BOXERS

All freshman boxers who are making the trip to Oak Ridge for the meet tomorrow night will meet at Emerson stadium tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock.

HIGH RALLY JUST MISSES VICTORY

Neither Team Holds over 2-Point Margin During First Half; Meroney, Boone Lead.

JUSTICE BROTHERS STAR

In the finest-played game of the frosh season, the Tar Babies snuffed out a thrilling final-minute rally by the Asheville High cagers last night at the Tin Can to emerge with a brilliant 38-37 win.

With but one minute remaining in the ball game, the Carolina frosh held a safe 38-33 lead which dwindled rapidly as Mulvaney, captain of the invaders, broke clear from the pack to score unmolested and Joe Justice sent a back-handed flip through the netting to draw Asheville within one point of the Babies.

With but ten seconds left to go, the desperate Ashevillers plunged for another score but Earl Ruth battered down Joe Justice's final toss as the gun barked ending the encounter.

Babies Show Form

The Tar Babies earned this win as they played superb ball throughout the night against an equally powerful high school combination that steadily threatened to come out on top.

For Carolina, Red Meroney took scoring honors with 12 points. Red played splendid ball under the basket, scoring six times on short crip shots from the side. However, Meroney displayed an uncanny knack for failing to convert on foul tries, missing six attempts.

The star for the frosh was the substitute forward, Pete Boone, who scored 11 points. Replacing Potts in the middle of the first half, the stocky forward outplayed his man easily and dropped five brilliant pivot shots through the netting to lead the frosh to victory.

Justice Boys

The Justice brothers led the Asheville five, the two accounting for 18 points between them. Joe Justice sank six field goals to keep the Tar Babies in continuous trouble and his brother kept up the pace with six points.

Carolina played minus the service of Foy Grubb, who was confined to the infirmary. Bill Franks played a fine defensive game in his position.

The opening two-pointer scored by Bartlett sent the teams into a tense first half that found neither team ever holding a greater lead than two points. The score shifted rapidly after Potts tied the count at 2-all after five minutes of scoreless play.

With Meroney pacing the frosh and Joe Justice duplicating for the high schoolers, both teams led a fast pace that resulted in the half ending with Carolina holding a one point advantage, 16-15.

Boone and Meroney gave the frosh an early lead in the second half, which the Babies relinquished but once near the end when Asheville went ahead 33-32. The frosh regained the lead and held it to the gun although the final rush by the schoolers almost brought defeat.

Patronize Our Advertisers

THE VILLAGE BEAUTY SHOP

Wishes to announce the service of Margaret Howard of Dayton, Ohio.

Special attention given to Permanent Waving, Facials, and Cosmetics.

Each week it will be our pleasure to offer patrons a special in one line of Beauty Culture.

The holder of the lucky number this month, beginning Feb. 10, gets a Free Permanent Wave. One number is given with each Shampoo and Fingerwave.

FOR APPOINTMENTS PHONE 6221

Murals

(Continued from page three)

Ostrow tallied eight for T. E. P.

Law School broke back into the win column after last week's one point defeat by Aycock to trounce the Smithsonians, 42-24. The losers held the shysters on even terms for the first half but could not keep step with the victor's fast pace. Peacock, Alexander, Bryan, and Markham led the Law offense, while LeBaron and Fletcher did best for the losers.

The summaries:

Lewis (27)	Aycock (22)
Collins, f (4)	Friedman, f (8)
Hooks, f (10)	Kornegay, f
Leight, c (2)	Guntzler, f (4)
Derrickson, g (3)	O'Nasch,g (4)
Lawlor, g (8)	Kesselman, g (6)

Subs: Lewis — Sapperstein, Parker; Aycock—Bricklemeyer.

S. A. E. (19)	Phi Delt (16)
Andrews, f (5)	Hershey, f (4)
Brown, f (2)	Tucker, f (2)
Scott, c (2)	Mosier, c (4)
Poe, g (6)	Rogers, g (2)
Connor, g (4)	Blount, g (2)

Subs: Phi Delta Theta—Wolslager, Williams (2).

Kappa Sig (39)	Z. B. T. (18)
Townsend, f (7)	Stein, f
Rennie, f (19)	Zauber, f
May, c (8)	Straus, c (2)
Fulton, g	Kind, g (8)
Dunn, g (2)	Kalmanoff, g (4)

Subs: Kappa Sigma—Steele (4); Z. B. T.—Ullman (4), Stadiem, Bluethenthal.

Beta (28)	Theta K. Nu (20)
Rand, f (16)	Schaper, f (3)
Leak, f (8)	Priestly, f (2)
Dunn, c	MacPhee, c (10)
Rasberry, g	Buffey, g (5)
Tennille, g (4)	Stauber, g

Subs: Theta Kappa Nu—Falk.

Alpha Ep. (35)	T. E. P. (21)
Weinstein, f (11)	Ostrow, f (8)
Shalom, f (4)	Lessem, f (4)
Singer, c (3)	May, c
Turk, g (5)	L. Eisenberg, g (2)
Levine, g (12)	Murnick, g

Subs: Alpha Epsilon—Mark, Sarasohn; T. E. P.—Levitch (7), R. Eisenberg.

Law S. (42)	Smithsonians (24)
Alexander f (10)	Fletcher f (6)
Bryan, f (10)	Nicholes, f (4)
Williams, c (4)	Parker, c (4)
Peacock, g (12)	LeBaron, g (8)
Markham, g (6)	Coffield, g

Subs: Law School — Rose; Smithsonians — Pickler, Knight (2).

Appropriation

(Continued from page one)

unlimited field for growth and development, lacking only the means.

"For the sake of the youth and the state your universities are trying to serve, give them the resources with which to serve."

Questions by members of the committee revolved chiefly around enrollment in the three units of the University system, upon which the appropriations committee and the budget commission are accustomed to base their calculations. Accurate data on these were promised.

Infirmary

The following students were confined in the infirmary yesterday: Bob McManeus, Tracy Scobee, Alta Simms, Margaret Spencer, Patsy McMullan, Bruce Smith, I. M. Shevick, E. M. Edens, D. E. Henderson, J. D. Maxwell, E. S. Simpson, F. T. Dupree, Carl Anderson, E. T. Berry, Herman Snyder, D. E. Pickard, Fred Scherer, and Nancy Lawlor.

RESERVE OFFICERS

The next meeting of the Durham school for reserve officers of Durham, Henderson, Oxford, Raleigh and vicinity will be held tonight in 201 Gray building, Duke University, at 8 p. m.

Firemen's Mascot

(Continued from page one)

and with a great deal of barking stands guard over the machine.

The fireman told of the time White Dog went a little too far in protecting the fire engine. "I had sent a Negro," he said, "after a shingle hook, and when he tried to take it off the truck, White Dog bit him on the arm. I had to climb down from the roof and get it myself."

"Plenty Tough"

White Dog, the firemen say, is plenty tough. Partin said that she had been thrown several times from the truck to the pavement when the machine was rounding corners. "We never stopped for her, but every time she'd get to the fire," he continued.

It is not generally known that the equipment of the Chapel Hill fire department consists of two engines. Nearly every one has seen the big American La France fire truck, but if he should take a look inside the engine house he would see in the rear of the station an antique model Ford hose truck. The machine, which looks like a toy beside the larger engine, was purchased in 1914. Although over 20 years old it will "still do forty," said fireman Partin.

Though fires add great excitement to the quiet Chapel Hill life, fireman Partin said that he would rather get his fun from other things, and that the sound of the "cow" once a day at noon was enough for him.

SEND THE DAILY TAR HEEL HOME

Where Only Love Reigned

They had love and faith, ambition and hope. Then, all was lost but love—and how love can rise to supreme sacrifice is revealed by Josephine Hutchinson and Colin Clive in an intensely dramatic scene from "The Right to Live," based on "The Sacred Flame" by Somerset Maugham, author of "The Painted Veil" and "Of Human Bondage."

Big Five Race

(Continued from page three)

The third tilt, that between Carolina and Duke, will take place in the Tin Can next Saturday night, February 16, and should be a humdinger. The Durham club took the Tar Heels with a little room to spare but Carolina is certain to be a different club when it gets the Devils in the Tin Can.

The Big Five standings follow:

TEAM	W	L
Carolina	4	1
State	4	1
Duke	3	1
Davidson	0	3
Wake Forest	0	5

Summer Session

(Continued from page one)

Deans W. W. Pierson, A. W. Hobbs, and Francis F. Bradshaw, and Professors N. W. Walker and E. W. Knight of the department of education. A special announcement about this course will be issued later.

Another feature of the summer session will be a laboratory library course taught by Dr. Alexander, who is library professor in the Teachers College of Columbia University. This course will cover the location and use of educational information and data and will be conducted as individual work by appointments with students.

BILL ASKS EXPENDITURE OF $1,500,000,000

Washington, Feb. 7.—(UP)—The administration prepared to dip a ladle into the swiftly disappearing public funds today, and dole out another $1,500,000,000 to distressed home owners.

Representative Henry B. Steagall (Dem., Ala.) and Senator Duncan U. Fletcher (Dem., Fla.) introduced identical bills authorizing the Home Owner's Loan Corporation to issue that amount in bonds. Early action was promised because of the emergency character of the bill.

SCOUTS TO HAVE JUBILEE

The Boy Scouts of America will celebrate the Silver Jubilee of Scouting in the United States this week.

Since February 8, 1910, nearly 5,000,000 boys have been Boy Scouts; and in this number are included many of the outstanding leaders in America today.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt will make a special radio address to the Boy Scouts tonight.

Oratorical Contest

The Peace prize oratorical contest for this state is to be held at Chapel Hill April 29. Those interested in entering the contest should see Mr. McKie in 210 Murphey.

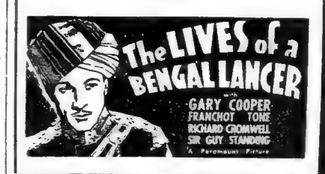
Mangum Medal

Students interested in competing for the Mangum medal, given annually at commencement for excellence in oratory, are requested to see Dr. George McKie in 210 Murphey immediately.

"Y" DEPUTATION TEAM MAKES TRIP TO DUNN

Jack Pool and his Y. M. C. A. deputation team left yesterday afternoon for Dunn, where they will appear before the various schools, churches, and civic clubs there.

Included in the group who will make the week-end trip are Chairman Pool, General "Y" Secretary Harry F. Comer, Albert Ellis, Gene Simmons, Nick Read, and James Dees and his quartet.



Varsity Boxers

(Continued from page three)

a real test.

Alterman is a clever little bantamweight and although he has performed surprisingly well this year, Diehl should be able to take him into camp. Diehl is getting a good long rest, not having engaged in a bout since his decisive victory over Southern Conference champion, Hahn of Virginia.

THE
Young Men's Shop
126-128 E. Main St.
DURHAM, N. C.

CAROLINA THEATRE
Sunday—Monday
Feb. 10th and 11th

The selection, buying and preparation of the right kinds of Turkish tobaccos for making Chesterfield Cigarettes is a business in itself . . .

Handling Turkish tobacco in the Liggett & Myers modern factory at Smyrna, Turkey.

WE have buyers in all the tobacco markets of Turkey and Greece, including Xanthi, Cavalla, Smyrna and Samsoun.

And at Smyrna Chesterfield has built the most modern tobacco plant in the Near East.

Here the spicy, aromatic Turkish leaf is sorted and graded under the eyes of our own tobacco men.

Then it is put away to age in its own climate for two years or more to make it milder and better-tasting.

When you blend and cross-blend the right kinds of aromatic Turkish tobacco with mild ripe home-grown tobaccos as we do in Chesterfield you have . . .

the cigarette that's milder
the cigarette that tastes better

© 1935, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

WRESTLING—V. M. I.
VARSITY—8:30
TIN CAN

The Daily Tar Heel

WRESTLING—V. M. I.
FROSH—7 P. M.
TIN CAN

SERVED BY THE UNITED PRESS

VOLUME XLIII | CHAPEL HILL, N. C., SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1935 | NUMBER 101

ADVISORY REPORT NOW PRONOUNCED READY FOR PRESS

Student Committee Completes Research into Consolidated Service System Here.

CHANGES RECOMMENDED

The report of the student advisory committee following a complete investigation of the consolidated service system in Chapel Hill was finished late last night and will be published within the next few days.

Included in the report are recommendations for changes in administration, physical outlay and service, a factual explanation of the service set-up, and a resume of present conditions in all the divisions of the system.

"... Spencer Hall ..."

The laundry, Book Exchange, buildings department, Swain hall, Spencer hall, business office, and the utilities departments were investigated by the committee.

The investigations and inquiries ended Thursday afternoon after having been conducted since last November. The committee, composed of Francis Fairley, Phil Hammer, and J. D. Winslow, was appointed by Virgil Weathers, president of the student body, on the recommendation of the University administration.

It will serve as a permanent student advisory committee and will act in the same capacity as a similar faculty committee in presenting student views on administrative functions and activities.

DEMOCRAT ASKS DANIELS' RECALL

Connery, Representative, Blasts at North Carolinian in Wild House Melee.

Washington, Feb. 8.—(UP)—The congressional stew-pot boiled over today when a vicious fight over alleged religious prosecution in Mexico broke out in the house of representatives. The blasting battle over Mexican religious affairs was precipitated when Representative W. P. Connery (Dem., Mass.), demanded the withdrawal of diplomatic recognition and Ambassador Josephus Daniels of North Carolina.

Connery described the North Carolinian as "co-operating with tyrants in Mexico to enslave the Mexican people."

Borah Sidetracked

It soon became evident that Senator Borah's resolution for an inquiry into Mexican affairs would be sidetracked into the Senate.

Meanwhile, the senate tied itself into a knot arguing over the farm credit bill and adjourned without voting on it. The house, which managed to pass a $99,000,000 appropriation bill to run the departments of state, justice, commerce and labor, adjourned until Tuesday.

Commuters

All students commuting between Chapel Hill and nearby towns may secure their copies of the Carolina Magazine from George Underwood, circulation manager, between 4 and 5 o'clock Monday afternoon in Graham Memorial.

Appropriations Hearing Described In Optimistic Terms By Officials

Appropriations Committee and Large Audience Listen with Unusual and Favorable Interest to Graham's Speech, Say Dean House and R. W. Madry, Director of News Bureau.

"One of the most beneficial to the University that I have ever attended," was Dean R. B. House's description of the joint appropriations committee hearing Thursday at which President Graham made his request for more money for the University.

Dean House based his personal optimism about the hearing on two points: "First," he said, "from the beginning the advisory budget commission and the budget bureau itself have been most sympathetic and cooperative with the University in preparing for the hearing."

Another Reason

His second reason was the "sympathetic, sustained and intelligent attention of the committee" during the president's long hour and twenty-minute informal speech.

The chamber in which the hearing was held was packed with onlookers who included alumni, University officials, newspapermen, plain citizens interested in the University's fate, trustees, and several members of the general assembly.

According to Dean House and to R. W. Madry, director of the University news bureau, who also attended the session, President Graham never lost the interest and attention of either the committee or the large audience.

Madry, a veteran of many hearings, also drew hope for the University from the session. He said that an unusual feature and a good sign were the numerous questions fired by the committee members at the president. Ordinarily the committee merely listens in silence. He said the questions indicated a healthy interest and reflected a sympathetic and favorable reception of the speech.

Outcome Uncertain

Both Dean House and Madry were very uncertain about the final outcome of the hearing, the former absolutely refusing to do any "prophesying," but Madry said that all signs seemed favorable to the University and that he believed her requests would be granted in the long run.

The recommendations of the appropriations committee to the general assembly carry tremendous weight, and are usually accepted, although after lengthy debate pro and con, by the assembly.

Lewis Arises and Finds Game Table Stolen

"Bing"-Pong Table Removed by Night to Unknown Location.

"If you want your table back please leave 97 cents in nickels and dimes beside the Old Well Friday nite the 8th at 10:30. We advise you not to notify the police if you want your table returned safely. Signed: The Clue."

When the Lewisites entered their entertainment room yesterday morning they found the above ransom note in the place of their beloved Bing Crosby ping-pong table. All that remained of their prized possession was one of the braces which used to hold the net.

The ransom note, on a torn piece of paper, was written in red ink and was besmeared at the bottom with five gory fingerprints which were designated by the thieves, in a facetious attempt to be helpful, as "clues."

A thorough search of the campus has been inaugurated by the bereaved inmates of Lewis, who declare themselves opposed to paying any ransom money, with considerable suspicion being directed at their neighbors in Everett and—cherchez la femme—in Graham.

Law, Medicine Schools Begin Dance Series

Set Continues with Tea Dance Today; Closes Tonight.

Members of the law school and their guests enjoyed a dance last night in Bynum gymnasium with Jimmy Poyner and his State Collegians furnishing the music.

Instead of having a figure as was originally planned, a lawyers no-break was held

This afternoon the combined classes of the law and medical schools will sponsor a closed tea dance, also in Bynum gymnasium.

Tonight the school of medicine will give its dance, closing the set.

Bedroom Decorator Is Saddened To Find Work Frowned Upon

Buildings Dept. Demands Artist to Destroy Soul's Creation; "And Pay for It."

The University of North Carolina, far-famed as a center of liberalism and higher education, made it plain the other day that it had no appreciation of things artistic, through a verdict handed down by the buildings department to a young and inspired freshman.

It all came about when Hugh White, citizen of Old West, entered his room one night last quarter in a pensive mood, leaned up against the wall, and began to express himself in the language of the true artist. He had always been accustomed to decorate his surroundings to his own fancy, and therefore saw no reason why he should not go ahead and cover the walls of his room with his own works of art.

Bathing Beauty

Acting on this mistaken idea, he went ahead and gave his flights of artistic fancy full rein. First, he painted a life-size likeness of a bathing beauty, who would have won first prize in anybody's beauty contest. Not satisfied with this contribution to the world of art, he followed it up with another painting of a girl, this time a dizzy blonde of the chorus girl type. On the opposite wall his thoughts seem to have been less pensive, for his artistic efforts materialized into the head of a racing horse.

This left the largest wall of the room still bare, so Artist White, who was now showing a marked talent in the use of the brush, turned patriotic and began an immense portrait of "the Gods gift to the United States," Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Because of its size, work on this progressed slowly, and he had just reached the step where

(Continued on last page)

ORCHESTRA OPENS FESTIVAL MONDAY

N. C. Symphony Group to Give Concert Series in Capital City Next Week.

The North Carolina Symphony Orchestra, under the baton of Lamar Stringfield, will open its "Festival" in Raleigh Memorial auditorium Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

This concert, the first in a series of five, will be their 89th presentation since June 10, 1934.

The opening program of the "Festival" will consist of the rendition of these five pieces: Iphigenia in Aulis, by Gluck; Brahms' Symphony Number One in C Minor; Indian Legend, one of the director's own compositions; Ravel's popular Bolero; and the Second Hungarian Rhapsody by Liszt.

Children's Concert

A children's concert will be rendered by the orchestra Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Tuesday night Edwin Franko Goldman will act as guest conductor, and, in addition to its own program, the symphony will present the Shaw University Choral Society in a program of Negro spirituals.

Compositions by such American composers as Hadley, Mason and Springfield himself will be featured on Wednesday afternoon's program.

The final concert by the orchestra, Wednesday evening, promises to be the best program of the series. Mr. E. F. Goldman will return as guest conductor and direct the orchestra in his own composition, the grand march "University." Also included on the final program is Earl Wolslagel, a University student, who will, as violin soloist, play Vivaldi's Concerto in A Minor.

FROSH WILL HEAR ALUMNUS-SENATOR

Allsbrook, '24, Now State Senator, to Speak Here.

State Senator Julian Allsbrook of the class of '24, will address the freshman class at its regular assembly period next Friday, it was announced yesterday by Drew Martin, chairman of the freshman committee.

Allsbrook was a prominent campus leader during his stay at Carolina, and served a term as president of the student body.

After graduation he practiced law in Roanoke Rapids until last year when he was elected to the state assembly.

He will discuss the value of a college education in various fields of public service.

Psychology Fraternity Initiates Members

Alpha Phi Delta Takes in Five In Ceremony Last Night.

Alpha Phi Delta, national honorary psychology fraternity, initiated five new members last night at its banquet in the Carolina Inn.

The new members were presented by Dr. J. F. Dashiell. Those initiated were Mrs. Eleanor Clark Evans, Raymond Evans, M. G. Heath, Irving D. Suss and Miss Dorothy Rathlingshafer.

Miss Sybille Berwanger, president of the society; Dr. H. W. Frink, Dr. A. G. Bayroff and Dr. Guy B. Johnson were speakers.

Representatives Will Organize Campus Political Union Monday

To Hear Proposals, Draft Form of Body

Organizing Committee's Plans Will Be Submitted to Campus Group's Approval.

MAY BE MONTHLY FORUM

Representatives from various campus organizations, interested students, and faculty members will meet Monday night at 8:30 o'clock in 209 Graham Memorial for the formation and organization of the Carolina Political Union.

Numerous students, responding to a suggestion in the editorial columns of the DAILY TAR HEEL that such a union be formed, have signified their interest in this procedure.

The students and faculty members who meet Monday will form an organizing committee. The organization representatives will submit plans drawn up at that time to their respective groups for consideration.

Monthly Forum Suggested

The most popular current plan stipulates a monthly forum composed of all discussion groups on the campus, members of the faculty departments, and interested students. Prominent speakers, versed in political lore, will be secured to talk and lead debates on problems of current political interest.

In addition, it has been suggested that members of the union assemble by political party and organize with floor leaders and spokesmen. The issues for debate and discussion will be chosen by a committee composed of one or more representatives

(Continued on last page)

SENIORS' TROPHY DISPLAY BALKED

More Show Cases Are Needed to Execute Project.

A definite check has been placed on the action of the senior class trophy display project until arrangements for the donation of the display cases can be completed.

Billy Pitt, chairman of the committee in charge, said yesterday that the one case already procured will not be sufficient to display the full collection of University trophies.

Harper Barnes has arranged for space in Graham Memorial to be devoted to the display while Dr. Lawson, who has been taking charge of the awards during the past several years, co-operated with the project by lending the trophies in his possession to the committee.

According to Pitt, the lack of display cabinets is the only thing hindering the progress of the committee.

NATHAN DEPLORES UNTIDY STUDENTS

Health Officer Urges Dormitory Dwellers to Keep Rooms Clean.

Deploring the absence of personal tidiness in dormitory rooms, Dr. S. A. Nathan, University health officer, has presented his latest monthly report.

According to Dr. Nathan, shoes and suitcases are under beds, uniforms are hung behind radiators, and ample closets and drawers remain empty in eight out of ten rooms.

"Although the present janitorial service is inadequate, I believe that the efficiency of their services could be improved by proper co-operation of the students in utilizing the ample drawer and closet space that is provided," he said.

"The present conditions of untidiness are inexcusable, and I suggest that this be brought to their attention in student health talks."

During the Christmas holidays, all mattresses were brushed, cleaned, furniture was cleaned, floors polished, refinished, and waxed, and shower stalls were repainted.

Eighteen janitors put in 48 hours a week cleaning the 620 dormitory rooms in use.

Local Delegation to Go To Mt. Airy Meeting

A delegation from the University will go to Mt. Airy today to attend a meeting of University alumni there. Those invited to attend from Chapel Hill are Robert B. House, Dean of Administration, Carl G. Snavely, head football coach, and J. M. Saunders, secretary of the University Alumni Association.

The meeting in Mt. Airy is sponsored jointly by the University alumni club of Surry county and the Kiwanis Club of Mt. Airy. J. F. Yokley, a classmate of Dean House, is chairman of arrangements in Mt. Airy, and is being assisted by the Rev. J. T. Mangum, a University trustee, and R. W. Sparger and J. F. Ashby, officers of the University Alumni Club of Surrey county.

The Chapel Hill delegation will remain in Mt. Airy tonight, returning to Chapel Hill tomorrow.

HOUSE OUTLINES EDUCATION STEPS

Three Stages of Learning, Dean Says, Are Receptive, Industrious, and Creative.

Educational progress was the theme expounded by Dean R. B. House yesterday morning as he addressed the freshman assembly.

Suggesting a self-examination to learn if we are making any forward steps in education, Dean House discussed the stages of progress.

"First," he said, "is the receptive stage in which we receive a certain program of work, and in a good humor, cheerful, industrious sort of way get down and do honest work," he added.

Learning for Benefit

The industrious stage, according to Dean House, is the development of a point of view in which you are trying to learn something for personal use instead of "merely trying to pass an examination.

"The creative stage which comes to only about 12 out of 10,000," he said, "is based primarily on the other two stages. Here you begin to teach yourself."

Turning to the defective stages, Dean House mentioned laziness as the first point. "Pretending to know what it's all about leads up to the attitude of just getting by. This is one of the greatest danger signals of college life," he said.

Joe Pardi of the Freshman Friendship Council, led the devotional exercises, and Dean Bradshaw presided over the meeting.

The Daily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Union Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where it is printed daily except Mondays, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Holidays. Entered as second class matter at the post office of Chapel Hill, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 for the college year.

A. T. Dill ..... Editor
Robert C. Page, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
Joe Webb ..... Business Manager
George Underwood ..... Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

EDITORIAL BOARD—Phil Hammer, chairman, Earl Wolslagel, Franklin Harward, John Schulz, DuPont Snowden, Margaret McCauley, Morty Slavin, Sam Leager, Dick Myers, Charles Lloyd, Jake Snyder, Phil Kind, Charles Daniel, George Butler.

FEATURE BOARD—Nelson Lansdale, chairman; Nick Read, Bob Browder, Francis Clingman, J. E. Poindexter, W. M. Cochrane, Willis Harrison.

CITY EDITORS—Irving Suss, Walter Hargett, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.

TELEGRAPH EDITORS—Stuart Rabb, Charlie Gilmore.

DESK MAN—Eddie Kahn.

SPORTS DEPARTMENT—Jimmy Morris and Smith Barrier, co-editors, Tom Bost, Lee Turk, Len Rubin, Fletcher Ferguson, Stuart Sechriest, Lester Ostrow, Ira Sarasohn.

EXCHANGES—Margaret Gaines.

STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER—Don Becker.

REPORTERS—Bill Hudson, John Smith, J. F. Jonas, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Hazel Beacham, Raymond Howe, William Jordan, Morton Feldman.

Business Staff

ASST. BUSINESS MANAGER ..... Butler French
COLLECTION MANAGER ..... Herbert Osterheld
OFFICE MANAGERS ..... Walter Eckert, Roy Crooks
NATIONAL ADVERTISING ..... Boylan Carr
DURHAM REPRESENTATIVE—Joe Murnick.
LOCAL ADVERTISING—Hugh Primrose, Robt. Sosnik, Eli Joyner (managers), Bill MacDonald, Louis Shaffner, Page Keel, Bill McLean, Crist Blackwell.

CITY EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE: JIM DANIEL

Saturday, February 9, 1935

PARAGRAPHICS

Poor faculty. The local cobbler burns its soles and the legislature starves its body.

Our suggestion to firemen who jump out of the upper windows is to drink beer to make them light on their feet.

Mr. Tucker says the University is like a man with a five-year old suit. We say "forget the suit but leave the man his skin."

Freedom To Choose

We note the suggestions and explanations by Herbert E. Hawkes, dean of Columbia University's undergraduate school, at a general faculty meeting here recently, relevant to curriculnm formation and adaptation in undergraduate institutions.

The key to collegiate education, as expressed in Dr. Hawkes' discussion, centers on administering during the first two years certain essential subjects, which in his mind must be included in every man's education. The last two years must be devoted to specialization or majoring in the field or fields which the student chooses.

Whereas we admit that we failed to take advantage of the opportunities last spring of expressing undergraduate opinion of curriculum formation as effecting this University, we beg to submit a current student opinion which, although we do not say it is the correct theory, disagrees slightly with this view of Dr. Hawkes.

Why is there not as much to say for the idea that the first two years should do away with the drudgery of carried-over required subjects and substitute instead the widest divergence of choice for this period so that the specialization of the last two years can be ascertained after a complete freedom in search of the proper channel? We know that our faculty is trying to give as much choice as possible during the first two years, but we also realize that the so-called "essentials" in every man's education appear the first years also. Are not the essentials different with each major, or would you say that every specialized field is built upon the same educational foundations?

We agree with Mr. Louis Graves that the revision of a curriculum "goes to the very roots of the problem of education." We also realize that "no one formula can be satisfactorily applied to all institutions." On this tenet, then, in the face of local conditions which do not permit individual curricular attention, would not the greatest freedom possible to the logical step of procedure during the first two years?

We are certain that the faculty is trying to do this in its own way. The dangers of allowing too great a freedom during the freshman and sophomore years are obvious. But in building the first two years on the "fundamental value" plan as the new ideas purport, we must be careful not to make the early requirements too rigid. We know of many cases where the continued enforcement of certain subjects on the already-too-choked-with-requirements freshmen has resulted in a non-interest and educational lethargy in the last two years which has stifled any serious appreciation of what specialization has to offer in the preparation for a life work.

Fairness Shall Be the Cry

We can, naturally, add nothing to the picture which President Frank Graham and his group presented to the joint appropriations committee of the condition and future of the Consolidated University in the shadow of continued financial under-sustenance.

As undergraduates we often feel resentful of the fact that legislators are rock-hearted enough to allow this University, one of the nation's greatest, ever to get in the condition in which it now finds itself. But not only to our youth can this feeling be attributed; our being students at Chapel Hill, delving into science and life and being succored of a liberal tradition which only Chapel Hill can give, makes us hopelessly sullen to legislative negligence.

But we must realize it is a practical, not an emotional problem. State disbursements must match state receipts; the University must suffer with the other martyrs to the tyranny of finance. What we will fight for to the last is a fair treatment, not a preferential solicitation. The legislature, for all its practicality, must realize this. The University must go on.

Inquiry Must Be Pressed

The Ward Line has had an unusually large number of disasters within the past few months, 180 people having perished on Ward liners in that time. The Morro Castle sinking was the most serious catastrophe; more than 130 people lost their lives in that disaster. Since then the Havana has floundered upon a reef, with no lives lost, and more recently the Ward Line's Mohawk collided with the Talisman, resulting in a loss of 40 more lives.

The United States Steamship Inspection Service is in charge of the trials which arise from ocean accidents. They failed completely to find the essential causes for the fire on the Morro Castle. Another failure can be checked up against them in the Havana's accident. And thus far in the Mohawk trial it looks as if they are going to fail again to get at the real truth in the most serious series of sea accidents that have ever occurred to American ships.

There are two extremely important points that the court MUST clear up if sea travel in the future is to be safe: Did the crew on the Ward liners have anything to do with actually causing the accidents to occur? And what is still more important, were the Ward liners inspected according to government regulations before they went out on those ill-fated voyages? Until those two points are satisfactorily cleared up, the court will have failed to do its duty.

Giving the Subs a Break

We suggest a proved plan which would not only bring decided benefits for the substitutes of the present football squad, but would also make intercollegiate competition possible for a large number of students who are deprived of it by the present system. The plan calls for the formation of a junior varsity or "B" squad and a 150-pound squad.

The system, although evidently new to the south, has long been successfully practiced in the northeast. Yale, Dartmouth, Princeton, Harvard, and Penn encourage either one or both of these teams. The fact that these schools are close together makes possible a lively competition among their secondary aggregations.

The advantages of a J.V. team are obvious. Under the present system those members of the squad below the third team have very little hope of getting in any but an unimportant game. However, the spirit of competition would be increased if these same players had an intercollegiate contest to look forward to from week to week. Thus their interest and ambition and, possibly, varsity chances would be increased.

While the same arguments to some extent hold true for the 150-pound team, there is the added element of giving a chance to a large number of men who would not even think of going out under the present system. There are many students, former high school stars of the 140-150-pound class, who would more than welcome an opportunity for playing intercollegiate football.

Carolina's possibilities of scheduling secondary intercollegiate games are two-fold. First is the chance that some of our near rivals, as Duke, State, and Davidson, might follow our lead and create similar teams. The second, and more immediately practicable, is that the varsities of such smaller schools as Elon, Catawba, Guilford, and Lenoir-Rhyne might be willing to furnish competition for our J.V. and 150-pound teams.

There seems to be no reason why Carolina could not work out such a plan. The presence of able coaches, ample material, and possible competition gives us every element necessary for success.

A midwesterner has set a record of some kind by waltzing 10 hours with a bottle on his head. The bottle, too, was empty.—Des Moines Tribune.

Casual Correspondent
by
Nelson Lansdale

MOORE INTRODUCTION

Any number of people yesterday told us how much better this column was than usual. And Carl Thompson wrote it yesterday. The guest idea seems to work fine—for everybody but us. So we've got another one today—football, letterman, popular man-about-town, and columnist in his own right from way back, for both the late lamented Buccanneer and its blushing, self-conscious little successor, the Finjan. We hardly need to tell you that it's George Moore. Take it away, George:

EPISTLE

Dear Mr. Lansdale
Mr. Editor
Mr. Re-Write Man
Mr. Linotype Operator
Mr. Proof-Reader
And Possibly a Reader or Two

Subbing for the Casual Correspondent is like writing other peoples' letters but, since we've engaged in a bit of whimsy in our day, quite correspondingly we caution you that we, too, casually correspond. However, Mr. Lansdale's task is not a simple one when you're caught without stories of Gertrude Stein or Carl Thompson or . . .

What's the use?

Yet, this Stein idea is getting serious. One would almost think that Lansdale is advance press noticer de lux for the old gal. But wait 'till Gertie hears of them. She'll probably say, "A good columnist is a lousy column is a columnist." We might add she'll hear just that. In fact, we'll go so far as to bet you a mug of beer she says it. Win, lose or draw: A stein will be Stein was a stein.

THOUGHTS ERE SLUMBER

Shouldn't 've drunk that coffee. Gotta read another book by Friday! Two quizzes tomorrow. Stay awake all night. Must be cold out. Boy, I'm glad I'm not a brass monkey on a night like this. What's that singin'? Haven't been on a 'possum hunt all year. What was the guy's name who wrote the Finjan's scandal column? And the boon companion who raked in doit? Does that cab do much business? The Finjan quit running the hole-in-the-ground joke.

No one else could tell a joke like Bobby Mason. And he's in Raleigh writing political news now. Why doesn't Jimmy Fuller's orchestra get around better? No torch singer? Now is the time for all good men. What ever happened to Frank Plumber? Does Bernard Solomon's retirement from campus politics mean the coup de grace for "Tom Collin's Column?" Lotta noise last Saturday night. Shouldn't 've drunk that coffee. Maybe life is a bowl of cherries but the guy what grabs is gonna get his fingers stained. Did Registrar T. J. Wilson ever miss a seven o'clock show? Or Controller Woollen the nine o'clock one?

Hear George O'Hanlon has taken the veil. Never hear much of him anymore. Or Edith Wladkowskie. Good ball team. Haven't had soap put in my mouth for a long time. Will that intramural field ever be finished? Fold your tents, Arabs. In Union there is strength. Shouldn't 've drunk that coffee.

FRIEND

A friend of ours told us yesterday the experience of a friend of his had as a result of that Riding Academy in Tuesday's DAILY TAR HEEL. This friend of his, who's easily persuaded by the allectation of such things, decided todesume a horse for an afternoon's gallop. So he ordered one sent to his room. While awaiting the horse's arrival he took just one little drink to pass the time. The horse not being there by three o'clock he called the Academy again. By four-fifteen he was pretty sore. More drinks came; dinner went; and still no horse. He gave up after that. That evening he ran into some friends of his and they made quite a night of it. Bright and early the next morning the Riding Academy received another call from him. Recognizing his name, they promised to send a horse down immediately. "Send one, hell," this guy replied. "Come down here and get him. And bring along a camera. I just shot the elephant."

POEM

Oh, sweetheart fair,
Of all there air
For you I sit and pine;
And hope someday
To hear you say,
"I yam your valentine."

"TROUVE" ITEMS

One of our best friends down in Lewis woke up last Saturday morning to find a bicycle staring him in the face. Something is amiss with the vehicle's chain and, since it's impossible to ride the thing, this friend of ours has been led to deem it a nuisance. He's been trying to get some one (no one in particular) to come and claim it. No one has.

SPEAKING the CAMPUS MIND

A Freshman Throws Out Quarters

I don't know how much chance a freshman has of voicing his humble opinion in the DAILY TAR HEEL, but I am aroused to write this as I have not seen any answer printed to a recent editorial on the fight now going on for replacing the quarter with the semester plan. The DAILY TAR HEEL has usually been rather broad in their views on current questions on the campus, but the problem which I mentioned was covered in a very narrow sense. The editorial writer is evidently very much in favor of the quarter plan without giving any consideration to the semester plan. We have had all the advantages of the quarter plan pointed out to us, and all the disadvantages of the semester plan, but where is there a good word for the proposed system? Where are mentioned the many disadvantages of the quarter system? Here they are, though I'm no statistician: With the proposed plan all those who flunk one quarter flunk, and that's all there is to it, and they have to cover the whole thing, whereas, in the semester system, if a person should haplessly fail in one half of the year, he still has a chance to pass in the remaining months of the year.

There must be something in that or Yale, Princeton, Harvard, and other widely known universities surely would have discarded this plan upon which the writer of the recent editorial strongly frowns. The writer also wrongly tried to impress on the reader that the periods of the final examinations would down them or at least give them heart failure. Under the present plan, we have three final examinations a year, whereas under the new we should have only two, and if we flunked them, we wouldn't necessarily flunk. Why did he try to make the students worry about having exams after holidays? What of that? Also, under our present plan, the student is rushed for time for he has to complete a prescribed amount of work in a certain period of time, a few months. This does not exist under the semester plan.

It is a natural thing that in the event that the systems are changed there will be involved much difficulty in changing records, printing new forms, fixing new methods of teaching, but these difficulties are small compared to the many benefits of the proposed plan for the semester system which includes a better chance for the student, less trouble for the instructor, and probably a decrease in flunking. Of course, the writer of the editorial to which I have constantly been referring, mentioned a few northern students—one from M. I. T.—who approved of the tri-quarter system used here, but has he asked what other northern students and transfers think of the matter? Now you know what I and others think.

OUTSTANDING RADIO BROADCASTS

Saturday, Feb. 9

12:00: Al Kavelin orch., WBT.
1:00: Political Situation in Washington—F. W. Wile, WBT.
1:15: George Hall orchestra, WBT.
1:45: Metropolitan Opera, WPTF.
4:15: Pro Arte String Quartet of Brussels, WABC, WBIG.
5:00: Little Jack Little orch., WBT.
6:00: Dick Messner orch., WBT.
6:30: Eddie Dooley's Sport Review, WBT.
7:15: Henry King orch., WJZ.
7:30: Int'l broadcast from London and New York: Two-way discussion, "Do England and the U. S. Speak the Same Language," WJZ; Beauty Parade—Arden orch., Walter Preston, baritone; Gladys Baxter, WABC.
7:45: Grace Hayes, songs, WJZ.
8:00: Sigmund Romberg, composer-conductor; William Lyon Phelps, narrator; and others, WEAF, WLW; Roxy's Gang, WABC, KMOX.
8:30: George Olsen orchestra, Ethel Shutta, vocalist, WJZ, KDKA.
8:45: Musical Revue—Armbruster orch., Mary Courtland and quartet, WBT.
9:00: Nathaniel Shilkret orch.; Rose Bampton, and others, WEAF; Radio City Party—Frank Black orch., John B. Kennedy; guest stars, WJZ.
9:30: Studebaker Champions—Richard Himber orch.; Joey Nash, vocalist, WBT.
10:00: Behind the Scenes—Wm. A. Brady, theatrical producer, WBT, KMOX.
10:30: Let's Dance—3-hour dance program, WEAF, WLW.
11:00: Glen Gray orch., WBT; Dorsey Bros. orch.; Bob Crosby, vocalist, WJZ.
11:30: Wayne King orch., WGN.
11:45: Jan Garber orch., WGN.
12:15: Ted Weems orch., WGN.
12:30: Hal Kemp orch., WJZ, KDKA.

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS

THE GREAT STARS OF "HERE COMES THE NAVY" SPREAD THEIR WINGS

DEVIL DOGS OF THE AIR

JAMES CAGNEY · PAT O'BRIEN

MARGARET LINDSAY · FRANK McHUGH

—Also—
Comedy — Novelty
TODAY

CAROLINA

Varsity Wrestlers Meet Powerful VMI Kaydets In Tin Can Tonight, 8:30

Visitors Ruled Favorite; Umstead-Riley Bout To Feature Meet

Two Captains, Ward-Witt Will Also Clash in Thrillers.

LINEUPS

V. M. I.	Wt.	U. N. C.
Riley	118	Umstead
Sherrard	126	Lytle
Witt	135	Ward
Travis	145	Gholson
Brooke	155	Bonner
Currence	165	Efland
Burgess	175	Gwynn
Edge	Unlim.	Ranson

Carolina and V. M. I. varsity wrestling teams will clash in the Tin Can tonight, immediately following a meet between freshman representatives of the two institutions scheduled to begin at 7 o'clock.

Coach Quinlan's protegees tapered off in a light workout yesterday in last minute preparations for the invasion of the Kaydets. The Tar Heels were pronounced to be in their best physical condition of the year.

Kaydets Favored

The visitors will enter the fray as heavy favorites because of their brilliant showing against Navy at Annapolis last Saturday. The Kaydets battled the Midshipmen to a 16-16 draw. The military grapplers showed up more impressively against State, losing to the Wolfpack 18-14, while Carolina suffered an overwhelming 18-6 defeat at the hands of the Raleigh aggregation.

The feature clash of the evening will bring together Umstead and Riley, both sophomore contenders. Last year in a meeting of the first year schools, Umstead pinned Riley in 4:00 minutes. However, the Kaydet bantam has shown considerable improvement this season. Both Umstead and Riley have better than eight-minute time decision victories over Bell of State. This bout should provide plenty of action for the mat spectators.

Another outstanding scrap will pit Captain Efland against Captain Currence. The Kaydet leader, unbeaten in the past two seasons of competition and conference champion in the 165-pound division, holds victories over his State and Navy oppo-

(Continued on last page)

FROSH MATMEN CLASH WITH VMI TONIGHT AT 7 P.M.

Meet Appears to Be Close Struggle Between Two Strong Grappling Clubs.

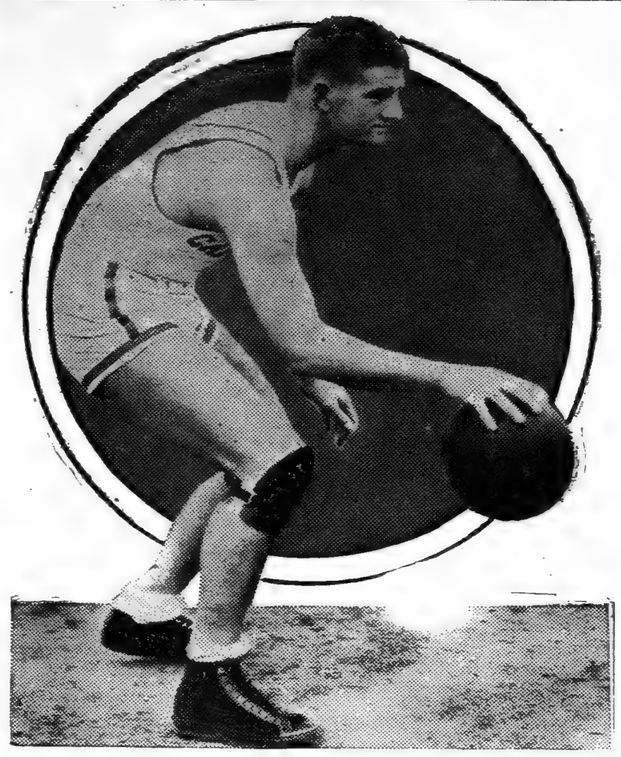
135, 165 BOUTS FEATURE

The frosh grapplers brought to a close yesterday afternoon their training for tonight's match with V. M. I. The match with the visiting plebes will begin at 7 o'clock with the bout between Ehringhaus and Faust.

V. M. I.'s frosh team came into Chapel Hill just as the Tar Baby grapplers were completing their practice. The visitors come here with two undefeated men, Reeves and Jarvis, 135 and 165 pounders, respectively.

Battles of the Unbeaten

Both of the visiting yearling's men will meet Carolina Baby grapplers who also have unblemished records in the 135 and 165-pound classes. Reeves aud Ford will battle it out in a bout that promises to be the most exciting one of the evening. James, who remains to be defeated in the 165-pound division, should provide another interesting bout when he meets Jarvis.



The starters for both teams are as follows:

Wt.	V. M. I.	U. N. C.
118-lb	Faust	Ehringhaus
126-lb	Strate	Tankersley
135-lb	Reeves	Ford
145-lb	Witt, J.	Claypoole
155-lb	Steitman	Gibbons
165-lb	Jarvis	James
175-lb	Marshall	Love
Unlim.	Fiedler	Kulak

The only men who have been omitted from the present lineup as compared to that of previous meets, are Patrick and Schulman. The former is still a little bit too light to compete with most 118-pounders who train down to that weight. Schulman has been omitted due to a serious injury to his eye which has made it unadvisable for his entry in today's meet.

Hell hath no fury like a woman who has been taking a reducing treatment and finds she has gained 10 pounds. — Florida Times-Union.

JIM MAC THE GUARD

Above is Jim McCachren, star guard of the Shepard cage five which has turned in quite an enviable record to date of 14 wins against only a pair of losses. Tonight Jim Mac will more than likely have the opportunity of holding down none other than Texan Dana Henderson, star of the Iodiners.

Tar Baby Boxers Take On Tough Oak Ridge Team Tonight There

Cadets Are Favored; Frosh in Condition

Yearlings Will Be Forced to Enter Melee Giving Forfeits In Three Divisions.

SHORES IS PICKED TO WIN

The Tar Baby mittmen will embark for Oak Ridge this afternoon at 1 o'clock to take on the powerful Cadet crew in one of their major meets of the season. The improved Carolina yearlings will attempt to overcome the handicap of being forced to forfeit three of the bouts.

Freshman Coach Levinson is taking eight men along, and is trying to arrange a plan whereby all of them will see action. Levinson would like to have two bouts each in the 129-pound, 139-pound and the 149-pound classes, but of course that is entirely up to the Cadet's coach. These extra bouts will not be counted in the final scoring, but it will do a lot to enliven the performance.

Eight Men on Trip

The men who are making the trip are as follows: Tommy Bass, Charley Benton, Ed O'Herron, Bart Lee, Bill Shores, Dick May, Ed Oliver and Bill Leake. All of the boys are in excellent shape, and ready to spring an upset on the favored Oak Ridge team. A few days ago their chances for a victory were very thin, but they have shown some splendid boxing in the last two practice sessions.

Tiger Shores has been the standout of the yearling pug group, having won all his fights in quick kayo fashion. Shores will be up against a good boxer, but the Tiger is picked to stay on top.

Tommy Bass will be the number one man in the 129-pound class, and he looked better than ever before during yesterday's workout. In Bass's impressive T. K. O. win in the last meet, he showed enough punching power to give his man a run for his money.

Leake and Oliver are still of unknown qualities, but they are sure to put up good scraps every minute that they are in the ring.

Deans Go to Guilford

Dean D. D. Carroll and Dean Hobbs attended a meeting yesterday of the board of trustees of Guilford College, of which Dean Carroll is the chairman.

Phi Kap Sig, D.K.E., And Mangum No. 1 Win Mural Games

Manly and Pharmacy Are Also Victorious; Bob Sadler Is Star of Afternoon.

Mangum No. 1, Phi Kappa Sigma, and D. K. E., three of the intramural's nine unbeaten teams, all gained victories yesterday afternoon as the fifth week of the basketball competition came to an end. Manly and Pharmacy captured the two other contests played.

Chi Phi gave the Deke's makeshift lineup a dogged fight throughout and only lost by a 13-10 margin. The first period ended with the eventual winners out in front 3-2; and 7-4 for the half.

Rally Falls Short

Chi Phi almost evened things up in the final minutes, but baskets by Moore and Patterson were successful in staving off the threat. Moore and Patterson led the winners with seven and four points, respectively, while Voliver of Chi Phi took high with eight.

Mangum No. 1 continued on its way with another lopsided victory, taking the measure of a fighting Kluttz quintet 45-13, though it was far from impressive as in its previous encounters. Rhodes and Bannwell led

(Continued on last page)

Frosh Five Tackles Deacons on Monday

With a background of ten victories and one overtime defeat, the frosh quintet resumed practice last evening in the process of priming for a crucial encounter with the Wake Forest freshmen this Monday afternoon. The battle will be staged on the Deacon's court at 3:30.

In their quest for Baby Five honors the Tar Babies will have to overcome this dangerous outfit from Wake Forest, which lost early in the season to the Tar Babies by one lone point, 33-32.

The entire offensive power of the team seems to lie in the trio of Earl Ruth, Pete Mullis and Red Meroney. Ruth is leading the team with 88 points. Mullis follows with 80 pointers and Meroney's grand exhibition against Asheville raised his total to 75, with Pete Boone following.

Track Stars To See Plenty Of Action In Coming Weeks

New York Athletic Club and Junior Chamber of Commerce Indoor Meets Will Attract Tar Heels; Williamson Will Meet Test of Year in Baxter Mile with Five of World's Best Milers.

Several members of the varsity track squad will see much action against fine competition during the next two weeks. Next Saturday two men will go to the N. Y. A. C. games in New York and the following Friday, ten or fifteen will journey to the J. C. of C. meet in Charlotte.

Practice has gotten underway in the Tin Can, and the team is gradually rounding into shape for the coming Southern Conference indoor meet. However, much improvement is necessary if the Tar Heels are to defend successfully their SIC crown from the strong field expected.

Williamson Sees Fire

Harry Williamson will be under the biggest fire next Saturday night that he has been under in his competition in the Empire City indoor track carnivals. For the first time since the National Intercollegiates last summer the Tar Heel star will be competing in the mile event.

In this famous Baxter Mile will be Glenn Cunningham, Bill Bonthron, Gene Venzke, Erik Ny and Williamson. The first three finished ahead of Williamson in the intercollegiate mile last year in record breaking time. Ny has come over from Sweden for his first year in American racing.

Hurdler Also

A hurdler will also make the trek north. Either Frank Abernethy or Tom Hawthorne will get the call in this high hurdle event.

At present the invitations from the Queen City officials are for six men from each school plus a relay team. This will make it very difficult for the Carolina coaches to choose the sextet to represent the Tar Heels. Nine men among the Carolina ranks are capable of copping a first place in the Charlotte meet among the best of Dixie competition. It is possible, however, that the entrance limitation will be changed, allowing Carolina to pit all its best men into the fray.

White Phantoms Battle Gamecocks At Columbia In Fast SIC Tilt Tonight

Doping The Sports

By JAMES MORRIS

THE WHITE Phantoms have not yet repeated the form that carried them through the first four opponents of their northern trip a few weeks ago. Carolina looked unbeatable against Maryland, Navy, and the New York athletic clubs but since its first loss to Army the Tar Heel five has just shown an average amount of strength. True, the White Phantoms took the strong State club but not with the ease that they should have and the exhibitions against Wake Forest and Duke were almost pitiful.

IT'S HARD to say what really did happen in the Duke game. Carolina seemed a little overconfident at first and then when the Blue Devils took a slight lead the White Phantoms became nervous, remaining off stride the rest of the way. Another thing, the early string of wins seems to have gotten the Tar Heel cagers in a wrong frame of mind. The Phantoms are taking too much for granted and, according to one of the players, have forgotten to use the old high school fight.

IT WILL probably take great effort from every man on the team to put it back on the road to success. Of course the White Phantoms can hardly fail to have a good record at the end of the season but they should have more than that. Coach Bo Shepard has done an excellent job in making potential champions out of the boys and the rest only remains with the team itself.

IT WILL be a revenge-seeking bunch of White Phantoms that meets the Gamecocks tonight. For the past two years North Carolina has taken it on the chin from South Carolina. In 1933, during the Southern Conference tourney, it took the future title club two extra periods to overcome the fighting Tar Heels. However, last year it was a different story. The Gamecocks weren't given much of an edge over the Phantoms but cut loose with a terrific offense during the second half to get an easy 45-30 triumph. It was the worst licking of the year for the Tar Heels.

THE TWO Tompkin brothers, Freddie and Bennie, were probably the outstanding men in the Gamecock attack which trimmed North Carolina, Freddie turning in 20 points during the contest. This year both of these boys are gone and although the Gamecocks are not quite the powerhouse they used to be, nevertheless, they still are plenty strong.

LIKE the upper Carolina team, the sandlappers have flashed remarkable power at times but have been inconsistent on other occasions. South Carolina beat its sister institution, Clemson, 38-30, in a feature battle the first part of this week and then faltered before an in-

(Continued on last page)

Game of Two Carolinas Rated Real Natural; Craig May Play

Both Seek Comebacks from Defeats in Last Games.

THE LINEUPS

U. N. C.	Pos.	U. S. C.
Aitken	f.	Henderson
Nelson	f.	Laurie
Glace	c.	Craig
McCachren	g.	Rowland
Harris or Kaveny	g.	Gooding

Coach Bo Shepard's White Phantoms will invade the Palmetto State for an engagement with the strong University of South Carolina basketball team at Columbia tonight.

Two complete teams will make the trip, leaving by bus from Emerson field at 8 o'clock this morning.

Rated Toss-up

The outcome of tonight's contest will be a toss-up, both teams having lost in their last conference games. The Tar Heels lost to Duke Tuesday night 33-27, while the Gamecocks were overpowered by N. C. State 30-25 Thursday night. The White Phantoms defeated N. C. State and South Carolina beat the Blue Devils earlier in the season.

Although the famous Tompkins brothers are no longer with the South Carolina outfit, the White Phantoms will have to stop Vic Laurie and Dana Henderson, a pair of regulars from the team that defeated Carolina in the Tin Can last year.

Tom Craig, giant center, was out of the N. C. State contest due to an attack of "flu." However, he will probably be ready to start against the Tar Heels tonight.

The ten players making the trip to South Carolina are Captain Aitken, Glace, McCachren, Harris, Kaveny, Blood, Ramsay, Nelson, Webster, and Minor.

GRIDSTERS HOLD PRACTICE BATTLE

Workout Starts This Afternoon at 2:30 in Kenan Stadium With Game Following.

Coach Carl G. Snavely announced yesterday that he would put his football charges through a real practice game this afternoon in Kenan stadium. The workout will start at 2:30 o'clock and the scrimmage will begin almost immediately.

The gridsters swung into real work during the past week, staying on the field until nightfall almost every afternoon. Coach Snavely has stressed blocking more than any other phase, both in the line and in the open field.

The football squad has also been working on its signals and play deception.

Coach Snavely has generally kept his veteran team intact and, barring slight injuries, will use the following men in his first eleven: Montgomery and Jackson, halfbacks; Snyder, blocking back; Hutchins, fullback; Buck and McCarn, ends; Evins and Trimpey, tackles; Joyce and McIver, guards; and Daniel, center.

Just Arrived - - - Books by Gertrude Stein

Three Lives — Four Saints in Three Acts
Portraits and Prayers — Autobiography of Alice B. Toklas
Making of Americans

GET ONE AND HAVE IT AUTOGRAPHED

Famous Fiction and Non-Fiction—15c up
Read the Latest Books for 10c

THE FORTY DAYS OF MUSA DAGH, PERSONAL HISTORY ROAD OF AGES by ROBERT NATHAN, MEMORY OF LOVE

The Bull's Head

In the "Y" Building Books for Sale or Rent

VANCE TO SPEAK BEFORE INSTITUTE AT VANDERBILT U.

Social Scientist Will Discuss Topics Concerning South.

Three lectures will be presented at the Vanderbilt University Institute of Human Relations next week by Dr. Rupert Vance of the University Institute for Research in Social Science.

His first lecture will be on "A Regional Program for the South." Following that, he will deal with "Southern Resources and the Southern Economy." Dr. Vance will also lecture on "Human Resources of the South."

Among the distinguished speakers are Professor William F. Ogburn of the University of Chicago and chairman of the President's Research Committee on Social Trends; Peter Molyneaux, editor of the Texas Weekly; Professor Douglas Booth, visiting Carnegie professor; Professor Charles W. Hackett of the University of Texas; Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association.

Dancing Master Works In N. C. Mountains

Richard Chase, associate director of the Institute of Folk Music, which has its headquarters here, is engaged among the mountains of western North Carolina in the promoting of the folk music arts, and is at present at Lees-McRae at Banner Elk collecting ballads and folk songs and organizing folk dancing groups.

Chase is working under the auspices of the Institute and is financed by the F. E. R. A. He terminated a month's work at Western Carolina Teachers College Saturday with a folk music festival at Cullowhee, the seat of the college.

The Institute of Folk Music includes among its members a number of University professors. The director is Lamar Stringfield.

Artist

(Continued from page one)

the President was to receive the part in his hair, when ar epresentative of the building department called at an ungodly hour one Saturday morning, requesting that the creator of the pictures report at the office.

There the great truth was known. The officials not only did not appreciate the works of art, but furthermore they would not tolerate their continued existence.

White, who has attended several summer schools in art and who expects to become a commercial artist, felt hurt when he was told that his room must be repainted in order to remove the pictures, but his feeling turned to sheer agony when he heard the last words, "And you must stand the cost of material and labor."

Chemistry Award

Rho chapter of Alpha Chi Sigma, national chemistry fraternity, has established an annual award for the freshman chemistry major in the A.B. school, the candidate for B.S. in chemistry, or the chemical engineer making the highest scholastic average during his first two quarters at the University.

The award for this year will be a copy of Lange's "Handbook of Chemistry." This book contains complete mathematical tables as well as detailed physical and chemical data.

The winner of the award for this year will be announced early in the spring

"BUDDY, CAN YOU SPARE A DRAG?"

Relief Administrator Thinks Cigarettes Necessary to Welfare of Clients.

Cleveland, Feb. 8.—(UP)—Persons on relief need to smoke just as much as other people, believe officials of the Cuyahoga County Relief administration.

"In many cases, a package of cigarettes will do more good than food of equal value," said Marc J. Grossman, CCRA chairman, in announcing he would ask state relief authorities to give relief clients "as wide latitude as possible in their purchases."

CCRA officials had heard a report that state auditors were refusing to approve grocery requisitions which included more than 20 per cent meat or luxuries, including "smokes."

Murals

(Continued from page three)

with a dozen pointers each.

The Phi Kappa Sigma team made it six straight as it walloped Phi Alpha 41-14. With Bower and Wilson rolling up 29 points between them, the losers never seriously threatened.

After being on the short end of a 16-13 score at half time, Manly's hard fighting five overtook the Mayflower club to win out by a 30-24 score in an exciting second half. Bob Sadler, stocky Manly guard, took high honors for the day with 17 points, and his fine defensive play was some of the best seen this season.

The much buffeted teams of Pharmacy and Locals came to grips in a lively encounter that saw the prescription fillers taking a 28-11 verdict. Warner and Edwards were outstanding for the winners, while Davenport and Miller did best for the Locals.

The summaries:

Mangum (45)	Kluttz (13)
Henson, f (11)	Hamilton, f (4)
Bannwell, f (12)	Outlaw, f
Fox, c (4)	McCrary, c (5)
Vick, g (4)	Terry, g (4)
Rhodes, g (12)	Harrell, g

Subs: Mangum No. 1—Freeman (2).

Phi K. Sig. (41)	Phi A. (14)
Odum, f	Giddins, f (4)
Sharp, f (6)	Hauser, f (3)
Love, c (6)	Greenberg, c (1)
Wilson, g (13)	Greengold, g (2)
Bower, g (16)	Lasky, g (4)

Subs: Phi Kappa Sigma—Link; Phi Alpha—Goldman.

D. K. E. (13)	Chi Phi (10)
Morris, f (2)	Voliver, f (8)
McAllister, f	Bone, f
Moore, c (7)	Credle, c
Patterson, g (4)	Sink, g (2)
Mebane, g	Bitting, g

Subs: Chi Phi—Montsinger, Thompson, Linn.

Manly (30)	Mayflower (24)
Adelman, f (9)	Daniels, f (4)
Brady, f (4)	Goodman, f (11)
Deaton, c	Hunt, c
McDevitt, g	Rankin, g
Sadler, g (17)	Poteat, g (9)

Pharmacy (28)	Locals (11)
Warner, f (10)	Davenport, f (4)
Woodard, f (4)	Miller, f (4)
Woodard, J., c (2)	Lynch, c
Mathews, g	Lloyd, g (2)
Edwards, g (12)	Wilder, g

Subs: Locals—Seawell (1), Mason, Terry.

Opera

Broadcasts of the opera "Don Giovanni" by the Metropolitan Opera this afternoon at 1:45 o'clock and the New York Philharmonic orchestra Sunday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock will be received in the choral room of the Hill Music Hall and also in Graham Memorial.

Everyone interested is invited to come to either of these places and hear the broadcast.

Blue And White Became University Colors Without Official Sanction

When Literary Societies Were in Flower, Di and Phi Members Flaunted Their Respective Colors at Dances and Football Games until They Became Emblems of University.

Who would ever believe that the Di and Phi societies gave the University its colors? We mean blue and white, the colors which are used on seals and banners and which are always associated with Carolina. Actually these are no more the school colors than any others, for they never have been adopted by the University administration.

Naturally one wonders how the literary societies came to have a hand in originating blue and white as emblematic of Carolina. According to Dr. C. S. Mangum it came about like this:

"The Big Two"

Way back about the middle of the last century the Di and the Phi were the leading extra-curricular organizations on the campus. They served as student governing bodies, having charge of the honor system, and as social organizations, being in charge of all festivities that occur at commencement and at other times.

It seems that the old "Diers" had a weakness for blue and the "Phiers" preferred white. At any rate the Di made blue its official color and the Phi, not to be outdone and perhaps, at the same time to be different, passed a bill adopting white.

At commencement, the leading figures were elected by these societies, an equal number from each, and the office of chief ball manager and chief marshal alternated between the two.

During the exercises the marshals and ball managers decked themselves out in regalia and rosettes, choosing as their color that of the society to which they belonged. To distinguish themselves and to indicate that they represented both the Di and the Phi the chief marshal and chief ball manager wore the combination, blue and white.

After football became popular and the Carolina crowd found enough men willing to risk their necks in playing the game, a team was formed. Soon they were appearing in games at such distant points as Wake Forest and Raleigh. Large numbers of the students accompanied the team, to witness the slaughter and care for the injured.

Then it became the custom of the day for rooters to wear their team's colors, probably as a means of distinguishing friend from foe in the melee, and so the Carolina boys pinned on white and blue ribbons simply because they were accustomed to see them worn on the campus.

Hence, these colors became no longer representative of the societies, but of the University.

Doping the Sports

(Continued from page three)

spired Red Terror club Thursday night to lose, 30-25. In the contest at State, Tom Craig, veteran center, was out of the lineup as a result of a slight touch of flu and without a doubt this slowed up the Gamecocks quite a bit. With this all-around athlete back on the first five South Carolina will be able to offer the White Phantoms a good deal more opposition than it did the Wolfpack.

THE DIZZY one, Jerome Herman Dean, made fine streamer news for a few days in his holdout war with the St. Louis bosses. However, it didn't take long for the two sides to come to an agreement—not much time anyway compared with the old contract wars between Colonel Ruppert of the New York Yankees and Babe Ruth. I was kinna sorry Dizzy didn't go all the way for the full $25,000. The Cardinals wouldn't have had a ghost of a chance last year for a championship without the older Dean, so, according to the salaries generally paid to high class ball players, Diz deserves even more than he asked for.

DR. BERRYHILL ILL

Dr. W. T. Berryhill, University physician, is confined to his home with a slight case of influenza, but he is expected soon to be able to help put others on the road to recovery.

The following students were confined in the infirmary yesterday: William Davis, L. K. Edwards, Margaret Spencer, Patsy McMullan, Frances Pullen, Bruce Smith, J. D. Maxwell, John Beaman, F. T. Dupree, Carl Anderson, F. E. Grubb, E. T. Berry, Fred Scherer, and Marvin Allen.

MAGAZINE DEADLINE

Material for the March issue of the Carolina Magazine must be in the hands of Joe Sugarman, editor, by February 21, he announced yesterday.

All persons planning to write articles or stories are asked to get in touch with him immediately. Office hours are from 2 p. m. to 4 p. m. in room 108 Graham Memorial.

Political Union

(Continued from page one)

from each of the campus discussion groups, the Woman's Association, the Debate Council, and the student body at large.

Leaders in the movement have felt that to organize another group to rival existing discussion organizations would not be practicable. Hence, the movement to form a monthly forum has arisen.

Need Long Felt

The political union, it is suggested, will fill the need which has long been felt for a study of actual political issues and events rather than theoretical studies of contemporary government. Members of the history and government faculty have announced themselves as favoring the organization and as willing to co-operate in its formation.

The groups which already exist and whose co-operation student leaders feel is essential in the organization of the new group are the Di and Phi societies, the Foreign Policy League, the National Students League, the Y. M. C. A. cabinets, and the Debate Council.

Kellar and Fairley Selected For West Virginia Debate

At the Wednesday night tryouts for the debate squad which will meet the University of West Virginia here Tuesday night, Norman Kellar and Francis Fairley were selected to support the affirmative of the query: Resolved, that the munitions industry be nationalized.

The Carolina debate team will meet West Virginia Tuesday at 7 p. m. in Gerrard hall. Another debate team will meet Wake Forest there February 19 on another phase of the munitions question.

Our Mistake

The name of Charles Daniel, member of the sophomore "Y" cabinet, was unintentionally omitted from the DAILY TAR HEEL's list of delegates who will attend the state Y. M. C. A. conference which meets in Greensboro today. Daniel is the 13th man who will definitely make the trip.

Happy Trio

Pat O'Brien, Margaret Lindsay, and James Cagney, looking top to bottom, are featured in the Cosmopolitan Production "Devil Dogs of the Air," which is released by Warner Bros., and is now at the Carolina theatre.

Chicago, Illinois, Penn To Hear Dr. Odum

Sociologist Will Speak Twice at Chicago and Illinois.

Howard W. Odum, head of the Institute for Research in Social Science, will lecture twice at the University of Chicago February 11 and 13.

While in Chicago the University professor will be the guest of Dr. L. R. Wilson.

On February 14 and 15 he will speak at the University of Illinois as the guest of Dean M. T. McClure.

Professor Odum will address the Pennsylvania Schoolman's Week at the University of Pennsylvania March 4, and the annual meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social Science on the fifth.

CABARRUS COUNTY ALUMNI TO MEET FEBRUARY 22

University alumni of Cabarrus county have selected Friday evening, February 22, for their annual meeting. The gathering, which will begin with supper in Concord, will be attended by Robert A. Fetzer, director of athletics at the University; Carl G. Snavely, head football coach; and J. M. Saunders, secretary of the University Alumni Association.

The Cabarrus County Alumni Club is one of 50 similar groups in North Carolina, and is headed this year by the Rev. I. Harding Hughes of Concord. Other officers are Pat G. Glass, Kannapolis, vice-president; and John L. Brown, Jr., Concord, secretary-treasurer.

Wrestling

(Continued from page three)

nents this year. Efland lost to Currence on time in 1934 at Lexington, but the Carolinian looks much better than he did a year ago and should provide plenty of opposition for his Virginia adversary.

Other outstanding scraps will be between Ward and Witt in the 135; Bonner and Brooks in the 155; Gwynn and Burgess in the 175 and Ranson and Edge in the unlimited class.

JOHNSON TO PLAY

Freddie Johnson and his orchestra, featuring Miss Peggy Wood, vocalist, will entertain the freshmen at assembly period Monday morning, Drew Martin, chairman of the freshman entertainment committee announced yesterday.

LIBRARY RECEIVES TWO OLD EDITIONS

F. M. Hanes Makes Addition to Book History Collection.

Two rare volumes were added to the Hanes Foundation for the study of the Origin and Development of the Book at the University library today when Dr. Frederick M. Hanes, an alumnus, contributed "The Golden Legend" by Jacobus de Voraigne and "Aesop's Fables."

"The Golden Legend" was published in London by Julian Notary in 1503 and is one of the earliest books printed in England, coming out only 27 years after William Caxton printed the first English book at Westminster.

For illustrations Notary used woodcuts, which had formerly belonged to Caxton.

"The Golden Legend" is a collection of legendary lives of the Saints, written in the 13th century and popular during the Middle Ages. Its author was Archbishop of Genoa, and the Notary edition is one of three early English editions, the first of which was printed by Caxton.

The second volume, "Aesop's Fables," was printed in Venice in 1505 by Aldus Manutius, 15th century editor, scholar, and printer. He was the inventor of Italic type and the designer of the Greek type in current use.

Dr. Hanes was one of the founders of the Hanes Foundation, established in 1929.

CO-ED STUDENT-FACULTY DAY COMMITTEE NAMED

Miss Patsy McMullan has been appointed chairman of the co-ed committee for student-faculty day. The remainder of the committee is as follows: Mary Pride Cruickshank, Nancy Lawlor, Frances Caffey, and Joyce Killinsworth.

The annual faculty-co-ed reception will not be held this year on student-faculty day. The reception has been postponed until a later date, and the co-eds will assist with the student-faculty reception in Graham Memorial.

STUDENT FORUM

Dr. W. S. Bernard of the University classical language department will address the Methodist Student Forum at 7 p. m. tomorrow.

"Jesus Christ and the New Deal" will be his subject.

All students and townspeople are invited to attend the meeting, in the west parlor of the Methodist church.

NEW ARRIVALS at the
Young Men's Shop

CREPE SOLE OXFORDS
White or Brown Buck
$5.00

RABBITS HAIR SOX
New Spring Patterns
50c

NEW SPRING SLACKS
Flannels, Plaids, Gaberdines, Checks, etc.
$3.95 thru $6.50

McGREGOR
Slipover Spring Sweaters
$2.95

Drop around and look at the many new things we are receiving daily.

The Young Men's Shop
126-128 East Main Street
DURHAM

COMMUNITY FORUM
8 P. M.
PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The Daily Tar Heel

Y. M. C. A. CABINETS
7:15—MONDAY
Y. M. C. A. BUILDING

SERVED BY THE UNITED PRESS

VOLUME XLIII | CHAPEL HILL, N. C., SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1935 | NUMBER 102

World Bulletins

Gold Clause Cases

Washington, Feb. 9.—(UP)—Hope for an early opinion on the important gold clause case went glimmering tonight when the Supreme Court, for the second successive Saturday, announced it wouldn't hand down an opinion Monday.

The announcement came in the form of a verbal statement from Charles Elmore Cropley, court clerk, with a result that observers see a possibility that the case may not be decided before March 4, after the court takes its two-week recess on February 18.

Labor Fights Bill

Washington, Feb. 9.—(UP)—Organized labor today announced its intention "to make one helluva fight" to force the inclusion of the prevailing age clause in the administration's $4,880,000,000 work relief bill.

The matter will come before the senate appropriations committee Monday. The committee has already voted in favor of the plan, but the administration fighting had it reconsidered and defeated.

W. C. Hushing, legislative representative of the American Federation of Labor, said that the labor group intended to treat the controversy as a major issue and make "one helluva fight." The controversy, together with a movement for substituting dole for a work relief program, indicates that the administration will have rough going when the bill is brought before the senate.

Last Witness Heard

Flemington, N. J., Feb. 9.—(UP)—The last piece of testimony was spoken in the Lindbergh trial today, and now the fate of Bruno Hauptmann hangs on the eloquence of the lawyers and the verdict of twelve residents of Hunterdon county.

As a final rebuttal witness the state brought Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, and kept her there

(Continued on last page)

Southern Style Distinguishes Carolina's Famed Kay Kyser

CHURCH LECTURES TO BEGIN TONIGHT

First of Series on "Christianity and World Movements."

Tonight the first of a series of five community winter forums will be held in the Sunday school rooms of the Presbyterian church at 8 o'clock.

The program will deal with a discussion of Buchmanism and the Oxford Movement and will be presented by Rev. D. T. Eaton of Burlington. Mr. Eaton will bring an Oxford group from Burlington to participate in the program.

The general subject of the series, which is sponsored by the churches of Chapel Hill, is "Christianity and Contemporary World Movements," and will be an informal interdenominational undertaking.

The other presentations and dates are: February 17, Rev. J. P. Fletcher, of Raleigh, "The Christian and Socialism;" February 24, Prof. J. A. Spangler, of Duke University, "The Christian and Communism;" March 3, Dr. McNeil Poteat, of Raleigh, "Gandhi and the Fallacy of the Liberals, or The Christian and the Problem of Violence," and March 10, Dr. Shelton Smith of Duke University, "The Barthian Road to Reality."

Burglars Rob Cleaners of $300 in Clothing

An unknown burglar, or group of burglars, pried open the front door at the Johnson-Prevost cleaning establishment on East Franklin street Friday night with a double pronged jimmy, and made off with nearly $300 worth of clothes.

The loss was discovered yesterday morning when F. C. Morrow, employee, came down to open shop. Morrow said yesterday the cleaning shop carried no insurance.

No clues have been found, and no trace of the stolen goods has yet been discovered.

Many Innovations Make Band Famous; Thinks Keynote of Style Is Color, Contrast.

"Evenin' folks—How Y'all?" Radio audiences all over the nation need only one guess to figure out what popular maestro is greeting them when that nightly salutation floats out over the ether waves. 'Tis none other than that good old born and bred Tar Heel, Kay Kyser himself.

Although Kay and his boys do most of their entertaining in the larger northern and eastern cities these days, they still retain those quaint, refreshing southern characteristics. Kay's slow drawl opens all their programs with his usual greeting and closes them with his "Goo'-bye, ever'body."

Easily Identified

After once hearing one of Kyser's broadcasts, one seldom fails to recognize the band immediately on hearing it again. Besides his unique southern style, Kay's habit of singing the titles to numbers as part of the introduction to each arrangement and thus eliminating all announcements never fails to identify him. Kay is the originator of this idea.

He also uses four bars of his theme song before each vocal chorus. These innovations together with an unusual change of pace have given a decidedly different "flavor" to the southerner's broadcasts.

Kyser's orchestra makes what has been called "warm, friendly music" and Kay thinks the keynote of his style is color and contrast—variety, change of pace, slow music, peppy music, glee club arrangements, and comedy.

Kyser believes that personality can be registered over the radio and insists that all his vocalists smile at the microphone when singing and makes comedians use props and "business" while broadcasting.

Kay and his boys put college

(Continued on last page)

SELDEN SELECTS CASTS OF THREE ONE ACT DRAMAS

Playmakers Will Stage Plays by Patsy McMullan, Philip Parker, and Ella Mae Daniel.

DIRECTED BY GRADUATES

Samuel Selden, general supervisor for the coming production of "New Carolina Plays," announced yesterday the final casts for the three plays which will be presented February 28, March 1 and 2.

After a week of tryouts, the following have been retained for rehearsals: For Patsy McMullan's "Cottie Mourns," a comedy of Carolina fisher-folk. Patsy McMullan as Cottie; Mildred McMullan as Nellie Merkel; Bab Barrett as Felix; Wilton Mason as Jerd.

Play of Aristocracy

"Ancient Heritage," a play of New English aristocracy, by Philip G. Parker; Jane Cover as Sarah Bancroft; Mildred Howard as Carrie Bancroft; William Wang as Dick Kendall; Philip Parker as Edward Kendall.

"Yours and Mine," a comedy of love and war, by Ella Mae Daniel; Ellen Deppe as Catherine Fox Flowers; Carl Thompson as Dr. James Flowers, and William Fletcher as Dad.

The three plays will be directed by Graduate Students Alton Williams, Douglas Hume and Ella Mae Daniel, respectively.

Chosen from a large group of new plays written in the playwriting courses this year, the above three have been tested by the Playmakers in their experi-

(Continued on page two)

LOCAL 'Y' GROUP VISITS W. C. U. N. C.

Joint Meeting Is Part of President Graham's Program to Strengthen Consolidation.

Fourteen representatives of the three Y. M. C. A. cabinets left yesterday at noon for the Woman's College at Greensboro where they will attend a joint cabinet meeting for the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. of the Greater University.

The local delegation was headed by J. D. Winslow, president of the Y. M. C. A. here, and will return to Chapel Hill tonight after a buffet supper in the Y. W. C. A. hut at the Woman's college.

Guest Speaker

Guest speaker for this second meeting of the "Y" groups of State, Carolina, and the Woman's college will be Dr. Bruce Curry of the Union Seminary in New York.

The current meeting is the second in President Frank Graham's program to strengthen the consolidation of the three greater university divisions. Following the opening joint meeting here last fall and the one now being held in Greensboro, the joint meeting for the spring quarter will be held in Raleigh with the State "Y" group.

Included in the group of "Y" workers who left yesterday for the joint meeting were J. D. Winslow, Don McKee, Bob Magill, Francis Fairley, Bill MacDonald, Eli Joyner, Phil Kind, Henry Allison, Warren Haddaway, T. P. Yeatman, Phil Russell, Jimmie Coan, Charles Daniel and Joe Pardi.

Nye To Speak Here February 24 On U.S. Munitions Investigation

State School Authority Hears Dr. Metzenthin

Professor Helps Plan German Curriculum for Schools.

At the invitation of the state department of public instruction in Raleigh, Dr. E. C. Metzenthin of the University German department, took part in the first meeting of a committee appointed to work out a new curriculum for the teaching of German in the secondary schools of the state.

While there he completed the arranging of the program of the annual meeting of the German section of the State Education Association to be held at Winston-Salem March 29.

Three members of the University department of German will take active part in this meeting, Dr. E. C. Metzenthin as presiding officer; F. E. Coenen, who will present a paper on "Romance Influences on German Literature During the Sixteenth Century;" Carl Hammer, who will speak on the "German Settlers in the Piedmont Section of North Carolina and Their Native Speech."

'Time' Writes Up Religious Talks Held on Campus

In typical "Time" language, the weekly news magazine recounts in the current issue the visit to Chapel Hill last week of "the Tolerance Trio: Jew Lazaron, Catholic Riggs, Protestant Clinchy."

The group of three ministers about whom the article is written appeared here January 28 under the sponsorship of the University Y. M. C. A. to conduct their religious seminar for Carolina students. They also spoke before the freshman assembly.

Photos of the men and a column and a half of gusty bombast are devoted to the story. Reminding one of the tabloids, the article begins with the startling comparison of the sanctified seminar to a hoi polloi minstrel show.

Favorable Light

For those who were not too upset by the flippant, nay, wicked, tone of the first paragraph to wade through several more which presented the language of the Godly men in vulgar satire, there waited a balm to their indignation, a whole paragraph in which the seminar is presented in a favorable light.

The redeeming paragraph follows:

"The three churchmen were employing minstrel technique for a definite purpose—to kindle tolerance and good will among their respective faiths."

This paragraph is followed by thumb nail biographies of each of the three principles.

Elisha Mitchell Society

The 358th meeting of the Elisha Mitchell Scientific Society will be held at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in 206 Phillips hall. Speakers will be C. W. Borgmann of the school of engineering who will speak on "An Optical Investigation of the Passivity of Iron in Nitric and Chromic Acids," and A. S. Rose of the school of medicine who will discuss "The Mechanism of Visceral and Deferred Pain."

Y. M. C. A. to Sponsor Student Convocation

Chairman of Senate Munitions Committee to Address Mass Meeting of Student Body.

WILL SPEAK IN RALEIGH

United States Senator Gerald P. Nye, of North Dakota, wired yesterday that he would speak before a mass meeting of the Carolina student body in Memorial hall, February 24.

Nye's telegram followed an invitation from the University Y. M. C. A. for the famous congressman to appear here. He will address the convocation in Memorial hall on the congressional munitions investigation, which he directed last summer.

Topic: War and Peace

The senator's appearance here will follow a similar one in Raleigh on the afternoon of February 24. Sponsored by all the churches of Raleigh, Nye will talk on the same general topic of war and peace that he will discuss here.

Wearing the title of "progressive Republican," Nye has been an outstanding leader of the minority in congress. As head of the special committee to investigate the operations of the various organizations making munitions, Nye stirred the country in September, 1934, by producing valuable evidence confirming most of the abuses charged against the private munition industry.

According to the Y. M. C. A. office, Senator Nye will discuss the various phases of the government's investigation when he lectures here. His discussion

(Continued on last page)

POLITICAL UNION TO HAVE SESSION

Organization Meeting to Be Held Tomorrow Night; Union to Include All Interested.

Students and faculty members interested in the organization of a Carolina Political Union will meet tomorrow night at 8:30 o'clock in 209 Graham Memorial.

A committee will be formed at the meeting for contacting the various campus organizations and for drawing up plans for the first meeting, which will be held at a time suitable to these groups.

Deputations

It has been suggested that the different groups organize deputations with spokesmen and floor leaders, and that they assemble by political parties. One plan that has been brought forward calls for a monthly meeting of the Union, with attempts to secure prominent speakers for each forum.

The purpose of the new union, as set forth by campus leaders, is not to compete with existing organizations, but merely to bring these groups together for discussion of current political problems and issues. Faculty members, especially those in the history and government departments have expressed themselves as favoring the union.

Existing organizations, whose co-operation is needed in the organization of the union are the Di and Phi societies, the Foreign Policy League, the National Students League, the Y. M. C. A. cabinets, and the Debate Council.

INTRODUCTORY REPORT GIVEN

Explanation of Business Set-up Precedes Articles on Service Divisions Which Will Be Published As a Result of the Recent Study of the Student Advisory Board.

By PHIL HAMMER

The report of the student advisory board has been completed. In order to present both a factual analysis of the Consolidated Service system and our recommendations regarding the various functions and set-ups, the report must be published by division.

Therefore, the following is an introductory note to the entire system and will be followed in subsequent issues of this newspaper by division reports and recommendations. The first of these, concerning the University laundry, will appear in Tuesday morning's edition.

Outline

As this introduction is nothing more than an outline of the methods of centrallized control and decentrallized detail which are embraced in the service system, there are no recommendations or evidence of student opinion. The subsequent articles, however, will present definite recommendations which should be beneficial to the student body and the administration.

Furthermore, the following article is concerned with only three of the five major functional divisions of the business organization. The other two, embracing the operation and maintenance of physical plants and commercial and auxiliary enterprises, will be covered in the reports on the service divisions, which are administered primarily through these two channels.

Members of the committee besides the writer are Francis Fairley, chairman, and J. D. Winslow.

Permanent Group

The student committee which we compose was appointed by the president of the student body on the request of the administration of the University, to act as a permanent student advisory group to the business administration. In the interest of the students whom we represent and in order to aid the administration through suggestions from the students themselves, we have conducted a research investigation of the entire service system, the report of which activity follows:

Naturally, we approached the entire problem in the lay manner, with nothing to guide us except our inquisitiveness and a few suggestions which resulted from minor complaints from the student body regarding service rendered. Through the investigation, however, we have become well acquainted with the service system and consequently are making recommendations which we believe would not only be to the advantage of the students whom we represent, but to the advantage of the administration under whose authority we have proceeded. We have reflected in our report the recommendations of the departmental managers as well as our own, but these former recommendations are represented in our own opinions in the various matters discussed.

Five Major Divisions

The plan of organization in the business set-up embraces five major divisions, namely: Finance, covering the functional activities of collections, custody, and disbursement of funds, and custody of securities; control, covering the functional activi-

(Continued on last page)

The Daily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Union Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where it is printed daily except Mondays, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Holidays. Entered as second class matter at the post office of Chapel Hill, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 for the college year.

A. T. Dill ..... Editor
Robert C. Page, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
Joe Webb ..... Business Manager
George Underwood ..... Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

EDITORIAL BOARD—Phil Hammer, chairman, Earl Wolslagel, Franklin Harward, John Schulz, DuPont Snowden, Margaret McCauley, Morty Slavin, Sam Leager, Dick Myers, Charles Lloyd, Jake Snyder, Phil Kind, Charles Daniel, George Butler.

FEATURE BOARD—Nelson Lansdale, chairman; Nick Read, Bob Browder, Francis Clingman, J. E. Poindexter, W. M. Cochrane, Willis Harrison.

CITY EDITORS—Irving Suss, Walter Hargett, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.

TELEGRAPH EDITORS—Stuart Rabb, Charlie Gilmore.

DESK MAN—Eddie Kahn.

SPORTS DEPARTMENT—Jimmy Morris and Smith Barrier, co-editors, Tom Bost, Lee Turk, Len Rubin, Fletcher Ferguson, Stuart Sechriest, Lester Ostrow, Ira Sarasohn.

EXCHANGES—Margaret Gaines.

STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER—Don Becker.

REPORTERS—Bill Hudson, John Smith, J. F. Jonas, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Hazel Beacham, Raymond Howe, William Jordan, Morton Feldman.

Business Staff

ASST. BUSINESS MANAGER ..... Butler French
COLLECTION MANAGER ..... Herbert Osterheld
OFFICE MANAGERS ..... Walter Eckert, Roy Crooks
NATIONAL ADVERTISING ..... Boylan Carr
DURHAM REPRESENTATIVE—Joe Murnick.
LOCAL ADVERTISING—Hugh Primrose, Robt. Sosnik, Eli Joyner (managers), Bill MacDonald, Louis Shaffner, Page Keel, Bill McLean, Crist Blackwell.

CITY EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE: REED SARRATT

Sunday, February 10, 1935

PARAGRAPHICS

"Legal Whisky, Free Textbooks Sought in Senate Messages," Greensboro Daily News. No doubt the liquor is meant to stimulate study.

Cornell has a graduate student named Mr. I. And here we thought all of the egotists hid out at Harvard.

We see that suits have been taken from Johnson-Prevost. Perhaps the boys who lost their tuxedos will be agitating for a masquerade ball at mid-winters.

Optimism In a Crisis

When President Frank Porter Graham requested an appropriation of about one-half million dollars more than the current appropriation for the Consolidated University, the joint legislative appropriations committee, according to Dean House, supplied attention that was "sympathetic, sustained, and intelligent."

We realize that it is a difficult matter to be "sympathetic, sustained, and intelligent" at such a moment, after hours of haggling and laboring to make receipts match expenditures. As green as we are, we still feel optimistic that the legislature will crash through this year, and reward the hard-working, silent-suffering University with a fair and just appropriation.

The advisory budget commission and the budget bureau were sympathetic also. We can only hope that after the legislature does, if it does, appropriate our request, the budget bureau can make ends meet so that the quarterly payments to Chapel Hill fulfill the actual appropriation.

Locking and Hollering

The Johnson-Prevost theft is another chapter in Chapel Hill's private collection of robbery dramas. Whereas in this particular instance, the circumstances of the theft are slightly different from the fraternity house pillaging, they nevertheless arouse a certain feeling of disgust that Chapel Hillians are not more careful.

Any person could back a Mack truck up to the front door of virtually any fraternity or rooming house, stomp into the house after midnight, and completely ransack the premises, methodically and with only the slightest fear of apprehension carrying out the furniture, rugs, pictures, and perhaps even hew down the staircase without rousing a sleeping brother.

If Chapel Hill robberies are to cease, Chapel Hillians themselves must be the cause. Doors to the houses and to the rooms therein should be locked. There are very few communities in this great land of the free where a heavy Yale protector is not security on the front and back door and windows against the more free of the free Americans.

We have no one to blame but ourselves for the former robberies in the fraternity houses. As for the police force, its inadequacy is our fault too, for there are few communities well behaved enough to require only a handful of law enforcers. In other words, if we bar the doors and make more noise, we'll have double protection: the robbers can't get in and the police force will have to be doubled to keep things quiet.

The Committee Loses Its Case

That the senior class trophy committee is "checked" in its drive to collect University athletic trophies because of inadequate shelf space in trophy cases seems to be a rather peculiar situation.

As we understand it, the function of the committee is to gather up and list the various athletic awards and emblems. How the function could be misconstrued so that inadequate display room would hinder the progress in collection is beyond our conception. The trophy cases are another matter and will be made available as plans for their procurance are developed.

In the meantime, trophies can be collected and stored in the Graham Memorial storeroom or any other such place. At any rate, the fact that at present there are no big empty trophy cases awaiting the eager senior committee should not hinder the latter's work and function.

Surely, but Too Slowly

The work of rehabilitating Person hall, one of Carolina's oldest and most historic buildings, is going slowly but surely. Needless to say, it is not the "surely" of which we disapprove. The plan of creating a museum out of the old landmark is of definite value.

But, situated as it is in a prominent position on the campus, the litter of boards, barrels, and bricks which surround the building are made painfully apparent. That the work has been in progress since October and yet seems to be far from completion is hard to understand. And it is made all the harder to understand by the fact that the PWA has recently made a large allotment toward its completion, which should have speeded things up.

Chapel Hill has earned a well-deserved name of being one of the most beautiful college towns in the south. But if Person hall does not soon emerge from its present state of grotesqueness, visitors may be tempted to reverse their favorable impressions.

The "Y" And Nye

The announcement that Senator Gerald P. Nye will address a mass convocation in Memorial hall on the night of February 24 is hailed by the undergraduate body as an opportunity of becoming intelligently informed on the munitions racket by one who knows as much about it through his investigations as anyone in the country.

We need not reiterate student opinion on the subject because campus feeling is well known throughout the country. The despicable leeches who suck the blood of nations by forcing conflicts, robbing treasuries, and polluting politics are the object of a bitter resentfulness on the part of the cannon-fodder and future citizens-to-be. Senator Nye's efforts to expose these hyenas are appreciated by these very youths whose blood would be water for the munitions-makers when the opportunities presented themselves.

The Y. M. C. A. is to be commended for its action in securing Senator Nye. Intelligent presentations of current affairs are the source of a most beneficial education development. And perhaps it is better that Senator Nye be here before the Institute of Human Relations. The importance of what he has to say will not in this way be minimized with other issues.

Legal Lag

There appeared in an out of the way corner in the Thursday edition of a well known daily as eloquent a condemnation of the American legal system as one could wish to read.

"Man to Die in Chair Due to Clerk's Error," was the caption, and following it was the story of one Cecil Short, a Texan whose sentence to death for murder had been changed to one of life imprisonment by a commutation from "Ma" Ferguson, former governor of Texas. In copying Mrs. Ferguson's proclamation, some one in the governor's office wrote, from force of habit, "Jan. 8, 1934," instead of "Jan. 8, 1935." The mistake was a trivial one. The judge handling the case must have known the facts of the matter well enough to regard the slip as such, and to carry out the recommendations in the proclamation without further ado—unless it be to pause long enough to have the slight error corrected.

But the letter of American law is not so flexible. Many documents are declared null and void because of just such little slips, absurd as it all may be, and evidently this Texas judge, acting in accordance with the dictates of a decayed legal procedure, saw no other course than to sentence Short to die.

The probable outcome of the matter will be the issuance of a new and correct proclamation by Mrs. Ferguson, and the eventual commutation of the sentence. Still, the incident should not be disregarded, for it is another of the common sort which so clearly illustrate the muddle into which much of the American legal procedure has evolved.

Casual Correspondent
by
Nelson Lansdale

WHEN WAS THE WAR OF 1812?

You might like to know that the English department's precise Professor Johnny Booker stopped one of his classes the other day to ask, in all seriousness: "Who wrote 'The Education of Henry Adams'?"

SONNET TO JAMES

This department is pleased to report that it has fulfilled one of the ambitions of a lifetime—to have a dog named Jim. Jim's part collie, about three months old, and came to us from Mrs. Tack's as a present from Mike Erlanger. He's mostly white, with a brown face and a big brown spot on his back. We've had a cold for practically three months, so our sensory organs aren't very acute, but somebody who came in to meet Jim remarked—unkindly, we thought—that he smelled doggy. So we gave him a bath. We didn't have any dog soap, so we used Woodbury's, and some Pine Tar shampoo. Then just to be sure that he'd be acceptable company, we poured a little Yardley's After-Shaving Lotion and some talcum powder on him. We're told he smells all right now.

After the law school dance Friday night, a lot of people, in varying degrees of semi-intoxication, were milling in and out of our room, which Jim has correctly come to consider as partly his, too. At first Jim—playing host—was interested and greeted everybody who came in with enthusiastic tail-wagging. Finally, though, when far more people than the room could hold comfortably had filled it up with cigarette smoke, empty bottles, and shrill conversation, Jim picked out the one comfortable chair, curled up in it, and went to sleep. It occurred to us at the time that he was the one sensible animal there.

TIME ON YOUR HANDS

The English department's Dr. Arthur Palmer Hudson was complaining to his class that their generation didn't take time to read his beloved Walter Scott any more. "You rush around like mad all the time," said Dr. Hudson, "and you never settle down to read a good book if you have to take it slowly. 'Oh, tempora—'"

"Fugits?" interrupted Agnew Bahnson with a malicious grin.

THE TRIAL

Bill Cochrane, who's from Newton, N. C., tells us that he heard several country newspaper editors at the Newspaper Institute here a few weeks ago say that their circulation had shot up remarkably since the Hauptmann trial, that people were reading newspapers who'd never read them before to find out what was going on in a little town in New Jersey.

From Eleanor Bizzell, '34, now in the Pulitizer School of Journalism at Columbia, comes this account of a visit down there: "Friday was an eventful day: 'The Trial of the Century,' which is a three-ring circus, county fair and Roman holiday combined. I had a press pass and got a good seat several rows from the front. I wrote a feature on it for the News-Argus (Goldsboro), but it was one of those things that went rapidly in all directions, as Stephen Leacock always says. I was more interested in Flemington in relation to the trial's effect on it than I was in the trial itself. Scattered gleanings: Ladders, miniatures of the kidnapping evidence, are being peddled on the street to interested spectators, also gruesome pictures of Hauptmann looming against the background of the courthouse . . . the Bar Nellie in the Union Hotel, with the drink of the week, 'Kiss rum, aged on the Bronx subway ten minutes' . . . named for Louie Kiss, defense alibi witness of last week . . . an impromptu game of football by photographers waiting in front of the courthouse, in an attempt to get warm from the below zero weather . . . Reilly having his picture taken and saying to the crowd, 'Stay as Sweet As You Are' . . . and now you have a precis of the feature."

WITH THE CHURCHES

Baptist

10 a. m.—Student class—M. J. Hagood.

10 a. m.—Co-ed class—Mrs. E. T. Howell.

11 a. m.—Worship and sermon—the Reverend O. T. Binkley. Topic: "Our Task."

7 p. m.—B. Y. P. U. for college students.

7 p. m.—Young People's Society for high school students.

Catholic

8:30 a. m.—Mass in Gerrard hall—Dr. Morrissey.

Episcopal

8 a. m.—Holy communion.

11 a. m.—Service and sermon—the Reverend A. S. Lawrence.

8 p. m.—Prayers and organ.

Lutheran

10:15 a. m.—Sunday school discussion—Maurice Haskett.

11 a. m.—Service—Luther Stirewalt of Duke University.

Methodist

9:45 a. m.—Sunday school.

11 a. m.—Worship and sermon—the Reverend W. A. Jenkins. Topic: "Christ, Our Leader."

7 p. m.—Student Forum.

Presbyterian

10 a. m.—Student class—the Rev. Watt Cooper. Topic: "The Religious Basis of Family Life."

11 a. m.—Sermon by the Reverend Donald H. Stewart. Topic: "The Modern Hunger."

7 p. m.—Student Forum. Topic: "The Negro Sings His Religion."

8 p. m.—Community Winter Forum—the Reverend D. T. Easton. Topic: "Buchmanism, or the Oxford Group Movement."

United

10:15 a. m.—Student class—Dr. McKee. Topic: "Supreme Loyalty."

11 a. m.—Public worship—Dr. McKee. Topic: "The Quest for Understanding."

7 p. m.—Student Forum—F. S. Wilder. Topic: "Education and Racial Adjustment."

OUTSTANDING RADIO BROADCASTS

2:30: Mario Chamlee, tenor, WEAF; Play, "The First Year," with Gene Raymond and Lila Lee, WJZ.

3:00: New York Philharmonic-Symphony, Werner Janssen, conductor, WABC.

5:00: Concert orch.; Mme. Schumann-Heink, contralto, and others.

7:00: Jack Benny, comedian; Frank Parker, tenor; Bestor orch., WJZ; Alexander Woollcott, story teller; Armbruster orch., WABC.

7:30: Joe Penner, comedian; Ozzie Nelson orch., WJZ; Tours orch.; Frank Parker, tenor; Revellers Quartet; Pickens Sisters, songs; Charles Winninger, master of ceremonies, WABC.

8:00: Opera (to be announced); Deems Taylor, narrator, WEAF; Eddie Cantor, comedian, WABC; Symphony orchestra; Alexander Smallens, conductor, WJZ.

9:00: Symphony orch.; Victor Kolar, conductor; Lotte Lehmann, soprano, WABC.

10:30: "An American Fireside," Raymond P. Morley, editor of Today, WEAF.

Casts

(Continued from page one)

mental productions. "Cottie Mourns" and "Ancient Heritage" were produced experimentally in 1934 and "Yours and Mine" went through the mill last Tuesday night on the last bill of experimentals.

The new bill of plays will be the 40th on the Playmakers series of public productions written in the playwriting courses. With the new bill, the idea of having graduate students direct the plays will be innovated.

Poe's Auto Service

Agents for DeSoto and Plymouth

Let us tune your motor and make it run like new. Brake relining is our specialty. Our work is guaranteed and our prices are reasonable.

Call Us at 6581 and Let Us Demonstrate Our Cars to You

SOL Lipman's JACK

Will hold a special showing Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 11th and 12th, of the latest styles and woolen fabrics for Spring and Summer, 1935.

Authorized by
THE GLOBE TAILORING CO.
Salesman, H. E. Kimel

SOL Lipman's JACK

Phantoms Take Thriller, 32-31; Wrestlers Lose, 19-11

McCachren Makes Goal In Final Two Seconds; Nelson Leads Scoring

Tar Heels Fight Uphill Battle to Nose Out South Carolina

Henderson and Gooding Lead Gamecocks' Offense.

(Special to the DAILY TAR HEEL)

Columbia, S. C., Feb. 9.— Jim McCachren, North Carolina's sensational guard, climaxed a great basketball game between the two Carolina Universities by dropping in a field goal during the last two seconds of play and as result giving the White Phantoms a 32-31 victory here tonight.

The victory was the 15th out of 17 starts for the Tar Heels and enabled them to hold onto their lead in the Southern Conference.

Before a packed house of wild fans, the two even fives put on a great exhibition. The winners spotted the Gamecocks an 8-point lead at the start of the contest and from then on had to fight an uphill battle.

The Gamecocks led right up until the last second rally. Before dropping in his all-important goal, McCachren played his usual great floor play leading the Tar Heel defensive forces. Mack also dropped in another action shot for a total of 5.

Mel Nelson, forward, again paced the White Phantoms in point-making by tallying 13. He dropped in four field goals and five foul shots for his total.

Captain Dana Henderson, back at his forward post, as usual led the South Carolinians. He was especially apt with his long arching tosses. Gooding, guard, also played an excellent game and followed the two score-leaders with 9 points.

Box Score

N. CAROLINA	G	F	TP
Aitken, f	3	0	6
Nelson, f	4	5	13
Glace, c	0	0	0
Webster, c	0	2	2
McCachren, g	2	1	5
Harris, g	2	2	6
Totals	11	10	32
S. CAROLINA	G	F	TP
Laurie, f	1	2	4
Henderson, f	6	1	13
Craig, c	0	1	1
Rowland, g	2	0	4
Gooding, g	3	3	9
Totals	12	7	31

FROSH PLAY BABY DEACS TOMORROW

Yearling Cagers Battle Rivals on Wake Forest Court at 3:30 O'clock in Afternoon.

The frosh quintet will attempt to continue a march toward state honors tomorrow when it faces the Wake Forest yearlings on the latter's court at 3:30 o'clock.

This is a return engagement, the Tar Babies having stopped Wake Forest one, 33-32.

Twelve players will leave for Wake Forest tomorrow. It is doubtful whether Foy Grubb, regular guard, will be able to make the trip due to a bad cold. This will again bring Bill Franks into action. He played the entire game against Asheville the other night.

Third Setback

Grubb's inability to play is the third setback the frosh have received since the season's opening. The initial misfortune was the forced retiring of "Pee-Wee" Moss from the squad due to a sprained back. This brought Red Meroney into the spotlight and Meroney has given creditable performances to date at the pivot position.

The shifting of Andy Bershak from the frosh basketball team to football practice was another serious loss. Pete Boone first replaced Andy but at present Ramsay Potts is filling in at the forward post.

FOOTBALL SQUAD PLAYS SPIRITED PRACTICE GAME

First String Counts 9-6 Victory In Well-Played Contest; Jackson and Henderson Score.

REVERSES BRING TALLIES

Despite the bad weather, Carolina's football squad took a spirited practice game yesterday afternoon in Kenan stadium. The first eleven, or "Blue" team, counted a touchdown and a safety during the early part of the scrimmage to top a "White" club, 9-6.

The entire grid squad showed something approaching mid-season form as the players charged, blocked and tackled accurately and hard; in spite of the wet field and ball, the offense at times clicked for steady gains.

During the first half the first string demonstrated much power as it drove down the field. Don Jackson, halfback, counted a touchdown on the drive when he dashed 10 yards around the right side of the line on a reverse.

McIver Kicks

Pop McIver went into the backfield from his guard position and converted the extra point with a place kick.

The big "Blue" club also tallied a safety for its other two points during the first part of the contest. John Trimpey, tackle, broke through to block Dick Dashiell's punt and send the ball back of the goal line for the marker.

The lone "White" touchdown came just as the game ended with the "Blue" club made up of reserves. Henderson carried the ball over on a three-yard reverse run around left end. The running of Burnett and Cooner had placed the ball in scoring position.

The entire first eleven turned in creditable performances during the afternoon. Jackson did some excellent passing with the wet ball, while Murray Kanner, still out for both boxing and football, did some fine work at center.

Wally Dunham, halfback, playing on the second string, stole the show, however, as he broke away on several occasions for long runs.

The first "Blue" team lined up with Walborn, blocking back; Jackson and Captain Montgomery, halfbacks; Hutchins, fullback; Buck and McCarn, ends; Bartos and Trimpey, tackles; McIver and Joyce, guards, and Kanner, center. Walborn and Bartos are freshmen.

Captain Snyder, blocking back; Babe Daniel, center, and Tom Evins, tackle, were all on the sidelines with injuries.

EIGHT CONTESTS ARE ON CAROLINA CARD THIS WEEK

Big Five Basketball and Boxing Titles Will Be at Stake in Battles with Blue Devils.

MEET CATS THREE TIMES

Two state championships will be at stake when Carolina's athletic teams swing into action this week. The Tar Heels have eight encounters on their schedule, four against Duke and three opposite Davidson.

Duke heads the list with varsity and freshman boxing Friday night at Duke, and varsity and freshman basketball next Saturday night in Chapel Hill. Davidson is to be met on the hardwood court in Chapel Hill Wednesday night by varsity and freshman quints, and on the mat Friday in Chapel Hill by the varsity grapplers. The yearling cagers also take on the Deacon frosh tomorrow at Raleigh.

With regular schedules nearing completion, these contests will be important in deciding Big Five championships.

Cage Title Undecided

The basketball title is a toss-up between Carolina, Duke and State. Each has lost only one contest in the state. After State defeated Duke and then lost to Carolina, the Blue Devils turned the trick by winning from the Tar Heels and setting the standings into a jumble. Davidson and Wake Forest are out of the running.

The Tar Heel mitmen hold a 6½ to 1½ decision over State. Duke, however, has one of the best teams in years. The Big Five title will certainly be decided when these teams clash.

Carolina's wrestler's have met with rather indifferent success this season. After winning the opener from V. P. I., the matmen fell on successive weeks before State and Washington and Lee.

The matches with Duke next Friday will end the regular season for the boxing outfits. The varsity team will rest until February 22 when it is to enter the Southern Conference tournament at Charlottesville.

CAROLINA FROSH OUTGRAPPLE VMI YEARLINGS, 18-14

Ehringhaus, Ford, Love Turn in Falls for Tar Babies to Run Up Wide Margin.

TANKERSLEY GETS WIN

Getting off to an early lead over a team that last week handed the Navy plebes a 19-13 defeat, a hard-fighting Tar Baby wrestling club kept a margin throughout the meet to down the V. M. I. freshmen, 18-14.

Ehringhaus of the Tar Babies started the fireworks in the first bout by pinning his man in 6:10. The two matmen gave an exciting exhibition in which they seemed to alternate in being on top and bottom.

In the 125-pound bout Tankersley increased the lead with time advantage of 8 minutes.

Ford, in brilliant form, quickly pinned his previously undefeated opponent and increased the lead to 13-0.

In the next three bouts, Claypoole, Gibbons and James fought hard but were all defeated on time advantages. This made the count Carolina 13; V.M.I. 9.

Love of Carolina and Marshall put up the feature bout of the night in the 175-pound class as they tumbled and tossed each other all over the mat. Love finally kept his great record intact by using almost everything possible to throw his opponent. The fall came after 7:34 of fast wrestling and as the deciding margin for the winners.

118—Ehringhaus (C) pinned Faust in 6:10.

126—Tankersley (C) won by time decision over Strate, 8:13.

135—Ford (C) pinned Reeves in 3:30.

145—Wood (VMI) won by time decision over Claypoole, 4:15.

155 — Steidemann (VMI) time decision over Gibbons, 7:55.

165—Jarvis (VMI) time decision over James, 8:15.

175—Love (C) threw Marshall in 7:34.

Unlimited—Fiedler (VMI) threw Kaluk in 1:55.

Umstead Gets Carolina's Lone Fall In Fast Time

Generals Win Last Two Bouts After Score Is Tied at 11-11

Gholsen and Bonner Score Time Decision Victories.

With the score tied 11-11 after six matches, Burgess and Edge scored victories over Gwynn and Ranson, respectively, in the 175-pound and unlimited classes to give the V. M. I. wrestlers a 19-11 victory over the Carolina matmen.

Frank Umstead, stellar bantamweight of the Tar Heels, sent his team into an early lead by pinning Riley, Kaydet performer, with a half nelson and arm lock in 4:44 minutes. It was Umstead's third victory in four starts under varsity competition.

Sherrard, brilliant featherweight of the visitors put his aggregation back into the running by throwing Lytle of Carolina.

Score Tied Again

In the 135, Witt gained a time advantage of 7:34 over Douglas to put the Virginians ahead 8-5 but Gholsen of Carolina, amassed a 7:53 decision on time over Travis to even the count at 8-all.

Bonner, Tar Heel 155-pounder, defeated Brooks in one of the most thrilling scraps of the evening.

In the 165-pound class Captain Currence continued his sterling performances in Dixie mat circles winning on a 6:15-minute time decision over Captain Efland of Carolina. Victorious via the fall route against State, Duke and Navy opponents, Currence found a worthy and willing foe in the Carolinian.

Burgess, who was runner-up to Waldrop of V. P. I. for the Southern Conference title in the 175-pound class in 1934, won by an overwhelming time advantage of 9:00 minutes over Gwynn of Carolina. Although he was badly outclassed Gwynn put up a game scrap.

Edge made short order of Ranson in the unlimited class. Neither man could obtain an advantage in the first two minutes but Edge garnered two falls in 3:24 minutes and 30 seconds of the regulation periods.

Summary of the bouts:

118—Umstead (C) threw Riley in 4:44 minutes.

126—Sherrard (VMI) pinned Lytle in 5:05 minutes.

135—Witt (VMI) won time decision over Douglas of 3:48 minutes.

145—Gholsen (C) won time decision over Travis of 7:53 minutes.

155—Bonner (C) won time decision over Brooke of 2:12 minutes.

165—Capt. Currence (VMI) won time decision over Captain Efland of 6:15 minutes.

175—Burgess (VMI) won time decision over Gwynn of 9:00 minutes.

Unlimited—Edge threw Ranson in 3:24 minutes of the first period and 30 seconds of the second period.

Nine Teams Still Unbeaten In Race For Mural Title

Unless the rival of all ambitious prognosticators—Mr. Unexpected Upset—does not intervene, there should be four fraternity and two dormitory teams still undefeated in the intramural basketball competition at the completion of the regular season's play.

At present, six hold inviolate records in the fraternity league and three in the dormitory league, with the assurance of at least two of the former and one of the latter being eliminated before any play-offs.

This week is certain to see two teams dropped as Phi Kappa Sigma and Zeta Psi face off on Thursday, and Ruffin meets Mangum No. 1 on Friday.

The standings of the unbeaten teams are as follows:

Team	W.	Points For	Points Ag.
D. K. E.	6	191	76
S. A. E.	6	189	66
Phi Kappa Sig.	6	144	88
Mangum No. 1	5	241	55
Ruffin	5	169	65
Swain Hall	5	165	61
Kappa Alpha	5	134	43
Zeta Psi	5	123	50
Beta Theta Pi	4	144	70

The schedule:

Monday: No games.

Tuesday: 4:30—(1) Locals vs. Old West, (2) S. A. E. vs. Phi Alpha, (3) Law School vs. Mayflower Club; 5:30—(1) Theta Kappa Nu vs. Sigma Nu, (2) Phi Delta Theta vs. St. Anthony Hall, (3) Lewis vs. Manly.

BOWLING AND PING PONG MURAL PLAY BEGINS THIS WEEK

Dorm and Frat Clubs to Make Entries at Once.

Entries for the annual intramural competitions in both bowling and table tennis will be accepted this week, with the qualifying rounds in the former coming off before Friday.

The bowling procedure will be diverted a bit from the usual way, in that sixteen fraternity and eight dormitory teams will bowl off for qualification. The entry fees will be 25c per team of three in bowling and 10c per team of three in ping pong.

Bowling participation will give 25 intramural points for entering a team, 40 points for winning the finals, 30 for the semi-finals, and 25 extra for the campus championship.

There will be 20 points given to the teams eliminated in the semi-finals and 10 in the quarter-finals. Fraternity teams eliminated in the preliminaries will receive five points each.

Table tennis points given will be 25 for entering a team, five points for winning preliminaries, 10 for winning semi-finals, and 25 for campus championship. Individual points given will be five for winning and one for losing individual matches.

High School Mat And Mit Tourneys Open Tomorrow

Finals Take Place In Tin Can Tuesday

Twenty Teams from 17 High Schools, Including 100 Entrants, Already Entered.

PRELIMS BEGIN AT 3 P. M.

A total of 20 boxing and wrestling teams, representing 17 high schools in the state and including more than 100 participants, have already sent their entries for the fifth annual interscholastic boxing and wrestling tournaments for North Carolina high schools which are to be held in Chapel Hill tomorrow and Tuesday, it was announced yesterday by E. R. Rankin, secretary.

The high schools to be represented in the boxing tournament are: Charlotte, Chapel Hill, Durham, Edenton, Elizabeth City, Goldsboro, Greensboro, Mt. Holly, Oxford Orphanage, Raleigh, Rocky Mount, Thomasville, Wilmington and Wilson.

Wrestling Entrants

Schools to enter teams in the wrestling tournament are: Barium Springs, Durham, Greensboro, High Point, Salisbury and Thomasville.

The contestants are to weigh

(Continued on last page)

Co-eds to Take Final Work Before Tourney

It is expected that all the co-eds will take hard workouts this week as it is the last week of practice before the inter-class tournament. The championship battle between the four classes is an annual affair for the Carolina girls.

The schedule this week for the basketball practices which are held in Bynum gym is as follows:

Monday—Freshmen and Juniors at 8 o'clock.

Tuesday—Seniors and Juniors at 7 o'clock.

Wednesday—Freshmen and Sophomores at 8 o'clock.

Thursday—Sophomores and Seniors at 7 o'clock.

OH, DOCTOR! You've Had a Busy Week!!

Bring Your Shyster Friends Down and Gather 'Round One of Those SPECIAL SUNDAY DINNERS at

GOOCH BROS. & BROOKS CAFE

A Meal That Will Fit in with a Perfect Week-end

BEER IN BOTTLES AND ON TAP CANDY SODAS SANDWICHES MAGAZINES TOBACCOS NEWSPAPERS

Y.M.C.A. CABINETS MEET TOMORROW

Junior-Senior, Sophomore, and Freshman Groups to Convene.

With Phil Hammer addressing the junior-senior group, the University Y. M. C. A. cabinets will continue their discussions of crime and "social disorganization" tomorrow night at their regular meetings in the "Y" building at 7:15 o'clock.

Hammer will discuss the "Social Effects of Crime" before the upper cabinet while the sophomore group will continue its consideration of the crime problem where George MacFarland left off last Monday night when he lectured on "The Crime of Child Labor."

According to a previous announcement, the Freshman Friendship Council will hear a speaker from the Institute for Research in Social Science who will discuss "Points in the Textile Labor Situation."

Report

(Continued from page one)

ties of budget and accounting records and control; purchases and personnel, covering the functional activities of purchasing, stores-keeping, personal control other than faculty, and certification of payrolls; operation and maintenance of physical plant, covering the functional activities of additions and betterments, operation and maintenance of buildings and grounds, direction of general University services; operation of commercial and auxiliary enterprises, covering the general management of electric, water, telephone, laundry, dining halls, rental, retail stores, and other service agencies. Each division is headed by an executive to whom is given sufficient responsibility and authority to secure proper results. Each division is supplied with qualified line assistants who share with the division heads the responsibilities and authority necessary to perform the task assigned to them.

The student committee is concerned with each of the five divisions, but the recent investigation has been limited to a study of the service plants, which would be included mostly in the last two divisions and in part in the second and third divisions. In order to present a complete picture of the first three major divisions, with which our forthcoming report is not so vitally concerned, we will quote as follows excerpts from the report of L. B. Rogerson, assistant controller, presented to President Graham and Controller Woollen concerning these first groups as well as a picture of the patent idea of centrallized control and decentrallized detail:

Directors and Co-ordinators

The directing and co-ordinating head of the five major divisions is the representative of the controller, the assistant controller. To assist him in deciding matters of concern to more than one division is a committee without authority except to recommend, composed of the heads of the five major divisions and the managers of the various service agencies. To advise him in the management of student-supported enterprises is a committee composed of three students appointed by the president of the student body.

Each division head decides for all divisions the methods to be used in the performance of the functional activities in his charge. For example, the head of the control division decides the kind of records to be kept in the laundry. Each division head directs, supervises, and is responsible for the execution of the work performed by others in his division, regardless of the type of work done; however, in the delegation of tasks to the line members, he holds them responsible for doing their tasks as outlined by the proper functional head. For example, the head of the division of auxiliary enterprises holds the superintendent of the laundry, and the superintendent of the laundry holds the laundry cashier, responsible for keeping the records of the laundry in the manner prescribed by the head of the division of control. In this manner, functions, duties, and relationships are clearly and definitely established and maintained.

Dual Responsibility

Each division head, therefore, has dual responsibility. As functional officer, his responsibilities are designated by functional activities, i. e., activities of a like nature, the results being a high order of specialization and uniformity. As executive officer, his responsibilities are designated as to performance of those directly under his direction and supervision, the results being a high order of accomplishment.

At present, the division of finance is divided in two sections. The University treasurer heads one section and is accountable for the deposit of all funds collected by the general cashier, the disbursement of funds by joint signature of self and auditor, and the custody of all securities. The general cashier heads the other section and is accountable for the correctness and collection of all student accounts for tuition, fees, and room-rent, the correctness and disposition of all funds turned in to him from all sources, and the proper adjustment of accounts. The general cashier has one assistant, his and the treasurer's correspondence being taken care of by the secretary to the assistant controller. All transactions in this division pass through the National Cash Register Accounting Machine.

Control

The division of control is headed by an auditor, with an accountant next in command. The auditor is responsible for the budget and accounting systems, routines, and procedures for automatic internal checks and controls, statements and reports, and departmental auditing. The accountant is accountable to the assistant controller through the auditor for office management and the correctness of transactions and accounts.

The division of purchases and personnel is headed by a supervisor. As supervisor of purchases and stores, he is accountable for all purchases made by the various departments, commercial and auxiliary agencies, for operating stores control, and the mark-up and mark-down of retail stores merchandise; as personnel officer, he is accountable for the control and welfare of personnel other than faculty and the certification of payrolls.

The staff consists of two stenographer-clerks. On purchases a complete catalogue and state contracts file is maintained. Control of purchases is effected through the budget, signature on all purchase orders, and planned group buying. Control of personnel is effected by matching requirements of the job with the qualifications of the worker, by authorization of employment, fixing of rates of pay, work hours, vacations, sick leave, etc.

Juniors to Meet

For the purpose of electing the junior leaders for the junior-senior dance, the entire junior class will meet in Gerrard hall Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

Marshals for commencement will be selected at the meeting also, according to an announcement made last night.

Kay Kyser

(Continued from page one)

glee club training to good use and, with Fred Waring, started the glee club idea in dance orchestras. They also feature novelties such as "Any Rags, Any Bones, Any Bottles Today?" "Fraternity Blues" (Kay's own composition), "The Man on the Flying Trapeze," "I Took My Cornet to the Party," and "Don't Bring Lulu."

Sully Mason usually does the comedy work except for Merwyn Bogue's rendition of "Isch Kabibble." Kyser believes in having either good vocalists for ballad songs or none. Bill Stoker and Art Wilson prove this point.

Feminine Vocalist

Besides these three outstanding songsters, Kay will bring with him when he plays for the German Club mid-winters here Friday and Saturday a charming feminine vocalist in the person of Virginia Simms.

Miss Simms has formerly worked with Hal Grayson, Guy Lombardo, and Tom Gerun. She is the newest member of the Kyser unit. The 21-year-old star has a charming personality, good looks, and the rest of what it takes to be a great singer.

Notwithstanding the admitted features of his orchestra, Kay is perhaps best known for playing sweet music in a distinctive style.

In a nutshell—Kyser is a "stylist."

Dogwood Festival Executives

There will be a meeting of the executive committee of the Dogwood Festival tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock in R. M. Grumman's office on the third floor of South building.

High Tourneys

(Continued from page three)

in with Coaches Quinlan and Rowe at Emerson field at 11 o'clock Monday morning.

Preliminaries are to begin at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon, with both boxing and wrestling being run off simultaneously.

Semi-finals in boxing and wrestling are to begin at 8 o'clock Monday night.

Finals in both sports are to be held at 8 o'clock Tuesday night. All the matches are to be held in the Tin Can.

Weights for both boxing and wrestling are to be: 108, 115, 125, 135, 145, 155, 165, and 175 pounds.

Raleigh won the boxing tournament last year, while Barium Springs captured the wrestling title.

University Alumnus Honored

News recently reached the University alumni office of the election to the presidency of the American Political Science Association of Dr. Francis W. Coker, member of the University class of '99.

Dr. Coker, who is professor of political science at Yale University, is a brother of Dr. R. E. Coker and a cousin of Dr. W. C. Coker, both of whom are professors here.

Ballet Russe at Duke

The Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, under the direction of Colonel W. DeBasil, will be presented at Page auditorium, Duke University, at 8:15 o'clock, Monday, March 4, according to an announcement yesterday by J. Foster Barnes of Duke University.

Bulletins

(Continued from page one)

only long enough to demolish the insinuation of the defense that the late Violet Sharpe was implicated in the crime. Wilentz rested his case and Reilly failed to offer rebuttal witnesses. Justice Thomas W. Thenchard denied a defense motion for acquittal.

State Legislature

Raleigh, Feb. 9.—(UP)—The general assembly passed a few local measures, received a few more, and adjourned as usual until 8 p. m. Monday.

In the house of representatives Kelly of Sampson, finally succeeded in squeezing through, in house suspension rules, his anti-fireworks bill which met a horrible fate when it was originally introduced several weeks ago. The bill as passed today prohibits the sale and use of fireworks in Sampson county only. The senate in a 20-minute session received one new bill, passed seven locals.

INFIRMARY

Only these eight students were confined in the infirmary yesterday: R. T. Williams, Margaret Spencer, Alta Simms, Allen Knott, Carl Anderson, E. T. Berry, E. M. Edens, and A. V. Weltscheff.

"Y" Deputation Returns

The Y. M. C. A. deputation team to Dunn will return to Chapel Hill this afternoon. Included among those making the trip are Chairman Jack Pool, General "Y" Secretary Harry F. Comer, Albert Ellis, Gene Simmons, Nick Read, James Dees, Herbert Hazelman, John Walker, and Claude Ballard.

Orchestra Presents Concerts Tomorrow

Presenting their 89th concert since June 10, 1934, the North Carolina Symphony, directed by Lamar Stringfield, will open their "Festival" in Raleigh Memorial auditorium tomorrow night at 8:30 o'clock.

The program will consist of five concerts, opening with a symphony concert on Monday evening. The Shaw University Choral Society of Negro voices will sing a group of spirituals in addition to Tuesday evening's symphony program. Compositions by American composers will be featured on Wednesday afternoon, and Wednesday evening, the final program, will be "Artists' Night."

Rehearsals, which will be held every morning, will be open to the public.

Nye

(Continued from page one)

will probably include also the matter of the government owning a monopoly on the manufacture of armaments and munitions, a question into which his congressional committee inquired last fall.

The Dakota senator now resides in Copperstown where he has lived since 1919 when he moved there to become editor and manager of the Griggs County Sentinel-Courier.

Climaxing an outstanding journalistic career, he was appointed by the governor to fill a vacancy in the United States senate in 1925. He was elected to the same office in 1926.

LOST

One black notebook in Crescent cafeteria. Please return to 312 Lewis as soon as possible.

CAROLINA THEATRE

SUNDAY
MONDAY

"WHEN THIS BREED OF MEN DIES OUT . . . . THAT'S THE END"

They're the Bengal Lancers . . . heroes all . . . living dangerously, loving recklessly, fighting madly . . . an amazing spectacle of swashbuckling adventure and exciting romance!

GARY COOPER
FRANCHOT TONE
RICHARD CROMWELL
SIR GUY STANDING
C. Aubrey Smith — Kathleen Burke
in

"The LIVES OF A BENGAL LANCER"

LIBERTY GIVES IT FOUR STARS
"Four Years in the Making . . . . . And Worth Every Second."

—OTHER FEATURES—
Color Classic, "Little Dutch Mill"
Paramount News

TUESDAY — GEORGE RAFT, CAROLE LOMBARD in "Rumba"
WEDNESDAY — LEO CARRILLO, TED HEALY in "The Winning Ticket"
THURSDAY — LYLE TALBOT, MARY ASTOR in "Red Hot Tires"
FRIDAY — ANN HARDING, FRANK MORGAN in "Enchanted April"
MID-NITE SHOW FRIDAY — "Red Head" with GRACE BRADLEY
SATURDAY — WARNER OLAND in "Charlie Chan in Paris"

SENIOR CLASS
7 P.M.
GERRARD HALL

The Daily Tar Heel

JUNIOR CLASS
7:30 P.M.
MURPHEY HALL

SERVED BY THE UNITED PRESS

VOLUME XLIII | CHAPEL HILL, N. C., TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1935 | NUMBER 103

REILLY DEFENDS HAUPTMANN WITH ELOQUENT PLEA

Barrister Pleads Four Hours; Flays State's Evidence; Jury Takes Case Tomorrow.

CALLS POLICE "BUNGLERS"

Flemington, N. J., Feb. 11.—(UP)—From the brightness of mid-morning until the slanting rays of the late afternoon sun filtered through the windows of the crowded courtroom here, Edward J. Reilly passionately and eloquently plead with a jury of eight men and four women to spare the life of Richard Bruno Hauptmann.

Without consulting notes, documents, or transcript of testimony, never once departing from the straight line that he had set for himself, the veteran barrister delivered a legal masterpiece.

Drains Evidence

His brain, spinning like a dynamo, went through the million words of testimony spoken here and took from them everything that could be construed to be in Hauptmann's defense.

He flayed the state's witnesses for "a bunch of half-wits." He played upon the fact that every particle of the evidence brought forward by the state is circumstantial. He believed that the burden of the proof lay with the state.

He began his plea with low, modulated, sometimes sibilant tones, then rose to crescendoes with high pitched exhortations. He stood by his claims that the kidnaping was an "inside job." He stressed in insinuating tones the fact that Violet Sharpe committed suicide.

"No one commits suicide," he shouted, "because they can't get

(Continued on page two)

Phi Assembly

The Phi assembly will meet tonight at 7:15 o'clock in New East.

Bills to be discussed are: Resolved, That the campus sidewalks be paved with stone; Resolved, That the Phi assembly favors membership in the Carolina Political Union; Resolved, That the school of engineering be moved to Raleigh; and Resolved, That a prohibitive income tax be levied on all incomes in excess of $1,000,000.

Plans will also be brought forward for holding a Phi social during the winter quarter.

Phil Hammer Discusses Effects of Crime

Speaker Says One Inhabitant Is Murdered Every 45 Minutes.

"It is the public opinion and not judges, prosecutors, police chiefs, or laws that in the last analysis determines whether crime is to be punished or not," stated Phil Hammer, Y. M. C. A. secretary, last night continuing the series of crime discussions in the junior-senior cabinet.

Hammer's topic was "The Social Effects of Crime."

"An inhabitant of the United States is murdered every 45 minutes," the speaker said. "Last year the United States homicide rate was 10.7 per 100,000, highest in the civilized world."

The "Y" secretary pointed out that the nation's crime bill is estimated at $13,000,000,000 a year and that 400,000 individuals are regularly engaged in criminal activities.

In the sophomore cabinet, Phil Kind led an informal bull-session on "Prison Labor."

FAIRLEY, KELLAR DEBATE TONIGHT

University Team Meets West Virginia on Arms Question in Gerrard Hall at 7 P.M.

A University of North Carolina debate team, consisting of Francis Fairley and Norman Kellar, will meet a team from the University of West Virginia in Gerrard hall at 7 o'clock tonight to support the affirmative of the query: Resolved, That this house favors the nationalization of armament production.

Opponents Well Known

Fairley and Kellar have both represented the University in previous intercollegiate debates, having appeared together in a debate with Georgia Tech last year.

Upholding the negative of the resolution for West Virginia are Paul Chambers and James Heinze, both prominent men at their school.

The West Virginia team is well-known throughout this country and abroad, having been selected by the National Student Federation to represent the colleges and universities of the United States abroad last spring.

Now on Tour

They are now on a 13-day tour of southern colleges and universities, debating on 11 of the 13 days.

Try-outs will occur at 4 p. m. tomorrow for the University's two debates with Wake Forest on the subject: Resolved, That the nations of the world agree to prevent the shipment of arms and munitions.

One team of the University will uphold the negative February 19 in Chapel Hill. A second University team will support the affirmative February 22 at Wake Forest.

SENATE TO TEST NEW PROCEDURE

Di's Discussion Will Be Specially Prepared Tonight.

Trying out a new experiment in floor procedure, the Dialectic Senate will convene tonight at 7 o'clock in New West.

Bills to be taken up at the meeting have been assigned members of the organization for special consideration, and these men will lead the discussions at the session tonight.

Ths plan of having floor leaders appointed to prepare in advance for the discussion of measures is an attempt to bring about more intelligent consideration of resolutions and bills.

The first bill on the calendar, Resolved, That students not having their homes in Chapel Hill should not have to buy Chapel Hill auto licenses, will be led by Brainard B. Rorison and Don McKee. Senator Rorison will uphold the negative and McKee the affirmative.

T. P. Yeatman will debate the affirmative of the measure, Resolved, That the Di Senate go on record as favoring the anti-lynching bill to be considered by Congress. Bill MacDonald will oppose the bill.

J. F. Fletcher will favor the bill, Resolved, That the Di Senate is in favor of the child labor bill to be proposed tot he State Legislature. Fletcher will be opposed by James Vernon.

DR. ODUM LEAVES ON LECTURE TOUR

Famous Sociologist Will Speak in Middlewest and East.

Dr. Howard W. Odum, noted sociologist and director of the Institute for Research in Social Science at the University, left yesterday for an extended lecture tour of the middlewest and east during which he will address several important groups on topics relating to modern social trends.

He spoke at the University of Chicago yesterday on social regional study and regionalism in the south. He will lecture again tomorrow on the subject.

While in Chicago Dr. Odum will be the house guest of Dr. Louis Round Wilson, former librarian at the University, now director of the Chicago graduate school of library science.

Dr. Odum will speak at the University of Illinois Thursday and Friday on the spirit of American institutions and social planning.

On his way home he will stop at Philadelphia to give an address March 4 on the program of the Pennsylvania Schoolman's Week on modern trends and before the American Academy of Political and Social Science on March 5 on "The Orderly Transition of Democracy."

P. U. Board Interviews Applicants Today

Hearing for Would-Be Business Managers of Finjan at 4 P.M.

Niles Bond, Herb Osterheld, Eli Joyner, Ned McAlister and Boylan Carr have applied to the Publications Union board for the business managership of the Finjan, made vacant recently by Bernard Solomon.

The above applicants are asked to meet with the Publications Union board at 4 p. m. tomorrow. Each will be personally interviewed by the board before any choice is made in order that no qualifications be overlooked.

Political Union Names Hammer Temporary Head, Plans Forum

Duce Asks Satisfaction For Slain Troops

Issues Mandate to Abyssinia; Mobilizes Hundred Thousand.

Rome, Italy, Feb. 11.—(UP)—Premier Benito Mussolini drew up an ultimatum tonight demanding "complete satisfaction" from Abyssinia for the killing of more than 100 Italian troops in recurrent clashes in the borderlands of North Africa.

Il Duce backed up his threat by mobilizing 100,000 young men.

DANCER WILL NOT PERFORM TONIGHT

Nini Theilade Postpones Date to March 6 at Request of Movie Producers.

The appearance of Nini Theilade in Chapel Hill tonight has been postponed until March 6 by the request of Warner Brothers, movie producers.

The 18-year-old Danish dancer came to America to appear in the screen version of "A Midsummer Night's Dream." The movie producers were so impressed with the young dancer's work that they asked the Student Entertainment Committee to release Theilade from her contract to appear here on February 12.

Spring Entertainment

On March 6 Theilade will appear in Memorial hall accompanied by the Whitney String Quintet and piano.

By way of entertainment during the spring quarter the Student Entertainment Committee will bring to Chapel Hill none other than the De Wolf Hopper Comic Opera company in the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "The Mikado," and the Russian Symphonic Choir.

NEW BOOK TREATS AMERICAN 'STICKS'

Press Issues "Backwoods America" and "Agrarianism."

The University Press has announced the release of two books: "Agrarianism," by Troy J. Cauley, and "Backwoods America," by Charles Morrow Wilson.

Cauley's book presents the case for agrarianism, which is defined roughly as an economic and social system under which the chief method of subsistence is that of tilling the soil for a living, with a consequent wide dispersion of population.

"Backwoods America," by Charles Morrow Wilson, is considered one of the best books released by the Press in a long time. The book deals with the habits, environment, and anecdotes about what Wilson calls the "American peasant."

The author was born and raised on an Ozark mountain farm and since his graduation from the University of Arkansas has written for farm journals in the south and some of our larger periodicals.

The book was given a page and a half review by the New York Times and was highly praised. To quote: "'Backwoods America' is not only a variedly interesting and lively book that is out of the ordinary. It is a socially illuminating book that can arouse curiosity in many directions."

Committee Appointed To Form Proposals

Appointed Body Will Set Date of First Public Meeting and Propose Permanent Form.

WILL CONVENE THURSDAY

The new Carolina Political Union took definite form last night when 40 interested students met in Graham Memorial, elected a temporary chairman, and made tentative plans for the first public forum.

The first forum will meet on a date decided upon by a special committee appointed by the chairman and will be informal and open to the campus, with no official representation from any organization required or no organizational affiliation as a prerequisite.

Hammer is Chairman

Phil Hammer was elected temporary chairman and will head the committee which he appointed. This group will not only set the date, but will make necessary proposals for the permanent organization which will be submitted to the group at the first forum. It will also decide the issue or issues for debate and discussion at this session.

The committee appointed is composed of Robert Smithwick, R. Phillips Russell, Joe Barnett, Bill Levitt, Morty Slavin, Joe Sugarman, Mason Gibbes, Virgil Lee, Betty Durham and Professor E. J. Woodhouse.

Unlimited Attendance

The representatives at the informal session headed by Hammer last night were members of various campus organizations and interested students and faculty members.

Several motions were carried in addition to the first which provided that unlimited attendance mark the first forum. These included motions to vest in the temporary committee certain functions already mentioned and to adopt a permanent administration at the first forum.

Phil Hammer announced last night that the committee will meet Thursday night at 10 oclock in 209 Graham Memorial to carry out this work.

FROSH GO HOTCHA AT JAZZY CHAPEL

Freddy Johnson, Peggy Wood, Gene Whitaker Entertain.

With the signature strains of "Villia," Freddy Johnson and his Carolina Tar Heels Orchestra offered a program of mirth and melody to the freshmen class at their regular assembly yesterday.

Vocal interpretations were handled by Peggy Wood and Gene Whitaker, with Freddy himself taking charge of the microphone at one time.

After the theme song, the Tar Heels swung into "Bugle Call Rag," especially arranged by Randy Blanchard. Gene Whitaker opened the vocal selections with "Solitude."

A melodious warning, "Just Once Too Often," was sung by Miss Wood, followed by another Blanchard arrangement of "Sophisticated Lady."

Freddy and the boys then hot-chad with "I Can't Dance, I Got Ants in My Pants." Another special arrangement by Blanchard was vocally rendered by the combined song team of Wood and Whitaker.

STUDENTS' REPORT ON LAUNDRY

Advisory Committee Makes Recommendations to University Administration; Laundry Rates Are Found to Be Considerably Lower Than Rates of Laundries in Neighboring Communities.

By PHIL HAMMER

The report of the student advisory board, an introduction to which was presented in Sunday's issue of the DAILY TAR HEEL, will be printed in this newspaper by unit, i.e., individual reports on each of the service plants, daily throughout this week.

The first report, dealing with the University laundry follows. The results of the study carried on by the group of the Book Exchange will be printed tomorrow.

Each report includes an historical sketch, a factual presentation of the administration and physical set-ups of the unit concerned, and recommendations which the committee made for each division.

Immediate Introduction

Our study was conducted as follows: We made a detailed inspection of the physical set-up of the various service plants first; then, after we had completed all units, we went back to each division again in order to inspect and study the administrative and financial details of the system and to obtain a factual background for presentation in our report; lastly, we made a thorough study of the central business office, embracing administrative, financial, and organizational details. The following report will include a summary of the physical investigations, a factual presentation of the different units, and our recommendations as embracing both the physical and the administrative sides.

Recommendations

The student advisory board makes the following recommendations to the University administration regarding the University laundry, following a study of all the service plants:

1. More thoroughness and closer attention to mending clothes.

2. The installation of a sock-darning machine.

3. An improved method of attaching tags to handkerchiefs and socks.

4. A readjustment in compensation scales for all employees, an increase in the wages of full-time workers and a possible decrease in remuneration to the part-time employees, based on a study by the administration of services rendered.

5. A more efficient system of dealing with student complaints and adjustments.

6. Prompt consideration by University officials of the laundry management's recommendations for replacement and installation of new and needed machinery.

UNIVERSITY LAUNDRY

The purpose of the laundry is to provide sanitary, prompt, and low-priced laundry service to the student body and the community. This service is designed primarily for the use of the students, but, as a matter of convenience, the public may avail itself of the University laundry facilities. We have found that an effort is made to maintain prices on the lowest level consistent with good management, yet high enough to yield a return sufficient to cover costs of general office overhead, depreciation, and replacements, the latter two items to be taken care of, in the absence of special funds, by a fair surplus above operating and overhead costs. Charges to students are less than those to the general public for "commercial" work, in accordance with the principle underlying the establishment of the service.

Because of the unsanitary and inadequate circumstances surrounding the washing of students' laundry by Negro washerwomen scattered through the town, the University on October 16, 1921, started operating a laundry for its students, in a building which is now occupied by the Buildings Department.

(Continued on page two)

The Daily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Union Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where it is printed daily except Mondays, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Holidays. Entered as second class matter at the post office of Chapel Hill, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 for the college year.

A. T. Dill ..... Editor
Robert C. Page, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
Joe Webb ..... Business Manager
George Underwood ..... Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

EDITORIAL BOARD—Phil Hammer, chairman, Earl Wolslagel, Franklin Harward, John Schulz, DuPont Snowden, Margaret McCauley, Morty Slavin, Sam Leager, Dick Myers, Charles Lloyd, Jake Snyder, Phil Kind, Charles Daniel, George Butler.

FEATURE BOARD—Nelson Lansdale, chairman; Nick Read, Bob Browder, Francis Clingman, J. E. Poindexter, W. M. Cochrane, Willis Harrison.

CITY EDITORS—Irving Suss, Walter Hargett, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.

TELEGRAPH EDITORS—Stuart Rabb, Charlie Gilmore.

DESK MAN—Eddie Kahn.

SPORTS DEPARTMENT—Jimmy Morris and Smith Barrier, co-editors, Tom Bost, Lee Turk, Len Rubin, Fletcher Ferguson, Stuart Sechriest, Lester Ostrow, Ira Sarasohn.

EXCHANGES—Margaret Gaines.

STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER—Don Becker.

REPORTERS—Bill Hudson, John Smith, J. F. Jonas, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Hazel Beacham, Raymond Howe, William Jordan, Morton Feldman.

Business Staff

ASST. BUSINESS MANAGER ..... Butler French
COLLECTION MANAGER ..... Herbert Osterheld
OFFICE MANAGERS ..... Walter Eckert, Roy Crooks
NATIONAL ADVERTISING ..... Boylan Carr
DURHAM REPRESENTATIVE—Joe Murnick.
LOCAL ADVERTISING—Hugh Primrose, Robt. Sosnik, Eli Joyner (managers), Bill MacDonald, Louis Shaffner, Page Keel, Bill McLean, Crist Blackwell.

CITY EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE: WALTER HARGETT

Tuesday, February 12, 1935

PARAGRAPHICS

Given a buffet supper was the Y. M. C. A. at W. C. U. N. C. We guess they had alphabet soup.

Our only hope is that the advisory committee's report is not just good advice. The administration will doubtless pay more attention to it than that.

Representatives of organized labor have given it out that they are going to make "one helluva fight." Much more of this Maxie Baer talk, and they'll end up entertaining in the night clubs.

Addition to The Family

Tonight the newest of campus organizations, the Carolina Political Union, will hold its first meeting.

To those of us who watched with interest the formation and growth of the Student Foreign Policy League, begun last spring, the new group is another indication of the broadening of the scope of college education. If the true test of an educated man, in the liberal and humanitarian sense of the word, is his interests, then this organization is really a contribution to the University.

The growing importance of government and politics that has accompanied the expansion of the power of the White House should command the attention and interest of students who are ambitious to be good citizens. The Carolina Political Union may not attract a large membership—which is too much to expect of the type of organization that it is—but we hope that will not deter its founders from promoting the growth of a worthwhile project.

Coppers Cop
Their Man

Several Carolina students were standing on a corner of Market street in Greensboro about 1 o'clock Sunday morning, tirelessly thumbing toward Chapel Hill, when suddenly across the street in front of them, there came a sound of falling plate glass. Then a Negro man walked nonchalantly away from the broken window in "Frank's Bargain Shop" carrying under his arm several suits of second-hand clothes as his booty. He walked slowly to the corner and stepped indifferently into a vacant lot, but he had hardly disappeared into the darkness when a police car skidded around the corner and slid to a stop before the show window. Four men jumped out fore it had stopped completely, two of them following the course taken by the Negro and the other two running, guns in hand, around the other side, while the driver of the car tore on around the corner in anticipation of the thief's appearance on that street. So quickly was all this done that the Negro had gone less than 100 yards from the scene of his crime when he was cornered in an alley immediately back of the store building and arrested.

The Chapel Hillians, watching the proceedings in utter amazement, dumbfounded at the culprit's boldness in committing the act right before their very eyes, were none the less struck by the decisive speed with which the Greensboro police grabbed the negro. According to one of them, the whole robbery, chase, and arrest took place all within less than 90 seconds, and in talking with the driver of the patrol car after the excitement was over, the boys found that such speed was made possible by a very efficient radio system used in the patrol cars.

Several North Carolina cities employ this system, but this is the prime first-hand example of its efficiency.

Crisis in Our History

The United States Supreme Court, entering its fifth period of epochal decisions, postponed action on the gold clause cases because, apparently, no decision in this all-important matter could be reached. No doubt, many more days will pass before the decision, and decisions are written and handed down, deciding, whether it's "yes" on "no," on a point that makes history regardless of the answer of the tribunal.

There are obviously three bulwarks which the NRA and the present legislation must hurdle in order to be strictly within full administrative rights. The first is the immense delegation of power to the nation's executive; the second is the right of Congress to restrict and to define economic limitations of the nation's business activity; the third is the rights and privileges of the individual under the broad federal authority.

There is no doubt that the gold clause cases will be epoch-making and that the Supreme Court's activity as regards the NRA will just begin with these cases. If the court decides unfavorably toward the great "emergency" administration, then the NRA will fall.

The case in the Supreme Court's history most comparable to the gold clauses case is the Legal Tender Case under General Grant's administration. After deciding 5-4 against the federal power in this instance, the court subsequently, by another 5-4 decision and with two new justices on the bench, reversed this action. But the analogy ends with the mere statement of the case, for the Legal Tender Case did not involve "codes" and alphabets such as the gold clauses case indirectly and most certainly does. For the decision in this case will be the basis for future court action on the NRA, and upon it will depend Roosevelt's entire administrative empyrean.

There is much talk that the executive and legislative branches might disregard the judiciary's decision if it is unfavorable. The reason could be no other than that the NRA is an emergency administration handled under the "general welfare" provision. President Lincoln disregarded the Supreme Court under just such a circumstance.

At all events, the Supreme Court's verdict will be awaited with emotion and interest. It involves a reinterpretation of the Constitution however it is given. Surely it is a crucial point in United States history.

Look, Girls!
Be Queen for a Million

Former King Alphonso of Spain has a deaf mute son who is marrying a girl of American descent. And we note also that King Zog, young monarch of Abyssinia, is in the market for an American wife—provided she has an income of $1,000,000 yearly.

Despite these things, American girls are becoming more and more sensible concerning these international elopements.

Practically every titled fortune-hunter who sought easy street by marrying the wealthy daughter of a Fifth Avenue multi-millionaire has found his marriage in a few years on the rocks and himself out in the cold again, a sadder but wiser man. And he has found, too, that once in the family, he was a non-paying guest, but a none-too-welcome one. He didn't get even the semblance of a bank deposit in his own name. The grocery bills, the butcher's fees, and even the cleaners were paid after approval by some gloomy individual known as the "trust funds' guardian." More tragic still, in nine times out of ten, having acquired the title and established herself in international society, the loving bride dashed off to Reno or Paris a year later and secured a divorce on the grounds of non-support. Non-support! As if he had ever promised to support her.

Today's fortune-hunters will find the picking much better from among the daughters of bootleggers and racketeers. They had better steer clear of Fifth Avenue or they may have what little they do possess literally squeezed out of them. The social registers of the large American cities are full of American-born princesses whose ex-husbands have gone back to the home country in tourist third. The newspapers are paid a nice little sum to keep the stories out of print.

Possibly the unfortunate deaf mute son of Alphonso is marrying for love. At any rate, King Zog has not to date found an American heiress willing to pay $1,000,000 a year for the privilege of being Queen Zog.

Report

(Continued from page one)

During the month of January, 1922, there was a great demand for the laundry to do commercial work for the Chapel Hill townspeople. The University officials accepted the idea, and the commercial work was taken into consideration and accepted. The equipment which was in the laundry was not sufficient to care for the amount of work which resulted, so additional equipment was added to comply with the demand.

Plant Expansion

The plant began to grow and expand until it became necessary to enlarge its quarters and production capacity. So in the fall of 1925 the University found a location six blocks from the campus on Cameron avenue and began to erect a building. It was completed in January, 1926, nine years ago last month. Today the same building is occupied and is the present site of the laundry department of the University Consolidated Service Plants.

In our study we found the building and work rooms to be sanitary, adequately equipped, and well managed. The possibility of misplacing laundry and of damaging laundry appeared, in most instances to be negligible and minimized. The office force is well managed, but is grossly underpaid, which results, naturally, we believe, in a somewhat uninterested attitude in its contacts with students. The system of recording, accounting and billing is very efficient. The 26 student self-help workers, 16 of whom are athletes, are possibly too well paid for the services rendered in minor duties. The 67 full-time employes, which makes a total of 93 workers, are in our opinion underpaid, and an increase in wages possibly would result in an even more efficient system.

Administrative Detail

The following facts represent the administrative detail in the laundry system:

All full-time employees work nine hours a day except on Saturday, when they work only four and one-half hours. The office force works eight hours per day and on Saturday, four and one-half hours also.

The employees who work in the plant are under the supervision of the foreman. He directs the work accordingly and advises those who are under him as to what to do and what not to do. He consults the superintendent from time to time as to what should be done in matters that are suddenly brought up. Under the duties and orders of the foreman, the head sorter assists the foreman from time to time in the work that is to be performed. This sub-foreman is responsible to the foreman as to what duties he fulfills. With the assistance of this man, the work in the laundry is carried out accordingly. While the foreman is not on duty, the sub-foreman becomes the supervisor of the plant and is responsible to the superintendent of the plant.

The student employees are directly responsible to the superintendent of the laundry, under whose supervision certain duties are given to them. The student employees are selected by the University self-help bureau.

There are certain rules and qualifications for those who are working in the plant. These obligations, include cleanliness and neatness in appearance. They, the employees, must have a good moral reputation and possess a certain degree of intelligence. They are trained in the plant for the particular type of work they must do, and they are not placed on the assignment alone until they are properly trained. Approximately 50 of the 67 full-time employees are Negroes.

In a study of comparative rates, conducted by laundry officials and checked by the administration and by ourselves, the following results are shown:

Five towns in the neighboring vicinity showed the following percentages of rates higher than the University laundry figures to students. Raleigh was 27.5 per cent higher; Durham, 29.4 per cent; High Point, 27.1 per cent; Burlington, 25.3 per cent, and Greensboro, 33.9 per cent. As these are commercial rates, we must compare them also to the University laundry's commercial rate, which we find is only 14.3 per cent higher than the student rate. Thus, we see that the commercial rates of these five towns studied are approximately 15 per cent higher than our commercial rate and almost 30 per cent, on the average, higher than our student rates. Incidentally, the rates to students and to University departments are virtually the same. Rates at the University laundry are constantly revised when changes in operating costs permit. We see no room for complaint with the rates, as they are, in our mind, extremely reasonable and fair, and the work done is, on the whole, entirely satisfactory.

A report is made daily of the amount of business charged and the amount of money deposited with the central cashier. This report is turned into the cashier once a week. The report sheet is divided into three divisions: one for the cashier to fill out; one for the listing clerk, and one for the bookkeeper. Each division must balance with the other.

The recommendations which we make regarding the laundry are inclosed with this report.

(Signed):
FRANCIS FAIRLEY, Chmn.
PHIL HAMMER,
J. D. WINSLOW.

Reilly Pleads

(Continued from page one)

a job. Life is too sweet." He accused her of killing herself when she was afraid that "retribution was near."

The New Jersey police came in for their share of verbal abuse when Reilly deplored their "bungling." "Why wasn't a fingerprint expert sent for in the first place?" he asked.

Prosecution officials said tonight that the case will be put in the hands of the jury tomorrow afternoon. Attorney-General David T. Wilentz will begin a summation of the state's testimony in the morning. Judge Trenchard will then charge the jury with the task of deciding the guilt or innocence of Richard Bruno Hauptmann.

FERA CONFERENCE

University Will Participate in Greensboro Session Today.

According to an announcement from Edwin S. Lanier, FERA director here, the University will be represented at the statewide conference of college FERA officials at the Woman's College of the University in Greensboro this morning.

The agenda will deal largely with the matter of FERA students and their scholastic averages and the question: Are our colleges employing their students in the most desirable projects available?

Infirmary List

The following students were confined in the infirmary yesterday: R. T. Williams, H. M. Acker, Margaret Spencer, Allen Knott, E. M. Edens, A. B. Weltscheff, C. H. Woodburn, Carl Anderson, R. L. Bolten, Harry McMullan, M. L. Ward, and Arthur Stein.

NOTICE: STUDENT HOSTS

All students who wish to choose members of the faculty to dine with them at the lunch hour on student-faculty day are asked to make arrangements with Jack Pool, chairman of a special arrangements committee, immediately.

The lunch hour that day, February 20, will be devoted to faculty visits with students at the various eating houses and private dining rooms of Chapel Hill.

Scientific Society

The Elisha Mitchell Scientific Society will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight in 206 Phillips. C. W. Borgmann of the school of engineering will speak on "An Optical Investigation of the Passivity of Iron in Nitric and Chromic Acids."

A. S. Rose of the school of medicine will discuss "The Mechanism of Visceral and Deferred Pain."

Fraternity Photos

It is absolutely necessary for the following fraternities to have the stated number of pictures taken for the Yackety Yack at once: Chi Omega 1, Chi Phi 6, Delta Tau Delta 5, Phi Kappa Sigma 9, Sigma Phi Epsilon 5, Sigma Delta 2, Tau Epsilon Phi 7, Theta Kappa Nu 2, and Zeta Beta Tau 3.

EDICT OF GASKINS

Cackling fiendishly, Editor Pat Gaskins of the campus ha-ha Magazine Finjan delivered an ultimatum:

Upon St. Valentine's Day in must be turned all copy for the next perpetration of the publication signed by the author who without which will from the staff be dropped.

Are You Moving?

Miss Helen Hodges, secretary to Harry Comer, requests that all persons changing their addresses report the changes at the "Y" information desk immediately in order that the directory may be kept correct to date.

Institute to Meet

There will be a short meeting of the Human Relations Institute tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. Charles Poe, institute president announced yesterday. President Poe urges all members to be present.

Institute Photo

The Human Relations Institute committee will meet on the steps of Saunders hall at 10:30 o'clock this morning to have Yackety Yack pictures made.

Symphony to Meet

There will be an important rehearsal of the University Symphony Orchestra tonight at 7 o'clock in the Music hall. Every member is urged to attend.

Vocation Study Group

Dean F. F. Bradshaw will meet his vocational study group at 10:30 a. m. today in Memorial hall.

Feature Board

There will be a meeting of the feature board of the DAILY TAR HEEL in 209 Graham Memorial at 3 p. m. today.

SEND THE DAILY TAR HEEL HOME

FOR HER VALENTINE
We Suggest
Hollingsworth Candy
EUBANKS DRUG CO.
Reliable Druggists Since 1892

Carolina Boxers In Top Shape For Duke Battle

BLUE DEVIL CLUB IS WELL BALANCED

Bout Between Captain Giddins And Ray Matulawicz Expected To Feature Great Meet.

DUKE HAS FINE RECORD

With just two more days left before the Tar Heels meet the Blue Devils in what will be one of the best meets in the south this year, the Carolina mittmen are putting on steam during their last few workouts.

After a week of comparatively easy training, the Rowe boxers seem to have reached their pinnacle. It took weeks of training to put the team in its present shape but Coach Rowe is at last satisfied with the condition of his boys.

Duke Balanced

The Duke contingent is represented by a well-balanced aggregation. It is fresh from victories over N. C. State and Catholic University. It has been pointing for the Carolina scraps, and nothing short of victory will serve to satisfy the club. However, the Rowe-coached boys have also been pointing for Duke and the result will likely be mighty close.

The neighboring institution will send a man into the ring at 165 pounds who has yet to taste defeat or even suffer being floored. This man is Ray Matulawicz, who incidentally holds the Middle Atlantic States Amateur Championship. His foe will be Captain Giddins, who himself has quite an enviable record.

This year Giddins is climaxing a brilliant career of four ring years. He has lost but one setto this year, and that bout being a close one. The bout will pit Matulawicz, a powerful body and dangerous counaer puncher, against a fast moving boxer who possesses a beautiful left-hand jab.

FROSH GRAPPLERS FACE IMPS NEXT

Yearlings Have Open Date This Week; Win over VMI Plebes Saturday Impressive.

Returning to practice after a brilliant victory over the V. M. I. plebes, the Tar Baby frosh took an easy workout yesterday as the next meet will not be held until next week when they face the Duke frosh.

In order to avoid having fewer meets than the varsity team does, arrangements are now being made with Woodberry Forest Preparatory School for an annual match. At the present time it is hard to say whether the new foe will be scheduled as early as the present season.

VMI Win Looks Good

Saturday night's victory was one of the best triumphs the frosh could hope for. Taking the lead early the Baby grapplers remained in front throughout.

Ford's win by a fall over Reeves, his opponent, who never before tasted defeat, was by far the most impressive bout of the evening. Ehringhaus gave the spectators one of the most thrilling fights in his match which finally ended when Ehringhaus pinned hs man after some six minutes hard fighting.

Love in the deciding bout of the evening, seemed to pin his man with comparative ease to remain the only man on the entire squad to win every bout by a fall. Kulak, despite his defeat, looked impressive and should soon develop into a good unlimited grappler.

YEARLING BOXERS LOSE TO CADETS

O'Herron and Shores Get Only Victories for Tar Babies; Lee Wins Unofficial Bout.

Last Saturday evening at Oak Ridge the yearling glovers went down before the powerful Cadets, winning only two of the official bouts and losing the other three via the kayo route. The final tabulation found Carolina at the short end of a 6-2 score.

Tiger Shores found the going tough in his bout but after three stiff rounds of combat he was awarded the referee's decision. Shores kept his opponent on the go throughout the fight. However, try as he did, the Tiger could not get in a finishing blow and had to content himself with a victory on points.

O'Herron Is Star

Ed O'Herron was the other Tar Baby victor, as he put on a masterful boxing exhibition to walk off with the decision. O'Herron was plenty good as he continually got to his man with jabs and hooks, while keeping up his impenetrable defense.

In an unofficial bout fought in the 120-pound class, Bart Lee took a decision in a close bout. Lee, who hasn't fought for the past two weeks, made a good showing in the two-round encounter.

Bass (129), Oliver (169), and Leake (heavy), suffered defeats by kayoes after putting up a game but useless fight.

The frosh are preparing for their biggest meet of the year versus the Duke yearlings at the Duke gym next Thursday evening.

TAR HEELS AND DAVIDSON MEET ON MAT FRIDAY

Teams Appear About Even for Bouts in Tin Can; Davidson Has Beaten Duke.

CATS HAVE 4 VETERANS

Carolina's varsity matmen began preparations for the Davidson meet which will be held in the Tin Can Friday night immediately following the Duke-Carolina freshman basketball game which is scheduled to begin at 7 o'clock.

In the Wildcats Carolina will be facing another worthy foe. The Presbyterians have competed on the mat twice this year, winning from the Duke grapplers 21-9 and losing last week-end to V. P. I., 17-13. But Davidson was without the services of Captain Fort, brilliant 165-pounder, in the V. P. I. clash. Fort, however, is expected to be ready for the encounter with the Tar Heels.

Outstanding among the Wildcat stars are Fort, Blackwelder, Quarterman and Thompson. Fort holds an enviable record of being undefeated in two years of competition. Blackwelder and Quarterman are unbeaten this year.

Comparative Scores

On paper Carolina appears to be decidedly stronger in the lighter weights while Davidson looks much the better in the heavier divisions. Judging by comparative scores, the two teams stack up about even. Carolina defeated V. P. I. 23-9 in the opening match of the season and then lost to State 18-6. V. P. I. downed Davidson 17-13 and then in turn beat State 17-11.

Davidson has four lettermen, Thompson, Blackwelder, Quar-

(Continued on last page)

BASKETEERS TAKE REST; WILL MEET CATS TOMORROW

White Phantoms to Have Hard Drills Today, Preparing for Two Big Five Battles.

DAVIDSON IS DANGEROUS

Coach Bo Shepard gave the White Phantoms a holiday yesterday as a reward for their brilliant play in the exciting game with South Carolina Saturday night.

The Tar Heels will swing back into heavy work today in order to get ready for the two Big Five contests scheduled to be played in the Tin Can this week.

The Carolina basketeers will play hosts to the Davidson College Wildcats here tomorrow night.

Duke Saturday

On Saturday night Coach Eddie Cameron will bring his Duke Blue Devils to the Tin Can for a return engagement with the White Phantoms. The eyes of the state and conference sport fans will be focused upon Chapel Hill for this week-end's basketball scrap.

At the present Carolina and N. C. State are tied for top honors in the Big Five championship race with Duke running a close second. If the Tar Heels score a win over Davidson and Duke, they will have undisputed claim to the top berth in both state and conference standings.

While the Wildcats lost a 36-26 decision to the Tar Heels in a previous meeting in Charlotte, they have a fast, scrappy little band of cagers—one which Coach Bo Shepard describes as the best his Carolina teams have ever faced from the Davidson institution.

The Cat-Tar Heel tilt will follow the frosh game at 7:30 p.m.

Tar Baby Five Crushes Wake Forest Frosh, 43-26

Box Score

Carolina:	FG.	F.	T.
Mullis, f	4	1	9
Johnson, f	1	0	2
Potts, f	4	1	9
Boone, f	0	1	1
Meroney, c	3	1	7
Ruth, g	2	4	8
Franks, g	2	1	5
Grubb, g	1	0	2
Total	17	9	43

Wake Forest:	FG.	F.	T.
Aderholt, f	5	2	12
Byrd, f	5	2	12
Smith, c	2	1	5
Stainback, g	1	0	2
Barnes, g	2	1	5
Total	11	4	26

Non-scoring subs: Carolina, Hagey, c; Peacock, g; Wake Forest, Farmer, f. Score at half: Carolina 25; Wake Forest 4.

TEAM IMPRESSIVE IN DECISIVE WIN

Second Team Plays after Regulars Roll up 25-4 Lead; Mullis and Potts Lead Scorers.

BYRD STARS FOR LOSERS

A persistent attack by the onrushing Tar Babies swept the yearling quintet of Wake Forest before it on the loser's court yesterday afternoon, by the one-sided score of 43-26.

The entire team functioned beautifully and no individual shone out for the Carolina frosh at any time. The offense worked smoothly and brilliantly and Wake Forest was hopeless against it.

Pete Mullis and Ramsay Potts, the starting forwards, led the Tar Babies in scoring honors with nine points each. However, the scoring was distributed evenly as Earl Ruth followed closely with eight tallies and Red Meroney on his heels with a total of seven.

Big Lead at Half

Bill Franks scored five markers, and it was this opening lineup that rode roughshod over the Baby Deacons. They played the entire first half and romped off the court with a gigantic 25-4 lead.

The second team took up the burden in the second half and played Wake Forest just about even. The first team did return to the fray to sew up the game near the end in an unnecessary gesture.

Byrd, who is remembered by the Babies due to his single-handed attempt to topple them in their opening game, again proved a nemisis to the Tar Babies, scoring 12 points. However, most of his tallying came against the second string.

The frosh have a busy week in front of them and a rather difficult task in keeping their newly started winning string intact. Tomorrow evening they clash with the Davidson freshmen and then on Friday night re-engage the Duke Baby Imps in a clash that promises to be a humdinger. The Baby Five championship will probably hinge upon that game.

All Girl Basketeers To Practice Tonight

Co-ed basketball practices are scheduled tonight for juniors and seniors at 7 o'clock and for freshmen and sophomores at 8 o'clock, according to announcement made yesterday by Elsie Lawrence, president of the Woman's Athletic Association.

The basketball sessions will be held in Bynum gymnasium.

The practice for the freshmen and sophomores tonight will replace the one formerly scheduled for tomorrow. This change has been made due to the Carolina varsity game tomorrow night.

BOXING IS THURSDAY

The Carolina-Duke boxing matches, both varsity and freshmen, have been moved to Thursday, February 14, from the regularly scheduled date, Friday, the 15th.

The frosh bouts will begin at 7:15 o'clock while the varsity follows at 8:30. All matches are at Duke gym.

Patronize Our Advertisers

Greensboro Takes Lead In High Mat Tourney; Raleigh Has Margin In Boxing; Finals Tonight

BARIUM SPRINGS TRAILS BY POINT IN MAT BATTLES

Gaskill Downs Parks in Feature Grappling Bout.

The Greensboro High School wrestlers took top honors with 28 points in first day competition of the state high school wrestling tournament. The Gate City aggregation were victorious in the 115, 125, 145 and 165 to send four men into the final round. Barium Springs was a close second with 27 points while Durham and High Point tied for third place with 20 markers.

The feature match last night was fought between Parks of High Point, and Gaskill of Barium Springs, in the 115-pound class. Gaskill took the aggressive at the start and amassed an early time advantage lead but the latter came back fast in the closing minutes, winning on a 2:13-minute time decision.

Two quick falls were counted yesterday evening by Spencer, 145, of Barium Springs, and Grundman, 165, of Greensboro. Spencer pinned Beck of Thomasville with a half nelson and arm lock in 1:04 minutes while Grundman threw Barnhill of Barium Springs with a half nelson and body weight in 1:12 minutes.

Finals in the tourney will begin tonight at 8:00. The summary of the matches in the semi-final round is as follows:

Last Night's Results

(Semi-Finals)

108—Evins (High Point) time decision over Wilbur (Durham) 4:40; Bosworth (Barium Springs) referee's decision over Joyner (Greensboro).

115—Beeston (Greensboro) referee's decision over Poe (Durham); Parks (High Point) time decision over Gas-

(Continued on last page)

Peacock, Lawyer Forward, Leads In Mural Scoring

With five weeks of play already past the boards in the intramural basketball competition, Bruton Peacock, flashy Law School forward, stands at the top of the individual scoring list with 78 points.

Following close in his path is Bill Moore, staunch guard of D. K. E., with 70; while "Trip" Rand, who garnered the first place scoring honors in the football season for the Betas, stands tied for third with Voliver of Chi Phi; each has 65.

The standings follow:

Peacock (Law)	78
Moore (D. K. E.)	70
Rand (Betas)	65
Voliver (Chi Phi)	65
Everett (Kappa Alpha)	62
Henson (Mangum 1)	57
Bryan (Law)	55
Barnwell (Mangum 1)	54
Spencer (A. T. O.)	51
Fox (Mangum 1)	49
Alexander (D. K. E.)	42
Poe (S. A. E.)	40

Mural Card for Week

4:30—(1) Locals vs. Old West, (2) S. A. E. vs. Phi Alpha, (3) Law School vs. Mayflower Club.

5:30—(1) Theta Kappa Nu vs. Sigma Nu, (2) Phi Delta Theta vs. St. Anthony Hall, (3) Lewis vs. Manly.

Wednesday

4:30—(1) D. K. E. vs. Kappa Sigma, (2) Mangum No. 1 vs. Aycock, (3) Sigma Chi vs. Z. B. T.

(Continued on last page)

WILSON IS BEHIND ONLY HALF POINT IN RING TOURNEY

Diehl-Hettrick Bout Is Feature of Night's Encounters.

Raleigh High's strong band of ringsters got off to a slight advantage in the 1935 North Carolina high school boxing championships here in the Tin Can yesterday afternoon and evening with a total of nine points, but one-half ahead of Wilson.

Following the leaders were Greensboro 6, Wilmington 4½, Elizabeth City 3, Mount Holly 2½, Charlotte 2, Edenton 2, Goldsboro 1½, Rocky Mount 1½, Thomasville 1½, Chapel Hill ½, Burlington ½.

One of the most hectic battles was a quarter-final match between Capt. Diehl of Charlotte and Hettrick of Elizabeth City. The judges decision went to the former amid a storm of protest from the fans.

Semi-finals in the morning will begin at 10 o'clock, and the finals in the evening at 8 o'clock.

Last Night's Results

108—Quarter-finals—Thomas (Wilmington) decision over Mason (Elizabeth City); Perry (Rocky Mount) decision over Reeves (Goldsboro); DeBruhl (Greensboro) decision over Morris (Raleigh); Dempsey (Wilson) decision over Hanford (Burlington).

115—Semi-finals—Young (Oxford) decision over Crank (Elizabeth City); Hayes (Wilson) technical knockout over Brooks (Raleigh), 1:10 second round.

125—Quarter-finals)—Diehl (Charlotte) decision over Hettrick (Elizabeth City); Harrell (Edenton) decision over Simon (Wilmington); Wright (Raleigh) decision over Dunn (Mount Holly); Crowley (Greensboro) decision over Lamm (Wilson).

135—Quarter-finals—Shaw (Wilson) decision over Swenson (Charlotte); with the UNIVERSITY of West Virginia

(Continued on last page)

DEBATE

TUESDAY, FEB. 12—GERRARD HALL

7 P. M.—8 P. M.

Query:

Should the Government take over the Munitions Industry ?

Affirmative (U. N. C.): Francis Fairley and Norman Kellar

Year's Dream Will Culminate In First Student-Faculty Day

Plan for Jamboree to Unite Students and Faculty Was Adopted by Y. M. C. A. in April of Last Year; Repeated Disappointments And Postponements Preceded Final Decision of Date.

Sunday, April 29, 1934, five students huddled around a table in one of the Y. M. C. A.'s second floor rooms and smoked. The meditative quintet was giving birth to ideas for the Y. M. C. A. to work on for the year ahead.

After an hour or so of program planning, one of the group mentioned getting the student and faculty together in a jamboree, as one means of the Y. M. C. A.'s efforts to support constant student-faculty relations. It was like setting fire to a sawdust pile, for the idea immediately caught and has smoked ever since.

The result is the student-faculty day and University exposition which will be held here next Wednesday afternoon, February 20. But it took a lot of planning and talking and arguing before the event was finally assured of both student and faculty co-operation.

President Frank Graham called a special faculty meeting to discuss the jamboree idea after it was presented by the students. The date set for the affair by the students was May 16 and the day was to be called "Campus Day." Elaborate plans were tentatively set up.

But the faculty decided that it would be unable to co-operate for the May 16 festivities. Its spring calendar was crowded and there was not time in which to do things in a "big way." But the faculty members heartily favored the plan and, with the abandonment of the idea for the spring quarter, enthusiasm ran high for such an affair the following fall quarter.

Summer came and went. When the fall session began, the same student committee was on hand with more plans. So there was a meeting of the student-faculty day committee, composed of these students and appointed members of the faculty, and again a date was set, this time October 31. The "carnival" idea still pervaded, with street dances, athletic contests, and other events scheduled for the big holiday.

It turned out, however, that because of several conflicts, the date was not entirely satisfactory and doubt was expressed whether the day could be held during the fall quarter or not. Nevertheless, the faculty favored the celebration when the plans were presented at a general meeting, the administration said it would set aside a University holiday, and plans were drawn up.

The plans, however, were not on the 'carnival' idea. At several meetings of the joint student-faculty committee, opposition was manifest against such an idea, but all the members were highly in favor of combining the student-faculty relations phase with a general University exhibition, which would present the organization, function, and progress of the various departments for the students, the faculty, and all interested North Carolinians to absorb.

This plan emanated from an opinion current on the committee that some "common denominator" of interest was necessary for the proper results. The "common denominator" was, obviously enough, the University itself, so in the common interest of University progress, the plans were drawn up.

The date, however, was changing rapidly. It jumped to November 7 first. Then came the final hop.

At a meeting of the departmental heads, the first annual student-faculty day, in the form of an exposition, was set for February 20, and this date has remained. The departmental heads were very much in favor of the idea and expressed their intentions of co-operating to the fullest in preparing their respective departmental exhibits. These exhibits, incidentally, would take time to prepare, and as the full quarter was cluttered up with activity and holidays as it was, they caused the postponement to the present date.

So student-faculty day has come into being. The joint steering committee has worked long and hard. Exhibits are rounding into shape, the program has been arranged, and plans are fully developed.

The day should provide for fun, frolic, friendship and education. Departmental heads will learn what goes on in other departments. Faculty members will meet students and students will meet faculty members. Everybody will find out what is behind the educational machine at Chapel Hill, not only through the wheels which go around, but also through the machinists who keep the wheels oiled.

There will be plenty to do in Chapel Hill next Wednesday, and plenty to see. Student-faculty day as an annual event should become one of the most important dates in the University calendar.

CAROLINA MAN GUEST OF STATE SYMPHONY

Earl Wolslagel, University student, will be one of the guest artists appearing with the North Carolina Symphony Orchestra Wednesday night in the closing concert of Raleigh's three-day musical festival.

Conducted by Lamar Stringfield, the orchestra will also feature Dr. Franko Goldman, as guest conductor.

Wolslagel has studied in New York and Europe under Vera Fonaroff, Leopold Auer, and Gaza deKresz.

Book X Contributes Posters

The University Book Exchange announced yesterday that it is contributing a set of 100 large posters to the student-faculty day project.

A. T. O. Pledge

J. R. Stancil of Smithfield has pledged A. T. O., according to an announcement from the office of the dean of students.

Varsity Wrestling

(Continued from page three)

terman and Fort, while Carolina has only one, Captain Efland in the 165-pound division. Carolina's lineup will be composed largely of sophomores and varsity reserves, while the representatives of the visiting aggregation will be made up mostly of seniors and varsity left-overs.

The Davidson meet will be next to the last contest on the 1935 mat schedule this year. The Tar Heels will conclude their regular dual season competition against Duke in Durham Saturday week.

Keys Committee

The following committee will meet at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon in the University Club room at Graham Memorial to decide what type of publications keys will be given this year: W. F. Ferger, Jim Daniel, Joe Sugarman, Lonnie Dill, Henry Lewis, Bernard Solomon, and Claude Rankin.

SENIOR CLASS MEETING

The members of the senior class will meet tonight at 7 o'clock in Gerrard hall for the election of class dance leaders of the annual junior-senior dance set, Jack Pool, class president, stated yesterday.

"Why?" Pool asked himself. "Because," he answered, "Editor Bob Drane of the Yackety Yack has been after me for a month to have them elected so that he can have pictures of the leaders and their guests in his year book."

High Boxing

(Continued from page three)

Thomas (Wilmington) decision over Smith (Greensboro); Bruton (Thomasville) decision over Savin (Elizabeth City); Kennedy (Raleigh) technical knockout over Smith (Chapel Hill), 1:45 third round.

145—Semi-finals—Brown (Raleigh) technical knockout over Bass (Goldsboro) 1:45 third round; Riley (Greensboro) decision over Ferris (Wilson).

155 — Semi-finals — Stronach (Raleigh) decision over Smith (Oxford); Sinclair (Wilson) decision over Edwards (Mount Holly).

165—Finals—Patterson (Goldsboro) vs. Browning (Raleigh).

175—Semi-finals — Toomey (Mount Holly) decision over Smith (Raleigh); Sprull (Edenton)—bye.

Referee: Davis (Chapel Hill); Judges: Carruth (U. N. C.), Ray (U. N. C.); Timekeeper: Kanner (U. N. C.); Scorer: Lothian (U. N. C.).

Preliminary Bouts

Following are the results of the preliminaries yesterday afternoon:

108—Reeves (Goldsboro) decision over Lequire (Durham); DeBruhl (Greensboro) decision over Rigsbee (Chapel Hill); Morris (Raleigh) second round technical knockout over Hayes (Mt. Holly).

115—Young (Oxford Orphanage) second round knockout over McCauley (Chapel Hill); Crank (Elizabeth City) decision over Mitchell (Goldsboro); Brooks (Raleigh) decision over Lazenby (Greensboro); Hayes (Wilson) decision over Gregson (Thomasville).

125—Simon (Wilmington) decision over Steele (Thomasville).

135—Thomas (Wilmington) first round technical knockout over Rhyne (Mt. Holly); Savin (Elizabeth City) decision over Glisson (Goldsboro).

145—Brown (Raleigh) decision over McCauley (Chapel Hill); Riley (Greenboro) decision over Mason (Charlotte); Ferris (Wilson) decision over Albertson (Elizabeth City).

155—Smith (Oxford Orphanage) third round technical knockout over Cooper (Charlotte); Stronach (Raleigh) second round technical knockout over Varner (Greensboro); Edwards (Rocky Mount) decision over Spence (Elizabeth City); Sinclair (Wilson) third round technical knockout over Council (Rocky Mount).

High Wrestling

(Continued from page three)

kill (Barium Springs) 2:13.

125—A. Morris (Durham) referee's decision over White (Barium Springs); Michael (Greensboro) referee's decision over Heffner (Salisbury).

135—Clodbelter (Salisbury) threw Newby (High Point) 2:34; B. Morris (Durham) threw Rankin (Salisbury) 5:33.

145—Shaw (Greensboro) time decision over Bowers (Salisbury) 1:35; Spencer (Barium Springs) threw Beck (Thomasville) 1:04.

155—Flowers (Barium Springs) time decision over Martin (Greensboro) 3:38; Lea (High Point) won forfeit from Rogers (Salisbury)—5 points.

165—Lucas (Durham) drew bye; Grundman (Greensboro) threw Barnhill (Barium Springs) 1:12.

175—W. Perdue (Thomasville) won fall over Taylor (High Point) 5:54; Bernhardt (Salisbury) referee's decision over Sally (Durham).

Preliminary Bouts

115—Gaskill (Barium Springs) threw Meyers (Thomasville) in 5:39.

125—A. Morris (Durham) decision of 4:20 over Perdue (Thomasville); Michael (Greensboro) 1:48 decision over Gregory (High Point).

135—Newby (High Point) 1:52 decision over Langston (Greensboro); B. Morris (Durham) 1:20 decision over D. Spencer (Barium Springs).

145—Shaw (Greensboro) threw Boone (Burlington) 58 seconds second period; Back (Thomasville) 1:47 decision over Pitts (High Point); R. Spencer (Barium Springs) threw Frank (Durham) in 2:53.

155—Flowers (Barium Springs) 4:02 decision over Williamson (Durham); Lea (High Point) 4:21 decision over Jordan (Thomasville).

The Truth, The Whole Truth . . .

Not being sworn in to seduce a jury are the young ladies above, but caught in a whimsical pose in Paramount's syncopated spectacle "Rumba," playing today at the Carolina theatre.

Carole Lombard and George Raft star.

Vogue Shop in Raleigh Takes Over Stetson 'D'

Stetson "D," local clothing establishment, closed its doors Saturday when the manegement received word that the store here had been sold to Proprietor Jacobs of the Vogue Shop in Raleigh.

Jacobs plans to operate the store here and will probably open for business during the latter part of this week.

L. V. Huggins, state representative and local manager of Stetson "D," has joined the sales force of the Haas Tailoring Company of Baltimore. He will be in charge of the North Carolina territory, with headquarters in Chapel Hill. He will continue to reside here.

Junior Class Meeting

The entire junior class will meet at 7:30 tonight in Murphey hall for the election of class leaders at the junior-senior dances. Commencement marshalls will also be selected.

Murals

(Continued from page three)

5:30—(1) Ruffin vs. Kluttz Bldg., (2) Kappa Alpha vs. Theta Chi, (3) Delta Tau Delta vs. Chi Psi.

Thursday

4:30—(1) Chi Phi vs. A. T. O., (2) Locals vs. Mayflower Club, (3) Phi Kappa Sigma vs. Zeta Psi.

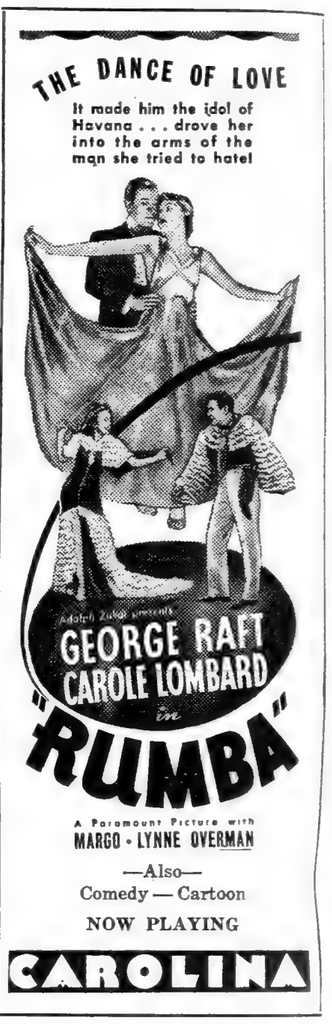
5:30—(1) S. A. E. vs. Sigma Chi, (2) Kappa Alpha vs. Phi Delta Theta, (3) Beta Theta Pi vs. Alpha Epsilon.

Friday

4:30—(1) Ruffin vs. Mangum No. 1, (2) Swain Hall vs. Old West, (3) Phi Gamma Delta vs. Lambda Chi Alpha.

5:30—(1) St. Anthony Hall vs. Phi Sigma Kappa, (2) Smith vs. Grimes, (3) Mangum No. 2 vs. Pharmacy.

Soph Co-eds to Dine



Sophomore co-eds are invited to an informal dinner at Swain hall at 6 o'clock tonight.

DR. WHEELER HONORED

Dr. A. S. Wheeler of the chemistry department has recently been elected a member of the English Society of Chemical Industry.

Dr. Wheeler called attention to the difference in practice in elections of this character in England and in America. In America new members are elected by the council of the society; in England, by the Lords of His Majesty's Most Honorable Privy Council.

FOUNTAIN PENS
Half Price
Sutton Drug Co.

—Also—
Comedy — Cartoon
NOW PLAYING
CAROLINA

When an Amorous Antique can't take his aged glimmers off your silken "shapelies"... don't fry him to a frazzle. Brighten up... by lightin' up a honey-smooth Old Gold. These mellow-as-moonlight O. Gs have charms to soothe even the savage peeve.

AT TRYING TIMES.... TRY A Smooth OLD GOLD

RY 12, 1935
HONORED of the chem-
has recently mber of the Chemical In-led attention n practice in character in America. In
bers are elect-
f the society;
Lords of His norable Privy
N PENS rice
ug Co.
OF LOVE
e idol of ove her of the to hotel
E RAFT
OMBARD
MBA" ictures with
E OVERMAN
Cartoon
AYING
LINA
n?
ld
GOLD

BASEBALL PICTURE
AFTER GAME
MEMORIAL HALL

The Daily Tar Heel

SERVED BY THE UNITED PRESS

BASKETBALL—DAVIDSON
TIN CAN
FROSH, 7:15; VARSITY, 8:30

VOLUME XLIII | CHAPEL HILL, N. C., WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1935 | NUMBER 104

WILENTZ RAGES FOR WHOLE DAY CHARGING BRUNO

Prosecuting Attorney Demands Hauptmann's Execution as Worst of Criminals.

JURY TO GET CASE TODAY

Flemington, N. J., Feb. 12.—(UP)—With words that scorched and in the name of all laws written and unwritten, District Attorney Wilentz today demanded that Bruno Hauptmann be executed as the worst criminal of all time.

The fiery attorney raged at Prisoner Hauptmann from the first moment court opened until dusk when he asked for a verdict of first degree murder. Tomorrow the calm, impartial voice of Justice Trenchard will be heard in an instruction to the jury on the points of the law. The case will probably be given to the jury about noon.

Circumstantial Evidence

Wilentz explained that circumstantial evidence means that no one actually saw Hauptmann climb into the Lindbergh window and steal the baby, but he added "we don't have to have a moving picture of this crime. Some circumstantial evidence screams much louder than other evidence."

He continued with the charge that Hauptmann "would cut out your heart with a razor, wipe it off on his sleeve, and then go upstairs to eat."

The day brought to a climax one of the most sensational cases in the judicial history of the country. Tomorrow twelve residents of Flemington and the surrounding territory will decide upon the fate of the German immigrant who has been the mark of cross examination arrows for over a month.

4356

In case any subscriber to the DAILY TAR HEEL fails to receive a copy of the morning's paper before 7:30 a.m. in the future, he may secure one by telephoning the business office of the DAILY TAR HEEL.

George Underwood, circulation manager, announced yesterday that someone would be in the business office from 7:30 to 9 o'clock every morning except Monday to receive complaints and deliver the paper to those who have failed to receive their copy.

GERTRUDE STEIN GIVES TALK HERE

English Department and American Association of University Women Sponsor Lecture.

Literary Bohemian Gertrude Stein lectured before a self-conscious audience in crowded, uncomfortable Gerrard hall last night on "The Gradual Making of the Making of Americans."

In the talk, given under the joint sponsorship of the University English department and the American Association of University Women, Miss Stein gave a personal historical account of the writing of her famous book, "The Making of Americans," and the gradual development of her unique style until it reached its culmination of perfection in "Tender Buttons."

The famous author peppered her lecture with witticisms and personal interpretations of the motivating and guiding forces in the great literary epochs.

After her formal lecture, Miss Stein entertained a large group in the lounge of Graham Memorial, answering questions of philosophic, literary and esthetic import in her customary brilliant, rational manner.

Creative Processes Are Mental States Writer-Lecturer Stein

By NELSON LANSDALE

"My interest in young people, and in making this tour of American universities, is to try to drum into people's heads a little common sense about writing, to encourage them to write what they know. You only know what you find out. You may learn other things, but you don't know them. Knowledge is the absolute thing — what you know," said Miss Gertrude Stein, distinguished author and friend of the leading literary and artistic figures of the day.

The author of "Four Saints in Three Acts" and the "Autobiography of Alice B. Toklas," ran her stubby fingers through her close-clipped iron-grey hair. "People who have these theories about writing," she continued in her even, resonant voice, "especially automatic writing, are afflicted with a lack of common sense.

Critics

These critics have a sense only of what they've learned from what they've been told—they never go back to themselves to prove anything. If they did, they'd realize that writers form within themselves the material, and then, after it has been formed within their minds, let it rush forth like water over a dam.

"Perhaps when it rushes forth, it comes faster than they are aware—more rapidly than they can think, but it is not automatic because the writing down is not creation. Creative processes go on in the mind. The setting it down may be mechanical, or automatic or anything you like, but the holding it within the mind, the ferment, is the actual creation, and it is not automatic."

At the "V" of Miss Stein's grey basque blouse with red pinstripes, a yellow and red sunflower brooch sparkled in the sun.

"There's a perfectly clear exposition of this in Sherwood Anderson's last book . . ." She paused in an effort to recall the title and little wrinkles formed at the corners of her bright, sensible eyes. "Not 'Swink,'" she said. "Pussy?" she called to her black-haired, bespectacled secretary-companion, Alice B. Toklas, "what was the name of Sherwood's last book?"

Not Swink—Swank

"Wasn't it 'Swank'?" answered Miss Toklas quickly.

"That's it," said Miss Stein, and her deep-throated hearty laugh boomed through the little room in the Inn, "Not 'Swink,' but 'Swank.'"

Automatic writing, by which a number of psychologists have attempted to explain Miss Stein's somewhat puzzling literary output, may be best understood as a sort of 'phone-booth scrib-

(Continued on page two)

U. S. S. MACON WRECKS OFF PACIFIC COAST

CONGRESS PLANS PACIFIC DEFENSE

Washington, Feb. 12.—(UP)—Naval plans to fortify Hawaii into a Pacific Gibraltar and strengthen the Pacific defenses from Alaska to Hawaii were submitted to Congress today.

The navy's $38,000,000 program, about $15,000,000 of which will be for the Hawaiian project, coupled with the $20,000,000 army program already submitted proposes an expenditure of almost $60,000,000 to defend the United States, chiefly against invasion from the west.

ADVISORY REPORT

The report of the Student Advisory Board which was scheduled to run in today's issue of the DAILY TAR HEEL was held over for tomorrow's paper because of a lack of space created by the receipt late last night of news of world-wide importance.

Sophomore Assembly

The sophomore assembly planned for this morning has been called off, the office of the dean of students announced yesterday.

President Frank Graham, who was scheduled to address the assembly, has been detained in Raleigh.

However, this postponement is only temporary. President Graham will address the sophomore class in the near future.

FINJAN APPLICANTS

The following men, who have applied for business managership of the Finjan, are asked to meet with the Publications Union board at 4 o'clock this afternoon in Graham Memorial: Niles Bond, Herb Osterheld, Eli Joyner, Ned McAlister, and Boylan Carr.

Each of the above applicants will be interviewed personally before a choice is made.

Famed North Carolina Band Leader Accused Of Looking Like Professor

Kyser's Orchestra Includes Seven Original Members of Band Formed at University.

Ash blond with blue eyes, a "poker" face, and often accused of looking like a college professor—that's Kay Kyser, the prominent maestro who will hold forth at the German Club midwinter set of dances here Friday and Saturday.

Kay is very conscientious about his work, rides horseback every day or plays polo, dotes on riding roller coasters, likes anything to eat except liver, won't allow mustaches in his orchestra, and selected "Thinking of You" as his theme song because allow moustaches in his orchestra ever played when it was organized here at the University in 1926.

Full Chords

Carolina's favorite son likes all types of music, attends symphony concerts as frequently as possible and often can be found listening to Negro bands. He hopes some time to direct an orchestra large enough to hit a chord as full as he wants to hear one.

Kyser carries a North Carolina colored boy who served him long before he organized his orchestra. His full name and titles are Ulford Madison Maxwell Clementine Cordell Riggsbee, chef, chauffeur, valet, personal secretary and chaperon to Mr. James Kay Kyser, "The Man from the South."

Kay's favorite orchestra's, because of their music and personal friendship for the leaders, are Hal Kemp, Fred Waring, Guy Lombardo, Rudy Vallee, Casa Loma and Ted Fio Rita.

His favorite movie stars are Lionel Barrymore, George Arliss, Dick Powell, Margaret Sullavan, Norma Shearer, Laurel and Hardy, and Micky Mouse. His favorite director is Frank Borzage.

There is a thumb-nail sketch of the Carolina boy who went to the big cities and gained fame. Kay is bringing his boys back to the campus this week-end for the second time since starting out from it in 1928. He is now making a southern tour of six colleges at which he is playing for dance sets and from reports

(Continued on page two)

Professor?

Kay Kyser, above, who will play here for the German Club mid-winter dances this week-end. Kay has become nationally famous since his student days at the University. He is distinguished by his southern style.

RED CROSS GROUP TO MEET TONIGHT

Plan to Begin Life Saving Corps Here for Remainder of School Year.

A meeting of all Red Cross examiners and senior life savers will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock in Gerrard hall.

The purpose of the meeting is to organize a corps on the campus which will carry on an extensive swimming and life saving program for the remainder of the school year.

The primary objective of the corps will be to form a life saving class for University students. Those students who successfully pass the required tests will have an opportunity to take the examiners' courses offered at Duke in the spring quarter.

The course at Duke will be conducted by Romaene Eaton, national field representative of the Red Cross.

The corps will also sponsor a swimming team to represent the University for this year.

A course in senior life saving was given on the campus last year, and 17 students successfully passed the tests.

World's Largest Lighter Than Air Ship Falls In Maneouvers

S.O.S. Radioed at 5:15 P.M., P.S.T., Brings Ships Racing to Scene 12 Miles Off Point Sur

San Francisco, Feb. 12.—(UP)—The U.S.S. Macon, pride of the United States navy and the world's largest lighter-than-air ship, fell into the sea during fleet maneouvers tonight.

At 5:15 p.m. Pacific Standard Time, the Macon radioed an S.O.S. which brought warships racing under forced draft up the coast to a position about 12 miles off Point Sur, where it was believed the air ship had fallen.

BULLETIN

San Francisco, Feb. 12.—(UP)—The U.S.S. Tennessee in radio reports heard at 7:25 p. m. advised that 7 boat loads of survivors from the dirigible Macon "were close by."

Washington, D. C., Feb. 12. — (UP) — The U.S.S. Memphis sent a broadcast at 10:35 p. m., E.S.T., that she had sighted eleven life boats filled with men, apparently survivors of the Macon crash.

Fatal Message

"Have had bad casualty 17:15 (5:15 p. m., P.S.T.). Will abandon ship as soon as we land on water somewhere within 20 miles of Point Sur. Probably 10 miles at sea."

Those were the prosaic words with which Commander Herbert V. Wiley, skipper of the Macon and one of the three survivors of the U.S.S. Akron disaster off New Jersey April 3, 1933, reported to his superior officers.

None of the 34 warships with which the Macon was maneouvering was within sight as she dropped toward the sea, rain swept and tossed by a heavy swell. The scene aboard the 785-foot gas bag could only be conjectured by those ashore.

Ships to Rescue

The drum of the Macon's engines could be heard at Point Sur until 5:40. Then it stopped abruptly. Navy vessels were seen racing northward to the rescue. The air was filled with radio messages. Merchant vessels in nearby waters offered aid. Navy ships flashed crisp orders as they raced under forced draft to the scene.

The Macon, unless rent asunder by a contact with the water, as was her predecessor, the Akron, might float indefinitely.

The great ship carried rafts and life preservers enough for the crew of about 100 men which she usually carried.

Sea Was Smooth

The fleet commander radioed that the sea was smooth with heavy swells, and that a steady rain was falling. The Macon was not in sight of any vessel when she fell.

The U. S. S. Pennsylvania, one of the vessels nearest the Macon, reported at 6:32 p. m P. S. T., that it sighted red rockets which may have been sent up by the Macon.

Darkness fell as the search for the huge craft began. Commercial radio stations reported that the air tunnels were jammed with an interchange of messages between the units of the fleet hastening to the rescue.

The battleship Maryland reported that she had sighted the Macon on the water.

Weakness Discovered

No cause for the mishap was given. On one of the Macon's earlier flights, however, a weakness was discovered in one of the structural girders. Reports of faulty construction were quickly denied by naval authorities.

Thomas Henderson, lighthouse keeper at Point Sur described the search:

"I can see ships as far as 10 miles out sweeping the sea with searchlights.

"The Macon passed here about 5:10 p. m. heading north," Henderson reported.

"Suddenly she changed her course and started south at about normal cruising speed,

(Continued on page two)

JUNIORS, SENIORS CHOOSE LEADERS

Commencement Marshals Also Selected; Class Presidents Elected Chief Leaders.

The junior and senior classes met separately last night and elected leaders for the junior-senior dance set to be held in the spring quarter and also selected commencement marshals.

The junior class met in Murphey hall and the meeting was presided over by Ernie Eutsler, president. For dance leaders the juniors elected Ernie Eutsler, chief; Harry Montgomery, first assistant; Johnny Bost, second assistant; Claude Rankin, third assistant; Bob Page, fourth assistant; Charles Edwards, fifth assistant, and Frank Rogers, sixth assistant.

Marshals

The commencement marshals elected were Ben Willis, chief; Hugh Primrose, first assistant; James Keel, second assistant; Jack Clare, third assistant; Frank Willingham, fourth assistant; Henry Valk, fifth assistant; Trip Rand, sixth assistant, and Charles Ivey, seventh assistant.

The senior class, meeting in Bingham hall, elected for senior dance leaders Jack Pool, chief; Malcolm Bell, first assistant; Frank Abernethy, second assistant; Colin Stokes, third assistant; Scott Blanton, fourth assistant; John Hoggard, fifth assistant, and Luther Cromartie, sixth assistant.

The meeting was conducted by Jack Pool, president of the senior class.

Economics Seminar

The economics seminar will meet at 7:30 tonight in 202 Bingham.

R. S. Winslow, of the school of commerce, will speak on "The Significance of Uncertainty in Social Theory."

Community Chorus

The Chapel Hill community chorus will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in Hill Music hall. There will be no Glee Club meeting tonight.

The Daily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Union Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where it is printed daily except Mondays, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Holidays. Entered as second class matter at the post office of Chapel Hill, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 for the college year.

A. T. Dill ..... Editor
Robert C. Page, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
Joe Webb ..... Business Manager
George Underwood ..... Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

EDITORIAL BOARD—Phil Hammer, chairman, Earl Wolslagel, Franklin Harward, John Schulz, DuPont Snowden, Margaret McCauley, Morty Slavin, Sam Leager, Dick Myers, Charles Lloyd, Jake Snyder, Phil Kind, Charles Daniel, George Butler.

FEATURE BOARD—Nelson Lansdale, chairman; Nick Read, Bob Browder, Francis Clingman, J. E. Poindexter, W. M. Cochrane, Willis Harrison.

CITY EDITORS—Irving Suss, Walter Hargett, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.

TELEGRAPH EDITORS—Stuart Rabb, Charlie Gilmore.

DESK MAN—Eddie Kahn.

SPORTS DEPARTMENT—Jimmy Morris and Smith Barrier, co-editors, Tom Bost, Lee Turk, Len Rubin, Fletcher Ferguson, Stuart Sechriest, Lester Ostrow, Ira Sarasohn.

EXCHANGES—Margaret Gaines.

STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER—Don Becker.

REPORTERS—Bill Hudson, John Smith, J. F. Jonas, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Hazel Beacham, Raymond Howe, William Jordan, Morton Feldman.

Business Staff

ASST. BUSINESS MANAGER ..... Butler French
COLLECTION MANAGER ..... Herbert Osterheld
OFFICE MANAGERS ..... Walter Eckert, Roy Crooks
NATIONAL ADVERTISING ..... Boylan Carr
DURHAM REPRESENTATIVE—Joe Murnick.
LOCAL ADVERTISING—Hugh Primrose, Robt. Sosnik, Eli Joyner (managers), Bill MacDonald, Louis Shaffner, Page Keel, Bill McLean, Crist Blackwell.

CITY EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE: REED SARRATT

Wednesday, February 13, 1935

PARAGRAPHICS

With the warm weather comes Comparative Anatomy 0-0-0 given seven nights a week in the arboretum. It's a crip.

We see where there's a new book written on American "sticks." We hope there's a chapter in it on the "corn" variety for true local color.

The figures say Peacock of the law school is leading the intramural scorers. Apparently the lawyers have been giving the other teams the bird.

Doing Our Part of It

A special edition of the Alumni Review, which will send an analysis of the financial need of the University to 40,000 friends of Carolina, merits the whole-hearted attention of the students.

The edition shows that whereas appropriations have been dangerously cut, at the three divisions of the Greater University in every case there has been an increase in enrollment. It shows that the University ranks lowest among 48 institutions in the way that salaries have been cut. And, finally, it shows from testimonials unsolicited from prominent Americans, the high value which they place on the University.

The least we can do would be to mention the need and value of the University in our letters home. Need and value—when the people of the state realize both, their representatives will act accordingly.

So Fill The Stein

This is a fairy tale is a fairy tale it is. Tender it is as buttons, buttons, who's got the buttons? About a Stein it is it is, so fill the Stein with delight at the publicity she gets from this nonsensical writing which is not so non-sensical as her own writing with which she has been making fools out of otherwise intelligent lovers of literature.

Is that clear? As clear as beer as Stein is clear?

Who's Got Our Petitions?

The campus at large is still trying to figure out whatever became of the petitions which were circulated so arduously by the members of the University Club in their effort to procure for the students a through bus service from Raleigh to Greensboro via Chapel Hill.

Over three weeks have elapsed since the date of the hearing before the North Carolina Utilities Commission at which time the petitions were to be presented. No further word has been received of the disposal of the petitions or of the date of the next meeting.

The original hearing was to be convened on January 22 but was postponed due to the illness of one of the members of the commission.

Whatever the reason for the continued delay, the parties on this campus who were the leaders in this much-needed movement should delve into the matter and see just why there has been such a long delay and strive to remedy the situation.

Giving the Union a Chance

The other night approximately 40 students crowded together for the purpose of formulating a Carolina Political Union. The meeting was exceedingly informal, and at times conflicted opinion caused some chaos.

There was a feeling prevalent among a few that the meeting was unsuccessful and meaningless. Then too there were others who were stimulated with the idea and intend to be patient and give the union a fair trial.

The meeting regardless of pro's and con's succeeded in accomplishing two important factors which will tend to create a strong and worthwhile union. The main good that came out of the meeting was that the meeting conveyed a general idea of what the campus man thought the union should be. These opinions as rendered by the campus man will act as guiding posts for the organizing committee. The organizing committee was the second good achieved at the meeting. The organizing committee as set up will attempt to outline the routine and procedure of the union.

The leaders of this movement have promised to give the campus a real progressive and interesting Union, or else not trouble the campus with just another organization which will exist in name only.

The success of the Union will depend upon the interest it can create and extend to the student. It will build itself upon such grounds. Let it be remembered that the formation of the Yale Political Union took two months of careful planning. We can not expect to form a similar Union in an hour and a half.

University Debaters

Last night two representatives of the University debated speakers from the University of West Virginia on the nationalization of armament production.

The debaters of the University come in for very little recognition and support in proportion to the effort and ability which goes into their contests. They put much time and work into the preparation of their speeches, which are always on topics of contemporary and general interest. These students are representing the University just as much as any athletic team and deserve some recognition for their services as well as a certain amount of support.

Furthermore, the debate council gets a fee for sustenance. Whether or not it deserves such support is another matter, but at least the student body should recognize its efforts.

Justice For All

President Roosevelt once made the remark that there are "two kinds of justice in this country, one for the rich and one for the poor." Last week Mayer C. Goldman, New York lawyer and chairman of the Committee on Public Defenders of the New York State Bar Association, proposed a solution to the situation.

He is heading a movement for the abolition of private defense in criminal cases, and the establishment of a public defender, to occupy much the same position as the present public prosecutor, except that he would defend the accused in criminal court. Such a public defender would be either elected or appointed, and his services would be available, or rather, if we understand it right, compulsory to one and all, rich and poor alike. The police force and investigating agencies of the state would be as much at his command as at the prosecutor's.

Mr. Goldman says, "Although the immediate problem is to guard against injustice to those who are unable properly to protect themselves, the ultimate solution of the inequalities in the criminal courts must come about through state defense for all as long as prosecution remains a state function."

While this proposal undoubtedly has its merits, there are some questions which we would like to ask. First, would not such a system be an added burden to the already overburdened public treasury? Why not establish a definite fee to be paid by defendants for the services of the public defender except in cases where it would be impossible, such deficiencies to be made up by the state?

Secondly, although, as Mr. Goldman states, the alleged right to private counsel degenerates into a mere privilege to those who can buy their way, it is still a very valuable right, and one which we would not like to see withdrawn. Suppose the defendant did not like the tactics of the defender, and felt some repugnance at being defended in such a manner. Suppose further that the defender was an enemy of the defendant, and unwilling to do his best for his client's interests. Would it not be better to have a complete staff of defenders from which the accused could make his choice?

There is so much good in Mr. Goldman's proposal, we think it should be given serious thought from all angles, and examined thoroughly, in the hope that something beneficial may come of it.

Gertrude Stein

(Continued from page one)

bling. The subject sits relaxed, in the presence of music or conversation or some distracting influence, and writes without paying any attention to what goes on on the paper before him. Miss Stein denied absolutely the validity of this method of writing.

Undergraduate Days

According to her account, she became interested in the subject while an undergraduate at Radcliffe. William James was extremely interested in the phenomena of spiritualistic and automatic writing, and had her, a brilliant student, transferred to Harvard, where she worked under James, who was convinced at the time that there was writing under these conditions, and that it would prove extremely valuable scientifically.

She and a graduate student carried out the experiment with a planchette, an instrument of four strings and a piece of wood as an arm-rest, suspended from the ceiling. The wires controlled the hand only to a slight extent, and the experimenters gave the hand a shove, and then wouldn't touch it. Miss Stein found that only when she guided the subject's hand, started it definitely to writing, did she get any results. She found that the more unconscious they became the less they wrote.

"We found," she said as she nodded a curt gesture in refusal of a cigarette, "that the normal intellectual person doesn't act much automatically. James was finally convinced of this, and came to realize that such automatic writing as had been produced had been prodded out of the subjects by the sheer good breeding of the persons making the experiment. They found what they wanted to find, because James wanted them to find it."

Tintinnabulation

Because of Miss Stein's insistence on the importance of the sound of her words, the interviewer asked her what she thought of Edgar Allen Poe's "The Bells," a poem remarkable for its onomato-poetic effects.

"It's a very interesting exposition of Poe's problem as an intellectual poet to relate words to meaning," replied Miss Stein. "Great poets have always held themselves down to exact choice of words, and all first-rate poets are obsessed with the emotion of calling upon something, as Poe was calling upon bells, and the intention they have in writing poetry, or in what they wish to convey.

"Much of the glory of Elizabethan literature," continued the author of "Tender Buttons," "lies in the fact that they were so much taken with words that the meaning of them was largely indifferent to them. Their word-choice has marvelous delicacy, but they didn't care about the meaning. Minor poets are always concerned more with their excitements and less with their intention. Ben Jonson is an example. Our own Whitman was always falling by the wayside because he got his intention of emotion mixed up with his intention of expression."

Back to Normal

"The great normal poet," she said, as the interview drew to a close, "is always in control of his emotion in relation to his intention."

Miss Stein lectured to an audience limited to 500 in Gerrard hall last night, after which she was the guest of honor at an informal reception in Graham Memorial. She is leaving Chapel Hill this morning for Charleston, S. C.

Kay Kyser

(Continued from page one)

from Auburn, where he played recently, his orchestra is just about the best to appear there in many a moon.

Seven Original Members

Of the 14 members now playing in Kay's band, seven of them are original boys, included in the orchestra when it was formed here. The unit now includes Joe Kirkham, Merwyn "Isch Kabibble" Bogue, Jack Barrow, Carlton Ackley, Bill Stoker, Sully Mason, Lyman Gandee, "Muddy" Berry, Lloyd Snow, Art Wilson, and George Duning.

Besides these regular members, Kay will bring here Virginia Simms as feminine vocalist. Miss Simms formerly worked for Guy Lombardo, Hal Grayson, and Tom Gerun. On the west coast, which she calls home, she sang over the network and many local stations.

The dance set will consist of four dances, all to be held in Bynum gymnasium. It will open with a tea dance Friday afternoon from 4:30 to 6 o'clock and will continue with a formal dance Friday night from 9 to 1 o'clock, another tea dance from 4:30 to 6 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and will end with a formal dance Saturday night from 9:30 to 12 o'clock.

Due to the restricted dancing space in the gymnasium, the number of bids to be sold for the set will be very limited, Chapin Litten, secretary-treasurer of the German Club, announced yesterday .

U.S.S. Macon

(Continued from page one)

climbing above the clouds. The ceiling was 2,000 to 2,500 feet at the time. The big airship disappeared in the clouds, but I could hear the motors for about half an hour."

"I hope that all the men will be saved. I wish to God it were daylight," said Admiral Thomas J. Senn, the 12th naval district commander.

LOST

Brown camel-hair topcoat, name on inside pocket. Please return to the A. T. O. house. Reward! No questions asked.

OUTSTANDING RADIO BROADCASTS

1:00: George Hall orchestra, WBIG.

1:30: Little Jack Little, songs, WBT.

2:00: Radio City Matinee, Reveler's quartet; Leonard Joy orch; John B. Kennedy; guest artists, WJZ.

3:00: Kate Smith's Matinee Hour, WBT.

4:30: Rochester Civic orch., WJZ.

6:45: Lowell Thomas, commentator, WJZ, KDKA.

7:15: Plantation Echoes — Robison orch., Southernaires quartet, WJZ, KDKA.

8:00: Mary Pickford's plays and players; Lou Silvers, musical director, WPTF; Penthouse Party, Emil Coleman orch., Traveler's quartet; Jean Sargent, guest star, WBT.

8:30: Wayne King orch., WEAF, WSB; Everett Marshall's varieties, WBT.

9:00: Town Hall Tonight, Fred Allen, comedian; Lennie Hayton orch., WEAF, WLW; Andre Kostelanetz orch; Lily Pons, soprano; male quartet, WBT.

9:30: Burns and Allen, comedians, WBT.

9:45: Jan Garber orch, WGN.

10:00 Guy Lombardo orch., WLW, WPTF; Jack Pearl, comedian; Freddie Rich orch., WBT.

10:30: Melody Masterpieces, Mary Eastman, soprano; Concert orch., WBT.

11:00: Hal Kemp orch, WJZ, WIS.

11:30: Eddy Duchin orch, WEAF, WLW; Ozzie Nelson orch., WBT.

Commerce Freshmen

There will be no meeting of the freshmen of the school of commerce this morning, according to an announcement from Dean Carroll yesterday.

The regular Wednesday meeting has been called off because of a conflict with the sophomore convocation in Memorial hall.

Baptist Social

A valentine social will be given for Baptist students and their friends Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the basement of the Baptist church.

CAROLINA
TODAY
"The Winning Ticket"
with
LEO CARRILLO
TED HEALY
—Also—
Comedy — Novelty

Midnight Show Friday
Doors Open 11:15 P. M.
"Redhead"
with GRACE BRADLEY

Finchley
FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK

EXHIBITION
CLOTHES OF INDIVIDUAL EXCELLENCE, CORRECTLY ATTUNED TO THE IMMEDIATE SEASON.
FORTY DOLLARS AND MORE
EXHIBITION AT
Student Co-operative Cleaners
TODAY AND TOMORROW
ROBERT GRAY, Representative
CLOTHES INDIVIDUALLY TAILORED TO ORDER :: ALSO HABERDASHERY · HATS · SHOES

FINCHLEY SALE
GENEROUS REDUCTIONS ON ALL FINCHLEY HABERDASHERY, HATS AND SHOES NOW CURRENT IN NEW YORK SHOP. MADE TO ORDER CLOTHING NOT INCLUDED.

Varsity Hoopsters Scrap Fast Davidson Wildcats Tonight In Tin Can, 8:30

Tar Heels Must Topple 'Cats to Remain in Big Five Race

Close Game Is Expected from Improved Presbyterians.

Carolina's White Phantoms will swing back into Big Five competition tonight, taking on the Davidson Wildcats in the Tin Can at 8:30 o'clock.

Entering the home stretch of the fight for the state championship, Carolina is in a tie with State and Duke for the leadership; so it needs to make every game a win in order to stay in the race.

'Cats Dangerous

The Wildcats on the other hand have yet to get their first victory in the Big Five despite being a fairly strong club. The Davidson clubs have always proved dangerous to the Tar Heels and Coach Shepard especially fears the 'Cats this year.

In the first meeting between the two teams the Phantoms came out ahead, 36-26, but only after the fast Davidson quint had put up a stubborn fight.

Peabody, guard, led the play of the Wildcats with three field goals for six points, while Latcher Webster, starting his first varsity game for Carolina, took the place of the sick Glace and was the big gun for his club; the center dropped in 13 points.

However, now the Wildcats will flash a new lineup which has taken on polish and finish and is reported much stronger than the five that faced Carolina some time ago.

Coach Bo Shepard sent his charges through a long drill yesterday in the Tin Can. The main part of the practice was taken up in a scrimmage with the Tar Baby first team.

After the battle with Davidson the Phantoms will have to start preparing for the clash with Duke Saturday night.

Duke Ekes Out Win

Durham, Feb. 12.—Duke's Blue Devils managed to eke out a close 35-34 victory tonight over a surprisingly strong and fast Davidson Wildcat five. This win places Duke in a triple tie with State and Carolina for top honors in the Big Five.

FRESHMAN PUGS READY FOR IMPS

If Shores and Farrar Get Together, Ace Bout Expected; O'Herron Is in Shape.

With the Duke meet just around the corner the yearling mittmen got down to serious work yesterday in preparation for their hardest fights of the year. The program tomorrow night will provide many interesting and thrill-packed bouts.

The foremost of these will undoubtedly be, if they actually meet, the Shores-Farrar get-together. Farrar is reputed to be one of the first three leading amateurs in his weight in the entire country, while the Tiger enjoys quite a good reputation around these parts. Shores went through a hard workout yesterday, taking on Fisher and O'Flaherty in three rounds of fast fighting.

O'Horron in Shape

Ed O'Herron also is primed to give his best. O'Herron's only present fault is that he is not aggressive enough, but he offsets this by his accurate counter-punching. Yesterday he came up against Fisher for two rounds and put up a creditable showing. In the first round O'Herron traded his expert opponent punch for punch. But the fast first stanza took a lot out of him and Fisher was able to get to him with several telling blows in the second.

Ed Oliver looked like a different fighter against Novich in his practice bout. He has developed a fairly good jab, which annoyed Novich no little.

The last fight of the day pitted Charley Benton against Bart Lee in a slugfest which was stopped only because the ring had to be moved for the high school matches. Benton was in fine form and staggered Lee several times with wicked uppercuts.

MURAL ENTRIES

Entries for both intramural bowling and table tennis must be made this week in the Graham Memorial office or in the game room.

Williamson And Hawthorne In Tough Races At N. Y. A. C.

Tar Heel Star in Featured Baxter Mile with Such Aces as Cunningham, Bonthron, Venzke, and Ny; Run Expected to Be One of Most Thrilling of Season with Penn Star in Comeback.

Harry Williamson, star Tar Heel middle distance runner, will have the race of his life on his hands this Saturday night in the 68th annual N. Y. A. C. indoor track games. His event is the Baxter Mile and his competition is Glenn Cunningham, Bill Bonthron, Gene Venzke, and Erik Ny—no more and no less.

Little more need be said to show that his opposition is of the best degree. Cunningham and Bonthron are ranked side by side as the best in the world; Venzke is slated for a great comeback which may exceed either of the former pair; and Ny is a great Swedish runner taking his first year on the American track.

Venzke's Comeback

In the Millrose games the Kansan won by nosing out Venzke. Bonthron, in his first race of the year, placed a poor third, the first time he had ever failed to beat Venzke. Cunningham is now tied with the Princeton Tiger in races won from each other, 3-all.

Last year in these New York Athletic Club games, Bonthron won, but barely did. The big three were shoulder to shoulder just ten yards from the tape. At the finish the Tiger lunged forward to break the tape, but Cunningham was so close behind that no difference in their times could be determined. Venzke was only one short step behind.

These three meet this Saturday. Either man is favored to come through, while Williamson and Ny are ranked the dark horses.

Tom Hawthorne will also make the journey to New York for the invitational 60-yard high hurdles. Sixteen men have been invited, including Percy Beard. Last year John Collier of Boston A. A. was the winner with the time of 7.4 seconds. During the qualifying rounds he tied the world record and again in the finals he equalled the mark.

CAROLINA FROSH PLAY DAVIDSON TONIGHT AT 7:15

Tar Babies Anxious to Lengthen Four-Game Winning Streak Against Wildkittens.

TEAMS IN RETURN CLASH

Gunning for its twelfth victory of the season, the frosh quintet engages the yearling team from Davidson tonight in the preliminary game to the varsity clash. Game time is scheduled for 7:15.

Three weeks ago, the Tar Babies crushed the Baby Davidsonians under a 43-22 count in the final game of their three-game trip into the vicinity of Charlotte.

The team went through a light practice yesterday afternoon and are primed for their opponents. Potts and Mullis will again team at forwards. They both were impressive against Wake Forest.

Meroney will be at center and the guard positions will fall to Earl Ruth and either Foy Grubb or Bill Franks. Grubb has been ill recently and Franks, who started against Wake Forest, may play again.

The entire team worked as an offensive unit against Wake Forest and presented an oiled machine on the attack. A continuance of this style is hoped for in their remaining games which include the all important battles wth Duke and State.

The Baby Imp game has been shifted to this Friday night and will be played as a preliminary to the varsity wrestling matches with Davidson.

Raleigh And Barium Springs Retain High School Mit And Mat Crowns

GREENSBORO ONLY TWO POINTS BACK OF TITLE WINNERS

Parks (High Point) and Perdue (Thomasville) Gain Falls.

Barium Springs with a score of 33 won the state high school wrestling championship last night for the second consecutive year. The winners nosed out the Greensboro high school grapplers by the bare margin of two points.

Other scores were High Point 28, Thomasville 24, Durham 23, and Salisbury 15.

Comes from Behind

Trailing Greensboro 28 to 27 as the final round began last night, Barium Springs copped title honors in the 108 and 145-pound classes while the Gate City contingent were only able to win out in the 165-pound division. Greensboro had four and Barium three representatives in the finals.

Spencer, Barium Springs, 145, Lea, High Point, 155, and Grundman, Grensboro, 165, state champions in their respective weights last year, successfully defended their crowns.

Parks, of High Point, who was state titleholder in 108-pound class in 1934, won the 115-pound division, pinning Beeston of Greensboro, in 5:19 minutes with a half nelson and arm lock. Parks took the aggressive from the very start, and almost pinned his opponent in the first two minutes of the bout. Beeston was game through-

(Continued on last page)

GRAPPLERS PREP FOR STRONG 'CATS

Davidson Has Beaten Duke; Bonner-Quarterman Bout to Feature Friday's Meet.

The Carolina varsity wrestling team took another strenuous workout in preparation for the encounter with Davidson in the Tin Can Friday night.

Davidson is the second Big Five opponent on the Tar Heels' mat schedule. Recently Carolina was beaten by State, 18-6. The Presbyterians will also be encountering their second adversary in state competition. Davidson defeated Duke 21-9 two weeks ago.

Bonner vs. Quarterman

There will be several outstanding bouts on the mat program Friday night. In the 155-pound class a real thriller is expected between Bonner, brilliant sophomore grappler of Coach Quinlan's contingent, and Quarterman, undefeated contestant of the visitors. Both men have been beaten only once in two years of competition.

The 165-pound weight will be another battle of the captains, Efland of Carolina, and Fort of Davidson. Fort boasts a superb record of no defeats in two years on the mat. Although Efland has been beaten three times this year, it must be remembered that the most outstanding scrappers in the conference compete in the 165-pound class.

Efland has fought such brilliant men as Currence of V. M. I., Priode of V. P. I., Seitz of W. & L., and Furr of State. The Carolinian has shown considerable improvement this season and Fort will have a real battle on his hands.

Other interesting matches will bring Thompson and Douglas in the 125 and Blackwelder and Gwynn in the 175.

WILSON CAPTURES RUNNER-UP PLACE, 1½ POINTS BEHIND

Patterson, Greensboro, Scores Only Kayo of Finals.

The Raleigh and Wilson high school boxing teams ended a merry two-day battle for the North Carolina interscholastic championship here last evening in the Tin City with the capital city boys taking the title by a 14 to 12 1-2 margin. This was Raleigh's third win and gave it permanent possession of the trophy.

The winners took three individual crowns to a pair each for Wilson and Greensboro, and one for Edenton. Following the leaders were Greensboro 8, Wilmington 5 1-2, Elizabeth City 3, Oxford 3, Charlotte 3, Edenton 3, Mount Holly 2 1-2, Thomasville 1 1-2, Goldsboro 1 1-2, Rocky Mount 1 1-2, Chapel Hill 1-2, Burlington 1-2.

Crown Assured

Raleigh was assured the victory after the 155-lb class, in which Stronach defeated Sinclair of Wilson by a safe margin. The first round was even, but the eventual winner's effective blows gave him the verdict.

To Patterson of Greensboro went the honor of the sole knockout win for the finals as he finished Browning of Raleigh in 45 seconds of the opening round. He quickly floored Browning with a hard left to the head and followed that with a heavy barrage of blows that sent the Raleigh youth to the canvas for the second and final time.

Close Decision

The only questionable decision of the finals came in the opening contest, when Dempsey of Wilson, was given the verdict over little Joe Thomas of Wilmington. Thomas, standing at least a head shorter than his opponent, carried the fight the entire way, continually scoring with hard blows to the head and body, and taking the last two rounds by apparently wide margins.

Showing the effects of too much recent fighting and sporting a pair of blackened eyes, Captain "Duck" Diehl, Charlotte high's Golden Gloves runner-up, was in too tired a condition to do battle with Wright of Raleigh and lost a game match to the capital city entrant.

Despite the fact that they did not get very far along in the tournament, Rigsbee, Smith and the two McCauley boys, all of Chapel Hill, received considerable praise for their endeavors. These were their first attempts in the squared circle and all made fine showings.

Summaries:

Finals

108—Dempsey (Wilson) decision over Thomas (Wilmington.)

115—Hayes (Wilson) decision over Young (Oxford.)

125—Wright (Raleigh) decision over Diehl (Charlotte.)

135—Kennedy (Raleigh) decision over Wilson. over Shaw (Wilson.)

145—Riley (Greensboro) decision over Brown (Raleigh.)

155—Stronach (Raleigh) decision over Sinclair (Wilson.)

165—Patterson (Greensboro) K. O. over Browning (Raleigh) 45 seconds, first round.

175—Spruth (Edenton) decision over Toomey (Mt. Holly.)

Tar Heel Mittmen Make Final Preparations For Blue Devils

KANNER IS IN FINE SHAPE; MAY FIGHT

Entire Boxing Team in Excellent Condition for Tough Meet In Durham Tomorrow.

GIDDINS VS. MATULAWICZ

In four rounds of heavy boxing, the rangy Murray Kanner gave evidence of a real zest to tumble the strong Duke heavy tomorrow night. Kanner was forced to report late for the squad because of winter football. However, he is now in superb condition.

Yesterday afternoon Kanner boxed his first two rounds with Dr. Meno Spann. Kanner's long left is working to perfection and with this left jab, he should have no trouble in keeping the Duke man away from him. In the second set of rounds, Jack Lowe stepped in as a sparring mate. Lowe tried hard to get inside but Kanner was too big for him.

Diehl Favored

Marion Diehl, clever little bantamweight, worked out with the frosh featherweight, Bass. He looked good as he flashed his usual form and cunning. Diehl is meeting a good man in the Duke bantam, Alterman, and will have to be on the alert throughout the scrap.

Johnnie Edwards is also going to meet a good man from the Blue Devil camp, taking on Knepp in the lightweight class.

Ernie Eutsler is slated to meet Freddie Lloyd in the 125-pound class. Eutsler has been improving in every start and big things are expected of him tomorrow night.

Joe Fisher looked good as he stepped through his paces with the yearling O'Herron in yesterday's matinee workout. Fisher is pitted against McCall in the welterweight class and in his present shape should have no difficulty in taking the verdict from his opponent.

Jule Medynski and Al Mann will renew hostilities after a lay-off of a year. In their last encounter, both boys waged a hard battle with Medynski's hand being raised at the finish. This year a new Medynski will face Mann.

Captain Sam Giddins is to tackle Ray Matulawicz in the middleweight class. This contest should be a close one as both boys have a great deal of respect for each other's ability.

The light heavyweight class will send Maxie Novich, colorful Tar Heel scrapper, against Schmidt of the Blue Devils. Novich has won every one of his bouts this year and is the favorite to stop the rangy Schmidt.

Baseball Picture After Game Tonight

Baseball takes its initial bow tonight with the showing of a talking picture at Memorial hall, entitled "Play Ball." The performance will begin at 10 o'clock or immediately following the varsity basketball game. The show will last about one hour. No admission will be charged.

This is one of a series of educational talking pictures and will have some of the major league stars displaying the correct form in all arts of the game. Action shots of these big time stars, with explanations, will feature the interesting picture.

Eureka!

Monday afternoon, N. B. Adams of the Spanish department sank a hole-in-one on the ninth hole of the Country Club golf course. This should be of special interest to the history department, whose rivalry with the Romance language department on the golf course is well known.

MURAL TEAMS IN SCORING RAMPAGE

Phi Delts Equal Season High Mark of 84 Points; Lawyers Tally Only 80.

"What a difference a day makes!"

This is uttered in despair as yesterday's play in the intramural basketball session is reviewed. The winners went on a rampage to score 306 points to 82 for the losers.

Phi Delta Theta topped the list as it tied the season's high scoring record by trouncing St. Anthony, 84-10. Close on its heels were the Shysters with an 80-4 triumph over the withered Mayflower Club.

S. A. E. Takes No. 7

S. A. E. did not do so bad as it held Phi Alpha to 6 points while finding the hoop for 47 itself. Sigma Nu downed Theta Kappa Nu in the only contest that approached a basketball game, 34-32; the Locals beat Old West, 31-23; and Lewis disgraced Manly, 30-7.

After being behind 23-18 at half time, Theta Kappa Nu made a great finishing rally, only to have Sigma Nu stave off the threat and win out by two points. Both teams played fast, hard ball throughout.

Tucker of Phi Delta Theta took high for the session with 28 points, while Peacock, Shyster guard, went farther out in front in the individual scoring race by adding 26 for his day's work. Mosier of Phi Delta Theta also tallied 26 and his teammate, Hershey, came next with 22. Andrews led S. A. E.'s at-

(Continued on last page)

Today's Mural Card

4:30—(1) D. K. E. vs. Kappa Sigma, (2) Mangum No. 1 vs. Aycock, (3) Sigma Chi vs. Z. B. T.

5:30—(1) Ruffin vs. Kluttz, (2) Kappa Alpha vs. Theta Chi, (3) Delta Tau Delta vs. Chi Psi.

ENGINEERS' BALL BIDS ARE READY

Members of Engineering School May Obtain Bids from Engineering Society Heads.

Bids for the annual Engineers' Ball may now be purchased from the presidents of the four engineering societies, Walter King announced yesterday.

According to King, all students in the engineering school will be eligible for bids and may, by purchasing them before February 18, get them at a reduced rate.

Those handling bids are Wyatt McNary, president of the civil engineer group; R. L. Huber, president of the chemical engineering society; Robert Query, head of the electrical group; and Don Tracy, president of the mechanical engineers. All meet in Phillips hall.

Music by Jack Wardlaw

Jack Wardlaw and his Carolina Pines orchestra will furnish the music for the affair sponsored each year by the A. S. C. E., the A. I. E. E., the A. S. M. E., and the A. I. Ch. E. The ballroom of the Carolina Inn will be especially decorated according to engineering activities for the dance to be held February 22 from 9:30 to 1 a. m.

Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity, will hold a dinner in the Inn for members preceding the dance.

SENATE OPPOSES U. S. CHILD LABOR

Di Favors N. C. Ratification of Child Labor Amendment.

After spirited debate participated in by almost every member, the Di Senate voted 12 to 5 last night in favor of the ratification by the North Carolina legislature of the child labor amendment.

The affirmative was led by Senator Verner, who was supported by Senators Kendrick, Bell and Lee.

Led by Senator Fletcher, Senators Gibbes, Eagles, Yeatman, and Blackwell spoke against the bill.

Action during the business session included the passage of a motion to contribute $2 from the treasury for use in arranging for student-faculty day, the admittance to membership of John Dacy and Abol Hassan Fatouhi, the changing of the time of meeting to 7:15 p. m., and the indefinite tabling of the Chapel Hill license tag bill.

N. C. BOY SCOUTS WILL MEET HERE

April 26 Begins Celebration of Scouting Anniversary.

Over six hundred North Carolina Boy Scouts are scheduled to assemble here with their local, regional and national leaders April 26 to conduct the local four-day celebration of scouting's 25th anniversary in America.

According to Dr. Harold D. Meyer of the Institute of Research in Social Science, who will have charge of arranging part of the jamboree program, the University will allow the scouts to make camp on the woods surrounding Kenan stadium, and to use the stadium itself for the celebration.

Beginning Thursday night with setting up camp, the affair will continue through Monday morning with a continuous program including the opening parade and addresses by President Frank Graham of the University, Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus and National Chief Scout Executive James E. West.

SEND THE DAILY TAR HEEL HOME

Speculator

Irene Hervey and Leo Carrillo in "The Winning Ticket," now playing at the Carolina theatre.

GREEN FEATURED IN NEW PLAYBOOK

Current Issue to Be Released This Week; Publication Completes Its Seventh Year.

Editor Frederick H. Koch announced yesterday that the current issue of The Carolina Playbook will be released this week with son Paul Green sharing the limelight in the new Playbook's pages.

Green, one of America's outstanding young playwrights and a former member of Koch's Carolina Playmakers, appears three times in the new issue of the Playbook.

"Shroud My Body Down"

Concerning his "dream play" which so stirred the campus when the Playmakers produced it last fall, Green says, " 'Shroud My Body Down' is not a play of entertainment in the theatre sense of the word, but rather an experiment in mood and atmosphere.

"But even so, I'm glad to have made an attempt, however small, at integrating life and music on a stage. Some day, somebody will do it in a big way, and the result will be astonishing."

After this author's "foreword" to the play, the magazine reprinted the opening scene from "Shroud My Body Down," and the Green matter ended with an editorial on "Paul Green and the Symphonic Drama."

Contributors to the current issue of the quarterly include Julius J. Lankes, William Butler Yeats, N. W. Walker and John W. Parker.

With the new issue, according to Darice Jackson, circulation manager for the publication, Volume VII will have been completed making the total life of the quarterly seven years.

The Carolina Playbook, boasting subscribers in many various lands, was one of three drama publications to be exhibited at the Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago two years ago.

Phi Hears W. Va.-N. C. Debaters at Session

The Phi Assembly gave up its claim to its assembly hall last evening and listened to the speeches of the West Virginia and North Carolina debating teams.

In a short session after the debate, the assembly favored Representative Smithwick's motion to make some contribution for student-faculty day. Mr. Smithwick also announced that E. C. Smith was prepared to give the assembly a free show on the first Monday night in March.

Speaker Griffin announced that election of officers and initiation of new men would take place at the next regular meeting of the assembly.

Ellis Shoaf, of Lexington, and John Boles, of Monroe, were introduced for membership.

P. U. COMMITTEE ON KEYS MEETS

Publication Awards Situation to Be Investigated by Board.

Seeking a way of curtailing the large number of publications keys awarded annually in order to thus increase the significance of the awards, the committee appointed by the president of the Publications Union Board to study the large expenditures for keys met yesterday in Graham Memorial.

Although no definite resolutions were drawn up for presentation to the board, several suggestions were made and marked for further investigation before the committee meets again.

The most radical suggestion for changing the present system, under which individual keys are awarded by each of the four publications and it is possible for one student to receive tokens from all four, was that a uniform key be adopted for all the campus publications.

This plan, it was thought, will eliminate a considerable amount of unnecessary duplication and thereby reduce the cost to the Publications Union board.

In order to further decrease the number of keys given each year it was suggested that the time and merit requirements for receiving an award be raised and that a semi-rigid quota be set up for each publication.

Swain Cashier Resigns

Howard Will Extend Activities of Fraternity Service.

T. S. "Tommy" Howard, has resigned as cashier of Swain Hall in order to devote more time to extending the activities of the Fraternity Supervisory Service, with which he has been associated for some time. His office is located in the building of the Student Co-operative Store.

Howard's resignation was effective on February 1, at which time he was checked out by the University auditor. G. R. Parks has taken over part of the duties formerly performed by Howard. L. B. Rogerson, assistant controller of the University, and J. O. Harmon, manager of Swain Hall, have expressed their regret at losing him after his eleven years of loyal and efficient service.

Friendship Council

The members of the Freshman Friendship Council will meet in the social rooms of the Presbyterian Church for their quarterly social gathering. At this meeting, which will take the place of the usual Monday night meeting, they will be the guest of Rev. Donald Stewart.

Murals

(Continued from page three)

tack with 17.

The summaries:

Phi D. T. (84)	St. Anthony (10)
Hershey, f (22)	Morris, f
Tucker, f (28)	Read, f
Mosier, c (26)	Jeanes, c (8)
Rogers, g (2)	Walker, g
Williams, g (6)	Hard, g (2)

Subs: Phi Delta Theta—Wolslagel, Blount; St. Anthony Hall—Rhodes, Fackner, Parker.

S. A. E. (47)	Phi Alpha (6)
Andrews, f (17)	Hauser, f (2)
Eagles, f (2)	Hendel, f (2)
Scott, c (8)	Greenberg, c
Poe, g (12)	Sobelson, g
Brown, g (4)	Lasky, g (2)

Subs: S. A. E.—Alexander, Connor (4).

Sigma Nu (34)	Th. K. Nu (32)
Lytle, f (6)	Priestley, f (5)
J. Bost, f (7)	Schaper, f (3)
Blount, c (10)	MacPhee, c (11)
Lynch, g (2)	Buffey, g (5)
Primrose, g (9)	Stauber, g (8)

Locals (31)	Old West (23)
Davenport, f (12)	Edwards (4)
Sewell, f (6)	Caroll, f (4)
Miller, c (7)	McNair, c (8)
Verner, g (2)	Roundtree, g
Terry, g (4)	Smith, g (7)

Law S. (80)	Mayflower Cl. (4)
Williams, f (18)	Lipton, f
Bryan, f (16)	Berger, f (2)
Alexander, c (12)	Hunt, c (2)
Markham, g (8)	Rankin, g
Peacock, g (26)	Poteat, g

Lewis (30)	Manly (7)
Hooker, f (8)	Adelman, f (5)
Collins, f (6)	Broady, f (2)
Leight, c (4)	Shedd, c
Lawlor, g (10)	McDevitt, g
Derrickson, g (2)	Deaton, g

Subs: Lewis—Parker, Wiggins, Young.

High Wrestling

(Continued from page three)

out, but his opponent's superior strength and mat knowledge told in the closing moments of the scrap.

The summary of the bouts is as follows:

108—Bosworth (Barium Springs) won referee's decision over Evins (High Point.)

115—Parks (High Point) won on a fall over Beeston (Greensboro, in 5:19 minutes.

125—A. Morris (Durham) won time decision over Michael (Greensboro) of 2:18 minutes.

135—Clodfelter (Thomasville) won time decision over B. Morris (Durham) of 5:32 minutes.

145—Spencer (Barium Springs) won time decision over Shaw (Grensboro) of 4:12 minutes.

155—Lea (High Point) won referee's decision over Flowers (Barium Springs.)

165—Grundman (Greensboro) won time decision over Lucas (Durham) of 4:00 minutes.

175—Perdue (Thomasville) won by a fall over Bernhardt (Salisbury) of 1:11 minutes.

BAPTISTS TO GIVE WDNC BROADCAST

Religious Workers Council Program to Be Given Today Over Durham Station.

The third in the series of WDNC radio broadcasts sponsored by the Religious Workers' Council will be presented this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Under the direction of the Rev. O. T. Binkley of the University Baptist church, this afternoon's half-hour program will feature Miss Lena Mae Williams, vocal soloist, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. A. S. Winsor.

Mixed Quartet

Completing the musical side of the broadcast will be the selections by the Baptist choir mixed quartet composed of Miss Williams, Mrs. Edwards, Pescott Sparrow and Grady Miller.

Mr. Binkley will speak for a few moments on "The Return of Faith."

Today's broadcast follows similar ones arranged by the University Y. M. C. A. and the University Presbyterian church. According to a recent announcement, the purpose of the council's broadcasts is to acquaint the people of the state with the religious side of Carolina life.

Local church and Y. M. C. A. leaders compose the group known as the Religious Workers Council. Besides initiating this series of radio broadcasts, they brought the famous Chinese doctor, T. Z. Koo, to Carolina last month.

GRISETTE'S SECRETARY TO MOVE TO GOLDSBORO

Mrs. Starlin S. Whitaker has resigned her position as secretary to Felix A. Grisette, director of the alumni loyalty fund, to move to Goldsboro, where Mr. Whitaker has accepted a position on the staff of the Goldsboro News-Argus. Mrs. Whitaker's resignation will be effective February 15.

She will be succeeded by Miss Alice Gattis, who graduated from the University in 1922 and is now employed as a secretary and stenographer in the University business office.

Patronize Our Advertisers

Luncheon Plans

Pool Asks Students to Arrange for Student-Faculty Day.

Arrangements for the luncheon hour on student-faculty day must be made as soon as possible, announced Jack Pool yesterday.

The idea is for students and fraternities and other groups to invite certain of the faculty to be their guests for the midday meal. These invitations will be tendered through Pool's committee.

All members of the faculty will be eating with students on that day at luncheon. In order to complete the list of invitations, Pool urges students and groups to make the arrangements immediately.

INFIRMARY

The following students were confined in the infirmary yesterday: H. M. Acker, Frank Umstead, Margaret Spencer, Margaret Siceloff, E. M. Edens, L. M. Cromartie, C. H. Woodburn, David Warren, R. L. Bolton, Carl Anderson, M. C. Ward.

Kellogg's COLLEGE PROM

PEP ON THE AIR

Ruth ETTING and her melody

Red NICHOLS and his rhythm

DON'T miss the fun next Thursday night! Syncopation. Melody. Campus thrills.

UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA NIGHT

GUEST OF HONOR LAWSON ROBERTSON (famous Olympic track coach)

THURSDAY, FEB. 14th

WMAL—7:45 P. M., E. S. T.

Tune in every week at the same time. N. B. C. Blue Network.

AVOID - - -

That "Just-Trimmed" Appearance

Get Your Hair Cut Now for the Mid-Winters

THE CAROLINA BARBER SHOP

Copyright, 1935, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, N. C.

POLITICAL UNION GROUP
10 P. M.
209 GRAHAM MEMORIAL

The Daily Tar Heel

FRESHMAN "Y" COUNCIL
7:15 P. M.
PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

SERVED BY THE UNITED PRESS

VOLUME XLIII | CHAPEL HILL, N. C., THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1935 | NUMBER 105

PLANS ANNOUNCED FOR CELEBRATION WEDNESDAY NIGHT

House to Be Master of Ceremonies at Final Student-Faculty Day Program.

JOHNSON'S BAND TO PLAY

J. D. Winslow, chairman of the committee arranging for the evening program for student-faculty day, announced yesterday that Dean of Administration Robert B. House would officiate as master of ceremonies for the program Wednesday night.

The affair, which will be held at 8 o'clock in Memorial hall, will offer the climax for the student-faculty day celebration and will feature numerous artists, including Dean House himself, who will perform on his 'ole harmonica.

Special Music

Freddy Johnson and his orchestra will jazzeree for the occasion, said Winslow. The maestro will feature his popular torch singer, Peggy Wood, and crooner, Gene "Lanks" Whitaker.

Miss Betty Tandy of the Tandy Studio of Dancing in Durham, has accepted the invitation to appear on the program with several of her popular dance numbers. Miss Tandy has appeared on several occasions in the vicinity and has been widely acclaimed.

Glee Club Too

The octette from the University Glee Club with a bagful of sailor songs and the like will continue the hour's merriment. Roy Armstrong, verbal gym-

(Continued on page three)

FERA Directors Require U.S. Colleges To Revise Student Work Projects

Washington Officials Wish to Improve "Social" Value of Present Jobs.

Following suggestions from the educational division of the Federal Emergency Relief Administration, all colleges in the United States will reconsider their FERA student work projects within the next few weeks to determine their "social" value.

The administration at Washington feels that part of the projects now included in the list of work being done by college students receiving federal aid is without this "social" value.

According to Edwin S. Lanier, local FERA director for students, the continuation of federal aid for students in 1935-36 depends to a great extent on the revision of project lists which is being carried out through the country this month.

Over 125 representatives from North Carolina colleges considered the administration's suggestions at the Woman's College of the University Tuesday and urged colleges in the state to strive to discover and develop work projects thoroughly social and desirable and to maintain high scholastic requirements for FERA students.

Lanier declared that he thought most of the projects being done by Carolina FERA students are desirable and would meet all government expectations. However, he felt that possibly 15 per cent of the total work could be improved upon to make all student work here "social" in nature.

Bond New Manager

Niles W. Bond, University sophomore from Lexington, Mass., was selected by the Publications Union Board yesterday to succeed Bernard Solomon as business manager of the Finjan.

Solomon will resign at the end of this quarter in order to take a position elsewhere. His resignation will leave two issues for which Bond will be the temporary business manager.

Bond has served on the business staff of the Daily Tar Heel and the Finjan.

SCENIC DIRECTOR TO APPEAR HERE

Lee Simonson Will Open Carolina Dramatic Association Festival March 27.

Lee Simonson, the distinguished scenic director of the New York Theatre Guild, will open the twelfth annual festival and state tournament of the Carolina Dramatic Association to be held in the Playmakers theatre March 27-30.

Simonson will present an illustrated lecture and exhibit on "Stage Settings from the Seventeenth Century to the Present." The scenic director will bring with him a collection of 300 photographs of various sets which he will use in his lecture.

Kline to Speak

Herbet Kline, editor of The New Theatre Magazine, has accepted the invitation to speak to the festival group on "The New Theatre League."

Included on the remainder of the week's program is a special lecture by Professor Frederick H. Koch, director of the Carolina Playmakers, on "Folk Drama on Broadway," and a demonstration of the work that Miss Laura Plonk is conducting in Asheville among the children.

The regular festival outlay, which includes play productions, contests in make up and costuming, building sets, is rapidly taking shape as various members of the association throughout the state are filing entries in the various festival projects.

35 Competitors

Thirty-five out of forty-eight groups who are enrolled in the association have already announced that they would be represented at the festival and 31 original plays have been submitted.

A special luncheon Friday in

(Continued on last page)

ADDED ATTRACTION

As an added attraction to the dance music Kay Kyser and his orchestra will dispense when they play for mid-winters here tomorrow and Saturday, the genial southern batoneer will present Virginia Simms, above, as feminine vocalist. Miss Simms has formerly worked with Guy Lombardo, Hal Grayson, and Tom Gerun and is the newest addition to the Kyser unit.

Kyser Will Hold Auditions Here For Prospective Musical Talent

Band Leader to Conduct Tryouts Saturday Afternoon for Aspiring Musicians.

TESTS TO BE OPEN TO ALL

When Kay Kyser, former cheerleader at the University, brings his orchestra here to play for the German Club midwinters tomorrow and Saturday, he will hold a number of auditions for prospective girl singers, male singers and musicians, he has announced.

The try-outs, to be held here Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, will mark an effort by the famous bandleader to discover new talent for radio stations, theatres and other orchestras in Chicago.

Kyser and his orchestra, who play regularly at the famous Black Hawk restaurant in the Windy City, are at present on a southern tour, playing for dances at Alabama, Auburn, Sewanee, Georgia Tech and the University of Tennessee.

The auditions are not to be restricted to students attending the school at which the orchestra plays, according to Kyser, but will be open to all who wish to make a test.

Genius of Jazz

Dubbed by the New York Times as the "Genius of Jazz" while filling an engagement at the Hotel New Yorker and known widely to radio listeners as "The Man From the South," Kyser's performance here is expected to bring forth one of the better social week-ends.

It was during his days as head cheerleader here that the "Cheerios" were organized. Two of the battle songs, "Tar Heels on Hand" and "Split It for the Team," which the University band plays on football occasions, were written by Kyser. His orchestra is composed mostly of former University students who

(Continued on last page)

Baptist Social Tonight

All Baptist students and their friends will be entertained at a valentine social tonight at 8 o'clock in the basement of the Baptist church.

Friendship Council Has Social Tonight

The regular weekly meeting of the Freshman Friendship Council will be held tonight in the form of a social at 7:15 o'clock in the social room of the Presbyterian church.

Contrary to the announcement made in freshman assembly yesterday, the meeting will be conducted tonight instead of last night.

Refreshments will be served at the entertainment and members may bring their dates along too, according to Harry F. Comer.

The Reverend Donald Stewart, pastor of the church, will conduct the meeting.

Senator Nye, Leader Of Arms Query, Explains Plan To Remove War Profits

"If we are to have peace, profit must be removed not only from war but from the preparations for war," said United States Senator Gerald P. Nye Saturday in an address to a peace league meeting in Philadelphia.

Nye, who will speak before a mass meeting of the Carolina student body in Memorial hall, February 24, urged in his address last week that President Roosevelt summon a "real" disarmament conference which should include as delegates only those who "honestly" want peace and would advocate limitations of arms.

From such a conference, the senator would bar holders of stock in munition plants and "gold braided" military men.

The North Dakota senator, who is chairman of the senate committee investigating activities of munition makers, opposed the recent bill proposing that the United States enter the world court.

"And I will oppose joining the world court or the League of Nations until this country cleans up its own backyard. The United States must take its finger off the trigger of the weapon of huge munition plants and cease its readiness to shoot at a drop of the hat over foreign country.

(Continued on page two)

Jury Condemns Hauptmann To Die In Chair March 18

University Club

The University Club will not meet at its regular weekly session tonight, President Frank Willingham announced yesterday. The regular meeting will take place, as scheduled, next Thursday night.

AVIATION SUBJECT OF TALK TONIGHT

A. S. M. E. Members Will Hear Illustrated Lecture at 7:30 In Phillips Hall.

Recent technical developments in aeronautics, together with the vocational possibilities of aviation, will be discussed by a representative of the Boeing School of Aeronautics tonight.

W. van Haitma, director of placement in the Boeing school, will lecture under the auspices of the local chapter of the A. S. M. E. at 7:30 o'clock in Phillips hall. His talk will be illustrated by motion pictures.

Historic Film

The first reel tonight will be of an historic nature, showing the development of the airplane from the early Wright "pusher" on up to the modern tri-motored transport.

The second reel will show the manufacturing processes involved in Pratt-Whitney airplane engines and in the Boeing model 247 transport.

The remaining two subjects on tonight's program are a survey of the Boeing school and one entitled "Across the Continent in 20 Hours." Each of the four reels to be shown will last about 15 minutes.

Samuel Selden Plans Student-Faculty Day Playmakers Exhibit

The Carolina Playmakers will feature a display of stage models, playbills, a collection of folk plays, and copies of the Carolina Playbook on student-faculty day next Wednesday, it was learned yesterday from Samuel Selden, assistant director.

The exhibit will probably be presented in Memorial hall. Director Selden said that the purpose of the exhibit will be to better acquaint people with the various phases of Playmaker work.

Stage Sets

"There will be half a dozen or more models of stage sets constructed by students in the courses of stage designing," he stated. The play writing phase of the Playmaker work, Director Selden explained, is to be exhibited by four series of folk play collections edited by Professor Koch.

Another feature of the exhibit will be the "Carolina Playmaker," a quarterly magazine published by the Playmakers and the Carolina Dramatic Association, Selden stated.

Director Selden added that in addition to the exhibition items mentioned above, a few costumes may be displayed.

Cameron Speaks Tonight

Dr. F. K. Cameron of the University chemical department will address the members of Sigma Gamma Epsilon, honorary geology fraternity, tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the chapter room, 401 New East.

JURORS HAND IN MERCILESS EDICT

Reilly Announces That He Will Appeal Case to the Highest Court in the Nation.

LINDBERGH NOT PRESENT

Flemington, Feb. 13.—(UP)—Richard Bruno Hauptmann was convicted tonight of America's most colossal crime, and he will forfeit his life in the electric chair for the murder of Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr.

Hauptmann is sentenced to die March 18.

The jury returned the verdict: "Guilty as charged in the indictment." The decision was announced, "We find Defendant Richard Bruno Hauptmann guilty of murder in the first degree."

The jury rendered the decision after a 12-hour conference. The group entered the jury room at 11 a. m. and emerged at 10:44 p. m.

Reilly to Appeal

Edward J. Reilly, attorney for the defense, announced that he would appeal the death sentence "to the highest court in the land."

When the jury entered the room, Lloyd Fell, clerk, stood and asked, "Jurors, have you reached a verdict?"

"We have," was the answer.

(Continued on last page)

CLUB WILL INVITE FOLKS TO ATTEND FESTIVITIES HERE

Students Will Present Plans over Radio for Next Week's Gala Celebration.

DEAN HOUSE WILL TALK

For the purpose of inviting, "over the air," all parents of Carolina students to attend the Parents' Day celebration set for next Wednesday, the University Club will present a half-hour broadcast over radio station WPTF in Raleigh, tomorrow at 10 p. m.

Virgil Weathers, president of the student body; J. D. Winslow, president of the University Y. M. C. A.; A. T. Dill, editor of the DAILY TAR HEEL, and Robert B. House, dean of administration, will speak on the program.

Music

The musical phase of the broadcast will be handled by James Dees and his quartet composed of Harold Gavin, baritone; Claude Ballard, second tenor; Johnny Walker, first tenor. Dees will sing bass.

According to an announcement from Jake Snyder, chairman of the University club radio committee, the broadcast is to stimulate interest in student-faculty day and parents' day, both of which celebrations will be conducted February 20.

House to Talk

Dean House will talk on the faculty viewpoint regarding student-faculty day and will tender an "open house" invitation to the state to attend the affair Wednesday.

Weathers will present the undergraduate invitation to the people of North Carolina to spend the day in Chapel Hill.

Winslow will discuss the pro-

(Continued on page two)

The Daily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Union Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where it is printed daily except Mondays, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Holidays. Entered as second class matter at the post office of Chapel Hill, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 for the college year.

A. T. Dill.....Editor
Robert C. Page, Jr.....Managing Editor
Joe Webb.....Business Manager
George Underwood.....Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

EDITORIAL BOARD—Phil Hammer, chairman, Earl Wolslagel, Franklin Harward, John Schulz, DuPont Snowden, Margaret McCauley, Morty Slavin, Sam Leager, Dick Myers, Charles Lloyd, Jake Snyder, Phil Kind, Charles Daniel, George Butler.

FEATURE BOARD—Nelson Lansdale, chairman; Nick Read, Bob Browder, Francis Clingman, J. E. Poindexter, W. M. Cochrane, Willis Harrison.

CITY EDITORS—Irving Suss, Walter Hargett, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.

TELEGRAPH EDITORS—Stuart Rabb, Charlie Gilmore.

DESK MAN—Eddie Kahn.

SPORTS DEPARTMENT—Jimmy Morris and Smith Barrier, co-editors, Tom Bost, Lee Turk, Len Rubin, Fletcher Ferguson, Stuart Sechriest, Lester Ostrow, Ira Sarasohn.

EXCHANGES—Margaret Gaines.

STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER—Don Becker.

REPORTERS—Bill Hudson, John Smith, J. F. Jonas, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Hazel Beacham, Raymond Howe, William Jordan, Morton Feldman.

Business Staff

ASST. BUSINESS MANAGER.....Butler French
COLLECTION MANAGER.....Herbert Osterheld
OFFICE MANAGERS.....Walter Eckert, Roy Crooks
NATIONAL ADVERTISING.....Boylan Carr
DURHAM REPRESENTATIVE—Joe Murnick.

LOCAL ADVERTISING—Hugh Primrose, Robt. Sosnik, Eli Joyner (managers), Bill MacDonald, Louis Shaffner, Page Keel, Bill McLean, Crist Blackwell.

CITY EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE: DON McKEE

Thursday, February 14, 1935

PARAGRAPHICS

Add similes: as unheard-of as a non-fraternity dance leader.

Students and faculty lunching together is all right. Only we can't see either eating out of the other's hand or reaching for the check.

The main trouble with these lighter-than-air craft still seems to be that what goes up must come down—with a bang.

Backward and Unintelligent

Students at the Appalachian State Teachers college revolted Tuesday and had a little strike of their own up in Boone. Reason: the college administration won't allow the co-eds to sit with the men students at basketball games or mix at any other social function.

The event strikes us particularly because of the extensive freedom which women and men students at Chapel Hill have in mingling together and participating in campus activities. The tendency has been within the last year toward a more extensive participation on the part of the co-eds in extra-curricular activities along with the men students.

The circumstances enshrouding the men-women relations at Appalachian can hardly be vastly different from those at the University. At any rate, the policy of restricting rather than fostering social contact seems a foolish, backward, and unintelligent stand.

Both Sides Proselytize

A bill introduced in the New York state legislature by Senator Joseph Nunnan will prohibit, if it is passed, "students with 'communistic ideas' from enrolling in state-financed colleges." According to the United Press, some legislators have forecast passage of the measure. Indeed, this is no more than is to be expected of a state that requires its teachers to take an oath of allegiance to the federal and state constitutions. Both measures, we surmise, have grown out of the communist- and radical-baiting that has been taking place for a long time in New York.

In the senate bill there is a curious paradox which hardly redounds to the favor of those who argue that the schools should be kept free from the propaganda of radicalism. To compel a teacher to take the oath of allegiance is to assume that the schools will thereby be insured as propaganda points for the present order. So—our meek and wondering query runs—why not let the communists go to school in the hope that they will be proselytized, converted, and made to see the True Light?

Seriously speaking, both issues involve academic freedom, for which the DAILY TAR HEEL has always stood. Both instances, however, badly mistreat the question. No more should the present order, which unless it has occasion to blush for shame is an anaemic capitalism, be taught in our schools than the fieriest of radicalism. Academic freedom, in the ideal sense of being undistorted by the intellectual tide-rip of the present age, assumes that, left uncoerced and unintimidated—which both right and left are guilty of—education will present that which is, and will leave to posterity that which will be.

Less of The Smoke-Screen

Referee Knight's request to refrain from smoking in the Tin Can last night should be thoroughly considered by student sport fans, in deference both to Carolina teams and those of visitors. We realize that students are not the only offenders. They can, however, use their influence to curb the practice.

For the sake of audience and players we should be able to forego our cigarettes temporarily.

Bootlegger Aristocracy

Even in Raleigh, the meeting place of our dry and not so dry, makers of dry laws, it is no problem to obtain an unlimited supply of liquor. Once-legal Virginia whiskey may be bought with a bootlegger tax of 50 cents added to the original price. And for those who prefer the home-grown product, there is raw white corn, artificially colored, or even charred corn which goes by the title of Bourbon, suh.

Now is the time for all good Carolina's lawmakers to come to the aid of their state and put a stop to this "save us from the evils of drink sentiment." The noble experiment is rapidly creating a new nobility, the bootlegger. Money which rightfully belongs in the state treasury is pouring into the hands of men who ought to be behind the bars.

North Carolina has tried the "mustn't touch" cure for strong drink users long enough, so why not give them the saturation cure? Many a man has said that he knows of many who used to drink before repeal, and have stopped because liquor is so commonplace that they are tired of seeing it around. Perhaps Carolinians are the same but just don't like the idea of government encroaching on their freedom.

Parasites Vs. Psychologists

Professor William McDougall of Duke, internationally famous as a psychologist, found himself a not-quite-competent-enough judge of human nature to keep from being swindled out of $22,800.

According to a front page story in the New York Times, Dr. McDougall declared a certain knave was introduced as a senator from Iowa and falsely represented himself to be an agent of a New York syndicate specializing in oil rights. After disposing of some worthless oil stock, the would-be senator made himself scarce. After a while, Dr. McDougall found his stimulus (oil stock) produced no reaction (monetary return). This created in the psychologist a far-from-pleasant "set." Upon indictment of the swindler, it was discovered that he had been active in politics in a northern state.

It is undesirable enough that such parasites, as the would-be senator, carry on their foul charlatanry in the governments but protection is doubly necessary in order that private investors be saved from their malicious tenacles.

Death on The Highway

In an article in the current issue of Forum, Russell Holt Peters emphasizes excessive speed as the central factor responsible for the recent phenomenal increases in highway death tolls.

We are very much inclined to agree with Mr. Peters in his explanation of the larger highway death tolls. Ever since the first successful gasoline-driven vehicle manufacturers have made constant efforts to increase the maximum speed of automobiles. The perfectly logical reasons for a high maximum speed, Mr. Peters points out, are greater economy, longer life, greater comfort, and greater safety.

The real reasons for speed have been hidden from the gullible public by the motor manufacturers in blustering speed advertisements. The public has become practically speed-crazed and, blinded to the underlying reasons, believes speed exists solely for speed's sake.

The great motor makers every year develop more and better safety devices to reduce the dangers of speed yet spend no money to correct the misunderstanding of speed by the drivers.

We believe that a concerted campaign explaining the sane use of speed to motorists would go a long way in the reduction of highway death tolls. The great mass of automobilists do not realize that the reasons for developing high speed cars are that they can be driven at normal speeds with less expenditure for fuel, that they will have longer life because they can be driven within their capacity, that greater comfort is produced by absence of motor strain, and that the latent speed may be of great value in tight places.

If in their advertisements the motor makers will stress the above points instead of speed for speed's sake, we believe the public speed mania will be greatly reduced and greater safety will prevail on our highways.

Julian Price, president of the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company of Greensboro, reports that 1934 was the best year in the history of that organization.

OUTSTANDING RADIO BROADCASTS

1:15: Frank Dailey Orch., WBT.

3:00: Roadways of Romance, Jerry Cooper, baritone; Freddie Rich Orch., WBT.

4:30: Dick Messner Orch., WBIG.

5:00: Loretta Lee, songs, WBT.

6:45: Lowell Thomas, commentator, WJZ, WLW.

7:00: Hal Kemp Orch., WEAF; Recovery and the National Budget, E. Roland Harriman of the Nat. Economy League, WEAF.

7:15: Gems of Melody, Concert Orch; Dwight Meade, commenator, WJZ, KDKA.

7:30: Merry Minstrels, WEAF.

7:45: College Prom; Ruth Etting, blues singer; Red Nichols Orch., WJZ, KDKA.

8:00: Vallee's Variety Hour; WLW, WPTF; Hour of Charm, Phil Spitanly's All-Girl and Vocal and Orchestral Ensemble, WABC, KMOX.

8:15: "Traffic in Arms," Sen. Gerald P. Nye, WJZ.

8:30: Forum of Liberty, Edwin C. Hill, commentator; guest speaker; Johnson Orch., WABC, KMOX.

9:00: Show Boat; Lanny Ross, tenor; Muriel Wilson, soprano; Conrad Thibault, baritone; Gus Harnschen's Orch., WSB, WEAF; Camel Caravan, Glen Gray Orch.; Annette Hanshaw, songs; Walter O'Keefe; Ted Husing, WBT, KMOX.

9:30: Fred Waring Orch., WBT.

9:45: Jan Garber Orch., WGN.

10:00: Whiteman's Music Hall, WLW, WSB.

11:00: John B. Kennedy, Looking Over the Week, WEAF.

11:15: Little Jack Little Orch., WABC.

11:30: Eddy Duchin Orch., WEAF; Wayne King Orch., WBT.

11:45: Art Kassell Orch., WENR.

University Club

(Continued from page one)

gram of the gala occasion, and Dill will present the undergraduate viewpoint regarding the holiday.

Parents' day, an annual affair, has been incorporated in the student-faculty day project; and the particular programs pertaining to the parents' celebration will be presented in Graham Memorial at hours not conflicting with the student-faculty day program, according to Harper Barnes, director of Graham Memorial.

Troop School

The next session of the 316th Field Artillery troop school for Chapel Hill and vicinity will be held tonight at 7:30 in Davie hall.

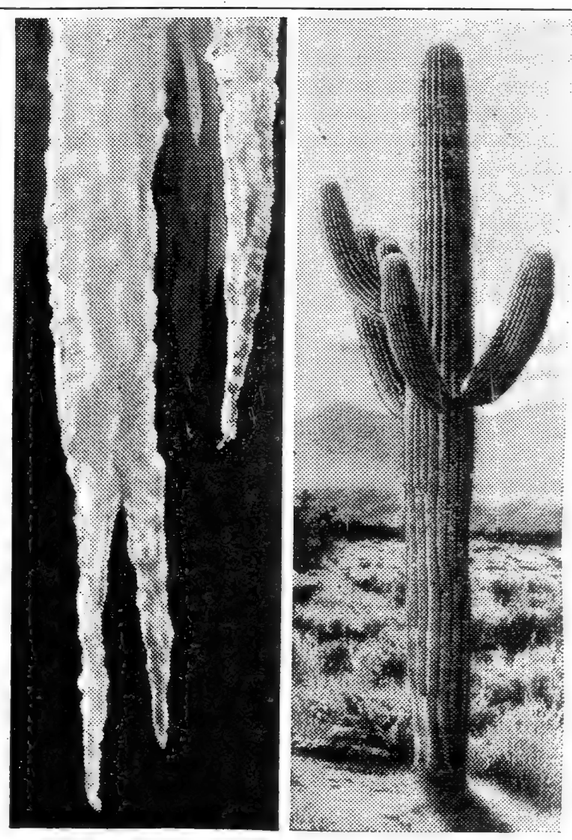
Senator Nye

(Continued from page one)

"No other nation is spending so much as we are in preparing for war, and then we wonder why other nations will not follow us when we proclaim ourselves leaders in the movement for world peace," the senator declared.

Minority Leader

Wearing the title of "Progressive Republican," the outstanding leader of the minority in congress stirred the country in September, 1934, by producing valuable evidence confirming most of the abuses charged against the private munition industry.



Senator Nye declared that President Roosevelt had assured him last Friday that none of the $4,880,000,000 appropriation asked to provide employment would be spent on the navy. Nye hoped to receive the same assurance concerning the army.

Concerning the munitions problem, a matter which he will discuss when he appears here, Senator Nye said, "The munition makers try to make us believe that peace can come through international agreement only. But the past proves that such international pacts are easily destroyed or evaded by these same munitions makers once they see a chance to make profit."

His Philadelphia lecture contained numerous specific revelations concerning the "profiteering" carried on by the various arms producers, details which he will likely include in his lecture Sunday week when he appears here under the sponsorship of the University Y. M. C. A.

FINJAN COPY

All copy for the next issue of the Carolina Finjan is due this afternoon, according to Patrick Foy Gaskins, editor. All copy turned in must be signed by the authors.

The Telephone "can take it!"

Your telephone must work 24 hours a day. It must be immune to icy blasts of the frozen north—dry burning heat of the desert—heavy, humid atmosphere of swamp lands.

And it is. For Western Electric—manufacturing unit of the Bell System—sees to it that telephones, switchboards and cable are prepared for life anywhere. Through long experience and rigorous testing, telephone engineers have learned how to make apparatus which is not adversely affected by the whims of climate.

Through pioneering and producing such improved apparatus, Western Electric contributes to the year 'round reliability of your Bell Telephone service.

BELL TELEPHONE SYSTEM

Finchley
FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK

EXHIBITION

CLOTHES OF INDIVIDUAL EXCELLENCE, CORRECTLY ATTUNED TO THE IMMEDIATE SEASON.

FORTY DOLLARS AND MORE

EXHIBITION AT
Student Co-operative Cleaners
TODAY ONLY
ROBERT GRAY, Representative

CLOTHES INDIVIDUALLY TAILORED TO ORDER :: ALSO HABERDASHERY • HATS • SHOES

FINCHLEY SALE

GENEROUS REDUCTIONS ON ALL FINCHLEY HABERDASHERY, HATS AND SHOES NOW CURRENT IN NEW YORK SHOP. MADE TO ORDER CLOTHING NOT INCLUDED.

White Phantoms Get Easy Win Over Davidson, 38-26 In Slow Ragged Contest

MEL NELSON TOPS SCORING WITH 14

Carolina Cagers Take Lead from Start; Are Ahead at Half Time by Score 24-7.

WILDCAT HARRIS GETS 10

Carolina's White Phantoms forged into a temporary lead in the Big Five basketball race last night as a result of their easy win over Davidson's Wildcat five, 38-26. Saturday night's fight with Duke will virtually decide the state race.

The Tar Heel defense was practically impregnable during the opening period as Davidson failed to hit the hoop but three times. Carolina led at half time by 24-7.

The Presbyterians staged a short-lived rally at the opening of the second period. With ten minutes remaining they had pulled up to within nine points of the Shepard players, but here the Phantoms settled down and coasted through the rest of the game.

Nelson Is Sparkplug

Mel Nelson was the sparkplug of the Carolina offensive, tallying 14 points, all from action. Jason Glace followed with 8, which included a pair of gratis tosses.

Harris, lanky sharp - shooting forward, captured high scoring honors for the losing Wildcats. His long shots were particularly accurate as he piled up 10 points. Morgan sank 8 markers.

Davidson opened the game with a field goal after only one minute of play. With Bucky Harris accounting individually for five straight points, the Tar Heels went into the lead and from then on held onto a safe margin.

Glace and Aitken got their eye on the basket and tallied to run up a 12-4 lead after the first 10 minutes had elapsed. For 14 minutes of the first half, the Cats were unable to find the hoop and Carolina built up a lead of 21-4 in quick fashion.

Harris, Davidson guard, sank a foul and a field goal to match Nelson's goal and Bucky Harris' free toss as the half ended at 24-7.

Nelson and Glace sank goals soon after the last period opened, and then Davidson started their nearly successful rally. With big Center Morgan setting the pace with all his eight points, the Cats pulled up within nine points of the Heels at mid-time in the period.

From here on, the Shepard five had their own way with Nelson and Webster leading.

Varsity Game

Carolina:
Aitken, f	2	0	4
Nelson, f	7	0	14
Glace, c	3	2	8
Webster, c	0	2	2
McCachren, g	1	2	4
Harris, g	2	2	6
Totals	15	8	38
Davidson:
Harris, f	3	4	10
Ross, f	3	0	6
Morgan, c	3	2	8
Quick, g	0	2	2
Peabody, g	0	0	0
Totals	9	8	26

Non-scoring subs: Carolina, Blood, g. Davidson, Knorr, f; Cathey, c; Windham, g; Yelverton, g.

Referees: Knight (Durham Y); Gerrard (Ill.)

BOXERS WEIGH IN

Weighing-in ceremonies for both the varsity and freshman glovers will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock in Bynum gym. Both squads must be present. The yearlings will leave by bus at 5:15 from Emerson field.

Today's Mural Card

4:30—(1) Chi Phi vs. A. T. O., (2) Locals vs. Mayflower Club, (3) Phi Kappa Sigma vs. Zeta Psi.

5:30—(1) S. A. E. vs. Sigma Chi, (2) Kappa Alpha vs. Phi Delta Theta, (3) Alpha Epsilon vs. Beta Theta Pi.

KLUTTZ UPSETS RUFFIN QUINTET

Ruffin Loses First Game, 31-14; Mangum No. 1 Gets Scare; K. A. and Dekes Win.

Kluttz Building continued to keep pace with Lewis in being the doom of unbeaten teams in the intramural basketball competition and yesterday afternoon handed Ruffin its initial setback by a 31-14 margin.

A hard fighting Aycock quintet also gave the great Mangum No. 1 club something to think about before going down by a 37-28 score. The Dekes and K. A.'s went farther on their ways with wins over Kappa Sigma and Theta Chi, respectively. Delta Tau Delta and Sigma Chi were the other winners.

By virtue of a surprisingly fast first-half attack, the Kluttz klan went way out in front and were never in serious danger from Ruffin. The winners held a wide 19-4 margin at half time, and coasted through to an unexpected victory with apparent ease. Simpson, Parker, and Terry combined never to give Ruffin a chance.

Aycock Shines

Aycock never once let Mangum No. 1's haughty reputation get the better of them and played a marvelous game against its bigger and more experienced opponents.

Bill Moore and his Dekesters also got off to a flying start, holding the Kappa Sigma team without a score from the field for the first half and having an 18-6 advantage at the intermission. Rennie of Kappa Sigma topped the game's scorers with 13, but eight apiece for Willis and Patterson, and 11 for Moore gave the D. K. E. combine the verdict.

With Everett and Skinner heading the attack, Kappa Alpha polished off Theta Chi by a 33-24 margin in a much easier fashion than the score would indicate. Sigma Chi went on a spree to down Z. B. T., 53-6, with Neal taking the day's top with 20 markers.

After a slow start Delta Tau Delta got functioning and triumphed over Chi Psi by a 28-11 count. Corwith led the Deltas with a dozen points while Leo Manley headed Chi Psi with eight.

The summaries:

Kluttz (31)	Ruffin (14)
Hamilton, f	Pool, f (4)
Simpson, f (9)	Merryfield, f (4)
Parker, c (10)	Stricker, c (4)
Terry, g (10)	Garrison, g
McCrary, g (2)	Ogolsby, g (2)

Subs: Ruffin—Hicks (2).

D. K. E. (32) Kappa Sig. (17)

(Continued from page three)

MATMEN FINISH HARD WORK FOR DAVIDSON MEET

Umstead May Be Missing from Tar Heel Lineup in Wildcat Battle Tomorrow Night.

WARD IS BACK FOR BOUT

Coach Chuck Quinlan sent his varsity wrestling protegees through their last hard workout of the week yesterday; Carolina will meet Davidson in the Tin Can tomorrow night immediately following the Duke-Carolina freshman basketball tilt.

Of much concern to Coach Quinlan yesterday was the absence of Frank Umstead, brilliant 118-pounder. Umstead has been confined to the infirmary for the past two days and there is some doubt whether he will compete Friday night.

Certain among the starters against the Wildcats will be Ward, 135; Gholsen, 145; Bonner, 155, and Captain Efland, 165. It is not yet known who will fill the 118, 126, 175 and unlimited berths.

Davidson Strong

The Tar Heels will meet a worthy foe in the aggregation from the Presbyterian institution. In two contests this year Davidson has broken even, winning from Duke 21-9 and losing to V. P. I., 17-13.

Carolina has won only one out of four matches this season. The Tar Heels opened the 1935 mat season defeating V. P. I. 23-9, but have since lost to State 18-6; Washington and Lee, 28-0, and V. M. I., 19-11.

The Davidsonians have a galaxy of stars. They are Moffatt, 118; Quarterman, 155; Captain Fort, 165, and Blackwelder, light heavy. Fort has been undefeated for two years while Blackwelder and Quarterman are unbeaten this season.

Against this sterling bit of competition Carolina has Umstead, Ward, Bonner and Captain Efland. Umstead and Bonner have tasted defeat only once in two years. Ward and Captain Efland should give their Wildcat opponents plenty of trouble in the 135 and 165-pound classes.

Student-Faculty Day

(Continued from page one)

nast, will present a skit, "Hilarious and Un-describable."

Climaxing the evening's program will be two skits, Wilbur Dorsett's "Blow My Body Down," a successful parody on Paul Green's "Shroud My Body Down," and the playlet, given by the Y. M. C. A. freshmen on their recent deputation to Durham. Miss Helen Hodges directs the latter skit, and her cast includes Freshmen Nick Read, Ralph Gilbert, Joe Pardi, Malcomb Wall and Scott Hunter.

Phoebe Barr will present her dancers in a comic dance set-up, according to Winslow.

The program will last one hour and a half and will be continuous throughout with Johnny Walker in charge of stage management.

Included on the committee arranging the evening program are: Philip Parker, Patsy McMullan, Hester Barlow, Pete Ivey, and Jesse Parker.

RUSSELL SPEAKS TONIGHT

Alpha Phi Omega, national honorary scouting fraternity, will conduct its regular meeting at 8 o'clock tonight in 209 Graham Memorial.

Phillips Russell, campus representative to the World Peace Conference at Brussels, will speak to the group. All scouts and those who have been scouts are invited to attend.

BLUE IMPS FIGHT TAR BABY BOXING OUTFIT TONIGHT

Yearling Clubs Will Meet at 7:15 In Duke Gym; Two Exhibition Bouts in 129-Pound Class.

CLOSE BOUTS EXPECTED

Tonight in the Duke gym at 7:15 o'clock the much heralded Duke yearlings will meet the vastly improved Carolina frosh in the premier freshman boxing meet of the year.

Beside the scheduled bouts there will be two unofficial settos in the 129-lb. class, with Tommy Bass and Bart Lee representing the Tar Babies.

Benton at 129

Charley Benton will go to the wars in the official 129-lb. get-together. Benton's fine all-around fighting during the week warranted this change, and he is eager to take advantage of it.

Ed O'Herron will strut his stuff in the 139-lb. division, and he has plenty to show. The O'Herron boy should step out in his last freshman bout and put on one of the classiest boxing exhibitions of the evening. Ed has looked better than ever before this past week.

Tiger Shores will follow O'Herron into the ring, and his setto is sure to be the foremost slugfest of the night. Shores is at his peak and ready to shoot the works in what is to be his hardest test of the season.

Ed Oliver and Bill Leake will round out the night's boxing festivities with their fights in the 169-lb. and heavy classes, respectively.

Frosh Limit Wildkitten Cagers To One Field Goal And Win, 40-6

Three Tar Baby Fives See Action in Contest

Pete Boone Leads Point-Making With Nine; Earl Ruth Tallies Eight.

HARRIS GETS CAT SCORE

Three complete Tar Baby teams took turns in rolling over a weak Davidson frosh outfit last night, limiting them to a lone field goal during the entire 40 minutes, and scoring at will to win 40-6.

There was no stopping the Carolina offensive attack and 10 players figured in the scoring. The first team played the opening 15 minutes of the first half and then saw no further action as Coach Skidmore threw every available player into the one-sided fray.

Boone High Scorer

Pete Boone, who played the entire second half of the game, led the team for his first time this season, scoring nine points. Earl Ruth tossed in four flashy one-handed shots for eight points to trail Boone in scoring honors.

Davidson was hopelessly outclassed and scored but three points in each half. Their lone field goal was sunk by Harris as he broke clear directly underneath the basket. This tally came with but a minute to go in the first half.

Take Early Lead

The game opened with an outburst of brilliant scoring plays by the fast-stepping Tar Babies. Franks took a pass from Potts and dropped it in. Potts followed with another after brilliant passwork carried the ball under the hoop. Ruth was next with a two pointer and Potts immediately brought the score to 8-0, converting a pass from Mullis.

A foul broke the ice for Davidson but the first team returned to the slaughter and

(Continued on last page)

Frosh Game

Carolina:
Mullis, f	2	0	4
Johnson, f	0	2	2
Potts, f	2	0	4
Boone, f	4	1	9
Meroney, c	0	1	1
Hagey, c	3	0	6
Ruth, g	4	0	8
Peacock, g	1	0	2
Franks, g	1	0	2
Grubb, g	1	0	2
Totals	18	4	40
Davidson:
Barrow, f	0	0	0
Keiswetter, f	0	1	1
Iverson, f	0	3	3
Rhineharte, c	0	0	0
Reid, g	0	0	0
Harris, g	1	0	2
Totals	1	4	6

Non-scoring subs: Carolina: Martin, f; MacDonald, f; Nye, g; Dowd, g; Allen, g. Davidson: Cline, c; Mover, g.

Referee: Dave McCachren.

Carolina To Meet Duke In Durham Tonight For State Ring Championship

Glove Lacings

By SMITH BARRIER

Big Five Title at Stake

The Big Five boxing title is at stake tonight in Duke gymnasium at 8:30 o'clock. The two powerful clubs of Duke and Carolina will exchange lefts and rights for the honor of wearing the 1935 leather crown.

Yearling outfits of the two schools will meet at 7:15, with the Blue Imps head-on favorites due to the fact that the Tar Babies will be forced to forfeit in several weights.

Dukesters Undefeated

Add Warren's 1935 edition of Duke mittmen is one of the strongest in the south, ranked right among the top-notchers when possible Southern Conference title winners are mentioned. The Blue Devils are undefeated as they step into the ring tonight, having taken wins over Richmond, South Carolina, Catholic University, and N. C. State. A tie with Clemson mars their record.

(Continued on last page)

BATTLES START AT 8:30 O'CLOCK

Tar Heels Will Depend on Four Sophs for Win; Blue Devils Have Undefeated Record.

GIDDINS BOUT IS FEATURE

DUKE	Wt.	U. N. C.
Alterman	119	Diehl
Lloyd	129	Eutsler
Kneipp	139	Edwards
McCall	149	Fisher
Mann	159	Medynski
Matulewicz	169	Giddins
Schmitt	179	Novich
Granger	Unlim.	Kanner

A Big Five championship will be decided tonight when the Carolina boxers battle the Blue Devils in the Duke gym; the matches are scheduled to start at 8:30, following the freshman bouts.

The Duke ringsters are undefeated to date but the Carolinians are rated an even chance to come out ahead. Both clubs turned back the Wolfpack, setting the stage for a state title meet.

Sophs on Spot

The Tar Heels will depend on four sophomores to carry them through for at least a tie. These boys are Marion Diehl in the 119-pound class; Joe Fisher, in the 149-pound division; Jule Medynski, junior middleweight, and Max Novich, light-heavy fighter.

Diehl, who conquered the Southern Conference champion Hahn, is the only one of these boys who have been defeated so all are slight favorites to come through.

In the other four fights Duke holds the odds with the Captain Giddins-Matulewicz match and the Eutsler-Captain Lloyd setto expected to be the feature.

The foremost bout of the night will pit Captain Sam Giddins against Ray Matulwicz. The Duke boy is a slight favorite but Sam thrives on upsets, and if he displays the splendid form that he showed in the past few meets, he will give the middle Atlantic states' champ the fight of his career.

The fighting mite, Ernie Eutsler, meets the Duke standout, Captain Freddie Lloyd, and the ensuing battle is going to be lots tougher than Lloyd might suspect. Little Ernie can take it, and with the added confidence obtained in his recent victories, he can also dish it out. And so Fred better look to his laurels for Eutsler is ready to go to town tonight.

Following closely on the heels

(Continued on last page)

GOOD USED CARS

Low Prices and Easy Terms

1926 T Ford Coupe	$ 25.00
1928 Ford Phaeton	65.00
1928 Oldsmobile Coach	80.00
1929 Ford Roadster	125.00
1929 Ford Sport Coupe	145.00
1930 Ford Tudor Sedan	225.00
1931 Ford Deluxe Roadster	165.00
1932 Ford DeLuxe Roadster (Reconditioned Motor)	345.00
1932 Chevrolet Coach	345.00

Strowd Motor Co.

"Ford Products Since 1914"

Group Meets Tonight To Organize Union

The temporary committee to make plans for the first meeting of the recently-formed Carolina Political Union will meet tonight in 209 Graham Memorial at 10 o'clock.

At tonight's meeting, proposals for the permanent organization will be drawn up, issues for the first forum decided upon, and speakers for this initial meeting will be chosen.

Members of the committee are Phil Hammer, temporary chairman of the Union; Robert Smithwick, R. Phillips Russell, Joe Barnett, Bill Levitt, Morty Slavin, Joe Sugarman, Mason Gibbes, Virgil Lee, Betty Durham, Charles Daniel, and Professor E. J. Woodhouse.

Glove Lacings

(Continued from page three)

Their outstanding achievement is undoubtedly the conquest of the Catholic U. gentlemen. The capital city team was rated as one of the best in the east, their previously unbeaten record boosting wins over Temple and Bucknell. Spotting them one point via forfeit, Duke merely swamped under this team by 5½-2½.

Trio of Unbeatens

Three of the Warren punchers are tagged with perfect records for this season. This trio includes Captain Freddie Lloyd, 125; Jack Kneipp, 135; and Ray Matulewicz, 165. Of this group the latter has probably been the most spectacular scrapper and is hailed as one of the best in the middleweight division. Lloyd, however, has a draw with Angelo Restaino of Catholic U. on his score-card.

These three men will hook up tonight with Ernie Eutsler, Johnny Edwards, and Captain Sam Giddins, respectively, in what now seems will be three thrillers.

Giddins vs. Matulewicz

The latter of these combinations—that of Giddins and Matulewicz—will be THE fight of the night. The Devil has never come anywhere near seeing defeat under the colors of the dark blue and white. He has completely dominated the situation over all his opponents last year as a freshman and this season on the varsity.

Giddins in turn will be risking a highly successful career when he climbs through the ropes. In this, his fourth year of pugging at Carolina, he has lost only one fight, a close decision to Fabri of State.

INFIRMARY LIST

The following students were confined in the infirmary yesterday: E. A. Griffin, Frank Umstead, H. M. Acker, John Hawley, Margaret Spencer, Margaret Siceloff, June Hogan, E. H. Woodburn, E. M. Edens, Carl Anderson, Bob Bolton, and Houghton Ehringhaus.

Scenic Director

(Continued from page one)

Graham Memorial and an informal tea Saturday in the Green room of the theatre have been arranged for the group, according to John Parker, head of the Community Drama of the University extension division.

North Carolina's 3 per cent sales tax produced in January $1,001,242.35, or a gain of $189,623.33 over the corresponding sum collected in January, 1934.

Murals

(Continued on last page)

Patterson, f (8)	Townsend (1)
Montgomery (3)	Rennie, f (13)
Willis, c (8)	May, c (1)
Moore, g (11)	Dunn, g (2)
Warren, g	Fulton, g

Subs: D. K. E.—Haines (2); Kappa Sigma—Blackwelder.

Mangum (37)	Aycock (28)
Henson, f (6)	Kornegay, f (2)
Narnwell, f (9)	Reuben, f
Fox, c (12)	O'Nasch, c (4)
Rhodes, g	Kesselman, g (6)
Freeman (2)	Bricklemeyer (4)

Subs: Mangum No. 1—Vick (10); Aycock — Guntzler (6), Bronitsky, Goodes, Friedman (6).

Kappa A. (33)	Theta Chi (24)
Skinner, f (8)	Barker, f (6)
Everett, f (17)	Bennett, f (5)
Broadhurst, c	Hunter, c (8)
Shriver, g (4)	Wheeless, g (2)
Seymour, g (4)	Austin, g (3)

Subs: Kappa Alpha — Yeomans, Wilson; Theta Chi—Edwards.

Sigma Chi (53)	Z. B. T. (6)
Rowland, f (4)	Stein, f
Barney, f (4)	Kalmanoff, f
Bannon, c (4)	Elmendorb, c
Neal, g (20)	Kind, g (6)
Wyche, g (4)	Hecht, g

Subs: Sigma Chi—Hancock, Hooke, Clover (17); Z. B. T.—Spies, Sims.

D. T. D. (28)	Chi Psi (11)
Shores, f (4)	Kavanugh, f
Currie, f (2)	Holman, f (1)
Rouiller, c (6)	Foreman, c (2)
Corwith, g (12)	Wilday, g
McCollum, g	Manley, g (8)

Subs: Delta Tau Delta—Fletcher (2).

State Senator to Talk Here Tomorrow

State Senator Julian Allsbrook, former president of the student body and a graduate of the University in 1924 will address the Carolina student body at freshman assembly tomorrow morning.

Senator Allsbrook will speak on the value of a college education in the fields of public service.

While he was a student here Senator Allsbrook took a prominent part in campus activities, especially in Y. M. C. A. work.

He has been very active during his participation in legislative activities at Raleigh, particularly in the field of conciliation between separate factions.

Kay Kyser

(Continued from page one)

got their start on the Carolina campus.

The dance set opens tomorrow afternoon with a tea dance in Bynum gymnasium from 4:30 to 6 o'clock. The first formal dance will be held tomorrow night from 9 to 1 and will be followed Saturday with two more, another tea dance from 4:30 to 6 o'clock and the final formal dance from 9:30 to 12 o'clock. All the dances will be given in the gym.

Due to this fact, a very limited number of dance bids have been printed for the set.

Only Two Still Missing In Macon Disaster

Naval Inquiry Board Will Open Investigation Tomorrow.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 13.—(UP)—A tangled mass of wreckage, all that remains of the once majestic Macon, pride of the navy, lies beneath 250 fathoms of water off Point Sur.

The ill-fated monarch of the skies was apparently destroyed by a sudden gust of wind and rain, that wrenched the stern of the giant airship causing it to buckle near the upper rear fin, surviving officers said tonight.

A check-up revealed that 81 of the 83 men aboard had been brought ashore today. The cruisers Richmond and Memphis were among the vessels picking up the largest number of survivors.

The naval board of inquiry will open an investigation of the disaster tomorrow, Admiral Joseph M. Reeves announced tonight.

Economics Seminar

The meeting of the Economics Seminar held last night in Bingham was addressed by R. S. Winslow, who spoke on "The Significance of Uncertainty in Social Theory."

He said that in a stable environment, when life is simple, thought and action are lax and people do little real thinking. Real reasoning comes out only in times of struggle and conflict. Things taken for granted become uncertain which results in uprooted habits.

Hauptmann

(Continued from page one)

"How say ye—guilty or not guilty?" A silence prevailed throughout the room as the jury rendered its decision.

When the verdict was presented, Hauptmann was required to stand.

Charles Augustus Lindbergh, who has attended every session of the world-famous trial, was absent from the court house tonight.

Hauptmann occupied the same seat he has filled throughout the trial, handcuffed to his guards.

Hauptmann collapsed in his cell after he was removed from the court room, and a doctor was summoned.

Boxing

(Continued from page three)

of these bouts, for sheer thrills is the featherweight get together with "Party Boy" Diehl the ruling favorite over the fast stepping Alterman.

Murray Kanner will be the Carolina heavy. The big boy has fought but once this year and lost a close decision to his Virginia opponent. The last bout of the evening may be the deciding one and is sure to be close anyway.

Tea at Raleigh

The State College Woman's Club will entertain at a tea from 4 to 6 o'clock this afternoon in the home of Colonel J. W. Harrelson in Raleigh. All faculty women of the University are cordially invited to attend.

Frosh Basketball

(Continued from page three)

raised the score to 19-1 before retiring for the evening. These remaining points were made by Ruth and Mullis.

The half ended at 23-3 as the second team outplayed the Wildkittens. With Boone leading the way this combination of Johnson, Boone, Hagey, Grubb and Peacock rode roughshod over their opponents to make the count 33-6. A third Tar Baby team finished.

Freshman Executives

The Freshman Executive Committee will meet tonight at 8:30 o'clock in 214 Graham Memorial.

LOST

Saturday night, brown hat with Grosner's label. Finder please return to Nelson Lansdale, S. P. E. house.

CAROLINA
TODAY
"RED HOT TIRES"
A First National picture with TYLE TALBOT • MARY ASTOR
—Also—
Comedy — Novelty
Midnight Show Friday
Doors Open 11:15 P. M.
"Redhead"
with
GRACE BRADLEY

SENATOR ALLSBROOK
10:30 A. M.
MEMORIAL HALL

The Daily Tar Heel

U. N. C.-DUKE FRESHMEN
BASKETBALL
TIN CAN—7:15 P. M.

SERVED BY THE UNITED PRESS

VOLUME XLIII | CHAPEL HILL, N. C., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1935 | NUMBER 106

COMMITTEE WILL APPROVE GRAHAM BUDGET REQUEST

More Than $200,000 of Proposed Increase Would Be Used to Supplement Salaries.

REPORT IS ENCOURAGING

The joint appropriations committee will recommend to the general assembly that the Consolidated University of North Carolina receive the full amount of the appropriations request made two weeks ago by President Frank P. Graham, it was learned from authoritative sources yesterday.

The appropriations committee would raise the allocation for the University at Chapel Hill to $705,202 from the $539,500 recommended by the budget for 1935-36.

Faculties to Benefit

Faculty members of the three institutions would benefit most from the proposed increased appropriations, because more than $200,000 of the increased appropriations would be used each year of the biennium to supplement salaries. A 25 per cent increase, or 17 per cent restoration, in salaries would be effected.

The appropriations for the biennium would total $2,763,426, or $626,376 more than those provided by the budget recommendation.

(Continued on page two)

Legislator

Julian Allsbrook, state senator and University alumnus, who will address the student body this morning at 10:30 o'clock in Memorial hall.

Bulletin

Raleigh, Feb. 14.—(UP)—As the joint appropriations committee of the North Carolina General Assembly sat in executive session today and mulled over the money supply for public schools, the opinion among observers here that not less than the $22,000,000 asked would be provided grew hourly stronger.

The committee has shown consistent disposition towards generosity in allocations for the next biennium.

PARENTS TO JOIN IN GET-TOGETHER

University Club Will Sponsor Broadcast of Invitation over Raleigh Station Tonight.

The University Club will extend invitations at 10 o'clock tonight over radio station WPTF in Raleigh to all parents of Carolina students, inviting them to attend the coming parents-day-student-faculty day celebration set for February 20.

Included on the radio speakers list are Dean of Administration Robert B. House; President of the Carolina Student Body Virgil Weathers; Y. M. C. A. President J. D. Winslow, and Editor of the DAILY TAR HEEL A. T. Dill.

Quartet

James Dees and his quartet, composed of Harold Gavin, Claude Ballard and Johnny Walker, will furnish the Carolina song spirit for the state-wide broadcast.

Weathers and House will extend the invitation to attend the celebration Wednesday from the students and the faculty, respectively.

Parents' day, an annual occasion for parents to visit the University and meet each other, has been incorporated in the student-faculty day program. Harper Barnes, director of Graham Memorial, will have charge of arranging the particular parents' celebration for the day.

DUKE-U.N.C. FROSH TO MEET JOINTLY

Two Groups to Discuss Common Problems Here Tomorrow.

The freshman executive committee made plans at an informal, unofficial meeting last night for the entertainment tomorrow of 15 student leaders from the freshman class at Duke. Lack of a quorum made the session unofficial.

The students from Duke will arrive in Chapel Hill at 4:30 p. m. tomorrow afternoon. The group will discuss with the freshman executives problems in student government and other conditions common to both campuses.

The dance committee reported last night that the University dance authority had agreed to allow the first-year men to hold a dance with the provision that they refrain from making it a joint affair with another class.

Humor was injected into the otherwise sedate session when Dr. Meno Spann of the German department inadvertently joined the executives by mistake and sat with them some 10 minutes before Albert Ellis entered and informed the Doctor of his error. He retreated amid profuse apologies.

DEPUTATION TEAM TO VISIT DURHAM

Program for Father and Son Banquet Under Direction of Miss Helen Hodges.

Under the direction of Y. M. C. A. Secretary Miss Helen Hodges, the "Y" will again sponsor a deputation trip to Durham. The new program will be presented at a father and son banquet in Erwin auditorium tomorrow.

Miss Hodges last appeared in Erwin auditorium with a group of Carolina freshmen presenting a program for a mother and daughter banquet, February 2.

Program

The four-part program, as announced by Miss Hodges yesterday, includes "two imitations" by Roy Armstrong of the student survey office; a skit by Muriel Wolfe and Loretto Carroll Bailey; a number of song selections by the University quartet, and a dramatic sketch, "A Pair of Lunatics," by Malcolm Wall and Helen L. Hodges.

Included in the University quartet are James Dees, bass; Harold Gavin, baritone; Claude Ballard, second tenor; Johnny Walker, first tenor.

The program will be presented during the father-son affair.

PEACE MOVE

Rome, Italy, Feb. 14.—(UP)—A peaceful settlement of the border incident between Italy and Abyssinia in North Africa seemed certain tonight, following renewed negotiations in which both sides expressed a determination to avert war.

The Italian government kept busy, meanwhile, issuing official denials of exaggerated dispatches published abroad of activities against Abyssinia.

CALM

Flemington, N. J., Feb. 14.—(UP) — Newspaper reporters talked to condemned Bruno Richard Hauptmann through prison bars today and asked him if he would go to the chair "like a man." He said, "Certainly."

Mid-Winter German Set Begins With Tea Dance This Afternoon

To Have Four Dances; Kay Kyser Will Play

Orchestra Leader Will Arrive Early Today; Played for Charlotte Dance Last Night.

HAS FEMININE VOCALIST

The mid-winter set of German Club dances will open this afternoon with a tea dance from 4:30 to 6 o'clock in Bynum gymnasium. Kay Kyser and his orchestra will play for the entire set.

The tea dance this afternoon will be followed tonight by the formal German Club prom from 9 until 1 o'clock. The dances tomorrow consist of another tea dance from 4:30 to 6 o'clock and will end with another formal dance from 9:30 to 12 o'clock. All the dances will be given in Bynum gym.

Figure

Heading the junior figure tonight will be Miss Grace Bowes, Rockingham, with Tom Evins, Zeta Psi, leader; Miss Mary Lee Scales, Greensboro, with Archie Scales, Sigma Chi, first assistant leader; and Miss Mary Lee Saywood, Winston-Salem, with Van Webb, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, second assistant leader.

Leading the figure tomorrow night will be Miss Elizabeth Park, Raleigh, with Mark Lynch, Sigma Nu, leader; Miss Cortlandt Preston, Washington, with Bill Coan, Beta Theta Pi, first assistant leader; and Miss Jo Meadows, Atlanta, with Billy Harrison, Zeta Psi, second assistant leader.

Kyser and his orchestra will arrive here early today. The organization is now completing a southern tour of six colleges where it played for dance sets, and comes here directly from Charlotte where it furnished the music for a dinner dance at the Hotel Charlotte last night.

Kay's visit here is expectantly awaited by those who have been

(Continued on page two)

Maestro

University alumnus Kay Kyser who will furnish the music for the German mid-winters which begin here this afternoon with a tea dance in Bynum gym.

Business Records Will Be On Exhibit

Individual Histories Kept from Catalog Request to Obituary.

When you look at the forms and charts that are to be exhibited in Graham Memorial Wednesday, you probably won't realize their meaning or value if you are not well acquainted with business procedure. But to the business office each chart or graph has a definite and important significance.

Your record is kept in South Building from the time of your first request for a catalog until the time that a clerk in the alumni office draws a red line under your name and puts your obituary in the file. The registrar can check your entrance at a glance. To him a pink label means that you have written for a catalog. A yellow label means that you are definitely a prospective student. And a blue label means that you have been refused admittance at some time.

Name, Address, Religion

In less time than it takes to tell it, he can give you the name, address and professed religion of anyone in school here. He has all of the students classified according to counties. In fact, he can tell you almost anything you want to know about anybody here.

After registration, the general office takes care of your troubles. They don't let you forget that your room rent is due. They distribute tickets to games and entertainments. And they pay all labor.

When you leave, the alumni office takes care of you. They keep your school record. And every time they find a newspaper account concerning you they clip it and put it in the paper file.

All of this information is collected and summarized in the ac-

(Continued on page two)

HARRY DAVIS WILL GIVE PLAYMAKER READING

Harry Davis, Carolina Playmakers staff member, will give the February reading in the theatre Sunday evening at 8:30 o'clock, it was announced yesterday.

Davis will read "Moon of the Yellow River," a modern Irish comedy by Dennis Johnston.

The drama was recently produced in New York with much success by the Theatre Guild.

ALLSBROOK TALKS AT CHAPEL TODAY

State Senator, University Alumnus of Class of '24, Will Address Student Body.

State Senator Julian Allsbrook, class of '24, of the 4th North Carolina district, will return to Chapel Hill today to deliver his first address to the student body since his own undergraduate days here.

Senator Allsbrook was an outstanding student leader here. He was president of the student body, and vice-president of his senior class. In addition, he was a member of the Grail and the Golden Fleece. He was a member of the track and gym squads. Later he was manager of the Commerce ball.

Edits Law Review

After he entered the law school he became the student editor of the Law Review.

Senator Allsbrook began his practice in Halifax county and soon built up a reputation for his sincerity and ability. His brief membership in the state senate has given him an imposing record of legislation.

Senator Allsbrook will speak in Memorial hall at the regular freshman assembly period. The entire student body, as well as the freshmen and townspeople are invited to hear him.

BOOK EXCHANGE REPORT GIVEN

Student Committee Makes Nine Recommendations to Administration Regarding Store; Prices For Books Are Found to Be Lower Than in Most College Book Stores.

The second article of the student advisory board's report on the Consolidated Service system concerns the Book Exchange.

The report of the committee is presented for each division of the service system. Subsequent articles will deal with the buildings department, Swain hall, the electric and water division, and Spencer hall and the dormitories.

Each report contains an historical treatment, a factual presentation, and recommendations.

THE BOOK EXCHANGE

The Book Exchange was established in response to a need for a University-controlled, central distributing agency for textbooks, student supplies, and other articles in common demand. It is not operated for profit but is required to pay its way and to yield enough revenue over operating costs to cover overhead expenses incurred by the general office for its account. In addition to serving the student body as individuals, the Book Exchange sells, at less than regular retail price, to various student and University organizations, societies, and departments. Also, sales are made at less than retail price to various Chapel Hill enterprises and organizations on a reciprocal basis.

The Book Exchange was first started in a little room in the Y. M. C. A. All students would bring old books in and swap them with one another. Thus the name "Book Exchange" was originated. At that time new books were sold downtown by A. A. Klutz, but the arrangement was not satisfactory. Therefore the University opened a small store in the lounge room of the Y. M. C. A. building, handling only textbooks. The store had a student manager and one or two helpers, all of whom worked only part-time. School supplies were handled beginning in about 1918. In 1920 the store moved into its present headquarters, with John Foster as its first manager, and with three clerks assisting him, all students. Drinks and sporting goods were included in 1922.

In 1925, T. E. Hinson was made manager on a full-time basis, having five students clerks until 1928, when he employed six and in 1929 when there were seven. At present, there are eight student clerks, two full-time employees on the office force, a janitor, and a full-time manager, Mr. Hinson, who has been in one capacity or another with the Book Exchange since 1917. At present, the inventory includes textbooks, school supplies, stationery, office supplies, athletic goods, jewelry, soft drinks and refreshments, and other miscellaneous items.

Storerooms

In studying the physical aspects of the Boox Exchange, we included the storerooms below the shop proper and in the basement of Steele dormitory, the retail department, and the business office above. In the retailing department there is evidence of too little space, not only for display but also for proper efficiency on the part of the employees. In the business department, the arrangement is quite satisfactory and neat. The storeroom below the shop is not as carefully arranged and kept as it should be, as there appears much disorder and untidiness. The Steele storeroom is fairly well arranged and beyond reproach.

The administrative arrangement, handling of records, bills,

(Continued on last page)

Recommendations

The student advisory board makes the following recommendations to the University administration regarding the Book Exchange, following a study of all the service plants:

1. A more accurate and available price system on all retail goods.

2. A more efficient and exact system of personal credit, as will be explained in a general recommendation following.

3. Periodic sales of old and obsolescent merchandise.

4. Regular and more frequent inventories of all merchandise with emphasis on adequate supplies of necessary books and school supplies.

5. A rehabilitation and rearrangement of store rooms with the view of increased availability and orderliness.

6. A fairer and more efficient distribution of work hours and of duties for student employees.

7. An adjusted wage scale with a minimum wage of 30 cents per hour. (This applies to all University student employees.)

8. That the University devise a safer and more considerate system of cashing student checks.

9. A closer co-operation by the faculty with the Book Exchange in ordering texts promptly and efficiently.

The Daily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Union Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where it is printed daily except Mondays, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Holidays. Entered as second class matter at the post office of Chapel Hill, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 for the college year.

A. T. Dill ..... Editor
Robert C. Page, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
Joe Webb ..... Business Manager
George Underwood ..... Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

EDITORIAL BOARD—Phil Hammer, chairman, Earl Wolslagel, Franklin Harward, John Schulz, DuPont Snowden, Margaret McCauley, Morty Slavin, Sam Leager, Dick Myers, Charles Lloyd, Jake Snyder, Phil Kind, Charles Daniel, George Butler.

FEATURE BOARD—Nelson Lansdale, chairman; Nick Read, Bob Browder, Francis Clingman, J. E. Poindexter, W. M. Cochrane, Willis Harrison.

CITY EDITORS—Irving Suss, Walter Hargett, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.

TELEGRAPH EDITORS—Stuart Rabb, Charlie Gilmore.

DESK MAN—Eddie Kahn.

SPORTS DEPARTMENT—Jimmy Morris and Smith Barrier, co-editors, Tom Bost, Lee Turk, Len Rubin, Fletcher Ferguson, Stuart Sechriest, Lester Ostrow, Ira Sarasohn.

EXCHANGES—Margaret Gaines.

STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER—Don Becker.

REPORTERS—Bill Hudson, John Smith, J. F. Jonas, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Hazel Beacham, Raymond Howe, William Jordan, Morton Feldman.

Business Staff

ASST. BUSINESS MANAGER ..... Butler French
COLLECTION MANAGER ..... Herbert Osterheld
OFFICE MANAGERS ..... Walter Eckert, Roy Crooks
NATIONAL ADVERTISING ..... Boylan Carr
DURHAM REPRESENTATIVE—Joe Murnick.
LOCAL ADVERTISING—Hugh Primrose, Robt. Sosnik, Eli Joyner (managers), Bill MacDonald, Louis Shaffner, Page Keel, Bill McLean, Crist Blackwell.

CITY EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE: IRVING SUSS

Friday, February 15, 1935

PARAGRAPHICS

"Swain Cashier Resigns." They probably tried to make him eat there.

Kay Kyser may claim that looking like a professor has its advantages. At least the charitable organizations know better than to ask him for donations.

First was the U. S. S. Tennessee which sighted survivors of the Macon, then at 10:35 the U. S. S. Memphis. But when did the U. S. S. Beale Street report—after midnight?

Making It Known

While it is a signal victory for the University and for President Graham, the recommendation of the appropriations committee in favor of the 25 per cent increase requested does not mean that the battle for more funds has ended. There is always the possibility that state revenue may not measure up to the amount recommended, and the legislature as a body has not yet stamped its approval on the recommended appropriation.

We mentioned in these columns recently the modest helping hand which students can lend toward insuring that the legislature is disposed to follow the trend already indicated by President Graham and the appropriations committee. While there is little need for us to reiterate what is already common knowledge—that the University must have more support during the next biennium if it is to continue holding its place in the nation, it is necessary for us to bear in mind that this need must be kept before the people of the state. They must not only realize the need of the University, however; they must also be cognizant of its value.

For that reason, we ask students to make these things known in their communities, either by word of mouth when they are at home on week-ends or by telling it to their parents when they write home.

Wednesday Is the Date

There are still many students who don't know what student-faculty day is all about or even when it is to come off.

Without going into the purposes and functions of the affair, we present these promises: student-faculty day will be extremely interesting, with the exhibits and the contacts; it will be educational, by presenting a University panorama and back-stage view; and it will be worthwhile, because of its purposes and because it will be a holiday and very probably an annual event.

Next Wednesday is the date. Curiously enough, it seems that people throughout the state are more interested in the project than the students themselves. This may or may not be due to the fact that parent-student day will be held in conjunction with the student-faculty day. At any rate, it is time Chapel Hillians become enthusiastic and interested in an event that will be of manifold importance to the University.

They will become enthusiastic about it, we feel sure, when they fully realize that it is an exhibition day for the University. Every student can take pride in it and feel that his individual co-operation will help it to be a success.

Light Of Day

When the U. S. S. Macon, "pride of the fleet," plunged into the Pacific off the California coast, she met the fate of every American-made dirigible. The history of the Navy's experimentation with lighter-than-air craft has been one long tabulation of disasters. The long list of catastrophes began when the ZR-2, taken as war indemnity from Germany, collapsed in mid-air. The Shenandoah, American-made, met a like fate. Finally, the Akron and her sister ship have gone down.

The latest disaster is viewed by Representative Vinson, of the House naval affairs committee, as the possible "death knell" in the experimentation of the Navy with lighter-than-air craft.

"I wish to God that it were daylight," said Admiral Thomas Senn as the search for the survivors of the Macon was in progress. Perhaps the Navy department has seen "the light of day," and realizes that the use of dirigibles for military and naval purposes is impractical.

The bright spot on the oft-blackened history of the huge "rubber cows" of the air is the impressive record held by the German-built Graf Zeppelin. Her owners report a profit on her many transoceanic flights, carrying freight and passengers. It would seem to indicate that the American dirigibles have something to learn from the Germans. In spite of the fact that the Germans are forced to use the highly explosive hydrogen instead of the American helium, their records show a lower percentage of crashes. The American manufacturer may well serve an apprenticeship to the German airship-makers.

Oscar Johnson, Cotton Envoy

Of intense interest to the south is the recent appointment of Oscar Johnson as ambassador-at-large for the purpose of seeing what can be done about increasing the export of American cotton abroad. His position will be somewhat similar to that held by Norman Davis, who spends his time in Geneva as a special American envoy in the cause of world peace.

The necessity for such a move is caused by the rapidity with which American cotton is losing world markets to cheaper foreign grades. American exports are now but 50 per cent of normal. The reason for this decrease is that the American cost of production per pound has been ranging from four to five cents more than foreign costs.

One solution to the problem is being offered in the so-called domestic allotment plan by which the American producer would be subsidized on that part of his crop meant for the domestic market and be allowed to sell the rest of his cotton on the world market for whatever it would bring. The money for subsidizing would be obtained by a processing tax, a general manufacturer's tax, or the use of tariff revenues accruing from imports. One fault of this plan is that it would tend to encourage overproduction, and another is that it might lead to American dumping on world markets with a resultant disruption of world trade that might in the end act as a boomerang to the United States.

Of more benefit is the chance that Mr. Johnson will be able to bring about some sort of a world conference for the purpose of looking into the general cotton situation.

Crime's Day Of Judgment

Another chapter has been closed in the annals of American crime with the conviction and penalty of Bruno Richard Hauptmann. Unless appealed, this brings to a fitting close one of the most successful periods of federal war against the arch-enemy of society, the repulsive kidnaper.

The relentless pursuit and capture of the major criminals in this country in the last two years has been a source of much praise for the Department of Justice agents who have fearlessly and courageously waged civil war against the scavengers who prey on the wealthy citizens of this nation.

J. Edgar Hoover, head of the department of justice, has worked incessantly to reorganize and centralize the activities of his men. The high percentage of crime solution in the past several years testifies to the efficiency and resourcefulness with which Mr. Hoover is equipped. His name has become one which instills fear into the hearts of the most hardened criminals.

This country has been the spawning ground for all sorts of racketeers and gunmen in the past. The nation's crime bill has been estimated at $13,000,000,000. At first glance this figure seems incredible and, indeed, its magnitude is not easily comprehended by the average voter. Too long have the police departments of this country been encumbered by unnecessary, useless laws which allow many legal loopholes. The New Deal legislation has done much to expedite the enforcement of old laws or evolve new ones which the denizens of the underworld are finding it harder and harder to evade.

Ask NRA Investigation

Washington, Feb. 14.—(UP)—Senator Gerald Prentice Nye, Republican, North Dakota, ally of the small business man, and Senator Pat McCarran, friend of organized labor, today asked the United States Senate to investigate the National Recovery Administration.

Their resolution included 21 points criticism of the NRA, among which were charges that it oppresses small business, allows wage scales and workers the right to be ignored in the battle of the strong to seize the markets of the weak, and that in certain cases the administrators haven't hesitated to suspend or revoke the law for the benefit of favored individuals.

Mid-Winters

(Continued from page one)

following his musical career recently. The band was organized here at the University in 1926 by Kyser and seven of the 14 present members of the unit are Carolina alumni.

As an added attraction Kay is bringing with him Miss Virginia Simms, a west coast radio star, as feminine vocalist. She is 21 years old and has the looks, personality and the rest of what it takes to be a great singer.

Due to the fact that the dancing space in the gym is somewhat restricted, only a limited number of bids have been printed for the dance set.

P. T. A. MEETING

A meeting of the summer institute committee of the North Carolina Congress of Parents and Teachers will be held in Graham Memorial at 2 p. m. tomorrow, R. M. Grumman, chairman of the committee and director of the institute, announced yesterday. Dr. Harold D. Meyer is the only other Chapel Hill member of the committee.

The meeting will make arrangements for the eighth annual Parent-Teacher Institute, to be conducted here August 19-24. It will be under the direction of the University extension division in co-operation with the state Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Comer and McKee to Raleigh

Harry F. Comer and Don McKee will represent the University "Y" at the Regional Executive committee for all student Y. M. C. A. work in the south which meets in Raleigh today.

The primary work of the committee will be the setting up of the program for the annual Blue Ridge Conference to be held in June at Blue Ridge.

J. D. Winslow and Albert Ellis are in charge of organizing the delegation from the local University Y. M. C. A. to the Blue Ridge conference.

Pick Your Prof

Students are again urged by Jack Pool to submit invitations to faculty members for luncheon on student-faculty day as soon as possible.

Over 280 faculty members must be assigned by Pool and his committee. Groups and individual students wishing to invite certain faculty members may arrange the invitations with Pool every afternoon in the basement of Graham Memorial.

Meeting

There will be an important meeting of the following men this afternoon at 3:15 o'clock in the University club room of Graham Memorial. Dean R. B. House, Virgil Weathers, J. D. Winslow, James Dees, Claude Ballard, Harold Gavin, Johnny Walker, Lonnie Dill, and Jake Snyder. It is imperative that everyone be on time.

A. S. M. E. Sees Films

Recent technical developments in aeronautics, together with the vocational possibilities of aviation, were discussed by W. van Haitma, director of the Boeing School of Aeronautics at the University last night.

Mr. van Haitma, who spoke under the auspices of the local chapter of A. S. M. E., illustrated his lecture by motion pictures showing the development of the airplane from the early Wright "pusher" to the modern tri-motored transport, and the manufacturing processes involved in Pratt-Whitney airplane engines and the Boeing model 247 transport.

Another film showed a survey of the Boeing school and one entitled "Across the Continent in 20 Hours."

Chapel Hill Scouts Get Awards Tonight

Members of Chapel Hill's Boy Scout Troop 5 will receive advancement awards at the court of honor to be held in Gerrard hall at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

From the hands of Coach Carl Snavely, Bill Jenkins will receive the Eagle Scout badge, highest award of scouting. Other badges to be presented are: tenderfoot, by Scoutmaster Durham of Carrboro; second class, by Dr. H. D. Meyer; first class, by Scout Executive O. B. Gorman; star, by Dr. L. C. MacKinney, and merit badges, by Dr. W. E. Caldwell.

This will be the first honor court to be held under the new scoutmaster, Ed Hamer, who is employed in the alumni office. He will be officially presented for the first time by Professor Hugo Giduz.

Students' Histories

(Continued from page one)

countant's office. It is here that the mysterious charts and forms are made. Through this office passes every transaction that is made concerning the University.

As you look at the tables and graphs to be displayed, think of their meaning, of the time and labor required to prepare them, and of their direct importance to your well being. If this does not increase your appreciation of, and respect for, them you will have missed a great deal.

Appropriations

(Continued from page one)

The appropriations committee's recommendation is, of course, subject to the approval of the legislature, but friends of the University are greatly encouraged by this latest development in the attempt to put the University back on its financial feet.

DURHAM CONFERENCE

According to Harry F. Comer, general "Y" secretary, the local organization will send representatives to the meeting of the state Student Volunteer Movement in Durham today, tomorrow and Sunday.

Comer will lead a group of the discussions himself. The movement is primarily interested in foreign affairs and their relation to the United States.

OUTSTANDING RADIO BROADCASTS

1:00: George Hall Orch., WBIG.

1:30: Little Jack Little, songs, WBT.

4:00: Int'l Broadcast from Germany: Military Band, WPTF.

4:15: Pro Arte String Quartet, WBIG.

5:00: Joe Haymes Orch., WBT.

6:45: Lowell Thomas, commentator, WJZ, WLW.

7:15: Plantation Echoes: Robison Orch.; Southernaires quartet, WJZ, KDKA.

8:00: Concert: Jessica Dragonette, soprano; quartet; piano team; Bourdon Orch., WEAF, WRVA; The Changing Position of Women, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, WBT, KMOX.

8:15: Edwin C. Hill, commentator, WBT; Dick Leibert's revue; Robert Armbruster quartet; Mary Courtland, songs, WJZ, KDKA.

8:30: Court of Human Relations, WABC, KMOX; Al Goodman's Orch.; Jane Froman, contralto; Bob Hope, comedian, WJZ, KDKA.

9:00: Abe Lyman Orch.; Frank Munn, tenor, WEAF, WLW.

9:30: Hollywood Hotel, Dick Powell, Jane Williams, Ted Fio-Rito Orch., WBT, KMOX; Phil Baker, comedian; Leon Belasco Orch., WJZ, KDKA.

10:30: The O'Flynn, operetta; Nathaniel Shilkret Orch.; 16-piece chorus, WBT; The Pause That Refreshes, 90-piece Instrumental and Vocal Ensemble, Frank Black, director, WLW, WPTF.

11:15: Ozzie Nelson Orch., WBT, KMOX; Annual Drama League Show; scenes from outstanding plays with noted artists, WJZ.

11:30: Jolly Coburn Orch., WEAF; Wayne King Orch, WGN.

11:45: Jan Garber Orch, WGN.

12:00: Cab Calloway Orch., WABC, WHAS.

MAKE PLANS FOR STUDENT-FACULTY DAY

with FRANK MORGAN
—Also—
Comedy —News
NOW PLAYING
CAROLINA

MID-WINTERS!
All Set for a Great Party!
Invite your friends to the CAROLINA INN CAFETERIA
"The Best Food on the Hill"
BREAKFAST, 7:30-9:30
LUNCH, 12-2 DINNER, 6-7:30

Carolina, Duke Boxers Fight To Draw; Four Sophs Win

Diehl TKO's Alterman; Novich Puts Up Great Fight To Wallop Schmit

Fisher Gets a Decision; Blue Devils Forfeit To Medynski.

Matulewicz TKO's Giddins; Edwards in Game Fight.

Duke Gym, Feb. 14.—After seven furious bouts and one forfeit here tonight, the boxing teams of Carolina and Duke each had four wins for a tie meet. As a result of the deadlock the two clubs are joint victors of the Big Five boxing crown for 1935.

Carolina's big-four sophomores, Marion Diehl, Joe Fisher, Jule Medynski, and Max Novich, were the heroes of their team. Diehl counted the lone Tar Heel knockout, Medynski drew a forfeit, and both Fisher and Novich took wide decisions.

Matulewicz in Win

Ray Matulewicz, great undefeated sophomore, led the Blue Devils by counting a quick technical knockout over Captain Giddins in the opening round. Captain Lloyd, Kneipp, and Granger tallied decisions for the other three Duke points.

Max Novich slipped out of the infirmary to save the day for the Tar Heels, by getting a mighty triumph over Schmit in the 175-pound class after the score had been tied 3-3. Novich, although weakened by sickness, swapped blows with his opponent during two comical rounds and then drove the staggered Schmit all over the ring during the round for a big decision.

Maxie Takes Ring Too

Midway in the second round Novich cracked Schmit with a right, and the big Blue Devil fell onto the ropes, knocking the entire ring down. It took five minutes between the second and third setto to fix the ring.

The final bout between Murray Kanner of Carolina and Granger of Duke, in which the latter won and enabled his club to get a tie, was the closest of the night. Kanner connected continually with rights in the first two rounds to take a slight margin but evidently Granger's fast finish swayed the referee's decision in his favor.

Matulewicz got his TKO in 35 seconds. He caught Giddins first with a stinging left jab and then followed him to the ropes to land a dynamic right hook. Giddins rolled to the floor and the Carolina seconds tossed in the towel. Giddins, dazed, leaped up to continue the bout but it was too late.

Diehl's Knockout

Diehl received his TKO just five seconds before the last round closed. The Carolina bantamweight's hard rights and lefts kept Alterman on the defense and groggy most of the way. The Duke boy went down for a nine count in the third setto but was never all the way out.

The 145-pound bout was slow with Fisher of Carolina satisfied to win a decision over McCall by exhibiting an almost perfect defense plus a clever left jab and

(Continued on last page)

MURAL BOWLING

All students planning to enter the bowling contest must file their entries and complete their qualifying round before Tuesday, February 19, according to Harper Barnes, director of Graham Memorial.

Entries may be filed with any of the student bowling managers or the director.

FROSH PUGS IN CLOSE WIN OVER BLUE IMPS BY 3-2

Farrar Wins Knockout over Shores at End of First; Lee and Benton Win.

O'HERRON GETS TKO IN 3rd

The Tar Baby leather-pushers hammered out a 3-2 win over the Duke freshmen at Durham last night.

By previous arrangement on the part of the coaches there were three fights in the featherweight division, Carolina taking two of the bouts.

O'Herron Victorious

In the 135-pound class Ed O'Herron won by technical knockout over Little of Duke in 1:26 of the third round.

Duke's amateur champion Farrar won by a knockout over Shores of the Tar Baby team just as the bell rang closing the first round. The Carolina frosh put up a game scrap, but the referee refused to let the bout go into the second round.

Carolina and Duke exchanged forfeits in the 155 and 165-pound divisions, respectively, and neither school had a fighter representative for the 175-pound and unlimited weights.

Summary:

125—Koger (D) won decision over Bass.

125—Lee (C) won decision over Pope.

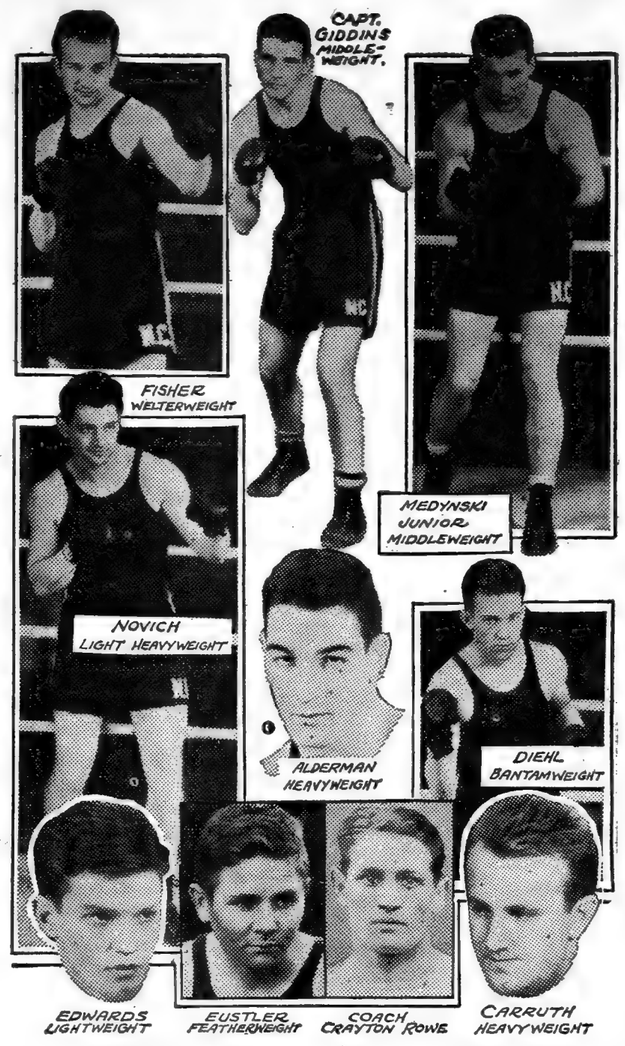
125—Benton (C) won decision over Price.

135—O'Herron (C) won over Little, TKO, 1:26, third round.

145—Farrar (D) won over Shores, KO, 2 minutes, first round.

BABY GRAPPLERS MEET WOODBERRY

Annual Match with Virginia Prep School to Be Inaugurated Tomorrow on Latter's Mat.



Arrangements have been completed for an annual freshman match with Woodberry Forest Preparatory School, the first of which will be held tomorrow. The frosh grapplers wound up their practice yesterday and will leave for Virginia from Swain hall at 8 o'clock this morning.

Accompanying Mac Auman, acting freshman coach, will be Freshman Manager Peterson and the following nine grapplers: Patrick, Ehringhaus, Tankersley, Ford, Claypoole, Gibbons, James, Love, and Kulak. With the exception of Patrick, the men making the trip are the identical ones which defeated the strong V. M. I. plebes in last week's meet.

Three of the Tar Babies scheduled to wrestle are graduates of Woodberry Forest, and they asserted that the team will have a good fight on their hands as their alma mater has a very good crew this year. Graduates of Woodberry Forest now wrestling on the Carolina freshman team are Ehringhaus, Claypoole, and James.

Ford and Love will be defending unblemished records, while Patrick, Tankersley, Gibbons and Kulak will attempt to break into the winning column. Kulak will undoubtedly show the effects of an extra week's practice and has a good chance of making up for his first defeat.

U. N. C.'s 1935 Big Five Co-Champs

Tracksters Leave Today; Cagers Ready For Duke

Williamson and Hawthorne Will Run in N. Y. A. C. Games Tomorrow Night.

Harry Williamson and Tom Hawthorne will leave this afternoon via train for New York City and the New York Athletic Club 68th annual indoor track games in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

Williamson will carry the blue and white into the famed Baxter mile, and Hawthorne, co-captain of the Tar Heel track team, is invited to the special 60-yard high hurdles. The hurdler is one of 16 who will compete, among whom is Percy Beard.

Close, Fast Mile

But Williamson will get the race of the night. Glenn Cunningham, Bill Bonthron, Gene Venzke, Erik Ny, and the Tar Heel will take the boards in the feature of the night's performance. All the men are fast, the first three having held world records from time to time.

In their first meeting of the year at the Millrose games several weeks ago, Cunningham beat the others, but he really had to step to down the surprisingly strong Venzke. The ex-Princeton captain was far behind the two. He was, however, running his first race of the year, and tomorrow night will be ready for both the Kansan and the Penn ace.

Most sports writers in the Empire City are picking Venzke to come through in these N. Y. A. C. games. He showed in the Millrose and at Boston that he plans to make this year his big one.

Both Ny and Williamson seemed left out in picking the probable winner for the Baxter classic. In the Millrose the Swede beat Bill Ray, who had beaten Williamson in the 1000 in the K. of C. games. The Tar Heel is conceded the place to set the pace for the race; he stands an excellent chance of beating the European and may give the big three a run for their money.

Cagers Engage Fast Duke Blue Devils Tomorrow in Tin Can In Feature State Tilt.

Coach Bo Shepard sent his White Phantoms through a long and hard workout yesterday afternoon in the Tin Can in preparation for the dangerous Devils from Duke University. The two powerful fives will clash in the Tin Can tomorrow night at 8:15 o'clock in a battle which may determine the Big Five outcome.

The Tar Heel cagers spent the afternoon in a clash with the yearling team, working on both offense and defense. In the previous clash in which the Blue Devils took a 33-27 win, the Shepard players lacked team play in all departments of the game.

Duke Clicked

The Duke team worked smoothly and successfully worked the ball into scoring position. The Tar Heels, on the other hand, failed to click as a unit, and it was this factor which proved the cause of defeat.

Both teams played Davidson during the past week and both won. The Dukesters were forced to call on all its luck and skill, however, to eke out a 35-34-point win. Charlie Kunkle, star forward, came through with a blind shot over his head with his team trailing one point and only 10 seconds remaining to play.

Carolina eased through its game with the Wildcats, although the Davidson team did turn in a threatening rally which seemed for a short time to be going places.

Both quints will have their full strength for the battle. Herrick, sub Duke center, who received a sprained ankle on the recent Virginia trip, is the only injured man of the two teams.

The lineups will be possibly as follows: Carolina: Aitken and Nelson at forwards; Glace at center; McCachren and Harris at guards; and Duke: Kunkle and Bell at forwards; Naktenis at center, and Polack and Podger at guards.

Varsity Wrestlers Meet Davidson 'Cats Tonight

FROSH AND IMPS TANGLE TONIGHT IN CRUCIAL GAME

Tar Babies Slight Favorites in Contest Upon Which Big Five Championship Hinges.

GAME WILL START AT 7:15

PROBABLE LINEUPS:

U. N. C.	Pos.	DUKE
Mullis	f.	Lewis
Potts	f.	Dean
Meroney	c.	Edwards
Ruth	g.	Scott
Franks	g.	Dooley

The powerful Tar Baby quintet faces its big test this evening at 7:15 o'clock in the Tin Can when it meets the strong yearling five from Duke.

This game will have the say in the Big Five championship, and the loser will be practically eliminated from a possibility of obtaining honors.

Indications from their former meeting show both teams equal, and tonight's fracas promises real action. Carolina took honors in the first clash, winning 34-29. However, nine points in the last few moments was the margin of victory.

Babies Favored

The Tar Babies are slight favorites due to their victory before and on comparative scores. They have continuously scored more decisive wins over the same opponents.

They beat Belmont and Davidson handily whereas Duke was pressed in the first battle and not as convincing against the latter. Also, Duke recently dropped a decision to Holt Mills, a team which the Carolina yearlings vanquished in an early encounter.

The last meeting between the Baby Imps and Coach Skidmore's charges was an individual tussle between Earl Ruth and "Mouse" Edwards of Duke, both scoring 16. These two will be watched closely tonight.

ALPHA EPS STOP BETAS IN UPSET; PHI KAP SIGS WIN

Locals, Phi Delta Theta, Chi Phi, And S. A. E. Also Score Victories in Murals.

BETAS' INITIAL SETBACK

Two more undefeated intramural quintets were dropped by the wayside yesterday afternoon, as Alpha Epsilon and Phi Kappa Sigma downed their opponents in two thrilling contests. Alpha Epsilon rose to new heights in crushing the previously unbeaten Betas, 31-28, and the Phi Kap Sigs barely maintained their own untarnished record with a one point win over Zeta Psi, 29-28. This was their seventh straight win and the Zeta Psi's first setback.

In the other contests of the afternoon, the Locals stopped the Mayflower Club, 30-19; Phi Delta Theta stepped on Kappa Alpha with a 10-point victory; Chi Phi topped A. T. O., and S. A. E. won handily over Sigma Chi for their eighth straight win of the season.

A. E.'s in Upset

Vic Shalom and Lee Turk paced Alpha Epsilon to their unexpected victory with a flurry of baskets that offset the Betas' attack. The high scoring "Trip" Rand of Betas was held to a sin-

(Continued on last page)

Umstead Is Out Due To Recent Injuries

Bonner-Quarterman and Efland-Fort Bouts Are Expected To Be Thrillers.

MATCH AFTER FROSH TILT

PROBABLE LINEUPS:

'CATS	Wt.	U. N. C.
Moffatt	118	Darden
Thompson	126	Lytle
Parker	135	Ward
Owen	145	Gholson
Quarterm'n	155	Bonner
Fort	165	Efland
Blackw'ld'r	175	Gwynn or Williams
Shirty	Unlim.	Ranson

Carolina and Davidson wrestling contingents will meet in the Tin Can tonight immediately following a basketball contest between Carolina and Duke frosh which is scheduled to begin at 7:15 o'clock.

Tar Heel hopes of victory were given a severe setback yesterday with the announcement that Frank Umstead, brilliant bantamweight, would be missing from the starting lineup. Umstead has been confined to the infirmary since Monday with injuries suffered in the V. M. I. meet a week ago. His position will be filled by Darden, capable 1934 varsity reserve.

Bonner vs. Quarterman

The outstanding bouts this evening will be between Bonner and Quarterman in the 155-pound class and Captain Efland and Fort in the senior middleweight division.

Bonner, undefeated in frosh competition last year, has lost only one match in two years on the mat and that was to Captain Bernhardt of State, who is perhaps the leading 155-pounder in Southern Conference mat circles. Quarterman has been a star on Wildcat grappling teams for three years.

The clash between Efland and Fort should be packed with thrills from start to finish. Fort has the enviable record of no defeats in two years on the mat. Efland has shown considerable improvement during the past season and he should make it plenty hot for the Davidsonian.

Pre-match dope puts the Tar Heels and Wildcats on even terms. Davidson in two meets this year defeated Duke 21-9 and lost to V. P. I. 17-13. But in the tilt with the Gobblers the Presbyterians were without the services of Fort.

Carolina has won only one of four encounters this year. After downing V. P. I. 23-9 in the season's opener the Tar Heels lost to State 18-6, Washington and Lee 28-0, and V. M. I. 19-11 on successive week-ends.

MURAL TABLE TENNIS

Entries for the intramural table tennis tournament will be accepted until Monday afternoon. Teams will be composed of three men and the entry fee for each team will be 10 cents.

The draw shall be made Monday evening and play will start on the following day.

Today's Mural Card

4:30—(1) Ruffin vs. Mangum No. 1, (2) Swain Hall vs. Old West, (3) Phi Gamma Delta vs. Lambda Chi Alpha.

5:30—(1) St. Anthony Hall vs. Phi Sigma Kappa, (2) Smith vs. Grimes, (3) Mangum No. 2 vs. Pharmacy.

LIFE SAVING CLASS

Swimming Corps Is Organized Here by Red Cross.

Twenty-five Red Cross life savers met in Gerrard hall Wednesday, and, under the general direction of Lee J. Green and Ellis Fysal, began the organization of a campus corps to follow a swimming and life saving program for the remainder of the college year.

The 10 examiners and 15 senior life savers present elected Bob Williams and John Brabson co-captains for the new corps. A swimming team committee, composed of Warren Haddaway, Tom Umphries, and Bob Williams; and a life saving examiners class committee, composed of John Brabson, Billy Greet, and Marshall Bell, were appointed.

Students who pass the required life saving tests will have an opportunity to take the examiners' course under Romaene Eaton, national field representative of the Red Cross, who will teach at Duke University during the spring quarter.

The corps will also sponsor a swimming team to represent the University during the year.

Murals

(Continued from page three)

gle field goal in the first half, and although he was more successful in the latter part of the clash, he could not prevent an A. E. victory. It was a closing spurt that carried A. E. past the leading Betas and on to victory.

The Phi Kappa Sigma and Zeta Psi fracas went neck and neck to the last minute of play. At the half the victors led 12-11 and they managed to maintain this margin to the end. Jack Bower was the sparkplug for the winners with 14 points.

High scoring for the day went to Tracy Spencer of A. T. O., who totaled 18 during his game with Chi Phi. However, Voliver, center of Chi Phi, was but a step behind with 17 markers. Bower followed these two leaders with his 14.

The summaries:

Phi K. S. (29)	Zeta Psi (28)
Sharp, f (4)	Carr, f (9)
Link, f (3)	Laxton, f
Love, c (2)	Clark, c (7)
Wilson, g (2)	Folger, g (2)
Bower, g (14)	Satterfield (10)

Subs: Phi Kappa Sigma—Odum (4).

A. E. (31)	Betas (28)
Weinstein, f (4)	Rand, f (10)
Shalom, f (13)	Leak, f (4)
Singer, c (2)	Dunn, c (7)
Levine, g (2)	Tennille, g (4)
Turk, g (11)	Rasberry, g (3)

Subs: Alpha Epsilon—Mark.

Locals (30)	Mayflower (19)
Davenport, f (8)	Goodman, (4)
Seawell, f (8)	Lipton, f (4)
Miller, c (6)	Hunt, c
Lloyd, g (2)	Poteat, g (5)
Perry, g (6)	Holland, g

Subs: Mayflower Club—Rowley, Rankin (6).

Phi Delt. (33)	K. A. (23)
Hershey, f (11)	Everett, f (9)
Tucker, f (6)	Skinner, f (4)
Mosier, c (8)	Wilson, c (3)
Blount, g	Schriver, g (4)
Williams, g (6)	Seymour, g (3)

Subs: Phi Delta Theta—Rogers (2); Kappa Alpha—Yeomans.

Chi Phi (28)	A. T. O. (20)
Sink, f (5)	Parker, f
Linn, f (2)	Phillips, f (2)
Voliver, c (17)	Spencer, c (18)
Davis, g	Fulghum, g
Perry, g (2)	Dickson, g

Subs: Chi Phi—Monty (2).

S. A. E. (33)	Sigma Chi (24)
Andrews, f (12)	Barney, f (3)
Scott, f (8)	Neal, f (8)
Poe, c (2)	Clover, c (6)
Connor, g (8)	Rowland, g (1)
Brown, g (3)	Wyche, g (6)

Subs: S. A. E.—Freeman.

Book Exchange

(Continued from page one)

accounts, etc., its fairly efficient, with signs of increasing efficiency. The matter of personal charge accounts, which will be discussed more fully later, is not well taken care of, insofar as placing of accounts and collections of same are concerned. At the present there is an outstanding debt of $32,000, with a probability of collecting about $12,000 by the end of the year. The balance of the accounts is largely an accumulated indebtedness over a period of years spanning the time since the Book Exchange was begun and including accounts taken over from the defunct student supply store, which was operated by the University in connection with the Book Exchange.

Under the present system, however, there are virtually no losses incurred by students accounts because University scholastic credits are withheld until students have a clean bill with the University cashier.

Regular Reports

The cash registers are read each day and total sales classified by departments. Deposits are made from total of register readings each day. The deposit must be the same as shown by the registers—any difference is recorded in a shortage and overage account. Charge sales are also run on the register and total charges must agree with the register. Reports are regularly made to the business office in South building once a month. Special reports are made when called for.

Price fixing is based upon those prices fixed by the manufacturer for resale. Those that are not fixed by the manufacturer are marked up from 25 to 40 per cent. Second-hand books are bought from students for half price if they are in good condition; third-hand books bring the owners from one-third to one-half price, depending on condition. These books are marked up for resale purposes the same as new books, approximately 25 per cent.

Comparative Prices

During the early part of November, 1934, the University undertook a survey of retail textbook prices charged to students by college and university book stores of the south. Questionnaires relative to prices on new and second-hand texts, and the operating plan of the distributing agency were mailed to 15 representative institutions in Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, and Tennessee. Fourteen of these questionnaires were completed and returned. One institution reporting, however, worked under a plan that rendered its return unsuitable for the purpose of the survey. Therefore, reports from 13 institutions were tabulated and compared, and the following results were obtained:

All institutions using law and medical texts charged the publishers' list price on new texts. On departmental texts, 12 stores charged publishers' list price or its equivalent. The other did not change the list price, but added 10 per cent to the net cost of the text plus postage. In this instance, the percentage of discount from the publishers' list price ranged from five per cent to eight per cent.

Three institutions reported that the college book store did not handle second-hand books. Resale of second-hand texts was an individual matter between purchaser and owner in two cases; in the third, a sorority group operated a book exchange. A fourth distributor reported that second-hand books were handled but they were not purchased from the student. The agency bought needed second-hand texts from second-hand dealers who dealt directly with the student. In this instance, approximately the same profit was derived from the resale of second-hand texts by the agency that was derived from the sale of new texts.

More Figures

Of the remaining nine reports, four stated that they gave the student 50 per cent of the original retail price for a second-hand book; three paid 40 per cent; one paid from 40 to 45 per cent; and one from 33 1-3 to 40 per cent. This would indicate an average price paid to students for second-hand texts of approximately 42 1-2 per cent of the original retail price, although the conclusion might be drawn that the average percentage of second-hand prices paid to students to the original retail price would run somewhat lower than 43 1-2 per cent, since it seems to be the policy of college book stores to take into consideration the condition of the text in fixing the purchase price. The percentage of the original retail price stated in the reply to the questionnaire was construed as a maximum unless specifically designated otherwise.

There seemed to be some confusion as to the definition of the term "mark-up." It is our understanding that this is the gross "anticipated" profit on the sale of an article.

Owing to variations in reporting, some difficulty was experienced in compiling a summary of the mark-ups on second-hand books. However, survey officials felt that the average mark-up for institutions reporting would be fairly stated as ranging from 30 to 35 per cent. There are wide variations within the group, the percentage of mark-up ranging from 20 to 50 per cent.

Relations to Schools

Of interest are the relationships of the book stores to the institutions. One store is privately owned and operated; one is privately owned but operated under a working agreement with the institution; one is owned by student and employee stockholders who must sell their stock on leaving the institution. Any surplus after dividends are paid goes to the support of student activities. Policies are controlled by a board of directors who do not own stock. Book stores at two institutions are owned by the college and operated under the direction of the athletic association. Eight institutions own and operate the book stores. In another institution, a flat fee is charged for the use of textbooks and apparatus. There appears to be no significant variation in the prices charged by the various types of organizations.

In summary, uniformity seems to prevail in prices charged to students for new texts. The average price paid to students for second-hand texts for the group is approximately 43 1-2 per cent of the original retail price, with a variation from 33 1-3 per cent to 50 per cent within the group. Mark-ups on second-hand books vary widely, averaging from 30 to 35 per cent for the group, and ranging from 20 to 50 per cent within the group.

From this survey it is evident that local prices charged by the Book Exchange for new books and paid to students for second-hand books are quite reasonable and compare very favorably with prices elsewhere on other campuses.

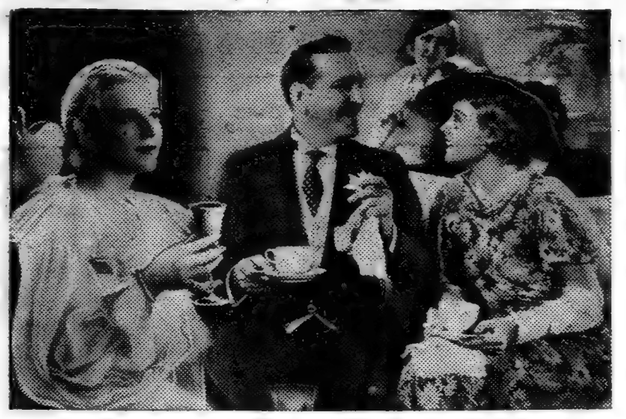
The Book Exchange distributes order blanks to each University faculty department in the middle of each quarter. These blanks are filled out by the departmental head or an assistant, stating what texts will be required in that department's courses for the coming quarter and the estimated number. These book requirements are handled by Hinson so that stocks of the needed texts are available when the quarter begins. In the past, the negligence of the faculty has often resulted in delayed arrival of books, causing much inconvenience to the students and the Book Exchange, as well as the faculty themselves.

The Book Exchange has eight student employees and four non-student employees. All wages and salaries are 68 per cent of the base rate, because of the University appropriations cut. Student wage rates are 25 cents per hour, which is the minimum rate of any hourly help on the campus.

Inventories Made

Orders and purchases are made by Hinson through the purchasing department on regular University orders, the same form as that of all University departments. The inventory as of June 30, 1934, was $65,871.00. Inventory is taken twice a year at least by the Book Exchange staff under the supervision of the University auditor. There is a retail inventory method of stock control used in the Book Exchange and this inventory is checked with the total inventory as shown by this method.

The Book Exchange buys some of the sporting goods for the athletic association and bills them at least at cost plus 10 per cent, the same price that the Book Exchange sells to University departments. In the past a considerable amount of the Book Exchange inventory has been in sporting goods for the athletic association, varying from $5,000 to $10,000 worth.



The Book Exchange also carries on a number of miscellaneous auxiliary activities. It repairs tennis rackets and typewriters and fountain pens. It also rents typewriters.

Bull's Head

The Bull's Head bookshop is operated by the University through the Book Exchange, meeting the need for supplementary pleasure reading on the part of students and faculty. It is supervised by the manager of the Book Exchange through director-librarian. Orders for books are written by the latter and brought to the Book Exchange office to be approved and signed and then sent to the purchasing department. All invoices are sent to the Book Exchange and from these the Bull's Head is charged for the merchandise it receives. Daily sales collections are receipted at the Book Exchange office, and deposited in the Bank of Chapel Hill to the credit of the Bull's Head Bookshop. All bills are paid by checks drawn on this account. Inventory of the Bull's Head is taken once each month by the director-librarian and Book Exchange officials.

The dormitory store system is stocked through the Book Exchange. There is a special Book Exchange department in which cost of goods sold and retail price of goods sold to dormitory stores are recorded. The accounting procedure is the same as for a University department except the order for merchandise comes from the store managers to the Book Exchange. This does not go through the purchasing department as a separate item. A special student employee is in charge of this department.

ANN HARDING

Ann Harding suffers a loss causing a bright reaction when her husband, played by Frank Morgan, is wooed from her side by literary success and beautiful admirers in "Enchanted April," showing today at the Carolina theatre.

Boxing

(Continued from page three)

hook.

Captain Lloyd of Duke, a great fighter with two terrific mits, found trouble in the game Eutsler. Lloyd had a clear margin all the way but the Tar Heel featherweight bobbed around counter-punching and was the stronger of the two at the finish.

It looked like Kneipp, Blue Devil lightweight, would score a knockout over Johnny Edwards during the first round. The undefeated Duke star weaved beautifully and threw a pretty left plus a tough right.

In the second round, although he seemed almost out, Edwards started popping Kneipp with a smooth left jab. From then on it was an even fight, the Blue Devil winning only as a result of his first round margin.

Roosevelt Adviser

Washington, Feb. 14.—(UP)—Colonel Robert E. Wood, head of Sears and Roebuck, was named today to head a group which will advise President Roosevelt on expenditures under the $4,000,000,000 works bill. Wood was formerly on the Industrial Advisory board of the NRA and special business council of the department of commerce.

FORTIFIED WITH FOOD

Uncle Egbert tried to bear up through the winter!

Winter meant red flannels, and hot, heavy, indigestible breakfasts to the last generation.

We've freed ourselves of a host of discomforts since 1906. And Kellogg's Corn Flakes, introduced in that year, have helped to bring about the change.

Nowadays we can wear lighter clothing — eat lighter, more appetizing foods. Try a bowl of Kellogg's, with milk or cream, for a winter breakfast. Crisp and tempting. Rich in energy and body warmth. Easy to digest.

Quality guaranteed. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Kellogg's Corn Flakes

OVEN-FRESH FLAVOR-PERFECT

Alfred Williams & Co., Inc.

Instructive, Interesting Books at Special Prices

MIDNIGHT SHOW Tonight

GRACE BRADLEY in "REDHEAD"

—Also—

Comedy — Cartoon

Doors Open 11:15 P. M.

CAROLINA

CAROLINA vs. DUKE
BASKETBALL
TIN CAN—8:15

The Daily Tar Heel

CONCLUDING DANCES
4:30; 9:30
BYNUM GYM

SERVED BY THE UNITED PRESS

VOLUME XLIII | CHAPEL HILL, N. C., SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1935 | NUMBER 107

SENATE TO CALL ICKES TO STAND AGAINST FARLEY

Huey Long Forces Action Aimed at Farley; Committee Takes Other Long Resolution.

BUILDING INCREASE SEEN

Washington, Feb. 15.—(UP)—The Senate acted today to take the lid off one of the most intriguing feuds of the New Deal by voting to call on Secretary of the Interior Ickes to furnish information about Postmaster General James A. Farley.

Louisiana's Huey Long forced the action against Farley after three hours of oratory. The Senate adopted the second of two Long resolutions aimed Farleywards. The first was referred to the postoffice committee.

Farley at present is speaking and fishing in Florida.

Resolution Deferred

The Senate referred the Nye-McCarran resolution for an investigation into the NRA to the finance committee.

The House committee investigating un-American activity reported that it had authenticated Major General Smedley D. But-

(Continued on last page)

Conviction Cost

Flemington, N. J., Feb. 14.—(UP)—From the night of March 1, 1932, until the present day, the Lindbergh case has cost the government and the various agencies engaged in tracking down the perpetrator, more than $600,000.

Including the $50,000 ransom paid—of which he will receive back nearly $15,000 found in Bruno Richard Hauptmann's garage—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh has spent at least $75,000. His friend, Col. Henry C. Breckenridge, has spent another $10,000. The efforts to run down false clues cost at least $15,000.

A conservative estimate of the various costs follows:

Cost to Col. Lindbergh	$ 75,000
Cost to Col. Breckenridge	10,000
Cost of police and detectives	284,000
Telephones, telegrams, and cables	20,000
Trips to Europe by officers	5,000
Cost of handwriting experts and charts	50,000
Cost of wood experts and exhibits	10,000
Federal expenditures	75,000
Cost of trial	100,000
Total	$629,000

FORUM TO HEAR DYNAMITING CASE

Burlington Minister to Give Facts Tomorrow of Debated Case of Fall Strikes.

Discussing the Burlington dynamiting case, the Reverend James Weaver of Burlington will lead a joint forum of the Methodist and Baptist student groups tomorrow night.

The forum will meet at 7 p. m. in the west parlor of the Methodist church.

In the trial of the case six men, whose guilt has been widely questioned, were sentenced to a total of 57 years in prison for their alleged dynamiting of textile mills in Burlington.

The case arose from trouble during strikes in the Burlington mills last fall.

Debated on Campus

The subject will be of unusual interest to University students as it has been discussed by campus organizations. The Reverend Weaver was in close contact with the developments of the strikes and he is expected to present the complete facts of the case.

Discussions of the trial have pointed out that the evidence

(Continued on last page)

TWO PUPPETEERS WILL MAKE TOUR

Playmakers Will Aid Puppet Show in Presenting "Tooth Drama" in State Schools.

According to Dr. Ernest A. Branch, head of the dental division of the State Board of Health, the Carolina Playmakers will sponsor a state-wide puppet show tour which will include presentations of a "tooth drama" in every grammar school throughout the state.

The Playmakers will select two puppeteers to assist Miss McAndrews, graduate of Vassar College's dramatic department and now a holder of an important post in the Good Tooth Council of America which has its headquarters in Chicago.

Candidates

Candidates for the two punch and judy showmen include: Rene Prud'hommeaux, William Long, Eloise Sheppard, and Louise McGuire.

The candidates will go through a strenuous training period next week and Miss McAndrews will select a man and a woman from the group to complete her tour group.

The drama which will illustrate the value of proper care of the teeth is in three acts and will be presented on a 48 inch stage. The manuscripts are here, according to Professor Frederick H. Koch of the Playmakers, and the candidates are working on the project prior to the arrival of Miss McAndrews in Chapel Hill.

Miss McAndrews will bring all the punch and judy equipment and the tour will be supported by the Good Tooth Council and the State Board of Health.

The tour is to be conducted for the purpose of arousing, through presentations of the marionette shows in schools over the state, in grammar school pupils more consciousness of care for the teeth.

German Blames Public Feeling for Defeat

Flemington, N. J., Feb. 15.—(UP)—Bruno Hauptmann said today that the great admiration of the American people for Lindbergh swayed the judgment against him.

The prisoner made the first concrete move in an attempt to escape death in the electric chair when he signed a petition to Supreme Court Justice Trenchard asking that the state be made to bear the expense of furnishing and printing the voluminous records in the case.

The next step will be an application to the Court of Errors and Appeals for a writ of error.

Series Promises To Be Best Set In Recent Times

Man from the South Swings into Rhythm without Warming up.

Opening what promises to be one of the best dance sets given on the "Hill" in some time, Kay Kyser and his famous band returned here yesterday to furnish the music for the first tea dance and the junior prom in the German Club mid-winters.

The dances were held in Bynum gymnasium, which was artistically decorated in a Valentine scheme of red and white. A large red heart adorned the ceiling of the gym and another smaller one reposed behind the platform on which the orchestra was stationed.

Kay seemed to feel perfectly at home here and his orchestra from the first number of the tea dance, swung into the rhythm without having to warm up.

"Isch Kabibble"

Although the bids for this set were limited, a large crowd filled the gym and so numerous were the requests for Kay's famous "Isch Kabibble" that Merwyn Bogue finally had to give his rendition of it.

Miss Virginia Simms proved to be as attractive as her picture and showed everyone that she possessed an excellent voice as well. Art Wilson and Bill Stoker, the male vocalists, were also favorably received.

The amplifying system was not connected correctly for the tea dance and some of the dancers had difficulty in hearing the music, but the system was working properly for the formal dance.

The junior prom last night was led by Miss Grace Bowes, Rockingham, with Tom Evins; Miss Mary Lee Scales, Greensboro, with Archie Scales, and

(Continued on last page)

UNIVERSITY CLUB INVITES PARENTS TO CELEBRATION

Radio Broadcast Features University Glee Club Quartet; Snyder Handles Mike.

HOUSE AMONG SPEAKERS

Featuring the University Glee Club quartet, the University Club last night presented a half-hour radio program over station WPTF in Raleigh in which it invited all parents of Carolina students to attend the parents-student-faculty day celebration to be held here next Wednesday.

The program began at 10 o'clock with University Club Member Jake Snyder at the microphone, a new James Wallington of the south. Speakers for the broadcast included Virgil Weathers, president of the Carolina student body; Dean Robert B. House, and Campus Leaders A. T. Dill and J. D. Winslow.

Everyone's Welcome

Weathers, Dill and House extended the invitation to the people of the state to attend the Wednesday affair. Winslow, a member of the committee arranging plans for the celebration, outlined the purposes of the occasion, citing some of the plans already completed.

Included in the quartet which sang "Hark the Sound," were James Dees, bass; Harold Gavin, baritone; Claude Ballard, second tenor, and Johnny Walker, first tenor.

HOLIDAY PROGRAM ADDS NIGHT GAME

Basketball Team Will Play South Carolina in Tin Can; Stage Entertainment Follows.

As an additional feature on student-faculty day, set for next Wednesday, the University's White Phantom basketball team will oppose South Carolina's great quintet in the Tin Can at 7:30 o'clock.

Consequently, the regular program scheduled for that night which will include skits, playlets, and other features, will be presented in Memorial hall at 9 o'clock instead of at 8:30 o'clock.

Full Schedule

The inclusion of the basketball game in the full day of activity is hailed by the arrangements committee as just the thing needed to round out a perfect day of entertainment and education.

It will be the second athletic event of the day, for Coach Carl Snavely's first and second teams will perform on the gridiron in Kenan stadium in the afternoon.

Other features of the day have been announced and comprise an interesting program. A mass convocation, faculty-student luncheons, "open house" at fraternities, departmental exhibits, and the big festivity presentation in Memorial hall at night are among the items included.

STUDENTS GIVE THIRD REPORT

Advisory Committee Tenders Recommendations on Electric and Water Division, the Buildings Department, and the Dormitories and Campus of the University.

Dormitory Needs

The student advisory committee makes the following recommendations to the University administration regarding the buildings department and the University dormitories and campus:

1. Improvement of interior of men's dormitories by painting.

2. Installation of screens in all dormitory windows.

3. Repairing and reconditioning of toilets and showers in Grimes, Manly, Mangum, and Ruffin, and in other dormitories where needed.

4. Installation of drinking fountains where not already provided.

5. Providing furniture for replacements in dormitories where needed.

6. Improvement of campus grounds and walks, clean-up on property in the vicinity of the power plant, and painting of several unpainted storehouses on the campus.

7. Reconditioning of Battle, Vance, and Pettigrew to house women students, and a subsequent removal of women students now in Graham dormitory to the new quarters.

9. Increasing the size of the basement in Spencer hall.

10. An extension of the dining room in Spencer hall, providing for the enclosure of the left porch for this purpose.

11. A more stringent enforcement of the duties of the dormitory inspectors and a better system of reporting repair needs.

12. Provision for and installation of a social room in every dormitory wherein they are not at present provided, with adequate facilities for browsing, conversing, and general relaxation.

13. A more efficient janitor service.

The student advisory committee presents the third report on the service system at the University. The fourth and last report will appear tomorrow morning and will concern Swain hall and the general business set-up as a whole.

The third report on units of the University service system deals with the "utilities," as represented in the set-up by the electric and water and telephone divisions of the University Consolidated Service Plants. In this division of the system, also, is included University heating functions and public coal retailing.

Some years ago, when dormitory space was insufficient, a number of the University students were forced to rooom at private homes in town. As these students were subjected to disadvantages and inconveniences not experienced by students rooming in dormitories, the facilities of the "utilities" were opened to the townspeople and employees, From this beginning, a profitable business has grown, and several enterprises have been added to meet the needs of the town that would not otherwise be satisfied.

Profits to University

The "utilities," other than the services they render the University, are commercial enterprises, operated along business lines for the purpose of making a reasonable profit on their services. Necessities and conveniences not otherwise obtainable are available to the residents of the town; the profits are turned over to the University to aid in financing its activities.

This latter point is one of extreme importance. Few of us realize that service plant operation directly affects teachers' salaries and maintenance expense at the University. Profits, of course, cannot show for services rendered the University because these services are offered at cost. But all profits resulting from private commercial dealings—and the rates are remarkably reasonable—go to help the University financial operations.

Fifteen years ago the University got its raw water from a creek and pumped it directly into the lines. This water was dirty and was not fit for human consumption without being boiled. Now the University and Chapel Hill have a modern water system consisting of a reservoir holding approximately 600,000,000 gallons of water, a modern filter plant in which every precaution is taken to give the people the very best water possible. These projects are supervised by a sanitary engineer and the State Board of Health. Also, the town and University have an adequate system of fire protection.

Development

The electrical department has

(Continued on last page)

Utilities' Needs

1. Replacement of one new steam boiler at the power plant to minimize danger resulting from an emergency caused by a breakdown or failure in the present three constantly-operated boilers.

2. One new electric generating unit with accessories in order to generate more current and buy less from the Duke power company.

3. One new underground clear water reservoir in order to give storage for fire protection in case of a bad conflagration.

4. A new and larger steam line for the indoor gymnasium.

5. New and larger insulated pipe lines to the dormitories for more adequate hot water service.

6. Division of labor shifts in boiler plant to do away with the present 12-hour shifts for firemen.

ALUMNUS SPEAKS TO FROSH CLASS

State Senator Praises Honor System; Stresses Extra-Curricular Activities.

State Senator Allsbrook, Carolina alumnus, addressed freshmen at chapel period yesterday.

Stressing the importance of college education, the state assemblyman endorsed the honor system as "one of the fine things that serves mostly after college days."

Praises Organizations

Extra curricular activities were stressed as major aids "that serve in later life." He praised highly the Di and Phi assemblies and various other student assemblies.

With the contention that the government of today is putting itself more and more in national affairs, Allsbrook said, "there is a place for students in government as the government of the future will depend upon intelligent leadership, and will at all times look upon the citizens for co-operation."

Infirmary

The following students were confined in the infirmary yesterday: Frank Umstead, C. H. Woodburn, E. M. Edens, Carl Anderson, E. T. Berry, J. L. Mathews, and Max Novich.

KENNEDY GIVES VESPER ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY

Professor Nelson O. Kennedy of the University music department, will play the monthly vesper organ recital tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock. The recital is to be given in Hill Music hall auditorium and the public is cordially invited.

The program to be presented this Sunday is as follows: Sonata Pontificale by Lemmens; Third Sonata, J. S. Bach; Carillon, Leo Sowerby; Piece Heroique, by Franck; and Mountain Sketches by Joseph Clokey.

OPERA BROADCAST

"Simon Boccanegra," an opera by Giuseppe Verdi, will be broadcast today beginning at 1:55 p. m. from the Metropolitan Opera house and may be heard by everyone interested in the choral room of Hill Music hall.

The Daily Tar Heel

The official newspaper of the Publications Union Board of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where it is printed daily except Mondays, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Holidays. Entered as second class matter at the post office of Chapel Hill, N. C., under act of March 3, 1879. Subscription price, $3.00 for the college year.

A. T. Dill ..... Editor
Robert C. Page, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
Joe Webb ..... Business Manager
George Underwood ..... Circulation Manager

Editorial Staff

EDITORIAL BOARD—Phil Hammer, chairman, Earl Wolslagel, Franklin Harward, John Schulz, DuPont Snowden, Margaret McCauley, Morty Slavin, Sam Leager, Dick Myers, Charles Lloyd, Jake Snyder, Phil Kind, Charles Daniel, George Butler.

FEATURE BOARD—Nelson Lansdale, chairman; Nick Read, Bob Browder, Francis Clingman, J. E. Poindexter, W. M. Cochrane, Willis Harrison.

CITY EDITORS—Irving Suss, Walter Hargett, Don McKee, Jim Daniel, Reed Sarratt.

TELEGRAPH EDITORS—Stuart Rabb, Charlie Gilmore.

DESK MAN—Eddie Kahn.

SPORTS DEPARTMENT—Jimmy Morris and Smith Barrier, co-editors, Tom Bost, Lee Turk, Len Rubin, Fletcher Ferguson, Stuart Sechriest, Lester Ostrow, Ira Sarasohn.

EXCHANGES—Margaret Gaines.

STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER—Don Becker.

REPORTERS—Bill Hudson, John Smith, J. F. Jonas, Howard Easter, Lawrence Weisbrod, Hazel Beacham, Raymond Howe, William Jordan, Morton Feldman.

Business Staff

ASST. BUSINESS MANAGER ..... Butler French
COLLECTION MANAGER ..... Herbert Osterheld
OFFICE MANAGERS ..... Walter Eckert, Roy Crooks
NATIONAL ADVERTISING ..... Boylan Carr
DURHAM REPRESENTATIVE—Joe Murnick.
LOCAL ADVERTISING—Hugh Primrose, Robt. Sosnik, Eli Joyner (managers), Bill MacDonald, Louis Shaffner, Page Keel, Bill McLean, Crist Blackwell.

CITY EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE: JIM DANIEL

Saturday, February 16, 1935

PARAGRAPHICS

The mid-winter frivolities began yesterday. You can always depend on those Germans to produce a good dance set.

If the medical school gives us a thorough exhibit, the student-faculty day may prove to be a "stiff" affair.

4356 is George Underwood's number. We knew they had plenty of evidence and grounds for conviction, but we didn't think they'd get him so soon.

The Students Are Talking

The student advisory report showed signs of direct campus opinion and therein lies the significance of the recommendations which it is tendering the administration. In other words, the student advisory committee is nothing more than a slice of campus invested with a particular authority and privilege to express what the campus thinks about the service set-up.

Naturally, there were students on the campus who were thirsting for an expose of exhorbitant rates being charged by the Book Exchange and the laundry and no doubt they were disappointed in their own modest way when the report showed that these service divisions were actually charging them less than similar organizations on other campuses or in other towns.

Of course, the committee's reports are basically of more importance than current campus opinion because its recommendations are backed by facts and not hearsay.

When the last report is published tomorrow, there will have been 40 or more recommendations tendered. From that list there are at least 30 which directly affect student welfare and the rest indirectly work to the students' advantage. We believe that a close consideration by the administration would be a wise move.

The Teachers And the Tax

Of vast importance to the institutions of higher learning in North Carolina is the fight for a 25 per cent increase in teachers' salaries in the secondary school system of the state. Interest is especially focused on this issue now that there is a breathing spell between the recent decision of the joint appropriations committee to recommend a 25 per cent increase in University appropriations and the fight in the legislature to get the recommendation through.

It seems likely that the appropriations committee will recommend financial increases for the state teachers, most underpaid public servants of all. But the trouble will be the committee's of finance, which will have to find several more millions of dollars than the budget revenue bill provides.

An appropriation of from $20,400,000 to $21,000,000 will provide a 25 per cent pay raise. But such an increase would make it extremely difficult to make ends meet and if a compromise is made so that only a 20 per cent increase is recommended, it might mean a change of mind regarding the University's increased appropriations. It all proves that what we need is money and the sales tax must bring it.

Changing The Texts

There are many students here who can ill afford to spend an extra ten or twenty dollars each year they are in attendance at Chapel Hill. These extra sums represent the approximate amounts each student pays, according to his courses, for books over and above what they should cost him.

Our point is that virtually every year the texts are changed for most of the courses given here. If the change in books represented progress and a new and better trend in educational administration, we would say well and good and pay for the difference in educational methods. But many of the faculty themselves will admit that this is not always the case.

Not only does the student's pocket-book suffer, but the teachers themselves must be considerably hampered by teaching from a different text each year. In our opinion, most texts are good texts and it's up to the instructor to put the subject across.

Furthermore, we know that a large part of the Book Exchange loss is due to a dead stock of new books which are antedated by departmental action. We have seen dust-covered texts in the basement not worth two plugged nickels in Chapel Hill because they are no longer in use. For economy's sake, let's use discretion in the textbook changes.

Skirts on The Platform

At last the plan of making a woman President of the United State has taken definite shape. There is now a League for a Woman President and Vice-President with permanent headquarters located in Brooklyn, N. Y. The organization claims a present membership of 3,000 men and women, and hopes to increase its enrollment throughout the country so that it can fulfill its objective, as far as the Vice-President is concerned, by 1940.

We have absolutely no objection to the idea of women holding controlling positions in the country. They probably have more to do with such things than they are given credit for, anyway. But we have always been puzzled as to whether their evident desire to obtain positions of importance is due to a wish to cover themselves with glory, and show the world that they could do it after all, or whether it is the result of an honest and sincere hope of giving the country some worthwhile service.

If they have a real contribution to make, there is plenty of opportunity for leadership in state politics and Congressional affairs. When women are ready to assume national responsibility on a large scale, and when the nation is ready to accept their leadership, then will be the time for them to rise and shine. When that time comes their entrance into national politics will be a natural one, and will not need the seemingly artificial stimulation which they are now trying to give it.

Child Labor Amendment

Of the editorials which we have read in the county newspapers of this state, not one of them has expressed itself favorably toward the proposed child labor amendment. The great bugaboo in North Carolina and in the entire south is the prevalent idea that this amendment would prohibit the farm boy from milking the cows and doing his daily chores. This notion is entirely false. Secretary of Agriculture Wallace states that under no circumstances could the word "labor" as used in the amendment be construed to have such an import.

It is not unlikely that the gullible farmers have been victims of a clever propaganda from the hands of vested interests—who, from purely selfish reasons, would like to see the amendment defeated.

Already over 20 states have ratified this step toward social progress. May the solons at Raleigh, who will soon be given a chance to vote on it, decide favorably and push the amendment farther toward the required goal of 36 ratifications.

Horn-Rimmers At the Germans

Let us rationalize. All those who find it impossible to attend the mid-winters are invited—not to the mid-winters, but to the rationalization party.

It is not the financial end that is keeping us from attending. You know as well as we do that we would much rather study than dance; it is much more fascinating—lovely word, isn't it?

The preparation for the dances is also a drawback—you have to shower, shave, and shine your shoes. Then, too, this combing hair business is always one of agitation.

The dancing will be crowded, the girls will unbecomingly chew chewing gum to Kay Kyser's rhythm, and the inebriates will zig-zag all over the floor. This inebriation of the mid-winters goers will be caused by champagne; our intoxication will be caused by sour grapes. We benevolently frown upon the mid-winters.

By the way, have you got an extra bid?

Casual Correspondent
by
Nelson Lansdale

DANCING WITH YOUR SHADOW

We're told this one about the tea-dance yesterday which opened the mid-winter set. Breaking is always less rapid at the Germans than most other Carolina dances because the crowd is small, and the first tea-dance is always stiff because most of the girls are visitors.

At any rate, yesterday afternoon when the dancing finally started, a pool of unaccompanied males stagnated in the centre of the floor, and only a few hardy souls ventured forth to break. One of the brave social lions unintentionally brushed the arm of a couple who'd been stuck with each other interminably, and the man who imagined he was being broken on swung away from the girl with an almost audible sigh of relief. Nobody was there.

His girl, a good-humored miss, resumed play with a giggled: "Well, we almost caught that one, didn't we?"

VERY RARE SCOTCH

Phi Gamma Delta's suave Walter Oakley has a Scotch story he swears is true. It seems that Walter visited some Scotch friends at their lodge on Lake Ontario last summer, and when he sat down at the table he noticed a paper napkin with the initials "W. O." on them. He guessed it was all right to have paper napkins at a summer lodge, so he went on eating unperturbed. When he finished the meal, he crumpled up the napkin, and left it on the table beside his plate.

At the next meal beside his plate he found the napkin bearing his initials, smoothed out as nicely as possible, beside his plate. Walter says he used it, too, until it got so greasy his hosts mercifully threw it away.

MORE BONERS

Nominated for oblivion this week are: the student who referred to the Greek comic dramatist, Meander; the freshman listening to the radio who wanted to know if Lowell Thomas didn't run for president last year; the clever young man who graced a quiz paper for Romance language department's Lee Wiley with this statement: "The Marquise de Rambouillet was disgusted with the lewd court life of Henry IV, so she established a saloon of her own;" the freshman who attended one of his classes the Saturday morning after the law school dance in evening clothes; and whoever it was who begged, borrowed or stole this department's hat.

BOOLA BOOLA

And from a mild-mannered, easy-going playmate of ours at Yale comes—and on Valentine's Day at that—this account of life as it is apparently lived in New Haven: "Went on a terrific drunk last Saturday and almost killed the fellow I was 'drunking' with. Happily, I shot the floor instead, and was so frightened at the noise the gun made that I sobered up somewhat . . ."

ONE HUNDRED BOOKS

The other day we received a list of "Books which every American, betwen the ages of 20 and 45, should read. Compiled by Nathan G. Goodman, with the assistance of 100 educated men and women whose names are in 'Who's Who in America.' Arranged in order of their popularity." We looked through the list pretty carefully, and between Franklin's Autobiography with which it begins, and Thomas Mann's The Magic Mountain, with which it ends, is listed nearly every book of general interest you can think of, just offhand. The only book you'd instantly think about that isn't listed is the Holy Bible.

BACHELORS OF GASOLINE

A friend of ours stopped in Raleigh the other day to get some gasoline. As he was ready to leave, one of the three attendants asked him: "Where y'all going?"

"We're in school at Carolina," he replied.

"Well, good luck," said the filling station man, sweeping his eyes around the gas-pumps. "Three of us work in here, and we each have a B. S. from Duke."

SPEAKING the CAMPUS MIND

Dancing on Schedule

Editor, the DAILY TAR HEEL:

I would like to call the attention of the readers of the DAILY TAR HEEL to a situation which is gradually becoming an institution on this campus. I am speaking of the foolishness of the practice of ever-increasing tardiness in attendance at dances. It has come to the point that a dance that is scheduled to begin at nine very seldom gets under way until at least ten, and if it is to last until one there is very little possibility of the floor's being filled until considerably after ten-thirty.

It seems to me and to several others that I have talked to on the campus that some attempt could be made through the pages of the DAILY TAR HEEL to shake loose some of these idiotic ideas on the subject of late arrivals at any and every social function on the campus.

There is certainly no benefit to anyone in the carrying out of this custom. The orchestra is usually there early enough playing for the early stags. The dancers who are paying for the dance are getting less out of it, and are consequently frequently kicking about the early quitting hour. The chaperons are inevitably bored to death the first hour or so and they have to be there at the time the dance is scheduled to start. Everything considered then, no one is benefited and everyone is losing. I should think that a printed word or notice in the DAILY TAR HEEL would do a world of good in speeding things up and in breaking down a purely artificial social custom. Or, this failing, the dances could be scheduled earlier so that they might get going at a decent hour.

A STUDENT.

Music For All

Editor, the DAILY TAR HEEL:

When Kay Kyser and his orchestra play here for the German Club's mid-winter dances this week-end, only about five hundred persons will have an opportunity to enjoy his music.

Year before last during a visit to Chapel Hill Kyser presented a Sunday afternoon concert of popular selection. At 25 cents per person he packed Memorial hall. Part of the proceeds went to the Student Loan Fund. The program was immensely popular and was highly praised by all who heard it.

Certainly there are five hundred to a thousand who would welcome an opportunity to hear such a concert this Sunday at the same price. For those who do not attend the dances and for all who enjoy popular music in itself, current song hits presented in a concert by Kyser's orchestra would be a rare treat. Here is an opportunity for Kay Kyser to realize a neat profit in addition to the value of the advertising and to furnish students with a program of real entertainment.

THREE STUDENTS.

OUTSTANDING RADIO BROADCASTS

1:15: George Hall orch., WBT.

2:00: Metropolitan Opera, WPTF, WLW.

2:45: Modern Minstrels, WBT.

4:15: Pro Arte String Quartet, WBIG.

5:30: Int'l Prgm. from London, WABC.

6:30: Eddie Dooley, sports reporter, WBT.

7:30: Jamboree, variety music, WEAF, WSB; Beauty Parade; Arden orch.; Gladys Baxter; Walter Preston, baritone, WABC.

7:45: Grace Hayes, songs, WJZ.

8:00: Sigmund Romberg, composer-conductor; Wm Lyon Phelps, WEAF, WLW; Roxy's Gang, WABC, KMOX.

8:45: Musical Revue; Armbruster orch.; Mary Courtland and quartet, WBT.

9:00: Songs You Love to Hear; Rose Bampton; Shilkret orch.; and others, WEAF; Richard Bonelli, tenor; Vocal Ensemble; Kostelanetz orch., WBIG; Radio City Party; Black's orch.; John B. Kennedy, WJZ, KDKA.

9:30: Studebaker Champions; Richard Himber orch.; Joey Nash, vocalist, WABC, WBT; Wayne King orch., WGN.

9:45: Jan Garber orch., WGN.

10:00: Wm. A. Brady, "Behind the Scenes," Theatrical Reminiscences, WBT.

10:15: Saturday Revue; WBT.

10:30: Let's Dance; Three-Hour Dance Program, WLW; California Melodies; WBT.

11:00: Glen Gray orch., WGT.

12:00: Cab Calloway orch., WABC, WHAS.

12:30: Hal Kemp orch., WJZ, KDKA.

WITH THE CHURCHES

9:45 a. m.—Sunday school.

11 a. m.—Worship and sermon—Rev. W. A. Jenkins.

7 p. m.—Student Forum discussion.

United

10:15 a. m.—Student class, Dr. McKee. Topic: "The Modern Significance of Salvation."

11 a. m.—Public worship—Dr. McKee. Topic: "The Misunderstood Christ."

7 a. m.—Student Forum led by F. S. Wilder. Topic: "The Student and Racial Adjustment."

Presbyterian

10 a. m.—Student class—Rev. Watt Cooper. Topic: "Ecclesiasticism and Denominationalism."

11 a. m.—Morning worship—Rev. Donald Stewart. Communion service and sermonette. Topic: "Our Living Communion."

7 p. m.—Student Forum. Topic: "Religion in American Psychology."

8 p. m.—Community Winter Forum led by Rev. J. M. Fletcher of St. Mary's College, Raleigh.

Baptist

10 a. m.—Student class—M. J. Hagood.

10 a. m.—Co-ed class—Mrs. E. T. Howell.

11 a. m.—Worship and sermon—Rev. O. T. Binkley. Topic: "The Test of Progress."

7 p .m.—B. Y. P. U. for college students.

7 p. m.—Young People's Society for high school students.

Lutheran

10:15 a. m.—Sunday school discussion group led by Thomas

(Continued on last page)

Wildcat Wrestlers Take Final Two Matches And Defeat Tar Heels, 16-14

Bonner Scores Fall in Feature Encounter

Gholsen Gets Decision after Extra Period; Cats Count Margin By Pinning Two Opponents.

WARD AND EFLAND WIN

Davidson's varsity wrestlers downed Carolina last night 16-14 before some 400 spectators. Trailing at the end of six bouts Captain Fort, brilliant 175-pounder, threw Ranson and Blackwelder won on a time decision over Gwynn to give the Wildcat matmen the necessary victory points.

The feature scrap of the evening was between Bonner of Carolina and Quarterman in the junior middleweight division. Quarterman took the jump from the start and piled up a large advantage on time, but Bonner came back in the closing minutes rushing his adversary off his feet and finally gaining a fall in 8:49.

Captain Efland scored his second victory in state competition winning on a 1:12 time decision over Hodges. The Carolinian took the aggressive most of the way.

In the 118-pound class the Tar Heels greatly missed the services of Frank Umstead, who was unable to compete on account of injuries. Darden, subbing for Umstead, put up a great fight before bowing to Moffatt, classy Presbyterian bantam. Moffatt and Darden battled on even terms during the three minutes butt he former took the lead on time and pinned Darden in 4:27 with a half nelson and scissors hold.

Lytle and Thompson put on a great show in the 125-pound class. Both men held the top position at least a half dozen times but neither was able to maintain the given advantage for any length of time. At the end of the 10-minute struggle Thompson had 2:23 in his favor.

Captain Fort continued his superb performances, throwing Ranson, Tar Heel 175-pounder, with a body scissors and arm weight in 7:16.

Blackwelder in the unlimited division, gained an overwhelming 7:49 time decision over Gwynn of Carolina. Although the latter was badly outclassed, he came back in the closing moments to make a somewhat dull contest interesting.

Other winners were Ward, 135, and Gholsen, 145, both of Carolina. Ward took an overwhelming 9:29 advantage on time over Parker, while Gholsen was victorious also via the time route over Owen.

Swain Hall Cage Team Counts 103 For New Record

Waiters Swamp Old West in Mural Contest; Mangum No. 1 Beats Ruffin, 26-17.

Swain hall climaxed the sixth week of play in the intramural basketball competition by smashing to bits the season's high scoring record as it trounced Old West to the tune of 103-18 yesterday afternoon in the Tin Can.

The other half of the double feature program saw Ruffin in a desperate attempt to get back into the running, but without avail as it lost out to Mangum No. 1, 26-17.

Despite the fact that the competition was not of the highest calibre, the waiters certainly were hot, easily breaking through the Old West defense to score from all angles. Burton topped the massacre, with 30 points, while Cooke was low man with a dozen. Sale, Old West pivot, did best for the losers with eight.

Speed Increases

Swain started off fast, and kept increasing its margin as the game wore on. The scores by period best show its rapid scoring power.

Swain	20	22	28	33—103
Old West	8	4	2	4— 18

Mangum No. 1 was again held to an unusually low score, compared with its previous showings—as Ruffin, surprisingly eliminated from the unbeaten ranks by Kluttz on Wednesday, fought desperately to get back into the win column.

Fox headed Mangum with seven field goals and a single foul to take the game's high, while Jack Pool of Ruffin and Barnwell of the winners, came next with six each. The victors held a 15-9 advantage at intermission.

The summaries:

S. Hall (103)	Old West (18)
Thomas, f (25)	McNair, f (6)
Wright, f (18)	Smith, f
Burton, c (30)	Sale, c (8)
Cooke, g (12)	Roundtree, g
Brown, g (18)	Phillips, g (4)

Subs: Old West—Cannady, Bailey.

Mangum 1 (26)	Ruffin (17)
Henson, f (2)	Pool, f (6)
Barnwell, f (6)	Merryfield (4)
Fox, c (15)	Petree, c (4)
Rhodes, g (2)	Ogolsby, g
Vick, g	Stricker, g (3)

Subs: Mangum No. 1—Freeman (1), Niven; Ruffin—Hicks, Garrison, Sale, Hunt.

Popularity Of Table Tennis Rapidly Spreading Through United States

Sport Has Replaced Ping Pong and Is Now Assuming Role of Major Sport; Intramurals to Open at Carolina Next Week; Noted Stars May Visit Chapel Hill During April.

By LEN RUBIN

Table tennis, or shall we say ping pong, a game that is experiencing a tremendous increase in popularity and is now assuming gigantic proportions upon the sport horizon, takes its annual intramural bow at Carolina next week.

This sport, little known in the south, is one of the most popular indoor sports in the country, and is widely touted as one of the fastest games on earth. There is truth in that statement. The game requires speed, skill and clockwork precision in its execution. The clicking celluloid ball travels across the net with amazing rapidity and when experts clash, it is a difficult feat to follow the ball with the eye.

An Old Question

What is table tennis and what is ping pong? This question has often been asked and the simple reply that there is no difference is woefully inadequate. It is a true fact that the rules of play are essentially the same but for minor variations.

However, the history of the sport discloses the difference. In 1900, ping pong took a foothold in the United States and rapidly became a fad. However, interest lagged and ping pong

(Continued on last page)

FROSH GRAPPLERS MEET WOODBERRY TODAY IN VIRGINIA

Ehringhaus, Claypoole, James Will All Be Fighting on Former Home Mat.

FORD, LOVE UNDEFEATED

Coach Mac Auman, Freshman Manager Peterson, and nine Tar Baby grapplers left yesterday for Virginia, where the club meets the Woodberry Forest Preparatory School this afternoon.

The starting grapplers in this afternoon's match are as follows: 118-lb, Ehringhaus; 126-lb, Tankersley; 135-lb, Ford; 145-lb, Claypoole; 155-lb, Gibbons; 165-lb, James; 175-lb, Love, and unlimited, Kulak.

Right at Home

Ehringhaus, Claypoole and James are all hoping to win by at least falls on a mat which is thoroughly familiar to them. All three of the boys are graduates of Woodberry Forest and were prominent members of the Virginia grappling squad.

Ford has a record of four consecutive victories; all except one were gained by the fall route. Love, the only other undefeated member of the frosh groaners, holds the enviable record of gaining all his wins on falls.

Both boys are eager to continue the good record started and will fight as hard as possible. Love suffered a twisted ankle at yesterday's practice and although it is strapped up tight, it might prove a handicap in his attempt to lengthen his established record.

FOOTBALL SQUAD WILL PLAY TODAY

Practice Contest Will Bring to Close Fifth Week of Winter Practice; Vets vs. Frosh.

A short intrasquad practice game this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock will bring to a close the fifth week of winter practice for Carolina winter gridders.

Coach Carl Snavely plans to line up the players in practically the same order as has characterized the scrimmage of the past two Saturdays, with the veterans on the first team and the leading freshmen and reserves on the other.

A feature of the off-season drills this week has been the playing of Jim Hutchins, regular fullback of last season. He has been showing much consistent driving, running, and blocking.

Star Linemen

Among the veteran linemen who have been outstanding are Dick Buck, end, and Paul Pendergraft and Charles McIver, guards.

Andy Bershak, end on last year's freshman team, is one of the most promising candidates to come up from the first year team. He devoted the first part of the winter practice season to freshman basketball, but after coming out for the grid practice has developed into one of the standouts among the 70 gridders.

Other freshmen who have shown up to advantage are Ed Palmer, tackle, and Art Ditt, fullback.

"Babe" Daniel, regular center of last year, has been unable to attend practice during the past two weeks due to an attack of appendicitis.

CORRECT ADDRESSES

Helen Hodges, Y. M. C. A. secretary, requests that all students changing their addresses report the changes to the desk in the "Y" building.

Phantoms Clash With Duke Here Tonight At 8:15; Williamson And Hawthorne Race At N.Y.A.C. Meet

BAXTER MILE TO FEATURE INDOOR TRACK CARNIVAL

Hawthorne Will Compete in Invitational High Hurdles, Williamson in Mile.

Tonight in the Garden in New York City, two Tar Heel track aces will meet real strong competition in the sixty-eighth annual N. Y. A. C. indoor games. Harry Williamson will compete in the classic Baxter mile while Tom Hawthorne is in the special invitational 60-yard high hurdles.

The games this year promise to be some of the most thrilling features of the current track season, and a sell-out crowd is expected. More than likely the entire meet will be broadcast; the mile is certain to receive a radio hook-up.

Full Program

The feature match of the evening will be the Baxter mile. The Haplin half is not far behind in popularity. Chuck Hornbostel of Indiana is the ranked star of this event, followed by Bill Ray of Manhattan, Patterson of Columbia, and Waldo Sweet of N. Y. A. C. Keith Brown of Yale will be seeking to better his world record in the pole vault set last year at 14 feet, 4 inches.

Jack Torrance of L. S. U., is back and stands an excellent chance of topping his shot put world record, which now rests at a little beyond 52 feet. Four high jumpers, all of whom have bettered 6 foot 7, will battle for honors in that division.

(Continued on last page)

REGULAR WINTER CARD ENDS SOON

Wrestlers, Boxers, and Cagers Finish Regular Play at Conclusion of Next Week.

Finis will be written to the regular winter schedules of every athletic team of the University of North Carolina next week.

The varsity basketball team heads the list with three important games—State at Raleigh Tuesday; South Carolina at Chapel Hill, Wednesday, and V. M. I. at Chapel Hill, Thursday. The Tar Heels have previously defeated all three teams, but can hardly hope to come through with wins in all the games next week.

Wrestlers Meet Duke

The varsity and freshmen wrestlers will end their season by grappling Duke at Durham next Saturday.

The freshmen cagers are to meet the State freshmen in a preliminary to the varsity contest Tuesday night and the Presbyterian Junior College cagers before the clash of the Carolina-V. M. I. quints in Chapel Hill Thursday night.

With the 4-4 deadlock in the Duke fights last Thursday the Tar Heel mittmen ended their season. They are to enter the Southern Conference tournament in Charlottesville Friday. The fighters ended a successful season with wins over V. P. I., South Carolina, and State, while tieing Duke and losing to Virginia.

TITLE AT STAKE IN SECOND GAME BETWEEN CAGERS

Devils Favored Because of 33-27 Win in First Meeting of Rival Aggregations.

U. N. C.	Pos.	DUKE
Aitken	f.	Kunkle
Nelson	f.	Bell
Glace	c.	Naktenis
McCachren	g.	Pudger
Harris	g.	Cheek or Polack

The basketball teams of Carolina and Duke clash in the Tin Can here tonight with both quintets fighting for a chance to stay in the Big Five championship race. The game will start promptly at 8:15 o'clock as no other encounter is on the program.

Although reports have it that Polack, regular guard, and Herrick, substitute center, will be out of the Duke lineup because of injuries, the Blue Devils will be favorites to win. In the first meeting between the two clubs Duke counted a 33-27 victory.

Each Beaten Once

Both clubs, along with State, have been defeated only once in Big Five play. This means that the losing team cannot hope for more than a tie for the title.

In Duke's triumph over the White Phantoms at Durham, the Blue Devils took an early lead and held it throughout. The Tar Heels rallied once during the second half to pull within a lone point of the victors but then Duke put on a sprint and built up a safe margin.

Kunkle, forward, playing only about half the game, was the star for Duke as he dropped in eight points. If Polack is out, Cheek, a fine sophomore guard, will likely take his place.

The Tar Heels will again have to contend with strong reserve strength in addition to the starting Blue Devil outfit. Kunkle, Bell, Riley, and Huiskamp are all capable forwards of almost equal ability.

The White Phantoms will depend almost solely on their first five of Aitken, Nelson, Glace, McCachren, and Harris. Kaveny, Blood, and Webster are the first line of reserves.

Coach Shepard drilled his charges for the contest long yesterday afternoon on both defensive and offensive play. The Carolina mentor was far from satisfied with the showing of the Tar Heels against Davidson Wednesday night The White Phantoms won 38-26 but in far from impressive fashion.

Athletic officials anticipate a record attendance for tonight.

Frosh Five Smothers Duke Imps By 33-13 Tally; Team Impressive On Both Offense And Defense

Mullis and Grubb Star; Babies Obtain Lead In State Race

Duke Held Scoreless for 18 Minutes of First Half.

The Tar Baby quintet continued their mad pace last night at the Tin Can by drubbing the Baby Imps from Duke in a humiliating fashion, 33-13.

The Carolina frosh were invincible and functioned perfectly in every department of the game. The passwork was brilliant and the Imps were baffled by the speed and perfection of the Carolina attack.

Defense Perfect

The defense was equally impressive as the Duke lads were unable to break clear beneath the basket and were limited to a few futile stabs at the hoop. In the first half the Imps scored twice; the first tally coming in the opening minute and the other dropping through the hoop with but a minute to play. For 18 minutes the powerful Duke quintet had been held scoreless.

Pete Pullis led the scorers with 9 points, 7 coming in the first part of the game. Foy Grubb, who had not scored over four points during any game, went on a spree in the second half with four field goals to trail Mullis. Grubb played two minutes in the first half.

Edwards Leads Imps

For the invaders, Edwards, husky forward, pivoted three times to dent the basket and led his team with 6 points. He scored 16 points in the recent clash between the two teams on his peculiar pivot shot, but was not as successful last night.

The freshman cagers next encounter, with their nemesis, State, takes place Tuesday night at Raleigh.

Box Score

CAROLINA:	G	F	TP
Mullis, f	4	1	9
Boone, f	1	0	2
Potts, f	1	1	3
Meroney, c	2	0	4
Ruth, g	2	3	7
Franks, g	0	0	0
Grubb, g	4	0	8
Totals	14	5	33
DUKE:	G	F	TP
Edwards, f	3	0	6
Quick, f	0	1	1
Caldwell, c	0	0	0
Eaken, c	2	0	4
Dean, g	0	0	0
Lewis, g	1	0	2
Totals	6	1	13

Non-scoring subs: Carolina: Johnson, f. Duke: Griffiths, f; Wagner, g; Scott, g.

Referee: Knight (Durham Y).

Score at half: Carolina 16; Duke, 4.

built up a lead of 14-2 with but a minute left to go. Lewis tossed in a long one for Duke and just before the gun Ruth twisted in a difficult shot from underneath to make the half-time score 16-4.

With Grubb leading the way in the second half, the frosh ran the lead to 25-8 within eight minutes. Grubb took three rebounds from the boards and dropped them in cleanly.

Eaken for Duke and Potts for Carolina made the score 27-10 and Eaken's repetition under the basket brought the count to 27-12. Ruth put in a foul, Grubb tallied again and Boone dropped one through from underneath to make the rout more one-sided. Quick stopped the slaughter by converting a foul and Potts also put in a free shot just before the end to make the final score 33-13.

This decisive win over such a highly rated rival has given the

(Continued on last page)

No Smoking Please

Students are especially requested to refrain from smoking in the Tin Can at tonight's basketball contest with Duke University.

The doors to the Tin Can will be opened at 7 o'clock, although the game does not start until 8:15 o'clock. In the intervening time from arrival to the beginning of the game, students are asked to refrain from "lighting up" so that the players will not have to play in a cloud of smoke.

Chuck Ericson announced yesterday that to take care of the crowds, two horseshoes of stand seats will be formed, with entrances on both ends of the floor between the ends of the horseshoes. Carolina students are asked to fill the south stands entirely before occupying the north side, which will be reserved as far as is possible for Duke students and other spectators.

DAVIS WILL READ PLAY TOMORROW

Modern Irish Comedy, "Moon In the Yellow River," to Be Third Reading of Year.

Harry Davis of the Carolina Playmakers staff, appearing on the February play reading program, will read Denis Johnston's "Moon in the Yellow River" in the theatre tomorrow at 8:30 p. m.

The play is a modern Irish comedy that was recently produced in New York by the New York Theatre Guild. Stage critics have praised it highly as a drama of logic and transcendentalism, satire, and a detached idealism.

Davis has appeared before Carolina audiences as a reader on several previous occasions. He will be remembered for reading "Outward Bound" and "Of Thee I Sing."

The reading Sunday night will be the third one for the year; Paul Green read his own "Roll Sweet Chariot" and Samuel Selden read Sean O'Casey's "Within the Gates" recently.

Track

(Continued from page three)

The Baxter mile will be between five of the world's best runners in that distance. Cunningham, Bonthron, and Venzke are termed the big three, one of whom will more than likely win the event. Ny of Sweden and Williamson are rated the dark horses of the mile.

The first four men are all world record holders from time to time. Ny is the Swedish champ and beat Bonthron last summer in Europe.

Pre-race dopesters are divided on their choice of winner. Some pick the Kansan as the strongest of the group and as the man to repeat his victory in the Millrose. Some choose Venzke to nose out the others. It is generally recognized that the Pennsylvanian is staging a remarkable comeback and is in line to come through with the Baxter trophy. Bonthron was running for the first time of the year in the Millrose; hence, some are backing the ex-Princeton star to snow under the field in his second start. However, all agree that the race will be one of the closest and possibly one of the fastest of the 1935 indoor track season.

Senate Investigation

(Continued from page one)

ler's charges that he had been offered the command of a Fascist army to march on Washington, but found no connection of the Fascist activity with any foreign country.

The Federal Housing Committee Administrator, James A. Moffett, informed Roosevelt that the nation was already out of the depression and doesn't know it. He predicted a tremendous increase within 60 days of building construction.

Washington, Feb. 15.—(UP)—Roosevelt sought to quiet the Senate storm over the $4,800,000,000 works relief bill by telling Senator J. C. O'Mahoney, Democrat, Wyoming, that he would use "all his influence" to prevent the destruction of the nation's private wage structure under the program.

Dance

(Continued from page one)

Miss Mary Lee Haywood, Winston-Salem, with Van Webb.

The final formal dance tonight will be led by Miss Elizabeth Park, Raleigh, with Mark Lynch; Miss Cortlandt Preston, Washington, with Bill Coan, and Miss Jo Meadows, Atlanta, with Billy Harrison.

Report

(Continued from page one)

grown from a small steam engine furnishing a few buildings with lights during the day to a modern electrified system with the best possible service, equal to any in the state. The telephone department has grown from an old-type magneto instrument (hand crank) system to the very latest type automatic telephone system. The accounting system has grown from one book ledger kept in pen and ink by one man to a very modern system of machine-controlled devices, with all precautions taken as to accuracy and checking.

Services are billed to the University at actual cost plus 10 per cent for supervision and office expenses. Service charges to the town are purported to make a fair profit. Although the committee did not make a personal investigation of rates in neighboring communities, we have found from authoritative sources that these rates compare favorably with any in the state. University telephone rates are the same as the town rates.

The University has a contract with the Duke Power company whereby it can take any part or all of its current from this company at its convenience. Consequently, the early evening load, which is extremely heavy, is regularly lessened by switching in Duke power to get through this period. This is a very satisfactory arrangement because current is taken from this company when it is not economical for the University, with its present equipment, to make its own and when the demand exceeds the generating capacity.

Physical Layout

The physical layout of the division includes the power plant, filter, telephone exchange, pumping system, water mains, electric lines, telephone lines, hot-water heating systems, and other property. The State Board of Health has especially lauded the filter plant as being operated on as good a basis as any in the state, with every possible safeguard provided. Inspections are made as often as necessary of the various plants and operations by the superintendent in order to check the operating conditions, costs, quality, etc.

There are 45 employees in this division, four of whom are students. The average wage scale is $81 per month, much of the labor being strictly skilled. Employees-to-be are recommended by the man in charge of a specific task, and are approved by the University personnel officer. Skilled labor and office workers are hired directly by the latter. Employees are fired by the department head with the approval of the superintendent.

The work, which includes labor ranging from accounting jobs to skilled laborers and supervisors, requires on the average of from 8 to 12 hours per day.

The value of the operation and maintenance stock for the telephone, electric, and water departments as of January, 1935, is $9,714.06. The retail stock, as displayed and held on hand at the retail store of the electric and water division, amounts to $3,291.49. The coal stock for the same date is $1,805.58.

